Maine East batters Notre Dame in Baseball Regional Semi-finals

Maine East's Demons advanced to the finals of the Maine South regional baseball tourney Tuesday by routing Notre Dame, 12-2 in a six inning game.

Two towering home runs over the 300 foot left field fence by catcher Gary Sellergren plus 5-hit pitching by Mark Bartolotta led the Blue Demons to their second victory in the tourney, which could eventually lead to the state championship in Normal, Illinois. Maine's 21-5 team led a battering attack Tuesday. In addition to Sellergren's power display which included 3 runs batted in, Gustafson, Redig and Tunick all had at least 2 hits in the abbreviated game. Tunick and Redig had 2 doubles apiece and Gustafson hit for a double and a single. Wednesday's final game (after Bugle press time) had Maine East vying against Maine West for the regional championship. West ousted Maine South, 11-1 Tuesday afternoon setting up the all-Maine final.

Both games ended after six innings. When one team leads by 10 runs in Illinois High School baseball, the leading team is declared the winner at that point.

Since we've never been involved in little league baseball we've seen few games. But this summer many of the kids on our block are on competing teams and we've seen many games alternately cheering for both sides. And while we sit in the grandstand and watch the youngsters play we nostalgically remembered our "baseball days" back in the thirties and forties.

On our block the lot 2 doors from our house was the "diamond" where we first learned the game of softball. By the time we were 7 or 8 years old we already had a travelling team which played guys on every block in the neighborhood. Our home field was a narrow field, nestled in between a bungalow and a 2 story building. Right field ended perhaps 20 feet behind 1st base and the left field line scraped along the bungalow to the north. Thus, all of us learned to "place" the ball down the middle of the field, where most of the action took place.

In those halcyon days we began playing ball at 9 o'clock in the morning and played all day long, often coming back after supper to play 3 and 4 man games of left center field hitting.

In our 7 to 10 year old days in the mid-thirties we seldom had any money. The biggest treat during the hot summer days was to grab an empty milk bottle, go

Morton Grove Freeze Campaign underway

"The Nuclear Weapons Freeze—what alternative to that do we have if we want to survive?" This is the question that the supporters of the Morton Grove Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaign will be asking their neighbors and friends this summer as they gather signatures in support of the Freeze.

A number of Morton Grove residents gathered at the home of Carl and Isabel Condit on the evening of May 25 to plan campaign activities. They agreed that their vital purpose is to reach into the community to explain their firm conviction that there is only one safe course for the two great nations, the United States and the Soviet Union, to follow in order to ensure the survival of life on earth. That course is to agree to impose an immediate mutual and comprehensive freeze on all testing, production, and deployment of nuclear weapons; this to be followed by step-by-step mutual reductions preceding from continual hard negotiations. "Not only does the arms race threaten us with physical extinction, it is destroying the economies of both nations along the way," agreed the participants.

Besides the very important task of collecting signatures, Freeze supporters plan to offer literature, movies, and speakers to interested groups. At the suggestion of Carol Milanich of 3 Smithwood Drive, each person present pledged him-herself to try to persuade at least ten other people to commit themselves to support of the campaign. Paul

Niles plans law requiring TB testing

by Diane Miller

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase told The Bugle last Friday that the Village is currently putting together an ordinance which will require all persons working in food service-related businesses, namely restaurants and grocery stores, to have a Tuberculin scratch test on a yearly basis. Blase added the recent article and editorial which ran in The Bugle reinforced his decision to proceed with the village ordinance. He added that he, too, felt that TB was a disease of the past until recent statistics showed the upsurge in suburban Cook County.

The Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry welcomed two new members last month. Doerner Jewelers, 345 South Mall, Golf Mill Shopping Center have been in Niles for over 18 years and Mayberry's Ice Cream Parlor, 930 N. Milwaukee Ave. have been in business in Niles for 6 years. The Chamber is currently conducting a Membership Drive through June 12.

The Niles Senior Center extended their thanks recently to Clarence Nelson who set up, coordinated and managed the 1982 income tax assistance program for the Trident Center. Some 290 seniors received assistance in filling out their income tax forms. Assisting Nelson in his program were Mike Angelesano, Walter Bialka, Agnes Burkhardt, Florence Crigger, George Gauthier, Vernon Johnson, Charles Larocco, Maurice Nagle, Henry Nickel, Armita Swint, John Wilkin and Don Zehner.

Nilesites who joined the Trident Senior Center during the month of May were: Sam Brown, Philip and Selma Stern, Emily Kropat, Emma Fahrenback, George Polakowski, Angela Grauel, Caroline Knoloch, Gene and Maroetta Scholfield, Lillian Riske, Alex and Josephine Swiatek, Edward Petrokus, Lee Niles, Bernice Novak, Anthony Genoualdi, Samuel and Eleanor Aiello, Regina and Pauline Wagner, Grace Hallstrom, Joseph and Irene Grauzlis, Alfred Claude, Tom McEvilly, Milo and Irla Benjamin, Sol Arnoff, Sallie Troka, Nicholas and Marie Scimeca, Frank and Ann Knapp, Robert Mancusi, Casmier Kedzierski, Melem Ruesch, Charles Zaleski, Joseph and Virginia Scaccio.

The Niles Park District is inviting all groups and individuals in the village to join in the communitywide parade which they are coordinating for July 4. Floats, bands, decorated bicycles and community businesses and organizations are welcome to participate. The parade will begin at 1:30 p.m. and will end at Grennan Heights Park with games and refreshments. For information call Ray Ochromowicz of the Niles Park District at 967-6633.

The Niles Historical Society is 'eyeing' the Third District Courts Building at Milwaukee and Touhy which will be vacated in a few years. They would like very much not only to acquire the building for a museum, but also a civic center where plays, concerts, club activities, etc. could be conducted. Their present home at the Trident Center, according to Marilyn Brown, president, does not afford them the room for their many displays and artifacts.

The Village of Niles sent a letter last week to School Districts 63 and 64 thanking them for renting rather than selling, empty schools in Niles. Officials have been concerned during recent years over the continual closing of elementary schools in Niles due to the declining school enrollment. Compounding the problem was the possibility that the financially strapped school districts might sell the schools to raise much needed revenue.

Fearing the impact selling the schools would have on the desirability of Niles neighborhoods, Niles Trustees acted last year to prevent the school districts from selling schools. By tightening up zoning regulations, Niles required any use of the schools for other than public schools would require special zoning. This action, in effect, put any potential buyer of a school on notice that it could be difficult to receive the proper zoning for possibly a business to move into a school building.

In his letter dated May 25 thanking the school districts, Mayor Nicholas Blase said, "I want to publicly thank Grammar School District 63 and District 64 for their cooperation in attempting to rent out closed school facilities as opposed to trying to sell these facilities."

By renting the schools, rather than selling them, Blase said the school districts have assured "the availability of these schools for possible future use."

Blase additionally praised the District 63 and 64 School Board's for being "visionary" and "caring enough about our community by trying to preserve our neighborhood viability."

Blase concluded by stating the actions taken by the school boards and Niles "shows again that cooperation between governmental bodies...is not only possible, but necessary, for the overall welfare of all our communities."

Disconnect your Downspouts

The Village of Niles will pay its residents $5 for every downspout they disconnect (up to four downspouts per home) as part of a program to help alleviate basement flooding during heavy rainstorms.

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase stated: "In recent years our area has experienced an abnormal amount of very heavy rainstorms. These heavy rainfalls were classified as being equivalent to ten-year rains, twenty-year rains and even one hundred-year rains. Since the cost of building storm sewers large enough to accommodate these unusual storms is prohibitive (up to $20 million), other methods must be employed to help alleviate storm sewer backup and basement flooding during these heavy storms. One such way is for us to disconnect gutter downspouts so rain water does not enter and overload our sewers."

Mayor Blase continued: "Disconnecting downspouts helps tremendously in alleviating basement flooding as it prevents the rain water which falls on the roof of the home from flowing directly into the sewer system and causing an overload which, in turn, brings about backups and basement flooding. Allowing storm water to temporarily pond on front and back yards, streets and sidewalks sometimes causes alarm among residents but

FREE TESTS FOR HIDDEN DIABETICS

It's time to find out if you are a 'hidden diabetic'. It is possible to have diabetes without any of the symptoms; and anyone at any age can become diabetic. However, the individuals most likely to become diabetic are: overweight, women, over 40 years of age, and those with a family history of diabetes. The most common symptoms are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tendency to tire easily, changes in vision, and slow healing of cuts and bruises. But some people have diabetes with none of these symptoms.

For this reason, tests are one very important way of discovering the presence of diabetes as early as possible. The earlier proper control is established, the better the diabetic's chances of living an active life. To receive a free diabetes test call the Morton Grove Health Department at 965-4100 to set up an appointment.

We have a staff of young and energetic workers who will assist you in these chores. For information contact the Chore Program Coordinator, Bud Swanson.

Although the program is free, we ask participants to consider making a contribution to the fund which pays the choreworkers. A contribution of $2 per hour for each hour of work is suggested.

They are prepared at Bethany Terrace Nursing Home and are delivered within the Village. Those interested in helping are asked to donate an hour or so around lunchtime and a car. For more information contact 965-4100.

Porter calls for speedup in Aid Grants

Congressman John E. Porter (R-Winnnetka) is urging federal officials to speed up the processing of Pell Grant applications so that the nearly 200,000 Illinois students dependent on aid can make plans for the fall.

Illinois students are double affected by delays in processing the federal applications since the Illinois State Scholarship Commission uses the financial data collected on the Pell Grant application to determine eligibility for its monetary awards.

Porter has written to Secretary of Education, Terrel H. Bell, and Budget Director, David A. Stockman, protesting the unusually long delays this year.

In the past, applications were processed around-the-clock under the Department of Education contract. But, this year the decision was made to process the applications during a single daytime shift. This has resulted in lengthy delays.

Porter said, "I am extremely concerned that an extension in the processing time from a maximum of six weeks in the past to up to four months now will mean a substantial portion of students will not know if they will receive financial aid until August when it could be too late to enroll in college this fall."

Seek volunteers for tests

A nationwide study to determine whether lowering cholesterol will reduce the risk of heart attack is currently underway at four regional medical centers. The Midwest center is located at the U of Minnesota in Minneapolis with Dr. Henry Buchwald as the principal investigator for the project. With heart disease the number one cause of death in the United States today, it is essential that the cholesterol controversy be resolved. The study has accepted over 500 volunteer participants and will accept 500 more within the next year. The study seeks persons who are ages 30 through 64, have suffered their first and only heart attack within the past five years, have not had heart surgery, have not had a stroke and do not have diabetes. We endeavor to facilitate a child's social, emotional, physical and intellectual development and to create in a child's mind a positive attitude toward a school environment. Call NI-Gas before reaching for shovel

If you're planning any digging - putting in a fence, adding to your home or just planting a tree - Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas) suggests calling JULIE before reaching for the shovel. JULIE - Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators - is a toll-free hot line designed to notify NI-Gas and nearly 140 other participating Illinois utilities of digging projects that might disturb underground services. The number is 800/892-0123.

Much of the equipment needed to serve customers, including gas mains, and telephone, electric and television cables, is underground. The gas service is usually buried in a straight line, running from the meter set to a main paralleling the street. It can be damaged or ruptured by a shovel blade or other excavating equipment. Even a small dent can create problems months later when ground frost causes the pipe to expand and contract slightly.

A phone call to JULIE can avoid problems. Since beginning in 1974 in Will County, the service has expanded statewide, excluding Chicago. It is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. At JULIE headquarters in Joliet, Illinois, operators will answer some 190,000 calls this year. Spring and fall are the busiest seasons; Illinois homeowners, road crews, sewer contractors and others planning to excavate will place more than 1,500 requests to JULIE on peak days. Last year, NI-Gas alone responded to more than 100,000.

When you call, an operator will ask country, township and section number where digging will be done (this information can be found on property tax bills); your name, phone number and address; description of the excavation project; and date work will begin. JULIE then relays the information simultaneously to local gas, telephone and electric utilities.

When NI-Gas is notified, a representative will respond within 48 hours, marking locations to avoid when digging. This service is provided free to the caller.

Excavation is the leading cause of most service interruptions. You can avoid costly and annoying disruptions by calling JULIE before digging.

How the Cragin Idle Assets program can wake up cash you may not know you have!

If we told you that you could be earning high interest on money you own but don't even know about, would you be interested? We hope so. Because at Cragin Federal Savings, there's now a way to turn money that's been sleeping on the job into a hard-working, interest-bearing asset.

only the full face value of your policy, but also the full amount of your certificate of deposit. What's more, every dollar of your Idle Assets CD is insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC).
*Maximum amount of $10,000; maximum entry age is 60.

How do I start?

It's easy. All you have to do is bring your life insurance policy in to any Cragin Federal Savings office. We'll help you determine its cash value, its loan rate and take care of

You see, most of us forget that we have valuable, readily-available assets in the form of our permanent, ordinary or whole life insurance policies. The cash value of our policies can be borrowed at a very low rate of interest. Usually around 5 or 6%, in fact. And because most such life insurance contracts entitle the holder to such a loan, borrowing your cash value is not a privilege but a right—a right you can avail yourself of right now!

every detail for you. We can even tell you exactly what kind of return you can expect at the current Idle Assets rate. So come in and see us today. And start getting a rise out of your sleeping money.

The Cragin Idle Assets Certificate Account

How? Cragin Federal Savings is offering an easy and perfectly risk-free way to reinvest that low-cost money in a special insured CD called the Cragin 30-month Idle Assets Certificate of Deposit. You profit because the rate of interest earned by the Idle Assets account is significantly higher than your insurance company's loan rate. Sometimes 2½ times higher, in fact. Simply stated, you can borrow from your insurance company at a low rate and earn from Cragin at a high rate.

But will my insurance coverage be affected?

With a Cragin Idle Assets CD, there's nothing to lose sleep over because Cragin reinstates your full cash value by providing an equivalent amount* of insurance in your name. In fact, your insurance will actually be increased. If death should occur, your beneficiaries will receive not

1M FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF MORTON GROVE

6201 Dempster Street Morton Grove, Ill. 60053
(312) 965-4400 Member FDIC

Morton Grove's first bank

Oakton Office opening draws large crowds

George A. Webster (fourth from l.) was given the honor of christening First National Bank's new Oakton St. office during Grand Opening Ceremonies Sat., May 22. Webster recently retired after 30 years as a member of the Board of Directors and was one of the Bank's first customers; he holds savings account #16. Participating in the event were (l. to r.): Arthur R. Weiss, Chairman of the Board; Des Plaines Mayor

Opening day for the New Oakton Street Office was termed an "outstanding success" by officials of the First National Bank of Des Plaines.

Despite unseasonably cool and rainy weather, crowds began forming nearly an hour before the scheduled opening at 9 a.m. last Saturday, May 22. Officials estimate that 200 people were on hand when the building, located at the corner of Lee and Oakton Streets, was officially opened for business.

About 2,200 people visited the bank the first day.

"We were pleasantly surprised at the crowd who came to our new branch to do business on opening day," Arthur R. Weiss, Chairman of the Board remarked. "This turnout proves what we suspected: there was a definite need for a full service banking facility to serve residents and business in the neighborhood."

Because of the large crowd, bank officials opened the doors for business prior to the Grand Opening Ceremony. Instead of a ribbon cutting, the new building was christened with a bottle of champagne. George A. Webster, recently retired after 30 years on the Board of Directors and one of the Bank's first customers with savings account #16, broke the bottle against the building. In addition to First National's board members and officers, Des Plaines Mayor John Seitz, City Clerk Donna McAllister, members of the City Council and officials of the Des Plaines Chamber of Commerce and Industry participated in the christening.

For the christening, the exterior of the bank was decorated to resemble a ship. A nautical theme for the ceremony was chosen to tie in with the First National Bank's Caribbean Breakaway Sweepstakes being held to celebrate the opening of its new neighborhood branch facility. First prize in the sweepstakes is an all-expense paid trip for two to the Caribbean. Second prize is an RCA Video Cassette Recorder, third prize is a 13" RCA color television.

Entry blanks are available from any FNB teller, but all entries must be taken to the Oakton St. office. Deadline for entering the sweepstakes is noon June 5, the date of the drawing.

During the Grand Opening Ceremony, the Bank gave away more than 500 helium filled balloons and 1250 free plants. A total of 300 sweetrolls, 750 cups of coffee and 1,000 bags of popcorn were served.

Business hours at the new branch are: Drive In Lanes—Mon., Tues. and Wed. from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Thurs. and Fri. from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sat. 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Walk In Lobby—Mon. thru Thurs. 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Fri. 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sat. from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The First's Lee street office hours are the same.

New exec named by Talman Home

Dennis K. Holland has been named Assistant Vice President and Real Estate Owned Administrator for Talman Home Investments, Inc., according to an announcement by Harold J. Blouin, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer.

Holland previously was Assistant Vice President and Manager of Real Estate Investments for North West Federal Services, Inc. He joined the Loan Department of North West Federal in 1974 and became Manager of Loan Investments in the Des Plaines Office in 1977 and Manager in 1979. He joined the Talman Home staff in February, 1982 with the merger of Talman Home Federal and North West Federal Savings.

California Clay exhibition

Among the works most highly prized by collectors today are the ceramics made by such turn-of-the-century art-potteries as Rookwood. A single California studio, Santa Barbara Ceramic Design, however, uses an innovative variation on the traditional majolica technique, with a palette of colors undreamed of only a few years ago. Works shown include traditional vase forms, lamps, platters, pitchers and bowls, as well as ginger jars, candlesticks, teapots and mugs. Each one-of-a-kind piece is signed with the marks of both the potter and the artist. "California Clay" can be seen at Midscape Gallery Tuesday-Saturday 10-6, Thursday 10-9 and Sunday 1-4. 219 Concerned Citizens hold meeting

Lowell Ruffer, President of District 19 Board of Education addressed the April 26 Concerned Citizens of 219 general meeting. Mr. Ruffer presented an overview of the offerings, opportunities and options available to the students of Niles Township. He enumerated the eighteen requirements for graduation, the extensive elective courses, extra-curricular activities and special services.

John Lorenz, Director of Social Studies and Fine Arts Department at Niles West answered specific questions posed by the members and guests. Following the meeting, Mr. Lorenz said "I am pleased to have attended and to have participated in the vivacious and stimulating interaction with the audience."

Isaac Hoffman, teacher of Hebrew at Niles West, was also present and enthusiastically joined in acclaiming the school district's multitude of curriculum offerings.

Mr. Hoffman told Fran Kominsky, President of CC 219, "I am delighted and pleasantly surprised to hear the depth, knowledge and concern of the questions posed this evening. It is nice to know that we have people in the community that not only care about the public schools but have taken the time and effort to familiarize themselves so extensively."

Program chairperson, Terry Liston announced that future informational programs will continue to include requests from the community. The January meeting included a panel of representatives from the Skokie Police Department Youth Officer Division, OutReach Program from the Skokie Youth Commission, District 219 Health Department faculty and a parent active in drug abuse prevention. Mrs. Liston requested that input and inquiries be directed to Mrs. Kominsky at 577-0376.

Alpine perennials make a beautiful yard

Are you a "lazy gardener" who is tired of replanting annuals year after year? If so, Alpine Perennials are the answer. These short early blooming beauties are being introduced to the market this spring by Iverson's Perennial Gardens, Long Grove, one of the largest wholesale growers of perennials in the United States.

Alpine Perennials will be showing color in the pot in May and early June as compared to other perennial varieties which produce their color in later months. This will enable the home gardener to select varieties by precise color, as with annuals. Seeing the bloom is better than seeing a picture of one. Plant them knowing they will not overgrow an area and better yet, will not have to be replanted every year.

There are even some shade loving varieties such as Primrose and Forget-me-not which can be used around shrubs, bushes or beneath trees for color. Many Alpine varieties such as Brilliant Cascade and Pin Cushion Flies bloom through early fall and have evergreen foliage which keeps its neat compact look through the winter.

The Chicago Botanic Gardens, Glenview, and the Lincoln Parks have excellent "Alpine Gardens." There is also a new book on the Market by the knowledgeable English Garden Expert, Alan Bloom called "Alpines for your Garden."

Ron Iverson, owner of Iverson's Perennials Gardens has the pleasure of meeting Mr. Bloom last summer while in England. His nursery is located in the Northeast Corner of England near the North Sea Coast. They discussed varieties and ideas for introducing Alpines to the market. There are currently 25 varieties of Alpine Perennials being grown at Iverson's and sold to local Garden Centers and Chain Stores. Each plant has its own informative picture tag and care guide on it. Be sure to look for these New Alpine Perennials at your favorite Garden Shop. Alpines are what's new for Spring.

Niles West Senior wins writing award

Niles West High School senior Ross Lirtzman wrote the winning story among those entered in a contest sponsored by the Des Plaines Soroptimist Club. As per contest rules, Lirtzman wrote his article for his school newspaper, the West Word, following a journalism seminar for high school and college students at Oakton Community College sponsored jointly by the Northwest Press Club and the college. All youths attending the seminar were invited by the Soroptimist Society to submit their stories about the keynote speech delivered there by former Channel 2 news anchor, Bill Kurtis, whose topic was human rights in El Salvador.

Donna Eskridge, president of the Des Plaines Soroptimist Society, said their club held this contest to recognize local students' writing abilities, and to generate interest in human rights issues.

According to Eskridge, Lirtzman's article was judged "well done and thought-provoking" by the society membership. As winner, the senior will join other local winners at the society's regional meeting and luncheon in Columbus, Ohio, on April 24. There, regional soroptimist society members will select a number of the youths to attend its nationwide youth seminars in Ontario, Canada. Lirtzman's article will also be published in the regional Soroptimist magazine.

"Home Protection Act" will control tax bills

Senator John J. Nimrod, (R-Glenview), says he is very optimistic that when local residents receive their property tax bills, it will be the last time they will experience an increase of more than 3% in their bills without a public referendum, because of emergency legislation now before the full Senate.

Nimrod stated that this optimism was due in part to the recent support exhibited by the electronic and print media.

"I am very appreciative of the support that the media has shown on this issue," Nimrod indicated, "and I am very hopeful that this will help to encourage special interest groups and local governments to reconsider their stance. If the Legislature fails to take action on this measure now, I am fearful that nothing will ever be done in this area and that they will not be forced to seek other sources of revenue rather than taxing the select few they now do through excessive real estate taxes."

Senate Bill 1621 would freeze all real estate taxes for a 2-year period after which time the tax increase could be no greater than 3% more than the preceding year.

"In these financially hard pressed times we are literally little by little taxing our young people out of the housing market and forcing our senior citizens to either vacate to the 'Sun-belt' or relocate into inappropriate housing and ultimately accelerate their move into what are already over crowded nursing home facilities," Nimrod stated.

"We do not have the luxury of waiting for the Legislature to act on something of this nature at a future date. Family unity has all but been destroyed already because of rising costs and high unemployment. When you add huge real estate taxes to this it becomes the final blow," Nimrod concluded.

First Aid for Little People at Stevenson School

On Wednesday, May 19, second grade students at Stevenson School, Des Plaines, received training in first aid in a cooperative program designed by the American Red Cross and staff members at Stevenson. This program is entitled, "First Aid for Little People" and teaches the children the skills and procedures that will enable a young child to act correctly in an emergency situation. Topics such as how to control bleeding, how to get help, what to do until help arrives and practice in mouth to mouth resuscitation (students practice the skill on a mannequin) are included in the program.

Stevenson's second grade students, a group of 73 children, received the "Red Cross Certificate of Attendance" for taking part in this activity. Mr. Alan Garber, a Stevenson parent and the Northwest representative of the American Red Cross Mid-America Chapter provided the training for the children. The students also received a workbook outlining the areas they studied.

Stevenson principal, Dr. Steward R. Liechti, announced plans for bringing this type of training to all Stevenson students during the 1982-83 school year. The Red Cross is developing similar types of first aid student certification programs for intermediate students entitled, Basic Aid Training for Young People (BAT). With the addition of this program, all Stevenson students will have the opportunity to learn basic first aid techniques during their school experiences.

into a neighbor's basement and fill it with cold water. Sitting with our back to the bungalow wall we'd down the quart of water without it leaving our lips. Sucking ice chips from the ice wagon was an even greater pleasure.

Our first uniform was a blue tee shirt which we bought at a dry goods store for 35¢. I think it was Blue Valley butter which gave away baseball caps as a premium for coupons, so many of us were well suited in our smart blue shirts and caps, with yellow stripes.

The blue shirts were duplicates of the big guys, the 16 year olds, who played on the main corner at nighttime in our neighborhood. After playing all day in our mid-block field we joined the adults in the evening watching "the Blues".

Summer evenings in the 30's meant waiting the smells of the Stock Yards, which drifted and hung over our neighborhood, cold lemonade being drunk on the front door stoops, General Balboa flying his squadron of planes over our homes, and world's fair days, interrupting the depression days. And summer days in the 30's meant listening to Pat Flanagan and Bob Elson and John Harrington and Hat Totten broadcast the ballgames from Chicago. Ticker tape games from out of town were simulated, with sounds of the crowd in the background. The thirties were the golden days of baseball (so were all the other decades for the kids who grew up then).

When we moved into the 10-year-old bracket we talked about black and white rayon shirts with long sleeves. It took at least a week to convince the local merchant for a dollar he could have his name sewn on the back of the shirt, and sponsor our team. After our uniformed team was draped in the black and white shirts, no two with the same name, we travelled several blocks away and took on all comers.

Since the game was softball the big 16 inch ball soon became soft and mushy. But it was some time before we all chipped in 5¢ each to buy a new ball for $1.10. At the end of the game the winning team got the ball and the batter with the best average for the day took it home with him.

When we reached the golden age of 11 we were trying to hit the merchants for full uniforms, pants and shirts. But just when we accumulated enough money for the uniforms, my folks told me the shattering news we were moving to a new neighborhood. My hopes of ever being fully-uniformed crumbled.

In the new neighborhood I learned a new softball game. Even though the game was still 16 inch softball, the game in our playground was fast pitching. A short-short was a new position, placed to the opposite side of the batter, perhaps 9 feet in front of him. Runners could steal bases after the ball landed in the catcher's hands, a game which never caught on in our area.

At the mighty age of 12 I became a member of the Gunners, and this time the uniform was a red rayon shirt with long white sleeves. We branched into all sports, and football became the dominant sport for the club. Again, the uniform was most important. Each Friday all the Gunners in our grammar school wore their shirts to school, showing the mighty strength of these resplendent athletes.

Since I am left-handed I was restricted to pitching, playing first base or the outfield. When our right-handed pitcher started a game I liked to play left field. I had discovered the game of basketball by then, and the cement court was alongside left field. When the inning ended I'd rush over to the "court" for a few shots, watching out of the corner of my eye when I was due to bat.

Subsequent summers during my teens I received softball diamonds all over Chicago's south side. But the most memorable fields were the ones on the Michigan-Indiana border where I spent my teen summers.

In Michigan City the field included a left field which ran up a high hill. If you were unfortunate enough to play out there you spent much time chasing 'flies' and 'grounders' uphill. And running forward downhill to catch a short pop fly was asking for a

The village is seeking voluntary compliance from all homeowners who presently have their downspouts connected to storm sewers. This voluntary period will extend until September 30, 1982. After that date an ordinance would be passed making downspout disconnection mandatory.

Reimbursement payments of $5 per downspout will not be made after the September 30 deadline. For further information on how to obtain your reimbursement contact the Village of Niles Engineering Division at 967-6100, ext. 40.

"Keeping the streets, alleys, parkways and vacant lots free of litter can prevent unpleasant odors and the transmission of disease by rats, flies, and other insects."

Skokie officials urge residents to voluntarily replace any damage refuse containers now, before the sanitation team needs to condemn them. "We'd be delighted to find many of the problems solved before we have to take action ourselves," Darack added.

won 7th and Scott Skoglund captured 10th. On the junior level, David Glassner was first, Al Gierman took second, David Baum won 4th, Seth Erlebacher took 7th and Jeff Snyder was 10th. For the sophomores, Tom Srcek took second, Leslie Lee was awarded 7th and Steve Faingold won 9th.

In the chemistry portion, Karen Lee took first with the highest score turned in during the last 10 years of this competition. Frank Miller was second and Scott Skoglund received the third place award.

The winner of the overall team trophy for the mathematics competition is determined by combining the top three scores earned by each participating school. Niles West defeated Westville, Missouri, in their own state, to take the championship.

This competition allowed the Niles West students to be tested against students outside of this area and gave them the chance to sample a college vastly different than the more familiar state universities, said Niles West mathematics director, Len Ackman, who, along with teacher Stan Jones, took the students to the competition.

will require all new employees of food establishments to get the Tuberculin scratch test before they will be allowed to start work. Current employees will also be required to be tested.

Niles Health Inspector Nick Constantino stated he had been in contact with the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District, 1999 Dempster st., Park Ridge. Doctors there will administer Tuberculin scratch tests to persons coming there from the village. It takes 3 days after the administration of the test to determine if there will be a positive reaction. After that period, these persons will be issued a certificate of clearance by the TB Sanitarium District.

Constantino said a letter is being formulated by the village to coincide with the ordinance and will be sent to all restaurants and food service-related businesses in the Village of Niles. They will be notified of the new ordinance and be given a defined period to comply. After that time, Constantino said, spot inspections will be made and certificates checked. Warnings will be given and citations issued if the ordinance is not complied with in a reasonable period of time.

The Bugle ran the story on the upsurge of tuberculosis in suburban Cook County after we became aware of a 15% increase in these cases in the past 2 years. Dr. James B. Gallai, Clinical Director of Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District noted during 1980-81, Niles had 10 reported cases, Morton Grove had 6 and Des Plaines had 19 cases. Dr. Gallai attributed the upsurge of TB to the higher median age of suburbanites and the influx of Asians into the suburbs in the past few years.

He added the United States Department of Immigration was not consistent in their restrictions on aliens entering the country. According to Dr. Gallai, those entering the country on a permanent visa were required to have complete health records while those coming in on a temporary visa were not required to produce the same health records. "Many of these people are coming in with infectious and active cases of TB", according to Dr. Gallai.

Since many people of Latin and Asian origin work in restaurants and food stores, Dr. Gallai felt this would be the best place for community health programs to begin immunization programs.
