Building Safety Week in Niles

The Village of Niles will join units of state and local government across the country in observing 1986 National Building Safety Week on April 13th - 19th. Joseph F. Salerno, Director of Code Enforcement, announced today.

Annual observation of Building Safety Week began in 1980 to promote public awareness of the importance of construction safety codes and their effective administration by units of government. Building Safety Week is also intended to foster recognition of the role professional code officials play in assuring the safe construction of buildings of all types and sizes.

"The importance of construction safety codes and their enforcement is often overlooked until such great fire or other tragedy occurs and shocks peoples' consciousness," Salerno said. Code administration in the Village of Niles is carried out by the Department of Code Enforcement.

Zoners hear housing plan for seniors

by Sylvia Dalrymple

At a pre-board meeting Monday evening, the Niles Zoning Board received a report on housing for the elderly, including guidelines that will facilitate implementation of senior housing developments. In a repetition of the report submitted to village trustees last month, Mary Kay Morrissey, Niles senior citizen director, defined different housing concepts available to senior citizens depending on their needs. "Some people may prefer independent living, such as congregate housing, and others may require some medical care in a continuing care facility." The latter would have to be licensed," she said. Morrissey said site location was important and the criteria should not be the size, but the proximity to parks, restaurants,

MG woman faces jail for missile destruction

Dear Editor:

I am writing my friends and neighbors to explain how it is that I am facing the likelihood of many years in prison, and how it is that I deliberately chose to accept the risk. I am a loving wife, the mother of twelve sons and daughters, and a long-time resident of Morton Grove and participant in its civic life, a Christian and a pacifist. My life and my faith tells me that the world's problems and conflicts can only be resolved by good faith and non-violent means. Thus, the massive and ever-growing accumulation of savage weapons of annihilation by my country, and others, seems to me to be a desecration of life. Our earth was created by God to be a well-spring for life, not a scene of nuclear devastation and death. Our idolatry of these horrors of technology, and of the power and profit they stand for, seems to me to be a rebellion against God's sovereignty. Five people, feeling alike, joined together, calling ourselves "the Silo Plowshares", in the tradition of earlier groups. Our purpose was to find a way to openly demonstrate that human beings and human life are more important than these "gods of metal", and that, if the people will it, these idols can be eliminated. And so, on the morning of Good Friday, we entered an area near Holden, Missouri, where we knew that 150 of the first-strike Minuteman missiles lay buried. Divided into two groups, we entered two missile sites, and symbolically "beat swords into plowshares", in accordance with the Biblical mandate. The banners we hung on the fences read: SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARE - AN ACT OF HEALING;

POLITICAL CLIFF-HANGER...Democratic party leaders trying to resolve the Odd Couple situation coming out of the primary fiasco...are holding strategy sessions to figure out ways to dump the LaRouchies off the Dem ticket, according to political observers.

What the Dem gurus will come up with is anybody's guess in their efforts to change the Stevenson-LaRouchie (Mark Fairchild) ticket chosen in a legitimate primary. Adla's bid to run as an independent was recently turned down because of state election laws. Local political leaders say Stevenson's alternative choices could be...suing to change the law, forming a third party or find a way to get Fairchild and fellow LaRouchie Janice Hart off the ticket.

It's a cliff-hanger...and the next few months should tell the tale. Meanwhile, back at the ranch...GOP party leaders are watching the scenario with interest.

IN THE NEWS...the 47th annual White and Red Ball of the Legion of Young Polish Women was the scene of the debut of Renee Matusczak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Romuald Matusczak of Des Plaines. Renee is a Junior at Willows Academy. Congrats.

Ditto to Roger Schoener, former proxy of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, who was recently appointed Captain of the Guard of Medinah Temple in Chicago. The door is now open for Schoener to lead the Temple as its potentate in 1991. Medinah, which has 12,000 members, is one of the 186 Shrine Temples in North America.

ON THE BEAT...it was moving day for the Niles Historical Society last week...with workmen transporting display cases from the Trident Center to the new headquarters on Milwaukee Avenue. Marilyn Brown, NHS resident, and Marge Berles, museum chairman, were on hand to see that everything was put in its proper place and unpacking historical items that will be on exhibit in the future.

According to Brown, a setback occurred when the Society learned that volunteers cannot scrape or paint the walls or do other rehab chores due to possible injuries on the job. NHS does not have liability insurance for volunteer labor and will now have to hire pros for the work.

It's a sad situation for those who wanted a part in putting the museum together in real community involvement. The insurance crisis even hits non-profit organizations.

MAINLINERS...Veda Kaufman, Mayor Blase's former gal Friday, and her husband, Charles, are the proud grandparents of twin boys...Alexander James and Christopher Charles...born March 19 at Lutheran General Hospital.

Parents of the twins are Mary and Tom Geocaris, son of Judge James Geocaris, presiding judge of the Third District Court in Niles.

Townhouse residents seek to resolve problem parking lot

Residents of a townhouse complex in unincorporated Des Plaines will approach Cook County officials in efforts to resolve problems linked to a deteriorating parking lot in their complex.

According to Mary Verhaeghe, 9425 Sumac, a section of the parking lot has caved in and the rest of the area is filled with large potholes. "Some of the residents have refused to pay for repairs because their deeds say they own only 12 feet of parking space. They claim the 32 foot long parking way (part of the parking area) belongs to the county.

Verhaeghe, who is confined to a wheelchair, said the townhouse garage and have agreed to hire a Cook County surveyor to look into the deed to determine whether part of the property belongs to the county. "It could then be the responsibility of the county to make repairs.

The residents met with Maine Township officials last week who advised the move. Bill Fraser,

Friends of the Library Logo contest

This is the last week to submit entries to the Friends of the Niles Public Library District Logo Contest.

The deadline for entries in the Logo Contest has been extended to noon, Monday, April 14, 1986. Completed entries should be dropped off at the main desk at either the Branch or Main Library.

The Friends group was recently formed to encourage community support of the Niles Library and its programs and needs an attractive, easy-to-recognize logo for all of its printed materials. The logo will be the symbol of the Friends group that the public will see first and most often, and the Friends are looking for entries that represent the high standards of the Library District.

The winner of the contest will be announced in this paper and will receive a gift certificate from a local bookstore. Entries must be original artwork, black ink on white paper, between 3"x3" and 9"x12" in size, and must have the entrants name, age, address, and phone number printed on the back of the entry.

The competition is open to all ages but only to residents of the Niles Public Library District. Only a small number of entries has been received so far, and the Approximately 300 people from various Cook County townships gathered at Brigante's Restaurant (Dempster and Potter Rds., Des Plaines) last week to air their concerns about the possible elimination of General Revenue Sharing (GRS) funds.

Congress has targeted the GRS program in efforts to reduce the federal deficit, according to Jeffrey Schiff, acting executive director of the National Association of Towns and Townships. "It is a vital program and action must be taken to save it," he said.

Schiff urged township officials, senior citizens, disabled persons to write or send telegrams to their representatives in Washington to vote extension of general revenue sharing.

"People say GRS is in trouble because of the federal deficit. It's the first thing they (legislators) look at even though the program's total payments have been frozen for the past seven years," Schiff said.

He noted that the contest will be sponsored in this paper and will receive a gift certificate from a local bookstore. Entries must be original artwork, black ink on white paper, between 3"x3" and 9"x12" in size, and must have the entrants name, age, address, and phone number printed on the back of the entry.

This program is $4.5 billion...that is one-tenth of 1 percent of the federal budget," he said adding the funds are used to enrich the lives of senior, disabled persons and disadvantaged youth.

George Miller, executive director of Township Officials of Illinois, said the government spends millions on subsidies for tobacco farmers and "Billions for foreign aid. We need dollars to meet the needs of our people by providing vital services," he said.

According to Miller, in the event GRS is abolished townships would have to eliminate programs and fund only mandated services...and some may have to end all GRS-funded services.

Cook County townships use revenue sharing monies in various ways to meet the needs of citizens. The categories include senior citizens, mental health, youth services, day care and community and social services.

Paul Halverson, president of Township Officials of Cook County and Maine Township supervisor, said GRS works. "It is a good intergovernmental program for both the federal government and taxpayers," he said. "We must convince people in

Target Health on target with free screenings

Target Health, a series of free health screenings, is coming to Bethesda Hospital, 2451 W. Howard in Chicago, on Saturday, April 19, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Free screenings for glaucoma, cataracts, ear, nose and throat problems, elevated blood sugar and visual acuity will be provided. In addition tests for blood pressure and physical podiatric screening will be offered at no charge.

Two optional blood tests at the low cost of $10 for one or $15 for both will be available for interested Target Health participants. A blood chemistry test will screen for diabetes, kidney and liver diseases, gout, excess protein, insufficient iron, thyroid problems and more. Persons wishing to take this test should fast for four hours. A coronary risk profile will screen for cholesterol blood fat levels. This test requires a 12 hour fast.

Those fasting may drink water, black coffee or plain tea and should continue to take all medications on a regular schedule. Persons with diabetes or those who must eat along with regular medications should not fast.

According to Mary Eng, director of marketing and planning at Bethesda Hospital, the health fair is open to anyone 18 years of age or older. She stresses that the annual event has proven quite popular in the past because community residents have found the cost savings inviting. No appointment is necessary.

While most participants leave Target Health with a clean bill of health, a variety of potential problems have been detected through the free screenings. Physician referrals will be available for participants who request them.

For additional information, call Bethesda Hospital at 761-6000.

Cooking Elegantly With White Wine

Wine lends a special twist to this elegant Chicken Dijon recipe.

The Greek god Dionysus was not only the god of wine, he was also looked upon as the god of good living, a lawgiver and a promoter of gracious and civilized living.

Civilization has progressed immensely since the ancient days of Greek hegemony from advances in technology, to culinary expertise. Though the various attributes of wine are as appreciated now as in ancient times, many Americans are becoming more and more aware of the pleasures of gourmet cooking, with wine as one of the recherche ingredients.

One wine, named tops by California Grapevine Magazine, can enhance an elegant breast of chicken dish served with a melange of fresh vegetables. Macon "Le Grand Cristal" a French chardonnay from the cellars of Reine Pédauque, is new to the States, and very affordable at $5.00 from Bacardi Imports, Inc.

The distinct taste of this dry white wine fills the mouth with a fresh, vivacious flavor, slightly reminiscent of chestnuts. You may like to sample the special twist it lends this Chicken Dijon.

"It was a very nice wedding and it was a pleasure to marry this couple in the presence of friends and family," Salzman said.

Motorcycle Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Motorcycle riders must possess many skills to operate a motorcycle safely. Following are some safety tips to help riders maintain control and avoid an accident:

1. Reduce your speed before entering a curve, and lean with your motorcycle. New riders frequently take curves or turns too fast, and either cross into another lane of traffic or go off the road. The sharper the curve and the faster you ride, the more you must lean with your motorcycle.
2. Use both brakes every time you slow down or stop, and apply them at the same time. The sooner you apply the front brake, the sooner you will start slowing down. You can also use both brakes in a turn.
3. Use your turn signals whenever you turn or change lanes, even if you think no one else is around. The car you do not see is the one that will give you the most trouble. Do not forget to turn your signal off.
4. Each traffic lane gives a motorcyclist three "mini-lanes," or four-foot wide paths of travel. The middle "mini-lane" is generally the best position for riders to be seen by other motorists. Although grease strips caused by droppings from other vehicles can take up to two feet of the middle "mini-lane," you can ride to the left or right of the grease strip and still be within the center portion of the traffic lane.

Bicycle safety poster contest

Secretary of State Jim Edgar announced today his office will sponsor a Bicycle Safety Poster Contest. The contest promotes National Bicycle Safety Month in May and is a cooperative effort of the Secretary of State's Bicycle/Pedestrian Safety Unit and the Illinois State Library.

"Each year more than 1,000 Americans lose their lives needlessly in bicycle-related accidents," Edgar said, "and over 460,000 bicyclists are seriously injured. Even more regrettable is the fact that so many children are accident victims."

"The summer months ahead are a peak period for bicycle activity by young and old alike. Contest information and applications are being made available through each of the state's 696 local library units. The contest is open to all Illinois students in 3rd through 8th grades. All posters must be 11" by 14" in size and will be judged according to originality of thought, creativity of design and conformance to contest rules. Students should contact their local library for more information.

Entries will be judged in two categories: 3rd through 5th grades, and 6th through 8th grades. Winners will be selected at local, library system, and state levels. State winners will be announced at a special ceremony in Springfield. The winning poster will be reproduced and distributed throughout Illinois.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

What's the ONLY American sport in which the team that has the ball is on the defense—and NOT offense?...Answer is baseball...In baseball, the team with the ball is on offense.

One of the most incredible records in sports is one set by Glen Gorbous, an outfielder for Philadelphia in 1957. He set a world record by throwing a baseball, officially, 444 feet or 148 yards—which means he threw the ball in the air, the length of a football field PLUS 48 more yards!

To give you an idea of how amazingly long it's been since the Chicago Cubs won a World Series, consider this: Halley's Comet comes near the Earth only once every 76 years—and that comet has now been here TWICE since the last time the Cubs won a World Series...The comet was here in 1909-1910 and again in 1985-1986, but the last time the Cubs won a World Series was 1908...That's hard to believe, but it's true.

Lake Forest MIP Cager

Lake Forest College senior Daniel K. Redig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt S. Redig, 7212 W. Conrad, Niles, has been named the Most Improved Player of the 1985-1986 men's basketball team. Redig started the season as the Foresters' "sixth man" and did such a solid job that Lake Forest coach Charles Miller moved him into the starting lineup in January, looking for defense and rebounding from the 6-4 forward. "We didn't expect a lot of scoring from Dan, but he made us a better defensive team," noted Miller. "He gave us the maximum he could give all year. There's no question that he came along better than anyone this year." Redig averaged 3.5 points per game and 2.8 rebounds as the Foresters finished at 12-10.

Daniel K. Redig is a business major at Lake Forest College and a graduate of Maine East High School in Park Ridge.

Demon Tennis Preview

Boys' tennis at Maine East recently started, with the first practice March 10 and the first competition Wednesday, April 2, at home at 4:30 p.m. against Glenbrook South. Following that, on Saturday, April 12, the male "racketeers" will participate in the Maine South Invitational. They'll be facing tough competition among the eight teams in the forms of Maine West and Lake Park. Last season New Trier was one of the top teams in the state, and both Highland Park and Glenbrook North have consistently been contenders. However, New Trier has the players to repeat as conference champions.

Belmonte and his players will be the very stiff competition at the 32-team Hersey Invitational later in the season. Many of the top players in the state compete in this tournament. This is the first year the Demons have participated, mainly due to the outstanding play of sophomore Mark Krajewski last season. Krajewski and senior Barry Sommerfeld, senior Seth Sostrin, and senior John Linnemann are expected to make up the nucleus of this year's team. Coach Belmonte and frosh/soph coach Dan Wilson plan to rely on strong singles play and some good doubles combinations for most of their points this season.

Annunzio promises opposition to Salvador aid

Almost 400 members of the 11th District Campaign to Stop the Bombing of El Salvador gave Congressman Frank Annunzio a standing ovation when the Congressman promised to vote against all U.S. aid to El Salvador and to call for hearings on human rights there. Annunzio spoke to constituents from Lincolnwood, Skokie, Northwest suburbs and Northwest Chicago at Our Lady of Mercy Parish at 4432 N. Troy on Sunday, March 23. The Congressman and other speakers deplored the bombing of civilians by the Salvadoran Air Force.

The meeting was endorsed or sponsored by 25 local organizations including Pax Christi 11th District Delegation, Lincolnwood/Skokie NOW, the 11th District Nuclear Freeze, UAW Local 6, and Cook County Democratic Women.

One of the speakers who preceded Rep. Annunzio was Mary Yu, Director of the Peace and Justice Office of the Catholic Archdiocese. Ms. Yu spoke about the special responsibility of the Church to oppose government policies which are not consistent with the dignity of the human person.

Fernando Rodriguez, a Salvadoran activist in the Food Workers Union described the repression faced by trade unionists in El Salvador and his own narrow escape from death at the hands of the Salvadoran police.

Thomas Sheehan, professor at Loyola University, spoke about the complete absence of available news information about the air war and the persistence of human rights abuses in El Salvador.

Shelia Brady of the Chicago CISPEIS Legislative Committee told the audience that the U.S. sends 1.2 million dollars to El Salvador every single day. According to Ms. Brady, the aid given to the Salvadoran government is very close to the amount of money that the city of Chicago needs (but will not get) in order to maintain city services at 1985 levels.

Finally Mary Lou Murphy, Chair of the Peace and Justice

Rep. Frank Annunzio tells the 11th District Campaign to Stop the Bombing of El Salvador that he will call for Congressional hearings on human rights abuses in El Salvador and that he will oppose all military and economic aid to the Salvadoran government. Speakers Mary Yu, Fernando Rodriguez, and his translator listen along with the audience of 400 11th District residents including Dr. Reynold Feldman and Mrs. Simone Feldman of Lincolnwood in the front row - first and second left.

Committee at Immaculate Conception Parish in Norwood Park, life-long 11th District resident, and mother of 9 asked, "Why do we, as a country, think that arming people, training them to kill, and waging war is the only way to attain peace in Central America?" On behalf of the Campaign, she asked Annunzio to call for Congressional hearings

Przybylo says "Know your candidates"

Thanking a group of his supporters for helping him gain the nomination in the March 18 election, Andy Przybylo, Democratic candidate for the Cook County Board, also issued a warning about future elections. At the meeting at St. Andrew's Home for the Aged in Niles, Przybylo said, "I received over 67,000 votes, and that was gratifying. But I believe we are all disturbed by some of the other results of that election. They highlight the dangers of casting an uninformed vote."

Calling the potential impact of making ballot decisions based on guesswork "frightening," Przybylo said, "Most of us have been faced with choices among two or more unknown names. The wisest choice, indeed the only choice, in such a situation is not to vote. To make a choice on how a name sounds or looks is foolish at best, and as the March 18 results show, dangerous at worst. An election for any office should be viewed as more than a multiple choice test where the voter must provide an answer.

These are serious choices, where a wrong decision can be catastrophic." Przybylo said that the leadership of both parties must unite in a return to a more basic political strategy of thorough discussion of the issues, rather than concentrating solely on marketing. "The political process should be a step above selling soap. Rather than relying on billboards and bumper stickers, we should concentrate more on informing the public. It is time that political candidates and their respective parties set forth a platform, so as to guide the voter and make those seeking elected office responsible for campaign rhetoric."

Przybylo also called for a joint effort by candidates, civic groups, and the media to organize and promote "know your candidates" forums. "It is through such forums that all candidates' positions on important issues will be heard. These forums will also insure that candidates spend at least as much time on issue development as they do on marketing themselves."

Mite House League playoffs 17

As so often happens in the playoffs the regular season records can be thrown out the window because it allows all teams to start all over again with a spotless record.

The fact that the Capitols has only beaten the Hawks once back on November 16, 1985 and that the two teams had combined to score 47 goals in the 6 previous meetings meant nothing as both teams came at each other with a fury determined not to allow the other to score.

Outstanding plays on offense and defense were the order of the day but the outstanding goal tending of the Hawks Bobbie Grawbowski and the Capitols David Zadwadzi were what kept the teams and their fans on the edge of their seats.

The deadlock was finally broken when Sean Barrert took a centering pass from Peter Skaras, shot at the net and the puck bounced off and over the Hawk goaltender's stick. The Capitols gained a hard fought victory and the right to meet the Blues for the Mite House League Cup.

Congratulations to the Hawks and Coach Roman Panas for a job well done and good luck to both the Capitols and the Blues.

YOUR REAL ESTATE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

ANDREA RANIERI
REALTOR - ASSOCIATE

QUESTION: What costs are involved in buying or selling a house?

ANSWER: Most of the buyers expenses have to do with obtaining their mortgage, and include the mortgage application fee, loan points, escrow and recording fees. Also, the buyer must pay for his first homeowners insurance policy, attorneys fee, possibly mortgage insurance, and a city or village transfer fee if any.

The seller pays the marketing commission, title charges, property survey, attorney fee, state and county transfer tax and possibly FHA or VA loan discount points. Also they must pay their taxes up to date and pay off any mortgage or other liens on the property.

The exact amount of these charges depends on the value of the house, and some other variables. To figure your exact buying or selling expenses, call me at 967-6800.

NWREB protests possible city transaction tax increase

For the second time in less than two months the leadership of the Northwest Real Estate Board has notified the City of Chicago of NWREB opposition to any increase in the existing transfer tax fee charged by the City of Chicago and paid by the buyer of a home within the city limits. Board President James A. Catalano and PAC Chairperson Walter F. Cuneo have sent letters recommending the defeat of the tax increase to Chicago Mayor Harold Washington, Finance Committee Chairman Edward M. Burke, and each member of the City Council's Finance Committee. This is the second such notice sent to City Hall by the Northwest Real Estate Board. An earlier letter was sent to the Mayor and all fifty Chicago aldermen.

The current transfer charge for recording the new deed, officially known as the "City of Chicago Real Estate Transaction Tax", is now assessed at the rate of one-half of one-percent of the property's purchase price of the property, and is paid by the purchaser of the property at the time of the closing. A buyer of a $80,000 home in the city, for example, currently pays $300 in this one charge alone. An ordinance presently being considered in the Chicago City Council may double the amount of this fee.

Catalano stated that the NWREB membership feels that any increase in this tax would provide "another undue hardship on homebuyers who wish to purchase a house in the city." This charge cannot be escaped, he stated, since "the deed cannot be recorded unless the transfer stamps are purchased and paid for. Thus, the homebuyer is at the mercy of the city."

He also predicted that an increase in the transaction tax would cause many buyers to purchase a home in the suburbs, most of which have either a lesser charge assessed for this service - or no such type fee at all - and pointed out that Chicago's current charge is already tied for the highest of any in the area.

In continuous service since May, 1924, the Northwest Real Estate Board is presently comprised of approximately 2,500 realty members representing some 250 local offices.

Special awards for Centel employees

Special awards for outstanding 1985 performances have been presented to four Centel employees here by William J. Nesbit, Jr., vice president of Central Telephone Company of Illinois and Ohio.

All four work in Des Plaines and Park Ridge. They were selected from more than 1,400 employees who work in the company's telephone operations in Illinois and Ohio.

Effie Payida, a secretary in Centel's Miner St. building, received the top honor, the "Vice President's Circle of Excellence Award." The award is presented to one individual who makes the most outstanding contribution to the company during the past year both on and off the job.

The award Payida received is a bronze sculpture of an eagle within a vertical circle on a walnut base. The soaring eagle symbolizes excellence.

Two top qualifiers who received "Merit Awards" are Barbara Seelig, business office supervisor in the Company's Communications Center in Des Plaines, and John Walker, safety coordinator, who also works in Des Plaines. Joan Doyle, of Centel's Plant Service Center in Park Ridge, was honored for being among seven finalists in the Vice President's Award Program.

Payida has been employed at Centel since 1977. She has been actively involved with a wide range of company programs for employees, and also as an advisor for Junior Achievement. She resides in Chicago.

Seelig is a resident of Des Plaines who has been a Centel employee since 1968. In addition to being involved with many employee activities within the company, she also is involved with the Park Ridge Center of Concern and the Des Plaines Chamber of Commerce.

Walker joined the company in 1964. Among his pursuits are efforts he makes to conduct first aid and CPR training for co-workers. Walker is a resident of Mundelein.

Doyle has been a Centel employee since 1969. In addition to many company activities she also has been involved with political campaigns and various school activities. She lives in Chicago.

Skokie Federal offers Grand Slam CD

On the heels of its successful Super Bowl CD program, Skokie Federal Savings is offering customers a certificate of deposit with an interest rate tied to a winning Chicago Cub or White Sox baseball season.

Savers opening a one year Grand Slam CD will receive a guaranteed minimum rate of 7.60% plus an adjustment at mid- and season-end based on the performance of their chosen team.

A customer, for example, opening a Grand Slam CD with a minimum of $500 and tied to the Cub's season, will receive a guaranteed 7.60% plus the game margin of victory at the All-Star break. Assuming they've won ten more than they've lost, the institution will add ten basis points bringing the rate to 7.70%. If the Cubs are ahead 20 games at the end of the season Skokie Federal will add, the difference, another ten basis points increasing the rate to 7.80%. Should the team drop below the mid-season margin, investors will continue to receive the mid-season rate through maturity. Finally, if the team of choice wins the World Series, the association will throw in an extra 25 basis points. That could mean a final annual interest rate of 8.05%.

"The Cubs and White Sox have always enjoyed a lively rivalry," said Skokie Federal President James W. Peters. "This program gives those with confidence in their favorite team a chance to enjoy some very sound financial benefits."

Grand Slam CD deposits can only be accepted during the month of April. Interest is compounded daily. The base interest rate is subject to change without notice. All deposits are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Earlier this year, Skokie Federal Savings paid customers who invested in a Super Bowl CD an additional $54,000 in interest based on the Chicago Bear's record-breaking performance over the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl. The program attracted almost $14 million in eight business days.

Skokie Federal Savings is a $90 million financial institution with offices in Skokie, Barrington, Chicago, Glencoe, Kenilworth, Round Lake and Woodstock, Illinois.

Theatre Guild holds Night of Remembering

Continuing the celebration of Des Plaines Theatre Guild's 40th Anniversary Season, members are holding "A Night to Remember" on Wednesday, April 16, at 8 p.m. at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines.

Harland and Lucille Roden, who founded the group which became known as Des Plaines Theatre Guild in 1946, will come in from their home in Prairie Grove, Ill. to join with other original members still in the area in reminiscing about the "good ole days" when plays were read in members' homes. Later as the Mask and Wig Club plays were performed on the stage of Webster Hall at First Congregational Church of Des Plaines, and in 1946, when productions were moved to Rand Park Fieldhouse, the name was changed to Des Plaines Theatre Guild.

DPTG remained headquartered at Rand Park until the summer of 1963 when the move to the present location, Guild Playhouse, was made and one of the shows presented that season (in January of 1964) was Neil Simon's new comedy hit, "Come Blow Your Horn." Cast members from that production are especially invited to attend the April 16 gathering to see the set and meet the cast of the Guild's current offering, "Come Blow Your Horn," which is playing weekends thru April 27.

Also, members nominated for two-year terms on the Board of Directors will be introduced. Election will be at the June 18 meeting. And the cast of the final show of the 1985-86 40th Anniversary Season, "Guys and Dolls" will be announced. The Frank Loesser musical, based on Damon Runyon's famous Broadway characters was first presented by Des Plaines Theatre Guild in September, 1972, and efforts are being made to invite members of that cast to the April 16 get together also.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of people formerly active with DPTG in the early years at Rand Park, please tell them about this "Night to Remember" and urge them to attend and bring photos or slides to share. Refreshments will be served, and season subscribers are encouraged to attend to see old friends they enjoyed on stage through the years. For further information, call the box office answering service, 256-1211 between noon and 8 p.m. daily.

School District 67 News

Special Person Day was held at Hynes School on Friday, March 21. Students invited one or two special persons to visit their classrooms for about an hour. Grandparents, aunts, uncles, neighbors and family friends came as far away as Michigan for the event. Each class planned their own events including regular instruction, special presentations and craft activities. The event was designed to build cross-generation relationships between students and older adults. It also gave non-parents an opportunity to view education in today's classrooms.

The Parent Teacher Organization of School District 67 brought the talents of Mr. John Moisman to Hynes School on March 14. The assembly will be repeated at Golf Junior High School on April 10. Mr. Moisman offers a multi-media program, blending his talents as a pastel artist with selections of music and dramatic lighting effects. Students watched as Mr. Moisman drew Don Quixote charging toward a windmill to music from Man of La Mancha.

MAMMOGRAPHY

Don't Be Alarmed When Mammography is Recommended

A recommendation that a mammogram be performed does not necessarily mean your physician suspects you have breast cancer. On the contrary, he wants to be sure you don't have it! The value of mammography lies in its ability to detect irregularities in the breast tissue when they are very small, too small to be felt. Unfortunately, breast cancer is not an uncommon disease. However, if a woman is going to develop breast cancer, the earlier it is detected, the better. Many small lesions can be cured without mastectomy. Mammography is a fast simple, x-ray procedure which can be very reassuring.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following guidelines for mammography and examinations:

- Age 20 and older - breast self-examination monthly;
- Age 20-40 - a physician breast examination every three years and an initial mammogram between ages 35-40;
- Age 40-50 - periodic mammography every year or two as determined by your personal physician's recommendation. Also, an annual physician breast examination.

If you have breast masses or there is a history of breast cancer in your family, your physician is likely to recommend mammograms more frequently or at an earlier age. Mammography is a part of the regular annual physical exam for some women. This is because mammography is much more effective at detecting very small cancers than a physician's physical examination.

At the Chicago Medical and Dental Center, your mammogram will be scheduled through a physician's order in a pleasant out-patient surrounding with extended hours for your convenience. The mammogram is interpreted by a board certified radiologist with the result forwarded to your physician. So, don't be alarmed when mammography is recommended. Rather than be alarmed, be reassured that your physician is doing his very best for you. If you have any questions about mammography, call 774-2100

Washington to renew the funding."

According to Halverson, HR 1400 extends GRS through October, 1990 at $4.6 billion per year. The measure was approved in a House sub-committee, but the next crucial vote will be April 15, he said.

Halverson urged people to write members of Congress to exert their influence on committee members to favorably pass the bill.

Currently, 37 senators support extending the GRS program, 20 opposed and 37 undecided. In Congress, 186 support the measure, 84 are opposed and 165 undecided.

Congressman Sidney Yates, who formerly opposed GRS extension, recently changed his position and now supports renewal, according to Halverson.

Fire Department issues safety advisory on tornadoes

As the Spring season approaches, so also does the tornado season. Tornadoes are the most violent weather phenomenon known to man. The rotary winds of a tornado are capable of destroying solid buildings and can make deadly missiles out of innocent items such as a piece of straw, uproot large trees and toss cars and heavy machinery for hundreds of yards. Tornadoes can occur at any hour of the day or night. Eighty-two percent of all tornadoes occur between noon and midnight, while twenty-three percent touch down between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

The National Weather Service is the office responsible for notifying the public via radio and television of a possible tornado in and around a specific area. The Niles Fire Department advises all residents to be alert for these messages which will report weather conditions which breed tornadoes or an actual warning. There are two types of alerts issued by the National Weather Service.

Tornado watches are alerting messages between the National Severe Storms Forecast Center and areas potentially threatened by a twister. They specify the area covered by the watch and establish a period of time during which tornado probabilities are expected to be dangerously high. Watches are teletyped directly to local offices of the National Weather Service who then alerts the public. Tornado watches are not tornado warnings. They are issued to alert people to the possibility of tornado development in a specified area for a specified period of time. Until a tornado warning is issued, persons in watch areas should not interrupt their normal routines except to watch for threatening weather.

Tornado warnings are issued when a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or indicated by radar. The radar of the Northern Illinois area also includes a recent improvement which allows for an earlier detection, called the Doppler Radar. Mayor Nicholas Blase of Niles was instrumental in bringing about this important piece of detection equipment.

When a tornado warning is issued, take immediate safety precautions. You should seek inside shelter while keeping a battery-operated radio or television nearby. This allows one to listen for further instructions and/or updates. If one is in a private home, the basement offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under sturdy furniture or stairwells if possible. In homes without basements, take cover in the smallest room with stout walls or under heavy furniture or a tipped over couch or chair in the center part of the house. The first floor is safer than the second or third. Whatever level of the home one is seeking cover in, avoid windows and chimneys.

If one is in an office building or school when a tornado is approaching, protect oneself in an interior hallway or a lower floor. Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs.

If you are in a vehicle when a tornado warning is issued, leave your car and go to a substantial structure. If there is no shelter nearby, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or culvert with your hands shielding your head. Of course, if time permits, move away from the tornado's path at right angles.

Remember: Tornado Watch means that there is a possibility of one or more tornadoes in your area. Continue normal activity but watch for tornadoes. Tornado Warning means that a tornado has been sighted or detected by radar and may be approaching. Seek shelter immediately.

Free "Learn to Read" classes

To combat the national problem of adult illiteracy, The Niles Public Library, Oakton District Public Libraries and Oakton Community College are offering free "Learn to Read" classes. Twelve-week classes are held at OCC East, 7701 N. Lincoln and Des Plaines Public Library, 841 Graceland. For more information call the 24-hour number, 635-1426.

Learn to Read classes were established to assist the over 45,000 functional illiterate adults in the Oakton district alone. The classes are geared to native and non-native English speaking adults, and adults wanting to learn or improve basic reading skills. Individual assistance in reading materials and computer study aids appropriate for adults will be provided. In addition, Learn to Read collections may be found at the Niles Public Library District, 6960 Oakton St., and in other public libraries in the Oakton District.

Recently, in an effort to increase awareness of the needs of the functionally illiterate and the programs and services providing help, the Community Literacy Council held its first meeting. Members discussed the need to extend the literacy initiative to the home and workplace, identifying funding sources and expansion of the program. Maggie Kohls, a structural engineer with Sargent & Lundy and Tom Surace, an institutional research associate with Miles Laboratories represent the Niles Public Library on the Council.

Adults who need this program can't even read this announcement. If you know someone who can't read well enough to function in the adult reading world, please tell them about the Learn to Read project at 635-1426.

VIOLENCE ENDS WHERE LOVE BEGINS. FOR THE CHILDREN; and one banner carried the pictures of our children and grandchildren. We used our own blood to form a cross on the missile covers, and spray-painted DISARM AND LIVE on them. Meanwhile, the gears and instruments were disabled with a sledge hammer. We placed at the site an indictment of the government and the institutional Church for complicity in the arms race, which violates both the law of God and the law of the international community. We then sat, and held hands, and prayed and sang, while awaiting the authorities.

Interestingly, the first to arrive was Mike Wallace, with a camera crew. He had been in the neighborhood, and someone, someone tipped him off. He filmed part of the action, though, unfortunately his film was confiscated by the government. Exactly forty-three minutes after we entered the site, an armored vehicle with a machine gun on top, drove up, and we were arrested.

We know that others who have done what we did are - or have been - in prison. We put out of commission two huge missiles capable of killing hundreds of thousands of people in a discriminate way. That is called destruction of government property. What all the charges against us will be we will discover at the arraignment on April 9. But we knew the consequences would be serious, and we chose to make the sacrifice. Please remember us in your prayers, and think about how you can help to make the world a safer, better world for us, for our children, and for our children's children.

In all sincerity,
Jean T. Gump

Morton Grove resident Isabel Condit, a friend and co-worker in the nuclear arms freeze issue, said that Gump committed civil disobedience to draw public attention to the threatening situation of the first-strike Minuteman missiles ready "to go off" in the wheatfields of Missouri, would endanger Americans and start a chain reaction among Russia and other nations in an "accidental" nuclear war.

Condit did not take a part in the missile site incident in which Gump was arrested. She became involved with Gump in early 1980 when both were activists in the nuclear freeze campaign issue at the local level. The Morton Grove board endorsed the nuclear freeze in 1982. They believe that the U.S. government, through careful negotiations with Russia...negotiate a phasing out of nuclear weapons, begin arms reduction, and bring about a nuclear ban treaty.

Gump has long been an activist in government issues via the passive resistance movement, including the march on Selma in the 1960's. She is a member of the Niles Township Human Relations Council and local chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

shopping centers and transportation. Commissioner Angelo Troiani suggested that "proximity" should be spelled out in miles or blocks and not minutes in getting to a destination. "This timetable says no more than a five minute walk to a shopping center. It takes some of the older people 5 to 10 minutes to cross a street," he said.

Commissioner Tom Biondi said that buses should be available to tenants that would run on a daily schedule. "I think developers should offer this service," Biondi said. The board also approved a recommendation that a panel be formed to review all proposals for senior housing before they go to the zoning board. The panel would consist of several zoning board members, department heads and senior housing consultants. "This would be a big help in making zoning decisions," Troiani said.

The village will also draw up an ordinance on congregate housing developments. Developers would have to comply with the new ordinance. It would be similar to the condominium law passed by the village when that type development was introduced in Niles," said Joe Salerno, director of code enforcement.

The village and zoning board will meet next month to give more input on guidelines and submit criteria for the new ordinance. In other business, a petition for a proposed eight unit condominium at 7555 Waukegan Rd. was continued a second time at the request of developers. According to Salerno, a site plan had not been completed in time for the meeting. The case was continued to May 5.

In other action, a request for a variation of required side yard of 8' to 20' to expand a carport to 26' from the property line was approved by the board.

Tom Lavin of 7207 Greenleaf, said he had difficulty backing his car into his carport. "It's too narrow and I have to push back the sideview mirrors so they won't hit the posts when I back in," he said, adding that a stoop to an enclosed mud room in the carport adds to the problem.

He proposed a brick sidewalk on the east side of the carport, which he said would be an improvement in the neighborhood. Helga Chrobak, who lives next door, expressed concern that the expanded carport would cut off light in the bedrooms facing the subject property.

Biondi and Troiani cast dissenting votes, saying the carport would cut off light and ventilation and the reduction of open space would be an infringement of "people's rights." The rest of the board members approved the variation saying that Troiani, as proposed, was an improvement.

cement. Last year, for example, the Department of Code Enforcement reviewed plans and inspected construction in Niles of a total value of $25,795,000. Major projects included Golf Mill Shopping Center and Pathfinders.

1986 Building Safety Week, being observed by units of government across the country, is endorsed by such prestigious organizations as the Council of American Building Officials, the National Conference of States on Building Codes and Standards, and Building Officials and Code Administrators (BOCA) International.

Niles is a member of BOCA International, which - founded in 1915 - is the nation's original professional association of construction code officials. Niles has adopted the 1985 edition of model construction codes published by BOCA.

Frost to be honored at Open House

Ralph J. Frost will be the honored guest at an open house of the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center on Wednesday, April 30, from 3-5 p.m. The administration center was named in his honor when the building at the corner of Dee and Devon was dedicated in 1970. The center was relocated within Maine South High School last November when the building that housed it was sold to the Tooling and Manufacturing Association (formerly Tool and Die Institute) of Park Ridge. Frost, who retired as assistant superintendent of Maine Township High School District 207 in 1973, came to Maine in 1937 as an English teacher. Before being named assistant superintendent in 1960, he served as a dean, administrative assistant to the superintendent, and the first principal of Maine West High School.

"All community members who would like to see the new facilities are invited to attend," said Howard Blassman, District 207 board president. "But we are extending a special invitation to former employees of the district and others who would like to greet Ralph Frost."

Driving Safety Hints

by Sec. of State Jim Edgar

The Illinois Child Passenger Protection Act requires all parents and legal guardians to secure each child under age four in a child safety seat when traveling in the family car. To protect your child from serious injury in case of an accident, the child safety seat must be installed correctly.

A recent study by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration indicated that less than 40 percent of all Americans put their young children in safety seats and 70 percent of the seats were not used correctly. Three things are critically important when installing safety seats.

1. All safety seats for infants under 20 pounds must be installed facing the rear of the vehicle. The baby's fully supported back will absorb the force of an accident instead of his vulnerable chest and abdomen.
2. Many child restraint systems require the use of a tether that is attached to the vehicle by drilling a hole in the rear deck. Do not use a child safety seat that requires the use of a tether unless you are willing to drill a hole in your vehicle.
3. All child safety seats should be properly restrained by the vehicle's safety belt. Make sure your young children under age four are protected in properly installed safety seats.
