District 63 and Niles Library at odds over lease renewal

by Eileen Hirschfeld

East Maine School District 63 and the Niles Library District seem to be hitting snags toward renewal of the Library's three-year lease for branch services in Ballard School, Niles.

Some differences were discussed heatedly by school board members at a regular meeting February 14 in Apollo School, 10150 Dee Rd., Des Plaines, before approving a three-month extension of the Library's former lease. According to terms of this extension, Library personnel will be asked to vacate Ballard School if a new lease is not approved. Continued on Page 31

Library gets state grant for addition

Niles park president Harry Pestine accepted a check for $131,587 from state librarian Jim Edgar Tuesday as a portion of a $250,000 state construction grant which will be used as part of a $1.1 million addition to the present Oakton st. library. It is expected the construction will begin within the next 90 days. According to Edgar these funds mark the first time the State of Illinois has provided funds for public library construction. Edgar added, "Niles officials deserve much credit for obtaining this funding which provides a 25 per cent match for 75 percent of the cost of the project which must be raised at the local level."

The construction includes the filling in of the second floor over the main reading section of the present main library. The present children's reading room will become the new lobby and an addition will create a new children's room plus an administration area. The current location of the circulation desk will be changed to a room for computers which will be used by library patrons. In a special program at the library Tuesday, library administrator Duncan Mc Kenzie introduced board president Harry Pestine who spoke metaphorically about his 5 1/2 to 6 years on the board. He said, like Continued on Page 31

Niles firemen injured in house fire

Fire caused up to $20,000 damage to a Niles home on Tuesday, February 14 and two Niles firemen sustained minor injuries at the fire scene. Fire officials were notified at 11:45 a.m. that smoke was pouring out of a home at 8423 Greenwood ave. Arriving at the scene firemen found a storage area next to attic bedrooms on fire. With the assistance of firemen from the North Maine Fire Department, Niles firemen extinguished the fire in just over one hour. Niles fire officials were working on Tuesday to discover the cause of the blaze. However, since no one was home at the time of the fire, Niles Fire Chief Al Hoelbl speculated the cause may have been electrical. The house also reportedly suffered heavy water damage while the blaze was being extinguished. Niles Fire Department Lt. Carl Fox was taken to Lutheran General Hospital after suffering a shoulder injury during a fall at the scene of the fire. Fox was treated and later released. Niles fireman Joe Florest was also treated at Lutheran General for smoke inhalation. He was later released and sent home for the day by doctors.

Guest Columnist

by R.A. Reidel
District Superintendent Commonwealth Edison

I read the February 2nd "From The Left Hand" column with more than a little interest since Edison, among others, was being taken to task because of shuttered nuclear plants, being a monopoly, having by implication large numbers of lobbyists, paying exorbitant dividends, coercing more favorable press treatment through manipulation of its ad placements and being indignant over a printed picture showing a concrete sidewalk installed around a utility pole.

We admittedly have difficulty in making clear to everyone that, because we are providers of an essential element of modern existence the responsibilities and attendant economics of our industry are very different from those of U.S. Steel, General Motors or Montgomery Ward. But, from this difference flow many of the misunderstandings about what we're doing and why.

Unfortunately perhaps, but under the laws of the State of Illinois (and all other states) electric utilities are charged with meeting and providing all the "wants" for electricity dictated by those they serve...and when they want it, too! Since, now-a-days it takes from eight to 12 years to build a generating plant, the plants coming "on-line" today were begun years ago according to the best forecasts then available. It was a time when new energy and economic trends were not easily discernable to the extent of relying upon them as portents of the future. But there's no doubt that retrospection results in a more accurate picture of things than does prognostication.

Decades of experience said electricity use increased at an average rate of 7% per year. The economy was up-and-up. With the Arab oil embargo, the thrust of the nation and its government was to find and develop all viable alternative energy resources. And, also to have a clean environment. More recently acid rain and green-house effect concerns have arisen. Nuclear power contributes to neither.

"We don't feel we've done too bad a job considering the times we've all lived through."

To underbuild electric production facilities would mean economic dislocation at some future date over a decade away, brownouts, perhaps blackouts in some areas. To overbuild, at worst, would mean higher costs but ample supplies. Given the foregoing, the prudent course was to build... Better safe than sorry because given the lead time cited above there could be no quick fix.

In the interim, but triggered in part by the oil embargo, the nation and most of the western world ran into growing, and finally rampant, inflation and later a severe economic downturn. This hit the utilities particularly hard, because their construction and financing costs escalated to almost unheard of heights and their supporting revenues, particularly from the commercial/industrial sector plummeted. Many plants, coal and nuclear, under construction across the country were so far along that decisions to abandon or complete them had to be made under forced and trying circumstances.

Unfortunately again, to elect not to complete a plant being built in good faith to meet statutory requirements did not also result in abandoning all or most of the associated costs. Witness to public view WPPSS fiasco in Washington! Multiple and detailed economic studies and analyses on contemplated plant abandonments treated by regulatory agencies, were vital ingredients in all actions taken in this area. If it was determined to be to the economic benefit of ratepayers, abandonment generally would follow: If it was no so determined, plant construction continued. Plant abandonments also occurred because of financing problems. There'll be a day of reckoning on this in parts of the Country.

In the case of Edison, the regulatory agency determined to its satisfaction that the Company's plants under construction

District 207 initiates Drug/Alcohol abuse project

Program for parents on drug & alcohol abuse

The Chemical People Task Force, a Maine Township Community Based Citizens Group Against Drug and Alcohol Abuse is presenting "Sons and Daughters/Drugs and Booze".

The film shows how parents can respond to such situations as: "a 10-year-old who experiments with the guys", "a single parent who finds an empty liquor bottle and notices changes in his 13-year-old daughter", "parents teaming together in deciding how to handle their feelings while dealing effectively with their adolescent who has hidden a 'bong' in the basement", "parents disciplining an angry daughter who denies her use of drugs and considers her parents discipline 'unfair'".

The program will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 21, 7:30-9 p.m. at Maine East High School, 2nd floor LRC.

"If your child showed the symptoms of a physical illness, would you ignore it?" asks Linda Selway, MSW, coordinator of Project Rescue. "I'm sure you would realize he was sick and get him the help he needed. It's the same with substance abuse. When a child is using drugs or alcohol, your first thought would be to get him help."

Project Rescue is a Maine Township High School District 207 program that offers that help to first-time violators of the district's drug-alcohol policy. A basic prevention and early intervention program, Project Rescue grew out of a proposal submitted in 1982 by a committee chaired by Sherman Roth, director of student personnel services at Maine East High School. The committee included district personnel and Ms. Shannon Burns, coordinator of the Community Education Program at the Lutheran Center for Substance Abuse.

"The program in Maine was one of the first in Illinois," says Selway. "Very few districts offer programs such as Project Rescue." Project Rescue is not a treatment program, it is an intervention program. School is not the place for treatment, but it is one of the most appropriate Should you lend your car to a friend? When you do, you are also giving over your insurance protection and perhaps your financial security.

Your friend would be insured under your policy as a "permissive" driver.

Should your car be involved in a serious accident, you as the owner would be held responsible for any damages. Indeed, the friend-driver may be in a position to sue you if he is injured!

The costs are high. Industry statistics indicate that accidents in borrowed cars cost millions a year. EVERYONE ends up paying higher premiums to cover those expenses.

Drive carefully. Lend your car with care-if at all. But make sure your auto insurance offers protection when you need it. See the experts at:

Observe the 55 MPH or get ticketed!

Do you want to meet a real Illinois State Trooper? Try driving over the 55 mile per hour speed limit. In 1983, 230,000 drivers in Illinois met State Troopers in the unfortunate circumstance of being issued a speeding ticket. Captain Hugh S. McGinley, Commander of District 15, the largest district in the State, commented, "We arrested over 25,000 motorists for violating the 55 mile per hour speed limit in 1983 on the Illinois Tollway. I believe this is one of the reasons the Illinois Tollroad is one of the safest controlled access highways in the world." There are many reasons why you should observe the 55 mile per hour speed limit: First, your reaction time is greater at a slower speed than at high speeds. Second, the amount of fuel saved at 55 mph as opposed to 70 mph is almost 15%. Third, the severity of impact in an accident at slower speeds could be reduced enough to save your life. Fourth, the monetary factor involved in getting a speeding ticket. It could cost you $50, $70 or even $100, depending on how many miles over the speed limit you are going, not to mention going to court and getting your insurance rates increased.

letters to the editor

Thank You, Committeeman Handzel!

Dear Editor:
Ms. Handzel has the right to run the Niles Township Regular Republican Organization any way she pleases. She has the right to personally endorse any candidate for any office. She has the right to refuse to hold an endorsement meeting of her organization so that her members will not have the opportunity to hear and see all candidates together, so that they can compare, judge, and vote on who they believe to be the best qualified candidate for a particular office. She even has the right not to allow Republican primary candidates to address her organization.

In the Republican primary race for Representative of the 56th District she has exercised all these rights. Unlike all other Republican organizations involved with the 56th District race, including New Trier Township, the home of my opponent, she has abandoned the time-honored courtesy of allowing every candidate to speak and be judged on his merits.

The only reason for doing this is fear. The fear that if given a voice the vast majority of her members would concede that her personal choice, a 25-year old law student with no experience, has no chance of beating Aaron Jaffe in November and therefore would not give Ms. Handzel their stamp of approval.

Thank you, Ms. Handzel, for recognizing me as the strongest candidate!

Alumni speaks out on Koehnline's retirement

As an alumni of Oakton Community College, I feel it is time to speak out.

I am a senior citizen - a term I usually try to avoid. When I entered Oakton Community College in 1974, I only wanted to take a few Spanish courses to acquire a new language skill. I attended a regular class consisting of students of all ages with varying language abilities. I was immediately impressed by the commitment of the professor to reach all of his students. My interest in formal learning was awakened to such a degree that I soon found myself involved in a full curriculum.

In 1977 I received the Associate Degree in Liberal Arts with High Honors. Since then I have continued my education at Northwestern Illinois University, from where I received my Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1980. I am currently enrolled at the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at Rosary College. I have functioned well in both institutions, but have yet to find the kind of teaching which surpasses my educational experience at OCC. If teaching such as this is considered "Ivory Tower", then I am proud to have received an Ivory Tower education. OCC's philosophy of teaching and learning has given opportunities for learning to the career-minded, to the student who plans to enter a four-year program, and to those young and old who wanted to enrich their lives.

Dr. Koehnline was the architect of this philosophy. He has been an enabler for both faculty and students. All innovative programs need, by their very nature, constant rethinking and changing. Dr. Koehnline should have been given the opportunity to add his input into these changes so that the best of the old and the new could be tried. The dedication of the new campus should have been a high point for him and for Oakton Community College. If and when he would have chosen to retire, he should have been given all the privileges due a Founding President.

I am particularly concerned when a trustee who has just been elected to the Board uses her limited knowledge of the education process at OCC to detract from the accomplishments of both Dr. Koehnline and the college. I know that many current and former students share my thinking.

"Mom and Pop" Investors deserve utility dividends

Dear Editor:
After reading the "Left Hand" column of the February 2 edition, I made my first phone call to The Bugle, regarding your thinking and possibly not thinking in the article.

I certainly agree the skyrocketing of utility bills is of very great concern. Fear must strike in the hearts of those who are on fixed incomes (retired) as they wonder when some control will enter into the picture.

Quite possibly, as in the case of the gas companies, more direction should be focused on the pipeline companies who supply the gas to see if their prices are out of line. It must be remembered, the gas companies are not manufacturers of gas, they merely pass on what is sold to them, naturally at a profit that allows them to operate and pay dividends to their stockholders, who made the original investment possible.

Now, let's just slightly analyze your article as it relates to holders of Com Ed stock and their ability to take a decreased dividend, as specified in your column as "the people who can most afford it".

Just who are these "people"? Is it possible that in the majority they are the "Moms and Pops" in this country? The "Moms and Pops", who in their lifetime of work have skimped and strived to put away a bit to complement what they receive in Social Security? Is a penalty to

Handzel's campaign puppet show

Dear Editor:
It appears that the Niles Township Regular Republican Organization has become Pat Handzel's campaign puppet show.

According to today's local papers, (Feb. 2, 1984), Ms. Handzel has decreed that the NTRRO will "support" certain candidates. Did the organization vote to "support" the most LIBERAL DEMOCRATIC leaning candidates she could find? Informed sources indicate that no meeting was held to hear all Republican candidates before a choice was made. This is, of course, what we might expect from someone who supports Cal Sutker and Bob Frittschall, and by the way, isn't Betty Petroski a Democrat?

"Mom and Pop" Investors deserve utility dividends

Dear Editor:
You cite an example that as of Tuesday, Jan. 31, Com Ed was paying 12.75% on a $23.50 per share purchase. You fail to mention the people who purchased Com Ed at its high of $29 on which they received 10.37% - plus all the shares purchased between $23.50 and $29, we could go on and on.

Incidentally, you must have read in the various newspapers, magazines, etc., that utilities by and large are one of the safer investments around for the small investors - involving not too much money to be invested, but with consistent dividend payments over the years.

By the way, Bud, I see no mention of the municipal and state taxes tacked on to our utilities bills. Granted, our town and state must be supported. But, again, in the case of the fixed income families (and for that matter, all other families) it is a large monthly "chunk". Could you possibly direct some efforts towards decreasing those taxes?

In closing, let's you and I have good thought and then a disastrous one - Good Thought - The Moms and Pops, the "little people", who hold from 10 shares to 500 shares in any utility throughout the country, are good examples of industrious, hard working Americans, who came through the 1929 depression, World War II, etc. They exemplify the backbone of the Nation. They make the system work.

Disasterous Thought - Suppose we removed all these "little people" as shareholders and re-investment planners - I shudder to think what would happen to our utilities if they were to survive with only the support of the wealthy. The probable option could be nationalization of all our utilities and wouldn't that be a horrible state of affairs.

Guess I rambled a bit, as you said you did - so we are even. As a subscriber of many, many years, I thank you for your various articles and efforts to make this a wonderful community in which to live!

St. Paul Federal to become savings bank

St. Paul Federal shareholders have voted to change the institution's charter to a savings bank from a savings and loan association. The action, taken at the annual meeting, is subject to the approval of the Federal Home Loan Bank. The association's new corporate name will be St. Paul Federal Bank For Savings.

Thomas J. Rinella, senior vice president, attributed the decision to consumer research studies which show that the public considers banks the place to go for primary financial relationships. "Because of the deregulation of the financial industry, the word 'bank' better describes the services St. Paul Federal offers," he said. "We will maintain our long-term tradition of serving the consumer, and will continue to supply their mortgage needs through the American Dream Mortgage."

With assets of $2.1 billion and 23 offices in the Chicago metropolitan area, St. Paul Federal is the third largest savings association in Illinois and among the top one percent nationally. For the year ended December 31, 1983, St. Paul Federal reported a net profit of $6.1 million.

Nelson students aid Statue of Liberty restoration

The Nelson School Student Council sponsored a Bake and Fruit Sale on January 18, to raise money for the restoration of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor.

The students, parents, and school staff members baked cookies, brownies, cupcakes, and other items, which were priced from 1¢ to 25¢, and sold to the entire student body by student council members during lunch time. The proceeds from the sale, which amounted to $100, were donated to the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation in New York City to repair and restore the Statue of Liberty.

The Nelson School Student Council consists of students from grades three through six. With the help of teacher sponsor Sandra Chaet, the council meets weekly to discuss matters of student interest, and to decide on various school projects. Among them will be an all-school talent show to be held during the month of March. Under the supervision of teachers Sandra Chaet, Ruth Kabele, Elsie McAvoy, and Mary Tito, tryouts will be held in February, and ten acts will be selected for presentation to the student body.

Simulation Curriculum

Three simulation projects are being utilized with the fourth grade students. The first is a study unit called CHOW; the other two are social studies units called DISCOVERY and PIONEERS.

Simulation is a method of teaching that utilizes research, role playing, team planning and learning. During the CHOW simulation, students learn the results of poor diet and study what foods are needed for good health. As team members, students plan menus, shop for food items and evaluate the meals for nutritional value. Children acquire a basic knowledge of nutrition and experience in budget formulation.

The DISCOVERY unit recreates the mystery of exploration, the excitement of the discovery of new land and the hazards of colonization. Students are playing the roles of leader, banker, napper, trader or generalist. Colonial interaction results in trading goods, forming alliances and sometimes-war! Students have to make decisions based on conditions they have created. Through the exercise the students acquire a greater understanding of the difficulties faced by the colonists.

PIONEERS started when students, role-playing family identities on wagon trains, selected supplies to take west. The wagon trains then began the long journey along the Hacker Trail—an imaginative trail patterned after the Oregon and California Trails. Along the trail students must make numerous decisions and keep a diary as they suffer various fates. The unit culminates with the writing of a research paper based upon their experiences.

The units are being taught by the fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Phyllis Conrad, Mrs. Elise Johnson and Mr. Joseph De Luca.

Introducing the Cragin Federal Tax Saver CD, the tax-deferred account that could mean $900 tax-free interest to you

Those of you who opened an All Savers Account back in October of 1981 remember it as one of the wisest investments you ever made. After all, it earned up to $2,000 tax-free interest at remarkably high tax-free rates.

The Economic Recovery Act of 1981 contains another very special tax break for Americans. It will provide up to $900 tax-free interest to families filing joint tax returns ($450 for single returns) for the year 1985.

To allow you to take advantage of this tax break, Cragin Federal has come up with a very special savings plan which defers all your interest to taxable year 1985—the first year in which you and millions of Americans can qualify for tax-free interest on your savings.

Who qualifies for tax exemption?

Qualification for full tax exemption depends largely on how you handle your finances in 1985. But like millions upon millions of other Americans, you are likely to qualify for part, if not the full, exemption—$900 for families filing joint returns, $450 for single taxpayers.

The qualification standards are not stringent at all, and are formulated to encourage saving, rather than buying on credit. If the interest you earn from savings is greater than your interest expense (excluding mortgage and business interest), then you qualify for a tax exemption. The more your interest from savings exceeds your interest expense (this includes expenses such as credit card interest, auto loan interest, etc.), the larger your tax-free exclusion. The exclusion is based on 15% of your net interest income (interest income less interest expense). In other words, a single taxpayer would merely have to earn $3,000 in 1985 net interest income to qualify for the maximum exemption; joint-return taxpayers, $6,000 in net interest income.

If you have your money in a money market fund, your dividends do not qualify for an exemption in 1985. Why not move your money to a Cragin Tax Saver CD.

You can qualify for the 1985 interest tax exemption whether you use the regular 1040 long form or the short form.

How the Tax Saver Account works

The Cragin Federal Tax Saver Account is a special, federally insured, one-year certificate of deposit paying 10%. The interest your account earns will be credited to your account on the last day of its term—intentionally in 1985. This lets you take advantage of the $450 or $900 interest exclusion when it is first available.

In short, you can make a shrewd financial move right now that will avoid federal income taxes in 1984 and most likely save you tax dollars in 1985.*

Take advantage of tax deferral alone

Don't think of the tax-free feature as the only benefit of this CD. It could very well serve your interest to deposit more, as much as you can afford. Why? Because the more you deposit, the more interest you'll put off to 1985. The longer you defer income, the later you'll have to account to Uncle Sam for it. In this case, not until April 15, 1986! So, whether you qualify for the tax-free exemption or exceed the interest income needed for your maximum, you'll certainly benefit from simple tax deferral.

Sign up now—for maximum 1984 tax savings

The sooner you open your Cragin Tax Saver Account this year, the more taxes on interest you can defer. For example, if you had put $20,000 in a Tax Saver Account at the beginning of this year, you'd have deferred paying taxes on $2,000 in interest until taxable year 1985. Let's say, for purposes of comparison, you wait until July 1 to open your account with a $20,000 deposit. Then you'd only be able to defer taxes on $1,000 in interest, thus losing the benefit of avoiding paying taxes on $1,000. So, the longer you wait to open your account, the more of your earned interest will be taxable in 1984.

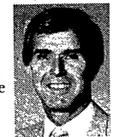

And remember, the more you put in a Tax Saver Account now, the more taxes on interest you can defer until 1985.

Free tax guide plus a gift

Open a Cragin Federal Tax Saver CD now and receive absolutely free your copy of "1984 Personal Income Tax Guide," a 54-page book published by Prentice-Hall and packed with valuable information which specifically addresses the 1983 tax laws. You'll also get your choice of 31 gifts, either free or at substantial savings.

Let your Cragin counselor help you

A message from Adam A. Jahns, Chairman of the Board and President

Our Cragin 1-Year Tax Saver Account is the most convenient way to defer as much savings interest to the time when it can do you the most good—to when the tax laws work in your favor. Naturally, you'll have questions about this simple and innovative plan. We invite you to drop into any Cragin Financial Center to sit down with a Cragin counselor, and discuss all aspects of the Tax Saver Account.

I urge you to act on this remarkable program, in the same way smart savers joined our All Savers program in 1981. And, as in the case of All Savers, the earlier you act, the more you benefit.

*The Tax-Free exclusion is based on current federal tax laws.

"Lesser God" brings excitement to OCC coordinator

After 12 years at Oakton Community College, Denis Berkson has finally seen his dream come true. That dream will manifest March 8 when the OCC Theater Association opens its production of the play "Children of a Lesser God."

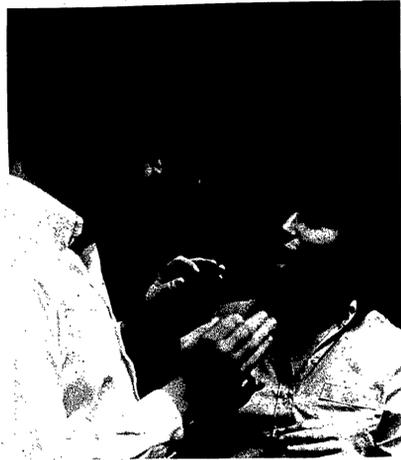

Berkson is Oakton's speech/theater coordinator, and director of the award-winning play at the College. The March 8 opening will mark the first time that Oakton's theater people have a place of their own at the Des Plaines campus, located at 1600 E. Golf rd.

"Having our own auditorium will make a big difference in our theater program," Berkson said of the recently opened Performing Arts Center. "It will give the theatrical group at the College an identity in addition to a place to rehearse and perform. Our program now will be seen in a professional light."

Berkson also is excited about performing "Children of a Lesser God," which has won seven Tony awards, including one for best play.

The play, written by Mark Medoff, is a compelling story about an idealistic young speech therapist who falls in love with one of his students - a defiant young deaf woman who has spent her life avoiding the hearing world. She is emotionally torn apart by her lover's demands to enter the hearing world, a schoolmate's prodding that she become a militant and her own desire to remain as she is.

Using both speech and sign language, the actors create a fascinating and rarely seen side of human relationships and human communication. The sign language used in the play almost always is linked to speech or clarified in some way, not creating any communication gap between the actors and the audience.

Oakton Community College student Brigitte Brand, of Des Plaines (right) and Northbrook resident Dev Kennedy rehearse for the upcoming Oakton Theater Association production of the play "Children of a Lesser God." The award-winning play will be performed March 8-10, 15-17, and 22-24. For ticket information, call 635-1900.

Chinese New Year celebration

"Gung Hay Fat Choy! Gung Hay Fat Choy!" This was the chant as the 3rd graders at Washington School led their dragon parade through the school. It is the "Year of the Rat," 482.

Earlier in the week, the children heard about the Chinese lunar calendar and the animals represented in the Chinese horoscope. They learned that the "rat", according to the Chinese horoscope, represented charm, imagination and generosity; a tendency to be quick-tempered and to be an opportunist... not quite the meaning they were accustomed to.

Some of the traditions centering around the Chinese New Year are "lucky money," dragons, lions, firecrackers to scare away evil spirits, fruit and vegetables. The "lucky money" is used to appease the lion's appetite.

Mrs. Tuch, the art teacher, got them started with visions of dragons and animals from the Chinese zodiac. Following that, cardboard boxes and paper, tissues and material were transformed into 6 colorful, flame-sporting dragons. The dragons, together with original posters and noise-makers, wished a Happy New Year to Washington School.

Washington School, 2710 Golf Rd., Glenview, is one of the five elementary schools in East Maine School District #63.

All youth groups in need of an American flag for their meetings are invited to attend the annual "Youth on Parade" program sponsored by the Park Ridge Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3579 and its Ladies Auxiliary. The program will be held in the post home at 10 W. Higgins rd. in Park Ridge (corner of Canfield & Higgins) March 10 at 1 p.m. according to Commander Richard Bohannan.
Ladies Auxiliary President Adeline Baranski stated that the purpose of this program is to educate area youth on flag protocol and the history of the American flag. President Baranski noted that refreshments will be served, followed by a most fascinating program of magic presented by area magician Bruce Walstad.
Ladies Auxiliary Chrm. of Youth Activities, Dorothy Ortmann requested that youth group leaders call her at 763-2308 after 6 p.m. to indicate the number planning to attend the program. She also mentioned that early arrival would insure a good seating area.

their goals and values and how these relate to substance abuse. We want them to consider peer pressure and urge them to make their own decisions," says Selway. "We also want them to seek treatment when appropriate."

There is no typical profile for a student enrolled in Project Rescue according to Selway. "Any student in the high school may become involved with alcohol or drugs. It is better to err on the side of caution if you think your child is experimenting. A teenager rarely gets caught the first time he tries," says Selway.

According to Selway, it is equally important that parents remember that every child who experiments with drugs or alcohol is not necessarily addicted to them. Only about half the students who are enrolled in Project Rescue are referred for further evaluation at a substance abuse treatment center. Other recommendations are made as appropriate.

should be completed because the resultant operating savings would bode well for its customers when they went "on-line." In the long run, the anticipated energy cost savings would work to the benefit of the area and its economy.

Edison is a closely regulated Company in everything it does. This regulation is the offset to the "monopoly" aspect of utility operations cited by the article.

The Company's activities are regulated by a myriad of State and Federal agencies, in some cases with resident auditors and inspectors on our properties. Included are the ICC, FERC, NRC, State and Federal EPA's, Army Corps of Engineers, SEC, OSHA, EEOC, NLRB, etc. etc. Thus, even if we were so inclined, there's little we could do to "play games" with our costs and related money requirements. But, because we provide an essential service, we can't be allowed to "fall apart" in either service or availability. The public interest in this is apparent.

Many of the costs we incur are beyond our control with a possible partial exception. Fuel costs account for over a third of our expenses. In part, we went into the nuclear arena in order to get some control of these costs, yet as events testify our path here has not been an easy one although the fuel and total KWH cost savings from nuclear have been and are significant.

As the largest tax payer in Illinois, taxes account for over one-fourth of our costs. Today for every dollar of added revenue we require, we must ask for two dollars, the other dollar goes for taxes. In effect, we are a tax collector for government. But the onus falls on us.

Operating and maintenance, the costs of keeping our 11,000 square mile system going and of running 13 large central generating plants account for only another one-fourth of our operating expenses. These are the costs we can deal with. Depreciation accounts for the balance.

So given the fact that only one-fourth of our operation costs are directly controllable, we don't feel we've done too bad a job considering the times we've all lived through. In fact, the cost of electricity here has risen much more slowly than the costs of oil, gasoline and natural gas. And, in our area it has risen much slower than has the cost of electricity for the United States, as a whole. When our new plants are "on-line" in a few years, and other areas of the country play "catch-up" with higher costs facilities we will look even better.

Edison doesn't have a large number of lobbyists. We have one man who acts in this matter part-time. His job is to explain our views to legislators and this is a proper activity in view of the nature of what we do.

It's true we pay a $3 dividend. But, we pay only enough so that we can competitively market our securities to finance our construction program. No market, no funds! The $3 dividend can be related to a number of bases depending upon what one is trying to say.

People who bought our stock in the early '70's paid well over $40 a share. Their return? 7.5%. People who bought our stock a few months ago, paid $29 a share. Their return? 10.3%. The price of the stock nose-dived after the negative ASLB Byron operating license decision to the $23.50 cited by the article. Is that a reasonable basis for comparison?

Also, keep in mind that the $40, paid for a share purchased in the pre-inflationary early '70's was probably worth in excess of $80 in terms of 1984 - dollars, so in value returned the 1971 investor is realizing less than 4% on his investment and, in fact, has watched his savings melt away. Nonetheless, the generating plants he financed are serving our customers today.

Our nuclear plants are not "shuttered." They're all operating very well and have saved our customers hundreds of millions of dollars in reduced fuel costs which are recovered through billings. If the allusion was to the Byron plant, it is not yet in service so it can hardly be called "shuttered." However, we fully expect it will be in service by year-end. As you might already know, the NRC staff did not agree with the decision of the ASLB. In any event, the latter is a recommendatory body only and it based its decision upon incomplete data. That decision is under appeal to a higher level board at this time and we fully expect approval of our operating license request.

I don't believe Edison has ever been offended by justified criticism of its actions or positions. We'll take our "knocks" with the next man. And, we are fully cognizant of our high profile in the community and that it's difficult to overlook us. However, like anyone else, we bridle at aspersions concerning the motives and morality behind what we're trying to do.

We've saved this area for almost 100 years. We're a local Company, controlled by a local management with an extremely high level of local ownership in terms of our security holders. How foolish we would be to violate the relationships implicit in those facts for any perceived short term gain or interest!

As a Company of the kind we are, if we structured an advertising program to reach certain of the publics we serve, we would not "bite our nose to spite our face" by denying ourselves access to any of such publics reached by "The Bugle" or any other available media outlet.

If we reacted, as suggested to much of the treatment we've received from the metro and local press, we would not be doing any advertising at all. In fact, during a period of low earnings a few years ago when we were paying dividends out of capital, i.e., out of our bone and muscle, we did have budgetary restraints on our advertising program.

In the matter of the price-squeeze on low and fixed income people, we are well aware of the problem. In fact, we implemented an aid program last year designed to help such people on an interim basis; that is, until government stepped in with a permanent plan. We have tried to encourage state government to divert monies from its utility tax revenues for this purpose. As a regulated utility we are not allowed to discriminate between and among our customers with our charges. And, I don't think anyone would want us to add people in the numbers needed to administer any assistance program. The costs would have to be recovered through rate hikes. Government has agencies, in being, which are staffed and equipped to do this kind of thing and we think they should do it.

I have no recollection of the pole-in-the-walk matter, so I can't fairly comment upon it. On the face of it, however, if the situation was described, I have to agree that we were foolish to have made moment of it. And, I do apologize for it.

I've enclosed some charts which will serve to put in perspective some of what I've commented upon above. If you've any questions, I'll be happy to address them.

On another tack, you and Bob missed an interesting visit to the Zion Nuclear Station last Friday. It was a "no holds barred" opportunity for the press and they took advantage of it. I'll likely try to arrange another press tour at some near-future date and it may be that you can make it then.

lease is not negotiated before March 31.

Two of those snags seem to center around communications and financial aid toward branch library renovation.

Toward communicating on matters of concern, a library board member said at least two attempts to speak with an appropriate school board committee did not meet with success. An administrator from District 63 said no overtures were made except one for bringing both boards together.

A report at a former library board meeting expressed disapproval of the School District's alleged lack of cooperation in paying for a portion of electrical wiring necessary for air-conditioning units to be installed. According to school board discussion, the Library is being accused of not providing the District with an estimated cost for wiring prepared by an architect. Said one board member, "They have been withholding information."

Other differences have included or continue to include construction of walls, separate metering for the library's electrical use and charges for rental fees.

In other matters, a parent from the Washington school area spoke to board members and presented a petition with more than 100 names endorsing the school's present principal, Patricia Johnson. She said reportedly a group of Meizer students' parents asked their youngsters' present principal be retained when a majority of those students attend

Washington school next year, following Meizer's scheduled closing by June. In a discussion on utilization of school facilities, board members approved putting out to bid the Harrison street property, unsuccessfully bid out before.

Consensus seemed to be reached in asking about $500,000 for Wilson school and "entertaining" an idea for selling Nathanson at $750,000. Also considered for sale was Ballard school and surrounding properties. These are discussion items and final action has not been taken.

Recent media attention toward asbestos and its attendant dangers in schools produced board member requests for new testing in area schools to determine if pollution exists. A few years ago, the District took major steps in eliminating some asbestos from the school environment. Director of building and grounds Joe Irpino said a State architect is invited for a walk-through of District schools.

Board members approved a resolution providing for a public hearing on the tentative amended budget and appropriation Ordinance for the fiscal year 1983-84. The hearing will be at 7:30 p.m. April 10 in the Educational Service Center, 10150 Dee Rd., Des Plaines.

Also, board members approved funds for purchase of typewriters, microcomputers in Gemini School and replacements for components in the alarm system of both Ballard and Apollo Schools.

Business Committee Chairman will be Corinne Edwards, President of a Lincolnwood travel agency bearing her name. Chairman of the Residents Committee will be lifetime Lincolnwood resident Henry Novoselsky. Working closely with him will be Terry Miller, Chairman of the Friends of the Lincolnwood Library Committee.

Library '84! committees will issue progress reports throughout the campaign. In addition, donations will be posted in the Library, 4000 W. Pratt ave.

Donations in all amounts can be delivered to the Library, dropped in collection canisters, pledged or mailed to Marvin Fink, Library '84!, Lincolnwood Library, 4000 W. Pratt ave., Lincolnwood 60046.

Library '84! was kicked off by a $1,000 donation from Mayor Porcellini and a $1,000 donation from Fink.

Library seeks funds for hearing/visually impaired equipment

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Board members of the Niles Library District received reports on progress of several grants as well as approving application for a mini-grant to extend some library services to hearing impaired and visually impaired persons.

A board meeting took place Wednesday, February 8 in the main library, 6960 Oakton, Niles. Federal funds of the mini-grant, if approved, would tentatively purchase a TTY (teletypewriter) used by hearing impaired persons to communicate along telephone lines. Also, decoders for closed caption television could be borrowed by patrons who may wish to purchase one themselves after a trial run, according to board president Harry Pestine.

In addition, the library could purchase a Visual-Tek capable of magnifying the printed page for visually impaired persons. Word of a former grant toward library construction may be available by the end of the week. These state funds could be as much as $250,000 toward $1,000,000 of construction or one quarter of the library's expenditure.

Another grant for federal funds has not been approved by the Library District is appealing the decision. If approved, grant funds would be about $180,000 toward $450,000 in construction.

impaired persons to communicate along telephone lines. Also, decoders for closed caption television could be borrowed by patrons who may wish to purchase one themselves after a trial run, according to board president Harry Pestine.

In other matters, board members authorized extension of a library lease for the branch library in Ballard school, Niles. The extension is being granted by East Maine School District 63 while negotiations toward a lease are taking place. According to board president, Harry Pestine, school board members "haven't agreed to some minor things." He especially cited the School District's offering payment for electrical wiring necessary for air-conditioning the branch in renovation of the premises.
