Able-bodied persons who park their cars in parking spaces reserved for the handicapped should be aware that violators face a $50 fine for illegal parking, according to Sgt. James Gerhardt of the Niles Police Department.

Gerhardt has issued about 50 tickets to violators since early December at the Golf Mill, Oak Mill Mall and Golf Glen shopping centers. According to Village Clerk Frank Wagner, Jr., more than 600 citations have been issued by the police department from Jan. 1, 1985 to Jan. 15, 1986. "Most of the violations occur in shopping centers and escalate during inclement weather," he said. "These shoppers want to get as close to the stores as possible." Continued on Page 35

100 residents voice opposition to emission testing center

Zoners deny auto testing station

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The Niles Zoning Board drew applause from more than 100 residents at Monday's meeting, when commissioners unanimously denied special use zoning to allow Systems Control Inc. to establish a vehicle emission testing station at 7438-7450 Waukegan Rd.

Commissioners and residents opposed the facility for a variety of reasons, ranging from pollution problems to increased traffic on Waukegan Rd. and safety problems for children in the neighborhood. In making the motion to deny Continued on Page 35

Nilesite Lynne Zielinski is a special kind of person.

Lynne is a high school teacher. She teaches physics at Glenbrook North. She is also an accomplished pianist. She also performed as a ballet dancer, mastering both arts at the Chicago Conservatory College. She is an alumnus of the Field school in school District 64. She graduated from Maine South. Again, from the University of Colorado. And from Northeastern University. And she is an accomplished artist which she modestly contends is a "gift".

Catch your breath because we're not finished writing about this remarkable young woman. Lynne is also a private pilot. And a hot air balloonist. Each year she's in New Mexico competing in the national hot air balloon competition in the southwest area.

Two years ago Lynne applied to become an astronaut. At the time, NASA told her, despite her math and physics background, she did not have the level of expertness needed to qualify for their program. At that time our space agency said a background in education was not what they were looking for in seeking women astronaut candidates. Continued on Page 34

Assessor's "Reachouts" set for Maine Township

Homeowners in Maine Township can file real estate valuation complaints and seek information about their proposed property assessments at special Saturday sessions scheduled in February, said Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes.

"As a convenience to homeowners, we are providing taxpayer's assistance in townships undergoing reassessment," said Hynes. "This effort, where our staff go into a township on a Saturday morning to talk individually with homeowners, is a program we initiated a few years ago called Project Reachout.

"Homeowners can review their assessments and have any corrections made if necessary," Hynes said.

The Reachout for Maine Township will be 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, Feb. 15, at the Des Plaines Civic Center, 1420 Minor Street, Des Plaines. Continued on Page 35

CHALLENGER TRAGEDY...Pat Feichter, former member of the Niles Zoning Board and a teacher at Maine South, had a personal stake in the space shuttle program and was deeply shocked when he heard about the Challenger disaster.

Few people in the area knew that Feichter had applied for the Teacher In Space competition which was won by teacher-astronaut Christa McAuliffe. Because of his application, Feichter was invited to attend a special educator's lunch conference at Cape Canaveral. He arrived there the week of the scheduled launch...but because of the many delays with the space shuttle's lift-off had to cancel out and return home.

AREA TIDBITS...Niles Historical Society has acquired more memorabilia that will eventually find its way to the Society's new museum on Milwaukee Ave. Among the donations...a pre-Civil War doll stroller and Village of Niles, Maine and Niles township Sidwell maps.

BEAR-MANIA EPILOGUE...Harry Pestine, proxy of the Niles library board, and son, Jason, 13, were among the local fans to attend the Super Bowl game in New Orleans. The treasured duets came from "friends," he said, adding they were "awe-struck" when they found themselves in the first level, first row seats.

They arrived on Thursday...beginning a whirlwind of Super Bowl activities that Bear fans...young and old...dream about. They were special guests at a pre-game buffet luncheon in the stadium (Cajun-Creole food)...attended Mayor Washington's party held in a warehouse on the docks and the NFL Players Assn. reception. Among the guests were Howie Long and Marcus Allen of the Los Angeles Raiders.

The two were also at the Hall of Fame reception and luncheon, with Jason walking away the winner of the Dan Marino football passing contest. Present at the gala were Hall of Famers Pete Elliott, Jack Youngblood, Bart Starr and Roger Staubach. At a party hosted by Steve Sabol...who oversees NFL films...Jason received a VCR Quarterback game from Sabol that retails at $50, Pestine said.

While visiting Bourbon St., the teenager appeared on television with broadcaster Warner Saunders, who introduced him as "the only sober person on Bourbon St." and while in the French Quarter...had photos taken with, or got autographs (on a commemorative football) from Gale Sayers, Dave Wilson, Paul Coffman and Ron Wooten (Patriots).

After the Super Bowl game, father and son managed to get through a bevy of security guards to visit the Bears' locker room...where more autographs were obtained from the jubilant team, including Patriot visitors. Jason was ecstatic when Bear players presented him with the "Chicago Bears Super Bowl" locker sign. The two also attended the post game NFL-sponsored dinner at the Hyatt. One of their prized possessions is a commemorative champagne glass used to toast the winners of Super Bowl.

Pestine said it was "a dream come true for Jason," adding his recreation room is wall-to-wall souvenirs as a reminder of a super Super Bowl experience.

Maine Board hears record revenue requests

A total of 39 requests for $691,592 in federal revenue sharing funds were presented to the Maine Township Board at public hearings Jan. 21 and Jan. 22.

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson said this was the greatest number of requests for funding since 1974 when the township first began participating in the federal program.

"These requests come at a time when Congress is proposing the reduction and possible elimination of revenue sharing, and they underscore the importance the community places on the township to help obtain funding for needed human services," he said.

The board probably will not be able to act on these requests until mid to late spring when more information is available on the amount of federal funds available this year, Halverson said.

The controversy over the installation of satellite dishes in the Village of Niles will remain status quo until the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) passes definitive legislation on the state-of-the-art antenna.

According to Village Attorney Richard Troy, the FCC's recent ruling...which would reduce local powers to regulate the dishes was a "proposed measure" and is under advisement by FCC members.

"We want to wait for a formal ruling and then act accordingly," Troy said.

He noted the National League of Cities is submitting proposals to the FCC concerning regulation of satellite dishes and is asking that the proposed ruling be more specific in language in the event the measure is adopted.

The agency recently ruled if a community has special regulations for satellite dishes, it must show the regulations have a reasonable and clearly defined health, safety or aesthetic objective. "As it now stands, the ruling is ambiguous and open for interpretation," Troy said.

A Niles village law passed in 1983 requires special use permits for installation of satellite dishes. It also restricts the size of residential receiving dishes to "more than three feet but less than 10 feet in diameter."

Niles resident Steve Campbell has the distinction of owning the only legal dish in Niles which was installed in 1980. Other petitioners have failed to receive board approval for "aesthetic" reasons.

Child ID Program

The Niles Police I-SEARCH Unit and volunteers from the Mark Twain Grammar School, combined their talents and fingerprinted and photographed all the students at Mark Twain on Jan. 22 and 23.

According to Niles Police Officer Leon Elsingner, the program ran smoothly because we take the time to train the volunteers and set up the program so it runs like an assembly line. There were women taking photographs, setting up the students for printing, stuffing their Child Information Packets, and some cleaning the students hands after they were printed. We even had mothers serving coffee. Elsingner stated also that Sergeant John Katsolis is coordinating the next school for their Child Identification Program in February at the Washington School. The Niles Police Department's goal is to complete at least three more schools before the end of the school year.

Niles West's Handzel among top ten volunteers

John "Bill" Handzel, Niles West High School's Audio-Visual Coordinator, was selected by North Shore Magazine as one of the area's top ten volunteers of 1985. "It's exciting to be a part of a school and community that cares. I hope that this award will remind people of the need for volunteerism in our society," Handzel said.

A long-time belief in "becoming involved and changing things from within" led Handzel into volunteer work in the inner city as well as in his own community.

Locally, he helped organize and served as grand marshal of the Skokie Independence Day and Memorial Day parades. He has

John "Bill" Handzel

Skokie VFW baseball leagues; he is a member of the Skokie Historical Society; and he has served on Skokie's Zoning Board of Appeals. For two years he served on the Skokie School District 69 Board of Education and he also helped found the Niles West High School Booster Club. At present, he is the executive director of the Niles Township Republican Party. Handzel's most rewarding work by far has been the formation of an on-going effort for the Quilici Booster Youth Service Club, a group that provides scholarships for inner city high school students. Originally formed in tribute to Minnesota Twins player Frank Quilici, whom Handzel had helped through high school, the club has been deeply involved with the since awarded more than 75 scholarships to needy students.

Handzel's teaching career at Niles West has been as eclectic as his volunteer work. During his 25 years of service there, he has taught the full range of social studies courses, consumer education, health, and boys' and girls' physical education. He has been the school's A.V. coordinator for the past three years.

The North Shore's ten Volunteers of 1985 were honored at an awards ceremony held at Neuman Marcus that featured a slide presentation highlighting the activities of the award recipients. Each received an engraved desk clock.

POSTAL WATCH
The Postal Carrier Watch program is designed to provide assurance that in case of an emergency situation in the home help will be called. For participants of this program, the postal carrier is alerted to homes where disabled or ailing senior citizens reside. If mail should accumulate over one day's time, the carrier will alert the Village of Morton Grove's Senior Center who will then call friends or neighbors to determine the whereabouts of the resident. People at risk of falls, dizziness, or heart trouble should consider participating in this free safeguard service. Call the Senior Hot Line at 965-4658 for details.

PRESSURE CHECK
Laurie O'Reilly, geriatric nurse of Morton Grove's Village Hall Senior Center will be taking free blood pressure screenings for residents from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tues. Feb. 11 in the Center. FILING Something new has been added to the 1985 Federal Income Tax Return. It is called "Indexing For Inflation." It changes the filing figures; raises the exemption for each person and increases the standard deduction. A person who was 65 or over before Jan. 1, 1986 gets an extra $1,040 deduction for a total of $2,000. Filing is not necessary if gross income is: a) for a single (65 and over), less than $4,470; b) for a married couple (one spouse over 65), less than $6,660; or c) for a married couple (both 65 and over), less than $7,700.

ENHANCING TAX CHANGES
A review of some of the changes in tax laws include: Individual income tax rates cut by 25 percent, reduced estate and gift taxes, unlimited marital deduction for property that passes to a spouse, special deduction for employed married couples, one-time exclusion of gain on sale of principal residence increased from $100,000 to $125,000 for taxpayers 55 and over, child and dependent care credit, charitable contribution deduction for non-itemizers, increased annual gift tax exclusion from $3,000 to $10,000 per donee ($20,000 with spouse joining in gift), increased federal estate and gift tax exemptions to $400,000 in 1985 and to $500,000 in 1986.

STATE INCOME TAX LIABILITY
A person who is 65 and over with an Adjusted Gross Income (shown on the Federal Return) under $2,000 for 1985 or a married couple both over 65 with Adjusted Gross Income under $4,000 will not need to file a State Income Tax Return. However, if a Federal Return is filed, a State Return must also be filed even though no State tax is owed. In some instances a person may not owe any Federal Income Tax but may need to file a State Income Tax Return. In this case use the Federal Tax Return as a worksheet in order to arrive at the Adjusted Gross Income as the basis for the State Return.

AVOID THE HEADACHE
If information about taxes and filing tax returns are a mystery or a headache, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line and make an appointment to have returns filed by friendly, trained experts at no charge. Morton Grove residents should call for an appointment any Monday, Wednesday, or Friday, now through April 15. Call 965-4658 any weekday morning from 9 a.m. to noon.

AMETHYST

Holding its place as a stone of beauty and power in all the great Greek and Roman Epochs, the Amethyst carries forward its specific aura of goodness and beneficence even to this day. It is traditionally in the Bishop's ring.

Amethyst, as a symbol of our inner serenity, were long felt to be ample safeguards against any form of intoxication or deep unrest. St. Valentine wore one engraved with a cupid. Amethyst rings have been popular with men and women from time immemorial.

Amethyst is the most valued stone in the quartz group. The deep purple of Amethyst is found on a base, pyramids are not well developed, therefore are often found as crystal points.

Amethysts are mined in Uruguay, Brazil, the Urals and Madagascar. As a birthstone its significance is sincerity.

MAMMOGRAPHY

Don't Be Alarmed When Mammography is Recommended

A recommendation that a mammogram be performed does not necessarily mean your physician suspects you have breast cancer. On the contrary, he wants to be sure you don't have it! The value of mammography lies in its ability to detect irregularities in the breast tissue when they are very small, too small to be felt. Unfortunately, breast cancer is not an uncommon disease. However, if a woman is going to develop breast cancer, the earlier it is detected, the better. Many small lesions can be cured without mastectomy. Mammography is a fast simple, x-ray procedure which can be very reassuring.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following guidelines for mammography and examinations:

- Age 20 and older - breast self-examination monthly.
Age 20-40 - a physical breast examination every three years and an initial mammogram between ages 35-40.
Age 40-50 - periodic mammography every year or two as determined by your personal physician's recommendation. Also, an annual physical breast examination.

We Care About You... CHICAGO MEDICAL & DENTAL CENTER 6000 W. TOUHY AVE.

If you have breast masses or there is a history of breast cancer in your family, your physician is likely to recommend mammograms more frequently or at an earlier age. Mammography is a part of the regular annual physical exam for some women. This is because mammography is much more effective at detecting very small cancers than a physician's physical examination.

At the Chicago Medical and Dental Center, your mammogram will be scheduled through a physician's order in a pleasant out-patient surrounding with extended hours for your convenience. The mammogram is interpreted by a board certified radiologist with the result forwarded to your physician. So, don't be alarmed when mammography is recommended. Rather than be alarmed, be reassured that your physician is doing his very best for you. If you have any questions about mammography, call 774-2100

LETTERS to EDITOR

Former candidate stresses importance of local elections

Dear Editor: The primary elections are rapidly approaching. I believe it is important to make the voters aware of the importance of primary elections and especially the races which will determine the course of their party for the next four years, the State Central Committee and the Township or Ward Committee members' races.

The media will spotlight the big ones, contested races for U.S. Senate, state wide contests and Tucker worker irate over NTRRO letter

Dear Editor: An unsigned, vicious hate letter has recently come to my attention. A letter of this type normally deserves no response; however, since the letter was included in an authorized mailing from the Niles Township Regular Republican Organization (NTRRO) I must assume it was written by or with the permission of Patricia Reis Handzel, the NTRRO Committeeman. It is unthinkable that an elected official, or even her consort, would stoop to such gutter tactics.

In this letter she claims that her opponent for the office of Committeeman, Joseph Hedrick, if elected, could not get Republican candidates elected because in the past he was associated with "the Manzie Tucker escapades".

As a member of the Tucker campaign staff I take exception to the phrase "Tucker escapades" and what it implies. I believe the record should be set straight.

Tucker ran against the candidate that Handzel personally endorsed, and by the way, she gave her organization no choice in the endorsement because she did not allow the membership to vote on and approve it. In her literature she pleaded for an all out effort by her organization to defeat Tucker and went so far as to write a vicious letter to the editor against Tucker which ended with the plea that a vote for her candidate "will be a vote of confidence in my administration and Executive Board".

Tucker won the primary in Niles Township with over 55% of the vote. His victory can be attributed to one major fact. The Regular Niles Township Organization is so weak and dissipated that it could not deliver. The Republicans in Niles Township are so disenchanted with the Handzels that they overwhelmingly said No to them.

Tucker received 43% of the total vote in the general election, 10% more of the total vote than the previous Republican who ran with the total support of Committeeman Handzel and the NTRRO. Does this justify the term "Tucker escapade"? I think not.

I am amazed at her choice of words, I am also amazed that she is seeking re-election, since she had already asked the Republicans of the township for a vote of confidence and their response was an overwhelming No.

Preschool programs at Niles Library

The Niles Public Library District's series of free preschool programs for children ages 2-5 years will begin in February with an evening film program. Both the films program and the storytimes are drop-in and do not require registration.

Films for the younger set - children 3-8 years old - have been scheduled for Wednesday evenings, Feb. 19-March 12, from 7-7:30 p.m. Children under five must be accompanied by an adult, and all adults who bring children must remain in the library building. A list of film titles is available at the Main or Branch Libraries.

Toddler Time, for two year olds and an accompanying adult, will be at the Main Library on Tuesdays beginning March 18. The six week sessions are scheduled at 10-10:20 a.m. or 10:30-10:50 a.m. At each session two or three brief stories, songs and fingerplays will be shared with the participants. Preschool Storytime, for children ages 3-5 years, will be held at the Main Library at 10 a.m. or 7 p.m. on Wednesdays March 19 - April 23. Sessions at the Branch Library will be at 10 a.m. Thursdays, March 20 - April 24. These programs are thirty minutes long and include fingerplays, stories and songs. Chinese Feast Rings In Year Of The Tiger

It may look like winter outdoors, but February 9 is the first day of spring in the Chinese calendar. It's New Year's Day, too, marking the first day of the Year of the Tiger, the year 4684 on the Chinese lunar calendar.

In China, as well as across this country, this major holiday will be celebrated with a feast. Begin your New Year with heat-and-serve La Choy Egg Rolls, available in the freezer section of your supermarket. Serve with prepared La Choy Chinese Mustard and La Choy Sweet and Sour Sauce.

As a main dish, La Choy home economists recommend Spicy Chicken and Vegetables over rice noodles. With bright red and green bell peppers and bite-size chicken pieces fried to a golden hue, this entree is as attractive to the eye as it is to the palate.

Spicy Chicken And Vegetables

- SAUCE
- 1/2 cup chicken broth
 - 3 Tablesp. La Choy Soy Sauce
 - 1 Tablesp. dry sherry
 - 1 Tablesp. corn starch
 - 1 tablesp. rice vinegar
 - 1 tablesp. sugar
 - 1/2 tablesp. sesame oil
- CHICKEN AND VEGETABLES
- 2 Tablesp. La Choy Soy Sauce
 - 1 tablesp. corn starch
 - 1 chicken breast, boned, skinned and cut into chunks
 - 1/2 cup vegetable oil
 - 4 dried red chili peppers
 - 3 cloves garlic, minced
 - 1 tablesp. minced fresh ginger
 - 1 (8-oz.) can La Choy Bamboo Shoots, cut into very thin strips
 - 1 green bell pepper, cut into chunks
 - 1 red bell pepper, cut into chunks
 - 1/2 cup sliced green onions

In small bowl, blend together sauce ingredients; set aside. In a medium bowl, combine 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1 teaspoon corn starch and chicken; toss to coat and set aside. In a large skillet or wok, heat 2 tablespoons oil over medium-high heat. Add dried peppers; cook 1 minute. Add chicken and cook until no longer pink; remove chicken and peppers; set aside. Heat remaining oil in skillet. Add garlic and ginger; saute lightly 1 minute. Turn heat to high, add remaining vegetables and stir-fry 2 minutes. Add sauce to vegetable mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in chicken; heat until hot. Serve immediately with La Choy Chow Mein or Rice Noodles. Makes 6 servings.

The discussion of problems and adjustments facing handicapped people will be led by John Youst, a social worker at Lutheran General Hospital.

A-Scip (amputees and spinal-cord injured persons) is co-sponsored by Maine Township and Lutheran General Hospital. It meets on the first Thursday of every month at the Maine Township Town Hall, which is accessible to the handicapped.

The group was organized more than a year ago by Donna Anderson, a paraplegic, who is Maine Township handicapped services coordinator and also a part-time receptionist for the township.

Anderson has coordinated the last two A-Scip meetings in a hospital bed at Lutheran General where she is recovering from hip surgery. She expects to be back, however, for the February meeting.

Cash register stolen from photo store

A register containing about $50 was taken from behind the counter of a photo store in the 9100 block of Milwaukee Ave. on Jan. 31.

According to police, the offender described about 20 years of age; with dark hair and wearing jeans, walked into the store, asked some questions and then left. The front door has a buzzer to alert store personnel when someone comes in. According to the clerks the buzzer did not sound after the alleged offender left.

Police surmise an accomplice hid in the store until the clerks went into a back room...removed the cash register and exited through a rear door.

Investigation revealed footprints in the snow leading away from the open rear door.

Dance floor fight ends with injury

Police responded to a disturbance call at a restaurant in the Dempster Plaza shopping center.

The victim told police he was in a verbal dispute with another patron near the dance floor. Several people then jumped on him and began striking him on the head and was subsequently thrown out the door.

Police received a different version from two doormen, who said they broke up a fight between the victim and a patron. The victim was then forcibly removed from the restaurant.

Auto break-in

A resident in the 8100 block of Ozark told police Feb. 1 someone gained entry to his car parked on the street.

Taken was a radio and tape player and four wheel hubcaps. Value of the items is unknown.

the dance floor by the doorman and escorted to the door where he hit his head on the moulding.

After treatment at Lutheran General Hospital, the victim told police he did not know who struck him.

Good Sports??

The manager of a store in the 8700 block of Dempster St. told police (Jan. 26) men attempted to leave after taking a Bears display poster and a plastic drinking mug which were not for sale.

After a clerk failed to stop the offenders, the victim and two witnesses chased the men to the car. They backed off when one of the men said he would knock the victim's "block off" and made other threats before driving out of the parking lot.

Eat and run theft

The manager of a restaurant at Golf Glen shopping center told police Jan. 31 that three patrons ran up a food and drink tab totaling $59.22 and attempted to leave without paying the bill.

Police said one of the offenders left a Visa card when the manager threatened to call the police. A check revealed the Visa card was stolen and will be returned to the bank, police said.

Drunk driver arrested

A 71-year-old Des Plaines man was arrested for drunk driving, driving on the wrong side of the road and a revoked license.

Police observed the offender making a left turn westbound on Ballard from northbound Milwaukee Ave. He then proceeded to drive in the east lane of Ballard while going west until he was stopped in the 8300 block of that street.

Police detected an odor of alcohol on his breath and that he had difficulty standing.

He was released after posting $3,000 bond and assigned a Feb. court date.

Auto theft

A Niles resident reported Feb. 1 that someone broke the driver's door window while parked in the Golf Glen theater parking lot.

Taken was a radar detector valued at $200.

Persistent thief gains entry

A homeowner in the 8200 block of Octavia St. reported Jan. 28 her home was broken into between 12:30 p.m. and 3:15 p.m. on Jan. 28.

According to police reports, the offender unsuccessfully tried to gain entry by breaking the glass in a back door, reaching inside with a tool and attempting to pry the wood around the dead bolt. The offender subsequently broke a basement window to get into the house and ransacked three bedrooms.

The victim will submit a list of missing items to police.

Egg thrower

A homeowner in the 9800 block of Lauren Lane told police Jan. 28 someone threw eggs at several windows of her residence.

A similar incident occurred in the past, police said. A special watch has been requested.

Shoplifter assaults security agent

A security agent for a toy store in the 9500 block of Milwaukee Ave. observed a woman remove a red jogging suit and when she walked to the checkout counter, the offender no longer had the article.

When the agent asked to look in her purse, she fled the store into the parking lot. He attempted to stop her from getting into the car, but she punched the agent in the face.

The agent wishes to sign a complaint if the offender is apprehended.

Safe driving hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Reckless drivers who dart in and out of traffic to save time risk being late by causing an accident.

Before changing lanes or turning, be sure no one is in your blind spot (the areas behind you that cannot be seen in your side and rearview mirrors). Glance back to make sure your blind spot is clear, and use your turn signal.

Before making a right turn, look for traffic behind you and on your right. Use your turn signal and move into the right-hand lane well in advance of the intersection. Signal for the turn at least 100 feet (about six car lengths) before the turn, and slow down.

When your turn right, do not swing wide into another lane of traffic. A right turn must be completed into the right-hand lane of the street you are entering.

The only exception to this rule is for buses, tractor-trailer trucks and other oversized vehicles that must make a wider turn. Car drivers should be aware that trucks and buses can use the left-hand lane to turn right.

Before making a left turn, follow the same traffic safety procedures used in making a right turn. The left turn lane must be used if one is provided, and an adjoining lane may be used if permitted by posted signs or arrows. A left turn may be completed into any lane that is lawfully open to you.

Once a turn is completed in either direction, use your turn signals before changing lanes.

YOUR REAL ESTATE QUESTIONS ANSWERED
Kay Quinlan
 Lifetime Million Dollar Saleswoman

QUESTION:
 I want to buy a home. How can I find out how much money the bank will loan me?

ANSWER:
 Mortgage lenders use specified guidelines or ratios based on your income and debts to help them determine how much of a mortgage you can afford. Important factors they consider include: your total gross income, long term debts, amount of down payment, and assets you may have. In addition, the property in question will be appraised by the lender, since both the buyer and house must meet their standards.

Since I know the bank's requirements, one of my first responsibilities is to help you determine what price range property you can afford. If the lender will not give you the mortgage you need, neither you or the seller will be happy.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Here's a surprising basketball oddity. Although the Boston Celtics have won the championship of the National Basketball Association a record 15 times, they've NEVER had a player who led the league in scoring in ANY year in their history. Unbelievable, but true.

Did you know that when basketball was invented, there were NINE players instead of five on each team. In those beginning years, each team had on the court three forwards, three centers and three guards instead of today's two forwards, one center and two guards.

Here's an amazing fact. Outfielder Lonnie Smith has become an incredible good luck charm in big league baseball. In 1980, Smith joined the Philadelphia Phillies on a full-time basis and they won the pennant. In 1982 he was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals and THEY won the pennant. In 1985 he was traded to the Kansas City Royals and THEY won the pennant!

Ranger Pee Wees undefeated

The Niles Park District Ranger Pee Wee Team rolled to its seventh straight victory without a loss by trouncing Wilmette #2 by a score of 6-1.

The Rangers have trailed only twice all year and have allowed just 13 goals while banging home 39 goals themselves and taking a strong hold on first place in the Pee Wee Division of the North Shore Hockey League.

Co-coaches Jim and Rich Buhke's team have gotten outstanding goal tending from Eric Jesse who has 3 shutouts, while Tim Migon leads all scorers with 6 goals, 14 assists for 20 points. Maine East's Strazzante steals the show

Co-Captain Lisa Strazzante was really "on" when it counted, as she scored her highest All-Around total of the season, as well as 1st on beam, 2nd on vault, and 3rd on floor exercise against Evanston. Coach Betty Axelson was excited about the Jr's outstanding performances on every event and especially on beam where she was one of the few gymnasts who stayed on the beam. However, Axelson was disappointed in the 8.45 beam score. "Lisa did not just stay on the beam; she executed all but one skill extremely well and worked with such beautiful style that the score was not reflective of the high quality of the routine." Lisa's floor routine improved in her first tumbling pass and her vault was also much cleaner. And her uneven bars routine included a handstand that helped improve the difficulty level, so Strazzante is now certainly going to be a strong contender in every event as the big meets towards the end of the season get closer.

Teammate Felicia Patt had a high floor score of 9.2 and co-capt. Marsha Gersfield had an 8.4 on vault, and Soph. Linda Giannakopoulos scored an 8.0 in that event as well. The final team score was disappointing for the Demons, as they lost by 2.5 points, but the freshmen rallied to beat the Evanston Wildkits 49.6 to 32 points. Leading scorers for the freshmen Demons on vault were Carol Jurica with a 7.7 and Judy Lin with a 7.3; on bars, Elise Garber scored a 5.0 Judy Lin a 6.0. Then on beam, Monica Demel had a 4.8, Regina Bacci a 5.9, and Judy Lin scored 6.8 on a well-executed routine. On Floor Ex, Jeannie Lussem and Tracy Hill competed, along with Jurica and Garber. Freshman Lori Lenicione competed All-Around at the JV level with a high score of 7.2 on her vault. Stephanie Kavenow also competed on beam for the JV team, and freshman Ilana Stone could have helped the JV team score, but was moved up to Varsity on vault where she scored a 7.6.

The Maine East gymnastics team will send two girls in each event to the Niles West Invite on Jan. 25, where 34 teams compete their best gymnasts. Then the Demons host New Trier in their last home meet of the season on Tuesday, Jan. 28.

not only have come up with more than a dozen power play goals, the penalty killing team has killed off 20 straight penalties without being scored on this season.

The season has been far from a cakewalk though, as 3 games have been decided by 1 goal and earlier in the season Brian Troch scored with 1 second left to defeat host Glenview 1.

As with all good teams the Ranger Pee Wees have their leaders but the team is only as good as the supporting cast. Players such as left wings Bill Rourke, Mark Kowachek and Tim Spillman, right wings like Alex Zachow, Vince Zambuto and Keith Brand and defencemen Mike Jesse, Jim Fitzgerald, Brett Sukenik, Shawn Weimer and Peter Wisniewski seem to work so well with each other that they have turned into not only a winning team but a team that wins together.

Northwest Real Estate Board's Crippled Children Benefit

The Northwest Real Estate Board sponsors several charity functions each year. Early in 1985, the Board held its January "Open Your Heart Night," a benefit dinner to help offset the staggering medical bills incurred by one of the families on the Northwest Side. In March, the Sales Council hosted its annual "St. Joseph Table," and donated the profits to the Villa Scalabrini Home for the Aged. In September, the Sales Council's annual "Charity Skating Party" helped raise needed funds for the New Horizon Center for the Developmentally Disabled.

September also found the NWREB Officers and Directors endorsing a membership drive to benefit the Illinois Chapter of the Citizens Utility Board, the consumer-advocate organization which monitors rate-hikes by the utility companies, and which sponsors pro-consumer legislation in Chicago and Springfield. In November, the Board donated 75 tickets for a Chicago Sting soccer game to a Near-Northwest Side charity organization.

Also in November - and throughout December - the Northwest Board joined with the United States Marines to help guarantee the success of their annual "Toys For Tots" campaign, with dozens of member-offices acting as local drop-off points for toys collected for needy Chicagoland children.

This year during the weekend of January 18th and 19th - NWREB volunteers participated as telephone-pledge-processors in the United Cerebral Palsy Telethon downtown, and later presented a check to the Chicago Chapter of the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

The next scheduled "charity event" for this year will take place on Friday, March 21st. On that afternoon, the NWREB Sales Council will again sponsor their annual "St. Joseph Day Table," a wonderful luncheon famous for its delicious food and various ethnic cuisine. The luncheon will begin at 12 noon and will be held at the Lido Restaurant, 5504 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Chicago. The proceeds from this event will be donated to the Chicago Unit of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Shriners Hospitals are open to children from infancy up until their 18th birthday where treatment at another facility would place an undue financial burden on the family. There is no charge to the patient, parent or guardian for any care received at a Shriners Hospital. This includes all outpatient and inpatient care, diagnostic services, braces, artificial limbs, and therapy.

One of twenty-one Shriners Hospitals in the United States, Mexico and Canada, the Chicago Unit-located at 2211 N. Oak Park Ave.-is a sixty-bed facility which also contains clinical, research and biomedical engineering laboratories. Annually, there are approximately 1,100 admissions, 550 operations, 1,900 new examinations and 13,000 outpatient visits. The Chicago Unit has more than 8,000 patients on its active file.

Community members interested in purchasing tickets to this benefit affair may visit the Northwest Real Estate Board office, located at 5946 N. Milwaukee, or telephone 792-1340.

Comprised of approximately 2,500 members representing some 50 local offices, the Northwest Real Estate Board has provided continuous service to the community since May, 1924.

Commissioner Hansen announces road improvements

Commissioner Carl R. Hansen (R. Mt. Prospect) of the Cook County Board has announced the Board's appropriation of $1,100,000 additional funding for the improvement of Mt. Prospect Road from Touhy Ave. to Oakton St. in the City of Des Plaines and unincorporated Elk Grove Township.

This project will consist of widening and reconstructing the existing two-lane pavement to four lanes, including grading, paving, drainage facilities, curbs and gutters, traffic signals, railroad crossing adjustments, and other necessary improvements.

An earlier funding of $3,500,000 was passed back in 1977. Additional funds are required to cover the extensive amount of railroad crossing work, primarily due to the installation of rubberized crossing and signal modifications, as well as channelization work on Mt. Prospect Rd., north and south of Touhy.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale

The Illinois Prairie Girl Scouts will soon be highly visible, as they begin their annual American tradition, the Girl Scout Cookie Sale. Harriet Sarlo of Des Plaines leads the effort, which earns money for troop projects and helps fund the Council budget.

DAR exhibit in DP library

The Twenty-first Star Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution is sponsoring an exhibit in the Des Plaines Library during the month of February in observance of American History Month. The exhibit consists of posters that were drawn by students of St. Stephen's School of Des Plaines last year, and submitted to the National Society when it sponsored a nation-wide contest to find a new patriotic design for its posters and stickers to commemorate February as American History Month.

Steven Zagar's design for the sticker was chosen by the National Society as the winning entry. He and three honorable mention entries: Karen Ranachowski, Mark Gadowski, and Steven Jakubczak were honored at a school assembly last May, when they were presented with certificates and monetary awards. The new sticker and poster will be included in the display. The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution uses these materials for displays in conjunction with their programs.

Hossfeld questions Sutker's 'many hats'

Fred Hossfeld, a candidate running against Calvin Sutker for the Niles Township Democratic Committeeman's seat this March, would like to know, "How can one man wear so many hats and still do the job right?"

Cal Sutker not only holds the position as present committeeman, but also holds a State Representative seat, is a committeeman for the 9th Congressional District, a Chairman of the Steering Committee of the State Democratic party, and is a practicing lawyer.

"One man, one hat, one job" is Fred's slogan, believing that in order to do a job right, concentrate on doing that job. And that is representing the people of Niles Township.

Hossfeld's goals, when elected, are:

- To be sure all political funds are accounted for, and call for a state audit to account for any that may be mis-spent.

"To provide help and guidance to the young interested in politics. To ask for, and get the support from our elected officials. And most importantly, help supporters get what they should have gotten years ago...Honest Leadership!!"

Vote Fred Hossfeld for Niles Township Democratic Committeeman, March 18. One man, who wears one hat, and does one job. Fred Hossfeld

Unions salute Senator Dudyecz

Posing for photographers with the Senator are: (l-r): Martin Holland, president of the Chicago Firefighters Union; John Dineen, president of the Fraternal Order of Police; Senator Dudyecz; Robert Gibson, president of the Illinois State AFL-CIO.

Illinois State Senator Walter Dudyecz (R-7) was saluted recently by Chicago's union leaders for his successful sponsorship of legislation granting collective bargaining rights to police officers and firefighters. The new law H.B. 1529, signed by Governor Thompson on Dec. 10, 1985, became effective on Jan. 1, 1986.

Upon presenting the award, Fraternal Order of Police president John Dineen cited Dudyecz for his "undaunted efforts which resulted in the successful passage of Collective Bargaining Rights for police officers and firefighters throughout the State of Illinois."

Senator Dudyecz is currently a Chicago Police Detective on leave of absence. State Representative Roger McAuliffe, another Chicago police officer, was sponsor of the bill in the Illinois House.

Chicago union leaders met recently to present an award to Illinois State Senator Walter W. Dudyecz (R-7) for his efforts in passing Public Employee Collective Bargaining.

Lou Black campaign schedules fundraiser

Citizen's Committee for Louis Black, Democratic candidate for State Representative in the 56th District, is holding a fund raiser on Saturday, Feb. 15 from 7-9 p.m., at King Arthur's Pub, 200 N. La Salle St., Chicago. Contact Black's Headquarters at 674-5466 for details.

Black, serving as Niles Township Clerk for 13 years, and the 1982 Democratic candidate for State Senator, has acquired a reputation as a government official who is fiscally responsible. He is now considered an expert of Township government.

He is battling Calvin Sutker for the 56th District State Representative's seat (one of the five of Sutker's jobs). Black says, "Bossism of old politics is gone. Let the people choose who they want."

Hirsch: GOP commissioners vote a conflict of interest

Gordon Scott Hirsch disclosed that the Republican party has required persons to pay money to the party before they can be sponsored for Circuit Court Judgeships.

In reacting to Monday's 13-4 vote of the County Board rejecting a non-binding referendum on merit selection of judges, the suburban Republican County Board candidate stated that "support from only 3 or more of the organization Republican Commissioners could have placed the issue on the ballot."

According to Hirsch, the Republican party Commissioners require their suburban judicial candidates to pay the party $25,000. For the March 18 Primary, the Suburban Republican Party chairman, who also serves as a committeeman and county commissioner, refused to file nominating petitions for any judicial candidates who did not pay the required funds to him by the Monday prior to the first date for filing nominating petitions.

Hirsch charged that the $100,000 collected from four GOP suburban judicial candidates will be used in campaigns which include Republican County Commissioner.

Hirsch challenges the GOP leaders to set an example by returning the $100,000 received and actively support merit selection of judges proposals before the County Board of Commissioners at their upcoming meeting.

Cook County Democrats endorse Przybylo candidacy

Andy Przybylo, Niles restaurateur, has been selected by the Cook County Democratic Party as a candidate for a suburban seat on the Cook County Board of Commissioners in the March 18 Democratic Primary. Przybylo, 34, is the general manager of Przybylo's White Eagle Restaurant and Banquets, the largest independent banquet facility in Cook County.

While Democrats traditionally fare poorly in suburban Cook County elections, Przybylo is optimistic about his chances. "The improving showing of Democratic candidates in the suburbs is sure evidence that the Democratic Party is on the upswing in suburban Cook County, but I don't expect people to vote for me strictly because of a party label. I think voters are more sophisticated than that. Issues determine how people vote more than do party affiliations," Przybylo explained. The issues Andy sees as the most important in the campaign include government accountability and keeping business and its related jobs and tax base in the area. "Cook County residents, especially those in the suburbs do not view the Cook County Board as a level of government that affects them. But nothing could be further from the truth," Przybylo said, noting the Cook County budget of nearly $1 billion. "This body collects and spends a large percentage of our tax dollars, but its structure does not allow it to be held accountable for its actions. What we need is a members to run for office in a specific district rather than at large. That way the public would know who to blame if things go wrong."

Referring to the increasing number of businesses leaving Cook County, Przybylo asked, "Are we doing enough to keep business in this area? Have we explored all the options open to us - from tax incentives to specialized training programs? I

Patients learn self-management at Northside Diabetes Center

Many diabetics can be taught to manage their disease very effectively, with a minimum of medical intervention.

However, this is possible only if the diabetic first receives an appropriate medical evaluation and sound education, according to Dr. Charles H. Schikman, director of Bethesda Hospital's Northside Diabetes Center at 2451 W. Howard St. in Chicago.

Reviewing the Center's first year of service to the community, Dr. Schikman explained: "Some, but not all of our adult diabetic patients have become free of insulin injections through proper diet, weight reduction and exercise. Insulin dependent diabetes which strikes mainly at the young is incurable, but it is manageable."

He emphasized that many diabetic patients have avoided hospitalization or surgery as a result of their participation in the Center's program.

"Diabetes is one of the three major killing diseases, after heart disease and cancer," Dr. Schikman said, adding, "Some 12 million Americans have the disease while another five million are diabetic and are unaware of it."

The Northside Diabetes Center was the first comprehensive Chicago area outpatient facility for diabetics when it was started a year ago, according to Dr. Schikman. He emphasized the Center's multi-disciplinary approach to patient care. A team consisting of registered nurse educators, clinical dietitians, physical therapists and social workers assist physicians who specialize in the disease, Dr. Schikman declared.

"We first evaluate patients

with a history and physical examination and look for complications," Dr. Schikman said. "We then schedule all-day classes three days in a row to teach patients effective management of their condition so they can lead normal productive lives."

He described the two types of diabetes. Type I afflicts children and young adults. It requires lifelong daily insulin shots. Its warning signs are frequent urination, unusual thirst, rapid weight loss with fatigue, nausea and extreme hunger.

The majority of diabetics have Type 2 diabetes. It strikes people over 40 and is called non-insulin dependent or mature diabetes. Its warning signs may include those of Type 1 as well as excessive weight, blurred vision or a change in vision, tingling or numbness in the feet or legs, frequent skin rashes or infections and slow healing of cuts and bruises.

Diabetes complications can lead to heart attacks, kidney disease, blindness, impotence in men, yeast infections in women, gangrene and death.

"The goal of diabetes management," said Dr. Schikman, "is to keep blood sugar down. That is why diet and exercise, and proper medication, are important. We teach people to eat foods that reduce their blood sugar levels and to exercise to help get rid of excess sugar."

He added: "We teach many patients to use home glucose monitoring so they can check their own blood sugar level and manage their disease more effectively by applying the medication, dietary and exercise technique they have been taught."

Dr. Schikman pointed out that physicians at the Center work in conjunction with the patient's own doctor. When the patient completes the Northside Diabetes program a full report is sent to his or her physician. The Center refers patients without their own doctor to a qualified physician if they request. For additional information about the Northside Diabetes Center or to arrange for a visit, call 761-6690.

Therapy Group for Laryngectomees

Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California Ave., will hold a weekly therapy group for laryngectomee patients beginning Thursday, Feb. 13.

The hour-long sessions, which will be held every Thursday at 11 a.m., are for laryngectomees who have some basic esophageal speaking skill and who wish to improve skills in that area. A laryngectomee is a person whose larynx has been surgically removed.

"The group will be limited to five," according to Sheila Derman, Swedish Covenant Hospital speech pathologist who will conduct the sessions. "We feel that the group will provide an excellent opportunity for laryngectomees to improve esophageal communication in a supportive and stimulating environment."

For further information or to enroll in the group, contact Sheila Derman, 878-8200, Ext. 5305.

OCC Administrator chosen for leaders project

Mary Mittler, assistant vice president for Educational Services at Oakton Community College and chief administrator at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie, has been chosen to participate in an international leadership training program for two-year college women administrators.

The "Leaders Project" is designed to help women improve the skills they need to assume major decision-making roles in two-year institutions. The program includes instruction and practice in supervisory and human relations skills, finance and budgeting, employee relations and labor management skills.

During the six-month project, which runs through June, participants are paired with mentors at their colleges to work on a research project that will aid their institution. Participation in regional and national workshops also is included.

The 160 participants were chosen for their interest in advancement in two-year college administration and the quality of their proposed project to develop new skills and benefit their institutions.

The project is sponsored by the league for Innovation in Community Colleges, a consortium of community college districts in the United States and Canada, and by the American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges.

Notre Dame science selected for IEA study

The science department at Notre Dame High School for Boys, 7655 Dempster, Niles, has been selected as one of approximately 700 schools in the United States to participate in the Second IEA Science Study.

The U.S. is participating with twenty-five other countries in the study. Research in the U.S. is being coordinated by Columbia University with support from the National Science Foundation.

The Second International or IEA Science Study, sponsored by the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement (IEA) is designed to gather empirical data about the status of international science achievement on the elementary and secondary levels. Although each nation will be responsible for conducting its own study, core items that will appear in each version of the test will facilitate cross-cultural comparisons. The importance of an international study is that it allows nations to benefit from each other's knowledge and experience. It is the belief of the IEA that such a collaboration will result in more effective science education programs worldwide. Besides the benefits achieved on the international level, the United States will have the opportunity to determine the status of science education in this country. The results will also determine how the U.S. compares to other nations in science achievement.

During the 1969-70 school year, the First International Science Study (FISS) was conducted with 5th and 9th grade students, 12th grade physics students, and 12th grade students who were not taking any science classes. The first phase of the SISS was conducted during the 1982-83 school year and focused on the same grade levels tested during the FISS. Phase 2 of the SISS, which will be conducted during the 1985-86 school year, is the next stage of IEA's on-going study of science education. It will also study grades 5 and 9 but will involve more extensive testing in the secondary schools; students taking first year biology and chemistry as well as students taking advanced science courses such as second year biology, chemistry, and physics will be tested.

The survey instruments for Phase 2 of SISS will include a core test that is designed to measure science achievement at each of the grade level populations. In addition to the core test, students at the 5th and 9th grade levels will also take a process test that measures ability by allowing students to participate in "hands on," laboratory-type exercises; and students at the 10th, 11th, and 12th grade levels will be tested in mathematics and word knowledge and will be asked questions about their home environment, their attitudes toward school in general and science in particular, and their perceptions of the science learning experience. Students will be tested in two sessions, each approximately 45 minutes in length. Notre Dame will participate in the 1st year (sophomore) Biology study.

ND students attend conference

Two senior students from Notre Dame High School for Boys, Mike Coty, N. Austin, Chicago, and Pat Cribben, N. Natchez, Chicago, attended a press conference on Halley's Comet sponsored by Marshall Field's January 11.

The conference opened with a briefing on Halley's Comet by Mr. Larry Ciupik, astronomer at Adler Planetarium. It was followed by a personal appearance by television and movie personality William Shatner who held an extended question and answer period. He has recently narrated a video tape on Halley's Comet.

The agency suggested she gain work experience in a corporation and then re-apply.

Last year, when President Reagan suggested a school teacher become the civilian representative on a shuttle flight, Lynne applied. Of the 10,000 candidates nationwide and 500 in Illinois, Lynne was one of the ten Illinois finalists.

Ms. Zielinski said she sent in a 12 page application January 31, 1985, and was chosen one of the final ten in Illinois. She went down to Springfield for a personal interview along with six other Chicago applicants and three downstate candidates. The two successful Illinois people were from downstate.

Lynne said the interviews were "pretty tough". She said they "dug deep" into her personal background and were particularly interested in her philosophical points of view. She noted when the ten semifinalists were chosen in Washington, D.C., they underwent extensive physical and psychiatric examinations.

Lynne has great respect for the NASA program. She thought NASA was very reliable and contended the shuttle explosion was a "fluke". She felt the U.S. space program is "terrific" and every precaution is taken. She noted the recent eight-time delays and cancellations the agency undertook before allowing this last flight to take place. She emphasized the shuttle program will continue and felt this recent tragedy was a "small setback" in America's space program schedule.

Lynne emphasized she couldn't understand the controversy concerning the sending of civilians into space with the astronauts. She felt anyone going through an astronaut program was an astronaut.

Village officials will take a wait-and-see attitude on a FCC ruling, which is expected to be finalized in about four months. "I really don't think the ruling will affect the village, and I don't anticipate any change in the code," Troy said.

The choice of Christa McAuliffe as the teacher candidate to go into space was, in Lynne's mind, a perfect choice. She believed NASA was looking for a "run-of-the-mill average teacher" to join in the shuttle program. Ms. McAuliffe came from a small town. She was married. She had two children. And she was a history teacher rather than a more specialized teacher. Zielinski thought she was the ideal candidate.

In our talk with Lynne she was very laid back and quite modest. She said she was not an exceptional high school student, only being in the upper half of her Maine South class. And while she didn't downplay her artistic accomplishments she said she felt her artist background "is a gift". However, her excitement level rose quickly when she spoke about ballooning. She waxed about soft breezes and moments of quietude when she described what it is like ballooning up, up and away. She said aside from the short burst from the burner at takeoff, the ride is most serene as the wind blows you gently thru the air. She described the ride like riding in an elevator.

We've known Lynne's Dad, Ed, for 25 years. He owns Better Kitchens on Milwaukee Avenue. His son is an architect and a designer.

This 29 year old lady admired astronaut Judith Resnik and thought she and Resnik had much in common, both intellectually and artistically.

Lynne is one of America's All American daughters who reflects the well-being of a good family.

And she is a lady right here in Niles who has the "Right Stuff".

Special needs Career Night

Maine Township High School District 207 is co-sponsoring "Future Directions," a program to outline the opportunities that are available after high school for special education students, on Tuesday, March 4. The regionally sponsored program will be held at New Trier Township High School, 385 Winnetka Ave., Winnetka, from 7-9 p.m. Other sponsoring districts are Evanston Township and Northfield Township.

Representatives from colleges, trade schools, businesses, and other resources including sheltered workshops, job centers, and skilled nursing facilities will be available to answer questions concerning work, qualifications, training, requirements, conditions, future outlook, advancement and where to find additional information.

"Future Directions" is designed to assist special education students and their parents with post high school planning. For information, students or parents should call 446-7000, Ext. 406.

a tax free stipend of $2.20 an hour, travel reimbursement, meal allowances, an annual physical examination and accident and liability insurance. Senior Companions are able to enjoy "the emotionally rewarding experiences of volunteering," Ms. Rawson said.

The program is 75% funded by Action, a federal agency, which sponsors 80 similar programs across the nation. In Cook County the United Way and area townships contribute additional operating funds, Ms. Rawson said. Family Care Services works with local agencies such as the Skokie Office of Human Services and Family Counseling Services of Evanston and Skokie Valley as volunteer stations to supervise the work of the Senior Companions, she indicated.

After the initial orientation and training, the volunteers continue to meet twice each month with staff members of Family Care Services and the local agencies. One meeting is used to discuss the clients and their problems so the Companions can be of more help, and the second offers additional training on topics ranging from Alzheimer's disease to Social Security Benefits.

At present, 68 Senior Companion positions are funded throughout suburban Cook County, according to Ms. Rawson. "We can always use more companions," said Ms. Rawson, "especially in the northern suburbs where we have some difficulty recruiting individuals for this program." She suggested that interested persons call her at 427-8790. Persons interested in receiving the service should call the Skokie Office of Human Services and speak to Ms. Eve Stone (674-6500) or Family Counseling Services of Evanston and Skokie Valley (328-2404).

The program, now in its ninth year, offers an economical solution to a growing social problem, Ms. Rawson said. "There are more and more Americans living into their 80's and 90's," she explained, "and this causes a financial and economic strain on families, who are already caring for their children and possibly grandchildren. There is no doubt we keep a lot of elderly people out of nursing homes with this program," she said, adding that "institutionalization is a much more costly solution."

But the biggest plus, she said, is the special companionship that comes to the elderly when someone in their own age group is helping them out.

Congress is talking about increasing that to a 30 to 40 percent cutback this year," Halvorson said.

In the past our local congressmen have played an important role in supporting general revenue sharing. We can only hope they will consider the community's needs during the upcoming discussions of the program."

Halvorson said, "All of the petitioning groups perform worthwhile services for Maine Township residents and we will weigh their requests very carefully to maximize every revenue sharing dollar we get."

OCC opens Conference Center

Oakton Community College marked the grand opening of its Business Conference Center on February 4 with a reception hosted by the OCC Educational Foundation, an organization incorporated in 1977 to fund leaders of area business and industry together to assist Oakton in broadening opportunities and services for the community's own people.

Ray Hartstein, founding and current Oakton Board of Trustees chairman, says the opening of the College's Business Conference Center marks the realization of a goal set when Oakton opened its doors in 1970.

"Working with business and industry has been one emphasis of the College over the years," he said. "With the opening of the Business Conference Center, we're able to provide an excellent learning environment for the people who make up the business and industry in our community. We're always seeking new avenues for better serving the community, and this Business Conference Center provides a needed facility for business and industry."

The Business Conference Center, located on the College's Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf rd., has been designed to meet the training and workshop needs of groups as large as 50 or as small as 10. Facing a small lake on a registration conferences. North principal Tom Giles opens the evening with an introduction of administrative staff and of the Niles North orchestra, playing a musical interlude under the direction of Mr. Arnold Sklar.

Future freshmen are then given a map of the school, and an hour to view mini-demonstrations of their choice. In addition to elective presentations, of which clothing, electronics, and drafting are but a few, the option for directors of instruction to answer questions exists.

During the last 45 minutes of the evening, incoming students and their parents meet in small groups with counselors. Here, each of Niles North's seven counselors answers pertinent questions regarding normal course load, graduation requirements, weighting of grades, and other predictable topics of concern. This final segment allows time for students and parents to set up individual conference times for registration, which occurs between February 11 and the deadline, February 21.

Dr. Romyne Baker, Director of Student Services and coordinator of this program, anticipates the evening to be "a good opportunity for students to begin familiarizing themselves with their new school and the people who work there. It also allows students to begin the critical process of registration."

Incoming Student/Parent Night begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Niles North High School Auditorium, 9900 N. Lawler ave. Skokie, just west of the Old Orchard Shopping Center. Parking is available in any of the school's lots.

William von Jentzen, project manager for the firm, proposed constructing a 111 by 30 foot building on the approximately two-acre site in a "park-like setting." The facility will have five bays with 170 foot long lanes to accommodate queuing of cars. Two driveways would be located on Kaukegan Rd. The parking area would accommodate 25 cars, including those of six employees and two state inspectors.

The facility, he said, would be closed on Sunday and Monday. Hours of operation Tuesday through Friday would be 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturday, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

He noted the testing of exhaust systems with sophisticated equipment would be a "silent operation" and take two minutes, adding 10 cars could line up in each of the five lanes. He projected that 1,135 cars would go through the facility a day at "maximum impact" and there would be no pollutant problems from the operation.

Traffic expert Gerald Salzman said the figure was "over-designed" by the state. "It would be about half that figure on a normal day. Studies show fewer cars are generated at peak hours, with the majority of cars coming in at mid-day," he said. "The facility would not generate additional traffic on Waukegan Rd."

The Business Conference Center will be used for workshops and seminars sponsored by Oakton's Institute for Business and Professional Development. It also is available on a rental basis to business, industry, professional and technical organizations, says William Rothwell, Institute director.

Rothwell noted that the College's location makes the Business Conference Center particularly attractive for use by business and industry.

For further information about the Business Conference Center, call the Institute for Business and Professional Development, 635-1654.

the request, zoning board member James Mahoney said "The state may be following the dictates of environmental control by testing cars...but we face the possibility of pollutants invading our environment affecting children at a nearby school."

Mahoney was referring to St. John Lutheran Church and school which abut the subject property. Commissioner Angelo Troiani drew cheers from the audience when he commented: "The state does not have to live with our traffic problems. We are talking about a projected 200,000 to 300,000 people being driven by the Niles facility drawing from Chicago and surrounding suburbs. I feel this proposal will not benefit the village."

According to Attorney Bill Hennessy, representing Systems Control, the state must have testing stations for all gas-powered vehicles in operation by May 1, 1986 or lose $100 million in federal funds used for state highway improvements. "The mandate is an off-shoot of the Clean Air Act passed by Congress in 1977," he said.

He added 15 stations will be located in the Chicago Metropolitan area, four in Chicago and others to be located in suburbs. One is in the process of being constructed in Skokie. "Systems Control is under contract to establish and operate the facilities. The state will pay the firm $4.50 to $5.00 for each vehicle tested," he said.

William von Jentzen, project manager for the firm, proposed constructing a 111 by 30 foot building on the approximately two-acre site in a "park-like setting." The facility will have five bays with 170 foot long lanes to accommodate queuing of cars. Two driveways would be located on Kaukegan Rd. The parking area would accommodate 25 cars, including those of six employees and two state inspectors.

The facility, he said, would be closed on Sunday and Monday. Hours of operation Tuesday through Friday would be 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturday, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

He noted the testing of exhaust systems with sophisticated equipment would be a "silent operation" and take two minutes, adding 10 cars could line up in each of the five lanes. He projected that 1,135 cars would go through the facility a day at "maximum impact" and there would be no pollutant problems from the operation.

Traffic expert Gerald Salzman said the figure was "over-designed" by the state. "It would be about half that figure on a normal day. Studies show fewer cars are generated at peak hours, with the majority of cars coming in at mid-day," he said. "The facility would not generate additional traffic on Waukegan Rd."

Rd." Commissioner Tom Biondi expressed concern over pollutants caused by idling engines from cars in queue lines. "We would like to control our own environment to protect the health and welfare of Niles residents."

Residents in the area aired concerns over the safety of children in the neighborhood. According to Dawn Hansen of Niles Terrace, about 80 children live in a four-block area near the proposed facility. "These cars could short-circuit the exit lane and make a left turn on Jarvis and into Niles Terrace," she said.

The Rev. Thomas Stoebig, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church told the board he was concerned about the safety of children attending the Christian Day School operated by the church. "We have a play yard for preschoolers through fourth grade. It is located in the back of the property and a fence separates our property from the subject site," he said, adding that pollutants would also adversely affect the children.

Ray Bender, who said he represents the owner of the property, said the land is zoned commercial. "There are two existing houses that will be torn down for this facility. No matter what goes in there, it will be a commercial venture and not residential. Something could go in that is worse than this facility," he concluded.

without giving any consideration to the rights of handicapped people.

Understandably, handicapped persons and their relatives are upset to find handicapped spaces in public and commercial parking lots frequently taken by non-handicapped drivers. Offenders apparently take a laissez-faire attitude toward these designated zones.

Violators should realize they are forcing people on crutches or braces to take painful steps when they have to park further back in the shopping center," Gerhardt said.

Niles issues handicapped parking cards to place on car windshields that allow drivers or passengers to park their cars in a handicapped space. "Offenders know that a percentage of the handicapped do not have special license plates, and gamble on not getting a ticket," he said. "It's a silly gamble...if an officer doesn't spot the parking card on the car, he or she is going to get cited. A lot of people don't understand the handicapped have rights and everything doesn't work for their convenience."

He recalled one incident while patrolling the Golf Mill shopping center, in which a woman flagged him down to inquire why the designated zones were so close to the store area. "I asked her if she expected a handicapped person to walk from a distant parking spot. Her reply was that the handicapped spaces are seldom used and were wasted. Unbelievable!"

Fire lane violators are an additional headache to police officers. "There are plenty of empty parking spaces in the store parking lot, but these drivers want to park at the curb in plain sight of fire lane signs," Gerhardt said. "Many of the people who have received citations say they can afford the $50 fine."

He noted a ticket was issued recently to a violator at the Oak Mill Mall. "He had parked his late model Audi...which cost about $20,000...at the curb. The man shrugged and said he could afford the $50 payment. You know...I had the most irresistible urge to add an extra '0' on the fine," Gerhardt concluded.

Maine Township has energy assistance applications

Applications for the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program are available at the Maine Township Town Hall.

Any resident who meets income eligibility qualifications can apply for assistance to help meet heating bills. This is the fifth year the township has participated in the program, which has been particularly helpful to senior citizens and handicapped people living on fixed incomes.

To arrange for an appointment call Grace Duffy or Meryl Riverson at Maine Township, 297-2510.

To be eligible an individual must have an income of $1,541 or less for 90 days; a two-person family a maximum of $2,203; a family of three, $2,766; four $3,328; five $3,891; six $4,453; seven $5,016; eight $5,578; nine $6,141; ten $6,703; eleven $7,266; and twelve $7,828. Further details can be obtained from Duffy or Riverson.

The energy subsidies are provided through a federal grant administered locally by CEDA (Community and Economic Development Association of Cook County). Maine Township is one of several designated application sites in Cook County.

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halvorson said, "We would not want to see any resident of our community go without heat during the winter. We are one of the few townships selected to serve as intake centers, and, as in the past, we will provide the applications immediately and deliver them to CEDA so that the applications can obtain energy assistance as quickly as possible," Halvorson said.

OCC receives Optional Education Program grant

Oakton Community College has received a $100,000 grant from the Illinois State Board of Education to fund an Optional Education Program.

Section of Rheumatology at Lutheran General Hospital. Dr. Arnold's interest in the nuclear arms race stems from the commitment of the Lutheran General Health Care System to the philosophy of human ecology - i.e., the understanding and care of human beings as whole persons in light of their relationship to God, themselves, their family and the society in which they live.

According to Arnold, "From this viewpoint, issues related to health care involve not only those immediately surrounding an acute hospitalization but rather also include issues that effect the environment in which individuals and their families live. The nuclear arms race, with its attendant fiscal burdens, strains not only the federal budget of the United States of America but also the budgets of less fortunate countries around the world. We, as well as others, are forced to make difficult choices balancing national needs for our national security versus the emotional and physical needs of our population."

Dr. Arnold is also a member of the Steering Committee of the 10th Congressional District Nuclear Freeze and Bismarck Directors of the North Suburban Peace Initiative.

Considering the general controversy surrounding the arms race and Dr. Arnold's unusual health-related approach to the subject, this free presentation by the League of Women Voters promises to generate thoughtful discussion among the audience. As always, this League of Women Voters' educational program is open to the public, and all interested citizens are urged to attend.

*This applies to 18-month floating rate IRAs. Other plans are available.
This refers to 18-month floating or fixed rate IRAs. Other plans are available.
- 3. And, you don't have to contribute to your IRA every single year. Depending on circumstances, you might add more or less or nothing in a given year. The Norwood Federal IRA gives you that flexibility.

There's still time to save on your 1985 taxes. Just stop by before the April 15, 1986 deadline and one of our friendly counselors will open your IRA.
