Glenn Grieshaber, new principal of Niles Elementary School South is looking forward with anticipation to the new school year which opened Tuesday.

Grieshaber, who came to School District 71 in August, said he has been busy getting acquainted with the faculty and ad-

One goal in the future is to promote computer education for students in third and fourth grades. "I would like to see them involved in introductory computer courses," he noted. He went on to say he was happy to be in a school district where

Niles officers pursue thieves on way home from station

Off-duty cops nab 7-11 robbers

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Quick action by two off-duty Niles policemen was responsible for the arrest of two Chicago men who allegedly robbed the 7-Eleven Food Store, 7450 Oakton St., late Wednesday evening, Aug. 27.

According to police officials, Larry Valenza, 25, and Larry Berry, 29, both of Chicago, entered the store shortly after 10 p.m. and told the clerk they were looking for a job. After being informed the application forms were unavailable. Berry allegedly pulled a gun with Valenza ordering the clerk to open the cash register and put the money in a bag.

The victim put approximately $80 in the bag. He was then told to go into a back room where one of the offenders said, "Stay there, or I'll shoot your a-- off." The two

Center of Concern matches homesharers

Many people, young and old, can no longer afford to live alone. Rising rents and increasing costs for utilities and home repairs make it difficult for many people to pay their bills and have money left over at the end of the month. Home sharing makes housing more affordable and provides the family-like support system many people need. The Center of Concern, 1580 N. Northwest Highway, Park Ridge, is pleased to announce our continued success in matching homesharers with home seekers.

We are here from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday to help coordinate shared housing for those in need of a place to live with those who have extra room in their homes - please call us at 823-0453 and ask for Dee Heinrich.

Cosentino cites best buys in bank credit cards

Jerry Cosentino, the Democratic candidate for Illinois State Treasurer, today released a survey of the five best buys in credit cards in the country and renewed his blast at Illinois banks that issue credit cards. "Yesterday's announcement of a drop in the discount rate leaves the discount rate at a nine year low while finance charges for credit card use in Illinois remain at the highest levels in history," Cosentino said. "Illinois consumers are being gouged. The President and the Federal Reserve are trying to stimulate the economy by making money cheaper. They want people to spend money which in turn retains and creates jobs, while here in Illinois those few banks that issue credit cards are instead interested in keeping the massive profits they make off of the outrageous rates they charge." Last session we introduced legislation in Springfield that would limit finance charges in Illinois to 3% over the prime rate forcing lower rates. Yet the legislature refused to act. While special interests were getting shut out," Cosentino said. Cosentino noted that other states have acted. "Arkansas limits finance charges on credit cards to 5% over the discount rate" which means with yesterday's lowering of the discount rate finance charges for credit cards issue in Arkansas are Continued on Page 35

Wells emissions tests below EPA standards

A series of recently concluded environmental emissions tests on the stacks of Wells Manufacturing Company in Skokie reveals that the company's emissions from its manufacturing processes are substantially below any standards established for industrial emissions by either OSHA or the EPA, the company reported Tuesday. In reporting the test results, the company also categorically denied recent published statements by Illinois EPA spokesman Joseph Podlewski that the Wells tests did not determine whether the plant is emitting harmful substances because the "contaminants" will not be defined and the hydrocarbons not broken down. Marshall K. Wells, president of Wells Manufacturing Company said, "Our testing was performed under contract by an independent testing firm recommended by the Illinois EPA. The Omega Corporation of Bensenville, Illinois, which used procedures approved by the EPA and the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health, governing body of OSHA. "Test testing included the definition, sampling and analysis of over 250 different organic compounds as well as phenol, formaldehyde, carbon monoxide, cyanide, hydrogen sulfide and ammonia. The hydrocarbons were broken down by substance. "In conducting these tests, using U.S. EPA and OSHA approved methods, Wells Manufacturing Company has demonstrated its continuing concern about air pollution, concern that originated many years before there was an Environmental Protection Agency. It is also an indication that we are spearheading new approaches to the application of stack testing methods and analysis." In reporting on the tests, Dr. Eric Aynsley, president of The Omega Corporation, said testing was conducted in two phases on each of four separate emissions sources at Wells. Included were the Royer pouring, cooling and shakeout area, one molding machine, the sand mixing plant and the core making area. One set of tests involved the sampling and analysis of emissions from its dust collectors, which serve as the emission control devices for the sand mixing equipment used in its mold making processes. The other tests measured representative emissions from the mold Continued on Page 35

Des Plaines man's assets frozen in fraud charge

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan won a temporary restraining order freezing the assets of a man whom Hartigan charged has defrauded consumers through his video sales corporation, then vacated his business premises without notice to his customers. Defendants in Hartigan's suit, filed in Cook County Circuit Court, are Robert Horwitz, 9128 Barbary Ln., Des Plaines, and as president of P.F.G., Inc., 420 W. Huron St., Chicago, and, doing business as PFG Warehouse, PFG Warehouse Showroom; PFG Consumer Electronics; PFG (The Profinders Group); and Profinders Group Consumer Electronics. Attorney General Hartigan is seeking restitution for consumers who complained to his office that they purchased new television sets or video equipment at P.F.G., Inc., which malfunctioned. The consumers later found the TVs or equipment were used at the time they were purchased. The consumers also purchased from P.F.G. a 36-month "Total Video Replacement Protection Policy," and "Upgrade Insurance Policy," and an "Over the Counter Insurance Policy," all of which were supposed to guarantee replacement with new equipment if any of the equipment purchased malfunctioned. In one case where a used TV malfunctioned and was returned for a new set, the new set was found to also be used. "This complainant is a senior citizen, unable to lift heavy objects." Cradles, Cribs & Crayons offers unique day care

"Babies are God's way of making sure that the human race goes on" is a cheerfully decorated sign that greets parents and children upon entering Cradles, Cribs & Crayons, Ltd. in Skokie.

Director, Barb Tafelski chuckles when she thinks of the phone calls from people who think Cradles, Cribs & Crayons sells baby furniture. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Cradles, Cribs & Crayons is a day care facility catering to children from six weeks to four years of age. The children move through a series of rooms geared to age as well as social and emotional development. At each age level, activities designed to enhance such development, are used.

Tiny babies (on their own individual schedules) and toddlers are treated to a bright colored environment, in which they participate in crawling races and exploring toys as well as stimulating, talking, singing and cuddling.

Two year olds do exciting things such as painting, gluing, coloring, listening to music and stories, dancing and other sensory stimulating activities.

The three and four year olds have more stress put on readiness activities, such as hand/eye coordination projects (stringing beads, puzzles, pegboards), number and letter recognition, language arts, left/right activities along with large motor exercise. Recently a "water day" was held with the participants in swim suits for the day. Excitement reigned as children and staff became actively involved in the water games. Reading to the children and story telling are daily occurrences in each of the rooms.

"We," (Tafelski in partnership with her sister Mary Tafelski-Carey), "are proud of our staff and all the extras that they do for our parents." The staff consists of 16 persons, including the nurse and the cook. They have all had courses in Early Childhood Education and experience working with children.

"We do our best to provide outstanding services for the parents for they have given us their most precious possession to take care of," Tafelski concludes.

Strong arm thief?

An employee of Tam golf course told police that during the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., Aug.

26-27, someone dragged a Coca Cola machine on the course near the 5th hole. He then used a tool to pry open the machine and remove the change in the coin box.

The amount of money and extent of damage is undetermined.

Price switcher out-yells accusers

A lady was accused of changing the price of a boy's football pants from $19.96 to $6.98 at the Sportmart Store on August 29. She was questioned by local police but refused to give them identification, yelling she had a good lawyer and would sue them. When more police arrived she allegedly slammed the door against one of the policemen. After an hour of discussing the matter her husband was called to the store. After Sportmart releases were signed, the store did not choose to pursue the matter and the lady's husband left the store with their two children. Police said while the lady was yelling and screaming she admitted to switching the prices. She still did not want to leave the store and had to be coaxed to depart by police.

Pool damaged

A resident in the 8300 block of Western Ave. reported Aug. 27 that someone entered her yard and threw a lawnchair into her above-the-ground swimming pool causing a rip in the liner. Damage was estimated at $400.

DUI driver arrested

A Des Plaines man was arrested for drunk driving Aug. 25 after he disobeyed a spotlight on Greenwood and Dempster.

Police observed the offender go through a spotlight at the intersection causing the police car to swerve to avoid being hit by the car. He continued west on Greenwood weaving from lane to lane with police in pursuit. The car was stopped in the 9000 block of Knight.

He was released on $1,000 bond with a Sept. court date.

Price switcher apprehended

A security agent for Sportmart saw a man switch price tags on a fishing rod from $39.44 to $19.96 and attempt to pay the lower price at the check-out counter on Aug. 26.

He was assigned a Sept. court date after posting $1,000 bond.

Bear fan steals jacket

A Sears security agent observed a man conceal a Bear jacket and two pair of men's underwear under his leather jacket and walk past the check-out counter.

After he was taken into custody, police found white pills in a plastic bag and a cannabis pipe in the offender's car.

The man was released on $1,000 bond with a Sept. court date.

Shoplifter charged

A Chicago man was arrested for retail theft on Aug. 27.

A security man from Venture Store spotted the offender place various cassette tapes and batteries valued at a total of $49.96 into his jacket and attempt to exit the store without paying for the merchandise.

He was released after posting $1,000 bond with a Sept. court date.

MG driver nabbed in Niles

A Morton Grove man was arrested for improper start of a parked vehicle, ignoring a stop sign, possession of alcohol by a driver and failure to wear a seat belt on Aug. 25.

Police observed the offender with no license plate at Lyons and Maryland, with the passenger leaning out of the car pounding on the roof. At Lyons and Courtland, the offender floored the car, and proceeded eastbound on Lyons to Washington disobeying a stop sign.

After a stop was made at Lyons and Washington, police found that neither of the two men were wearing seat belts. A cursory search of the car revealed two bottles of liquor on the floor and a slim-jim tool.

The offender surrendered his driver's license in lieu of bond and was assigned a Sept. court date.

Pear tree damaged by vandals

A resident in the 8400 block of Clifton reported someone entered her yard and damaged a pear tree on Aug. 24.

According to police reports, more than two dozen pears were scattered on the ground and tree branches were broken up and thrown into a neighbor's yard. Damage is undetermined.

According to police reports, a party had been held in a neighboring yard the previous evening and it was determined the offender gained entry to the yard via the victim's fence.

The resident who gave the party was made aware of the incident and volunteered to make restitution for damage incurred.

Auto damaged in Golf Mill

A Wheaton man reported Aug. 26 a construction worker opened a large dumpster near his car parked in the Golf Mill shopping center caving in the right front passenger door of his vehicle.

According to police reports, the offender was wearing a white T-shirt and a yellow hard hat described by two gas employees on the scene.

The construction company has indicated it will locate the offender in an attempt to compensate the victim for damage which is undetermined.

Auto safety when sharing road with trucks

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar Automobile drivers must be extra cautious and alert when sharing the road with big trucks because a collision can be disastrous. In car-truck crashes, there are 35 percent more fatalities involving car occupants than truck occupants, according to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

When traveling behind big trucks, reduce your speed and increase your following distance. The greater physical mass and air braking systems of trucks cut their stopping abilities to almost one-half that of automobiles. Rear-end collisions often result in underdrive, when an automobile slides into and under a trailer, possibly decapitating the occupants.

Truck drivers have a higher line of sight and different blind spots than auto drivers. Stay far enough behind a truck to avoid driving in its blind spot, and let the driver know what you are going to do by using your turn signals when passing and changing lanes.

Passing a truck creates a sudden wind gust that may cause you to lose control or affect the stability of your vehicle. Maintain a firm grip on the steering wheel to compensate for the changes in wind.

In congested city traffic, remember that larger vehicles cannot maneuver as easily as smaller vehicles and need more space to make turns. You may need to yield the right of way or back up at a stop light to allow for truckers' wide swings.

"Paying for the privilege of using electricity"

Dear Editor:

My inquiry to the Commonwealth Edison Co. as to what the customer service charge on my bill was for - brought the following reply.

"...The amount represents the cost of the service connection, meter, meter reading, and billing." In the past this amount was originally included in the bill. This charge is not new. The only change is that it is now included in the bill...

In other words now I am supposedly only paying for the raw cost of electricity. How illicious. Let us examine each supposed charge.

#1. Service Connection - my house has been connected continuously to Edison since 1968. How much longer do I have to pay for this privilege?

#2. Meter - I am continuously paying for the meter. How much did the meter cost? Does it take twenty years or more to pay for a meter?

#3. Meter Reading - I would be glad to read my own meter and have Edison read it once or twice a year to see if my readings are O.K.

#4. Billing - In other words Edison's cost of doing business which should also include billing is not included in the cost of electricity?

All of the above fall in line with the current philosophy that the Edison Co. wants the rate payers only - to pay for new plants (Nuclear) and any other capital costs and the stockholders do not.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Here's a football oddity... The winningest team in the National Football League in the 1980's, oddly enough, has NOT won a Super Bowl in this decade... The NFL team with the best overall win-loss record in the 1980s is the Miami Dolphins—but despite that, the Dolphins haven't won a Super Bowl in the 1980s.

Who is the only current head coach in the National Football League who has also been the head coach of TWO other NFL teams? He's Seattle coach Chuck Knox... Knox was head coach of the Los Angeles Rams and the Buffalo Bills before becoming head coach at Seattle.

For the first time in football history, there will be SIX bowl games on New Year's Day next Jan. 1... That came about when the Citrus Bowl in Orlando, Fla., moved to New Year's Day... The other bowls on New Year's Day, beside the Citrus, will be the Cotton, Fiesta, Orange, Rose and Sugar Bowls.

Jennings Chevrolet is proud to have earned Chevrolet's recognition as a Service Supremacy Dealer... This means you get the very best service and courteous attention to get what you need to keep YOUR Jennings Chevrolet in good running condition.

In addition to our 28 year tradition with Chevrolet, The Jennings are also an Authorized Volkswagen Sales and Service Center.

A Tribute To Our Coach

Our manager picked us one by one back in the Spring of '86... He didn't know us or what we could do, just faith that our "short-comings" he'd fix... Our Dads pitched in to help him out, as much as they possibly could... He taught us "just how" to put—"A little fire on that wood" Hints on grounders, flyballs, bunts and strikes, never in a negative way...

Our coach always Knew The Very Right Thing To Say... "Come on Buddy, you can do it" were his favorite words to us... And if we didn't, it was "Get 'em Next Time" Never a great big Fuss...

We came in 1st place in the American League, won the World Series, too...

And Mr. Patterson, we believe, we owe it all to you... We all had fun, know you did too, and we're all so glad we have met—You touched our lives in a pleasant way—A Way We'll Never Forget

Aqua-Robics classes at LTY

A high level water exercise class - aqua-robics is being offered at the Leaning Tower YMCA. A variety of exercises are used to work on all parts of the body - swimming lengths, bobbing, treading, push ups from the edge of the pool, kickboard exercises, etc.

The class is designed for the swimmer who enjoys the water and wants to do a variety of fun exercises. Nicki Doehler, the instructor says, "It's a wonderful way to get in shape. The only prerequisite is that the person has to know how to swim. Other water exercise classes called aquanastics are available for people who do not know how to swim. Mrs. Doehler says, "You do not have to be an expert to join the aqua-robics class, people work at their own pace and become stronger as they progress. It's a fun way to get a workout!"

Registration for Fall I classes is underway now. Classes begin September 8. Call the YMCA at 647-8222 for further information.

CUB blasts utilities for blocking bill inserts

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) Wednesday blasted a group of Illinois utilities that have gone to court seeking to destroy CUB by cutting off the organization's main source of income.

During oral arguments in Federal Court attorneys for CUB said the utilities' suit has already cost the organization $359,000 in lost revenue and they urged the court to dismiss the case.

The utilities filed suit March 4 in U.S. District Court in Chicago seeking to overturn the Illinois law that allows CUB to insert literature in utility bills. Last year, CUB derived about 70 percent of its income directly from the bill inserts.

The law that created CUB in 1983 allows the organization to insert membership applications in utility bills four times a year. Each insert must be approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC), which can reject inserts that it finds inaccurate or misleading.

The utilities that filed the suit are Commonwealth Edison Co., Peoples Gas Co., Northern Illinois Gas Co., Central Illinois Public Service, Central Illinois Light Co., Illinois Power Co.,

Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric, and Interstate Power Co. Those companies were joined in the suit by the Illinois Telephone Association, which represents most of the state's telephone companies.

CUB, a statewide utility watchdog organization, is funded solely by its 170,000 members, most of whom joined in response to CUB literature they received in their utility bills.

The utilities claim the inserts violate their first Amendment rights. A decision in the case is expected sometime in mid-September.

Transportation Grants for Parents program

Legislation recently signed by Gov. James Thompson allows parents or guardians to be reimbursed for transporting their children to school because of hazardous conditions due to "vehicular traffic," according to State Senator Bob Kustra (R-28).

The new law amends the Transportation Grants for Parents program that provides reimbursements for transporting students living more than 1 1/2 miles from school who do not have access to free transportation. The law now includes reimbursements for those students living within 1 1/2 miles from school and have to be transported because of a hazardous route.

Parents or guardians who file for transportation reimbursements must list and document the total amount of money spent to transport their children to and from school, the Senator said.

Requests for certification of a serious safety hazard between the home and school must be filed at Regional Superintendents' offices by Sept. 1. Forms for the reimbursement of full-time students in grades K through 12 during the 1986-86 school year are available at local schools. Reimbursement rates will remain the same, with the maximum reimbursement level at $50 per pupil for the 1985-86 school year and $100 per pupil for the 1986-87 school year, according to the Senator.

Beginning this school year and thereafter, the deadline will be Feb. 1 for filing determination requests for a serious safety hazard due to vehicular traffic.

Grocery Bag Shopping Spree winner

Mrs. Dolores Kelly of Niles was the winner of the Grocery Bag Grab Bag Shopping Spree.

On Saturday, August 30, Mrs. Kelly, accompanied by her husband and two children arrived at the store at 7:45 a.m. They had previously come to the store on Friday evening to plan out what strategy to follow the day of the spree.

The store was in excellent condition for Mrs. Kelly to take full advantage of her good fortune. The spree consisted of three minutes in which Mrs. Kelly could grab any items with the exception of tobacco and video rentals.

With instructional help from her family, the spree began. Racing down the first aisle Mrs. Kelly headed for the canned hams and meat market. Proceeding down the market she chose rib eye steaks and chicken Kiev's. When Mrs. Kelly reached the end of the market, she turned up the frozen food aisle collecting bagged Shrimp, Tyson dinners and Tombstone double topped pizzas.

Store owner Pete Mueller kept informing her of the remaining time. Mrs. Kelly then raced to the front of the store to get a second cart. Back in action, she raced down the coffee aisle grabbing cans of coffee. Following her strategic plan of attack, off she went to the Film rack and across to the batteries. With time running out, there were a few more items needed to complete the plan. Racing across the front-end of the store the family pet was remembered with a new leash and in the final seconds, she collected candy for the kids at the register. The only thing left was a final tally of the grab bag total. Service Manager Barbara Cox rang up the winnings. Mrs. Kelly and her family made the best of an opportunity by collecting a whopping $415.70.

An out-of-breath and excited Mrs. Kelly, her first comment was she forgot the milk and bread.

Never-the-less the event was an enormous success for all involved. The Grocery Bag would like to thank all who entered and participated and we congratulate the Kelly family.

The Grocery Bag, 2614 W. Golf, Glenview, is an aggressive independent food store that plans to continue these innovative promotion for their customers.

Marcus to host headquarters 'House-warming'

A headquarters "house-warming" is being planned by the Marcus campaign for state representative in the north suburban 56th district. Republican candidate Sheldon Marcus this week invited the public to a "house-warming" party September 7 at his new campaign headquarters, 5920 W. Dempster, Morton Grove, from noon to 4 p.m. "And bring a little something that could help supply an office," Marcus said. "Some pens and pencils, copy paper, even paper plates and plastic cups. Such items would go a long way toward equipping our new campaign home." Marcus is looking for volunteers. "We see this as a campaign of the people," Marcus said. "Even folks who have never done a thing in a campaign are welcome to come in and get acquainted and hopefully give us a little help." Marcus's campaign phone number is 966-5686. He can also be reached at 966-7671. Marcus is challenging Rep. Calvin Sutker in the Nov. 4 election. The GOP candidate is an 18-year resident of Morton Grove and has served four years on the Niles Township High School District 219 board, serving as its president last year. He first served seven and a-half years as a member of the Niles Township Elementary District 67's school board. The Marcus campaign is chaired by State Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28th), who termed Marcus "an exceptionally well qualified candidate."

"Shel Marcus has a track record of dedicated public service," Kustra said. "When you call on Shel Marcus, he'll be there." Sutker's "absentee voting record" has already shown up as an issue in the campaign. In a district-wide mailing in early July, Marcus documented Sutker's "absent" vote on 323 roll calls in his freshman year in Springfield, including "missed votes on many of the session's most major issues." "In my 12 years of elected public service," Marcus said, "I can count on one hand the number of meetings I've missed. 'I'll be there for the people of this district, and I welcome the help of anyone who would like to be there with me,'" Marcus said.

Gottlieb lashes out at drug pushers

George S. Gottlieb, Republican candidate for the U.S. Congress-11th District, spoke out against drug pushers who peddle their wares to children in school and playground areas. "They should be executed", said Gottlieb, speaking of those convicted of selling drugs to minors. "The absolute worst thing one can do to a child is to introduce him or her to drugs. A young mind poisoned by drugs can never be reclaimed. Even if a young person quits drugs later in life, the damage done to a developing mind can be devastating and irreparable." Gottlieb's comments are a reaction to the increasing use of drugs by children at alarmingly early ages. The recent deaths of sports figures Len Bias and Don Rogers triggered a new concern for abuse of cocaine and other life-threatening drugs. "The cavalier use of drugs by these sports stars indicates the extent of the problem," added Gottlieb. "We live in a society where drugs have become acceptable. This has to change if America is to survive as a nation. A minor cannot make a rational decision in this area. Peer pressure and pusher influence wars the judgment of a young mind. That is why we have to stop this atrocity with laws that will have effect." Gottlieb continued, "Capital punishment will get the attention of drug pushers. Making the selling of drugs to minors a crime punishable by death will serve notice to those who would engage in such activities. The risks will be high, the consequences severe." In 1985, federal cocaine seizures totaled over 20 tons, 10 times the 1981 level. Heroin seizures more than tripled. Seizures of marijuana increased by 70 percent. By bringing the FBI into drug enforcement for the first time, 3000 major drug traffickers have been indicted. Nearly 1000 have been convicted. This shows the extent to which drugs have become a threat to America.

Crime Commission supports retention of 7 judges

The Chicago Crime Commission released the results of its 1986 evaluation of felony trial court judges seeking retention this November. Seven judges, Christy S. Berkos, Ronald J. Crane, Sophia H. Hall, Thomas A. Hett, Lester D. McCurrie, Stephen A. Schiller, and Earl E. Strayhorn, received the Commission's support in their bids for retention. Two judges, John W. Crilly and Lawrence A. Passarella, did not pass Crime Commission muster. The Commission's evaluation does not test the honesty and integrity of the retention of the retention candidates. Judges Crilly and Passarella, who did not receive the Commission's support, were found to have had weak appellate records, low disposition totals and low "time spent on the bench" scores. Neither judge received overwhelming support in the attorney opinion poll.

New Gottlieb headquarters opening

George S. Gottlieb, Republican candidate for U.S. Congress, 11th District, announced today the formal opening of his new, expanded campaign headquarters. The grand opening celebration will be held Sunday, September 7, at the new headquarters at 6056-58 W. Irving Park Road in Chicago. Festivities will be from noon to 6 p.m. "Everyone is welcome. Come by and let's talk about your concerns or just drop in to have some cake," Gottlieb said. "We're also going to have several TV's for those wishing to watch the Bears opener. I'm not drawing an analogy," added Gottlieb with a wink, "but we're kicking off our campaign about the same time the Bears are kicking off theirs. And, we expect to be in the same place in November." Coffee, cake and refreshments will be served.

Marcus opens Campaign headquarters

Sheldon Marcus, Republican Candidate for 56th District state representative, announced the opening of his Citizens for Marcus Campaign headquarters at 5920 W. Dempster in Morton Grove. Marcus is running against Niles Township Democratic Committeeman Calvin Sutker. Mr. Sutker missed a staggering 323 votes during 1985, his freshman year in the house. "For someone who appointed himself, ostensibly because he believed he was the most qualified candidate, Sutker's absentee record demonstrates an arrogant disregard for the residents of this district," said Marcus. "We deserve better. We need someone who is committed to representing our needs and will be in Springfield when you need him". Marcus has a long record of community service. He has been a member of the Niles Township District 219 High School Board since 1982 and served as its president last year. He also held a seat on District 67 Elementary School Board for 7 1/2 years. "In all my 12 years in elected office, I can count the number of meetings I have missed on one hand. I believe my record of commitment speaks for itself," said Marcus. Persons who are interested in working for Marcus should contact him at Campaign Headquarters, 966-5686 or 966-7671 or write Citizens for Marcus, P.O. Box 1986, Morton Grove 60063.

There will also be prizes for corporate teams in three categories: men only, women only, and men and women.

The Nutra Sweet Company will provide specially printed race results for each runner.

Participants are encouraged to obtain pledges, which will benefit the hospital's Good Health Program. Entrants obtaining pledges will qualify for special prizes.

For more information on the 1986 Great Chicago Chili Cook-Off call Wendy Fisher or Diane Jensen at 679-3311.

A sports visor or painter's cap will go to the first 1,000 entrants. All participants will be treated to a continental breakfast after the race.

The $8 entry fee is tax-deductible. Late entries after Sept. 18 will be $10. To obtain pledge forms and to register, call the hospital's Good Health Program at 677-9600, ext. 3588.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Dr. Vera on Chicago Medical staff

Dr. Andres Vera is a resident of the northside of Chicago who was born in Puerto Rico but has lived here for nearly two decades. Dr. Vera took his undergraduate training at the University of Illinois, as well as his medical school training at the University of Illinois Medical Center here in Chicago. All of his life, he wanted to be a family physician. He is an excellent family physician. He is certified by the American Board of Family Practice. His hospital affiliations are St. Elizabeth, Ravenswood, Westlake and St. Anne's West. He is a member of the Chicago Medical Society.

When asked what he likes about being a Family Practice physician, he stated, "Being able to help those who are suffering. I find not only my medical skills but the advice that I can render a patient to better cope with or avoid worsening of a disease is valuable. I particularly enjoy keeping people healthy by doing preventive medicine and suggesting changes in a lifestyle which are easy to do such as, minor changes in diet that are associated with marked improvement or avoidance of diseases related to the cardiovascular system and diabetes." Dr. Vera said he was happy to join the staff at the Chicago Medical and Dental Center (CMDC) because it is so well equipped.

Dr. Vera is just one of the many physicians at the Chicago Medical and Dental Center representing subspecialists in every category of medicine and surgery. All of them are competent, have years of experience and are interested in helping you with whatever problem you have. If you think you need a physician or dentist, think of the Chicago Medical and Dental Center, 6000 W. Touhy ave., 774-2100.

LGH revises smoking policy

Effective Tuesday, Sept. 2, Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, instituted a revised smoking policy restricting smoking by all patients, visitors, and employees to designated areas within the hospital. Ambulatory patients, visitors, and employees will be permitted to smoke only in the 10 Center Cafeteria, the Olson Auditorium Atrium, the patio and lawn area south of L.G.H. (in season), and the 5 South Lounge.

For patients, smoking is permitted only in private rooms or when both patients assigned to the room are smokers. If a smoker is assigned to a patient room where smoking is not permitted, he/she may request a transfer to a "smoking permitted" room when one becomes available. Ambulatory patients may leave the unit to access the smoking areas only with the consent of their physicians.

For employees, to support and encourage smokers in their attempts to quit smoking, the Employee Health Center of Lutheran General is offering a number of incentive programs to help them resist the urge to smoke. These programs include a Cold Turkey Packet, a four-week Stop Smoking Clinic, and a self-study program. The Stop Smoking Clinic, sponsored by the Respiratory Care Department of Lutheran General, is open to community members who wish to quit smoking. For more information about the clinic, call the Respiratory Care Department at 696-5090.

Bethesda appoints new managing director

Richard Snow has been appointed new managing director of Bethesda Hospital, 2451 W. Howard St. in Chicago. Snow holds a bachelor of arts degree from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee and a masters in health administration from Duke University in Durham, North Carolina.

Richard Snow

"Everyone, patient and physician, is first string. Everyone is important to us. That's why we continue to revamp and redesign our facility. Currently, we are enlarging the Emergency Services Department and are revitalizing our fifth floor," Snow explained.

Snow comes by his interest in health care quite naturally. His father is a surgeon, his mother, a nurse, and his two older brothers, physicians.

A cycling and fitness enthusiast, Snow, his wife, Laurie, and their 2 1/2 year old son, Matthew, are Chicago area residents. Bethesda Hospital is part of Universal Health Services.

Rainbow Hospice closes

Rainbow Hospice has announced that, due to an acute funding crisis, patient intake is closed indefinitely as of September 5.

Rainbow Hospice is a non-profit, community-based program serving dying patients and their families throughout the Northwest Chicago Metropolitan area.

Professional staff provides social work services and medical management in conjunction with the primary physician while volunteers, trained and supervised by the professional staff, work with patients and their families to provide supportive assistance during the last weeks of the patients' life. They also work with the family through the bereavement period.

While all services are provided at no cost to the patient or his family, the Hospice is heavily dependent on private donations to meet expenses. Requests for service during the current year are 69 percent over 1985; revenues for the same period have increased only 1.7 percent.

Training workshop on Assertive Communication Skills

A training workshop on Assertive Communication Skills will be offered again in the offices of Medical and Surgical Associates of Park Ridge, S.C., 112 S. Northwest Hwy., Park Ridge. This is the same workshop which has been offered in the past and received a very enthusiastic response. Pamela Schulz, MSW, CSW, Social Service Consultant in the office, will again conduct the workshop in its expanded form. The workshop will meet on four consecutive Wednesdays, September 17, 24, October 1, and 8 from 7-9 p.m.

Topics discussed in the workshop include: definition of assertive, aggressive and passive behavior; consequences of non-assertive patterns and factors which promote them in our lives; the advantages of assertive behavior; how to look and feel assertive; and assertive reinforcements in difficult situations. Participants will have the opportunity to assess their present level of assertiveness, and will be given tools for evaluating their communication patterns in specific situations and measuring their progress in new assertive patterns. A step-by-step model for assertive communication will be taught with participants having numerous opportunities to practice these new skills and techniques.

The charge for the workshop is $35 which covers all instruction and material costs. Space is limited to the first 20 people. For more information and reservations, contact Pamela Schulz at 696-3370.

Income tax protester imprisoned

United States Attorney Anton R. Valukas, announced today that Judge Milton I. Shadur sentenced Charles J. Myers to eleven years in prison and a fine of $50,000, to be followed by five years probation.

Myers was found guilty by a jury in July on forty-seven counts of tax fraud including his selling of fraudulent tax shelters and counselling of persons to file "protest" returns. Myers is the first person convicted in this district of counselling other people to become tax protesters. The evidence at trial showed that Myers conducted seminars at area hotels and on radio and television programs in which he told people that paying taxes is voluntary.

Myers' fraudulent tax shelters involved the sale of copies of children's Bible stories. Myers called himself "Reverend Doctor Myers" of the "Northbrook Bible Church" in order to sell the shelters. Myers falsified documents in order to make each shelter appear to be worth far more than what the investors actually paid. Myers also failed to file his own returns for the years 1982, 1983, 1984, and 1985.

Judge Shadur remarked that the case "was the most egregious fraud case that has come before me."

The eleven year sentence is the longest imposed in a tax case in this district.

Northwest Suburban Jewish Congregation Nursery School is organizing new classes for fall geared toward your active preschooler.

A cooking class for young cooks ages 4 and 5 yr. old which will include many favorite Holiday recipes. Most recipes will be made without the use of the stove and children will be instructed in the use of cooking utensils, table setting and kitchen clean-up.

Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1-2:30 p.m. (you choose which day). Classes will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Your kindergarten children are welcome to attend.

A new program - will be a class for children who miss the Kindergarten deadline and would like to have an opportunity to do pre-school advanced intensified reading, math and writing readiness. The class will also include arts, crafts, music and a complete gymnastic program taught by a highly qualified early childhood instructor. This class will be held 3 mornings per week from 9:30 to noon, also on a limited enrollment.

The Northwest Suburban Jewish Congregation Nursery School lets children be all that they are and helps them become all that they can be.

As children draw, string beads, cut paper and work puzzles, they are developing hand-eye coordination that will help them learn to read and write. As children play with blocks and puzzles, they gain their first insight into basic math concepts.

In our relaxed, comfortable and safe atmosphere, children can master skills - social, emotional, physical, cognitive and spiritual - and advance at their own individual pace under the care and guidance of our experienced staff.

As a Northwest Suburban Jewish Congregation nursery school, your child will have a wide range of play and learning experiences to choose from and the opportunity to develop relationships with other children and adults - a critical developmental step for your youngster.

New Mom-Tot Classes: Especially planned for the 1 1/2-2 1/2 year old toddler and his/her mother. making area, pouring and core making areas.

"Comparison of Wells emissions with OSHA codes which can be typically 100 times lower than normal air pollution codes show all the company's emissions at the Skokie plant to be low or below the limit of detection," Aynsley stated.

Analysis of the emissions from the plant indicated that the heaviest concentrations could be anticipated 400 feet from the plant, and that even the heaviest possible concentration would be below one per cent of the applicable OSHA codes, and only in a few instances is the one per cent of the OSHA code value exceeded.

"We have been in compliance with all EPA rules and regulations since 1970, when the Illinois Environmental Protection Act was passed. We have gone far beyond that which is required by law in an effort to please the community in which we live and work."

"While we have been successful in removing 99 per cent of our emissions including the odor particles, the last one per cent is the most difficult. It is this last one per cent which is the focal point of our continuing search for better control. Because it is an area in which little data and technology exists, we continue to test and evaluate new approaches to the problem," Wells concluded.

As part of the company's efforts to ensure the best possible maintenance, a computerized preventive maintenance and repair-history program was put into effect during 1984, he said.

"This system provides early identification of any problems before breakdowns occur, so that corrective action can be taken. It is especially valuable in maintaining the continued high reliability of our pollution control equipment."

Wells said the company began replacing its high emission coke-fired iron melting furnaces with new low emission electric induction melting furnaces that became available 22 years ago, six years before the creation of the EPA.

"We have been in compliance with all EPA rules and regulations since 1970, when the Illinois Environmental Protection Act was passed. We have gone far beyond that which is required by law in an effort to please the community in which we live and work."

today 10%, compared with the 20-22% being charged in Illinois.

Cosentino said the failure of the Illinois legislature to act leaves two avenues of action. One is open to consumers and the second is open only to the State Treasurer.

"One: Credit card users can shop around. I did. There are cheap cards available from other states."

Cosentino said there are three important parts to a credit card. 1) The annual finance charge; 2) the grace period (the time between a charge and the time finance charges begin); and 3) the annual fee.

"If you pay your bill off in full each month, you are much better off with a credit card that has a grace period. If you carry a balance each month, you should be more concerned with the finance charge."

According to Cosentino, the second avenue is the unique pressure the Illinois State Treasurer could bring to bear in this fight for consumers.

"As a private citizen, I can lobby, speak out, call for legislation and even apply out of state, yet the banks don't have to respond. Next year, however, I intend to be State Treasurer. I am a businessman and I don't like regulation - yet it is needed occasionally to correct a wrong that an industry won't correct itself. To those few Illinois banks who offer credit cards and turned a deaf ear to the cries for relief from Illinois consumers, from both the finance charge and from large amounts of state deposits. You will have to choose one."

Cosentino predicted that, if faced with such losses, the bank will respond. For proof, he pointed to an article in this week's "Crain's Chicago Business" that quotes a banking industry source as saying, "The Cosentino threat is a real one."

"But if elected, I don't take office until January. In the meantime, Illinois consumers should shop around. Here are a few suggestions:"

men then fled the store.

Police officers Don Leavitt and Roger Wilson, who had just completed their evening shift, were going home in separate cars when they were alerted at about 10:45 p.m. of the robbery via portable radio. Leavitt received a description of the suspects and the car (a silver Monte Carlo Chevrolet), and Wilson pursued the two men southbound on Milwaukee Ave. to Touhy where the car was stopped by two police officers.

Both were charged with felony and theft. Berry (who allegedly was in possession of the handgun) and Valenzia were unable to post $75,000 and $50,000 bond, respectively. They were held in jail at the Niles Police Station pending a court appearance Friday, Aug. 29.

According to Wilson, the case was continued to Sept. 17 and will be heard in the Des Plaines Circuit Court.

Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrickson said Leavitt and Wilson "did a super job. Police officers received personal portable radios last year, but are not required to carry them when off-duty," he said. "If they had not been in radio contact, the two suspects would have gotten away."

"We offer a complete wellness program which not only tailors individualized exercise regimens, but emphasizes other components of feeling good such as being with friends, feeling at ease and attending at convenient times.

The renovation has also allowed us to redecorate, which will lift the spirits of Fitness Center members. Fineran explained, "Brighter colors, modern interior designs and new fixtures will all contribute to the welcoming feel of the JCC facility," he said.

In addition to the new Fitness Center at the Skokie site, JCC will begin renovation this fall at the Horwich site at 3003 W. Touhy in West Rogers Park. A new "scenic" steam facility and lounge are planned.

For more information about JCC fitness facilities and programs, call Fineran at 678-2200 or 761-9100.

Youth Soccer Leagues are for children in grades 3-8. Teams are formed according to school. This program begins Sept. 22 and the fee per player is $20.
