Insurance crisis
main concern of park
by Linda Neumeister

The main concern of Niles voters meeting Tuesday was termed by one insurer as a "constantly changing and growing concern" for everyone in the area and not just the village of Niles.

"We are going to have a situation where the cost of insurance is going to increase and we're not going to be able to handle it," said John Anderson, of the Salvation Army in Chicago. "We need to be prepared for this."

Anderson said the Salvation Army has been seeing an increase in claims from accidents and illnesses. "People are looking for ways to cut costs," he said. "If we don't have enough money, we have to raise our prices."

The estimated revenue for the new fiscal year, budget, as it stands, is comprised of $16.1 million for fiscal year 1986-87.

The figure represents an anticipated increase in revenue for the 1986-87 budget year.

GRAND OPENING

letters to the editor

Ms. Gump should be in jail

Candidate Conlon thanks voters

Dear Editor,

I am writing about the article that was in the Daily Herald on May 11, which mentioned the arrest of Ms. Gump for retail theft at Sportsmart.

Ms. Gump stated that she was arrested for stealing a small window from her car and then proceeded to break the window of another car and then drove off.

I believe Ms. Gump should be held accountable for her actions. She should be charged with theft and破坏 the frost window of her car and then proceed to break the window of another car.

Signed,

Kolb, president of Sight, a program that was recently implemented in the greater Chicago area. He described how the program works: "Too many people are simply afraid to seek treatment; they are afraid of the cost. But for those who cannot afford the treatment, the Illinois Department of Public Aid provides a family of hospitals to help people with vision problems."

"The Illinois Department of Public Aid has been providing assistance to people with vision problems for over 30 years," Kolb said. "We are now working with HealthFirst Network, a family of hospitals that is committed to providing quality care to people with vision problems."

The program is available to anyone who has been diagnosed with a vision problem and who meets the eligibility criteria. The first step is to fill out an application and provide proof of income. Once the application is received, it will be reviewed by a board of directors who will determine whether the applicant is eligible for assistance.

Kolb said that many of the people who have been helped by the program do not realize that they qualify for assistance. "We want to encourage people to apply for assistance," he said. "The program is designed to help people who are unable to afford the cost of treatment."

Volunteers enrich residents’ lives

Six students from North Shore Senior High School are helping to care for North Shore Senior Health Center residents. The students are benefiting from their experience while making a contribution to the community.

The students, who are participating in a school project, are working in groups of two. They have been assigned to specific residents and are expected to spend at least two hours per week with each resident. The students are assisting with activities such as reading, walking, and companionship.

This is not the first time the school has participated in a community service project. In the past, the students have assisted with events such as a food drive and a clothing drive.

The students are excited to be helping and are grateful for the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of the residents. They hope to continue their involvement in community service projects in the future.

From the Light Hand

When I'd shrewd up with a dragoon in a room, he held me by the hair. The room was full of people, all drinking and carousing. The dragoon was very aggressive, but I managed to escape.

He pushed me to the floor and then pulled my hair. I struggled to get free, but he wouldn't let go. Finally,
I managed to twist free and run.

He chased after me, but I was faster. I ran down the corridor, turning corners as fast as I could. I heard him chasing behind me, but I managed to escape.

When I reached my room,
I opened the window and jumped out. I landed on a tree branch and climbed up to the roof. The dragoon was still following me, but I was safe.

I went back to my room and lay down on my bed. I was exhausted, but relieved to be safe.
