In the week following the death of a 16-year-old Chicago girl in an auto accident caused by a drunk driver, four people were arrested for drunk driving in Niles and three auto accidents were caused by drunk drivers sending one person to the hospital.

In the most serious incident, a 23-year-old Niles resident was treated at Lutheran General Hospital for back injuries caused when he crashed into a Milwaukee Ave. building.

Niles Police said he crashed while racing and was drunk at the time of the accident.

According to police, the Niles resident was racing north on Milwaukee Ave. on Wednesday, July 21 when he lost control of his car crossing over three lanes, including the on-coming lanes, crashing into a light pole and then hitting a building at 8118 Milwaukee Ave.

When police arrived on the scene, the Niles resident, according to the accident report, had difficulty standing because he was so intoxicated.

The man was taken to Lutheran General Hospital by Fire Department Paramedics after he complained of back pains.

Police reported that the Niles man did not have auto insurance. He was charged with driving

What is a newspaper?

By Jack Moseley
Editor, Fort Smith (Ark.)
Southwest Times Record

A newspaper is more than a marketplace for goods, services and ideas, although it would not be possible without those things.

A newspaper is so much more. It's a human institution that mirrors life—joys and sorrows, successes and failures—as a lasting, written record for the community it serves. It's a neighbor who calls daily at your home or office to inform, educate and entertain you. It can touch your emotions. Sometimes it makes you angry enough to do something. Other times, it can spark a memory, bring a tear or provoke a smile. It's a watchdog that barks and warns you of some potential danger you did not suspect.

Your newspaper makes mistakes, because it is human and not some impersonal machine that spits out statistics like a computer. Its mistakes are printed every day for the world to see. But tomorrow, it can correct them. And people who disagree with their newspaper can answer back with a letter stating their positions. What other institution gives you such a platform without charging you one red cent?

A newspaper also is an unregulated, independent

Ronald M. Glink, the attorney representing Niles and 57 other suburbs in the ongoing suit against the Chicago water rates died Saturday in St. Joseph, Michigan. Glink, 49, was a partner in the law firm of Ancel, Glink, Diamond, Murphy and Cope. He was the municipal attorney for Country Club Hills and Rosemont. Mr. Glink, an expert on municipal and school law, was one of the attorneys in Proviso vs. Hynes, a property tax case in which the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in 1980 that the Homestead Exemption was limited to owner-occupied homes. Workshop for seniors on figuring estimated tax

On Tuesday, August 10, at 1:30 p.m., Bill Isaacs, TCE Coordinator of the VITA-IRS tax program, will hold a workshop on figuring your estimated tax at the Smith Activities Center, Lincoln and Galitz, Skokie.

A little-known provision of the Internal Revenue Code affects hundreds of thousands of retirees and pension recipients annually, and often results in the individual incurring a tax penalty for failure to file according to these special rules. When older individuals stop working and retire, the income which they receive from pensions, dividends and interest, although taxable, is not subject to withholding. At this point, the tax code applies new filing rules: if their tax liability is more than $200 in 1982, these retirees must make an annual declaration of estimated tax and subsequently pay regular, quarterly tax payments to make up for the lack of withholding.

Although the IRS has tried to spread the word, many older people continue to be caught unaware of this change in filing status.

As of February 1, 1982, a 20% penalty is imposed by the Internal Revenue Service if taxes not

Expressway driving safety hints

Expressways, throughways and turnpikes are modern highways designed to get motorists where they are going sooner and more easily. Super highways are also safer if drivers use them properly.

Expressway driving takes a certain amount of skill, including the ability to safely get on the pressway from an entrance ramp and speed-change lane. When using the speed-change lane, you should take these steps:

1. Activate your turn signal and look for an opening in traffic.
2. Accelerate to the speed of the traffic already on the thru lanes.
3. Merge into the traffic when safe.

Drive alertly and use your rearview mirrors to constantly check the traffic behind you. Always look in the mirror and use your turn-signal when changing lanes.

When passing another vehicle, carefully check the left lane behind you before pulling out, and don't turn back into the right lane until you can see the vehicle you passed in your rearview mirror.

Don't get too close to the vehicle in front of you. Rear end collisions are the most frequent type of accident on expressways.

Local boys caddy for Western Open

Not many summer jobs earn a youngster a spot on national television, but for two local boys, years of caddying for the Glenview Golf Club paid off with a chance to caddy for the Western Open. In the midst of the nationally famous golfers were Brian Murphy of Niles and Eric DeJonge of Morton Grove, selected as "the two best caddies at the club this year." Describing the 4 days as "a good experience," Brian explained that it was "also a lot of hard work because there are more things to be done when you caddy for a pro and you have to know all the rules." Officials at the Western Open helped by offering a training session to caddies showing them the course and helping with yardage books. Eric's golfer, Rick Massengale, didn't place in the Open, but Brian caddied for Rex Caldwell who placed 14th and according to Brian, "played real well on the last day."

Lincolnwood Chargers remain undefeated

The Lincolnwood Chargers of the Northern States Football League, remain undefeated after the second game of their season. The Chargers held the Gary Golden Bears scoreless Saturday. The Chargers have yet to be scored on in the regular season. The game belonged to the defense. All three Lincolnwood touchdowns were the result of Gary turnovers. Bennie Baker intercepted a Gary pass and lateraled to Sam White who ran 71 yards for the touchdown in the first quarter. After a stunning block of a Gary punt by Steve Jansen, he recovered his own block on the Gary one yard line setting up a T.I. run by Tom Robinson. This was one of thirteen runs by Robinson which netted the chargers 55 yards and 5 first downs. With less than two minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, Phil DeWald threw a 35 yard T.D. pass to Bob Herman. John Skowron kicked the point after touchdown for all three touchdowns. He was wide on the first one but on the money for the other two. The quarterbacks, -Bruce Basile completed 11 of 24 passes for 121 yards. Paul Mongoven completed 1 of 6 for 14 yards and Phil DeWald completed 1 of 2 for his 35 yard touchdown. Ty Williams ran 8 times for 47 yards and Eddie Vann ran 3 times for 16 yards.

Lawsuit not the answer regarding property taxes

You suggested in your Left Hand a Class Action Suit regarding Real Estate property taxes. Unfortunately a Class Action suit would not get us anywhere in this particular matter. The reason for that is that what is being done with property taxes by the different taxing bodies, the assessor, the Governor, etc., is not illegal. It is certainly confusing and many of us think unfair, but it is not illegal. Therefore a lawsuit would be thrown out immediately. The way to proceed in this particular matter is to try to change the law regarding property tax assess-

Kustra's attempt to freeze multiplier killed

So many reporters have been assigned the task of dismantling the Governor's campaign that they have overlooked the duplicious ways of Cook County Democratic leaders. Last week headlines announced the petition drive by Cook County Democrats to abolish the tax equalizer, or multiplier. Nowhere in the press were taxpayers reminded of how the Democratic leadership in the recent session of the General Assembly killed property tax relief. Mr. Madigan, Democratic Minority Leader, published a "hit list" and circulated it among legislators and lobbyists to assure defeat of the proposals. Every property tax limitation proposal was on that list and that's why no such legislation passed the General Assembly. I learned the hard way as sponsor of a property tax reform measure which had the effect of freezing the multiplier for one year (HB 2482). The bill was supported by the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois and was recommended by Democrats and Republicans who served on a Local Government Finance Commission. But because it attempted in some small way to curb Chicago's voracious tax appetite, Mr. Madigan's job was to kill it. I was told that Chicago couldn't afford the loss of revenue. Now, two months later, Democratic leaders want to take the quantum leap from killing a

"Brigadoon" curtain rises tonight

When the curtain rises on Theatre 219's "Brigadoon" Thursday, July 29, a certain group in the audience will be paying particular attention to what they see. They are members of the Scottish Cultural Society, who are special guests at this performance, according to Cynthia Philbin, the theatre's director of group sales.

"We invited the group to see 'Brigadoon' not only because they would enjoy it, but we think it will add to the evening's authenticity," Philbin says.

The 450-member Scottish Cultural Society has been advancing its culture by holding an annual fair, performing Scottish music and dance whenever possible, and attending Scottish events such as "Brigadoon" for the past eight years. Just last week, for example, the group participated in the giant Highlands Games held in Grant Park.

As particular guests of theatre 219, the members of the society will appear as family groups in authentic Scottish dress, and will take their special seats to the music of their own piper.

Final performances of "Brigadoon" will be Thursday, Friday & Saturday July 29-31. Curtain times are 7:15 p.m. on Thursday, and 8:15 p.m. otherwise.

Write a Book contest

The students of St. John Brebeuf School were challenged to "write a book" by librarian Judi Krupa during National Library Week. They could choose from three categories:

1. Write a book on any subject you'd like, fiction or non-fiction. The entire book may be only 26 sentences though. The first word in the first sentence must start with the letter "A", the first word in the second sentence must start with the letter "B". Continue working your way through the alphabet, the 26th sentence of course, will start with the letter "Z".
2. Write an ABC book. We're looking for Creative Alphabet Books, not the standard "A" is for apple. This book may also be presented in a story form.
3. Illustrate a book without words. In 26 pictures tell a story. The only words in the book are to be the words in the title.

Egan supports abolishing Inheritance Tax

State Senator Robert J. Egan (D-7) voted in support of legislation to abolish the State Inheritance Tax which was passed by the General Assembly during the last days of its session. The bill now awaits the Governor's signature.

The legislation will save survivors, widows, children and beneficiaries an estimated $60 to $70 million per year in tax relief, according to Egan. Under the new legislation, spouses would not pay any state Inheritance Tax on estates of less than $225,000 and would be exempt from the tax effective next year. By 1987, the exemption amount would be raised to $600,000.

Egan said the purpose of the bill is to "ease the burden of middle income families, small business owners and farmers."

Handicapped parking ID cards

Louis Black (right), Niles Township Clerk, points to the handicapped parking identification card he has just placed on the car of Alan Goldberg of Niles. The card issued by Townships of Cook County, permits handicapped persons to park in specially reserved spaces for the handicapped. Some 650 cards have been distributed since the program began in 1978.

Black noted, in addition, his Office issues to the handicapped card holders "yellow reminders" to place on cars of people parked in handicapped spaces courteously asking those people to park elsewhere. Unfortunately, these "reminders" are used frequently, Black said.

Medicare payments sometimes less than doctor's bills

People in the Des Plaines area who have Medicare medical insurance should be aware that the Medicare payment is based on the approved charge, not necessarily the actual charge made by doctors and others who provide covered services, Marilyn J. Robertson, Manager of the Des Plaines Social Security office, said recently.

The approved charge is figured by comparing the amounts charged by all physicians in an area for the same service. The prevailing charge is set at 75 percent of the range of charges made for a given service in the area.

has met the $75 annual deductible. The approved charge is the lower of the actual charge, the customary charge, or the prevailing charge. The customary charge is the usual fee a doctor charges for a specific service. The prevailing charge is figured by comparing the amounts charged by all physicians in an area for the same service. The prevailing charge is set at 75 percent of the range of charges made for a given service in the area.

Mid-Citco purchases bank in Morton Grove

Kenneth A. Skopec (seated left), president of Mid-Citco, Inc. and the Mid-City National Bank of Chicago, and Joseph I. Rosenberg (seated right), chairman of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, sign contract authorizing Mid-Citco, Inc. to purchase all 150,000 shares of stock held by shareholders of the Morton Grove bank. Also present at the signing were: (standing, left to right) Randall J. Yenerich, Mid-City Bank executive vice president; Ronald D. Santostefano, Mid-City Bank senior vice president and secretary; and Charles R. Langfield, executive vice president and secretary of the First National Bank of Morton Grove.

Mid-Citco, Inc., holding company of The Mid-City National Bank of Chicago, today announced record earnings for the first six months of this year and signing of the contract to purchase the First National Bank of Morton Grove. This acquisition is subject to regulatory approval and approval of shareholders of the Morton Grove bank.

The bank holding company reported record first-half, ending June 30, net earnings up 28% to $1,392,000 compared to $1,087,000 for the same period in 1981. Assets during the period rose to $222,000,000 from $214,000,000.

In announcing the proposed acquisition of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, Kenneth A. Skopec, president of Mid-Citco and the Mid-City National Bank, said the Morton Grove bank will operate as a wholly owned subsidiary of Mid-Citco, Inc.

Skopec said terms of the acquisition call for Mid-Citco to purchase for cash the 150,000 shares of stock held by shareholders of the Morton Grove bank at $1.50 per share.

During the signing of the contract, Skopec complimented Joseph I. Rosenberg, chairman of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, on the bank's record of community service over the past 30 years, and stated "Mid-Citco will continue the tradition of community involvement and service."

"We have purchased a healthy, viable bank," Skopec stated. "With the expertise we have developed in commercial banking at our other wholly owned subsidiary, The Mid-City National Bank of Chicago, we anticipate an expansion of all services and a substantial growth of our market area," he added.

In addition to its full-service facility at Madison and Halsted, the Mid-City National Bank operates an executive banking center at 111 Illinois Center.

With the acquisition of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, which has assets of approximately $120 million, Mid-Citco assets rise to $432 million, making it one of the top 20 bank holding companies in the Chicago area.

State Senator Robert J. Egan (D-7) supported and applauded the recent passage of legislation designed to provide "truth in advertising" in political campaign literature.

The bill would deem it necessary for candidates to show in plain type the specific date of endorsements by a newspaper if the language in a campaign brochure implies such backing.

Egan said, "I consider it good campaign reform legislation." According to Egan the law is needed to prevent possible abuse of candidates who reprint old editorials that are not relevant to a current campaign and therefore deceptive in nature to the general public.

The amendment also addresses the problems of campaign literature that claims the endorsement of an organization, public or party official. In such cases, the candidate will be directed to sign a written letter of authorization with the appropriate election authority.

Violations of the proposed law could institute a Class A misdemeanor.

POLITICAL NEWS

Rueckert charges Jaffe with abuse of state funds

56th district Republican State Representative candidate, Tom Rueckert, this week charged State Rep. Aaron Jaffe with using taxpayers' funds to send a "self glorifying" newsletter to area residents.

Rueckert said that Jaffe's recent report, printed and mailed at state expense, would have violated federal ethics guidelines which regulate such mailings on the Congressional level, Illinois had similar ethics rules.

Rueckert said that Jaffe, in his newsletter, made personal references to himself 52 times and printed photos of himself posing with television and movie stars which he said were "at best only vaguely related to state business."

Rueckert said that he was told by staff members of the House Subcommittee on Congressional mailing standards that the Jaffe newsletter would have been an improper use of tax funds if the federal rules applied at the state level.

"Congressmen such as Abner Mikva and John Porter fought hard along with Common Cause to reform these kinds of

Pro-Taxpayer bill sent to Governor

A bill to "give the taxpayers a fighting chance" has been sent to the governor for his approval, according to its author Rep. Penny Pullen (R-55th).

The measure would make feasible the calling of a referendum to overturn school board action in issuing working cash fund bonds, Miss Pullen said.

"Working cash funds can be a legitimate means to solve cash flow problems," she noted. "But they can also be a device to thwart the will of the taxpayers in generating funds which have been turned down in education tax rate referenda."

"The law offers taxpayers the right to reverse a board resolution to issue the bonds in a 'backdoor' referendum, initiated by petition after the fact. The trouble is, the current signature requirements render impossible the exercise of the referendum right in heavily populated districts," Rep. Pullen said.

Current statute calls for filing of signatures of 20 per cent of the registered voters within 10 days.

"That requirement makes the whole referendum right a cruel joke," Miss Pullen said. "My proposal cuts the signature requirement to 10 per cent and extends the filing period to 30 days."

Miss Pullen urged taxpayers to write to Governor Thompson in support of the amendment "in order to counteract the pressure I'm sure is already being brought on him to veto this reasonable approach."

The language was first introduced in 1979 by Miss Pullen as a separate bill and reintroduced in 1981. It passes the House both times but was caught in the Senate committees. This year, however, it was attached to the elections bill by motion of Sen. John Mumrod (R-29th), and sent back to the House for concurrence, where 123 members of the 177 voted to agree to the amendment.

Moynihan expresses view on Hinckley verdict

Jim Moynihan, 11th District Congressional Candidate, commenting on the verdict in the John Hinckley trial said, "I think it is a sad commentary on our system of justice when 'not guilty by reason of insanity' becomes a mechanism for turning dangerous criminals back into our streets."

Moynihan favors legislation that would allow for verdict of guilty but insane. Said Moynihan, "We need to look long and hard at the effectiveness of our laws and to ensure that they meet their intended purpose. We must remove legal loopholes which circumvent justice."

Jaffe pushes for vote on tax multiplier

State Representative Aaron Jaffe (D-Skokie) is organizing a drive to circulate petitions calling for a referendum to allow voters to freeze the State property tax multiplier.

"The multiplier is a strong element in our property tax problem," Jaffe said. "To link State aid to education with the property tax multiplier, is wrong," he said.

"This allows the Department of Revenue to abuse the multiplier, and impose local taxes to supply funding for education, that the State cannot now meet."

"The Department of Revenue is saddling local governments with high taxes because Illinois cannot meet its responsibilities to education."

"Businesses are suffering too," Jaffe said. "Some tax rates are as much as 55% of assessed values under this escalating system," he said.

"This drives businesses from the state."

"This petition drive is meant to give Illinois voters a chance to say 'Enough' to skyrocketing property taxes," Jaffe said.

Porter appoints aide for Northbrook office

Congressman John E. Porter (R-Winnetka) has announced the appointment of Joan M. Ferdinand of Glencoe as Executive Assistant in his main district office.

Mrs. Ferdinand will serve as the Congressman's chief liaison with local leaders and organizations, maintaining daily contact with the Congressman, as well as directing all services for Porter's 10th District constituents.

Mrs. Ferdinand, a native of Winnetka and a graduate of West

Niles Library...

Cont'd from Niles-E. Maine P.1 explained that a budget needs more than one year to become refined. Library board members requested, in the past, a new system of auditing.

Another board member also said the library does not have an adequate short or long range plan regarding the acquisition fund begun about four years ago. Mark Neyman, library administrator, said the library needs about 139,000 square yards of carpeting. Board members approved a cost not to exceed $1,920 and $1,250 to repair the main library roof.

business. It manufactures the only product that is different every day and home delivered. It's an employer and a taxpayer, sharing community concerns with other citizens.

And yes, it makes a profit if things go as intended. Today, the subscription price people pay for their hometown newspaper does not cover the cost of the paper on which it is printed, let alone the costs of delivery, the building, the wire service and feature syndicate material it contains, the local photographs and stories, the salaries of reporters, editors, business office employees, production crews and more. All that comes from the advertisers who sell their goods and services through the paper. The more advertisers, the better the newspaper, the more it can do for a community in promoting and developing jobs, industries, a broader tax base, a better educational system.

A newspaper helps share the quality of life for the community of which it is a vital part. The more advertisers it has, the more independent it is, the less it becomes subject to political and economic pressures. Because a good community newspaper is independent of such pressures, because it is not regulated by the government, it can speak out with a strong voice and make this a better place.

A good community newspaper cares, worries, alerts, alarms, grieves, praises, recognizes, exposes and alarms. It's there for all, rich and poor, the business executive and the little guy who got a raw deal or accomplished something no one ever believed while under the influence of alcohol, driving too fast for conditions and damaging village property.

He was assigned a court date and released on $300 bond. During another incident, a 38-year-old Itasca man was arrested for drunk driving after crashing into a motorist stopped at a light.

Police report the man was driving west on Touhy Ave. when he ran into a 26-year-old Bensenville woman stopped for a traffic light at Harlem Ave. When police arrived, the man said his vision had blurred due to the alcohol.

At the Niles Police Department, the man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, improper lane usage and damaging village property.

He was assigned a July court date and released on $200 bond. A fourth drunk driver was arrested on Friday, July 23. Police first observed the driver, a 22-year-old Addison man, as he was speeding on Howard St. After being stopped, the Niles Police spotted the man hiding open beer cans and an open bottle of whiskey under his seat.

Police also noted that the man was slurring his speech. At the Niles Police Department, the driver was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving with a suspended driver's license, transporting open liquor and speeding.

He was assigned a July court date and released on $300 bond.

would be affected by this ordinance are residents who have continually allowed parties with minors drinking alcohol to be hosted in their homes and have continually annoyed their neighbors.

Blase said that drunk driving by teens who have been at such parties is one of the main reasons for the ordinance.

Speaking in favor of the ordinance, Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrikson said it is currently legal for minors to drink alcohol in a private residence. Referring to such parties, Emrikson said, "It is difficult when parents are there and condone something that is against the law."

Emrikson said the new ordinance will "put some responsibility (for minors drinking) on the backs of homeowners."

Trustee Bart Murphy urged the Village Board to move slowly on such an ordinance saying such a law "needs a lot more concern about its ramifications."

In other business, the Niles Village Board has imposed a $100 charge on all ambulance calls made to Niles nursing homes for incidents which are not life threatening.

In explaining the necessity for such a fee, Niles Fire Department Duty Chief Harry Kinowski said the Niles Fire Department Paramedics are handling an increasing number of ambulance calls at Niles nursing homes which could be handled by nursing home doctors and nurses.

Kinowski said the type of ambulance calls which the village should not be responding to include broken bones, fainting and other less serious problems.

Kinowski said after such calls the Niles Fire Department has met with nursing home officials to urge them to use either private ambulances or private cars but the nursing homes have not complied.

Kinowski cited figures showing Niles Fire Department ambulances were called to nursing homes 79 times in 1981. Based on the number of calls so far this year, Kinowski said fire department officials expect 124 ambulance calls from nursing homes in 1982.

Kinowski said there has been one ambulance call per ten residents in Niles overall. However, in the nursing homes, the number of ambulance calls is alleviate the problem there. The bid was about $3,000 less than village engineers estimated. Money will come from Motor Fuel tax revenues.

In trying to placate west end residents, Trustee Hohns said 5 particular "spots" (areas) will be studied with some relief planned in the future. However, no money was appropriated this year for flood problems and trustees admitted money would have to appear in next year's budget. Admittedly, work would begin after the appropriation was approved next year at this time.

Mayor Flickinger said much of the sewer system is old and is just wearing out. Trustee Youstra emphasized the sewer system at the east end of Morton Grove is as much as 80 years old agreeing its age brought attendant problems. In an answer which followed the conclusion residents would never support a $8,000,000 bond for sewer improvement, Youstra admitted "there are some problems which don't have answers." But Trustee Snider said the board was committed to solving the problem and Flickinger added the board would continue to work on the problem.

In other actions the board approved $17,733.38 to repair 4 sections of the roof at the Public Maintenance of Buffalo Grove was the low bidder.

Approved a resident's request at the east end of the village to erect an iron-wrought ornamental fence to prevent Niles West High School students from using her property. She said because the campus is closed for smokers, they come across to her property and congregate on her land. Trustee Youstra said Niles West was ducking its responsibility in not policing the area and suggested she try to have school officials correct the problem before she has to make this expenditure.

Morton Grove community blood drive

Herbert Hubert, chairperson of the Beth Emet Worship Committee, will assist in the conducting of the service and Sidney Levine, a member of Beth Emet and active on the Beth Emet Israel Committee, will be guest speaker.

An Oneg Shabbat in honor of Cantor Klepper will be held immediately following the service. Shabbat morning services are held every Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. at the synagogue.

Besides requiring the companies to pay the $10, the new ordinance also makes it illegal for any bench to obstruct a door, fire escape or fire hydrant. Also no bench can use any word or symbol which would confuse passing motorists.

Niles would also be able to approve where the benches are placed throughout the village. Lastly, the new ordinance allows for the village to remove any bench if it falls into disrepair or if the $10 annual fee is not paid.

According to Emrikson, the motel is owned by a group of doctors who bought it as an investment. Emrikson said the motel managers have always been cooperative in trying to work with the police to stem some of its problems.

Emrikson said the motel currently hires off-duty patrolmen to work as security guards during the evenings.

Niles Twp. Assessor...

ty taxes. The assessor said that his office processed 1,063 Homestead Exemptions during 1981. Although the Homestead Exemption has been in effect since 1972, each year following delivery of the tax bills his office discovers seniors who neglected to file for the exemption.

In 1981, he commented, his office filed a total of 28 certificates of error for seniors who filed late for their 1980 Homestead Exemptions. A total savings of $4,509 was realized for the seniors.

The assessor noted that reviews of tax bills by his office also turn up missing Homeowners Assessment Exemptions, which also result in tax reductions.

"The Homeowners Exemption should be listed right on the tax bill," Hanrahan said. "If it is not, taxpayers should file for a certificate of error. Our office has the necessary forms."

The assessor commented, in 1981, the Niles Township office recorded a total of 88 certificates of error for homeowners who were eligible for Homeowners Exemptions but these exemptions were not deducted from their 1980 real estate tax bills. Bills corrected by the Cook County Assessor resulted in a $20,270 savings for Niles Township taxpayers.

Hanrahan advised that factual errors, such as missing exemptions, can be adjusted prior to August, due date of tax bills. Complaints about the assessed valuation of property cannot be adjusted prior to the payment of tax bills.

"Our office can assist taxpayers in filing an appeal with the Cook County Assessor's Office if they think their property is overvalued," the assessor said.

The Niles Township office has the necessary complaint forms and can advise on what documents must be supplied to the Cook County Assessor's Office to prove
