Maine Township to launch senior discount program

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson has announced that the township will launch its new township-wide senior citizen discount program on Sept. 21. More than 50 area businesses have agreed to participate in the program, and it is not too late for others to join, Halverson said. Businesses and professional people who would like to participate by providing discounts on merchandise and services should contact Grayce Duffy or Merle Riverson at the Maine Township Town Hall, 297-2510. Halverson said applications for the discount cards will be distributed during a special program at 1 p.m. Friday, Sept. 21, featuring a guest lecture and discussion on the use of coupons and rebates to boost purchasing power. Persons of all ages may attend the program at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge. Refreshments will be served and the township also will hold a giant coupon exchange. Halverson said, "Some of the participating businesses already

New policy on usage of park facilities

The Niles Park District Board of Commissioners recently adopted a new policy with regard to facility usage. Community groups using a Park District facility are now required to put down a $50 deposit which will cover building usage for the year. The deposit is refundable at the end of the year provided the group does not incur any damages to Park District property. Any group or individual requesting to borrow Park District equipment must submit a letter of intent to the Board at least one month prior to the needed date. A deposit will be required for the borrowing of equipment. Each request will be reviewed on an individual basis. For additional information on the new policy, call the Park District at 967-6633.

Expect decline to continue as high school grads drop-off

Decline in enrollment at Oakton

Unofficial enrollment figures at Oakton College for the 1984-85 year indicates a 3% falling off of attendance from last year. The 1983 total enrollment for the Skokie and Des Plaines campuses was 9,113 while the unofficial total this year is 8,855. Director of Admissions, John Gaglin, told The Bugle he hasn't heard of one Illinois community college which hasn't had a lower enrollment this year. He believed most enrollments are off about 10%.

"When the economy gets better, enrollment goes down," according to Gaglin. He said when times aren't good, more students then enroll in the community colleges. Gaglin also pointed to the drop-off of graduating high school students during this decade. He said he expects high schools in the Oakton College district will graduate about 50% less by the end of the decade as compared to the late seventies. Continued on Page 39

by Bud Besser
The sound and fury surrounding the Niles Beautification Contest was not an unusual experience in the life of The Bugle. Long ago it found out you have to be careful when you hit a guy close to his home.

In our early years we once took off after the local garden club. In the late fifties there was only one Niles park recreation building located in Grennan Heights park. The garden clubbers wanted to hold their meetings there and in so doing, oust the teens from a recreation activity at the building.

In writing about the ladies with the green thumbs, we referred to them as a bunch of "koffee Klatschers." The description seemed somewhat non-descript, almost an innocuous phrase. But the ladies thought otherwise and showered the Bugle with "Hey, you're a cur" letters to the editor. To emphasize their wrath, the president of the group met us on Waukegan Road one afternoon and told us her fellow-members intended to boycott anyone who advertised in The Bugle. It was silly time and the ladies eventually calmed down, continued drinking their coffee and solved the problem of where to hold their meetings.

Niles Sales Tax Revenue

Niles Village Clerk, Frank C. Wagner, Jr. and Village Trustee, Carol Panek display a copy of the village's latest monthly check from the State of Illinois Sales Tax Department.

"The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence." That old cliché is not true when it comes to shopping. Why use your gas and time to shop out of Niles when you have every type of store you could possibly want or need somewhere in our community? "Our shopping centers are attractive, parking is good and they are constantly being improved upon. You can even hop aboard one of our free Courtesy Buses and leave the driving to us," stated Trustee Carol Panek.

Were you aware that while you're making it easier for your self, you can be helping Niles? The Village of Niles anticipates a total gross sales of a half billion dollars during the 1985 fiscal year. This will mean Niles will receive $5,000,000.00 from the State of Illinois Sales Tax Department. This sounds very impressive but we must do more if we are to continue all our excellent services in the community.

Clerk Frank C. Wagner, Jr., commented, "For every dollar you spend in Niles the village will receive one percent of the total sale. Our goal for the people of our village is to continue providing better services for our residents. To retain good business in our town or increase the volume of service offered, we must patronize the businesses in our own town." Remember, Niles business people can help you and you can now help them and our village.

QUALITY SHOWS

Discriminating people look for fine quality in everything they buy, whether it be a practical item or a luxury. The superior beauty of a fine quality diamond is obvious to the guided observer.

Diamond quality is judged by the 4Cs: cutting, color, clarity and carat weight.

When a diamond is well cut, it takes the greatest advantage of light, dispersing some into the rainbow we know as "fire" and reflecting the rest in a brilliant display.

The finest color for the average diamond is no color at all. The occasional diamond with a strong body color such as pink or blue is judged by totally different criteria.

Clarity is a diamond's freedom from inclusions and surface marks. A few light inclusions do not impair diamond beauty and serve as marks of authenticity.

Carat weight affects the per carat price of a diamond less than any other quality factor. The general rule is the larger the diamond, the higher the per carat price, because larger diamonds are more rare than smaller ones.

Seeing is believing. Our policy at Rand Jewelers is to let our customers see the difference quality makes for themselves. We're American Gem Society jewelers. This means our honesty, integrity and gemological proficiency meet strict AGS standards. We're diamond experts, and we're proud of it.

Eight Oakton Community College faculty members recently received Teaching Effectiveness Awards, honoring them for especially outstanding and/or effective teaching during the 1983-84 school year.

Recipients of Teaching Effectiveness Awards were Patrick Casali, professor of humanities and foreign language; Nancy Lawler, professor of economics; Adele Legere, professor of mathematics; Florence Munuz, associate professor of early childhood development; James O'Shea, associate professor of law enforcement; Leona Roen, associate professor of data processing; Laura Saret, assistant professor of data processing; and Glenna Sprague, assistant professor of music.

The teachers were chosen from several nominations presented to a promotions committee of five OCC faculty members, along with Pam Drell, acting dean of OCC's learning cluster II, who oversees the promotions committee. The committee made the final choices.

"This is a good way to give deserved recognition to those teachers who really have excelled in the classroom," Ms. Drell said.

A portfolio was established by the promotions committee for each teacher who was nominated or applied for the award. It included items such as student, dean and self-evaluations, and student qualifying exams and scores (from state or national tests), indicating student mastery of the subject matter taught by the specific teacher.

The promotions committee reviewed all of the completed portfolios and made its selections using a rating system. This is the fourth year Teaching Effectiveness Awards have been presented.

Brzeczek to address Northwest Press Club

"Crime in the Suburbs" will be the topic when Richard J. Brzeczek, Republican candidate for Cook County State's Attorney, addresses the next meeting of the Northwest Press Club on Friday, Sept. 7.

The luncheon meeting, which is open to all interested persons, will be held at the Fireside Inn, 9101 Waukegan rd. in Morton Grove. The luncheon and meeting will begin at 11:45 a.m. and conclude at 2 p.m.

The former superintendent of the Chicago Police Department has directed much of his campaign's attention to the problem of increased crime, the proliferation of narcotics trafficking and the spread of gangs to Chicago's suburbs.

"People moved to the suburbs in anticipation of a safer life for themselves and their children," Brzeczek said. "With Richie Daley (incumbent Democratic Cook County State's Attorney) in office, that dream of safety in the suburbs is deteriorating rapidly. Crime, narcotics and gangs are spreading. Are we going to stand by and do nothing until we become known as the number one crime county in the nation?"

A 41-year-old Chicago native, Brzeczek is a partner in the law firm of Levy and Erens which represents commercial, corporate and banking clients. Brzeczek received his Bachelor of Science degree from Loyola University in 1965, his master's in Public Administration from the Illinois Institute of Technology in 1968 and his Juris Doctor from John Marshall Law School in 1972.

Prior to joining Levy and Erens, Brzeczek was a member of the Chicago Police Department for almost 19 years. In 1980, at age 37, he was appointed Superintendent of the Chicago Police Department. Brzeczek was the youngest superintendent in the department's history.

Reservations for the Sept. 7 meeting can be made by phoning Dennis Frantsve at 583-5090 during business hours. The cost of the luncheon is $6.50 for Northwest Press Club members and $7.50 for non-members.

The Northwest Press Club, founded in 1975, serves communications professionals in Chicago's north and northwest suburban communities. More than 150 newspaper and broadcast reporters, editors and producers, as well as freelance writers and public relations professionals are members of the organization.

Center of Concern offers legal counseling for seniors

For most of our senior citizen friends, seeking out sound professional legal advice can be an alarming and intimidating experience.

Recognizing this, the Park Ridge Center of Concern offers a legal counseling program for senior citizens that provides needed advice and reassurance by highly professional legal counsel. The program does not provide for the handling of specific cases, but rather assistance in the processing of claims through small claims court, as well as direction on how to secure adequate legal counsel for representation through the courts.

Appointments are available on Saturday mornings by contacting the Center of Concern at 823-0453, or by stopping in their office at 1580 N. Northwest Hwy., Suite 4, Park Ridge. The Center of Concern is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the goal of enriching the quality of life for our senior citizens and handicapped.

Harlem Irving Plaza hosts its 2nd annual Senior Citizen Craft Show Friday thru Sunday, Sept. 7-9. Show hours are from 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. Friday, 9:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, and 11 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Sunday at the center which is located at Harlem ave., Irving Park and Forest Preserve dr.

The show coincides with the national holiday, Grandparent's Day, Sunday, Sept. 9, and is a tribute to the community's senior citizens.

Exhibitors of the fair are members of the Graying Generations Organization. It is exclusive to seniors and allows them the opportunity to display and sell their craft items during Art & Craft Shows in Chicago area shopping malls and centers. Their shows offer a myriad of art & craft items including ceramics, rug-weaving, driftwood sculpture and lamps, plant hangings, rag dolls, quilts, crocheted & knitted items, and redwood clocks and tables.

Ted Kessler, coordinator and founder of the Graying Generation, opened his first show in 1977. Only seven years later, the organization has an incredible membership of nearly 1,700. Exhibitors come from all over the United States to participate in the shows. With the help and support of his wife, Marilyn, Kessler runs between 35 and 40 shows a year. "My shows provide senior citizens with places to display their work, and incentive for creating them, and an opportunity to supplement their incomes thru the sales of their creations", commented Kessler.

Kessler, a 73-year-old senior citizen, is wheel-chair bound with vision impairment. He exemplifies the motto he created for the group, "For Dignity & Self Reliance!" Because he is such an inspiration to his fellow citizens and to the city of Chicago, Kessler will be honored September 6 with an award of merit presented by Mayor Washington and the Chicago City Council. Kessler will be acknowledged for his tireless efforts and achievement in creating and successfully managing the Graying Generations Craft Shows.

Serving Up Food & Fitness
by Mark Krajecki & Cheri Wilcox

Cutting down on salt consumption at first might sound a little difficult and even distasteful to those of us who are so accustomed to highly salting our foods. It's a taste we could say we acquired from birth. We not only like to salt our foods heavily, but we are accustomed to packaged and processed foods that have salt added to them.

Salt, or more correctly sodium, is important to the body. Salt is 40 percent sodium. However, too much salt in the diet has been linked with hypertension, or high blood pressure. High blood pressure, in turn, can result in heart or kidney disease or even a stroke. Many people concerned about the link between sodium and high blood pressure have learned to cut down on the salt they use in cooking and the salt they shake on their food at the dinner table.

Many have reported after a while, they just don't miss the salt flavor. Cut back on the use of salt gradually and this will give your taste buds time to adjust.

Food manufacturers have begun offering a wide variety of low-sodium products to consumers. Today, supermarkets and grocery stores carry a variety of low-sodium items including canned goods, snacks, beverages, cereals, condiments, pasta, and dairy products.

Sodium amounts are listed in milligrams per serving on food labels. 1,100 to 3,300 milligrams of sodium per day is usually all a person needs. A teaspoon of salt contains nearly 2,000 milligrams of sodium. Your physician will help determine what sodium amount would be sufficient for your daily use.

When cooking, salt can be used sparingly or even eliminated by using spices, herbs and other seasonings. Lemon, lime, basil, garlic, oregano and, of course, pepper are some of the seasonings that can be used when cooking in place of salt.

Give yourself a little time to get adjusted to a diet that is lower in sodium. Most people make the adjustment to using of salt or even no salt at all well and even enjoy it.

This Saltless Shaker recipe can be used instead of salt.

letters to the editor

What were the judges really looking for?

Dear Editor:

I have read with interest the comments in "The Bugle" from outraged gardeners of Niles over the past few weeks. I entered the contest and waited. I scanned the list of winners in "The Bugle"—my name was not among them. I shrugged it off. No big loss. I am a grower and gardener—contest or no! However, the commotion continued so I decided to go out myself and see what all the fuss was about.

I was astounded with what I saw! Even pinpointing the Ashland address on a map—it is not some area you drive to—you have to want to find it. I persevered and found myself in front of a solid evergreen hedge several feet tall. Visible from the street is a service walk and big asphalt driveway. The big winner of Main Street is a study in "sterile simplicity" no muss-no fuss-water the lawn-cut the lawn. The few annuals near the entrance took maybe 10 minutes to plant. The next shocker was the house of the third big winner. I could not believe my eyes—plastic pin-wheels whirling in all directions and a hanging planter of plastic geraniums on the porch! (Plastic is supposedly a "no-no" to judges). I am a past president of the garden club of Niles and have been involved in show and garden competitions for over twenty years. My husband and I drove by 25 winners on "The Bugle" list. We just shook our heads. One house had not a tree in the park-way—or much anywhere else! Another "sterile" one on Breen St. had a 1/2 dead evergreen in front-and on and on thru the $100 winners.

It is my opinion that the "plain dirt gardeners" of Niles have a right to feel cheated and outraged. Marble chips, topiary trees, and plastic statues do not necessarily make a winning garden or landscape and sometimes tend to add a jarring note. But one has to wonder—what were the judges really looking for?

Sorry this is not typed but I am writing it outside-in the sun-as I enjoy my beautiful landscaping. Tomorrow I will return my "honorable mention" plaque to Mr. Pesole at the Village Hall. I wouldn't think of hanging it to store it is ridiculous—and to discard it is not to take a stand or make a point. Name withheld by request

Homeowners can contest their property tax assessments

Dear Editor: Although there's no avoiding paying property taxes, homeowners can contest their property tax assessments if they believe they are inaccurate or unfair.

Without having to hire an attorney, homeowners can fight inaccurate assessments before the Cook County Board of Tax Appeals.

The Board of Appeals is the agency which oversees the entire $19.3 billion property tax system in Cook County, and hears taxpayer complaints about unfair assessments. In the past two years the Board has heard nearly 12,000 homeowner requests for reductions, and more than half of the homeowners who appealed to the Board received some tax relief.

There are three ways homeowners can successfully challenge their property assessments: (1) if the Assessor over-values the fair market value of a home; (2) if the assessment contains a mathematical error or factual error in the description of a home; or (3) if the assessment is higher than those of comparable homes in the same neighborhood. To pre-file a complaint and receive a free brochure on how to appeal property tax assessments, homeowners can call the Board of Appeals at 443-5540. A print-out of the Assessor's computer description of a home will also be sent to callers upon request. Fair and accurate assessments are the goal of the business of the Board of Appeals.

Sincerely, Patrick Quinn Commissioner

Banker receives union endorsement for MSD post

Dennis F. Voss, Republican Commissioner of the Metropolitan Sanitary District and prominent Chicago area banker, has received the endorsement of two of Chicago's most powerful unions in his bid to retain his seat as Commissioner.

sents the kind of Commissioner people of Cook County and our membership needs. Not only does he express the feelings of labor in his position at the MSD, but he also understands the responsibilities of the office as it relates to all working people.

Both the Iron Workers District Council of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Union, and the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, AFL-CIO, have unanimously endorsed Voss, for retention as Commissioner of the Sanitary District. Both unions represent over 5,000 members throughout the Chicago and Cook County area.

Bernard Puchalski, President of the Iron Worker District Council, pointed out that his endorsement was a result of a close study of the candidates. Voss' "broad knowledge and proven record of achievement" served as key to the endorsement.

Voss, a Republican, expressed his appreciation to both unions, and said he would seek support from labor, business associations, professional groups, and good government organizations across the country. The election for Metropolitan Sanitary District is November 6th.

early to accumulate as much information as possible upon which to base decisions on college choices." One hundred colleges, universities and career schools are expected and many of the selective colleges represented at last year's record-breaking event will again be on campus explaining programs and requirements; answering questions and describing the application process to Marillac juniors, seniors and their families.

Scholarships and financial aid will be explored in a preliminary Financial Aid Seminar in Room 123 from 7-7:30 p.m. Parents and guardians are advised to arrive early to learn more about available tuition assistance. is defined as a group of related or non-related individuals, who are not residents of an institution or boarding house, who are living together as one economic unit. If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. If your child is approved for milk and meal benefits, you must notify the school when your household income increases by more than $50 per month ($600 per year) or when your household size decreases.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free milk and meals for them, the family should contact the school. The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data. All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his/her race, sex, color, national origin, age, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Under the provisions of the policy, Joyce A. Maslanka-Chairman will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he/she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he/she wishes to make a formal appeal, he/she may make a request either orally or in writing to James G. Doyle, Principal-8101 Golf rd., Niles, Illinois or Phone 965-4365 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure. Each school and the office of St. Isaac Jogues School has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Orchard Village celebrating with balloons

Balloons are a natural part of a birthday celebration. The residents of Orchard Village are preparing for the 10th Anniversary-Birthday of their home on Sunday, Sept. 9 from 1-5 p.m., with a "Pot Luck Lunch - Open House." Orchard Village is a residential and vocational training facility for mentally retarded adults. It is home to residents from Chicago, Evanston, Glenview, Northbrook, Skokie and other surrounding suburbs.

Soft drinks will be provided and those who wish may bring their own picnic to eat on the grounds and perhaps a dish that can be shared with others. The public is cordially invited to stop by for the Open House.

Being mentally retarded does not mean that a person cannot join in the mainstream of society. The residents of Orchard Village interact as neighbors in a community setting. All are actively employed either in regular jobs or in various sheltered workshops located throughout the area. A unique feature of Orchard Village is that we encourage our residents to interact in the larger community. This benefits both the residents and the community.

nuArc purchases new Niles headquarters nuArc Company, Inc., Chicago-based manufacturer and world-wide distributor of graphic arts equipment, recently announced the purchase of a new corporate headquarters building and manufacturing facility in the Chicago suburb of Niles. Henry Weisman, Company president, stated that the corporation took possession of the 200,000 square foot building on July 31.

nuArc currently occupies six buildings along West Grand ave. in Chicago. "Putting our entire corporate headquarters and manufacturing organization under one roof will make our manufacturing systems more efficient and profitable," said Mr. Weisman. He also stated that plans are underway for the installation of sophisticated manufacturing and equipment assembly systems, increased warehousing, quality control, distribution and delivery departments and an expanded Research & Development area in the new building, as well as a new "Red Diamond" equipment showroom.

"In addition, we will even have some additional manufacturing areas for future product line expansion," Mr. Weisman concluded. The company plans to move into its new headquarters by Spring 1985.

nuArc is the world's largest manufacturer of process cameras, platemakers, darkroom equipment, light tables and other pre-press products. The company sells its equipment to commercial printers, in-plant print shops, newspaper printers, screen printers, graphic trade shops, advertising agencies, graphic studios and a variety of other markets through a worldwide network of dealers and agents.

No sign-up charge at Centel through September

Central Telephone Company announced today that its customers can avoid paying a $2.82 sign-up charge if they order custom calling services on or before Sept. 28.

"We're making a special offer right now so more of our customers can experience the benefits of custom calling," said Cathy Dudderar, metro customer services manager. "It's a very inexpensive way to get a lot more convenience and use out of a phone."

"Approximately 5,000 customers throughout the area already are using custom calling, we know that many others would truly enjoy the benefits of this service if they simply had an opportunity to check out the advantages."

The custom calling features Dudderar described include call waiting, call forwarding, three-way calling and speed calling. The services have become available because Centel has converted switching systems throughout the area to new digital equipment.

Dudderar explained that with call waiting, "a tone alerts you that another caller is trying to reach you. Then all you have to do is put the first caller on hold while answering the in-coming call. It's that simple."

With call forwarding, phone calls automatically can be transferred to other telephone numbers. "If you're on vacation, you can use your phone to program a different number into the system, so that the calls that come to your home will automatically ring at a neighbor's or relative's home," she noted.

With three-way calling, it's possible to have a conversation with two other persons at the same time. Speed calling is a means to call either 8 or 30 pre-programmed phone numbers by touching one or two buttons, or by dialing one or two numbers on a rotary dial phone.

The monthly charge for residential customers is $1.84 for call waiting ($3.78 for single-line business customers), $1.79 for call forwarding ($2.76 for business), $1.84 for three-way calling ($2.81 for business), $1.94 for speed calling with an 8-number code ($3.38 for business), and $7.75 for speed calling with a 30-number code ($9.69 for business).

Dudderar also noted that a residential customer can receive a 25-cent monthly discount for each custom calling service ordered, provided that the customer has a minimum of two custom calling features. The discount for single-line business customers who have two or more features is 50 cents per feature. Customers may order custom calling features by calling the Centel Communications Center at 299-6651.

DENTAL DIGEST

BY RICHARD C. MAZANEK, D.D.S.

Pregnancy is a special time for women to take extra care of their oral health. This will help prevent oral problems during this time.

Nutrition is an important consideration for pregnant women. Eating the right foods helps to promote proper development of the child. Proper nutrition is also essential because the irregular eating habits of pregnant women can lead to decay and gum disease.

A common fallacy is that a tooth is lost for every pregnancy. Actually, with proper oral hygiene, expectant mothers can avoid dental problems, such as a gum condition called pregnancy gingivitis.

The important thing to remember is that bacterial plaque, not pregnancy, causes gum problems and tooth decay.

Egan meets with Lech Walesa

An historical meeting between State Senator Robert J. Egan and Polish labor union hero, Lech Walesa, was described as a complete success by the Senator at a press conference held recently within his legislative district.

Egan, who recently returned from a 10-day tour of the communist controlled country, met with Walesa during a two-hour dinner meeting in the Polish hero's hometown of Gdansk, Poland, on August 18. During the meeting, Egan presented Walesa with an Illinois Senate Resolution honoring the leader for "his courage and determination to bring justice to the Polish worker within the framework of a communist regime." The Resolution was passed unanimously by the Illinois Senate during the spring session.

Egan was able to arrange a meeting through Walesa's parish priest, the Reverend Rada Henryk Jankowski of St. Brygidy, popularly known as the "Solidarity Priest." Egan, and wife Marie, who accompanied him on his tour, were able to discuss with Walesa common concerns of Polish workers, both in Poland and Chicago. (Egan has one of the largest Polish constituencies within the state of Illinois).

An Illinois Senate Resolution, bound in leather, honoring Lech Walesa (right) is presented to the Polish hero by State Senator Robert J. Egan and wife, Marie. The presentation was made in Gdansk, Poland, during a two-hour meeting between the two officials on August 18.

"It was a most inspiring and enlightening meeting," Egan commented on the exchange. "The dedication and determination of this very gentle man is evident to everyone the moment he enters a room. I found in our discussions many insights into the difficulties these courageous people face in the Polish factories as well as in their struggles as new immigrants in our country -- particularly in Chicago."

Egan added that "the (Lech Walesa) seemed very honored and touched by the Resolution which he understood represented the respect given him by all the people of Illinois."

At the conclusion of the session Walesa invited Egan and his wife to attend the Mass, held each Sunday, in honor of the Solidarity movement and Walesa himself. After accompanying the Polish leader on the altar during the 2-hour liturgy, Egan joined Walesa on the rectory steps of St. Brygidy where they gave the victory sign to the thousands of cheering supporters.

In addition to his private conference with Walesa, Egan was also able to meet with Joseph Cardinal Bernardin in Rywal, a town just northwest of Warsaw. The Senator touched bases with Bernardin just prior to the celebration of the Mass in honor of the Polish patron, the Black Madonna. Included in the talks between the Cardinal and Egan were Bishop Alfred Abramowicz of Chicago, Bishop Daniel Ryan of Springfield, Bishop Marian Przykucki of Chelmo-Pelplin and the Reverend J. Edward Duggan of St. John Brebeuf of Niles -- all of whom accompanied the Cardinal during his 14-day pilgrimage.

Seniors should apply for Homestead Exemptions

Maine Township Assessor Roy H. Bergquist is reminding senior citizens that they can file applications for their Homestead Exemptions at his office in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge.

Bergquist said that as of Jan. 1, 1984, the senior citizens Homestead Exemption has been increased to $2,000 from $1,500. According to another change in the law, senior citizens now are eligible to apply for the Homestead Exemption during the year they turn 65. In the past they were required to wait until the year following their birthdays.

The senior citizen Homestead Exemption provides tax relief by reducing the equalized assessed valuation of an eligible residence by $2,000. This can result in a savings of up to $200. This savings is in the form of a deduction on the second installment of the real estate tax bill. Therefore, the 1984 exemption will not be reflected on a tax bill until the summer of 1985 when the second installment of the 1984 property tax is payable, Bergquist explained.

To apply for the exemption senior citizens must own the property or have a lease or contract making them responsible for the real estate taxes as of Jan. 1 of the year of application. The property also must be their permanent residence as of that date.

Applicants must provide proof of age, proof of ownership and a recent real estate tax bill. For further information, call Marie Berrigan at Bergquist's office, 297-2510, or visit the office in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge (between Potter and Greenwood).

Bob Jares and Sue Wille are the leading players in "They're Playing Our Song," opening production of Des Plaines Theatre Guild's 39th consecutive season. The musical opens Friday, Sept. 7, and plays Friday, Saturday and Sunday thru Sept. 30, at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., in downtown Des Plaines. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for all but the final two Sunday, Sept. 23 and 30, which are matinees at 2:30 p.m. For tickets, call 296-1211 between noon and 8 p.m. daily. Season subscriptions are still available for "They're Playing Our Song" and the four other productions of the season, for only $25 ($20 for senior citizens).

Two tickets for the price of one is the offer Des Plaines Theatre Guild is making to celebrate the opening of their 39th consecutive season on Friday, Sept. 7. This free ticket offer will be in effect on opening Sunday, Sept. 9.

To take advantage of this special offer, you must reserve your tickets for Friday or Sunday in advance by calling the Box Office Answering Service, 296-1211, between noon and 8 p.m. Reserve one single admission ticket for $6 and receive one more ticket free! The offer does not apply to any other discounted tickets, such as season subscriptions, student or senior citizen tickets, which already represent a savings to the holder. Be sure to mention the free ticket offer when calling.

Opening show of Des Plaines Theatre Guild's 39th season is the Marvin Hamlisch-Carole Bayer Sager-Neil Simon musical "They're Playing Our Song", which will be presented Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from Sept. 7 thru 30 at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines. It's loosely based on the topsy-turvy relationship between Hamlisch and Sager, who are portrayed in the show by Bob Jares as Vernon, an Academy Award-winning composer, and Sonia, an author of off-beat lyrics for contemporary songs.

Throughout the 1984-85 season of five shows, Des Plaines Theatre Guild will offer the two-for-one tickets for opening Friday and Sunday to those who mention the offer when they reserve tickets in advance for either of those nights.

Other shows to be presented during the 39th season include Agatha Christie's thriller "Witness for the Prosecution" in November, the popular 1950s musical "Grease" in February, Neil Simon's comedy "The Sunshine Boys" in April, and Lerner and Loewe's musical "Brigadoon" next June. For further information or reservations, call or write Des Plaines Theatre Guild, P.O. Box 84, Des Plaines 60017, phone 296-1211 (noon to 8 p.m. daily).

flashing around the globe. The Bugle was confronted with a small group of ladies who felt they were being mistreated by the local press.

While less interested readers might have wondered the past weeks why the Niles contest stirred up the natives, we understood. The person who coined the phrase, "A Man's Castle is his Home," knew of what he spoke. Most people take great pride in their fifty foot lots, work hard in maintaining them and when they're asked to compete for prizes for their landscaping efforts, expect recognition.

If you were to wander through the police report as we do each week, you'd find the greatest hostility in the community is caused by neighbors battling over their pieces of turf. Any encroachments, real or imaginary, cause more bickering and hurt feelings than most issues of much greater importance.

The anger caused by the recent contest extended down to Niles village hall. Niles trustee Orville Ottow took after "the local media" who he said took second prize in the recent imbroglio. Ottow accused the press of not doing its job. He thought the media should have contacted the judges of the contest and spelled out exactly what was the criteria for judging the contest.

While hitting the press over the head whenever the spinach hits the fan is a favorite pastime of politicians ("you won't have Nixon to kick around anymore") Ottow's criticism would not have eased the outpouring of hard feelings in Niles.

The contest to spruce up the community was certainly a good idea and was well-intended by the officials who created the idea. But they missed the boat when they failed to give each contestant the rules which the judges used to make their choices.

We're sure Pete Pesole and his friends, who ran the contest for the village, will eliminate this problem next year when the contest will be repeated. Each contestant will get a copy of what the judges will be looking for and hopefully, this will lessen the feelings of outrage which occurred after this year's judging.

Whenever we get a basket full of letters from the troops on one subject, we sit up and take notice. This basketful said the judging went awry. What should have been said was a communications gap existed. The natives should have had rules in hand which spelled out exactly how homes were being judged. It was an unforeseen rhubarb.

The whole matter seems inconsequential to most of us. But it matters to the contestants who put their homes on the line.

Niles Police softball...

Con't from Niles-E. Maine P.1 Bill Terpinas, John Katsoulis, Ron Strzelecki, James Zimmerman and Frank Stankowicz. They also have a strong bench that they are always relying upon, consisting of Roger Wilson, Lou Tigera, Bill Christie and Tim Colby. They also have the fastest outfield; between Greg Kapka, Ed Bacher and Mike Baumhart, you'd be hard pressed to get an extra base hit.

The team agrees that the key is to have a solid defense with a consistent offense and they have it. No one person is pressured to win the game, usually the hitting attack changes each week. Every one has been responsible for the success of the hitting game. If the top of the order doesn't do it this week, you can be sure the bottom will. On many occasions, the entire team is on a hitting blitz and then their opponents are in trouble. All in all, it's probably the most well balanced team in the league, that's what gives them the winning combination year after year.

The Niles team prides itself on the fine support they receive from their department, the village and since the start of the league and this has minimized any base-running mistakes. Niles feels they have the best pitcher in the league, who they call "Juice", Gary Amato. He teams up with their short-center, Tony Fidanza, to provide a most unique pick-off combination at second base. The opponents are constantly warned to stay close to the base, which minimizes their lead-offs. Niles has a unique infield, they platoon 8 or 9 men and still maintain the most solid defense in the league. Infielders are, Dennis McEmerney (Team Captain), Dean Strzelecki, provide senior citizen discounts. The township program will replace the numerous identification cards senior citizens now must carry to obtain these discounts with a single ID card and it will relieve local businesses of the burden of validating discount cards.

Clarence Emrikson, is ghosting about it. Every year at the banquet, he sits at his table with a smile on his face from ear to ear. This gives him the bragging rights among all the Chiefs of Police in the north suburban area.

"We are extremely grateful to the Des Plaines, Morton Grove and Park Ridge Chambers of Commerce for cooperating with us in this effort. But we also want to encourage businesses that are not affiliated with these three groups to participate in the program," Halverson said.

"We hope it will encourage senior citizens to patronize local establishments and will stimulate business throughout the township," Halverson said.

To be eligible for the program, senior citizens will be required to present proof that they are age 65 or older, proof of township residency and a recent photo for the laminated ID card. Those who do not have a recent photo may obtain one at the Maine Township Hall for $1.

Senior citizens unable to attend the discount program kick-off may apply for an ID card after Sept. 21 at the Maine Township offices. For further information, call 297-2510.
