Wags gets nod from Niles Zoners

by Bob Besser

The Niles Zoning Board approved plans Monday night for the construction of a Walgreen's-owned Wags Restaurant at 7400 Milwaukee Ave.

Final approval by the Niles Village Board must be received by Walgreens before a building permit will be issued.

Wags Restaurant, had previously appeared before the Niles Zoning Board to request zoning assistance to erect a restaurant in front of Oak Mill Mall at Oakton St. and Milwaukee Ave. At that time the Zoning Board denied the request mainly, because Walgreens did not have much of its necessary paper work completed and due to the concern of increased traffic

Zoners approve Burger King drive-thru

by Bob Besser

The Niles Zoning Board, reversing its own 1981 decision, approved Monday night plans to construct a drive-thru facility at the Burger King located at 7133 Dempster St.

The Dempster St. Burger King, which is owned by LTR, Inc. of Oak Brook, had petitioned the zoning board to allow construction of the drive-thru.

Attorney Charles Alexander, representing the fast food restaurant, said the current franchise agreement will expire in 1988 and if the drive-thru facility is not built, LTR, Inc. could lose the franchise, which is issued by Chart House, Inc. This group controls the Burger King franchises in northern Illinois.

The drive-thru facility is planned so as not to protrude from the existing building. Drive thru customers would enter from the west end of the building and proceed to the east end where they would pick up their food.

From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

Where's the bids?

Last week Niles trustee Pete Pesole was asking fellow trustee Abe Selman about a $95,000 bid for curb and sidewalk improvements in Niles. When Selman noted the bids were opened at a committee meeting, Pesole said they should be opened only at a public meeting. He was backed up by village president Nick Blase, who added opening bids in committee may well be illegal. Blase said future bids exceeding $4,000 would only be opened at official public meetings.

In our younger days of Bugling we were sitting through a summer's evening's meeting in what is now the upstairs chamber of the Circuit Court offices at Milwaukee and Touhy Avenues. The village clerk was opening bids for concrete work and announcing the prices of each bidder. After all of the received bids were read, one of the old line trustees took an envelope from his inside jacket pocket and said he had one more bid which he "forgot" to hand to the clerk. The envelope was open, and the bidder was a former president of Niles Chamber of Commerce. Coincidentally, this last bid was read into the record. It was the low bid and the bidder received the contract for the cement work. It

Physicians denied zoning for medical building

The Niles Zoning Board turned down a request to construct a 12 office medical building at the corner of Prospect Ave. and Dempster St. on Monday night.

At issue was a request by Dr. Margaret Bischel of Des Plaines to have the zoning changed from residential to business on a lot at 8124 Dempster St.

Bischel said she and a group of other physicians intended to construct a medical office building complete with x-ray facilities.

However, area residents expressed concern that the plans, which would allow patients using the building to enter and leave from Prospect Ave., would increase traffic in an area where there are residential homes.

Additionally, it was pointed out that traffic heading west on Dempster St., off of Milwaukee Ave., would have to accelerate and decelerate quickly, crossing two lanes of traffic, to turn left at Prospect Ave.

However, the final objection to the project came from Zoning Board Commissioners who said they feared "spot zoning" which would place a business on a lot

Let Bacher take a walk!

What is it about today's society that makes it feel the only way it can honor a person for extraordinary accomplishments or contributions to that society is posthumously?

And usually at these ceremonies, some pompous individual stands on a podium and acknowledges Joe's or Frank's or George's contribution to the community and then he usually raises his eyes upward and says something to the effect that he knows "that Joe or Frank or George is looking down on this gathering today and is mighty proud of what we are doing to honor him."

Right here in Niles, the village is hosting a Dedication Day with much pomp and ceremony on Sunday, May 27, at which time it will dedicate the Niles Administration Building, the new Public Works Building and the "Blue Boy" addition to the fire station on Dempster Street. The Administration Building is being re-named the "Kenneth R. Scheel Village Administration Building" and justly so for the former village manager who dedicated his life to the betterment of this community.

But the Public Works Building is going to be dedicated as just that...a public works building. And living right across the street, kiddy-corner from this new building, is the man who was known as "Mr. Public Works" in Niles for several decades. That man is Eddie Bacher, a man who made the Village of Niles his career...a man whose clock never differentiated between night and day when there was work to be done and a man who village officials and Niles residents lauded for his job dedication during his working years.

There will never be a more appropriate time to honor Eddie and let him know how much his efforts have been appreciated than on Sunday, May 27.

So let Eddie Bacher take a walk...across the street, let him stand on the podium and get the honor he so richly deserves. Let the village officials know your feelings. It's not too late!

Security service honors employee for job performance

Sergeant Jeff Mazur of Niles was promoted meritoriously to his present rank and awarded The Protection Group, Ltd.'s "Award of Distinction" today.

Mazur was engaged in a gun battle by two masked, armed men who attempted to rob a local savings and loan at closing time on Friday, March 23.

Sergeant Mazur did not endanger bank employees, customers or passersby and shot at the robbers only after they opened fire; even then Mazur waited until the danger from his return shots was at a minimum.

He recovered a major portion of the money stolen.

Property ownership transfer cards

Robert P. Hanrahan, Assessor of Niles Township would like to inform recent purchasers of property in Niles Township that at the time of closing they may be under the impression that the change of ownership will automatically be recorded with the various County Offices and that they will automatically receive a tax bill without notifying the County regarding the change of ownership.

If the purchaser does not take care of filling out the change of ownership card, problems regarding the receipt of future tax bills may develop.

This can be an expensive omission and produce a real inconvenience for the new homeowners.

When the card has been properly completed the Niles Township Assessor's Office will transfer it to the County Building if the purchaser wishes.

Maine Town Meeting set for April 10

Girl Scout cookie screening at Holy Family

In response to the recent threat of "tampered" Girl Scout cookies Holy Family Hospital and Holy Family Ambulatory Care Center in Wheeling will examine boxes of cookies for intrusive metal objects.

Medical personnel at each facility will x-ray the cookies for a clear image of its contents. The examination poses no threat of radiation exposure and promises to protect your family from any potential danger.

The hospital and Center performed a similar examination of Halloween treats for area children in October. This free community service emphasizes Holy Family's commitment of providing quality health care to residents in the northwest suburbs.

To make your 'cookie screening' appointment, call the hospital at 297-1800, ext. 1920 or call the Center at 520-0100.

Maine Township residents will have an opportunity to participate in "grass roots government" at the Annual Town Meeting and Budget Hearing at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 10, in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge.

First on the agenda will be consideration of the proposed Maine Township Budget and Appropriation Ordinance for 1984-85.

The proposed township budget appropriates a combined total of $2,082,500.00, down 5.5 percent (or $120,000.00) from last year.

Township residents will have an opportunity to ask questions and comment on the budgets.

Detailed reports on township services and activities also will be presented at the meeting chaired by Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson. These will include administration, youth services, general assistance, cheese distribution, Community Agency Day, voter registration, sale of vehicle stickers, assessor's services and operation of the road district. Citizens will have an opportunity to ask questions and voice their opinions.

The township budget includes appropriations for the General Town Fund, General Assistance and Revenue Sharing. Included in the Town Fund are expenditures for the youth committee and mental health. General guidelines for Revenue Sharing will be adopted at the Budget Hearing, but funds will be allocated following a public hearing in May.

The Road Fund includes allocations for administration, equipment and maintenance of township roads.

Both budgets are available for inspection at the Maine Township Town Hall.

Halverson said, "I urge all township residents to attend this important meeting. An open forum of this type is the purest form of democratic government since it is a free discussion by the people rather than by their elected officials."

For further information call 297-2510.

Linda A. Peterson

also operates an outpatient clinic, the Morton Grove Rehabilitation Center. Both the clinic and company are headquartered at 9346-48 Waukegan rd., Morton Grove (312) 966-2290.

Free health screenings at Gottlieb/Triton Health Fair

The seventh annual Gottlieb Hospital/Triton College Health Fair will be held on April 12, 13 and 14.

Several health screening tests will be offered to the first 1,500 community residents who call for appointments. Participants must be at least 18 years old. Call 681-3200, ext. 1050.

All the tests are free, with the exception of the SMA-12 blood test (12 screenings from one blood sample, to check for cholesterol, diabetes, symptoms, liver function and other health indicators). In combination with a screening for anemia, the SMA-12 blood test will cost $8 ($3 for senior citizens who produce a Medicare card).

The free tests include blood pressure, glaucoma, visual acuity, and pulmonary (lung) function.

Holy Family One Day Surgery Program

The patient arrives at Holy Family Hospital at 7:30 a.m., undergoes surgery at 9 a.m. and is on his way back home by noon.

Too good to be true? It's a scenario which unfolds daily at Holy Family in the hospital's One Day Surgery Program designed to save minor surgery patients both time and money.

More than 60 different procedures can be performed, including eye, ear, nose and throat; gynecological; urological; orthopedic; and oral surgery.

"I am delighted to see the effort at cost containment coupled with such good professional care," said a patient in the program, Sheila Schultz, a Wheeling resident.

"Overall it's a very positive experience for patients," said Mary Muscarello, RN. "They know they're going home the same day, they have a friend or relative with them before and after the operation, and they tend to recover more quickly since they recuperate in their own homes, surrounded by family and friends."

Marlene Eltzorn, Director of Admitting at Holy Family, noted:

"Patients also have lower hospital bills because they pay a reduced fee for their operation and avoid additional costs of a hospital stay."

Carol India, of Morton Grove, had this to say about the One-Day Surgery Program: "We were extremely pleased with the personnel both in the One-Day Surgery facilities and in the operating room. The surgery and recover went smoothly and quickly, and we were able to take our daughter home just hours after we arrived."

One-Day Surgery allows patients to have an operation quickly and safely under sterile hospital conditions and return home the same day. Patients must be stable and healthy before returning home that day. If a problem should arise which would prevent the person from going home, or if the physician decides the patient needs to be hospitalized, the patient would then be admitted to Holy Family Hospital.

For a free brochure on the One-Day Surgery Program, call Holy Family's Public Relations Department at 297-1800, ext. 1174.

Morton Grove Rehab hosts seminar on head injuries

Families of and professionals who work with head injury patients can receive insights into complete long-term therapy alternatives during a free community seminar 4-5:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 10 at the Morton Grove Rehabilitation Center.

The community seminar is sponsored by the Morton Grove Rehabilitation Center, 9346 Waukegan Rd., one of the only outpatient clinics in the Chicago area that provides long-term, multidisciplinary rehabilitation programs for head and brain injury patients.

Guest speaker is Don A. Olson, PhD, Director of Training and Education at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago. Dr. Olson will discuss the head injured population.

In addition, the rehabilitation team at the Morton Grove Rehabilitation Center will offer a look at a comprehensive rehabilitation approach to treating head injury patients.

Among those invited to the seminar are families and friends of brain injured patients, therapists, nurses, physicians, health care facility administrators, and the staffs of social service agencies.

Motor vehicle accidents are the most frequent (about 50 percent) cause of head injury for adults in the U.S., while falls are the most frequent cause for young children (auto accidents are No. 2 for children). Children most often sustain head injuries as pedestrians, or on bicycles related to motor vehicle accidents, according to the Center's staff.

For more information on the seminar, phone the Center at (312) 966-3536. The Morton Grove Rehabilitation Center is a division of Illinois Therapeutic Associates, Ltd., a Medicare-certified rehabilitation agency providing direct treatment and consultation in physical and occupational therapy, speech/language pathology, social work and audiology. Both the company and its outpatient clinic are headquartered at 9346-48 Waukegan Rd., Morton Grove.

Computers: Learning and Fun

As CompuCamp enters its fourth year of operations, our success and rapid growth continues to be built on quality - in programs, staff and curriculum. CompuCamp is accredited by the American Camping Association (A.C.A.). CompuCamp is a year-round business and we maintain our own research and development staff to write the latest in computer curriculum. Our five-to-one instructor-to-camper ratio assures personalized attention and provides a quality experience for each camper.

CompuCamp is one of the first camps in the United States to combine enriched computer learning with a summer camping experience. There have been CompuCamps in academic settings throughout the country, including Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Wisconsin, California, Oregon, Colorado, and Texas. Each camper enrollment is small so that every camper receives personal attention and "hands-on" computer time. There are typically 50 campers per session with one staff member per five campers.

The CompuCamp program has been developed by our full time computer and education and resource staff. CompuCenter, our permanent facility located in Minneapolis, Minnesota, trains business people, families, and youngsters in a broad range of computer programming classes and software applications. We understand computers, we understand young people, and we know how to teach computing.

Some of the key highlights of CompuCamp are: Instruction on the Apple IIe and exposure to Commodore and IBM hardware. A tested, proven curriculum designed by educators. A variety of computer languages including BASIC, Assembly, Pascal and LOGO. Careful screening for proper placement of each camper, plus ongoing evaluation to assure maximum progress. Curriculum that stimulates and challenges all experience/ability levels, which includes Robotics, Math, Graphics and Music. Discussions to help campers develop a personal code for computer ethics. Small class sizes for maximum learning opportunity for each camper. Each camper and his/her own computer during lab periods. Software applications include voice, music, art graphics, printing and word processing. Up to 10 hours each day of computer time available to each camper through flexible scheduling. Exposure to Computer Aided Instruction. A variety of leisure time and recreational sports activities, including softball, chess, water sports, volleyball, nature walks, tennis, soccer, ping pong, kickball, reading and basketball. A personal questionnaire upon acceptance to determine proper class placement. Each camper receives a written evaluation when camp is over. A total quality learning experience that includes lots of good fun, good food and good friends.

District 207 Core program helps students develop skills

"These students know they have some academic deficiencies and rather than revealing them, some have attempted to reduce the risk of failure by hiding those deficiencies throughout the years," says Dr. James Coburn, principal of Maine West High School, who is serving as project director for a District 207 pilot program designed to remediate freshman students who come to high school at least two years behind in some of their academic skills development. "Instead of entering high school with eight years of education, these students in some areas enter with six," says Dr. Coburn.

"Most of them seem to have missed some basic skill development somewhere about the fifth grade, and they just haven't been able to catch up," says Dr. Coburn. As a result of academic deficiencies, such students can become discouraged about the probability of future success according to Dr. Coburn. "Labeling is our biggest problem. These are very nice kids; they are just academically deficient - perhaps because of extended illnesses during their grammar school years or because of a lack of confidence in their ability to learn. Some have just never experienced enough success in school."

The Core program - so named because at its heart is a core of teachers who work as a closely knit team - keeps those students from hiding. The Core team includes Melinda Eckhart, reading teacher; Harriet Naden, English teacher; Robert Goerne, math teacher; Randy Johnson, counselor; Russell Smith, aide; and Karen Kurka, aide.

The team helps each student concentrate, not only on computational and verbal skills, but also on reading, writing, synthesizing, evaluating, and problem solving. Students who are assigned to the Core program have a Core resource center as their home base. They are assigned to the resource center for English, math and reading as well as study halls where they can get extra help with their homework. National Honor Society students provide tutoring and have also helped to introduce Core students to activities at Maine West. All other instruction is in the regular classroom.

This year, after examining the STEP/SCAT scores of incoming freshmen at Maine West, Coburn and his staff identified about 120 students who were at or below the local 20th percentile in basic skill development in two or more academic areas. Of the 120, 10 were identified for special education. The remaining 110 freshman students were divided into two groups by random sampling.

According to Coburn, 55 of the students were assigned as usual within the existing curriculum. Their growth and development and performances are being monitored. The remaining 55 students were assigned to the Core program where - according to Coburn - they are receiving a "people intensive education that has been linked to microcomputers."

Perhaps the most important aspect of the Core program is the fact that it provides an opportunity for students who were labeled as "academically deficient" to get a second chance to succeed in school. "School can be a devastating experience for a student who experiences minimal success or failure," says Dr. Coburn.

Even more important, however, is the fact that Core is preparing these students to join their peers and experience success in the established curriculum by the time they reach their sophomore year.

Lutheran Schools Week at St. John Lutheran

St. John Lutheran School (Missouri Synod), 7429 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles, celebrated Lutheran Schools Week March 13 through 19 using the theme, "Lutheran Schools Care and Share".

"Grades one through eight created a very large mural painting depicting the title, "Color Me Lutheran School" which is on display in the foyer. A special "Share and Care" Wednesday morning Chapel Service was held, and the Junior Choir, under the direction of Miss Dana Reid, visited the Bethany Methodist Nursing Home and sang for the residents. Pre-Schoolers through Fourth graders participated in an "Up, Up and Away with Lutheran Schools" kite competition. Each student made his or her own kite with the help of Mrs. Karen Mosen (Edgebrook). The kites were flown on Thursday of the special week on a typical cold and rainy blustery March morning. Fifth and Sixth graders assisted the younger children in getting their kites up, up and away. Winners with the highest flying kites were: Chris Johnson, Eric Wandel and Jenny Johnson. Lane Gotling and Kevin Izard created the most creative kites, and the most spirited kite flown was made by Brian Izard. The Fifth through Eighth graders entered an essay contest using the general theme. Winners were Elizabeth Clark (first place) and Kim Lu (second place). 7th & 8th graders, and Gene Boehm (first place) and Chan Min Park (second place) 5th & 6th graders. Awards were given out and essays read at a Family-Style Dinner held the last evening of Lutheran Schools Week sponsored by The Parent-Teacher League.

FNBOS employee teaches boating course

It might seem a bit incongruous for an outfit known as the Evanston Power Boat Squadron to come to a lady sail boat co-captain for information on "Cruising the Eastern Shore of Lake Michigan", but that was the topic of a recent meeting of the squadron. The "She Sailor" was Shirley Schultz. Shirley, in addition to her sail boating also manages to handle a responsible position at the First National Bank of Skokie and teach an evening course at Oakton Community College which also deals with cruising the Eastern side of the "Big Lake."

Shirley and her husband, Robert, are 15 year veterans of sailing ships and currently moor their thirty foot S-2 Center Sloop in St. Joseph Michigan. ("That's sailor talk for a boat big enough to live on if you're so inclined.") Her talk to the Power Squadron, which met at Sheridan Shore Yacht Club in Gillson Park in Wilmette, covered such really important information as where to go and what to do on shore, where to make port, as well as the expected rocks, shoals and ice locations.

Commander Gabriel Schwager of the Evanston Power Squadron, shown here with the She Sailor Shirley Schultz, informed us that the Evanston Power Squadron is part of the United States Power Squadron organized in 1914 as a fraternal organization of Sail and Power Boating enthusiasts. And we thought the "Stink Pots" (power boats) never talked to the "rag baggers" (Sail Boats).

The President's Perspective

By Eugene J. Rudnik, Jr., President Peerless Federal Savings

Deregulation is a term which has been used with great frequency in recent years in describing a number of American industries, including the financial industry. To the customers of PEERLESS, the most notable impact of financial deregulation has been felt by our savers who, as a result of deregulation, experienced and enjoyed the record high interest rates of 1980-1982.

The process of deregulation began in June, 1978 with the introduction of the six-month Money Market Certificate. Though the maximum interest rate on that account was regulated, that maximum level of rates. The next significant step in the process was the removal in August, 1981 of the 12.0% ceiling on 30-month certificates, thereby enabling many to "lock-in" the record high rates then available. In December, 1982, the first totally deregulated account was permitted, that being the Money Market Deposit Account. The emergence of the MMDA was quickly followed in April, 1983 by the removal of all ceilings on accounts of two and one-half years or longer and in October, 1983 by the removal of all ceilings on accounts of longer than 31 days.

Just as airline customers have benefited from deregulation through lower fares, savings customers have benefited through higher savings rates. However, as in the case of airline deregulation, the savings customer must now "shop" for the financial institution which best meets his or her needs. Not only must location, office hours and quality of service be considered, but also rate and frequency of compounding, which is reflected in the Effective Annual Yield.

From the savings institutions' perspective, deregulation has had mixed blessings. While it has enabled us to retain and attract funds which might otherwise have been invested elsewhere, it has tremendously increased our cost of doing business at a time when we continue to hold a significant portfolio of relatively low-rate, long-term mortgage loans. As a result, today's borrowers must pay higher rates and fees, and charges have been imposed for many services which formerly were free. Since deregulation is here to stay, it can be assumed that the trend to more and higher fees will also continue.

At PEERLESS, we believe that we have handled the savings deregulation process better than most institutions. We paid maximum rates when rates were regulated at market levels, we've been very competitive with our rates since the removal of interest rate ceilings, all but one of our accounts compounds daily, and we've held the line on fees charged for services. Our goal for the future is to continue an orderly evolution from a highly regulated savings institution to a less regulated Full Service Family Financial Center, while, at the same time, being mindful of the best interests of our customers.

PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE

IRA's ... Do you "throw money away?"

By Timothy P. Sheehan, Chairman Board of Directors Peerless Federal Savings

During the years of the "Great Depression" of the 1930's, when the idea of Social Security was put into effect in America, our Chicagoland average head of the household blue collar or white collar breadwinner earned a salary from $80 to $110 PER MONTH (NOT PER WEEK), or approximately $1,000 to $1,300 per year. Survival was a struggle, but it was possible.

The concept of Social Security, based on a Social Security tax on the first $3,000 of earnings which, at retirement, promised an income of nearly $2,000 per year, or nearly $40 per week, appealed to the great majority of American citizens who believed that this amount of income in their "Golden Years" would put them on easy street.

Now we know, at the present time, that this amount of Social Security benefits would not even cover the rent for a apartment in the poorer areas of Chicago.

This is why, in my opinion, the I.R.A. (Individual Retirement Account) concept, which combines savings and tax-deferred income, is so important and should be an integral part of everyone's financial planning for the future. The benefits of tax-deferred earnings on the IRA account and the great enhancement of earning power provided by the compounding of interest, will bring to future retirees substantially increased income.

Every saver eligible for an IRA ought to take advantage of the great benefits of an IRA.

It seems to me, far too many of PEERLESS' IRA customers are literally "throwing money away" by waiting to make their IRA yearly deposits at the end of the tax year instead of the beginning of the tax year. To illustrate, assume you have a spousal IRA and can contribute $2,250 per year. If you are in the 30% income tax bracket for calendar 1984, your tax deferral will be $2,250 x 30% tax bracket, or $675 in taxes due, which you will defer until such a time as you choose to use the funds.

However, the greatest majority of people do not contribute to their IRA until near the time they file their income tax return in March or April of the following year.

Why not make your 1984 contribution as early as possible in 1984? Then, at the end of 1984 (assuming you invested in a 2 1/2-year IRA Certificate at a compounded yield of 11.06%), you will have earned nearly an extra $248 of tax-deferred income ($2,250 x estimated 11.06%).

Even John D. Rockefeller, one of the richest men in the world before he died, gained media notoriety by giving a shining new dime for a tip to his golf caddy. He would not have "thrown away" a tax deferral of $248. Why should you?

Elizabeth Fischer, associate professor of voice at Northwestern, said the program this year will be specially entertaining, instructive and informal. The students will present works they have been preparing and rehearsing for auditions of various kinds, from prize contests to academic rating exams at graduate or undergraduate levels. Several guest artists also will be included, she stated. Operatic arias, lieder and art songs in several languages will be presented.

The performers discuss what is involved in preparing for auditions, how they personally get ready, and what it is like to go through such tests of training and talent. Some of the singers, already audition veterans, are past winners of vocal contests. Questions from the audience will be welcomed.

Ensemble Espanol performance

A panorama of Spanish dance music and culture with Ensemble Espanol will be presented 8 p.m. Saturday, April 14 in Pendleton Hall of the New Church, 74 Park dr., Glenview. Donations in advance are $4 adults, $3 children, students and senior citizens or $5 and $4 respectively at the door. "This program is partially supported with a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency."

The troupe's repertoire features the dances of Spain from the Renaissance to the 20th century classical, regional and flamenco. All the works come complete with authentic costumes such as intensely bright full skirts, close-fitting bodices, lacy mantillas and shawls. They are the only Spanish dance ensemble in the United States to receive a university "in-resident" status.

Heading Ensemble Espanol is Libby Komaiko Fleming, choreographer, performer, instructor in the Department of Music at Northeastern Illinois University and has the unique distinction of holding an academic degree in Hispanic Dance. An Evanston High School graduate she studied and performed with the dance companies of Jose Greco and Lola Montes. Last year Fleming was awarded the medal "Lazo de Damas" de la Orden La Catolica ("Ribbon of Dame" of the order Queen Isabella the Catholic) by His Majesty Don Juan Carlos, King of Spain. The prize was given for "her activities in spreading the cultural values of the Spanish tradition especially in the fields of music and dance."

A reception will be held following the concert. For ticket and other information contact Jerrie Mats at 724-4515.

Tornado preparedness instructions

The North Maine Fire Department recently presented a program geared to teach tornado preparedness to the students and teachers of Adlai Stevenson and Mark Twain elementary schools. Morrie Farberman, (shown above) Fire Marshal for the North Maine Fire Department, presented the program to over 1,200 students at both schools, on March 21 and 23.

The program consisted of two movies and printed material for the children to take home for the rest of their families. Some of the subjects covered were; the difference between a Tornado Watch and Warning, what type of weather conditions create tornadoes, where and how to take refuge from a tornado at home, school, car or outside.

Fire Chief Richard Holtz felt the program was a success and plans on having similar programs yearly.

Center of Concern offers 'Employment for Seniors'

The Center of Concern in Park Ridge has assisted 232 area residents in finding full and part-time employment since March 1983, and it's looking forward to helping even more in 1984.

Dee Heinrich, executive director for the senior citizen service agency at 1800 N. Northwest Hwy., Suite 4, reports the last 12 months' results are the best ever since the agency began offering the employment service in July 1981.

"The 'Employment for Seniors' program goal is to bring job-seekers over the age of 55 together with jobs that require skill and knowledge and the dependability that is the trademark of the older worker.

"In the last year, however, we have helped find jobs for local residents from ages 16 to 72," Heinrich said. "Although the emphasis of many of our programs is toward helping seniors, we are here to help people of all ages," she added.

Through Operation Able, a senior job placement organization, and a network of suburban employers, The Center of Concern works to match applicant skills and openings. At this time, Heinrich reports that

First Federal changes name to Citicorp Savings of Illinois

Citicorp today announced that the name of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago has been changed to Citicorp Savings of Illinois.

Citicorp acquired First Federal in January following a competitive bidding process overseen by the federal government and approval by the Federal Reserve Board.

Walter B. Wriston, chairman of Citicorp, and Barry C. Burkholder, chairman of Citicorp Savings of Illinois, unveiled an outdoor sign displaying the new name and logo at ceremonies held at the main branch at 1 S. Dearborn st.

"This is a significant step in our efforts to provide full, competitive financial services to Illinois consumers," Mr. Wriston said.

The name change mirrors those already made at Citicorp-owned savings and loan associations in California and Florida.

"We're changing the name because we're now part of Citicorp, and the name Citicorp Savings reflects the strength, innovation and commitment to personal service that one of the largest financial institutions in the world is bringing to Illinois," Mr. Burkholder said.

He noted that management's most pressing goal is to restore the institution to profitability. A number of programs already are underway to offer consumers new savings and borrowing options, he said.

Since acquiring First Federal in January, "We've already introduced a six-month, expandable CD that allows the consumer to make additions without extending the term or changing the initial rate," Mr. Burkholder explained.

"Starting April 1, the interest on this CD will be compounded daily for even greater earnings," he continued.

"And, in the next several weeks we will be making a major announcement regarding a new mortgage lending program," he added.

Mr. Burkholder assured customers that the change would not result in any inconvenience or disruption of service. He said there are no plans to close any branches, and branch offices will continue to be open for business on the same days, during the same hours.

New passbooks will be issued when available; but until then, customers may continue to use their current passbooks, and Citicorp Savings' labels can be picked up on a visit to any branch, he said.

Mr. Burkholder explained that new outdoor signs will be installed at the other branches over the next several weeks.

Citicorp Savings is undertaking an extensive newspaper, television and radio advertising campaign to announce the change. This marks the first time that the institution has used television advertising statewide.

Citicorp Savings of Illinois operates 61 branches throughout Illinois, 43 of them in the Chicago metropolitan area.

at that intersection. Walgreens officials requested a variation on Monday night allowing them to install 115 parking spaces rather than the 143 required for the 150-customer restaurant planned.

Walgreens officials said they would have 83 parking spaces surrounding their restaurant and an additional 60 spaces will be located at Townhouse TV and Appliances which is being constructed immediately north of the proposed restaurant.

Both area residents and Zoning Board members expressed concern about possible flooding problems which could result from the construction of the restaurant.

Currently, many Kirk Lane residences, whose east end faces this property, have excess drainage onto the Wags Restaurant property. By building up this area they feared it may cause a dam-effect locking the water on their property.

A representative of Niles Engineering Dept. said such a problem could arise if the restaurant is constructed at this location. However, he said that catch basins and drain tiles could possibly avert this problem.

Walgreens officials told the Zoning Board members they would take all necessary steps to assure the construction of their restaurant will not cause flooding for the homes on its western border.

Seeking greater assurances Zoning Board members were told Wags would not receive building permits from the village unless village engineers were satisfied that Wags is taking adequate steps to prevent flooding.

Another issue discussed was Wags' being open 24 hours. Area residents expressed concern about noise during the night from cars and customers.

Wags officials said they would install a six foot wooden fence at the rear of the property in an attempt to block much of the light from autos.

Additionally, Walgreens officials said they expected to do only 15 per cent of their business at night.

Dominick Nitti of Mama Nitti's Restaurant, 7830 Milwaukee Ave., expressed concern that patrons of Wags Restaurant will park in their parking lot located south of the proposed restaurant.

Walgreens officials said they could not imagine ever running out of parking spaces. However, they said they would plant three foot high hedges bordering the Mama Nitti's property to discourage people from walking across from one lot to the next.

In the Zoning Board's approval of the requested parking variance, only Commissioner Angelo Troiani voted against the request. Troiani said he could not approve the request because of his own concerns about the increased Milwaukee Ave. traffic which might be caused by the restaurant as well as the annoyance a 24 hour restaurant may cause nearby residents.

Walgreens officials told the Zoning Board members they would take all necessary steps to assure the construction of their restaurant will not cause flooding for the homes on its western border.

Seeking greater assurances Zoning Board members were told Wags would not receive building permits from the village unless village engineers were satisfied that Wags is taking adequate steps to prevent flooding.

was such a blatant act made with no pretense of being handled discreetly, we just sat there in awe at the brazenness of this action.

Not too many months ago a bid appearing before the village board was handled every bit as brazenly with such wanton disregard for proper procedure that we complained to Niles trustees about such an irregularity.

When the officials agreed the action was improper we just pulled up our tent and went home. We were thoroughly disgusted with the action. And we were even more disgusted we got caught in the middle of a bid that turned out to be a village family affair.

Playing the role of Mr. Clean hasn't been easy. After that meeting we vowed not to attend any more village board meetings.

The consistency of certain companies receiving bids in Niles has long been suspect in our minds. When $95,000 bids can be opened in committee meetings with such casualness, it begs the legitimacy of such action. It puts a cloud of suspicion over all official acts that take place at board meetings, as well as in other official sectors of village business. And it begs the question whether everything that happens out in the open at public meetings isn't just a charade.

Local bankers might be interested to know Niles Park District had a balance of $625,575 as of February 29 which is presently drawing 8% to 9.225% interest in a local bank. If they can top those figures they could well have that bonanza sitting in their bank.

Kapelanski says there is no admittance charge to the carnival as is customary in the past, and plenty of free parking abounds the area of the Legion Home. Further details and time of the daily events will be released in the near future, but the Legionnaires wish the community to be aware of the dates now so they may plan their vacations out of town as not to coincide with this gigantic fun weekend.

of the building would be widened to allow for two lanes of traffic. Additionally, Alexander said $130,000 in renovations would take place at the same time the drive-thru facility is installed.

Renovation plans call for a permanent salad bar to be installed inside the restaurant which would reduce inside seating from the current 90 seats to a maximum of 72 seats.

Plans also include the repaving of the parking lot and extensive landscaping around the building. Burger King officials said they expect between 30 to 35 per cent of their total business to take place at the drive-in window. Also, up to 18 per cent of the drive thru customers are expected to eat their food in their cars in the parking lot.

Figures reflecting those customers who will park their cars, order and eat their food inside the restaurant is expected to account for up to 65 per cent of the total business.

Only 2.5 percent of the business is expected to be sold to customers who walk into Burger King off the street without a car.

Burger King officials repeatedly stated they do not expect the drive-thru window will increase their business but rather will allow customers who normally do not come in during bad weather to purchase food without getting out of their cars.

As the number of cars entering and leaving the Dempster St. parking lot is not expected to increase, neither Zoning Board members nor Burger King officials expressed concern over any effect the drive-thru may have on Dempster St. traffic.

However, two residents who live immediately south of the restaurant and whose property faces the rear parking lot of Burger King objected to the drive-thru plans.

Both residents complained of the Burger King garbage which blows onto their property. Additionally, they complained that a fence placed at the south end of the eatery lot is not properly maintained and often has holes in it.

The residents also said the parking lot is often a hang out for teenagers after closing and they have had problems with Burger King employees making noise after hours.
