Church group fails to get financing for purchase

Wilson School sale falls through

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Final sale of Wilson school by East Maine School District 63 to Eden Mission Educational Center fell through because of the Center's inability to finance the purchase. The Center bid $500,000 for the school in June and deposited $50,000 "earnest money" towards the sale.

At an October 25 board meeting, board members learned of the church group's "error" in attempting to buy the school and also of the group's request for a refund of the $50,000 deposit.

After some discussion, board members approved a return of

by Bud Besser

Local news is what our game is all about. Last week we were the only newspaper the world over which reported about the missing funds in the Niles park district. It was a difficult story. We had first been told about it the day before we went to press. The big Bugle's network of little Buglers, who feed us so many stories, first called in to tell us about the story. Then, a few hours before we went to press, another Bugler dropped by and sketched a similar story.

At the park board meeting Tuesday night we received "No comments" from the park board president, and park attorney Gabe Berrafato gave our Diane Miller quite a going over for asking about the missing money. When he calmed down, the story trickled out. We telephoned the young man who is alleged to being involved in the story and a friend said to call back in 10 minutes. Ten minutes later no one answered the phone.

It was good newspaper work done under pressure. Implications of legal action prevented anyone from talking about the story. And we checked endless sources to make sure there was no libelous content or intent in the story. We were pleased

Fire heavily damaged a Niles house during the early morning hours of Friday, Oct. 21 and a Niles Fire official said on Tuesday that it was a "miracle" that no one was injured.

The probable cause of the fire, according to Niles Fire Department Inspector Ed Sosnowski, was a lit cigarette.

The house, located at 8013 Overhill St., belongs to Mrs.

Matilda Ott who lives there with her two sons.

The fire began, according to Sosnowski, when one of the sons, who sleeps in the basement, fell asleep with a cigarette burning in an ashtray on a table. The Niles officials initiated the village-wide Halloween party last year in the wake of the poisoned-Tylenol killings. Anxious parents brought over 5,000 children to last year's party resulting in all candy and prizes being distributed. Village officials are prepared this year for another large turnout.

As was the case last year, village, school, park and police officials are urging children not to accept candy from strangers. Instead, candy and prizes will be

Retarded Citizens Days

Mayor Nicholas Blase with Grand Knight Paul Dahlgren and Chairman Tad Lesniak announces that Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29 are Mentally Retarded Citizens days.

Mayor Nicholas B. Blase signed a proclamation that Friday, Oct. 28, and Saturday, Oct. 29, are proclaimed Retarded Citizens Days. The Knights of Columbus in the State of Illinois have undertaken a project of assistance for the treatment and care of the mentally retarded.

The local North American Martyrs Council #438 has for the past fourteen years conducted a statewide Tootsie Roll campaign for funds for the handicapped and mentally retarded children and adults. The proceeds of this endeavor is distributed to non-profit agencies dedicated to serving the mentally and handicapped citizens.

The mayor of Niles, Nicholas Blase, urges all citizens to take cognizance of and cooperate in the campaign. On Friday, Oct. 28, men and women helping in this fund will be at intersections and shopping centers in the village. On Saturday, Oct. 29, they will be at the various shopping centers of Niles. They will be wearing a bright yellow apron with red lettering. It will read "Help Retarded Children". They will give a Tootsie Roll for every contribution.

"Alcohol and drug abuse are an epidemic with our teenagers." Who says so? We have, for many years. As psychologist and social workers at Niles Family Service, we personally witness the large number of families which are affected by an alcoholic or drug abuser. Many times the alcoholic or drug abuser is a teenager. Too often the family is wrapped in a wall of denial. "Not my kid." "She's too young." "Kids will be kids!" and so on. The problem is there - and it won't go away. It just gets bigger and bigger and thereby has become a national problem of epidemic proportions. Now there are other voices sounding the alarm. People like Nancy Reagan and the Surgeon General. Organizations like the National PTA, school administrators, National Council of the Churches of Christ, Rotary, and Spaulding are incumbents.

Niles man to be honored for lifesaving

On Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m., Alan Wilczewski, 7130 Keeney st., Niles, will be awarded, by presidential authorization, the prestigious American Red Cross Certificate of Merit. The award ceremony will be held at the American Red Cross, North Cook District Office, 617 N. Main st., in Mount Prospect.

The honorable Red Cross citation will be presented to Mr. Wilczewski for saving the life of a victim involved in an automobile accident. Last year, 16-year-old Dawn Dyrhaug of Arlington Heights was the only Northern Cook County recipient of the distinguished Certificate of Merit.

Wilczewski will be decorated for his courageous efforts of February 19, 1983. While in his car, Wilczewski, a Red Cross Volunteer trained in First Aid and CPR, observed a two vehicle collision. After stopping his car and rushing to the scene, Wilczewski determined that one of the drivers had neither pulse or respiration. He began CPR and continued his efforts until the ambulance arrived. Without doubt, Wilczewski's efforts saved this victim's life.

Forums set for Occ board candidates

Candidates for positions on the Board of Trustees at Oakton Community College will be part of upcoming Candidate Forum sessions scheduled at area locations.

On Nov. 1, the Middleton School PTA will sponsor a forum at Middleton School, 8300 St. Louis, Skokie. It starts at 7 p.m.

A final forum will be held Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m., at Apollo Junior High School, 10150 N. Dee Rd., Des Plaines. It is being sponsored by the Maine Township High Schools.

Three OCC board positions need to be filled in the Nov. 8 election. The six candidates are: Louis J. Farina, Park Ridge; Raymond E. Hartstein, Skokie; John J. Karpeck, Golf; Diane M. Loveland, Glenview; Morton P. Paradise, Skokie; and William E. Spaulding, Glenview. Hartstein and Spaulding are incumbents.

Maine Township High School District 207 and the Maine Teachers' Association are pleased to announce that agreement has been reached on a unique negotiations settlement covering the District's 452 certified teachers. The Agreement, which runs through August 15, 1987, extends by two years the parties' current contract which was due to expire August 15, 1985.

The new Agreement provides for job security, improved incentives for voluntary early retirement, and wage increases.

The settlement was reached as a result of nine months of small group discussions involving the negotiations team leadership of the Association and the Board of Education. Together, they examined problems and needs of the district and its teaching staff. The Agreement is a creative response to the need for a level of job security for teachers at a time of severe declining enrollment while the same time allowing for a general wage increase. It also confirms the need for certain administration procedures necessary to ensure a quality educational program which is the demand of the citizens of Maine Township for their high schools.

The basics of the new Agreement were outlined in the "Background Information for Media Use" which was previously made available on October 4. Briefly stated, the new Agreement, which is effective immediately, extends the previous contract's job security protections for an additional two years. As a result, teachers who have 14 or more years of service to District 207 in 1983-84 will continue to have job security through the 1988-86 school year.

In order for the district to provide such job security, the contract contains a vastly improved supplemental voluntary early retirement program designed to provide incentives to teachers age 55-59 who are eligible to consider voluntary early retirement. It is hoped that the number of teachers selecting this early retirement will equal or exceed the number of teachers whose jobs, but for the job security provision of the contract, might be eliminated through a reduction in force.

The contract provides a basic wage increase of 4 percent for 1983-86 and an additional 4 percent wage increase for 1986-87. There are, however, unique provisions contained in the parties' Side Letter of Agreement which supplements the basic contract and which provides that the wage increase for these two years may be adjusted depending upon the

The agreement, which runs through August 15, 1987, extends by two years the parties' current contract which was due to expire August 15, 1985. Unfortunately, burglary is a growing threat to homeowners and apartment dwellers alike. How safe is YOUR home? Check your security precautions; sometimes the police will offer assistance.

Get good locks—and use them! A sturdy deadbolt lock offers the best protection. If there are glass panels, use impact-resistant panes.

Windows should be closed and locked whenever you are away from home.

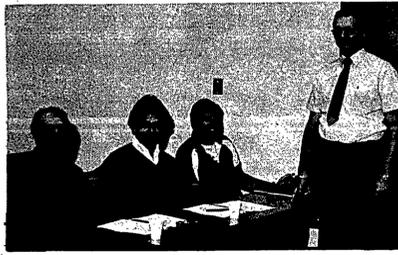

Burglars like to work under cover of darkness. Good exterior lighting, especially around doorways and garages, is effective.

Burglar alarms offer additional protection, especially if connected to the police department. In addition, an alarm may earn you a discount on your insurance premium.

Niles Sgt. John Katsoulas, officers Dennis McEnerney and Donald Leavitt (seated l to r) recently attended a truck overweight seminar that was conducted by Illinois State Trooper Sgt. Sebastian (standing). The seminar was held to train the Niles officers on the use of the village's new overweight scale that was recently placed into operation.

The village purchased the truck weighing scale to curb the abuse of overweight trucks driving through Niles and causing damage to the streets. The scale will also be used by the Public Service Department to check the accuracy of bulk village purchases that arrive by truck such as salt, stone etc. This will assure the village that the tonnage received is what was ordered.

Surgery Instead of Glasses?

Eye Surgeons are now performing an outpatient corrective procedure which can eliminate dependency on eyeglasses in the vast majority of people who are only able to see sharply up close.

The procedure, which takes under an hour, is performed while the patient's eye is numbed and with the patient sedated to the point of not caring. Using an operating microscope, a micrometer-adjusted diamond scalpel and an ultrasonic computer, the eye surgeon places incisions into the clear front wall of the eye to change its curve to provide for proper focusing of light within the eye. One eye is done at a time; people return to work in a week; the second eye is usually done eight weeks later. Reoperations are possible and are occasionally needed to gain best correction. Success in gaining legal driving vision without glasses is about 90% for most who depend on glasses before the procedure.

First developed in the Soviet Union where the first human operation was performed in 1973, the procedure was first done in the United States in 1976 and since then, some 25,000 operations have been performed here. In the entire U.S. experience there have been four cases of serious complication requiring surgical intervention and none has resulted in blindness. F.A.A. examiners accept good vision from radial keratotomy and so do local and federal law enforcement agencies, though the armed services have knowingly accepted only a few test candidates as yet.

The procedure, called radial keratotomy, is most helpful to adults 18 to 65 years old, who wish to free themselves of glasses for careers in the airlines, in law enforcement, and in fire protection, and for those motivated for personal reasons but for whom contact lenses have not worked. Three calls came in from people shopping at Sears Roebuck and Co., 400 Golf Mill.

At 4:25 p.m. a 75-year-old Chicago woman told police that her purse had been stolen.

The woman said she had placed her purse on a ledge as she made a call from a pay phone. While the purse was on the ledge the thief stole it.

The purse reportedly contained $35 in cash as well as personal papers and keys.

Some time between midnight and 2:20 a.m. a 25-year-old Des Plaines man said his wallet was stolen while he was at Willoughby's restaurant, 5960 Touhy ave. The wallet contained $38 cash and credit cards.

Poor customer relations

Police were called to a local store after an angry customer began breaking merchandise on Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Officials of Dynamic Distributors, 8225 Golf rd., report that a customer came into the store to return a baby's wall hanging. When the customer was told she could not receive credit because she did not have a store receipt, she became irate and threw a $35 lamp to the floor.

The woman immediately left the building and her husband returned a few minutes later with the correct receipt. Store officials then gave the customer credit for the wall hanging.

Police were later informed by store officials of the incident and will contact the customer.

To the people of the Northwest suburbs

To the People of the Northwest Suburbs:

In Cablenet's rush to complete construction of one of the nation's most sophisticated cable television systems, our attention to quality control and landscape restoration has not been up to our usual standards of excellence. Many of you have been inconvenienced by our construction activities, or by extended waiting time for installations. On behalf of Cablenet, I apologize for the inconvenience we have caused you.

Between now and mid-December, Cablenet crews will inspect every foot of the more than 1200 miles of cable we have placed in the Northwest suburbs. The purpose is two-fold — to identify technical and restoration problem areas and to assure that these problems are resolved.

To do that, we need your help. If you are experiencing technical problems or have incompleting restoration work on your property, please fill out the coupon below and mail it to us. Or, if you do not have Cablenet service but would like it installed, please send in the coupon and we will have a sales representative contact you as soon as your area is serviceable.

Our goal is simple. To prove Cablenet's commitment to top quality service at all times, both in program offerings and customer responsiveness.

Thank you for your patience.
Sincerely,

Fred T. Klinkhammer
President and Chief Executive Officer, Cablenet, Inc.

Free use of Thillens Stadium

Non-profit groups can now apply for free use of Thillens Stadium during the 1984 baseball season by calling 745-5146. Little Leagues, schools and other charitable organizations can use the dual diamond 2,000 seat facility free of charge for 1 night next season, charge admission and keep all the proceeds for their own worthy cause. "Many groups call too late in the year," warns Mel Thillens, Jr., the Stadium General Manager. "Our rent free policy makes the park a very popular place each summer, and most of the dates are selected before Christmas. Besides being a free offering, the facility is maintained in a major league style."

BEST FOOT FORWARD

SORE SHINS
Why does your leg hurt, just above your ankle? It may be excessive footwork, jogging, improper posture, sudden twists—or even a careless kick from someone else. You can try the familiar ICE home help—I is for application of ice to the painful or swollen region; C is for compression with an elastic bandage; and E stands for elevation to slow blood flow into this area. Seek podiatric help to pinpoint the precise nature of your problem. The injury may be deeper than you think or feel, and self-diagnosis is risky. Evaluation with the aid of professional diagnostic equipment can determine the true extent of an injury. A small problem, neglected, may in time cause permanent injury.

Oakton Cross Country runs for nationals

Winning may be everything, but Oakton Community College Cross Country coach Pat Savage will gladly take a second place when his runners compete Oct. 29 in the Region IV Championships at Schiller Woods, Irving Park Rd. and Cumberland Ave. "I can't see how anyone is going to beat DuPage, but the top two teams qualify for nationals and I'll be very disappointed if we don't finish second," Savage admitted. Fifteen teams are expected to compete in the five-mile race.

The veteran coach is counting on top runners Chris Walsh and Jesse DeLaFuente, along with Tom Polak and Jim Rubeby for strong performances. "We'll also need a strong showing from our fifth man," Savage said. "Walsh means either Chuck Weidenback or Dave Hubbard: I think Chris (Walsh) has a real good chance to win the individual championship—he's already beaten everyone in the district." Savage said he believes OCC

CHOOSING THE RIGHT SIZE WATER HEATER

When buying a water heater, it is wise to estimate your needs of a family, certain factors should be considered. Obviously, the number of persons in your family is the biggest factor. Next, allow for the size of the house, the number of small children, and the use of an automatic clothes washer and/or dishwasher. When buying a water heater, it is wise to estimate your needs generously. Consider your future needs as well as your present requirements. Demands for hot water will be greater as the size of the household increases, as the children become older and begin to take showers or soak for hours in a full tub of water, and as certain new appliances are added.

This table indicates the electric water heater sizes usually considered adequate for various family sizes:

Family Size	Heater Size
1 to 3	50-gallon
4 to 7	80-gallon
7 or more	100-gallon

Another way to help determine the right size electric water heater for your family is to examine your specific hot water needs. See the table below for average amounts of hot water used in some common household routines:

Average Use	Gallons of Hot Water
Tub bath	10-15
Shower bath	8-12
Baby bath	5
Meal preparation	3
Dishwashing-hand	3
Dishwashing-automatic	8
Clothes-washing-automatic	18

After you have chosen the right size water heater, Edison Electric Institute advises the installation of a water flow restrictor in the shower head. An estimated saving of 1,337 Kwh/year can be realized by the introduction of a flow restrictor (assuming 6 Gal./Min., 10 minute shower, 365 showers a year, with a 50% temperature). According to Edison Electric Institute, many of the nation's utility companies offer the flow restrictors free.

FREE UP YOUR WEEKENDS TRY SIDING

Do you ever feel like, instead of owning your house, your house actually owns you? If the normal maintenance and upkeep requirements of your home are eating up all your free weekends, it might be time to consider installing some time-saving home improvements. Installation of new varieties of siding will eliminate one of the most time-consuming home projects — house painting. Good quality siding can last up to 40 years, says the National Home Improvement Council.

Appliance Life Expectancy

Don't be surprised if that electric range you bought back in 1961 is showing signs of age. According to Edison Electric Institute it has already passed its life expectancy. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has just completed a survey of the service life expectancies of household appliances that it hopes will be useful in planning family budgets in deciding whether to repair or replace an appliance. For appliances obtained new, the average lengths of time a homeowner keeps the appliance is:

+ Electric Range	12.1 years
+ Gas Range	13.5 years
+ Refrigerator	15.2 years
+ Washing Machine	10.8 years
+ Dishwasher	11.1 years
+ Electric Dryer	13.7 years
+ Gas Dryer	12.8 years

If appliances are acquired used, the expectancies are seven years for a refrigerator and gas range, six for an electric range, five for a washing machine, and electric or gas clothes dryer.

Pull Shades On Winter Heat Loss

When it comes to rating the worst squanderers of home energy, windows rank second only to an uninsulated attic, according to the U.S. Department of Energy.

In winter, windows are especially energy-wasteful. They are responsible for as much as 35 percent of heat loss in a typical house. That's because window glass is a conductor of heat. In fact, 3 to 4 times more costly furnace-generated heat is lost through the window than through the sash around it.

In a study conducted at the Illinois Institute of Technology, researchers tested out standard window shades that retail for less than $6 each. Their findings: shades keep in 24 to 31 percent of the heat that normally escapes through windows.

WINDOW SHADES CUT HEAT LOSS UP TO 31%.

Here's how. When shades are drawn, heat "bounces" back like a basketball off a backboard. That is why the Window Shade Manufacturers Association suggests that when it is most cold outside — in the evening, at night, and during the early morning — pull your shades down to the sill. Be sure there is very little space between the vertical edges of the shade and the window frame. This will block the escape of interior heat. During the sunny hours, raise the shades and let the sun warm up the inside.

The Illinois Tech findings are good news during this high-cost fuel era. Less heat loss means less fuel waste and lower fuel bills.

New Study Shows Natural Gas Will Retain Price Advantage

A new American Gas Association study which compares future home heating costs of fuel oil, natural gas and electricity shows that "gas energy will continue to be the American consumer's best energy buy" according to A.G.A. President George Lawrence. Entitled "Consumer Costs of Natural Gas and Alternative House Heating Fuel," the study tracks historical and projected residential heating prices and compares them to average disposable family income.

"Gas energy will continue to cost the average homeowner less than competing fuels through 1990 and beyond, and this means the average family will pay out less of its disposable income in 1990 for gas home heating fuel than for either oil or electricity," Lawrence stated.

He emphasized that "Natural gas house heating costs, which are usually 60 to 90 percent of total gas bills, will continue to consume only about 1.5-1.7 percent of the average U.S. disposable family income through 1990 and beyond, while home heating fuel oil and electricity bills will demand 2.5 and 4.0 percent, respectively."

The A.G.A. study shows that all house heating fuel prices, including natural gas, will increase between now and 1990 with a comparison of fuel prices between 1978 and 1980 showing the price of fuel oil is expected to increase nearly 50 percent, natural gas prices, 36 percent, and electric house heating costs to climb about 25 percent in this period. Over the same two-year period, inflation alone is assured to comprise almost 23 percent of these estimates.

"It is clearly demonstrated in this study that, when viewed in terms of disposable family income, past natural gas price increases have not had significant economic impact on most residential consumers," Lawrence said, "and future gas price increases, consistent with phased deregulation of wellhead gas prices as provided by the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, will result in virtually a constant share of the average family budget being spent on natural gas heating while oil and electric heating expenditures will continue to be more expensive than gas."

A.G.A. projects the cost of natural gas in 1980 to be $3.45 per million Btu, no-2 fuel oil at $5.22 and electricity at $14.82 to the residential consumer.

"Natural gas is now the largest source of domestically produced energy in the U.S., supplying more than half of all residences and commercial establishments in the country and 40 percent of the fuel required by the industrial and agricultural sectors, according to the A.G.A."

LIGHTING TIPS TO CONTROL ELECTRIC BILL

Edison Electric Institute suggests you try these ideas to control your electric bill.

Urge people to turn off lights on leaving a room. This habit can be encouraged more easily when every area has its own wall switch (three-way switches for spaces having two entryways).

Provide "task" lighting (over desks, tool benches, sewing tables, etc.) so that work and leisure activities can be carried on without illuminating entire rooms.

Select the type of lighting fixtures on the basis of their efficiency. Fluorescent lamps produce about four times as much light per watt as do incandescent bulbs.

The reflectance of interior surfaces has an important bearing on lighting efficiency. In home decoration, therefore, choose lighter colors for walls, ceilings, floor and furniture. Dark colors absorb light and would require higher lamp wattage for a given level of illumination. Light-colored surfaces should be kept clean to keep reflectance near like-new value.

Consider replacing incandescent lights in outdoor lighting fixtures with the new sodium vapor lights now available for residential applications. They consume less energy for a given light output and have a longer life.

In lamps and fixtures having two or more sockets for incandescent bulbs, consider using a single large bulb in one socket rather than filling all sockets with bulbs of smaller wattage. A 100-watt bulb, for instance, produces 50 percent more light than four 25-watt bulbs for the same amount of energy.

check the ratings of all incandescent light bulbs in the house. In many cases a lower wattage bulb can be substituted for the one now being used.

So-called "long-life" bulbs emit less light than a standard incandescent bulb of the same wattage. They should be used only where the long-life feature is advantageous, as in hard-to-reach places.

If possible, locate floor, table and hanging lamps in the corner of a room rather than against a flat wall. Lamps in corners reflect light from two wall surfaces instead of one and, therefore, give more usable light.

Clean lighting fixtures regularly. Dust on lamps and reflectors impairs lighting efficiency.

For large areas such as family recreation rooms where high levels of lighting are required periodically but not 100 percent of the time, install fixtures on two or three separate circuits so illumination can be controlled by switching circuits on and off.

Roof Inspection Now Could Avert Hasty Reroofing Later

If that spot on the living room ceiling keeps appearing after continual repainting, obviously painting isn't the solution.

A water spot oftentimes is the sign of a leak. On your ceiling it may mean a problem with the roof. If this is the case, that leak may be doing considerably more damage to your home than merely discoloring the ceiling.

If a water damaged wood deck and roof supports are ignored, rotting will cause extensive structural damage, which could be expensive to repair. Stored items in the attic could be ruined and insulation lose its effectiveness. A thorough inspection of the roof and attic could mean the difference between simple repairs now or reroofing later.

If your roof is relatively new and a leak develops, something as minor as a missing or loose shingle could be the cause. Missing shingles can be replaced and loose shingles renailed. Even leaks around valley and chimney flashings or around air vents can usually be repaired easily.

On the other hand, if the leak is a result of roof damage caused by a severe storm or by falling objects — such as branches from nearby trees — the extent of the damage will determine whether the roof can be repaired or will need to be replaced.

If your roof is old and badly weathered, a single leak may only be a prelude to major and serious roofing problems. Repairs may postpone reroofing, but the only thing to do with a worn and ineffective roof is to replace it.

If reroofing is in order, make sure you select a roofing material that offers durability, safety and lasting protection.

Today's three-dimensional asphalt shingles are a good example of such a building material. They offer long-lasting, low-maintenance protection as well as fire resistance.

Available in a variety of colors, including popular earth-tone shades of beige, buff and brown, three-dimensional asphalt shingles provide a multi-layered appearance that enhances the exterior beauty of any home.

Select Proper Size Refrigerator And Freezer And Save Energy

The Edison Electric Institute, the association of electric companies, suggests you select refrigerator and freezer sizes that are just large enough for the family's needs.

Operating energy is proportional to cubic feet of refrigerated space regardless of whether all of the space is utilized.

It is wise to keep refrigerators and freezers filled to capacity, but don't overcrowd to the point where doors cannot be tightly closed or air cannot circulate freely around the foods.

Vacuum clean the condenser coils of refrigerators and freezers (in the back or at the bottom of the cabinets) every three months or so. Dust-covered coils impair the efficiency of compressor operation and increase energy usage.

Door gaskets on refrigerators and freezers should seal tightly against the frames to prevent infiltration of warm air. An easy way to check the condition of a gasket is by placing a dollar bill against the frame and closing the door on it. If the bill can be pulled out with a very gentle tug or, worse still, simply drops out on its own, the door requires adjustment or the gasket needs replacing.

Some of the newer refrigerators are furnished with a power-saver switch that controls a heating element imbedded in the walls of the cabinet. The element provides a small amount of heat that prevents moisture condensation around the edges of the door. Try turning the switch off; condensation, if any, may be slight and unobjectionable. If such is the case, save energy by keeping the switch off.

Before extended vacations, remove perishables from the refrigerator and turn to a warmer setting.

When buying a new refrigerator, look for the new energy-saving features such as power-saver switch and improved insulation materials. These features can save as much as 15 percent in annual consumption of electricity.

Do not place uncovered liquids in refrigerators. In addition to absorbing undesirable flavors, the liquids give off vapors that add to the compressor work load.

Try to plan ahead and remove all ingredients for each meal at one time. Each time the door of a refrigerator or freezer is opened, its compressor has to run a bit longer to replace the cold air that spills out. Discourage leisurely open-door inspections of refrigerator contents by family members looking for between-meal snacks.

HOME IMPROVEMENT TIME!

How To Choose A Reputable Remodeler

When you find that your house is too small for your growing family, or you need extra space for work or hobbies, and you don't want to move, remodeling may be the answer. But how do you find a reliable remodeler who will give you the most for your money?

Walking your fingers through the Yellow Pages won't tell you who is reliable. However, chances are that your area has a builders association affiliated with the National Association of Home Builders. They can give you a list of reliable remodelers.

But don't stop there. Most problems in the remodeling business occur when consumers fail to investigate remodelers properly before hiring them. Try to speak to someone who has used the remodeler you are considering. Comments and recommendations from previous customers will give you an insight into the remodeler's capabilities. Most competent remodelers obtain the majority of their business from referrals.

Ask to see the remodeling jobs done for others. Find out how long the work took, how much the remodeler charged, and whether he was amenable to change. Reputable remodelers have a permanent business location, a good reputation with banks and suppliers, adequate trucks and equipment, an efficient front office, and signs of activity.

Avoid any firm that offers goods and services at ridiculously low prices: tells you that you are entitled to a discount because our home has been selected as a "model home" for a neighborhood demonstration project, engages in hard sell by phone, or uses uninvited door-to-door salesmen.

If you do not know of anyone who has worked with a remodeler, ask the local chamber of commerce or local lending institutions for suggestions. Then check their recommendations with the local Better Business Bureau and consumer affairs offices. Never make a random selection.

You may be tempted to bypass a general contractor remodeler and hire the subcontractors yourself. But hiring an NAHB remodeler member gives you certain advantages that may well offset the extra cost:

• One person is responsible for all phases of the job from start to finish — the supplies, the labor, and material, along with scheduling, and coordinating the work of various trades. Usually the general contractor will hire subcontractors to do part of the job.

• An NAHB remodeler member assures that the work will be done according to specifications. He has experience in obtaining qualified workers and subcontractors.

• He can often get better prices from subcontractors and suppliers than you can.

• He is familiar with local and state regulations concerning home improvements, obtains all permits, is responsible for arranging the inspections required by law and pays all the bills.

• Once you have selected a contractor, be sure to obtain a well-written contract that covers the quality and quantity of materials to be used as well as styles and brand names. Descriptions of job divisions and clear payment schedules should also be included. Read every word before signing the contract so that you will have no surprises later. Some remodelers insert a "negative clause" in a contract, stating clearly what will not be done on the job, such as painting new rooms or installing light fixtures.

Avoid changes in the original contract after the job is underway, if at all possible. Last minute changes are the most frequent cause of misunderstandings and other difficulties in home remodeling. Never make verbal changes in the work orders. Reliable and reputable remodelers will make the change and charge the cost of the labor and materials plus a reasonable profit. When the final bill is submitted, these last-minute extras may be much higher than you expected, and often they can be nearly as much as the original estimate.

If a change is necessary, make sure the order, called a "change order," is in writing and proceed with such orders only after a written price has been obtained. If this is impossible, then at least get a written estimate or keep a daily record of the labor involved and the materials used for the extra work. Taking the time to get prices may save you a lot of time arguing over the bill later.

Convert Attic Into Added Living Space

If you're considering a room addition in the attic, be sure to plan it carefully. The National Home Improvement Council notes that the first requirement for a successful attic conversion into additional living space is sufficient headroom.

The roof slope, says the Council, should give at least seven feet of height to the completed ceiling. Less than seven feet at the side walls may be adequate as long as people can move around without bumping their heads. NHC suggests avoiding attic conversions that seek to crowd two or three rooms into space adequate only for one.

"The Awful Uncertainty of the Future"

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not in the lifetime of any man who reads this newspaper has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so dark and incalculable."

In France, the political and economic cauldron seethes and bubbles with discontent and uncertainty.

England and the British empire is being sorely tried and exhausted, in a social and economic struggle, with turmoil at home and uprising of teeming millions in their far flung empire.

The United States is beset with racial, industrial and commercial chaos, drifting we know not where.

Russian hangs like a storm on the horizon of Europe—dark, menacing, fore-boding.

It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel indifference, which happily, no man pretends to feel in the issue of events.

Of our own troubles, no man can see the end...

Know when that editorial which I quoted verbatim, first appeared?
Or where?

Do you know how to keep a "pesimist" in suspense? I'll tell you later...in the next few paragraphs...Read on...

That editorial appeared BEFORE the Korean and Viet Nam police actions, BEFORE World War II, BEFORE the depression of 1929, BEFORE, World War I, BEFORE, the 19th amendment to the Constitution (Woman's right to vote), BEFORE, the panic of 1891, BEFORE, the Civil War...

Yep, that gloomy editorial appeared in probably the most accredited paper of its day, HARPER'S NEWSPAPER, on OCT. 10, 1847.

All of which proves the unending dramatic play of history never changes its plot. It only changes its cast. Or, it proves how wrong editorial writers can be.

And the prophets of DOOM and GLOOM, have always had their roles in world history and "ours", too. Listen to the promises of Mondale, Carter, or Glenn, who has been labeled, "The Wrong Stuff" by two distinguished members of his own party. BUT, by their opposition they too, are serving a very worthwhile service to their country for they are both decent men whom are providing competition to the status-quo. For if competition is the spark of progressive business life, it is also the "spur" that ignites the spark to greater political achievement. And, in the final analysis, posterity shall choose which of these men she shall remember.

For despite that gloomy view of an editorial writer in 1847, it came to pass, that the United States of America today is still a young country, that has only 6 per cent of the World's population, occupies less than seven per cent of the World's land, yet TODAY owns fifty three per cent of the world's wealth. Despite its pockets of poverty, it still provides the highest standard of living and opportunity to its citizens than any other country on the face of this globe.

So, as Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Our system of free government may not be perfect but it is the best that has yet been devised."

Despite the imperfections in our country's total system, this Republic must have done, - and is doing, something right.

RIGHT ON. Particularly, when you consider our ethnic-mix of different religions, colors and creeds. And, when you realize the smoldering hatreds plus the early "Environmental-Conditioning" of these mixed millions, and also the millions, who are functionally illiterate YOU must be compelled to WONDER how...

We survived the First Hundred Years!

Apparently, that learned editorial writer for HARPER'S in 1847 thought we were up against a stacked deck, and wouldn't.

But we did!

Perhaps today, many of the majorities and minorities have become "Spilled-Brats", from getting too much too soon.

Regardless, this good old World will keep on spinning around, at a speed of 60,000 miles per hour, in four different directions at the same time for another approximately four hundred and fifty billion years.

By that time, maybe even the Chicago Cubs will finally WIN a pennant. And, the Chicago Bears might WIN the Super Bowl, eh?

Chuck Muer's benefit for Centre East

Skokie's newest seafood restaurant, Chuck Muer's, located at 50 Old Orchard Center, hoped to raise more than $4,500 for Skokie's Centre East for the Arts at a benefit dinner on Wed., Oct. 26.

Centre East brings a variety of cultural entertainment to the area each year, as well as providing facilities for community residents and aspiring artists to rehearse and perfect their work. We're very pleased to support Centre East's efforts through hosting a benefit dinner," said Dave Kelter, general manager of the Skokie restaurant.

Centre East for the Arts is a facility capable of providing both performances and learning activities in the arts. As a major presenter of performances in the areas of comedy, music, dance and theater, Centre East will bring such entertainment favorites as the Vienna Choir Boys, "The Nutcracker" ballet, and the comedy antics of Billy Crystal, to the Skokie area this season, according to Centre East executive director Dorothy Litwin.

Chuck Muer's, which opens to the public on Oct. 27, features a wide variety of seafood, fresh or expressed in from the East, as well as homemade pasta specialties, and beef and poultry for the landlubber. The Skokie location is the last of eight former Meriwether's restaurants, recently acquired by the Muer Corp., to be converted into a Muer concept. The C.A. Muer Corp. operates 33 restaurants in seven states and the District of Columbia.

Open Stage Players present "Fools"

"I don't want to marry you until I have the intelligence to know what I'm stepping into", Sophia (Linda Lang) rejects the villainous Count Gregor (Marvin Berman) in the comedy hit, "Fools" by Neil Simon.

The Open Stage Player's production at the Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center, 5050 W. Church st., Skokie opens on October 29 and runs for five consecutive weekends and Wednesdays through November 27.

For ticket information, call 675-2200, ext. 228 or 675-7920.

Golden Nugget rolls back prices 10 years

by Ed Hanson

In some ways the movie, "The Last Picture Show", reminds me of the GOLDEN NUGGET Restaurant, in the Lawrencewood Shopping Center. For it stands, almost alone, amidst a Ghost Town reminiscent of the old West. Or, like beginning anew after the aftermath of thermonuclear war.

But it not only survives, it continues to succeed. And, in a way, the public is the beneficiary because the GOLDEN NUGGET continues to offer excellent cuisine, at prices ten years behind the times.

For example: Breakfast is offered consisting of 2 large country fresh eggs and Corned Beef Hash, which includes Toast, butter and coffee for ONLY $2. In addition, there are four other entrees for breakfast at ONLY $2 which also include coffee.

They also offer Deluxe Lunches, Hot, Home-Cooked Meat Loaf, Hot Hamburger, Savory Tuna Melt or a Delicious Fish Burger for ONLY $2.05. And, coffee is included.

Complete 6 course dinners that include soup, salad, choice of potatoes, dessert and coffee for ONLY $3.55. And, there are five dinner entrees to choose from.

AND, this HALLOWEEN WEEKEND, as a further inducement, ALL CHILDREN will receive a 10 per cent discount off their regular low priced "Children's Menu".

NOW, the above offer expires on November 5, 1983, so if you want to take advantage of breakfast, lunch or dinners at prices cheaper than you can prepare the same foods at home, hurry over. And, there's plenty of free parking because you've got practically the entire Lawrencewood Shopping Center to yourself. In fact, I believe, if it wasn't for the GOLDEN NUGGET RESTAURANT, there wouldn't be anyone there.

The owners of the Lawrencewood Shopping Center should pay a fee to the stalwart management of the GOLDEN NUGGET RESTAURANT which acts as sort of an "oasis" in a desert.

Once when I left Las Vegas on a sizzling, hot summer day, I wandered broke, thirsty and hungry thru Death Valley when I came upon a deck of cards half buried in the sand which was calling to its young saying, "Oh, Aces, Oh, Aces..."

The Golden Nugget Restaurant is "Aces" with me.

Going to Miami? Here's a few good tips!

The area you select in Miami Beach can make a big difference in your vacation. For example, an Oceanside Resort with a big beautiful beach could cost you the same as one without. And even some of these are in better areas than others...places where there is a lot of nearby activity, and more to see and do-Good Shows...Fine Restaurants...Great Shopping, etc. In addition, some luxury Resorts have more reasonable rates plus many extras...such as Free Tennis...Free Golf...Round-the-clock Entertainment...Fishing and Boating and there's lots more. Two of these better oceanfront resorts in Miami Beach are the Beau Rivage and the Sahara. For information and brochures on these vacation values, Write to: Dept. DB, P.O. Box 6725 Miami Beach, Fla. 33154 You're Barbara White Paradise Resorts

Movie theatres... Cont'd from Niles-E.Maine P.1

1,212 vehicles. By re-striping the parking lanes, it will add 178 parking spaces.

At a previous Plan Commission hearing, it was agreed no X-rated movies would be shown at the theatre conforming with Niles' obscenity law. Fink also agreed he would work with representatives from the Golf Tower condominiums across from the center to alleviate traffic problems.

In other actions Tuesday night the board extended, until February, 1985, a PUD ordinance (planned unit development) for Terrace Square condominiums in the Dee-Golf Road area. It was stipulated that either the developer would approve the residents in the units taking control of their homeowners association. Presently, there are 564 units constructed and 75% have been sold. It is expected there will be a total of 1,000 units.

Resident Howard Noparstak was part of a group seeking to have residents control the association. He told The Bugle he wanted the group to be formed under resident control only to represent these initial units. The next phase of units should have a separate homeowners group.

Noparstak and Niles police officer Wilson said there has been a substantial increase in the condo association fees in November, 1982 and will be again in November, 1983. They said the 35% increase was a concern of theirs. Controlling the homeowners group, rather than having the developer control it, would possibly alleviate additional increases for fees for the common ground maintenance there.

In other actions Tuesday night the board okayed an agreement with the County for a $254,000 block grant for improvement of the south end of Milwaukee Avenue. Trustee Orville Ottow told The Bugle the village might consider purchasing the Cook Robin ice cream store property and a flower shop across the street from it in anticipation of upgrading the area and creating a beautified entrance to Niles at the 6500 block entrance to the village. Ottow said hopefully improvements to the area would include further upgrading north along Milwaukee Avenue to Harst Road.

A petition for a gun shop at Lawrencewood Shopping Center, which was rejected by the zoning board October 4, was withdrawn.

Approved recommendation by police chief Whitley Emrison for a $12 fee for vehicles using village weight scales. The police chief said local industries have requested such use. Anticipating it takes about 30 minutes to complete weighing a vehicle, Emrison said he would return to the board and detail whether such an effort is in the best interests of the village.

Formally appointed Jack Hodge to the village manager's post.

Tr. Marcheschi reported cablevision fees. 2,700 subscribers. Other cable TV reports included only 60 to 65 voluntary disconnects have taken place since January, which Marcheschi contended was quite remarkable. He said only two Niles areas have not yet been wired for cable TV. He said the Banker Hill area has received the go-ahead for being strung. The last two areas, the townhouse neighborhoods of Nordica and Lyons, both underground cable areas, should be strung and completed by November. He also reported Tom Fitzgerald is in charge of ameliorating problems with the company and local offices for Cablevision will open in the Oak Mill Center on the second floor by the first week in November. Also, the mailing of cable TV guides, which previously were late in arrival, will now be distributed to Niles post office and will be received by residents before the first of the month.

Tr. Abe Selman's recommendation American Appraisal's low bid of $8,050 to inventory the fixed assets of village property was unanimously approved.

Approved zoning for Sunnie Kiddies nursery school at 8361 1/2 Golf Road. Special use will allow fence and barriers to be placed around the outdoor playground. New state law requires all schools have a playground on its premises.

Approved phases one and two for Tempel Steel for $7,000,000 for industrial bonds at 5990 Touhy. Money will be used for the purchase of the former Warwick complex for $5.5 million which includes 304,000 square feet of indoor building and outdoor acreage. Additional money will be used for improving the building and for equipment.

Presently 185 of the total 1,000 Tempel employees work at the Niles plant. The additional space will increase the Niles work staff.

Sent to the zoning board a request for rezoning for service station at 8595 Dempster for food mart and remodeling.

Okayed transferring and selling of property located at 6964 Fargo.

Okayed plat of easement for the Bradford Exchange; okayed special use rezoning for Eastern Style Pizza at 9007 Milwaukee Ave; approved plat of subdivision at 8432 Greenwood (the Slater subdivision).

we were the only newspaper which published the story.

This week Bob Besser worked overtime trying to develop a local story concerning the Lebanon tragedy. He contacted a local clergyman thinking grieving parents might be in touch with them. He called the Marine headquarters in Washington D.C. and got no information. He got busy signals over a 24 hour period. He next telephoned the Marine recruiting offices in Glenview, Des Plaines and in Chicago. He was unable to get any help from Senator Percy's press secretary. At the home news office of the U.S. Marines in Texas, they were most cordial but could not lend help.

The only local boys he found out about were police officer Bob Hanna's son and a young man named Jordan, from Nordica Avenue, who are both on the U.S.S. New Jersey, which is anchored just off Beirut. Hanna said his son could only give limited intelligence since he's a baker below deck and often doesn't see the light of day.

Interestingly, Mrs. Hanna sent a newspaper from The Bugle to her son letting him know Jordan, another Niles young man, is also serving on the same ship.

Since local news is what it's all about we should let you know there's three special Nilesites, Isabell Curtin, Bill Havacek and John Zaba, who have been manning (and womaning) the Niles Village free blood pressure service for the past 10 years. Bill, who has been retired the past few years, after serving as Niles Health inspector, said the blood pressure program has administered to almost 23,000 people during the past decade. The free service is available to anyone including residents who do not live in the village.

This wise guy reporter began calling Bill "Doc" when we saw him moving back and forth between rooms, stethoscope around his neck, efficiently doing this good work. He told us tens of people have been told through the years the blood pressure reading requires them to contact their doctors for further consultation.

Bill and Isabell and John deserve kudos for the worthwhile work they're doing on behalf of all of us.

As we've told you many times The Bugle has a network of readers who feed us much extra local news other papers are unable to receive. This week several friends of John Poeschl called to tell us the former Niles trustee had passed away at the age 76 in Florida.

John's brother, Mike, dropped in Friday and gave us information which appears in our obituary column. He also gave us additional background which we report here.

$45,000 with $5,000 to accrue towards the District's expenses involving the sale.

At a former meeting, the church-sponsored group proved unsuccessful in requesting board members to renegotiate terms of the sales contract to include a lower price.

Dr. Donald Bond, Superintendent, presented a report on results by an administrative team to develop a 1983-84 work program including review and update of the district's three year plan ending this November.

Board members approved almost all items concerning staff, students, facilities and policy, striking out a consideration of merit pay increases for teachers.

Some debate also concerned a proposed program for gifted children which would include the "Battle of the Books" contest, "Young Authors" conference, mathematics talent search, "Junior Great Books" group, Illinois Mathematics League contest and individualized computer instruction.

One board member said the above programs have been initiated by individual teachers, did not represent a district-wide program and is not available in all district schools.

Another board member said computer instruction should be considered as part of the curriculum and put to better use. He said computers are "not a tool for kids to sit and play games with." A third board member said the "gifted teachers" Lynn Parfitt, director of the Maine-Niles Association for Special Recreation requested board members to approve negotiations in order to decrease an amount of money asked in new lease terms. Those terms would require the double former rates for gym use in Oak school. Parfitt said her former projection, included in Park District budgeting, was based on a ten percent increase.

Board members agreed to compromise this year on differences in the proposed amount. MNASR presents programs for the handicapped and is funded by six park districts including Niles.

In other action, board members renewed a one-year lease with Mide-Oak-Niles Adult Continuing Education Program for rental of almost 6,500 square feet in Ballard school for an annual rent of approximately $24,600.

Board members also approved hiring of a civil engineering firm to prepare specifications for replacing skylights in Stevenson school at a cost of about $1,200.

Board members adjourned to executive session to discuss probable litigation.

four altered Fantasy Game tickets at Foremost Liquors, 6120 W. Dempster, Morton Grove. The proprietor became suspicious and contacted Morton Grove police who called in the Revenue agents to make the arrest.

The charges allege that Torres-Barte cut out numbers from tickets and glued them on other tickets so that they would appear to be winners. The four Fantasy Game tickets were altered to make them appear to be instant winners for $100, $50, $25 and $5.

Prosecution is being handled by the office of the Cook County State's Attorney. If convicted, Torres-Barte could face up to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine. A warrant for his arrest has been issued.

number of teachers who quit, retire or otherwise relinquish their positions at the district. In this way, members of the Teachers' Association have agreed to accept a portion of the risk involved in granting job security for members of the professional staff.

The Board's contract proposal was formally presented to the Association on September 28. On October 4, the Association presented the proposal to its membership without a recommendation from the Association's leadership as to whether or not the proposal should be accepted. On Friday, Oct. 14, by secret ballot, members of the Association voted 221 to 125 to accept the board's proposal.

The new agreement will provide stability to the Maine High School system for the next four years. While other school districts resolve their problems in last minute negotiations, or with work stoppages, the Maine Township High School District 207 administration and its teaching staff, through their Association representatives, have proven that there is another way to address problems and that concerned individuals, working together in an effort to find agreement, can sometimes solve even the most difficult of problems.

As an extension of this concept of mutual problem solving between the Maine administration and the Association through this Agreement, the parties are considering creating a joint teaching staff/administration committee to advise the Superintendent concerning the implementation of the Agreement. It is anticipated that this committee will meet regularly to address questions about the early retirement program and other issues of interest under the contract.

The Association and the Board believe that this new contract will be working together with the administration and the community in bringing the best quality educational program to the young people of Maine. We are delighted that agreement has been reached.

Kiwanis and many many more. They are all uniting for two special nights - to bring together the communities throughout the United States to view a special T.V. program and then to begin to take action.

On November 2 and 9 at 8 p.m. the T.V. show "Chemical People" will be broadcast nationwide. It will be shown here locally on Channel 11. The T.V. program will be hosted by our first lady, Nancy Reagan and will feature Bill Bixby, Rita Moreno, Bruce Weitz (Sgt. Belker, Hill St. Blues) and Michael Landon discussing the problem of drug and alcohol abuse, the statistics, and the walls of denials which parents use from doing anything about it. Dramatic scenes of teenagers on the corner with drug dealers, and a party with parents comparing notes point out how from the Trident program is so powerful, we urge every teenager and parent to see it, and every parent to discuss it with their teenager.

But there is far more to be done than just watch a T.V. program. That's why we want you to join us at the Trident program for both nights. First to view the show, second, to discuss the problem with a panel of experts. We have invited Jim Gerhardt and Jim Cousins of the Niles Police Department, Carol Chaconas of the Niles Youth Commission, Bob McGann of the Maine Township Council on Alcoholism, Don Huebner of Gemini Jr. H.S. (District 63) Mark Nozka, Certified Alcoholism Counselor for Niles Family Service and some teenagers who have recovered from alcoholism and drug abuse.

Join us on November 2 to begin doing something about the problem of teenage drug and alcohol abuse. Everyone is invited. Plan on being at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton St., Niles, at 7:30 p.m., also the same for Wednesday, Nov. 9.

If there are any questions, please give Dr. James Cisek a call at 692-3396. We can do something as parents and as community residents by starting here on November 2. There is, of course, no admission fee.
