Niles uses record 2300 tons of salt this winter

Bugleland shovels out one mo' time

Residents could not be convinced it was Spring last Monday when a storm dumped 9.4 inches of snow on Bugleland. High winds complicated the inclement weather even more when 2 foot drifts built up in several sections. Many residents had put away their snow blowers and shovels last week when the temperature rose to 67 degrees, but Monday evening and Tuesday morning, the drone of running snowblowers could be heard all over town. Monday's freak snow storm brought the season total to 58.4 inches making it the fourth snowiest winter in weather bureau records. Niles' Director of Public Services Keith Peck told The Bugle the village has never used as much salt as it has this winter. 2,300 tons have been spread on Niles streets and according to Peck, that's a record.

From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

As 1982 drew to a close, Niles approved many millions of dollars of industrial revenue bonds for companies intending to build or expand in the community. The rash of approvals in December was caused by a likely change in federal regulations about the issuance of such bonds.

The IRE's enabled companies which applied for them to receive loans of from 2%-6% less than what the market was issuing at the time. The bonds have a tax exempt status which enables banks or financial institutions loaning the money to receive tax-free interest from the borrowers.

On first look the bonds seem to enhance the economic health of any community. In Golf Mill a new department store received approval for the bonds which could save them many hundreds of thousands of dollars of interest. The construction would result in more jobs in the area. And the additional store would provide many retail jobs and increased revenue for the community in sales and real estate.

District 63 considers co-op computer program

by Eileen Hirschfeld

At Tuesday evening's District 63 board meeting, members discussed contracting with Glenview School District 34 for entry into a computer consortium of Cook County School Districts administered from the Glenview district. A membership fee is $3,250 and 50 cents per student enrollment as of October 1. Total cost would be $4,911.

Membership would supposedly enable District 63 to purchase both computer software and hardware as well as gain a stipulated amount of in-service training. Although recommended for approval by Dr. Donald Bond, school administrator, board members expressed dissatisfaction.

Niles officer receives Award of Valor

Niles Police Sergeant Geoff Wilson received the Chief's Award of Valor, the first ever given in the village, from Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrikson last Monday. Emrikson commended Wilson's actions on Feb. 18 when, while off-duty, he came to the aid of two neighbor women who were being held by home invaders. In a subsequent struggle with the intruders, Wilson was stabbed seven times. Both intruders were apprehended with the help of neighbors and Niles police.

Wilson, an 11-year veteran of the Niles Police Department, was also praised for his actions on Monday evening before a meeting of the Niles Fire and Police Commission.

Niles resident given Police Award

Village of Niles Trustees Orville Ottow (l.) and Angie Marcheschi (r.) congratulate Niles resident Stuart Feiler after Mr. Feiler was presented the Lt. John Christie Citizens Award (The award is named in honor and memory of the late Niles Police Lieutenant who died last year). Mr. Feiler was presented the coveted award for his observance of a felony suspect and alerting Niles police officers of his direction of flight. The fleeing suspect was subsequently apprehended and charged with an attempted home invasion burglary. It was during this same home invasion that off-duty police officer, Sgt. Geoff Wilson, was stabbed while subduing a second offender. Because of Mr. Feiler's involvement, valuable time was gained which enabled the Niles police to capture the fleeing offender. Trustees Ottow and Marcheschi both agreed that citizen involvement can and does become another tool for police officers and they both expressed a desire for continued citizen involvement.

Niles College Concert at Holy Name

Arthur Berg, Bass Soloist for the "Creation", comes from the Jefferson Mayfair area of Chicago. Shown above is a previous performance at Holy Name Cathedral of the Niles College Concert Choir and Niles Symphony Orchestra directed by Rev. Stanley R. Rudcki.

Niles College Concert Choir and Niles Symphony Orchestra, directed by Rev. Stanley R. Rudcki, will give their major concert of the year Sunday, April 25 at 8 p.m. at Holy Name Cathedral, 730 N. State Street, Chicago. Admission is free; donations will be appreciated to help continue these concerts, all free Community concerts, which are sponsored by Niles College of Loyola and the Chicago Musicians' Union Trust Fund.

The 250th anniversary of the birth of Franz Josef Haydn, March 31, 1732, occasioned Father Rudcki's choice of Haydn's "The Creation" to celebrate this event. This exciting, joyful, revolutionary composition attests to the fact that all musicologists know: Haydn was a revolutionary composer; landlocked on the country estates of his employer-Princes, he could only be original.

Soloists for this concert are Sarah Beatty, Soprano, member of the soprano roster of the New York Metropolitan Opera and a frequent soloist for these concerts; Darrell Rowader, a young and very promising tenor with a big voice; and Arthur Berg, well known and admired Chicago Bass.

The Niles College Concert Choir, directed by Farther Rudcki, has been giving concerts with the Niles Symphony Orchestra for 19 years. The choir, approximately 100 members, is composed of Seminarian students at Niles College of Loyola studying for the Catholic priesthood on the college level and men and women from Chicago and suburbs.

The Niles Symphony Orchestra will be comprised of 49 professional musicians from the Lyric Opera Orchestra, Grant Park Symphony, and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

According to police, unknown persons pried open a cigarette machine at Arvey's Restaurant, 7041 Oakton St. Once inside the machine, $500 in coins were stolen. Police report the lobby area where the machine is kept was crowded with patrons when the machine was broken into but no one came forward with any information about the theft.

Home vandalized

A Niles resident reported a picture window was destroyed by vandals on Saturday, April 3. According to police, vandals shot a B.B.-type pellet through a window in the 8100 block of Elizabeth Dr. The window, a 5 foot by 5 foot thermopane window, is estimated to cost $400.

Speeding driver arrested

A 20-year-old Chicago man was arrested for speeding and driving on a suspended driver's license in Niles on Friday, April 2. According to police, the Chicago man was first spotted driving in the 8800 block of Greenwood Ave. Police radar determined the man was driving 75 miles per hour in a 35 miles per hour zone. The man did not immediately stop when police appeared behind him though he did pull over at Ballard and Potter Rds. He did not have a driver's license as he said he was driving on a ticket. After being brought to the Niles Police Department to post bond, he was determined from the Illinois Secretary of State's office that the subject's driver's license had been suspended. He was charged with driving on a suspended license as well as speeding, and was assigned an April court date and released on $100 bond.

Find key to crime

A 20-year-old Chicago man was arrested in Niles on Friday, April 2 after being observed destroying clothing in a local store. According to police, the man was shopping at Sportsmart, 7233 Dempster St., when a store security man saw him use a key to poke a hole in an $85 sweat suit. He was detained by store officials and taken to the Niles Police Department where he was charged with criminal damage to property. The man was assigned a May court date and released on $100 bond.

Office burglarized

Burglars broke into a local office during the night of Wednesday, March 31 stealing over $5,000 in office equipment. According to police, the burglars used an auto tire jack to break a window at Mohawk Manufacturing and Supply Company, 7354 Caldwell Ave., and then climbed through the window to gain access to the building. Once inside the building the burglars stole three IBM typewriters as well as an Addressograph machine. Office officials estimated the value of the stolen equipment at $5,000.

Unsuccessful burglary

Burglars broke into a Niles business on Saturday, April 3, but apparently did not have enough time to steal anything. Police report receiving notification a burglar alarm had been activated at 2:51 a.m. at Erik's Auto Supply, 7007 Milwaukee Ave. Pulling up to the store, police found a ladder leading to the roof where unknown persons had pried open a vent to gain access to the building. However, it appeared the burglars did not have time to take anything and, after the alarm went off, quickly left the building. The ladder used during the burglary was found to have been stolen from an unlocked garage located in the 6800 block of Harts Rd.

Driving safety hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Spring is less than two weeks away, but daylight driving hours don't increase significantly for another month. If you determine that there is not sufficient daylight to see other vehicles ahead or behind you, or if rain, fog or other conditions dictate, turn on your headlights. Vehicles must have two headlights (one on motorcycles) that are visible for at least 500 feet. They must be lighted from sunset to sunrise and at any other time when visibility is so limited as to require the use of lights for safety. Motorcycles operating on streets and highways must have at least one lighted head lamp at all times. Headlights must be dimmed at least 500 feet before meeting and 300 feet before overtaking another vehicle. If your vehicle is not readily visible to approaching drivers, the potential of danger to yourself and others is dramatically increased. Make sure your headlights are on when visibility is poor. Using them could save a life. If you have any questions about the Secretary of State's office, please feel free to use our toll-free telephone number (800-252-8980).

About 330 students at Washington University were graduated in December, 1981. Local grads included Anita Louise Simkovich, daughter of Jack Simkovich, 4524 Main, Skokie.

We Americans have an historic opportunity this spring...a once in a lifetime opportunity...to PERMANENTLY control federal spending & taxes. The U.S. Senate is expected, soon, to vote on S.J. Resolution 58—the Balanced Budget-Tax Limitation Constitutional Amendment. Some 52 Senators have already co-sponsored the proposal but 67 votes are needed for passage.

There's only one way the budget can ever be balanced & federal spending brought under control. We must impose constitutional limits on the Congress. Passage of S.J. 58 will accomplish this. Both Senators Percy & Dixon have NOT co-sponsored the resolution nor have they indicated yet how they will vote.

Motorcycle driving safety hints

Motorcyclists have the same right-of-way privileges as other drivers and are entitled to the same courtesy and consideration on the road. Please keep these safety rules in mind when near a motorcycle:

1. Don't crowd a motorcycle. Allow more following distance than you do for a car. A motorcycle often can stop faster than your car because it is much lighter in weight. Getting too close may make the cyclist nervous and cause him or her to lose balance and fall in front of your car.
  2. Regardless of size, motorcycles are entitled to use the full width of a traffic lane. Do not try to stop next to a motorcycle in the same lane...either change lanes or stay behind. Do not try to pass a motorcycle in the lane it is using.
  3. If you are following a motorcycle, allow plenty of distance when approaching a railroad track. If the crossing is rough or the tracks cross the road at an angle, the rider will need room to maneuver and will have to slow down.
  4. Allow even more following distance between your vehicle and any motorcycle when the road is wet and slippery.
- If you have any questions about the Secretary of State's office, please feel free to use our toll-free telephone number, 800-252-8980.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Urges citizens to write in support of bill

Dear Editor: There's talk all around us today about higher & higher federal taxes & huge government deficits.

It's been proven, thru the years, that higher taxes do NOT lower deficits. If they did, how do we explain that federal tax revenues have DOUBLED just since 1976, yet in the same 6 year period we have run the largest series of deficits in our nation's history. Incredible!!

Raising taxes won't balance the budget. It only encourages politicians to increase government spending. History proves this point, time & again. The problem is that federal spending continues to rage completely out of control.

We Americans have an historic opportunity this spring...a once in a lifetime opportunity...to PERMANENTLY control federal spending & taxes. The U.S. Senate is expected, soon, to vote on S.J. Resolution 58—the Balanced Budget-Tax Limitation Constitutional Amendment. Some 52 Senators have already co-sponsored the proposal but 67 votes are needed for passage.

There's only one way the budget can ever be balanced & federal spending brought under control. We must impose constitutional limits on the Congress. Passage of S.J. 58 will accomplish this. Both Senators Percy & Dixon have NOT co-sponsored the resolution nor have they indicated yet how they will vote.

It's your tax dollars they're playing with, folks, in those insulated halls of Congress. If we can break this insulated barrier with enough citizen letters requesting support of this resolution I believe our Senators will get the message.

I appeal to you to act now to begin restraining federal taxes & spending before we kill the golden goose in this country. Perhaps if we're successful in Washington, the politicians in Illinois & local governments will also get the message.

Sincerely,
John Hilkin
M.G. Tax Limitation Committee

Commends North Maine Fire District voters

Dear Editor: The Unincorporated Maine Township Residents Association would like to express its appreciation to the residents of the North Maine Fire Protection District who came out to vote for the referendum that will now have our fire trustees elected. UMTRA feels that the vote margin of 15 to 1 in favor of the referendum reflects that the people who reside in the unincorporated area are concerned about government, and wish to participate in the process.

Kustra calls for change in school tax levy date

State Representative Bob Kustra (R-Glenview) introduced legislation (EB2250) last week to give Cook County school districts three more months to file their tax levies which should minimize excessive tax levies based on insufficient information. The levy determines how much money is needed to operate during the next fiscal year. When school boards are forced to levy before they know the needs of schools for the next fiscal year, they tend to levy more than they need just to protect themselves.

School districts have come under increasing criticism lately for levying too high and failing to abate later. According to Kustra, "With three extra months to analyze needs and digest financial data heretofore unavailable in September, schools will be able to plan better and there should be less reason to exaggerate need and levy higher property taxes. Taxpayers should benefit with lower and more realistic tax bills."

Under existing law, school Des Plaines blood drive

Des Plaines residents are asked to share some of their time and help save the lives of patients on Tuesday, April 20, at a Des Plaines Community Blood Drive. The drive will be held at the Des Plaines Library, at Graceland and Thacker, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Carol Serani, the Des Plaines blood drive chairperson, Des Plaines Mayor, John Seitz, and all Des Plaines city officials encourage residents to donate at the drive.

"Giving Cook County schools those extra three months allows them to analyze the effects of enrollment patterns, state aid, teacher contracts, and November referendum results—all of which are not known by the time the school boards must now file their September levies. By December school boards can include the effects of these developments in the levy."

Considering Reroofing Yourself? Be Sure To Heed Safety Rules

One of the ways to save money on the cost of home repairs is to do them yourself. And, as the do it yourselfer becomes more skilled, he takes on more complicated projects. If you are one of them, the time may come when you consider reroofing as a do-it-yourself job.

If reroofing is in order and you're considering whether to hire a contractor or do the roof installation on your own, remember that reroofing can be a difficult and hazardous job. Before going ahead, the Asphalt Roofing Manufacturers Association suggests that you ask yourself these questions:

- Can I do the job as well as a professional?
- Am I willing to devote the time and effort to getting the job done correctly?
- Am I comfortable working at heights?

Unless the answer to these questions is an unqualified yes, you're better off leaving reroofing in the hands of a professional roofing contractor.

Remember also, adds ARMA, that steep-slope and high roofs or those with many angles, dormers or gables are best left to the professional.

To determine the pitch of your roof, measure how many inches it rises for each foot it runs. Roofs with slopes of four to five inches per horizontal foot are the safest and easiest for the do-it-yourselfer. When the slope is less than four inches per foot, special application procedures are recommended.

If you chose to reroof yourself, ARMA says to be sure to follow these safety procedures:

- Keep people away from the work area.
- Place shingles and tools where they won't slide off the roof.
- Wear rubber-soled construction-type shoes for secure footing.
- Apply shingles on clear days when it is warm, but not hot.
- Do not reroof in wet weather or when the temperature is below 40 degrees F.
- Reroof only when the roof deck and existing shingles are dry. Moisture makes roofs slippery and dangerous.
- Lift only light loads.
- Secure ladders top and bottom and keep the roof surface clear of debris.
- Never allow ladders to come in contact with power lines.

The basic reroofing tools include a hammer, roofing nails, tape measure, utility knife, chalk line for proper shingle alignment, and a pointed trowel for applying roofing cement. A carpenter's apron keeps the tools handy. Ladders, scaffolding and safety harnesses can be rented.

Refrigerator With Increased Capacity

Hotpoint is showing a 15-cubic-foot top-mount No-Frost unit with increased capacity compared with the 14-cubic-foot units it replaces.

It is only 28 inches wide and 29 inches deep, so it fits into kitchens with limited space. According to A. I. Kauffman, Marketing Manager, this 15-cubic-foot capacity meets the consumer trend toward food-purchase savings through volume buying. It has a 4.58-cubic-foot freezer that meets consumer demand for frozen food storage.

Along with its No-Frost convenience and popular energy-saver system, the unit is equipped for installation of an optional automatic icemaker which Kauffman calls "the fastest-growing consumer feature."

The new refrigerator is available in Almond, Harvest and white.

Install Ceiling Tile Faster With Staple Gun

Staple guns have been around for a long time but homeowners are only now becoming aware of the vast variety of fastening jobs you can do with this amazing tool. Whenever material has to be held with one hand and fastened with the other, the staple gun is the tool of choice. Some jobs can't be done without them, such as fastening ceiling tile to furring strips. A T-50 Arrow Heavy Duty Staple Gun is used to fasten ceiling tile to furring strips with special ceiling staple.

GAS ENERGY: AMERICA'S BEST CHOICE

Efficient Gas Appliances

New more efficient gas appliances can save consumers as much as 50 percent in gas usage compared with a few years ago, according to the American Gas Association. Even with the cost of gas rising, the improvements in efficiency ensure that clean, dependable gas energy will continue to be a consumer's best buy.

Energy Savings Payback — E.S.P. — is an important feature of these new appliances. Every appliance has two costs — one, the initial price tag, and two, its lifetime operating cost. With E.S.P., lower lifetime operating costs is built into the appliance to save the user enough money to pay back a good share of the initial cost.

Most new energy-efficient gas appliances have pilotless ignition instead of continuous-burning pilot lights. Some ranges offer convection ovens which circulate hot air around the food to accelerate cooking time and save gas. And gas water heaters have more insulation, improved burners and more efficient heat transfer. Homeheating systems have also been improved.

An automatic vent damper on new gas furnaces rapidly closes to eliminate heat-loss up the chimney when the furnace is off. The less air that escapes, the warmer the house stays and the less often the furnace is required to run — saving the consumer money. Using a new furnace with a vent damper and pilotless ignition can significantly reduce the expense of house-heating.

When compared to older, less efficient models, a new gas energy-efficient heating system can save the homeowner hundreds of dollars in lifetime operating costs.

Even higher efficiency gas heating equipment now is available to homeowners, such as the pulse combustion boiler and furnace.

America will need to make wide use of its natural gas resources if it is to have the energy it needs in the future. The emphasis that A.G.A. puts on improved efficiency is just part of the gas industry's efforts and bringing consumers the best possible service with the most savings.

Consumers Best Buy Is Still Natural Gas

(The following is an interview with American Gas Association President George H. Lawrence on natural gas supply and consumer prices).

Lawrence

Question: Consumer Utility Bills are rising. How much will the price of natural gas increase?

Lawrence: The cost of all energy is increasing to the consumer. However, gas industry and Department of Energy projections both indicate that the cost of natural gas will remain 40-50 percent less than fuel oil through 1990 and much cheaper than electric heat.

Question: How can the consumer reduce the impact of rising energy costs?

Lawrence: Conservation. The wise use of energy is one of the most important ways to help control utility bills. Insulation, weather stripping, caulking cracks, turning the thermostat down in winter and up in summer are all important.

Question: What about new appliances — do they really save energy and money?

Lawrence: Yes, but it is important to make sure an appliance with energy saving features is selected. New gas furnaces, for example, feature pilotless ignition and automatic vent dampers that eliminate heat-loss when the furnace is off.

Question: What is the outlook for natural gas supply?

Lawrence: Energy experts in government and in the gas industry are projecting a steady growth in gas supply through the year 2000. During the past several years America has been finding substantial new supplies of natural gas and the gas industry is involved in a number of supplement supply projects. Those include: making gas energy from coal and building a pipeline to bring natural gas from Alaska to the lower 48-states.

New Window Screening Easy

The main advantages of the staple gun are speed and convenience. You can shoot 6 to 10 staples in the time it takes you to hammer one nail. To appreciate what this means, let's take a look at the following scene:

Down in the utility room of Mr. J's house there is a small window protected by an inexpensive storm window made by Mr. J himself. It has a red-wood frame covered with heavy plastic sheeting held in place with staples. Soon it will be removed and replaced with a screen which Mr. J is now completing in his workshop.

The aluminum screening has been cut to size and is being stapled to the frame. The staple gun has a screening attachment in front which enables Mr. J to keep the screen mesh stretched while he shoots staples from the Arrow Staple Gun into it along a pencil line. For the sake of appearance the staples are covered with pieces of molding.

Gas Dryers save cash

A new gas dryer can reduce by as much as 30 percent the amount of gas energy needed to dry clothes, according to the American Gas Association.

Compared to older, less efficient dryers, the new gas-efficient models can save consumers up to $100 in lifetime operating costs by energy-saving features such as pilotless ignition and automatic shutoff.

Gas clothes dryers require very little upkeep and can be maintained in a matter of seconds.

For example, it is important to keep the lint screen clean. The location of the screen varies with different models — some are on top, others on the bottom. A few models place the lint screen inside the door. But remember: keeping the lint screen clean is the single most important step to ensure proper air circulation and efficient, economical dryer operation.

Whenever possible, vent the dryer for exhaust. This will carry moisture-laden air out of the house. Indoor clothes drying with gas is much faster and more convenient than drying laundry outside. But the amount of moisture involved is enormous. "Exhausting" the dryer will prevent moist air from being recirculated through it. Also, it will decrease drying time, using less gas and saving money.

The correct degree of dryness should be chosen. Clothes will come out better, especially permanent pressed clothes.

PAINT ROLLERS — Wash latex and oil-based paints off paint rollers as you would off brushes. After washing, dry the roller with a clean rag.

Wrapping the roller in aluminum foil will help maintain the soft texture of the nap. Always store rollers on end to avoid flattening the nap.

Gas Home Heating Saves

Consumers faced with the cost of replacing a home-heating system should select the most efficient, cost-effective system, the American Gas Association says.

Gas heating systems are highly efficient and natural gas is priced below heating oil and electric heat. New gas furnaces have automatic vent dampers which prevent warm air from escaping when the furnace is off. This keeps the house warmer for longer periods of time — saving gas and money because the heating system runs less frequently.

A furnace does not run constantly except in very cold weather. It cycles on and off to maintain the temperature pre-selected on the thermostat. When the furnace is off, some of the heated air in the house moves naturally through the furnace and escapes up the flue. The vent damper, a circular metal plate fitted inside the flue pipe and operated by a motor linked to the controls of the furnace, closes off this escape route.

When the thermostat calls for heat, and the furnace goes on the damper opens. When the furnace shuts off, the damper closes, keeping the warm air from escaping.

Since the house cools off at a slower rate, the thermostat "calls" for heat less often.

New gas furnaces also save money. Continuously burning pilot lights are replaced with intermittent ignition systems. With an I.I.S., a tiny electrical spark jumps across a gap to ignite the pilot and then the furnace.

Only a minute amount of energy is needed with an I.I.S. The amount of gas saved over the lifetime of the furnace can be impressive.

When compared to older gas furnaces, a new energy efficiency gas heating system with vent damper and I.I.S. can save a homeowner up to $700 in lifetime operating costs. And the same amount of space can be heated with 20 percent less gas as quickly, cleanly and dependably as before.

The spring and summer months are good times to evaluate home heating needs — painting, caulking, upgrading insulation and for replacement of old, inefficient heating systems. Consider an automatic thermostat that can set the heating system to meet particular lifestyles. And storm windows and doors and the insulation around them.

SELECT CONTRACTOR CAREFULLY

Many homeowners find themselves confused when it comes to choosing a contractor to do that remodeling project they've been dreaming of for so long.

"When you consider the homeowner is talking about tampering with what may well be his most valuable possession, it's understandable that he may have some fear of choosing the wrong contractor," says John Hammon, executive vice president of the National Home Improvement Council (NHIC).

Media stories of horrible improvement horrors scare some homeowners right out of remodeling projects and leave others with a worried feeling about the work for which they've just signed.

"However, it needn't be that way," says the Council executive. Homeowners who take the time to carefully select their contractor rarely suffer headline making episodes.

In many areas of the country individuals can check with the National Home Improvement Council, which has more than 50 chapters across the nation. NHIC's members are pledged to a strict Code of Ethics and in many areas have a cooperative Consumer Care program with the Better Business Bureau. Many of these chapters are listed in local telephone directories and will send callers a list of contractor members.

If there isn't an NHIC chapter in your area, the trade association suggests following the steps listed below when choosing a contractor.

1) Employ a contractor with an established place of business, preferably in your locality.

2) Check for adequate financial references.

3) Get references of satisfied customers and check on them personally by phone. If your city has a Better Business Bureau, check to see if there is an adverse file on the contractor. In lieu of a BBB, check with your local Chamber of Commerce.

4) Observe carefully how precisely he "sizes up" your proposed project, take note of his suggestions and discuss them thoroughly with him. Don't be rushed and avoid snap judgements, either pro or con.

5) Be certain to have a written agreement on plans and specifications (the materials to be used).

6) Have a thorough understanding as to the quality of materials and workmanship required.

7) Get bids from more than one contractor. Regardless of whether you use an NHIC member or not, be sure your contractor meets the guidelines and readily answers all your questions.

The National Home Improvement Council reports that consumer spending for home improvements has increased steadily for more than 30 years.

STAYING COOL, SAVING ENERGY

It's easy to stay cool and save energy at the same time. All it takes is finding out how to use your air conditioner most efficiently.

The single most important factor, according to the National Energy Watch, is to make sure you have a unit that is the correct size for the area you're cooling. Room air conditioners are labeled with an Energy Efficiency Rating (EER). This tells you how efficient the unit is when compared to other models, and how much it will cost to run it for one year. The EER is the ratio of the cooling capacity of the unit compared to the amount of electricity it uses.

You know that your air conditioner is a big energy user. Set the thermostat on your air conditioner to 78 degrees, instead of 72, and you'll cut down on the amount of energy it's using. Installing an old-fashioned ceiling fan will help circulate the cold air from your air conditioner. Even when used alone studies show that ceiling fans, like the ones made popular by the movie Casablanca, use no more energy than a 15 watt light bulb and can reduce room temperatures by 10 or 12 degrees.

Sunlight streaming into a room can create a lot of heat. On sunny days, lower the shades, close the blinds, and draw the drapes to protect windows from the sun.

Long Lasting Beauty Protection Offered By Vinyl Siding

The homeowner looking for the beauty of wood and a maintenance-free home exterior will find both in vinyl siding like Alcoa Building Products' Super-V (R).

If you're tired of spending your summer weekends at the top of a ladder with paint brush in hand but still want the natural beauty of wood, the decision to re-side your house should get you back to earth.

Re-siding with vinyl is a decision more and more homeowners are happy they made because it offers the perfect blend of natural beauty, toughness, and low maintenance. Vinyl siding, like Alcoa Building Products' Super V (R), is made of impact-modified polyvinyl chloride. The real beauty of the material is that the color is blended all the way through. And that means scratches don't show and colors hold true. Another beautiful aspect of vinyl is its resistance to rust, corrosion, dents, peeling and it will not rot.

Although a good rain will usually keep the surface clean and bright, a garden hose plus a little light detergent is all that's needed in the maintenance department. For all of its toughness and low maintenance, vinyl still offers a natural beauty that can complement almost every decor. Alcoa's Super-V, for example, is available in a Country Oak pattern, a deep formed graining designed to simulate a wood-like appearance. The White, Primrose Yellow, Desert Gold, Almond and Willow Green colors are compatible with Alcoa's line of gutters and downspouts, soffit and fascia, columns, shutters, railing, trim and exterior doors.

The long lasting beauty and low maintenance of vinyl is sure to bring any homeowner down off his ladder — for good.

For more information on home remodeling or a copy of Alcoa's new consumer guide to home remodeling, "Don't Move... Improve!", write Alcoa Building Products, Inc., Suite 1200, Two Allegheny Center, Pittsburgh, PA 15212.

Look For Signs Of Worn Roof

Homeowners can save money by spotting the early signs of a worn out roof. A roof that's slightly damaged, but ignored, can lead to serious problems in the roof deck and in the attic and could result in costly repairs, advises the Asphalt Roofing Manufacturers Association.

If a few shingles have been blown away by high winds, or damaged by tree branches, chances are the damage can easily be repaired. Missing or damaged shingles can be replaced. Leaks around flashing can be waterproofed.

Sooner or later, however, all roofs have to be replaced. If the roof shows signs of old age, repairs will only help temporarily because roofs tend to wear uniformly.

Signs that indicate a roof is worn out are cracked, curled or missing shingles. These conditions show that the roof has become brittle and dried out.

The most reliable determinant, says ARMA, is the age of the roof. A roof of standard shingles, 15 years old or older, is a prime candidate for re-roofing.

When facing re-roofing decisions, you will find that a good roofing contractor can be extremely helpful. A professional contractor can give useful advice on roofing materials and the use of color to provide "curb appeal." Before re-roofing, have the roofer conduct a thorough on the roof inspection.

Increasingly popular for re-roofing these days are three-dimensional asphalt shingles in rustic earthtone shades. These multi-layered shingles produce a roof with deep shadow lines that create an image of depth. Handsome earth-tone colors of browns or beiges produce a roof that blends with the environment.

Designed to last many years, these asphalt shingles require only minimal maintenance. They also bear the fire-resistance label of the Underwriters Laboratories.

Additional advice on the use of color and dimension is contained in "A Homeowner's Guide to Quality Roofing," which can be obtained for 35 cents from ARMA, Box 3248, Grand Central Station, New York, New York 10163.

This handsome shower is the result of installing Plaskolite's brand new Deluxe Shower Wall Kit. A do-it-yourselfer's dream, the five pieces of this wall kit go on in minutes by merely using a hole saw and a caulking gun with easy-to-apply adhesive, available at your dealer. Your shower-stall walls take more of a beating than any in your house. The constant impact of hot water, steam and humidity ultimately wears them down. Now these worn and beaten walls can be made new again, possibly more attractive than ever.

The best thing about it is that you can do it yourself. A leading producer of D.I.Y. home improvement products, Plaskolite, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, has brought out Deluxe Shower Wall Kit to eliminate unsightly shower-stall walls.

The five pieces of this shower wall kit can be installed in minutes. Made of durable, high-impact copolymer plastic, Deluxe Shower Wall resists mildew and mold and will not absorb water. It cleans easily with a mild detergent. The four colors of this wall kit, white, gold, blue and almond, add a decorator's touch to your bathroom. An added convenience is the molded-in soap and shampoo trays.

Do-it-yourselfers will want to know that the Deluxe Shower Wall Kit can be adjusted to fit shower alcoves 36" to 48" wide, 32" to 36" deep. Its walls are 77" high.

Installing this shower wall kit is a bonanza. The only tools needed are a hole saw for plumbing-fixture openings, and a caulking gun for the easy application of the adhesive usually available at the same dealer who carries this kit. Easy-to-follow instructions are included in the easy-to-carry carton, size: 35 1/2" x 7 1/2" x 5". It weighs 58 pounds.

The Deluxe Shower Wall Kit will last indefinitely with ordinary care. It can be quickly installed over such new construction as drywall, plaster or plywood. It is sold at home centers, building supply retailers and retail chains. For more information, get in touch with Plaskolite, Inc., 1770 Joyce Avenue, Box 1497, Columbus, Ohio 43216.

taxes. It would also give additional impetus to increased commercial activity for surrounding businesses in the shopping center.

While all these pluses seem to benefit the economy, the federal government gets hurt by the tax exempt status of the loans. It is left out of the groups which benefit from these activities.

Municipal governments also get hurt by the tax exempts. The tremendous increase of IRB's on the market pushes up the prices of municipal bonds which costs local governments more money when they want to improve public works projects.

To receive village approval to seek tax exempt bonds, a local company first inquires about its chances for qualifying for them. Niles bond counselors, Benjamin and Lang, study the request and make sure the company has the financial resources to meet the standards necessary for acquiring the bonds. Niles village attorney and village financial committee then review the application. If approved, the village board passes a resolution which enables the seeking company to go to their financial institution with the tax exempts approval. Niles, being a home rule community, is able to provide a 60%-65% approval of the pending prime rate. Thus, if today's rate is about 16 1/2%, companies receiving approval for tax exempts hope to get loans for around 10%. Non-home rule communities can approve for about 70% of the maximum of prime which would mean a 16 1/2% prime would result in an 11 1/2% interest rate.

In Niles, Sound Video Unlimited closed out their tax exempt loan at the end of the year for about 1 million dollars. Middle/Market Oven Company closed out December 17 for $500,000. General Business Forms closed out last Thursday for $950,000. "Closing out" means the tax exempt loan has been approved.

P. A. Bergner, the Golf Mill store, was approved by the village for $10,000,000 and F.S.A. Niles Association for 6.2 million dollars. The latter corporation owns the Golf Glen Shopping Center. Both of these loans are still outstanding, not having been completed, according to Niles officials.

Fire Chiefs approve Doppler fund raising

At a meeting attended by over 100 Fire Chiefs of the metropolitan Chicago area, it was voted unanimously by the Fire Chiefs in attendance to start a fund raising campaign to buy the most modern tornado forecasting radar available, called the "Doppler System". This system allows from 10 to 20 minutes warning time of an on-coming tornado and describes accurately wind velocities and the course of the tornado prior to

Snow storm...

Peck, they still have 200 tons left "in case Mother Nature decides to let us have it again." Peck noted the village uses approximately 800 tons of salt in an average winter.

In addition to Monday's snow, Peck said he had two crews out last Saturday collecting branches and debris which were downed as a result of 50 to 70 MPH winds. "Two weeks ago we had heavy rains on a Friday evening which kept us busy with calls of flooding, so I guess we've had it all," Peck said.

Niles Public Works trucks started salting intersections around noon on Monday, but the high winds caused severe problems. Peck said crews went home around 4 p.m. and returned at 7 p.m. They proceeded to clear the snow routes in the village, working until 4 a.m. Tuesday morning. At 6 a.m. they went over the main thoroughfares once again. Peck noted the major problem in clearing village streets resulted from parked cars on the streets. "People have long driveways which are cleared of snow and still park on the streets making it impossible for us to use our large snowplows since there isn't enough room to maneuver around the parked vehicles. By using the smaller plows, it takes us longer to clear the streets and in the end costs the taxpayers more money," Peck noted.

Niles village offices closed 55 minutes early at 4:05 p.m. on Monday because of the snow. Niles Village Manager Ken Scheel said Niles suffered few problems during the storm except for the difficulties caused by the high winds. Scheel said blowing snow caused streets to "close up as fast as we would plow them."

Morton Grove Village Administrator Fred Huber said other than the inconvenience there were no real problems caused by the snow in Morton Grove. Huber did say, however, that Morton Grove Police reported the auto accident rate was low during the storm. Huber speculated this was because people were driving slower and more carefully during the storm. East Maine School District 63 similarly had few problems caused by the storm, according to administrator Dr. Lenore Page. Page said the schools did not close early on Monday and were open as usual on Tuesday. Page said school officials are "very careful" about letting school students show early children would have to return to empty homes because of the high number of working mothers of school children.

Niles Savings... Continued from Page 3 that approval, Goldsberry said an additional two months will be needed before stockholders in the two associations will be able to presumably vote in favor of the merger.

Niles Savings has 150,000 shares of common stock owned by customers while Uptown Federal has 300,000 shares of stock with the majority of it being owned by the John H. Cain family. A two-thirds vote of approval by stockholders is required for the merger proposal to be approved.

Commenting on the merger proposal, Niles Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Curt Hockett said, "We're going through difficult economic times and it's better if organizations can get together to stay in the community and operate profitably together."

Referring to the pending merger, Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase said, "Having a viable savings and loan is a very good thing for the community. Anything that keeps them alive is good."

Goldsberry said Uptown Federal will continue to operate its Lawrencewood branch office following the merger. Additionally, Goldsberry said Uptown Federal will continue to maintain their corporate headquarters in Lawrencewood Shopping Center following the merger because of the superior office space.

Board members gave approval to a revised contract subject to review by the attorney. Patricia Kolvek, assistant business manager, asked board approval to proceed with an investigation of private telephone equipment which would be more versatile and possibly less costly than the public utility now in use. Kolvek cited a possible touch tone, call forwarding, automatic hold and ownership of the equipment as some reasons for a private phone system.

In a mock "Battle of the Books", two teams of Washington school students showed board members of East Maine District 63 how they gained first place in a seven-school competition sponsored by the Niles Library Catechism. Pastor Duder will be discussing "The Creed" on Wednesday, April 14.

The Seminar has proved to be an exciting refresher course in Lutheran theology for members of St. John Lutheran. Non-members wishing to become members of St. John Lutheran Church of Niles are encouraged to attend because completion of the course gives them the instruction in the fundamentals of the Lutheran faith, allowing them to be confirmed.

Divine Worship Services are held on Sunday mornings at 8 and 10:30 a.m. with Sunday School classes for pre-school children through teenagers, an Adult Bible class and Young Adult Bible class at 9:15 a.m. Guests are always welcome!

Edison Park Lutheran

On April 9, the 41st annual Good Friday Veiling Services at Edison Park Lutheran Church, Avondale and Oliphant aves., Chicago, will feature the Veiling of the Altar Cross, the reading of the Seven Last Words, and special music by the Choirs. Services will be held twice, at the hours of 6 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. The meditation will be "You and Me at the Cross". Worshipers traditionally leave the Sanctuary in silence at the close of the Service.

The wooden cross, which stands at the Altar during Lent, is made from the trunk of one of the Church's former Christmas trees. It will be unveiled at the Easter Sunrise Service at 5:17 a.m. CST Easter morning, decorated with flowers and greenery - a beautiful reminder of the close relationship between the birth, death, and resurrection of our Lord.

Everyone in the community is most cordially invited to attend these Services.

Trumpeters and timpanist will herald the arrival of Easter at the Sunrise Service, 5:17 a.m. Easter Morning, at Edison Park Lutheran Church, Avondale and Oliphant aves., Chicago. The cross, which has been veiled since Good Friday, will be uncovered as the Senior Choir breaks forth in the Triumphant Easter processional. The Sunrise sermon theme will be "Waiting for the Son".

An Easter Breakfast will be served by the Luther Leaguers immediately following the Sunrise Service. No charge is made but a free-will offering will be received.

Two Easter Festival Services will be held at the regular worship hours of 9 and 10:45 a.m. featuring special music by the Choirs and instrumentalists. The Festival Service sermon theme will be "The Power of this Day". As usual, the second half of the first service will be broadcast over radio station WOPA-AM, 1490, kh. beginning at 9:30 a.m. Everyone in the community is invited to participate in these Services.
