Niles cop catches thief after high speed chase

A hold-up of the Gas Depot, 7662 Milwaukee Avenue, followed by a high speed chase through north-west Chicago streets, resulted in the capture of a 25 year old man by Niles patrol officer Donald Leavitt. It was reported several hundred dollars were taken by the offender.

The robber, Michael Leon Kathan, was booked for attempted murder, robbery, possession of a hypodermic needle, driving on a suspended license and fleeing and eluding. Local Judge Glowacki set bond at $500,000. Leavitt responded to a hold-up. Continued on Page 39

Stocking mask thief robs Pizza Hut

A man wearing a stocking mask robbed an assistant manager of Pizza Hut, 9102 Milwaukee Ave. of $1,639 as he was locking the door of the building at about 3:25 a.m. on Aug. 31. According to a Niles police official, the offender accosted the victim at the door who was carrying a bag containing $1,639 for a night deposit at a nearby bank. The offender displayed a handgun saying, "I'm going to have to take the money." He then asked if any other employees were on the premises, or if any more money was inside, to which Continued on Page 38

Zoners deny auto center on Touhy

At a Monday night meeting, Niles Zoning Board rejected a request for B-1 Special Use zoning for an automotive care center at 6980 Touhy Avenue. The proposed auto center would be similar to one operating in Palatine which is a shopping center for automotive services. A transmission shop, a tune-up center, a radiator repair and tire center and a muffler shop are examples of individually-owned franchises which occupy the Palatine development. The only franchise representative Monday night, Frank Smolen, of Merlin Mufflers, said his shop would be a special un- Continued on Page 39

Monday's Niles zoning board meeting was a classic battle pitting a young bright "Astor Street" attorney against the lady affectionately named, "Niles White Toronado," Sister Irene Sebo, from St. Benedict's Home for the Aged. Despite his breeding, his pinstripe suit and his meticulously prepared case, the kid from Astor Street never had a chance.

The attorney represented a developer who is proposing an automotive repair service at Touhy and Milwaukee Avenues. To the east of the property sits Sister Irene and her 80-bed home for the aged. The Sister demanded quiet and tranquility and a fume-free area for her protectorates. The guy from Astor Street could have thrown away all his legal experience and his fancy college background when he came up against the habited Sister. He lost the battle before the first shot was fired.

Sister Irene sits near the front and looks foreboding. That starched white uniform has folded arms in its forefront. Her slightly red-flushed face registers between stern and downright intimidating.

The attorney handled the lady with deftness. He was careful not to contradict her. And he was careful not to place her in an improper light.

LWV Candidates Forum on Cablevision

Suburban candidates for the Cook County Board of Commissioners participated Tuesday in a candidate's forum on Cablevision of Chicago sponsored by the League of Woman Voters of Cook County.

Incumbent commissioners and Democratic candidates squared off on issues ranging from the county budget, single-member districts, high taxes and waste disposal problems.

In an opening statement, Democratic candidate Andy Przybylo of Niles charged Republican commissioners had voted against single-member districts which were needed to give more equitable representation to the suburbs. "A single-district representative is more responsive to suburban problems and needs," he said.

Incumbent commissioner Carl Hansen said such a district would

District 63 hears PTAC guidelines

by Sandra Zarembski

In its meeting Tuesday night, the East Maine School District Board of Education heard a presentation by the Parent/Teacher Advisory Committee on Discipline about its Discipline Guidelines booklet.

The pamphlet, which was written in accordance with Illinois Reform Legislation Senate Bill 730, gives the district a uniform policy on matters of students' and teachers' rights as well as disciplinary procedures. The committee, which was composed of teachers and parents, stressed that its guidelines should be

Maine Beat

by Sylvia Dalrymple

CRUISING EXPLORER-STYLE...visiting unspoiled palm-fringed islands in the Caribbean on a small ship may not be everybody's cup of tea...but the rewards are great in seeing magnificent scenery adding up to an unforgettable experience.

Some of these islands are rich in history. Via our tour guide, we learned that Nevis was the birthplace of Alexander Hamilton who helped draft the Constitution and went on to become Secretary of the Treasury in George Washington's cabinet. Also, the marriage certificate of Britain's naval hero Lord Horatio Nelson and Nevisan Fannie Nesbit is preserved at the quaint Fig Tree village church. The visitor's register there includes the names "Elizabeth R" and "Philip."

Sister island St. Kitts is a popular vacation spot for Americans boasting a large hotel and casino. Although islanders are not allowed in the casino, the owners close their eyes to children (of tourists) trying their luck at the slot machines. We also saw an 18-year-old American tourist winning big at the dice table...with the ease of a professional.

BACK ON THE BEAT...Marilyn Brown, president of the Niles Historical Society, said plans are being made for a fundraiser for the museum on Oct. 25. The event will be a Chuck Wagon Party featuring an 1886 covered wagon recently donated to the Society. A flag-raising ceremony will also be conducted that day by the VFW and a "bare bones" tour of the museum will be available to visitors.

NFS offers problem solving support group sessions

Niles Family Service announces the starting of a Problem Solving Support Group which will meet every Thursday beginning September 18. Group sessions will begin on 7 p.m. with the first hour reserved for achieving therapeutic goals. From 8:30 p.m. the group will focus on socialization. Co-leaders of this group will be Mary Ann Jung and John Halversen. For growing numbers of people groups afford a fast, warm, supporting milieu where they can "look over" their problems and receive help in solving them.

District 67 reaches accord with District 34 on student transfers

An agreement has been reached between the Boards of Education of School District 67 and School District 34 that will transfer the residential area north of Kraft (Central Park) to District 34. In return, District 67 will regain the northern part of the "commercial triangle." The agreement permits parents now living in the area a choice to attend either school district under the following conditions:

Maine Township needs food for emergency pantry

The Maine Township pantry is in need of restocking so that the township can continue to supply emergency provisions to needy persons.

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson said that individuals and groups have been extremely generous in keeping the pantry stocked.

"With winter approaching we anticipate increasing demands for emergency food from people in crisis situations. Our supplies are nearly depleted and we would appreciate any help the community can provide in restocking the pantry," Halverson said.

Groups that would like to conduct canned good drives should contact Meryl Riverson, general assistance director, at the Maine Township Town Hall, 297-2510. Individuals who would like to contribute canned goods and dry packaged items may drop them off at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Hatfield Road, Park Ridge (between Potter and Greenwood).

SJB holds clothing drive

On Saturday, Sept. 20, St. John Brebeuf parish in Niles will operate its annual clothing drive to benefit the needy of the Chicago area. The drive will take place at the south end of the school parking lot (8300 N. Harlem) from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Volunteers will be on hand to unload cars of clean and usable clothing which would otherwise be discarded. Of particular concern is the collection of winter clothing so it can be distributed before the onset of colder weather. Regardless of the type of clothing, however, St. John's and the needy recipients will be appreciative of any donations.

It will also be appreciated if clothing is bundled in plastic bags rather than boxes, as more clothing can then be collected and placed on the vehicles used to distribute the material.

For information on the annual clothing drive, call Mike Dessimo (297-5343) or Andy Beierwaltes (965-6961).

Psychologist to speak to caregivers group

The psychological aspects of caring for an elderly person in the home will be explored at the SHARES meeting on Thursday, Sept. 18, at 7 p.m. in the Anderson Pavilion of Swedish Covenant Hospital, 2751 W. Winona.

Dr. Nicholas D. Kokonis, psychologist at the hospital, will discuss the feelings of the caregiver and the psychological impact of those emotions.

SHARES is a support group for persons who care for the elderly. The meetings which are free and open to the public are held the third Thursday of each month.

For more information call Jo Hammerman, social service department, 878-8200, X5284, or Steve Jackson, pastoral care, X5098.

Danny Thomas honored at ALSAC Convention

"Welcome Home, Danny" - a tribute to Danny Thomas - will be the theme of the 29th ALSAC/St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Convention, October 9-12 at the Hyatt Regency Chicago.

ALSAC is the fund-raising arm of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee, which Thomas founded in 1962. The highlight of the convention will be a black tie banquet after which Thomas will perform his original 5100 Club routine. During the late 1930's and early 1940's, Thomas played nightly to standing-room-only crowds at the night club, named after its address on North Broadway in Chicago. Bolstered by the enthusiasm of his Chicago fans, Thomas went on to become a national celebrity. In "welcoming home Danny," ALSAC will honor Thomas' humanitarian efforts on behalf of the hospital. To recreate the mood of the era, a 24 piece orchestra will play the Big Band sounds.

In addition to the Saturday night dinner, other-convention highlights will include an October 10 luncheon fashion show sponsored by Saks Fifth Avenue, Jewels by St. Clair and Revillon Furs, and hosted by Chicago celebrity Oprah Winfrey. Workshops and other social events are also planned. Proceeds from the convention go to support St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the nation's largest childhood cancer research center and the first institution established for the sole purpose of conducting basic and clinical research in catastrophic childhood diseases. More than 70 per cent of the hospital's revenue comes directly from public contributions.

Women in Sales Convention

Procter & Gardner Advertising, Inc., will discuss the professional side of networking, what it really means to do business, and how it can affect the bottom line.

Beverly Kievman, founder and President of Atlanta-based Marketing Innovations Corporation, will present a leadership award to a member of NNWS for her outstanding leadership abilities and her contribution to NNWS. Ms. Kievman will also speak at the Sunday morning brunch on "Women in Business - The Next Five Years."

The convention is open to all women (and men) who are in sales or who are considering entering sales. For further information and reservations, please call 577-1944 during business hours.

The convention will be held at the Marriott Hotel in Oak Brook, Illinois on Sept. 26-28.

The convention will begin on Friday evening with a cocktail party and a networking session, moderated by Loretta Foxman, entitled "Meet Your Membership and Increase Your Comfort Zone."

Among the nine diverse, but equally interesting, seminars which will be offered on Saturday are: "Telemarketing in Today's World"; "Selling Yourself: The Professional Image"; "Conflict Management: Key to Corporate Survival"; and "Management by Responsibility."

In her keynote speech at the Saturday evening banquet, Barbara Gardner Proctor, founder of

United Way funds aid Des Plaines shelter

"About 3,700 girls have come through Harbour Shelter since its inception in 1975," says Bette Weisman, executive director of the shelter, 355 E. River rd., Des Plaines, a shelter for runaway girls. "Family problems, physical and sexual abuse and drug or alcoholic abuse are among the reasons young people leave home. They just feel they can't stay there any longer. It's unsafe," adds Weisman.

"Before Harbour Shelter opened," Weisman says, "there was no place for a runaway girl to go. They usually ended up in a juvenile detention center. At the shelter, we feel that these children are running from a serious home situation and shouldn't be considered criminals. Now there is more of an awareness of the family problems and the drug abuse that might accelerate those problems."

"The United Way Miracle Relay is very important to us," says Weisman. "Through the Relay, we hope people will understand the type of problems and services that are needed in the community. We hope they will know the good that their work, contributions and awareness can do."

Warehouse burglar caught in act of theft Employee charged with theft

An Evanston man was arrested for burglary at the Warehouse Club, 7420 Lehigh on Aug. 30. Police, in response to an alarm, arrived at the facility at 1 a.m. to see a man wearing dark clothes run from the dock area of the Warehouse Club across Lehigh. The offender then crossed the railroad tracks and ran toward

Jarvis with police in pursuit. He was stopped by police on Menard. During questioning, the offender said he was walking home to Evanston via I-94. Three witnesses said they saw a man in dark clothes running when he spotted the squad cars entering the Warehouse Club parking lot. A car was found near the Warehouse by police and a check revealed it belonged to the offender.

Entry was gained to the building by removing a small window in the store area.

According to police reports, five Panasonic VCRs valued at $418.76, each, a stereo system worth $729.99 and a radio valued at $150 were removed from the store area and stacked by the dock door ready to be passed through the removed window.

The offender was released after posting $20,000 bond and assigned a Sept. court date.

Chicago man charged with DUI

A Chicago man was arrested for drunk driving and improper lane usage on Sept. 1.

Police observed the offender driving south in the 7800 block of Caldwell, when he cut in front of the police car. He started weaving from lane to lane and was stopped by police.

He was released after posting $1,000 bond pending an Oct. court date.

License violators arrested

A Chicago man and a Niles woman were arrested for driving with a suspended license after they were involved in an accident at 9103 Milwaukee Ave. on Sept. 2.

Broken windows in Lawrencewood

The manager of Lawrencewood shopping center reported someone during the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. Aug. 30-31 used a hard object to break the glass doors and windows of three vacant buildings in the Center.

Damage was estimated at a total of $1,500.

Vending machine theft

Persons unknown entered a laundromat in the Dempster Plaza shopping center early Saturday evening Aug. 30 and pried open the soap dispensary machine removing $28.

Damage to the machine is undetermined.

Traffic violator charged in accident

A Chicago man was cited for failure to yield to Golf Road traffic after he was involved in a car accident on Aug. 31.

The offender was exiting a private driveway at 6203 Golf to go westbound, striking a car going east on Golf.

He received an Aug. Court date.

2 arrested following accident

According to police reports, the woman driver left the scene with the victim's permission after she hit the rear end of his car.

The victim was taken to Lutheran General Hospital for minor injuries. Questioning by police revealed he was driving with a suspended license. Both were released after posting $1,000 bond each pending a Sept. court date.

Bomb threat at Culver

An official of Culver School told police Sept. 2 that someone called the school to say a bomb was in the building.

Students were evacuated from the building and a search by school employees produced negative results.

Garage sale theft

A Chicago woman reported someone stole her purse placed behind a bar during a garage sale in the 8300 block of Oconto.

The purse contained $40, several credit cards and house and work keys.

Auto vandalized

Persons unknown used a hard object to break the right tail light of a car parked in the driveway in the 8800 block of Caldwell.

Damage was estimated at $100.

Window broken

Someone shattered a large outside window of a business in the 7100 block of Austin on Aug. 30. Cost of repair is unknown.

Cash theft from eatery

The owner of a hot dog shop in the 6700 block of Touhy Ave. reported Aug. 30 that between 4 p.m. and midnight, someone removed $600 from a metal box on the floor near the cash register.

An employee told police that a youth had come in asking for a job at about 4 p.m. and was standing alone in front of the counter for 15 minutes while employees were busy. Police are following up on the case.

DAV to pick up aluminum for recycling

Have any aluminum beverage cans or miscellaneous aluminum you're planning to throw away? Keep them. Store them in separate bags. And then give the Disabled American Veterans a call. When their truck is in your neighborhood, they'll pick them up and recycle them for you.

Through the cooperation of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company, the DAV, long noted for providing opportunities for disabled veterans of American military endeavors, is offering a new service in the metropolitan Chicago area.

"Wherever we have a regular route, collecting usable clothing and household items, we will now pick up bags of all-aluminum beverage containers and a variety of household aluminum," said Lionel Ohlson, a spokesperson for the local branch of the non-profit organization. "As with our other items, the value of the aluminum will be deductible to the individuals or families making the contribution and our drivers will leave a receipt." In addition to the popular beer and soft drink cans, most of which are now all-aluminum, the DAV will accept additional aluminum items found in the home, such as aluminum foil, TV dinner trays and frozen food packages, pots and pans, lawn furniture tubing, storm door and window frames, aluminum parts of barbecue grills and other miscellaneous aluminum. Such items should be cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and preferably bundled. Call the DAV at 386-6811 for more information.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

One of the most incredible records in football history was set by the University of Nebraska in a game against Colorado in 1983 when Nebraska unbelievably scored the amazing total of 41 points in LESS THAN 3 MINUTES! Early in the third quarter, Nebraska made 6 touchdowns on a combination of long runs, fumble recoveries and pass interceptions, and kicked 5 extra points, for that total of 41 points in just 2 minutes and 55 seconds!

Where's the biggest football stadium in America? Answer is the Rose Bowl which seats 104,091 people. Second biggest is the University of Michigan Stadium which seats 101,701.

Here's a surprising football fact... Of the top 4 running backs in the history of the National Football League, NOT ONE of them won the Heisman Trophy in college football. The top 4 running backs in NFL history who've gained the most total yards rushing of all-time are Walter Payton, Jim Brown, Franco Harris and John Riggins, and none of those 4 won the Heisman.

OCC golf coach confident in team Savage looks forward to Oakton Cross Country

Nobody remains from last year's Oakton Community College Skyway Conference golf champions. However, that hasn't caused Raider coach Rich Symonds to push the panic button. In fact, the veteran mentor believes this season's new faces should be able to repeat the performance of last year's group.

"Our top priority is to win the conference," Symonds says, "and I think we can do that again this year. We have some good people coming in, and if we get some depth from other players, we should be in good shape."

Much of Symonds' confidence rests on the swings of Jim Miller (Glenview/Glenbrook South) and Tim McCarthy (Evanston, Loyola/Wilmette).

Symonds is counting on John Strategos (Glenview/Glenbrook South), Scott Manzara (Lincolnwood, Niles West/Skokie) and Frank Lupino (Glenview/Glenbrook South) to provide the Raiders with needed depth.

Oakton Community College cross country coach Pat Savage became used to success when the Raiders won three consecutive Skyway Conference championships in 1982-84.

Savage wasn't quite as pleased last season when Oakton had to settle for second place behind Waubesa in the Skyway. However, he believes the Raiders have the personnel to re-claim the conference throne.

Newcomers Jeff Gallagher (Maine West/Des Plaines) and Rick Newman (Glenbrook South/Glenview) are the major reasons for Savage's confidence. Both Oakton freshmen were top runners at their respective high schools and were named all-conference in the Central Suburban League.

"I expect that they'll be our top two runners," Savage said. "They both have considerable cross country experience, as opposed to many runners who have concentrated more on track. By the time they're sophomores, they both could be in the same class as Tony Vodicka (a two-time conference champ for Oakton who graduated last spring)."

Returning All-Skyway picks, Bruce Bower (Niles East/Skokie) and Hasan Syed (Des Plaines, Maine East/Park Ridge), along with John Hennessy (Morton Grove, Niles West/Skokie) and newcomers Mario Polkowski (Maine South/Park Ridge) and John Beatty (Conat/Hoffman Estates) give the Raiders more depth than last year.

"The increased depth should give us enough to come back this year and win the conference," Savage said. "All of the guys returning from last year have improved, particularly Hasan, but with the talented new people we have, it's quite possible that Bower, who was our No. 2 runner last year, will be No. 2 this year."

The Raiders open their season September 1 at the Park Forest Scenic 10-Mile Run, before competing September 5 in the 3-Mile Invitational at Niles West in Skokie.

Sea Lancers club at LTY

It's a beautiful day on Chicago's lakefront. The sun is sparkling off the water, small whitecaps ruffle the surface, a warm breeze blows across your face. Unexpectedly, a diver breaks the surface, his bubbles surrounding him, and seconds later his buddy bobs up beside him. The sight jobs memories of Sea Hunt, Jacques Cousteau and Sea Quest.

Most of us know what Chicago's lakefront looks like from the surface, but how many have wondered what was going on under the surface? What hidden treasures lie on the sand bottom? What type of water life abounds? What are these divers experiencing that you are not? The Sea Lancers know the answers to these questions and a lot more!

Niles West wins township road race

The Indians from Niles West scalped the Vikings from Niles North in the annual running of the Niles Township Road Race Championships. Junior Steve Rosen led the West boys to a 1:23 finish while sophomore Debbie Pozdol led the West girls to a 1:23 finish.

The race was run under cloudy skies with high humidity through the streets of Skokie. Rosen and sophomore Marty Bach led almost the whole way as Bach won the sophomore race only three seconds over Rocky Lee's course record. Finishing third for the boys was West senior Mark Kim. North senior Aaron Rubin led the Vikings with his fourth place finish.

The Y's way to a healthier you!

Worried about weight? Struggling with stress? Bothered by your back? Discover a healthier you at the McGaw YMCA in Evanston. Enhance the mind, body, and spirit! This is the philosophy of the YMCA. In keeping with this philosophy, the McGaw YMCA is offering 3 new health enhancement programs this fall - the Y's Way to a Healthy Back, the Y's Way to Stress Management, and the Y's Way to Weight Management. These national YMCA programs are developed by medical specialists and taught by certified instructors.

The Y's Way to a Healthy Back is a 6-week program designed for those who suffer discomfort and pain in the lower back. The class will learn about the major causes of back pain, how to pinpoint problem areas and how to prevent back pain. Gentle exercises will be taught to increase flexibility and strength in the key muscle groups.

The Y's Way to Stress Management is an 8-week program taught by a certified instructor and clinical psychologist developed to help people manage their stress for better health. This class is not limited to businessmen but focuses on all kinds of stress related to everyday pressures. Sessions cover: stress management philosophy; managing change; developing a stress management style; personal management skills; relationship skills; outlook skills; physical stamina; and the development of a personal stress management class.

The Y's Way to Weight Management is more than just another diet class. This 8-week program takes a comprehensive approach to weight management incorporating three equally important areas: eating behaviors, exercise habits, and food choices. Topics covered in class include: managing your eating time; developing an exercise plan; managing food choices; lowering your calories; building success teams; managing special situations. The course manual also includes an eating and lifestyle questionnaire, activity and benefits charts, nutrient chart, guide to food fat content, calorie guides to eating out and calorie chart. Enroll in these new fall programs and discover the difference the Y can make for you! Registration now open through Sept. 13. Classes begin the week of Sept. 15. For more information contact Neal Counihan, Physical Fitness Director, at the McGaw YMCA, 475-7400.

Golf Mill Mall aiming for late October re-opening

Construction workers, store managers and executives in home offices all over the country have set their sights on having everything ready for shoppers in the Golf Mill Mall on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

That is the date set to celebrate the total new look of the Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles. Plans are currently underway for the "Grand Opening" of the enclosure/expansion/renovation of the shopping center which promises to be a media event with entertainment, and special merchandising sales.

The Golf Mill Shopping Center which originally opened in October of 1960 as an open air mall has now been enclosed and renovated to include more than double its original rental space. The mall will now enclose 155 stores spread over the center's one million square feet of prime retail space.

A large food court, situated at mid-mall just inside the center's new main entrance facing Milwaukee Avenue, will feature two theme restaurants in addition to 16 fast food merchants offering a wide variety of snack and ethnic food specialties.

The 75,000 square feet, two level MainStreet store was added as the mall's third anchor last fall joining the existing J.C. Penney and Sears stores.

The landmark site for Golf Mill, the Golf Mill Professional Building has been incorporated into the mall's enclosed common area with a number of merchants being added in the tower's lobby area.

To go along with the all-new interior look of the Golf Mill Mall,

This recent aerial view of Golf Mill shows both the magnitude of this ambitious project and just how close to completion it is. JCPenney is adjacent to the center's office tower, the new food court with its porte-cochere entrance is to the right. Directly above that in the photo is the Sears store at mid-mall and the darker building at the upper right of the photo is MainStreet.

numerous exterior improvements are also being made including extensive landscaping, parking lot resurfacing, additional exterior and lot lighting and a classic-looking exterior wall treatment of brick and inlaid stone columns.

To complete the totally new look both inside and outside the Golf Mill Shopping Center, they are also introducing their new logo to the public. The new design is intended to reflect the updated look and facilities and yet keep the familiarity of the original logo used by the center for the past 25 years.

Glen Oaks holds art exhibit

Resident artists at Glen Oaks Nursing Center in Northbrook will present an art exhibit and sale on Sept. 24 from one to four p.m.

As a registered Art Therapist at Glen Oaks Nursing Center, Ruth Crost works with various groups of residents with a wide range of disorders and ages. However, the past year she has focused her attention upon young oldsters, ranging in ages from 65 through 90.

The artwork produced is professional and reveals a unique quality of the wisdom of life-long experiences.

When asked what creating art did for them, they all had a common response: It made them feel alive and ticking again.

Art Imagery offers a modality to release anxieties, identify problems, and regenerate personalities. Art establishes better health and maintenance of cognitive abilities and fine motor skills. Two of the residents who were hypertensive had a drop in their blood pressure. The positive aspects of involvement in this creative pursuit are endless.

Glen Oaks Nursing Home Art Exhibit and sale is open to the public. All proceeds are given to the resident artists.

Nilesite chides library for statement on "confusing voters"

Dear Editor:

I am FURIOUS with the article in the August 28th issue of the Niles Bugle. On page three of this issue under the heading, "Niles Residents to Vote on Library Tax Hike", the paragraph I am referring to states that Board member Myles Dimond initiated the Board's action to put the referendum on the November ballot. It states that referendum would raise the tax rate 65% from the present .15¢ to .22¢ per $100 assessed valuation but instead the Board voted to raise the tax rate to .25¢ fearing that the lower rate would only confuse the voters. How stupid does the Board think the voters are? We certainly know that an increase of .22¢ is lower than .25¢ and we would definitely not be confused. Since when does the Board think they are so high and mighty and perhaps they, the Board and not the voters are confused. Mr. Dimond, I certainly hope the referendum you initiated does not go through, especially since you think the voters are confused when it comes to deciding on the amount of the increase. You certainly do not qualify to be a Library Board member if you have the gall to hold the voters in such low esteem. I think you are the confused one.

Only last week, Board President Harry Pestine stated there would be no tax increase, and then he changed his mind. The only member on your board who is truly looking out for the benefit of the voters is Margaret Rajski. She is the only one who has the courage to speak out and not change her mind - unlike Mr. Pestine, who speaks with forked tongue.

We, in Niles, are very fortunate in having so many businesses to help keep our tax rates low. The library board does not have to go hog wild as if there is no bottom to the well. Other communities are scaling back on their expenses. Mr. Dimond and the Library Board, I feel you are not looking out for the welfare of the Niles taxpayer. You are only trying to build up a slush fund for additional unnecessary expenditures. Example: The purchase of the gas station for a parking lot, then the cost of knocking it down and resurfacing was unnecessary, especially when there was additional parking available across the street at the now defunct Lawrencewood Shopping Center.

Wake up Niles voters, do not let this Library Board waste your tax dollars. There is no need to raise taxes this much. If the Library finished its payments on the main library expansion, then there should be enough funds to take care of purchasing new books as they indicate are needed.

Voters, do not be confused as the library board thinks you are. Vote No on this referendum coming up on the November ballot.

A Niles resident

IPAC refutes Comm Ed charges

Dear Editor:

A letter recently appeared in The Bugle from a District Manager for Commonwealth Edison. This letter purported to show misrepresentation of the facts about Edison by the Illinois Public Action Council.

The letter was part of a long standing attempt by Edison to discredit Public Action's campaign to change the policies that have led Comm Ed to charge consumers 52.4% higher rates than utilities in surrounding states.

If I were an official of Comm Ed I would try to obscure the facts as well. The facts tell the story: **Comm Ed rates moved from 33rd highest in the nation in 1981 to 11th highest in 1985. Today more than nine out of ten utilities charge cheaper rates than Comm Ed.

**Rate increases granted to Edison have tripled the utility rates since 1977 - adding $496 to the annual average residential electric bill.

**Edison rates increased at more than double the inflation in prices for all other consumer items in the Chicago area.

**Edison's construction program, coupled with little or no growth in electric demand, will result in additional rate increases totaling $1.8 billion (35% increase) by 1988.

The reason for this terrible record is the policy to raise our taxes to pay for needed repairs, land acquisitions, executive salary increases, don't we?? This is absolutely incredible nerve on their part!! Will you vote in favor of the referendum?? I know I can't at this point, not with this kind of disregard for our tax dollars.

On another point, if we're concerned about priorities at all, which I wrote about earlier, why has the board added Cardinal Park, when just a half mile south we have Prairie View & a half-mile west we have National Park?? Additional maintenance to charge the consumers - not only for all of the profits that sit idle - but also for its profit on the idle plants.

To reduce our electric bills we must do two things: **Pass a state law capping the amount of "excess capacity" for which Edison can charge consumers.

**Consider alternatives to Comm Ed when franchise agreements come up in our cities and towns. Cities like Geneva and Rock Falls, Illinois have cut rates by 30% to 40% by dropping Edison and getting power elsewhere.

In the coming year Illinois Public Action Council will intensify its campaign to return reasonable utility rates to the Chicago area.

Sincerely,
Robert Creamer
Executive Director

Incredible nerve on part of park board

Dear Editor:

I'm appalled to learn ALL the Morton Grove Park Board Commissioners & Mr. Dave Huber are going to the National Parks Convention in Anaheim, California in October.

Can you imagine the gall? This trip will cost us taxpayers up to $10,000!! But, oh, yes, folks, we need a referendum to raise our taxes to pay for needed repairs, land acquisitions, executive salary increases, don't we??

This is absolutely incredible nerve on their part!! Will you vote in favor of the referendum?? I know I can't at this point, not with this kind of disregard for our tax dollars.

On another point, if we're concerned about priorities at all, which I wrote about earlier, why has the board added Cardinal Park, when just a half mile south we have Prairie View & a half-mile west we have National Park?? Additional maintenance

Frank Wagner expresses thanks to wellwishers

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation and thanks to the newspapers and all the many people who sent me cards etc. during my recent illness. The prayers and calls of concern of so many most certainly helped my recovery and I will forever be grateful in knowing I have so many thoughtful friends. I would like to thank my family and especially my wife, Charlene, who all shared the trauma of my hospitalization. Without their prayers and support the road to recovery would have been much longer than it was. Thank you all again.

Sincerely,
Frank C. Wagner, Jr.

Thanks seniors for warm welcome

Dear Editor:

I'd like to thank the senior citizens of Des Plaines for so warmly welcoming me last week to their gathering at the Des Plaines Life Fulfillment Center.

As executive director of the Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens, I was pleased to inform this gathering that the Illinois Pharmaceutical Assistance Program has recently been expanded to cover the cost of arthritis and diabetes medication for many elderly Illinoisans.

Des Plaines seniors wishing more information on this program should feel free to contact me at The Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens, 1 Quincy Court, Suite 714, Chicago, IL 60604, 427-6262.

Respectfully,
Jan Schakowsky
Suburban Democratic Candidate for Cook County Board of Commissioners (Evanston resident)

Aid for auto rattles Pre-winter tune-up should include inspection of the cooling system

Do your repairs when you are finished using the car for the day. Hear a rattle or two? Begin by checking the rattle-prone areas of your car. A bit of glue may solve your problem.

Low rates make State Farm homeowners insurance a good buy.

CALL ME

Is the taillight lens juggling? A bead of Elmer's Stix-All will help fill the gap and hold the lens in place. Check the metal trim. If it's loose, insert some of this new glue between the car and trim and press down. If the trim pops up, tape down with masking tape for approximately six hours. Use a dry cloth to clean adhesive before it dries.

This will allow the adhesive to cure. In fact, it is a good idea to extend the repair time a bit longer than overnight, if possible, so the glue can reach its full strength, particularly if your car has a rocky road to travel.

For other quick car and household repairs, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to: 80 Ways to Use Stix-All, The Fulfillment, Center, 3145 E. 17th Avenue, Columbus, OH 43219.†

- Many motorists wait until the first cold snap to winterize their automobiles.
- The result is usually a frantic phone call to their local service station mechanic, who by this time, is already deluged with time-consuming road calls for dead batteries, frozen radiators and various ignition ailments.
- To make sure your engine will run properly when it's ten below zero, the Gates Rubber Company has developed an easy-to-perform winterizing tune-up for your car's cooling system, the cause of many cold weather driving problems.
- 1.) Examine all hoses, especially the radiator and heater hoses, for swelling, soft spots, cracks, a partially collapsed condition, cuts and general deterioration.
  - 2.) Tighten all hose clamps. Replace those which can't be adequately tightened, or that show corrosion.
  - 3.) Check all V-belts for wear on bottom and sides. Pay particular attention to the alternator drive. Replace or re-tension as necessary. If belts are more than four years old, replace them regardless of visual condition.
  - 4.) Check the coolant for rust and the concentration of antifreeze. Auto parts stores sell inexpensive testers for checking antifreeze protection. Flushing the system (about every two years) and replacing the coolant with a 50-50 mixture of water and antifreeze is a do-it-yourself job.
- While the cooling system is drained, this is also a good time to replace the upper and lower radiator hoses.
- 5.) Inspect the condition of the radiator cap gasket and spring. Check the radiator filler neck for nicks that could lead to a pressure loss.
  - 6.) Clean bugs, leaves, paper and other foreign matter off the front of the radiator. Remove by spraying with water. This helps the flow of air through the radiator.
  - 7.) After the cooling system has been inspected and serviced, remove the radiator cap and start the engine. If the coolant begins to circulate immediately, or if after you have re-installed the cap, the upper radiator does not feel like it's conveying warm coolant, the thermostat will need replacing.†

Save driving headaches with winter precautions

The saying goes, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." As the cold, wet weather of winter takes hold, your response to the wisdom of these words can make the difference between how reliable your car will be in meeting the challenges of the season.

One of the most important steps in your preventive maintenance regimen will be to trouble-shoot problems under the hood. Following the preceding set of tips, you should be able to keep your car running well and on the road instead of in somebody's service station.

It would be ideal if you checked the oil level every time you visited the gas pump. Most car owners, however, do not follow this practice. Suffice it to say that the oil should be checked at least once a week.

For cold weather driving you should be using multi-grade weight oils no lower than 10W-30. They are designed to remain thinner and circulate more easily. The frequency with which you change the oil will depend upon how often you drive, but keep in mind that you should put in a new oil filter after every change.

Check Electrical System

Cold weather and dampness can sap the strength of the electrical system so it is important to give this area of the car a good inspection at the beginning of the season.

Unless you have a maintenance-free battery, check the water level in your car battery every few weeks. Since battery acid is highly dangerous and volatile, take precautions to protect your skin and remove any objects such as cigarettes before taking off the vent caps and adding water.

While the battery cables are off, clean the battery terminals with a piece of sandpaper. This increases the odds of getting the car started on a really cold day.

Other electrical parts such as battery cables and spark plugs should also receive some close attention. If you are looking at a tune-up in the future, now may be the perfect time.

Fuel System Affects Engine's Performance

Your under-the-hood maintenance regimen should include consideration of the car's fuel system. Winter is traditionally the hardest driving time of the year for your car. Factors such as a dirty carburetor and deposits on valves can impede the engine's ability to perform. Regular use of a gasoline additive, such as "No. 7" Gas Booster, will help keep these areas from becoming a problem during winter driving.†

Check wipers before winter

Perhaps more than any other automotive component, windshield wipers are taken for granted by motorists until, of course, it rains, or the car is splashed by another vehicle.

Yet, according to a survey of nearly 3,000 car owners by Anco Windshield Wipers, 38 percent of original owner vehicles have never had a wiper blade replaced.

For safety assurance, a wise time to inspect the condition of wipers is before the challenges of winter driving.

Run a car wash & wax Allstate opens new Niles office

An ideal way to raise money for your community group is to organize a car wash. With a little organization, 20 to 30 ambitious individuals can gross a few hundred dollars on a sunny Saturday with little or no cash outlay. The community car wash can be either a one-shot event or a weekly activity, depending on your group's needs. Here are some tips from Borden's Car Care Products Group to make your community car wash a huge success and a great deal of fun.

Choose a location that allows you access to both water and electricity. School or church groups can use their respective parking lots. Should these facilities not be available, get permission to use a portion of your local shopping center or supermarket. An unused area of a service station on a busy street makes a good location, and a telephone call to the gasoline company that owns it can usually get your group the necessary permission.

Once you have set the location, your next and critical step is the pre-wash publicity. Word of mouth among your friends, family, and neighbors can go a long way toward insuring a successful car wash. Send a picture to local newspapers with five or six crew members dressed in overalls, carrying buckets, sponges, vacuum cleaners and towels and posed next to a car. Perhaps a well-known local personality can be your first publicly announced customer. Enclose a short news release about your group and the car-wash project. Specify the date, time, place and price. Remember to set a rain date. Send a similar story to radio, and, if available, television stations in the area for use on their community calendars. Finally, have handbills mimeographed and distribute them at the supermarkets and shopping centers in the area.

The final publicity should be done the day of the car wash. Prepare a couple of large signs reading "Service Club Car Wash Just Ahead!! Price $2.00." Check with your local police as to whether you can mount them on various telephone poles around town.

So much for publicity, now for the actual car-wash work. Again, the key to success is to be well organized. Timing is also important. Aside from the fact that the customer hates waiting for his car, the more cars you wash per hour, the more money you will make.

When the customer drives in, he should stop his car at your first station, the interior cleaning area where the car should be dusted and vacuumed. This area should be well separated from the washing area, since vacuum cleaners will be used, and water and electricity are a dangerous combination.

The window washers then move the car to the next station, the washing area. To save time, the exterior of the car should be washed while the interior windows are also being cleaned. You will need three separate washing stations to save even more time and not let cars and customers back up. These stations ideally require a hose, but if no hookup is available, buckets and water will do adequately. A good quality detergent solution, such as Borden's Rain Dance Car Wash in liquid or powder, washes dirt off quickly and leaves a beautiful, shiny, clean finish. In addition, you will require a mountain of water-absorbing towels which crew members can borrow from home. A hard long-bristled short-handled brush will help you do a good job on the wheels.

If you can find an old-fashioned wringer for wringing out the wet towels, great. If not, you simply use a little more elbow grease. Another handy product for this project is "No. 7" Tar and Bug Remover which will remove road tar and oil resistant to soap and water.

Crews should be made up to man each wash station, and each person should have an assigned task. To illustrate: The tallest person washes the roof; the shortest washes the wheels. One person on each side does the doors, fenders and windows on the outside. Another cleans the hood and grill, while still another does the rear of the car. When the wash job is completed, the car is dried in the same manner. Then, before the car is turned over to the customer, one crew member, acting as foreman, checks the car from top to bottom. One person should be assigned to man the cash. Remember to have $10.00 worth of change in hand at the beginning of your venture.

For the very ambitious, you might want to offer a complete wash and wax package. Bear in mind that waxing takes more work and time, but the financial rewards can make it worth your while. For this job, it pays to use a high-performance product like Rain Dance car wax. It goes on easily and leaves a shining, long-lasting, water-repelling finish.

If the weather is bright and sunny and you have done a good job on the publicity, you will have a very busy day. Be sure to have relief workers available as washing cars may be fun, but it does take work.

Eventually the different station areas will want to take a well-earned break. With two or three stations operating efficiently, you should be able to wash fifteen to twenty cars an hour.

Remember the key to a successful community car wash is to be as organized as possible. This cooperative venture is a great way to raise money and give your group a deserved sense of unity and purpose. Plan, organize and work hard, and you will be assured of a successful day.†

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Amazingly, snakes can go without any food for a year or more.

The first advertisement ever broadcast over TV was an announcement for Bulova watches on July 1, 1941. That was the beginning of commercial television in America.

The U.S. could fit into the Soviet Union almost 2 1/2 times. The U.S. consists of 3.6 million square miles; the Soviet Union has 8.6 million square miles.

Which magazine in the U.S. has the largest circulation? Answer: TV Guide. Second: Reader's Digest.

Among people who live longer than average, according to insurance statistics, are clergymen, scientists, symphony orchestra conductors, Supreme Court justices and teachers.

Prepare yourself for safety on the road

The leaves are turning and the air is growing crisp. Those lazy summer days are becoming fond memories. All across the country people are gearing up to go back to schools and jobs, or to take fall trips in the country.

Before you join the throng on the nation's freeways, remember to take the necessary precautions for safe travel. Investing in a full tune-up for your car, for example, is a must—especially with the winter approaching. Even if you're just traveling for a weekend, have the service station attendant check the tires, belts and hoses for wear and make sure the windshield wipers and lights work properly.

Once on the road, drive defensively. Anticipate sudden stops from other drivers, stick to the speed limit and always wear your seat belt. In many states, it is now the law to buckle up.

You can also be prepared for safety even if, despite precautions, you have an accident or get stranded. For example, a citizen's band radio allows you to call for help in emergency. "Having a way to summon help on a roadside emergency can prove lifesaving," says William G. Smith, general manager for General Electric's Consumer Electronics Products Department. "Citizen band radios can be that life saver. The new portable emergency CBs are much smaller and lighter than the full-sized units, and don't have to be installed permanently in your car."

General Electric's HELP-1-2 fits in most glove compartments, yet still has full sized CB power and 40 channels for transmitting messages. It also has an emergency button for instant access to the police-monitored channel 9.

Other safety items to pack with you for your fall trips are:

- Battery-powered flashlights.
- Spare hoses and belts along with an assortment of extra fuses.
- Road flares or reflective triangles to warn traffic you've stopped to make repairs.
- A good spare tire. The worn-out tread you've been meaning to replace may get you going again—but not for long.
- A first aid kit and blanket.

So whether you're heading back to school or work, or just taking a trip to see the fall foliage, make sure you and your car are prepared for travel.†

Parkside offers weight loss program

Parkside Human Services Corporation offers a unique modified fasting weight loss program that can help obese individuals lose weight while improving their outlook for long-term health.

The Parkside Optifast Program is designed for patients who are at least 50 pounds overweight. Participants take a nutritionally balanced, high quality supplement, Optifast, five times a day in lieu of regular meals. This supplement offers a caloric, mineral, and vitamin content that can be safely substituted for their normal diet.

Actual program statistics support the doctor's statement. The average weight loss for men in Parkside's program is 4 pounds per week, and women 3 pounds per week.

Participants in the program see a physician weekly so that their progress can be medically monitored. They also attend weekly group meetings conducted by a psychologist and/or a registered dietitian. These weekly meetings emphasize lifestyle changes to ensure weight maintenance, as well as provide support during the fasting phase.

The orientation session will acquaint potential participants with the program. The orientation is free and does not obligate anyone to participate in the program. Call 696-6478 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. for more information.

Advanced treatment for cancer at St. Francis

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston is the only hospital in the North Shore area which offers an advanced treatment for deep-seated and difficult to reach cancers. The hospital began using intraoperative radiation therapy in 1984 and has treated 23 patients. Hebe Forgiione, M.D., director of radiation therapy at St. Francis Hospital and president of the North Shore American Cancer Society, says that candidates for intraoperative radiation therapy are patients with pancreatic, stomach, rectum and gynecological cancers. These cancers, according to Dr. Forgiione, traditionally have the poorest success rate in terms of current treatment. Intraoperative radiation therapy represents a collaborative effort between the hospital's surgery and radiation therapy departments.

Intraoperative radiation therapy delivers a high dose of radiation directly to the cancer tumor at the time of surgery, leaving the surrounding healthy tissues unaffected. Traditionally, radiation therapy consists of treating the tumor externally through numerous radiation sessions. The normal tissues included in the path of the beam limit the amount of radiation that can be delivered.

Patients with deep-seated cancers are taken into surgery where the tumor is exposed and evaluated. Next, the patient's wound is temporarily closed and the patient is transferred to the radiation treatment room. The radiotherapist positions the radiation targeting cone directly on the cancerous tumor. After the radiation treatment is given, the patient is returned to the operating room for routine closure. When the patient is fully recovered from the surgical procedure, he or she will continue radiation or chemotherapy treatment in order to further fight the disease.

Oakton sets nurse asst. training program

The next session of the Oakton Community College 10-week Basic Nurse Assistant Training program is scheduled to begin on Oct. 7.

The program, which trains students to work as nurses aides in nursing homes, hospitals and private health care agencies, is scheduled to meet Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. The program includes 159 hours of instruction, 106 of which are classroom training and 53 are clinical hours spent at nursing homes and home health agencies. (ESL) and tutoring are offered for four to six hours a week.

Upon successful completion of the program, a certificate authorized by the Illinois Department of Public Health is awarded by the College. An ongoing job training workshop is included throughout the program. Job placement assistance is available after completion.

This activity is a human resource investment program authorized by the Northern Cook County Private Industry Council.

For further information, call Kathleen Ahern-Gray, program coordinator, 674-5950.

Physicians Center opens Skokie office

Physicians Centers, responsible for helping thousands of patients stop smoking - a stay stopped - has opened a new medical office at 64 Old Orchard Center in Skokie.

With great success at Chicago's 500 N. Michigan Ave. office and the Professional Building at Oakbrook Center, Oak Brook, now Skokie provides another convenient location where help is available to end the cigarette habit forever.

"Nicotine in cigarettes, like other drugs, has both a physiological and psychological phase in its addiction," says Eunice Bailey of Physicians Centers. "That's why our patients are seen by both a licensed medical doctor and a Ph.D., or counselor so all aspects of cigarette smoking are dealt with," said Bailey.

The one and one-half hour treatment takes effect within minutes. Many immediately experience a diminished desire to smoke and the majority do not experience the side effects of nicotine withdrawal as do those who try to quit on their own.

You can leave Physicians Centers a comfortable ex-smoker, who can stay stopped for the rest of your life.

The fee for treatment is tax deductible and many insurance companies reimburse Physicians Centers patients.

Call the Skokie office for more information and to make an appointment to stop smoking for good. Call 679-5300.

ITT Bell & Gossett receives corporate safety award

ITT Bell & Gossett of Morton Grove, has been named to receive a 1986 ITT Safety Improvement Award.

The awards, honoring ITT companies for their exceptional achievements in safety and fire prevention, were announced by Rand V. Araskog, ITT chairman and chief executive.

ITT Corporation developed a systemwide safety and fire prevention program a number of years ago to protect the more than 230,000 ITT employees working in nearly 100 countries.

The award to ITT companies evidences achievement in the control of occupational injuries, fire, property damage and the maintaining of effective overall safety programs. Awards for 1986 were given to four ITT companies worldwide in recognition of their contributions.

The ITT Corporation Safety Award for Improvement has been presented to Bell & Gossett for its exemplary reduction in employee injuries.

Under the leadership of Richard W. Bartells, unit management successfully promoted a positive attitude toward safe work practices. Key elements were management's support, control of workplace hazards, effective supervisory training and good employee communications. The cumulative result of the Bell & Gossett program is an outstanding improvement that deserves this recognition.

MONNACEP starts tours

Six Chicagoland tours are scheduled this fall by MONNACEP, the adult educational cooperative of Oakton Community College and the Maine, Niles and Glenbrook high schools.

The series begins with the "Stratford Play Festival," a five day study trip (September 23-27) that includes a luxury coach ride to Stratford, Ontario where participants will view five plays featuring the best of Shakespeare and selected classics by playwright from ancient Greece to modern times. The fee is $364 and includes bus, theater tickets, lodging, workshop discussions, escort and lectures.

On September 27, "Michigan Lake Shore," features a day of exploring Lakeside Winery and Cook Nuclear Energy Information Center. Onward to Holland and tour the only operating authentic Dutch mill. The $48 fee includes bus, escort and admission charges.

"Swedish Gevena" on October 4 is a guided tour of the fabulous estate of Colonel Fabyan, a Frank Lloyd Wright home, followed by a stroll through beautiful Japanese Gardens and inspection of a 100 year-old windmill. The $34 fee covers tour, bus, escort and gourmet lunch.

The October 18 tour, "Doing the Dunes," features a stroll through the Indiana Lake Shore Dunes while Dr. Irving Cutler explains historic, geologic and botanic features. Hiking in the dunes is optional; dress accordingly. The $30 fee includes bus, lunch and escort.

Historic "Galena-Dubuque" on October 25 is a guided tour across northern Illinois to river-front Galena, including the home of Galena's first lawyer, home of President U.S. Grant and antique browsing on Main St. After lunch, cross the river to Dubuque for a 1 1/2 hour cruise aboard a paddlewheeler. The $48 fee includes deluxe coach, admission charges, cruise and personal escort.

On November 9, "Ethnic Chicago" features a day of touring some of Chicago's many ethnic areas, including: Maxwell Street, Little Italy, Greektown, Bridgeport, Chinatown and Little Serbia. Admire what has been preserved, and become aware of our rich heritage. The $30 fee includes lunch at ethnic restaurant, escort and bus.

For further information about any of these tours, call 982-9888.

Oakton readies study trip to Stratford Festival

Oakton Community College offers a travel/study course to the Stratford Festival in Ontario Canada, from September 23 through 27.

Instructor Allen Schwartz will introduce students to drama by accompanying them to performances by what many consider to be the premier theater company in North America.

"Hamlet," "A Man For All Seasons" and the musical, "The Boys From Syracuse" are a few of the performances that will be attended by students.

The Stratford Festival travel course may be taken for three credit hours (TRL OF8) or as a non-credit MONNACEP adult and continuing education course (SOC566-01).

Cost of the course is $295, which includes round-trip transportation via deluxe motor coach, double occupancy accommodations in guest houses for four nights, theater tickets to five performances and buffet lunches while traveling to and from Stratford. Tuition and fees are additional.

Raven Theatre Company announces shows

Raven Theatre Company will kick off its fourth year with The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia by Preston Jones. One of the plays from The Texas Trilogy, The Last Meeting... is a bittersweet comedy about a group of good ol' boys meeting in their private club in the isolated, dried-out town of Bradleyville, Texas.

The Last Meeting... will open October 2.

Raven Theatre's second prime-time production for the 1986-87 season will be Getting Out by Marsha Norman. Getting Out is a tense psychological drama which focuses on a young woman's coming-to-terms with her crime-infested past.

Getting Out will open January 15, 1987.

Along with its regular prime-time productions Raven Theatre will present "The Shorties" - a series of one-act plays presented on Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings throughout the year.

"The Shorties" will open with Susan Glaspell's chilling murder story Trifles. Trifles will be staged by guest Director Lee Rogers.

Trifles is scheduled for a limited four week run from October 19 through November 12.

For information about ticket sales and production details for all upcoming Raven shows contact the box-office number - 338-2177.

Old Town School of Folk Music

On Saturday, Nov. 29, folksingers/songwriters Tom Paxton and Jim Post return to the Old Town School of Folk Music, 909 W. Armitage Ave., Chicago, for two shows at 7:30 and 10 p.m. Tickets are $10 (general admission), $8 (Old Town School members) and $6 (children and seniors).

Called "the greatest songwriter in the world" by singer John Denver, Tom Paxton has long been heralded as one of the most clever and insightful singer/songwriters in the music industry. Well-known for his satirical songs of social commentary and politics, Paxton has chronicled the nation's recent history more clearly and with more wit, charm, passion and humor than any other songwriter working today.

Joining Paxton is singer/songwriter-storyteller Jim Post. A natural performer, Post displays a wonderful mix of dramatic flair, tongue-in-cheek irony, finely tuned musical technique and genuine personal warmth that captivates audiences wherever he appears. In addition to his many concert dates, Post acts as host of the weekly WBEZ Flea Market Program broadcast every Sunday from the Old Town School of Folk Music.

Sesquicentennial celebration

Fontana, on the west shore of Geneva Lake, Wis., the location of main village of the Potawatomi Indians in its early history, celebrates the 150 years of the first white settlement with a day-long program on Saturday, Sept. 13.

The activities begin with a huge parade at 11 a.m. through the village streets to Reid Park at the Lake Front. An art and craft exhibit, food featuring Geneva Lake area restaurants "Chef's Specials", clowns and games will highlight park activities until 5 p.m.

Scheduled to appear in the park program are a group of Potawatomi Indians to demonstrate the fine art of black ash basket weaving.

Among the parade participants will be a driving team of Norwegian fjord ponies. The vehicle will be an 1870 English carriage, driven by Gene Bauer of Hest-dalen Farm, Round Lake, IL.

Music and song in the park will be provided by two local groups. The "Country Gentlemen", a barber shop quartet, will roam the park area; the versatile music group, the "State-line Boys" will be playing popular, polka and country western songs.

The Fontana Sesquicentennial program is sponsored by the Geneva Lakes West Business and Professional Association.

Auditions for Des Plaines Guild comedy

Open auditions will be held on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22 and 23 beginning at 7:30 p.m. for the next Des Plaines Theater Guild production, "Isn't It Romantic."

The show is witty, contemporary comedy about the post-college careers of two former classmates in their late 20's: kookie, sweet, Janie and her gorgious friend, Harriet, the men they love and the parents they must put up with. There are roles for four men and four women. A group of four men or women of any age are also needed to shift set in costume.

"Isn't It Romantic" will be produced by Jane Bernan and directed by Catherine Davis. The Guild Playhouse is located on the second floor of 620 Lee St., corner of Lee (US 45-12) and Miner St. (US14-Northwest Hwy) in downtown Des Plaines. For more information, call 296-1211 between noon and 8 p.m. weekdays.

Absolute Theatre Company season opens

The Absolute Theatre Company's sixth season will open Sept. 15 with the first of two murder mysteries to be performed in rotating repertory, THE CRUCIFER OF BLOOD by Paul Giovanni. Joining the Sherlock Holmes mystery on Sept. 29 will be Emyln Williams' classic psychological thriller, NIGHT MUST FALL. THE MURDER MYSTERY DOUBLE PLAY is scheduled through Nov. 8.

Thrills, chills, mystery, and mayhem are the order of the day for the Season Six repertory, featuring two stylistically different approaches to the genre.

Paul Giovanni's THE CRUCIFER OF BLOOD is a pastiche of several of Arthur Conan Doyle's legendary Holmes tales, featuring the great detective in one of his most challenging cases.

NIGHT MUST FALL is a physiological thriller, taut with tension and excitement. Bob Romeo directs the talented cast led by Stephen Revillon as Dan, the role originated by playwright Emyln Williams.

Tickets can be obtained through the Theatre Building box office at 327-5252 or through Ticket-Master.

Lawrence House Art Fair prize winners

Three North Side Chicagoans and one Skokie resident were winners in five categories at the Lawrence House Art Fair held recently and sponsored by Lawrence House, the senior citizen hotel at 1020 W. Lawrence Ave., in Chicago.

Winning first prize in two categories, Ceramics and Photography, was Nancy Hein of Uptown.

First place in Crafts went to Ernest Rerucha of Skokie.

Suburban Democrats open campaign headquarters

Mayor Nick Blase of Niles, chairman of the Suburban Democratic Committeemen of Cook County, announced today that a suburban Democratic campaign headquarters for the fall election will be opened at 935 W. Algonquin, Surrey Ridge Mall, in Arlington Heights on Saturday, Sept. 13 at 2 p.m.

All of the Democratic candidates have been invited to attend the opening day ceremonies, Blase said. Refreshments will be served.

"We hope that Independent voters and Republicans, as well as Democrats will come to meet our outstanding candidates," Blase said. "We have a state that all Democrats should be proud of from U.S. Senator Alan Dixon and gubernatorial candidate Adlai Stevenson down to our suburban county board candidates."

Blase explained that the Arlington Heights campaign office will be used by all Democratic candidates in the November election. "We'll coordinate Democratic activities in the area with the help of the committeemen. We'll also maintain phone bank facilities for the candidates and give them all the support we can," he said.

Blase said Democratic suburban campaign headquarters also are being opened Sept. 13 in Blue Island and Berwyn.

The Arlington Heights campaign office phone number is 557-2202.

Medicaid fraud bills signed into law

Five bills prompted by the late Sen. Prescott Bloom's efforts to curb Medicaid fraud were signed into law during the past week, State Senator Bob Kustra (R-28) announced.

Bloom, a Republican from Peoria, posed as an unemployed drifter last year to determine firsthand the extent of the Medicaid fraud problem. That investigation prompted the Senate to form a special Select Committee on Medicaid Fraud.

The Medicaid fraud package signed into law during the week includes the following bills:

Medical licenses (SB 2190)—Gives the state the power to promptly suspend the license of a medical professional who provides substandard care to a Medicaid recipient.

Doctor Shopping (SB 2191)—Gives the state Public Aid Department the power to restrict a Medicaid recipient to one doctor or pharmacy if the patient has abused Medicaid privileges. This is designed to prevent abusers from shopping around to find doctors of pharmacists who will give them desired drugs.

Corporate Veil (SB 2192)—Allows the state to bar Medicaid providers from participating in the Medicaid program under the name of a new corporation or business if they have been barred from the program under another business association. In the past, Medicaid service providers have been able to skirt state sanctions by simply forming a new businesses if their business was barred from the Medicaid program.

Wire and Mail Fraud (SB 2193, SB 2194)—Creates new offenses of wire and mail Medicaid fraud. Both are Class 4 felonies carrying prison terms of one to three years and fines of $10,000.

Skokie Mayor Albert J. Smith and The Citizens Committee to Retain Calvin R. Sutker will host a champagne brunch honoring State Representative Calvin R. Sutker (D-Skokie) Sunday, Sept. 14 from noon until 2 p.m. at the Fireside Inn, 9101 Waukegan rd., Morton Grove. Following the reception the public is invited to attend the official opening of Sutker's campaign headquarters located at 4024 Church st., Skokie from 2-4 p.m. The campaign will share office space with the Niles Township organization until the fall election. The Friends of Cal Sutker will assume the obligations to pay all expenses for the offices. "I will continue to be available for my constituents throughout the campaign," Sutker said. The office is open seven days a week. The phone numbers are 673-1219 or 673-7779.

A Judicial Panel, sponsored by the Spares Sunday Evening Club, will take place at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 14th. Esther Hollic, program chairlady, has announced that the meeting will be held at the American Legion Post #134, 6140 W. Dempster St. in Morton Grove.

Participating in the panel will be:

Judge Cornelius Francis Dore of the Circuit Court of Cook County. He is presently assigned to the Law Division at the Daley Center. Judge Dore is a graduate of the University of Illinois and received his law degree from Loyola University. Prior to becoming a Circuit Court Judge, he was a practicing attorney for 25 years.

Judge John V. Virgilio of the Circuit Court of Cook County. He is also presently assigned to the Law Division at the Daley Center. Judge Virgilio is a graduate of Southern Illinois University and received his law degree from DePaul University. He formerly served as an Assistant Cook County States Attorney.

Ed McElroy, Director of Special Events for WJJD Radio, will be the moderator for the Judicial Panel.

Regina reopens with new look

Regina Dominican High School opened its doors for its 29th year with a new administrative structure and several interior and exterior improvements in the school complex.
As a result of study and evaluation of programs and facilities during the 1985-86 school year, the administrative structure was redesigned. Sister Mary Nugent, O.P., who has been principal of schools in Florida and England, has been named director of faculty. She will be assisted by three division chairpersons: Sister Marie Bride, O.P., the Saccamanno, and Robert Held-Lyons. Sister Ann Fallon, O.P. is beginning her tenth year at Regina and her fourth as president. Sister Sarah Cavanaugh, O.P. is in her fourth year as principal and Sister Joan Mehney, O.P., continues as director of curriculum.
Jeanne Trifone, who has been appointed dean of students, will work closely with administrators in two newly created positions: Jeri-Lynn Koehler, student activities coordinator, and Nancy Rockelmann, health service coordinator.
Institute Days were held the week of Aug. 19 with Brother Michael O'Hern, F.S.C., director of secondary schools for the Archdiocese of Chicago addressing the faculty and staff on "Regina for Life" at a Techy Towers gathering. On subsequent days, new administrators explained their roles and the studies skills committee presented "Tools for Success," a program they have been developing for the past year.
Students returning the week of Aug. 25 found a newly resided south exterior of the building, completing work that began in 1985 in the interest of energy conservation. Interior improvements include darkroom facilities for "The Crown," the yearbook, and public relations departments, and a newly furnished computer room for the mathematics department.

"It's our first day at Maine East!" That first full day of high school was shared by both the Class of 1990 and Maine East's new principal, Mrs. Carol Grenier. Meeting in the student cafeteria were (l-r) Alexandria Gavas of Glenview, Mike Pascente of Niles, Corey Torf of Des Plaines, Jeff Rosenthal of Des Plaines, Mrs. Grenier, Jeff McLennan of Park Ridge, Danny Makower of Morton Grove, and Angela Garippo of Morton Grove.

Marillac holds College Night

Parents, friends and families with high-school junior and senior children are invited to Marillac High School's College Night, Wednesday, Sept. 17 for an evening of presentations, financial aid information and opportunities to discuss higher education options with their college-bound children and representatives from 65 colleges and universities in 14 states.
"We're pleased with the response from the colleges," said Mrs. Gloria Moore, Marillac College Counselor. "We feel we can do a good job offering a wide range of alternatives to parents who need to think beyond one or two schools."
Mr. Jack Christian, Director of Admissions, Loyola University, Chicago, will open the evening with an information session on the procedures for financial application and time frame at 6:45 p.m. in the school's Theatre. Afterwards, programs pointing to the locations of the colleges will be distributed to those present. College representatives will fill the Student Center and the Library. For information call 446-9106.
Special Services to help students
Teachers at Hynes School and Golf Jr. High School will meet on a weekly basis this year with special services staff members to discuss students who are having difficulties in school. The Special Services team includes the principal, school psychologist, social worker, speech therapist, learning disabilities resource teacher and school nurse. The team will offer suggestions for working with students prior to a formal referral for special testing. Students will benefit from the collaborative efforts of many specialists.

National Merit
from Loyola

13 lucky Loyola seniors have been selected as semifinalists in the 1987 National Merit Scholarship competition. Representing the top half of one percent of the state's high school graduating class, they will have the opportunity to compete for about 6000 Merit Scholarships worth over $21 million.
Loyola's semifinalists are: Michael Borkowski of Lake Forest, Neal Brauweller of Park Ridge, John Chang and Christopher Rule of Glenview, Philip Connelly of Highland Park, Louis Gilberto and Dustin Stowe of Chicago, Michael Hardt of Northbrook, Patrick Hitt of Winnetka, Ruben Mesa of Skokie, Joseph Naujokas of Arlington Heights, Gordon Sakkena of Evanston and Samuel Salvi of Lincolnwood.

We're not sure we're giving you the whole picture. The attorney is sharp as only these 1980's yuppies can be. He lets you know he comes from Astor Street. Never mind where he came from. And never mind that he's got an office other than his fancy residential address. Astor Street is important to him. And he lets you know where he's from.

Sister Irene is not too dissimilar. She lets you know where she's from. Not just St. Benedict's where she runs the whole show. That white habit gives her side an extra 10 points when she stands up to speak. And when she tells you about the need for tranquility and quietude for those she watches over, she expresses a compassion which comes from the inside which is deep. Very deep. You listen to her talk about her minions, some of whom are more than 100 years old, and you know she cares. When she tells you some of these people have no one to visit them, no one who is still around who cares, you know she's coming from deep down.

The Astor Street lawyer has the constitution on his side. It's his clients' property and as long as they conform to Niles code they're entitled to make use of their property. "To its highest and best use." He's right and the law is on his side and if he loses when he appears before the village board, he likely could win in the courts...yet...the personal human element he's up against may be more than he chooses to undertake. There's 30 or 35 residents in the audience who are on the Sister's side. And there's five guys and a gal who sit on that board who have to live here in town. And they know she can act like a tiger and they quietly vote on the same side she's on.

There's nothing wrong with that vote. The board members hear their neighbors complain about the hazards which may develop from the increased business activity by their homes, and they vote in harmony with one discordant note.

After the decision is reached there's a brief recess while the combatants file out of the room. The attorney is cool. He's surrounded by three or four business types who want to make a buck off this town. But the attorney measures his words, speaks kindly about the previous hour's goings on, and peels out to his transportation. Inside the room, Sister Irene is still pumped up. She still seems intimidating, even though we know she's just a pussy cat underneath that official demeanor.

Outside Astor Street climbs into one of those foreign jobs that the T.V. hucksters contend costs "only" $19,995. And Sister Irene gives for half fare back to her home where she pours out another 24 hours of love and compassion which she gives around-the-clock.

Lincolnwood Chamber luncheon

Thief . . .

The victim replied in the negative. The man then told the victim to pick up a pair of handcuffs he had dropped near the door and ordered to put one cuff on his wrist, the other on the outside door handle. The offender then said he was going to take the victim's car, but when he protested, he fled toward the front of the building on foot.

The victim broke loose and ran to a nearby business and called police. During investigation of the case, a Pizza Hut employee said she was mopping the floor at about 1:30 a.m. when she noticed a man with blonde hair wearing a dark jacket and pants standing outside the window. When the assistant manager approached, the man ran to the north end of the building.

The offender was described wearing a nylon stocking over his face with a hole cut over the right eye, 18 to 22 years of age and weighing about 190 lbs. He was wearing blue jeans and jacket and white gym shoes.

Police are following leads in the case, according to Lt. Ray Giovannelli.

Those who raise $25 receive a St. Jude t-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a tote bag, and the rider raising the largest amount wins a 10-speed bicycle. Pick up sponsor forms at the Village Hall or the Prairie View Community Center.

"The plan is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on our support," Swanson said. Contact Swanson at the Village Hall, 965-4100 for details on riding or sponsoring a rider.

to an individual therapist. Or you may decide that a group is "the answer" to what is causing your stress. In either case, clinical therapists are no farther than your phone. A call will give you an appointment. Fees are on a sliding scale from "No Fee" to a cap of $20, so cost cannot deter any Niles resident from using the help made available through the Village.

Morton Grovers invent new board game

Former Morton Grove resident, Harlan Goldberg and his wife, Dale, have invented a hot new board game. "The Soap Opera Game" which recently hit the shelves of Chicago area stores was the brain child of these two Niles High School graduates. Dale started watching "soaps" fourteen years ago when her first baby took naps in the afternoon. After her third child was born, Dale decided to do something constructive with her interest in soap operas. She enlisted Harlan's help, and the two of them have created a soap opera board game. Players are supposed to be scriptwriters trying to get new storylines by visiting various characters and locations. This hilarious, adult game can be enjoyed by anyone, whether or not they are soap opera fans. It is now being sold at Krochs & Brentanos, Gemers Paradise, Toys Et Cetera, Gamesters, Klippers, and the Magical Mystery Tour. It will also be available at selected Osco stores in the fall.

struggling to live out values of the Gospel," he said. Goals and objectives will be set in the future. "I'm feeling my way and it is a time to listen. I want to try to reach the people in an understanding of Christ's teaching and answer to their spiritual needs with mutual involvement."

He is aware of good lay ministry involvement in the parish. "That is what it is all about... people praying together and caring for one another," he said, adding he is looking forward to his association with the school children. "I plan to spend as much time with them as possible."

Fr. Bazin is involved in the Art and Environment Committee of the Archdiocese and will continue to work with the group while at St. John Brebeuf. He explained the organization is basically a resource group that helps churches that want to remodel, renovate or build new churches.

"We get them in contact with artists (for sculpture work or religious statues) and architects," he said. "I am mostly involved in interior design and helped in this field in the renovation of St. Stephen Church in Des Plaines."

St. John Brebeuf serves approximately 2,600 families in Niles and Morton Grove.

Congregate housing finalizing guidelines

Niles Senior Housing Committee is going full steam ahead to finalize guidelines for congregate housing developments for the elderly, according to Mary Kay Morrissey, director of Senior Citizen Services and a member of the committee.

The group met last week to set procedures and criteria that will be compiled in a document. "The final meeting this month will determine general agreement among members regarding the criteria we've put together," she said. "Time is of the essence because a new petitioner has expressed interest in putting up a congregate development in Niles."

A representative of Senior Lifestyles recently approached the village with plans to build a congregate housing facility at 8933-8975 Golf Road adjacent to Highland Towers (Golf and Western).

A former petitioner (Southmark Corp. who wanted to build a similar project east of Terrace Square Condominiums and north of Golf near Potter has not contacted village officials on whether they want to proceed with construction plans.

Last week's meeting of the Committee was targeted to developers on procedure, such as submitting a site plan, description of the project, traffic study, services and rental costs, according to Joe Salerno, Niles director of zoning.

"We also want other information on whether any commercial aspects are tied to the project, such as a drug store or grocery store...or accessibility to a shopping center and transportation needs," he said.

Salerno added that developers must first appear before the Senior Housing Committee, which will determine whether the preliminary plans comply with village ordinance regarding congregate housing. The next step is the zoning board. "The procedure saves time for both the developer and board," he said.

Morrissey said petitioners must also identify what type of project will be built...congregate housing which provides meals and no medical care or continuing care which provides on-site medical care and meals. The latter requires a certificate of need from the state," she said.

Voting members of the Senior Housing Committee are Village Trustee Jim Mahoney, chairman; Dr. Steve Fox, geriatric practitioner; Niles Dan Cinelli, architect; and Jack Frick, Niles zoning board chairman.

Non-voting members are Salerno, Niles Fire Chief Harry Kinowski and Morrissey.

MG Historical Society meeting

The first meeting of the fall season of the Morton Grove Historical Society will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Baxter Room of the Morton Grove Public Library, 6132 Lincoln Ave.

Mr. William Rooney will give a combo lecture and slide presentation on facade and structure of buildings located in the loop area of Chicago.

Mr. Rooney, a retired advertising executive, resides in Wilmette. It was not until after his retirement that he became interested in this hobby to the point that he has written a book entitled "Architectural Ornamentation in Chicago".

The meeting is open to the public at no charge. There will be door prizes and light refreshments will be served.

MG resident graduates from Police Academy

Twenty-six cadets of the Indiana University Police Academy were officially sworn in Aug. 15 as officers of the IU Police Department.

Among the new officers: from Morton Grove was Daniel Martin Akwa, 5435 Main St.

The cadets successfully completed a 400-hour training program and served one year of on-the-job training.

More than 45 men and women took part in the race.

not work unless there was equitable and fair representation. "At the present time, there are too many gerrymandered districts on the legislative level that give Chicago too much control," he said.

Democratic candidate John Rita disagreed, saying that Sheriff Richard Elrod was doing a "good job" and had brought high-quality police personnel into the department. "He has boosted police protection in the suburbs."

During the course of the debate, suburban commissioners zeroed in on machine politics influencing the decisions of Democratic board members, while the opposition centered their arguments on the lack of leadership and accountability of Republican members in working out solutions to suburban problems.

Incumbent commissioners at the forum were Republicans Richard Siebel of Northbrook, Harold I. Tyrrell of LaGrange Park; Joseph I. Woods of Oak Park; Mary McDonald of Lincolnwood, and Carl R. Hansen of Mount Prospect. Their running mates are Joseph D. Mathewson of Winnetka, who is also the GOP candidate for president of the county board, and Robert Godwin of Homewood, former Homewood village president.

Democratic candidates were Janice D. Schakowsky of Evanston, Kevin Conlon of Park Forest, John D. Rita of Blue preserves.

In a dissertation on "machine politics" and alleged corruption in the Cook County Sheriff's Police Department, incumbent commissioner Joseph Woods charged there had been padding of payrolls and noted there had been many escapes from the county jail. "The operation is shot and more professionalism is needed in the department."

adapted to individual cases and age groups.

One of the committee's greatest concerns was to ease the transition between junior high and high school, and the Discipline Guidelines pamphlet was created with this purpose in mind.

School Board Assistant Superintendent Lenore Page said letters were sent to each student's home for approval of the new guidelines, and as of Tuesday night's meeting, each school had over 90 percent of the letters signed and returned. The committee is looking for the approval of 100 percent of the parents and students in the district. Students who have been introduced to the guidelines in the classroom have reacted positively, according to members of the committee.

After completing the public's hearing, Zoning Board Commissioner Angelo Troiani made the motion opposing the re-zoning and all members concurred except Sid Mitchell.

The zoning board decision is a recommendation to the village board. Another hearing will take place there before the decision is finalized.

MG library to host play

"Angels in America," an original play presented by Elinice Conn of Playhouse Productions, Inc. will be a special portion of the summer reading program awards at the Morton Grove Public Library, 6140 Lincoln, on Saturday, Sept. 13 at 2 p.m. The young cast includes Morton Grove and Niles children.

may only be exercised at the beginning of any school year. It remains for both districts to jointly petition the Cook County Board of School Trustees to approve the intergovernmental agreement. Plans are for the two districts to appear before the School Trustees at their October 1986 meeting.

The area transferred to District 34 contains forty-one public school students and has an equalized assessed valuation of approximately $5.6 million. The area transferred to District 67 contains no students and has an equalized assessed valuation of approximately $1.5 million.

Neighbors of the proposed center, which would be affected by pollution and traffic from the autos there.

Sister Irene Sebo, head of next door neighbor, St. Benedict's Home for the Aged, said she was concerned about the tranquility and serenity of its residents who are in their declining years. She also was concerned by the fumes and debris which would be created by the cars at the center. The attorney discounted the debris which he said would not be near the east end of the center.

Other objectors included Bill Ladra, assistant administrator of St. Benedict's, Bella Weberman, 6954 Touhy, Parks Kongsle, 6884 Touhy, Ralph Velasco, Brown's Chicken, and Sister Rosalita, St. Andrews Retirement Home. Rosalita was concerned about the traffic affecting the 400 students at the across-the-street college, Niles College.

After completing the public's hearing, Zoning Board Commissioner Angelo Troiani made the motion opposing the re-zoning and all members concurred except Sid Mitchell.

The zoning board decision is a recommendation to the village board. Another hearing will take place there before the decision is finalized.

In a second action Frank Di Maria received a building variation to build a 1200 square foot ranch home for himself at 8149 Oketo. The home will be built on a 35 foot by 123.49 foot lot presently owned by Elmer Pratscher. The setback will conform with the two homes alongside the property and the side setbacks will be four feet minimum on each side. He must demolish the present garage on the property and allow for two cars in the rear for off-street parking which must be on asphalt or cement. Since the request reduces the lot size requirement from 6,250 square feet to 4,322 square feet, which is more than a 10% reduction, the village board must make the final approval. Less than a 10% change would have allowed the zoning board recommendation to have become the final ruling.

alarm at the gas station about 2:15 Tuesday afternoon. Leavitt was proceeding north at Milwaukee and Harlem when a radio message from Lt. LoVerde reported the offender had fled from the robbery area in a white van with purple flowers or paint on the side. Leavitt reversed his direction and headed south on Harlem Avenue in search of the robber. At Northwest Highway and Harlem, Leavitt observed the vehicle four cars ahead of him. Activating his emergency lights and siren, Leavitt's car chased the van several blocks down side streets as the van led the chase at a high rate of speed. In the 7200 block on Hood the van was caught in a dead-end street. Leavitt blocked the exit with his police car and was between the van and the car when the van turned around and sped toward him. Leavitt retreated to the rear of his car and fired one shot at the front left side of the offender's vehicle. The van swerved to its right and drove over approximately 35 feet of parkway, grass and decorative rocks.

Leavitt resumed the chase winding down various streets at high speed. Other Niles and Chicago police vehicles were now involved in the chase. When the driver of the van jumped from his vehicle at 7244 Everell, Leavitt pursued the offender on foot. He jumped two fences, ran across an alley, and ran to the rear of a home where Leavitt was no more than 30 feet behind him. With the help of two Chicago police officers, James Hickey and P. White, the officers extricated the offender from under a back porch.

The subject, as well as the van, was searched and no weapon was found. The offender said he only had his hand in his pocket when he was at the gas station. Inside the van a hypodermic needle and syringe was discovered. Inside Kathana's pocket was $235.71 in currency.

Examination of the van revealed a bullet hole in the front left rear of the bumper six inches from the tire.

Returning to the gas station Kathana was identified by two employees of the station. They said Kathana had his hand in his coat pocket and said he had a gun. They quoted Kathana as stating to give him all the money in the register or he'd blow their face (faces) away.

Leavitt resumed the chase winding down various streets at high speed. Other Niles and Chicago police vehicles were now

The Last Chance IRA?

Take Advantage of '86 IRA Tax Deductions

This year could be your "last chance" to receive maximum tax benefits on IRA contributions. If you make over $40,000 annually and are covered by a company retirement plan, there's a good possibility that you will lose part or all of the tax deductions on future contributions. The right time to open an IRA is "right now" before year end and the enactment of the new laws.

One of our IRA specialists can give you more details on the effect of the proposed tax laws on IRA contributions and can tell you about the many advantageous IRA plans available at Skokie Federal. Our high-earning 3, 5, and 7-year certificates are ideal IRA investments. All our rates are very competitive and are compounded daily for even greater yields. Your IRA certificates are insured by the FSLIC and can be opened with as little as $500. There are no front end fees or charges to pay.

Act now! For some tax-payers a full annual contribution of $2,000 before year-end could save up to $1,000 in current taxes (based on a 50% tax bracket.) Although the interest on your IRA will continue to be tax-deferred, 1986 could be your last chance to take advantage of the immediate tax cut of an IRA contribution.
