Maine East Homecoming

Homecoming 1983 breaks tradition under the theme of "Return of the Demons." A more popular alternative to the Mr. and Mrs. contest is the Hairy Legs contest, which was suggested by Maine East Student Council President Pattey Michaels of Niles. The contest consists of a sampling of the four best pairs of male legs in the school - one set from each class - as nominated by that particular class. During Homecoming voting, four buckets will be placed in the Girls' P.E. Conference Room, each with a picture of the entrant's legs. Students are encouraged to drop any extra pennies into the bucket of their choice. The winner will be determined by the number of pennies he receives. Afterwards, each class will receive the money its representative collected. Thursday, Sept. 29 is the last day of voting for this year's Homecoming King and Queen at Maine East. Ballots may be cast during the lunch periods in the Girls' P.E. Conference Room. The night also offers the annual Firelight Rally, to be held after the varsity soccer game. According to tradition, the M and E will

Blase ok's 'Ken Scheel' village hall

Niles village president, Nick Blase, agreed to renaming the village of Niles administration building in memory of former village manager Ken Scheel.

At a packed house meeting at the village chambers Tuesday night, Niles resident Len Berkowski submitted a petition with 2,264 names requesting the Scheel memorial. Blase said a committee of trustees (Ottow, Panek and Pesole) will join with representatives from Berkowski's group to decide on the "exact mode of expression". Blase, in the past, has been opposed to making any change of the name of the Niles Village administration building.

Nilesite George Leddy, after hearing Blase's vague reference to the wording of the memorial, asked the Mayor if the renaming of the building was acceptable to him. He answered Leddy, "Yes", and then referred to the need for

The snooties and the snobs are all over the place. They may only be a small minority of our neighbors but they're there and they're ever-present and they're worthy of The Bugle needle every now and then.

In the days our kids were at Maine East we always thought the Park Ridge brethren did a bit of one-upmanship on the proletarians from Niles and Morton Grove. When some professor from De Paul made his own personal one-man "scientific study" of Chicago-land high schools and determined Maine South was number one, we thought the old snootie-snobbiness was showing itself once again.

In subsequent years many of the troops at the north end of East Maine school district were being a bit uppity uppity in their desires to disannex from the district and move into the Glenview school district. They had seen the Mercedes set in the little town of Golf disannex from the Morton Grove-Niles school district 67, in favor of joining the Glenview district, and the East Mainers were aiming to follow the Golf blue bloods. Unfortunately for the East Maine social climbers, when you're zipping around town in one of those 4 cylinder gas savers, you're really not uppity uppity enough to move up and out. The four cylinder jobs

State Senator Robert J. Egan (D-7) (r) and Representative Ralph Capparelli (c) examine a chart on the Homestead Exemption with Governor James R. Thompson (l) during a press conference held Sept. 11, in the State of Illinois building.

The major bills signed by Thompson during the press session were the Homestead Exemption and Senior Citizen's Homestead Exemption increases both sponsored and passed by Senator Egan in the spring session.

The Homestead Exemption increase, which will be in effect on the 1983 real estate property tax bill, will now be increased from $3,000 to $3,500 for all property owners who live in their principal residence, be it a single family home, co-op or condominium.

This increase is the first since 1977 when Egan successfully sponsored an increase from $1,500 to $3,000. The new Homestead Exemption increase will mean a savings of approximately $50 for the average Chicago area property owner.

The Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption, also Egan's bill will be increased from $1,500 to $2,000. Senior citizens will be eligible to receive both the Homestead Exemption and the Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption on their 1983 real estate tax bill. According to Egan, in Chicago the average senior citizen will realize savings of approximately $100.53 (as shown by Thompson as he points to that figure on the chart).

Representative Ralph Capparelli and Senator Egan also co-sponsored the Homestead Improvement Exemption which was signed by the Governor on Sept. 11. This bill allows homeowners who have made property improvements that increased the value of their homes by $25,000 to make further improvements totaling $5,000 and still receive the exemption. This legislation will become effective as of Jan. 1, 1984.

After the signing ceremony, Egan said, "Today we have taken an important step in Illinois to help property owners who have too long carried an unfair tax burden."

United Way "needs" survey underway

Citizen input is needed! One of the main purposes of the United Way is to be sure that each contributory dollar it receives is used effectively. In order to do this, the United Way identifies community human care needs and prioritizes them. Confirms that its agencies and programs are capable of doing their jobs.

Tells the story of needs to the community and raises the necessary money. Allocates money contributed according to approved agency needs, and then Monitors agency performance.

Currently in pursuit of its needs identification function, it has gone to the various human care agencies, government, churches and synagogues and schools and now is going to the community-at-large for input in this matter.

Some towns have inserted questionnaires in their community newsletters asking citizens to respond. The Village Mayors are urging that people take some time to complete and return them as quickly as they can. The "times" being what they are, it's critical that the services offered by the United Way agencies by appropriate to the needs.

United Way asks that those receiving questionnaires respond to them and help make their contribution dollars more effective.

On Dean's List

John Culleney, son of Ms. Mary Culleney of 521 Sandy, Des Plaines, has been named to the Dean's List at the DeVry Institute of Technology in Chicago.

The brawn of technology and the creative spirit will join forces when Chicago sculptor Barry Tinsley begins installing his monumental steel work, "Silver Oak," at Oakton Community College in Des Plaines. The installation is anticipated to begin the week of October 3.

Tinsley and his assistants will arrive prepared with a flat bed trailer, five-ton crane truck, plasma torch for cutting stainless steel, two arc welders, pick-up truck and scaffolding. Within an estimated three-day period, the components will be welded, polished and erected on concrete footings, the sculptor said.

The finished work, which will weigh five tons and measure approximately 17 1/2 feet high, 25 feet deep and 42 feet long, will be located on the north side of the building beside the man-made lake. A seven-foot extension will be attached to the concrete retaining wall.

Tinsley, a native of Roanoke, Virginia, and a former associate professor of art at Illinois State University, Normal, from 1970-77, is one of 16 artists whose works were selected for the new State of Illinois building under construction in Chicago. He was one of three artists chosen to create maquettes (small models) by a selection committee that requested a sculpture to unify the various aspects of the Oakton site.

His proposal won the approval of the seven-member committee, which included OCC President William A. Koehnline; OCC Art Professor Robert Stanley, a Des Plaines resident; Zeldia Werner of Evanston; Michael Dunbar, coordinator, art-in-architecture for the Capital Development Board; John Schlossman, architect with the firm of Loebli, Schlossman and Hackl, which designed the newly completed Phase II addition of Oakton's Des Plaines campus; Averell Levitan, associated with Nasaw-Averell Galleries; and George Wight.

After building a model of the site to scale, the sculptor worked for two months with wax forms to create the design which was reproduced in a stainless steel

Extended Coverage

By Gordon R. Faller, C.I.C.

In most cases, your health insurance will cover medical care in another country, as long as the procedure is legal in this country.

Medicare, however, is NOT valid anywhere but in the United States. If you travel, you'll need supplementary coverage.

Most senior citizens on Medicare find it advisable to carry some private medical insurance to help pay the difference between Medicare coverage and actual costs.

Supplements must pay what Medicare doesn't cover for "Part A" eligible hospital expenses for the 61st to 90th day, and when you use your 60 "reserve" days. After that is used up, the policy must pay 90 percent for another 365 days. Some "Part B" coverage is supplemented, too.

Surgery Instead of Glasses?

Eye Surgeons are now performing an outpatient corrective procedure which can eliminate dependency on eyeglasses in the vast majority of people who are only able to see sharply up close.

The procedure, which takes under an hour, is performed while the patient's eye is numbed and with the patient seated to the point of not caring. Using an operating microscope, a micrometer-adjusted diamond scalpel and an ultrasonic computer, the eye surgeon places incisions into the clear front wall of the eye to change its curve to provide for proper focusing of light within the eye. One eye is done at a time; people return to work in a week; the second eye is usually done eight weeks later. Reparations are possible and are occasionally needed to gain best correction. Success in gaining legal driving vision without glasses is about 90% for most who depend on glasses before the procedure.

First developed in the Soviet Union where the first human operation was performed in 1973, the procedure was first done in the United States in 1978 and since then, some 25,000 operations have been performed here. In the entire U.S. experience there have been four cases of serious complication requiring surgical intervention and none has resulted in blindness. F.A.A. examiners accept good vision from radial keratotomy and so do local and federal law enforcement agencies, though the armed services have knowingly accepted only a few test candidates as yet.

The procedure, called radial keratotomy, is most helpful to adults 18 to 55 years old, who wish to free themselves of glasses for careers in the airlines, in law enforcement, and in fire protection, and for those motivated for personal reasons but for whom contact lenses have not worked. Extended Coverage

By Gordon R. Faller, C.I.C.

In most cases, your health insurance will cover medical care in another country, as long as the procedure is legal in this country.

Medicare, however, is NOT valid anywhere but in the United States. If you travel, you'll need supplementary coverage.

Most senior citizens on Medicare find it advisable to carry some private medical insurance to help pay the difference between Medicare coverage and actual costs.

Supplements must pay what Medicare doesn't cover for "Part A" eligible hospital expenses for the 61st to 90th day, and when you use your 60 "reserve" days. After that is used up, the policy must pay 90 percent for another 365 days. Some "Part B" coverage is supplemented, too.

When you need guidance on insurance protection, talk to the experts at...

BEST FOOT FORWARD

By Dr. Leonard Pock
WAITER'S TOE

Any person who abuses the feet as a waiter often does is likely to suffer from "waiter's toe." A waiter carrying a tray of dishes approaches the kitchen door and kicks it open. Eventually, this will injure the foot. Although the impact may seem slight, the cumulative effect can cause a chronic inflammation at the inner side of the big toe. An ingrown toenail may complicate matters.

If the ingrown nail is ignored, a corn may develop beneath it. The pain from all three—the inflammation, the ingrown nail and the corn—can be intense. Treatment will depend upon the severity of the problem and the extent of any complications. The only permanent solution is to refrain from what caused it. Occupational hazards to the feet can be avoided by exercising care to prevent injuries.

Candlewick Embroidery Class for Niles seniors

The Niles Senior Center, 8060 Oakton in Niles will be sponsoring a candlewick embroidery class on Wednesdays from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. beginning October 5 and running through October 26. Tuition for the four-week course (covers most of the supplies) is $7.50.

Mrs. Virginia Johnson, the center's quilting instructor will be teaching the course. The idea for the course came about as an attempt to meet the interests of those senior citizens wishing to learn new arts and crafts forms.

The art form was introduced at the senior center through a demonstration on August 30. The class is expected to be a very successful addition to the center's classes for several reasons. Candlewick embroidery is currently a very popular craft and is very easy to learn. It is also a very inexpensive hobby to pursue. Students previously enrolled in Mrs. Johnson's quilting class at the center have indicated interest in learning this new craft because they enjoy having Mrs. Johnson, as an instructor. Based on the high level of interest generated at the demonstration in August, the senior staff anticipates that this course will prove to have high enrollment. Enrollment is ongoing on a first come first served basis and can be conducted over the telephone by calling 967-6100 ext. 376. The course is open to all Niles residents age 62 and over and their younger spouses.

This year the Gospel of John and the Johannine Epistles will be the focus of study and prayer.

A windfall will soon be blowing your way.

When autumn winds blow and leaves begin to fall, something nice will happen at last. The summer of '83 will be over. The record heat and humidity. The record demand for electricity even with some of our biggest industrial customers down for vacation and our largest stopped by a strike.

It pushed every generator we own to the limit, including the nuclear unit we only finished this year. Not just for a day or two, for days on end.

But nobody had to go without, because we had the horses.

The worst that happened was that some people had to pay a little more, because of all the air-conditioning they used. And that too is about to end.

Because as the demand for electricity goes down, the cost of making it goes down. So starting the day your meter's read after September 14, summer rates will end.

Instead of paying just under 10¢ a kilowatt-hour for the electricity you use, you'll pay just under 8¢. About 20% less.

A very nice little windfall indeed.

Duel celebration at Riggio's restaurant

To commemorate this duel birthday anniversary, Riggio's will celebrate with special discounts during the entire month of October. Dinner patrons may also expect complimentary Cannoli Cake and nostalgic souvenir reproductions of the original 1953 menu. Mandolins and accordions will play romantic Italian folksongs on weekends. On each Sunday of the month children of dining parties will be invited for FREE rides on the authentic horse-drawn Sicilian cart at the Niles location.

Both restaurants have recently been redecorated and can accommodate small banquets and large parties. Western ave. offers contemporary atmosphere in two continental dining rooms. In Niles, one can choose from five distinct dining areas: The Starlit Garden room, the elegant La Salla and Chandeliers rooms, the La Cantina wine room (especially designed for larger groups), and the original charming Vineyard dining room. Tony Riggio, who manages the Niles location, and Joe Carlino, who runs the Western ave. location, as well as the entire Riggio family invite everyone to this month long party.

Five homes burglarized

Five Niles homes were burglarized during the week of Sept. 15 thru 22.

Sometime between Sept. 15 and 18 burglars gained entry to a house located in the 8100 block of Davis st., by cutting a hole in a screen door.

Taken from a porch was a barbecue grill and two lawn chairs. The owners estimated the loss at $115.

On Monday, Sept. 19 three Niles residents reported their homes were burglarized.

A resident of the 8300 block of Wisner st. said burglars entered his house by prying open a side door. Once inside, they ransacked a bedroom.

A home in the 8100 block of Field st. was broken into when burglars also pried open a side door. The burglars ransacked three bedrooms and searched through garage cabinets.

And a home in the 8500 block of Ottawa st. was burglarized when burglars pried open the front door and searched through a bedroom.

Each of these homeowners said they would submit a list of missing merchandise to police.

Lastly, a home in the 8700 block of Osceola st. was burglarized on Thursday, Sept. 22.

Burglars gained access to the home by pushing open a locked front door. The door was damaged during the break-in.

The residents reported burglars took over $500 in jewelry from the home.

An 18-year-old Morton Grove youth was arrested after being observed breaking a Niles store window on Saturday, Sept. 24.

The Morton Grove resident was reportedly waiting for Sears Roebuck and Co., 400 Golf Mill, to open so he could purchase concert tickets.

Apparently without provocation the youth kicked in a two foot by three foot window in a door.

A night manager at Sears contacted the police and a witness identified the Morton Grove youth. At the Niles Police Department the youth was charged with criminal damage to property, assigned an October court date and released after posting a $100 bond.

Auto stolen in Niles

A 33-year-old Palatine man reported his auto was stolen while he attended a party in Niles on Sunday, Sept. 25.

The Palatine man said he was at a party at a home in the 7600 block of Oleander st. According to police reports, the man said a fellow party-goer apparently took his car keys out of his jacket which he had hung up. Sometime between 4 a.m. and 5 a.m. the car was apparently stolen.

The car, a 1981 Chevrolet Camaro, was valued at $7,500.

Art critic arrested

A 16-year-old Glenview man was arrested for assaulting an artist at a Niles art show on Saturday, Sept. 24.

Police report the artist, a Rock Island resident, was displaying her works at the Golf Mill Shopping Center art show. She said the Glenview boy had repeatedly passed her booth and without provocation the boy went up to the artist and spit in her face.

The artist's husband flagged down a passing police car and the offender was arrested.

At the Niles Police Department the Glenview youth was charged with battery, assigned a September court date and released after posting a $100 bond.

Credit card thief apprehended

A 28-year-old Chicago man was arrested after being caught at a local bank carrying numerous credit cards which had been reported stolen.

Police were first notified after the man entered Cragin Federal Savings and Loan, 7201 Touhy ave. The man had earlier in the week opened an account at Cragin's Fullerton Ave. office depositing a social security check worth almost $3,000 which was made out to someone else.

When bank officials had checked with the party whose name appeared on the check, they were told the offender had not been authorized to deposit the check. The man had now come to the Niles branch to withdraw money from the account.

When he arrived, Niles Police were called. Arriving on the scene the police asked the man to step into a side office. Not only had the man tried to withdraw money which was not his but police also found three Visa cards in the man's wallet belonging to other people.

At the Niles Police Department the man was charged with possession of stolen credit cards, assigned an October court date and released after posting a $100 bond.

Rock hits moving auto

Vandals threw a rock at a moving auto in Niles smashing its windshield on Sunday, Sept. 25.

Police report the auto, being driven by a 17-year-old Morton Grove man, was traveling south on Washington Court Dr. at 6:30 p.m. when vandals threw a rock at the auto. The rock smashed the windshield as well as a side mirror.

While the driver was not hurt, the replacement cost of the windshield was placed at $250.

Vandal slashes furniture

A vandal caused over $1,000 damage when he slashed numerous pieces of merchandise at a local store on Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Police were called to Sears Roebuck and Co., 400 Golf Mill, where they were shown the damage caused by the vandal. Slashed or cut were one hassock, one pillow, one table and two chairs. All of the damaged items had been on display.

Sears officials placed the damage at $1,423.

Drunk driver arrested while speeding

A 24-year-old Franklin Park man was arrested for drunk driving after being stopped for speeding in Niles on Thursday, Sept. 22.

Police reported observing the Franklin Park man driving west on Golf Rd. Radar clocked the man's car traveling 69 MPH in a 40 MPH zone.

The offender did not immediately stop his car when police gave chase and he went through a red light at Dee Rd. However, at the 1394 tollway ramp, police were able to stop the car.

Police report the man had a strong odor of alcohol on his breath and he admitted having drunk a fifth of vodka prior to driving.

At the Niles Police Department the man was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding, improper lane usage and disobeying a traffic control signal. He was assigned an October court date and later released after posting a $200 bond.

Dear Editor:
Having attended more budget meetings than most of the trustees and the mayor we have come away from Morton Grove's budgeting process with an overwhelming feeling of futility. An initial disappointment was the attendance, rather lack of attendance, by many trustees and the mayor at the budget meetings.

Another disappointment was that budgets were presented and accepted with little, if any, modifications. If the figures weren't too far above last year's they were blanketly accepted. In fact, instead of asking for justification for figures, department heads were asked if they had plenty and could they live within their proposed budget.

Overexpenditures of allocated monies went virtually unchallenged. No system of checks and balances to alert the administrator or trustees of extraordinary spending is in existence. Exceptional expenses can go undiscovered until next year's budgeting process. Line items were kept open only for the sake of convenience and not because of real need. Roughly $22,000 was allocated for budget items where less than 25% of the previous budget was used. If these services were essentially unused, do they still serve a useful purpose? Should they be modified?

We waited and waited, meeting after meeting (at least ten special budget meetings, not counting regular village board meetings), for that one night when waste would be pared from the budget. Our wait was in vain. It never occurred.

At one of the concluding meetings, numerous questions were raised by the audience about various programs and expenditures. None of these suggestions for modifications or budget cuts were considered seriously. Questions were not always answered adequately. Replies often included, I don't know, I have to look it up, it's always been that way and it's a bargain.

The initial budget called for a 14.39% increase in the tax levy. Another meeting was called. Again, hope sprang eternal, and we thought this would be the meeting where cuts would occur because people certainly would not accept this substantial increase in light of the current economic situation. But, to our amazement, instead of making cuts in the budget the village board only increased the projected income!

It would not be unreasonable to require all department heads to cut 5% off their budgets. They know where the waste and budget padding is and could do it most effectively.

A recurring theme in Morton Grove's budget meetings was, if everybody else does it then it's alright. Village vehicles going home with employees was justified by using surrounding communities as role models. However, the figures show four Morton Grove police officers take home village vehicles each evening, in Glenview two vehicles are taken home and in Niles one. Is there equality in these figures? We don't believe so.

Also, salaries were increased this year to make us like everyone else. If we want to be like everyone else then why can't we keep our tax levy low like surrounding communities? Skokie's tax levy is up 0.2%, Glenview's tax levy is down 4.2%, Niles's tax levy is down 3%, Lincolnwood's tax levy is down 0.1%, Morton Grove's tax levy has increased 7.43%. We don't consider this a moderate increase considering many of our neighboring communities have been able to hold the line.

With all these meetings what have we accomplished? What an extremely frustrating experience!!!

Sincerely
Roger Nolte and
Pam Lundberg

Misericordia grateful for publicity

Dear Editor:
What would we do without our friends? We would certainly not be able to plan for the expansion of services that is now becoming a reality at Misericordia South, Misericordia North and the Heart of Mercy Village. Children are now living in four of our new homes and the other five will be occupied by young adults by the end of this year. The places they vacated at Misericordia North are now available for young people with severe disabilities.

Soon twenty of our children with cerebral palsy will be moved from our South Home to Building C which is being renovated to meet their special needs. The South Home will then be able to accept twenty new children with profound disabilities.

For each of these young people it is a new chance with a new hope for a brighter future. Our goal is and will always be to provide opportunities for each individual to achieve the maximum level of functioning possible in a dignified, loving environment. This could never be done without your help.

As our young people grow, so do their needs. We need new job opportunities both within and outside the village. Our next major project will be a creation of a Village Square with shops and a restaurant. In addition to providing vocational opportunities, they will allow for social experiences for our residents and other disabled people living in the community.

Our first Family Festival signified the groundbreaking for the Village. We have made much progress in a relatively short time. We hope you share in our pride and joy in these accomplishments. We also hope you will continue to share our conviction that these young people who need and deserve our help will continue to receive it for as long as necessary.

We are very grateful for the help you gave us in publicizing our Third Annual Family Festival. We could never hold the Festival without the support of our friends, our greatest resource. Thank you again, may the Lord bless you and yours.

Sincerely,
Sister Rosemary Connelly, R.S.M.
Executive Director

Dear Mr. Besser:
Thank you so much for being our speaker at our Fall luncheon on Sept. 22nd.

I, for one, know very little of Niles and so I enjoyed hearing what really goes on.

So many of the seniors told me how much they enjoyed hearing you (many can't hear) and learning about Niles.

Keep up the good work with your paper.

Seventeen cents of electricity dollar for environment

Nearly 17 cents of every dollar that Commonwealth Edison residential customer pays for electricity goes for environmental costs, a new study by the company discloses. The average residential customer, who used about 6,310 kilowatt-hours in 1982, incurred an environmental cost of $85.12 for the year the study shows. For commercial and industrial customers, the environmental cost represented more than 20 percent of their total electricity bill.

In 1982, Edison spent an estimated $790 million to improve environmental quality, an increase of 19.1 percent over its 1981 expenditures. The largest expenditures were to pay the difference between higher cost low sulfur coal and oil and the lesser amount the company would have paid if it were able to burn high sulfur Illinois coal without exceeding air quality standards. Another large expense is the carrying charges on $1.14 billion in environmental plant investment, according to the study.

Friendly contact for seniors

Elderly persons who live alone can find a friendly and reassuring contact each day through the staff of The Center of Concern located at 1580 N. Northwest Highway in Park Ridge. Those participating in the program plan to call the Center each day. If someone is unable to call, a staff member or volunteer of the Center calls him or her just to be sure that "all is well."

Niles PTA fund-raising

The Niles PTA fund-raising activities will literally begin this year with a bang from the starting pistol, when the Niles students participate in the first annual Run-a-thon.

The Niles Elementary/Culver School Run-a-thon will be held from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday, October 8, at the Culver School, 6921 W. Oakton. Students will be seeking pledges from sponsors as to the number of times they are able to run around the track.

Not only will the students, and two representatives from the faculty, get a chance to prove that they are in great shape, but there will also be fun for the spectators.

The PTA will be selling hot dogs, popcorn, lemonade, and a Bake Sale will be conducted as well. Besides fabulous delicious food and community spirit, the children will be able to participate in games of skill and in group games.

Schools team up with Golf Maine Park District

Working together to provide after-school classes for students in the area, Donald Huebner, Principal of Gemini School, Dr. Stewart Leitch, Principal of Stevenson School, Walter Sekierski, Principal of Mark Twain School, and Marilyn Strauss of the Golf Maine Park District have organized a series beginning September 26. Approximately 200 students will be attending after-school classes such as "Sports Corner," "Junior Scientists," "Hodge Podge," "Calligraphy," "Young Actors Club," "Creative Happenings," and "Bowling" over the next two months.

As coordinator of the program, Marilyn Strauss has been gratified to see the large registration for the classes. She noted that such opportunities must be needed in the community based on the response to this first time offering.

For persons interested in obtaining additional information about the program, Mrs. Strauss asked that they call the Golf Maine Park District at 297-3000. As some instructors are still needed or may be needed for the tentatively planned second session this year, community residents who can lead a class are encouraged to call Mrs. Strauss.

The "Moving..Right Along" after school program for children represents another cooperative effort between local school authorities and park district.

Northern Illinois University graduate student John Cline of Niles recently was sworn in as one of three student members of the Illinois Board of Regents.

Cline, who worked for two years as services and welfare advisor to the president of NIU's student body, as well as being chairman of the NIU Student Association's mass transit board, sees the opportunity of being a student regent as a "great experience" and says he is looking forward to bringing his past experience in student government to the board. The regents govern NIU at DeKalb, Illinois State University at Normal and Sangamon State University at Springfield.

Welcome

A girl, Erin Malia, 7 lbs. 11 oz. on July 30, to Robert and Virginia Bovee of Honolulu, Hawaii. Brothers - Kyle 4 1/2 yrs. and Brett 2 yrs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Kula of Niles, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bovee of Glenview.

Completing one year of planning, the Stevenson School faculty initiated its Code of Conduct program during opening activities this last August. The Code of Conduct program is a school wide organization of expectations that the staff had designed to guide children towards a productive, positive, and cooperative form of behavior. For example, one expectation for all students is: "Stevenson School students are expected to treat their families, peers, teachers, supervisors, parents, and all other people with respect and dignity at all times under all circumstances."

Four other expectations make up the body of the goals students are working to achieve in their behavior.

Dr. Stewart Liechti introduced the program to each of the grade level groups during the first week of school. Each group of students received a 30 minute lecture on the program and had the opportunity to raise questions about it.

Clearly defined within the Stevenson Code of Conduct are consequences that will occur should a student fail to meet the expectations of the program. Students reviewed these consequences carefully being fully appraised of the restrictions and/or communications they would face if they failed to meet the Code's expectations.

On the positive side, each homeroom teacher will select a student on a monthly basis who has best achieved the goals of the Code of Conduct program. These students will have their pictures taken and displayed in the school hallway each month. At the end of the school year one student will be selected from each grade level as the winner for that year.

Stevenson school classroom teachers are continuing to review the Code program and relate it to their Classroom Discipline Plans. Copies of the Code are being sent to every family with a child at Stevenson School so that parents may review the expectations and consequences with their children.

Stevenson faculty members were most positive about the productive impact this program will have on student behavior not only during the current school year, but into the future.

Cablenet replaces microwave feed horns

Back from repair, Cablenet's 20 foot long microwave feed horn weighing in at nearly a ton, is seen being replaced sequentially atop Cablenet's 250 foot microwave reception tower. The horns were replaced in less than three hours with the assistance of a construction helicopter and an eight man crew. The feed horns protect the cable lines from weather damage.

With the assistance of a helicopter and an eight man crew, Cablenet today replaced two large feed horns atop its 250 foot microwave and transmission tower.

The microwave horns, removed last Saturday for repair, are approximately 20 feet long and eight feet wide and weigh over one ton each. The horns are used to transmit cable signals from Cablenet's Mt. Prospect headquarters to Park Ridge, Schaumburg, Hanover Park, Bartlett and Streamwood. The microwave horns acquired water in their lines when their dehydration system failed. This failure caused some signal degradation in some Cablenet communities.

Why Blase Took A Slow Boat To China

Nick Blase, our esteemed mayor, recently returned to Niles from the far east. In the Sept. 8 issue, Bud Besser, our esteemed publisher mentioned it briefly in his "Left Hand" column... very briefly.

Blases visit to the People's Republic Of China, based upon my private sources, and my own personal opinions, was highly successful. Why?

What follows, Blase will be the first to deny and Besser to scoff at. Therefore, what follows does not reflect the opinion of Blase or Besser, the management of Bugle Newspapers.

To digress, the Democrat Party already has more candidates running for President in '84, than the number of entries in the Third Running of the Budweiser Million recently held at Arlington Park. Even old George McGovern, who was beaten worse than Alf Landon, is running. (By the way, Alf Landon, now 96 might make an excellent running mate for President Reagan in '84. What a fortune they could make doing Geritol commercials.)

Anyhow, back to Blase. When Blase arrived in China, he was met by a high ranking official of the Peoples' Republic Of China. After an excellent dinner of Italian spaghetti, Blase, and the Chinese dignitary (who spoke Excellent English) discussed the reasons for the mayor's visit.

"I know your culture is an ancient one. Among many other things it was you, Chinese, who invented gunpower and the printing press. I am the mayor of a small village which is known as Niles. It is called the All-American City. Most of the people who live there love it. But, even though we are part of a very young country we are not too far removed from you Chinese. For example, in America we have the "Yellow Pages". Vast sums of money have been spent typing, "Let Your Fingers Do The Walking", in both electronic and print media. Here in China, you have the "White Pages". Don't you think it would be more appropriate if we changed ours to the "White Pages" and you changed yours to the "Yellow Pages"?"

The Chinese dignitary with a broad smile said, "Very good suggestion. You change - we change."

Blase went on, "In America, young women - even some of the older ones - when they see a macho type man, well endowed, with a powerful physique, they refer to him as a HUNK!"

"Very true, agreed the Chinese dignitary. This happened in your country many years ago when Victor Mature was a young movie actor, and young husky guy. . . All ladies say, "What a gorgeous HUNK of man. Now phrase shortened to one word, H-U-N-K!"

Blase with a surprised look imperatively exclaimed, "You Chinese absolutely amaze me - you are so astute!"

The Chinese dignitary gave forth a broad smile as Blase continued: "Again, we in America, and you in China are not too far removed even in our idiom of speech. In China your young ladies say, "Whatta CHUNK!"

"You're very right. Chinese ladies say about Bruce Lee, Karate Champion, 'Whatta CHUNK!' to bad he died so young."

"What happened to him?" Blase inquired.

"Very sad. When he go in army, first time he saluted he kill himself...very bad."

"Yes", agreed Blase and absently added, "A CHUNK, AHUNK, very close phonetically."

"Very close. Maybe we could combine and say, "CHUNKY HUNKY." Maybe good title for country western song" the Chinese dignitary said with a broad smile."

"Or," said Blase quickly, "how about this, A CHUNKY HUNKY HONKY, might be even better."

"Oh, very good, very good. How you like dinner?"

"Fine. Oh, yes," Blase said, but I noticed the menu said, Italian Spaghetti - you people, the Chinese, invented spaghetti. Marco Polo brought it back to Italy after he discovered it in China in the 13th century."

"Very true, like an American in San Francisco was the first to invent 'chop-choo' - excuse please, I mean 'chop suey', we Chinese did invent Spaghetti but what you eat tonight was Italian."

"How was that possible?" Blase asked.

"It came in Care Package...mister mayor..."

P.S. According to my secret source Blase (who is world traveled) was gathering first hand information about the far east, particularly China. Why? To strengthen his own knowledge, first hand, in the field of foreign relations?

And, why would he be doing that?

Is Mayor Blase thinking of throwing his hat in the ring for the Democratic nomination for President for '84?

It's possible. After all, consider these strange mixupped things which have come to pass. We have an actor in the White House, a black mayor in Chicago, a pennant winning Chicago baseball team, a Polish Pope, a black Miss America, and a Norwegian running the Crime Syndicate.

So why not a mayor from Niles for president?

Largest cross country meet at Niles West

The largest cross country meet in the State of Illinois and one of the largest in America will be held at Niles West High School on October 1. The 13th Annual Indian Cross Country Invitational will have 49 Boys' Schools and 37 Girls' Schools for a total of 86 school teams competing in 10 different races. At the same time Oakton Community College will be hosting the 10th Annual Raider Invitational which will include 10 college teams from Illinois and Wisconsin. There will also be four open races where men will run four miles, women will run three miles, and both boys and girls will run 2 miles.

Meet Director and Cross Country Coach Patrick Savage expects to have over 3000 athletes compete in the total of 16 races which will be run starting at 9:15 a.m. and finishing up just after noon time.

Most of the top girls' teams are entered including Wheeling, Glenbrook South, Maria, Niles West, Libertyville, Fremd, Evergreen Park and York. The top boys' teams include Glenbrook South, Hinsdale South, Thornton Fractional South, St. Patrick, and Highland Park. The college meet will feature the traditional rivalry of two of the top JUCO teams in the nation - Oakton Community College and Milwaukee Area Technical College of Wisconsin. The top college women's team seems to be Triton of River Grove.

OCC Harriers win third place trophy

The annual running of the Chiefs Invitational at Waukesha Community College in Sugar Grove, Illinois saw the Running Raiders run to earn the third place trophy. In 1982 OCC earned the 4th place trophy in this meet which includes almost all the community college cross country teams in Illinois.

The OCC Harriers were led by sophomore Chris Walsh, a graduate of Maine West High School, who placed sixth over the rugged five mile course. Close behind was sophomore Jesse De La Fuente, of Morton East, who earned the 13th place trophy. Other trophy winners included Jim Rubey (Maine East) and Craig Holloway (California).

Completing the scoring for OCC were Chuck Weidnabach (Maine West), Dave Hubbard (Highland Park) and Jesse Bozman (Maine West).

The OCC women runners also placed third in the meet. They were led by Sue Rosenblum (Niles West) who placed fourth. Also scoring for OCC were Katie McAlevy (Maine West) and Anita Patterson (Niles West).

Coch Savage was happy with both teams taking third place but like all coaches, he thought his athletes could have done better. OCC's next big meet is the annual Raider Invitational which will be held on Saturday, October 1. This is the largest cross country meet in the State of Illinois and one of the largest in the USA.

Girls' Bowling Club

The Maine East Girls' Bowling Club began its yearly activities Sept. 15, at the Golf Mill Lanes under the leadership of present Marilyn Pondel of Park Ridge and secretaries Jill Liebsch and Joyce Micek, both of Niles.

Special events throughout the school year will include the Halloween Party, the Turkey Bowl, the Christmas Party, and banquet.

Heights fieldhouse roof. It was not opened and NPD will find why the other four companies which were notified did not submit bids.

Niles Baseball commissioner John Ember thanked the park board for the assistance the league received during the past baseball season. He noted the park staff "did a tremendous job".

Four feet (in width) of gravel and asphalt will be placed by NICO Park now, and the street alongside the park will be straightened out next March. Six feet of the NICO park property belongs to the village and six feet will be taken from the park when it is straightened. The Basketball court will be moved to different area there. It is expected to alleviate the snow problem which accumulates. It is also possible a one-way street may be created. The Seward Ave. property will have a 12 inch curb and the guard rail will be removed.

Increased vandalism resulted in a letter sent to Mayor Nicholas Blase seeking a meeting with Police Chief Clarence Emrickson. It was emphasized the ranger group did a great job in policing the park district. It was also noted the rangers will leave the district around Halloween; the district has spent a great deal of money and all residents must help in reducing vandalism.

In the M-NASR program the full count handicapped people signing up for the program will be known in 3 or 4 weeks. A report also confirmed state approval for a Special Olympics. A $1,000 contribution from Kiwanis will help sponsor the local Olympic group. An additional $1,000 will be needed and fund-raisers will be considered in upcoming weeks.

October 13 at 7 p.m. is set for a scheduled meeting with recreation and ice rink administrators to review their administrative problems. Comm. Dan Kosiba objected to the monthly meetings contending they were too time for the recreation heads. He said they spent too much time on written staff reports and it "Made the staff paranoid".

Commissioner Mary Marusek thought the meetings accomplished a great deal since the entire board received the answers they would normally seek individually. Comm. Walt Buesse said he too favored the meetings and a third commissioner said the meetings solve many misconceptions. Comm. Jim Pierski said the meetings should have a shorter schedule and thought lengthy staff reports were ineffective.

The fishing derby will take place this year at Lake Opeka in Des Plaines September 25 from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Fishermen should call ahead for reservations.

The Bugle was commended by President Elaine Hagen and Comm. Marusek for the pictures of the softball champions on its front page and for its fine support of park activities.

Finance chairman Marusek reported the park district is better off financially this year than last. She also said the district had a better picture of costs for the polls and utilities this year than last.

The district took in $407,306.96 last month and $1,785,581.16 for the year, according to Marusek. Disbursements have been $839,760 for the same yearly period.

Comm. Buesse reported vandalism has been down substantially the past month.

Marusek reported contracts with School District 63 has been sent for co-operative work with the park district but no word has been heard as yet. No problems are foreseen. District 71 will not have a mutual agreement right now but in the future. Diamonds can be used for soccer program and hopefully in the future, Marusek said classrooms will be made available in Niles schools.

Marusek reported Commonwealth Edison was notified about the poor conditions of Courtland Park after improvements were made there. Commonwealth Edison referred the district to another company which they said was responsible for returning the park to its former condition.

A two hour meeting with the Corps of Engineers proved disappointing in seeking help to clean the river alongside Tam golf course. Some trees will be removed next March.

A new key system will enable the park district vehicles to receive gas from a pump at the golf course. Director Bill Hughes said the system will cost the district $1,500 and the savings in fuel will be realized in a short time. The key can't be you wheel around probably mean you don't have the clout the Jaguar-BMW crowd has. If you doubt it takes a bit of clout, notice the spotlight the town of Golf has at the entrance to its community on Golf Road. It is only one block away from a second stiplight at the entrance to the Hadley club which lays alongside the Golf community. Snootiness, a bit of snobbery and a lot of clout usually goes hand in hand.

While we might be a bit presumptuous, we think a wee bit of snootiness will be seen in the coming weeks in Niles. Last week the park district okayed sending a letter to more than 300 residents at the west end of Niles who are presently residing in the Park Ridge park district. The Niles park people would like these residents to disannex from the Park Ridge park district and come into Niles park district. Presently, all residents of Niles get lower rates for using Niles park facilities. Niles golfers using Little Tam pay less than golfers who do not live in town. But because the 300 residents who are Niles village residents are also Park Ridge park taxpayers, they have been getting the benefit of Niles park lower rates because they are village residents. Since they do not pay Niles park taxes, it is obviously unfair to Niles park taxpayers the approximate 300 Park Ridge park taxpayers should receive the same low rates without paying Niles park taxes. They are now being

There's a certain dynamic Niles has. It's not an old pokey community which has stood still these past years. We hesitate using the word, but Niles park district today is a "class" act. The young people in charge of its programming give Niles a bit of one-upmanship its more staid neighbors lack. And if you have a bit of snooty in you, we're sure you would want to be associated with a "class" act.

One board member told the Bugle these terms included changing the purchase price which was $500,000, as well as changing the interest rate. For legal purposes, board members suggested the corporation as well as the church group it represents be named on the lease.

District 63 has a dwindling student population which made necessary closing of several district schools.

In other matters, board members approved a collective bargaining agreement between the District and custodial association.

A model lease for tenants of closed school buildings has been approved by board members to include a rate increase determined July 1 and effective on the anniversary of the tenant. Rates will be by criteria established by the board but not to exceed last year's rent by more than 15 per cent.

"A Working Guide for Teachers" on computer programming was the subject of a presentation to board members. Four District personnel, introduced by the assistant superintendent, discussed organization of a computer curriculum for sixth, seventh and eighth grade students in the District.

The payment may be made to the village through the local police authorities at any time of the day or night, and the defendant-motorist need not take time off from work to attend a court hearing. Correspondingly, the court system's heavy dockets will be loosened, said Judge Comerford.

Nine specific violations in the Illinois Vehicle Code will be covered. They are unsafe vehicles; improper opening of doors into traffic; obstruction of drivers' view; defective horn; no implement of the safety test; absence of name and address on buses and trucks; unattended vehicles and no vehicle sticker. "Of course, a motorist could elect to request a court date to contest the charge," he said.

Implementation of the new procedure, a municipality must adopt the Illinois Vehicle Code by reference as a local ordinance, and amend the penalty procedures relating to these violations. "It is a simple matter to do so and we expect that the municipalities will act promptly," Judge Comerford said.

be burned, but in addition, this year the 1983 Homecoming King and Queen will be crowned at this time. President Pattey Michaels explains, "The Council wanted to extend the reign of the King and Queen so this year the coronation will be a day earlier."

Friday, Sept. 30, begins with a Pep Rally at 7:30 a.m. in the cafeteria. Right after school, car decorating begins as the various clubs work on their entries until 6:30 p.m. By then, the scene is set for the big games against the Waukegan West Warriors. The sophomore game kicks off at 5:30 p.m. and the varsity game follows at 7:30 p.m. Between games the parade of floats begins, including an appearance by the Maine East Homecoming '83 King and Queen. Float winners will be announced at half-time.

Come victory or defeat, the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the senior class council, will be held Saturday, Oct. 1. The theme of the dance is "What I Like About You," and tickets are $10 per couple.

ted the violation without any court action or docketing of the case. Because the payments are made to the local city, town or village without court docketing, the fee-revenue will belong entirely to the municipality. The payment may be made to the village through the local police authorities at any time of the day or night, and the defendant-motorist need not take time off from work to attend a court hearing. Correspondingly, the court system's heavy dockets will be loosened, said Judge Comerford.

The protesting groups' spokesman, Bill Kay of 7100 Beckwith, despite assurances, presented the board with a 300-plus signature petition demanding a stop to the Beckwith plan, citing both the unacceptable loss of the trees and the increased traffic any widening would bring. As a result of area residents protests, a meeting of the week of October 12 between Kay, the village and the state's Bureau of Local Roads has been set to discuss what improvements to Beckwith can be made without it being widened.

maquette. "I felt, after studying the location and buildings, that the work should visually activate the space. Because stainless steel has the capacity to reflect colors of grass, sky and water, as well as other aspects of the surroundings, the piece becomes visually active."

The State of Illinois financed the sculpture project through a Capital Development Board Percent for Art program grant of $49,500. The Capital Development Board Act has provided for funding of public art of one half to one percent of the cost of a public building or major renovation financed in whole or in part by the State of Illinois.

The stated purpose of the act was to provide for the promotion and preservation of the arts by securing "suitable works of art for the adornment of public buildings...thereby reflecting our cultural heritage, with emphasis on the works of Illinois artists."

Professor Stanley, part of the OCC Community Arts Program, envisions the installation of Silver Oak as a catalyst for community arts programming.

"The theme of the community arts project for 1983-84, 'Earth, Air, Fire and Water,' will unify a series of workshops, seminars and other educational activities
