MG's Dempster bridge work resumes after material delay

Road and bridge construction, which ground to a halt last month because of a problem with a steel delivery resumed last week on Dempster St. at Lehigh Ave. in Morton Grove.

According to Mohammed Ghouse, project manager for the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT), work crews were waiting for a delayed order of fabricating steel to complete the bridge work. "The contractor for the work (Monarch Asphalt) was working out some problems with IDOT concerning the material which caused the delay," Ghouse said Monday.

The federal funded $427,500 project consists of resurfacing the road from Lehigh Ave. west to Newcastle Ave. and laying a new wearing surface on the bridge deck adjacent to the railroad tracks. Work crews will also restore the traffic signal at Lehigh Ave., Ghouse said, adding the work will be completed sometime in August.

The traffic congestion on Dempster St. has raised the ire of West Morton Grove Homeowners. Continued on Page 30

2 arrested in spree of auto vandalism

Two suspects were arrested Friday after a "demolition derby" of vandalism caused $500,000 in damage to 122 cars at two Glenview auto dealerships. One of the wrecked vehicles, a $15,000 Chevrolet Blazer, had been parked on railroad tracks and was demolished by a freight train. After the vandalism spree early Thursday morning, Glenview police arrested Thomas K. Bridgeman, 17, of 1452 Plymouth Ct. in the suburb and John T. Stiles, 21, 8921 Cherry Lane, Morton Grove. The two unemployed men were charged with burglary, criminal damage to property and reckless conduct. Two neighboring dealerships suffered the attack: Jennings Chevrolet, 241

Nilesites voice concern over added traffic and flooding

Proposed PUD draws protest from residents

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Some 50 residents attended the Niles zoning board meeting Monday to protest a proposed apartment complex on a 13-acre site between 6723 and 6835 Milwaukee ave. The property lies adjacent to Przybylo's House of White Eagle restaurant.

No action was taken, and discussion was continued to the July 1 meeting.

Ted Przybylo, owner of the property, petitioned the board for a change in zoning from the existing M-manufacturing to B-2 multi-family planned unit development PUD, which would allow construction of three apartment buildings. Additional plans call for retail and office space and a health club in the office basement.

Architect David Hovey of the Chicago-based Developer Optima, said the firm had formed a limited partnership with Przybylo in mutual ownership of the proposed PUD development.

Hovey unveiled plans to construct three apartment buildings ranging from two to eight stories high, containing 81 one-bedroom units, 117 two-bedroom and 82 three-bedroom units. All units will face the forest preserve and the north branch of the Chicago River, he said.

"People in the upper floors of the eight story building will be able to see the Chicago skyline," Hovey said.

Buglebits

Several telephone callers queried The Bugle last week about the Sunday morning hours of local liquor establishments. They thought liquor was not served on Sundays until noontime.

Niles Mayor and liquor commissioner Nick Blase explained the Sunday noon openings apply to Chicago taverns. Niles has always had the early Sunday morning openings. Hours on Sundays as well as weekdays begin at 8 a.m.

We met a childhood friend Saturday night who told us it cost $56,000 to send his three kids to college the past year. He said if it wasn't for scholarships and bank loans, he would have never been able to "afford it".

We told him we sent three kids through our state university in the seventies and it cost about $9,000 a year for all three of them which included board and room.

There is a difference. His kids are fifth generation college graduates. And in his family they insist the offspring go to the most prestigious schools. The son and daughter graduated from Harvard and Princeton and another son is a senior at the ivy league Brown University.

Niles parent charged with allowing teen drinking

A 40-year-old Niles parent was arrested May 28 at a party in his home in the 8400 block of Cumberland st. and charged with allowing consumption of alcohol by minors.

According to police reports, officers responded to a call at 3 a.m. that a 19-year-old man was sleeping in a lounge chair in a back yard in the 8400 block of Clifton st.

While questioning the man, police detected a strong odor of liquor on his breath, and discovered he had been drinking at a party held in a home at the Cumberland address.

Police went to the house and arrested the 40-year-old man and charged him under a local ordinance with permitting underage youths to possess and consume alcohol on his premises. According to a police source, the subject's son held a party for his friends Saturday evening.

Niles Police plan annual auction

The Niles Police Department will hold their annual auction on Saturday, June 8. Inspection of items will take place from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. with the auction starting immediately thereafter.

Bikes, clothing and miscellaneous items will be available for auction.

Niles Lions hearing screening

On Wednesday, June 12, the Niles Lions Club will conduct a Hearing Screening at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton st. between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. This service is provided free of charge and is made possible thru the funds raised on candy day.

Lion Dave Hoppé stated a hearing screening is not a complete examination. It is a gross hearing measurement to determine only if the individual is hearing within normal limits. To fail a hearing screening is not sufficient diagnosis of a hearing impairment. However, it is an early warning system that should encourage people failing the screening to seek a complete hearing evaluation.

Niles Police Open House

This is the last reminder to make the community aware of the annual open house at the Niles Police Department, 7200 North Milwaukee ave. The open house will be held on Sunday, June 9, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Community Relations Sergeant John Katsoulas and Social Service Intern Donna Kenig are shown above getting ready for the event and have compiled numerous displays that can be viewed by our visitors.

Some of the highlights on display will be a firearms demonstration featuring a display of special weapons and various investigative displays, including articles of interest from the Illinois Crime Lab and their Mobile Evidence Van. Another item of interest will be a residential burglary demonstration with safety tip handouts.

The Police Department, in response to missing children, will also have a display that features the function of their I-SEARCH unit where our visitors can obtain Children Information Packets (CHIPS) for their own file.

All are welcome and light refreshments will be served.

S.I.J. 55 Plus Club

It doesn't seem that the S.I.J. 55 Plus Club is celebrating its 8th Anniversary. It seems like only yesterday that the club started in the home of Florence and Peter Lencioni, with Helen and Bob Franklin, Joe and Ann Catanzaro, Jen and Augie Pranske, Alice and Louie Bassi and Fr. Carniglia, on May 28, 1977. Our first meeting was held in one of the school rooms, and as we grew, our Pastor at that time, Fr. Klug, let us use the Parish Hall, which we are still using today. We still meet on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of the Month. Our activities still include Ball Games, Race Track, Shows, Plays, Picnics, one day trips, out of town trips and Bake Sales. We help in parish events, community events and wherever we can give a helping hand. We all work together and help one another and that's what makes us great.

We have had great leaders, Peter Lencioni, 1st President and Founder of the Club and his wife Florence, and their officers, Charles Palkoner and his wife Wanda and their officers and our current President Stanley Zabski and his wife Vera and their officers. A big thank you to our Pastor, Fr. Massion and Fr. Salmon, our Moderator who have given us all the support we needed to help us grow. To all our wonderful members, by the way we now number 275, so we've come a long way from the 9 members we started with.

Our 8th Anniversary Party on May 19 at the beautiful Chateau Ritz was great, the food super, the service wonderful and every one had a great time. The dancing to Mario's Society Orchestra was grand and we all felt young and gay. Our appreciation to all who helped make the party a big success. A special thank you to Ann Romeo, Rozella Gloriana and Vera Zabski for the beautiful centerpieces.

Maine Beat

by Sylvia Dalrymple

ZONING BROUHAHA..the zoning game again came into play with a recent proposal to construct twin 33-story buildings on the site of Fisherman's Dude Ranch on Golf Road in unincorporated Maine Township.

The script was a repeat of other controversial zoning hearings conducted by the Cook County zoning appeals board...with the usual expert witnesses trotted out like trained poodles to hype the project for the developer.

The scene was sometimes bizarre...with people fitting in and out during the course of the hearing held at Park Ridge City Hall. Alex Seith, chairman of the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals, who was late for the hearing, explained he had just flown in from Capitol Hill. About 45 minutes later, Seith left for parts unknown.

Rolph Cambell, county land planner...and sometimes consultant for the Village of Niles...can always be counted on to stage a good show for the audience.

Testifying in behalf of the developer, Campbell hyped the project...and at one point, said the high towers would be hidden from view because of their location in back of a lake on the Dude Ranch property.

The two mayors were really impressed when he said the development was in line with the 1964 Cook County Development Plan...in which a tall residential building is a central "cone" in a neighborhood, pyramided by multi-level, garden and condominium apartments and shopping centers. He added the "cone" concept would spread to nearby suburbs, including Park Ridge.

This prompted a Park Ridgeite in the audience to mutter that a "cone" should be sitting on "somebody's head."

Then there was expert testimony from an official of the North Maine Fire Department...which stands to receive a big juicy tax pum if the zoning is approved. He noted state-of-the-art fire protection devices would provide good fire protection to the project.

It recalls to mind construction of the John Hancock Building...then touted as the tallest structure in Chicago. The city's late fire chief Robert Quinn was asked by reporters about the sophisticated fire protection devices installed in the building, and what action he would take in the event of a fire breaking out in the upper floors of "Big John."

Quinn...never at a loss for words...answered: "I'd tell the people to get the h...out!"

AREA TIDBITS. Tony Scarlotti, a Niles Fire and police commissioner, is still telling friends about shooting a hole-in-one, while playing at Tam Golf Course last week. Tony is a member of the Tuesday morning Early Risers Club, whose membership includes village trustee Angelo Marcheschi and other village officials.

Adrienne Nagawicki proudly let out the news that her son, Gregg, is a senior science computer engineer for the country's first space station scheduled to go up in 1992.

Gregg, who graduated from Notre Dame High School and holds a master's degree in computer science engineering, is employed by the Harris Corp. in Melbourne, Florida...where he lives with his wife, Amy.

An outer space painting by Frank A. Kruzal of Niles garnered the $125 Village Purchase Award at the Niles Art Guild Fair held last Saturday in Golf Mill Park. Congrats...and ditto to Niles artists Joan Franzen, first prize, mixed media; Marge Berles, second prize, pastel media; third prize to Fred Braun, pen and ink with acrylic wash; and Susan Dubek for limited craft. More than 30 area artists participated in the fair judged by Sabina West of Skokie and Norman Brown of Deerfield.

Send get well wishes to Niles Fire Lt. Carl Fox, who is progressing nicely after being admitted to Lutheran General Hospital for an ailment. Carl's daughter, Eileen, a resident of Israel, is back in Niles for the summer.

Marilyn Kramer of Niles was a second place winner of a national investment contest sponsored by the National Association of Investors Corporation.

Niles bike patrol begins summer surveillance

Maine senior records still in uproar

by Joan Harpham

Issues regarding the Maine Township Senior Citizens programs were discussed at the Town Board Meeting held on Tuesday, May 28.

Township Clerk Steven Stolton stated an inventory regarding the senior citizens program had been completed and that the board could not find bank statements pertaining to the program previous to March of 1984. He also stated the computer disk with the membership of the senior citizens program could not be located.

"This can be duplicated, but it would be much easier on us if Harvey (Frindt) would simply turn it over to us."

Former township trustee and director of the senior citizens program, Harvey Frindt, has not cooperated in turning over the records regarding the senior citizens program to the town board.

A special committee on Senior Citizens consisting of Anita

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Niles bicycle patrol officers took to the streets Monday in a continuing program to promote bicycle safety and enforce traffic laws for cyclists pedaling within village limits.

The Bicycle Safety Patrol, made up of 10 uniformed college students, 18 years or older, patrol village streets and shopping centers from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. daily from June to the end of August. Patrol officers are paid $4.50 an hour.

Traffic accidents and violations have been cut in half in Niles since the village began its program 10 years ago, according to Sgt. John Katsoolias of the Niles Police Department.

"The program has made both youth and adult bicyclists more aware of safety and Illinois State Laws," he said. "It's really an educational program which benefits riders and the community."

Violations include double riding, riding three or four abreast and hanging onto cars and trucks, which is illegal and dangerous," he said.

According to Katsoolias, citations or warrants are issued by patrol officers to cyclists who violate motor vehicle laws.

"Violators are required to appear at a court of their peers and are subject to fines up to $5 depending on the type of violations," he said, adding that adults are also eligible for tickets if they ignore the rules of the road.

"The hearing board, which meets twice a month, is composed of two volunteers from the Niles Youth Service, who are between 18 and 22 years of age.

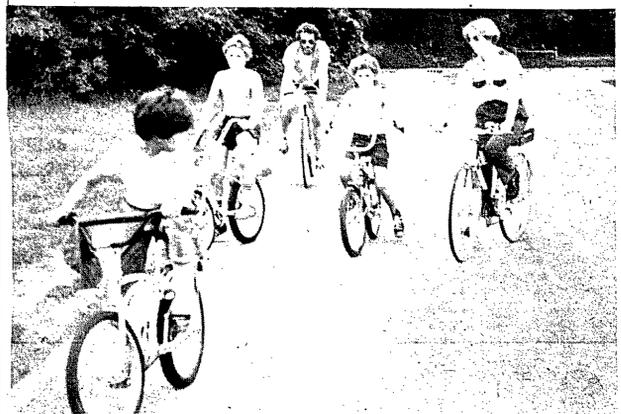

The program was initiated in 1975 by Sgt. James Gerhardt because of the increasing number of cyclists of all ages on the road.

"There were quite a few bicycle-related accidents which created a need for such a program. It allowed the village to perform another function in serving the best interests of the community," Katsoolias said.

Patrollers are equipped with ticket books, 10-speed bicycles, uniforms and a police radio. Those entering the program participate in a training session that covers state and local bicycle laws, community relations, layout of the town, past problems faced by the patrol, and radio communication between bicycle officers and the police department.

SOCIAL SECURITY ASSISTANCE

The Population Reference Bureau recently produced a report entitled "Death and Taxes: The Public Policy Impact of Living Longer." If forecasts that, by the year 2000, average life expectancy may rise to age 80 and, by 2025, federal spending on people 65 and older could take 50 percent of the annual federal budget. Today's 25-year-olds will be there in 2025, and they had best be thinking about where the money will come from. By working past the full-benefit age, senior citizens benefits will increase by 3 percent for each year after age 65 that they do not draw a Social Security check. Starting in 1990, the credit will be gradually increased until it reaches 8 percent in 2008. A Social Security field representative will be in the Prairie View Community Center's senior citizen room at 1 p.m. on Monday, June 10, to discuss problems or questions for senior citizens.

TOO TENSE

While the cause of high blood pressure is not now known, researchers do have some important leads. A tendency toward this disease is often found in families. People whose parents had high blood pressure are more likely to develop it than those whose parents did not. If there is a family history of stroke or heart attack at an early age, family members should have their blood pressures checked regularly. The Village Hall Senior Center will conduct free blood pressure screenings from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tues., June 11.

COMMISSION ON AGING

The Village of Morton Grove's Advisory Commission on Aging will hold its monthly June meeting at 1 p.m. on Tues., June 11 in the Village Hall Senior Center.

THE NURSING HOME EXPERIENCE

The Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Assn. (ADRDA) of Chicago will conduct an informative public meeting entitled, "The Nursing Home Experience: Placement, Patients' Rights, Families' Rights, Legal Assistance." Guest speakers will include: Janice Koch, Illinois Citizens for Better Care; David Ward, Executive Director of the Illinois Assn. for Homes for the Aged; and Kathy Swanson, Cook County Legal Assistance Program. The meeting will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Tues., June 11 in the South Park Recreation Center, 833 Talcott, Park Ridge. For more information, call ADRDA at 860-0045. The contents of this meeting will be very helpful to those who currently have a patient in a nursing home, and those who may be thinking of placement.

A GROWING ELDERLY POPULATION

The elderly are the major users of health care services in this country. And Illinois has one of the largest elderly populations in the country. The illnesses that affect the elderly tend to be more chronic, more serious and, therefore, more resource intensive. Conservative estimates indicate that of all the health care costs people are likely to incur in their lives, about one-fourth of the total will be spent during their last few months of life. Illinois' elderly population has steadily increased since 1975 and will continue to grow through the rest of this century. In 1975, 1.14 million people age 65 or over lived in Illinois. By 2000, Illinois will be home to 1.55 million elderly people, 35 percent more than in 1975. The total population of the state will increase just 10.5 percent during the same period. The demand on Illinois hospital resources has grown steadily in the last decade. And the projected growth of Illinois' elderly population means the demand will continue to grow even more than the actual Illinois population growth indicates.

ELDER ABUSE

Niles, Maine, and Evanston Townships have been selected to participate in the North Suburban Cook County Elder Abuse Project, a demonstration project designed to address the problem of elder abuse in Illinois. For senior citizens who suspect they are victims of physical injury or financial exploitation should call the 24-hour Elder Abuse Hot-Line, 437-0437.

For additional information about these and their senior services, call Ralph Birmingham at the Morton Grove Senior Hot-Line Weekdays, 9 a.m. Until Noon at 965-4658, or Bud Swanson, Director of Senior Citizens Services at the Village hall, 965-4100, Ext. 254.

Village of Skokie

Arlene Robertson of Skokie will give a lecture-demonstration on the baking of bread and its relationship to the Bible to the women's discussion group of the Smith Activities Center, Lincoln and Galitz, Skokie on Monday, June 17 at 1:30 p.m.

Ms. Robertson says, "We can do without eating bread but cannot do without God's bread". During her talk, she brings bread that is just ready to mix, bread that is partially raised and loaves already baked.

Holiday Luggage moves

Holiday Luggage closes a 22 year era at Golf Mill Shopping Center and opens a new era at beautiful Prairie View Shopping Center in Morton Grove. Twenty two years of retailing service with expert repair service to thousands of satisfied customers has made Holiday Luggage a successful operation.

"Give the lady what she wants" and guarantee her purchase has proven to be the right road to success. Unlike department stores and discount stores, Holiday Luggage provides the customer with product expertise, a highly trained staff and above all, courteous treatment, and prices that are competitive with these operations. We call the service now provided by mass merchandisers, "the unservice revolution." In this revolution, masses of consumers are making purchases with no product knowledge and paying high prices for inferior products.

In our business we find people buying vinyl at department and discount stores, thinking it is leather. No customer ever leaves Holiday Luggage with this conception as service declines, so does the product.

There are no personnel to answer questions. The confused buyer then becomes a victim of his choice of store. At Holiday Luggage this cannot happen. A customer's choice is guaranteed to be authentic. It is a well known fact that the bitterness of poor quality remains long after the sweetness of low price is forgotten, not to speak of a no "service" purchase.

Bettters to the Editor

Relief for utility customers

Dear Editor:
What the Illinois Legislature does in the next month will affect our pocketbooks for the next decade.

The issue is utility bills. Illinoisans suffer the highest electric rates in the Midwest. Gas bills have increased at twice the rate of income. New telephone "access fees" threaten to force thousands off the phone system. The General Assembly is about to rewrite the Public Utilities Act, its first overhaul since 1921. The utilities have launched an expensive campaign to gut the recommendations of the bipartisan Joint Committee on Public Utility Regulation, embodied in Senate Bill 1021. The legislation includes some

Benches would help 'tired old feet'

Sirs:
Inasmuch as your paper indicates an empathy for Senior citizens, perhaps you would address the following matter:

I've had several occasions to use the free Special bus (from Glen Oaks), for which I am most grateful. However, the return trip has caused much frustration. Not as far as the bus ride itself, but the waiting.

Granted, there are schedules and they are maintained, but if you happen to miss a bus and have to wait, as I did last week, outside of Butera's, that standing much-needed reforms at the Illinois Commerce Commission (which sets utility rates) to make the ICC more open and accountable.

SB 1021 also protects consumers from utility company mistakes. One key provision is the requirement that utility shareholders absorb part of the cost of overbuilding power plants ("excess capacity"). Since ratepayers now pick up the whole tab, this provision alone will save the average Illinois family hundreds of dollars.

The Illinois Senate passed SB 1021; it now will be considered by the House. The Citizens Utility Board urges all consumers to write their State Representative (State Capitol, Springfield, 62706) can be murder on these old feet. There are a number of vantage points where benches could be placed i.e., outside of Butera's, Venture's, etc.

I feel certain that with "A Word to the Wise", some of these retailers could be prevailed upon to take part in this service which would be so welcome.

I thank you for your consideration and whatever cooperation you could proffer in this matter.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. (Gertrude) Cohen

in support of SB 1021.

The bill doesn't go as far as CUB had hoped, but it is a critical first step in providing Illinois ratepayers with some long overdue relief from soaring utility bills.

Sincerely,
Myk Cherskov

Center of Concern aids seniors in need

Courage is the word that describes the life of Mrs. Hannah Nieder, one of a number of people The Center of Concern serves in both its Telephone Reassurance and Friendly Visitor programs. She has been blind for the past five years and lives alone, which is a testimony to her independence.

Seventy-nine years ago she was born in Chicago, living there until 1976 when she moved to this area. Her father had a variety store and when he died in 1928 she resigned her stenographic position and joined her mother in running the store.

Those were depression years and because of the lack of business, they lost the building. Not daunted, they sold the merchandise that was left and then reopened another store at Milwaukee and Crawford avenues.

During this period she was married in 1936 to Michael Nieder, a buyer for Wells-Gardner Radio Manufacturers, who died in 1940. She was left with their young son, Bennett, to raise alone. To be of some help, her mother moved in with the young widow, which permitted her to go to work during World War II for a cousin in the fur-matching business.

After the war, she found employment with the Jim Beam Distilling Company as an executive secretary. Twenty-five years later she retired and moved to Des Plaines.

When she lost her eye sight, once more the courage to face each day's obstacles was a real challenge. She started to learn Braille to help fill the time, but then the State changed its policy of providing teachers to assist in the home. Now she listens to books for the blind on records or tapes.

The Center feels privileged to be a point of communication for this courageous woman. For information on these and other areas of service, please call the office at 823-0453, located at 1580 N. Northwest Hwy., Park Ridge.

Volunteer Recruitment

North Park Village Nature Center is currently looking for people who are interested in our natural environment and who have some time to give. We are looking for people to act as a guide for school children who visit the nature preserve or attend our pioneer craft's class. We also need help with designing and building exhibits or work in the wildflower garden.

We are not looking for experts; we are looking for people who enjoy the outdoors and who care about the first nature center in the city of Chicago. We will teach you everything you need to know. If interested, call today and contact Elaine at 583-8970. This can be a wonderful learning experience for you as well as all the school children who benefit from the volunteer program.

Weight Control Instruction at Parkside

Educated weight control instruction - teaching persons why they overeat in order to teach them how to diet - is available through outpatient nutrition services at Parkside Human Services Corporation, Park Ridge. Parkside Human Services Corporation is a member of the Lutheran General Health Care System.

The weight control sessions are offered in small, personal groups, and meet for ten weeks. The program is introduced through a free orientation on Monday, June 24 at 7 p.m. and Wednesday, June 26 at 10:30 a.m. Prior to the orientation, those interested in joining must schedule an appointment with one of our registered dietitians. During the appointment, an individualized meal plan is designed to accommodate the lifestyle patterns of the participants.

"Weight control is not as simple as saying, 'I'm going to eat less,'" says Kathy Schmidt, registered dietitian in Parkside's outpatient nutrition office. "Food touches all parts of our lives - family gatherings, work, and happy and sad occasions," she adds.

Ms. Schmidt believes that eating patterns, which are established in childhood, need to be relearned in order to reduce weight successfully and maintain that new weight. She explains that Parkside's weight control program helps persons identify their eating patterns and problems and helps them work at changing them.

Ms. Schmidt tries to keep the groups small, with a maximum of 15 persons per session. Pre-enrollment is necessary in order that an individual meal plan can be designed for each participant before the orientation meeting.

For more enrollment and fee information, phone Parkside's outpatient nutrition services office at 696-6138. Persons also may sign up for individual nutrition counseling without enrolling in the course.

TIPS & TECHNIQUES

Peeling tomatoes: In a 2-cup glass measure or medium bowl bring 1 cup water to boiling. Remove dish from microwave oven. Spear a tomato with a long-tined meat fork. Submerge the tomato in the hot water; hold to count of twelve. Hold the tomato under cold running tap water; peel.

Cutting into equal pieces: Fresh vegetables will cook more evenly when they are cut into uniform sizes and shapes. Irregular-shaped pieces have a tendency to overcook and become mushy in spots while other areas may require additional cooking time.

Cooking spinach: To cook leafy vegetables, such as spinach or collard greens, wash and trim leaves. Place the greens in a large casserole; cover and cook as directed in your microwave oven cooking chart. The water that clings to the leaves will be adequate moisture for cooking.

Police responded to a report that two boys were carrying rifles at Notre Dame High School near a fenced football field stadium on Ozark ave. When police arrived on the scene, the 18-year-old man and his 17-year-old companion jumped out of a press box, ran down the stadium stands onto the football field area and began running southbound toward the fenced area of the dead end streets of Ottawa and Overhill.

Dudycz proposes stiffer penalties for drunk drivers

Legislation imposing strong penalties for persons guilty of reckless homicide while driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol has been unanimously approved by the senate, announced Senator Walter Dudycz, R-7.

A drunk or drugged driver is responsible for more than half of the fatal traffic accidents, according to Senator Dudycz. "As a policeman, I have seen many automobile fatalities in which one or more of the drivers was under the influence. We need to put a halt to this bloodbath of senseless killings.

"In increasing the penalties for reckless homicide under the influence, we are hoping to deter drivers who are drunk or drugged from getting behind the wheel. The bill also gives the courts added strength in dealing with offenders to keep them off our streets," Dudycz explained.

SB341 would increase the penalty for a reckless homicide committed while the driver was drunk, drugged or a combination of the two, to a class 2 felon. This status could result in a sentence of three-to-seven years in prison, up to four years probation, or periodic imprisonment up to 30 months. This would be approximately double the current penalties that can be imposed.

Niles senior spring fitness classes

Thirty-six men from the Niles Senior Center recently completed the fifteen week men's fitness classes, offered at the Grennan Heights Fitness Center. The men, who have been participating regularly in the Tuesday and Thursday fitness classes have adopted as their motto "fitness is number one."

Bill Zillmer, the instructor of the program and a registered physical therapist began the program at the Niles Senior Center with only seven participants. After relocating the classes to the exercise facilities at the Park District's facilities, the program has shown a steady growth. Because the fitness room is well equipped and the gymnasium and showers are on the facilities, the men have been able to participate in a wider range of activities. The exercises are designed to maintain strength, coordination, develop good posture and sufficient cardiovascular reserve to meet their individual needs.

The group recently participated in a spring health check-up. To incorporate recreation and fun into the exercise program three teams were established, the "astronauts," "bulldogs," and "cougars" to compete in six categories of physical and mental fitness. The bulldogs, led by Elmer Ludwig, Hank Kula and Carmen Mazzuca with members John Kasimir, Alex Maloni, Chester Kapuistra and Joe Leahy dominated the strength and endurance events. The cougars proved to be the most agile of the three teams, with the highest scores going to Dave Schillaci and Frank Piotrowski. The cougar group was comprised of Gene Mowinski, Matt Szafar, Art Scheel, Bob McDonnell and Jim Polit.

The astronauts won the eye-hand coordination and flexibility events. The leading points for this group was scored by Art Kapchinski, Chet Hajduk, Les Bethke and Walter Bialka. Other astronaut team members scoring points were Ray Grochocki, Paul Grecco, George Drummond, Carmen Finnaecchio, Menard Greenwald and John Bolton.

The final event was a written examination designed to test the men's knowledge of how the body functions, with emphasis on health maintenance, through participation in stimulating physical and mental activities. The final team scores for the spring health checkup were: bulldogs, 111; astronauts, 98; and cougars, 69.

The students are planning to maintain their good physical condition and submit a strong team in the Six County Senior Olympics held at Elmhurst College this summer.

Mr. Zillmer's classes will resume at the Grennan Heights Fitness Center starting September 3. Enrollment for these classes can only be conducted through the Niles Senior Center, 8060 Oakton in Niles, 967-6100 ext. 376.

Mr. Zillmer strongly encouraged his students to utilize the Grennan Heights Fitness Center, 8255 Oketo in Niles by obtaining a $5 season pass from the Niles Park District, 7877 N. Milwaukee ave. in Niles, telephone number: 967-6633. Some of his students are planning to continue to meet on their own throughout the summer.

The Running Raiders from Oakton Community College were among the top runners at the 8th Annual Valley Fox Trot 10 Mile Roadrace. Leading the way for the Oakton runners was freshman Tony Vodicka who won the 19 and under age group division. The overall winner was Oakton Alumnus Jukka Kallio who started running this race when he was a freshman at Oakton Community College. Kallio easily outdistanced the field to win by a good margin. Finishing close behind Kallio in the age group was Oakton Alumnus Jesse De La Fuente who placed second. Jesse also got his start running this race as a freshman at Oakton.

Coach Savage brings his marathon team to Elgin each year to help them prepare for the National Marathon Championships which will be held on June 15 at Dowagiac, Michigan. Running on the Marathon Team this year is Tony Vodicka (Morton West), Tony Paul (Maine West), Dan Kuhn (Warren), and Tom Polak (Maine East).

In 1983 Oakton placed third in the National Championships and in 1984 the team placed ninth in the USA. Coach Savage is predicting another top 10 finish for his team. Each of the runners have been putting in many miles preparing for the over 26 mile marathon.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jim Jennings

Talk about courage in sports—did you know there was a man with just one leg who played major league baseball? Bert Shepard lost his right leg in World War II, but he learned to walk and run on an artificial leg and he made the majors as a pitcher in the American League... Shepard played big league baseball in the 1945 season.

Although most baseball fans know about Joe DiMaggio's famous record when he hit safely in 56 straight games in 1941, what many fans don't know is that after that streak was stopped, DiMaggio then hit in 18 more games in a row, so he actually hit safely in a string of 72 out of 73 games—an achievement that's never been approached by any other major leaguer.

Did you know that the Houston Astros who play indoors in the Astrodome—oddly enough once had a home game in the Dome postponed because of rain. It happened in 1976 when 10 inches of rain fell in the Houston area, flooding parts of the city. Stadium personnel and many fans were unable to get to the Astrodome, so that indoor game was postponed because of the rain.

Margo Tavlarides of Glenview has been elected president of the Maine East French Club for the 1985-86 school year. Working with her to organize activities will be Erik Blumberg of Park Ridge as vice-president, Jennifer Braun of Niles as secretary, and Mavis Yang of Glenview as treasurer.

Word of warning to boaters

Boating is supposed to be fun, and for most people it is. However, every year hundreds die in boating accidents, and more are injured. That is not fun. That is tragedy. The worst part is that nearly all of the fatalities are preventable.

Coast Guard statistics show that 65% of boating fatalities are caused by capsizing, and people falling overboard. Often the victim drowns before a rescue can be made. Of all boating fatalities, about 85% list drowning as the cause of death. Most of these occurred when the victim was not wearing a Personal Flotation Device (PFD) or life jacket. In other words, boating fatalities could be reduced by as much as 75% if people would wear a Coast Guard approved Personal Flotation Device (PFD). A PFD can save your life, but only if you wear it.

Most people view PFD's as confining, uncomfortable, and unglamorous. They interfere with a person getting a tan. They are not 'macho'. However, they can be compared with seatbelts in automobiles. When they are used, they can save your life. The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary reminds you to wear your Personal Flotation Devices when boating. It is a step that could save your life.

Parker named North Park Cagers captain

Sophomore guard Mike Parker has been elected captain of the North Park College basketball team for the 1985-86 season. Parker was the Vikings' "Sixth Man" on this year's NCAA Division III National Championship team. He set two school records during the season, hitting 16 of 18 free throw attempts versus Carroll and making 85 percent of his free throw attempts. His .843 career free throw percentage is also a record.

Parker averaged 6.5 points and 1.9 rebounds, appearing in 30 games for the 27 and 4 Vikings, five of them as a starter. But it was as a reserve in the final half of the season that he really shined, and his late-game heroics at the free throw line were extraordinary. North Park won its final four games in the NCAA tournament by a combined total of ten points and Parker's free throw shooting in those games was no small part of each victory.

Parker is a graduate of Notre Dame H.S. and lives in Niles.

Thackray, a senior at Beloit, is majoring in geology.

Symposium participant

Glenn Thackray of Niles recently presented his independent research project at Beloit College's 9th Annual Undergraduate Student Symposium, held on April 11. Thackray's presentation was entitled "Metavolcanic Rocks from the Vermillion Batholith Contact."

Red Sox 12, Astros 7
Todd Orloff led the attack with a double and a single, driving in three runs. Pat O'Brien and Pete Mourlas also had two hits each. Tom Udzielak also had a hit and scored a run. On defense, Dave Miller made a great catch in center field. Todd also threw out a baserunner who was trying to steal. Pete led the pitchers by allowing only one hit and no runs in the two innings he pitched.

Dodgers 9, A's 7
The A's tied the game, 3-3, in the second inning and came back twice before losing by two runs. Donald Kuhlmeier scored two runs and had an RBI. Dave Byk drove in two runs and had two hits.

Yankees 17, Reds 8

Solid pitching by D. Brown, R. Johnson and A. Catullo guaranteed a 17-8 victory over the Reds. Hits by F. Denisi (3), J. Brens and R. Kelly (2) and V. Morisco (1) were not enough to offset a 10 run first inning for the Yankees. Pitching for the hapless Reds were J. Brens, C. Kenney, S. Bosco and R. Kelly. For the Yankees Ray Johnson and Chris Pigott each had a single, double and triple. Greg Brand had 3 singles, a double and 6 RBI's.

Cubs 9, White Sox 5

Clutch hits by John Sikaras and Jim Kettleleson helped the Cubs overcome the White Sox. Gus Garamemus shut out the losers for two innings to insure the victory.

For the White Sox, Anthony M. had a double and triple and pitched 2 good innings. Tom S. and Mike C. had doubles. Both teams made a number of fine plays on the field as six base runners were thrown out on the bases.

White Sox 15, A's 3
It was a close game after the first inning before the White Sox put the game out of reach in the fifth. Dave Byk drove in 2 runs for the A's and Tom Delis one. The A's prevented a run with a long relay to the plate by Delis to Josh Sigale to catcher Byk.

Anthony M. of the White Sox had 3 hits and 4 RBI's and stole home. Scott B. had a triple, double and single. Joey had a triple.

Orioles 11, Cubs 8
This was like two balls games in one. The Cubs jumped out to an early 8-0 lead on two homers by Mark Kufner, including a grand slam. The Orioles battled back with 4, 4, and 3 runs in consecutive innings to win 11-8. Katsoulas had 3 hits for the Orioles. Fierer and Cesrone combined to pitch for shutout innings for the Orioles.

Red Sox 25, Reds 10

Pete Mourlas's three hits, including a double and a triple drove in 6 runs. Jim Bronder also had 3 hits. Contributing to the offense were John Mesoloras who scored 3 runs and John Fitzgerald who scored 2 runs, as did Tom Udzielak. Jerry Kim led the defense by executing a double play. Alex Stojanovich played very well at 1st base handling 6 tough plays without error. Also, Dave Miller made another tough catch in center field. Bill Costello played catcher, shortstop and pitcher because the Red Sox were shorthanded; he did a great job at all three positions.

Home runs by J. Morisco and S. Bosco and hits from F. Denisi, J. Brens, and R. Kelly could not compensate for the walkathon from Reds pitchers. Fifteen hits were collected by the Red Sox.

A's 25, Astros 13

The A's jumped off to an 11-2 first inning lead, then scored 10 in the 8th and final inning. They gave up only one hit in the 1st inning. Damon Miceli had 4 hits, drove in 4 runs and scored 4 runs. Brian Stutland had 2 hits, 4 RBI's and scored 3 runs. Daniel Burg, Tom Makula and Tom Delis scored 3 runs apiece. Stutland and Josh Sigale pitched well.

White Sox 9, Yankees 1
It was a cold night, not much hitting but Scott Boscapomi had a double with 2 RBI's. The White Sox had good hustling, pitching and running.

Ray Johnson of the Yankees had 2 hits and 4 stolen bases. Chad Mishak had his first hit and drove in the only run. Mikel Smith had a double and a spectacular catch in center field.

Taking the mystery out of money
One in a continuing series

How can you tell if interest rates are going up or down?

Wouldn't it be great to know? It could help you decide when to buy a house or a car, for instance... whether to park your money in a money market account... or make a long-term investment.

There are, of course, many factors that affect the movement of interest rates, and no method of predicting them is 100% accurate.

Fortunately, there is a way to get a reasonably good idea of whether interest rates are moving up or down, by watching the amount of money in circulation.

All it takes is a pencil, a piece of paper, a major newspaper, and the willingness to keep track of two basic indicators over a period of time.

One indicator is the rate on 3-month Treasury bills. This gives you a clue each week to whether the Federal Reserve system is increasing the amount of currency in circulation.

Interest rates tend to move in the opposite direction from the amount of money in circulation. When the amount of money in circulation decreases, interest rates tend to rise. On the other hand, when the Fed increases the amount of currency and credit, it has the effect of lowering the interest rates on T-bills and other investments.

T-bill rates may seesaw up and down from week to week, but they immediately reflect Fed action. This makes them a good indication of future trends in interest rates.

Another indicator is the Federal Reserve's measurement of M1, the most liquid part of the money supply. This is their indicator of the amount of money in cash, checking accounts and NOW accounts.

If M1 is growing too quickly, the Fed moves to decrease the amount of money in M1. This tends to make interest rates rise. And, on the other hand, if the Fed increases the amount of money in M1, interest rates tend to fall.

Some economists argue about M1 as a measurement, but if you watch it, along with T-bill rates, you'll have another good indication of where interest rates are going.

Now this is where you can begin to predict short term interest rates for yourself.

Start by watching the business pages of a major newspaper. On Tuesdays, you'll find the 3-month T-bill rate at the weekly auction every Monday. On Fridays, you'll find the current M1 measurement of money supply.

Make it a habit to jot them both down on a piece of paper for a while and you'll begin to see a pattern.

In 1980, for instance, T-bill rates ran as high as an average of 15.20% in the first quarter, while the average annual growth rate of M1 was 7.7% in that quarter. The low for interest rates came in the second quarter of that year when the T-bill rate averaged 8.06% and the M1 money supply growth rate was 5.8%.

There is a direct connection, as you can see, between interest rates and the amount of money in circulation.

It takes time, of course, but after a while you'll start to be able to judge where interest rates are going.

A change in interest rates may affect your choice of investments rather quickly. It could take up to six months, however, before a change in interest rates may be reflected in your rate on a mortgage or a car loan.

You might remember, too, that interest rates are often affected by other factors, and sometimes they just seem to have a mind of their own.

No one can be right all the time in judging whether interest rates will go up or down, but watching T-bill rates and the growth of M1 can help you make some good predictions.

You have your own individual plans and financial resources. We simply present this information so you can see some of the options that are available to you, to assist in your decision-making. Norwood is near when you need us, always ready to help you take the mystery out of money!

Announcing the LOWEST RATE EVER [9.00%] on a Cragin Adjustable Mortgage Loan

Introducing the Cragin Low Rate Mortgage

Now, Cragin Federal offers its lowest first year rate ever on an Adjustable Mortgage Loan (AML)—9%. That's why we call this Cragin's Low Rate AML. But that's not all! Cragin guarantees not to increase your rate by more than two percentage points per year. The rate each year is determined by an adjustment of 2 1/2% over the S&L 7th District Cost of Funds Index, with a ceiling of 14.75% during the term of the loan. If you're interested in substantial interest savings in the early years of the mortgage, this is the plan for you.

Cragin offers mortgage options

If your adjustable mortgage concerns are with rate ceilings and year-to-year affordability, Cragin has other plans to fit your needs.

The Cragin Sure Rate Mortgage: The first year rate of 11% will not be hiked automatically in the second year, or any subsequent year on this AML. Therefore, if the future Cost of Funds Index stays the same as it is today, your rate for the second year—or any year—will not be raised.

Loan Rate	Annual Percentage Rate*	Projected Second Year Rate*	Maximum Annual Rate Change	Interest Rate Ceiling
Low Rate Mortgage	9.00%	11.500%	2%	14.75%
Sure Rate Mortgage	11.00	11.444	1.5	15.00
10% Max Mortgage	10.50	10.250	1.5	None

*Assumes Cost of Funds Index remains the same in 2nd year. Rates subject to change.

All three Cragin AMLs share basic benefits such as 30-year terms, 20% down payment requirements, $250,000 maximum loan amounts and no negative amortization. All three figure to remain affordable for you, since they are indexed to the Cost of Funds average, traditionally the most stable and lowest of interest-rate barometers (see chart).

For more information about these and other innovative mortgages—adjustable and fixed-rate—call one of our five Regional Lending Centers: Chicago, 889-1000; Mt. Prospect, 437-7850; Itasca, 773-0800; Wheaton, 668-3600; Schaumburg, 884-0100.

OCC travel course to Great Britain

Oakton Community College is offering students an opportunity to combine theater, writing and a trip to Great Britain in the three-credit travel course, "Theater Reviewing in Great Britain," scheduled from August 4 through 12, which is between the College's summer and fall sessions.

A recent survey of students' interest in travel-study in Britain indicated a strong interest in seeing and reviewing plays in London and Stratford-on-Avon, said course instructor Dr. Beverly Friend.

"Class assignments won't be due until students return to the U.S., so if they want to extend their stay at their own expense, they have the opportunity to do so," she said. "During the class week, morning sessions will include lectures by myself and various experts from the British media; afternoons will be free for sightseeing and study, and students will see a play each evening."

In addition to learning about and writing theater reviews, students also will write one longer article on the British theater scene, which will be considered for publication by Northshore Magazine, Friend said.

Students will earn three credit-hours for participation. Cost of the trip is $1,290 (tuition extra), which includes roundtrip air fare via TWA; hotel accommodations; all ground transportation; sightseeing in London and Stratford-on-Avon; all breakfasts; lunch at the Cheshire Cheese, a famous Fleet Street pub; an Elizabethan banquet; theater tickets to four plays in London (including "Starlight Express") and one play in Stratford-on-Avon ("The Merry Wives of Windsor").

For further information about the trip, call Dr. Friend, 635-1850.

Rifkind, Mark Thompson and Donna Fitzpatrick has been formed to set an agenda and scope of the program. The committee is looking at the programs, director and finances and determining in what areas the township should be involved. They will be issuing two reports regarding the short and long-range planning.

Preliminary decisions regarding the plans are as follows: The Center of Concern should not be included in the Senior Community Center plans since it is a social service agency and the Township should give financial assistance to the Des Plaines and Park Ridge senior citizens groups.

Anita Rifkind stated it should be made clear that this funding was a one-shot deal and would not be available to these organizations every year since the funds available are from revenue sharing.

In other business, the board went on record as opposing a 33-story building proposed for a site on Dempster st. where the Fisherman's Dude Ranch now stands.

The next Maine Township Town Board meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on June 11 at the Town Hall at 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge.

"In screening college applicants, we look mostly for those who can relate to people in a positive way. This is important since they have to deal with the public effectively," Katsoulis said. "In the selection process, we also look for college students who are studying law or law enforcement."

He added some former officials have gone on to become police or security officers or attorneys. "Tom McEnerney was a bicycle officer and is now a detective with the Niles police department," he said.

The successful bicycle program attracted the attention of other municipalities. "Morton Grove, Des Plaines and Skokie have adopted the program for use in their towns. However, budget cuts have reduced the number of officials in two of these towns, while we still maintain a 10-man roster," he said, adding that this year's patrol force consists of four male and six female officers.

The Niles program has received the Washington D.C. National Award for the best bicycle enforcement program in the United States, and a plaque from the Illinois Department of Transportation under the enforcement program in traffic law compliance. Katsoulis said he is proud of the program and recalled a life-saving incident last summer performed by two bicycle officers patrolling the bicycle and jogging path in the forest preserves near Waukegan rd.

"They saw a person lying on the ground suffering from some kind of physical ailment. They radioed for a police ambulance, which transported the person to the hospital," he said. "According to reports, the patient recovered and was released."

Katsoulis added that besides patrol duties, the officers are used in special events, such as races, parades and carnival activities in the village. "In effect, they are extra eyes and ears for the village with capabilities to handle a lot of situations that occur in the community."

Maine Youth Committee proposals under study

by Joan Harpham

"My gut feeling is that we're 85-90% in agreement on all aspects of this," Tina Somerset, director of MaineStay pointed out the differences in opinion between the two organizations.

COY wanted to maintain and improve all aspects of the youth program, submit goals and budgeting, prepare a three-year plan, oversee the financial program and write by-laws.

MaineStay wanted to support and promote its programs and develop public relations. A result of the meeting was that the board would draft a resolution on the Youth program that would define financial input, long-range planning, place a trustee on the committee and place the final authority with the town board. The by-laws would have to be approved by the town board.

It was agreed that the board would move quickly on these issues.

Stopping on Solidarity Drive near the Adler Planetarium, the students were given a panoramic view of the city and lakefront. The class next stopped to see the multi-media presentation called "Here's Chicago" at the Water Tower. The last stop was a visit to the Chicago Historical Society where they were able to gain much information about early Chicago.

EUGENE J. RUDNIK, JR. PRESIDENT

TIMOTHY P. SHEEHAN CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

The expenditure for his college children overwhelmed me until I heard him talking to another party-goer whose daughter is heading for Oxford. I realized what they were paying for is status. An expensive bit of status. And not for their children but for themselves.

A school District 63 employee told me Monday school superintendent Bond will be completing his present contract next year in 1986. He thought Dr. Bond is likely to move up and out. Not necessarily so. Dr. Bond told us Tuesday afternoon he would welcome a new contract from the district.

The election of Jim Pierski to head the Niles Park Board completes the cycle of presidents on the board. All five board members have now been elected to the top job.

Jim's ascendancy bodes well for the district. Serving as president of the board is a learning experience which greatly enhances the knowledge of a sitting president. Guiding a plus $3 million dollar budget through the many meetings is an experience which garners much new knowledge for the head honcho.

It reflects well on the park board which has been restricting the president's term to one year. It enables each member to receive this opportunity. The park board and the entire district "is the better" for receiving representation from board members who have all served as park board presidents.

Nilesite Mike Crisci sent us a copy of a letter he sent to Cablevision recently. Mike is trying to have Catholic Television Center programming between 8:30 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

According to Mike, Cablevision promised this programming, formerly seen on Channel 3, was not being sent out over Channel 44. He said he is unable to receive CTC on Channel 44 in late afternoons and evenings. Mike notes Cablevision service operators said Channel 44 was "reserved for future use" and not currently active.

Mike said such actions "reflect the unkept promises by cablevision on the phone, at the village hearing, and in its mailings".

Mike concluded, "We expect to get only what we have paid for; the ability to choose from all channels included in our package during the entire period".

Mike said he had no other choice but to withhold his payment for the basic service which includes CTC.

Mike might be interested in knowing FCC chairman Mark Fowler has led the way for deregulating the cable industry and in a Tuesday report, cable revenue will double to $16.5 billion by 1990 and advertising will expand six times its current level by the same year. It was also reported suburban cable's basic service will be $14 monthly or $1.50 more than if there was not deregulation. Big city residents would pay $10 monthly because of "price sensitivity".

Bond verified he had applied for a job in Lake Park high school district. Because he was a finalist for the position Lake Park notified East Maine they needed background information on Bond. While another finalist was chosen, District 63 residents might be interested in knowing the job Bond sought is being vacated by former District 63 "sup", Dr. Allan Gogo. It was reported he is retiring.

A 7-story apartment building which will house the retail-office facility (containing a total of 50,000 square feet) would face Milwaukee Avenue. According to Hovey, corridors and halls of the building will face Milwaukee ave., but apartment units would face the forest preserve.

The buildings would be set in a quadrangle design on the site, with apartment units boasting private balconies, terraces or patios. Amenities would include a swimming pool, retention ponds, several play areas, and a large fountain located near the entrance to the complex. One egress-ingress driveway would be located on Milwaukee ave.

Further plans call for parking spaces for 433 cars in a heated underground garage, with street level parking for another 188 cars.

The project, which is expected to cost $27 million, would generate between $500,000 to $600,000 to the village. Figures for other taxing bodies were not available, Hovey said, adding that approximately 82 children would attend schools in the area.

Commissioner Patton Feichter asked whether a traffic study had been made to determine what impact the proposed project would have on Milwaukee ave.

Hovey said a traffic report would be submitted to the board in the near future. "However, a preliminary investigation shows there would be a minimal impact at peak hours of the day."

The residents of Forest View Lane adjacent to the proposed site expressed concern over street traffic, which would be generated by apartment residents going in and out of the complex. They said if the plan is approved, it would compound traffic problems generated by the House of White Eagle.

Matthew Foster, a Forest View resident, complained of traffic backups during political events held in the restaurant. "When the parking lot is filled, the cars park on Milwaukee ave. and on our neighborhood streets," he said.

Ted Pryzbylo noted his restaurant business was "at a point" where he could afford cut-down events that attract large crowds, such as political rallies and fundraising affairs. "We house a maximum of 100 people and we don't anticipate going over that amount in the future," he said.

Ted Slisz of 6714 Forest View Lane said that residents have access through Ebinger St., traveling southbound to Milwaukee ave. "It's difficult now turning on Milwaukee without having 600 more cars from the complex out on that street," he said.

Other residents complained about possible flooding problems in area that would have an impact on neighboring residences. The board assured them the developer would have to put in "on-site retention sewers."

"The concept is that the water goes in slowly to the village storm sewers to prevent flooding, Commissioner Angelo Troiani said. "The developer must meet the village code in all aspects of the development."

The board voted for a continuance to allow village department heads to review plans for the project and evaluate information concerning a traffic study to be submitted by Hovey.

Zoners deny home on 30 foot lot

Despite a warning of possible legal problems, the Niles zoning board Monday denied a request by Carmelo Blocconeri for a lot variation from 60 feet to 30 feet, which would allow construction of a single-family residence at 6730 Albion St.

Blocconeri, owner of Mid-America Construction Company, unveiled plans to construct a 29 by 58 foot, three-bedroom ranch house on a 30 by 125 foot lot. He added the site would have a 3-foot clearance to the existing homes on either side of the lot.

Additional plans call for erecting a garage at the rear of the house that would front an alley.

Commissioner Angelo Troiani voiced opposition to the plan because of the small frontage on the lot. "A 30-foot frontage does not conform to village code. We require a minimum of 50 by 125 foot lots and 5 foot sideyards," he said.

Joe Salerno, Niles director of zoning enforcement explained the non-conforming lot was an existing lot of record because of a 1937 ordinance that allowed the three lots in the Albion area to be developed on smaller lots. "The Niles parent...

The parent was released after posting a $50 bond and assigned a July court date.

The 19-year-old man was charged with possession of alcohol by a minor and released in the custody of his father. He will appear as a material witness at the July hearing at the Third District Court of Niles.

Residents near the Cumberland house told The Bugle that more than a hundred teenagers were at the party with numerous cars parked in the Cumberland-Clifton area. They said the youths, who appeared to be between 16 and 18 years of age, were drinking beer out of cans in the front yards of houses in the area.

A Clifton st. resident said a fight broke out among some of the youths and an ornamental pole light was broken in a front yard. She added Niles police who arrived around 11:30 p.m., used a bullhorn to tell teenagers to "Disperse and go home," but did not attempt to arrest any of the teenagers.

Detective Lt. Ray Giovannelli of the Niles Police Department told The Bugle Monday that he was aware of the teenage party, but was not at the scene when police responded to a complaint about the underage drinking. "The youths may or may not have been drinking beer, and there would have to be proof in court as to which teenager was drinking or committing acts of vandalism."

Giovannelli said that in his "opinion" police who responded handled the matter correctly by attempting to disperse a crowd of teenagers alleged to be drinking, and by arresting the homeowner for permitting drinking on his premises. "We are talking about going through the crowd to investigate who has been drinking. A riot could break out, which would force four policemen on that shift to be called from their patrol area," he said.

He added that bringing extra officers to the scene would leave the rest of Niles unprotected. "Officers who respond to such a call determine what should be done in the interest of all residents in the town."

ordinance was changed in 1967, but since the subject site is on record, it is subject to the 1937 ordinance," Salerno said.

Troiani said he was aware of the 1937 code on minimum lot requirements. "However, I'm concerned about flooding problems, and bumping this house against neighboring homes," Troiani said. "This board is going to have to live with it if this plan is approved because of potential problems in the future."

Chairman Jack Frick and Salerno reminded the board that similar zoning requests which had been denied ended up in litigation.

The court traditionally rules that a project can go up, regardless of village requirements," Frick said. "Board denial on zoning matters are viewed as confiscation of land that belongs to the property owner."

Salerno said he would not advise the board "what to do" on the request, but warned the village could become involved in litigation in the future if the petition was denied. "We've lost several cases in the past when this type petition did not win board approval, with developers taking us to court," he said.

Troiani noted the board can grant up to 20 percent variation. "We would have to give a 100 percent variance to allow this house to be built on the site," he said.

After a short discussion, the board denied the request. According to Troiani, the petition will now go to the village board for a final decision. "The village attorney will look into legalities concerning the case, and then it will be up to the board to make the decision."

Group, which would like to see Lehigh temporarily closed during construction.

Ross Schmaus, a member of the homeowners group, said Monday that closing of Lehigh St. at the Dempster intersection would allow traffic to flow through "without stopping 40 times per hour to let traffic out of Lehigh which carries a minor amount of traffic."

Schmaus, who said she was frustrated with the traffic tie-up and the month-long delay in construction work, has written letters to Gov. Thompson, IDOT and Morton Grove officials about the problem.

"I've been discussing the problem with village officials and hope something can be done to alleviate the situation," he said.

A Morton Grove official, who did not want to be identified, said that closing Lehigh "won't help matters much." The suggestion makes sense, in that Dempster traffic would have a green light to allow a continuous flow of traffic," he said. "But, it would be shifting the problem from one location to another."

He explained that closing the tangent street (Lehigh) would cause traffic problems in the residential area where drivers would seek alternate neighborhood routes between Waukegan Ave. and Lehigh. "I don't think residents in those neighborhoods would appreciate that," he said.

They were selected as Evans Scholars in a competition which began almost one year ago. Evans Scholarships are based on high school rank, financial need, moral character, and record as a cadet.

This award will cover tuition and housing for one year, and may be renewed for a total of four years by meeting the standards of the Evans Scholarship program.
