No evening calls by Cable TV reps

By Deby Eisenberg
Continental Cablevision of Morton Grove was denied its request for an exemption from the village ordinance limiting hours of door to door solicitation to 9 to 5. Ken Russell, a spokesman for the firm, had asked trustees at the July 28 village board meeting for an extension of the hours until dusk so his direct sales marketing team would be able to reach more people at home. Trustee Gregg Youstra, had originally supported this request stating, "due to the fact that we are partners in a sense to this enterprise, we should do everything to accommodate them." But other arguments, including village attorney Martin Ashman's warning that making an exception for one group could leave the village open to lawsuits from other groups who had been denied similar requests, convinced Youstra to make it unanimous and deny Cablevision's time extension request.

From the LEFT HAND

by David (Bud) Besser

Her name is Elaine Heinen. While she's a member of the powder puff set, she's a rather tough little puff. Tough enough to be considering running for Mayor of Niles.

His name is Michael Barnes. He's a first term Congressman from Montgomery County, Maryland and he's out to pull the rug from under President Carter. We called his office Tuesday morning and found out about 30 or 35 Democratic Congressmen have formed a Political Action Committee whose aim is to free delegates for an open Democratic convention in New York next month.

You could call her 'Bingo' Heinen. She runs the Sunday night bingo games at St. John Brebeuf. It's a very well-run operation and Bingo meets lots of Nilesites every Sunday night. If you ever needed a lift-off station to whoosh into the Niles political jet stream, Brebeuf would be a great pad. Fifteen hundred bingo players each Sunday night give you pretty good name recognition.

The guy who might do Jimmy in is just a rookie at his trade. Can you imagine this first-term Congressman trying to upchuck the number one political person in the world? But his political seismograph tells him something is rumbling. The voice of the political turtle can be heard in the land. His office told us Tuesday calls are coming in from all over the country. There's a lot of dissident Democrats who don't want

SIJ 55 Plus Club
Our Mystery Trip started out with a perfect setting. Lightning, thunder, rain, but the suspense was soon over and the trip was just grand. As the two buses left S.I.J. parking lot July 9 and headed for our mystery trip, it started to clear up and as we journeyed to our first stop which turned out to be James Tavern for a delicious Prime Rib dinner with Salad of garden greens, vegetable, loaves of homemade bread, coffee, milk, tea. It really was great and the food delicious. Every one was impressed with the setting of James Tavern and enjoyed it very much. Our second mystery stop was the Botanical Gardens in Glencoe. This was really something worth seeing. The main island is the largest of the nine and has winding trails, gardens, decks and patios. The Tram-Train Tours of the 300 acre Botanic Garden with a guide gives the background and development of the Garden with stops at the Demonstration Gardens and Nature trail.

We want to thank Mike Provenzano, our program chairman and Jo Ann for this wonderful Mystery Trip. It was just great and beautiful and a good time was had by all. Last, but not least we all received a mystery package with a lot of goodies which every one enjoyed.

We are all looking forward to our Harbor Springs, Michigan trip coming up Aug. 4-7.

Speedy Recovery to Joseph Catanzaro, our Vice President who underwent surgery. Remember him in your prayers. A card or phone call will hold cheer him up.

A parade that is expected to be the largest in the village's history will come through the downtown Skokie area Saturday, August 2.

The Medinah Shrine Clubs parade will step off from Niles West High School, 5701 Oakton, at 2:30 p.m. and go on a 1.3 mile trip through downtown Skokie, ending up at Niles East High School, 7701 Lincoln. The exact parade route is east on Oakton to Niles Avenue, right on Niles Avenue to Niles East High School.

A reviewing stand will be set up at Oakton and Floral, with announcements made there about the marching units. Local village and park officials will be on the reviewing stand, as well as several state legislators. Skokie Police urge motorists to avoid this area on Saturday between 2:30 and 4 p.m. Village officials expect a large crowd to view the parade.

The parade will feature more than 40 marching units including the Medinah Black Horse Troop, the Million Dollar Brass Band, The Oriental Band, the Shrine Clowns and the Highlanders.

The parade is sponsored by the Skokie, Maine Township, Glenbrook, northeast and northwest suburban Shrine Clubs.

Homemaker service figures released

Residents of Skokie, Morton Grove, Niles and Lincolnwood continued to receive a large amount of homemaker service in 1980 according to figures recently released by Phil Racette, Area Administrator of Family Care Services-North District. These figures show that residents of these communities receive 4,848 hours of service during fiscal 1980, slightly less than the 4,872 hours they received last year.

According to Mr. Racette, homemaker service places a trained homemaker in the home to assist families during a time of crisis or emergency. The service includes child care, household budgeting, housekeeping and parenting skills. When elderly persons are involved, it may also include helping with personal needs.

The North District office is aided in its efforts to serve Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles, and Skokie by the United Way of Skokie Valley, one of a number of United Ways in the north suburbs which support the agency. The District office is located at 845 Chicago ave. Room 222 in Evanston and is a division of Family Care Service of Metropolitan Chicago.

Anyone who feels they might need homemaker service or who wishes additional information, should call Mr. Racette at 864-6360.

Social security increase in effect

The July 1980 Social Security and Social Security Insurance cost-of-living increase reflects an additional 14.3 percent. The amount of the cost-of-living is based on the change in the Consumer Price Index from the first quarter of 1979 through the first three months of the year.

This does not necessarily mean that an individual receiving both SSI and Social Security checks will receive an increase of 14.3 percent in both checks. Depending upon the individual case, the SSI may be reduced to reflect the additional income received because of the social security cost-of-living increase.

Certain procedures should be followed should a social security check fail to arrive on time, because each month approximately 250,000 social security recipients report to Social Security Administration offices that their checks are late. The policy is to ask the recipients to wait for three days to see whether their check has been delayed by this time. Generally, nearly 75 percent of these people receive their checks by this time. If the checks do not arrive within three days, the Social Security Administration will check other causes for the delay. The most common causes for the delay is the recipient's failure to report a change in the beneficiary's address. Sometimes the checks stop because the beneficiary is no longer eligible for payments, such as when a mother's child reaches 18. If the Administration finds that a check should have been issued, it checks to see whether or not it was. If it was, the Administration then checks to see whether it was cashed. If it was not cashed, a replacement check is issued. This process generally takes about 10-14 days. Delayed SSI checks go through a faster process. A replacement check to an SSI beneficiary is issued within about four days after the person notifies the government of nonreceipt of a check. The Social Security Administration then checks to see whether both the original checks have been legally cashed. If so, then beneficiary must repay the government.

(Information taken from News Release from the Office of the Lt. Governor—#174 July 14, 1980).

CHURCH AND TEMPLE NOTES

Edison Park Lutheran Congregation teacher retires

Laverne Hanke, Director and teacher of the Edison Park Lutheran Church Pre-School for the past fifteen years, has retired. More than just a teacher, Mrs. Hanke has given love and guidance to over two hundred children.

Mrs. Hanke began her work in the Pre-School with Mrs. Arnold (Hazel) Lund in 1966. When Mrs. Lund resigned several years later, Mrs. Hanke developed a staff of teaching assistants, consisting of an employed aide as well as mother helpers. Over the years, she organized her own curriculum of developmental studies and educational programs, which she coordinated with the change of seasons and the calendar year. She has the ability to relate to the children on their own level and to see the individual need of each child.

In 1978, Mrs. Hanke received the Merit Award for Outstanding Teaching Performances for the City of Chicago from the Mayor's Office of Child Care Services.

At a retirement reception honoring Mrs. Hanke, held at E.P.L.C., many of her students and their parents returned to express their appreciation for her years of loving care. Because of her creative teaching methods, her learning-through-fun field trips and concern for each child, the Pre-School has been filled to capacity every year end, beginning in September, will start an afternoon session.

Laverne and her husband, George, are long-time residents of Park Ridge.

Family Life

by Larry F. Renetzky, ACSW, AAMFT

Communicating "You Count" thru "in touch awareness"

"Boy, is my wife unpredictable," says one husband. Another husband responds, "not my wife, she is like a machine—same old thing all the time." We hear both of the above in our marital counseling because both are true.

A good example of the first statement is found in the following case. A woman in counseling indicates that she feels she is losing out; she is not as happy as she used to be. Her children are growing up, and since most of them are boys they are turning to Dad more and more. Mom feels less important and not needed as before; that she really doesn't count.

She is beginning to feel like a "castaway." While she found purpose, meaning and satisfaction as a mother, she didn't demand much or give much as a wife.

Her husband had become self-centered, preoccupied with his work, sports and other activities, and did not invest himself much as a husband or father. Now, he is faced with the change in his wife who is wanting him to be more involved with her as well as the change in the boys, who are looking more and more to Dad.

His wife began to be quite openly jealous of the attention the boys were giving their father. She also began to pick on the boys more so the boys related to her more as a sergeant in the army, or as a "grouch" or "crab." Neither the boys nor the husband could understand the change in her.

Instead of trying to understand what was happening to her, the husband and sons fought the change. The wife-mother became more uptight, felt less wanted and appreciated. She was in need of more "in touch awareness" by her husband and children. They needed to help her feel that she counted.

Both the husband and children interpreted that something was really wrong with Mom and that she was quite unpredictable and difficult to get along with. There was little "in touch awareness" of her feelings and why she was hurting.

Do you see yourself above? This is not an uncommon problem, but it is one that can cause much marital and parent-child conflict if it is not understood, and steps taken to correct it.

Certainly, there has been a basic breakdown in communication. As long as the wife's needs were basically met through the children, then things went along well in the home.

The open conflict, which reflected little communication, could be corrected only when the family members reassess their roles and their involvement, relationships and investment in one another. Then and only then could things begin to work out.

What helps the wife-mother become more predictable and less ambivalent and negative in her feelings and behavior, is when the husband-father begins to recognize the change and does something about it.

He invests more time in his wife and makes himself available so that she feels more needed, wanted and appreciated. Once she begins to have her emotional needs met more fully by her husband, then she has less need to have her needs met by her sons.

Of course, this means that the husband-father has to give more attention, time and investment of himself in his roles as husband-father, and less to extra hours and investment of his energy in his work or in his athletic endeavors.

This doesn't mean he gives all of his time to being a husband, father and breadwinner, but it does mean that he has to seriously change his lifestyle and the time and energy he gives to extracurricular activities. He must develop more of an "in touch awareness" of his wife. Help her to feel that she does count in his life.

The above examples require some basic, gut level adjustments on the part of both the husband and wife, as well as some patience and understanding on the part of the children.

By working together, this family with problems can once again become a happy and more harmonious family. Try it and see. You, too, can respond as this couple and end up saying, "it is worth the investment and change you have to make."

If you need help in developing communication that brings about more "in touch awareness" and that says "you count as much as I count," please call 692-3396 and ask for Madeleine Settles, Clinical Director of Counseling or come into the Niles Family Service in the Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton, Niles, 60648.

Power losses may result in food spoilage

"When in doubt, throw it out" may be the wisest course of action when examining foods that have been stored in refrigerators or freezers during a power outage, according to Katherine Jarrell, Cook County Extension Adviser, Home Economics.

During the summertime, frequent thunderstorms often result in power losses during which your freezer and refrigerator can be off for several minutes or up to several hours, say Jarrell. Rather than risk food poisoning, it's best to discard food you think may have been held at too warm of temperatures for safety.

Katherine Jarrell advises that foods normally requiring refrigeration that have warmed to 40 degrees Fahrenheit have moved into a "Danger zone" as far as the potential for the growth of microorganisms is concerned.

Food stored in a fully loaded, closed freezer will keep for up to two days without power. Food stored in a freezer that is only half full or in the freezer section of a combination refrigerator-freezer will not keep longer than one day, Jarrell says, adding that larger freezers will keep foods frozen longer than smaller ones during power losses.

She noted that the colder the food, the longer it will keep. If you know you are likely to lose power, you might want to turn your freezer thermostat down so it is colder than normal when the current goes off.

If your electrical power has been off for longer than the times mentioned above or you suspect some foods may have been damaged, a careful inspection is in order.

Jarrell explained that meat, eggs and milk may harbor microorganisms that can cause illness so they should be discarded if you have any doubts about their wholesomeness.

All meats except beef, veal and lamb stored in a freezer during a power failure that have thawed to the point where no ice crystals remain should be cooked as soon as possible and stored as you ordinarily would keep such leftovers. Beef, veal and lamb that shows no signs of spoilage but that have been allowed to warm to 40 degrees Fahrenheit for up to a day may be refrozen.

Other frozen items, such as frozen vegetables and fruits and cooked foods, can be stored in your refrigerator and then prepared as usual if they show no signs of spoilage. These foods should not be refrozen.

Fresh fruits and vegetables stored in a refrigerator should hold up well during a power outage, although fruit may begin to ferment if kept warm for long periods of time.

It's cliché, but the best advice probably is that it's better to be safe than sorry, Jarrell says. No matter how costly that roast was or how much you hate to part with those pints of cherries you froze yourself, they're not worth risking illness.

Round Robin champions

The cat that swallowed the canary—that's Dominick Basso and his White Sox! "They said it couldn't be done"—but it could and was done. Final game of the Bronco Round Robin Tournament put the fine Red Sox Team against the White Sox. The White Sox were down, but not for long. Super defensive plays by LoVerde and Rinaldi in the field robbed the Red Sox of timely and well hit balls. At just the right time McEvilly and McFeggan got on base. Good hits by Basso Kwiatkowski, Elenz and Kim with a double and single. Beyer broke it open with a grand slam and a triple with bases loaded. Giovanelli struck out four batters—Basso pitched well and so did Beyer. It was no stopping this fine White Sox team beating the Red Sox 20-5. Pitching for the Red Sox were DIMAPOLI, Marcos, Gable, Piento, Wagner and Romanek.

Thanks to all the players, coaches and parents and a special thanks to Coach Mike Marzillo, who worked hard all year to prove that it could be done!

The 2 teams, who are meeting each other for the first time this year, will be the Morton Grove Ten Easy Pieces, led by Greg Binder and Angelo Spezia, who came in first in the Skokie League last year, playing against the Niles Raiders, led by Randy Becker, who came in 3rd in the Rogers Park League this year.

There is no charge and your support will be greatly appreciated.

White Sox - Peanut League champs

After losing the first game to the Padres, the White Sox pulled out in front to win the next two in a row taking the Peanut League World Series.

In their first encounter, July 13, the Padres won scoring 8 runs against the White Sox 3. Both teams had 5 hits but the Padres defense was superior. The game jumped off with each team scoring 3 runs in the first inning. Koppensteiner and Beyer each had a home run for the Padres.
On July 17 the White Sox defense shined and everyone's nerves settled down. Pitchers Marty Murray, Stan Beane and Gian Galassi only allowed 5 hits. Both teams again scored in the first inning with Tom Wolshon, White Sox, hitting a 3 run home run giving hit team the first edge. Another home run by Marty Murray and hits by C. Ginocchio, G. Galassi, T. Wolshon, P. Murray and B. Abramson made the final score 9 to 3, White Sox. The Padres good hitting by Piento, Koppensteiner, Dalsanto, Beyer and Marks was stifled by the over all good team work of the White Sox including two good stops at 3rd base during the sixth inning by Glen Grandzinski.

The final game was Sunday, July 20, at Jozwiak in the 100 degree heat. It was anyone's game. Both teams had shown they were well matched in hitting, pitching and fielding. It was the White Sox who jumped off, again, to the lead with a 3 run home run by Tim Jensen in the first inning. The Padres Beyer scored in the first with DeSanto and Piento scoring in the 2nd and 3rd respectively. Also in the 3rd, the White Sox's Tom Wolshon countered, bringing in two more runs. In spite of the heat, the Padres came back with two more runs with hits by Piento and Koppensteiner. However, they were not able to rally and the game ended with an exciting double play by the White Sox. This left the final score White Sox 6, Padres 5. A close game; both teams should be proud of their over all good team effort.

District 67 Teachers agree to contract

A two year contract was approved recently. It provides for an approximate 11 per cent increase for next September and about an 8 per cent jump the following year.

The beginning Bachelor's pay will be $12,800 next year. Teachers with a Masters plus 24 hours additional graduate work can earn a top of $24,555. That's an improvement over the previous schedule which call for $11,990 and $22,435 respectively.

Several other elements of the previous contract were negotiated before school concluded this spring.

The Golf Teachers' Union is an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers. Previous contracts have been agreed upon when negotiating leadership was in the hands of an A.F.T. consultant representing the staff and a legal advisor representing the Board. Teachers bargained this year without participation by "an outsider". Administration and board members represented the School Board. They were able to endorse both salary changes and modifications in working conditions. Teachers and Board ratified the proposal on June 10.

Return to the more informal negotiating procedure was regarded positively by both the School Board and the teaching staff.

Weinberger challenges Porter

Calling the debate process "the essence of democracy", Bob Weinberger, 10th District Democratic congressional candidate, challenged his opponent, Rep. John Porter, to a series of at least five debates throughout the 10th District.

"Unlike most joint appearances, debates provide listeners with the opportunity to compare our views and our ability to defend them," Weinberger said in a letter to his opponent.

Weinberger noted that the 10th District has a tradition of debates between Congressional candidates. In 1976, fifteen took place between former Congressmen Mikva and Young. The League of Women Voters sponsored many of the debates, along with various other civic and religious organizations.

Skokie foot health project model for nation

"Plantar warts are contagious and can be spread to others at swimming pools" was the message circulating around Oakton Pool in Skokie on Saturday, July 19. Over 500 local residents participated in a free screening session held at the pool to have their feet checked for contagious plantar warts. The screening was one part of a successful program developed by the Community Health Information Council to warn the public that warts on the feet are contagious and can be spread by contact in swimming pools, gymnasium locker rooms and other similar public places.

The community was alerted to this health problem and motivated to take positive action in a way that will now serve as a model for similar health information programs the Council will conduct throughout the nation. The procedure involves influencing persons with a health problem to phone and hear a free recorded telephone message which then encourages them to take the necessary steps to improve their health or the health of others.

Lawrence M. Rubin, Skokie resident and coordinator of the Council's podiatry section reports that the success of the consumer information project was made possible through the assistance of area newspapers, businesses and the Skokie Park District. "Newspapers disseminated the information we supplied which detailed the contagious nature of warts. Articles

IRS helps taxpayers with "difficult" tax problems

When taxpayers have complaints or problems that do not seem to get proper attention through normal channels at the Internal Revenue Service, they can find assistance from the IRS Problem Resolution (PRP) Office.

Here's how the PRP system works, according to the IRS. First, a taxpayer brings the problem, such as a lost refund or incorrect billing, to normal IRS channels. If the problem is not solved, the taxpayer can call PRP. If the problem is not resolved within five working days, PRP will give the taxpayer a status report and a projected completion date.

PRP should not be considered a substitute for normal IRS channels or a cure for all types of problems, the IRS said. For example, decisions made during an audit, Freedom of Information requests, Privacy Act inquiries, and complaints about IRS hiring practices are handled in other offices. A call to IRS will be referred to the proper office. Chicago taxpayers can reach PRP by calling 435-1040 and asking for the Problem Resolution Office. Taxpayers living outside the city of Chicago should call 800-972-5400.

Holy Family installs nuclear medicine camera

Holy Family Hospital's Radiology Department has recently added a new Nuclear Medicine camera system and computer which can perform a wide range of advanced medical diagnostic procedures.

The MaxiCamera II/Med IV System, manufactured by General Electric, produces single images of the patient's entire body through a special attachment which enables the camera to slowly travel the length of the patient's body, gathering diagnostic information.

Installed along with the MaxiCamera II is the Med IV date acquisition and analysis system. The Med IV, a series of four computer banks, permits technicians to concentrate primarily on heart studies as well as perform procedures centering on the brain, kidneys, and other organs.

"The addition of the computer allows the radiologists to view the function of organs and visualize the body process," said Tony Wawczak, Assistant Manager, Radiology, Special Imaging Section.

In a routine examination, the patient is administered a tiny amount of a harmless, special isotope. In a short while, the patient is placed under the detector head of the camera and the scan is conducted. There is no discomfort to the patient.

The MaxiCamera II detects unusual concentrations of the isotope which helps the radiologist and technician accurately locate and assess tumors almost anywhere within the head and body and also evaluate blood flow through various parts of the body.

Scanning with the MaxiCamera II/Med IV system can often detect cardiovascular problems, bone metastases, and spreading cancer, earlier than conventional radiographic procedures. A treatment plan then may be developed for patient care.

A Woman's Formula for Success

For women to be successful, the formula is simple...here it is:

Look like a girl.
Act like a lady,
Think like a man,
And, work like a dog.

All women whom I have personally known who achieved great financial success have employed my above formula. My second wife not only used this method after I imparted it to her, but she today is a woman who became independently financially secure. While we were married, not only did she look like a girl, act like a lady, think like a man and work like a dog, but she also brought home to me her unopened paycheck. This, I wisely invested in fast horses, "hot" dice, inside straights, and sundry "sure things" in the wonderful world of sporting events.

I remember well our last evening together. She said to me, "Eddie, why did you get into that floating crap game, when those in the know warned you that the operators used crooked dice?"

"My dear, Cobra," I replied patiently, "of course, I knew the game was rigged but it was the ONLY game in town."

"I just can't understand you or figure you out. You're an enigma within an enigma," she sighed.

"It's simple, Cobra. As simple as you are. Riddle me this: What's the next best thing to bettin' and winnin'?"

"I give up—what?"

"Why, bettin' and losin', my dear Cobra," I explained.

Needless to say, after we parted company legally, Cobra went on to become a successful woman. Today she is financially independent. And now like a society Gado, she flutters from place to place like Las Vegas and Reno, and arranges bridge tournaments and other profitable social events.

And I've never so much as even asked her for a finder's fee; even tho' she owes all her present financial success to brilliant, little old me.

The Cinderella Story

Once upon a time, like recently, a lady of my acquaintance named Anne Balas, established a business for temporary office help. She has had 12 years experience in keypunch, in fact, she taught keypunch at an accredited college for more than two years.

In addition to keypunch, she supplies temporary office help for such diversified services as Secretarial, Switchboard, Typing, Filing, and General Office Work.

Anne (Cinderella) has also served as an executive secretary to internationally known corporations for legal, marketing, and corporate executives at a policy making level.

For lawyers who need a brief, or out of town sales executives who need a sales prospectus professionally prepared, or authors who need script or story typed, CINDERELLA is the girl Friday, who can deliver it with a high degree of professionalism.

In addition to her long and varied practical business experience, she is well educated and a very creative person herself.

If you have need for her services, give her a ring at 792-1540, CINDERELLA TEMPORARY OFFICE SERVICE, "Where Service Is Not A Thing Of The Past." (See Ad on this page)

OH, BOY!

When Angie Mrowiec and I dropped into the CHAMBER'S RESTAURANT last Saturday, Gary Makela promptly handed me a cigar saying, "I'm the proud papa of a 6 lb. 14 oz. boy named Eric Lee Makela. The baby son of Gary and his wife Marlene was born Friday, July 25th, at 8:43 A.M., at Lutheran General. The grandparents, Roy & Lorraine Makela put the message on their marquee, "It's A Boy!" This eclipsed even the billing of Ingrid Kelly, who, up to this event, has enjoyed top billing at the CHAMBERS, Niles' most posh Restaurant & Spa.

I said to Gary, "Thanks, but I don't smoke cigars." But Angie chimed in with, "I'll give the cigar to Dennis, my younger son." So I gave the cigar to Angie saying, "This should really endear me to your dear son, Dennis, who is a devoted Cub fan. Dennis, who secretly admires me but outwardly hates me because I say bad things about the Cubs such as "They're nice guys, the Cubs, therefore they shall 'finish last'" will ultimately come to believe in me because I'm always right at least, about the Cubs. Besides, I possess great occult powers.

But Dennis, who, to me, is no menace, is himself a very gifted, young engineer who can perform miracles with cars, planes, book binding equipment, etc. (He won 5 science awards while in grade school and built a working computer.)

Therefore, he, too, possesses great "God-Given Gifts," which he should be very thankful for.

My good friend, Mr. Wu, owner and chef of the IMPERIAL PALACE, 9000 N. Milwaukee ave, Niles is giving FREE a one half Peking Duck if the food bill is over $30.00. If the food bill is over $60.00, he gives away an entire Peking Duck, FREE! There is a special magic about Peking Duck, served in Mandarin style cooking at IMPERIAL PALACE. Aside from being

Little City benefits

Mayor Herbert H. Volberding, City of Des Plaines, has appointed Vince Gramarossa, State Farm Insurance, to head the volunteer recruitment for the 1980 "ILLINOIS SMILES FOR LITTLE CITY" Drive, to be held on Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9.

Little City, Palatine, a residential treatment center for mentally retarded and blind-retarded children, needs 3,000 volunteers for the massive, areawide drive. If you can volunteer, please call Steve Gramarossa, 296-8400.

something which is the most delicious sensation your taste-buds have ever experienced, it works magic with old and young lovers.

If you take your wife, best girl or whatever to IMPERIAL PALACE and order the Peking Duck, something magical happens. It's known as the love syndrome. After loving the delicious, moist, tasty sensation of the Peking Duck, the love of the palate transfers itself to love of the heart for the person whom you are with.

Being an advanced student of the occult and a master of parapsychology, I knew what would happen when I took Angie to the IMPERIAL PALACE. Her original dislike for me, after having the Peking Duck in this romantic place, changed into a genuine affection. NOW, it may be getting out of hand...

Elaine Heinen, dynamic commissioner of the Niles Park District, and her husband, came into the CHAMBERS RESTAURANT, and joined Angie and I for a drink. Elaine and Angie have something in common—they both speak Polish fluently. They are also both personable, good dressers and very religious. And, they both have excellent characters.

Sitting between two such lovely, goody, goody ladies could, I realized, have a disastrous effect upon my character.

It might change me into a nice guy.

And, as Leo Durocher always said, "Nice guys finish last..."

"I don't wanna be like the Cubs....So, last call girls, if you'd like to get on the chartered bus to the Sugar Shack. It's only $20 bucks. This includes admission, 2 FREE drinks, and your round trip fare. Call Joanne at KEN'S PLACE, Dempster and Milwaukee Ave, Niles, for full details, 965-9498.

I feel lots better now...see you next week, I hope...

Malnati's branching out

Lou Malnati's Pizzerias (6649 N. Lincoln ave., Lincolnwood/1050 E. Higgins, Elk Grove Village) and J. W. Cameron Co., a British firm, have worked out an arrangement to introduce Malnati's Chicago-style pizza to the English market. We will have as many as 10 locations (bearing the Malnati name) within three years, says Marc Malnati, head of the firm founded by his late father, Lou.

She's the main event

She's the kind of girl you'd want to take home to mother. That's the impression Marissa Mahnke, lead singer of the band Marissa and the Maine Event, makes on audiences. Chicagoans will get a chance to see for themselves when Marissa and her group come to Schaumburg's La Margarita restaurant (1626 Algonquin rd.) starting July 29 through August 31.

"Danceable music" is how Marissa describes the versatile group's music. "We play everything from Top 40's to Latin tunes, country songs, and old standards. We have something for everyone whether it's Dolly Parton's 'Here We Come Again,' Blondie's 'Call Me,' or Donna Summers' 'Last Dance,'" Marissa says.

According to the blond chanteuse, "What we offer people is energetic music. When we play, it's not just a job, it's our whole life."

Marissa goes through three costume changes during a performance, including a boxing outfit complete with gloves and shoes. Whether you're a fight fan or not, you may want to stop by La Margarita to catch Marissa and the Maine Event.

Advance tickets are $6.50 and are available at various Hinsdale locations. Gate admission is $8 and children 15 and under are admitted for $2.50.

Setting standards at Mindscape Gallery

Standards don't always come in the form of rigid ideas. At Mindscape Gallery, 1521 Sherman ave., Evanston, the standards are soft, colorful and hanging from the rafters. They're in a show called Flying Colors, which features fabric banners and standards created by five leading American craftspeople, thru August 16.

Banners have an ancient and colorful tradition, fluttering from turrets, proclaiming local pageants, and waving proudly in battle. When a man few his colors, people knew his trade, his noble family and his standards. Banners are back, and they're stronger than ever. Happy remnants of the old tradition fly in Chicago's parades and brightly announce our cultural events.

We still relate banners to proud and joyous things, and a lot of people are discovering the fun and self-expressing of flying their own.

People with the urge to set their own standards will find a new twist on history with the works of local artist Sara Drower, Carter Smith of California, Doreen Lah of Texas, Joanne Louise of Pennsylvania, and Louise Kodis of Washington. Their creations fly indoors or out, in strong Chicago winds and gentle air-conditioned breezes. They are the artists' personal celebration of a fine old tradition.

Have a game party. Try Monopoly or Scrabble or an assortment of old favorites you haven't played for years. The menu consists of entertaining dishes which can all be prepared in advance. Except for serving, you won't have to miss any of the fun. The secret of Monopoly Cake is its delectable combination of Bacardi rum and peanut butter. Park Place Fruit Bowl is a perfect teammate, partnered by tasty Marvin Gardens Punch.

MONOPOLY CAKE 3/4 cup (1-1/2 sticks) butter or margarine 1/4 cup creamy peanut butter 4 eggs, at room temperature 1/2 cup buttermilk 2 cups sugar 1 tablespoon baking powder 3 cups sifted flour 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract 1/2 cup Bacardi light rum (80 proof) 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

In large bowl, combine first nine ingredients. Beat at low speed of electric mixer or with wooden spoon to blend. Beat at medium speed for two minutes, scraping sides of bowl occasionally. Pour into greased and floured 12 cup Bundt pan or 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 350° F. for 45 minutes. Reduce heat to 325° F. and bake 20 minutes longer or until cake tests done. Cut on wire rack for 10 minutes in pan. Remove from pan and cool completely on wire rack. When cool, combine sugar, rum and vanilla. Beat to smooth spreading consistency. Spread or drizzle over cake. Makes one 12-cup cake.

New members at Orchard Mental Health Center

The Board of Directors of Orchard Mental Health Center of Niles Township, recently welcomed two new members to its ranks.

Mrs. Evelyn Kahn, presently an Assistant Professor in the Department of Public Health Nursing, University of Illinois Medical Center, brings to the OMHC, not only professional expertise but considerable experience in community involvement. Since 1974, she has served, at various times, on the Boards of Lincolnwood School District 74, Visiting Nurse's Association at Skokie Valley, North Suburban Homemakers, etc. Having worked as a nurse in the Chicago public school system, she is familiar with the many school problems presented by children in which psychological difficulties play a part.

Mr. James Carlson is presently Executive Vice-President of the First National Bank of Skokie. Mr. Carlson's long banking career began in 1962 after completing his B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering from I.I.T. He continued his post-graduate work, receiving his M.B.A. from University of Chicago in 1971. Active in community affairs, he has been director of the Civic Federation of Chicago, the Welfare Services Committee of Cook County Department of Welfare, and Director of the University of Chicago Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Each year, 25,000 children are born with heart defects which could disable them for life. But the American Heart Association says heart surgery will help many of them to lead a normal life.

Weinberger calls GOP platform a disgrace

Attacking the GOP platform as a "giant step backward," Bob Weinberger, 10th District Democratic Congressional candidate, criticized the platform's stands on ERA, abortion and judicial appointment as the most conservative platform since the Goldwater Platform of 1964.

"The Republican Party proposes to do away with the freedom of choice of 51% of our population, while at the same time proclaiming itself the party of the individual. It's simply ludicrous. The platform could not be worse on the individual rights of women," Weinberger said.

Weinberger expressed particular concern about the so-called "litmus test" for judicial appointees.

"The Republican party, in demanding the appointment of only those judges who oppose abortion, is mounting an assault on the Constitution," said Weinberger.

DEFER TAX PAYMENTS INDEFINITELY AND BUILD CASH VALUE!

A new high yielding tax-deferment annuity plan available from Glenview State Bank and underwritten by International General Insurance Corp. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The Glenview State Bank Tax Defer-All™ Plan (TDA) allows you to effectively combat inflation and cut taxes. Deposit balances are F.D.I.C.-insured.

TDA is designed for individuals with medium to long range goals who desire to protect themselves against the erosive effects of taxes and inflation.

How much will the TDA reduce my Taxes?

It depends on your present tax bracket and the amount of your deposits. No Federal and State taxes are assessed until you withdraw the interest—possibly in your retirement years at which time your tax bracket will likely be significantly lower. Also you'll then be paying taxes with inflated dollars which will probably be worth less than they are today.

Are my funds protected?

Yes. The Tax Defer-All Plan is underwritten by the International General Insurance Corp. with deposits maintained in Glenview State Bank where they are F.D.I.C.-insured up to $100,000.

How much will my cash value grow?

You may select any of three popular Glenview State Bank Money Market Certificates under TDA. These are our 6-month T-Bill Certificates ($10,000 min.) and our 30-month T-Note Certificate ($1,000 min.) whose interest rates are based on U.S. Treasury Bill auction rates and our high yielding 8-year Certificate ($1,000 min.). The interest rates on these cash building vehicles are continually posted in our main bank lobby.

Can I withdraw funds at any time?

While TDA is designed to build cash value for medium to long range goals, a certain percentage of your deposits are always available without penalty for withdrawal. Beyond this, penalties would be incurred for additional withdrawals until the plan had matured.

May anyone participate in TDA?

Yes. Even participants in Keogh, IRA or other retirement plans.

May I transfer funds from other financial institutions where I am earning taxable interest to the Tax Defer-All Plan where my taxes will be deferred?

Unequivocally, yes! And you may do so without incurring any interest penalties for early withdrawal! Simply ask us for a TDA re-registration authorization form.

one or more schools and has already announced they are considering a referendum on a tax increase to make up the deficit they anticipate by June, 1983. The district currently has no money problems, but the deficit is expected unless taxpayers vote the increase.

Project SEE, a committee made up of 140 community members called for the closing of at least one school no later than June of 1982.

District 207 school board official said the district is willing to pay their teachers a higher salary in order to retain the high quality teaching staff they now have. However, the raises won't make as large a dent in the budget as would seem likely since the decline in enrollment will reflect in a smaller teaching staff.

A recent increase in state aid, higher assessed valuations and earlier collection of taxes have made the money available for a District 207 spokesman.

Niles hearing . . .

The Village of Niles was held to give Maksic an opportunity to show cause why his business license should not be revoked.

Mayor Nicholas Blase had scheduled the hearing due to the seriousness of the charges against Maksic.

Maksic has been charged with touching two girls, ages 8 and 14 indecently in an alleged incident that took place in the shop on July 1. Both girls appeared at the hearing and submitted testimony against Maksic.

Maksic sought a continuance on the hearing since he told Niles Hearing Officer Robert Hornig that his attorney and 2 witnesses could not be present.

After the testimony of the two young girls and the arresting officer Don Leavitt, Maksic was given a continuance to Monday, Aug. 11 at 2 p.m. at which time he will present his case.

Jimmy, don't think he can win, and want to join forces to do "The Man" in.

"Elaine, the Commish" is also a Niles park commissioner. She sits on that 4-man, 1-woman board and tells it like it is to one and all. She puffs at the newspapers. Sitting up on the rostrum she brushes the egos of the newspaper people telling them what a great job they're doing.

She's put in charge of the July 4th parade. And she does some kind of job. She gets hands and paraders from everywhere. She 'sells' several businessmen on giving donations. Money and MacDonald hamburgers, and balloons and prizes and flags.

She's all over the map, cajoling and asking, and wheedling and running one great July 4th event. And she pops off. "The other newspapers were at the committee meeting. Where was The Bugle?"

Robert's Rules go out the window. Bingo, The Commish, is off and running. She might be running right up to the top of the Niles hierarchy.

Michael Barnes doesn't have anything against Jimmy. Matter of fact he might prefer Jimmy to Teddy, or Fritz or Secretary Muskie. But Michael Barnes has been on the hill for 3 semesters and he'd like to return again.

Jimmy is pretty shaky heading the ticket. With brother Billy being investigated and the polls pointing downward, Congressman Barnes probably thinks Jimmy is a poor risk to head a ticket in which several Michael Barnes-types might go down the tube with Jimmy.

So he's set-up offices in Washington. . . and New York. And the pre-convention rumble has begun. All the Democratic Congressmen are being polled as to their preferences.

The groundswell could reach earthquake proportions if enough of his fellow-Democrats feel they might go down the tube with Jimmy.

Bingo Heinen, the Commish, is also a board member of the Maine-Niles Association for Special Recreation. She's spreading herself all over the board.

That's the way political candidates first begin to smell the bacon.

We spoke to Ms. Heinen Tuesday: "Elaine, the voices in the land have been repeating you'll be running for Mayor next April?"

"I have no comment." "Are you planning to run for another political office?" "I don't know."

"Are you considering making a run for the top job?" "I'm giving it serious thought" (Aha!)

"We don't want to put words in your mouth, Elaine." "The Bugle will be the first to know. We will need all the support we can get if we decide to run."

meetings with other library trustees from all over the United States provided valuable insights to library management.

"We both came away from the meetings with an increased awareness of the problems that face libraries, but also inspired as to the wealth of opportunities for areas of growth in library service in the decade ahead," stated Mrs. Grant. "We look forward to having Lincolnwood and its library benefit from our experiences."

Cable TV . . .

Continental Cablevision, which is now projecting a 60-70 per cent enrollment in the cable TV system, said that residents will be receiving mailers approximately one week before a direct salesman will call.

Already 400 families have subscribed. If Morton Grove residents have any questions regarding Continental Cable TV service, please call Continental at 470-4220 and their representatives will be happy to be of service to you.

In other business at Monday night's meeting of the village board, Morton Grove resident John Hilkin questioned various points in the village appropriation ordinance. He and the board have long been at odds, especially as he unsuccessfully led the fight to remove "home rule" taxing powers from the village.

Hilkin questioned the $1.1 million or 24 per cent increase in the corporate fund appropriation.

Trustee Lewis Greenberg explained that much of the money to be spent would be covered through federal revenue sharing funds.

Hilkin also accused the Board that "cash flow in the village was at a precarious level" if there is a need for an $800,000 bank loan.

Trustees explained that this was due to late receipt of county tax bills. "Again trustees claimed that their fiscal responsibility far surpassed the state of affairs during Hilkin's time on the board."

It was said that Hilkin's group overtaxed residents.

Tempers were raised but controlled and Trustee Richard Hols finally addressed Hilkin with the following oration. "I'm tired of seeing the integrity of myself and the rest of this Board being questioned by a former Board member of Morton Grove's little Watergate scandal who totally ignored their responsibilities . . . to keep the physical plants in good shape.

"This Board sits here for the good of the village and not solely for the purpose of political aspirations but I accept the criticism, I consider the source, and to soften this outburst I would reluctantly label it "Democracy in action."

"In other board business: . . . The village will no longer be picking up downed branches from the past storms and residents will be expected to prepare four foot bundles for regular village garbage pickup. . . Trustees deferred the acceptance of bids for large pieces of machinery to review the need for such purchases."

"There will be a public meeting regarding the Dempster street commercial strip analysis on Thursday August 7 at 8 p.m. at Parkview school, 6200 Lake street."

At a recent booth at the American Legion's Expo '80, citizens were asked to fill out a lengthy questionnaire to obtain ideas and attitudes for the project. Those who completed the questionnaire became eligible for a "mystery prize."

Mayor Flickinger selected the card of Evelyn Schelsky, 8420 Mason, who will receive a certificate of appreciation and village vehicle sticker number 1. . . Applications for absentee ballots for those who will not be in town for the November election are available at the village hall.

History Fair winners on display

Two Lincolnwood participants in the Illinois History Fair will display their award-winning projects at the Lincolnwood Library, 4100 West Pratt, in July and August.

Helene Cohan's "Graceland Cemetery" will be exhibited from July 28 through August 2. Adam Chern's "The Hard Way to Make an Easy Living: The Chicago Board of Trade" will be shown the week of August 4 through August 9.

Both students began on their success trail when they added an extra-credit project to their assigned papers for their 8th grade history class this spring.

The quality and interest of their work led to competition in the Northeast Regionals of the Fair where both projects were awarded "Superior" ribbons.

The next step was an invitation to appear at the Illinois State Historical Society's 32nd Annual Illinois History Day in Springfield. Projects were exhibited and Helene and Adam added another set of "Superior" ribbons to their growing collection.

Last stop was a trip to Washington, D.C. for National History Day, and "High Excellent" ratings for both.

Post office vacation tips

Before leaving on vacation several simple steps can make sure your mail is handled smoothly while you're away.

Postmaster Louis G. Principali said, "Ask a neighbor or relative to remove mail and newspaper from your mailbox daily, or have mail held at the post office," he said. "A written request to hold mail up to 30 days can be given to your letter carrier or submitted at the local post office. If an extended absence is anticipated, a temporary mail forwarding order can be requested."

Postmaster Principali stressed the importance of not letting mail accumulate in a mailbox, saying "It's a sign even novice burglars can detect."

Other tips include taking an ample supply of items and postal cards on your trip and remembering to take the addresses of those to whom you may write. Don't forget, post cards only require 10¢ postage, while standard letters one ounce or less need a 15¢ stamp.

FNBO's chairman gets new horse

Erman G. Kramer, Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of Skokie, was given a new "stick horse" to commemorate his 19th year of service at the bank.

Kramer, whose hobby of showing and raising Arabian horses has had great blue ribbon successes recently, seemed pleased at the new addition to his stable. He commented that it would probably be a lot less trouble than the rest of the

A. B. Dick appoints new agency

The A. B. Dick Company, Chicago, today announced the appointment of the Chicago office of Campbell-Mithun, Inc. for the company's corporate and product marketing advertising, effective July 21.

In announcing the appointment, Edward H. Kight, executive vice president, marketing and services, said "The A. B. Dick worldwide marketing plan calls for an aggressive communications effort to support our diverse electronic information processing systems. The appointment of Campbell-Mithun will help the company implement this intensive marketing program."

The account was formerly handled by Marsteller, Inc., Chicago. A. B. Dick Company, an acknowledged leader in the information processing field, markets a broad line of products worldwide, including word processors, record processors, electronic information systems, ink-jet printing systems, plain paper and electrofax copiers, offset printing equipment, stencil and spirit duplicators, as well as accessories, supplies and paper.

Dammrich elected Vice President

William J. Hocter, executive vice president, announced at its quarterly meeting last week the Illinois Bankers Association (IBA) elected Thomas J. Dammrich vice president and director of education.

Dammrich joined the IBA as director of education in February 1978. His responsibilities include the design and implementation of the association convention and six major statewide conferences and several ad hoc workshops each year. He serves as registrar of the Illinois Bankers School as well as of the association's more specialized agriculture and consumer lending schools. Dammrich directs the staff support group of the IBA's professional banking and educational divisions and committees.

A native of East St. Louis and resident of Belleville, he now makes his home with his wife and family in Skokie.

Northrop promotes Des Plaines resident

Patricia Wakefield of Des Plaines was recently promoted to technician senior at Northrop Corporation's Defense Systems Division here.

Employed by Northrop for two years, Ms. Wakefield is now responsible for the construction and testing of projects in support of U.S. Air Force B-52 avionics systems. She is currently studying for an associate degree in electronics.

"Here comes Johnny!"

by Al Johnson

Was received exceptionally well at Skokie Federal last week. Plain and sympathetic talk about the money conditions of today and what they were doing was the order of the day. They look for the number of associations in the country to consolidate into 1,000 from the approximately 5,000 there are today. And they expect Skokie Federal to be among the 1,000. This is being done by expanding their Branch Offices (now at eight) and also by having formed a companion lending institution which is now the second largest in the United States. These bold and progressive steps should bode well for the community and Skokie Federal's employees because of their growing commitment and involvement in the important home ownership industry.

Morton Grove's Expo '80 last Sunday at the American Legion Hall generated terrific interest and was very, very successful. This was the Bugle's first direct involvement and we wish to thank all who supported us in getting the message across. Special laurels should go to Nick Marino, president of Morton Grove's Chamber of Commerce, and Chuck Langfeld who headed the Expo '80 committee chairmen of Bob Dick, Art Johnson, Renate Szyfer and Roy Schneider. According to Langfeld, 8,000 were in attendance during the day making it one of their most successful events ever....

George Batorski, Sales Manager of Fergus Ford, is out of Skokie Valley Hospital after a severe bout with blood poisoning....Tom Grimm, the insurance mogul of Park Ridge reports his wife Carlotta is progressing nicely and is out of Lutheran General....Jerry Swearingen, Vice-President and marketing strategist for Skokie Trust and Savings Bank, greeted me with a "Hi, Al." It surprised me because I hadn't seen him in a couple of years. He told me he rarely forgets a name. Of further note, he is very happy with results of his promotion with Kohls whereby depositors of specific amounts received free groceries....

Tom Meyenberg, who heads Kitchen & Bath Mart on Milwaukee Avenue in Niles (also locations in Wilmette and Elgin) reports good business conditions. People have more than ever considered renovating these two important areas (kitchens and baths) rather than move into a newer and usually more expensive home. Various fixtures including country style to the most modern are on display for visual inspection....

Hope Ken Hoffman get "Killer" back. Seems as though his combination Airdale-German Shepard has been missing for awhile. For a dog's age, Killer is probably the equivalent of a man in his fifties. Do you think maybe he's been missing something all these years and is out exploring?...

More than one member commented, so I know it's true, that the "cold cut" luncheon served by the Highway Club on Milwaukee and Howard to the Park Ridge Lion's Club was more than ample and delicious.....I won't tell you where they're from, but gals Marion Glassgen, Claude Martin and Susan Johnson are doing excellent jobs in the sensitive public relations and consumer contact area for their respective employers.....

Skokie Chamber growth continues!

Avon Foundation gifts

Worldwide in 1979, the Avon Foundation distributed over $1.3 million in gifts throughout the communities in which its facilities are located. During the presentation, Mr. Mecklenburg stated that "from a corporate standpoint, we realize that success today is measured by not only by Corporate profits, but also by the Corporation's degree of concern with the society and environment in which it functions."

At a coffee/reception hosted by General Managers Gene Mecklenburg and Doug Meyers, Avon Products, Inc., a local community involved corporation, expressed its continued interest in improving the quality of life where Avon employees work and live. The company demonstrated its community interest by presenting Foundation gifts to the following educational, social service and health related organizations: Chicago Youth Centers, Evanston/Glenbrook Hospital, Fifth City Industrial Promotions Corporations, Glenview Volunteers Board, Good Shepherd Hospital, Greater Chicago Food Depository, Jewish Vocational Service, Lutheran General Hospital, United Charities of Chicago (Camp Algonquin), University of Chicago Cancer Research Foundation, Wendell Phillips High School and Youth Services of Glenview.

Terracom signs State Farm

Dean Elliott, of Terracom Development Group, Des Plaines, announced a 6,000 square foot lease with State Farm Insurance Co. for an auto claim office in the Woolco-Butera Shopping Center of Kirchoff rd. and Meadows Drive in Rolling Meadows. Steve Loverde, claim office manager, advised the additional space was needed to offset the heavy traffic in State Farm's Niles claim center. Total lease consideration was $144,000.

Goldman Home benefit

Raffle committee chairman Joe Shapiro plans drawing for first prize of $300 with Goldman Home Administrator Ruth Cohen (right) and Governing Board President Linda Horwitz at the Home Sunday, August 17, 2 p.m. All proceeds benefit the non-profit residential home and day care center for senior adults. The Harmonaires will provide entertainment honoring the second anniversary of the Home's present location at 6601 W. Touhy. Public is invited.

Legion Juniors win Cook County Auxiliary awards

Ms. Kris Karsten, Junior Advisor of the Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 has announced that after successful competition on the district level, members of the Juniors had many entries judged winners in recent Cook County contests.

Coincidentally, the Cook County session was held at the Morton Grove Legion Home. This location is a popular one because of its size and facilities for accommodations, as well as its accessibility to the highways and major thoroughfares for drivers. Several Morton Grove Junior Aux. members participated in the afternoon program also. Cindy Huber, Morton Grove Jr. Chairman, handled registration of guests. Diana Hellestrae was the registrar for the doll dressing contest.

7th Dist. President is Mrs. Elynor Schmidt, herself a past pres. of the Morton Grove Unit. Many district people were in attendance. Mrs. Schmidt chose as her personal page Dawn Gunter.

Also participating was Peggy Hellestrae who read the poppy report and presented awards. In addition to Mrs. Schmidt and Ms. Karsten, other M.G. senior members who were present, assisted with serving refreshments and lending support were past pres. Mrs. Nina Bartholmy, Mrs. Barbara Cozzo, past Pres. Mrs. Lorry Nehart and Unit vice president Mrs. Julie Karsten.

The categories for judging were dependent on the Juniors' ages. In their respective groups, Charlotte Kreegier and Peggy Hellestrae won a first and second place award for poppy centerpieces. Cindy Huber was awarded a first place ribbon for her tray favor entry, and Kathy Kar-sten won third place in the same area.

Handicrafts and paper handwork are displayed on boards, illustrating the items the Juniors fashioned throughout the year for presentation to the hospitalized servicemen. In one contest, the M.G. Juniors received a 3rd place and in another, an honorable mention for handicrafts. For their paper work in two different areas, they were awarded a first and second place award each.

Items constructed are tied in with the various holidays using such themes as hearts for Valentine Day, shamrocks for St. Patrick's and Christmas trees for the Dec. 25 celebration. Articles include tray favors which incorporated coins, candy, gym, etc. and other items displayed were cross word puzzle books, joke scrapbooks, scuffies; stationery kit, handkerchief holders, etc.

Poppies are the symbols of the American Legion and its subsidiary groups and are used in these various contests.

Poppy funds derived are also used for such work in the rehabilitation field to cheer the veterans still confined to the hospitals.

Juniors are daughters, granddaughters and sisters of veterans, 18 years of age and under.

Marillac wall painting

An artist's dream came true this month when Marillac senior and junior art students completed a mural in the hall outside their classroom.

Senior Alice Kozaneci directed the project; junior Janet West designed the mural. Seventeen artists worked on the wall during time and free time after the initial painters' sessions were Beth Baechelandt, Sue Bonner, Gayle Kaczynski, Jeanne Shydowski, Grace Tobin, Sheila Von Driska, and Jane Motoney.

Art teacher, Mrs. Laurette Plattner, worked with the girls as they executed Janet's design; Janet created delightful figures who were painting a wall. The girls signed their names to their creation and dedicated the mural to Miss Mary Ann Entrup, the Art Department Chairperson for the past 10 years.

Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Marirose Bartels, and her class played hostesses at the "Meet the Artists' Reception."
