Niles police ok use of stun guns

by Bob Besier

The Niles Police Department has approved officers using an electronic weapon to restrain suspect Niles Pofficimes by February 15., 1984. Used by the Cook County Sheriff's Department, the weapon, called the Nova, would be carried by a single nine volt battery. By touching it to a suspect it can deliver a charge of between 20,000 and 40,000 volts which may cause one of life's most unpleasant aches and pains, but causes no permanent injury.

Things We Learned

Discovery Of The World

We discovered a Children's Book Week mailer which was more than a few years old. The mailer was a color ad in a handout book, "From the World: The Niles Village Board". The book was a collection of stories about various countries and their cultures. The ad highlighted the need for volunteers to read the book to children.

Demon gymnasts 3rd at Evanston

There has been a strong presence of Willows Academy gymnastics at the recent competition. With dedication and hard work, the team has maintained a high level of performance, securing third place in the overall standings. This achievement is a testament to the hard work put in by the gymnasts, under the guidance of their instructors. The winning tradition that had been established by the team continues to prevail.

The excellent defense of Amy on the floor was particularly noteworthy. Her consistent and strong performance contributed significantly to the team's overall success. The team's ability to adapt and respond to challenges is a key factor in their consistent performance and success.

Willows Academy lauded in evaluation by State

A panel of "excellent" evaluators from the State Board of Education spent two days at Willows Academy last week, but the school received high marks for its curriculum, student body, and administration.

School Vice President, Dr. William B. Currie, said the report is "good news."

"I think the report is very positive," Currie said. "I think they were very impressed with the school's educational program. They were also impressed with the school's leadership, its professionalism, and its concrete educational commitment, not only to the students, but also to the community."

The panel of evaluators were led by Dr. William L. Smith, director of school improvement for the State Board of Education.

District Superintendent, Cook County Educational Service District 64, noted that Willows was honored with 50 of the top 500 high schools in the U.S.

"That is the hinges of the school, and we are pleased that the evaluators were pleased," Cook said. "We are pleased that they recognized that we have a very strong educational program."

The evaluators found that Willows is the only school in the district that was given an "A" rating. The school is consistently rated above average in Illinois and the nation. Willows was among the most highly rated high schools in the nation, and among the most highly rated high schools in the district.

The evaluators recommended that Willows enhance its curriculum and improve its facilities. Willows has already made significant improvements in its facilities and has plans to continue to improve its curriculum.

"I think we can improve the curriculum," Cook said. "I think we can improve our facilities."
