Tax freeze would aid land redevelopment

by Sylvia Dalrymple
The Niles Village Board held a public hearing Tuesday to discuss establishing a tax increment financing district (TIF) to redevelop Lawrencewood shopping center and the AT&T Teletype property located at Touhy and Central. Mayor Nicholas Blase noted two-thirds of the AT&T parcel lies in Skokie and one-third in Niles. Continued on Page 46

Chicago makes move to collect suburb sales tax

The Niles Chamber of Commerce is warning merchants that Chicago may be "testing the waters" in a possible goal to collect sales tax from the suburbs. Chamber director Curt Hockett said at least two businesses (one a manufacturing firm) have been contacted by the Chicago Department of Revenue asking them to open their financial books to its auditors. "I assume they want to find out if they have any sales tax coming to Chicago," he said. Continued on Page 47

by Bud Besser
Nobody asked me but...
In an auto accident which took place a couple of weeks ago at Greenwood west of Milwaukee Avenue, one woman was killed and a second was seriously injured. Neither was wearing seatbelts according to Niles firemen. Since the accident happened close to home, and while driving at a low rate of speed, the message is obvious. Put on those belts when you first get into your car and don't take them off until you exit from the car.

Whenever they report about the Bears' new quarterback, Doug Flutie, they also always refer to him as that "little guy". The Chicago sports pages are filled with reports Flutie is too small to play football in the National Football League and he can't see over the bigger guys he's playing with. Flutie measures up and down at 5 feet 9 inches.

I've been 5 feet 9 inches since I was 16 years old. In high school I played basketball on our Senior team. It was for the big guys in the school. The little guys played on the Juniors which was a team comprised of "little guys".

Niles Fire Department officials are taking samples out of sewers in the Chesterfield Estates area of Niles in an attempt to find out what is causing a gas odor to invade residents' homes. The slight petroleum-based smell is concentrated in the Chesterfield Estates area near on Dempster and Shermer Rd., he said. The odor has also been detected around Shermer and Waukegan Rd. on the border of Niles and Morton Grove.

Oak Mill's Santa charms children

by Carmie

We are here at OAK MILL MALL on a Sunday afternoon... it is crowded with shoppers savoring the Christmas atmosphere. Among them, sitting at one of the thoughtfully provided tables dotting the Mall, is a visitor "from the South" (the South side of Chicago, that is!) who made the trip to Niles specifically to see OAK MILL MALL. Lillian Sendra, and her family heard that OAK MILL was unique and very interesting, and a perfect source for that "special" gift. Lillian works for Cook County, and commented that she was not disappointed with OAK MILL. She said she especially enjoyed the nice, helpful people that she met here.

Who is that, lustily shouting "Merry Christmas!" to one and all? Santa Claus, of course! This is the second year at OAK MILL for this special Santa...who is disguised for the other months of the year as a typical Niles resident. His blue eyes twinkle as he tells of the fun he has listening to children...who are so easy to please! Talking with Santa makes their whole day...perhaps their whole week...and our Santa enjoys every second of their visits. He says that he spent a whole month at the North Pole, training as a special helper to Kris Kringle...and dreams of going to Hollywood in order to make a movie showing the strenuous training such a "Santa's HELPER" must undergo!

He can be seen literally charming the children, sitting in his throne-like chair...weekends, from 12 to 4. The kiddies also are gifted with candy canes...and parents receive a coupon booklet for OAK MILL.

Read no further if you want your Santa to remain a mystery...but if your curiosity is piqued...Santa is portrayed by Marvin Bornschlegel, who lives only a block away from OAK MILL MALL. He is in his early twenties...and is a close friend of Cindy of OLLIE'S. You didn't hear it here...mind you...but a spy tells us that his mom owns a wonderful bakery here in Niles...whose German inspired delicacies are well known!

Thank you, Marvin...oops, I mean, Santa - for putting that radiant glow of love and belief in the eyes of our precious children.

District 207 settles roofing lawsuit

A lawsuit filed by Maine Township High School District 207 against a company that installed a roof on the school about 10 years ago was settled out of court last week.

According to a school official, District 207 accepted a settlement of $9,000. The suit was filed in 1982 in an attempt to recoup $23,000 to $25,000 spent on roof repairs.

The roof was constructed by Maco during the 1974-75 school year and began to leak about five years after it was completed. Many attempts were made to patch the roofs, but the leaking problem continued, he said.

The roof has since been replaced by another contractor at a cost of more than $70,000.

The spokesman said that such lawsuits (against roofing companies) are seldom successful. In agreeing to the settlement, the district will at least recover legal fees in fighting the case, he said.

Publicity makes hobby kit model a top seller

Nilesite's plane model causes major furor

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Former Niles resident John Andrews did not envision locking horns with Pentagon officials when he designed a toy model of the top secret F-19 "Stealth" fighter airplane in 1985.

Andrews, 54, chief model airplane designer for Testor Corp., saw his 12-inch plastic model of the radar-evading plane become an instant best seller in hobby and toy shops after it was introduced in the marketplace. A short time later the model kit attracted world-wide media attention and was the subject of Dan Rather's on "CBS Evening News." A few weeks ago, the model was featured by newsmen Eddie Schwartz of WGN-Radio.

Andrew's mother, Estelle Zawiski Harms of Niles, said the model airplane caused an international sensation. "During the press and television coverage, my son stated it was just a matter of sound engineering and common sense in designing the F-19 model," she said. "He's been designing model airplanes all his life and I'm proud of his achievements in that field."

The bone of contention was that

Niles Fire Dept. Calls $25,000 fire in Niles condo

A fire of undetermined origin broke out in a condominium apartment at 8101 Courte Dr. causing $25,000 damage on Dec. 5.

According to Lt. Joe Margalski of the Niles Fire Department, firefighters arrived at the scene to find smoke in a second floor entry into the apartment where the kitchen was engulfed in flames. It was extinguished in approximately 10 minutes. No one was at home when the fire started, he said.

Morton Grove, Glenbrook and North Maine Fire Departments also responded to the alarm which came at 2 p.m. There were no injuries.

Niles fire inspectors are investigating the cause of the fire.

Animal World pickets seek freedom for bear

About 20 demonstrators paraded in front of the Animal World Pet Shop at Milwaukee and Harlem in Niles for several hours Sunday to protest the store's keeping and displaying of a black bear.

One protester carried a sign saying "Please set the bear free from life imprisonment." The group, members of the Animal Advocates Coalition, marched past a sign in the window that read: "Come see our bear."

The group contend that although it is legal for the store to keep the bear called Sheba, it is normally wrong to keep her in the pet store.

Larry Karabaush manager of Animal World, said the 2½-year-old bear has been well taken care of. "I raised the bear. She's a domesticated animal and doesn't hurt anyone who comes near her," he said.

He explained he acquired the bear from Domestic Den in Wisconsin when she was a cub. "She was rejected by her mother. I would take Sheba home at night and feed her," Karabaush said, adding the bear has attracted a lot of attention from the public.

In response to the protests, he will look for a suitable home for Sheba...perhaps a zoo or animal sanctuary. "We sure will miss her."

Customers have complained in the past about keeping Sheba in a cage and village licensing officials have had problems with Animal World concerning violations in the store.

Police host Operation Santa Claus

Once again, members of the Niles Police Department will be driving Santa Claus all around town to visit village residents on Christmas Eve.

This will be the fourth straight year for this program which was originated by Detective Dennis McEnerney and Sergeant John Katsoulas. According to the officers, each year the program grows. Therefore, they must increase the volunteers to assist them in order to meet the number of requests. This year's program will include three Santas which required three squad cars and officers to man each one.

If you are interested in having Santa visit your home on Christmas Eve, call the Niles Police Department between 9-5 at 647-0400. The operator will take the necessary information and one of the volunteers will contact you at a later date for confirmation. The hours of the visits will be starting at 5 p.m. until 10 p.m., on Christmas Eve. Show is Detective McEnerney and Santa getting ready to pull out for the night's run last year on Christmas Eve.

Senior Citizen Update on available programs

Senior Citizens residing in Illinois may be able to take advantage of several available programs designed to provide assistance to qualified individuals, according to 14th District State Representative Roger P. McAuliffe. Programs available this season include those involving home utility payments, Medicare supplements, Amtrak rail transportation discounts, and prescription assistance for those qualified individuals who suffer from heart conditions or arthritis.

Elderly and handicapped persons can apply for the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (known as 'IHEAP'), which is administered by the state's Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. This program provides grants to income-eligible renters and homeowners to help pay heating costs and costs for reconnection of energy services. Eligibility is based on the number of family members and their combined income. When applying, individuals should have a copy of heating and electric bills, as well as information about their income. The toll-free telephone number for the 'Energy Assistance Hotline' is 1-800-252-8643. An updated version of the booklet entitled "Medicare and Other Health Care Choices: A Guide for Illinois Seniors" is available by calling toll-free to the Illinois Department of Aging at 1-800-252-8966. The revised booklet focuses upon Senior Citizens, discussing the Medicare Program and possible Medicare supplements. Senior Citizens now have the opportunity to travel by train at a substantial saving. AMTRAK has announced a 25% discount on regular coach fare to Senior Citizens traveling round-trip by rail. Although these discount fares do not apply to club car seats or charges for sleeping accommodations, Seniors may receive the 1/4 discount on regular coach fare if they present proof of age. Certain days are exempted. Seniors may call AMTRAK locally at 588-1075 for additional information, and making advance arrangements for baggage, boarding of the train, special food service, or a wheelchair.

Qualified individuals receiving Circuit Breaker benefits and who suffer from arthritis, now have necessary prescription medicine provided under the Pharmaceutical Assistance Act. Prior to this change, only those requiring heart medicine received this additional benefit. Changes in the state law now provide for arthritis medicine, insulin, and related supplies in addition to heart medicine. Interested individuals should contact the Illinois Department on Aging at their toll-free number, 1-800-252-8966, for additional details.

Senior Citizens who need additional information on a wide range of available government programs, or who wish to have assistance completing such forms as the Homestead Act Tax exemption or Circuit Breaker Program may visit Representative McAuliffe's office at 6855 W. Addison St., or call 545-5592.

Outstanding Girl Scout achievers

The Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council recently honored outstanding achievements by Girl Scouts in Northwest Cook and Lake Counties, at their Silver and Gold Awards Presentation.

The prestigious Gold Award, the highest national award in Girl Scouting, was presented to Pamela Jean Dawley of Hanover Park and Sharon Smith of Niles. Each of the girls planned and carried out community service projects designed to build leadership and character, while helping their own or other communities.

Pamela Dawley, daughter of Victor and Carolyn Dawley of Hanover Park, spent one year organizing a 5K foot race and one-mile walk. Eighty-five runners and walkers participated in the race, and over $1,000 was raised and donated to a housing development in Mexico City. Pamela personally presented the donation while on a trip to Mexico with her troop. The Nuevas Alternativas development is owned by 80 families and their homes were destroyed in the earthquake of 1985. With help from Girl Guides and Girl Scouts the families are rebuilding.

Pamela has been a Girl Scout for 9 years, in troop #433, led by Roxy Ekstrom. She attends Hofman Estates High School, where she is a member of the student council and participates in many other extra curricular activities. Her career goal is to become an archaeologist.

Sharon Smith, daughter of Kenneth and Linda Smith of

Niles, is a member of Girl Scout troop #463, led by Sis Pescatore and Linda Smith. Acting upon an idea suggested to her by a teacher, Sharon worked with the Sisters of St. Andrews Nursing Home in Niles to organize a Day Camp for the elderly. She recruited 8 teenage volunteers to assist her in teaching a wide range of activities including crafts, Bingo, exercise and singing. Each young volunteer was paired with an elderly mate. Sharon's goal was to give young people a better understanding of the elderly, and at the same time give elderly persons a chance to share their lives, experiences and memories. Sharon's long range plans include college, and designing and building her own home. Twenty-two Illinois Prairie Girl Scouts earned the second highest national award for girls, the Silver Award. The Silver Award recipients are: Erin Jennings, Melissa Wagner and Rebecca Mandel, troop 44 in Mt. Prospect; Allison J. Roach, Hofman Estates, troop 161 in Rolling Meadows; Kristen Marcantoni, troop 438 in Arlington Heights; Janelle Baker, Kim D'Amato, Larissa Guran, Michelle Petit, Anne Sebastian and Stephanie Seekins, troop 480 in Palatine; Gloria Harris, troop 519 in Elk Grove; Julie DeBolt, troop 651 in Park Ridge; Amy Rohk and Karen Gillespie in the 2001 Network; Julie Cieplinski, Diana Habryl, Jennifer Skaja, and Jeanette Sorrentino, troop 791 in Niles; Christie Leckman and Kristen Tonkins, troop 812 in Graylake; Jackie LeFevre, troop 859 in Palatine.

The clinic will be offered Sunday, Dec. 14, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and again on Wednesday, Dec. 17, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The cost is $30.

According to Ira Kosova, owner of the auto repair center and clinic instructor, "We're offering this service because many women say they lack knowledge about cars and engine maintenance, but are too embarrassed to ask questions and they often feel 'ripped off' by mechanics. ## "Mitten Tree" growing at St. John Lutheran

What exactly is a "Mitten Tree"? How does it grow? What does it grow? For the answer to these questions, you are invited to stop by St. John Lutheran Church and Day School (Missouri Synod) in Niles and see for yourself! A large, artificial Christmas tree was "planted" in the foyer on Thanksgiving Day and will continue to "grow" mittens, gloves, knit hats, scarves, stockings, ear muffs and socks in all sizes and colors of the rainbow during the entire Advent Season. St. John Lutheran (Missouri Synod) is located at 7429 N. Milwaukee Ave. (one block south of Harlem) in Niles. All these colorful gifts of love are "grown" for children and adults who live in the Chicago

Uptown area. They are placed on the tree periodically by the students and adults of S.J.L. during Advent. The "crop" will be harvested the week before Christmas and will be taken to The Uptown Mission by The Rev. Thomas K. Stoebig, pastor of the church. The gifts will then be distributed to boys, girls and adults as special gifts to keep them warm in the Uptown neighborhood during the long, cold Chicago winter.

This annual Advent project is sponsored by the children of the Sunday School (Mrs. Lois Hohnbaum, Superintendent) and students of the Christian Day School (Mr. James Hohnbaum, Principal).

Niles West Sophs win fitness award

Niles West sophomores Joan Colletta, Margaret Kozlowski, Beth Lichtenstein, Maria Moloney, and Marni Tobin earned a National Fitness Award, the highest award given on a test developed by the American Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

The award is given only to those students who score at or above the 75th percentile in three of the test's four components, and at the 50th percentile or better in body composition. The test was taken by all Niles West sophomores at the end of September. The test measures cardiovascular fitness through a mile run, flexibility through a sit and reach exercise, and muscular endurance through sit-ups. Percent of body fat determines body composition. The sophomores will take the same test two more times during the school year as a part of their fitness curriculum.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Ever wonder why post season football games are called "bowl games"? ... The words "bowl games" came into our language when Pasadena's originally-named "Tournament of Roses" game moved into a new, circular bowl-shaped stadium in 1923. ... A publicity man re-named the game, and the stadium, the "Rose Bowl". ... After that, other post-season games called themselves "bowl games" even though many of them—oddly enough—aren't played in circular bowl-shaped stadiums.

Has a National Football League game ever been postponed by bad weather? ... It's happened only twice in history. ... The Philadelphia Eagles postponed a game because of heavy rain in 1936, and the College All-Star game against the Pittsburgh Steelers in the summer of 1976 was ended by a lightning storm in the third quarter.

Here's a quiz for you. ... Here are 4 famous pro football coaches: ... Tom Landry, Chuck Noll, Don Shula and Mike Ditka. ... Do you know what positions each of these men played when they played in the National Football League? ... Landry was a defensive back; Noll an offensive lineman; Shula a defensive back and Ditka a tight end.

Petersen receives Niedermaier Award

Each year the Niles Baseball League presents the Jerry Niedermaier Award to the person or persons who display the same great qualities that Jerry had shown to us all.

This year, we honor a man who has dedicated many years of service to the baseball league. John Petersen served as past commissioner, board member and manager. Also among his many contributions is the fact he was a key member in initiating the installation of lights at Jozwiak Park. For these many contributions we honor this fine man. Congratulations John Petersen!

Mite House League

In one of the wildest games of this or any other season the Capitals and the Blues battled each other during a 16 goal game. Neither team deserved to lose this offensive war and so it was fitting that when the smoke cleared the game ended in an 8 to 8 tie.

The Blues grabbed a huge lead as they scored the games first 5 goals. The Capitals then launched one of the greatest come backs of all time. Brendan Dalton, the Capital's goalie, turned around his rocky start and was brilliant with one great save after another and played a huge part in the come back. The Blues goalie, Kevin Switalla was also bombed with shot after shot and although there were 9 goals scored on him, if it was not for some of his outstanding saves the Capitals would have won easily.

Bernstein strives for Wrestling Championship

The '86-'87 Maine East wrestling season continues with Maine East competing at Deerfield on Friday, Dec. 12. The Demons, under Coach Don Pressen, have several returning varsity wrestlers, and junior Matt Bernstein hopes to be a major factor in this year's team. Matt, who lives in Morton Grove, began his wrestling career as a seventh grader. He started wrestling because his older brother did and, "It seemed like the thing to do." During his first year Matt did so well, posting an 18-5 record, that he went downstate and placed sixth. In eighth grade his record was 25-2 and he then went to the Junior Olympics and took second place. But, his Gemini Junior High career wasn't over, he again went downstate and advanced to the final. It was there that he was leading in the second period when disaster struck. Matt was knocked unconscious and had to forfeit the match, costing him the title and giving him a second place finish.

Matt moved on to Maine East and has been on varsity since his freshman year. This year at 155 lbs. Matt reflects, "My goal is to make it downstate and place." He says that to attain this goal, "I have to stay intense. Last year I wasn't very intense, and if I can keep it up this year, I should place at state." Added teammate Rich DiLage, "If Matt wants to win, he can. He has a very good chance." Matt also played football this year and plays the trumpet in concert band since his freshman year. When asked how these activities affect his grades, Matt answered, "Not much at all, in fact, I think it helps because you have to budget your time." A 4.2 cumulative G.P.A. proves his theory. Matt is undecided about wrestling in college because he is questioning the time he will have. He has a pre-med major planned, but the school is uncertain. He rules Northwestern a possibility, however.

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Strangely, sharks must keep moving 24 hours a day or they die; if they ever rest without moving, their lungs fill with water and they drown.

What kind of entertainer always performs with his back to the audience? Answer: a symphony orchestra conductor.

The "New Yorker Magazine", oddly enough, is printed in Chicago.

All-Girl schools: The Winning Track

We all remember those old jokes and songs about the woes of attending an all-girl school. And who can forget the stereotypes about our sheltered naive?

Thus, it may come as a surprise that all-girl schools actually give graduates an edge in later life. Recent studies have revealed that single-sex schools deliver specific advantages to their students, especially to female students. Attendance at an all-girl school can have a positive effect on occupational achievement patterns, self-image, and career choices.

Alumnae contacted by Regina Dominican High School, Wilmette, remarked on how their experience at Regina was more of an asset than a liability when they entered "the real world," often selecting jobs in traditionally male fields. Citing everything from emphasis on academic achievement of uniform codes, the alumnae agreed that Regina taught us "to go out and win the world."

First on their list of positive points was Regina's emphasis on scholarship. "I felt quite capable when I left Regina," said Louise Waindl Przwara '65, a section head in research and development at Abbott Laboratories. "I knew I enjoyed going to school. Frankly, I got a Ph.D. by accident—I enrolled in graduate school because I enjoyed learning and I didn't want to pass up the opportunity."

Entrepreneur Judy Mockus '79, of Judy's a new Lincoln Park restaurant, concurred. "I didn't have to worry about being smarter in English class than my boyfriend or feeling like an idiot in math class because the guys were a little better."

While social pressures may be lessened, academic pressure can increase in an all-girl school. This can provide a definite challenge to able students, a challenge that carries over into college and graduate education. "I always competed with my friends at Regina for grades," recalled Assistant State's Attorney Cheryl Cesario '78.

And back in the sixties, Regina girls had to think on their feet! "We had to stand up when we answered in class," Cheryl recalled. "It was the same in law school, which really intimidated the other students."

A Regina rule that has not been abolished—the uniform code—actually gave Cheryl career experience! "When I was a freshman, I successfully argued my case against a hallguard who said my skirt was rolled. By the time I was an upper-classman—on the other side of the bench, I really got my start!" recalled the prosecuting attorney who spends her days and nights in Criminal Court at 26th and California.

Alumnae also noted that Regina's all-girl environment provides more opportunities for students to discover and exercise their talents. "You have more chances to be in clubs or plays because there is less competition for available spots, allowing you to get more experience," said Judy Mockus. "I was able to explore a greater variety of activities at Regina than I would have at a co-ed school," she recalled.

Regina Dominican High School, 701 Locust Road, Wilmette, will hold eighth grade testing Saturday, Jan. 10, 1987 at 8 a.m. Dr. Kathy Burke teaches ethics in the Barry University Early College Credit Program at Regina. A 1964 graduate of the College, courses are presented in one of five areas: non-credit, general education, business, secretarial science, and basic alcoholism counseling.

Junior high girls invited to experience Regina

Sixth, seventh, and eighth grade girls are cordially invited to come and experience a day at Regina Dominican High School. A student hostess will take her to classes, to lunch in the school cafeteria, and on a tour of the school. Transportation to and from Regina can be arranged. Over 100 prospective students have spent the day at Regina since September.

Eighth grade testing will be held Saturday, January 10, 1987 at 8 a.m.

For further information, contact Liz Livingston at 256-7660.

Felician official honored by Loyola

Sister Mary Bonita Willow, President Emeritus of Felician College, 3800 W. Peterson Ave., Chicago, was honored during the twenty-eighth Annual Founders' Day Convocation of Loyola University on October 24, at the Westin Hotel, Chicago. Citing her dedication to education and social service issues, Sister Bonita received an Alumnae Citation from the School of Education.

Douglas Murphy, spokesman for Felician College, reacted enthusiastically to news of the award. "Sister Bonita oversaw the development of Felician College through twenty-three years as President. Loyola's recognition of her accomplishments is a real credit to her and the school."

Continuing Education offered at Felician

Do you think of yourself as a person who is open to what the world has to offer? Felician College, 3800 W. Peterson Ave., Chicago, presents a full complement of courses designed to widen horizons, entertain, or just plain teach new things. For those unfamiliar with the structure of Continuing Education at the College, courses are presented in one of five areas: non-credit, general education, business, secretarial science, and basic alcoholism counseling.

Non-credit means just that; these courses are offered for fun and enrichment and do not count toward a degree or certificate. Prospective students may take just one, or as many courses as desired. Topics to be offered include career development, money management and tax reform, social justice issues, calligraphy, aerobics, photography and weight loss. Discover how to understand dreams, research your family history, hunt for a job, cope with stress, learn more about Chicago, deal with unfair treatment at work through the law, and to use the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator to learn more about yourself and others.

General education consists of courses that are offered in the undergraduate College as well. These courses can count toward a degree. Subject matter runs from art, creative writing, composition and history through computers, earth science, math and social problems. The first course in a new Gerontology program is being offered. It covers the Psychology of Aging and will focus on the physiological and psychological changes that occur in later life. Included will be a discussion of mental disorders, and problems unique to the elderly, as well as family systems theory as it relates to aging. This course will be useful for anyone involved with the elderly or interested in what happens during aging.

Business courses cover the basics of the field, the principles of accounting, and rudiments of business English while secretarial courses teach basic and advanced typing, shorthand, and word processing skills. Study in Basic Alcoholism Counseling can lead toward official certification acknowledging the skills and knowledge gained. All courses are approved by the I.A.C.C.B. and I.S.A.C.C.B. and consider basic counseling techniques, theories and background.

Felician College is a private, fully accredited, two-year college offering a supportive environment and individual attention to students seeking excellence in liberal arts education. Under the administration of the Felician Sisters, the institution is committed to providing challenging instruction to all persons regardless of race, age, sex or religious preference. Traditional adherence to high academic standards blends with movement toward addressing contemporary demands to make Felician College a dynamic, yet stable, center of learning. Further information can be obtained by calling the Continuing Education Office at 539-1933 or the College at 539-1919.

A grant has also been offered to Castillo from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. In a letter from the President of the University, he states: "If you rank in the top five percent of your high school class and qualify for a $500 Merit Recognition Scholarship from the State of Illinois, the University of Illinois will match that award with an additional $500 merit scholarship which you can apply toward your college expenses. Even if you do not require financial aid based on need, or qualify for the Merit Recognition Scholarship, we will provide you a $500 grant for your freshman year at the University of Illinois simply to say: Welcome; be all that you can be!"

District 63 holds Hearing/vision tests

Under a statewide program of hearing/vision screening, administered through District #63, all Kindergarten through Sixth Grade pupils at Washington School will be tested during the period of Dec. 15 through 19. Early detection of hearing/vision loss or impairment is critical to the "wellness" of all children, especially those already in school who are beginning to read and write.

These tests are conducted annually, usually toward the beginning of the school year, and will be administered by a state licensed technician. Once again, Washington PTA, will provide volunteers to aid in this testing procedure.

Only if a problem would be detected will a written notification be sent to the parents advising them to seek medical attention.

Washington School is located at 2710 Golf Rd., Glenview and is in East Maine #63 School District.

Nurse Assistant Training Program

Oakton Community College will begin its spring semester Basic Nurse Assistant Training Program on Tuesday, Jan. 13. The 10-week program will train students to work as nurse's aides in nursing homes, hospitals and private health care agencies.

Classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Webster University Graduate School

Businesses are giving more and more attention today to the area of Human Resources Development. Webster University offers a graduate program in this area. RHRD-500 - Human Resources Development will be offered on Saturday mornings from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 beginning on Jan. 10 and running for 9 weeks.

Webster's only entrance requirement is a Bachelor's Degree from an accredited institution.

Willows evaluated on ed programs

Willows Academy has undergone a three day visitation and evaluation by ISACS, (Independent Schools Association of the Central States). Being a member of ISACS is assurance to parents of children in the college prep school and to the public at large of an ongoing adherence to established standards for academic excellence.

ISACS provides numerous service to the school, but the most significant role is in relation to the periodic evaluation and accreditation of the total school program. This fall a team of nine teachers and administrators representing secondary and college institutions both in the private and public sector reviewed all aspects of the school's operation. The visitation team was chaired by Mr. Anthony Frubauf, Headmaster of Mary Institute in St. Louis, Missouri.

While review of the academic programs constitutes a major thrust of the committee's work, every area of the school is reviewed: physical plant, business operations, library, athletic and activities programs, school governance, parent organizations and even school climate and morale.

Since the first of the year, the faculty and staff were busily involved in preparing written self evaluations of all the same areas which would be examined by the visitation team. Through the three phase process: self-evaluation, visitation, and recommendation/implementation, issues works in conjunction with the school to insure adherence to standards of excellence and point our directions for future growth and development.

Res leads in Global Awareness

Resurrection High School, 7500 W. Talcott in Chicago, has become actively involved in the movement for Global Awareness.

On Nov. 21, Resurrection students participated in "Quest For Peace," an organization providing humanitarian aid to match the $100,000,000 in military aid the United States Congress sent to Nicaragua. With the guidance of Religion teacher Michael Longo, Resurrection organized a bake sale which raised $266.50. An educational day was also provided where the "Quest For Peace" video was shown all day in the school library. Cards were available for the students to sign to show their protest for United States' actions. These cards will be sent to various United States Congressmen, Senators, and Representatives.

On the evening of Nov. 21, Mr. Longo and two Resurrection seniors, Yvonne Colantonio and Joetta Krepps went to O'Hare Airport. Here they met Sr. Regina Gnot from the Eight Day Center for Peace and Justice. They then welcomed Archbishop Gumbelton to Chicago and presented him the $266.50 the bake sale raised for humanitarian aid. That money will be added to the efforts of other people around the country to match the military aid.

It is hoped that the efforts of other people around the country to match the military aid. It is hoped that the efforts of Resurrection become a model for other high schools, that they may become active in Global Awareness as well as "Quest for Peace."

Resites look 'Under the Hood'

An Auto Club at an all girls' school? You bet if the place is Resurrection High School, 7500 W. Talcott.

"Girls need to know as much about cars as boys do," explained Pat Fremarek. Car maintenance and repair are a major part of most family budgets, and girls have traditionally not been taught to perform tasks that could save substantial amounts of money.

Resites learn not only about car repair, but about automotive safety.

At a recent meeting, Cindy Gross, a veteran policewoman of 14 years, talked about the problems of drinking and driving.

"Alcohol related crashes are the leading cause of death for young Americans between 16 and 24 years of age," Gross explained.

Jenny Czajka, Auto Club President commented that "Public education was the best way to reduce those grim statistics."

Roosevelt students in 'Who's Who'

Roosevelt University announced the following students will be included in the 1987 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." They are Kim Marie Fredriksen of Skokie, Margaret A. Likvan of Niles, Celedonia A. Sanchez of Skokie and Catherine C. Towery of Skokie.

EVENING CLASSES

Weekend College off to successful start in suburbs

Last spring the Illinois Board of Higher Education approved a request by North Central College to extend its Weekend College program into the northwestern suburbs. In September, operation of the distinctive program for adult students began at the Gould Conference Center in Rolling Meadows.

Five courses - Business Law I, Intermediate Algebra, Management of Organizations, Origins of Art and Reading Literature - were offered when classes began Sept. 12. These courses are part of the initial program leading to a bachelor of arts degree in business administration with emphasis in either management or marketing.

North Central introduced the Weekend College program on its west-suburban Naperville campus in 1981 with 78 students enrolled in one or more courses leading to a bachelor's degree in business management. Now, five years later, more than 350 students are enrolled in Weekend College courses at two locations and degree programs have been added in accounting, marketing, communications, computer science and management information systems.

Weekend College is an educational program tailored to meet the special needs of the adult student who is unable to attend classes regularly in either a day or evening schedule. Classes are conducted on Friday evening and on Saturday of alternate weekends for working professionals, technology managers and other part-time students seeking to complete or enhance an undergraduate degree.

During Winter Term, which will begin Jan. 3, 1987, courses to be offered at the Gould Conference Center are Accounting Principles I/Financial, Business Law II, Finite Mathematics, Industrial and Labor Relations, Interpersonal Communications and Marketing.

The Weekend College Program in the northwestern suburbs is the first off-campus program to be offered by the 125-year old, independent liberal arts college which was recognized last fall as one of "The Best Buys in College Education" today by Edward B. Fiske, education editor of The New York Times.

Allgauer's renovates ballroom and gallery

Nestled in a forest preserve, Allgauer's Hotel and Fireside Restaurant sits on the banks of the Des Plaines River, providing a peaceful setting, away from noise and pollution of the city. It is that setting that helped inspire the just completed renovation of Allgauer's Grand Ballroom and Gallery.

Crystal chandeliers and crystal wall sconces with wide brass bands set the mood of glittering light and festivity. The wall covering is a textured, iridescent peach, set off by a rich oak wainscoting. The carpet, imported from England and custom designed for Allgauer's consists of a pattern of linking medallions in shades of peach and green tones with pin-dot borders of jade green and subtle ivory accents.

The interior design sets up a background of elegance that complements any color scheme selected. The Grand Ballroom accommodates up to 1,100 guests.

Vera's Place offers top Yugoslav cooking

Sherman Kaplan of WBBM said, "Until just a few days ago, I had never heard of Vera's Place, even though this small storefront restaurant has been open for almost five years at 5111 Brown Street in Skokie. Unless you know Skokie, it's kind of tucked away; but just ask directions, and someone should be able to guide you."

"Vera's Place looks like most any other storefront restaurant you have ever seen. It's small, with only a few tables and booths. The kitchen is even tinier, but that doesn't stand in the way of some good cooking."

"Aside from a few basic diner type dinners, Vera's real specialty is Yugoslav style food. This is stick to your ribs kind of stuff, with some tasteful seasoning. For example, at the heart of the menu is Cevapcici for $7.95. These are finger length tubes of ground lamb and beef liberally seasoned with pepper and salt, plus, I'm sure some sweet Hungarian Paprika. The rollups of meat often are skewered and grilled over coals. At Vera's Place they dispense with the skewers. Nevertheless, the meat comes off the grill with a tangy zest that is the best of Balkan grilling."

"On many nights, diners can get a Yugoslav combination of the cevapcici and cubes of Rajnitczi, skewered pork tenderloin. There's really not much on the menu for seafood eaters, but if it's Duck or veal you like there's something of interest. Veal Schnitzel for $7.15 gets the typical puffy egg deep fried coating and is a rather straightforward presentation. You can spruce it up a bit with a fried sun-side egg on top, ala Holstein. The duck is more substantial fare. Served only Friday or Saturday nights for $9.95, one half the dark roasted bird comes with a portion of homemade dumplings and gravy. Like all entrees, diners also get a nice iceberg lettuce salad and vegetables."

"This is typical home style cooking. There's nothing particularly glamorous or "trendy" about things here. The soup is a good example of the basic approach to cooking. One evening, there might be Lentils or a Bean soup made with pintos and potatoes. The stock is rich, wholesome, flavorful."

"Vera's Place is pleasant casual dining, with a comfortable Middle European accent."

Maine East to feature art show

An art show featuring the sculptures created by students at the three Maine Township high schools will be held Thursday, Dec. 11, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Maine East High School, 2601 W. Dempster, Park Ridge. The art show is the culminating event of the Artist-in-Residence Program which was held for the first time this year in District 207.

Designed to strengthen the role of the arts in education, the Artist-in-Residence Program is sponsored by the Illinois Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. A team teaching approach, involving Kenneth Burg-a metal sculptor and painter-and faculty members who teach advanced art courses in Maine, allowed District 207 to expand the artistic experiences of third and fourth year art students during Burg's stay from Oct. 23 to Dec. 10.

Part of the ongoing effort by Maine Township High School District 207 to provide expanded educational experiences for students and staff members through the use of outside funding, part of the money for the program came from a matching grant from the Illinois Arts Council. Maine's portion of the cost of the program was funded by the District 207 Horizons Program.

American Diabetes Association Holiday Cookbook

For the diabetic or overweight person on a restricted diet, or anyone interested in good health and nutrition, the American Diabetes Association, Northern Illinois Affiliate, is offering its special Holiday Cookbook for sale. This new book is based on the exchange lists for food equivalents, revised for the first time in ten years in conjunction with the American Dietetic Association to reflect the latest scientific findings on good nutrition and healthy eating.

Using the exchange system, the Holiday Cookbook makes it easy to maintain a good balance of calories, carbohydrates, proteins and fats while enjoying holiday foods. In a diabetic diet, foods are divided into six categories or "exchanges": 1) Starches/Breads, 2) Meat and Substitutes, 3) Vegetables, 4) Fruit, 5) Milk, and 6) Fats. Foods are grouped together on a list when they are alike. Each recipe in the book includes the food exchange equivalents for a single serving as well as essential nutritional information, providing a variety of choices to satisfy the requirements of any individual dietary needs.

The delicious recipes can all be prepared using little or no sugar or sugar substitutes. The whole family can even enjoy treats such as the Cranberry-Nut Bread; served with some easy to make Low-Calorie Egg Nog, this would make terrific party fare. These recipes selected from the Holiday Cookbook are available free of charge from the American Diabetes Association office. The Cookbook can be purchased by calling the office at 346-1805.

Choose safe toys for holiday giving

At this time of year, parents of young children are especially conscious of toy safety. But parents aren't the only ones who need to shop carefully. Grandparents, aunts and uncles - and others who will be giving holiday presents to young children - need to really look at the toys to make sure they're safe.

"A toy that's safe for an 8-year-old may be deadly in the hands of a 2-year-old," according to Katherine Jarrell Reuter, Suburban Cook County Cooperative Extension Home Economist. "So, if you're buying for an older child who has a younger sibling, it's best to buy a sturdy toy without small parts."

Some toys are age-labeled to make buying easier. But not all toys provide explanations of why they may be inappropriate or even hazardous for children who are younger or older than the recommended ages. Use any labeling information as a guide in making the selection.

"No matter what the age of the child you're buying for, look for sturdy toy construction. When buying soft toys for young children, be sure to purchase a well-made item with eyes, nose and any other small parts tightly secured," states Reuter.

For infants and toddlers, avoid toys with small parts that they may put in their mouths, or long strings or cords that may cause strangulation.

Avoid toys that shoot or propel objects that may injure eyes or get lodged in throats. Arrows or darts used by children should have soft cork tips, rubber suction cups or other protective tips. Check to be sure the tips are securely attached to their shafts. It's best to check with parents before buying toy guns, arrows and similar items for holiday giving; some parents may not believe that these types of toys are appropriate Christmas gifts.

Electric toys with heating elements are recommended only for children over eight years of age, and only as long as there is adult supervision.

Whatever age you're buying for, check the instructions for clarity. They should be clear to you, and, when appropriate, to the child.

Reuter says, "It's sometimes hard for grandparents and others to buy gifts for children they don't get to see very often. In this case, it's probably best to talk with the parents to make sure your gift ideas are in line with the children's abilities and interests."

Holiday Depression: Symptoms and Suggestions

If the idea of having a holly-jolly Christmas seems as artificial as the tinsel on your tree, you may be suffering from the common malady of holiday depression.

Most psychologists agree that the seasonal merrymaking and family reunions make depressed people feel worse and put people with family troubles into a funk. Such problems can be avoided or at least lessened by taking the proper steps, say some Loyola University experts.

Each winter, Richard Issel, Ph.D., counseling professor in Loyola's Institute of Pastoral Studies and private psychologist, has clients scrambling to see him. The number of people, new and old, coming to him for help increases significantly around the holidays.

"It happens with clockwork precision," he says of the phenomenon.

Donna Feldman, M.A., manager of Loyola University's Personal Consultation Service, agrees. She and Issel offer several explanations for holiday depression.

"People who are alone, such as singles and senior citizens, feel lonely.

"People who have experienced a loss, through death or divorce, remember Christmases and Thanksgivings spend with their loved one, making the loss all the sharper.

"Families are expected to spend time together or are forced to because of vacations. The closeness exacerbates the tensions in families with conflicts.

"Homemakers experience stress because of the large amount of preparation involved in their families' celebrations.

"People, particularly children who have been overstimulated, feel let down when their expectations aren't met. Sometimes children with divorced parents hope mom and dad will be magically reconciled during the holidays. They're disappointed when their dream doesn't materialize.

"Extended families come together during the holidays, whether or not everybody gets along—leading to arguments and hard feelings among sparring relatives.

"The new year is traditionally a time to look back on one's accomplishments over the past year. Those who have broken their own resolutions might feel remorseful.

Exacerbating all these potential causes of depression is, as Issel puts it, "the discrepancy between how these people feel and how they think they should feel." That is, inside people are dying; yet they feel they are supposed to be happy; and that makes them feel worse.

Depression takes on many forms. They include feeling blue more than normal, crying often, overeating, under-eating, or experiencing fatigue, insomnia, or too much sleep.

Choir entertains Jewish elderly

The children's choir from Evanston's Roycemore School will perform holiday songs at 1p.m., Thursday, December 18, at the Council for Jewish Elderly's Adult Day Care Center, 2805 Jarvis in Chicago. The program is free and open to the public.

Food Drive continues at Oakton

The food drive for the hungry will continue at Oakton Community College through Friday, Dec. 12. The event is sponsored by Oakton's Science and Allied Health Programs. Community residents may bring donations of food items to Oakton's Des Plaines and Skokie campuses. Food collected will be distributed through the township to the food pantries in Oakton's district.

For registration information, call Oakton, 635-1702. Information on the Science and Allied Health Programs, call 635-1686.

Santa's Family Day

The fun begins with a visit from Santa Claus and his helpers at 10 a.m. in the YMCA Youth Lobby. Children can visit with Santa all day, have their pictures taken with him, and come away with a special gift!

So, come join in the holiday fun at the YMCA on Dec. 20. Santa will be there - we hope you will, too! The McGraw YMCA is located at 1000 Grove St. in Evanston. For more information please call the Y at 475-7400.

What to do if you're skidding toward holiday depression? Donna Feldman recommends planning ahead. Those who are alone might make arrangements to be with others during the season. Or they might volunteer to work at a soup kitchen, or a help-hotline, etc. Those who expect family conflicts can anticipate them and attempt to head them off.

In treating depressed patients, Issel follows three main steps, which friends of those with the blues might imitate. First, he lets the person sound off. Next, he and the patient pinpoint what is causing the depression—not always an easy task since "depression is energized by vagueness," according to Issel.

Finally, they explore alternatives to the situation that is depressing the person. Issel offers the person lots of encouragement to take steps to solve the problem.

"It's very important to reach out to individuals whom you feel are slipping into depression," says Issel. "You should reach out not to cheer them up but to listen to what's depressing them."

For those who are concerned about a friend who is grieving the death of a loved one during the holidays, he said, "Don't put on a joy-joy routine. You know, the Dad's in heaven now, so we ought to be happy for him," kind of talk. Be with the person; let them feel sad."

ROBINSON FURNACE CO., INC. FEATURES LENNOX Electronic Ignition Gas Furnaces

*SAVES UP TO 45% ON GAS BILLS

AND REMEMBER... GAS: YOUR BEST ENERGY VALUE!

looks for lasting value in Heating

*Annual Fuel Utilization Efficiency rating as determined by Department of Energy testing standards. The higher the percentage, the more heat you receive from the same amount of fuel.

- LENNOX provides cold weather comfort at 97% efficiency
- More Heat, Less Waste!

If your present Gas Furnace is over 10 years old, it is probably in the range of 55% to 60% efficient. Therefore, probably as much as 45% of your heat is vented outdoors (and 45 cents of every heat dollar you spend is wasted).

- The LENNOX PULSE FURNACE is up to 97% efficient with only 3% heat loss due to combustion venting. Some heat loss is inevitable, but why continue to lose 45% when you can cut that heat loss to a minimum of 3%?

Community groups present 'Sing Along' Messiah

'Messiah', the "crown jewel" of Handel oratorios, will return to Park Ridge this year in 'Sing Along' form as a gift to the community from the Citizens for Church Related Activities, chaired by Jerry Haselhuber, and the Park Ridge Clergy Association, Rev. Gordon Butcher, chairman.

The event is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 8 p.m. in the Maine South High School Auditorium, 1111 S. Dee Rd., Park Ridge. There is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be received to help defray expenses. Participants are asked to bring their own copies of the vocal score to 'Messiah'.

The on-stage chorus will be composed of choir members from area churches and the Northwest Choral Society, which has rehearsals scheduled with Orchestra, Friday, Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. and chorus Monday, Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. All rehearsals are at the First United Methodist Church, 418 Touhy, Park Ridge. There are still openings for string players in all sections. Interested persons may call John Melcher at 236-9673 or Jerry Haselhuber at 825-5611.

John Melcher of Park Ridge will be the director of the chorus, orchestra and audience at this year's 'Sing Along' Messiah. He is a graduate of Beloit College and has a Masters of Music degree from the University of Michigan.

Soloists for this year's 'Sing Along' include mezzo-soprano Joy Graham of Des Plaines, currently in her fourth season with the Lyric Opera of Chicago. She has also performed with the Chamber Opera of Chicago, and the Lyric Opera Center for American Artists.

Soprano soloist Deborah Magione of Niles, received her masters degree in music from Northwestern University, and has performed as soloist with the Harper College Community Chorus and Orchestra, the Niles Symphony Chorus and Orchestra, the Northwest Choral Society and as 'Yun-Yun' in a production of the Mikado by PARIGASS in Park Ridge.

Mark your calendars now for an evening of music making to set you in the Holiday spirit - Tuesday, Dec. 16th, 8 p.m., Maine South High School Auditorium.

"Landscapes of Northern Illinois"

Just in time for the holidays, a Northern Illinois University geographer has a suggestion for a low-cost gift he believes will be a surefire pleaser even for those who have everything.

NIU's Don Luman suggests a view of the area we live in from 438 miles above the Earth's surface: a wall poster map that shows the top half of Illinois in a colorful mosaic of images recorded from satellites.

Produced with the highest of high tech technology and custom printing, and funding help from the NIU Foundation, the maps exhibit extraordinary detail.

The area shown includes everything between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River from the Wisconsin line, south the include Macomb, Peoria, Pekin, Morton, Bloomington-Normal and Hoopston.

"Landscapes of Northern Illinois" is roughly 4 1/2 feet tall by 3 feet wide and also displays three smaller maps to help you locate specific cities on the satellite mosaic, to depict land use and to show population densities.

The Rand McNally Bookstore, 23 East Madison St., Chicago IL 60602, has agreed to handle charge, phone and mail orders for $7.95, plus tax and $5 postage and handling charges. (Call 332-4627.)

Copies also may be purchased in person, without mailing tubes, at NIU's Laboratory for Cartography and Spatial Analysis, room 115 Davis Hall, on the NIU Campus in DeKalb, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., weekdays only.

District 219 concerts embrace holiday spirit

Embracing the already "gen-erous" spirit of the season are free concerts at Niles North and Niles West High Schools which showcase "a wealth of musical talent. The orchestras, bands, and choirs highlight the music of Christmas and Hanukkah at Niles North's concert on Dec. 16 and Niles West's on Dec. 17, both at 7:30 p.m. in the schools' auditoriums.

Featured in the concert orchestra's segment of the Dec. 16 Niles North concert is solo violinist Injoo Choi playing Saint Saens' "Introduction and Rondeau Capriccioso." Injoo, selected concert mistress of the all-state orchestra as a sophomore, has held that position in the school orchestra since her freshman year. Director Arnold Sklar describes Injoo as "one of the most talented violinists in the school's history." She and fellow musicians will contrast moods with a medley of recent Broadway hits and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Procession of the Nobles."

The 63-member symphonic band, according to director Elton Eiselt, will play three selections. The program includes "Prelude Siciliano and Rondo" composed by Malcolm Arnold and arranged by John Paynter.

The North auditorium will resound with "combined choir" voices singing "Go Tell It on the Mountain," as well as a melange of holiday songs. Bob Anderson is the choral director.

The concert choir, the girls' ensemble, and the group, "Ex-gressions," directed by Sheri Owens, open the Dec. 17 concert at Niles West. With holiday music from many lands, students singing solos which reflect their ethnicity are Gary Kaufman, Nancy Mugerdichian, May de las Alas, and Pascale Trouillot.

"Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson and "The First Noel," which featured vocalists Esther Bae and Hyun So Kim, are reminiscent of Christmas past.

The combined choruses and the concert orchestra together feature Beethoven's majestic "Hallelujah Chorus" from "Christ On the Mount of Olives." Another piece by Beethoven, one by Bach, and two light Christmas numbers complete the evening work of the orchestra, under the direction of Ted Kaibuck.

Promising a grand finale are the concert, and symphonic bands, conducted by William S. Koch with the assistance of students teacher Erica Rogers. Titles such as "Jubilance," "Emperata Overture," and "Reflections," among the band selections for the evening, exemplify the range of spirits conjured up by the holiday season.

Carter Westminster annual Christmas program

The Carter Westminster Sunday School will present "The Greatest Gift of All" as the annual Christmas program on Dec. 14 at 7 p.m. at the church, 4950 W. Pratt in Skokie. All friends and neighbors in the community near and far are invited to attend the pageant and join the cast afterwards for refreshments and holiday festivities.

The program features angels, shepherds, and wise men who cleverly tell the Christmas story in an innovative and unusual way - complete with songs, news coverage and the curiosity and involvement of children. The primary department promises to steal the show with the children dressed as little packages because "good things come in little packages" - just like the Baby Jesus.

The program reflects a celebration of songs and sharing in the holiday spirit and creates the warmth of this special season as the characters and the audience rediscover the greatest gift of all - God's present to the world of Jesus Christ.

Ice sculpture display at Long Grove

Long Grove welcomes ice-sculptor, Joe Aiello, Saturday, Dec. 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. During his stay in town, Aiello will transform six 400-pound blocks of ice into holiday works of art. The historic shopping village of Long Grove is located in Lake County at Rtes. 83 & 53.

Aiello will begin carving his creations in front of the Ponte Vecchio Shop on R.P. Coffin Rd. near the Covered Bridge. Here he will complete sculptures of Santa, his sleigh, and two reindeer. Aiello will continue his work down the street near the Old Mill Pond where he will sculpt two more reindeer.

Part owner and instructor at the Ice Sculpture School of Chicago, Aiello also continues to compete in local, national, and international ice-sculpting contests and displays his trophies and awards at his home in Chicago.

Some of Aiello's creations include airplanes, helicopters, various animals, castles, and even a witch on a broom. Aiello has been sculpting ice for over 10 years. "The greatest reward is to watch people's expressions while I work. They'll usually approach a figure and touch it and comment on how lifelike it looks," concluded Aiello.

Aiello has created several sculptures for many hotel banquets and private parties. For information, call 745-9107.

'Around the World' at Oak Mill Mall

by Carmie

Agnes Ewinger of Gigi's Dolls & Sherry's Teddy Bears

Eddie Delgau of European Imports

Carol Wahrstein & Louise Udvari of Somenek's Bakery

Barbara & Janet of Moments to Remember

Albert Pao of Formosa Gifts

Is there really a breathtakingly unique showcase of the world's treasures right here in Niles? Visit OAK MILL MALL at Oakton and Milwaukee, and you will prove it to yourself! Specialty "Old World" inspired shops and kiosks (circular, open structures on the main floor)...stores featuring imports from Europe, the far East and traditional American made delights combine to lend our OAK MILL MALL a distinctive flavor found nowhere else.

Are you enchanted with delicate Oriental jewelry and accessories? Then, FORMOSA GIFTS located on the main floor will delight you. Alice Pao arrived in the USA from Taiwan, China only two years ago. She and her family...husband, Albert, and two teenage sons...are pursuing a lifelong dream - working at their own business. Their fledgling shop is only two months old...and has a bright future.

EUROPEAN IMPORTS, owned by Eddie Delgau and his family has brought a touch of Germany to the Mall. His wife, Felga and daughter-in-law, Helen can usually be found at the store...or nearby at son, Robert's unique year-around CHRISTMAS VILLAGE. We noticed a new, highly touted arrival at European Imports. colorful, handpainted "Fish" neckties...Eddie commented that "the catch is in!"

Oh, look...a child's wonderland...Christmas begins at Gigi's Dolls and Sherry's Teddy Bears" - and who would resist the treasures to be found here! It is truly a fantasyland for all young at heart! Santa will make a special visit here at Gigi's on December 23 and 24...and kids can enter the coloring contest. The drawing was done by their own Charlene Hennessey. Gigi herself told us how excited she was to have "Heloise" dolls from Paris; made of resin and hand-sculpted; finally available.

More news from France...BON JOUR MADAME, a shop for the chic plus woman, and BOUTIQUE UNIQUE - owned by Brigitta. Manager Gustav Guenther hails from Germany, and has worked here for eight years.

Upon entering the OAK MILL MALL from the North entrance...you are engulfed in tantalizing aromas wafting from...of course, SOMENEK'S PASTRY. Julie Somenek and sons Gary, Frank and Dennis, are the culprits who ruined many a diet - happily! SOMENEK'S is a family business who will celebrate ten years in Niles next May. Their culinary skills were brought from Germany and Hungary. Herth Kroeger has retired after nine years of service...while Ursula Swierzy and Linda Laktie are celebrating ten years with the bakery. It must be difficult leaving those pastries! Enjoy a warm, quiet, and delicious oasis at SOMENEK'S CONTINENTAL CAFE next door...their Christmas decorations add a festive note to an enjoyable repast.

More on DELIKATESSEN LINGER...HOUSE OF ORIENT... SALAMANDER SHOES...LISHAE later...a trip "around the world" must not be hurried!

Notes from our own shores... VIRGIL'S SHOES has brought his family-owned business to us. YARN 'N' STUFF is the beguiling name of Sid and Bev Bolon's shop. Sid said he handled the "Yarn"...and Bev is the "Stuff" which showcases her needlepoint creations. She even teaches the art to those interested.

Do you have a smoker on your Christmas list? See Tom at OAK MILL TOBACCO...who, by the way, gals...is single and very cute! He offers a unique assortment of cigars, pipes and smoking accessories.

FORTRESS is an unusual name for an unusually interesting store. Kurt Weber, branch manager, explains that this is a Lutheran church related specialty store, serving ecumenically all denominations. The name is derived from the castle which Martin Luther was associated with...and the store is a fascinating study in religious artifacts, books, and surprisingly beautiful items.

Where are all those ladies in sweatsuits, leotards and athletic shoes running to? Why is WOMAN'S WORKOUT WORLD, of course) But, in order to be fashionably attired for such an important day...they first visit "TOE THE LINE" - a great shop in one of the kiosks, owned by vivacious Shirley Simon. She is celebrating her fourth Christmas at OAK MILL MALL - and will surely have just the right outfit for you.

Nearby, REMBRANDT STUDIOS is housed...and Mary Kay Melanouris, manager, comments that lots of the gals working out upstairs are engaged...and enjoy the stopping and examining of wedding albums here. Gals, competition is fierce out there...exercise class, here we come!

EXTRA! The "Stars" are out at...CANDLELIGHT JEWELERS (or should we say, the family of a "star")? Delightful five year veteran employee, Libby Matla is, indeed, Marlee's mom! We all know that Marlee is the talented actress starring in "Children of a Lesser God" with William Hurt - and Libby tells us she is working on another movie in Mexico with Ed Harris. Libby has really adjusted to life with a famous daughter...and enjoys her "blessed" grandchild, Zachary, who is six years old. She says she works with "nice people"...like Lairy Rose, owner, who was recently awarded the Jeweler of the Year Award; and Jack Shlopak. Jack says he is retired...but very active still - and can remember when Lairy's dad, Harry, sold him watches over forty years ago! CANDLELIGHT JEWELERS has been a bulwark of OAK MILL MALL for eleven years. Count on lots more interesting tidbits from our new friends!

Shirley told us about the resident "creative geniuses" behind MOMENTS TO REMEMBER...and we enjoyed talking to Barbara, who is in the process of building a new home. Janet, unbelievably, has three small kids at home; but finds time to offer favors and gift-twear for special occasions such as bridal showers, weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, etc. They are the new kids on the block...only four months at Oak Mill.

Next door is COUNTRY CRAFTS & CARDS - and owner, Janice, is bustling around so busily! She offers unusual handwork of American artisans with a country flavor...and has done so for three years at Oak Mill.

inch club of the world, I wonder how many of us consider ourselves "little guys" like "little" Doug Flutie.

....A group concerned with treating animals with compassion was picketing the Animal World store at Harlem and Milwaukee Avenues over the weekend. It was protesting exhibiting a black bear which was caged inside the store.

For years we've thought such treatment of animals inside this store-front animal store was cruel. Displaying animals normally seen in zoos has been an exploitation which should have been dealt with years ago. In past years the store has exhibited a cougar, a llama, three goats, a wallabee (kangaroo) and several monkeys.

A similar store in Chicago has displayed a bengal tiger and a leopard.

Bringing the animals to zoos from the wilds has always been a questionable act. Limiting animals to a small restricted area, after taking them away from their natural habitat, has always seemed very cruel. But taking some of these same animals and locking them in an enclosure inside a store compounds this cruelty.

....If you've been a Chicagoan most of your life, you've certainly been a reader of Sydney Harris' essays through the years. His death this past weekend seems to be a loss of an old friend.

The deaths of old time movie stars and T.V. stars leaves somewhat the same feeling. How many of us felt genuine sadness when we heard of Cary Grant passing away?

We've lived with Grant and Sydney Harris since our childhood. And Desi Arnaz has been with us for 30 years. All of them gave us much pleasure. In a sense, they're a part of our extended families. Their passing away leaves a genuine void.

masters on doctorate will receive $43,107 the first year; $49,098 the second year and the third year, $52,780.

The previous contract called for an annual average salary of $33,061 and a top salary of $38,870. In arriving at the new salary schedule, administrators reduced 20 percent of teachers' summer salaries (summer school) to 14 percent the first year of the contract and 12 percent for the next two years. The funds will be shifted to base salaries. "In addition, the board put in a 23.2 percent increase in new money," Hilquist said.

"We feel it is a very fair contract and we're happy a settlement was reached," he said.

Teachers voted 101-12 to accept the contract on Monday, with the board of trustees voting on it at a special meeting Tuesday evening.

Frank Fonsino, president of OCC's chapter of the Illinois Education Assn. said he was generally satisfied with the contract, but was disappointed with the negotiating sessions. "There was always a problem with semantics. I'm glad it's over."

He added he was not happy with the cut in summer salaries to cushion the base pay. "This would be 70 cents for every dollar shifted to base salary," he said. "We won't benefit at peak or be comparable to other colleges until the third year."

Terms of the settlement were: pay for lecture equivalency hours, compensation for laboratory work; early retirement comparable to other colleges; clarification of the language covering the school's health and life insurance; inclusion of a cost-of-living clause and resolution on the number of teaching days (147 to 152 instructional days).

Negotiations this year resulted in the faculty working from May to November without a contract. Sessions involving the previous contract forced teachers to work without a contract for 13 months.

According to Hilquist, this is the first time a contract has been made with a union. The faculty joined the Illinois Education Assn. (IEA) about one year ago.

Tax freeze ...

Niles. "Skokie officials are moving ahead with plans to create a TIF district and we would be working in conjunction with them in redevelopment plans," he said.

He added there were no prospective developers at the present time, but that "an enabling ordinance is needed to create such a district. 'A TIF plan would attract developers,'" he said.

According to village attorney Richard Troy, establishing TIF districts would allow the village to freeze the assessed valuation while development takes place so that taxes generated from valuation above the frozen level could be put into an escrow account and used for redevelopment costs.

He explained a new state law will allow sales tax generated within the TIF districts to be used for renovation. "We have to report how much tax revenue is raised at the present time. Then any sales tax above that level would go into escrow."

He added in order to take advantage of the new law, the village would have to establish TIF by the end of December.

Once the district is established, bonds would be issued "probably through a bank" to help finance redevelopment costs. The money in the escrow account would then be used to pay off the bonds, which Troy estimated would be completed in seven years.

According to Don Eslick, economic consultant for Kane-McKenna and Associates, government units such as library, park district in the village would be giving up a portion of tax money they could get, but would receive more in the future once these properties have been developed.

William Linning, finance director for Niles Township High School District 219 read a statement to the board which expressed concern for a possible impact on the district with TIF. "There will be a loss in equalized assessed valuation on these properties once redevelopment begins, resulting in loss of tax money."

He said school officials would like a commitment from the village that the district would receive maximum benefits from the present assessed valuation of the properties.

At the same time, he noted, the district realizes there is a need to improve the two parcels. "We are willing to work with Niles and Skokie for mutual benefits in the future."

A Niles resident in the audience asked if a TIF district would increase taxes for homeowners, but was assured it would not.

If the district is established, the assessed valuation for the AT&T property would be frozen at $3,478,934. The present equalized assessed valuation at Lawrencewood shopping center is $4,000,093.

According to Don Eslick,

Chicago tax ...

He noted auditors from the Department would be able to determine how many local sales were to Niles residents, and how many were to Chicago residents.

In 1987, the City of Chicago tried to impose a 1 percent sales tax from the suburbs. "Thanks to quick action by village officials and the Chamber, the attempt was defeated in court, he said.

"We have already received a legal opinion which states that businesses do not have to open their books to Chicago revenue representatives, he said.

The Chamber asks that anyone who has been contacted by letter or phone should call the Chamber office at 635-0303 in order to know how wide-spread these contacts are in Niles.

Village attorney Richard Troy said Monday businesses are not subject to any regulations by Chicago. "The city could take the position it has a right to collect sales tax if an appliance or television set is sold in Niles and is delivered by truck to a Chicago home on a collect on delivery basis," he said. "This could be a question that may have to be resolved by going back to court."

A spokesman for the Chicago Department of Revenue confirmed that a Niles retail store was contacted to open its books to determine whether it owed sales tax to the city.

He explained the business was operating in Chicago and had moved to the village. "The owner had filed a return while doing business in Chicago. It's still within the statutory period of collecting any outstanding city sales tax and auditors have a right to examine the books," he said.

The spokesman said he was unaware that a manufacturing firm in the village had been contacted. "A lot of companies have moved out of the city to the suburbs and are paying the 1 percent city sales tax."

He also noted if "trucking" is part of a Niles business, it is obligated to pay the sales tax.

spokesman, firefighters are trying to make this season a joyous one for at least seven Skokie families. They are also attempting to stock the Niles Township Open Pantry for the entire year of 1987.

For more information, call Norman Lambert, chairperson, at 459-3722.

"Boot Day" had its beginnings in 1981 when Skokie fireman Norman Lambert asked some of his fellow firefighters to assist him in providing food and some presents for a few needy families residing in Skokie. With only limited funds, assistance went to three families that year.

needy family drive prior to the Christmas holiday, it was learned that a young girl, Sari Hoffman, killed in an auto accident had been buried in an unmarked grave because her family was unable to place a marker on her grave, due to their financial difficulties. The firefighters dug deep into their pockets and with the help of a local newspaper, a fund was started to have an engraved monument placed at the grave site. In addition 4 families were given food and clothing, plus some small toys and presents for the children.

Each year the drive has grown, due in part to the amount of need.

Maine Township has Energy Assistance applications

Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson has announced that applications for the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (I-HEAP) are now available at the Maine Township Town Hall.

The program is open to all senior citizens, disabled persons and other residents who meet income eligibility requirements and need help paying their utility bills.

Income eligibility guidelines based on a 90-day period are $1,675 for one person; $2,263 for a household of two; $2,850 for three; $3,438 for four; $4,025 for five; $4,613 for six; $5,200 for seven; and $5,788 for eight.

An appointment is necessary and can be made by calling the Maine Township General Assistance Office at 297-2510.

Halverson said, "We would not want to see any resident of our community go without heat during the coming winter. This is the sixth year Maine Township has participated in the program and we are one of the few townships selected to serve as intake centers.

"As in the past, we will process the applications immediately and deliver them to CEDA so that applications can obtain energy assistance as quickly as possible."

Plane Model ...

Pentagon officials were keeping the "radar-evasive Stealth" under wraps. Lockheed Corp. which builds the real "Stealth" and reportedly wants to sell the plane to the Air Force, became involved in a congressional hearing last Spring concerning leaks on the "Stealth" program.

According to an article in a Chicago newspaper, one angry congressman held up the model kit during testimony from the chairman of Lockheed and wanted to know how a toy company was able to sell plastic models of a plane that members of Congress were not allowed to see.

He also questioned whether the Soviets would soon become privy to details of the F-19 aircraft, which reportedly is nearly invisible to radar and infrared detectors.

Andrews shrugs off controversy over the model, saying that once an airplane comes out of a hangar people are bound to find out about it. The model, which he estimates is 80 percent accurate (in design) came from "bits and pieces" and comments from friends in the aerospace field, he said, adding that Testor is not privy to any classified information.

According to a Washington news article, the Testor Corp. is selling a 1/48th scale to hobbyists, and it not necessarily the same image of the Lockheed's fighter plane. Testor's instruction sheet in the model kit notes that all specifications were obtained from unrestricted public sources.

He further states no critical full scale internal components are depicted and no classified systems are disclosed.

Because of the publicity, the F-19 model has become the best selling plastic kit ever, with Testor anticipating big sales during the holiday season.

reported at 2722 Norma Courte on Dec. 2. The cause was traced to a grease fire in the oven, which was quickly extinguished. There was no damage estimate.

Niles firemen assisted Morton Grove firefighters after receiving a report of water in a building at 7710 Dempster St. A check was made on all floors, hallways and garage area and found no cause for the report. An attempt was made to clear the alarm system without success.

A smell of smoke was reported in the Professional Building in the Golf Mill shopping center on Dec. 4. The cause was traced to a dry chemical extinguisher that had been sprayed on the smoke alarm in a ninth floor office. The occupant reported that a youth had committed the malicious act.

Firemen responded to a report of trash burning at 7400 Waukegan Rd. The owner of the business was burning rubbish outside and said he was unaware of the law forbidding open burning.

On Dec. 6 firemen went to 8201 Dempster St. where they found plywood and straw burning on the parkway between Maryhill Cemetery and the road. Firemen used a handpump to extinguish the blaze and used a cover of dirt to prevent rekindling of the trash.

Edison to test new air pollution controls

A new process to demonstrate the removal of pollutants from the emissions of coal-fired generating stations will be installed and tested at Commonwealth Edison's Kincaid Station, near Taylorville, under an agreement between Edison and UOP, Inc., the utility announced today.

Developed by UOP in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), the Fluidized-Bed Copper Oxide Process removes sulfur dioxide and reduces nitrogen oxides in emissions from generating station boilers that burn high sulfur coal. The fluidized bed absorbs sulfur dioxide from the gases, while nitrogen oxides are reduced by reaction with ammonia in the same fluidized bed absorber.

Installation of the test equipment will be accomplished at no cost to Edison, according to the

Milwaukee/Albion landscaping approved

The Niles Village Board approved a landscape proposal Tuesday to improve the south entry of Niles at Milwaukee and Albion.

According to Trustee Peter Pesole, the board is waiting for specifications from the architect before letting bids out for the project. "A representative of a sign company will be at the December 23 board meeting, so we can decide what type of sign to put up on the east and west parcel being landscaped" he said, adding the project will begin in the Spring.

The village is completing the final phase of developing an open landscape area to provide an esthetic entranceway to Niles. Plans include raising existing structures, asphalt removal; new sidewalks, curbs and asphalt at Albion.

Street trees, evergreen trees, deciduous shrubs, perennials and groundcover will be planted. A new concrete wall may replace an existing one which runs along the north branch of the Chicago River in the southeast parcel, Pesole said.

The project is estimated to cost $173,000, which does not include signs, lighting, storm water collection, or off-site improvements.

Plans were submitted by the landscape architectural firm of Bernard-Jacobs and Terri Ryan in Chicago.

Felician students in Who's Who

Sister Mary Charlene Encaveage, President of Felician College, 3800 W. Peterson Ave., Chicago, announced the selection of 7 Felician College students as national outstanding campus leaders for inclusion in the 1987 edition of Who's Who among students in American Junior Colleges.

Students named this year from Felician College are: Lynette Bacon, Emily Darak, Alanna Kerry, Christine O'Connor, Maribel Ramos, Marcus Rodriguez, and Marlene Rudas.

agreement, which continues through Sept. 1, 1989, or completion of the ongoing UOP-DOE test project, whichever occurs later. Site preparation work at Kincaid is due to begin in early 1988 with the fluidized bed unit expected to be in operation six months later.

Adjacent to one of the largest coal mines in the Midwest, Kincaid is the only Edison coal-fired station which environmental regulations allow to burn high sulfur Illinois coal. Kincaid's two units, which went into operation in 1967 and 1968, are capable of generating more than 1.1 million kilowatts of power.

Edison's other 16 coal-fired units burn low sulfur coal from Montana and Wyoming. The company switched to the Western fuel in the early 1970s as the most economical way of meeting stringent new air emission regulations.
