Blase: Stevenson will never run on the same ticket with a 'kook'

Democratic party leaders are in the process of looking into the legalities of forming a third party in an attempt to unshackle gubernatorial candidate Adlai Stevenson from his extremist running mate, Mark Fairchild according to Maine Township Democratic Committeeman Nicholas Blase. "Stevenson is a man with high principles and there is no way he will run on the same ticket with a 'kook'. Party leaders will talk to attorneys on the legal aspects of running Stevenson as a third party candidate on a "True Democrats" slate in a re-match with Gov. Thompson in November," said Blase in an interview in his law office in Niles. Mark J. Fairchild, Democratic nominee for Illinois lieutenant governor is a supporter of Lyndon LaRouche, a perennial

Village trustees Tuesday approved a medical insurance plan that will give more coverage to municipal employees, and at the same time, save the village thousands of dollars on an annual basis. The Participating Provider Option (PPO) offered by the village's current carrier Blue Cross-Blue Shield eliminates deductible payments in most claims and reduces the price of pharmaceutical products for employees, according to Michael Duncan, an insurance agent who handles the village's insurance. Duncan said the village could save up to $50,000 in the first year of coverage, yet village employees would receive 100 percent coverage for all medical treatment. The plan utilizes a network of participating hospitals (160) which give a discount for every dollar paid for treatment. "The PPO gives 100 percent coverage for emergency treatment in any hospital," he said. He added that no municipal

A proposal to accept a $517,935 bid on the Life-Safety contract from the Feurich Construction Company stirred some commotion last night at the East Maine District 63 Board of Education meeting. Members were unsure if money could be saved doing the carpeting themselves. They decided it wouldn't be worth it and reconsidered the motion when the meeting resumed. The motion carried with a 5 to 2 vote. Larry Solomon and vice president Joan Futterman held their "no" vote. Futterman is opposed to the carpeting. She feels all the carpeting should be on a separate contract

by Bud Besser

If you're over fifty maybe you should pass up this week's Left Hand. I'm not in the business to depress you. But on the other hand, when I discover "great truths", I often set them down in print.

Last Thursday noontime I spoke to the retired Pioneer group at the AT & T building (formerly Teletype). I gave a 45 minute soliloquy on newspapering in the suburbs. It wasn't one of the world's greatest speeches. On the other hand I kept it light with a few funnies thrown in, and I thought I had a pretty good rapport with the Pioneers. But on the third hand, my high school speech teacher wouldn't have given me too good a grade Thursday. I brought along 3 by 5 index cards which were one-word reminders on what I wanted to talk about. It helps the flow. Rather than wandering all over the disjointed map, the cards remind me to speak so there's a sequence to what I'm saying.

The cards were my first downfall. There was a thin ledge on the dais where I placed the cards. Every few minutes one or two cards floated to the floor. The lady in the front row picked up the first cards and gave them to me. The president of the group, up on the stage, retrieved a

Well-wishers crowd Nelson on anniversary

Nelson School in Niles celebrated its 25th anniversary last Sunday featuring an open house and a variety of baked goods made by parents and PTA members who sponsored the event. Among the celebrants were (from left) Dr. Donald Bond, superintendent of Elementary School District 63, and Robert Jablon, principal of Nelson School. More than 400 people attended the affair.

More than 400 people crowded into Nelson School, 8109 Ozanam, Niles, last Sunday to celebrate the school's 25th anniversary.

Among the well-wishers were former students, teachers, principals and PTA members who greeted friends and colleagues and reminisced about their days at Nelson. Greeting visitors was current principal Robert Jablon, District 63 superintendent Donald Bond and school board members, including Joan Futterman.

According to Jablon, the school opened in Sept. of 1961 with an enrollment of 494 students; a portion of which came from Meizer and Ballard schools.

Nelson hit a peak in 1967 with 870 students and declined to a low point of 455 in 1977. "The current enrollment is 615 students from K-6th grade and we feel enrollment has stabilized," Jablon said.

He noted two additions were built and a gym in the mid-1960's to accommodate the increasing number of students. "The philosophy at the beginning and through the years was to see that each child developed their higher levels of expertise in fire and arson investigations. "At one time, the cause of fires was attributed to electrical malfunctions or careless smoking because there was a lack of expertise in investigation of fires. We've come a long way since then," Kinowski said.

He added the department now has a carry-all truck containing testing devices, photographic equipment, protective clothing and sampling equipment, speeding up the investigative process.

"Photos are taken at the site and debris is picked through. Firemen are questioned on what they observed while fighting the fire as an initial step in the investigative process. "We ask about open doors or windows and whether the building was empty. Burn patterns are also scrutinized at the site," Kinowski noted.

Informational data includes color of flames and smoke (a bright red flame with black smoke indicate the use of petroleum products) unusual odors, point of origin and number. "The fire could be in three or four places which could suggest arson," he said. "If alcohol is used in starting a fire, there is no smoke and it burns so hot you can't see the flames."

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The Niles Fire Department has come a long way in the investigation of fires via advanced training programs, mutual aid assistance and improved equipment, according to Fire Chief Harry Kinowski.

"Firemen not only put out fires, but assume the role of sleuths in looking for clues on the origin and cause of the fire. Anything they observe is reported to a fire investigator on the scene," Kinowski said.

The fire department now has three fire investigators, who are state-certified after completing advanced level training consisting of 120 hours of classroom work and 80 hours in the field (fire problems, photography). Investigators include Lt. Ron Derbes, Ed Sosnowski and Robert Altstadt. "The idea was to have one investigator for each shift," he said.

The department is part of the Arson Task Force in Northeastern Illinois with membership composed of suburban fire departments. Its function is to provide seminars on investigative techniques, exchange of information and statistical data on various fires to determine whether patterns exist.

Area fire departments share dispatching and information and exchange ideas and opinions. Fire and police departments also work closely together to attaining

Frost Administration Center reception

The Board of Education of Maine Township High School District 207 is planning an open house of the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center on Wednesday, April 30, from 3-5 p.m. The administration center was relocated within Maine South High School last November when the administration center building at the corner of Dee and Devon was sold to the Tooling and Manufacturing Association (formerly the Tool and Die Institute) of Park Ridge.

Ralph J. Frost, who retired as assistant superintendent of Maine Township High School District 207 in 1973, will be the guest at the open house. The district's administration facility was named in his honor in 1970. Frost came to Maine in 1937 as an English teacher. Before being named assistant superintendent in 1960, he served as a dean, administrative assistant to the superintendent, and the first principal of Maine West High School.

"All community members who would like to see the new facilities are invited to attend," said Howard Blassman, board president. "But we are extending a special invitation to former employees of the district who would like to greet Ralph Frost."

Morton Grove Easter Egg Hunt

In their customary spring program, a village-wide complimentary Easter Egg Hunt will be sponsored by the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 on Easter Sunday, March 30. It will take place at 1 p.m. in St. Paul's Woods.

Post Commander Les Berg has appointed Junior Vice Commander Don Scott chairman.

Scott reports in the event of inclement weather, the hunt will be moved indoors to the Legion Memorial Home, 6140 Dempster.

Further Scott announces that the categories for ages seeking the eggs will be 1-4 years, 5-8, and 9-12.

Especially colored ones will be the winners entitling youngsters to a delightful prize. Hunters should bring their own sacks or baskets. The regular colored eggs found may be kept by those participating.

It is further revealed the Easter Bunny will drop in to the Post Memorial Home the day before when Legionnaires will gather with him to officially color the hard boiled eggs which will be hid for the following morning.

"Awesome". This wonderfully overused adjective of the 1980's is used to describe a range of phenomena from Lee Iacocca's Chrysler comeback, to the tragedy of the shuttle "Challenger."

This decade has revolutionized the print media, and the personal computers are awesome to use.

There is Audio & Video explosion. Is it not awesome?

There is something else which is truly awesome, but people do not call it awesome. They call it the library.

This year millions of Americans will get a head start on the road to success at the library. An estimated 15.5 million people use the library's tax forms, government publications, to plan their vacations and retirement. School children use the resources of the library for their school assignments. Lots of people use the libraries for planning changes in their careers.

Americans borrow more than 1.1 billion items a year from public libraries alone. They

I Search at Mark Twain

The Niles Police department working under a funding grant from the State of Illinois together with volunteers from the Mark Twain PTA, recently completed a community service project for the identification of children. An informational packet containing a picture and fingerprints of the child was started for the children if the parent signed an appropriate consent form. Those parents also received information on how to keep the data updated over the years. The entire packet would be extremely beneficial if a child was lost and outside agencies became involved in searching for him or her.

Working with the children were Niles Police Department Officers John Katsoulas and Leon Elsingner, Detective Dean Strzelecki and Counselor Jim Cousens. Assisting them were PTA volunteers: Bonnie Vicks, Lois Torf, Judi Steiner, Margaret Star, Naomi Simkin, Nancy Reder, Sharon Prosansky, Karen Popowicz, Kathy Kuehl, Shellagh Kaplan, Marlene Harrison, Louise Friedenson, Janet Dvorkin, Ilene Deak, Laurie Coop, Shelly Berkson and Sandy Augustynick.

Mark Twain School is located at 9401 Hamlin, Des Plaines, and is one of five elementary schools in East Maine School District 63.

Good Friday and Easter Services at St. John Lutheran

A Tenebrae Service is planned at St. John Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) on Good Friday, March 28, to begin at seven-thirty in the evening. This service is presented as a ceremony that progresses from light to darkness. The word "tenebrae" is a Latin term meaning "shadows". Blended with these readings will be congregational singing. The Adult Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Karen Gallagher.

Special times have been chosen for the Easter Services differing from regular Sunday morning worship hours. An Easter Sunrise Service will begin at 6:30 a.m. The Rev. Thomas K. Stoebig, pastor of the church, will deliver the Easter sermon at both services entitled, "Of First Importance". An Easter Morning Breakfast will be served by members of The Youth Ministry, under the direction of Heidi Herpolsheimer, beginning at 7:30-9 a.m. A free-will offering will be received to help defray the cost of the breakfast. An Easter Festival Service will begin at 9:30 a.m. Both services will celebrate the Sacrament of Holy Communion. Musical Easter selections, "Easter Canticle" and "Christ is Risen! Sing Alleluia" will be presented by The Adult Choir and Trumpeters.

Regular Sunday morning worship hours are 8 and 10:30 with Sunday School classes for pre-school through eighth grade and an Adult Bible class held at 9:15 between services. The Adult Choir, taught by Pastor Stoebig, is currently studying the Book of Ezra.

Niles Concert Choir

The Niles Concert Choir and Symphony Orchestra, directed by Rev. Stanley R. Rudick, will present a Spring Concert, Sunday, April 13, at 7 p.m. in Queen of All Saints Basilica, 6200 N. Sauganash. The Choir and Symphony will perform Charles Gounod's powerful and stirring "Mass in Honor of St. Cecilia" with Sarah Beatty, soprano, Darrell Rowader, tenor, and Arthur Berg, bass. Darrell Rowader will sing Cesar Franck's "Pavane Anglaise" and Sarah Beatty will sing the aria "Per Amor di Gesù" from Msgr. Licinio Refice's opera, "Cecilia". The Choir will perform "The Heavens Are Telling" from Haydn's "The Creation," and the entire ensemble, including the audience, will conclude with "Now Thank We All Our God." Admission is free. Now in its 23rd season, the Concert Choir and Symphony are associated with the Fine Arts Department of Niles College Seminary, and present several major orchestral and choral works each year on campus and in churches of the Chicago area. The all-professional orchestra includes members of the Chicago Symphony and Lyric Opera Orchestra. The Choir has performed in Europe and at Orchestra Hall, where, together with the Chicago Symphony, it has presented several Chicago premieres of major choral works, including the Chicago premiere of Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem."

This same statement was presented to President Reagan at a special White House Human Rights Day program on Dec. 10, to which all nine members of the national governing body of the Baha'is of the United States were invited. A personal presentation of the statement has also been made to the Secretary General of the United Nations and to nearly eighty heads of state around the world.

Members of the delegation making the presentation to Congressman Yates represented the Baha'i communities of Chicago, Des Plaines, Evanston, Glenview, Morton Grove, Niles, Skokie and Wilmette.

Easter Sunrise & Festival Services

Trumpeters and timpanist will herald the arrival of Easter at the Sunrise Service, 5:37 a.m., Easter Morning, at Edison Park Lutheran Church, 6626 N. Oliphant Ave., Chicago. The cross, which has been veiled since Good Friday, will be unveiled as the Senior Choir breaks forth in the Triumphant Easter Processional.

An Easter Breakfast will be served by the Luther Leagues immediately following the Sunrise Service. No charge is made but a free-will offering will be received.

Three Easter Festival Services will be held at the regular worship hours of 7:45, 9 and 11 a.m., featuring special music by the Choirs and instrumentalists. As usual, the entire 9 a.m. service will be broadcast over radio station WEAW-FM, 1330 beginning at 9 a.m. Everyone in the community is invited to participate in these services.

Edison Park Luthern Church

During Holy Week, Communion Services will be held on Thursday at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at Edison Park Lutheran Church, 6626 N. Oliphant Ave., Chicago. Holy Thursday is sometimes referred to as Maundy Thursday. The word Maundy is from the Middle English maunde, a command, referring to the commandment "that ye love one another."

On March 28th, the 45th annual Good Friday Veiling Services at the church will feature the Veiling of the Altar Cross, the reading of the Seven Last Words, and special music by the Choirs. Services will be held twice, at the hours of 6 and 7:45 p.m. The meditation will be "Christ Who Dies." Worshipers traditionally leave the Sanctuary in silence at the close of the service.

St. Anselm's Episcopal Church

A special Maundy Thursday ritual will be part of Holy Week observances at St. Anselm's Episcopal Church, 1600 N. Greenwood, Park Ridge. The Maundy Thursday liturgy at 7 p.m. March 27 will feature the Mandatum—washing the feet, which the Rev. Gregory Hinton, vicar, does annually in imitation of Jesus' washing the disciples' feet during the last supper. An all night vigil will follow by parishioners in keeping with Jesus' agony in the garden.

Good Friday services will be held at noon and at 7 p.m. Both liturgies will feature the veneration of the cross. The choir, under the direction of Ella Marx, will sing the traditional setting of the reproaches at the evening service. Charles Ferris, assistant to the vicar, will preach, "The Passion of Jesus."

A candlelight Easter Service will be held at 10 p.m. Saturday, March 29. The Rev. Hinton will preach, "The Light of Christ." An Easter party will follow in the parish hall.

Two services will be held on Easter Sunday. At the 8 a.m. service the eucharist will be based on the Anglican communion historic liturgy. The 10 a.m. choral eucharist will feature anthems by the choir. The Rev. Hinton's sermon will be "Welcome, Happy Morning."

Donate Blood at St. Isaac Jogues

St. Isaac Jogues Catholic Church will host a blood drive for members and community residents on Sunday, April 28. The drive, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., will be held in the church basement, 8149 W. Golf Rd., Niles. Bernie Zirko, blood drive chairperson, asks all eligible donors to schedule an appointment by phoning the church office at 967-1060 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Pastor John C. Massion notes that there is no greater gift than the "gift of life."

Glenview United Methodist Church

A dynamic dash of innovation marks the Holy Week services to be held at the Glenview United Methodist Church, 727 Harlem Ave. Each will begin at 8 p.m.

On Maundy Thursday, March 27, members and guests will sit around tables for Holy Communion, re-enacting the Last Supper shared by Jesus with His disciples.

Attendees on Good Friday, March 28, will celebrate a Tenebrae service, including the marking of the stations of the cross. As the service progresses, the candles and sanctuary lights will be gradually dimmed until total darkness prevails, commemorating the death of our Lord. Worshipers than will depart in absolute silence.

Beginning where Good Friday left off, services on Holy Saturday, March 29, will follow a pattern used in the Russian Orthodox Church. The ceremony will move participants from the sealed tomb to the open tomb and the good news that Christ is risen! Holy communion will be celebrated.

The older it gets, the wiser it gets.

Before you consider buying that cozy new house you saw yesterday, before you decide to rent that terrific new apartment you looked at today, think about tomorrow.

Think about the cost of keeping a home cool all summer long, or toasty warm, night after icy winter night. Not to mention the cost of heating up dinners or running the refrigerator or even the dishwasher, month after month.

ENERGY WISE HOME

It can all add up to more than you bargained for. Unless the home you choose is an Energy Wise Home. One with energy savings built right in. It's the one way to be sure your new home was constructed by a builder of energy efficient homes. Homes with double-pane windows, ceilings and walls insulated to a high R-rating and exterior openings that are carefully caulked and weather-stripped—all to minimize heating and cooling requirements. Energy Wise Homes have high-efficiency electric appliances and electric heating you can control room by room, or an electric heat pump that produces at least 75% more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it uses.

It all adds up to this. Year after year, an Energy Wise Home offers you considerable savings.

So if you're planning to move, make a wise move. Make it an Energy Wise Home. You'll feel all the wiser for it tomorrow.

EASTER BREAD

Yield: 12-14 Braids

12 eggs (room temperature) plus 3 egg whites; save yolks for the glaze
3 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 lb. melted butter (lukewarm)
1 cup scalded milk cooled to lukewarm
4 envelopes dry yeast
4 tsp. powdered mahlepi seeds
Juice and grated rind of 2 oranges (room temp.)
All purpose flour (about 6 lbs.)
Sesame seeds and/or almond slices

In a large bowl sift together most of the flour, the mahlepi and orange rind. Set Aside.

In a cup, dissolve yeast with 1/4 cup lukewarm water. Add 1 tsp. sugar and let stand in a warm place for 5-10 minutes or until bubbly.

Beat eggs with sugar and pour into the bowl containing flour mixture. Add orange juice, melted butter, scalded milk and the risen yeast. Mix, adding flour little by little until a very soft dough is formed.

Knead well for 10 minutes. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk or overnight. When risen press dough down and let dough rise again until you are ready to shape it.

Shape into small braids and place onto greased cookie sheets leaving enough space in between.

Cover loosely with clean towel and let stand in warm place until risen fully depending on the warmth of the place. (Usually from 4-7 hours).

When risen brush very lightly with the 3 saved egg yolks, mixed with 2 tsp. of water. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and/or slices of almonds.

Bake in a 400 degrees pre-heated oven for 15-20 minutes or until golden brown.

EASY NO-BAKE COOKIE DESSERTS

Everyone loves desserts—but no one likes spending long hours in a hot kitchen preparing them.

The casual moods of fall especially invite us to forego elaborate dinners and instead serve light, seasonal meals requiring a minimum of effort.

Still, the question of what to do for that final meal-capping course leaves many cooks in a quandary.

When the occasion calls for something special, consider a cookie dessert. The following recipes all feature chocolate chip cookies. The delicious flavors and chewy texture of Duncan Hines ready-to-serve cookies add a true homemade taste to these easy-to-make desserts. With a little imagination, and even less work, you can create mouth-watering cookie confections without going near the oven.

SHERBET-MINT DELIGHT
1 package Duncan Hines Mint Chocolate Chip Cookies
1 quart sherbet (lemon, lime or orange) fresh lemon, lime or orange shaved chocolate or miniature chocolate mint chips, optional
Place 3 or 4 Duncan Hines Mint Chocolate

Chip Cookies in dessert bowl. Top with one scoop sherbet. Garnish with fresh fruit slice. Sprinkle with chocolate, if desired.

COFFEE ICE CREAM PIE

1 package Duncan Hines Almond Fudge Chocolate Chip Cookies
2 tablespoons almond extract
1/2 gallon coffee ice cream, partially thawed
1/4 cup sliced almonds, blanched or toasted
2 cups whipped cream, optional

In food processor or blender, crumble one package Duncan Hines Almond Fudge Chocolate Chip Cookies. Transfer to large bowl, moisten with almond extract. Press mixture into 9-inch pie plate. Fill with softened ice cream. Sprinkle almonds on top. Cover. Freeze. Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Kustra bills seek to eliminate teen parties in motels

Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) has introduced two bills to help eliminate teenage drinking parties in hotel and motel rooms.

The legislation makes it unlawful for anyone 18 or over to rent hotel or motel rooms for drinking parties for minors. It would also make the adults liable for damages by partygoers and for their injuries or deaths if they are involved in vehicle accidents afterward.

"Most of these motel drinking parties occur after special events like homecoming or proms," Sen. Kustra said. Reports indicate that some of these parties go through the night and early morning hours. There is no way an adult or minor can drink for such a long period without becoming a threat to himself or herself and to the driving public."

Sen. Kustra said his legislation would come down hard on parents and young adults who deliberately rent motel and hotel rooms for use by underage drinkers. "Some parents have been trying to shift responsibility by setting up these parties outside their homes because they know they are liable if they allow underage drinking on their premises," he said. "Young adults also like to 'help out' teenagers by renting rooms for their parties."

Sen. Kustra is also proposing stiffer penalties for adults who allow home drinking parties for minors and those who rent rooms for them. It would raise the status of this action to class C misdemeanor, making violators punishable by up to 30 days in jail and by fines of up to $500.

"Statistics show that underage drinking is reaching epidemic proportions," Sen. Kustra said. "Young people are scrambling their brains and too often their bodies as well—and my legislation would help put the blame where it belongs, on the shoulders of those who permit or encourage minors to consume alcoholic beverages."

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Surprisingly, only 3 colleges in America have ever won the national championship in BOTH basketball AND football. Can you name the only 3 schools who have done it? They are Ohio State, UCLA and Michigan State.

Here's an incredible fact about the final championship game of the NCAA basketball tournament last season between Villanova and Georgetown...Villanova missed only 5 shots from the field in the entire game, and only one shot in the second half...They tried 28 shots in the game and made 22 of them on their way to the victory.

Do you know why the word "birdie" is used in golf to describe a hole that's made in one shot less than par?...In the last century, the word "birdie" was a popular expression for "good"...Golfers would say, "I made a birdie of a shot" ... meaning a good shot...Soon the word "birdie" became recognized and accepted as part of golf when anyone played a hole in better than par.

Ranger Pee Wees Advance

Fresh from a 13 win, 0 loss, 1 tie, regular season and the North Shore Youth Hockey League championship the Ranger Pee Wees opened the 4 game round robin Gold Division playoffs with back to back victories over Northbrook #1 by a score of 7 to 3 and Glenview #2 by a score of 4 to 2. The Northbrook game was close, in fact the Rangers trailed twice by scores of 1 to 0 and 2 to 1. With 1:41 remaining in a game tied 3 to 3 the Rangers showed just how potent they can be as they exploded for 3 goals in 28 seconds and a total of 4 goals in one minute fourteen seconds to grab a 7 to 3 win.

Brian Troch notched a hat trick (including the game winner) while Tim Migon had 2 goals and 3 assists. Also hitting the scoring column were Brian Johnson and Vince Zambuto with 1 goal each and Mark Kowachek with 1 assist. Glenview #2 also played it tough and came out hitting and also gained 1 to 0 and 2 to 1 leads, but the highly talented Pee Wee Rangers scored 3 unanswered goals to put another notch in their victory column which now stands at 15 wins, 0 losses, and 1 tie for the season.

Once again team scoring leader Tim Migon led the way with 2 goals and 1 assist while Brian Johnson had 1 goal, which proved to be the game winner and added 2 assists. While Peter Wisniewski had 1 assist it was up to Tim Spillman to score an electrifying goal to seal the 4 to 2 victory.

A training workshop on Assertive Communication Skills will be offered again in the offices of Medical and Surgical Associates of Park Ridge, S.C., 112 S. Northwest hwy., Park Ridge. This workshop was offered twice last fall and met with such enthusiastic response that it is being repeated. The workshop will meet on four consecutive Thursdays, April 10, 17, 24 and May 1 from 7-9 p.m.

Topics discussed in the workshop include: definitions of assertive, aggressive and passive behavior; consequences of nonassertive patterns and factors which promote them in our lives; the advantages of assertive behavior; how to look and feel assertive; and assertive reinforcers in difficult situations. Participants will have the opportunity to assess their present level of assertiveness, and will be given tools for evaluating their communication patterns in specific situations and measuring their progress in new assertive patterns.

The charge of $30 for the workshop covers all instruction and material costs. Space is limited to the first 20 people. For more information and reservations, contact Pamela Schulz at 696-3370.

Carlee Piccio checks her brother Dominick's heart beat with the assistance of Judy Formeller, a student nurse, at the recent Children's Health Fair at Resurrection Hospital. The Children's Health Fair featured a variety of free screenings for children ages four through ten and also offered participants first-hand experience in examining their teddy bears and dolls at a special "teddy bear" checkup. Another highlight of the fair was a visit by Ronald McDonald.

Rainbow Hospice commemorates Volunteer Month

In honor of April Volunteer Month, Rainbow Hospice wants to extend its appreciation to all who have volunteered their services to the organization. Rainbow Hospice is a free community-based, non-profit organization which assists in providing alternatives and choices to the dying person and his or her family.

One of the first volunteers of the hospice is Barbara Flauter, a longtime Des Plaines resident, who lost her husband to cancer some years ago. Flauter was on the original task force created to establish the hospice more than four years ago.

Flauter spends her time as a hospice volunteer doing various tasks such as housekeeping, shopping, running errands, or staying with a patient for short periods of time to allow the family time away. Most important, however, is being available to listen to the concerns of the patient and family.

"I always wanted to be a caregiver," said Flauter who has a nursing background. Adds she: "Helping people is what I enjoy most."

When asked what type of qualities does a hospice volunteer need, Flauter responds: "You need to be outgoing, flexible and have a strong desire to help people. My hospice experience has also made me more compassionate."

For more information about Rainbow Hospice, 1040 Thacker, Des Plaines, or to inquire about volunteering, call Betty Brosius, Executive Director, 699-6023.

MAMMOGRAPHY

Don't Be Alarmed When Mammography is Recommended

A recommendation that a mammogram be performed does not necessarily mean your physician suspects you have breast cancer. On the contrary, he wants to be sure you don't have it! The value of mammography lies in its ability to detect irregularities in the breast tissue when they are very small, too small to be felt. Unfortunately, breast cancer is not an uncommon disease. However, if a woman is going to develop breast cancer, the earlier it is detected, the better. Many small lesions can be cured without mastectomy. Mammography is a fast simple, x-ray procedure which can be very reassuring.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following guidelines for mammography and examinations:

- Age 20 and older - breast self-examination monthly;
- Age 20-40 - a physician breast examination every three years and an initial mammogram between ages 35-40;
- Age 40-50 - periodic mammography every year or two as determined by your personal physician's recommendation. Also, an annual physician breast examination.

If you have breast masses or there is a history of breast cancer in your family, your physician is likely to recommend mammograms more frequently or at an earlier age. Mammography is a part of the regular annual physical exam for some women. This is because mammography is much more effective at detecting very small cancers than a physician's physical examination.

At the Chicago Medical and Dental Center, your mammogram will be scheduled through a physician's order in a pleasant, out-patient surrounding with extended hours for your convenience. The mammogram is interpreted by a board certified radiologist with the result forwarded to your physician. So, don't be alarmed when mammography is recommended. Rather than be alarmed, be reassured that your physician is doing his very best for you. If you have any questions about mammography, call 774-2100.

Modern kitchens and baths receive a full measure of attention at the Spring Home & Energy Show, with exhibits ranging from planning and remodeling services, to fixtures, plumbing, cabinetry, appliances, cookware and supplies. Spices, condiments and gourmet foods will be displayed as well.

Advice will be available without obligation in virtually every area of home craftsmanship: woodworking and refinishing, carpentry, plumbing, electricity/electronics, siding and gutter, foundation waterproofing, concrete, dry wall and plastering, door and window installation, floor care, linoleum and tile setting, painting, varnishing, redecorating, and much more.

Home products and equipment on display include: furniture, satellite dishes, security systems, heating and air-conditioning, hot tubs and spas, decks, closet expanders, solar devices, water purification and supply devices, greenhouses, outdoor exercise and gym systems, pool construction and supplies, porch enclosures, ventless fireplaces and wood-burning stoves, glassware and mirrors, curtains, drapes, shades, blinds, sheds, shelving and storage systems, and furnishings of all descriptions.

Professional advice on financial planning, low-interest first mortgages, second mortgages, home improvement loans and IEA's will be covered by financial institution personnel on duty throughout the show.

Do-it-yourself demonstrations will be an ongoing feature, with experts showing step-by-step instructions on a variety of projects including wallpapering, furniture refinishing and concrete patio construction and repair.

Lawn and garden projects will be illustrated and explained throughout the show by horticulturists from the University of Illinois, with landscaping expertise to be provided to visitors with individual projects or questions. Featured in the landscaped areas are wood and metal gazebos.

Discount tickets to the Spring Home & Energy Show are available at Dominick's Finer Foods, Ace and True-Value hardware stores, and at many banks, savings and loans and other financial institutions throughout the Chicago area.

Edison proposes cuts in summertime rates

Commonwealth Edison today asked the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) to reduce summertime electricity charges by 12.4 percent for the first 400 kilowatthours used by all of Edison's 2.7 million residential customers. Approximately one-half of all monthly residential bills issued over a year's time are for less than 400 kwh, Edison noted. All residential customers would receive a 23.3 percent reduction for the first 100 kwh used. The lower rate would begin to go into effect May 15, if approved by the ICC.

The large differential between summer and non-summer charges, which has been in effect for the past several years, has not improved the company's system load pattern, Edison maintained. It has, in fact, discouraged customers from using heat relief devices during moderate summer weather, but not on the hottest days. Since customers use air conditioners on hot days regardless of cost, peak electric demand continues to increase, but the lower utilization during warm weather lowers Edison's load factor. A higher load factor is better, Edison maintains, since fixed costs are spread over more kilowatthours which will, over time, result in lower electric rates.

Company surveys have repeatedly shown that customers don't understand the existing pricing and find increased summer rates highly objectionable.

"In particular, these reductions address the concerns of residential customers who use little or no air conditioning and who have felt that they have been unfairly charged at the higher rate," Edison Vice President Donald Petkus observed.

Presently, the summer rate is 12.52 cents per kwh for all kwh used. Under Edison's proposal, the charge would drop to 9.60 cents per kwh for the first 100 kwh and 11.42 cents for the next 300 kwh. The summer rate would remain 12.52 cents per kwh for all usage over 400 kwh.

Non-summer kwh charges would be increased to narrow the current large differential between summer and non-summer charges. Currently, the non-summer rate is 7.474 cents per kwh for the first 400 kwh and 4.573 cents per kwh for all kwh over 400. Under the proposed new schedule, the first 400 kwh would be billed at 9.60 cents per kwh and all kwh over 400 at 4.786 cents per kwh. The company stated that the summer and non-summer changes were expected to balance out and result in no net change in revenue.

Wesley Day Care recognized for excellence

Wesley Day Care Center, 727 Harlem Ave., Glenview, accepts children 2½ through 6 years of age in a program recognized by local educators for its excellence.

A great deal more than a babysitting service, Wesley incorporates a complete child development program into the day care day. All activities are under the direct supervision of staff with degrees in education or early child development and, with a child-faculty ratio that exceeds state requirements, Wesley offers each child in its program the opportunity for the greatest possible personal attention from an interaction with a nurturing adult. Noteworthy, too, is the stability of the Wesley staff, most of whom have been with the 13 year-old program since its early years.

Each day offers children opportunities to take part in a wide variety of activities, according to their interests and needs including creative arts, scientific "experiments," and other cognitive and motor activities designed to nurture the child's physical, intellectual, social and emotional growth. These activities take place in bright, comfortable surroundings designed, equipped and furnished specifically for pre-schoolers. Two large, fenced in playgrounds are available for outdoor play and there is a full-size gymnasium for inclement days. A nutritionally-sound breakfast, hot lunch, and after-noon snack are provided. The Wesley Day Care Center is open 6:45 a.m. through 6 p.m. Monday through Friday throughout the year, except for eight major holidays. For detailed information about registration, tuition, and scholarship assistance, or to arrange a visit, call 729-0184.

The dinner menu is offered seven nights of the week from 5 p.m. 'til at least Midnight Monday through Thursday; until 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday and 'til 11 p.m. on Sunday. A fine balance of pasta, veal, chicken and seafood fare is offered. Call 951-8707 for reservations.

Grafting Workshop at Botanic Garden

Even if you've never done it before, you'll be able to build your own custom dwarf fruit tree in one session. The Midwest Chapter of NAFEX, the North American Fruit Explorers, a hobby group of mostly backyard fruit-growers, is holding a grafting workshop at the Chicago Botanic Garden, Lake-Cook Rd. east of Edens Expressway, on Sunday April 13 at 1 p.m.

If you have a sunny spot big enough for a tomato plant, you can grow a miniature tree with full-sized fruit.

Boris...

BY ED HANSON

Yes, there is a Boris. A Mr. Eugene Boris. He's a native of Poland, now a U.S. Citizen. An affable, big hunk of man. He looks you straight-in-the-eye. He tells it like-it-is.

Well educated, too. A mechanical engineer by profession, he conceived a new family dining concept whereby the accent was on gourmet quality and some highly specialized, exclusive items too. Items such as the textured homemade honey-millet bread, baked fresh each day on the premises.

But Boris wanted more. More for less, that is. He wanted the gourmet cuisine at very reasonable prices. It took time, years, in fact, and long hours of arduous work.

And, of course it took the right team to achieve his goal.

A key player on the Boris team became his devoted and charming wife, Elizabeth. She and the manager, George discovered a highly talented, European-trained chef, then, they jointly put together an efficient, courteous staff of waiters and waitresses. Even Boris' son works in the kitchen which turns out the delicious pierogi (Polish stuffed dumplings) - just one of several old world dishes Boris has become famous for which have been lauded by The Chicago Tribune.

Chicago Magazine, the Washington Post and many others.

Recently remodeled, Boris' restaurant, 7420 N. Milwaukee, Niles, even appeals to the 'decor-conscious' because it's like stepping into a sort of magic garden replete with scads of live oxygen-giving plants which aid senior citizens who suffer from respiratory ailments. And senior citizens get a whopping 20% off lunch specials from 2-4 daily, Mon. thru Fri.

A little over a week ago Boris ran the back page in 5 Bugle Newspapers, reaching 12 affluent markets. The ad tied in with St. Patrick's Day because on St. Pat's Day, 1981 Boris first opened his doors in Niles.

In appreciation to all his loyal friends and patrons Boris proclaimed a five week celebration...and from NOW thru April 17th, you can save a "lot-o-green" foldin' money, AND, have a FREE glass of wine with any dinner off the menu.

This Sunday, take the wife or girl friend to Boris' and have the Old Warsaw-Style Duck. It's roasted crisp and tender, stuffed with apple, served with a glass of wine...and you can get it at the new, low price during the 5 week celebration...

The story of Boris will be continued...

"Mac Cole Day" in Morton Grove

Glenview resident Mac Cole was the center of attention at Baxter Travenol last week when hundreds of his fellow employees, including top management, turned out to help celebrate his 50th anniversary with the company.

Cole, 69, is maintenance manager at the company's Morton Grove facility. He is the only one among the health care giant's 60,000 employees worldwide to serve 50 years.

Cole started with Baxter Travenol on February 27, 1936, as a bottle washer in the company's first intravenous solution plant in Glenview. Shortly after World War II, he moved with the company to its newly-completed facility in Morton Grove. He has worked there ever since.

Morton Grove Mayor Richard T. Flickinger proclaimed

Baxter Travenol Sr., Chairman of the Board, William Graham (l), congratulates 50-year company veteran Mac Cole on his unprecedented service with the company at Cole's recent anniversary celebration.

February 27, 1986 "Mac Cole Day" in honor of Cole's long service in Morton Grove.

Baxter Travenol paid tribute to Cole and his wife, Sis, in two celebrations, February 27: one at its Morton Grove facility and a second at the company's headquarters in Deerfield. He was presented with a 1986 Oldsmobile Regency 98 and a commemorative diamond ring.

"Mac, you represent everything one could want in an employee," said Vernon R. Loucks, president and chief executive officer of Baxter Travenol. "Loyalty, dedication, hard work, perseverance. But even more than that, you have been a friend; not only to me but to everything you have touched in this company over the last 50 years."

Cole was reluctant to accept any special credit for his exceptional tenure with Baxter Travenol. "Jobs are easy when you have nice people to work with," said Cole. "And I've been fortunate enough to work with an awful lot of nice people."

Realty sales associates receive awards

Twelve residential sales associates at ERA Callero & Catino Realty received awards from the MAP Multiple Listing Service at an awards ceremony March 19.

Mike Casey, Sandy King, Roman Kowal, Basil Paoulos, Kay Quinlan, Ellen Riteses, Paul Scarpelli, Joan Smith, and Andy Tarchynski all received awards for selling more than $1,000,000 worth of homes in 1985. Joe DesParte and Maureen Macina received special recognition for exceeding the $3,000,000 mark and Ron Chamness exceeded the $4,000,000 mark.

The list of award winners included almost the entire residential staff at the Niles based realtor, and unprecedented event. These salespeople were responsible for a record 38% increase in home sales in 1985 and an extremely busy start to 1986. The combination of low interest rates, a good economy, and high employment rates has created a great demand for homes in the northwest Chicago and suburban area. Most local realtors are experiencing a shortage of homes for sale to meet this buyer demand.

YOUR REAL ESTATE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

MAUREEN MACINA
$3,000,000 + SALESWOMAN

QUESTION: Should we add onto our present home, or sell it and buy a larger one?

ANSWER: In making this important decision, there are a number of points to consider. (1) Will an addition be compatible with the basic lines of the house and with the existing floor plan? (2) What will it cost? (3) Will the addition overvalue my home for the neighborhood?

I suggest having a market analysis done to determine your home's present value. We do this free. Add on the cost of the proposed addition. Now compare this total with what you can buy in an existing larger home. Then decide which option looks better to you.

If this isn't clear, or you have questions, call me at 967-6800.

Suburban GOP chairman applauds primary results

"We are pleased that the endorsed slate of the Republican Party for Suburban Cook County Commissioners were all winners in the primary election," stated Carl Hansen, Chairman of the Suburban Cook County Republican Organization. Hansen noted that "We had individuals running as Republicans in this election who did not represent the philosophy of our party." The GOP suburban chairman continued, "The alertness of our voters resulted in nominations of the slate. Suburban Republicans now can be assured that their interests, and those of all suburban citizens, will be represented on the Republican Party ballot in November."

According to Hansen, who was also an endorsed candidate for re-election to the Board, the November election campaign will focus on issues of concern to the residents of the suburbs such as promoting economic development, protecting the forest preserves and emphasizing cost controls in county government.

"We believe that our records as members of the Board were a prime factor in our victory this week and will continue to work to keep the trust of the voters during our campaign and our next term on the Board," concluded Hansen.

Joining Hansen as members of the Republican endorsed slate who will be running in the general election for the suburban county board seats were Bernard Carey, Mary McDonald, Joseph Woods, Harold Tyrrell, Richard Siebel and Joseph Mathewson who, is running for Chairman of the County Board.

Play Ball!

That familiar cry of spring, "Play Ball," will soon be heard at every baseball park in the country, and Thillens Stadium at Devon & Kedzie in Chicago will be no exception.

Although the 48th season of Thillens Stadium won't officially start until May 16, plans and field preparation are well underway.

Many non-profit groups such as little leagues, schools and various charitable organizations have already scheduled their fund raising event for a summer date at Thillens, and only a few openings still remain.

The Thillens rent free policy of their facilities make it an attractive offer to help needy causes, and date selections go fast. If you are connected with a fund raising charity and would like to use Thillens Stadium, now's the last chance to call Mel Thillens, Jr. at 743-5140 for details.

Reynolds Aluminum hikes recycling fees

Used all-aluminum beverage cans may become rare items in Chicago and this spring—if Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company has anything to do about it. The Reynolds Metals Company subsidiary has raised the price it pays area recyclers for the second time in less than two months.

The new pay hike means an extra two-to-three cents per pound to individuals and groups recycling at one of 16 area Reynolds collection points. The pioneer in consumer aluminum recycling raised prices two-to-four cents per pound in January.

Reynolds will pay a minimum of 25 cents per pound for all-aluminum cans recycled at its 10 collection centers in the city of Chicago and as much as 29 cents per pound when more than 500 pounds of cans are recycled at one time. Two Reynolds city centers will pay between 26 and 30 cents per pound for cans. In addition, the firm will pay between 22 and 26 cents per pound for similar amounts recycled at five suburban collection points. The new prices are the highest the national recycling company has paid in the area in nearly 12 months.

Myer said Reynolds is also giving double credit for pounds of cans recycled in its current recycling game which can mean additional cash and prizes to recyclers. The current game expires April 7.

Reynolds also purchases a variety of other aluminum items from clean kitchen pots and pans, to siding and lawn furniture tubing, to the aluminum portions of automotive and motor parts. The firm buys aluminum castings also. Prices for these items vary with some bonuses being given for larger amounts recycled at one time.

In Chicago, Reynolds buys from the general public, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday, at its service center in Lawrencewood Shopping Center in Niles.

For more information on recycling centers, hours of operation and the items Reynolds purchases, area residents can call 344-8215 in Chicago, or toll-free 1-800-228-2525. Prices are subject to change.

employee would have to pay the $100 deductible contained in the current policy. In addition, each employee would receive a prescription card honored by participating pharmacies in the Chicago area, with the insured paying $3 for any 30-day prescription.

Another advantage, according to Duncan, is that anyone who is hospitalized must inform the Medical Advisory Service within two days of in-patient hospitalization. Another disadvantage is second surgical opinions and discharge planning.

In other business, the board approved an ordinance to rezone property to special use at Our Lady of Ransom, 8300 Greenwood, to convert an existing convent to a parish ministry center and construct a new convent.

The board also approved a resolution authorizing exclusion of policemen's pension from federal and state income taxes.

In other board actions, bids were opened for the paving of alleys. The bids ranged from $37,945 to $59,912.50.

...Approved the 1986 zoning map for the village.

...Proclaimed the month of April Cancer Control Month and Building Safety Week...April 13-19.

In final action, the board appointed Phillip Boyle to the Niles Zoning and Plan Commission.

Boyle recently retired as manager of Illinois Bell and was a member of the fire and police pension board and the cable TV commission. He replaces Jim Mahoney who was appointed to the Niles Village Board.

meeting Tuesday. Mary Kay Morrissey, Niles senior citizen director and task force chairman, said the group's goal is to lay guidelines for a viable housing development for senior citizens who want to sell their homes, but want to remain in the community. "We looked at demographics regarding feasible site locations definitive of congregate housing, and site design appropriate for Niles," she said.

The study showed a majority of people prefer to age in their own homes depending upon their health status. "Those 65 years and older look at their physical well-being and having support services in a congregate-type housing," Morrissey said, adding that people under that age prefer independent living.

In a breakdown of the elderly in Niles, 1500 residents, aged 65 and over, own their own homes; 600 rent apartments; 650 are living with relatives and 1500 are residing in nursing homes.

Seniors with incomes between $10,000 and $20,000 also make a difference in marketability for senior housing. "There could be a market for 600 people in the $10,000 income bracket because they could purchase services that a certain type congregate development would not provide," Morrissey said. "People in the $10,000 bracket would not have many options and would require subsidized housing services, public services and health care."

She defined senior development as congregate care or continuing care housing. The former does not provide medical care but would be rental type units with a dining room. A continuing care complex would have a level of skilled medical care and would be licensed only to serve people in the complex. Medical staff and a social worker would be housed in the building, she said.

Developers would have to meet certain criteria, such as providing outdoor space, some type of recreational facilities and a staff that would meet the needs of residents. The committee proposed that density be approved on a case by case basis. "The ideal would be 200 units and a maximum of 300 units. The latter would be based on bonus points depending on additional services provided by the developer," she said.

Mayor Nicholas Blase pointed out the village code requires 48 units per acre. "We're talking about tripling the density and that proposal is not feasible," he said. "The physical aspects of the building are more important."

Other criteria concerning developers would be input on their financial background, experience in senior developments, "track record" and projections in cost.

In discussing site selection, Morrissey said it was important the building be located near restaurants, parks and shopping centers. "It should be no more than five minutes from existing service areas similar to the Huntington (senior development near Golf Mill shopping center on Milwaukee Avenue).

Morrissey suggested the site should have outdoor space and a recreation area. Parking facilities would be one space per two units. "Each unit should have an emergency call system (within reach and grab bars in bathtubs)," she said.

The committee also recommended forming a senior "sub-group" composed of seniors, zoning members and a department head to review site location and building plans submitted by developers.

Blase said the proposals should be submitted for review at their next meeting so that permanent guidelines can be completed in the near future. "These guidelines are needed by the zoning board in making a decision on a development," he said.

Grandparents Day

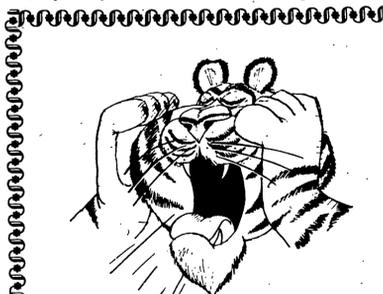

A special activity during Catholic Schools' Week was Grandparents' Day, when they visited the classrooms, and then attended a liturgy together. After the Mass, the grandchildren gave each grandparent a helium balloon, and all the grandparents launched the balloons outside the front of the church. About 200 balloons rose swiftly in a blaze of color.

couple of more cards and handed them to me. I laughed and made light of the falling cards. But they were hopelessly out of order and I stopped a couple of times to place them in sequence. In retrospect, Hyde Park High's Mrs. Hardy would have sent me scurrying back to my seat after the cards continued to fly about the stage.

If you can picture these great moments, I rambled on for five minutes, and then had a brief stop-off while I retrieved the cards. Five more minutes and the lady in the audience was handling me more cards. On again and then the president on stage said, "Here's your cards again". It wasn't one of life's great moments.

Interruptions or not, the audience was most kind and sent me on my way in a most salutary fashion. However, during the great speech, my audience was leaving me. In the rear of the room a retired lady was dozing off. Off in the right hand corner a man seated on a couch was fighting off similar tendencies. His eyes were getting increasingly heavy as the speaker continued on.

Friday night we were at the White Eagle Restaurant to join with firemen Carl Fox and Al Weber at their retirement party. Seated at our table were three young firemen whose ages were in the 25 to 30 range. Remembering the previous day's fumbling act, it began to be on me "I'm not as young as I used to be".

I don't recall ever thinking that way. Reaching the ages of 40, then 50 and now 60, was really not any traumatic experience. I said to no one in particular, "They're only numbers". "You're as young as you feel". "As long as you have your health there's little difference in the years".

Baloney! Sixty is sixty. It ain't thirty and when you're in the company of thirty year olds you know there's a difference.

Up on the dance floor the motor still works. I can still do those jitterbug steps of the forties. And when the young people's music comes on I can fake it as well as most of them.

But when you're dancing to the forties' music there wasn't many people out on the floor. That was because there weren't that many forties' dancers who were there. The music impresario playing the records switched gears and began playing the seventies' and eighties' music and we were outflanked by the thirties crowd. We became aware our music was getting old.

When I celebrated my 60th birthday last year I told an office contemporary I didn't much like the number 60. Since guys wear rugs on their heads to hide their age and ladies go through machinations of physical pain to camouflage the years, I saw no reason why I couldn't choose the age I wanted to be.

I told her 53 was a good number and from now on I'm going to be 53. I'm presently in the second year of being 53.

Dropping those cards all over the floor doesn't change my state of mind. And being with the young firemen Friday night doesn't negate my new age. I'm a positive thinker and I'm a positive 53. Just don't ask me to speak in front of your group. But if you do, remind me to leave the 3 x 5 cards at home.

The Buildings and Grounds Committee asked for a temporary waiver for the life-safety contract. Superintendent Donald Bond must get the Board's approval for anything over $750. The waiver gives Bond the authority to approve expenditures up to 10 percent on the projects bid. This only applies to the life-safety project where emergency situations call for action right then and there. Unforeseen problems bring the project to a halt. The waiver will help keep the project on schedule for completion by the upcoming school year.

An Early Retirement Program will be put into effect during the 1986-87 school year. The EMEA union and administrators have worked diligently since last July to get this adopted. It is a two step program involving both local and state decisions. The state's policy for early retirement is age 55-59 years of age, local policy is 60-64 years. The local plan is incorporated on an annual basis and depends on the person's age and years of teaching in the district. The state plan will be up for review in 1989.

Dr. Bond was given authority to arrange contracts with properly accredited colleges and universities to secure student teachers for the 1986-87 school year. The number of hours spent in the classroom is of no cost to the school district. The university provides for that cost. The gross payroll for February 1986 totaled $754,028.60.

According to Attorney Gabriel Berrafato, the unit, in conjunction with Addison and Kendall County, will serve as a training program for the police department. The $30. fee per officer will be paid by the park district.

A second referendum to authorize Morton Grove to enter into a lease with Commonwealth Edison was also passed by the board.

According to Berrafato, the referendum authorizes Morton Grove to enter into a lease with Commonwealth Edison regarding a piece of land East of Ontario st. and West of Osceola. Morton Grove may utilize this land for their purposes.

After the recent opening for bids for summer bus transportation, the board voted to accept the bids of Maierhofer Brothers Bus Service and Student Transit Corporation for summer transportation.

The park district will utilize Maierhofer for all the camps field trips. Student Transit Corporation will provide the daily transportation to Camp Mor-Grove.

Federation loan, involves rehabilitation of general lockers, and creation of separate, full-time men's and women's lockers, whirlpools, saunas and lounges for health club members. The project will be completed this summer.

Myron B. Shure, Jewish Community Centers of Chicago president, announced this week that the Jewish Federation has approved the $500,000 loan for this summer's project which will include renovation of fitness facilities at the Kaplan site to create a complete, state-of-the-art fitness and wellness facility at the center.

A grand opening is set for September. "While our facilities are designed to be accessible and appropriate for men and women of all ages, we are specifically sensitive to the wellness concerns of adults age 45+," Mrs. Harris said.

"We know from our research that the majority of those we serve are in this bracket. We also know that most health clubs today are designed with the younger consumer in mind. Our new facilities will fill a void for mature adults who are seeking a professional program," explained Vincent Fineran, exercise physiologist, new JCC director of lifetime fitness.

"The 45+ market has special needs," he said, "to remain well and fit, to alleviate muscular aches and pains, to improve energy and endurance levels, and sometimes, to rehabilitate following illness or surgery."

"Our equipment, programs and professionals have all been selected to insure that the needs of these adults are fully met."

Ellen Goodman, also an exercise physiologist, has been named weight training coordinator for the new Kaplan site.

presidential candidate well known for his right-wing extremist views. Fairchild, a political newcomer, edged out State Sen. George Sangmeister (D-Mokena) who was Stevenson's choice for the spot in the primary. Janice Hart, also a LaRouche candidate, out polled Aurelia Pucinski (Metropolitan Sanitary District commissioner) in the Democratic primary for secretary of state.

"We are not concerned with Hart, she'll get buried by Edgar (secretary of state Jim Edgar) in November. The big problem is Fairchild who would be a disaster in office with his right-wing ideologies."

Blase blamed the factionized Washington-Vrdolyak forces for the Fairchild victory. "They were concentrating on their own little local races instead of paying attention to the state offices. They probably thought the election for Stevenson's running mate (Sangmeister) was safe and votes were not delivered."

He added that people who voted for Fairchild did not know who he was or what his platform was all about. "They have a tendency to vote for names on top of the ballot, a nice sounding name or for ethnic reasons," he said. "It was a low voter turnout and that also helped the LaRouche candidates."

Asked whether party leaders would consider organizing a write-in campaign for Stevenson, Blase said that judging from past political history, "it would not be a feasible plan. Right now, we are studying the possibility of a third party ticket as an option to see where this leads us. There are no easy answers in political contests," he said.

Reportedly, a segment of the Democratic leadership want to determine whether a third party ticket would jeopardize the chances of their candidates in legislative races and at the local and county races.

Blase predicted the November election in Illinois will be national in scope because of the two "wierdos" running for office. "There will be a lot of publicity on these two candidates that will educate people on what they stand for. I believe they will be defeated in November," he said.

"I think if enough of these extremists were placed in positions of power, it would be a disaster for the country."

He added it was the worst "political scenario" he has seen since entering politics, in which Chicago Democrats did not espouse "party first and petty interests second. The fact that two extremists breezed through the election dramatizes that to the fullest degree."

Blase also blamed the Washington-Vrdolyak forces for Calvin Sutker's defeat for state central committee man. "Sutker failed to get city votes because they were focusing on local races."

investigators examine the sprinkler system to determine whether it was functioning. "The system is 96.4 percent effective in dousing flames, pouring 25 to 100 gallons per minute for 100 square feet per sprinkler head. The remaining 3.6 percent for non-functioning systems is due either to a broken pipe or the fact that it was shut off," he said.

In fire prevention measures, Kinowski noted annual inspections are made in industrial and business establishments. "We look at fire hazards, exit points, maintenance and other factors to see if they comply with local and state fire codes. We have also adopted new building and fire codes approved by the village."

The department recently formed a new safety committee to improve safety standards and reduce personal injuries to firemen. "It will increase productivity. We get a lot of input from the men who suggest ways to improve the department to better serve the public," Kinowski said.
