OCC moves on student center plans
by Anthony DeBarrolo

Despite the protest by two of its members during Tuesday night's meeting, the Oakton Community College Board of Trustees pushed ahead with plans to build a $470,000 student center at the Des Plaines campus by seeking state approval to award construction contracts.

Though Trustees Ken Latos and Diana Loveland each said they recognized the need for such a center, they thought the planned two-story, 8,600 square foot addition south of the present cafeteria was not the best available option. Loveland said, "There have been many, many architectural mistakes in this building...this could be another one." Continued on Page 42

Maine Board discusses taxing problems
by Joan Harpham

Several items affecting Maine Township property owners were discussed at the Maine Township Board meeting held on Tuesday, March 12.

Quite a few township property owners did not receive the bill for the first installment of property taxes that was due on March 1.

This does not mean that property owners are not liable for the first installment. They are! If Continued on Page 42

by Eileen Hirschfeld

At a regular March meeting, Board members of the Niles Library authorized the Board President to negotiate for purchase of the Shell gas station on the corner of Oakton Boulevard and Waukegan Avenue.

Price for the gas station, now under trust, is about $300,000. The library may utilize the area for additional parking.

Also, if necessary, board members authorized the Board president to file a protest against the gas station being rezoned for Commercial Special Use. Board members seemed concerned such rezoning would allow for establishment of a fast food restaurant.

PEARLS: DAPPER, DELICATE & DRAMATIC

Classic and more formal clothing styles are back in vogue. Pearls, once more darling fashionables, complement this trend.

Pearls are surprising as an elegant necklace, a cuff link, cuff links or stick pin makes the gentleman's outfit stand out from the crowd. The choker makes a woman's graceful neck a focal point while a long rope is an elegant way to detract from heaviness in the face or neck. Whatever the choice, pearls provide a smart accent for everything from casual to formal attire.

The variety of pearls makes them especially versatile. The shapes, saltwater pearls take include teardrop, half, three-quarter, blister and, of course, round. They also come in a range of colors including white, cream, gold, pink, silver and black. Freshwater pearls have a distinctive look, resembling puffed rice. They are almost always elongated, often when they take on a rounder form. These occur naturally in white and pastel orange, pink or lavender and are often dyed to more dramatic colors.

Pearls take us from the casual look of freshwater to the tailored look of the classic round pearl necklace to the height of sophistication with added gold and diamonds. They should be a staple in any well-dressed person's jewelry wardrobe. Let us help you start or expand your collection.

Library studies policy after questionable purchase

by Eileen Hirschfeld

According to policy of the Niles Library District, board trustees have certain privileges. Citing those privileges, a trustee recently explained to fellow board members how he was able to make a purchase of a Panasonic VHS through the library. Board members, with one exception, approved payment of the bill although they previously had been unaware of that policy.

Action was taken at a February board meeting.

The policy of the Niles Public Library contains a statement of regulations for both the staff and trustees. A provision applying to the purchase was drawn up in 1976 and reads "Staff and board members may purchase book and other materials through the technical services at whatever discount is available from the vendor."

The trustee purchased, for supposedly personal use, a Panasonic VHS, model No. 1331, from ABT TV and Appliances, Niles, through the library's technical services. The library paid $44.98. According to ABT salesman, the model is no longer in stock but last sold at "about $46" meaning the library received about a $20 discount.

Also, State sales tax was not paid. Tax would have been about $30 for a total savings to the library of $33.

She said she attempted to prioritize policies for first dealing with items for which no policy exists such as circulation of computers.

NILES POLICE BLOTER

Niles police check on skull discovery

Niles Police detectives spent three days this week searching for additional remains after finding a human skull in the Cool County Forest Preserve near Touhy Ave. and Riverside.

Police were alerted at 5:20 p.m. on Friday by an employee of Happy Hound, 6747 Touhy Ave., that a skull had been found.

Niles Police Chief of Detectives, Lt. Ray Giovannelli, said Tuesday the skull appeared to be an adult white male.

Niles Police Detectives spent part of Friday as well as Saturday and Monday digging in the area the skull was found looking for additional remains.

While numerous bones were found it was unknown if they were human bones.

Giovannelli said there were numerous possibilities to explain the skull.

He said it could have floated down the north branch of the Chicago River adjacent to where the skull was found or it could have been left there as a prank.

Giovannelli said detectives were also checking to see if the skull may be connected to any recent cemetery vandalism.

The remains were turned over to the Cook County Medical Examiner's office.

Home break-in

A Niles home was burglarized on Monday, March 4.

A resident, who lives in the 6800 block of Oakton St., returned at 4:15 p.m. to find a front window broken.

Going to a neighbor's house the resident contacted the police. Arriving on the scene police found mud leading from the window onto several pieces of furniture which were climbed on by the burglar. Additionally, police report finding the front door unlocked.

Reportedly taken from the home was a video recorder, clothing and jewelry.

The owners told police they would provide an itemized list of stolen property.

Leaning Tower Adult Swim Clinic

Love to swim but "feel" there is something lacking in your stroke? What need is our Adult Swim Clinic. Learn to overcome "tiredness" in the water, stretching and aerobic exercise and stroke improvement.

Because the Clinic stresses individualized training, the class enrollment will be limited. There will be small groups where strokes will be taken apart and put back together again for non-resistant, efficient swimming. The strokes taught will depend on the need of the group and may include: freestyle, breaststroke and elementary back stroke. This is an excellent opportunity for individuals to have semi-private instruction.

A group for triathletes will be part of the clinic. Special attention will be given to techniques for improving time for those planning to enter triathlon this summer.

The class will be held one day only...Sunday, April 14, 6:15-7:45 p.m.

For additional information, call Laurie Guth, Aquatic Director 647-8222.

Over 430 adults and young people from throughout the country attended this unique International Youth Year (I.Y.Y.) conference sponsored by the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services Department, the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Chicago, and the BEST Project. The "Youth in Action" conference was part of March's Youth Participation Month activities and highlighted the many diverse and creative community service commitments youths are making in their schools and communities. In a "Resolution for International Youth Year" approved and adopted on February 4, the Cook County Board of Commissioners resolved to support "the hundreds of participating public and private agencies and organizations who are planning a fitting celebration in honor of International Youth Year." The Commissioners also encouraged communities to hold special youth recognition activities, like the "Youth in Action" conference, throughout 1985.

letters to the editor

Families Anonymous invitation

Dear Editor:

My child is a drug-alcohol abuser. We live in this area and have tried to do our best in the community and to raise our children with love, discipline and responsibility. But suddenly we were faced with the panic, guilt and confusion of living with a substance abuser. A situation that could happen today to any family.

In desperation we went to our doctor, our church, local social service organizations and even a psychiatrist. They helped a little,

Busy youths stay out of trouble

Dear Editor:

This letter is to invite everyone to a special FA Open Information Meeting to be held on Wednesday, March 27 at 8 p.m. in the Health Sciences Building just east of Lutheran General Hospital, at the corner of Dempster St. and Western Ave. You can park in a lot behind and right next to the building, and come in the north door. (FA just meets here and is not affiliated with any hospital.)

This meeting is open to parents and all family members. It is open to doctors, nurses, social workers, ministers, priests, policemen, school counselors, teachers, administrators—anyone who may need to help family members in trouble because of drug, alcohol or behavioral problems in their family.

There will be speakers and an open question-answer period...You will hear of hope, of success, and of a positive program for the family affected by drug-alcohol abuse. The Families Anonymous Program is growing because it works. I urge you to come and see how.

Sincerely,

A Recovering Father

Rueckert makes pledge

Dear Mr. Besser:

This is in response to your article in "Left Hand" dated Jan. 17, 1985. You stated that while driving westbound on Ballard Rd. when you passed Greenwood Ave. the street became packed with ice and snow. You implied that Maine Township Highway Department was not plowing Ballard Rd.

Ballard Rd. is a state highway and is not under the jurisdiction of Maine Township. Any municipality, such as the Village of Niles, that plows a state highway has a maintenance agreement with the state and is reimbursed by the state.

Very few townships have maintenance agreements with the state. These are only in rare cases in rural areas where there is no state maintenance facility nearby.

In the instance to which you referred, Ballard Rd. was finally plowed after I called the Illinois Department of Transportation to relay complaints I was getting from residents.

Very truly yours,
Bill Fraser
Maine Township
Highway Commissioner

Thomas E. Rueckert

Pete Staackmann for MG Park Commissioner

Dear Editor:

Pete has been a resident of Morton Grove for over 34 years. He has been close to many of the changes within Morton Grove over the years.

Pete has devoted many years to the youth of the village. He was assistant basketball coach for St. Martha's for six years. He also served as Athletic Chairman for five years at St. Martha's.

If you've ever attended a Vineyard at St. Martha's, you were sure to see one of his many shows he put together for the parish.

So much for the aforementioned on Pete's past. Now for the future.

I believe Mr. Pete will make a good Park Commissioner for the following reasons: 1) Pete is very open minded to all goings on in Morton Grove. 2) As stated previously, Pete is a self-starter and hard worker, as his background indicates. 3) He is very concerned with the changes within the Park District. 4) He is very dedicated to any task under his jurisdiction. 5) And lastly, but not least, I think changes within the Park District are very important to all concerned.

So please take the extra five seconds on April 2 and vote for Pete Staackmann as Park Commissioner.

Dick Gaeding

Preston appointed, not elected

Dear Sirs:

A Feb. 28 article listing the qualifications of Louella Preston, candidate for trustee to the Niles Village Board, reads that her past "endeavors include being an elected commissioner to the Niles Park District."

This statement is in error. Preston was appointed to a vacancy on the Park Board. She lost the election for a full term to the Niles Park Board. Other offices listed in the same sentence as the one above were also taken through appointments and should not be misleading to the reader.

Mrs. N. Glon

Traffic Safety Hints

by Sec. of State Jim Edgar

Traffic safety hints are prepared each week to help Illinois motorists drive safely and avoid accidents. Many of the following tips will improve traffic safety while helping you conserve fuel.

5. Car-pooling and ride-sharing reduce monotony, and only one person (the driver) must be alert for traffic lights, stop signs and the other motorists. Car-pooling saves money on fuel and car maintenance.

Halverson attacks opponent's plan to sell Town Hall

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson, head of the Republican slate for township offices in the April 2 election, charged today that his opponent's plan to sell the Maine Township Town Hall "is a lot of misguided campaign rhetoric."

Halverson said, "More than 25,000 people have used the new Maine Township Town Hall either for direct services or community meetings since the building opened in January 1984. Selling it would be a very unpopular move."

Furthermore, Halverson said, "My opponent's charges about the cost of the building are outrageous and ridiculous. Currently, as Nick Blase's hand-picked appointee to Nurtan, he is overseeing a $1.5 million building addition and renovation.

Taking the mystery out of money
One in a continuing series

What's the best way to take money out of your I.R.A.?

You've been hearing a lot about how important it is to have tax-deferred Individual Retirement Accounts. It can be just as important to know how to take the money out!

If you are less than 59½ years old, you will have to pay a 10% penalty on any money you take out of an I.R.A. You will also have to pay income tax on whatever you take out, and you will lose out on the interest your money could be earning for you.

Program Year is 59½ years old, you will have to pay a 10% penalty on any money you take out of an I.R.A. You will also have to pay income tax on whatever you take out, and you will lose out on the interest your money could be earning for you.

On you are 59½, there is no government penalty for taking out your money. You will, of course, claim as income whatever you take out, and may have to pay an early withdrawal penalty at the place where you have taken out.

If you don't need money right away, you can keep it growing for you in your I.R.A. tax-deferred, and keep on contributing to it until you turn 70½.

The year in which you turn 70½, you can no longer contribute to an I.R.A. and must start to take money out, or pay a 50% penalty. You, of course, will have to claim as income whatever you take out. Also, the amount you take out may affect your Social Security benefits.

When you take your Social Security, you may have to pay federal taxes on up to 50% of your Social Security benefits, if your adjusted gross income is over $25,000 or if you and your spouse file jointly with adjusted gross incomes over $32,000. This could make a difference in the way you might want to take money out of your I.R.A.

The way you take out your money could mean a substantial amount of extra income for you. You can take it in a lump sum or in installments.

If you take a lump sum, it could raise your income tax and cut your Social Security benefits, depending on your financial situation. You might ease the tax bite by income averaging. That is, figuring your tax based on your last four years' income. But, if you were in a high tax bracket for those four years, you might be better off taking installments.

If you take your money in installments, you may be better off anyway, because you take only part of your money at a time. The rest of it continues to grow for you, sheltered from taxes.

This could mean a lot to you. If, for example, you had started at age 44 making a yearly I.R.A. contribution of $2,000, by the time you reached 70½ you would have some $230,000. This is figured conservatively at 10% simple interest. Most financial institutions pay compound interest, so you might actually have more than $230,000 in your I.R.A.

The size of the installments you would take at 70½ would be based on your IRS life expectancy. Suppose you were to go to your financial institution, look at their IRS tables and find that your life expectancy was 25 years.

You might decide to take 25 approximately equal payments of some $23,000 each. Or, you might decide to take 1/25 of your money the first year, about $9,200. The second year, you would take 1/24, the third year 1/23, and so on till all your money was paid out to you.

$410,000 more for you? With 25 equal payments, you would end up with some $590,000. The other way, you take less money in the first years. This leaves more money to grow for you, sheltered from taxes. This way, you would actually receive more than $1 million dollars. A $410,000 bonus!

Is this the best way for you to take out your money? In general, the longer you can keep your money growing for you sheltered from taxes in an I.R.A., the better off you are. But there is no one hard and fast answer that is right for everyone.

You may truly need to take out money before you are 59½, and it may be well worth it to you to take the penalties. At 70½, you may want all of your money in a lump sum, or part of it to buy a new car or help one of your children make a down payment on a home.

You have your own individual plans and financial resources. We simply present this information so you can see some of the options that are available to you, to assist in your decision-making. Norwood is near when you need us, always ready to help you take the mystery out of money!

Park incumbents emphasize achievements

Incumbent candidates for Niles Park Board, Mary Marusek, Dan Kosiba and Jim Pierski continue to emphasize the achievement of the present board in their campaign for re-election.

During the 4 years they have served together, the board has aggressively sought to meet the recreational needs of all residents. Cooperation with village and school boards has resulted in an expanded 4th of July parade and celebration, increased after-school programs, a very popular inter-school soccer league and an expanded softball program. There has also been a growth in adult sport activities and family activities. An upgraded transportation system as a result of the purchase of reconditioned coach bus will greatly enhance trips for park programs, seniors, and community groups.

In addition, all parks have been improved, a popular water slide has been added and a computer system purchased for the district. Much of this has been possible because the board has the dedication and experience to pursue financial policies such as the refunding of outstanding bonds, keeping the taxes low and allowing for the continued investment in improvements.

In seeking re-election, Marusek, Kosiba and Pierski ask the residents to examine the record of the present board and judge for themselves. Marusek, Kosiba and Pierski have shown a concern for the district. Their hard-work and experience is evident in the excellent services, improvements to facilities and parks, and in the low stable tax rate - lower in fact than it was when they took office 4 years ago.

Marusek stresses great strides made by park district

Bringing to the Park District experience and a record of achievement, incumbent Niles Park District candidate Mary Marusek stresses that a district such as Niles needs a Board of Commissioners who are able to confidently plan for the growth of the district and to adapt to changes in the community.

"We have made great strides in anticipating the recreational

Skaja: "I will work for the people"

Bernard S. Skaja Jr., Niles Park Board Candidate stated, "Growing up in Niles I have seen many ideas blossom into developments and changes."

We have a great community with enviable potential by participating, thinking neighborhood citizens. Sensible leadership direction is always envied and sought after for continued positive growth in community affairs."

I am a candidate for Niles Park Commissioner. I can help Niles in furthering positive growth. I know the pulse of our people, and I seek your support at a chance to prove myself in giving the people of Niles a New Youthful approach to the many needs.

I will promote the idea of better community involvement because it is our city, our park, our community. We will get involved, and what's more important, we will encourage and get the younger people of Niles to stand up and be counted. So please help us get off the drawing board by coming out to vote.

Tuesday, April 2, at your respective polling place.

Never forget that your vote counts; it really does!

I will work for the people of Niles and renewed progress. I will try to represent you and be your voice on the Niles Park District Board.

Pierski: Speak your mind-

needs of residents. In many areas we have been innovative, bringing state and national attention to our district as one of the best. In addition, we have been able to maintain a low stable tax rate, providing the residents with an outstanding district at one of the lowest tax rates in the area."

Marusek emphasizes that as a former employee of the district, an observer of park meetings for the League of Women voters and as a mother of 3 children who have been involved in many park programs, she brings to the board an extensive and varied background to complement her 5 years of experience as a board member. Marusek presently serves as President of the Niles Park Board and is employed by a local accounting-tax firm.

"One important method for Niles residents to have their say regarding Village, Park and Library matters is to exercise their right to vote for the candidates of their choice on Tuesday, April 2," says Jim Pierski, Park Board Vice-President. Pierski is seeking re-election to the Niles Park Board of Commissioners.

"The time for you to have your say about matters of local government, is Tuesday, April 2, Election Day," said Pierski. "There are many candidates seeking election to Village, Park and Library boards. Review the issues, read the publicity being offered in the newspapers, scrutinize the backgrounds and qualifications of each of the candidates; look at the existing conditions at each board level, consider the progress that board (Village-Park-Library) has made the past 4 years, regarding improvements, tax rates, services and financial accountability."

"Add all the aforementioned items up and make your choices known," says Pierski. "Think about your choices, decide who you want to run your Village-Park-Library boards." But most important of all, make your choices known by voting Tuesday, April 2," concluded Pierski.

NILES VILLAGE

Panek well-wisher

Standing in front of her campaign headquarters, Trustee Carol Panek receives a visit from State Sen. Robert Kustra. Sen. Kustra wishes Panek well in her re-election campaign to the Niles Village Board. Trustee Panek is running as an independent in the April 2 election.

Panek answers inquiries from Niles residents

Trustee Carol E. Panek, 10-year village trustee, said Niles residents inquire about the village's current problems as well as plans for the future.

She said she receives informal inquiries during "coffee-and-a-chat" at campaign headquarters and also in a more formal manner in her position as trustee.

She has served as Cable Chairman, Beautification Chairman, Bicentennial Chairman, Village Board Liaison to the Park District for the July 4 parade and Village Board liaison to the Northwest Municipal Conference.

An example of current concerns, she said, is the proposed Beautification Contest. Trustee Panek said about $10,000 to be awarded individuals in prize money could instead be used to purchase trees, shrubs and flowers for public places so the entire community would benefit.

She added, "Niles village residents desirous of beautifying their backyards do not need money incentives and will do so with or without a contest."

Trustee Panek said residents are likely to respond to beautification improvements in the Village with noticeable improvements in their own properties.

Some other examples of concern included snow removal, Lanes Post Office problems, Lawrencewood and sanitary conditions behind certain Niles' businesses.

Trustee Panek said many persons are concerned with Niles' future and wondered about upcoming plans.

She said, "I am gratified to be serving on the Village Board when Niles is declared a 'Certified City' but the Village cannot afford to rest on its laurels."

Trustee Panek said, "It is a truism that our world is shrinking. Reaching out across countries is a viable concept for the future not only for educational, cultural and diplomatic benefits but also important to our business development, economical benefits. To that end I would like to see Niles linked with one or more cities in other countries in the successful Sister Cities International program."

The program presented by Mrs. Jeanne P. Popseque, on "Indian Lore" promises to be very interesting.

ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

OCC hosts Lyric Opera performance

Mozart's comic masterpiece, "The Marriage of Figaro," will be performed in English April 20 and 21 at Oakton Community College Performing Arts Center by the Lyric Opera Center for American Artists.

The performance will be staged with piano, costumes and props by the country's premiere opera ensemble. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. on April 20 and 2 p.m. on April 21, at OCC. The "Marriage of Figaro" was first performed in 1786 in Vienna, where it aroused cheers, and many calls for encores, and later in Prague, where it was an even greater success. Mozart's incomparable setting of Beaumarchais' revolutionary comedy has held the fascination of the public ever since.

The story of "Figaro" is one of deep human emotions - love, hate, passion, rage, jealousy and revenge - emotions which are fully described by the genius of Mozart's music. In fact, "The Marriage of Figaro" was the first great opera to be written about real flesh-and-blood humans, rather than gods and goddesses or two-dimensional characters in exotic situations. Just as in Mozart's personality itself, the opera is at once childish and mature, playful and serious, brash and sensitive; a wonderful combination of laughter and tears.

American Ballet Comedy at Centre East

An evening of traditional dance is the last thing to expect when the American Ballet Comedy performs its hilarious program at Centre East, on one night only, Friday, April 19 at 8 p.m. Centre East is located minutes from downtown Chicago, just off the Edens Expressway, at 7701 Lincoln Ave. in Skokie. American Ballet Comedy blends mime, comedy and vaudeville in a rollicking performance that has captured the enthusiasm of fans throughout the world. Under the guidance of choreographer Bob Bowyer, American Ballet Comedy utilizes classical, modern and jazz dance and spectacular costumes to present an energetic series of humorous story ballets and comic dance sketches.

Tickets to see the American Ballet Comedy at Centre East on April 19 are available now at the Centre East box office, 7701 Lincoln Ave. in Skokie, and at all ticketmaster locations throughout the Chicagoland area.

Mail and phone orders are also accepted. Phone orders may be charged to bank credit cards for an additional fee; just call 673-6300. Mail orders should be sent to Centre East, 7701-A N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie, IL 60077 with an order indicating the date, time, price and number of tickets desired.

Materials and supplies used by rock hobbyists, rough and finished gem stones, and gemstone jewelry will be available from four dealers that are brought in from across the country to offer an excellent selection of merchandise.

The show will have a "Silent Auction" where minerals, polished stones, fossils, lapidary equipment and much more will be auctioned. For the children, we will have the "Rock Roulette" game-a place for them to add to their own rock collections. Refreshments and lunch items will also be available.

On Wednesday, Jan. 16, Captain Beth Liechti joined students in Teams V and VI of the Stevenson School (Missouri Synod) is proud to announce that Pre-Registration will be held on Friday, March 22 at 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. School Board members, Staff, Parent-Teacher League officers and parents will be on hand to help answer any questions. Enrollment will be accepted until classrooms are filled. The Christian Day School is located at 7429 N. Milwaukee ave. (one block south of Harlem) in Niles with openings in Pre-School through the Eighth grade for the Fall term beginning September 1985. St. John Lutheran School began over 120 years ago in a one room schoolhouse and has grown to its present size with the help of parents who desired a Christian Education for their children.

The Captain's presentation covered a number of areas including the training prerequisite to a military career, the activities of a typical work day, discussion about the various problems and issues that a company executive officer faces, and the role of a woman in the armed forces. Students asked many questions about her work. John Grindstaff, whose father is an army officer shortly returning to Germany, was interested in what kinds of living conditions he would find overseas, and Steven Chen wanted to know about the kinds of weapons that soldiers used on peace time duty. The 110 students and 5 staff members enjoyed the 50 minute presentation and many of the children asked if Captain Liechti could return the next time she is on leave in the Chicago area.

Edward T. Borus, Senior Vice President of the over-quarter-billion-dollar First National Bank of Skokie announced today the bank has introduced an Individual Retirement account called the FNBOS Expandable I.R.A. It allows bank customers to use their IRA money for investment in the stock market through mutual funds in addition to traditional bank certificates of deposit and special IRA certificates. Most people prefer to keep their Individual Retirement Accounts at a bank. But many have felt a need for greater growth potential than that offered by most banks. According to Borus, that need can now be met.

The expandable IRA account will be attractive to people who want more growth potential built into their IRAs. Unlike bank certificates which grow at a steady rate, mutual fund shares gain or lose value when the stock market changes. Depending on the customers objectives, he may

Alcoholism Counseling Degree program at Felician College

Felician College has announced that it is offering for the first time a new Associate in Applied Science degree in basic alcoholism counseling.

The new program is designed to provide graduates with the knowledge and skills necessary for them to function as entry-level professionals in addiction counseling or as adjunctive health care professionals working with clients affected by alcohol addiction.

Felician is a two-year, coeducational private college at 3800 W. Peterson ave., in northwest Chicago. Sponsored by the Felician Sisters, a Catholic congregation of women dedicated to teaching, the college emphasizes its Associate Degree liberal arts programs but also offers special interest or professional education courses for adults of all ages, with both day and evening classes.

The new basic alcoholism counseling degree program, according to Sister Mary Bonita Willow, Felician's president, combines instruction in understanding, assessing and treating alcoholism. It includes courses in psychology, biology, communications, sociology, health and field work in community agencies and treatment centers. Certification to practice, however, is obtained through passing the examination of the National Alcoholism Counselor Certification Board.

In addition to the new degree program, Felician also offers a summer program for certification. Upon completion of this program, student-trainees are awarded a Certificate of Accomplishment which makes them eligible for conditional certification as an associate alcoholism counselor from the Illinois Counselor Certification Board.

Courses on addiction counseling and treatment have been offered at Felician for several years in cooperation with the Central States Institute of Addiction Continuing Education Program.

For more information on these or other Felician academic programs and admission requirements, call the college's registrar at 539-1919.

In addition to her development and coordination of the Passages program, she also helped in the implementation of the OCC Emeritus program, which offers some 30 credit and non-credit classes to adults 50 and over. She currently coordinates OCC's Grandparents Unlimited program which places older volunteers in day care and other child care centers as surrogate grandparents.

From the Left Hand

Blase's vulnerability in the cable matter goes back more than a year when the Niles-Morton Grove League of Voters representatives were unsuccessful when they urged Niles officials to make Cablevision adhere to its contractual agreements. Blase and Niles officials ignored the League's requests. At least they ignored it until Carol Panek decided to run for reelection as an independent. And they continued to ignore it until Diane Miller wrote an editorial in The Bugle citing the many problems she was having with the cable company.

According to Panek she had no previous knowledge a public hearing with Cablevision would be held until she received a letter at her home in February informing her there would be a hearing in March. Because she's not "one of the boys" (no pun intended), she wasn't even a part of the supposed trustee decision to hold the public hearing. There's a good chance none of the trustees knew anything about it either. It may have been another one-man Blase effort, ignoring his other elected officials, and deciding to stage a meeting which would hide his ineptness on the entire cable matter.

In conversation with people who were at the special hearing, some referred to it as a "play" and others as a "set-up." Many voiced the opinion Blase did nothing about cable problems for an entire year. Only when election time arrived did he suddenly take hearing was set-up one month before Niles election. There's little doubt the very political Niles Mayor staged the meeting for this purpose.

What really did was use the people at the hearing for his own benefit. Each person who got before the microphone and spoke about their problems with cable were being used by Blase for his own political gain.

Other attendees at the public hearing noted the board has taken the testimony of the hearing under advisement, study it and then act on it at the March village board meeting. But the matter became political.

While the special hearing vote will have to be officially acted upon at next week's meeting, the March 12 vote was a hoky vote which was aimed at calming down the natives.

Evanston has a very strong commission which has the power to act on cable matters. In Niles, Blase set-up a village committee of residents who gave input into cable matters. But the essential difference between the two communities is the essential difference between Niles and Evanston. Blase always runs the show. He always hangs onto the power. In Evanston the top man isn't as political nor dictatorial. He allows the cable commission to run the show while in Niles, Blase sets up these shadow committees which he always holds a veto over.

During the Eddie Bacher fiasco he did the same thing. He chose committee members to make recommendations and when they voted to name the Public Works building after Bacher, Nick Blase vetoed it.

According to Niles village attorney Dick Troy, the significance of last week's meeting is the protest will be filed with the F.C.C. in Washington. He implied the money was not the important issue, but rather the cable company's apprehension at having these protests recorded with the agency which oversees its actions bears more important weight.

In a related move, the board approved a 25¢ per credit hour student activity fee increase for all Oakton students, to obtain $200,000 of the center's construction costs.

Trustee Ralph Goren cast the sole dissenting vote, stating, "Skokie (campus) students shouldn't be taxed for it," since they won't be using the facility.

In other business, the board made four new administrative appointments; Richard Stornger was named Communications Division Dean, Philip Jaffe was appointed Science and Allied Health Division Dean, Urban Thobe was named Dean of the Humanities, Mathematics and concerning salaries but thought it best to continue an evaluation.

The incumbents seemed to part ways in a discussion of Park weaknesses with Marusek accentuating a weakness but "the need" for decisions to keep equipment and facilities in good condition. Kosiba said the Park Board must continue to work in bringing down utility costs. Pierksi cited "a lack of active participation by community residents."

What really did was use the people at the hearing for his own benefit. Each person who got before the microphone and spoke about their problems with cable were being used by Blase for his own political gain.

Of weaknesses in the Library system, Margaret Rajski, incumbent, the book collection and outreach program. Rita Breitbart, a former trustee, also cited the book collection and a lack of public relations regarding available materials.

In regard to the same question, Charlene Wagner named the library collection and press releases regarding services. Margaret Rajski also disapproved of the book collection and access to books.

The other four north suburban agencies are the Evanston, Wilmette and Winnetka Police Departments and the Glencoe Department of Public Safety.

Other PIMS users include 12 police departments in the northwest suburbs, four in the south suburbs and the Northeastern Metropolitan Enforcement Group (NEMEG), a cooperative of Cook County law enforcement agents that investigates drug trafficking.

PIMS allows to share crime information with one another. This feature enables them to examine detailed information about crimes that occurred in other jurisdictions and to identify crime patterns and suspected criminals across communities. PIMS also links user departments to other state and national law enforcement computer systems.

the bill remains unpaid, they are subject to a penalty and interest of one and a half percent per month.

It should be noted that many property owners may not have received a bill because it was sent directly to the mortgage holder company; not to the owner. "We suggest that property owners check first with their lending institution," stated Roy H. Bergquist, Township Assessor.

The board also felt the intersection of Austin and Dempster, where Yoo's mall is located, would only see more congestion if a carry-out restaurant with limited parking was allowed. According to the board, that intersection is second to Dempster and Harlem in traffic volume.

After hearing the board out, Yoo got in his final words. "I hope and believe that the denial will be applied to everyone in the future," Yoo said. "If the parking variation is approved for someone in the future, I'll fight the whole way."

In other topics mentioned was the fact that homestead exemption notices have not yet been mailed. Homeowners should be receiving these notices within the next few weeks. Because of this, the April 1 deadline for filing will be extended.

Also, the City of Park Ridge recently discovered that building permits that had been issued last summer had not been sent to the Maine Township assessor's office. The processing of these permits had been delayed due to this and any increase in property assessments will not show up until 1985 tax bills.

The next meeting of the Maine Township Town Board will be held March 26 at 7:30 p.m. at 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge.

debates. Richard Burton was said to be "out of town." Two vacancies will be filled at election.

All four candidates seemed to agree that annexation of protesting residents should not be made in unincorporated Glenview.

They also agreed that the library book collection should be improved.

Three policy changes were approved concerning computer use, staff compassionate leave and pay for staff serving on jury duty.

Pestine said the library is contacting famous persons in literature, theater and the arts to question them as to what one book was most influential to each and why. He said the letters will be displayed during National Library Week. McKenzie noted board members that about 60 library cards have been taken out by persons in unincorporated Glenview under the "Project Plus" program. "Project Plus" funds were received from the State to the Library to provide service to persons not listed in the State's "low bid" list.

The expenditure almost doubles the year's allotted budget for books with $60,000 having been allotted for books and periodicals under a $101,000 line item for "materials." About $10,000 was allotted for books to the Branch Library under the budget.

Also, $75,000 was approved for purchase of shelving and other materials with Duncan J. McKenzie, library administrator, asked to investigate costs both under the State Joint Purchasing Act and vendors not listed in the State's "low bid" list.

Work remains on the new addition to the library, and reorganization of books and materials is taking place. To aid library patrons, board members approved the administrator's suggestion of hiring five pages for two months who will serve as readers.

Board members were notified by the State that the library's out-of-district fee may remain at $50 and does not have to be raised to the State recommended fee of $68.

A letter to the library from a 78-year-old senior citizen suggested that the Niles courtesy bus stop at the Library.

McKenzie said patrons will also be aided by placing of new paperback books and "overflow" children's books in front of the library. Also, unshelved books will be available for selection to cut down on books to be reshelved.
