Builder vetos lot agreement

by Bud Besser

The Adreani boys, local builders in Niles, played a little game of "Father and Son Shuffle" Tuesday night which enabled them to squeeze an extra lot for a nine-home development in the Oakton Court-Harlem area behind the First National Bank of Niles. The son, Bruce Adreani, showed up at Tuesday night's village board meeting, and said "It was not economically feasible to build homes on only eight lots at $165,000 each."

The "Shuffle" began a few weeks ago when residents objected to Adreani building on 10 lots in the residential area. The "Father" and head of Norwood Builders, Ray Adreani, went behind closed doors with residents and agreed he would develop the area with only eight homes being built on the former Grundstrom property.

Tuesday night the "Son" showed up and the "Father" was absent. The younger Adreani implied the "Father" was in error in making the agreement.

The Adreanis have always had a favorable reception in Niles. They have been very supportive of Niles political figures and have had a special relationship with whomever has been in office. Thus, the Tuesday night charade, known as Niles monthly village board meeting, once again

District 63 approves 1984-85 budget and salaries

In a last meeting of the school year, board members of East Maine School District 63 approved the budget, set 11 salaries for administrative personnel for the 1984-85 year and approved about 14 contracts.

Also approved were salaries for 31 custodians effective July 1.

Following a public hearing on the budget, as specified by law, adopted a budget containing estimated amounts available in each fund and planned expenditures. Superintendent Donald Bond said the District has one of the first budgets adopted in Illinois this year.

Board members approved annual salaries for 11 administrators including five principals, assistant principal, associate superintendent, and associate superintendent.

Principals are Donald Huebner, Gemini, $49,662; Robert Jablon, Nelson, $49,963; Patricia Johnson, Washington, $37,369; Stewart Liechti, Stevenson, $50,441; and Walter Sickerski, Mark Twain, $43,126.

Also, Raymond Kuper,

assistant principal, Gemini, $33,287; Lenore Page, Assistant superintendent, $52,044; and Donald Stetina, associate superintendent, $57,327.

Three other administrative salaries are those of James Bowen, business manager, $56,500; Joseph Iripino, director of buildings and grounds, $33,059; and Patricia Kolvek, assistant business manager, $33,267.

Carroll passes handicapped legislation

Important legislation which would allow handicapped persons to park their cars without paying parking meter fees in designated areas, sponsored by State Senator Howard W. Carroll (D-Chicago), today passed the Senate 54 to 0, and now goes to the Governor.

Carroll said, "Not enough of our streets have been designed with access for wheel chairs. However, access to parking is essential for many disabled persons to perform daily life activities such as getting to work and shopping. This bill will enhance the disabled person's ability to be as independent as possible and less reliant on government services."

The measure, House Bill 2441, provides parking restriction exemptions for handicapped vehicles. Besides the exemption from paying parking meter fees, cars bearing handicapped identification would also be exempt from time limitations for any parking facilities owned or leased by municipalities.

"This exemption applies only to parking meters when the time allotment is greater than 1/2 hour. And handicapped persons will not be exempt if parked illegally," said Carroll.

The legislation will also ease the burden on handicapped persons by requiring the Department of Transportation and the Capital Development Board to use the national handicapped emblem to mark parking places and other facilities for the handicapped.

To discourage others from using those parking facilities designated for disabled persons, this bill increases the fine for parking in a handicapped area from $5 to $50.

NFS sponsors Life Skills program

Like previous summers, Niles Family Service is sponsoring a "Life Skills" program for the 10 to 13 year girls and boys. This life skills program will offer each girl or boy a unique opportunity to learn the skills needed for success and happiness in life. Life skills are basically the attitudes and behaviors needed to handle life's problems, frustrations and decisions. Many of our children may be poorly prepared to deal with life and the lack of preparation may be more psychological than academic. Each girl or boy needs to begin developing positive attitudes about themselves, their future and others with learning effective ways to solve personal problems, manage stress and develop friendships and self-direction. Topics which will be discussed are: 1. Personal Problem Solving, 2. Stress Management, 3. Positive Attitudes, 4. Who is in Control of Your Life? 5. Peer Pressure, 6. Making Friends with Yourself and Others.

Blase heads Little City fundraiser

Niles Mayor Nick Blase, for the 6th straight year, heads a Suburban Mayors Committee of 70 strong (6 counties), for the 1984 Little "Smiles" fund-raising drive. The program, known as "Illinois Smiles for Little City," will be held on Friday, Aug. 10 and Saturday, Aug. 11, throughout the Greater Chicago Area, in over 150 communities which have granted permission for the activity. Volunteers will be stationed on busy street corners, in shopping

Brzezczek Child Safety Day

Richard J. Brzezczek, Republican candidate for Cook County State's Attorney, announced plans for a Child Safety Day on Saturday, June 30. This program, designed to raise public awareness of the plight of missing children, will provide parents with free copies of their children's fingerprints. Parents (or guardians) may take their children, ages 3-13, to the Golf Glen Theater, 9180 W. Golf rd., Niles from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Saturday, June 30. Parents will receive the sole copy of the fingerprints.

Supervised by Phil Raffae, Maine Township Republican Committeeman, and organized by Ron Bell, the child fingerprinting session will utilize Brzezczek campaign volunteers and resources to help parents protect their children. Parents or guardians interested in participating in the June 30 Child Safety Day should contact Deborah Dietz at Citizens for Brzezczek, 726-1900.

Distribute $368,500 to 14 social service groups

Maine Township allocates Revenue Sharing Funds

The Maine Township Board of Trustees Tuesday, June 5, allocated $368,500 in federal revenue sharing funds to 14 social service groups serving Maine Township residents. The grants represent an increase of almost 15 percent over last year's appropriations of $332,500 to community agencies. Allocations include: $115,000 to Maine Township Council on Alcoholism; $7,500 to Northwest Suburban Day Care; $5,000 to Blare House (residential care for autistic adults); $3,000 to The Harbour (crisis shelter for teen-age girls); $2,000 to the Salvation Army; $10,000 to Clearbrook Center (serving developmentally disabled people); $65,000 to Maine Township Senior Citizens; $115,000 to Maine Center for Mental Health; $5,000 to LifeSpan (serving victims of domestic violence); $4,000 to Shelter, Inc. (emergency housing for boys and girls); $2,000 to Rimland School (serving autistic children); $15,000 to Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded; $10,000 to Glenkirk (home and services for the retarded); $10,000 to provide transportation for the disabled.

 Chow, Sean Liston and Atsuroh Ijichi the A's could not pull off a win.

Windjammer Travel White Sox 21 - Tasty Pup Athletics A's 9
 The effort was there again by the A's, but they could not pull off a victory over the White Sox. Excellent catching by Chris Kenny, Mike Brieske, and John Sikaras. Super hitting by Kenny Gagliano, Brad Skaja, Nick Saviano, Joe Vitale, Sean Liston, Atsuroh Ijichi, and Jim Sikaras.

Windjammer Travel White Sox 29 - Edison Lumber Yankees 2
 A well played game by both teams, except the White Sox out hit the Yankees, by giving them their first loss. Hitting for the Yankees were Darren Troch, Bryon Peters, Jason Mattoch, Tom Delis, John Alston, and making super plays at second base was Jeremy Mangano.

Edison Lumber Yankees 13 - Tasty Pup Athletics 10

A good played game by both sides and good defensive plays made in the field but in the end the Yankees came with the victory. Hitting for the Yankees were: Mike Kostreza, Neil Seif, John Mesoloras, Brian Peter, Ron Derengowski and Scott Rosenblatt.

Bronco Division

White Sox 15 - Giants 11
 White Sox win fifth straight game with a slug fest victory over the Giants. Pitchers for the Sox were J. O'Brien, J. D'Aquisto, M. Schaezlein and D. Halley. Key Sox hitters were Ronowski, Pawlowski, O'Brien, Schaezlein, D'Aquisto and Patil. Hitting for the Giants were Block, Koszela, Zachow, Dunn and Levey.

Red Sox 7 - Yankees 4
 Good team hitting and defense plus great pitching by Frawley, Hermes and Hewitson led the Red Sox to victory over the

Bronco Division

Yankees. On the mound for the Yankees were Blassick, Bernabey, Davidson and Samalak. Padres 8 - Cubs 7

In a well played game the Padres outlasted the Cubs. Hitting for the Padres were Brieske (3-3), Stenger (2-4) with hits from Kahr and Boffel plus 4 walks for Alexander with 2 runs scored. Cubs 10 - Giants 8

Excellent pitching from J. Bredwell and D. Bredwell while P. Koszela hit triples and A. Zachow had a single and double. Also hitting for the Giants were Gotter, Daly and Dunn.

Astros 7 - Padres 5

In a close game the Padres came up 2 runs short. Hitting for Padres with 2 hits each: Gonka, Bofelli, Stenger, Brieske, Kahr and a 3 base hit by Roussis.

White Sox 7 - A's 3
 The hitting was led by John O'Brien (2-4) and Brad Pawlowski (2-3) with a homerun. The White Sox pitchers did a fine job of holding down a fine A's hitting line up. Pitchers were Troch, Schaezlein and Halley. Outfielders D'Aquisto, Bowler, Cohn and Patil turned in fine performances in keeping the A's hitters from stretching singles into doubles and triples by hitting their cutoff men.

Yankees 12 - Twins 7
 Yankees came up with a big 7 run inning that consisted of a Joe Manzella tremendous homerun. The Yankees also successfully stole home twice on good base running by Samalek and Props. Excellent pitching by Bernabel, Blassick and Samalek. Twins hitters were Aromi, Chamopoulos, Kouzowkas, Shiffman and Biedak.

Astros 18 - Giants 2
 Goot pitching by Astros' Granatelli, Garces and Peters. Giant hitters were J. Bredwell, P. Koszela, A. Zachow and P. Daly.

Cubs 10 - White Sox 0
 The game featured some fine hitting by Ronowski, Levine and Pawlowski. Brad had a towering triple and Joe and Jayson had line shot singles. Good defense by Schaezlein and Levine.

Yankees 10 - Giants 1
 The Yankees combined outstanding pitching by Blassick, Bernabel and Samalek with time hitting and running. Louie Bernabel went 3 for 3 at the plate and Ed Blassick did a great job catching and blocking the plate. Every Yankee player got at least 1 hit during the game. Thanks, Tom Phillos for your help. Giant hitters were Gotter, Zachow, Daly and Koszela.

Twins 7 - Astros 3
 After a tough "Opening Day" loss to the Astros, the Yankees combined strong pitching and good "heads-up" base running to beat the Astros. Louis Bernabel's key double down the left field line knocked in the tying run and went on with 3 runs in the fifth to clinch the victory. Great pitching by Samalek, Blassick and Bernabel.

Twins 7 - White Sox 4
 Good Twins pitching by Isola, Kouzowkas and Chamopoulos. On the mound for the White Sox were Troch, Schaezlein, D'Aquisto and O'Brien. Hitting for the Twins were Biedak (2-2) with a triple.

White Sox 18 - Yankees 6
 The hitting was awesome and the pitching was steady as the White Sox played heads-up in this team victory. Hitting for the Sox were Schaezlein (2-4), Ronowski (1-3), Pawlowski (4-5) including a homerun, O'Brien (2-3), D'Aquisto (1-4), Troch (2-4) with 2 key hits. Patil (1-1) and 3 walks. Good defense by Cohn and Levine.

Astros 8 - Twins 2
 Kouzowkas went 2 for 3 with a homerun and pitched 2 innings giving up 1 run on 1 hit while walking 1 and striking out 6. Biedak had a double and Shiffman had a single. Good Astro pitching by Timberg, Garces and

Twins 5 - Giants 4
 An excellently played defensive game with gems in the field turned in by D. Bredwell, P. Daly, J. Schiannemo and S. Block. Super pitching by J. Bredwell and P. Daly. J. Bredwell had a single and triple and D. Bredwell had a triple. Singles by Block and Zachow. On the mound for the Twins were Kouzowkas, Isola and Chamopoulos.

Nuggets 7 - Windy City Athletics 1
 Lee Newlan shut down the highly rated Windy City Athletics, striking out 14 and allowing only 6 hits. The Athletics had only one loss going into this game, but the excellent play of the Nuggets stopped them cold. Our bats were hot! Ken Nehlsen had a triple and a single; Ray Del Fava and Paul Minasian had 2 singles each; Eric Yabush had a triple; Nick Busija had a double; and Lee Newlan, Mort Schufreider and Scott Madsen had a single each.

Nuggets 4 - Badgers 8
 The Nuggets had one of their few scheduled double headers on this Saturday with the Badgers coming over to Notre Dame after we played the Athletics for a 7 inning conference game. Jim Prims started the game, but the Badgers were swinging hot bats of their own and hit the ball hard and in the gaps. Scott Madsen came in relief for 2 innings and held them where they were, but we lost Ken Nehlsen had our only extra base hit, smashing a triple into right center field. Lee Newlan, Paul Minasian, Scott Madsen, Dan McMannus and Severo Pedroza had a single each.

Nuggets 12 - Westchester Knights 6
 The Nuggets traveled to Proviso West to play against the Westchester Knights on Sunday. Jeffery Henry had an opportunity to start for the Nuggets and did a fine job of holding them down and collected his first win of the season. Scott Madsen finished the last one and two thirds innings and closed the door on them. Scott Madsen had himself a day, not only pitching, but his bat was on fire! He had two triples, one of which came inches close to being a grand slam home run, and a single, collecting 4 RBI's. Paul Minasian was also swinging a hot bat, hitting a triple, a double and a single and collecting 4 RBI's. Angelo Christopher had a double; Nick Busija had a single and 2 RBI's; Eric Yabush had a single and a RBI; Ken Nehlsen and Mort Schufreider had singles; Dan Mc Mannus had a RBI; Severo Pedroza walked and scored; and Lee Newlan got hit by a pitch and scored the first run of the game. Everyone contributed to this win!

Red Sox 18 - Yankees 0
 Outstanding pitching from Beyer, McFeggan & Frangos led by Kellogg with two triples for the Red Sox.

Red Sox 6 - Phillies 1
 Excellent pitching from Beyer, Frangos, & McFeggan. McFeggan hit 2 doubles.

Holy Family Therapy Department

Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines had added a new dimension to patient care, with the recent addition of an Occupational Therapy Department, working in full cooperation with the Physical Therapy Department.

Occupational therapists help patients gain the basic skills necessary for daily self-care activities, along with the physical rehabilitation necessary to perform these activities.

"Occupational Therapy means functional therapy," commented Maureen Galanis, Registered Occupational Therapist. "We teach patients how to get dressed, how to feed themselves, and how to get around in the kitchen, bathroom and bedroom. We can also help them regain job skills which may have been affected by their illness."

"We work with patients who have had strokes; or who suffer from diseases such as Parkinson's, arthritis, multiple sclerosis or organic brain syndrome; patients recovering from a fractured arm or hip; and those who are generally debilitated due to a previous hospitalization or the aging process," Galanis said.

"Our goal is to allow a patient as much mobility and independence as possible," she added. "It's important that patients be prepared for what they'll encounter at home. Sometimes we have to teach people different ways of doing things, or show them how to use special equipment."

"In some cases," she continued, "multiple medical problems will place patients in a state where they have trouble getting up and about. Basically what we try to do is free people from a lengthy, time-consuming process of having to care for themselves, so they can spend their time with other things - such as hobbies, work or just socializing."

For more information on the services the Occupational Therapy Department can provide contact RoseMarie Gloeckner, Director of Physical Therapy at Holy Family Hospital, at 297-1800, ext. 1913.

Des Plaines Park Festival receives business backing

This spring the fancy of Des Plaines businessmen and women has turned to summer and the support of the "Park Festival" scheduled June 30 and July 1 at Lake Opeka in Des Plaines.

"Several local businesses have been generous in their offers of financial support for this summer festival, the first we've sponsored on the lake grounds at Touhy ave. and Lee st.," said Marilyn McDermid, vice president and executive director of the Des Plaines Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

One Lake Park festival supporter, Des Plaines National Bank, 678 Lee st., has agreed to sponsor a lumberjack show scheduled for both the Saturday and Sunday dates of the festival.

The First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie avcs., is underwriting one day's performance by the Kwahomot Water-ski Show. The Holiday Inn, at Mannheim and Touhy avcs. in Des Plaines, will provide accommodations for show performers who will require overnight lodging.

Other area businesses have offered financial backing for additional performances and entertainments scheduled for the two-day noon to dusk outdoor festival.

Among the participants to date are Lawson Products, 1666 E. Touhy ave.; Cahner's Publishing, 1350 E. Touhy ave.; Central Telephone Company of Illinois, 2004 Miner st.; Bantam Books, 414 E. Golf rd.; Borg-Warner Corp., 1200 S. Wolf rd.; DeSoto, Inc., 1700 S. Mt. Prospect rd.; and Pepsi-Cola General Bottlers, Inc., 4330 S. Union in Chicago.

The "Park Festival" also will feature local restaurants offering a "Taste of Des Plaines," a carnival with rides for children and adults, and band shell performances.

Inquiries about the "Park Festival," including "Taste of Des Plaines" may be directed to Marilyn McDermid at the Chamber office, 800 Lee st., 824-4200.

Richard E. Zenner

Pvt. Richard E. Zenner, son of Blanche A. and Michael P. Zenner of 8638 School st., Morton Grove, has completed one station unit training (DSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

He is a 1983 graduate of Niles West High School, Skokie.

Park Ridge artist at Felician Art Fair

Estelle Fedelle is a Park Ridge painter with international scope and reputation. Her list of activities, honors and mentions in biographical publications is as long as your arm.

To look at her record of accomplishments, you're tempted to think of her in awe as one of the grande dames of the arts. But she wouldn't like that. She's as human and easy to talk to as your nicest neighbor. Yet, she leaves no doubt that she has earned the reputation of "an artists' artist."

Fedelle does not exhibit in many art fairs, but she will be at Felician College's 12th Annual Arts and Crafts Festival, Sunday, July 8. She was an award winner there last year. The Festival is held on the campus at 3800 W. Peterson ave., Chicago, from noon to 7 p.m.

Art has been the center of Estelle Fedelle's life as long as she can remember. "I grew up drawing and painting," she says, "encouraged by my father. A professional wood finisher, he showed me what he knew about mixing and matching colors. When I was 11, he made a little box for my paints and brushes."

She works in all drawing and painting media—pencil, charcoal, pastel, oils, watercolors, and acrylics—and is perhaps best known for the portraits in various media that she does on commission. But she also does landscape and still-life work, impressionistic styles, and sketches. She does not do printmaking. All her works are originals.

She is the author of a popular book, "How to Begin Painting for Fun," with half a million copies sold, and she writes a weekly column for a Chicago area community and suburban newspaper group (Leader Newspapers). As a teaching artist, her mastery of drawing and painting techniques in the various media is such that other art teachers attended her classes.

Fedelle has one of her two studios in the historic house in Park Ridge she shares with beloved cats. The 109-year-old house is an imposing white structure on a corner. It served as a church rectory and chapel before the present Mary Seat of Wisdom Church in Park Ridge was constructed, and was built by a retired sea captain named Benjamin Perkins on land he purchased at the end of the Civil War.

Imperial Drum and Bugle seeks alumni

The Imperial Drum and Bugle Corps, formerly of Norwood Park, is looking for alumni. Our President, Doris Ruchalski, wishes to extend an invitation to all former marching members to a reunion to be held at a future date. Quoted Doris: "The Norwood Park Imperials have been around since 1926. We figure there are at least 1000 ex-marching members in and around the Chicago area who we would like to bring together."

We need some of you old time Norwood Park members to help us compile a historical file on the Corps. Please send your name, address and phone number to Doris Ruchalski, Imperial Drum and Bugle Corps, P.O. Box 2593, Des Plaines (60010).

Paper revival at the Mindscape collection

Invented over 2,000 years ago in China, papermaking is one of man's most useful accomplishments. And while the process has changed little since then, paper is used now in ways that the Emperor never dreamed of. Today, it's one of the country's most popular and adaptable art forms—as The Mindscape Collection, 300 W. Superior, Chicago, will demonstrate during a special exhibition entitled "Paper Revival." The show, which is scheduled from July 6 thru August 18, will feature sculptures and wall pieces by six contemporary American paper artists.

Hours at The Mindscape Collection are Tuesday-Saturday 11:45-3:00 and by appointment. For further information about the "Paper Revival" show, phone 664-2660.

Jewish theater subject of discussion group

Jewish "Stages": Then and Now, a lively look at Jewish theater and its impact on Jewish life, will be explored in a six-session lecture-discussion series opening at 8 p.m. on July 10 at the Bernard Horwich Jewish Community Center. The series will be conducted by Stuart Hecht, Ph.D., currently Wisdom Bridge Theater's resident dramatist. Dr. Hecht's teaching affiliations include Loyola, Brandeis and Northwestern universities. For complete information on this Tuesday evening series, contact Minna Davis, 761-9100.

Schoolage film program

School age children in the library district are invited to view a selection of films at the Niles Branch Library, 8320 Ballard rd. Films are scheduled for various dates in July and early August and will begin at 2 p.m. Film titles include Robin Hood, Jr., The Mark of Zorro, and Robinson Crusoe on Mars. All films are free of charge. Each session will run 60-90 minutes. For a complete schedule, visit the Children's Services Department at the Branch Library, the Main Library at 6960 Oakton st., or the Bookmobile.

"West Side Story" tickets on sale

Tickets for Theatre 219's "West Side Story" are now available weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the box office at Niles West High School, Oakton at Edens, Skokie. Seating is reserved at $6 and $5, with senior citizens, 60 years or older, paying $1 less. Tickets can also be purchased by mail by sending requests together with payment to the address above. Group rates are available.

Forty community residents, ranging from high school students to adults, will pool their talents to bring the poignant musical, "West Side Story" to this community at 8:15 p.m. July 20, 21, 27, and 28, and at 1:15 p.m. July 22. ## Cattleman's menu offers something to please everyone

Cattleman's Restaurant has become an area landmark over the past ten years. Since 1973, Cattleman's has been famous for its pork BBQ ribs: Wednesday, Rib night and rib-eating contests are media events. People bring the family in for the specials and are doubly delighted with the atmosphere. Over the years, remodeling has been done and expansion has taken place, but the service, the good food (fantastic Texas style pork back ribs!) and the atmosphere have never changed.

The decor is rustic and old-fashioned: burnished wood, antiques and memorabilia, old movie posters abound. Families welcome the many diversions for the young people: fresh popcorn at the table, a video arcade, old movies, current sports features, and clowns who both fascinate and entertain every Friday, Saturday, and Sunday night.

Owners Tony Bellino and Gus Sotiras know that it is their personal attention that places Cattleman's far above the ordinary chain restaurants. They are always on hand to see that patrons receive courteous and efficient service and very often stop at the table just to be sure every detail is taken care of.

Cattleman's menu is multi-paged, multi-pleasing and quite entertaining. From the appetizer to desserts and special cocktails, Cattleman's touch is people-pleasing. Begin your meal with garlic bread, breaded mushrooms or the nacho platter. Everything, including the nacho chips, is made from scratch.

Lunch and dinner can be complemented deliciously with the salad buffet-All You Can Eat. Entrees may be burgers, fish and seafood, steaks and chops, Italian dishes, pizzas and daily specials. Specials range from steaks and shrimp and deep-fried chicken to those famous ribs, prime rib of beef, and a fish fry.

Sunday brunch is served from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. each week. Buffet style, the brunch offers hot and cold dishes, fruits and vegetables, fresh pastries, and always the chef's special menu feature.

Desserts are comprised of Baskin-Robbins ice cream pies, Eli's cheesecake-made famous at Chicago Fest, and sundaes.

Three banquet rooms are available for your wedding receptions, bowling banquets, shower, and parties of all kinds. Catering packages can include even the wedding cake.

Cattleman's offers non-smoking sections, and 10% discount for the senior citizens weekdays from 3-5 p.m. Hours are from 11:30 a.m. till 12 a.m. daily, Sunday 10 a.m. till 12 a.m. Call 428-6035 for reservations.

Arts & Crafts Show

Artistic adventures in canvas, clay and metal await visitors to the Annual Oak Park Avenue Lake Arts & Crafts Show to be presented by American Society of Artists, a national membership organization, on Friday, June 29 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Saturday, June 30 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Oak Park Ave. and Lake St., Oak Park.

Among the exhibitors will be Joy Gutman, Skokie, exhibiting extension pictures and James Kitchen, Skokie, lapidary. Additional information may be obtained from A.S.A. at 991-4748 or 751-2500.

Travel slide lecture

Seasoned traveler Joan Fortner will discuss her trips to South America, Europe and Russia in a slide lecture Monday, July 2 at 10:30 a.m. in the Skokie Public Library, 5215 Oakton. This talk is part of the Library's ongoing Early Edition Lecture Series. Admission is free.

Sharing her experiences and photographic talents, Fortner will talk about her travels from 1978 to 1983.

Legion urges ticket sales for carnival Turn of the century exhibit at Skokie library

Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 commander Richard Kapelanski has issued a letter to each home in the village apprising them of the 6 day Krazy Daze Carnival which will once again be held on Post grounds, 6140 Dempster, this year June 29, 30 and July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Kapelanski this week apologized to the immediate neighbors of the Post Home, saying the carnival will not be open late at night to disturb their sleep. He is sorry this is the only outlet the Legion had to have as a location. The carnival is expected to close especially early the nights before working days for villagers. In addition, there are no exceptionally noise-scheduled rides of a spectacular high variety coming into the event.

There will be 15 rides, however and some for the youngest children as well as the older folk. Kapelanski's letter, delivered to each homeowner in town, asked support of the carnival and the prizes to be awarded the last night, July 4th. $3 worth of tickets were enclosed with each letter. In addition to the villagers having the opportunity to win the large cash awards previously outlined, a special drawing each night of a $50 savings bond will be made for these special tickets. Winners need not be present to win any of the prizes any night. The savings bonds are through the courtesy of the First National Bank of Morton Grove.

Cmdr. Kapelanski has appointed Frank Mayer, the post junior vice cmdr. to the chairmanship of this prize segment. Mayer says the tickets may be sent back to the Post in the self-addressed envelope which was included with the letter, or brought to the ticket booth with the special coupon contained in the letter throughout the carnival, but preferably at the beginning to allow a better chance of winning.

Arts and crafts show scheduled

The Mt. Prospect Lions Club will be having their 2nd Annual Art and Craft Show this year in conjunction with their 4th of July Village Fair.

The show will be Saturday, June 30 from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It will be held in Melas Park, located 1/2 block east of Busse rd. on Central rd. in Mt. Prospect. There will be 40 crafters signed up to exhibit in a tent 120 ft. by 42 ft., so the show will go on no matter what the weather. There will also be a large variety of crafts, including wooden toys, Teddy Bears, lamps, music boxes, and needle craft.

DePaul Library used book sale

The DePaul University Library will hold its eighth annual used book sale Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22, in McGaw Hall, 802 W. Belden ave., on the Lincoln Park campus. Sponsored by the DePaul Woman's Board, proceeds of the sale will benefit the acquisition of new books and conservation of existing collections of the DePaul Library.

Among hard and soft cover categories that will be on sale: Contemporary fiction, non-fiction, classics, history, biography, travel, art and music, foreign language and plays and poetry.

The book sale once again is being held in conjunction with the Sheffield Neighbors Association Garden Walk, and all purchases are tax deductible. Hours both days are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. For additional information, telephone DePaul's Lincoln Park campus Library at 341-9073.

Dudycz seeks halt to high hospital costs

Republican senatorial candidate Walter Dudycz has called on his opponent to explain his vote against a bill to halt rapidly escalating hospital costs.

The Senate last Thursday defeated legislation that would have put a limit on the amount hospitals can increase their costs each year.

"I was in Springfield last Thursday when my opponent, Sen. Robert Egan, voted against this very important bill that would help bring hospital costs under control," Dudycz said. "Not only did Mr. Egan turn his back on the people of the 7th District, he led the charge to give hospitals unlimited authority to increase the prices of their services."

Dudycz said "I think Sen. Egan owes all of us an explanation. Could his vote have been influenced by the fact he serves on the board of directors of Resurrection Hospital? We would like to know."

According to Dudycz, a group of Senators had been working for months on the proposal to put a ceiling on the amount hospitals can increase their costs.

"Isn't it ironic that one of Sen. Egan's colleagues, Sen. Howard Carroll who represents the legislative district just to the east of us, was a co-sponsor of the cost containment measure?" Dudycz continued. "Sen. Carroll believes his constituents are concerned about the exorbitant cost of hospital care, but our senator isn't. I don't understand," the GOP senate candidate said.

The legislation would have placed a limit on increases in hospital costs in a given year to a figure one percent below the national inflation rate.

"Senator Egan must explain to

his constituents, how on one hand he voted for no limits on hospital increases (S.B. 0495), and on the same day, he voted to increase his own expense account more than double, from $17,000 to $37,000 annually (S.B. 1743)."

Dudycz, a Chicago Police Detective, opposes the incumbent senator in the November general election.

Augustana dean's list

The following local students have been named to the Dean's Honor List for the spring quarter at Augustana College, Rock Island. They are: Sheila K. Fleming, Niles; John T. Blix, Robyn A. Flake and Timothy W. Johnson, Skokie.

Pledges at WIU

Thirteen Western Illinois University coeds have been selected as pledges for the WIU chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. Local pledges included Michelle Raffolo, 8246 Monroe, Niles.

Amirante speaks to students

Sam L. Amirante, the Democratic Candidate for the Illinois Senate from the 28th Legislative District, recently spoke to Government students at Maine Township High School South in Park Ridge in celebration of Law Day, which is traditionally held on May 1 throughout the United States.

Amirante, who lives in Park Ridge addressed the controversial issue of prayer in public schools, discussing with the students the Constitutional ramifications of the school/prayer issue if it were to be enacted into law by the state of Illinois.

Amirante said he welcomed the chance to meet with the young people of Maine Township. "In talking with these students," he said, "I enjoy the opportunity to discuss some legal issues and find them to be bright and inquisitive. These students were interested in the school/prayer issue and since it's something that would touch them directly if it were enacted into law, it was an appropriate topic of discussion."

The 28th Legislative District includes portions of Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Skokie, Glenview, Morton Grove and Niles. Amirante is challenging Republican incumbent Robert Kustra in the November election.

James J. Gilson

Navy Seaman James J. Gilson, son of John L. and Lorraine K. Gilson of 5806 Main St., Morton Grove, recently returned from a five-month deployment to the Indian Ocean and North Arabian Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway, operating from Yokosuka, Japan.

Tucker opposes gang violence

Mannie Tucker, Republican candidate for State Representative from the 56th district, today charged incumbent Aaron Jaff (D-56) with being "out of touch with the people of his district" in his vote against a bill designed to check the growing influence of youth gangs in the schools. The bill, which passed the house with broad bipartisan support despite the objections of Jaff, requires school principals to report knowledge of threats or coercion by known gang members to local law enforcement agencies.

"Evanston and Des Plaines are experiencing gang problems right now," explained Tucker. "These communities are advertising to the 56th district. Responsible representation demands that a legislator be in touch with problems that could affect his district."

Tucker, 53, whose four children have attended public school in Skokie, has long been active in the PTA and other community service organizations.

Egan legislation to cap increase on license plate fees

Legislation to cap the annual vehicle license plate increase at $36 for both large and small cars was introduced by State Senator Robert J. Egan (D-7) during the April session. Egan, who originally fought against and ultimately voted no on the gas hike legislation passed in the 1983 spring session, argued that the vehicle registration increases put too great a financial burden on seniors and disabled car owners.

"Present legislation calls for license plates to rise from $36 in 1984 to $48 by 1986. This represents a 166 percent increase for 4-6 cylinder vehicles and a 100 percent increase for 8 cylinder cars," Egan said. "These proposed increases are too dramatic for our people and particularly our senior citizens on fixed incomes."

Egan explained, "My legislation will cap that increase at $36 and also offer to seniors earning $12,000 a year or less a 50% reduction on their license plates.

Representative Jaffe opposed the bill on grounds that it violated gang members' freedom of speech. "This makes no sense to me," said Tucker. "Intimidation is a felony in Illinois. It includes verbal threats, and does not violate constitutional guarantees of free speech."

"Teachers' unions have had a great deal of support by Rep. Jaffe, but apparently he thinks that teachers care only about compensation and union pressure," said Tucker, "but our teachers are concerned with providing our children an effective education. They know students need a proper learning environment. Gangs have no place in our schools."

Tucker, 53, whose four children have attended public school in Skokie, has long been active in the PTA and other community service organizations.

In dollars and cents my legislation will allow seniors who are 65 years old prior to vehicle registration and who earn $12,000 or less to pay the same $15 for their license plates as they did in 1983."

Egan added that this legislation will not mean a revenue loss for the state.

"The gas tax will rise from 7 1/2 to 13 cents a gallon," he said. "Truck vehicle registration fees will be increased by 20 percent. These added revenues of approximately $400 million by fiscal year 1986 are earmarked for road and highway improvements. Increasing license plate fees on normal passenger cars is not necessary."

Egan also indicated that he felt support for his legislation would be forthcoming.

Pullen, Kustra against payhikes

State Representative Penny Pullen and State Senator Bob Kustra have announced that they will vote against the legislative pay raise bill which passed out of Senate Executive Committee in Springfield.

Under the pay raise plan, legislators' $28,000 annual salaries would increase by 36% to $38,000 over four years.

The bill, sponsored by Senator Kenneth Hall (D-East St. Louis), was sent to the Senate floor on a 7-5 vote. "It is ironic that the Democrats behind this bill are also those legislators who are double dippers, collecting a second salary from the city of Chicago, Cook County, Metropolitan Sanitary District or other local governments. Those are the last people who need this pay raise," commented Kustra.

The two local legislators pointed to the tight budget situation facing the state this year. As Kustra puts it, "The education budget was hardly raised at all this year, so we should hardly be able to afford a 36% pay raise." Rep. Pullen added, "The majority Democrats should vote true solutions for the economic suffering they have inflicted on our citizens, not vote to further insulate themselves from the mess they have caused."

'Personal Growth and Self-Awareness' is National College course

North Shore residents can learn more about themselves and others in "Personal Growth and Self-Awareness," a course offered July 9-26 at National College of Education's Evanston campus, 2840 Sheridan Rd. Classes take place Monday through Thursday from 5:30-9:30 p.m.

The course, which may be taken for four quarter hours of undergraduate credit or three semester hours of graduate credit, explores such areas as personality, spirituality and religion. The course is aimed at students and professionals in human services, education and business, as well as at people interested in maximizing human potential.

Dennis B. Cogan, department chairman of Georgia State University's mental health department, will teach the course. Cogan also serves on the faculty of the university's College of Business Administration, where his specialty is productivity. He is editor of The Journal of the National Organization of Human Service Educators and president of the Southern Organization of Human Service Educators.

The course is offered through National College's human services department, which prepares graduates for counseling careers in the social services. The college, founded in 1886, has campuses in Evanston, Chicago and Lombard. For further information, call 256-5150, ext. 229 or 242.

OCC Student Leadership awards

The Board of Trustees of Oakton Community College recently presented five $100 grant-in-aid Student Leadership Awards for outstanding contributions to the College by student leaders in extra and co-curricular activities.

Student award winners were selected based on the quality and quantity of leadership activity. Each recipient must be in good academic standing. Chuck Weidenbach has been involved in every major intramural activity since he began attending Oakton. He has organized several new teams and has been a major catalyst when team cooperation and participation have been required, according to Bob Lawler, OCC director of student activities. "Bob Phillips contributed greatly to the success of the OCC wrestling team. He set an example both on the wrestling mat and in the classroom," Lawler said.

achieving all-conference honors with a 20-4 record in wrestling and maintaining a 3.7 grade point average. Cathlene Rudek has served for three years as secretary to the "Adults Returning to College" organization (now re-named "ASK"—Adults Seeking Knowledge). "She is an extremely efficient person who not only sets goals, but accomplishes them too," said Lawler.

Peter Weber has served for the past five months as President of the OCC Board of Student Affairs. "Many people at the College attribute the recent success of the BSA in large measure to his leadership," Lawler remarked. Clapper took over as editor of OCCurrence, OCC's student newspaper, when the initial editor resigned, and, according to Lawler, overcame the abrupt transition and provided superb leadership and direction to the staff.

Kendall College expands business programs

Dr. Albert L. Furbay, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Kendall College, has announced the expansion of the Division of Business Administration to encompass career development programs for the corporate market. This major commitment, designed to help companies meet their objectives of human resource development, will be initiated September 10, with special programs in Computer Information Systems and Accounting.

Both programs are designed to meet the needs of working professionals and college students who want to upgrade their existing skills and prepare for career advancement or acquire new skills and prepare for career redirection.

Taught by experienced professionals, courses in both programs carry full academic credit. Credits may be applied to a Kendall degree or transferred to any other accredited academic program. In addition, the Accounting program prepares students for taking the C.P.A. exam, and the Computer Information Systems program follows the curriculum guide of the Data Processing Managers Association. Participants may choose to take individual courses to meet specific needs or complete the entire program and receive a certificate of competency.

Felician offers a variety of two-year programs

For many young - or older - men and women undecided about starting a college education, the small, two-year liberal arts college is an alternative worth considering. Unfortunately, there are few such places around anymore, but the Chicago area has one. It is Felician College, an accredited two-year institution for men and women conducted by a Catholic religious community with long-established credentials for good teaching. Founded and run by the Felician Sisters, the college first held classes in 1953. It is located on spacious, tree-shaded grounds at 3800 W. Peterson ave., in northwest Chicago.

Felician offers a variety of two-year programs leading to the Associate in Arts degree, with credits transferrable toward the Bachelor's degree at four-year colleges or universities. Some 85 percent of Felician College graduates do this, some even going on to postgraduate studies. The college is particularly proud of its record of success with students who come from widely different scholastic backgrounds. Individualized attention to each student according to his or her special needs is the answer. In a warm small-campus environment, the college also tries to make higher education a pleasant social and spiritual experience, as well as an intellectual one. Cindy Ewing, a 1983 Felician honors graduate and student leader, can testify to this. She came to the college after a few years of indecision following high school. Writing in retrospect about her experience, she said there are many like her today who are anxious and unclear about their futures and what to do next. The answer for Ewing turned out to be enrolling at Felician College, which she described as more than a college - "a caring community concerned with the encouragement and development of each student individually." "Felician," she said, "did not grant me a written guarantee along with the diploma stating that life would now be 'peachy,' but it did instill within me a new outlook - one of optimism for a better tomorrow - and that's something we could all use."

Community-sponsored two-year colleges are relatively large, impersonal institutions with emphasis more on vocationally specialized programs. Felician, on the other hand, is a private but affordable school with some career-oriented programs and greater emphasis on the liberal arts and preparation for advanced college studies. Daytime and evening class schedules are offered. Evening programs include both adult special interest classes and full-credit courses applicable to degree requirements. The 1984 fall semester curriculum lists courses in such subjects as computer science, English composition, introduction to earth science, comparative world literature, algebra, U.S. and European history, sociology, art, accounting, psychology, speech, tennis, and world religions, among many others. Felician is open to qualified men and women of all faiths, backgrounds and ages. Financial aid and scholarships are available. For further information, write to the Registrar, Felician College, 3800 W. Peterson ave., Chicago, IL 60659 or call 539-1919.

Kindergarten graduation at St. John Lutheran

On Sunday, June 3, the Kindergarten students of St. John Lutheran School, (Missouri Synod) of Niles were promoted to the first grade. Students donned their caps and gowns for the graduation ceremony which was held during the second service (10:30 a.m.). The theme was, "Let Your Light So Shine." A special banner created in honor of the Kindergarten Graduation was carried in a procession prior to the Worship Service. Mrs. Gail Smith, Pre-School and Kindergarten teacher, presented diplomas to Kevin Robert Izard, Alexander Brian Murray, Derrick Bing Kuan and Richard Edmund Radecki. Each graduate spoke about how they show that they are Christians at home, at school and at church. The Pre-School and Kindergarten choir combined their voices singing, "This Little Light of Mine", "One Little Candle", "Pass It On", and "The Benediction which they sang at the closing of the service and at the end of their school day. St. John Lutheran Day School is located at 7429 N. Milwaukee ave. (near Harlem) in Niles. There are currently openings in all grade levels, Pre-School through eighth. A final Registration Day will be held on August 23 from 2-5 and 7-9 p.m. In its curriculum, St. John stresses the importance of Christian learning and growth on a daily basis.

Mundelein Weekend College A 'Growing' Alternative

Her neat gray sweater was topped with a bow and her short auburn hair framed a petite face. "I've always been very machine-wise," she said softly. "I had to work myself up through the ranks. I'm in management now, but they told me that I probably wouldn't get any more promotions unless I had a college degree."

Patricia Witry is an office automation supervisor and word processor specialist for G.D. Searle and Company in Skokie. She is also part of what Elaine M. Schuster, Vice President for Marketing at Mundelein College, 6363 N. Sheridan rd., Chicago, call an "innovation" in adult education.

In 1974, Mundelein became the Midwest's first college to offer a weekend program. Today, according to Schuster, "more and more women of all ages and family backgrounds seem to be picking up on weekend college because of its convenience. It's a concentrated, but very liberal, way of finishing one's degree."

Witry, 31, agrees. "I had been going on and off to night school for a while," she said, "but I usually work a lot overtime. Between trying to get out of work to get to class on time, worrying about getting my homework done, and worrying about exams during work, I just couldn't face it."

Witry, a sophomore at Mundelein College, is concentrating in business administration. She learned about this weekend program from a friend. "That was on a Saturday," she continued, "and the next week I applied and enrolled. So far, I'm really happy and I'm enjoying my classes. The teachers are always very good about helping students, especially outside of class." Witry has also been on the other side of adult education.

"Because of the work experiences I've had in the past," Witry said, "I can see how they will help me in classes that I still want to take—like marketing. I'm also interested in taking an education course because, while I know how to use the machines, I do have to explain them to other people."

At Searle, Witry is in charge of teaching office automation, specifically the word processor, to employees.

Mundelein provides women with quality education

Mundelein College, Chicago, is a liberal arts institution that has been providing women with quality education for over 50 years.

The College offers undergraduate courses through 23 major areas that include 46 specialties. Graduate-level courses are available in both Religious Studies and Liberal Arts. Mundelein is the only college in Chicago, and one of the few in the Midwest, to offer a program in Asian bilingual education. It is also one of only two colleges in Chicago to have an undergraduate food and nutrition program accredited by the American Dietetic Association.

Mundelein's innovativeness has led to other "firsts." It is the first college in the Midwest to start a Continuing Education Program and a Weekend College, the latter geared to men and women who work full time or have other weekday commitments.

At Mundelein, students gain practical experience in a wide variety of fields, including business administration, education, fashion merchandising, food and nutrition, medical technology, psychology, social science and social welfare, and interior architecture and design. Mundelein has cooperative academic programs with other institutions. Opportunities are available for

Northridge: A preparatory school where "Learning Harvests Results!"

Journalist Susan Glewienke captured a vital aspect of the spirit of Northridge in her summary of the recipe for such results. She observed: "Take challenged students, add concerned parents with caring teachers, mix with boys from different backgrounds, let mature...and the result is Northridge Preparatory School for Boys."

The school was started eight years ago by a group of area parents and professional educators who recognized the need for a school that promises to combine academic excellence with moral and character formation. It sets out to help families prepare their sons to become mature, competent professional men who live by standards of integrity. Every aspect of the school, without exception, is devoted to this aim.

Selecting students through the school and College Abilities Test together with extensive interviewing, it is no wonder that after its fifth graduation, Northridge can point to one out of every six graduates as having received National Merit Recognition! Its students have been accepted at Harvard, Columbia, Yale, Air Force Academy, West Point, Northwestern, University of Chicago, Notre Dame, University of Illinois, etc.

Felician College volunteers recognized

Felician College recently recognized 11 northwest Chicago and suburban women for their volunteer work. Awards and gifts were presented to the volunteers by Sister Mary Bonita Willow, president, and Sister Mary Inez Moch, head librarian, at a coffee and cake party in the college cafeteria during National Volunteer Week.

Three of the women have clocked well over 2,000 hours of volunteer time for the college library. They are: Rose Mary Carter, with 2,786 hours; Helen Lapinski, with 2,436, and Tess Morris, with 2,493. Eleanor Zason has passed the 1,192-hour mark.

Other library volunteers recognized were: Barbara Bullat, Clare Corcoran, Olga Kosach, Anne Kuraszek, and Catherine Ullasz. For their assistance in the Development/Public Relations Office, Cecile Bintz and Katherine Van Oppens were recognized.

All are N.W. Chicago residents, except for Bintz, a resident of Harwood Heights, and Van Oppens, Evanston.

Each student learn how to work." The school starts at the 7th grade and goes the 12th following a classical liberal arts orientation that requires for three years of Spanish, one or two years of Latin, six years each of history, mathematics, and English and for most students five years of science. Since the entire academic program emphasizes reading and writing skills, students have no difficulty scoring significantly higher than the suburban high school average on college admissions tests.

Families sending their sons to Northridge from the beginning feel that the education of their sons is an important investment for the future. They join with the administration of the school in believing in the advantages of starting right in 7th grade. Experience has confirmed these beliefs in several ways. High schoolers set good examples - creating a strong positive peer pressure - especially for boys who have no older brothers to emulate. Parents repeatedly observe that entering 7th grade at Northridge is like entering high school two years ahead of time.

Boys who are active and intelligent benefit incalculably from this experience.

Faculty and parents attribute this success to the high performance level expected. It is not the hours of home study alone that counts but also the careful attention that is given to its correction and revision. In commenting upon the school's approach, designed to teach realistic adult standards of respectability, the headmaster observes: "The problem with most boys in school is that they are board. Mastery of the 'materias' in any course of studies is important. But even more important, we believe is

Top awards for SJB students

At an all-school assembly on May 17, four eighth graders were honored when they received the Citizenship Awards.

The Citizenship awards are based on leadership-qualities, academic progress, and service rendered to others. Sister Rita Green, Principal, conferred the awards.

OCC Building Better Boards series garners praise

The vote is in on the success of the first year of the Oakton Community College Building Better Boards series—and the program garnered near-unanimous praise from participants who took part in programs such as "The Role and Responsibilities of a Non-Profit Board Member."

The program was developed to meet the training needs of the boards of non-profit organizations and included expert speakers for seminars.

Patricia Handzel, director of community services at OCC, reported that 95 percent of the participants indicated in evaluations that the sessions had met their expectations.

Approximately 1,500 students participated in spring commencement ceremonies at Eastern Illinois University on Saturday, May 12. Local graduates included James Jaxon Burson, Morton Grove, Mary Jean Lauders, Morton Grove and Kathleen T. Tanaka, Morton Grove; Philip G. Shemroske, Niles; William P. Finnegan, Park Ridge, Anne Marie Gawaluck, Park Ridge, Gary Ernest Krupa, Park Ridge, Christopher Ruggieri, Park Ridge and Jeffrey C. Wochinski, Park Ridge.

Two hundred thirty-seven students were awarded bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degrees from North Central College on Saturday, June 9, in commencement ceremonies in Merner Fieldhouse.

Local graduates included: William Brian Majewski, 6937 Jonquil terr., Niles and Joel David Kessler, 5313 Jarvis, Skokie.

Following a closed session, salaries of the above three persons were raised more than $200 from those listed on the agenda. Purchase of a $54,000 telephone system for District schools was turned down by board members. According to board president Larry Solomon, "We have several board members including myself who have difficulty with the thought of dishing out $54,000 when it could go into the Educational Fund." Another objection was that proposed Toshiba equipment would not be best in terms of replacement parts or service. Also, a board member said a financial statement from the firm to be installing the system, Tone Communications, should have been supplied. Acknowledging present telephone difficulties, however, board members voted approximately $27,000 in funds to upgrade the District telephone system with purchase of the "horizon" model from A.T. & T.

for the Educational Service Center and about $7,000 to buy telephone equipment now in the schools. At present, equipment is rented. Other contracts were art room sinks and cabinets, Washington school, $3,687; asphalt and concrete work, Educational Service Center, Stevenson and Nelson schools; $12,228. Also, handicapped ramps, Stevenson and Gemini schools; $1,565; sealcoating blacktop, Oak, Washington and Melzer schools and replacing blacktop, Nelson school, $34,640. Other contracts were awarded for electrostatic refinishing of furniture in Gemini, $1,500; exterior painting at Ballard, Melzer, Nelson and Oak schools, $1,430; gymnasium wall rehabilitation, Ballard school, $9,600; and folding doors, Washington and Stevenson schools, $64,811. Three contracts awarded for equipment to be used during the 1984-85 school year were: in-approval for the purchase of Uptown Federal Savings. Deemar purchased Niles Federal Savings from Laurel Krooth of Lincolnwood in 1959. It was then located at 6544 Milwaukee ave. In 1982, a proposed merger between Niles Federal Savings and Uptown Federal Savings was rejected by the Federal Home Loan Bank in Washington D.C. Deemar noted that Harold Ulmer, long-time Niles Federal employee who was recently named president, was appointed by new owner Daley.

showed how Niles operates. Trustee Ang Marcheschi was very concerned with a fence being installed along Oakton St. which would be uniform and "aesthetically pleasing". Not once did Marcheschi or any other trustee of Mayor Blase's "Gang of Five" bring up Adreani had agreed to building on eight lots and having him stick to the agreement he made. Trustee Carol Panek, the lone independent on the board, was the only trustee to question the change and then voted against approving the development. Trustee Abe Selman also opposed the vote, only after a majority favoring Adreani had been voted. Selman said he objected to the machinations concerning the fence. Resident Jean Basham, 7130 Seward, criticized the village's not fulfilling a promise to correct flooding in the area. She said they had promised to do something two years ago. She said the village's word could not be trusted anymore than Adreani's word. Trustees agreed Tuesday night they would extend a storm sewer 300 feet east to Seward Ave. training into Harlem Ave. at a cost of about $8,000. Bob Kahler, village engineer, said the present combined sewer there cannot handle all the runoff from rain water. Ed Habro, 7140 Oakton ct., spokesman for 19 residents who had petitioned for the eight lot development, said the group was looking for lot width consistency with surrounding homes. He said 60 foot lot frontages would be consistent with the neighbors. Trustee Marcheschi concentrated on discussing the fence issue and said a restriction in the deed should assure a proper fence fronting on Oakton St. He abhorred the "honky tonk" fence on Oakton St. west of Milwaukee Ave. in the Michael John Terr. area in Park Ridge and didn't want a similar fence on Oakton St., a major thoroughfare, where the homes backup to. Another builder, Frank Catino, suggested the present fence, a three slat coral-type fence, remain there. By adding bushes he said it would prove satisfactory. However, Marcheschi emphasized he didn't want to inflict on the developer the cost of supplying the fence.

Salaries for 31 custodians were approved at an annual rate between the lowest, $1,473, and highest, $1,793, per month. Dr. Page reported on the summer school program which has an enrollment of 177 students in the academic classes and about 17 students in cheerleading. In other action, textbooks for grades K-8 and 7, 8.

Larry J. Roberts

Larry J. Roberts, son of Herbert M. Roberts of 6801 W. Seward st., Niles, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Central Ave. . .

Residents living on the neighboring streets of Luna, Kirk, Linder, Lotus and Long, opposed any action that would re-direct traffic to their streets, and let the board know in very clear terms, which group would control the greatest number of votes in the next election. Said Dick Dorgan, a spokesman for the group opposing any changes, "...the proposed changes are effecting 881 voters," versus "the 75 living on Central." An additional spokesperson for the group, Ron Fine, warned the board, "...the decision is yours, make it wisely." Herb Rizzo, spokesperson for the Central Ave. residents, asked the board to approve the one resolution accepting jurisdiction of Central from the county, and three ordinances which would make the street one-way, and prohibit right turns off Oakton onto Central, Long, Luna, Linder, and Lotus. The board passed the resolution, by a 6 to 0 vote, with Trustee Joan Dechert noting, "...you are all part of the problem, you must be part of the solution." The ordinance designating Central as a one-way street, however, was unanimously defeated. The remaining ordinances were defeated by a 4 to 2 vote, with Trustees Richard Hobs and Joan Dechert dissenting. The only action the board has planned for Central Ave., is the installation of three-way stop signs at Kirk and Central, after the village assumes jurisdiction of Central from the county at some future date. In other action, an ordinance introduced by Village Attorney Marty Ashman, designed to clarify the definition of fireworks in the village's ban of them, was tabled at the urging of Trustee Joan Dechert. Among her concerns with the unclear wording of the ordinance, was the use of the term "dago bombs." "I am appalled at the use of this ethnic slur," Dechert stated.

Niles Park Patrol Program begins

The Niles Park District has begun the Park Patrol Program for the upcoming season. The program is designed for the purpose of maintaining the safety, law and order within the parks. The Niles Park District requests the cooperation of the community in reporting any vandalism or breaking of ordinances within the parks. If unlawful acts are seen, residents are asked to report them immediately by calling the Niles Police Department number, 847-2131. The Park Patrol will then be notified of the problem. The Park Patrol Program will operate throughout the summer and fall months. Officers will be on duty patrolling parks seven days a week at staggered hours.

July 5 blood drive in Morton Grove

Morton Grove community will host its monthly blood drive on Thursday, July 5, just after the 4th of July holiday when blood supplies will be low. The drive will be held in the Senior Citizen's Center of the Morton Grove Village Hall, 6101 Capulina, from 3:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Walk-in donors are welcome and all donors are needed to have something to eat before arriving to donate. Kathy Mohrdieck, chairperson of the drive, urges all donors to phone the health department at 965-4100 to schedule an appointment.

On dean's list

Independence Day

Independence Day is celebrated on Thursday, July 4, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Morton Grove Senior Citizen's Center, 6101 Capulina, from 3:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Walk-in donors are welcome and all donors are needed to have something to eat before arriving to donate. Kathy Mohrdieck, chairperson of the drive, urges all donors to phone the health department at 965-4100 to schedule an appointment.
