Sought student placement in Districts 34/225

Districts 63/207 detachment plea denied by Court

by Eileen Hirschfeld
A parents' plea for detachment of some youngsters from East Maine School District 63 and High School District 207 has been denied according to a decision by Judge James Murray in Illinois Circuit Court Tuesday, October 11. Parents suing those districts contended their families had more in common with other suburbs and forwarded petitions requesting placement of students into Glenview District 34 and Glenbrook High School District 225. Dr. Donald Bond, superintendent of District 63, reported the Court decision to school board members at a regular meeting, October 11. Bond said Judge Murray upheld a former decision by the Cook County Regional Board of Trustees finding the plaintiffs' petitions not in order in regard to the number of members at a regular meeting. Computer finds more sales tax
$$$ missing

by Diane Miller
"We can't believe the data the Niles computer system is feeding us," said an incredulous Joe Salerno, head of Niles Licensing Department as he told The Bugle of the discovery of hundreds of thousands of dollars in sales tax revenues which have been misdirected from Niles' coffers. Last month the Village of Niles filed a $6,000,000 law suit, according to Salerno, against the State of Illinois and the K-Mart Corp. to collect sales tax revenue from 1971 to 1978 which the village feels has been misdirected to other towns due to poor reporting of sales tax receipts. The problem came to light earlier this year when Niles realized their two K-Mart stores, at 9000 Golf rd., (now closed) and 8650 Dempster both had their sales tax receipts credited to the city of Des Plaines. In probing back records, the investigation revealed that Des Plaines had erroneously received $612,597.44 since 1978 which rightfully belonged to the village of Niles. In addition, another $52,819.86 was credited by one of the K-Marts to the community of Oak Lawn in southwest Cook County. Salerno also noted the city of Des Plaines had received tax dollars which rightfully

If you're a wife, girl friend, sister or just a pal of a guy who is wandering disconsolately around the house, give him a bit of room this week. If he's a bit antsy. If he can't seem to adjust to these early fall days. If he stares foggily at the T.V. set, give him understanding. He may have a disease called blue Soxitis.

"The guy" needs a bit of time. Like that Jello ad he's been away too long. For months now he's been nurturing a dream. He's been apothecizing. For months he's been facing southeast. He has been an inveterate Soxophile.

We were picking up the Sunday morning newspaper at Sav Mar Drugs a couple a days ago when we bumped into a very sad Todd Bavaro, Niles Housing director. Todd said he felt "awful". He still couldn't believe the White Sox bowed out of the pennant race. He wondered aloud how a team which played so well the past three months could suddenly fold its tent and call it quits for the year.

Standing next to the aux de cologne counter, Todd implied the warts coming from 33th and Shields were a bit more malodorous.

He then told us of better days when he squirmed his

District 207 and MTA
Negotiations proposal

The current collective bargaining agreement between the Board of Education ("BOE") and the Maine Teachers Association ("MTA") expires on August 15, 1985. During the last set of negotiations, the key issue was job security and whether District 207, in light of declining enrollment and the need to reduce professional staff could somehow respond to the job security issue within reasonable economic parameters.

During the 1982-83 school year, the first year of the existing 1982-85 contract, it was recognized that there was a need to increase use of the early retirement program in order to make certain that the job security provisions of the contract, which guarantee that teachers who would have 15 years of service in District 207 by 1985 would not place an undue economic burden on the District.

As the Board and the administration explored possibilities for a modest increase in early retirement benefits, the leadership of the MTA was contacted and informal discussions began concerning a possible modest improvement in

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week, the annual commemoration of the Chicago Fire of 1871, is being celebrated this year from October 9 through the 15 and in Niles the emphasis will be on the installation of smoke detectors in every residence in the Village.

According to Niles Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelll, when the value of this low-cost, life saving instrument was being promoted by fire service personnel in 1970, only one in every 20 homes had one. Annual fire deaths in 1970 were running at about 12,000 victims, the average for many years.

In line with efforts to make Niles a fire safe community, the fire department, in cooperation with other Village facilities, is making available to the public a fully guaranteed smoke detector for only $9 each. The price includes a 9 volt battery, warning lite, and low battery warning feature. The smoke detectors are available at Niles Fire Station, 8360 N. Dempster st. and at the Administration Building, 7601 N. Milwaukee ave.

Center of Concern six years old

For most of us, getting information is simply a matter of looking it up in the "Yellow Pages"...but what if your eyes are so weak you can't read the print...or the bureaucracy has gotten so confusing you don't know where to look...or maybe you're just too tired and frustrated trying to keep up with the world that's moving too fast.

The Center of Concern is an Information and Referral Agency that has been helping people find the information they need for almost six years. One of the first services offered by The Center was Information and Referral and we feel this is one of our strongest assets. We have put people in touch with service providers and programs that have greatly benefited their lives.

Along with our personally compiled resource book accumulated through daily experience since our start in January of 1978, we also have in our office a Microfiche Reader with information revised and updated monthly from the Human Services Resource Bank of the Metropolitan Chicago United Way.

Prepare for Niles Halloween Party

Preparations are underway for Annual Village of Niles Halloween Party. All children of Niles are invited. It will take place Monday, Oct. 31 at Notre Dame Gym.

Kustra awarded "Best Freshman Senator"

State Senator Bob Kustra (R-Glenview) has been named "Best Freshman Senator" in the Illinois General Assembly by his fellow legislators and state house observers. The award is based on a poll conducted by the Illinois Political Reporter, a publication which reports on Springfield activities and is distributed to legislators and others with an active interest and knowledge of state government.

Kustra, who served a term in the Illinois House of Representatives before being elected to the Senate last November, won the same award two years ago as Best Freshman Representative. In announcing the award, Richard Lockhart, publisher and editor of the Illinois Political Reporter, said "You have again demonstrated your effectiveness and also your courage on some very tough issues and I am pleased you have been so recognized."

In expressing his appreciation, Kustra said, "I am most pleased with this vote of confidence by my colleagues and others who observed this recent session. I tried to address the issues honestly with concern for my suburban constituents, and without undue concern for the political consequences. In these days of cynicism in politics, I feel proud that these attributes are still valued in the Illinois General Assembly."

LWW urges residents to be part of the media

The League of Women Voters of Morton Grove/Niles hosted a community forum on Cable Television on Sept. 13. Marilyn Preston, Chicago Tribune columnist; Kim Frumkin, Continental Cablevision (MG); Ann Johnson, Evanston; and Joan Haley, Arlington Heights participated. Cablevision of Chicago, Niles, scheduled to attend, withdrew at the last minute. The participants were all experienced in different phases of cable television.

The panelists engaged in an informative discussion about what public access was and what it can offer to the citizens of a community; for example: ballet recitals, scout functions, community meetings, educational programs and series. Cable is narrow casting, specific viewing for individual needs. Thus it can be more responsive to the varied interests and aptitudes of a community. Public service announcements can be used for your organization meetings.

The community channels provide services in two forms: local origination, for which the cable company provides technicians, camera crews and does the editing; and public access for which YOU shoot the film and YOU edit and YOU create from YOUR point of view. The community must show an interest in what public access has to offer. As the subscriber and consumer, in order to get the

Maine Twsp. surplus food guidelines

New income guidelines will be in effect for the next distribution of surplus government food at the General Assistance Office of Maine Township, according to Meryl Rivenson, Director of Welfare.

Butter and cheese will be distributed at Suite 104, 2510 Dempster st., Des Plaines, between 1 and 3 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 26, to those who have qualified by calling or sending in their application by October 19. Call 297-2433 for further information.

The excess foods available for distribution each month at the township office are determined by the U.S. Department of Agriculture from surplus supplies. The commodities are to be used for personal consumption only, and no guarantee of the quality or condition of the items is given, says Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson.

possibility of locating in Golf Mill.

The long discussed renovation of the aging Golf Mill Shopping Center took a giant leap forward with the announcement that the Milwaukee-Golf Corp., owner and manager of the center since it opened 23 years ago, has relinquished the managing and leasing responsibilities to a nationally-known shopping center managing firm.

The firm, Jacobs, Visconti and Jacobs of Cleveland will not only handle all day-to-day operations in the center but will also be responsible for the upcoming renovation.

Plans announced by Jacobs, Visconti and Jacobs include expanding the number of stores in the mall from its current 69 to 120 as well as enclosing the south mall between J.C. Penney and Sears Roebuck and Co.

Construction is scheduled to begin in April, 1984 with completion set in August, 1985.

While no plans have been announced regarding the renovation plans, Pat O'Shea of the Milwaukee-Golf Corp. said on Tuesday that Jacobs, Visconti and Jacobs are currently "having discussions" with numerous department stores about the possibility of locating in Golf Mill.

At the same time the impression was left that the Bergner Weiss department store, which had once announced plans to move into Golf Mill, may not, in fact, construct a store in Niles.

It is also uncertain as to where the new stores will be built.

Niles Director of Housing and Zoning, Joe Salerno, said on Tuesday the possibility exists that many current stores will be subdivided to make more, smaller stores.

This follows a national trend where mall retailers need less space as they are unable to keep large merchandise inventories due to prohibitive prices.

There is also speculation that the empty Mill Run Theatre, located in the north end of the mall, may be torn down and replaced with stores.

O'Shea said the Milwaukee-Golf Corp. will continue the managing and leasing of the Golf Mill Professional Building.

Jacobs, Visconti and Jacobs currently manages 37 shopping malls in 13 states.

Nance joins Center of Concern staff

The Employment for Seniors program at The Center of Concern received a real boost recently when Mrs. Joy Nance of Westchester joined the staff as counselor. Joy's interest in working with seniors is matched by her solid educational background and the experience she gained as a youth and adult counselor at the Putnam Community Action Commission in Findlay, Ohio. She is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, where she received a BA in Social Justice with a double minor in Psychology and Art.

Ruth Geils, Coordinator of the Employment for Seniors program, feels confident that the program will be even more productive with Joy's help. Seventeen job placements were made during the first three weeks of September, with twice as many applicants being interviewed as any other month since the program began in 1980. Employers interested in hiring mature, experienced people are encouraged to call Joy at 823-0453 and make their needs known. Applicants seeking fulltime or part-time work should call and make an appointment for an interview with Joy or Ruth.

DON'T TAKE IT EASY - EXERCISE

Regular physical activity can help the human body maintain, repair, and improve itself to an amazing degree. Most older people - even those with illness or disabilities - can take part in moderate exercise programs. It is very important to tailor the exercise to fit your own level of ability and special needs. For example, jogging is not for everyone and may be dangerous for those who have unsuspected heart disease.

Aerobic exercises, those exercises that stimulate breathing and moderate elevation of the pulse, are of greatest advantage to senior citizens. Opportunities to be involved in aerobic exercise programs in Morton Grove, include: the Senior Exercise Class and Run For Your Life program at the Prairie View Community Center, 965-4359; plus the Walking Club and Bicycling Club at the Village Hall Senior Center, 965-4658.

For further information about these and other senior citizen programs, call Ralph Birmingham at the Morton Grove Senior Hot-Line weekdays, 9 until noon at 965-4638 or Bud Swanson at the Village Hall, 965-4100.

Culver School Thespians

The Culver School Thespians, under the direction of their drama coaches, Helene Blangin, Roberta Potratz, and Nancy Perez, are busily preparing for their sixth annual school play, "The Sky's the Limit", a three act comedy. The play will be presented at the Culver gymnasium on Oct. 12, at 1 p.m., as well as performed on Oct. 13, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m.

Not only are the students rehearsing many hours after school, but they are also constructing the set, and gathering the costumes. "By having the students participate in all aspects of producing a play, they are able to see first-hand all the work that is required to turn-in a successful performance," says Mrs. Helene Blangin, founder of the Culver Thespians.

The Niles PTA has also been helpful in donating props and scenery, making the play a great outlet for community spirit.

Women in Communications discuss Cable TV

After the promises are made, the contracts signed, and a community believes it is about to usher in a bright new world of cable communications, many things can and do go wrong.

Dr. Jesse Huff, mass communications and cable TV expert, will join Evanston's administrative assistant for cable communications Sally Roethlis in exploring "After the Cable Franchise - What Then?", a program sponsored by Women in Communications, Inc./North Shore. It will be held on Thursday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. in the Allen Center, Northwestern University, Evanston.

Roethlis, who has been involved with Evanston's cable system since April, 1982, has dealt with such problems as monitoring, contracts, quality control, and "public trust" in her position for the city. She will discuss the good and bad sides of Cablevision which has been in service since February of 1983 in her community.

Huff who was named as official advisor to the Chicago Cable Commission, will handle such questions as how all communities in a large area like Chicago can find quality programming. And who will be cable TV's "watchdog?" (In his present position, Huff must consider Cablevision, Evanston's franchiser, as an applicant for one of Chicago's north-side cable areas.)

The program is open to the public. Admission is $5 for non-members, $3 for members, $2 for students and retired members. For further information, contact Susan Zimny at 298-9660. Free parking is available at the Allen Center.

THE NILES POLICE BEAT...

Niles police arrest speeding drunk driver

Niles Police arrested a 23-year-old Glenview man and charged him with drunk driving following a high speed chase on Thursday, Oct. 6.

Police first reported observing the Glenview driver traveling east on Golf Road. His car was clocked traveling 79 MPH in a 35 MPH zone. With police in pursuit, the Glenview man was seen slowing his car to 50 MPH as he drove through a red light on Washington St. and headed north into the Talisman Village shopping center.

The driver then turned off his lights and tried to elude police. Finally stopping the car when it again drove onto Washington St. police reported the offender threw a full can of beer striking a policeman. Additionally the driver repeatedly kicked one of the officers in the shin and groin.

At the Niles Police Department, the driver was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, using a revoked driver's license, fleeing and eluding a police officer, disregarding a red light, driving without head lights and resisting arrest.

He was assigned an October court and released after posting a $300 bond.

Tires stolen

A car belonging to a Niles resident had its tires stolen during the night of Tuesday, Oct. 4.

The car, a 1981 Chevrolet, was parked in front of the resident's home in the 8900 block of Elmore St. Sometime between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m., thieves jacked the car up onto milk cartons and removed all four tires.

The replacement cost of the tires was placed at $600.

Tavern patron arrested after assaulting police

A 35-year-old Chicago man was arrested after causing a disturbance at a Niles tavern on Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Police were called to the Niles Night Club Inn, 6873 Milwaukee Ave., where they confronted the Chicago man. The man reportedly began jamming his finger into a policeman's chest and shouting. Police report repeatedly asking the man to leave the saloon. When he refused they told him he was under arrest.

He then picked up a bar stool and began swinging it at police. One policeman was hit in the hand by the stool.

After finally handcuffing the man, he was taken outside the building where he broke away and, during a scuffle, police reported he fell onto the sidewalk and cut his face.

The offender was taken by Niles Fire Department Paramedics to Lutheran General Hospital for treatment. He was charged with battery and resisting arrest.

Following his being assigned a November court date the Chicago man was released after posting a $100 bond.

Cigarette thieves apprehended

Two Chicago men were arrested after stealing $63 worth of cigarettes from a local store on Monday, Oct. 3.

Police were notified by officials of 7411 7450 W. Oakton St., that two men had removed eight cartons of cigarettes, put them into a bag and fled the store without paying for them.

Store officials gave police the license number of the men's truck as well as identifying words written on the side of the truck.

Police found the truck parked in the 8000 block of Oriole St. The cigarette cartons were found on the street near the truck.

The men were later seen sitting in Dunkin' Donuts, 8080 Milwaukee Ave. where they were apprehended.

At the Niles Police Department the Chicago men, ages 34 and 43, were charged with shoplifting. They were assigned October court dates and released after posting bond.

Truck burglarized

Three tool boxes were stolen from a van belonging to a Chicago business while it was parked in Niles during the night of Wednesday, Oct. 5.

The van, a 1979 Dodge van, was parked in the 6900 block of Lexington Ln. when unknown persons gained entry to it by shattering a side window.

Taken from the van were three tool boxes containing electrical tools. The total loss was placed between $800 and $1,000.

Trailer stolen

A Des Plaines company reported a truck trailer was stolen while parked in Niles some time between Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The trailer, belonging to the Serritella Motor Express Co., was parked at 9000 Golf Rd.

Missing nursing home patient

A Niles nursing home reported one of its patients was missing on Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Officials of Miranda Manor, 8333 Golf Rd., alerted police at 6 p.m. that a 75-year-old man had "walked away" from the home following dinner.

The patient was described to police as an alcoholic suffering from emphysema who frequently could be found at the Golf Mill Shopping Center.

Trailer stolen

Unknown persons separated the trailer from the tractor and drove it from the area.

The trailer was valued at $21,000. It was not reported whether the trailer had merchandise in it during its removal.

Edgar bill to assist handicapped signed by Governor

A bill, proposed by Sec. of State Jim Edgar to make driving and traveling easier for handicapped persons and their families, has been signed by the Governor, who amendatorily vetoed a second bill, making a slight change.

"Being mobile is important in today's society. These bills will provide new and improved services to handicapped persons capable of driving, and to those who must rely on family and friends for transportation," Edgar said.

The two bills are sponsored by Sens. Aldo DeAngelis (R-Olympia Fields) and Arthur Berman (D-Chicago) and Reps. Kathleen Wojcik (R-Schaumburg) and Terry Steczo (D-Country Club Hills).

Senate Bill 1270, which was signed and goes into effect Jan. 1, 1984, makes the following change:

Allows disabled persons to provide a signed affidavit indicating a specific handicap in lieu of the present requirement that they provide a physician's certificate to be eligible for waiver of the $4 fee for an Illinois identification card. This change simplifies the requirements and eliminates the need for an examination which could cost at least $40.

Senate Bill 1269, which was amendatorily vetoed and must be reconsidered by the legislature this fall, would make the following changes:

Broadens the definition of a disability to allow handicapped license plates to be issued to persons with cardiac and respiratory conditions and to those who cannot walk without braces or other prosthetic devices.

The plates may also be purchased by family members who frequently transport blind persons, enabling them to use designated handicapped parking places.

Handicapped decals, rather than license plates, will be conveniently displayed on cars used to transport handicapped persons.

Edgar said his office would make the handicapped decals available on a statewide basis. Some local governments do not provide specific identification for handicapped drivers, and some municipalities do not recognize the cards of other municipalities.

Legislation creating handicapped license plates went into effect in 1975. Currently there are about 10,200 registered vehicles with handicapped plates and 2,800 with disabled veteran plates.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Jaffe urges U.S. remain host of UN

Dear Editor,

Recent Rumblings in our nation's capital have been inferring a high level policy change is being bandied about. For the first time since the inception of the United Nations under Harry Truman, President Reagan is hinting he thinks it would be acceptable if the United States should abdicate its office as host country of the UN.

There has never been a high level of agreement among presidents from opposing parties. However, one fact Democratic and Republican presidents do agree on is that our country should remain the host of the UN.

First the obvious economic benefits of being the host country must be considered. When representatives from other nations come to our country to attend UN sessions, they are also given the opportunity to access our cities as possible locations for branches of their industries.

When those representatives are presented with the business opportunities working with our industries offer, it can also generate increased import/export business. Also, during the course of conducting UN business in New York, delegations often spend a great deal of money.

Thus, they are also enhancing New York's financial climate. In addition, the obvious prestige of being host to the UN should not be denied. Simply having the central meeting place for world discussion, cooperation and sharing present in our country almost certainly makes the United States an even greater show case for the democratic ideals so vital to our founding fathers.

Although it is impossible for one country to dominate the affairs of the UN, there is an undeniable lobbying advantage to the country serving as the host. When the various delegates attend sessions, it presents the United States' policy makers with an indisputable advantage over other countries government.

There is no other country in the world where the United States could present such a concerted lobbying effort for its beliefs other than right here.

I often do not agree with the decisions reached by the UN, however, that is no reason to consider letting it move to another country, or to consider abolishing it. The UN is vital to the stability of our world's structure. It is a safety valve for the inevitable conflicts that arise in tandem with trying to make our world a better, safer place to live. If it were not for the existence of the UN, I am certain we would have already experienced the atrocities that would accompany another world war.

While some important negotiations toward world peace are conducted in Switzerland, that does not mean the United States should send the rest of the negotiations for world affairs across the ocean. When one considers the amount of aid our country dispenses daily to those in need, it becomes apparent just how large a commitment to world betterment the United States really wants to make.

The United States stands as a shining example of democracy to people all over the world - witness the number of persons constantly seeking asylum here - and it should remain the host country for the UN. There is no other country in the world more committed to world fairness, equality and human rights than the United States, and the UN should remain firmly entrenched in our country. We are not afraid to take a stand on an issue, and tirelessly support those we believe in. The UN should not be housed in Switzerland or any other country. It belongs where it was begun with the goal of world harmony as its charter - in the United States.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,
Aaron Jaffe

Tajiri seeks District 207 board seat

Dear Editor:

I am an independent candidate for one of the three 4 year term seats on the Maine Township High School District 207 Board.

My family has been property owners in unincorporated Maine Township for the past sixteen years. All three of our children attended District 64 schools and were graduated from Maine East High School.

I have always had an interest in District 207 policy, but especially since 1980 when the present Board considered closing Maine East. Only after a close 4-3 vote did Maine East remain open.

I am deeply concerned with fiscal responsibility of District 207 Board members to all residents of Maine Township. This year the School Board again considered closing Maine East in 1984 and reopening Maine North. Maine North was closed in 1981 at a cost of $50,000. All equipment was sold or moved to Maine East for use or storage. To reopen Maine North in 1984 would cost the taxpayers $600,000, since the sold equipment would have to be replaced with similar equipment at inflated prices. In 1987-1990 when the total township high school enrollment will fall below 5,000 students, Maine North would again have to be closed. At this time the cost is projected to be around $400,000. A total of $1,000,000 was saved by keeping the status quo.

In 1973-76 the total enrollment reached an all time high of 11,800 students in all four high schools. In 1983 the enrollment dropped to 7,700 and it is projected that in 1987-1990 the enrollment will drop to around 4,800 students. All residents of Maine Township, whether they live in Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Niles, Morton Grove, Glenview, or the unincorporated areas must work together. In fact all "collar" suburbs of Chicago must work to maintain fiscal stability to avoid encroachment of Cook County School bodies.

Hartstein to "hold the line" on taxes and tuition

Ray Hartstein, founding Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Oakton Community College, seeking re-election in the Nov. 8th election, has called for a reduction in taxes and maintenance of the college's low tuition.

Hartstein told a college audience, "We must again reduce taxes as we have at Oakton for 9 of the last 14 years and maintain our low 14¢ per credit hour tuition, despite skyrocketing of tuitions at neighboring colleges, if we are to keep our high quality, low cost education within the reach of our citizens."

He cited the attempts at avoiding duplication by the joint operation of the college with the local high schools on the use of computers, and the conducting of MONNACEP adult education programs, the cooperation with the nearby colleges and libraries on programming and book exchanges, and the establishment of a non-profit foundation to acquire funds and avoid reaching for more taxpayer dollars.

"Since the same taxpayers and students are involved, I would like to build a total educational network from elementary school through college to have all segments cooperate in planning programs, facilities, enrollments, and financing," Hartstein added.

"We are rather proud of our record at the college," he said. "Having started 'from scratch' in 1969 with no money, curriculum, faculty or facilities, we built a top-notch, fully accredited college now providing educational services for over 20,000 citizens, having started with only 800 students."

Hartstein, who is Director of Personnel/Industrial Relations at Brunswick Corporation, served as Chairman of the College Board for 5 years, Vice Chairman for 2 years, and Secretary for 1 year. Besides aiding in the establishment of the college, he has been involved in every aspect of growth and development of the college from 1969 to present.

He also served as President of the State Trustees Association for 2 years, which devotes its energies on behalf of the 50 community colleges in the state. Hartstein also testified before the U.S. Senate for community colleges and was cited in the Resurrection High School's volleyball team chalked up another 4 victories over the past week to put their record at 12-0. Ranked 13th in the state last week, Res is bound to move up the roster after beating Springfield, who was ranked 5th. At Saturday's Quad Volleyball Meet, the Bandits beat Springfield 15-9 and 15-9, after beating Maine West 15-7, 15-7.

Res Volleyball Team undefeated

Coach Jeannette Pancratz thinks the Springfield vs. Res game was the best played game of the season. The teams were well matched in play although Springfield had the edge in height. Amy Gauthier was hot in her spiking with 5 of her 8 spikes as aces. Peggy Hayes and Colleen Mergens had good backline play. Mary Loescher served for 16 points in the Springfield/Maine West games. Resurrection beat Maine West through serving and spikes. In the first game, Colleen Mergens and Mary Loescher served 11 of the 15 points. In the second game, Julie Guzzo served ten straight points. Six of Mary Loescher's spikes were aces; four of Amy Gauthier's spikes were aces and Danine Juszyński had 2 of 3.

Against Lourdes on September 27, eight of Loescher's spikes were aces. In the second game, with Res down 10-3, Freshman Sue Simmons served 6 straight serves for points. Guzzo's 4 of 8 serves were aces in the first game. Res won 15-3 and 15-11.

Resurrection beat Mother Guerin's team on Sept. 20.

Marillac Northstars place second

Marillac High School's varsity volleyball squad, the "Northstars" took second place in an all-day tourney at Prospect High School, Mount Prospect on Saturday, Sept. 24.

The only Catholic school represented among eight high schools, the "Northstars," played an excellent defense and never gave up. Seniors, Joan Wallenberg and Michelle Weber, both of Morton Grove, were top players. This tourney provided us with more experience for the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) districts," said Marillac coach, Janice Brandt.

Marillac beat Glenbrook North, Rich East and Deerfield High Schools. Prospect High School came in first.

Oakton golfers shoot for regional championship

Oakton Community College Golf Coach Rich Symonds says he'd like to spend part of next June in Florida.

Although Symonds has no vacation plans, a first place finish in the October 14 and 15 Region IV Tournament in Freeport would earn OCC a birth in the National Junior College Tournament June 5-8 in Lehigh Acres, Florida.

"I'd say that we're definitely in the top four teams," the optimistic coach assessed. "It's between us, Lake County, Black Hawk and Highland," he said. "We're peaking right now and if we put it all together, I think we can win it."

Fifteen teams will participate in the Region IV Tournament. Oakton previously has never finished higher than fifth place. "We'll definitely do better than that unless something happens and we completely fall apart," Symonds said.

His optimism stems from a team that had shattered the old school record of 304 (for 18 holes) three times this season after turning in a 296 October 3 at a Skyway Conference meet in Winnetka.

Returning All-Conference selection Bill Meek has been playing extremely well as of late, Symonds said, along with Glenbrook South grad Greg Grieco, who's leading the conference with a 75.6 average.

Maine West grad Scott Westyn and Pete Joseph, last year's Central Suburban League champion from Niles West, have been coming around, too, he said. "Pete was having some trouble with his swing off the tee, but we looked at some videotapes and made a few changes," Symonds said. "He's starting to play better. All of our guys have been peaking lately and it's at a good time. We started off kind of slow, but if we continue to play like we have been, we've got a real good shot at winning the Region IV Tournament."

"Vikettes" win major awards

The Niles North High School pom pom squad, "The Vikettes," won most of the awards presented at the Badgerette Pom Pom Camp, held in Rockford this August. According to team coach Mary Maday Vernon, "It is marvellous that the girls performed so well, especially in light of the fact that 19 of the 24 students are new squad members."

Overall, the team placed second out of 18 schools and took first places in all the nightly ratings of new routines learned that day. They received the coveted "spirit" award, a first in senior kickline, a first in skits, a first for a special circle routine, and a fourth in originality.

The "Vikettes" include Rosy Aronson, Stephanie Berman, Mindy Bulmash, Debbie Cohn, Laura Cohn, Jodi Cohn, Natalie DiNicola, Sheryl Friedman, Stacy Gordon, Sheryl Green, April Harst, Michelle Karlin, Cathy Klaskin, Cindy Lasar, Illyce Lavin, Carine McCall, Chris Pardel, Robin Peller, Debby Ross, Cindy Sadkin, Heather Sanes, Dianne Skoczek, Lisa Viewn, and Laura Zaransky.

Fertility Awareness

The Couple-to-Couple League teaches the sympto-thermal method of birth regulation. This method uses all of a woman's fertility signs and has been proven to be 99% effective. It can be learned by any couple.

The sympto-thermal method of fertility awareness is as effective as any artificial method of birth control, simple to learn, medically safe, and morally acceptable. It can also be of help to couples with fertility problems.

A series of classes will be offered beginning Nov. 6, at St. Francis Hospital of Evanston, 355 Ridge Ave.

Holy Family installs Angiography machine

Holy Family Hospital recently installed a Digital Subtraction Angiography machine (DSA) which will provide many significant advantages to patients and physicians in the diagnosis of blood vessel and blood flow abnormalities.

The equipment provides diagnostic imaging of specific head and neck vessels and of thoracic, abdominal, and femoral arteries by combining computer capabilities with traditional x-ray techniques. Images that are high in diagnostic detail and contrast are obtained and obstructions of other abnormalities are easily detected. The new DSA screening technique can quickly provide information to physicians while still reducing the risk and expense to patients.

According to David Berry, Director of Radiology Department at Holy Family Hospital, "Digital subtraction angiography is a means of evaluating or monitoring the anatomy and flow of a patient's vascular system. Physicians can use the equipment as a screening device for potential stroke victims or hypertensive patients who may have a narrowing or obstruction of their arteries. Another potential use of DSA," added Berry "is in clarifying the diagnosis of blood clots traveling to the lungs (pulmonary embolism). The DSA procedure traditionally required hospitalization," said Berry, "but the DSA equipment has reduced the patient risk in most cases and can now be performed on an outpatient basis."

One of the most significant advantages associated with the DSA process is the ability to achieve arterial diagnosis without the pain, risk, and expense of traditional angiograms. Instead of entering an artery with a catheter, a venous route may be selected to inject the contrast material into the blood system.

When the contrast media enters the body, it travels through the veins, through the heart and into the arteries. The computerized DSA equipment uses an image intensifier, TV camera and display monitor to interpret signals from the contrast material in producing images of specific arteries onto a CRT screen. These images are then captured on film and sent to the radiologist for review.

Digital subtraction angiography does not replace the angiogram, but it can provide the physician with enough information so that an angiogram is unnecessary in certain cases. The traditional angiogram differs from the DSA procedure because it is an invasive technique which uses greater amounts of contrast material, radiation and hospitalization time. Digital subtraction angiography acts as an arterial screening procedure which can be performed on an outpatient basis and usually takes about 45 minutes as opposed to the usual two-day hospital stay involved in traditional angiograms.

By utilizing a computer to interpret vascular images, the need for and cost of x-ray film is reduced and the safety of the patient is enhanced. "The DSA equipment and its associated hardware has been incorporated into a well insulated and attractively decorated room which was remodeled to promote patient comfort and safety," says Berry. "Because there is less risk involved for the patient," adds Berry, "DSA screening promises in the future to be a very advantageous and beneficial development in the field of Cardiology."

The $200,000 piece and $4,000 renovation expense will enhance the diagnostic facilities in the Radiology Department at Holy Family Hospital. The addition of DSA equipment at Holy Family Hospital further demonstrates their commitment to quality patient care by providing greater comfort and less expense to the patient.

Alexian Brothers names new president/ chief executive officer

The Board of Trustees of Alexian Brothers Medical Center, Elk Grove Village, announces the appointment of Brother Philip Kennedy, C.F.A., as President and Chief Executive Officer, effective Sept. 1.

Brother Philip has been the Chief Executive Officer of the Alexian Brothers Hospital in St. Louis, Missouri, since 1978. His departure from St. Louis was highlighted by a Proclamation from Vincent C. Schoemehl, Jr., Mayor of the City of St. Louis, naming Aug. 26, as Brother Philip Kennedy Day. The Proclamation recognized his outstanding contributions and commitments, not only to the St. Louis field of medicine, but to numerous civic endeavors. Most recently, he served as the Interim Administrator of the 550-bed St. Louis City Hospital, having been appointed by Mayor Schoemehl after the administrative staff of that institution had been dismissed. This commitment he fulfilled while maintaining his multiple responsibilities as the Chief Executive Officer at Alexian Brothers Hospital.

In addition, he was selected to be a member of the St. Louis Leadership Program operated by the Coro Foundation to provide area leaders and potential leaders with the knowledge and contacts to improve the quality of the life, economics, health and transportation of the area. He has been a Preceptor for residents in hospital administration from both St. Louis University and George Washington University, and has been a lecturer at the St. Louis University Hospital Administration graduate program.

Brother Philip has been a member of the Citizens Organization of the Metro St. Louis Forum, and an active member of the Advisory Board of the United Negro College Fund, the Archdiocesan Conference of Catholic Hospital Administrators, the Missouri Hospital Association and the Hospital Association of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Prior to his appointment as the Chief Executive Officer of Alexian Brothers Hospital in St. Louis, Brother Philip served as Assistant Administrator at Alexian Brothers Hospital, San Jose, California, where his community involvement included being a member of the Board of Trustees of St. Rose Hospital in Hayward, California.

During his five years as Chief Executive Officer at Alexian Brothers Hospital, St. Louis, he began a Speech and Hearing Service which has been recognized as the best hospital-based program in the St. Louis metropolitan area. He directed a property acquisition plan to eliminate the land-locked condition of the Hospital and over 41 lots/buildings have been purchased, along with six business locations. Buildings whose condition did not warrant renovation have been razed, with added parking space and some pocket parks resulting.

Brother Philip implemented a Quality Assurance Program for the St. Louis Hospital that received total approval from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals on its most recent survey in 1982. A Business Health Service was opened to provide needed screenings, examinations and surveys for St. Louis business and industry.

A study of malnutrition/hunger among the elderly in south St. Louis was commissioned by the Hospital to be completed by the Department of Community Medicine of St. Louis University's School of Medicine. The data collected has been used by the Hospital to develop programs to deal with the effects of hunger, and coupled with other studies of the needs of St. Louis elderly, is being used by the Hospital to set direction and commitment in this area of community concern.

Health and Fitness Guide

The Immediate Care Center is open 12 hours a day

It's four p.m. Thanksgiving Day... your daughter is coughing heavily, needs medicine, and the doctor can't be reached....

You've twisted your ankle on the patio steps. It's very painful, and you wonder if you've sprained it. You need an x-ray....

What does a person do if injury or illness strikes, you need a doctor right away, and you don't have a personal physician, or your doctor is unavailable?

It can mean a trip to a hospital emergency room, where the wait for care can be a long one, and the cost can be high. However, now you can avoid all that and go to the Glenview Immediate Care Center, at 1415 Waukegan Rd., Glenview, the Glen Oak Plaza Shopping Center, where a doctor and nurses are on hand every day including Sundays and holidays, between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., waiting to treat people who need care, and the cost will be much lower than in the emergency room setting.

Situated in the midst of a busy shopping center where parking is plentiful and close by, near a drug store where necessary medicine can be purchased, the Glenview Immediate Care Center is about as convenient as a medical office could be. With an emergency physician in attendance from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., trained nurses, a laboratory and x-ray facilities within the center itself, there is a complete medical service for the average person with a minor illness or injury.

Appointments are not necessary, but if a person wishes to call ahead to be seen at a specific time, he can do so. School physicals, industrial and insurance exams and workers' compensation check-ups are performed also.

A major medical emergency such as a heart attack or multiple injuries demands care in a hospital emergency room, of course. Those who need immediate, acute care between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. are advised to go to a hospital emergency room such as that at Highland Park Hospital, 718 Glenview Ave., Highland Park.

Since it opened its doors last April, the Glenview Immediate Care Center has also carried on a program of community outreach. Blood pressure readings are given free of charge to anyone at any time, and blood glucose checking, for a nominal fee, is scheduled for the third Thursday of each month starting Oct. 20. Free baby-sitting classes are scheduled at the Center during school vacation for boys and girls 10 years old and older who care for children in their spare time.

For further information about the Glenview Immediate Care Center and a brochure describing its services and facilities, call 729-0244.

Morton Grove dentist completes additional studies

Dr. Richard C. Mazanek recently completed a course of study which will lead to certification as a forensic dentist. The accreditation program is offered by the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology at the Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington D.C.

O'Hare in May of 1979. Often times, the age, sex, race and even some habits of an individual can be determined by dental remains. Such positive identifications are extremely important to the victim's families, as this is a time of extreme emotional trauma. Forensic dentists can also place a criminal at the scene of a crime, by bite marks that may be left on the victim's body.

Dr. Mazanek is a general dentist who recently opened his practice at 5744 W. Dempster st. in Morton Grove with Dr. Gary M. LaMantia.

How to select the right nursing home

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives.

But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community nursing home, we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines; see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

Help for smokers in Gottlieb's new hypnosis course

A new program to help smokers give up their habit through hypnosis is now available at Gottlieb Memorial Hospital in Melrose Park.

The two-session evening program, on Monday, Oct. 17 and Wednesday, Oct. 19, 7-8 p.m., will be taught by clinical psychologist Dr. Paul Petersen at the hospital.

While in a peaceful, relaxing hypnotic state, participants will be given post-hypnotic suggestions to help them lose interest in and disassociate themselves from tobacco.

The second session will use hypnosis to help reinforce the non-smoking message and leave the participants feeling as though smoking had been a part of their remote and distant past.

Dr. Petersen says that of the more than 2,500 smokers he has taught, over half have given up the habit for good using his method. His small group approach has been used successfully at Resurrection and Augustana hospitals in Chicago and St. Francis Hospital in Evanston, as well as in treating many people individually in his office practice.

Smokers interested in attending the program must register in advance by sending a $75 check payable to Gottlieb Memorial Hospital to: Stop Smoking Program, c/o Public Relations, Gottlieb Memorial Hospital, 8700 W. North Ave., Melrose Park, IL 60160. Space is limited, and registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Extended Coverage

Should you use a home fire extinguisher? IF the rest of the family is safely out of the house, IF you've called the fire department immediately, IF your own escape route is safe and clear, and IF the fire is small.

Combination extinguishers are available: an ABC unit would be most effective for general use. Fire extinguishers are also graded from 1 to 10 according to the size fire they can handle; get the most powerful unit you can carry and use.

Make your fire extinguisher usable: keep it accessible in plain sight, but out of the reach of young children. Make sure it's in good working order.

Functional development of children's eye vision

Is your children's eye vision prepared for the reading and visual tasks that education demands?

Students never prepare to train their eyes for reading so that they can become Honor Roll Stars. But athletes, for example, require preparation for becoming Sports Stars.

Dr. Chester J. Nowak, O.D., has a program that trains students in the special skills they require to become Stars in the classroom by using their eye vision effectively.

Research statistics have proven that 91% of all handicapped children and 50% of all slow learners need help in developing functional reading skills or correcting eye problems.

A special Eye Analysis to diagnose, and Corrective Therapy will remedy the Eye Vision problem.

Dr. Nowak has done special work in the area of functional development of the eye's vision, because as a result of eye malfunction, the children develop a "nervous brain" that results in

St. Francis offers free Diabetes Tests

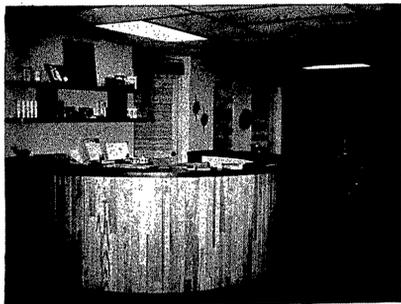

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston will offer free blood sugar testing during Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 7-11. This community program is part of an extensive campaign to discover the estimated 204,000 undiagnosed diabetics in northern Illinois.

Testing will be offered at the hospital, 355 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Monday through Friday, Nov. 7-11, from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The American Diabetes Association (ADA) lists the usual symptoms of diabetes as abnormal thirst, frequent urination, rapid weight loss, extreme hunger, drowsiness, general weakness, visual disturbances, and slow healing of cuts and scratches. But many diabetics don't exhibit these symptoms.

To make your appointment for a free blood sugar detection tests, call the St. Francis Hospital Laboratory at 492-6310 during regular business hours. Pre-registration is necessary. You will be provided with instructions suggesting types of food to be eaten two hours before your blood is tested.

This screening is for those who have not been diagnosed as diabetic.

A deep, golden tan has become an accepted sign of beauty, vigor and also success. That healthy successful look that comes with a good tan just naturally makes you feel better and in turn will make you more successful at anything you do.

A deep golden tan also prevents sunburning to a certain degree. If you are an outdoor oriented person, a rich tan will allow you to stay in the sun longer than usual. Wear your tan like a beautiful coat and feel more secure.

How does the sun tan? It is our skin's natural way of protection against the burning effects of the sun. When the skin is exposed to sunlight, a brown pigment called Melanin which is present in deeper layers of our skin, rises and oxidizes, resulting in a tan.

Various tanning devices that reproduce parts of the sun's ultraviolet (UV) radiation have been in existence for over 70 years. But only since 1976, have artificial suns been able to produce a good tan without any unpleasant side effects.

The Klafsun Tanning Systems being featured at Suntan Center of Glenview, Inc. (1926 Waukegan rd., Glenview) are using the revolutionary patented UV-A "Wolf-System". Forget all you have heard or experienced about suntanning! The Klafsun cannot be compared with any of the old UV-B sunlamps, which caused skin damage and never really tanned.

Millions of people in Europe, where this new UV-A tanning trend started, have enjoyed the benefits of these fantastic devices. They use them at home, in clubs and in special tanning operations. Even dermatologists recommend the UV-A tanning, because it is safer than the sun.

Don't hesitate - try the exciting Klafsun Tanning System today. You will experience a new and totally different sunbath and you will like it very much. In one way it is similar to tanning in the natural sun - you lay down and relax. But you don't have to fear sunburning, peeling and drying of the skin any more.

Klafsun's guarantee you a beautiful tan after a maximum of ten treatments. The first tan you can already see after 2 sessions. So get ready and sign up for an inexpensive vacation and get your deep glowing tan right now at The Suntan Center of Glenview, Inc., 1926 Waukegan rd., Glenview.

Blood Drive at St. Isaac Jogues

St. Isaac Jogues Church will host a blood drive for all church members and community residents on Sunday, Oct. 16. The blood drive will be held in the basement of St. Isaac Jogues Church, 8149 Golf rd., Niles. Church members and community residents are encouraged to donate at the drive between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. Appointments can be made by phoning the church office at 967-1060, between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The blood drive chairpersons Mike and Bernice Zirko, and church Pastor, John C. Massion, remind all eligible donors that the supply of blood depends entirely upon volunteer blood donors. Mike Zirko, who has served as chairperson of St. Isaac Jogues Church blood drives for the past 10 years, is a five gallon donor. Zirko stresses the need for blood donations saying that "every day patients in neighboring hospitals need blood transfusions to save or enhance their lives. If you're between 17 and 65, in good health, and weigh at least 110 lbs., you can be a volunteer blood donor."

"The Worry Jar Revisited"

Holy Family Hospital would like to help parents throughout the Northwest Suburbs better understand what's worrying kids today.

A community education program called "The Worry Jar Revisited" has been developed in response to what the staff learned at the Kids' Health Fair held this past Spring. Nearly 1,000 kids of all ages attending the fair took pencil in hand and listed their worries in life and placed them in a "Worry Jar."

The staff was very curious about what kids are worried about today. The worries showed that some very real concerns are on their minds," said Judy Coy, RN, instructor in the Educational Services Department at Holy Family. "Some of their concerns are about their friendships, embarrassment before peers, school work, physical harm and illness."

The program, open to parents throughout the Northwest Suburbs, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium. (Register by calling 297-1800, ext. 1174). Children should not attend.

The Worry Jar Revisited will focus on school children in grades kindergarten through six and will feature a panel discussion and question and answer period.

Discussion on aging parents

The Evanston Hospital will present a free discussion on "Aging Parents - Alternative Care Options in the Community" at the Hospital's Frank Auditorium on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m. For information and reservations call 492-6469.

Prevention of Arthritis within reach: Foundation

Preventing some forms of arthritis may be within the reach of research scientists, according to the Arthritis Foundation in its annual report.

"The newest, most promising area of arthritis research is the concept that several factors may be required to cause some types of the disease, including a hereditary tendency and possibly infectious agents," said Dr. Daniel Hirsen, Chairman of the Medical and Scientific Committee of the Illinois Chapter of the Foundation.

Scientists have found that the tendency to develop some types of arthritis is inherited. Each person has genetic markers, a type of blueprint, which scientists can detect on the surface of white blood cells. Some of these markers appear to make people susceptible to certain types of arthritis.

"But having a certain marker is not enough to cause arthritis," said Dr. Hirsen. "Additional factors are necessary to cause disease, in conjunction with the proper hereditary background. The evidence today points to various environmental stresses, including possibly bacterial or viral infections."

The mechanisms of joint damage in various types of arthritis are being increasingly uncovered in diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis, the most crippling form of arthritis, which may affect as many as two million Americans. "Knowledge of the joint-destroying mechanisms in arthritis has grown rapidly in the last few

Free Self Help Support Group

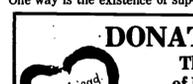

THE UNIDENTIFIED ONES: Adult children from homes with Drinking Problems...Children adapt to the environment in which they live. In homes where there is a severe problem with drinking, children contend with heavy emotions such as fear, guilt, blame, unpredictability, anger and resentment. But most of all, they learn one basic principle: They learn secrecy and denial of family problems.

They also learn 3 rules. Many adults who were in this way never allowed to be children are characterized by compulsivity in many forms; cannot relate intimately with a spouse; drink far too often despite holding down good jobs, and have great difficulty relaxing. These adults come from families with alcohol-related dysfunctional patterns of behavior.

In these families, no one is sure how the others feel about what is happening because no one Talks About It. No one even dares express feelings of terror, shame, deep inadequacy and self blame. And the child grows up with the perception that No One In The World Can Be Trusted. The child learns the rules well: Don't talk, Don't feel and Don't trust. There is help for these millions of adult children of alcoholics. Lives can be turned around in many ways. One way is the existence of support groups composed of adults who find that the problems they have in common are horribly similar. Come and find out what is happening to you.

Group meets Wednesday evening at 8:15 p.m. Dorothy May & Associates, Suite 209, 1500 Waukegan Rd., Glenview, IL. Call 724-4416 for further information.

Influenza: Respiratory disease caused by viruses

A long time ago Italian astrologers thought that influenza was caused by an influence of the heavenly bodies. Today we know the cause of influenza is not in the stars but in a family of viruses.

Influenza, or flu as it's commonly known, is a respiratory disease caused by two types of influenza virus - A and B - but each type includes many related viruses or strains, each different from the others, and each capable of causing flu.

Influenza illness varies from mild upper-respiratory infection to pneumonia and death. It depends on the individual's susceptibility and general physical condition.

It's not a serious threat for most healthy people, but it may be more severe or last longer in certain people we call "high-risk" individuals. We've found that most influenza-related deaths occur among two groups of people: the chronically ill and the elderly.

Influenza is very contagious. A single case of influenza appears occasionally, but usually the disease occurs in outbreak form. People catch it from each other, and they catch it so easily that it isn't unusual for a large part of a community to come down with it within a few days of the first reported cases. Most outbreaks of influenza last less than a month in a community, but that same strain may appear in a number of places at the same time or closely following one another.

Immunity does not develop immediately after receiving the vaccination. It takes 10-14 days to develop. That is why the state health department urges "high risk" individuals, in particular, to get their vaccinations in early fall.

High-risk individuals are those whose risk of developing severe complications from influenza is much greater. For instance, people over 65, or persons of any age who have a chronic medical condition, such as heart disease, chronic pulmonary problems which include severe asthma, tuberculosis, cystic fibrosis and the like; chronic renal diseases; diabetes; anemia; or diseases that compromise the immune mechanism. This would include people who are on medications that suppress the immune system.

Complications that can follow flu are pneumonia, persistent cough or bronchitis, sinus trouble and ear infection. And there has been an association with an increased incidence of Reye Syndrome among children and adolescents in the United States.

The influenza vaccine is not automatically given to patients in nursing homes and hospitals. The decision to give the vaccine is determined by the doctor. On very rare occasions, a person may be allergic to some substance in the vaccine, and vaccination in such a case may not be recommended.

The influenza vaccine is very safe. Most people suffer no adverse reactions at all. About one-third of the people who are vaccinated have nothing more than a red wheal on their arm. Some people may have a sore arm for a day or two. Others may have fever, chills, headache, or muscle aches within the first 24 to 48 hours after vaccination.

Loyola tests new device in care of critically ill

Physicians at Loyola University Medical Center are inserting a catheter into a vein in the patient's neck, it is a little larger than a strand of spaghetti.

The catheter snakes its way into the patient's heart and into the pulmonary artery, and on the end of it is a light, a tiny red light that will tell the physician the amount of oxygen in the blood being returned from the tissues throughout the body.

These are critically ill patients, and it is very important for physicians to know the amount of oxygen being supplied to the tissues. Without such information, they could die.

"I believe this device is a real breakthrough in monitoring critically ill patients," said Dr. Patrick Fahey, assistant professor of medicine and anesthesiology and a specialist in pulmonary diseases.

Although the pulmonary artery catheter has been around for 10 years, this one is different and more advanced. The standard pulmonary catheter measures pressure around the heart and how it functions.

This one does the same, but it also has fiber optic bundles that transmit a light, a red one, which, when in the bloodstream, bounces off of blood cells in the pulmonary artery and reflects back to a monitor.

"The difference between the light transmitted and the light reflected enables us to calculate the amount of oxygen in the blood returning from the tissues," Dr. Fahey explained.

Produced by Oximetrix of Mountain View, California, the device has been used in clinical trials for two years at Loyola and at five other medical centers in the U.S.

Loyola University Medical Center was one of the first users in a clinical setting, and has the largest clinical experience in Illinois.

"We completed our experiments with the first 100 of these catheters and reported our findings at the meeting of the Society of Critical Care Medicine in St. Louis, Missouri, in May, 1982," he said.

Knowledge of the amount of oxygen in the blood is a prerequisite for effective patient care.

Dr. Fahey explained that normal oxygenation is 70 percent in venous blood. But the oxygenation can fluctuate in critically ill patients so the information that is transmitted by the catheter is monitored every 10 seconds; the monitor sounds an alarm if the oxygenation drops below 50 percent.

What are the advantages of this new type of catheter?

According to Dr. Fahey, "This measurement of venous oxygen samples decreases the need for blood gas tests; it also provides an alerting system that is built in so that if something goes wrong, effective treatment can be applied immediately."

"We have also found that it frees up nursing time for other aspects of care, and the device is cost effective."

Marillac supports blood drive

Marillac High School is sponsoring a blood drive in cooperation with the Blood Center of Northern Illinois, Thursday, Oct. 20 at the Northfield school between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m.

A pint of blood represents between 8 and 10% of the body's supply and is easy to give. A single pint can save the lives of as many as four different patients within the following 35 days.

Eligibility requires that you be 17 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health the day of the drive. If you meet these requirements, you can give. After a few questions are answered and your iron level measured, the blood donation will take between 5 and 8 minutes.

Mrs. Terry Uselmann, faculty advisor and one of the drive's coordinators, says that faculty members, staff, parents and neighbors are asked to join the students in the drive.

The Blood Center describes the provision of an adequate blood supply as a community responsibility that should be shared by its healthy members.

Students coordinators of the blood drive are seniors: Carol Uselmann, Park Ridge; Dorothy Zwiazek, Des Plaines; Mary Pinas, Glenview; Joan Wallenberg, Morton Grove; Ellen Hanrahan, Niles; and the Marillac Marian Club.

GOLFERS' FEET

Golf requires a lot of standing and walking. If you're not accustomed to such footwork, you may develop discomfort, especially in the lower part of your body and feet.

An average round of 18 holes may demand four or five hours of standing and walking. You may notice your feet fatigue as you move around the course. Here are some tips to ease the discomfort: try to keep your feet and lower body more limber. Try toe raises. Or simply bend over from the waist, close your eyes, and just "hang there" with legs straight (keep eyes closed) for just 60 seconds. Do not bounce. Do not try to touch toes.

Unrelieved or recurring foot and leg fatigue and soreness should be evaluated and treated by your podiatrist, because underlying foot pathomechanics may be creating the problem.

AMUSEMENT GUIDE

"Auntie Mame" opens at Maine East

Maine East's fine arts department presents "Auntie Mame" on October 14-15, starting at 8 p.m. in the Maine East Auditorium. Tickets are $2 per person and will be sold at the door. Cast members include (l-r) Debbie Nilles of Niles (Mrs. Claude Upson), Mark Mendelsohn of Des Plaines (Mr. Claude Upson), Jenny Benka of Park Ridge (Gloria Upson), Mike Silverman of Des Plaines (Patrick Dennis), and Jackie Pector of Des Plaines (Mame's secretary Pegen Ryan).

The Maine East Fine Arts department will present "Auntie Mame" as its fall play on Oct. 14 and 15. The show begins at 8 p.m. in the Maine East Auditorium. Tickets are $2 each and will be sold by the cast and crew in the cafeteria during the lunch periods prior to the Oct. 14 and 15 performances. Tickets will also be available at the door.

"Auntie Mame" consists of many characters. Eccentric and zany Auntie Mame is portrayed by Kelly Kline of Des Plaines. Her nephew, Patrick Dennis, played by Ken Wilson of Park Ridge, comes to live with her after the death of his father. He arrives at his aunt's apartment with his nanny, Norah Muldoon (Barb Wieserak of Niles). First they meet Ito (Steve Pavovic of Niles), the Bishop (David Shapiro of Glenview), and M. Lindsay Woolsey (Andre Doresey of Des Plaines).

Next Mame and Patrick meet Mr. Babcock (John Hansen of Niles), who causes many problems for them. Later on she marries Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside (Bruce Marcus of Niles), who later falls off a mountainside. In Act II Patrick, now played by Mike Silverman of Des Plaines, has grown up. He is engaged to be married to Gloria Upson (Jenny Benka of Park Ridge). Mame soon encounters Gloria and her parents, Doris and Claude Upson (Debbie Nilles of Niles and Mark Mendelsohn of Des Plaines). She manages to break them up, and he ends up marrying Pegen Ryan, Mame's secretary (Jackie Pector of Des Plaines).

Other cast members are David Adelman of Des Plaines, Mike Bonfiglio of Niles, Kiki Clos of Glenview, Monique Flisch of Morton Grove, Dan Libman of Des Plaines, Collette Luchetta of Glenview, Mary Landeragan of Park Ridge, Rick Maxwell of Niles, Tony Merenda of Niles, Sandy Moss of Niles, Teo Noriega of Des Plaines, Karen Olson of Glenview, Mark Smithson of Morton Grove, Robyn Uehel of Glenview, and Nicole Wilson of Des Plaines.

Once again, one of the largest exhibits of miniature figures ever shown in the Chicago area will be on display when the Military Miniature Society of Illinois hosts its Ninth Annual Show, which will feature the work of many of the finest miniature figure artists in the United States and Canada. The show will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the American Serbian Hall, 5701 N. Redwood dr., Chicago. The hall is located two blocks west of the Cantfield exit of the Kennedy Expressway, near O'Hare Airport. Admission is $2.

Oakton grads doing fine in arts

You might say that Oakton Community College served as sort of a prep school to the "real world" for OCC graduates Scott Eisner and Michale Ryzcek. Both men have credited the college for laying a strong foundation for them toward their current professions; Eisner in photography and Ryzcek in theater.

Eisner, 31, graduated from OCC in 1973. He now has his own company, Scott Eisner Photography in Chicago, and has done work for Allstate Insurance, Hilton Hotels, Banquet Fried Chicken and many other diversified companies. Ryzcek, 23, spent most of his time at OCC in 1978 and 1979, before taking a leave and returning last year to finish classes and earn a liberal arts degree. He is founder of Reflections Theater in Chicago, an ensemble acting group that evolved from classes the Des Plaines resident teaches at the Discovery Center, 2940 Lincoln ave., Chicago.

"The Discovery Center is a lot like MONNACEP (OCC's continuing adult and non-credit program)," Ryzcek said. "It's non-credit courses for people who are interested in a variety of things. I teach three acting classes there and I always wanted to start an ensemble acting company - it seemed like a natural evolution out of the classes. There are about 15 to 20 people involved in the ensemble."

Ryzcek has directed the last four shows done by Reflections Theater. As artistic director, he chooses plays that will be presented, casts them and takes care of the theater's business. Eisner, a former Skokie resident who now lives in Chicago, concentrates on corporate and industrial photography out of his 3,000-square foot studio at 323 S. Franklin.

"Actually, I'm looking to move into a bigger studio," he said. Eisner recently completed work that is being used for Gloria Vanderbilt Chocolates. His concentration on corporate and industrial photography evolved from his first job after he finished school at OCC. "I was sitting around without a job and Bernie Krule (OCC professor of art and a former teacher of Eisner's) called me and said that someone was looking for an assistant," he recalled. "I planned to only work for a few months - it was supposedly just a summer job - but they hired me as a photographer and gave me a raise three weeks later, so I stayed. This company, which specialized in industrial photography, went out of business, so I went into business for myself, which I knew I always wanted to do."

Eisner credits Krule with "creating the desire to make me want to learn more about photography. I'd have to say that the direction was started at Oakton for what I'm doing now," he said. Ryzcek said his OCC experience is what convinced him to pursue a career in theater. "I was involved in about everything at Oakton that went on in the way of theater," he said. "I really learned a lot while I was there."
