Zoners ok rear yard variation

by Diane Miller
The Niles Plan, Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals Monday evening approved the request of Edward Nazimek, 9805 Canavan ct., for a variation from 40 feet to 36 feet to construct an enclosed porch on the rear of his home.

Nazimek explained to the commissioners he now has an 8 foot by 12 foot redwood deck on the rear of his home, but was petitioning the board for the 10% rear yard variation so he could erect an enclosed porch which he and his wife would use during the warm months only. Nazimek said the room would not be heated or insulated. His wife is allergic to bees and the influx of these insects this past summer made it extremely dangerous for her to sit outside at any time.

Board studies draft for teachers' early retirement plan

Lice problem under control in Dist. 63

by Eileen Hirschfeld

At the District 63 school board meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 2, Donald Stetina, associate superintendent, reported the lice situation in the District 63 schools is under control. Parents protested the district's methods of treatment at a former meeting. Stetina said the Cook County Department of Public Health reviewed district procedures and found them acceptable. However, no screening team was sent from the Department. Because of the severity of the problem in Stevenson school, said Stetina, all pupils were checked. Letters concerning the problem were given to all parents during conferences, he said. A final draft of a proposed early retirement plan for teachers was presented to mem-

Nilesite Paula Missale, the lady whose efforts led to the apprehension of the man indicted for sexually assaulting a Niles child, will be honored at next Tuesday's Niles village board meeting. Not only will the village express its thanks but the Niles Chamber of Commerce will attempt to present a $500 check to Paula for her efforts. As of Tuesday, we have been told she prefers not to accept any reward.

The Chamber, in co-operation with the police department and a very generous anonymous resident, has set-up a Citizens Reward Fund, which recognizes citizens who aid the Niles police department in fighting major crimes. The police will recommend to the Chamber citizens who've been instrumental in leading to arrests. The Chamber committee will make the final determination who will receive the rewards.

The anonymous donor contributed $5,000 to set-up the fund. He said there would be more money available in the future. And he suggested the Chamber members might make small donations to the fund to perpetuate it.

Niles child abduction case continued to Jan. 5

The kidnapping-sexual assault case against Nilesite James Kurtzer was continued until Jan. 5. It is quite likely the case will not be heard until Feb. or Mar.

Monday, in Judge Francis Glowacki's courtroom in Des Plaines, the January date was scheduled to answer discovery motions.

Defense attorney Richard Neville told The Bugle photos, tests, police reports, statements from witnesses and whatever is appropriate pertaining to exchanging information with the state's attorney's office will take place then.

In the abbreviated 5-minute court session Monday the defense attorney asked the court to release Kurtzer's automobile which has been impounded. Tuesday, Niles police said it was expected the car would be released imminently after it was determined the car was owned in joint tenancy with Kurtzer's wife.

Ernie Banks, Irv Kupcinet, Aaron Gold, Bob Siroff, Sherman Kaplan and Niles Mayor Nick Blase head the list.

Visitors bring sunshine to isolated seniors in Niles Township

Do you know of a lonely senior citizen who would like a friendly visitor?
The Senior Adult Center of Leaning Tower Family "Y" has a wonderful OUTREACH PROGRAM that visits 8 Niles Townships Area Nursing Homes seeing about 250 residents per week, plus visits to about 75 isolated Seniors in their own homes. The staff consists of 2 supervisory workers, Lenna Siens and Mildred Kaplan - plus 8 friendly visitors, all under the able direction of Shirley Spears.

These dedicated workers are proud to bring some sunshine into the lives of many Niles Township Seniors who have no relatives or friends to visit with them. Visiting Seniors is only a small part of what these outreach workers do. They provide information and referral, counseling, make arrangements for and coordinate many outside services that the shut-ins might need. The main goal is to provide supportive services to help elderly persons to function in their own homes. The friendly visitors provide companionship to alleviate loneliness and stress. They do everything from paper work to bringing gifts and a birthday cake to shut-ins who might not otherwise see a friendly face for weeks. Our visitors are the family that some seniors do not have.

If you would like a friendly visitor, or know of someone in the Niles Township Area who needs a visitor, please call Shirley Spears at 647-8222 for more information.

Notre Dame Open House Sunday

Notre Dame High School, 7655 Dempster, Niles, will conduct its annual Open House on Sunday, Dec. 7 from 1-5 p.m.

All boys in parochial and public grade schools, especially those in seventh and eighth grades, and their parents are invited. Members of the Notre Dame administration, faculty, and students will be presenting guided tours of the school.

Notre Dame High School opened its doors in September, 1955. In June of 1955 sixteen Holy Cross fathers were assigned to begin the ministry of Catholic Education at Notre Dame.

From a beginning of 16 priests, one brother, and two lay teachers the Notre Dame faculty has grown to 64 teachers. The average teacher has 13.3 years' experience. Over 1/2 of the faculty hold advanced degrees with one holding a Ph.D. and 36 holding M.A. degrees.

While schools are closing, and enrollment lags in some area schools, enrollment at Notre Dame is on the rise. Enrollments jumped 6% for the 1980-81 school year. Students come from approximately 57 area grade schools and junior high schools.

Notre Dame has a high percentage of students who pursue higher education. Over 86% of the 1980 graduating class attended either four or two year colleges.

A good all-around athletic program is also offered, which includes 10 varsity sports. Students also have a large selection of organizations to choose from, such as publications, band, and special interest clubs.

The admissions process for all of next year's incoming freshmen starts with a placement test which will be given on Saturday, Jan. 10, 1981, at Notre Dame from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Each boy is asked to bring two No. 2 pencils and a $10 registration fee.

Niles Youth Essay winner promotes Beep Baseball for blind

Glen Capek, 9805 Lauron In. Niles and an eighth grade student at St. Isaac Jogues School, 8101 Golf rd., Niles took his place of honor on the podium in the Niles Court Room and became Niles honorary mayor Tuesday evening, Nov. 25 at the regularly scheduled village board meeting.

Capek, a very self-assured young man read his prize winning essay which responded to the question: "If you could volunteer your time and energy for a worthwhile cause, what would you select?" He received a $100 United States Savings Bond as his prize. Glen's essay is as follows:

"The worthwhile cause I want to donate my time and energy to is Beep Baseball. No, this is not a new electronic game, but a new addition to the great American game of baseball. This game is called Beep Baseball, and is played with blind players. The ball used, developed by the Telephone Pioneers of America, beeps constantly during the game. Even though the players are unable to see the ball, they are able to hit and field the beeping ball. Each batter is allowed five strikes and may let two pitches go by. Foul balls after 4 strikes do not count as strikes. When a batter hits a ball it must not only stay within the normal foul lines, it must also go at least 40 feet or it will be called a foul ball. One of the two bases that are used as 1st or 3rd, are activated to produce a continuous buzzing sound. The bases are road cones with a buzzer, battery and speaker and as in professional baseball, are 90 feet away from home plate. The batter must run to the base that is activated, and in order to be safe, must make contact with some part of the base before one of the five fielders pick up the ball. The positions in the field are: 1st base, 3rd base, right field, left field, and center field. The field is divided up into 5 zones which are numbered 1-5. Besides the 5 fielders there are also 2 sighted people in the field who may give a one word command to give the fielders some idea of where the ball is going. When the command is given the players move in the appropriate direction to block the ball with their bodies or to back up the play. The 2 sighted people on the team also double as a pitcher and catcher. From a distance of 20 feet the pitcher pitches to his own team while the other team plays the field. Each team gets 3 outs, as in professional baseball, but should a blind player catch a hit ball on a fly, it automatically counts as 3 outs.

When one team goes ahead by 12 runs or more, the 12 run rule goes into effect. This means that the team who is ahead by 12 or more runs finishes their inning, then the team who is behind bats until they catch up or use up all their outs for the game. If the losing team ties or goes ahead, the other team then gets the chance to use the rest of their outs. The pitcher and catcher may give instructions to the batter until the ball is pitched. When everyone is ready, the pitcher lets the batter and fielders know by saying "Ready" and "Pitch", when he releases the ball.

Right now there are only 3 Chicago area teams. They are: Chicago Bluffs, Elmhurst

Eagles, and Matteson Herd. The order in which they are listed corresponds to the order they finished the season. The Chicago Bluffs is the team that I donate my time and energy to. I like helping them because I love to play baseball and I'm sure that the players on all the teams would like baseball as much as I do. Instead they have a great love of this game and a great determination to play hard, to the best of their abilities and to win.

This is the third year in a row that the Bluffs have come in first place. The past two years the Bluffs have gone to the N.B.B.A. (National Beep Baseball Association) National Tournament. In 1978 the tournament was in Phoenix, Arizona, and the Bluffs did not win a game. In 1979 in Wichita, Kansas, the Bluffs came in 4th in the nation. This year on Sept. 25-28 the Bluffs will go to Fort Worth, Texas, for their third straight national tournament. In the 1979 tournament the Bluffs set two records, longest game, most runs scored in a game and were voted most improved team for moving from last to 4th place.

To excel in Beep Baseball takes lots of practice, courage, and trust in sighted people.

When a sighted person puts on a blindfold and tries to make a play in the field, it's not as easy as they might think. Blind people are better fielders and base runners than sighted people with blindfolds because the blind people are more accustomed to using their ears instead of their eyes. The blind will also run harder because they trust sighted people won't let them run into something or someone more that some sighted people trust that other. Whereas in batting, sighted people with blindfolds might have an edge because they were able to see the correct way to swing a bat and might have a more constant swing which is easier for the pitcher.

Beep Baseball, in my mind, is the best sport ever invented, and I hope to stay involved for many years to come."

The other essay prize winners who received a $50 United States Savings Bond were: Tom Ferraro, 8145 W. Bruce dr., Our Lady of Ransom; Diane Dispart, 8238 N. Maine East's girls' gymnastics team has been awarded all-American team status by the National High School Gymnastics Coaches' Association.

For the 1979-80 school year, there were 24 women's teams who earned all-American team honors nationwide. The Demons had an average team score of 103.55.

Demon girls' Basketball Preview

The girls' basketball team at Maine East is gearing up for its toughest schedule ever. The season gets underway Thursday, Dec. 4, at Arlington.

Besides the always tough Central Suburban League south division teams, the Demons will face such non-conference foes as Maine South, Niles West, New Trier East, Hoffman Estates, and Buffalo Grove among others.

Coach Jerry Fischer, beginning his first full season as head coach, is looking forward to tryouts, which began Nov. 17.

"We have the potential to be a better club than last year, but first we have to put it all together. I would like to see the girls improve on our 12-13 record of last year and become, for the first time, a plus .500 ball club at year's end. I feel this is attainable with hard work and team work by all."

"Although we lost only two people from last year, we still have a young club with the majority of girls being juniors. Returning letter winners include seniors Andi Mazor, Pat McGuigan, and Barb Stelk. Juniors returning are Beth Bialko, all-conference selection Sue Busiel, Dorothy Krause, Vicki Oster, and Linda Wilson." Mr. James Tortorelli will again handle the junior varsity and assistant varsity coaching positions he held last year.

Mrs. Pat Bontsema will guide the freshman team, for the first time a recognized level in District 207.

Honor SJB 5th grade girl cagers

The St. John Brebeuf 5th grade girls' basketball team was recently honored at a banquet in Flannigan Hall. This outstanding team defeated every 5th grade team it played. They also captured first place in a 5th grade tournament hosted by St. John Brebeuf School with victories over the girls from St. Monica's of Chicago, St. Raymond's of Des Plaines and St. Francis Borgia of Chicago.

The girls also beat five sixth grade teams enroute to the third place finish they earned in the Northwest Catholic League.

Coach John Marusek related the following as he awarded the achievement trophies to the SJB players. Colleen O'Grady was the leader of the defensive team. Diane Kehr gave the team tremendous offensive power on the left side of the court. Amy Surace prepared for the season successfully by playing with and against high school girls for six weeks at a summer basketball camp. Kirsten Hack was very successful on blocking passes and shots. We put our best defensive players such as Kirsten where we expected the opposition to make their most potent threat. Lorana Magnell never gave up. If there was an offensive rebound to be had Lorana usually obtained it. Beata Kurylo showed tremendous improvement over the season. We expect her to really fly on the fast break next year. She would give for a loose ball more often than the rest of the team put together. Carolyn Kauth was exciting to watch as the girls were running a fast break with more confidence later in the season. Annette Weres became tenacious on defense forcing more jump balls than the rest of the centers and forwards on the team. Cathy Beierwaltes became a good rebounder. She developed a nice set shot. Tricia Smith was the best dribbler on the team. She developed a nice baseline shot. Kelly Whittle was the leader of the offensive team when we weren't fast breaking. The offensive patterns ran best when she was in the lineup. Sue Ochab played well, especially against 6th graders.

Mike Small, head varsity coach of Regina High School and a guest speaker at the banquet, described the broadening vistas available in girls basketball.

Rich Pausback, coach at Marillac High School, related that St. John Brebeuf probably has one of the very best girls' grade school sports programs in the state and that these 5th graders were very fortunate to be a part of such a program.

Everyone on this excellent team started in a number of games. Coach Marusek related, "The girls improved tremendously over the season. We seemed to have a new combination of starters for nearly every game. The individual girls also played nearly every possible offensive and defensive position. They seemed to be very intelligent girls who learned very easily."

Hanover Volleyball Team

The Hanover College Women's Volleyball Team wrapped up the 1980 season with play in the Indiana Division III State Tournament held on the Hanover campus Nov. 14-15. The Lady Panthers posted a 9-17 record, including tournament losses to Earlham, Marion and Goshen. Included on the Hanover team is Amy Jo Scheel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scheel, 7026 W. Keene, Niles, a sophomore. Scheel is a consistent all-around player. Out for a few weeks due to a knee injury, she has been a setter, hitter and back row player since her return. Scheel is in second row, extreme right.

Niles West gymnasts select captains

The twenty new members of the Niles West High School girls' gymnastics team chose seniors Janice Grear, Morton Grove, and Joanne Oppenheim, Lincolnwood, to be their captains for the 1980-81 season.

Grear's consistently high-scoring performances last season qualified her for the state competition in the uneven bar event and provided the foundation for her selection by the Central Suburban League coaches to the "all-conference gymnast" group.

The all-around performer was also deemed "most valuable" by her teammates last season. Grear continues to exhibit the kind of positive attitude about gymnastics which is needed as a new season begins, according to her coach, John Burkel.

Oppenheim's selection as co-captain of the 1980-81 squad emphasizes the determination and hard work during the past two years which brought her from being unable to qualify for the team as a freshman to its captaincy as a senior. She will compete in the uneven bars, vaulting and balance beam events this year.

Team members of the 1980-81 squad, recently selected by tryouts include seniors Nancy Buffo, Marie Helgeson, Mary Ann Koslunuk and Gail Piper.

Juniors who are members of this year's team include Chris Conton, Margaret Luncsford, Nancy Meyer and Lisa Potocki; and sophomores included are Sheryl Barsch, Lisa DeCook, Julie Disselhorst, Julie Mammet and Beth Todd.

Freshmen Jill Burkel, Mary Holm, Linda Loiacano, Jill Roberts and Kathy Verstraete will perform on the team for the first time.

Coach Burkel is assisted by coaches Judi Sloan and Jodi Nebbia. Nebbia is a new member of the coaching staff who is a former Niles West student and past gymnastics team member. Sloan began the girls' gymnastics program at Niles West and was the team's head coach for the first few years of its existence.

The Indian varsity will open its season on Dec. 11, meeting the Maine East Demons in competition.

Demon soph cagers win first game

The Maine East Sophomore basketball team won their first game Friday night, 49-42 over Waukegan West. Garry Redig, led the young Demons with 21 points.

On Saturday night the Demons lost 51-37 to Forest View. After Saturday night's game, when asked about the officiating, coach Sartini said, "the officials are supposed to control the game, not be the center of attention! There were 52 fouls called, the scoreboard was lit up like a Christmas tree. We lost the game at the free throw line. We had as many chances as Forest View but they responded and we didn't. We controlled the boards and had less turnovers but they definitely controlled the tempo and made those all important free throws. I wouldn't take anything away from Forest View but our game with Waukegan West was hard fought all the way. I have never seen a sophomore team play with such intensity for four quarters. We just didn't have anything left on Saturday."

Robin Selzer was top bowler on Nov. 27 with a high individual game of 199 and the high individual two game series, a 334, as part of the Maine East Girls' Bowling Club competition.

The top team that same day, with a 1,570 series, is Sue Mader, Holly Rebolz, Robin Selzer and Gina Weber.

The team that placed second, is Sue Mader, Holly Rebolz, Robin Selzer and Gina Weber.

The winners advance to games scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 14. Paul of the Cross at 5 p.m. The final game is scheduled for Mary Seat of Wisdom vs. St. Nicholas at 6 p.m. The winners advance to games on Tuesday, Dec. 16. Third place winner will be decided on Thursday, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. while the championship game is scheduled for Friday, Dec. 19 at 8 p.m.

All games will be played in the Notre Dame High School Gym at 7655 Dempster, Niles.

pre-schoolers learn about voting

The pre-school classes of Edison Park Lutheran Church participated in the recent election, but with a different slate of candidates - Snoopy and Spiderman. The children staged their own "political rallies" by marching through the halls carrying placards and American flags and telling everyone they met to vote. Each child was given a ballot bearing a picture of Snoopy and Spiderman and then entered the "voting booth" to place a large X over their favorite candidate. It was a close campaign, but Snoopy was declared the winner.

The pre-schoolers know that "learning can be fun" as each day in school is a new experience. In preparing for Thanksgiving, they made pumpkin pie and corn bread. At Halloween, the children helped to carve pumpkins, roast the seeds and, in costumes, visited with the folks at the Norwood Park Home.

If you are interested in enrolling your four year-old in the morning class, 9 to 11:30 a.m., or the afternoon session, 1 to 3 p.m., call the Edison Park Lutheran Church office (631-9131). The monthly tuition is $40 for members and $50 for non-members. The pre-school has been in existence since 1956 and has an excellent reputation.

Off the NILES POLICE BLOTTER

Con man caught by victim with good memory

The manager of a Golf Mill Beauty Salon was sure she recognized the man who came in to her shop on Tuesday, Nov. 25 and offered to sell her and the shop employees color televisions and video recorders for an obviously low price. Her memory, not a pleasant one, recalled an incident in 1973 when she lost $3,600 to the same man selling the same type of merchandise. At that time he told the victim to back her auto up to the shipping dock of a local retail store. He then took the cash from her, told her he had to go inside and pay the man who would put the merchandise into her car. The con man disappeared into the building never to be seen again. The victim at that time notified the police and Anthony Serritella, 39, of Cicero was apprehended, taken to court and placed on probation.

Last week, 7 years later, Serritella attempted to pull the same scam on the same victim. The woman notified Niles police when he left her shop and police set up a Niles detective who posed as the woman's brother-in-law interested in purchasing the TV-video recorders. Serritella was once again apprehended, placed on $20,000 bond and is now in Cook County jail. He is also wanted in Skokie on the same charges and 3 warrants are outstanding in Chicago for him.
According to Niles Police Lt. John Christie, Serritella, when told the woman was a victim of his 7 years ago replied, "I thought I recognized her name. I must be getting senile."

Safety hints on hydroplaning

By Alan J. Dixon
Secretary of State

Most football fans are aware of the accident which recently paralyzed Steve Little, former kicker for the St. Louis Cardinals. The investigating officer at the scene said that Little apparently was the victim of hydroplaning. Hydroplaning, which can cause skidding, takes place when you're driving on wet pavement. At speeds up to 35 m.p.h., most tires will "wipe" the road surface much the same way a windshield wiper cleans the windshield. But, as the speed increases, the tires can't "wipe" the road as well, and start to ride up on a film of water just like a set of water skis. In a standard passenger car, partial hydroplaning begins at about 35 m.p.h., and increases with speed, to about 55 m.p.h. At this point, the tires may be totally up on the water.

In a severe rainstorm, for example, the tires lose all contact with the road at 55 m.p.h. If this is the case, there is no friction available to brake, accelerate or corner. A gust of wind, a change of road curve or a slight turn can create an uncontrollable slide.

The best thing to do is to take your foot off the accelerator and let the car slow down. To prevent hydroplaning, it is most helpful to have good tires with deep treads.

(A copy of the Rules of the Road will be sent to you upon request. Write to Alan J. Dixon, Secretary of State, Springfield, IL 62756.)

Legion readies gifts to hospitalized vets

The local Legion financially aids this program and local businesses or individuals who may wish to assist, may send their tax deductible contribution to the American Legion at 6140 Dempster.

- Keeping Fit During the Winter -- Unless you're part polar bear, the prospect of a few laps around a lake or outdoor unheated pool in January certainly is less than appealing. Yard work is shelved until the snow melts. Indoor court time for tennis or racquet ball often is expensive.
- Keeping fit during the winter can be a struggle.

Fight the "Winter Syndrome"

A fitness and exercise program ideally should be a regular part of a person's lifestyle and not dependent on the weather. But for many people, the more pleasant weather of spring, summer and early fall is more conducive to any activity and winter can often mean a sedentary three months in front of the television set. If those inactive winter weeks spent waiting for the first robin of spring are accompanied by high-calorie snacks and heavy meals, the problem is compounded.

Holidays with an emphasis on food are part of the "winter syndrome", says Lutheran General Hospital's Life Fitness Program Coordinator Tom Higgins.

The delightful but calorically devastating celebrations of Thanksgiving, Hanukkah, Christmas, New Year's and other festive get-togethers with family and friends can add pounds and inches unless partygoers keep a watchful eye on the scale.

In addition to seductive holiday buffets and dinners, the onset of cold weather and the change in our appetites can be a threat to keeping fit during the winter.

"As the weather gets cooler, the need for liquid decreases," says Higgins. "We turn toward heavier meals like pot roast and gravy and that's another problem we're fighting."

Higgins suggests a type of early warning system to keep your weight and waist in line. "Set a specific body weight -- a key point you will not exceed so pounds don't start creeping up on you," he advises. "If you do gain, watch (your diet) for a couple of weeks. Catch it before you find yourself 15 pounds overweight."

Develop a Fitness Strategy

Once you have a grip on weight maintenance, the next step in a winter fitness plan is finding alternatives to warm weather activities.

"Most people seem to get more pep in the fall," says Higgins. "Temperatures cool and they're feeling good." Part of that good feeling, Higgins adds, may be the result of having built up strength, endurance and flexibility during the warm months.

In order to maintain that "good feeling" until the spring, Higgins suggests trying to incorporate all three components -- strength, endurance and flexibility -- into a winter fitness program.

Activities like weight lifting and certain other exercises help strengthen the body. "The stronger you feel, the more you feel you can undertake," says Higgins.

Endurance exercises benefit the cardiovascular system -- the heart and blood vessels. Activities that make you perspire, generally are good for building up endurance. "If you have to change clothes to do it and take a shower afterwards, chances are it's good for endurance," says Higgins.

Flexibility exercises do not increase the pulse rate like endurance exercises do, and are usually done as warm-up exercises for other sports to prevent injury, Higgins adds. But flexibility is important even for the nonathletic. "The more flexible you are, the more you can do and are willing to do," he says.

It's important to try to maintain all three of these fitness aspects from season to season because their benefits can be lost very quickly.

"It is possible to lose strength and especially flexibility and endurance in a short time," warns Higgins. "You can lose 20 to 30 percent in a month's time."

And Higgins adds that snow shoveling isn't the answer to winter fitness. Any exercise program should be consistent and those few hours a month spent working up a sweat clearing your sidewalk really don't count toward maintaining a physical fitness plan and the sudden exertion could be dangerous.

If you like the idea of including others in search for fitness, there are several ways to do it. "You can lose 20 to 30 percent in a month's time," he says. "If you do gain, watch (your diet) for a couple of weeks. Catch it before you find yourself 15 pounds overweight."

It's important to try to maintain all three of these fitness aspects from season to season because their benefits can be lost very quickly.

"It is possible to lose strength and especially flexibility and endurance in a short time," warns Higgins. "You can lose 20 to 30 percent in a month's time."

And Higgins adds that snow shoveling isn't the answer to winter fitness. Any exercise program should be consistent and those few hours a month spent working up a sweat clearing your sidewalk really don't count toward maintaining a physical fitness plan and the sudden exertion could be dangerous.

If you like the idea of including others in search for fitness, there are several ways to do it. "You can lose 20 to 30 percent in a month's time," he says. "If you do gain, watch (your diet) for a couple of weeks. Catch it before you find yourself 15 pounds overweight."

Once you have a grip on weight maintenance, the next step in a winter fitness plan is finding alternatives to warm weather activities.

"Most people seem to get more pep in the fall," says Higgins. "Temperatures cool and they're feeling good." Part of that good feeling, Higgins adds, may be the result of having built up strength, endurance and flexibility during the warm months.

In order to maintain that "good feeling" until the spring, Higgins suggests trying to incorporate all three components -- strength, endurance and flexibility -- into a winter fitness program.

Activities like weight lifting and certain other exercises help strengthen the body. "The stronger you feel, the more you feel you can undertake," says Higgins.

Endurance exercises benefit the cardiovascular system -- the heart and blood vessels. Activities that make you perspire, generally are good for building up endurance. "If you have to change clothes to do it and take a shower afterwards, chances are it's good for endurance," says Higgins.

Flexibility exercises do not increase the pulse rate like endurance exercises do, and are usually done as warm-up exercises for other sports to prevent injury, Higgins adds. But flexibility is important even for the nonathletic. "The more flexible you are, the more you can do and are willing to do," he says.

Lt. John Christie of the Niles Police Dept. said Ms. Missale is one super-lady. Not only has she preferred to play down her role in this apprehension, but as of Tuesday, she does not want any reward or recognition for her efforts. Christie said she could contribute the money to charity but she prefers no special attention given to what she did.

If you recall, she spotted a suspicious car in the Lawrencewood area which she observed on several occasions. She followed the car into a residential driveway in Niles and noted the license number. When she read of the assault of a Niles 7 year old, she contacted the police, said the car was similar to the one she had previously spotted, and gave the police the car's license number and the address where it was parked. The police apprehension followed.

Maine High School officials have allocated $257,000 to seal-off the asbestos, a known cancer-causing substance, used for fire-proofing and insulating school buildings during the 50's and 60's. Asbestos was found at the three schools in the high school district. The schools were identified as having asbestos in a study this year by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. A new study investigating all schools in the state is under way. The Bugle reported the problem's existence in a story last month.

East Maine District 63 parents should be alerted committee meetings Dec. 9 and Jan. 6 will be discussing the possibility of creating a middle school program. While technically, the present 7th and 8th grade junior high program might be considered a middle school program, the committee will explore the possibility of including 6th graders as part of the junior high curricula and possibly moving 5th graders into this middle school concept. A decision is likely to be reached at the January 13 regular board meeting.

We've mentioned several times residents should become active when plans and ideas are in their infancy. The time for Maine North parents to have been concerned about school closings was 2 years ago. Waiting until the board makes a decision, and then protesting, is questionable action. Similarly, residents wanting to keep their elementary schools open should be trudging down to these committee meetings, and not wait until Jan. 13, when the final decision is reached.

All of us make decisions based on our own experience. We've been told one board member is anxious to promote the middle school concept because his very bright wonderkind would profit from what he believes is this increased stimulation at a higher level school.

As an old Chicagoan, who went through 8 years of elementary studies at a grade school, we're more sympathetic with retaining local grade schools. Since our classrooms often had split grades in one room, with 40 students in a class, and only one teacher, we find it hard to understand the need to break up the neighborhood school system in favor of busing kids to a junior high school farther away. Our guardhouse opinion is we'd rather see the local grammar schools retained in the neighborhoods than continue to close them down, and ship younger and younger children into the junior high schools. But this opinion is off the top of our head, and we're sure more studied opinions will be forthcoming at these meetings.

While few school people would agree with us, if we were creating policy in the district, we would prefer closing BOTH junior high schools and re-opening the local elementary schools with grades K thru 8. No matter what excellence may be attributed to the junior high school buildings, they are only buildings...mortar and bricks.

Marva Collins, the inner-city teacher, whose life is being depicted in a movie now being produced in Chicago, is a living example how a dedicated teacher can create a superior learning atmosphere, without fancy school buildings and laboratories. Her converting her home into a classroom for children of varied grades and ages, and successfully producing above-average students from poor economic backgrounds, lessens the argument for fancy school buildings.

If you're a Melzer school parent, and want your elementary school to remain open, we suggest you attend these committee meetings. And if your schools have already been closed perhaps your input at these meetings might eventually result in the re-opening of your presently shuttered schools.

Preventive medicine ... continued from page 20

There also is a physiological reason why activity is good for our mental health.

Stuart Fine, M.D., a member of Lutheran General's Medical Staff and a running enthusiast who runs 12 miles a day, says that exercise creates an overall feeling of well being and creates a mental high. "There are hormones in the brain, that, when stimulated by activity give a feeling of euphoria," adds Dr. Fine.

Dr. Fine concedes that not everyone can or wants to run. But whatever form of exercise an individual takes up, there are a few precautions to consider.

"Whatever you do, begin slowly," says the physician. "Work up gradually. Men over age 30 should be checked by a physician before starting an exercise program especially with short bursts of energy like strenuous calisthenics. Women, unless there is a strong family history of heart disease, should be seen by a physician if 45 years of age or older."

With a little effort and creativity, your winter fitness program can bridge the long months between the first snowfall of winter and the first baseball game of spring and help you keep looking and feeling your best.

Even considering the initial outlay of cash, Higgins considers a stationary bicycle a good investment and an economical way to beat winter "hibernation". Higgins suggests using the bicycle for twenty minutes three times a week. The stationary bicycle's tension should be adjusted to insure a good workout.

Jumping rope is another good way to help maintain cardiovascular fitness and the cost of a jump rope is minimal. To be beneficial, rope jumping should be combined with other cardiovascular activities because very few people can "twirl the cord" for more than three consecutive minutes, says Higgins. He suggests jumping rope for a minute or two as a warm-up activity before going on to a long workout.

Calisthenics aren't just for boot camp or high school gym classes. A program of sit-ups, jumping jacks and running in place can be an invigorating way to start each day, providing you have your physician's permission for this type of activity.

Your television set can be either a fitness friend or foe. Higgins suggests using it to tune into exercise programs that may be broadcast several times a week.

Don't Hang Up Your Running Shoes

If you began running, jogging or walking for exercise before the cold weather settled in, don't feel you have to abandon these activities just because your usual paths are snow covered, says Higgins. If you dress properly, there's no real problem with continuing this type of activity as long as you're careful of slippery streets and sidewalks. Or substitute cross-country skis for your running shoes. Once you've made an initial investment in equipment, you can glide for free through your local parks and forest preserves.

This also might be a good time to unearth your old ice skates and take advantage of the neighborhood skating pond. Skating uses both leg and arm muscles.

A winter fitness program helps keep you in good physical shape and also helps battle cabin fever—the irritability and restlessness that can be caused by being housebound or severely limited in activity for a period of time.

"We cause our own cabin fever," says Higgins. "Don't fight the climate, go along with it."

identify risk factors in the patient's life — such as health history, smoking, exercise, weight, blood pressure, and cholesterol levels — and detect to what extent they have affected the patient's overall health status. In addition, recommendations are made in an attempt to control these factors through a personalized health program to improve the quality of life.

Galen was correct when he suggested in the second century A.D. that we ought to consider first "how health may be preserved". Today, physicians and other members of the health care team have become very aware of your role in the preservation of your health. "You must start the ball rolling."

This can be accomplished by entering into the process of early disease detection and health maintenance — by joining a special program like the one available at Holy Family Hospital.

By participating you have taken an important step in the detection and prevention of many disabling and life-threatening problems. You and your families' future well-being is at stake.

Reynolds Aluminum recycling collection

If there was ever a period when Chicago area residents could use some extra spending money it is now, during the Christmas season. And one of the easiest ways of getting that extra cash is through the recycling of aluminum with Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company.

S.B. Thompson, district recycling manager for Reynolds, reminds area residents that the company will continue its regular schedule of mobile unit stops in December with the exception of December 25, 26 and 31. The area plant, located at 1310 S. 4th ave., Maywood, will be open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the month with the exception of December 25 and 26.

The Reynolds Metals Company subsidiary pays a minimum of 23 cents a pound for all-aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, aluminum foil, frozen food and dinner trays; dip, pudding and meat containers. Reynolds also purchases other aluminum items such as siding, gutters, storm doors and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing, which should be cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and bundled. Aluminum castings, including pots and pans, power lawnmower housings and barbecue grills are also purchased and recycled by Reynolds.

The madrigal evolved during the 16th Century. Basically it's a vocal piece following strict poetic form. It was very popular because the romantic theatre flourished during that era. People then communicated through song.

Money earned will be applied to a Concert Choir week-end tour. Tickets for the madrigal dinner are $7 each and will be sold by all choir members.

Maine East holds Madrigal Dinner

Have you ever wanted to live in the 16th Century during the Renaissance period? Keeping company with knights in shining armor and fair maidens (always in distress)?

Well, if you answered "yes," Maine East's third annual madrigal dinner, to be held Dec. 12 and 13 at 6:30 p.m., will allow you to once again capture that romantic atmosphere.

Entertainment for the evening will be by the Maine East Singers, who will sing, dance, and present skits. While you're there, also take a good look at the costumes. They will be made by the students themselves.

Although the Maine East Singers will perform, choir and orchestra members will also participate in this special event.

Because Maine East is the only Maine Township school to hold a madrigal dinner, sponsor Tana Larson expects it to be as successful as in years past.

SJB third graders learn to help others

A group of third graders from St. John Brebeuf School, with the support of their teacher, Mrs. Mary Jane Larkin, have put some of their education into practice for the benefit of the community and their fellow man.

After learning in their religion class about people who give their lives to improving conditions for others, and about appreciation of natural resources in social studies classes, the students decided to do something specific. They collected discarded aluminum cans for recycling to improve the community environment and conserve natural resources. They then donated the money received for the cans to Pete Zonstus of the SJB St. Vincent de Paul Society to be used to help less fortunate people.

The Third Graders deserve congratulations for the fine way they have put their education into practice.

District 63 Board works to improve school finances

Several board members and administrators from East Maine Public Schools, District 63, have just returned from the 1980 Joint Annual Conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards, Illinois Association of School Administrators, and Illinois Association of School Business Officials, held in Chicago where they took part in panel discussions and workshops and voted on key policy issues.

The conference was one of a few opportunities for those charged with running public schools to catch up on the latest legal and educational trends and to talk with their colleagues from around the state about solutions to school problems. The Illinois School Problems Commission conducted a joint legislative hearing at the conference on Nov. 22. Ann Rose Sostrin, Board Member from

District 63, and Charlotte Storer, President of Maine Township High School District 207's Board of Education, who are the co-chairpersons of the Maine Township Legislative Action Coalition, gave testimony. They spoke about the financial crisis which is facing the public schools of our area. The text of the well-received testimony was summarized with the following suggestions:

1. Allow school districts to realize modest profits in leasing of their properties;
2. Increase the state subsidy for special education teachers by a minimum of $6,000 per teacher;
3. Fully fund all regular transportation and special education transportation;

Several of the East Maine Schools recently participated in the State-wide election to select a State Animal for Illinois. Schools conducted their elections in conjunction with our national election on Nov. 4. Each student had the opportunity to cast a vote in the school's voting booth. The nominees were selected on the state level and materials were made available to the students before the voting on each nominee. The candidates were: Fox Squirrel, Thirteen-lined Ground Squirrel, White-tailed Deer, Red Fox, Opossum, and Raccoon.

The children of Nelson, Stevenson and Mark Twain Schools chose the White-tailed Deer as their candidate. Metzler students picked the Raccoon as their choice. Tabulations have been sent to the State Office of Education in Springfield where officials will review the nominees throughout the state and a State Animal will be selected.

TIPS TO HELP YOU
By Francine Lucidon
Whether you entertain a couple or a couple of dozen, good organization is what you need to relax and enjoy your own party!

Use your washing machine to conserve refrigerator space. Fill it with ice cubes for drinks, and use it to hold bottles and properly wrapped Lucidon foods. Don't forget to unplug it! The next day, when all the ice melts, remove cans or bottles, and then just rinse the water out. When you entertain, put away your small, lovely ashtrays. Instead put out large ones. At parties people often use ashtrays for olive pits, toothpicks and napkins as well as ashes. And have a good time - it's your party!

Among the items you can bring back duty-free from another country are antiques over 100 years old, books and original drawings.

NI-Gas helps Niles Park District

Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas) is using thermography to "test" Niles Park District buildings for heat loss. On Wednesday, November 19 company representatives will conduct six surveys at Niles Park District buildings. NI-Gas' thermography program, initiated in March 1977, was the first of its kind in the nation. Thermograms, photographic prints produced by the system, are analyzed by specially trained NI-Gas personnel. Officials and administrators receive copies of conventional photographs of buildings surveyed, thermograms and a written report pinpointing energy inefficiencies. Results of over 180 surveys completed last year suggest that energy savings efforts on the part of school administrators and officials could save taxpayers money.

The service is available at no cost to the schools and public facilities NI-Gas serves. Survey and scheduling information is available from Dick Leider, District Superintendent in the NI-Gas Glenview office.

District 207 reaffirms decision to close Maine North

The actions taken by the Board of Education of Maine Township High School District 207 at the special meeting on November 17, 1980 reaffirms the decision the Board made in September to close Maine North High School by August 15, 1981.

Fundamental to the Board's reaffirming its decision was its unanimous approval at its November 17 meeting to endorse the petition for the detachment of that portion of Community Consolidated School District 34 (Glenview) within District 207 and its annexation to Glenbrook High School District 225.

The boundary change was sought by District 34 residents following the Board's September 8 decision to close Maine North. The petition is expected to come before the Regional Board of School Trustees of Cook County, which has jurisdiction over such requests, in January.

At the November 3 meeting the Board listened to several citizens address the matter of closing Maine North and spent nearly two hours responding to a report presented by one of the speakers, Ben Herman. Herman is spokesman for the Citizens Group Formed to Save Our Schools. The report asked the Board to defer action on the detachment petition and consider alternatives to the closing of any Maine school, including shutting off portions of all four Maine high schools, selling parts of all four campuses, and combining classes.

At the outset of the Board's presentation, Dr. Richard Short, Superintendent of Schools, explained, "In an effort to give proper considerations to the questions and observations raised in Mr. Herman's report, Board members reviewed the report in light of that Board member's active role in subcommittee work during Project SEE (Secondary Education for the Eighties).

Project SEE was the three-month long study conducted by the 140-member citizens' advisory committee, plus Board members, administrators, and members of the Maine Teachers' Association, which recommended the closing of a Maine Township high school.

The Project SEE Committee had divided into seven subcommittees to study various aspects of the school district, such as facilities, finance, personnel, and curriculum.

Commenting on the recommendation of Herman's group that the Board sell off portions of each of the four high school campuses, Board Member Thomas Rueckert said that such an action would not really help the district as far as increasing operating funds.

Donald Kenney, Assistant Superintendent for Business, reported: "Whatever money we would realize from the sale would have to be placed in an escrow account to pay off the district's bonded indebtedness. We would not be able to use either the proceeds from the sale or any accumulated interest until 1987 when all bonds were paid."

Board member Arlynn Wamack added that the district's financial projections will not produce sufficient revenue to keep all four schools open.

She pointed out that closing Maine North will not eliminate the district's financial problems. "We will still have a $7.5 million deficit by 1985 and the need to seek a tax increase from the public in April 1981 to maintain the educational program in the three remaining schools."

"It is the public," Board Member Anne Evans said, "that has told us over and over again that above all we should maintain our quality educational program."

Board Member William Schaeffe concluded after much discussion that closing off portions of the four school buildings probably would not save significant amounts of money.

Schaeffe reiterated his opinion that the Board's decision to close any one of the four buildings is a mistake. He also expressed his concern with what he believes to be the direction in which the district is moving. However, Schaeffe stated that he is discontinuing his opposition to the closing of Maine North.

"We have to be concerned where we are going in District 207. The most important thing is the education of the kids. The longer there is a feeling of animosity in the school district, the less likely we are to continue our present level of education."

"I would suggest and hope," he said, "that all of us in Maine Township now get together and put this very trying decision behind us."

Niles zoning...

His plans for the enclosure included a 6 foot by 15 foot room, cedar-sided to match the exterior of his home. Approximately 10 neighbors of Nazimek's appeared in the Niles courtroom for the hearing after being notified of the request for the zoning change. As Gerry Dragon, 9807 N. Grace explained to the commissioners, they were present because they were under the impression the Nazimeks were requesting a zoning change for their property and they were 'concerned citizens.'

Zoning Board president Jack Frick explained to those in attendance the village sends out a form letter to residents when a request is received for a variation in his property and it is a misconception that an actual zoning change is in process.

After considerable discussion and some discrepancies in the actual property footage available, zoners approved the addition of the room enclosure provided the Nazimeks stay within the confines of a 36 foot rear yard.

The Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center will conduct certain extra-curricular programs for district youngsters in a pilot program to be conducted until June, 1981. Programs excluded will be cheerleading, included in the district athletics program, newspaper and yearbook, because of publishing expenses, and a theater group, because of the existence of the East Maine Players.

Ben Cohen, Niles parent, presented a plan now in use at Evanston Township for an instrumental music program. He asked that board members study the plan and give their reaction at the next meeting.
