

NIPC may lose suburban funds over O'Hare stand

Niles is among northwest suburbs that is threatening to withhold its annual contribution to the Northern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) because of its favorable review of the City of Chicago's application for federal funds to conceive a noise mitigation study of O'Hare airport. Last summer NIPC recommended approval of the city's application to FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) for a $95,000 grant to design a Part 150 study of measures to reduce the impact of noise on surrounding suburbs.

"We (suburbs) have been feeding money to NIPC which is taking Chicago's side instead of acting in the suburbs' interests. Unbelievable," Mayor Nicholas Blase said. Blase said the village is not affected by O'Hare noise at the

Sutker loses state post as committeeman

by Sylvia Dairymple

In a stunning upset, Calvin Sutker lost his bid for Democratic state central committeeman when he was beaten by Jeffrey P. Smith in Tuesday's primary. Smith outdistanced Sutker by gaining more than 60 percent of the vote.

The hotly contested race which presented no surprise to voters was the 56th District state representative race with incumbent Cal. Sutker winning overwhelming over challenger Louis Black. Unofficial returns from the Cook County Board of Elections showed Sutker with 3,197 votes to challenger Black's 1,522. Sutker also retained the Niles Township committeeman's post with 5,090 votes to Fred Hossfeld's 1,049. Another local contested race

by Bud Besser

Friday night Carl Fox and Alex Weber will be honored at a testimonial retirement dinner. They have been Niles firemen since the early sixties. They are two exceptional people who deserve the thanks of the entire community.

Alex, a very warm and humorous guy, conducted fire safety education for many years serving as director of the Niles Fire Prevention Bureau in 1979 and 1980. His bubbling personality gave him a special rapport with school children in the various programs the fire department conducted on fire safety education. After ten years in that job he became Company Commander of Niles Engine Company #3.

Alex was Niles Lions' "Fireman Of The Year" after being cited for bravery in March, 1968. His action in handling a wild hose avoided injury to seven personnel at the Glenview Naval Station fire.

Lieutenant Weber volunteered for the first paramedic program helping to create that service which now comprises about 67% of the total activity of Niles Fire Department.

Alex was twice injured in the line of duty. In 1974 he had

Deer population on rise in Niles' forest preserve

Niles police officials are expressing concern about the growing population of deer in area forest preserves that may pose safety problems in the future.

According to Lt. Martin Stankowicz, the number has increased over the past four years. "I live near Miami Woods (Caldwell-Oakton forest preserve area) and never saw a deer until a few years ago. Now they can be spotted near the bicycle path used by joggers and bikers in that part of the preserve, and on the bank of the north branch of the Chicago River."

Stankowicz said the animals are gentle and have a tendency to shy away from people. "However if cornered...they could injure someone with their sharp hooves in defensive action."

Residents living near the forest preserve have called police to report deer in their back yards.

"We have many incidents, in which deer have crossed the street (Caldwell) and gone into the residential area. The animals may be hungry and looking for a handout."

The procedure in getting the animals back into the forest preserve is similar to herding stray sheep of calves seen in Western movies. "Instead of a horse, we use a patrol car. First, we maneuver the animal out of the yard and then use the vehicle to head it in the direction of the woods. It's a slow process because we don't want to hurt them."

A self-professed "environmentalist," Stankowicz says there is no easy answer to thinning the deer ranks. "There is no doubt they are populating...and the forest preserve may not be adequate in the future," he said. One solution is to transport part of the herd to a larger preserve area, but the cost could be prohibitive. "Also, the animals to be moved would have to be tranquilized and that could kill them."

He noted a motorist could have a serious accident hitting a deer that is attempting to cross Caldwell well. "We've had four or five such incidents in which deer have been killed, but no injury to the driver. But there is a possibility this could happen in the future."

According to Ernest Passarelli, Niles animal warden, a deer wandered out of the Glenview forest preserve and began running south on Greenwood Ave. "He jumped right through a picture window of the Golf Mill Plaza nursing home (in Niles)," he said. "No one was injured inside the home, but the deer died from a broken neck. It was a sad sight to see."

Maine Beat

by Sylvia Dalrymple

ZONING BROUHAHA...Once again it was the high-powered, silk tie guys against the plaid shirt crowd in a zoning confrontation over yet another proposed multi-complex rising in a residential neighborhood of unincorporated Des Plaines.

The battle that took place in the Park Ridge city hall...on a one-to-one basis...was between a successful developer with his motley crew of experts and homeowners, who wanted to retain the peace and tranquility of their neighborhood. Refereeing the fight was the Cook County zoning board of appeals which decides the fate of a particular piece of land by its recommendations to a higher echelon of county politicians.

A look at the two-square mile unincorporated area pretty much tells the story of winners and losers in the great zoning war that began in the early 1960's. Over the years, big bucks developers bulldozed their way through the then open space creating concrete and glass high rises, multi-complexes and shopping strips despite objections from residents.

Residents who had worked hard to realize their American Dream of owning a house in peaceful suburbs found themselves up against the developers' dream... "there's a gold in them thar hills."

One particular heated zoning battle in the mid-1960's caught the attention of a city newspaper which compared the brouhaha to "homesteaders versus cattle ranchers" during frontier days in the old Wild West. "Progress is the American way," the article said.

Unfortunately, the American way usually means big bucks to a select few... while the rest lose out on the American Dream.

ON THE HISTORICAL SIDE...the Niles Historical Society is on the brink of moving into its new home on Milwaukee Ave. Display Continued on Page 28

A Tribute to a Pal

Young Nicky looked forward every fall to the visit from his Pal, John (Nick) Monacelli. And as sure as October would come, so would John. For the last six years John (Nick) Monacelli has taken the place of a grandfather Nicky never really had. A grandfather that would show concern for his well being, one that would spoil him in many little ways, teach him the importance of religion, and teach him to love his family.

He taught Nicky and his sisters how to love from deep within their hearts. He loved them and in return, they loved him. Every year for just a couple of weeks in October, the Katsoulas children had a grandfather they could enjoy; someone they could tease with, laugh with and cry with. For a couple of weeks they would be more together than they would all year long. They would share his presence and flaunt his love, like their friends could do all year long.

Now there's a void in their lives since John (Nick) Monacelli passed away on March 13, 1986. A void they must deal with, after nurturing the relationship of their adopted grandfather. They will remember John as he was and all that he meant to them. God bless John-Nicholas Monacelli and thank God he came into our lives. We will miss him dearly, but never forget him.

Shown above is John-Nicholas Monacelli flanked by members of the Niles Police Department at one of the annual Village of Niles Halloween Parties. John has always been devoted and loyal to the Village of Niles. He retired from the Niles Fire Department after serving as a dispatcher for several years. While he lived in Ft. Meyers, Florida, these past six years, he still considered himself part of Niles.

Meeting represents culmination of 6 month campaign

Stop bombing campaign meeting with Annunzio

District 207 tentative budget

Maine Township High School Board of Education took action at the March 10 meeting to direct Donald E. Keeney, assistant superintendent for business, to prepare a tentative budget for the 1986-87 school year.

The budget will be available for public inspection after 8 a.m. on June 6, at the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center, 1131 S. Dee Rd., Park Ridge. A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for July 7, at 8 p.m. at the administration center.

Free child fingerprinting at Oakton

Free fingerprinting of children by the Skokie Police Department will be done April 3, at 1 p.m., in the Child Development Center at Oakton Community College East, 770 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

All area residents are invited to take advantage of this service, however, reservations must be made. This can be done by calling 635-1404, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The only copy of the fingerprints will be given to parents.

The 11th District Campaign to Stop the Bombing of El Salvador will sponsor a public meeting with Congressman Frank Annunzio on Sunday, March 23 at Our Lady of Mercy Parish, 4432 N. Troy at 3 p.m. In addition to Rep. Annunzio, speakers will include Mary Yu of the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese Peace and Justice Committee, recent visitors to El Salvador, and a Salvadoran refugee.

The meeting represents the culmination of a vigorous six-month campaign in the various communities of the 11th District. Residents of Skokie, Niles, Lincolnwood, and north Chicago first attended house meetings where they heard a talk about the bombing of civilians by the Salvadoran Air Force. They then wrote letters to Annunzio, asked their neighbors to sign postcards, and called Annunzio's office asking him to oppose military aid to the government of El Salvador.

Local churches held film showings. Delegations from various communities and interest groups spoke to Annunzio's aides at the local congressional office here in the Chicago area.

In December, Campaign participants were delighted to learn that, in response to their information, Annunzio had made a very strong statement to Congress in which he said, "I registered a personal protest about the air war and other human rights abuse in El Salvador with President Duarte during his recent visit to Capitol Hill. I asked him to send me an explanation for this continued victimization of the civilian population. I have not yet received an answer. And on this floor today I want to register my protest with our own Government..."

The next month Annunzio met personally with a delegation of people involved in religious organizations in the 11th District and agreed to come to the larger public meeting in March.

According to Skokie Campaign participant Helen Moschak, "The air war in El Salvador continues. Just recently, the Salvadoran government surrounded and bombed about 1,000 civilian villagers on the Gusapa Volcano near San Salvador. We were very glad that Rep. Annunzio was willing to write to the state Department to express concern about the fate of these civilians. We are looking forward to the public meeting with him on March 23, and we hope that he will take a leading role in opposing spending our tax dollars to promote war in Central America."

Jewish Genealogical Society

The Jewish Genealogical Society of Illinois will sponsor the continuation of an inventory of the information on the tombstones at the Hebrew Benevolent Society Cemetery (aka Jewish Graceland Cemetery) on Sunday April 13 (raindate: Sunday, June 1). Located at 3919 N. Clark, Jewish Graceland is the oldest Jewish cemetery in the city of Chicago, with some stones dating back to the early 1860's.

The inventory, which was begun in October 1985, is designed to make the tombstone information more accessible to interested individuals by computerizing and indexing it by surname. Much of the tombstone information is not available in city records because of the Chicago Fire in 1871. In addition, many of the cemetery's records were destroyed in a fire in 1911.

There will be two work shifts at the cemetery inventory project: 9 a.m.-1 p.m. and 1-5 p.m. If you would like to participate in preserving the heritage of the Chicago Jewish community, please contact Mark Mandel, Cemetery Inventory Co-Chairman, at 929-2853 or Judith R. Frazin, JGSI President, at 564-1025 by March 15, 1986.

Avon salutes MG woman for 50 years of service

The new Midwest office was set up in downtown Chicago's Merchandise Mart and serviced 6,000 representatives throughout the Midwest. However, all of the products were still being manufactured in New York and shipped to Chicago's Navy Pier. From Navy Pier orders were trucked across the Midwest. "All of these orders were processed and delivered to the representatives' doorsteps in one week's time," said Weber. "Sometimes if we were falling behind, orders would be helicoptered directly from New York to the Merchandise Mart and delivered to the representatives from there."

By 1955, Avon's Midwest office had expanded and moved to its present location in Morton Grove. Iva Weber has remained an active and vital employee at the Morton Grove facility, and keeps up with the company's hi-tech office technology. "I couldn't work without the help of my computer!" exclaims Weber, who now serves as "trouble shooter" correspondent for the region's representatives. "I never dreamed Avon's Midwest region could grow from 6,000 representatives in 1947 to over 70,000 today," says Weber. "With that many people there is bound to be an occasional misplaced order or orders short on products." Weber's job is to be available to representatives to solve these out-of-the-ordinary problems. Because of the many years of experience with the company under her belt, Weber is able to solve these problems as quickly as possible so everyone is back in business in a matter of hours.

Avon has been like a family to Iva Weber over the past 50 years. "Avon is a family organization that, like me, has grown, matured and prospered over the years," says Weber. Both Weber and Avon represent symbols of stability and tradition in our society today. Congratulations, Iva.

concentrated food kits for the troops overseas. "That was a very difficult time for everyone," recalls Weber. "Like many companies during those years, Avon contributed its time, money and employees to produce these vital war supplies."

In 1947, Avon began expanding its New York-based offices to branch offices throughout the United States. Weber was asked, along with seven other promising employees, to move to Chicago and open the Midwest regional office. "We all grabbed at the opportunity," said Weber. "It was a thrill to have the chance to be an integral part of the company's expansion. Plus, Chicago was a very young and exciting city, a perfect place for me and Avon."

The students were very quick to learn the lesson of "Mr. Yuk" and received a strip of stickers to put on the poison items at home. Washington School is in Glenview and part of School District #63.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Amazingly, there was once a college basketball game in which the result was changed TWICE AFTER the game was over. . . West Virginia scored at the buzzer to beat St. Joseph's by one point in a game in January, 1985. . . West Virginia celebrated the victory. . . But 7 minutes later, the officials decided the last shot came too late, and they said the winner was St. Joseph's. . . But then, 2 days later, the conference commissioner overruled the officials and gave the victory back again to West Virginia!

How's this for an oddity. . . Each of the 6 men who led the National and American Leagues in home runs, runs batted in, and earned run averages last season ALL have first names starting with the letter "D". . . The home run leader in the National League was Dale Murphy. . . The home run leader in the American League was Darrell Evans. . . The RBI leader in the National League was Dave Parker. . . The RBI leader in the American League was Don Mattingly. . . The ERA leader in the National League was Dwight Gooden, and the ERA leader in the American League was Dave Stieb.

. . . If you mention this ad after your deal is consummated (but before delivery) Jennings Chevrolet will deduct $50 from the purchase price of your new or used car. One deduction per customer. One deduction per transaction. Expires March 27, 1986. Retail customers only.

Ranger Pee Wees win title

The Pee Wee Rangers finished the regular season by trouncing second place Glenview #2 by a final score of 11 to 1. The Rangers thus completed the regular season play with a 12 win, 0 loss, 1 tie record and are champions of the North Shore Youth Hockey League, Pee Wee Division.

The Pee Wees thus became the first Niles Park District undefeated regular season champs in over a decade.

Led by captain Tim Migon's 6 goals and 1 assist the Rangers built a 5 to 1 lead by the end of the first period against a Glenview team that had previously lost only once (also to the Rangers) and tied once.

With 4 more goals in the second, 2 more in the third period and simply outstanding goal tending by a constantly improving Eric Jesse the Rangers served notice that they are ready for the N.S.Y.H.L. playoffs.

Brian Johnson who also put up big numbers in the scoring column in this one had 2 goals and 3 assists. Alex Zechow had 1 goal and 2 assists, Brian Troch 1 goal and 1 assist, Mike Jesse 1 goal on a wicked slap shot from the point, while Vince Zambuto, Peter Wisniewski and Bill Rourke chipped in 1 assist each.

Little House on Harlem

As one of their unique activities during Catholic Schools' Week, the students at St. John Brebeuf School experienced what it was like in colonial days when there were one-room schoolhouses. The entire student body was divided, so each classroom had students from kindergarten to grades 8 in it for one and a half hours. Learning activities reflected the colonial day teaching, with Spelling Bees, math competitions, and catechism lessons abounding. Students reflected the dress of the day, also, as portrayed by Kimberly Bacher, Daniel Gizynski and Jessica Lodi.

Marillac honor students

Marillac's Curriculum Commission made a recent decision to institute an Academic Honor Roll for both "A" and "B" average students. According to Mrs. Toni Bouillette, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, the Commission had two aims in mind when considering the publication of student names: The first was to stress academic excellence as a high priority and second, to reward those who may not have qualified for honor courses but are extremely hard-working and achieving high grades.

Students making the first semester "A" honors from Niles and Morton Grove are: seniors, Lucille Czerwinski, Debra Kowalczyk, Jennifer Wendell, junior, Janet Rzeplia, sophomores Colleen Burke and Colleen O'Grady, and freshman, Sandra Watson. Ellen Ritsos was recognized at ERA Callero & Catino Realtors as the top salesperson for the month of February. In receiving that distinction, she broke the half million dollar mark for 1986 after just the first 2 months. Ellen has been associated with ERA Callero & Catino for just over a year, having been with another area real estate company prior to that. She was a million dollar + salesperson in 1985.

Ellen has a degree in psychology from Southern Illinois University, and prior to entering real estate, worked in the management consulting field. Her knowledge of psychology and motivation has helped her to better analyze customer needs and find the property best suited for them.

YOUR REAL ESTATE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

ELLEN RITSOS
MILLION DOLLAR+ SALESWOMAN

QUESTION: Why does it matter which realtor I choose to sell my home? Aren't they all alike?

ANSWER: Are all dentists, lawyers, mechanics or cooks alike? Of course not. Like in any other field, there is a big difference between real estate brokers. The better ones will be staffed with full time, fully trained agents. They will also have the latest marketing tools and techniques to expose your home to the broadest market and attract the best buyer.

If you choose the best mechanic for your car, you will get better mileage and smoother performance. If you choose the best realtor, you will get a better price in a shorter time, with fewer problems. If you choose an amateur in either field, you know the opposite can happen. For the best in real estate service, call me at 967-6800.

Jennings Chevrolet purchases Volkswagen franchise

Jim Jennings, President of Jennings Chevrolet, today announced that Jennings Chevrolet has purchased the Volkswagen franchise for new Volkswagen sales and service in the Glenview area. The VW franchise was formerly owned by the Nugent family, who recently sold the land and building occupied by Volkswagen.

"We will be building a new sales facility for Volkswagen on the southwest corner of our Chevrolet lot," Jennings said. The service department for VW will be located in the present body shop area. New construction will begin in May; architect's plans have already been approved.

"We are looking forward to serving all the VW owners in this area," Jennings added, "we certainly intend to build on the good reputation the Nugent family had for reliable service."

Several experienced mechanics, from the Nugent VW facility and from other VW operations have been hired to service new and used VW's at Jennings Volkswagen. "The key in building our VW service department is the people we have," Jennings said. "All the mechanics we have so far have a great deal of VW experience, and they know the reputation Nugent had. They also know that the Jennings family also has a good name for service through the years. They are excited about this new opportunity."

New Volkswagens from Volkswagen of America will be shipped to Jennings on March 15. John Jennings will be the new VW sales manager.

"I'm very impressed with the entire Volkswagen line of cars," John Jennings said. "The new VW sales staff has undergone extensive training with VW of America to learn about the VW product line and the German engineering involved."

"VW is the largest-selling European import in the U.S.," John Jennings said, "and we intend to be very aggressive in marketing VW in our area."

Located at 241 Waukegan rd. in Glenview, the new phone number for Jennings Volkswagen is 728-3500 (after April 1).

Welter manager has million dollar month

John T. Schmalbach, general sales manager of Century 21 Welter Realtors, (Harlem at Milwaukee) has just had one of the best individual months of sales production in the 30 year history of the company, according to Ken Welter, president.

"During the month of February, John personally sold over one million three hundred thousand dollars worth of Real Estate," says Welter. "We've always liked our managers to lead by example, instead of just sitting in the office dreaming up silly gimmicks," added Welter. "There's no substitute for hard work and dedication to your profession, which runs off on others around you," Welter adds. "John has also been awarded the coveted Centurian award for outstanding production in 1985, which was awarded to only 30 sales people in the entire Northern Illinois region, which includes 307 Century 21 offices."

John T. Schmalbach

John also finds himself giving the necessary encouragement to the rest of the staff to help them become the best they can be.

State Appellate Court reviews 'Sign Ban II'

Although the results of this hearing will not be announced for at least one month, a three-judge panel of the Illinois Appellate Court for the 1st District (Cook County) met Tuesday morning to hear oral arguments concerning 'Sign Ban II', the Chicago 'traffic-safety' ordinance which prohibited the use of outdoor advertising—mainly For-Sale signs—anywhere within Chicago residential neighborhoods. Sponsored in 1983 by Alderman Bernard L. Stone (50th Ward) and passed in the Chicago City Council, 'Sign Ban II' was later dismissed by Circuit Court Judge Daniel J. O'Brien after the city was unable to provide evidence that such signs were causing traffic accidents. Tuesday's hearing was a result of the City of Chicago calling for a decision regarding the O'Brien dismissal.

The Illinois 1st District Appellate Court Panel is composed of three Appellate Court Judges, selected from its sitting members—Justices John Sullivan, R. Eugene Pincham, Francis S. Lorenz, and James Murray—with Justice Sullivan presiding.

Chicago has seen three such sign-prohibition laws in the last fifteen years, each of which was targeted primarily against the use of For-Sale signs by residents and realty personnel.

'Sign Ban I'—aimed to prevent alleged panic-peddling and block-busting in supposed transitional neighborhoods—was originally passed under the late Chicago Mayor, Richard J. Daley, and remained in effect until it was successfully appealed in 1981.

In 1983, the council passed 'Sign Ban II'—an ordinance supposedly based on traffic safety considerations—which resulted in the aforementioned O'Brien dismissal.

On June 26, 1985, 'Sign Ban III'—another 'traffic-law' ordinance—was passed but remained only shortly in effect, until October, 1985, when Federal Court Judge Paul E. Plunkett issued an injunction against the City of Chicago which prevents the city from enforcing this latest law. 'Sign Ban III' is also on appeal.

Although the City of Chicago has used 'neighborhood traffic safety' as a basis for enacting Sign Bans 'II' and 'III,' no evidence was available to document this claim.

Responding to the subject of for-sale sign bans, a spokesman for the Northwest Real Estate Board stated,

"Our association agrees with the higher courts that the individual homeowner has the right to advertise his or her own property. After all, the homeowner is the one who made their mortgage payments, paid the real estate taxes, and maintained the property. Shouldn't the homeowner advertise to get the best price in the shortest amount of time?"

"Thus, the right to display a for-sale lawn sign is a victory—first and foremost—for the individual homeowner throughout the city. Also, the real estate broker and salesperson has the right of 'commercial free speech' to employ such signs if so requested by the client. But what must be remembered is this: In every instance, it is the homeowner who determines—at the actual time the listing is taken—whether to display a for-sale sign. The homeowner decides, not the sales agent."

"What many of our critics

Northwest Parishes offers 7.9% new car loans

When is 11% less than 7.9%? When you finance your auto loan at the credit union!

Once you take a good look at so-called "special financing" deals, you'll find certain dealers and manufacturers will hit you with restrictions and complicated hidden costs. All these "holes" add up to higher costs for you and more money for the dealer. Before you sign on the dotted line, investigate some of the consequences of 7.9% financing:

- Some dealers must reimburse the manufacturer for lost interest on "low" interest loans. This leaves smaller margin for the dealer and leaves you no room to bargain. You end up paying more for the car...and financing more!
- Have you ever heard of the "Rule of 78s?" You'll need a masters degree in mathematics to figure it out. Most manufacturers and dealers use this complicated formula to calculate your interest. When the "Rule of 78s" is applied, you will pay most of your interest charges, insurance, etc. in the first months of the loan. If you decide to pay your loan off early, you've already paid most of the interest and little of the principal. There might even be a prepayment penalty.

-You 7.9% new car loan financing might apply only to certain models...models you may not even want!

-Some dealers tack on hidden charges and restrictions to your special financing, making your "special" deal not so special anymore.

When you're shopping for an auto loan, remember to check all of your options. A good way to tell how much your total loan costs will be is to ask the dealer to add all the costs and charges together and give you a monthly payment amount. Then call your credit union and compare the monthly payment amounts. You may find that "7.9%" financing ends up costing you much more than you realize.

The older it gets, the wiser it gets.

Before you consider buying that cozy new house you saw yesterday, before you decide to rent that terrific new apartment you looked at today, think about tomorrow.

Think about the cost of keeping a home cool all summer long, or toasty warm, night after icy winter night. Not to mention the cost of heating up dinners or running the refrigerator or even the dishwasher, month after month.

It can all add up to more than you bargained for. Unless the home you choose is an Energy Wise Home. One with energy savings built right in. It's the one way to be sure your new home was constructed by a builder of energy efficient homes. Hospital offers heart-to-heart advice

Dr. Neelamegam Subramanian

Valentine's Day may be long past, but a gift from the heart always is appropriate. Taking care of your heart is an ideal present for a loved one.

At risk for having a heart attack? According to Dr. Neelamegam Subramanian, director of the Intensive Coronary Care Unit at Bethesda Hospital, 2451 W. Howard St. in Chicago, statistics show that a number of factors are involved. Some—such as being male, over 40 and from a family with a history of heart disease—are not within an individual's control.

But other factors, Dr. Subramanian stresses, are readily controllable. Stop smoking, stay slim and watch your diet, he advises. Recent studies indicate that lowering cholesterol definitely reduced heart attacks and related deaths. Decreasing the cholesterol level by one percent diminishes the risk of cardio-vascular disease by two percent.

Persons with high blood pressure and diabetes are at particular risk for heart disease. With appropriate medical care, careful diet and medication, when necessary, these risks can be controlled as well.

Arkady Rapoport, M.D. and Ph.D., a fellow of the American College of Cardiologists as well as a staff cardiologist at Bethesda, adds that exercise also may be beneficial in preventing heart disease.

He stresses that those who have been sedentary throughout the winter months should be careful when beginning an exercise program in the spring. Exercise will not cause heart disease, but can reveal underlying cardiac problems, often by bringing on an attack of angina—a temporary pain or tightness that starts in the chest and may radiate to other parts of the body. Angina is caused by a reduction in the flow of blood through the coronary arteries, the vessels that nourish the heart muscle. Less blood flow means less oxygen to the heart. The result is pain.

Dr. Rapoport advises anyone over 40 to have a stress test before beginning an exercise program, and asserts that the late fall and winter, especially after a snow fall, produce more heart attacks than does spring.

Forest establishes Boy Scouts' Explorer Post

The Boy Scouts of America (BSA) will present Forest Hospital with a charter for its Explorer post on Thursday, March 20. Designed for young adults ages 14 through 20, Explorer posts are organized by businesses, industries, government agencies, professional societies and community organizations, and often specialize in a particular interest or activity.

The post at Forest Hospital is one of the first to be established within a psychiatric care facility. It's expected to play an important role in the recovery process for adolescent patients.

The BSA organization will help an Explorer post member locate a post which focuses on a particular area of interest. Within the northwest suburbs, for instance, there are more than 100 posts designed around career fields, such as law enforcement, medicine, computers, and law, as well as leisure-time activities.

According to Michael Boggs,

Pain in the chest is not the only symptom of a heart attack. Any chest discomfort during exercise, "gas," even a toothache may herald heart disease. Exercise, Rapoport points out, reduces the risk of getting coronary disease and increases the quality of life. However, jogging or other strenuous exercises may not be what the doctor orders.

Walking may be as good as jogging, or even better for an older person. While jogging may affect joints and damage cartilage, especially in the knees and ankles, walking produces a similar training effect without these risks.

Subramanian points out that although we can now decrease the likelihood of having a heart attack, the causes of coronary artery disease are unknown. He explains that medicine has come a long way in predicting who is at risk, and improving their chances of preventing or recovering from heart disease. Stress testing can reveal coronary disease. Ultrasound testing of the heart can show the sizes of the different chambers of the heart as well as the motion of its walls and valves.

Various isotope tests complement other examinations for cardiac function and blood flow. They also help detect previous heart attacks.

Still, predicting who will have a heart attack is tricky. Even those given a clean bill of health may develop a blood clot. Coronary artery blockages produce no symptoms until they are 70 percent or more, obstructed.

The best treatment for heart disease is prevention, Doctors Subramanian and Rapoport agree. Those who have had heart attacks, however, often can resume normal, productive lives—sometimes considerably healthier than they were before, because of life styles that now include good diet and proper exercise.

The Northwest Real Estate Board sponsors several charity functions each year. Early in 1985, the Board held its January "Open Your Heart Night," a benefit dinner to help offset the staggering medical bills incurred by one of the families on the Northwest Side. In March, the Sales Council hosted its annual "St. Joseph Table," and donated the profits to the Villa Scalabrini Home for the Aged. In September, the Sales Council's annual "Charity Skating Party" helped raise needed funds for the New Horizon Center for the Developmentally Disabled.

September also found the NWREB Officers and Directors endorsing a membership drive to benefit the Illinois Chapter of the Citizens Utility Board, the consumer-advocate organization which monitors rate-hikes by the utility companies, and which sponsors pro-consumer legislation in Chicago and Springfield. In November, the Board donated 75 tickets for a Chicago Sting soccer game to a Near-Northwest Side charity organization.

Also in November and throughout December the Northwest Board joined with the United States Marines to help guarantee the success of their annual "Toys For Tots" campaign, with dozens of member-offices acting as local drop-off points for toys collected for needy Chicagoland children.

This year—during the weekend of Jan. 18 and 19—NWREB volunteers participated as telephone-pledge-processors in the United Cerebral Palsy Telethon downtown, and later presented a check to the Chicago Chapter of the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

The next scheduled "charity event" for this year will take place on Friday, March 21. On that afternoon, the NWREB Sales Council will again sponsor their annual "St. Joseph Day Table," a wonderful luncheon famous for its delicious food and various ethnic cuisine. The luncheon will begin at 12 noon and will be held at the Lido Restaurant, 5504 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Chicago. The proceeds from this event will be donated to the Chicago Unit of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Community members interested in purchasing the $8.50 per-person ticket to this benefit affair may visit the Northwest Real Estate Board office, located at 5946 N. Milwaukee, or telephone 792-1340.

In second grade, they study fairy tales as a part of their language arts and literature program. This trip exposed the children to the fairy tale as presented in a theater production. Washington School is located at 27111 Golf Rd., Glenview.

Centre East Weekend of Comedy

Centre East kicks off a weekend of comedy with the zany and imaginative musical group, The Brass Band, who return to Skokie for one show only, Friday, April 11 at 8 p.m. at Centre East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Tickets are $10 and $12.

Likened to an evening with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Monty Python, and the Harlem Globetrotters all on a single stage, these five highly-trained classical instrumentalists from San Francisco have combined broad slapstick humor with a stunning technical mastery of trumpets, trombones, horns and tubas to create a unique and wildly infectious musical program. Performing in the irreverent and inspired tradition of Spike Jones and Frank Zappa, these "musical Marx Brothers" have been delighting audiences of all ages with their boundless energy, crazy costumes and engaging choreography.

Amidst all this seeming chaos, however, is a highly polished, musically literate act played with brilliant technical control and artistic flair. Just back from a highly praised tour of Australia, The Brass Band has performed throughout the world, including the MGM Grand in Las Vegas, The Comedy Store in Los Angeles, and ChicagoPost.

Tickets for The Brass Band are available at the Centre-East box office and at all Ticketmaster outlets.

Marillac High School, Northfield, cruises to its Benefit '86 Dinner and Auction, "Sailing Into The Future," to be presented in the Student Center, Saturday, March 22 beginning with 6:30 p.m. cocktails.

The cruise theme continues with guests boarding a gangplank, being greeted by Chaircouple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson of Northbrook and having photos taken.

A gourmet meal by Ferce Florsheim, formerly of Gapers, follows and "should be every bit as delicious as last year's with a beef tenderloin entree and wonderful accompaniment," said Mary Brault, Park Ridge, who is handling dinner details.

The silent auction begins with the cocktail hour and the Captain's dinner, served at 8 p.m. will be followed by the Oral Auction. Larry King will provide music during dinner.

Auction items that have been collected during recent north and northwest suburban Gift-Gathering Parties include a fishing trip on Lake Michigan, a night ride on a waste disposal truck through the Loop; helicopter rides; a refrigerator that makes its own ice cream; a 1938 Hudson limousine and chauffeur for a special day; condos and weekends; numerous Waterford crystal items; a one-year scholarship to Marillac, a foursome at Kemper Lake Golf and Tennis Club; engraved wedding invitations; exercise; a computer workstation and more.

cases and storage bins now at the Trident Center will be moved to the old Sheriff's police station building in a few weeks. Marilyn Brown, NHS proxy, is pretty excited about the move, saying it is a giant step forward in preserving Niles' past for future generations in the new home.

MAINELINERS... "Knots Landing" buffs might be interested to know that 23-year-old Joel Okmin of Morton Grove was the author of last Thursday's episode of the popular TV series. Okmin, a Maine East grad, also works (at home) on scripts submitted by the production department of TV's "General Hospital."

AREA TIDBITS... youngsters in the pediatric unit of Lutheran General Hospital got a big lift recently when Mickey Mouse paid a visit to spread cheer to the little patients. Mickey, who was accompanied by his good friend, Goofy, flew from Disney World in Orlando, Fla. for the special visit.

IN THE NEWS... Among the victims in church-related "games of chance" that have been banned by legislators is St. John Brebeuf parish in Niles. SJB's recent festival... which has been held in the school for 16 years... saw a big drop in profits because it had to eliminate the casino... a popular attraction at the fest. According to the new law, gambling in fun is verboten even if it benefits churches, schools and non-profit organizations.

ON THE BOARDS... the award winning musical "Annie Get Your Gun" will be staged at Maine East High School in May. Niles participants are student director Gary Heinz, Kate Zorn playing Dolly and Jim McCoy as Foster Wilson. Other performers include David Sigale, David Connell, David Pavkovic and Michael Bonfiglio, all of Niles.

National Library Week celebration

During the month of April, any child who brings his favorite doll or toy to the Niles Public Library will receive a mock library card for his "friend." The child's "friend" must accompany the child to the Main Library (6960 Oakton St.), the Branch Library (8320 Ballard Rd.), or the Bookmobile.

This activity is in celebration of National Library Week, April 6-12.

For more information concerning this and other spring programs for children, call the Children's Services Department at the Main Library at 967-8554, Ext. 30.

a back injury and in 1983 a respiratory problem resulted from chlorine gas inhalation. He received three commendations for outstanding service to the department. He also received a police commendation for capturing two burglary intruders after chasing them and holding them until police arrived.

Alex is a very special man who served the Niles area with much good grace, took a special interest with local school children and took great pride in serving with the men under his command.

Carl Fox fulfilled a childhood dream in becoming a Niles fireman. The young 5 year-old, who hung around a Chicago fire station across from the Shepherd school in Chicago, subsequently belonged to a 5-11 fire fans group when he was still a very young man.

When Assistant Fire Chief Ed Bacher spoke to Carl's hometown group in Niles 25 years ago, Carl had his opportunity to join the Niles Fire Department as a volunteer. But he had been around fire departments for years before joining the Niles department. He said there are many hundreds of people who are fire fans who do non-hazardous duty with fire departments.

In the late 1950's Fox was with a volunteer group which manned heavy-duty fire trucks that were leftovers from federal civil service work. The Chicago Fire Fans transported chain saws, tools and winches to fires aiding Chicago fire fighters. He said his Fire Fans group helped with fire hoses and salted icy areas permitting Chicago's regular firemen to work more efficiently. Carl said he was at the Our Lady of Angels school fire, Chicago airplane accidents and hundreds of other fires before joining Niles fire department.

While Carl admitted being a part of the suburban department does not have the same "electricity" which goes with serving in the Chicago department, he said Niles was a great environment for raising children and he was happy he chose the suburban environment.

Carl noted serving in suburbia is more "encompassing" than serving in Chicago. In the big city you can be assigned to an engine company for your entire career. In Niles, every new man must now pass paramedic training and usually serves in most phases of fire fighting during his suburban career.

He noted the community's aging and spoke highly of the "emergency now" program suburban fire departments are involved in. Two-thirds of fire work is now emergency paramedic type work and Carl contends only fire departments could fill this need.

Lieutenant Fox also speaks highly of the "Operation Red" program which allows the closest fire station to an area to respond to a fire call. By joining with neighboring suburbs fire service is enhanced by these co-operative efforts.

Carl speaks highly of the leadership in Niles fire department as well as the leadership at the Niles village board. He said the tremendous support the fire department receives from the people at the village hall enables the department to be so outstanding.

Carl says he is fortunate to fulfill his dream of living the life of a firefighter. But this is more than just down at the station. At home, Carl has memorabilia in many rooms in his house. He has an old fire box from Chicago. He has a half a dozen fire shields from helmets neatly lined up on a bookshelf. He has models of fire trucks displayed under glass. He has a memory book also where he reminisces about fires at the Wooden Shoe Restaurant on Caldwell and the Golden Steer Restaurant on Milwaukee. The latter fire shows him on the roof just before the roof caved in.

In 1975 this guy, who fell in love with "all things fire" at five years old, spent every third Friday riding with a fire company on Chicago's west side. That was after completing his work as a commander in Niles.

A friend, who works at a T.V. station, has brought over thousands of feet of film outtakes of fires which Carl has used in training films. Carl said he brought some of them along with him when he visited Jerusalem. He said the firemen there couldn't believe paramedic type work and Carl's duties in winter-time when icicles covered their helmets and uniforms and equipment.

Carl has been a lucky man and he knows it. He fell in love at a very early age and was able to pursue his first love in full-time work for most of his life. His other loves, his wife, Hattie and his children, have been most supportive.

Carl, like Alex Weber, is a rare individual. Both men loved their work. And both men gave of themselves above and beyond their call. And all of us are the better for their having passed our way.

same level that municipalities located near the airport are. "However, we can't afford to be shortsighted about the environment that may become a problem 10 years down the road... especially with the addition of a new runway."

Although the suburbs worked out an agreement with Chicago that new runways would be banned at O'Hare through 1995, Blase believes it is an important part of a master plan designed in 1980. "The agreement was reached to settle a 1982 environmental lawsuit," he said. "It's getting clear that FAA and Chicago want another runway regardless of any problems affecting the suburbs," he said.

Blase added that Mayor Washington last month called for "at least one more runway" at the airport.

Niles is a member of the Suburban O'Hare Commission which has been fighting O'Hare expansion for a number of years. The 17-member group, headed by Park Ridge mayor Martin Butler, is seeking to ban permanently the construction of additional runways that would result in increased air traffic, more noise impact and possible safety problems.

year would provide programs which would allow students to learn in-depth information about selected careers.

"Although all students—not only from the Maine high schools—but from private, parochial and even junior highs can begin to discover what they might want to do as their life's work at Project BIG, we are especially urging juniors to attend this year because of the possible change to a two-year schedule," said Morris.

Project BIG began 17 years ago when Maine's cooperative education coordinators developed the career night with businesses and industries in the community employing high school students who were enrolled in the district's work-study program. The program was designed to help make students involved in work-study programs more aware of the diversity of career opportunities open to them. As Project BIG has evolved over the last 17 years, it was for the Cook County board of commissioner seats with a Democratic-endorsed slate of seven suburban candidates. In unofficial returns, at Maine Township Democratic headquarters, Andy Przybylo of Niles tallied 2,693 and Renee Thaler of Glenview, 2,696. Others included Kevin Conlon, 2,499, Janice Schakowky, 2,357, John Rita, 2,518, Edward King, 2,304 and John Murphy, 2,696. Independent candidate John J. Latner garnered 2,331 votes.

Nicholas Blase, Maine Township Democratic Committeeman, ran unopposed for that position and received 2,929 votes.

Blase attributed the low voter turnout to a "dull primary," in which candidates vying for various offices did not "turn voters on, that goes for both sides of the political fence. Voters get stimulated by important races like a contested governor's race," he said. "Also, a lot of people don't like to declare their political affiliations in a primary."

Despite the low voter turnout, Blase said he was generally pleased with the primary results. "Sutker won a big victory and I think our candidates for the Cook County board have a good chance of winning four or five seats in November."

In early return, Carol Panek of Niles, a GOP candidate for state representative for the 13th District garnered 270 votes. Her opponent, Kevin Alexander tallied 60 votes. The victor will oppose Ralph Capparelli in November.

Sheldon Marcus, a GOP candidate for the 56th District tallied 1,819 votes. In the 11th Congressional District, incumbent U.S. Representative Frank Annunzio, a Democrat chalked up 6,852 to Terry Allen's 1,616. GOP candidate George Gottlieb was outdistancing Ken Malatesta in early returns.

Independent GOP candidate Gordon S. Hirsch of Skokie received an impressive 27,127 votes for a seat on the Cook County board of commissioners.

John Handzel of Skokie running for state representative in the 1st District had 600 votes. Penny Pullen (58th Dist.) of Park Ridge, who ran unopposed received 3,486 votes.

Aaron Jaffe seeking to retain a judgeship in the Cook County Circuit Court received 23,127. Other local judicial candidates, Michael Lavin of Des Plaines tallied 9,357 and Alexander White of Des Plaines received 36,727.

In other races, Sidney R. Yates, incumbent Democratic candidate for Congress in the 9th District tallied 10,202 votes.

In the special referendum vote, voters overwhelmingly denied allowing utility companies the right to charge consumers and businesses for the costs of building facilities that create unneeded capacity of more than 25% above the peak demand so as to make a profit on such capacity. Unofficial tallies show 12,678 "yes" votes to 138,356 "no" votes.

Kustra named GOP spokesman

Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) has been named Republican spokesman for the Illinois State Senate committee that deals with all tax legislation introduced in the General Assembly.
His appointment as Minority Spokesman of the Senate Revenue Committee was announced by Senate Republican Leader James "Pate" Philip (Wood Dale).

"This assignment will be a challenging one" because the Revenue Committee can make or break tax bills that are introduced," Sen. Kustra said. "It also deals with any law changes that would affect property assessments."
Sen. Kustra said there is no reason to raise taxes this year. "The budget which Governor Thompson has proposed is lean, but there will be enough money to fund all state services adequately, without searching for new revenue sources," he stated.

"It took making a slow but steady recovery from the recession, and I want to see this trend continue as we find new ways to attract and retain industry and get our unemployed people into jobs. Higher taxes would quickly reverse the progress we have made," he added.
Sen. Kustra also serves on the Senate Elementary and Secondary Education, Appropriations II and Executive Committees.

Local host families needed for French students

You can help to bring the world closer together, one friendship at a time, by becoming a host family for a foreign exchange student.
A group of 20-30 teenagers from France will be coming to the greater Chicago area for participation in a friendship and cultural exchange with local families. All of them will speak English. They will live as fully participating members of the family, not as guests in the home. It is an opportunity for the American family to share their home, life and culture with someone from a different part of the world and learn something of the language and customs of the homeland of their new "son" or "daughter".
Families will arrive on each of the French students in a few weeks. The matching process between students and families will begin then. This will allow time to correspond before the French students arrive.
These hostmays are often the beginning of lifelong friendships. They are always interesting learning experiences. If your family would like to host a student, or would like more information, please contact Mrs. Larson at (312) 295-2137 or Mrs. Bendall at (216) 238-3711.

The Maine East Varsity baseball team has great expectations for this upcoming season. Veteran coach Don Olson hopes to improve on last year's 19-13 record. The conference that Maine East is in is one of the best in the state. "A twenty win season is what everybody aims at," remarked Coach Olson.
The road to state starts Saturday, March 22, with the Demons hosting Lake Zurich and Niles North on Wednesday, March 26.

Traffic Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar
Dense fog in Illinois last week created hazardous driving conditions in many areas of the state. As winter turns to spring, rapidly changing temperatures can cause a recurrence of fog.
Do not drive in foggy conditions unless it is absolutely necessary. If you must drive, observe these safety precautions and you will be better prepared to avoid an accident:
1. Sharply reduce your driving speed.
2. Dim your headlights. You will not only be able to see more clearly, but other drivers will be able to see you. Illinois law prohibits driving with parking lights only.
3. Reduce speed even more if you see headlights or taillights in front of you. Headlights may be on a vehicle coming down the center of the road, while taillights can indicate a stopped vehicle or one that is barely moving.
4. Keep within the limits of your vision and be prepared to stop in an emergency. If the fog becomes so dense that you can barely see, pull off the road and stop. Do not creep along at five or 10 miles per hour.
Remember, driving safely in fog requires concentration and patience.
