Ken Scheel first came barging thru our office front door on Milwaukee Avenue in the spring of 1959. He didn't like what was going on in Niles and told us he was going to run as an independent trustee candidate in the upcoming election. Independents don't win elections but his surprising high vote count, in excess of 1,000 votes in a much smaller Niles, made a deep impression on the village fathers. They appointed him to the zoning board, one whose decisions they could always override, and felt they were safe in keeping him there. But he and fellow board member, Bob Wente, made so much noise on the board fighting the incursion of multiple dwellings, that 2 years later they formed their own political ticket. With Kenny leading the way, Ken's group upset 2 Democratic-sponsored tickets, including the 20 year incumbents, as well as a Republican-backed group. Ken's independents rode into office and turned this town upside down and right-side up.

Ken's independents picked an unknown, Nick Blase, to join the group, and Ken and his friends carried the neophyte, Blase, into the village hall. Nick promised they would wipe out gambling in town and vowed this new political breed wouldn't make one buck off being a public official.

Two months after gaining office the gambling was still flourishing and Blase had chickened out. But at a summer village board meeting Ken got up and said, "We have a moral obligation to wipe out gambling in this town." The trustees who came into office joined with Ken and eventually the State of

Candidate's withdrawal may cause voter confusion

by Bob Besser

Niles Park Board Commissioners spent nearly an hour Tuesday night discussing the strange situation which has developed following the board receiving a letter from a Park Board candidate who no longer wishes to be a candidate but whose name will probably appear on the ballot anyway.

Niles Park officials disclosed Tuesday that earlier in the day they had received a letter from Stan Niski, a candidate in the upcoming election, stating that because of new personal time requirements, he would like to withdraw as a candidate.

However, the deadline for withdrawing was February 16 and, following discussion earlier on Tuesday with Cook County Board of Election Commissioners, Niles Park officials were unsure whether Niski's name could be removed from the ballot.

The possibility seemed real Tuesday night that although Niski does not want to be a candidate, his name will remain on the ballot.

However, park officials said they would stay in touch with the County Board of Election Commissioners in an attempt to solve the problem.

In other business, Park Board President Walt Bessie announced that he expects to reach agreement with officials of Notre

Library narrows administrator search to 4 applicants

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Board members of Niles Library District met in executive session Monday, March 14 in the main library, 6960 Oakton St., to review resumes of potential candidates for library administrator.

As a result of the meeting candidates from a national search were narrowed down to four persons. Candidates in an Illinois search had formerly been narrowed down to two persons in January.

In order to include future board members' opinions on the hiring of an administrator, three April candidates for trustee were asked to take part in the executive session. They are Jarafawa Benko, Terry Carmen, and Myles Diamond. Another April candidate, Frank Biga, has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Lois Grant who left the board in December. One

A stunned Niles buried long-time village official Ken Scheel on Monday. Scheel, 59, Niles Village Manager since 1967, died of a heart attack on Friday afternoon in his home in Niles.

Scheel's first venture into public life began when he served on Niles Zoning Board in 1959 followed by two terms as a village trustee.

Ironically, it was Scheel, the most popular candidate on the 1961 reform ticket, who propelled political unknown Nicholas Blase into office. Blase has retained his elected position for nearly 22 years.

As news of Scheel's death spread throughout Niles on Friday, shocked residents began calling Niles Administration Building and St. John Brebeuf Church where Scheel was an active member.

Niles officials said calls came in from friends and relatives wanting confirmation of the news.

At St. John Brebeuf Church Pastor Ed Duggan reported parishioners began calling after hearing of Scheel's death. Duggan described the phone calls as part of a "shock-reaction" by parishioners.

Scheel was pronounced dead at Lutheran General Hospital about 1:30 p.m. on Friday.

According to village officials Scheel had complained of being dizzy and chilled, before going home to lunch on Friday.

Arriving home he was greeted by his wife Minna as well as his aunt, nephew and niece who were visiting from out of town.

Scheel reportedly went into the washroom and, when he did not return, his wife checked and found he had passed out.

Fire officials report the visiting niece, who is a nurse and the

Eulogy for Kenneth R. Scheel

The following is the eulogy given by Father Bradley Schaefer at the funeral of Ken Scheel at St. John Brebeuf Church Monday morning.

Father Schaefer, 33 year old nephew of Scheel, is a Jesuit priest and an assistant school superintendent in Cincinnati, Ohio.

(The Bugle wishes to thank Marilyn Quinn for providing the tape cassette of the eulogy.)

Since the day when my Uncle died on Friday I think I've experienced a variety of emotions. And if I get a little choked up I'm sure you'll understand why. I was thinking particularly of an experience 34 years ago in August of '48 when I was taken to St. Genevieve's Church to be baptized. I was blessed that year, first of all, with two tremendous parents who loved me and continued to love me. I was blessed with parents with a great deal of wisdom and insight because they picked for me two Godparents as examples who I could follow.

It was a real blessing, aside from the sorrow, to be with the Godparents on Friday, as my Aunt and I tried as much as we could to save my Uncle. It just wasn't meant to be.

"I'd like to have kept him around for a while."

It was kind of neat when they took me to St. Gen's and held me in their arms and shared their faith and promised to be an example. It was a privilege and a blessing to be with them once again, for my Aunt Betty and myself to be able to hold him and to be with him when he joined the Lord in his eternal life. God is very good in that way. Yet I have other emotions as well. A lot of memories came through and I'm sure each of you in this Church have those memories as well. They may go all the way back to Lloyd, the playground, and all the kind of things that went on with Uncle Ken's life; the bow-legged goalie and just growing up in the bakery and just all the things that went on during those days. You have those memories. Or perhaps when he made the big move out of the city out here to the suburbs. We never quite let him forget that. He was a Democrat at heart. He didn't like to believe that but maybe the Lord didn't want to give him too much excitement about a Republican being elected in Chicago, but we never let him forget about his Democratic roots.

You may have known him from St. John's and the years that he spent here, the years in the village, the years working for Marillac and Notre Dame and the things he did on various committees.

"A good man"
"A man of love"
"A man of strength"

He had a lot of memories and it was a joy to kind of reflect on those memories. And each of us have those and treasure those in our hearts. But I must say for a while I was angry with God. And I argue with him regularly. You know, we Jesuits are an upbeat group. Father Duggan reminded me of that when we came in. We're kind of cocky and sometimes we think we're almost equal to God, and I was arguing with him and I said, "God, how could you do this? It's not nice, and there's a number of people I'd put on the list in front of my Uncle. There really are, and I'd really like to have kept him around for a lot longer. But evidently, it is not in your wisdom."

All I could think of was this passage from Job that we read this morning. Job is one of the most fascinating passages in Scripture because it's the struggle to understand why there is suffering and evil. Job is a good man. He lost every earthly possession he had. All of his children were killed. He comes to the Lord and his wife

Village personnel recall Scheel's dedication

Niles village department heads on Tuesday and Wednesday, praised Ken Scheel's devotion to Niles and professional standards which resulted in Niles being considered one of the best run municipalities in Illinois.

Niles Public Works Director Keith Peck noted on Wednesday that Scheel, "more than any one individual did more to bring about stabilization of the village" during its boom years in the early 1960's.

Peck said he had known Scheel since 1957. Peck had successfully run with Scheel for village trustee in 1965.

"He helped with the inner workings and administrative end of the village," said Peck. "Ken ran the village like a business."

Peck noted that because of the superior work Scheel did in Niles, he had been offered village manager positions in other communities but had repeatedly turned them down. Peck reiterated, "Everything he did was for the village." He was completely devoted.

Peck concluded by saying, "He was more than just my boss. He was my friend."

Todd Bavaro, Niles Housing Director, said Scheel "had to have the best village possible."

Bavaro recalled that Scheel "always managed to find time" for discussions with anyone who needed him.

Bavaro summarized Scheel by saying he was "totally dedicated to his position and to his people."

"He's going to be missed," said Bavaro.

Kathy Miller, who had worked as Scheel's assistant since October, 1962 said on Tuesday, "The community has lost a man who was well respected and loved."

Calling Scheel "a hard working man", Miller said, "If you Continued on Page 34

Park Board holds moment of silence

A moment of silence was held in honor of Ken Scheel during Tuesday night's Niles Park Board meeting.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance Park Board President Walt Beusse called for the remembrance.

Niles Park Board Commissioners and officials had many years of contact with Scheel when dealing with Niles.

During the luncheon at St. John Brebeuf Church following Ken Scheel's funeral on Friday, a man, who was clearing dishes, came up to Father Ed Duggan.

"The man told me that he was clearing dishes in honor of Ken," said Duggan, "because this man recalled that thirty years ago, at one of the first meetings of the Holy Name Society, Ken, who was a leader of the group, had gotten up, cleared dishes and cleaned up after a meal."

And it was this type of participation which best described Ken Scheel's thirty years of working with St. John Brebeuf.

Monsignor John Flanagan, founding pastor of St. John Brebeuf, recalled Monday how Scheel had been one of a "few active fellows instrumental in getting things off the ground" in founding St. John Brebeuf some thirty years ago.

Monsignor Flanagan said Scheel was one of a core of parishioners who was fundamental in constructing the current church.

He praised Scheel for his continual involvement in the church. For fifteen years Scheel had been a commentator, introducing and leading prayers at mass. He also served on numerous church committees including the Liturgy Committee.

Scheel was a member of the men's Holy Name Society and the charitable St. Vincent De Paul Society.

He taught Catholic public school students in after-school religion classes as well as being one of the founders of the altar boy program.

St. John Brebeuf's Pastor, Rev. Ed Duggan, said Scheel had been important to the parish because of "his sense of constancy and perseverance."

Duggan noted that Scheel was "a man who lived out his faith" attending Mass every Sunday. And while he was a familiar face on the St. John Brebeuf altar, Duggan said Scheel "never sought out glory" for himself.

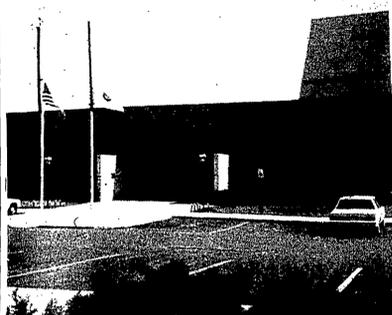

Duggan noted that Scheel was "a man who lived out his faith" attending Mass every Sunday. And while he was a familiar face on the St. John Brebeuf altar, Duggan said Scheel "never sought out glory" for himself.

Duggan noted the example Scheel set in the church by his devotion to participation and church attendance as well as by lesser known acts. For instance, said Duggan, for years Scheel brought his aged mother and aunt to church each week until they both had passed away.

And up until the end Scheel was active in the church. Duggan noted that as late as Thursday, the day before he died, he had

Anti-Gambling Drive Key To Award

There usually is a key issue, often with emotional overtones, which is necessary to winning awards. Had old Niles been on the up and up, free of any hanky panky, the likelihood of Niles receiving such an award would have been small. There are thousands of fine upstanding communities throughout the country which give its residents excellent services, fine facilities and get little recognition for its efforts. But when a town has a problem, and it's rectified, then such recognition is forthcoming.

We'd like to have placed Nick Blase's picture on the front page this week, since only Nick campaigned to eliminate gambling in Niles. But after election time four years ago Nick began to hedge on his campaign promise. Someone who knows Nick well once wrote us a note reminding us of Nick's indecision. After many meetings, and much soul-searching, Ken Scheel said he had a "moral obligation" to fulfill this campaign promise, which only Blase orally used as an issue. And it was this one vote, led by Scheel, which resulted in Niles new look, which eventually resulted in the All America title.

For the benefit of new residents, the former trustees, who let the gambling flourish in Niles, once took a vote against eliminating gambling. And one of the trustees who favored keeping the gambling is present trustee Sam Bruno.

When the accolades are handed out in the coming weeks the name Scheel should be most prominent. He carried the ball when others began getting butterfingers.

1963 BUGLE Award For Anti-Gambling Fight

In 1963 THE BUGLE received the top community service award for weekly newspapers in the state of Illinois for its successful four year fight to eliminate gambling in Niles.

The award was presented by the Illinois Press Association.

THE BUGLE actively editorialized over a four year period the banning of payoff gambling pinball machines. More than fifty machines were operating in Niles during this period, bringing in revenue estimated at more than a million dollars annually. In 1963 the state legislature passed a statute which resulted in the ban of payoff pinball machines.

Ken Scheel's Anti-Gambling Drive Key To Award

If any one person can be pointed to as making the greatest contribution which resulted in Niles receiving the All America award it would have to be Niles trustee Ken Scheel. It was Scheel who pushed for the passage of an ordinance banning pinball machines in Niles in 1961.

The gambling issue seems to be the key issue which, both Niles representatives and LOOK magazine considered most significant.

In the Jaycees booklet submitted to the All America committee the first page of the presentation is a re-production of the April 6 edition of a page one story from THE BUGLE which cites "a new gambling game in Niles."

In the official entry submitted to LOOK the summary of the Niles story emphasizes in the first two paragraphs the Niles gambling problems prior to the election four years ago and of the subsequent clean-up of the problem after the election by what is described as a "reform ticket".

Other activities emphasized citizen participation for increased library facilities, park recreation facilities and the campaign on behalf of the YMCA.

Recent Illinois Winners

Recent Illinois cities which have won the All America award include Woodstock, 1964, Quincy, 1963 and Highland Park, 1958.

During the 15 year period of the award it is estimated 15 Illinois cities have received the award.

Parade May 2

Niles will hold an All America City parade Sunday, May 2. For further information contact Chuck O'Grady at 967-5333.

In the evening Niles will officially receive the All America award from Look magazine and the National Municipal League at a dinner-dance at Tam O'Shanter.

Niles, Illinois was one of eleven cities and villages in the United States to receive All America City honors. It was announced today by the National Municipal League and LOOK Magazine, co-sponsors of the annual competition for the Nation's cities.

Quoting the news release from LOOK, "In Niles, just north of Chicago, a bitter block-by-block, door-by-door campaign was needed to elect a reform slate in 1961. Reform was overruled, not only to bring community services a-breast of an 8-fold increase in population, but to rid the town of gambling establishments. With citizens committees and government working together, the town now has an anti-gambling ordinance, a new 52-acre park and community center, a new library building and a new village hall.

"The All-America City designation is given each year to eleven cities whose citizens have made outstanding progress in solving community problems. The winning cities were picked from a field of over 100 by a jury headed by Dr. George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion and Chairman of the Council of the National Municipal League.

In addition to Niles other cities receiving the award include Green Bay, Wisconsin; White Bear Lake, Minnesota; Bluefield, West Virginia; Columbia, South Carolina; Fort Worth, Texas; Hazleton, Pennsylvania; Hopkinsville, Kentucky; Keene, New Hampshire; South Portland, Maine and Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

All America Flag Ceremony Sunday

Niles will hoist the All America flag at the new police station-courthouse this Sunday at 2 P.M. Girl Scout troop 716 and Boy Scout troop 45 will participate in the ceremony.

Capparelli opposes pension fund transfers

State Rep. Ralph C. Capparelli (D-13th) is opposed to transferring any pension funds from one governmental body to another unless approved by the fund's pension board.

Two bills, recently introduced in the Illinois Senate, S.B. 20 and S.B. 22, permit transferring of funds only when certain conditions are met. These bills will protect the funds' assets from "raiding" by other agencies.

"The monies accumulated in pension funds are for one purpose only that is to assure qualified retirees that they will be able to draw on those monies at the time of retirement," said Capparelli. "Part of those monies were set aside from employees' paychecks and another portion came from the governmental agency. In no way should any tampering be done unless the pension fund board gives its approval."

Members of the pension funds who are affected by this legislation are urged to express their views to their local legislators.

CHURCH AND TEMPLE NOTES

St. Isaac Jogues hosts St. Joseph Table

St. Isaac Jogues is inviting the entire community to attend the celebration of the St. Joseph Table in the Parish Hall, 8101-Golf rd., Niles, on the weekend of March 19-20.

A St. Joseph Table is a wide-spread devotional tradition honoring St. Joseph, who is the patron saint of the universal church. Along with the statue, flowers and candles, a variety of meatless foods are placed on a table which is designed to resemble an altar. All food (fish, fruit, vegetables, spaghetti, sweets) is donated by the faithful as a token of thanksgiving to St. Joseph for his intercession during the past. The celebration begins with a religious ceremony and the blessing of the food. The table is then opened to the public and the guests share the food.

The blessing of the food and the viewing of the table will be held in St. Isaac Jogues Parish Hall on Saturday, March 19, after the 7 p.m. Mass with the serving of coffee and sweets afterwards.

On Sunday, March 20, beginning after the 12:30 p.m. Mass and ending at 6 p.m., freshly made spaghetti and the various foods and sweets displayed on the table will be served.

Any donations of meatless dishes, fruit and bakery goods are welcome. For further information call Mary Affatati, 966-9679, Irene Baron, 967-6149, Jean Minelli, 966-9845 or Loretta Falco, 967-8697.

Edison Park Lutheran Church

During the Sunday Services on March 20, twenty men and women of Edison Park Lutheran Church will be commissioned as Stephen Ministers. These lay ministers have received over fifty hours of Stephen Series training, along with Bible Study and prayer and have made a two year commitment to assist the pastors in the caring ministry of the congregation. Their twenty weeks of training included such topics as feelings, listening, assertiveness training, confidentiality, crisis theory and intervention, telecare, use of prayer and the Bible, the "small step" approach, other specialized needs and more.

The Stephen Ministry is a well-developed method of training and organizing lay persons within the congregation for caring ministry. It is people ministering to other people who may be lonely, depressed, strangers in the area, new parents, ill, hospitalized, shut-in, dying, or experiencing grief or loss in any situation, to name only a few. The Stephen Minister is trained to do this and receive referrals from the Pastors and Parish Worker.

It is called Stephen Ministry after the first Deacon in the early church, Stephen. What many people do not know is that Stephen, besides being a martyr, was commissioned by the apostles to do acts of caring ministry, reaching out to those in need in the Christian community of his time.

Travel to the Holy Land

Two Baptist pastors, a Methodist chaplain and Travelink Tours of Rosemont have joined together to offer an innovative approach to pastor-led travel to the Holy Land. The tour leader is Charles Cooper, pastor of the Golf Road Baptist Church in Des Plaines. He explains that a single group tour in June actually offers travelers the luxury of four different choices ranging from 11-18 days. Passengers can select the tour portions that fit their interests and budget.

The basic tour is an 11-day tour of Israel, Jordan and Amsterdam. The group will spend two nights in Amman and make a trip to the fabulous rock-carved city of Petra in the mountains of southern Jordan. The tour centers around a six-day visit to Israel, visiting the key Biblical sites from the desert in the south to the foot of Mount Hermon in the north. The tour group will stop in Amsterdam on the return trip and have a half-day tour of that Dutch city. The basic group leaves on Monday, June 13 on a direct Chicago to Amsterdam flight. In addition to the basic tour, passengers can select one or both of two extensions. The first is a four-day visit to Greece. This group will depart from O'Hare on Thursday, June 9. Two days will be spent in Athens, one day in the Corinth area and another day aboard a cruise ship to several Greek islands.

The second option is a three-day sojourn in Egypt. At the end of the basic tour, a portion of the group will cross the Sinai and the Suez by bus into Egypt. The Egyptian extension includes a day in the Cairo area, an overnight trainride up the Nile valley to Luxor, a day in Luxor-Karnak area and a flight back to Cairo. It is possible for travelers to include both the Greek and Egyptian options. The cost of the basic tour is $1495, the option to Greece is an additional $400 and the three-day extension to Egypt costs an additional $370.

The tour is open to the general public. Tour brochures and additional information is available from Pastor Cooper by calling 439-0276 or writing him at 501 W. Golf rd. in Des Plaines, 60016.

Rent & Roll offers innovative music service

Has this ever happened to you? You hear a singer or a group do a song from their album. You really like it. You go to your favorite record store and purchase the album for $8 or $9. You get home, put the record on your stereo, and sit back to enjoy. But instead, you don't like any other song on either side, so you're now stuck with an album you don't want, and you can't return it.

Sound familiar? Well, now you have an alternative.

Rent & Roll, at 6029 W. Dempster, Morton Grove, offers an innovative and sensible solution for you: Rent the album (for 1 day) for $2, and then decide if it's worth buying. If you want the album - or any other - the rental charge is deducted from the cost of the album. This is a wonderful way to "sample the merchandise" for FREE before buying. If you don't like the album, return it the next day. Those with tape recorders may want to tape the album before returning it.

In addition to album rental and sales, Rent & Roll offers tape rentals, posters, and other accessories. They stock current and past selections to appeal to all of your musical tastes, and can order anything that's in print.

LETTERS to EDITOR

We, The People deny Blameuser affiliation

Dear Editor:

In answer to a few people who have called, I wish to make it perfectly clear that Mr. Blameuser is not, and never was, a member of the We, The People party, much less one of our candidates. Anyone who has read our platform, or who has heard our candidates Messrs. Primer, Nolte, or Schnell speak, knows instantly that we are diametrically opposed to the Nazi philosophy.

We, The People stand for constitutional government which represents all the people, and are revolted to Nazism or dictatorship under any name. We condemn all systems and political parties which refuse to recognize that the citizens of Morton Grove are responsible, law abiding people, capable of making their own intelligent decisions.

A dictatorship is a small minority who think they know best how everyone should run their lives and what choices they should make. This is the philosophy of our present Village Trustees seeking re-election under the Action Party Banner - and this is the view that Mr. Blameuser and Nazi ideology would continue. Both he and the Action Party should be soundly defeated at the polls on April 12.

We respectfully ask the voters of Morton Grove to elect Roger Nolte, Seymour Primer and Richard Schnell of the We, The People party as their next Village Trustees. They will make us proud of Morton Grove again!

Sincerely,
Lester Brownstein,
Campaign Manager

Salerno-Megowen celebrates 50th anniversary

Salerno-Megowen, one of Niles' oldest and largest industries, recently acquired by Générale Biscuit Company of Paris, France, celebrated its 50th anniversary with an exhibition of French advertising art from 1880-1914 at the Westin Hotel in Chicago.

Arthur G. Murray, president of Salerno-Megowen, came to visit Mayor Nicholas Blase of Niles to invite him and his staff to a celebration dinner.

From the Mayor's right are Village Manager, the late Kenneth Schel; Mr. Murray; Fire Chief Clarence Emrikson; Miss Maite Goff of Salerno; Chief of Police Albert Hoelbl; and standing in the rear, three Niles officials - Joseph Salerno, Larry Renetzky, and Todd Bavaro.

One of Niles' most prominent industries, the Salerno-Megowen Biscuit Company, now enters into the international field with its acquisition by Générale Biscuit of Paris, France.

In celebration of the event, Salerno-Megowen and Générale Biscuit brought a unique exhibition from Paris that was on display from February 16-27 at the Westin Hotel in Chicago, Michigan Avenue at Delaware Place. The exhibition featured paintings, graphics, ceramics, posters, and premiums.

It all began in 1933, in the depths of the depression, when Fred

G. Salerno and R. Lee Megowen pooled their resources and established the biscuit company. Fred Salerno had begun his biscuit career as a 12-year-old in 1889 working in a Chicago bakery. He not only learned baking, but became a mechanical genius in inventing baking manufacturing equipment. At one time he held 87 patents for bakery equipment.

Eventually he became a Master Baker, then President of the Sawyer Biscuit Company in Chicago. In 1933 he resigned from Sawyer to form his own company with Megowen who had been secretary-treasurer of United Biscuit.

In 1936 Megowen moved East where he purchased another biscuit company with which he stayed until his death in 1954.

Fred Salerno was highly innovative in the bakery business. He designed multi-colored cartons replacing simple boxes, introduced cellophane overwrap for cookies and crackers, while at the same time producing products whose quality was unsurpassed. Even the plant here in Niles is a showplace for the baking industry, attracting visitors from all over the world.

Salerno participated actively in the company until his death in

Complete petitions opposing withholding from account

If the federal government has its way, 10% of the interest income earned on checking and savings accounts will be withheld from account holders.

Aaron R. Deemar, executive vice-president of Niles Federal said, "Our customers are displaying strong opposition to any withholding of their interest income." Niles Federal Savings is providing forums which customers may fill out opposing this law which does not become operational until July 1, 1983.

Mr. Deemar stated that "we want our customers to realize that withholding will cut the amount of cash available to them during the year and reduce earnings because of less income from reinvestment and compounding. Also, the amount withheld may not be correct for one's tax bracket. If withholding occurs, you will have to file for a tax refund on your own money. Lastly, financial institutions will be subject to a blizzard of paperwork in acting as the government's collection agents."

"This would be unfortunate

1983. Carrying on the tradition of high quality, however, was his son George who had become president of the company in 1952. George F. Salerno had worked his way up through the ranks at the plant, had his father's mechanical talents, held patents in his own name, and was a perfectionist in production methods. He was extremely people-oriented and became well known in the food industry like his father. He died suddenly in 1970 at the age of 61.

The Salerno tradition is carried on by Miss Alyce F. Salerno, daughter of the founder, who is Chairman Emeritus of the Board. The company is now ably and successfully headed by Arthur G. Murray, President, who says, "Niles is a wonderful community. We have been citizens here for many years. We have always been very pleased with the quality of employees we have here and with the cooperation we have always received from village officials."

Générale Biscuit, now with the addition of Salerno-Megowen, is the third largest biscuit manufacturer in the world.

because increased costs to the financial institutions would have to be passed on to customers in the form of either increased loan costs or lower yielding rates on savings plans.

Citizens can still hope for repeal by writing or calling their representative or senator now and urging their friends to take a similar action.

Mr. Deemar noted, "If we take a few minutes we can save a lot of time, money and worry later."

Niles Federal encourages anyone interested in expressing their opposition to the withholding act to stop in their office to complete the petition.

First Federal unveils new investment line

First Federal of Chicago today unveiled an improved investment line that includes new savings plans, reduced minimum deposits on selected accounts, and streamlined, easier-to-understand investment options.

The new products feature a 5-year, fixed rate account which was introduced on March 14 with a rate of 10.25 percent and a 1 1/2 year Treasury rate (T-Rate) account, to premiere April 1.

First Federal will continue to offer its popular 2 1/2 year T-rate account even after it is deregulated April 1. Both new accounts feature high, fixed rate yields, and low minimum deposits of only $500.

Also on March 14, First Federal lowered minimum deposits on the popular 91-day T-rate account, from $7,500 to $2,500, and on the 6-month T-rate account from $10,000 to $2,500.

"The lower minimum deposits on our fixed rate accounts will make these plans more accessible to customers than ever before," said Timothy F. Burns, senior vice president - marketing.

"We've also dropped thirteen accounts, many of which were similar to existing plans they caused a good deal of confusion for the customer," Burns said. "Their elimination has uncluttered the selections we offer, while not affecting the range of savings products available at First Federal. We can now offer our customers real choices between the various short-and long-term investment options."

First Federal of Chicago, with branches throughout the state, is one of Illinois' leading financial institutions.

Northern Illinois Gas is a wholly owned subsidiary of NICOR Inc., Naperville, Ill.

IIT raises tuition for 1983-84

IIT will raise tuition for undergraduate and graduate students for the 1983-84 academic year and at the same time provide a significant increase in the university's financial aid funds for students.

Tuition for full-time students will increase to $6,390 from $5,700. All part-time students and students at IIT Chicago-Kent College of Law, will pay $210 per credit hour, compared with $185 currently. The base rate for board and room will be increased by $270 to $3,000 annually, also effective next fall.

"IIT remains committed to providing a quality education for all its students, and an increase in tuition is necessary to maintain that objective," said Thomas L. Martin, Jr., President, Illinois Institute of Technology.

The university has significantly increased financial support from alumni, businesses, foundations, friends and trustees in the last few years, Martin said.

"This has made it possible to upgrade laboratories, improve student and campus facilities, expand computer and terminal systems and strengthen academic program, while keeping our tuition level substantially below other comparable private universities," Martin added.

In recognition of the overall increasing education costs, Martin said that IIT will significantly increase financial aid assistance, both for students currently enrolled who are receiving financial aid and for new students.

Current and prospective students of IIT are urged to consult with the university's Financial Aid Office at the earliest opportunity to assure consideration for federal, state and other forms of financial aid that will be available.

Willows Academy for Girls offers character development

In August, 1982 the Willows Academy for Girls relocated in Niles at 8200 Greendale Ave. The Willows was founded in 1974 by a group of parents and educators who recognized the need for a school that would combine academic excellence with moral and character development.

In 1981 it became apparent that the school's location was no longer desirable to maintain adequate growth. In addition the economics of the building became increasingly difficult. A major decision by the board resulted in the eventual sale of the building and relocation to the present site in Niles.

This decision has proven most beneficial. The local communities surrounding the Willows have expressed a great deal of interest. The teacher student ratio along with the excellent public transportation available for students have been practical attractions to the public.

For further information on the Willows, its curriculum and requirements, you may contact the Director of Admissions at 692-5630.

The Willows is an independent day school from 8th through 12th grade. It has graduated one hundred and eleven girls, 95% of whom have been accepted and have attended or are attending some of the finest colleges and universities in the country. The greatest majority of these have been accepted at Northwestern University and the University of Illinois, Champaign.

Local boys score in Big Ten Gymnastics

Big-Ten Gymnastics Championships were held at the U of Iowa on March 4-5. Team competition was fierce with the top four teams less than a point apart. The U of Illinois shared the team championship with Ohio State with identical scores of 276.55 while Iowa was third with 276.5 and Minnesota fourth with 275.9.

A number of Chicago suburban area gymnasts competed in the meet with eight earning individual honors. Joey Ray of Maine East, the 1979 State All-Around champion competing for Minnesota led the group with a first in All-Around (112.15) first in parallel bars (9.65) second in high bar (9.70) and sixth in pommel horse (9.40). Freshman Robbie Brown for Minnesota took seventh in All-Around, first in high bar (9.80) and fifth in parallel bars.

Niles West gymnasts receive All American Honors

For the fourth year in a row, the Niles West High School Girls' Gymnastics team has received All American Honors from the National High School Gymnastics Coaches Association. Approximately 40 high schools nationwide generally receive this distinction. In addition, gymnasts Sheryl Barasch and Jacqueline Plonus received All American honors for their individual performances in the vaulting and uneven bars events respectively.

As a team, the Niles West gymnasts submitted a score this year of 98, three points higher than the requirements for the award. Scores are derived by averaging the results of three competitions, one of which must be of a championship type. "This award shows that our team was able to reach its potential whenever it really counted," commented

John Burke, the Niles West head gymnastics coach.

The individual honors earned by Barasch and Plonus were awarded on the basis of an average of five competitions, with two being from league, regional or state series type of meets. Last year only 62 gymnasts in the nation were named All Americans in vaulting, and 59 earned the commendation for uneven bars. "It is interesting that for the past four years Niles West gymnasts have been named All Americans in these same two events," commented Burke.

Other members of the Westhi All American gymnastics team are Lisa DeCook, Julie Disselhorst, Jill Burkel, Mary Holm, Jill Roberts, Kathy Verstraete, Kelly McKeon, Peggy Thall, and Karen Palin. The assistant coaches are Judi Sloan, Jodi Nebbia, and Jacey Legmes.

Action's independent votes mean good government

Village Trustee Richard Hobs, Action Party candidate for reelection, asserted at a meeting of campaign supporters, "The real strength and success of our Village administration is the demonstrated right of each Trustee to exercise an independent vote on every issue, dictated only by personal judgment and conscience. We don't need vested interest groups from outside Morton Grove, who obviously know little about our community and care nothing for the village, insinuating themselves into our local government, dictating how we must do our job, and attempting to manipulate our village elections." "I personally resent the arrogance of those who imply that our record of broad accomplishment for Morton Grove must be judged solely on the basis of one narrowly focused issue! There's a lot more to running a village than dealing with one controversial subject." Hobs explained, "One of the major reasons that the Action Party administration has been able to provide Morton Grove with the most effective, responsive government in village history is that the Board is composed of strong, capable personalities, experienced in every aspect of village government. They don't always agree on all issues. What is important is that Trustees know they aren't required to agree."

"All we demand of each other on the Board is that the positions we take are the ones we each sincerely believe are best for Morton Grove."

Hobs continued, "Over the years, Village Board members have never been reluctant to publicly show a divergence of views concerning a variety of issues. We believe such differences promote healthy debate and informed, considered decisions."

"People in Morton Grove tell me they like the way we run the village. They admire the gutsiness of the Trustees and their willingness to assume positions of strong, independent leadership when difficult problems are presented to them. Lew Greenberg, Gregg Youstra and I are seeking another term to assure a continuation of that tradition," Hobs concluded.

Northwest hwy. Building in Park Ridge, sponsored by The Center of Concern.

Feichter named Cancer Crusade chairman

Robert Palkoner, Income Development Chairman of the Northwest Suburban Unit, of the American Cancer Society in Illinois, announces that Pat Feichter of Niles has been appointed 1983 Crusade Chairman of Niles.

Mr. Feichter notes "American Cancer Society volunteers will be trying to reach as many residents as possible on April 18-30 while seeking a goal of $4,000, their share of the Northwest's residential goal of $75,500. They'll also distribute the new 1983 Crusade leaflet 'Yes You Can'." Mr. Feichter notes "there seems to be a number of things over which we as individuals cannot exert too much control. We can, however, have substantial control over our own destiny regarding cancer, and our 1983 leaflet outlines some of the ways which we can take charge."

Mr. Feichter goes on, "The leaflet tells us how to prevent cancer and outlines some recent tests which make it possible to detect most cancers far earlier than ever before. And early cancer is curable in up to 90% of cases."

Mr. Feichter asks everyone in Niles to read this leaflet, when the Cancer Crusader calls. Then he is urging all to give generously, so the Society can expand its programs to prevent cancer and reduce its effects.

More crusaders are needed. He invites all who wish to participate as American Cancer Society Crusaders to call either 358-3965 or 298-5887.

Northwest Suburban Bar seminar

The Northwest Suburban Bar Association is sponsoring a seminar entitled "How To Protect Your Right To Drive" to be held at Franklin School in Park Ridge on Tuesday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

A panel of attorneys who are members of the northwest suburban Association will speak on various traffic cases, including the implications of drunk driving charges, what a suspended license means, and other topics pertaining to driving offenses. A question and answer period will follow.

One of the Association's most popular services is their Attorney Referral Service for people who don't have a lawyer and don't know how to choose one. "A person can call our office at 253-2562 and we'll put him in touch with an attorney in his community with the expertise he needs," said Nancy Hughes, Executive Secretary of the organization. "Because this is a public service, the fee for the initial half-hour consultation on the referral plan is only $15, and often that's all that's needed."

Franklin School is located at 2401 Manor Ln. in Park Ridge, about two blocks north of Northwest hwy. between Dee and Pottery rds. The free seminar will be held in the school auditorium. Further information and directions to the school are available from the Northwest Suburban Bar Association office, 253-2562.

HAPPY ST. PAT'S DAY

Chuck E. Cheese's opens in Chicago

A friendly oversized furry rat will again enlighten the hearts of hundreds of children and their families when Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre at 7300 W. Foster Ave. opens in February.

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre is a dynamic family entertainment center that offers quality pizza, mechanically "live" performances by three dimensional computer controlled singing animal characters and exciting token operated games and kiddie rides.

The food menu offers delicious pizza in four sizes and includes an array of topping choices. There are sandwiches, a 63 item salad & dessert bar, and for ice cream lovers, a make your own sundae bar. Also soft drinks, beer and wine are available.

While dining, families will be entertained by Chuck E. Cheese, a New Jersey rat, his co-partner, Jasper T. Jowls, Mr. Munch, the purple pizza eating monster, Pasqually, the operatic Italian Chef Supreme and the rest of the singing animal characters. The characters perform on a raised stage in the central dining area and are operated by a trademarked computer system called Cyberamics invented by Nolan Bushnell, founder of Pizza Time Theatre, Inc. and Atari Game, Inc. The characters perform 26 different skits, three to five minutes in length, every eight minutes.

"The Big Cheese" (Chuck E. Cheese) who "owns" Pizza Time Theatre throws out funny insults to the other characters. He is quite concerned about bringing in quality entertainment and becomes upset when Jasper T. Jowls, the banjo playing dog, falls asleep or Pasqually, sings opera off key.

At the Harlem & Foster location, three special cabaret lounges have been added featuring The King, The Beagles and Dolly Dimples.

The King, a 7'10" lion, dresses in white glitter, satin, and synchronizes 72 mechanical movements to his Elvis Presley like voice shaking everything from his head to his knees.

Featured in their own special lounge, direct from Liverpool: are the famous Beagles. The Beagles consist of four Beagle dogs who flop their ears, play musical instruments and fascinate the audience with original Beagle songs.

Patriotism is not dead

Patriotism in these United States of America has always been like an iceberg, 7/8 of it lies below the surface. It rises to the surface when an emergency arises as was the case of Pearl Harbor, and previous ones since the "Shot heard 'round the world". It unifies us as a people and brings us together as one.

I believe that Herman Wouk's "Winds of War" recently telecast on Channel 7, the not to the degree, had a similar effect on our nation, particularly regarding President Reagan's huge budget for national defense.

However, in the time of peace with 10 million unemployed, to get Congress to approve such a large amount as the President is asking would be "mission impossible". But, as the result of "Winds of War" and its timely impact on the mass mind you can bet your boots the President will get a lot more than even he anticipated.

BUT AN act of patriotism in time of peace is almost unheard of in these sophisticated days of our lives. BUT PRESIDENT REAGAN chalked up one in times of peace which will probably give him a second term and land him on Mount Rushmore, at the very top, "where the eagle soars".

For after serving regally as our seal and symbol for 200 years, the Bald Eagle has now come into its own. For last year President Reagan proclaimed June 20, Bald Eagle Day. And, this coming June 20th it will be celebrated throughout the Continental limits of the United States of America which is a much larger territory than most people know.

When Congress selected the bald eagle as our national symbol on June 20, 1782, Ben Franklin was madder than a wet hen, or should I say turkey. For Ben Franklin wanted the turkey and he wrote to his daughter Sarah that the Bald Eagle "is a bird of bad moral character" and a "rank coward". Ornithologists disagree on its cowardice.

The magnificent Bald Eagle is not bald. He possesses white head feathers (like me) and in size is the second largest bird of prey to the California Condor which is rapidly flying to extinction. Even the Bald Eagle has dwindled down to only 1500 due to trigger-happy hunters and polluted fish. Though now a protected species since 1972, old baldy still manages to hang in there - long may he fly.

And, even if President Reagan's record can point to no greater accomplishment than his recognition of our American seal and symbol this should get him a second term, or a worthy mention in history.

Just think what would have happened if Ben Franklin had gotten his way, and Congress would have selected the turkey. Why, such a thing is horrible to contemplate. On Thanksgiving we'd all be eating our heritage. Unless, that Pilgrim had shot a Puma. That might have been worse.

Pullen named to Education Research Council

The United States Senate has confirmed the nomination of State Representative Penny Pullen (R-4-Park Ridge) to the National Council on Education Research effective immediately.

The council is the policy governing board of the National Institute of Education and meets four times yearly in Washington.

Miss Pullen was appointed to the council by President Reagan. Her appointment was confirmed by the Senate during its marathon session just before recessing for Christmas.

She flew to Washington D.C. earlier in December to appear before the Senate committee on Labor and Human Resources, which first screened the 13 nominees in the confirmation process.

She testified before the committee that she views her role on the council as one of "promoting education excellence in the classroom, particularly in basic skills which prepare children for full opportunities in adulthood, and of assisting on accountability to the taxpayers and the best possible use of the taxpayers' money."

The National Institute of Education, which carries out policies established by the council, is responsible for awarding grants of tax funds in the field of educational research.

"In the past, I am told some of these grants have been of questionable merit as far as the actual education of children is concerned. I want to be certain the taxpayer is getting worthwhile return for his many dollars," Miss Pullen said.

The new post will take the Park Ridge Republican to Washington on council business "probably four times a year," she said. There is no compensation for the post other than travel expenses for official meetings.

Computer awareness program

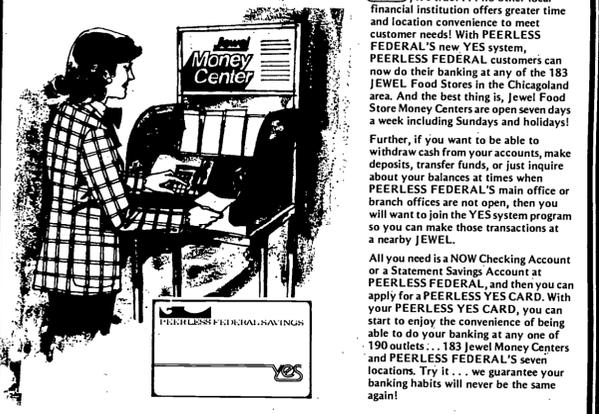

A computer awareness program in understanding and using micro-home-computers in home, education and business, will be offered for seniors at 1 p.m., Wednesday, March 23 at the Skokie Senior Adult Jewish Community Center, 5050 W. Church, Skokie.

This program, sponsored by Video Concepts of Northbrook, will offer an introduction and the practical application of the micro-computer.

Illinois joined Niles in banning pinballs which paid off.

Nick Blase, who didn't work in town, and vowed no officials in Niles should make a buck off the job before the election, had two businesses going in Niles two months after coming into office. Subsequently, Nick broke every rule in the book and has exploited the job fifty different ways. Scheel, who believed in "moral obligations", played it straight, didn't make a buck off the job as a public official and had the respect of everyone who knew him.

On April 8, 1965 (see Page 3) The Bugle reported Niles had received the All America City award. It was based on the improvements made in the community plus Niles' getting rid of the gambling establishments in town.

On our front page we ran a picture of Ken with "Niles All American" as a heading across it. Underneath the picture we reported about Ken's anti-gambling efforts which led to the All America award. Before the day was over we received a telephone call from a member of Blase's family complaining they were upset because we didn't cite Blase as being Niles "All American." The guy who chickened out when the chips were down still wanted the cover, even though he didn't deserve it. Scheel, who never called The Bugle in 25 years seeking any personal recognition, quietly went about his business and received the recognition he deserved.

Through the years Scheel stayed on the straight and narrow. He gave Niles the very best he had to offer, without favors to friends, and he always kept his distance from Blase. In his last months as village manager the job was taking a greater and greater toll. He was a loyal team member and didn't tell us about all the garbage that emanated from Blase. Nick created a part-time job for one of his boys, Sam Bruno, as assistant liquor commissioner. In the upcoming budget the job is to become full-time. We were told even the bus driver jobs might have political clout attached to them. All workmen's compensation cases from village employees were obligated to go to a legal firm Blase recommended. It went on and on and Scheel was increasingly upset these last months.

In addition to the pressure Ken felt during this time of the year when he prepared his annual budget, he had an even greater burden concerning his Aunt who passed away recently. Ken had to make the very difficult decision whether or not she should have her leg amputated.

On one trip back and forth from the hospital one evening, he no sooner walked into the house when he got a phone call from Blase asking why Scheel wasn't at a Cable TV committee meeting. Scheel said he had just come back from the hospital. Blase said to him, "Well, you're home now, aren't you? Get over to the meeting."

It was an interesting story. Blase had barged into the meeting and lectured the TV people he didn't want them to use high pressure tactics in selling their service to Nilesites. It was the usual hokey Blase bravado said before the press. He then went out and badgered an overly tired Scheel into attending the meeting and went into Chicago to get in on some political apple polishing for Rich Daley.

The even greater irony is how picture Blase is. He asked the trustees to spend 18 months making studies and preparing to choose a Cable TV company. After they made a selection Blase vetoed their selection, chose his own company, and will always live under a cloud because he alone chose a company which was paying up-front money to get their franchises in local villages.

When a guy signs out there really shouldn't be bitterness to the report. But there was anger and bitterness in Ken's last months in Niles and there's no reason this in Niles and there's no reason residents who don't know what's going on in their town shouldn't know about it. Nick Blase's garbage machine plays havoc with anyone who wants to play it straight.

At the funeral there wasn't one elected village official who was a pallbearer. It was a bit surprising since Ken worked closely with many of the officials for 20 years or more. But there was a message there. Ken despised the sleaziness of the Blase brigade and they certainly wouldn't be asked to be a part of his last day here.

Ken was hard-nosed, not always lovable, not the kind of personality you could glad hand. But he had humor and he had love; he was a college football player (Colgate) and a Marine officer at a very tender age. He was irascible and he was funny and he cared and he stood tall. He had integrity. And he had everyone's respect. It's something you can't buy with all the conniving and with all the buck-making.

Of all the village officials elected through the years you would have to designate Ken as Niles All American. The guys who made the bucks and took the bows and made the phone calls for their own glory couldn't carry in the water bucket let alone make the team.

voluteered his time as a judge in a parochial school speech contest.

In summing up Scheel, Monsignor Flanagan said, "He brought integrity and confidence to all that he did. He was a faithful believer and lived up to what he believed in."

Father Duggan said he was surprised by the outpouring of Scheel's friends during the Monday funeral. "I saw an awful lot of shared emotion and tears shed. People felt deeply and personally about losing Ken. There had to be something very personal...and that's a special quality."

Ken Scheel had been a member of a group of parishioners who devoted much of their lives to building St. John Brebeuf to its recognized position as one of the major parishes in Chicago area.

And it seemed very appropriate that on Friday afternoon, as Ken Scheel lay in his home dying, nearby in the church where he had given so much of himself, a Mass was being said honoring the children of the parochial school.

For it is these children who will receive superior training in the best of facilities because of the thirty years of concern and effort by Ken Scheel.

worked for Scheel, he demanded your best. He felt you had to have a brain and think things out."

"He was a very effective manager," said Miller. "He felt people should be proactive rather than reactive."

Saying Scheel had an "open-door policy", Miller said Scheel always "made time to go around and say hello to people in the office."

But, above all, Miller recalled, Scheel had "a capacity to love and make everybody feel they were special to him."

Painting exhibit at M.G. Library

During the month of March, the Morton Grove Public Library is exhibiting the oil paintings of Margot Jacobs. Mrs. Jacobs is a Morton Grove resident and teaches painting at the Morton Grove Park District and at her home studio. Her paintings include landscapes and still life and may be seen in the Baxter Room during regular library hours.

Survivors include Scheel's wife, Minna, son, Karl and daughter, Amy Jo, brother Arthur, nieces and nephews.

Niles mourns...

nephew applied cardio-pulmonary resuscitation in an attempt to revive him.

Niles Fire Department Paramedics arrived at the Scheel home at 12:48 p.m. Additionally, fire department Duty Chief Harry Kinowski was called to the scene when it was reported that Scheel had suffered a possible heart attack.

Niles paramedics reportedly stayed in radio-telephone contact with doctors in Lutheran General Hospital's emergency room as they tried to revive Scheel.

Fire Department officials reported paramedics used medications and shock treatments during the unsuccessful attempt to revive Scheel.

Rev. Larry Springer of St. John Brebeuf was rushed to the scene by a Niles police car. However, Scheel's nephew, Father Bradley Schaefer, who had tried to revive Scheel, gave his uncle the last rites.

At the wake on Sunday at Skaja Terrace Funeral Home, 7812 Milwaukee ave., white gloved Niles policemen and firemen maintained an honor guard on either side of the casket.

During the seven and a half hour wake, over 1,000 people filed by the open casket. Funeral home official Jack Skaja called the number of mourners who came to the wake "extremely large."

During the final hours of the wake on Sunday evening, Father Duggan gave a thirty minute eulogy highlighting Scheel's work in the village and his church.

Scheel's nephew, Father Bradley Schaefer, a Cincinnati school administrator, conducted a short prayer service at the funeral home Monday morning before the funeral procession left for St. John Brebeuf Church.

At St. John Brebeuf Church a Solemn High mass was celebrated by nine priests including Monsignor John Flanagan, Father Ed Duggan, Father Anthony Chen, formerly of St. John Brebeuf, and Father Charles Kohlerman, Niles Finance Director.

A eulogy was delivered during the mass by Father Schaefer. The funeral procession to Maryhill Cemetery was escorted by numerous police cars and fire department command cars.

Survivors include Scheel's wife, Minna, son, Karl and daughter, Amy Jo, brother Arthur, nieces and nephews.

Niles Park...

Dame High School to allow the Niles Park District's use of the school's baseball fields this summer.

However, Beusse said that no written agreement with Notre Dame would be signed. This follows the recent dissolution of agreements with Notre Dame High School in which the Niles Park Board provided park equipment and maintained fields.

Previously existing agreements had recently been suspended when Niles Park officials felt their good will was being abused by Notre Dame officials who requested even more services in exchange for use of their fields.

Trustee Dan Kosiba announced Tuesday night that beer and wine will continue to be served at the Tam Golf Course this season.

The local Knights of Columbus North American Martyrs chapter presented a $4,000 check to the Niles Park Board Tuesday night. The group had made a commitment to provide $11,000 for the installation of therapeutic playground equipment for the handicapped at the Milwaukee Avenue Recreation Center.

While the money was to be paid within five years, the North American Martyrs have now contributed $7,000 to the park.

Beusse announced the completion of a public address system recently installed at the recreation center. The $900 cost for the system was subsidized by a $600 donation from the Niles Squares dancing group.

Commissioner Elaine Heinen proposed changing the pay schedule for all park employees to twice-monthly. She explained that this was the least expensive method and it would cost the park district $1,560 annually.

Following a lengthy discussion the proposal was approved by a vote of 4 to 1.

The board also approved a proposal by Heinen for the accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand to audit the Niles Park District this year.

The cost to the park for the audit will be $7,400.

Kosiba told board members his committee will continue reviewing plans to serve alcohol at park district facilities. Following a recent change in Illinois laws, local park districts will be able to serve liquor. Kosiba said he did not know whether a policy would be ready by this coming summer.

Commissioner Mary Marusek told the board Niles College has refused to allow the Niles Park District to use its ball fields during the coming months. Marusek said Niles College officials would consider letting the Niles Park District use their fields for special events.

Scheel Eulogy...

said, "Curse God and die." His so-called friends come to him and said, "You are obviously a bad man because God punishes the unjust. It's either you or your parents; somewhere along the line you were unjust, and it wasn't fair and it wasn't right." Job won't stand for that and winds up talking and arguing with God. God listens for a while and then he comes back and he never really gives Job an answer. He simply says, "Job, were you there when I founded and created this earth? Were you there when I put the Heavens and the Earth together? Were you there when I put the stars in the sky and placed the sea in its bounds? Were you there when I created mankind? Are you there in the morning when I bring the sun and at night when I set that same sun? And he goes over and over and over, "Were you there?" Job became silent and all God said really to him, "I am God and you are not." And I think that is what the Lord was telling me and telling you. We are not God and in God's providence and God's care he knows what is best. It is difficult for us to believe because we're limited human beings, very limited, and yet, God says, "Take that anger, argue with me, take the sorrow, whatever you want to do, but remember, I am God and you are not." We must always remember that our trust in His providential care.

Aside from anger, there is sorrow, there is a loss of someone we love very dearly.

I know I will miss him a great deal and as I know all of us will. I think there is a lot of words to describe him. My favorite term, I think, maybe a man of words, and my Aunt said not to say it, but I call him, "The Old Fart", and it was done with all the affection that I could muster. And it was one of the things I missed Friday when he came in for lunch and I said, "How ya doin', you old fart?" and everyone was talking and he went over and didn't give me the old bear hug that he usually does. I kind of missed that one. There's a sense of strength, he was a strong man, I think everyone knows that...a man of words...he could be angry very easily, certainly straight-forward. Some would say he spoke too quickly but I think he mellowed in the last few years. He knew when to say and what to say. He was a man of his word. A man of integrity. A man of honesty. But I think more than anything else a word that describes him to me is a man of "love".

No one who is in a position he's in can ever have everybody liking him. I know that. I'm an assistant principal in a high school, and we talked often what it is like being in that position where everyone is shooting up and you can't shoot down. And you try to do what you think is best and people kind of pick and moan.

I know this time of the year was a very difficult one...budget time. It's always very difficult. He was very tired from that. He always thought that was worth the struggle. And I think that was what reminded me most of him. He loved that struggle but he never let it get in the way of love. He was never a man of vindictiveness. He disliked some people, he was upset with some people. He felt bad when people worked behind his back and were backstabbing, much as any of us would. But he wasn't out to get anyone. I think that's a real gift and he made a great many contributions. That love crossed a variety of areas.

He loved knowledge. I used to enjoy when I was in college, talking with him about different things. He loved to talk theology. He didn't know a lot about theology, theoretically, but he knew what was in his heart and we would argue a lot as I did with his Aunt and his Mom about the Vatican Council and all that. And as much as he helped to build this Church I don't think this was his favorite design of a church. I think he would like a few more statues and a few candles. We used to argue a lot. He used to love to read. He loved to listen to his music. He had a great love for being quiet; solitude - a real chance to be alone and to pray...he had a good prayer life and a good sense of God was.

He loved his Church...he loved his village. I think anyone who follows him is going to have one heck of an act to follow because my Uncle loved this village and I think if he hadn't loved it as much he'd be around today because he worked too hard at it and couldn't let go of it. He loved the people. You couldn't ask for anything more than that because I know he took his job seriously.

He would come down after budget time, he'd always take a vacation then and when he did he would share that enthusiasm. "We did something. We got those buses running. We got that garage built." He never forgot the people who gave life to him. The people with the common folk, if you will. The people who made things run. The people who are in the maintenance garage. The men in the police and fire departments who he loved and respected an awful lot. All the people, the police and the fire department who were so very close to him, really, who he loved and respected an awful lot. All those people, the trustees and all those managers and...whoever called him up on the phone. I remember we had a great flood a few years ago. He was deluged with phone calls about water and I said Noah was in the same kind

Maine Township workfare program

The workfare program being implemented in Maine Township will be explained to interested agencies at an informational meeting on Monday, March 21, from 9 to 10 a.m. at Casa Royale, 783 Lee St., Des Plaines. Paul K. Halverson, Maine Township Supervisor, has sent a letter of invitation to all taxing bodies and service agencies throughout the township asking that they send representatives to this meeting to learn how the General Assistance Office will run the program. A new state statute (Chapter 23, Paragraph 6-1.7) states that of situation. I got him kind of relaxed and literally got him in the flow but he never forgot it. He was a man of love.

His love was deepest and was reserved primarily for his wife and his kids. Some of us in my family were able to share in this love and it was nice. He was as proud of us as he was of his kids. He loved primarily his wife and his kids.

He used to say he was a Saint. I don't really think my Uncle was a Saint. We could argue that but he said, "Living with my Aunt was enough to make anyone a Saint." Always, of course, teasing. He loved his kids very much, deeply. Perhaps, I think sometimes he had trouble as our parents do. I don't know what it is, but you're going to name something after my Uncle. You'd better. But aside from that, the name will go on. We have to live on his life and to look at that life and see what it taught. Taught what I think Timothy talks about. That we have to run that race. We run it to the fullest, live out lives every day. He didn't know how long he was going to live. Nor did my Aunt. I think they were very aware the time he went over to Korea they didn't know if he was coming back. From that time they knew that each day was special and we have to live that way. We have to live as if this day is the last day of our lives because we never know, and it never has come across to me so clearly as Friday when we tried to save him...that life is delicate.

There is no reason to take life too seriously. We have to take that day, live, love it, be angry, and be also willing to be sorry and be reconciled...that is important. And we have to be a people of faith. Everything that was my Uncle was his love of God. And he knew that and I knew that. It was his faith. I was kind of struggling the other day...my sister got married on Saturday which was why we were all in, and it was kind of difficult with Uncle Kenny being gone. I remember driving down the expressway and thinking what would he want and I know what he would want. To have a heckuva good time. And so we did. And he would want all of us to keep on living. And I think he would say to us to listen to the Gospels, listen to the Scripture. Our faith tells us that he is at peace with the Lord. Our faith tells us we are here for a short time. Whether it be 59 years. Whether it be 89 years. Whether it be 10 years. We are here for a short time. But this world should be a different place when we leave it. This world should be a better place when we leave it because we should have brought love and service to God's people.

I know my Uncle goes that way. This world is a better place because he lived in it. I am a better person because I loved him and he loved me and I think most of us are that way.

If you really love Uncle Ken you've got to love and love life to its fullest. Because then you'll be doing what the Lord says the greatest commandment is. Loving God with all of our hearts and our souls and our minds and our strength and loving thy neighbor as thyself.

I think Job's prayer is the prayer we end with. The Lord gives and the Lord takes away. Blessed be the name of the Lord. That's Job's prayer and it's our own.

I always like to imagine what it's like when someone comes to meet the Lord. I imagine my own and I sometimes cringe but I can only imagine my Uncle went to the Lord, went to his new life, giving him a huge embrace, a huge bearing and the Lord saying to my Uncle, "Ken, you did a good job. You have run the race. You have kept the faith. Come, now, the Lord has prepared for you, from the beginning of time."

If we can do that we will have done a great thing. My Uncle was not a great man, perhaps, but he was a good man. And that's a tremendous quality.

He was a good man.

broken, streets torn up and huge hills of dirt which have not been removed.

At issue was a zoning request by the Northwest Water Commission, which will operate the water pipe, to construct a pumping station in Morton Grove.

The proposed location is along the Commonwealth Edison right-of-way on vacant property just east of National Avenue and south of Sayre Street.

The proposed pumping station would be 74 feet wide by 100 feet long and 27 feet high.

Plans for such construction were approved by Morton Grove's Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals on March 12.

And while it appears that Morton Grove trustees will also approve the plans, trustees voiced their dissatisfaction with the effect the project has had on Morton Grove by tabling the request for zoning until the next meeting.

Trustees asked village officials to contact the construction companies working on the project to determine when they will begin repairing damage they have done to sidewalks and streets before final approval is given for construction of the pumping station. The move to table the proposal was made by Trustee Richard Hoff. The vote was 4 to 3.

In other business, the Morton Grove Village Board agreed to grant the proper zoning to allow the construction of a Citgo Quik-mart station to be constructed at 635 Dempster St.

The request for approval was made by a Forest Park service station operator.

The proposed Dempster St. service station would sell snack foods and coffee as well as gasoline.

Trustee Heinen recommended the Morton Grove Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals, the Village Board unanimously approved the request.

The Village Board also approved a plan outlined by Village Planner Chuck Schack to begin repaving alleys south of Capulina Ave.

Following a survey of Capulina residents, Schack said the repaving was a "high priority" of area residents.

While the total cost of the program will be $140,000, Cook County will pay 75 per cent of the cost and the village only 25 per cent.

The repaving program will not begin before May 1.

Trustee Heinen announced Monday night that plans for the village's 1983-80/50 sidewalk program have been completed. The cost for sidewalk replacement this year will be $1.37 per square foot and $6.65 per square foot to replace curbs. As outlined in the program, the village and private residents will split this cost equally.

Trustee Joan Dechert told board members that all but 10,000 square feet of the Dempster and Waukegan Prairie View Shopping Center has been rented out. However, the entire main floor of the former Goldblatt's Department Store has been rented.

Dechert said exterior landscaping will begin on the renovated shopping center soon. Trustee Lou Greenberg announced that the December sales tax revenue collected by Morton Grove has $184,727.
