District 63 faces $623,000 loss
if multiplier is approved

Lower tax multiplier cuts school revenue

by Eileen Hirschfeld

East Maine School District 63 may have a $623,000 reduction in revenue in its next budget if the tentative Cook County Tax Multiplier becomes effective, according to James Bowen, business manager of East Maine School District 63.

The tax multiplier is a figure used to determine the assessed evaluation of property.

At a regular meeting, Bowen told school board members that the tentative multiplier is 3.5 percent lower than in 1983 and the lowest it has been since 1980.

Bowen also said a .7 per cent increase exists in the raw assessed evaluation of Maine Township but there is no way of knowing how that will apply toward the District.

Bowen said he will testify at a hearing on the tentative tax multiplier.

In other business Ray Green and Associates, architects for the District's proposed $6 million life-safety job, presented a proposed schedule of work to begin this summer and end in September, 1986.

by Bud Besser

An anonymous letter-writer sent us a letter complaining about a teen party held in the 8400 block on Cumberland last week.

Anon wrote there were 1,500 teenagers at the party and advertised posters were "in every local high school". Niles police lieutenant Marty Stankowicz told us there were about 100 persons at the party and they knew of no signs in the schools advertising the party.

Anon said there was a $5 admission charge for the party. Stankowicz said he heard of this but had no proof it was true.

Anon complained vehicles took up parking space area for 10 blocks around; broken glass and beer bottles filled 11 garbage cans; the backyard band played full volume from 7:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Lieutenant Stankowicz said police received an anonymous phone call complaining about the party at 9 p.m. and another complaint at 10:50 p.m. Four police cars were dispatched to the area. Police broke-up the party at 11 p.m. and there was no resistance from the teens.

Anon pointed to a similar Park Ridge party in which it was reported 50 teens were arrested. Anon wanted to

NFS workshop on nutrition

Niles Family Service is proud to offer a special workshop discussing the relationship between what you eat and how you feel. Sue Archibald, a well-known lecturer and researcher into the role of nutrition and health, will speak to Niles residents and their guests on June 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton in Niles.

Sue will discuss how food additives and certain dyes may trigger hyperactivity within children, or allergic reaction within adults. Find out more about these food ingredients which may be the reason for some physical problems. Now, the food companies really don't want to inform you about these studies. Some don't even want to list the ingredients they use and how much they use. For example, there are at least six breakfast cereals which are over 50% sugar. Sue will discuss sugar and its relationship to mental health. She will show a film on sugar that will open your eyes to what sugar may be doing to your health and your emotions.

The workshop is a special presentation of Niles Family Service and is offered free. For further information, please call Niles Family Service at 692-3396.

Survey Domestic Utility customers on water choice

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The Illinois Commerce Commission this week is sending survey cards to unincorporated Maine Township residents which ask whether a switch to more expensive Lake Michigan water would be worth it in comparison to the water service currently provided by a local utility company.

Property owners will have two boxes to check on the card - one that says, "Lake water would be worth the estimated cost," and the other, "Lake water would not be worth the estimated cost." The postage-free cards are to be signed and mailed to the ICC which will study results of the poll.

Glenview-based Domestic Utilities Services Company (DUSCO) was ordered by ICC to poll the residents in the wake of a controversial 1983 DUSCO water rate increase. In granting the rate increase, the Commission stipulated the water company conduct a study regarding cost and benefit of utilizing Lake Michigan water, according to a spokesman from the ICC's consumer affairs division.

The controversy over the water rate increase culminated in an ICC hearing in the Landings condominium complex (Ballard and Potter rds.) which was attended by more than 500 residents. Complaints included high water rates, low water pressure and poor quality of water provided by DUSCO. The coalition later formed into the Unincorporated - Maine-Northfield Association (UMNA).
"In efforts to receive Lake Michigan water instead of DUSCO's well water service, the UMNA group is distributing more than 5,000 flyers to Maine Township property owners this week urging them to check the box on the survey card that states 'Lake water would be worth the estimated cost.'"

Chamber program aids small businesses

The Niles Chamber of Commerce recently gathered 14 volunteers to give their business expertise to struggling new and established businesses within the village limits.
According to Curt Hockett, Chamber president, the new program called Niles Enterprise Assistance Team (NEAT) will focus on giving free and confidential advice to people who may be having some problems in establishing a viable operation in Niles. "The program acts as preventive medicine to someone having difficulty staying in business," he said. "Help is available from experts on request if they want it."
Business people will volunteer their expertise in 22 areas, including finance, banking, financial credit, IRS, cost control and production-related.
Hockett noted business establishments that move out of Niles, or go out of business, are not required to notify village officials. "We don't know the reasons why they are no longer operating in Niles. I feel this innovative program will go a long way in helping people to stay in business, and to become productive members of the community." Hockett said.
He added companies which are aware of problems may consult with an expert. Those that do not know what the problem is will discuss the matter with a financial advisor (banking institution, etc.) in an attempt to find the problem. "About 80 percent of business failures can be attributed to financial problems, and NEAT could conceivably reduce that percentage," he said.
For more information on the program, call the Niles Chamber of Commerce at 635-0303.

Niles charging parents with teen drinking

The Niles Police Department has recently received calls and complaints of noisy parties that were causing disturbances in the village. Upon responding to the calls, it was discovered that teen-agers were consuming alcoholic beverages, which led to the arrest of the parents for permitting under-age drinking in their dwelling or on their premises.

CULTURED PEARLS

Pearls have been regarded as one of the most valuable gem materials. They have been used for adornment for 600 years. A pearl is valued by: SHAPE: roundness, how clear the pearl is of blemishes. SIZE: which means they are all about the same size in a necklace strand. COLOR: which refers to the evenness in matched. LUSTER: is the way they are able to reflect light off the pearl, which is referred to their orient. The luster of pearls, can be lost by wear, such as acids, perspiration, cosmetics, hair spray and perfume. They can usually be revived by an expert.

Cultured Pearls are called Mollusks before they are cultivated. The mollusks remain in the water for 3 to 4 years, which gives them a very accumulated layer of nacre. Cultured Pearls, can be lost by wear, such as acids, perspiration, cosmetics, hair spray and perfume. They can usually be revived by an expert.

ALL DRESSED UP AND NO PLACE TO GO?

Need something to fill up free time? Why not earn money doing household tasks for those unable to perform these duties? This Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) of Evanston is looking for persons to perform household tasks for homebound elderly in the Niles and Morton Grove suburban area. Those interested should contact Bernice Barta at the VNA office, 328-1900.

NURSING HOME HOTLINE

Approximately five percent of the nation's elderly reside in nursing homes. The Illinois Dept. of Public Health's Nursing Home Hotline was established to benefit those individuals, as well as those who need information on nursing homes or who have a complaint about care. The Hotline may be used by nursing home residents, friends, relatives, visitors, or anyone who has observed neglect or abuse. Persons having an inquiry or complaint should call the toll free Hotline at 1-800-252-1943. All phone calls will remain confidential.

HEALTHY LAUGHTER

Money may make the world go 'round, but laughter may make individuals live longer to watch it go 'round. According to recent research, laughing can increase respiration, oxygen exchange, muscular activity and heart rate, thus producing beneficial cardiovascular effects. Laughter also stimulates the body's natural pain-reducing enzymes which results in less pain for those suffering from chronic discomforts. But how can laughter lead to a longer life? A good chuckle may reduce stress and high blood pressure which, in turn, may reduce depression, heart attacks, and strokes. So, next time someone tells a joke, whether it's good or bad, give it a healthy laugh. It's cheap, it's easy, and above all, it's fun!

"GRAMPA"

By Jean Slesloff, Keen-Ager News
After dinner every night, Grampa finds his favorite chair. He likes to watch the evening news, I know that he is there. When my kitchen chores are over, I tiptoe on my toes. I know that he is sleeping, With his glasses on his nose. I shake him and I wake him, And with a grunt he sighs. He tells me, "I'm not sleeping," "I have to rest my eyes." I hear him snoring every night, But no matter what I say, He swears that he's not sleeping, He only rests his eyes, that way.

HAPPY FATHERS DAY!

Bettors to the Editor

Thanks Blase for tornado alert efforts

Dear Editor:
The recent tornado that rained such devastation on Canada, Ohio and Pennsylvania caused many to apprehensively wonder about such a disaster hitting the Chicago area. A Channel Seven TV weather commentator recognized that grim possibility, calling attention to the weather warning installation in this area that can give early notice of approaching storms and tornadoes.

He quite properly mentioned that this weather warning system was installed a few years ago largely through the insistence and driving force of Mayor Nicholas Blase of Niles.

A warning of as little as twenty minutes could be a crucial safety factor for those in this area in case of an approaching tornado. Mayor Blase deserves our thanks for his vision in this matter of public safety.

Thanks to Bugle

Dear Editor:
Back in November of '84, the Mrs. & myself, through the good graciousness of our Lord providing us with good health, were able to celebrate our 50th Wedding Anniversary.

We wish to express our sincere thanks for publishing the photo submitted to you which appeared in The Bugle.

Many Thanks Again

Subscriber Line Charges: We'll help you understand what's on your phone bill.

A new "Subscriber Line Charge" of $1.00 per line will begin appearing June 1, 1985, on the monthly phone bills of all residential and single-line business customers both individual and party line. The new charge, mandated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), affects customers nationwide.

Subscriber Line Charges, formerly called Access Charges, help cover the ongoing cost of maintaining the 24-hour connection between your home or business and the local switching office. The cost of this network access is constant. It doesn't vary, no matter how many calls you make or receive.

Since long distance rates are coming down, you may see little change in your bill. Some customers who make many long distance calls may even see a savings.

Subscriber Line Charges are a necessary part of deregulation and are designed to help curb the rising costs of telephone service. Look for more information on Subscriber Line Charges with your bill.

SJB founder celebrates birthday

The students and faculty of St. John Brebeuf School invited Monsignor John Flanagan to a prayer service in St. John's Church to celebrate with him his gift of life. Students from each of the classrooms had special parts in the service, such as reading and petitions. The choir was composed of two children from each room. Each grade made a symbol for the hand-sewn stole, which was presented as a gift to Msgr. Flanagan. A huge birthday card (pictured above) was made by the faculty and students. Every child from Kindergarten to grade 8 signed their name.

We thank God that Msgr. Flanagan, who founded St. John Brebeuf Parish in 1953 is still with us.

Bethesda establishes affiliation

Bethesda Hospital, 2451 W. Howard st., has established a teaching affiliation with the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Beginning in July, physicians who are graduates of the college, will participate in the equivalent of residencies at the hospital. Dr. Gary Karl, osteopathic physician and chairman of family practice at Bethesda, will direct the program.

A doctor of osteopathic medicine is one of two types of fully-trained and licensed physicians, both of which utilize all scientifically accepted methods of diagnosis and treatment including the use of drugs and surgery. The osteopathic philosophy also includes the use of manipulative therapy. Educational requirements for both branches of medical practice are similar and both are licensed through the State of Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

"The new program will benefit the Chicago College and add to Bethesda's widening spectrum of medical services," said Dr. Karl. Bethesda's staff of more than 200 doctors from Chicago and the North Shore will be supplemented by four interns from the Chicago for one year.

"Patients will benefit" by the additional monitoring of their progress by the interns who report back to the attending physician," Karl added.

The affiliation between Bethesda Hospital and the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine was initiated by the American Osteopathic Association, the professional association for doctors of osteopathic medicine. William R. Fox, Managing Director of Bethesda Hospital, said of the affiliation, "As a community hospital, Bethesda offers an exemplary teaching environment in which our entire medical staff will share its knowledge and expertise."

FACT:
Every 15 minutes a woman dies of breast cancer.

A trip to the Diagnostic Breast Care Center could have saved many of them.

If detected in its early stages, breast cancer is virtually 100 percent curable. Unfortunately, 90 percent of all breast cancer is discovered after a lump can be felt. Since most lumps that can be felt have been there for as many as ten years, it may be too late to improve survival chances.

Early detection is the answer.

Early Detection = Annual Checkup + Monthly Self-Examination + A Trip to the Diagnostic Breast Care Center for a Mammogram

Mammography is safe and affordable.

Mammography is a safe low dose x-ray technique and costs no more than a trip to the eye doctor for a pair of eyeglasses. Its benefits far outweigh any risk from radiation. The radiation required for a mammogram is even lower than for standard dental x-rays.

Examination Guidelines:

The American Cancer Society suggests these guidelines for examination:

Age	Recommendation
20+	Monthly self-examination*
20-40	Physical examination by a physician every three years. (40+ physical exam every year.)
35-40	Baseline mammogram
40-49	Mammogram every one to two years.
50+	Mammogram every year

*You can learn about breast self-examination from one of the specially trained female technologists at the Diagnostic Breast Care Center.

Women with personal or a family history of breast cancer should consult their physicians about the need for more frequent examinations.

Regular visits to your personal physician are the most important way to protect your health. If you don't already have a personal physician or you are new to the area, we'll be glad to help you find one in the specialty area you request. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it to us.

By Jim Jennings

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
One of the greatest performances ever seen on a golf course happened in the 1960 U.S. Open when the legend of Arnold Palmer was born. ... Going into the last 18 holes of that Open, Palmer was so far from the lead that 14 other golfers stood between him and first place. ... But Palmer shot a 65 on those last 18 holes and passed ALL 14 golfers ahead of him to win his first U.S. Open.

One of the most undebatable pitching records of all time was by Stanley Coveleski, who pitched to the major leaguers from 1912 to 1935. ... In one game, Coveleski incredibly threw 7 innings WITHOUT EVER THROWING A CALLED BALL. ... EVERY pitch he threw was either swinging at, or was a called strike. ... No other big league pitcher ever had that much pitcher control for that long a time.

Do you know who holds the hitting big league baseball record for strikes the most home runs with the bases loaded in history? ... The answer is NOT Babe Ruth or Hank Aaron as you'd expect. ... It is Lou Gehrig, who hit 22.

"Women's 12" Softball League"

After earning all-conference honors in baseball and being named Outstanding Senior Athlete at Niles West in 1983, Joseph decided to concentrate on golf when he enrolled at Oakton. When he was named All Skyway-Conference and earned a spot in the national junior college golf tournament by placing third in the regional tournament, Joseph never even considered playing baseball at Oakton. The OCC golf season is in the fall, but the Nationals are held during the following spring.

"I like golf better and I consider myself to be a better golfer than a baseball player," Joseph said. "I never really thought about playing baseball at Oakton, especially when I made it to nationals in the fall, but the Nationals are held during the following spring.

Joseph didn't do much at nationals, but he did earn a golf scholarship to Illinois State University, where he enrolled last fall.

"I didn't like it down there at all," he said. "I just wasn't happy at the school and decided I wanted to come back to Oakton for the spring."

Centel: No change in long distance services

Central Telephone Company announced today that it has no plans at a time to begin offering "equal access" to different long-distance services for Centel customers in the Des Plaines area.

"Right now, our telephone switching equipment is capable of providing one-digit access only to the AT&T long-distance network, as we traditionally have done," explained Cathy Dudder, customer services manager. "We have no schedule for installing the new equipment that would be needed to provide a one-digit access code for other long-distance services. Right now, our customers simply will continue to have their long-distance calls routed over the AT&T network whenever they dial '1' plus an area code and a local telephone number."

Dudder said that it could be one year or longer before Centel is ready with the necessary equipment to provide equal access. She emphasized that when the time arrives, notification will be mailed to customers before the company actually begins offering the equal access system.

"Of course, you would still have the option to continue designating your primary carrier as AT&T. But if you wish, you could also change it to any of the other long-distance services that are available in a given area. At the same time, you also would be able to access other long-distance carriers more easily than you can today."

"For instance, you would only have to dial five digits to reach long-distance networks other than your primary carrier. Today, placing calls through other long-distance services often requires callers to dial as many as 27 digits."

Cragin drops loan rate to 9%

Cragin Federal Savings and Loan Association has lowered its basic Adjustable Mortgage Loan (AML) plan to 9%, the lowest adjustable rate loan ever offered by Cragin.

The 9% rate is guaranteed for the first year and applies to owner occupied dwellings of one to four units where the loan represents 80% of appraised value. The loan term is 30 years and the rate can never exceed 14.75%. Annual rate changes are based on the Federal Home Loan Bank 7th District Cost of Funds Index and cannot change more than 2% per year.

"For the borrower, the cost of Funds Index is the best bet against the possibility that rates might rise," says Adam A. Johns, chairman of the board and president of Cragin. "This index is an average of the cost of savings for hundreds of savings and loans and moves very slowly. When the Prime Rate was 20% in 1981, the Funds Index was 11% and began to rise in 1982. So, even though this loan will likely increase in the second year to 11%, assuming the current index remains the same, cost savings can be substantial."

Johns pointed to the difference in the first year alone between the 9% AML and a fixed rate loan at 13%. On a $60,000 mortgage, the fixed rate borrower would pay $683.72 for monthly principal and interest versus $462.78 for the AML. This is a savings of $110.94 per month for the first year, he observed.

Due to the overall drop in interest rates, Cragin Federal also lowered rates on two other Adjustable Mortgage Loans. One starts at 10 1/2% and is also tied to the Cost of Funds Index. Its base interest rate ceiling and rate changes cannot exceed 1 1/2% annually. Another plan has a first year rate of 11% and cannot exceed 15% during the term of the loan. No Cragin AML plan offers the possibility of negative amortization. Fixed rate mortgages for as low as 12 1/4% are also available at Cragin.

Cragin Federal mortgages carry an application fee of $250 and closing costs of 3%. Loans at 90% of value are also available at slightly higher rates. Cragin Federal Savings is one of Chicago's largest mortgage lenders and operates regional lending centers in Chicago, 888-1000, Mt. Prospect, 437-7850, Schaumburg, 884-0100, Itasca, 773-0800, and Wheaton, 668-3600.

Skokie Federal participates in I-SEARCH program

Skokie Federal Savings and Loan Association today announced a new community relations program designed to assist the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement with their efforts to locate missing children in Illinois.

According to James W. Peters, president of Skokie Federal Savings, the new program entitled "WE CARE", focuses on displaying photographs and pertinent information about missing children in the offices of the association.

The program is part of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement's I-SEARCH project (Illinois State Enforcement Agencies to Recover Children) and was developed in conjunction with the Illinois League of Savings Institutions. I-SEARCH was formed in 1984 in response to a state law designed to help alleviate the problem of missing, lost and runaway children in Illinois.

"Photos and information about missing children soon will be displayed in the lobbies of all our offices," said Peters. "I-SEARCH, the Illinois League and Skokie Federal Savings strongly believe that displaying information about missing children will further enhance the public's awareness of the problem and increase the probability of locating and returning missing children," noted Peters.

Callero & Catino fund raiser huge success

On Saturday, May 4, the salesperson of ERA Callero & Catino Realtors held their annual fund drive for Muscular Dystrophy by collecting donations from passing motorists at the intersection of Milwaukee and Oakton avenues.

Thanks to the generosity of Niles residents and visitors, as well as the personnel of the Realtors office, a check in the amount of $1,068 was turned over to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

This is the 9th consecutive year that the Realtor has collected funds to fight this dread disease and is a part of a nationwide effort by Electronic Realty Associate Brokers to collect a million dollars in 1985 for the Association.

"The response was tremendous, and we at ERA Callero & Catino Realtors, on behalf of Jerry's kids, want to thank everyone who participated," said Bill Alston, Residential Sales Manager.

Computer Club officers
Mark Kinzie of Niles will serve as president of Maine East's BYTE Computer Club along with Drew Deckowitz of Des Plaines as vice-president and Mark Parsons of Park Ridge as secretary/treasurer.

Centel subscriber line charge

Central Telephone Company of Illinois has announced that beginning June 1, 1985, a federally-mandated Subscriber Line Charge of $1 per line will appear monthly on all residential and single-line business customers' telephone bills.

"The Subscriber Line Charge, also known as an Access Charge, helps cover the ongoing cost of maintaining the 24-hour connection between your home or business and Centel's local switching office," said Cathy Dudder, Centel's customer services manager in the Chicago metropolitan area.

The cost of a customer's access to the telephone network is constant. It does not vary, regardless of how many calls you make or receive.

Announcing the LOWEST RATE EVER [9.00%] on a Cragin Adjustable Mortgage Loan

Introducing the Cragin Low Rate Mortgage

Now, Cragin Federal offers its lowest first year rate ever on an Adjustable Mortgage Loan (AML)—9%. That's why we call this Cragin's Low Rate AML. But that's not all! Cragin guarantees not to increase your rate by more than two percentage points per year. The rate each year is determined by an adjustment of 2 1/2% over the S&L 7th District Cost of Funds Index, with a ceiling of 14.75% during the term of the loan. If you're interested in substantial interest savings in the early years of the mortgage, this is the plan for you.

Cragin offers mortgage options

If your adjustable mortgage concerns are with rate ceilings and year-to-year affordability, Cragin has other plans to fit your needs.

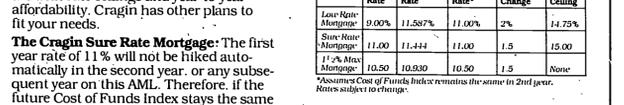

The Cragin Sure Rate Mortgage: The first year rate of 11% will not be hiked automatically in the second year, or any subsequent year on this AML. Therefore, if the future Cost of Funds Index stays the same as it is today, your rate for the second year—or any year—will not be raised.

All three Cragin AMLs share basic benefits such as 30-year terms, 20% down payment requirements, $250,000 maximum loan amounts (loans over $110,000 require greater down payment) and no negative amortization. All three figure to remain affordable for you, since they are indexed to the Cost of Funds average, traditionally the most stable and lowest of interest-rate barometers (see chart).

Old Glory

It's just a bit of bunting, made up of strands of thread
With stars and bars and grommets, some blue, some white, some red.
But there's magic in that ensign and in what it signifies,
The freedom, justice, liberty that are present when it flies.

When I see Old Glory coming down the street in a parade,
Held high by prideful soldiers in epaulets and braid,
I snap to smart attention and a chill runs down my spine,
Proud tears well 'neath my eye lids and I know my country's fine.

OCC commencement marks a milestone

The May 23 commencement at Oakton Community College marked another milestone for a school that got its start 15 years ago in six converted Morton Grove factory buildings. Oakton students, faculty and staff began settling into the College's beautiful Des Plaines facility in 1980, but the students who received degrees and certificates at the 14th annual OCC commencement were the first to participate in an on-campus ceremony. Previous commencement exercises have been conducted at area high schools. Northeastern's Chemistry Program recognized by Chemical Society

The Department of Chemistry at Northeastern Illinois University was recently informed that it has been found to meet the American Chemical Society's guidelines for educating chemists at the bachelor's level. Students earning a bachelor of science degree in chemistry will now have the opportunity to earn a certificate stating that they have fulfilled the ACS standards for professional training.

Of the 1,100 colleges and universities in the United States that grant bachelor's degrees in chemistry, 860 have been found to meet ACS guidelines. According to statistics from the U.S. Office of Education, this latter group of institutions awards approximately 90 percent of the bachelor's degrees in chemistry.

The ACS Committee on Professional Training evaluated Northeastern's curriculum, faculty size, teaching loads, examinations, faculty composition, faculty's professional activities, library collection, facilities and equipment, budget and administrative structure, textbooks and placement of graduates in professional positions.

Northeastern began the society's complex approval process more than 2½ years ago. In 1983, Dr. Paul Poskozim, of Park Ridge, professor of chemistry, traveled to Washington, D.C., and presented a 25-page report about Northeastern's Department of Chemistry to the Committee on Professional Training. The report led to a two-day visit from an ACS committee member in the fall of 1984. Students, faculty and staff were interviewed and pertinent classrooms, laboratories, offices and supporting facilities were visited.

"Approval from the ACS will change little in terms of the way the department operates on a day-to-day basis," noted Dr. Joseph Bachrach, of Lincolnwood, chairperson of the Department of Chemistry. "Northeastern's chemistry graduates will now be officially recognized as being of the same caliber as graduates of some of the larger and older universities in this area. ACS approval should also make the university more attractive to good, science-minded high school seniors and community college transfer students."

For information about chemistry programs at the undergraduate or graduate level, call 583-4050, Ext. 755 or 754.

Niles teen wins top honors at Expo

Sister Christine Styka, Outstanding Science Teacher Award Recipient, and student, Nancy Kozanecki, #1 Science Project State Award Winner, of Good Counsel High School, share top President's Prize at the Illinois Junior Academy of Science State Exposition at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana.

Niles teen, Nancy Kozanecki, has taken top honors at the Illinois Junior Academy of Science State Exposition at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana for her mathematics project entitled, "Generative Magic Squares." The President's Prize, a plaque and a check awarded annually to the #1 science project at the fair was presented to Nancy as the best out of 1,000 projects on exhibit.

Nancy's sponsor, Sister Christine Styka, was named the Outstanding Science Teacher of the Year by the Academy. Her award also consisted of a plaque and a check for the school.

In addition, Nancy was granted the opportunity to submit her paper for the Governor's Award, an all-expense paid trip to California. The top student project from each of the 50 States in the U.S., or an alternate, will participate in a two week computer session, August 11-24, at the

Mulvihill receives award from Morningside

On May 5, Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa held its graduation ceremonies.

Prior to the ceremony, two seniors received surprise honors as they were named recipients of the Alumni-Senior Award.

One of the students was Michael Mulvihill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mulvihill of Niles.

Mulvihill, a graduate of Notre Dame High School in Niles (Class of '81), attended Morningside College for four years. He was active in the student-run Commons Board of Control (C.B.C.). This oversees the on-campus activities of the college. He served as C.B.C. chairman of programs and activities his senior year. He was also vice-president of the student government, and residence hall treasurer. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and Alpha Psi Kappa. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree with a double major in theatre and English Literature. He also had a minor in Philosophy.

Magnetic Fusion Energy Computer Center of Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory at the University of California in Berkeley.

Both, Sister Christine and Nancy will be enroute to Bell Laboratories in New Jersey, July 11-12 as guests of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, one other award received for her project this year.

A junior at Good Counsel High School, Nancy, 16, has participated at the state level science fair for the past 5 years. She has received many local, state and national awards for her projects during that time. When questioned, what next year's project will involve, Nancy grinned and quickly responded, "That's simple! I hope to work the theory of genetics into magic squares. In that way I can tie science and mathematics together."

Quality higher education with personal dimension at Felician

Students choose their colleges for a variety of reasons. Foremost among those reasons is the quality of education the students can expect to receive. The administration and faculty of Felician College decided to find out what the students thought of their Felician experience. A survey was conducted. The results were encouraging.

There was overwhelming positive opinion that college plans were being fulfilled (80 percent), that instructors are well prepared (84 percent), needs are answered (75 percent), students have easy access to counselors and instructors (70 percent).

When asked what they liked about Felician, students repeatedly commented on the high quality of education they were receiving and the warm friendly atmosphere that prevails among students. A number of students noted that they are improving in their academic performance. They cited the instructors' sense of understanding and personal attention to the student as responsible for this.

The smallness of the College with 325 students last year allows everyone to know everyone else. Instructors and administrators know the students by name.

Ease of access by public transportation and major highways makes the college "close to home." The relatively low tuition of $2160 for the entire year puts private college education in the reach of almost everyone. The college offers financial aid to those in need.

Felician graduates continue their growth. With 85 percent of them continuing their college education, they are among the students in the senior college and universities in the Chicago area. Felician graduates hold responsible positions in business and industry.

When students begin the next semester in September, they will enter a building that has just received a facelift. New thermal windows have been installed. The entire building is being painted and redecorated.

A new program will also be available in September. Students will be able to earn an Associate in Applied Science Degree in Basic Alcoholism Counseling. The program is offered in cooperation with the Central States Institute of Addiction. Felician College has been cooperating with the Central States Institute for a number of years as a non-degree program. The expanded program to the degree level will better serve those interested in becoming certified as Alcoholism or Drug Counselors.

In addition, students attending Felician College pursue the courses necessary for the first two years of a baccalaureate program in the liberal arts. If they know what major field they will enter, they are individually guided in their academic program. If they are not sure, they are guided to take those liberal arts courses which will best prepare them for further study.

Campus visits are encouraged. Further information can be obtained by calling the Admissions Office, 539-1933.

Felician College is located at 3800 W. Peterson Ave. in Chicago. It is operated by the Felician Sisters who for 75 years have provided excellent education in the Chicago Area.

Loyola becomes first in local university teleconferencing

After two years of lobbying and months of hard work, Loyola University of Chicago's Don Norwood has put the university on the teleconferencing map.

Norwood, director of telecommunications for almost four years, has been busy preparing to help Loyola to be the first university in the Chicago area to originate a national teleconference. On May 1, "Pain Management: An Interdisciplinary Approach" was beamed to approximately 25 other universities and colleges and more than 170 hospitals across the nation.

More importantly, the teleconference may pave the way for increased prestige, exposure and potential funds for the university.

With the program support and sponsorship of Loyola's Office of Continuing Education and the Marcella Niehoff School of Nursing, Norwood two years ago approached the National University Television Network (NUTN) to put on the pain conference.

NUTN was established three years ago and currently has 120 members. Loyola is a charter member and has been participating in a number of teleconferences as a receiving site. The most recent participation was April 17, for a national teleconference on "Congress: Is It Working?"

At the beginning of February, Norwood received approval to do the conference. He then faced the task of recreating a studio on the Lake Shore campus.

"Because we don't have a studio, we have contracted for the use of a 40-foot tractor-trailer, or mobile studio just like the ones used outside of football stadiums for telecasts," he said. "We also have hired a crew of 15 to help set up and monitor the teleconference."

"A special microwave unit must be constructed on the roof of the building and our satellite dish must be moved to the campus," Norwood said. "We will microwave the signal to a more powerful relay station in Skokie so that it can be sent out across the country."

Long before the final day of activity, Norwood was tending to many other details. He and his staff produced pre-recorded segments featuring scenes of Chicago, as well as Loyola students, faculty and campuses. The scenes are set to music.

The cost of the teleconference is $30,000. Norwood said he hoped to at least break even or possibly make a profit. Each individual site pays for the right to carry the satellite program and then charges individuals an admission fee.

"There's no question that this will enhance the university's prestige and exposure," he said. Teleconferencing has primarily been used by business. Education has just started to take advantage of it. "If it also becomes profitable, we may be doing a lot more."

ILLINOIS MASONIC MEDICAL CENTER SCHOOL OF NURSING

Let our diploma program be your first step to a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing.

1

Begin your education at our hospital-based school, founded in 1901. Our clinically-oriented program offers you hands-on patient care early in your educational process (much earlier than most university programs). And, in addition to your clinical experience, you also will earn approximately 38 hours of credit toward a college degree. When you graduate from our two-and-one quarter year program, you'll be qualified to take the RN Licensure exam; then, you can immediately earn money as a nurse in a variety of professional settings.

Work by day and attend college classes in the evening (or vice versa). In very little time—on the average two years—you could finish requirements for a BSN. This means that step 1 finances step 2! Compare that with four years of expensive classroom work.

Take the first step to a BSN and the exciting career opportunities it offers at the Illinois Masonic Medical Center School of Nursing. For further information, write or call:

Edison School Annual Spelling Bee

Spelling is important to the students at Edison School - so important that 188 boys and girls voluntarily participated in the school's 2nd Annual Spelling Bee which took place during the week of May 20.

Mrs. Lois Fry, 3rd grade teacher, Mrs. Sally Isaacs, 4th grade teacher, Mrs. Anne Edwards, 5th grade teachers, and Mrs. Jann Corday, Special Education teacher challenged the children with words selected from Dolch's List of 2000 Commonest Words for Spelling and Hillerick's - Grade Level Spelling Lists. Words from Science and Social Studies were included as well.

The finalists at each grade level were: 3rd Grade: 1st Place, Elsie Kim; 2nd Place, Elinor Actipis; 3rd Place, George Wu and Katie Danzinger (tie); 4th Grade: 1st Place, Monalisa Dizon; 2nd Place, Jay Bernstein; 3rd Place, Sarah Lion. 5th Grade: 1st Place, Michelle Greene; 2nd Place, Tina John; 3rd Place, Peter Christofylakis.

The 4th and 5th graders ascended to 8th words from an 8th grade list. 3rd graders completed a third grade list and moved upwards into an ungraded selection of words, missing on words - February and citizen.

All of the first place winners admitted that they were nervous during the contest.

Elsie Kim, 3rd grader said, "My mouth just wouldn't open when I was asked to spell the word. I'm a good speller, but many of my classmates came pretty close to winning too. Reading is my favorite subject."

Monalisa Dizon, 4th grader noted, "I didn't think I'd win... the words were hard."

Michelle Greene, 5th grader reflected, "I had a feeling I might come in 2nd or 3rd place because I've always been a good speller... but winning 1st place was a surprise. I was really glad. Here at school, I enjoy lunch most... and then P.E."

Walter Stanlike, Edison principal, pointed out "Children like to be challenged and the Spelling Bee offers a constructive opportunity to do this."

Who are we?

From their beginning in France in 1837, the Holy Cross Fathers were involved in education by forming the mind and heart of youth in Universities, Colleges, High Schools, and Seminaries throughout the world. In June of 1955 the Holy Cross Fathers from their center at Notre Dame University opened a high school in Niles, Illinois.

That beginning in 1955 of 500 freshmen and 60 sophomores has borne much fruit. The school has produced over 7,300 alumni and almost 91% of them have gone on to college. Over 500 alumni of the high school have become alumni of the University of Notre Dame. Notre Dame graduates occupy key positions in all walks of life: Medicine, Law, Business, Industry, and the Church. All have taken their place in society, many in the surrounding local communities, where they have become active citizens. Many also are now sending their sons to Notre Dame.

There have been many changes at Notre Dame since the school opened. However, some things remain the same. Nursing program at IBC receives accreditation

The bachelor of science in nursing program at Illinois Benedictine College, near Lisle, has received accreditation from the National League for Nursing (NLN), announced IBC President Richard C. Becker, Ph.D. This announcement followed the March meeting of the Board of Review of the Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs at the National League for Nursing Headquarters in New York.

Illinois Benedictine's nursing program is specifically designed for nurses who have completed associate degree or diploma programs. It offers upper division nursing courses which focus on the nursing process.

Courses include those dealing with family and community health nursing, nursing research, management and health assessment.

The NLN accreditation is effective immediately and is retroactive for a 12-month period prior to the date of the decision of the board, according to Aloise Anne Zasowski, Ed.D., of the New York NLN office.

Mary Ann Santucci of Winfield is head of the IBC nursing department, which began in the fall of 1980. IBC graduated its first class of nursing students in 1982, and was then eligible to apply for accreditation.

"NLN accreditation is evidence of external evaluation, and enhances the status of a department of nursing," said Mrs. Santucci. "The public and profession regard accreditation as evidence that the school is meeting national criteria of quality education."

A wide variety of clinical agencies are used to give students clinical experiences, including local hospitals, nursing homes, home-health agencies, health departments, adult day care centers and school health services, and private health agencies.

The majority of current IBC nursing students are employed nurses who are part-time students, said Mrs. Santucci. The IBC program offers students the option of taking day or evening courses.

Your child can do better in school. Let us show you how.

CHILDREN aren't all the same. So why should they be expected to learn the same things in the same way from the same teaching program? Unfortunately, in most school classrooms, teachers don't have the time or resources to help each child learn at his own pace in his own way. Here at our Center, we do. We make the program fit the child—not the other way around. First, we'll teach your child how to learn. Then we'll make sure he does. Our Center offers a variety of teaching programs for every grade level. If a child doesn't do his best in one learning program, we simply move him to another on his own level. Until we find the approach that works best for him: the one that brings positive, concrete results. Every child is at the head of the class, because he IS the class. What we do best is help children do their best...one at a time. We work hard to help each child achieve his own personal success. Our certified teachers interact with each child one-on-one, offering encouragement, praise, and motivation to build confidence and self-esteem. In that way, each child is able to learn and progress individually. Free from group pressures and constraints, in an exciting atmosphere where the focus is on teaching one child, your child. What your child learns with us can motivate him for the rest of his life. We begin by testing each child to determine his basic abilities. Then we design a program for him that will enrich those basics and help him advance even further. Our programs in Reading, Writing, and Math stress comprehension, practical application, and future growth. For example, Our Reading Program not only advances basic reading skills, but also increases comprehension and vocabulary and kindles the child's desire to read more. Our Writing Program stimulates creativity while increasing the child's basic grammar, composition, sentence structure, and spelling skills. Our Math Program builds computational skills and teaches problem-solving.

Above all, our programs show the child first-hand that learning is fun. And that the knowledge and skills he builds at our Center can bring him enjoyment and recognition for many years to come. You can help your child make the grade next Fall. You think your child can do better in school, we know he can. Let us show you how. Enroll him in one or more of our basic programs today. We'll enrich his vacation experience and leave him better prepared for the coming school year. You don't have to sign anything; but when you see what our Center does for your child, you'll want to continue his learning enrichment every month of the year. Enroll now. And give your child a new chance at tomorrow!

Bryman graduates enjoy healthy job outlook

The Medical and Dental Assistants who graduate from the Bryman Schools will find their job outlook is excellent. In fact, close to 96 percent of all Bryman graduates will find jobs, according to Mike Sullivan and Frank Jordan, Directors of the Oak Park and Chicago downtown campuses.

"For each of the last three years, over 98 percent of our graduates found jobs. Many were offered a choice of positions, even before finishing the program," said Frank Jordan.

Bryman graduates not only find good jobs fast, but their outlook for future employment is excellent. According to the U.S. Department of Labor, employment opportunities for both medical and dental assistants are expected to grow faster than average for all occupations. And opportunities are expected to continue growing through the mid-1990's. Opportunities will grow along with the nation's growing population, rising real incomes and the increasing availability of medical and dental insurance plans. In addition, more dentists and doctors are relying on assistants in order to make more effective use of their own time.

The seven-month Bryman program teaches students basic medical, office and people skills. Students explore both theory and practical applications with their teachers. Good chairside skills are taught through Bryman's extensive role-playing exercises. Students also enjoy valuable "hands-on" training to help them get the feel of their new career before they start their first job.

work in doctor's and dentist's offices to sharpen their skills.

Classes in the popular Bryman programs start each month. Students may choose day or evening programs. There's financial assistance available for students who need it. And of course, graduating students receive valuable job placement assistance.

There are two Bryman campuses in the Chicago area, at 17 North State Street in the Loop and at 1132 Lake Street in Oak Park. Prospective students are invited to tour the Bryman campuses at no cost or obligation. The Bryman Schools are a part of the National Education Center, the largest system for private training schools in the country.

For more information on career opportunities as Medical and Dental Assistants, please call the Chicago location at 388-4911 or the Oak Park Campus at 383-9360.

know why similar action didn't take place in Niles.

The Niles police lieutenant said in Park Ridge the young people resisted the police and interfered the matter got quite ugly. In Niles the young people were asked to disperse at 11 p.m. and they complied.

As for damages in the area Stankowicz said a chicken wire fence was trampled on. In a second yard a teen was found sleeping. When the police arrived, the homeowner did not want to sign a complaint against the teen. At 2:53 a.m. a teen was taken to the station in an intoxicated state after being found in a yard and his father was contacted and he came to the police station.

After picking up the intoxicated teen, Niles police arrested the owner of the property where the party was held. He was booked for having alcohol served on his premises, released on a $50 bond and will appear in court July 18 at 9 a.m.

The letter-writer listed several other activities which they said went on at the party. Stankowicz said there was no proof what the writer said was true.

Stankowicz said the homeowner has a huge backyard which is alongside seven or eight other homeowners' yards which are at right angles to this elongated yard. He has held several parties and relations with neighbors have not been good.

The police officer said he was satisfied with the way Niles police handled the problem. Unlike the Park Ridge party, there was no arrests and the friction between the teens and Niles police never existed as it did in Park Ridge. He said the party

"In effect this program is resolving a number of problems," said Sheriff Elrod. "We are freeing up valuable bed space in our jails and avoiding the forced-release of more serious offenders with an opportunity to pay their debt to society without losing their jobs and going on the unemployment roles," he added.

Sheriff Elrod also announced the expansion of the program into various local communities and other governmental agencies. Work groups will now be available to local municipalities and other governmental agencies, upon request, on weekends through September.

"We have been offering free fingerprinting for almost four years now," Emrikson said. "We've been doing most of the things mentioned in I-Search, but now we're getting funds for what we've been doing in the past."

Niles will oversee the financial end of the program, with each village paying more than $1,000 to participate. The Niles Village Board last month approved $1,043 to join the program. "The grant must be matched 50 percent with a combination of local money and indirect funding, such as village staff salaries to work on the project," Emrikson explained.

"We plan to purchase micro-computers to correlate all information on children who turn up missing," he said. Although fingerprint and dental records are retained by parents, the names of parents and other identifying information are recorded on the micro-computer, which helps speed up the investigative process.

The police departments joined to form the I-Search unit to meet a grant funding requirement via an intergovernmental agreement.

Emrikson said Niles police officials talked with Morton Grove and Glenview because the three municipalities share the same radio frequency, "but Glenview joined with the Northfield police department."

Lt. John Katsoulas of the Niles police department, who was selected project director of the program, will work with Patricia Borucki, a Morton Grove police officer. According to Katsoulas, the I-Search unit will develop training programs which deal with children (elementary school districts, park districts, etc.). "We also want to get the word out to parents and children as to what to look for to prevent child abduction," he said. Other plans include purchasing equipment and items required to set up a child registry to help locate missing children.

The police departments will distribute safety packets for children containing safety information, photos and fingerprints of children to help locate them if they are abducted.

"In looking toward the future, we hope to purchase a mini-van with trailer, featuring a talking robot to attract youngsters." The robot will give presentations, such as the "Stranger, Danger," program and other information," he said, adding I-Search will be a viable program serving the interests of children all over the state.

Bryman graduates not only find good jobs fast, but their outlook for future employment is excellent. According to the U.S. Department of Labor, employment opportunities for both medical and dental assistants are expected to grow faster than average for all occupations. And opportunities are expected to continue growing through the mid-1990's. Opportunities will grow along with the nation's growing population, rising real incomes and the increasing availability of medical and dental insurance plans. In addition, more dentists and doctors are relying on assistants in order to make more effective use of their own time.

The seven-month Bryman program teaches students basic medical, office and people skills. Students explore both theory and practical applications with their teachers. Good chairside skills are taught through Bryman's extensive role-playing exercises. Students also enjoy valuable "hands-on" training to help them get the feel of their new career before they start their first job.

work in doctor's and dentist's offices to sharpen their skills.

Classes in the popular Bryman programs start each month. Students may choose day or evening programs. There's financial assistance available for students who need it. And of course, graduating students receive valuable job placement assistance.

There are two Bryman campuses in the Chicago area, at 17 North State Street in the Loop and at 1132 Lake Street in Oak Park. Prospective students are invited to tour the Bryman campuses at no cost or obligation. The Bryman Schools are a part of the National Education Center, the largest system for private training schools in the country.

broke up at 11 p.m. The host at the party then policed the area cleaning the refuse which was there.

The letter-writer pointed to Mayor Blase and the police as being derelict in their duties. Blase is a resident in the area and the Anon writer was harsh in condemning Blase and the police.

We weren't there. And for once we don't have an opinion about what happened at the party or about the alleged disturbance in the neighborhood. But it seems to be an unfair rap at Blase and Niles police. Niles police have an excellent record.

From our vantage point 20 blocks away, it seems the police handled a potentially volatile situation with good judgment. Had they made arrests, the 100 party-goers could have turned ugly. And since they complied with the police request to leave at the early 11 p.m. hour, it seems Niles police had the situation under control. Breaking up a teen party at such an early hour seems most unusual. That it was accomplished without any repercussions seems admirable. Niles police should be commended for maintaining control.

Ernest Hemingway considered being able to maintain "grace under pressure" the most admirable of traits. Today, the kids call this "keeping your cool." Niles police measured up to Hemingway of 50 years ago and to today's younger generation.

New program...

Cont'd from Skokie-L'wood P.1 Maywood and 26th & California courthouses). Program participants have been doing tasks that regular custodial employees would not normally have the time to do.

"In effect this program is resolving a number of problems," said Sheriff Elrod. "We are freeing up valuable bed space in our jails and avoiding the forced-release of more serious offenders with an opportunity to pay their debt to society without losing their jobs and going on the unemployment roles," he added.

Sheriff Elrod also announced the expansion of the program into various local communities and other governmental agencies. Work groups will now be available to local municipalities and other governmental agencies, upon request, on weekends through September.

The program is virtually self-supporting from a cost standpoint, according to Sheriff Elrod. He also noted that a high level of productivity has been established since the participants are under the direct supervision of a special group of deputies.

to look for to prevent child abduction," he said. Other plans include purchasing equipment and items required to set up a child registry to help locate missing children.

The police departments will distribute safety packets for children containing safety information, photos and fingerprints of children to help locate them if they are abducted.

"We have been offering free fingerprinting for almost four years now," Emrickson said. "We've been doing most of the things mentioned in I-Search, but now we're getting funds for what we've been doing in the past."

Niles will oversee the financial end of the program, with each village paying more than $1,000 to participate. The Niles Village Board last month approved $1,043 to join the program. "The grant must be matched 50 percent with a combination of local money and indirect funding, such as village staff salaries to work on the project," Emrickson explained.

"We plan to purchase micro-computers to correlate all information on children who turn up missing," he said. Although fingerprint and dental records are retained by parents, the names of parents and other identifying information are recorded on the micro-computer, which helps speed up the investigative process.

The police departments joined to form the I-Search unit to meet a grant funding requirement via an intergovernmental agreement.

Emrickson said Niles police officials talked with Morton Grove and Glenview because the three municipalities share the same radio frequency, "but Glenview joined with the Northfield police department."

Lt. John Katsoulas of the Niles police department, who was selected project director of the program, will work with Patricia Borucki, a Morton Grove police officer. According to Katsoulas, the I-Search unit will develop training programs which deal with children (elementary school districts, park districts, etc.). "We also want to get the word out to parents and children as to what the witness. The suspect was described as 17 or 18-years-old, between 5 ft. 6 in. and 5 ft. 6 in. tall, weighing approximately 160 pounds with dark hair worn in a semi-curly Afro-style. He was wearing a dark jogging suit and a white shirt, according to the witness.

According to Giovannelli, the fire started about 11:30 p.m. and was contained to the organ and choir area near the altar. The offenders removed a large bible and altar cloth and placed the items on the organ to start the fire, he said. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

Police believe some type of accelerant was used to start the fire.

accessibility, asbestos removal, playground refinishing and energy conservation.

Board members suggested the architects proposed date for complete handicapped accessibility at both Stevenson and Gemini schools in 1988 be moved up.

They also questioned whether risks are being taken by scheduling all asbestos removal for 1986. Green said his firm is careful in its choice of contractors to do the work. He said the only buildings "considered time-consuming" are those with "asbestos plaster" work to be done.

Bowen asked Green what would be done with leases in various schools. One school requiring asbestos removal, Ballard, has three tenants including the Niles Branch library and the Morton Grove Hebrew Community School. Board members were not decided when Ballard work should be done but seemed to favor the summer.

Green said the proposed schedule was only a starting point and was flexible.

In another matters, board members approved Bowen's recommendation to place the District's insurance with an "assigned risk" pool due to an increase of $84,000 for a total of $121,400.

out, with adults and children taking turns on the slide," he said.

Bill Hughes, director of parks and recreation, said the main attraction is the 105-foot slide installed in June of 1984. "We saw attendance jump from the 1983 figure of 29,000 to 36,000 at the close of the season (Labor Day) last year," he said. "There is no doubt the slide has become one of the most popular attractions in the park district."

Hughes is predicting the 36,000 figure will be maintained this summer...if Mother Nature cooperates. "We had excellent weather last summer with little rain. Depending on the weather, we are looking forward to another successful year," he said.

The cost of the slide was $37,823. "Park officials never thought building the slide was a gamble. It boosted attendance more than anticipated, and brought in additional revenue by about $15,000, including concession receipts," Hughes said. More than 350 people attended the grand opening of the newly-refurbished pool at the Sports Complex at Ballard Rd. and Cumberland Ave., according to Jim Weides, pool manager.

Weides said the pool came in for its share of attention this year, with repainting of the pool, resurfacing of the patio area, installation of playground equipment and additional landscaping of trees and bushes. "Everyone seemed to be having a good time Saturday, and the adults were especially happy about the new picnic tables set up around the pool area," he said.

also accepted three bids related to this summer's street resurfacing program. The first, for $18,025, was awarded to Barrett Paving Materials, Inc. of Northlake for hot patch mix. The second, for $14,200, was awarded to Allied Asphalt Paving Company in Hillside for cold patch material. The third contract, as required by state law for all projects using motor fuel taxes, was awarded to Professional Service Industries, Inc. in Hillside to test the road patching material.

The board also approved the following purchases... $12,686.24 for K-10 1985 Chevrolet Suburban van from Team Chevrolet, Inc., to be used by the fire department as a utility truck.

$3,790 for a police base station radio from the General Electric Company... $14,636.10 for fire hose and related hardware from Snap Tite Hose, Inc. in Union City, PA.

At the request of Village Administrator Larry Arft, the board also instructed the village attorney, Marty Ashman, to begin condemnation proceedings for the burnt out building at 6916 Lincoln Ave., the former Lord Byron restaurant.

After over a year of discussion with the property owners, said Arft, little has been done to improve the site, "and it is a hazard as it presently stands."

Should the village and restaurant owners not reach an agreement concerning the improvement of the property, a court approved condemnation would give the village the right to tear down the remaining structure, Arft said.

Lastly, the board approved converting the part-time community engineer post into a full-time position beginning next fall at a $36,000 to $40,000 yearly salary.

Requesting the change, Arft explained, "Although we are on schedule with our public improvements program, in recent months several private developments have been delayed because of our inability to review plans, prepare documents and complete other work required so that these projects could move forward on schedule."

"Business is Great", says Frankie D

According to FABULOUS FRANKIE D, his posh Pub, 338 Lawrencewood Shopping Center, is doing more business than he had anticipated. He attributes the fact that he is winning new customers while retaining old ones to his being open at 8 a.m. on Sunday mornings plus his extensive advertising and sales promotions.

One such promotion is serving complimentary food, on Saturdays and Sundays, (while the supply lasts) and the other is reducing ALL UNESCORTED LADIES DRINKS to half price on Wednesday nights from 6 p.m. til 4 a.m.

"Of course, my net profits are in no way keeping up with my increase in gross sales, because I'm spending a lot of money to let people know where I'm at and what we have to offer and I'll continue to do this as long as I can to attract new trade and continue to retain my regular customers."

In my humble opinion, FRANKIE D'S classy type English type Pub has a lot to offer without any "gimmicks" because its friendly confines are spic, span and sanitary. It's atmosphere is casual but comfy - it's the perfect place to play the many amusement machines just for leads of fun and their Super Juice Box has all the NEW hits of NOW and many of the OLD hits of THEN...making dance time any time.

Here's a tip! Something exciting will happen next FRIDAY NITE at FRANKIE D'S - why not drop in and find out...You'll be in for a pleasant surprise...or, the "Old Hootin' Owl," Ed Hanson, aint my name...

An accompanist will be provided, but each singer must bring the sheet music for the number he or she plans to sing. Dancers should dress ap-
