MG names new Village Administrator

Morton Grove has hired the former Bollingbrook village manager as its new village administrator. Lawrence Arft, who has been the Bollingbrook village manager for two years, will shortly take over the top administrative post in Morton Grove.

Morton Grove officials have been interviewing applicants since talks broke down with village administrator Jim Sloan. Current Morton Grove village department heads have been among those who were interviewed. Arft, who is in his mid-30's, recently lost his job following a village election. The Bollingbrook budget had reportedly become a central issue of the campaign as opponents to the village trustees claimed the budget was bloated. When these opponents gained majority control of the village

Ok $96,280 landscaping fees for Oakton College

by Anthony DeBartolo

Once again the Oakton Community College Board of Trustees seems to be bucking a national trend among educational institutions to keep expenditures to a minimum and only make outlays that directly affect the quality of education their schools offer.

At Tuesday night's meeting the board approved a $96,280 expenditure for landscaping services for its Des Plaines campus. According to David Hilquist, Vice President of Business and Finance, 65 to 70% of that sum ($62,582 to $67,396) will be used for the offer.

Niles, MG, Glenview youths arrested following confessions

Charge local youths with 20 burglaries

Six youths living in Niles, Morton Grove and Glenview have confessed to having committed at least 20 area burglaries since last October.

The youths, all boys between 14 and 16 years old, will appear in juvenile court on burglary charges stemming from a 1982 Park Ridge burglary. Local officials say the youths admitted committing at least 10 burglaries in Niles, five in Morton Grove, three in Glenview, possibly three in Park Ridge and one in unincorporated Des Plaines.

cash or merchandise which could be converted into cash.

Police first learned of the youths, two of whom live in Niles, two in Morton Grove and two in Glenview, following a theft at the Park Ridge Country Club, according to Park Ridge Police Detective Bob Lowen.

Following the theft of money near the caddy shack at the Park Ridge Country Club two caddies, who had been near the money, were interrogated by Park Ridge Police.

During this questioning the police learned of the six from one of the caddies that three of the six Summertime, and the livin' is easy.

Once a year we like to write a column suggesting readers go and do and enjoy during the waning days of summertime.

Because we live in a metropolitan area we mention to the troops there's much to be done in and around the big city. If we were to go to other big city areas, we would seek out the points of interest there. But, because we live a lifetime in Chicagoland, few of us approach "our city" in the same way.

In offering our tips for 1983, we follow two cardinal rules which are dear to our collective hearts. The places to go are a little bit offbeat. And when it comes to paying, the prices must border on the cheap.

Early morning people might get up around 6 a.m. and head down to west Randolph St. where one of the most active food markets in the world is taking place. Strolling west from Halsted St., you can see Chicagoland's breadbasket. It's really a distribution center for sending foods out to the local areas but the whirl of the action is exciting, and seeing where it comes from and where the foodstuffs go is most interesting.

District 63 teachers tentatively agreed to a new two year contract Monday at Gemini School which will raise salaries and benefits by 17.19%. Salary increases will be 6% the first year and 5% the second year. Teachers Dennis Balon and Barbara Korb told The Bugle it took about 45 hours of negotiating beginning March 15 before the tentative agreement was reached.

In addition to salary benefits,

Announce enrollment figures

School district 63 enrollment is expected to be approximately 3,000 this year. Last year's official figure effective October 1, was 3,185. Top enrollment figures in the district in the early 70's was about 7,000.

This year's teachers will receive $1300 in insurance benefits. This amount can be used to purchase basic hospitalization, major medical, life insurance or income protection-disability insurance. Any cost above the $1,300 must be paid by the teacher.

fringe benefits included improved insurance benefits and the unfreezing of one-half of the faculty in moving up in schedule. It particularly opens up lanes for teachers who have masters degrees and those whose hours exceed the masters program. Balon and Korb reported serious negotiating increased during the period from August 10 until last Friday, August 23.

Early delivery of Social Security checks

Monthly Social Security checks which are normally delivered on the third of September will be delivered on September 2 instead, according to Marilyn Robertson, manager of the Des Plaines Social Security office.

"Benefit checks are mailed early when the usual delivery date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday," Robertson said. "In these instances, the checks are dated and delivered on the first day before the third of the month that is not a Saturday, Sunday or holiday."

Robertson stated that this procedure helps reduce the problems that people have when they receive their checks and their banks are closed. These situations occur several times during the year, and Robertson advised that SSA would provide similar information about future early check delivery dates as they occur.

Rent subsidy available for elderly

Skokie Village Officials have recently been notified that beginning, September 1, at 8:30 a.m. the Housing Authority of Cook County will accept requests for applications for the Section 8 Rent Assistance Program from lower income elderly, disabled, or handicapped households who live in or work in Suburban Cook County -- excluding Chicago, Oak Park, Maywood, Cicero, Bellwood, Elgin, and Lansing, which have their own housing authorities.

Under the Section 8 Program a qualified lower income household will have a portion of their rent paid each month by the Housing Authority if they live in or move to a suitable rental unit in suburban Cook County. The landlord must agree to the subsidy arrangement.

The head of household or spouse must be either elderly (62 or older), disabled, or handicapped and no children or minor dependents may be part of the household to be qualified as an "elderly," "disabled," or "handicapped" household. All other household types are classified by the Housing Authority as "families". Due to the long waiting list for families, they will not be allowed to register at this time.

To qualify as "lower income" the eligibility gross income of the household must not exceed the limits listed below.

For households with 1 member the income limit is $17,600, and for households with 2 members the income limit is $20,000.

Households that reside in or are on waiting lists for other types of federally-assisted housing must apply specifically for this program to be considered, and they will not lose their place on those waiting lists.

Request for applications will initially only be accepted by phone, and people will be put on the registration list in the order that calls are received. Non-applicants may call to apply for a friend or relative. The only phone number for applicants will be 663-6447.

The Section 8 Program is administered on a non-discriminatory basis without regard to race, sex, color, religion, or national origin.

The Village encourages all those that qualify to apply for this program.

Kustra Receives "Best Legislator" Award

State Senator Bob Kustra this month received a "Best Legislator of 1983" Award from the Illinois Small Businessmen's Association. The award was based on votes cast in the Illinois Senate during the 83rd General Assembly.

Spokesman for the association praised Kustra for his demonstrated concern for the taxpayer, health, safety, jobs and growth of the economy in Illinois. "Small business forms the backbone of our state and national economy," Kustra said. "Too much legislation is passed in Springfield and Washington which makes it harder for small businesses to flourish or even survive in today's economy. I am delighted that the Association is using these awards to focus attention on the needs of the small business community."

Kustra, a Republican, is serving his second term in the Illinois General Assembly, his first in the Illinois Senate. His committee assignments include Elementary and Secondary Education, Finance and Credit Regulations, Appropriations II, and Labor and Commerce.

Daley says Illinois Bell saved $26 million during strike

Daley seeks refund of Bell's strike profits

East Maine Schools Hold Teachers Institute

The Institute Planning Committee of East Main School District #63 announced that Mr. Jim Bellanca, Director of the Illinois Renewal Institute, Inc., was the keynote speaker at the Teachers' Institute held at Gemini School on Monday, August 29th. The program began with welcoming messages from Larry Solomon, Board of Education President, and Dr. Donald C. Stetina, Associate Superintendent.

Dr. Donald E. Bond, Superintendent, spoke to the staff on "Focusing on Excellence in the 1980's School Year". Mr. Bellanca's presentation, "Increasing Student Achievement Through Positive Discipline", was followed by three concurrent sessions which the teachers attended. Leaders of these sessions were Mr. Bellanca, Terry London, Elmhurst College, and Dr. Barbara Core, Clinical Psychologist.

Cook County State's Attorney Richard M. Daley has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) to order the telephone company to refund to consumers the millions of dollars it is saving by not paying striking workers.

Daley also said that his office is opposing Illinois Bell Telephone Co.'s request for a $310 million rate hike.

Bell has saved an estimated $10 million every week its workers have been on strike. These savings have already surpassed the $21.8 million rate hike granted Bell on July 13. If the strikers return to work Thursday, the company will have saved about $26 million.

"The telephone company is a public utility and that means that, by law, it can only charge enough to cover its costs and make a closely regulated profit," Daley said. "This $10 million a week is a bonanza that should go toward cutting telephone bills."

Daley also said he will ask the ICC to order refunds for disruptions in service during the strike.

"When customers pay their telephone bills, they pay for full service," he said. "And since they weren't getting what they paid for, they deserve a partial refund."

Approximately 22,500 Illinois Bell employees walked off the job at midnight Aug. 6. According to union figures, the national average wage for striking Bell employees is $438 a week plus benefits, totaling more than $10 million a week for Illinois Bell strikers.

Daley said his office has already intervened before the ICC on Bell's reorganization plans. Bell's most recent $310 million rate-hike request is an outgrowth of those plans, he said. The State's Attorney's Office is disputing the amounts of user charges Bell is claiming are made necessary by the federal court-ordered reorganization, said Patrick Giordano, head of the Utilities Unit.

"We believe this huge request is way out of line and we will fight it all the way," Daley said. "This latest request would put Bell's rate hikes at well over half a billion dollars in a little more than a year. That's just too much for the public to bear." Bell was granted rate hikes of $207.2 million on May 8, 1982 and $21.8 million on July 13.

An analysis of Bell's latest rate-hike request shows that Chicago-area customers would

Oakton students never too old to learn

So what if Ozzie and Harriet Nelson had their own television show - Park Ridge's Ed and Harriet Nelson can beat that - they go to college together. Harriet is 65 years old and Ed will be 74 in November. Ed will earn his associate of arts degree in liberal arts from Oakton Community College in December.

"People say that it's unusual that we're going to school, but I don't care if it's unusual. It keeps my mind busy," said Ed, a 1928 Lane Tech graduate.

Ed began taking classes in 1974 at OCCC's old Oakton Grove campus. He's earned 73 credit hours and has maintained a "B" average.

"After I retired (as a sheet metal engineer), I wanted to either find a job or go to school. I couldn't find a job - you know it's tough out there now - so I decided to come to school."

Ed admitted to being a little apprehensive about starting school at Oakton. But it didn't take long for him to adjust to college life.

"You gotta remember that I hadn't gone to school in 40 or 50 years," he said. "I was a little worried about competing with the 18 and 19 year olds. You lose your memory a little when you get older, but I just concentrate a little more to make up for it."

Harriet, a 1936 Maine East graduate, already had some night classes under her belt when she retired last year from her job as an executive secretary.

"I always wanted a college education," she said. "I never really was able to do it before, though, because I worked and was busy raising a family. At first everybody kind of stays away when they see you're older, but I've made friends at Oakton.

"There's no special reason for that," assured Harriet. "He does his thing and I do mine. I'm a history buff, so I take as many history courses as I can." Ed said he particularly enjoyed classes in American Government and the Earth, Sea and Sky.

"I don't think school's all that different now than it used to be, though I guess it is a little more fast-paced," Ed said.

"I couldn't believe it," Harriet countered, "when I saw youngsters coming out of math class with computers in their hands. I guess things have changed a bit."

People just aren't used to seeing people like us going to school," Harriet said as she plans to earn an associate of arts degree at Oakton, too. "It won't be for a couple of years, though, because I only take six credit hours a semester," she said.

The six class hours Harriet spends a week at Oakton represents only a portion of the time she spends at the Des Plaines campus. After having heart surgery 10 years ago, it's important that Harriet walks a lot in order to keep good circulation in her legs.

"I walk four to five miles around the school every day. That's why I wear these shoes," she said pointing to her white Adidas gym shoes. "I sort of have a course lined out so I know just how far I'm going. I also swim at the YMCA," she added.

Physical activity is a must for Harriet so that she can remain healthy. Both she and Ed believe that going to school at Oakton has enabled them to stay healthy in another way - mentally.

"Going to school keeps my mind busy," voiced Ed. "To be honest, I didn't think I'd hang on this long when I started coming to school, but I'm glad I've continued - otherwise I'd be sitting in a rocking chair. I don't want to do that because I'm the kind of person who needs to keep busy. Besides, (Harriet) needs someone to carry her books," he said jokingly.

Harriet and Ed have taken a variety of classes at Oakton, though they've never enrolled together in the same class.

"I couldn't believe it," Harriet countered, "when I saw youngsters coming out of math class with computers in their hands. I guess things have changed a bit."

Once every 15 seconds there's a residential burglary in the U.S. Will it happen to you?

You should make provisions to facilitate recovery or reimbursement in case you ARE burglarized. You'll need a detailed list of losses, proof of ownership, and documentation of value.

Start with a household inventory. Go through each room, every closet and every drawer, listing your possessions. Photos are a good idea. Valuables should be appraised individually by an expert.

Homeowners insurance offers coverage for most household items, up to the limits of your policy, but valuables such as jewelry, furs, and artwork should be scheduled on a personal articles floater.

Insurance protection is more important than ever. Discuss it with the knowhow people at:

SCHOOL NEWS

Classes offered at Roosevelt

Chartered Life Underwriter and Chartered Financial Consultant programs will be offered by Roosevelt University's Division of Non-Credit Programs this Fall in cooperation with the Chicago Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters. Graduate level courses leading to a Master of Science in Financial Services or a Master of Science in Management will also be offered by the university's Division of Non-Credit Programs. Classes will meet at both the downtown campus and at the university's Northwest Campus in Arlington Heights, starting the week of Sept. 12. For more information call Roosevelt at 341-3637.

School Safety Week

Gov. James R. Thompson has proclaimed the week of Aug. 28-Sept. 1 as "School's Open Safety Week" in Illinois and has urged all motorists to exercise caution whenever and wherever school children are present. "Again this fall, the School Safety Patrols will be guarding their classmates, many of whom will be encountering new and unfamiliar traffic hazards without adult guidance for the first time," Thompson said in his proclamation.

It has been 63 years since officials of the AAA-Chicago Motor Club first devised the School Safety Patrol concept: older, more responsible students protecting the lives of their younger classmates. The patrols later were adopted as a national project by the American Automobile Association and are now international in scope.

AAA-CMC's "School's Open" publicity campaign further calls attention to the traffic safety problems created by youngsters returning to classes. The Club has distributed thousands of School's Open traffic safety posters to municipalities around the state for the 36th year.

Nels Pierson, AAA-CMC president, stressed the important role parents and other drivers play in traffic safety. "Ninety-three per cent of all children injured enroute to or from school are struck at locations where there is no type of special school crossing protection such as Safety Patrols, adult guards or police officers."

Wins Scholarship

Wendy S. Smason of Lincolnwood was one of three winners of scholarships presented by William C. Burk, president of the Chicago Press Club.

The Chicago Press Club awards scholarships annually to children of members based on accomplishments in high school and career plans. Miss Smason is the daughter of Edmund S. Smason, president of Smason Public Relations, and resides at 6922 N. Kenton ave.

Miss Smason, who received $550, graduated with honors from Niles West Township High School, where she was on the staff of the school paper, West World. She will attend the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, where she is enrolled in the school of communications.

Suzuki Guitar class at LTY

The Leaning Tower YMCA offers Suzuki guitar lessons for children 6-12 years old. The Suzuki method, first developed for violin, enables children to learn music the same way they learn their native language - by listening to, recognizing and repeating sound patterns.

Myrna Lande, Director of Children's Education at the Old Town School of Music has adapted the Suzuki method to the guitar and has been teaching children at the Leaning Tower YMCA for the past year.

According to Lande, "the Suzuki method lends itself well to small group instruction. This allows parents the opportunity to introduce their children to music. Children must provide their own guitar and 6 and 7 year olds must be accompanied by a parent in class. A seven week Beginning Suzuki class will start Thursday September 15 from 4-4:45 p.m. Registration is in progress at the YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy ave. in Niles.

De Lourdes religious program

De Lourdes College has announced a new program in Religious Studies designed to aid teachers of religion. The Religious Studies Training Program has been set up to meet the needs of volunteer teachers involved in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine programs in local Catholic parishes.

Charles Lynch, Director of Development at De Lourdes, said that the focus of the program will be on, "providing volunteer teachers with the tools necessary to feel comfortable in the classroom and help them communicate their faith to the children they encounter." "In devising the program we talked to many local parishes and they told us of the need for practical help for their teachers," Lynch went on. "Heavy theology is not what they need, but ideas on how to pray with children and how to relate the stories of the Bible," said Lynch.

The "Nuggets" Say Thanks

Dear Editor:
Now that the 1983 Niles "Nuggets" semi-pro baseball team's season has come to an end, we would like to express our appreciation and thank the people who make everything possible. First we would like to thank our children, Lee and Jim. They continually give of themselves unselfishly and are understanding and supportive.

Thank you to the Bugle staff for printing weekly articles about the Nuggets, thus keeping the community aware of our progress, we are so grateful to you.

Thanks to the people in the Niles Baseball League who gave us moral support when we were getting the Niles "Nuggets" started and who continue to support our efforts.

A big thank you to the members of the Niles Park District who never fail to keep the fields in Niles maintained beautifully. Thanks to Jim Jekot who always has Notre Dame's field in perfect condition and ready for play, also to Jim's boss Tom Lippert who gives permission for him to do it.

Thank you to all the men who tried out for the "Nuggets" and to the men who are on the team for their enthusiasm and dedication to the team. Thank you to our sponsor, Bannigan's Tavern, 8490 Golf Rd., in Niles, which helped to support the "Nuggets" for their second season and have pledged their support for next season. Thank you to all the wonderful people who have become Friends of the 1983 "Nuggets", we couldn't do it without you.

Because of all the support both morally and financially, the "Nuggets" can represent Niles and themselves with a sense of

MG Mayor responds to accusations

Dear Editor:
In recent letters to the editor John Hilkin has attacked me relative to my health insurance through the Village of Morton Grove and my not allowing him to speak at a village meeting when the budget was approved. Mr. Hilkin has asked for my resignation because of the above accusations. I am in public life and expect and respect the right to criticize, but I do not respect hypocritical half truths and misstatements of fact. The Village did, in fact, provide health insurance for me, but what Mr. Hilkin did not mention was that I was devoting from 35 hours to 50 hours per week to my duties as Mayor and my salary as Mayor and liquor commissioner is $4,800 per year; that previous mayors devoted less than 10 hours per week to the position and finally that practically every village in our area provides health insurance for their Mayor or Village President.

The Village Administration and Village Board members were fully aware of the health insurance and believed that the providing of coverage was both earned and consistent with the law and customary practices of other communities. In regard to not allowing Mr. Hilkin to speak, it is true that I did not allow him to break into the regular order of our Village meeting, but he was allowed to speak at the proper time during the citizens comments' portion of the meeting. The procedure for the past 20 years during village meetings is to allow residents to make their comments at this time and Mr. Hilkin was not in any manner prevented from doing so at the proper time.

Mr. Hilkin further complained that his comments related to the budget which has already been passed when he was given the opportunity to speak. What Mr. Hilkin did not mention was that there were eight prior public meetings to discuss the budget before it was presented to the Board for their approval. At those meetings the public, including Mr. Hilkin, were present and they were given full opportunity to make their comments or suggestions. Mr. Hilkin, by his own admission, stated that he was absent or late for some of those meetings and because of that he had the absolute right to "break into" the regular procedure for the village meetings. Actually, what Mr. Hilkin is stating is that because he is late or absent from a meeting, some 20 years of rules of procedure should be "thrown out the window", to accommodate his lack of diligence.

The Village meeting has an agenda and follows an orderly procedure. I do not think it is fair to other residents in attendance to disturb that order by giving special treatment to a demanding individual who, by his own fault, created the problem about which he is now complaining.

In response to Mr. Hilkin's asking for my resignation, I respectfully decline his request, although I must admit those aren't exactly the words I'd like to use to express my thoughts on that subject.

I might also suggest that if Mr. Hilkin wants to be critical of village government or officials, he should look back to the time he was a trustee and recall some of the incidents of that shameful administration.

Richard T. Flickinger
Mayor

Two adult day care centers open

A new and important opportunity for seniors age 60 and older in Glenview, Mt. Prospect and adjoining communities will become available this fall when Parkside Human Services (PHS), Park Ridge, opens two new adult day care centers. The new centers will make it possible for more seniors to take advantage of the rehabilitation-oriented programming and skilled care that has been available to participants of PHS's Des Plaines program for the past three years. For many impaired seniors, it means a reliable convenient and more affordable alternative to costly nursing home placement or home nursing services. For their families, it means welcome relief from constantly caring for a loved one who requires supervision because of physical or mental impairments.

The new day care centers will be modeled after PHS's Des Plaines program, located at 9375 Church St., in the former Shelly Nathanson Elementary School. According to Ellen Browne, director of PHS's Older Adult Services (OAS) program which oversees the day care centers and other programs for seniors, each of the new centers will have a staff consisting of a nurse, a social worker and an activity director. The staffs will be assisted by volunteers in all phases of programming.

The Glenview adult day care center, located in the Avoca West School at 235 Beech Dr., is scheduled to open in late September. The Glenview Chapter of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) has been responsible for much of the groundwork. The AAUW determined that there was a need for adult day care in Glenview, and investigated existing programs in order to bring the best possible program to their community. Older Adult Services' day care center had, according to AAUW representative Phyllis Ziegler of Glenview, "The type of center we wanted to see in our town."

When the Glenview Center opens, it will share space with Parkside Human Services children's day care program. PHS operates a similar children's program in the Des Plaines facility. Combined activities between the children and the seniors promise to make this an exciting, innovative center that fosters intergenerational understanding and respect. "We are very excited at the prospect of conducting programs with the seniors and the children in Glenview," says Browne. "Both groups can derive so much from each other."

Coordinator of the Glenview adult day care center will be Pat Cohen of Des Plaines. Cohen is an assistant director of Older Adult Services. Peggy Sandberg, LPN, of Morton Grove, has been named staff nurse for Glenview.

There are no geographical restrictions for any of Older Adult Services' adult day care centers. However, an assessment by the staff is required before a new participant can begin the program. Assessment appointments for the day care centers are available now. To schedule an appointment, or for additional information regarding Older Adult Services' adult day care program in Des Plaines, Glenview and Mt. Prospect, phone 696-7770.

Taxpayers should attend Library board meetings

Dear Editor:
In this time of high real estate taxes, taxing bodies should be trying to lower their budgets.

The Niles Public Library District, under the leadership of its president, Harry Pestine, is putting forth zero effort in trying to lower their budget. In the last two years, the library district has accumulated a surplus of $650,000, which was put into the building fund. This surplus is the unused portion of the taxes collected from the homeowners of Niles and not used. Expansion of the Main Library will exceed one million dollars. The taxpayers of Niles should have been involved in the decision of expanding the Main Library. The taxpayers of Niles were involved six years ago when the Library Board wanted to expand the Main Library and buy a Branch Library for 1.5 million dollars. This would have cost the taxpayers of Niles 20 cents a year. This proposal was defeated by the voters.

Mr. Pestine has explained to the Board that this current library expansion would not cost the taxpayers any extra taxes. This information is correct. Unfortunately, Mr. Pestine failed to inform the board that taxes could have been lowered this year by 10% and next year by 15%, a savings of about $4.50 per homeowner.

Part of the extra surplus, which was put into the building fund, comes from decreased fringe benefits. Fringe benefits were taken away from the Staff, because Mr. Pestine informed the Board that the Library District could not afford it. Staff salaries are one of the lowest in the immediate area of other libraries. How can we keep good librarians, when they can earn more elsewhere?

The last two administrators have informed the Board that the library's book collection should be improved. Funds allocated to the book collection should have been increased rather than having a surplus of money. Don't you think it's about time that the Niles Public Library District taxpayers start coming to the Library Board Meetings to find out how their tax money is being spent. Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of every month at 7 p.m. at the Main Library.

Martin Hodess
Past Board Member

Northwest Italian American Society

From a heritage built upon the ashes of a glorious Rome, our people have developed a reputation for compassion, honor, intelligence, and good works.

It is in this spirit that the Northwest Italian American Society brings us all together as one large family. Our reasons for being are simply companionship and the raising of funds to achieve our goals of aiding our brothers and sisters of all nationalities.

It was in September of 1967 that a group of businessmen from the Niles Area discussed organizing the Northwest Italian American Society. On November 20, 1967, the Northwest Italian American Society elected Edward Ciccone President.

The purpose of this organization is to serve the mentally retarded, handicapped and less fortunate people throughout the Chicagoland and Suburban areas.

There have been a number of donations made to organizations such as the Lions Club of Niles, Little City, joint civic committees of Italian Americans for Columbus Day, Niles Days Parades, Niles Memorial Post 7712, The VFW of Hines Hospital, Cub Scout Packs, Salvation Army, Pop Warner Junior League, St. John Brebeuf and St. Juliana, Shreiner Hospital for Crippled Children, Italian American War Veterans, Hines Hospital Canteen, Niles Park District, Andrew Ciabattari Memorial Gardens, Italian American Hall of Fame, War Veterans, Italian Relief Fund for Earth Quake Victims, Festa Italiano, Pasquale Mazzulla Post, Sponsors of St. John's Festival, and St. Isaac Jogues St. Joseph's Table.

Over the past 15 years, this Society has donated in excess of $35,000 to worthwhile projects as listed above. The object of the Society is also to promote Italian Americans who have and are dedicated to giving a helping hand.

Finally, it should be noted that although the Society carries the name of the Northwest Italian American, this organization is open to every nationality, race or creed. The Society welcomes in any new members who wish to participate in aiding our cause by attending the regular meetings the second Tuesday of every month at Lone Tree Inn, 7710 Milwaukee ave. or contacting Secretary, Nicholas Gargano at 823-5009.

The following past Presidents would supply you with an application if you are interested in becoming a member. ## Halley to attend training program

Niles Police Sgt. Daniel Halley has been chosen to attend an intensive police administration program at Northwestern University. The program will be funded by a state administered grant.

The highway safety grant has been awarded to the Village of Niles to fund comprehensive Police Traffic Training for the Police Department. The Illinois Department of Transportation, Division of Traffic Safety, announced approval of the grant recently.

According to Chief of Police Clarence Emrickson, the grant will provide seventy-five percent of the cost to send Sergeant Halley to the "Police Administration Training Program" at the Northwestern University Traffic Institute. Total cost of the project will be approximately $7,263.

Topics studied during the course include traffic accident investigation, data evaluation, traffic law, and administration of police traffic services. Upon completion of the training Sergeant Halley will be expected to provide information to the department which would be used to increase the effectiveness of the department's traffic officers.

Italian Flag at Yorktown

This month Yorktown Insurance Agency applauds Niles residents of Italian heritage. Gracing its staff is the Italian National flag adopted in 1861.

Today the vertical tricolor banner of green, denoting the rights of Man to liberty and equality, white and red symbolizes a united Italy. Napoleon Bonaparte supposedly designed this striking flag for his First Italian Campaign in 1796. By 1815, however, the tricolor fell in to disfavor when Napoleon met with defeat.

It was during this period of history that Mexico adopted an identical tricolor design. The King of Sardinia, who is given credit for sowing the seeds for a united Italy, reinstated Napoleon's flag and requested Mexico change her colors. An acceptable compromise resolved that each nation place a distinguished emblem in the center of their banner. The Sardinian King charged his coat of arms on the field of white. The crest remained the national flag of Italy until after World War II

Yorktown is proud to fly the National Italian flag in honor of the many Italians who have settled and served in the Niles Community.

Units Available at Terrace Square

Homebuyers choose a two bedroom over a one bedroom home for many different reasons, according to one condominium community developer.

Says Peter Edelmann, general manager of Terrace Square: "We have empty nesters moving out of a single home who want the extra roominess the second bedroom offers them. Others are planning a child soon and are buying their next home with that in mind."

"Some want the extra room to entertain business guests or a relative. Still others enjoy using it as a hobby room, den or library."

Edelmann says that resale is often the biggest reason why people buy a two bedroom home. "Many people feel their home's value will be increased with the extra bedroom to offer."

The demand for two bedrooms has been so high at the new Niles community, located at 9737 Fox Glen Dr., that the developer, Southmark Communities, recently changed its housing "mix" from 12, two bedrooms per building to 34 per building.

Terrace Square is a 564-unit condominium community near Golf Mill Shopping Center that is more than 80% sold out. It is offering both one and two bedroom homes priced from $55,900 to $93,000 with living areas ranging from 748 to 1391 s.f. Home price includes membership in a $1-4 million fully-completed clubhouse with pool, saunas, exercise room, meeting rooms and indoor recreational facilities. To visit Terrace Square, take Golf Road one-half mile west of Milwaukee ave. and turn north at Deer Rd. The community is located one block north of Golf on Deer Rd.

Bell & Howell offers instructional design seminar

Bell & Howell will sponsor a two-day seminar September 29 and 30 to examine the latest developments in computer assisted instruction and teach the basics of instructional design. Attendees will gain "hands on" experience designing computer-based training and come away with a free software package to apply their new skills.

The two day workshop begins with a refresher of principles and techniques for instructional design and expands into major instructional methods. The program will highlight why companies favor computers over "classroom" instruction and the ease of courseware design with the help of authoring languages. Discussion topics include: appropriate situations for CAI usage, the gathering of resource material, principles of task and concept analysis and formal lesson plan developments and flow charts.

All workshops will be held in Bell & Howell's Center for Interactive Communications in Lincolnwood. The $545 seminar cost includes two days of instruction, the Executive Briefing software, an instructional design handbook, complimentary lunches and coffee breaks both days, a special discount rate at the Hyatt Lincolnwood, and transportation from the hotel to the site. Contact Nancy Simon Harris at Bell & Howell, Interactive Communications Division, 312/262-1600 or 673-3300 for further information. Attendees must be confirmed by September 26 to qualify for the free Executive Briefing System.

Students never prepare to train their eyes for reading so that they can become Honor Roll Stars. But athletes, for example, require preparation for becoming Sports Stars.
Dr. Chester J. Nowak, O.D., has a program that trains students in the special skills they require to become Stars in the classroom by using their eye vision effectively.

M-NASR softball tournament

The Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR) participated in a softball tournament Saturday, Aug. 6 in Joliet. The tournament was hosted by the Special Recreation Association of Joliet and Channahon. Twelve Special Recreation Associations participated in the Double Elimination Tournament for mentally handicapped teens and adults. M-NASR brought home a second place trophy. The team's success has been attributed to the many home runs and good fielding throughout the tournament.

Players were: Bill Youngquist, Ed Prize, Edgar Solarte, Jay Masha, Gary Noosbond, Joseph Kovall, Jack Revesz, Bruce Bialik, Barry Beck, Scott Irion, and Barb Kautz. The team known as the Wildcats, was coached by M-NASR Recreation Specialist, Carol Wiechman. Volunteer coaches were Bob Burke and Francis Jatco.

Red Sox tournament champs

The Red Sox overall record was 16-5-1 including their last seven wins in a row.

The Red Sox team played good fundamental baseball stressing good pitching, solid defense and alert baserunning. Seven of the 12 Red Sox made the All Star teams.

Solid pitching by Kevin Foss, Tim O'Grady and Tony Garces paced the 83 Red Sox. Catchers Steve Callas and Ken Chmielinski often threw out opposing baserunners. Brian O'Grady was the team's best hitter. He and other Red Sox hitters had many opportunities to drive in the "invisible" men, Frankie Biga and Jim Mazik (in many games Biga and Mazik went 0 for 0 with four walks and thus had no official game at bats).

In the playoffs in 100 degree heat the Red Sox used their magic formula of pitching and defense to beat the Orioles 9-8 and 4-3 and in the championship game they beat the Padres 12-2.

The Red Sox were sponsored by Eagle Sheet Metal.

Countdown...Or Up?

In a hospital you might be asked to "count-up" to a hundred. In a space mission at the Cape it's a "countdown".

Like life, it's just a question of where you're at, at a given time. More often than not, it's fate or kismet that dictates the circumstances. And, often the circumstances make the person a champ or a chump.

Take me. Last Sunday my car was in the repair shop so I used "shanksmare" to visit the Greek Fest '83, sponsored by St. Haralambus Greek Orthodox Church. I enjoyed myself with Gyros, homemade pasteries, and taking a chance for the prizes.

While there, and later elsewhere, I became puzzled by a mystery. It seems, people from Niles whom I knew were counting aloud.

Leaving the "Fest" a friend drove me to Arvey's Restaurant & Lounge. The cool bar and cold straight ahead, a half finished cocktail glass in her hand but I couldn't help but overhear what she was saying aloud (as tho to herself):

"It was that pause between the lunch and dinner hour and the only other person at the bar was a personable, 40ish blonde well attired in summer white coordinated chic threads. She was staring straight ahead, a half finished cocktail glass in her hand but I couldn't help but overhear what she was saying aloud (as tho to herself):

"Jeden, Dwa, Trzy, Cztery, Piec, dolar trzydziesci."

There it was again - people counting. Having been born and reared among Polish people I knew she, too like so many people I'd heard that day were counting aloud to themselves.

Had the heat affected my brain? Was I imagining that scads of people I heard that day were counting aloud? Why?

The blonde lady turned her head and her eyes saw the stare of amazement in mine. Abruptly, she gulped down her drink and left. The bartender returned, and he, too, was counting, but in Spanish. "Like another beer?" he said to me.

"No," I said, paused and added, "Say do you live in Niles?"

"Yes, I do, sir, he said with a smile.

Now under new management, Dinner Theatre is back at the Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles. "Playhouse at the Mill" will open September 22nd with Neil Simon's very funny "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers". A delightful comedy all can relate to, tells of a nice guy with a rather routine life, looking for adventures. Chuck-full of laughs. "Playhouse at the Mill" begins in the elegant dining room of Gus Petratos and Nick Gannis's Millionaires Club. Dinner (salad, rolls, choice of entree and potato, beverage and topped by dessert) is served two hours before show

I paid my bill, left a tip and departed.

The blonde lady was sitting in her car parked on Waukegan Road in front of Pankau's drug store. She seemed to be staring at the full page ad from THE BUGLE NEWSPAPER hanging in his window. She appeared to also be counting on her fingers as tho comparing the advertised sale values.

As I passed her car I glanced at the windshield noting the Niles vehicle sticker.

Perhaps, I had the common denominator always needed in solving mysteries. But I still couldn't put it together.

As I trudged down Waukegan Road towards Milwaukee Avenue I passed a brick bungalow where I observed a young girl, six or seven, playing jacks on the sidewalk with a red rubber ball. As she bounced the red ball she called up to her parents who were sitting on the front porch, "See, one two buckle my shoe, three four shut the door, five six pick up sticks."

A little further toward Milwaukee Ave., was a young boy sitting in the parkway with pad and pencil in his hand. When a car drove by he wrote down the license number, then said it aloud GS 9904.

Now even the kids were doing it. Counting... Counting...

It wasn't until I came to Milwaukee and Touhy and saw the large sign on the building opposite that I finally put it all together and had the answer.

THIS WAS THE SIGN I SAW:

Playhouse at the Mill opens

Your Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

The most valuable and pampered work of art in the world

It's the priceless Mona Lisa, painted by the famed Leonardo da Vinci. Just about everything has happened to this most prized and painting of all time. It was pampered painting of all time. It was confiscated by the Nazis, stolen by Vincenzo Peruggia, an employee of the Louvre museum, in Paris. Leonardo da Vinci had painted the lady with the mysterious smile on wood instead of canvas, so that Paruggia couldn't cut it out of its frame, roll it up and shove it under his coat. Instead he cleverly managed to spirit it to his apartment where it remained in the false bottom of a truck for more than two years. After the "heat" died down, he attempted to sell it to his native Italy but Italian officials had him arrested and returned the most valuable painting of all-time to France where it now hangs again around the world. And, hand carved wooden frames made by a master craftsman are available in many styles and sizes which can enhance these wonderful works of art. Who knows? The oil painting you may purchase at the DEMPSTER PLAZA STATE BANK. Dempster and Greenwood, Niles, now may someday be worth a great deal of money. You can purchase one or more for a mere pittance during DEMPSTER PLAZA'S great world wide Art Show.

"The Yeomen of the Guard"

Colonel Fairfax (Dan Kane of Chicago) and Elsie Maynard (Joan Culler of Westchester) enjoy a romantic interlude in Gilbert & Sullivan's "The Yeomen of the Guard". The operetta will be performed by the Savoy-aire at Centre East Auditorium in Skokie on Sept. 1-4. For ticket information, call 673-6300. Photo by Robert Kraft.

The King & His Court

Softball's super showman, Eddie (The King) Feigner, will lead his four-man softball team, The King & His Court against a full-sized 9 man team at Thillens Stadium, Devon and Kedzie in Chicago, on September 9 and 10 at 8:30 p.m. In his 38th successive season on the road, the athletically built Feigner is still firing away at 105 mph speeds, exhibiting some 30 different pitches and striking out the side as if on command. To amuse fans, he pitches between his legs and blindfolded. He has been profiled in Sports Illustrated, interviewed on numerous TV talk shows and featured in TV commercials for Miller High Life. Last August he was also on Charles Kuralt's Sunday morning on CBS. Since beginning the beer commercial in mid-season of 1981, he has had SFO all over, indicating he is reaching an entirely new audience. His team includes Dave Barnett at short stop, comic-first baseman Gary West, and his son, Eddie Feigner, Jr. as catcher. For more information, call 743-5140.

"Bright Ideas" show up at Mindscape Gallery

Some of the most illuminating ideas for the home now come, not from large manufacturers, but from the private studios of craftspeople around the country. So, for those in search of a little brilliance, it's time to see "Bright Ideas in Contemporary Crafts." The exhibition is scheduled from September 1 thru September 30, when a select group of contemporary artists will display their specialties - lighting fixtures - at Mindscape Gallery, 1521 Sherman ave. in Evanston.

Featured in "Bright Ideas" are a wide variety of hanging chandeliers, floor, table and wall lamps - the one-of-a-kind creations of 10 professional designers-craftsmen. Offerings include enormous, illuminated floor sculptures constructed by ceramist Dennis Kirchmann; table lamps with intricately and colorfully glazed floral designs by Santa Barbara Ceramic Design; and elegant, nouveau-inspired designs in blown glass by Californian Donald Carlson. Other media include forged metal, stoneware, porcelain and raku ceramics. Gallery hours are Tuesday - Saturday 10-6, Thursday 1-9 and Sunday 1-4. For more information about "Bright Ideas in Contemporary Crafts," phone Mindscape Gallery at 864-2660.

Alcoholism play held at LGH

"Lady on the Rocks", a play designed to increase understanding of alcoholism will be presented at 8 p.m. on Monday, September 12, in the Olson Auditorium of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

The 30-minute play is presented by the Lutheran General Players, a group of professional and amateur actors from the community. It is presented in cooperation with the Maine Township Council on Alcoholism. A discussion period follows the presentation.

The play clearly shows the effect of alcoholism on a family. Deborah, a sophisticated, suburban wife and mother develops the illness of alcoholism but doesn't recognize this, Mark, her husband, a successful executive does not understand his wife's problem and consequently, does all the wrong things in dealing with her illness.

Their teenage son, Danny, is greatly aware of his mother's problem, but rejects the advice of his girlfriend, Sue, whose father is a recovering alcoholic.

"Lady on the Rocks", written by Elizabeth Blake, was commissioned by the National Council on Alcoholism. It has been presented throughout the country.

The play is designed to increase public awareness that alcoholism is a treatable illness and helps Lutheran General communicate information about alcoholism.

The play is offered free of charge. For more information, phone the Lutheran Center for Substance Abuse at 696-5680.

The play also will be presented to clubs, religious groups, or businesses upon request. Further information may be obtained by phoning the Lutheran Center for Substance Abuse.

Self-Service Car Wash flows with ecology

A short drive to the area of Dempster and Harlem in Niles will bring you a brand-new playground of high-powered, jet spray water fun. No, it's not something for the kids...it's for cars!

National Pride Self-Service Car Wash, recently celebrating its Grand Opening, is situated next to Sportmart on Dempster, west of Harlem.

What sets National Pride apart from other car washes is the self-service concept, letting car owners who prefer washing their cars themselves do a better than usual job thanks to the extra boost behind National Pride's technology. Here you'll find car cleaning features you'd never be able to duplicate at home; like their hand-held wash wand with a half-ton water pressure, warmed to a hearty 120 degrees Fahrenheit to blast away dirt, salt and road film.

Looking from a water ecology angle, National Pride surpasses both tunnel washes and at-home handwashing, ironically. The self-service system uses only 1/10th the water an average person would use washing his car at home, uses about one quarter the water a conventional tunnel wash does, and even uses less water than your average morning shower.

Washing your car at National Pride results in custom, personally-selected treatment, because you choose your own cleansing series at the turn of a dial. A special whitewall cleaner, engine cleaner and hot lemon wax is built right into their system. And since you control the hand-held wand, you can direct the powerful jet spray at stubborn dirt along rocker panels, under wheelwells, behind chrome strips and even under the body of your car.

The coin operated car wash is 75¢ for a four-minute cycle. Car vacuums to deep-clean interior carpet, upholstery and trunk is 25¢.

At the National Pride factory in Ohio, research and development is underway on various types of solar panels, to be utilized for heating car wash floors in winter, and water tanks in summer. Planning to cost efficiently manufacture the panels themselves, National Pride hopes to use the energy savings to keep car wash prices steady over the coming years.

Free for the asking: National Pride's booklet on car washing tips, "How To Really Do It". Write to Cindy Gallaber, National Pride, Inc., 3201 W. Lake st., Melrose Park, IL 60160.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

By Dr. Leonard Pock

FOOT ARCH TROUBLES

The arch may well be the one part of your foot that supports your entire body. Made up of various bones, it acts like a spring. It absorbs the natural shocks from walking. If overburdened and subjected to wear and tear, it can weaken and cause problems.

An improperly functioning arch causes foot pain, burning, chronic fatigue, even painful calluses. The arch lowers and rolls inward. Tendons become displaced. Muscles and ligaments must work harder, longer, and out of harmony, with related muscle groups.

Your podiatrist may suggest an orthotic device, a biomechanical insert for your shoe designed to help restore normal functioning to the damaged muscles, ligaments and out-of-line bony structures.

St. Francis to Hold Blood Drive

Each day, Chicago area hospitals served by the Blood Center of Northern Illinois use 250 units of blood to provide transfusions and blood components for their patients. This Blood Center provides blood for St. Francis Hospital of Evanston and 24 other Chicago area hospitals, but each summer, the blood supply runs dangerously low. So, on Tuesday, Sept. 13 from 8 a.m. through 5 p.m., St. Francis Hospital will host a blood drive.

You can donate blood if you are in good health, are between the ages of 17 and 65, weigh at least 110 pounds, and have not donated blood within the past eight weeks. The entire process takes twenty minutes. But the main reason to give blood is that it's needed.

To make an appointment to donate blood on Sept. 13, call the volunteer services office at St. Francis Hospital, 492-2255.

While down in the area an early morning breakfast at the Randolph Market Cafe just east of Elizabeth or a lunch at Barney's Market Club at Halsted is a must. It's all part of being there.

If you're in an omelet mood, Lou Mitchell's on west Jackson Blvd. is a treat. While you're being seated, Lou, himself, gives you a box of Milk Duds as a special treat. It's not one of the great moments in a gourmet's early morning quest, but it's a little extra touch and it makes it a fun place to go.

Early morning chow hounds can also head further south to Clinton and Roosevelt roads where Manny's wrestles up some first class French toast. He uses a thick egg bread (challah to "in people") which makes the toast wider and broader and admittedly tastier.

After breakfast head back north to Marshall Field's basement and wander underground in Chicago's sub-basement. You can head southwest to the Civic Center and on to other subterranean areas which gives you another view of Chicago.

While neither the marketplace nor boring underground sounds equal to a day at the circus, nevertheless, it gives you another view of Chicago.

Eating places in and around the city so abound you could probably chow down three times a day for three or four years and not complete the circuit of good eating.

While in the central city, you could wander over to the Taylor Street area by the University and dine at Florence's. It's a small intimate Italian white table-clothed restaurant which is a real find. It's small, and evenings require reservations. It's a lovely place to dine. Heading back north my number two daughter took us to Leona's on Belmont and Sheffield. It's a pizza-Italian beef restaurant filled with the young singles from the near northside. It's small and you'll have to wait in line but if you've got the time, it's fun to go there. The beef sandwiches ooze with that juicy stuff...and it's cheap.

Around the corner from Leona's is a great Swedish restaurant, Ann Sather's, in the 900 block on Belmont. We've mentioned it before. It's a very busy place. The food is excellent and moderately priced. If you've never had fruit soup or good Swedish Meatballs, head for Sather's.

Edging north, Irving Park Road has some great tavern-restaurants. Bisetti's and Schullens in the Damen Ave. area are excellent stop-offs.

If you're a prime rib lover, Noodles in the Austin-Higgins-Foster area has a $6.95 special on Tuesday nights which is super.

Eastward in the 3700 block on Broadway is Genes Junction. It's an intimate restaurant where we've seldom read notices about. It's name comes from the Lunt-Fontaine area in Wisconsin. It's stylish and the food is excellent.

You can see by this column eating has a definite priority in our lives. And why not? It's a lovely thing to do when the food is good, the surroundings are pleasant and the company blends in with these other good things.

Try a couple of our off-beat walks. And top them off at one of our many favorite food stops.

Burglaries ...

Continued from Page 1 youths had been involved in an October 1982 burglary at the Park Ridge Country Club during which time $1,400 cash was stolen.

When Park Ridge Police interviewed the three subjects a story began evolving in which these youths along with three others admitted committing at least 20 area burglaries.

Police report that only businesses, not homes, were burglarized during this spree.

Police in Niles, Morton Grove and Glenview have agreed not to file criminal charges against the six in exchange for full financial compensation to the businesses burglarized including for damage done to doors and windows during the break-ins.

However, Park Ridge Police have charged three of the six, who were involved with the Park Ridge Country Club burglary, with burglary and they will appear in juvenile court.

Police sources indicated, however, that since these youths have no prior convictions it is expected they will only be placed on probation and supervision if found guilty.

State law would allow a judge to sentence a minor to be held by the Illinois Department of Corrections if found guilty. However, police sources repeatedly indicated that as these youths have no prior convictions it is expected they will only be placed on probation and supervision if found guilty.

Niles Police Sgt. Jack Thompson said some of the youths might receive counseling during upcoming months. Additionally Thompson said the two Niles youths who confessed might be assigned to work on projects assigned through the Niles Park District.

Tree purchase ...

The vote was 3 to 1, with Trustee Ken Latos dissenting after voicing concern over what he thought was an "excessively high figure."

Absent from the meeting were Trustees Bruce Friedman, Raymond Hartstein and Cecile Vye.

It was during last month's board meeting the Trustees approved the purchase of a $35,158 Bosendorfer Grand Piano, regarded as the "Rolls Royce" of grand pianos, making Oakton the second junior college in the country to own one.

In other board action, by a 4 to 0 vote, the Trustees approved the appointment of Robert Lawler, currently Director of Student Activities, to an additional post as Occ. President W.A. Koehnline's Acting Assistant. Lawler will be paid an additional $1775.00 for this 4 month part-time position and is charged with aiding the President in reducing operational costs through "the combination, consolidation, or elimination of authorized positions," in an effort to save money on personnel.

MG Administrator ...

Observers of Bollingbrook said Artf's main legacy included professionalizing the day to day operation of the village.

Among his accomplishments included instituting the village's first purchasing policies and personnel manual.

Additionally Artf was responsible for creating a housing rehabilitation program in which money was funneled to low to moderate income households for maintaining and upgrading their homes.

Before working in Bollingbrook Artf was the assistant village manager and then village manager in Berkeley, Missouri.

Artf has a wife and two children.

Softball team ...

Cont. from Niles-E. Maine Pg. 1 wiak Park great defense and timely hitting led Niles to the championship of the North Shore police league.

Niles police captain Bill Terpinas reported Niles left fielder Greg Kapke made two great running catches. He added Niles infield played outstanding defense.

The one-sided 11 to 2 victory also resulted from consistent and timely hitting.

Niles won its south division championship with a 10 and 0 won and lost record. In the round robin elimination Niles was also undefeated. Behind Glenview's second place finish was third place Lincolnwood and fourth place Morton Grove.
