Maine Township eyes takeover of Ballard school

Maine Township officials last week joined other interested parties seeking to rent space or take over Ballard School for the $1 purchase price offered by School District 63. Other offers have been made by a Montessori School in Norridge, which wants to rent space left vacant by the branch library and the Village of Niles which is conducting a study on the feasibility of taking over Ballard. Both the Niles Library District and the Niles Park District declined to buy former school building located at Ballard and Cumberland. According to Maine Township Continued on Page 38

No changes in Dist. 63 curriculum

by Linda Zachow
Dr. Eldon Gleichman, Superintendent of School District 63, submitted his short term recommendations for the 1987-1988 Gemini curriculum at the February 10 meeting of the Board of Education. The final word is very few changes will be made for the next school year, but radical changes could be on the horizon for the 1988-1989 curriculum. Dr. Gleichman and other members of the administration staff are presently engaged in intensive examination, assessing the adequacy of the present curriculum and comparing numerous alternative approaches. Addressing concerns discussed at the previous Board meeting which included class size, scheduling and compulsory reading classes, Dr. Gleichman concluded radical changes for the 1987-1988 school year were un- Continued on Page 39

by Bud Besser

Back in the late fall of 1982 the Villa Venice nightclub on north Milwaukee Avenue was re-opened for a brief period. Headliners for the three-a-night shows included Dean Martin, Sammy Davis and Frank Sinatra. It was reported the three men came to our area to help a friend who was in a financial bind.

The Hollywood trio came here for gratis. They weren't being paid and were helping a friend who was in need.

Many local residents flocked to the show. The fee to get in was $50 per couple which was pretty hefty for those days. After standing out in the cold you were marshalled into the club, seated at long picnic-like tables, with your chair butting back to back with the chair behind you. Eight-hundred people were jammed into each of the three performances and a call from nature or a firebell would have proven disastrous. But the troops marched in, were packed in, sardine-style, and were present at a "happening". Most people who went were pleased they saw the show and with the bottle of booze and ginger ale bottles plunked in the center of the picnic-like tables. Continued on Page 39

UPS driver, off-duty cop catch purse snatchers

by Sylvia Dalrymple

A citizen who "got involved" and an off-duty Niles policeman played major roles in apprehending two youths who knocked down a 76-year-old Park Ridge woman and snatched her purse last Friday afternoon.

Larry Lopinski, an employee of United Parcel Service, was driving his truck in the 8000 block of Oakton when he saw the incident take place, with the victim screaming for help. He stopped the truck and began pursuing the offenders on foot for three blocks when he recognized patrol officer Leon Elsinger, who was off duty at the time and accompanied by his wife.

The two men gave chase and caught the offenders at Monroe and Keeney where they were arrested by Elsinger. According to Lt. Stanley Sosnowski of the Niles Police Department, one of the alleged offenders was 18 years old, the other a juvenile who was remanded to Juvenile Court for Continued on Page 39

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Off track odds...bets are on that off track betting parlors will find it difficult to locate in Niles in the wake of a new village ordinance requiring persons to get a special use permit for the business.

Zoning commissioners recently recommended the zoning category...and it's certain the village board will give its stamp of approval to limit possible locations for the operation.

Village officials went into action once before in attempts to prevent intrusion of betting parlors in the community. In 1977, the village passed an ordinance banning off track betting and messenger service offices because they were considered "undesirable." Some of the reasons cited were heavy traffic and "bad characters" which they are said to attract.

The question did come up whether the ordinance could be challenged because neighborhood betting parlors were legal. However, attorneys said it was permissible under home rule powers.

Shortly after the ordinance was passed, village officials were trying to outrun a bet-messenger service called Front Runners in Wheeling which made repeated attempts to open in Niles at 8045 Milwaukee Ave.

During the brouhaha, several "stop work" orders were issued at the shop that was in the process of being remodeled for the betting operation despite the ordinance and denial of the required special use permit. A representative of the agency threatened to take Niles to court to fight the validity of the ordinance unless a certificate of occupancy was issued.

The threat never materialized because during the interim, Gov. Thompson signed a state ban on messenger services making it a felony to accept money to take bets to a race track. The agency had no choice but to leave the "All America City."

The ordinance currently under consideration concerns off track betting only. The fly in the ointment is the Gov. Thompson signed off track betting legislation that gives race track owners authority to establish 14 parlors throughout the state.

If push comes to shove and a betting parlor attempts to locate in Niles, it will be interesting to see if the village ends up defending a challenge on the validity of the ordinance...in another attempt to maintain its "All America" image.

Around the area...Michael Crisci of Golf Mill Bank is busy packing his suitcase after he learned that his friend Diana Stevens (of Niles) had won a trip for two to Finland and he was to be her traveling companion.

Contestants in the "Winter Wonderland" contest sponsored by Radio FM 100 had to name their favorite song related to the Christmas holidays and Diana won in a drawing with her favorite tune "Sleigh Ride."

The couple will have a full week visiting Helsinki and Stockholm, Sweden via cruise ship, Rovaniemi.

Extra Bookmobile stop proposed at Sports complex

Children's books to be returned to main library

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Niles Fire Dept. calls
The Niles Fire Department answered 17 fire calls and 23 ambulance calls between Jan. 30 and Feb. 6.

Several people attended the meeting, including a representative from the Friends of the Library and Gerald Kantrovick, president-elect of HALT (Hold the Library Together), who said unincorporated area residents would find it difficult to get to the main library. He also cited lack of services in the library district.

After a short discussion, the committee also recommended the Bookmobile schedule an extra stop for the convenience of patrons living west of Milwaukee Ave. The stop will be made on a weekly basis for an hour and a half every Friday at the Sports Complex parking lot at Cumberland and Ballard. Both recommendations will go to the library board for final approval. Costello noted about 90 percent of the children's book collection from the branch will be in the main library where "they are badly needed. We do not have duplicate books in the children's library at the Oakton facility," she said, adding books are on the list for Battle of the Books, an annual reading contest for students of local schools.

"Children's books get a lot of use and wear out faster than adult books. Those in poor condition will be replaced by those in the branch collection," she said. Members of HALT, who protested the closing of the branch library and tried to stop the recent sale of soft and hardcover books, wanted to house the children's book collection at the Maine Township Jewish Congregation. Another suggestion was made to place the books in the school library at Mark Twain School.

Library attorneys advise the board the books could not be donated unless they were declared surplus or unnecessary.

"Santa caught moonlighting"

"Extra! Extra! Santa swings sack by day-broom by night! Images of the jolly red-suited soul are gone from mind for at least another ten months. But, it is rumored that he (or one of his holiday helpers) can be found working the nightshift at Viola Nelson School.

Dan Isaac, night custodian at Nelson, made a most convincing Santa Claus, (for those still willing to be convinced) during the Team 5 holiday program on Dec. 18. A Skokie native, Mr. Isaac has worked at Nelson for the past four years. He is every bit involved with and committed to the 633 children there as any faculty member.

Even a brief conversation with him reveals his genuine sense of caring, commitment, and flair for the dramatic. He has a quick wit and sense of humor. He is most willing to share his feelings about his school as a "community" and the far-reaching effects of the "community" on society at-large. Mr. Isaac has enjoyed a semi-professional theatrical career stemming from his days at Northwestern University. "As theatre will always be in my blood, I'm making the most out of my present job situation", says Santa Isaac.

In a week plagued by flu and colds, program director Mary Tito still managed to "pull it all off", with the help of understudies and some last minute (second!) changes. Mr. Tom Norquist (ERSII) devoted many hours to the set design, as did art teacher Mrs. Tuch, Mrs. McAvoy, Mrs. Weitzman, and Dan Isaac—a man who truly wears many different hats at Nelson!

Nelson School is one of the five schools in East Maine School District 63 and is located at 8901 N. Ozanam, Niles.

Nelson student council focuses on helping others

The Nelson School Student Council, East Maine School District 63, under the sponsorship of teacher Sandra Chaet, began its 1986-87 activities by helping to collect food for needy families of Maine Township for Thanksgiving. For the Christmas holidays, the Student Council sponsored a clothes drive for the needy families of Maine Township.

Student Council members help to get each day off to a good start by leading the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance and making announcements about Nelson School, its students and events of interest. The Council meets at luncheon to plan and organize projects. They also discuss student concerns with principal Robert J. Jablon. Members serve as host and hostesses during the fall Open House to help welcome and direct parents. The Student Council representatives from third grade are Kristin Foster, Daniel Kim, Jennifer Giffredi and Jamie Goldstein. From fourth grade Maria Mallidis, Kevin Herbon, Linda Halley, Parris Ng, Lisa Horak, Phillip Yee, Janet Sens and Jason Velen. Fifth grade representatives are Erica Buetgen, Michael Holzman, Martin Fukuda, Bobby Garippo, Prithesh Pathak and Kim Klein. Lecture on human heart

The Culver fifth-grade was recently treated to an informative hands-on lecture about the human heart. Mrs. Helen Blangin, fifth-grade science teacher, arranged for Dr. Mark Metzdorff, cardiac surgeon from Northwestern University, to come to class and explain the structure and functions of the heart. Dr. Metzdorff brought various models of the heart that children were able to manipulate. They were especially excited at the prospect of handling his surgical tools. Questions followed the demonstration, and the children gave Dr. Metzdorff their heartfelt thanks for a great science lesson.

What a coincidence!

Dear Editor:
 Something happened to me last Wednesday, January 28th. Something that I thought could never happen. I came home from a fruit and vegetable store. As I entered the house I discovered that my wallet was missing. I immediately went back to see if I had dropped it in the store, hoping that some kind person might have found it and turned it in. But nothing like that had happened.
 So I came home thinking about some money I had in it and all the things that go in a wallet. I was sick about it. On my return home as I was parking my car, I noticed a man and a woman in front of my house. As I was getting out they asked me if I lived there. They said they had found a wallet at the Fruit market.

 Just at that moment he and I recognized each other. He happened to be a friend of mine from our old neighborhood that I had not seen in many years, Frank Aguzino and his good wife. You can imagine my surprise and how happy I was in getting my wallet and from such a good honest friend.

I offered them a reward but they wouldn't think of anything like that.
 So there is one thing I want to say. This is a small world and there are still some good people in it.
 Sincerely,
 Nick Marsala

Nilesite lauds village's advantages

Dear Editor:
 As 40 year residents of Niles, my wife and I enjoyed reading Catherine Collin's story in the Feb. 1 issue of the Chicago Tribune about Niles. We experienced many of the things she mentioned as we saw it grow from a village of about 3,000 people to its present population.
 No doubt space prevented her from mentioning many more advantages Niles residents have as compared to surrounding communities - for example:
 - The best the quickest snow-removal operation which even includes alleys.
 - An excellent garbage pick-up service at no extra cost to residents.
 - Extra fine street-cleaning service that includes many additional runs during the Fall when falling leaves accumulate so rapidly.
 - A top-rated Fire Department which includes a well trained, well equipped Paramedic Staff.
 - Excellent and well maintained Public Buildings which include the Administration Building, Police Department Building, Public Works Buildings, and the Trident Center for Seniors.

 All of these are paid out of residents' real estate taxes which are far lower than surrounding communities. It is a fact that a significant portion of the revenue the Village requires to furnish these services is derived from sales tax receipts emanating from the finest shopping facilities available in any community.
 In addition to the advantages already enumerated, Niles residents have access to top rated public and parochial schools for their children and a fine Park System that provides excellent recreational facilities in all sections of the village.
 When we travel to other sections of our great nation, we like to brag at every opportunity that we are from that great "All American City of Niles." I have often stated that Chicago is a suburb of Niles.

Cites U.S. free enterprise system

Dear Editor:
 Many people do not fully understand how the free enterprise system works; therefore many people do not appreciate the benefits of democracy.
 In order to fully appreciate private enterprise you must realize all the benefits it offers.
 For example, you can own your own business and you are free to speak out regarding changes in the government and make a difference through your vote. If you are living in a communistic or socialistic country your government is chosen for you and you have no say how you want to live and how you want to run the government.
 With free enterprise, you can choose your occupation and your lifestyle; however, in comparison to the other countries you have great limitations.
 The American dream of being rich and famous is a hope and a goal that is made possible through the free enterprise system. It gives us all something to strive for.
 So, next time you are grumbling about paying taxes and or the government makes some

Mandatory drug testing for high school athletes

Dear Editor:
 I am writing to express my view on a way to help solve the growing problem of drugs in today's society. I feel the problem begins at the adolescent age. I believe one way that we can fight this uphill battle is by having mandatory drug testing of high school athletes. As an athlete, I know that one must set an example for other students. If an athlete was on drugs, then who could anyone look up to? I believe that mandatory drug testing of high school athletes is a step in the right direction to stop the drug problem in America today.
 Sincerely,
 Chris McCarrell

District 207 survey questions being formulated

Specific questions for a community-wide March survey to be conducted by Opinion Research Laboratories of the University of Illinois will be determined at a meeting Feb. 16 at the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center, 1131 S. Dee Rd., Park Ridge.

Fred S. Coombs, Director of Opinion Research Laboratories, will work with board members and members of the administration to develop questions on such topics as curriculum, program policies; information sources, knowledge and participation; responsiveness or school personnel; school ratings; graduation requirements; home learning environment and aspirations; and demography.

The survey is one of the first critical steps in the development of a strategic plan for District 207 and will provide the information that will allow the district to develop a mission statement.

That mission statement will provide the foundation for District 207's strategic plan for the next three to five years, according to James L. Elliott, Superintendent.

'Do It For Your Heart' Program

Heart disease and risk factors will be the focus of a special "Do It For Your Heart" free communitywide health education program Thursday, Feb. 19 at Resurrection Hospital, 7435 W. Talcott ave., Chicago.

Cardiologist Dr. Timothy O'Connor will begin the program by discussing the signs and symptoms of a heart attack, as well as what to expect during the first 24 hours of hospitalization following a heart attack.

Dr. O'Connor will discuss the actual physical process leading to a heart attack and some of the means of reducing risks involved in heart attack.

According to 1984 statistics of the American Heart Association, 978,000 deaths were distributed to cardiovascular disease, 540,000 to coronary heart disease. Surprisingly, 19 percent of those coronary deaths were before the age of 65.

For additional information and program registration, call Resurrection Hospital's Health Promotion and Wellness department at 794-6044. Advance registration is required for the free program.

You can stop smoking in an hour and a half

You can stop smoking in an hour and a half!

Sounds impossible, but Eunice Bailey stakes her reputation on that one simple sentence. She is the administrator of Physicians Centers, 500 N. Michigan Ave. Centers, for the past four years; in the Oak Brook Professional Bldg., Oak Brook, for about two years, and in the Old Orchard Mall, Professional Bldg., since February.

When asked how many people she had helped quit smoking, her answer was, "Thousands. Yes, thousands. And, some of them tell other people who should quit smoking - every day."

Anyone who wants to quit smoking can make an appointment for any time of the day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Eunice has been known to make appointments to quit smoking earlier in the day - and even later, say 8 p.m. or even later.

"We want to help every patient," Eunice said, "whenever it's convenient for the patient. Patients range in age from 16 (with parental consent) to well over 90. Since this treatment is under the supervision of a licensed physician, the fee charged is tax deductible, and, Blue Cross, Bankers, Aetna, the Metropolitan and other health insurers have been very good at reimbursing Physicians Centers' patients.

One and a Half Hours So, you want to quit cigarette smoking, and you want to know what you get for your money for one and a half hours of help.

Briefly, you fill out an application, specifying why you want to quit; how much you smoke, and how long. This might take all of five minutes.

When you've completed the application, it is reviewed by a Diplomat of Psychology (Ph.D.) or a counselor. The third step is a waist up physical examination by a licensed physician. A waist up physical exam includes eyes, ears, nose, throat, heart, blood pressure, blood count and a chemistry profile. A spirometry test is also administered (this is a simple breathing test indicating the condition of your lungs).

You are then taught how to breathe properly, and you are committed to special breathing exercises for three weeks. Eunice claims "you can feel better the very first day...and...continue to feel better every day for the three weeks."

What kinds of smokers go to Physicians Centers for help? Eunice says, from less than half a pack a day to 5 or 6 packs. When you stop smoking: you look better, you feel better and you smell better! A smoker thinks normal is how you feel after smoking a cigarette. Normal is much better than that, and you realize that within a day after you stop smoking.

How did Eunice become interested in helping people of all ages quit smoking? The way she tells it is: "I had a good friend who died from emphysema. I started to think of reasons why people should quit cigarette smoking, and a better way to help them. Physicians Centers is the result of years of research and the input of physicians, psychologists and a biochemist.

"Several patients have told me that the only difficult part of stopping smoking with Physicians Centers was making the phone call for the appointment." The phone number is: 644-0666.

Course keeps Seniors driving 55, and alive

Whether we want to face it or not its true as the number of candles on our birthday cake increase, our abilities to hear, see and react quickly decrease.

The medications we take may further dull our reflexes. And our memory of safety rules learned long ago inevitably fades. These factors lead drivers over 55 to have more automobile accidents per mile driven than their younger counterparts, those aged 30 to 54, according to the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Older drivers across the country are not letting these facts assign them to the passenger seat. Through an older drivers course offered through the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), they are looking their limitations straight in the eye and learning how they can overcome them.

And, many of them are getting discounts on their liability insurance in the process.

The program is called "55 Alive/Mature Driving", the only defensive driving course designed specifically for the mature citizen. Anyone age 50 and over can attend the eight hour class (taught in two sessions) and emerge with a certificate from AARP and one from the office of the Secretary of State of Illinois. The certificate from the State entitles you to a discount on your liability insurance premium. The following class is scheduled: Feb. 14 and 21 (two Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.) at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton, Niles.

Other locations and dates are also scheduled in neighboring communities. For registration and information call Vel Durham, 344-4172 or write P.O. Box 272, Melrose Park 60160.

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission recently announced the 1987-88 Illinois State Scholars. Of this year's Scholars, 80 are students at Maine East. In order to enter the competition, high school students must take the ACT and/or SAT examination between January 1 and June 30 of their junior year of high school and have the scores sent to ISSC. Record Winter term at North Central Winter Term enrollment at North Central College continues the steady pattern of record-setting increases which has characterized the College's growth in the last decade.

According to figures released by the Office of the Registrar, Winter Term enrollment for 1986-87 academic year totals 2,029 students, up 12.2 percent over last year. Included in that total are 1,902 undergraduates and 127 graduate students who are enrolled in North Central's first graduate program, a master of science in computer science.

Sixty-one percent of North Central's 1,902 undergraduates attend classes full-time. The remaining 39 percent, including 376 adults enrolled in Weekend College, have registered for less than 2.5 course-credits. Only 21 of the 127 adults enrolled in the master's program in computer science are registered as full-time students.

North Central College is an independent college of the liberal arts and sciences. Founded in 1861, it is related to The United Methodist Church.

Roosevelt hosts symposium on Third World countries

Third World countries play a major role in shaping the modern world, yet many historians say most Americans are unaware of contributions these nations make to foreign policy.

Persons interested in learning about these diverse populations may attend the Feb. 20-21 "Third World View of Cultures" symposium hosted by Roosevelt University, 430 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago. Admission is free.

The keynote speaker, William H. McNeill, is a professor of history at the University of Chicago and a past president of the American Historical Association.

Guest panelists will include noted scientists, historians, economists, sociologists and anthropologists from seven major Midwestern universities. They will explore the role of Americans in Third World development.

McNeill's presentation is scheduled Friday at 7 p.m. Panel discussions the following day will be on culture and religion at 9 a.m.; economics at 10:30 a.m.; family, society and demography at 1:30 p.m.; and politics at 3 p.m. A lunch break is planned from noon until 1:30 p.m.

Oakton sets annual College and Career Fair

When considering your future, consider Oakton Community College—for all the right reasons.

Learn about Oakton's courses, low tuition cost, career possibilities for two-year college graduates, explore Oakton's honors program meet with other college representatives, and see Oakton's beautiful campus and modern facility at the 10th annual College and Career Fair from 6 to 9 p.m. n Tuesday, Feb. 17 at the Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf Rd.

"This is one opportunity for the community to come and see what the college has to offer," said Pat Handzel, director of College Relations and chairperson of the Fair. "The unique feature of the Fair is the convenience it presents to see not only what we have but also what other colleges and universities have to showcase."

Representatives from more than 100 colleges and universities around the nation will gather under one roof to discuss transfer programs, entrance requirements, and financial aid.

"Both Oakton students and high school students can benefit from this event," explained Handzel. "Our students who plan to attend a university can learn how Oakton courses transfer to other colleges while the high school students get a chance to 'shop' for a college. And most importantly, they can do it all without leaving their own community."

Participants can see careers in action as they visit Oakton's laboratory areas including com-

Free 'Citizen Safety' Seminar

Chicago's Northwest Real Estate Board will host a special "Citizens Against Crime" evening seminar on Monday, Feb. 16th. This free two-hour class is intended to inform the public regarding personal awareness measures and how to be more attentive to one's own safety in parking lots, shopping malls, inside or out of the home, or in public places.

The safety and defense

puters, automotive, nursing, physical therapy, radiography, and office systems.

Oakton's vocational and technology counselors will assist adults who are undecided about a career, or considering a career change.

"The options they have at Oakton are numerous and this is an excellent opportunity to explore them," Handzel said.

The evening will be flavored with entertainment and food, compliments of Oakton students. The graduating students of the Hotel-Motel Management Program will bring text book theories to life as they create a 'hotel' with food and entertainment.

"It really is something to see and experience," said Handzel. "Students get a taste of the real business, and it has been the highlight of the Fair for the past years."

In addition, visitors will be amused by music provided by Oakton music ensembles. Other programs of the Fair will include property evaluation by the students of the Real Estate Program, and health reviews by the Allied Health Program.

Considered the major community event of the year, the Fair has drawn large crowds over the past years.

"We had over 5000 visitors last year," said Handzel. "We want everyone to participate in the Fair this year because this is for the community and its residents."

For information on the Career and College Fair, call 635-1672.

Good Citizen Award winner

Maine East's 1987 recipient of the Good Citizen Award, presented by the Twenty-first chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Park Ridge, is senior Gary Heinz of Niles.

Gary is a well-rounded person both in academics and extra-curricular activities. He is an Illinois State Scholar, has been on honor roll all four years, and has been presented many awards, including a national leadership award, The National Speech and Drama Award, and the George Norek Award, an award given to an outstanding industrial education student.

In extra-curricular activities Gary has been very active in almost all aspects of fine arts. He has been involved in WMTH-TV since freshman year and started into theatre his sophomore year. He is a member of the National Forensic League and vice-president of Theatians. He was the student director of "Annie Get Your Gun" and the 1986 V-Show "Variety on Board." He has also been one of the voices heard every morning on the P.A. since his junior year.

Gary wants to go to the University of Wisconsin at Madison and major in communications, focusing on broadcasting.

"When I first heard about the award, it felt tremendous," said Gary. "It's a really great honor that I still find hard to believe I won."

The Good Citizen Award is given every year to one senior voted on by the class. The top three nominations are then sent to the faculty who vote for one student. The recipient is selected on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

On Dean's list

The following students have been named to the Dean's List at Valparaiso University for the Fall Semester of 1986. Included were: Christine Fellner, Des Plaines; Michelle Pinsky, Des Plaines; Jeffrey Underwood, Des Plaines; and Janet Hallman, Morton Grove.

Combing the Constitution for quiz questions are Maine West Social Science Chairman Eric Edstrom (l) and Maine East Social Science Chairman David Renz. The two educators are co-chairmen of the contest committee of the Maine Township Commission to Commemorate the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution. They are designing three imaginative quizzes to be administered to elementary, junior high and high school students in Maine Township. The Commission is planning a number of other events to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Constitution including a Bicentennial Ball and a colonial fair.

Pullen bill seeks to ban smoking in schools

Assistant House Minority Leader Penny Pullen (R-Park Ridge) has introduced a measure in the Illinois House which would require local school boards to ban the use of tobacco in school buildings or on school property.

"This bill is significant because it bans smoking not just for students, but for teachers, administrators and other adults," Rep. Pullen said. "By prohibiting the adults from smoking, our schools will be setting the right example for students. This is especially important since teachers and principals are such important role models for our children."

"I know many teachers are very supportive of a measure to ban smoking in schools. In fact, the idea was presented to me by a teacher," Rep. Pullen said. "Since I've introduced the measure, the response has been very positive - especially from the teachers."

"Though some schools already prohibit student smoking, I think it's very important that we put an end to tobacco use for everyone - in all the schools," Rep. Pullen said. "If we allowed only adults to smoke, it would be more difficult to enforce restrictions on students."

Currently, Illinois is one of only eight states without any statewide restrictions on smoking in public places. Many states limit smoking in hospitals and clinics, buses and trains, elevators, auditoriums, stores, courts and jury rooms.

Illinois law currently prohibits the sale of tobacco products to persons younger than 18. Rep. Pullen's legislation would require schools to conform to the intent of this law by not allowing students

OLR Grandparents Day

Amanda Collins (far right) measures water in a bucket, while proud grandparents, Phyllis and William Romanik, look on during Grandparents Day held last week for pre-schoolers and kindergarten children at Our Lady of Ransom School. The event was held in conjunction with Catholic Schools Week, which also featured a science fair and open house.

The Storylady Spins Tales at Nelson School

Who is a busy local actress, soon to open in "Getting Out" at the Raven Theatre in Chicago? Who is an Elk Grove housewife and mother of six children? And, who, in her spare time, reads books to area school children 4 to 5 days per week? Esther McCormick, a "storylady extraordinaire"-that's who!

The Nelson School PTA had the privilege of sponsoring Esther McCormick and her program, entitled, "Books, Books, Books," on Thursday, January 22nd, much to the delight of the Nelson student body. Mrs. McCormick completely captivated the Nelson School student audience with her renditions of several books she had chosen to present to them. To say that Esther McCormick "reads books" is to say that Picasso just "paints pictures"-hardly an accurate accounting.

Mrs. McCormick does read many parts of her selections, but also paraphrases and "acts out" many other parts of the books she chooses. She adapts different voices to suit the characters in the books; she raises and lowers the volume of her speech to better hold the audience's attention.

It is almost unbelievable how quiet a roomful of some 50 students can be; the softer she spoke, the quieter the room got. Equally unbelievable, in this generation of talking toys, computers, and videos, is that a mere book could elicit a singular, unified "gasps" of incredulity from a 3rd grade class when they learned that John Midas had turned his mother into a chocolate statue when he kissed her on the cheek, in "The Chocolate Touch".

Mrs. McCormick has been reading stories aloud for almost 20 years and truly appears to enjoy her "art"-as do the recipients of it. She was "volunteered" by one of her own children when they were in school to come and read to fellow classmates-and she's just never stopped. Hopefully, she never will!

Nelson School is one of five schools in East Maine School District 63 and is located at 8901 N. Ozanam Ave., Niles, IL.

Student Steering Committee

A. David Atkinson, son of David and Mary Jo Atkinson of 6705 Sauganash, Lincolnwood, was selected to the Student Steering Committee of the Lake Forest College Interfaith Center.

Atkinson, a junior, will direct the on-campus Sunday Services. He is a 1984 graduate of Loyola Academy and transferred to Lake Forest College from Loyola University in Chicago.

icipated. These two bond issues were monies the village obtained to help first time home buyers when interest rates were much higher.

The matter of the special use permit for Ely's Carpentry to construct a 4 unit multi-family development at 617 Lincoln Ave. was discussed by the board. This item had been tabled at the last meeting for further study and was passed after Plan Commission Chairman Leonard Bloomfield assured the trustees all objections had been resolved.

Village Administrator Larry Arft asked for and was granted permission to authorize the Liquor Control Commissioner to contract with the Illinois Department of State Police for applicant background and fingerprint checks. This is mandated by the state but the local liquor commissions must pay the fees. These checks will apply to first-time applicants only.

Community Development Chairman Charles Schreck received authorization for funding a rehabilitation project from Cook County. The amount of $16,500 will be used for tuckpointing, a new roof, patching gutters, a new furnace, insulation and plumbing repairs.

Trustee Don Snider in a Community Development report, announced bids would be forthcoming on local street repairs for 1987, and arrangements were being finalized with the county for the resurfacing of Sherman between Dempster and Harlem. There is still a need for volunteers for the Community Relations Committee. Contact Mr. Schreck if interested.

In other business, Trustee Henry Szaechowicz read a letter indicating his purchase of a parcel of land which he eventually plans to develop. The object of the letter was to say if there is need for a vote on a special permit for rezoning, he would, of course, abstain from voting and he expects no kind of preferential treatment by any committee that would be involved with the development.

Budget meetings are still going on with department presentations scheduled for Wed., Feb. 11. The meeting was recessed into executive session to begin a preliminary discussion of firefighter negotiations.

Supervisor Paul Halverson, the board is considering acquiring Ballard by transfer of deed or purchase at $1.

Halverson said the building could be used to house the township's MaineStay Youth Services program, whose lease is expiring in spring.

He explained the township board is considering a three-year lease for MaineStay's present facility in Park Ridge. "Renewal of this lease, along with utilities, would cost the township in the neighborhood of $80,000 over the three-year period," he said, adding notification to renew the lease is Feb. 20.

He noted Ballard School could provide a feasible and cost-effective alternative and the rent from the three remaining tenants would help defray the cost of building maintenance. "District 63 may be willing to negotiate a transfer of deed to Maine Township with no monetary compensation," he said.

The Township Board was expected to hold a meeting early Tuesday evening (Feb. 10) to discuss the matter. If the board agrees to consider acquisition of the school building, the meeting will be suspended so that members can attend the District 63 board meeting being held the same evening.

Niles Trustee Angelo Marcheschi, who heads a committee to evaluate whether the building suits village needs, said he and Mayor Nicholas Blase toured Ballard last week. "We looked at the general condition and layout of the building, as well as room sizes in line with the feasibility study," he said.

Marcheschi explained the next step is to talk with village engineers regarding necessary repairs to the building. "The school district operates under a different code (Life Safety Code mandated by the state) than the village, in which the building must comply with Niles building and fire codes."

He added school district officials have informed the village that Ballard is available for the $1 purchase price. "After all the information is gathered, including the costs for repair and upkeep, the committee will make a recommendation to the village board at the Feb. 28 meeting," Marcheschi said.

Jim Bowen, business manager for District 63, confirmed Monday the Montessori School and Maine Township officials are also interested in Ballard. "The offers will be discussed with the building and grounds committee and the board. Hopefully, a final decision will be made in the near future."

According to Dan Macken, the library's chief of operations, the children's books will be uncrated and reclassified (via computer) to the main library's book collection.

Of the 30,000 volumes at the branch, between 8,000 and 10,000 volumes and magazines went on sale. Those that were not sold were given away free to patrons prior to the branch closing. MG Legion gifts local children

Under direction of Ms. Christine Hildebrandt, chairman of the Children's Youth Committee of the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134, almost 30 youngsters were visited at the holiday time with a special gift from the local Legion. Chris' committee who assisted were past commanders Don Huber and Mel Baity and Dan Scanlon.

"We appreciate the community support and concern for our students traditionally shown by Lions Clubs of Illinois," Suter said, adding it was a "hoax" closing the branch library. "I feel I must run for a seat so that we will have a voice in that taxing body. Unincorporated area residents, or 40 percent of the population pay taxes to the library district, but do not get adequate services," he said, adding it is "taxation without representation."

If elected, Surrano said he will look at every issue with a realistic dollars and cents approach for the "good of the library. I feel my business background will be an asset to the board," he said.

Representatives from the Morton Grove Lions Club were honored at the Illinois Visually Handicapped Institute (IVHA) Chicago's near West Side for the club's $2,000 gift for the purchase of computer equipment.

Department of Rehabilitation Services Director Susan S. Suter and IVHA Superintendent Alvin Roberts presented Morton Grove Lions Club members with an engraved bronze plaque recognizing the club for its support of local programs for people with visual impairments.

Among those representing the Morton Grove civic group were Robert Connelly, 1986 club president; John Greener, 1987 club president; Art Loutsch, a club founder and one of its oldest members; and Edward Wilander. The Morton Grove Lions Club also contributed $200 to IVHA, making the total donation $2,200.

A recently published book, His Way, an unauthorized biography of Frank Sinatra, by Kitty Kelley, lends more accuracy to that brief Villa Venice period in 1962. Kelley reports the niteclub owner Sinatra and his friends were "helping" was listed as Leo Olsen, "who was the niteclub's owner of record". But Kelley contends Olsen was just a front for hoodlum Sam Giancana. She writes a contingent of gangsters flew in from Wisconsin and Florida for Sinatra's opening and ringside tables included all the Mafia lieutenants from Chicago. She said Giancana had an apartment atop the Villa Venice.

When fire attacks friends and neighbors in homes not too dissimilar from your own, you realize everyone is vulnerable to such a disaster. Smoke detectors are an absolute "must" in everyone's living quarters. And be sure you have at least one detector on each floor of your home, including the basement.

The Board voted to maintain the basic schedule and curriculum at Gemini during the next school year with the addition of one extra week of computer time to be incorporated in the Fine and Practical Arts rotation.

As of May 1, the Board will have a vacancy due to the resignation of Melvyn F. Cohen who is moving out of the area. Procedures to fill this vacancy which expires with the November, 1987 election will be discussed at the March 10 meeting.

The disposition of the Ballard School property was also discussed. Paul Halverson, Maine Township Supervisor, addressed the Board of Education concerning acquisition of the Ballard site as mandated by a recent unanimous vote of the Maine Township Board of Trustees.

Mr. Halverson presented the Board of Education with a letter informing District 63 of the Township's strong desire to use the Ballard site to accommodate the needs of the taxpayers of this area through its counseling and community education programs for youth and families, most notably its MaineStay Youth Services Department.

Since acquisition of the Ballard property is also sought by one other governing body, the final consensus of the Board was to open the door to bids from any source, governmental or non-governmental.

In other business, the school year calendar for 1987-1988 was approved. After some revisions, a motion was passed to adopt a schedule which would begin August 28 and run through June 24.

Kindergarten students will be able to receive credit for a minimum of ten minutes per day; while first and

Each week, PTA volunteers will total the time spent reading by each classroom. "Scoops" of ice cream representing the minutes spent will be piled on "cones" displayed for each room. At the end of the eight week program ice cream treats will be presented to classroom from each grade with the most read-aloud minutes.
