gets nod for drive-thru

by Sylvia Dalrymple

A request by Irving's For Red Hot Lovers for special use to construct a drive-thru facility at 7657 Dempster St. was approved Monday by the Niles Zoning Board.

Petitioner Julian Rosen submitted a revised parking plan linked to a 20 percent variance requested by the board last month which cleared the way for the proposed drive-thru.

Irving Greenspan, a partner of the hot dog restaurant, submitted a new parking plan providing 35 parking spaces to accommodate the 63-seating capacity in the restaurant in line with the village code.

Greenspan said about eight

Niles projecting possible building on village lot

Niles is considering ways to utilize property purchased last fall at the northeast corner of Touhy and Milwaukee and will have the help of various department heads to arrive at a decision.

According to Angelo Marcheschi, village trustee, there is general agreement a building could be constructed on the 70,000 square foot site. "It could have functional uses for village departments that need additional office space," he said. "We have asked all department heads to submit information on what their needs

Village seeks school property plus adjoining vacant lot

Niles makes offer for Ballard

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The Village of Niles could be the new owner of Ballard School if School District 63 accepts the $1 offer for the building, plus $160,000 for a parcel of land north of the property.

According to Village Trustee Angelo Marcheschi, the offer was made late last week in a telephone call to District 63 officials. Mayor Nicholas Blase also confirmed the offer by letter, he said.

"It is a package deal that includes purchase of the 200 foot by 240 foot lot in back of Ballard. They (school officials) wanted that included in negotiations for the school," Marcheschi said. The vacant lot housed mobile classrooms in the late 1960's.

If the village becomes the new property owner, plans are to make necessary repairs to

by Bud Besser

It's amazing how much goes on in a couple of week's time. You really shouldn't leave home without...the local newspaper.

During our two weeks absence our old friend, Niles Public Works Director Keith Peck had a quintuple heart bypass, spent about nine days in the hospital, is now home and already walking outside. He told us Monday he feels better today than he has felt for the many previous months. Interestingly, he said what he thought was a muscle problem in his left shoulder has disappeared since undergoing the surgery. I don't know how it'll affect his square/round dancing but fellow-golfers should be wary of the 1987 version of the "Terror of Tam".

While we were away the Village of Niles seemed to be the only serious bidder for the Ballard school and its surrounding property. It would make a welcome addition to the village's property holdings. The village presently owns the property on the northeast corner of Touhy and Milwaukee which also may be developed for village office facilities.

The Ballard school could have multiple uses. It could give the expanding Family

Niles police social work team cut by village

Niles 15-year-old police-social worker team program (PST) will be absorbed into the Department of Family Services on May 1 in budget-cutting efforts by village officials.

The PST operations are now based at the Niles Police Department and will be transferred to the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton where the social service agency is located.

Jim Cousins, who is the social worker half of the PST team, said he received a letter from Village Manager Jack Hodge stating his position was being eliminated on May 1, along with his services.

"I was really surprised because we have been providing good services, and the concept was a viable one," he said. "The program is an effective early intervention service provided to the

Keith Peck on road to recovery

Keith Peck, Niles director of public services, is convalescing at home after a five-coronary artery bypass at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston.

Peck entered the hospital on Feb. 20 for the operation and was released last Saturday, Feb. 28, according to Bob Kahler, superintendent of engineering.

"He's doing just fine. He told me on the phone he is ready to come back to work," Kahler said. He added that Peck is expected to remain home for six to eight weeks.

MG resident gets novel published

A Morton Grove resident, Joseph P. DeSario, recently accomplished the feat of having his first book "Limbo" published. DeSario told the Bugle, "It's been almost a year since Doubleday offered me a contract on Limbo and much, much longer since the project was started. In late 1980, I resigned from Motorola Inc. in Schaumburg where I was employed as a Product Marketing Manager. I had decided to finally pursue my dream of becoming a writer. After six months or so, I had produced a screenplay entitled Limbo and absolutely no income. At that point, I started my own marketing company, DeSario Enterprises, Ltd. Fortunately, the company was (and is) successful and has provided me with the income and lifestyle necessary to continue with my writing."

Joseph P. DeSario
"After the screenplay version of Limbo floundered (I had no idea as to how to get it produced). I decided to try my hand at turning it into a novel. By December of 1984, I had produced the first draft, which then, quite literally, "sat on the shelf" for eleven months before I realized that I needed an agent. The second agent to which the manuscript was submitted (and the first to have actually read it) signed me. Three months later, after a number of rejections (many of them editorial board level), Doubleday offered a contract to publish Limbo in hard cover. There followed a three-month rewrite and the usual nine-month publishing cycle.

"The first review of Limbo was in Publisher's Weekly which also featured the book in its 'Focus' section. Since the PW review was printed, quite a few movie producers have contacted my agent regarding film rights. Hopefully, Limbo will make the full circuit back to being a film project.

"A second novel is in progress." DeSario has lived in Morton Grove since 1974. Before that, he resided in Glenview since 1960. He attended St. Isaac Jogues Grammar School and Notre Dame High School (both in Niles). He's married and has three children.

Limbo is currently in stock at Kroch's and Bretano's at Old Orchard and Randhurst. B. Dalton and Waldenbooks and Crown outlets are expecting their copies shortly.

Apparent suicide victim killed by train

A 72-year-old man was killed at a railroad crossing at Touhy and Lehigh when he crossed the tracks in front of an approaching train last Friday at about 1:30 p.m.

According to a spokesman from the Niles Police Department, three employees in the engine of the train saw Kurt Schieren, 72, of Lincolnwood start across the tracks despite the closed gates and warning bells. He then turned his back to the train (traveling northbound on the east track), which was unable to stop to avoid striking the victim. According to witnesses, the victim's actions appeared intentional.

Niles police found the victim on the sidewalk north of Touhy with no signs of life. Paramedics transported Schieren to Lutheran General Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

In a police interview with the victim's wife, she stated he had been depressed lately because of health problems.

Candidates cite need for good staff and services

Library candidates express positions at HALT meeting

Four candidates, running for two open seats on the Niles Library Board in the April 7 election, expressed their views at a Candidate's Night held in the Maine Township hall last week.

The event was sponsored by a group called Hold the Library Together (HALT) which protested the closing of the branch library. The meeting, attended by 15 persons was moderated by HALT president Jerry Kantrovich.

Walter P. Chmielewski, a self employed printing broker, who was appointed to the board to replace Frank Biga, said he is a candidate because the board needs to take a hard look at the budget. "More staffing is needed and there is just so much money."

The Niles resident noted money is drying up in the library district. "I would be active in trying to bring improvements in the district, but working within the budget to provide good services," he said, adding "there may be a need for another referendum in the future."

Paul Warnick of Niles, an optometrist who owns a Pear Vision Center in Palatine, noted the Niles library district is the second largest in the state, but is an ineffective one. "I would like to look at the budget and the system to determine ways to turn the library into the best system in the area," he said.

He went on to say very little service has been provided for senior citizens. "It could be feasible to have a bookmobile stop at senior housing, as well as a library room set up at the Trident Senior Center," he said. "We could also serve children's needs by setting branch libraries in local schools."

A 10-year resident of the village, Warnick has been president and a trustee for the Golf Mill Homeowners Assn.

Candidate Robert Quattrocchi, 26, a 25-year resident of Niles, owns B. Quad Vending Inc. He has a bachelor degree in marketing from the University of Arizona, Tucson.

"I think the library could use my services because of my business background," he said, adding if elected, he would increase staff and salaries. "The low salaries are ridiculous."

He said the library can be improved.

Heinen lends 'helping hand' to handicapped

"Handicapped" means different things to different people. It applies to anyone who has a special need, whether that need be physical, mental, learning disability, behavior disorders, hearing and visual impairments, and emotional disturbances. Whatever the need all are welcomed and helped here in Niles. Niles is fortunate to be the home of M-NASR, Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation.

When you are referring to special education and recreation in Niles, there is one person who shines in her effort, time, and devotion. Whatever her other activities, Elaine Heinen is always looking for new and innovative ways to assist the M-NASR programs. Just this past year, for example, she has, with the help of the Niles Events Committee, arranged for handicapped individuals and their families to enjoy the excitement of the carnival, free of charge, before its official opening.

This past October, Elaine Heinen could be found standing on the corners of Niles collecting for the Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll Drive. All monies collected benefit handicapped children. Elaine's efforts were donated to M-NASR. Mrs. Heinen is also an active member of the Advisory Board for Special Olympics. She recently received a plaque from the State of Illinois in recognition of her outstanding efforts in fund raising for the Special Olympics.

'Heartsong' to perform at Immanuel benefit

Positive, spirited pop music is the genre of professional musicians Gail and Ed Tossing. Persons who attended the Glenview Fourth of July entertainment at the Glenview Golf Course in 1984 heard a rousing rendition of their composition, "Open Your Heart, America," which was recognized at the 1985 National Speakers Association annual meeting in Washington, D.C. and is the theme song for the National Youth Congress for a Positive Future.

Glenview residents, the Tossings are known as "Heartsong" when performing their upbeat, inspirational tunes.

The couple presented their music to delegates at the 12th International Human Unity Conference in Hawaii and California. Locally, Heartsong has performed with the North Shore Concert Band and participated in peace awareness events.

Girl Scout troops from 11 surrounding service units of the north division are joining together at the shopping center located at Harlem ave., Irving Park, and Forest Preserve dr., to share some of their scouting ideas, skills, and projects.

"Salmagundi", meaning any mixture or medley, represents the many scouting exhibits that the girls will present. This event will include displays on camp skills, community service projects, animal welfare and ecology, drug awareness, world friendships, personal safety, seasonal crafts, and uniforms of the past. Girl Scout cookies and calendars will also be available.

Girl Scout troops from the following areas will be present: Harwood Heights, Shabbona Park, Norridge, Portage Park, Norwood-Edison Park, Belmont-Central, Riis Park, 6 Corners, Jefferson Park, Hiawatha Park, and Independence Park.

"This year marks the diamond anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the USA and we are happy to be able to celebrate this landmark at Harlem Irving Plaza!" Commented Pat Wallenge, Girl Scout Service unit-40 co-ordinator and "Salmagundi" project leader. ## 'Little World', a haven for miniaturists

Caroline Vetromila, a Hoffman Estates woman who designs and makes miniature items of all sorts, has a shop to display and sell her tiny wares in Niles. She formerly operated her business from her home studio, but is now open for business at 7940 Oakton St. in Niles. Her shop is called "My Own Little World."

There are thousands of pretty and ingeniously contrived miniature novelties in the shop. "I get a lot of people in here just to browse. Some of the children want to learn how to make little things themselves, so I'm glad to give them advice from my experience," said Caroline.

Mrs. Vetromila has learned how to press odds and ends of material into the production of charming tiny models. Hers is a very specialized inspiration and she has a remarkable eye for detail. A visit to her "little world" is a fun way to spend an afternoon.

To Jim and Caroline Vetromila, the best things really do come in small packages.

The Vetromilas create and sell their own cakes, ornaments and cigar boxes - all measuring in scale exactly to one-twelfth life size.

"You've heard of hobbies turning into businesses, well that's what it was." Now 12 years later you can visit "My Own Little World," a store for miniature enthusiasts to enjoy.

What's Cooking at The Bugle Pantry

Crispy Chicken, Tender Biscuits Bake Together In Single Pan

If you like the flavor of crispy fried chicken but don't like the mess of making it, try Country Chicken and Biscuits. This hearty family dinner combines corn flake-coated chicken with tender biscuits—all in one pan. The chicken bakes for 40 to 50 minutes before you slide it over in the pan and add the refrigerated biscuits. As the biscuits bake, some of the flavor from the savory chicken coating soaks in, making them even tastier.

COUNTRY CHICKEN AND BISCUITS

- 1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1/4 teaspoon salt, if desired
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 1/2 to 3 lb. frying chicken, cut up
- 1 1/2 cups crushed corn flakes
- 7.5-oz. can Pillsbury Refrigerated Biscuits

Heat oven to 400°F. In shallow bowl, combine margarine, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Dip chicken pieces in margarine mixture, roll in corn flakes. Place chicken, skin side up, in ungreased 13x9-inch baking dish or pan. Bake at 400°F. for 40 to 50 minutes or until chicken is tender.

Remove from oven; drain. Move chicken pieces to one side of baking dish. Separate biscuit dough into 10 biscuits. Place in baking dish next to chicken. Return to oven and bake an additional 13 to 17 minutes or until biscuits are golden brown. 4 to 5 servings.

MAKING CHICKEN EVEN BETTER

- Curry Glazed Chicken
  - 2 tablespoons Promise, melted
  - 1/4 cup sugar-free peach preserves
  - 3 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
  - 1 tablespoon curry powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
  - 1 chicken, (3 to 4 pounds) quartered, skin removed
  - 3 tablespoons finely chopped dry roasted, unsalted peanuts
- In small bowl combine

Promise, preserves, mustard, curry and ginger. In shallow baking dish, arrange chicken in a single layer. Pour Promise mixture over chicken. Bake, uncovered, in a preheated 350°F. oven 20 minutes. Turn chicken, brush with glaze, bake 10 minutes. Sprinkle with peanuts. Bake 15 minutes longer or until chicken is done. Yield: 4 servings. Approximately 380 calories, 19 grams fat, 516 milligrams sodium and 126 milligrams cholesterol per serving.

Girl Scout leadership handled by capable women

Meet Carol Pichla, Brownie Girl Scout Leader of Troop 559, meeting at Stevenson School. In Scouting, girls are necessary, but leadership is essential. Carol is one of a large group of mothers, single career women and grandmothers who give their time so girls can satisfy their natural curiosity, explore the world around them, develop and expand talents. This growing up is helped by inspired and dedicated leaders.

Carol is a good example of Girl Scout leadership, a grown-up who always wanted to become a Girl Scout but never had the opportunity. So, when her daughter entered the first grade, Carol knew what she would do, join the Girl Scouts. She called the Elk Grove Village office and volunteered.

Carol has 17 girls in her troop and there isn't a moment of routine meetings. "Dress for Success" seminar Business and office professionals can learn to look their best at work in a seminar/fashion show from 1 to 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 11, at Oakton Community College, 1600 E. Golf Road, Des Plaines. Dana Pappas of Dress Barn in Evanston will teach participants how to mix and match to create more outfits from a few basic pieces of clothing. Oakton students in the Office Systems Technology program will serve as models. Admission is free. For information, call Kitty Tabers, 635-1969.

SV Secretaries meet The Skokie Valley Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will hold their monthly meeting Monday, March 9, at the Studio Restaurant, 8717 Lincoln Avenue, Morton Grove, Ext. 300. Reception will begin at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Res sponsors arts and crafts Hundreds of homemade crafts including special Easter and spring baskets and arrangements will be featured at the second annual Spring Into Summer Arts and Crafts Fair Friday, April 3 at Resurrection Hospital, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago.

NAWIC meeting Ann Abernathy, Architect, associated with the Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio Foundation, Oak Park, Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the March 17, meeting of the O'Hare Suburban Chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC). Her topic focuses on Frank Lloyd Wright's "Restoration of Homes". The meeting will be held at the Navarone Restaurant, 1950 Higgins Road, Elk Grove Village. Social hour is at 5:45 p.m. with dinner at 6:45, followed by the program. Reservations for dinner at $8.50 may be made with Val Galenicks of Arcadia Products at 272-3332.

Since the Stevenson School PTA is the troop sponsor, the girls do the flag ceremony for their special events and bake cookies for the PTA Blood Drive. The Troop visited Ballard Nursing Home at Thanksgiving and had dinner with the residents. At Christmas, the girls helped the residents make their dining room table holiday centerpieces and caroled for them.

With the money the troop earned selling cookies, there will be a roller skating party in March. The Troop also participated with other Illinois Prairie Council Scouts in Expo '87 at the Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan, Feb. 21. There were displays and a cheerleading contest and patches and ribbons for the participants. They are all eagerly waiting for the Promise Circle March 12, 4 p.m. at Golf Mill and the Metro Chicago "Girl Scouts on Parade", April 25, down Michigan Avenue. The troop is looking forward to Girl Scout day at Brookfield Zoo and the Grand Finale 75th Anniversary Event on May 30 and 31 at Lake County Fairgrounds.

Carol is a homemaker, a book-keeper by profession and admits that Scout leadership is "hard work, but can be done. And who would want to miss all the fun. Besides, we do not work alone. I have great co-leaders in Bonnie Curtin and Linda Bruns. And our Cadette Assistant is Susan Dekowitz."

Bonnie Curtin with her husband, Frank, are the new Niles Service Unit Chairman, guiding and encouraging Carol and other leaders in Niles. Those other Niles leaders that should be acknowledged, too, for their dedication and excellence are from St. John Brebeuf, Judy Brieske, Nancy Pawlowski, Pat Sheehan, Eveline Gruse, Carole Kasper, Gail Wagner, Mauro Lo Verde, Dorothy Schweigert, Pat Alexander and Sue Docezkalski. At Niles Elementary, South, there is Linda and Sharon Smith. Stevenson School also has Junior Troop led by Susan and Matilda Yates and Sue Fougereuse. A new leader at Mark Twain School is Jan Kelly. Senior Troop leaders are Ruth Bernhardt, Sis Pescatore and Linda Smith. The Cadette troop leader is Judie Biancalana.

The community salutes Carol and Bonnie and Linda and Susan and the many others, but knows there are still more girls at Stevenson School who want to be Brownies. There are more girls in every neighborhood who want to be Girl Scouts. Call the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council at 640-0500.

TALISMAN OF SAILORS
 Along the coast of the Northern Pacific, sea lions bask on rocks jutting out of the ocean, sleeping in on a warm summer morning. Off the shores of Hawaii, a green-blue cleaner wrasse swims toward a school of yellow tang. On the east coast, near Plymouth Rock, a group of tourists look out toward the sea. The power of the seas is gentle this morning, settling into tranquility.

The blue-green of the tranquil ocean is the color of the aquamarine. Considered a talisman by sailors, aquamarine carries the gentled power of the oceans. Set with diamonds it takes on the intensity of a crisp icy morning of polar waters; set in gold it carries the warmth of the plump equatorial sun. Aquamarine is well suited to interesting design possibilities because it is available in fine quality in large sizes.

A new way of cutting colored gems, called the "fantasy cut" has been employed by notable designers to make very special creations. An aquamarine may be faceted and polished on top in ways you've appreciated before. The change is under the surface, like currents in the ocean. The cutter cuts into the stone from behind, allowing light to refract in surprising ways. Sometimes selected for the centerstone of a pendant necklace, the fantasy cut is an exciting new possibility for aquamarine.

Hynes supports increased pay for election judges

Mayoral candidate Thomas C. Hynes has announced support for a proposal to increase pay for election judges from $45 to $75 for the work they do on election days. However, Hynes said, election-day work is long—with polls opening at 6 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m., and judges showing up an hour before and staying at least an hour after. "The current base stipend of $45 works out to $3 per hour—less than the minimum wage—for a 15-hour day," said Hynes.

supporting a resolution by Cook County Commissioner Carl R. Hansen to ask the state Legislature to pass legislation making funding available for the increase.

"The judges do not expect to be fully compensated for the monetary value of their efforts, but we must increase the payment to better state the importance of the work they do for us," said Hynes, who is assessor of Cook County.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Incredibly, a basketball team once scored only one point in an entire game—and yet won the game. . . It happened in the lowest-scoring basketball game of all-time, played March 7, 1950 when Georgetown High of Illinois beat Homer High, 1-0. . . The only scoring in the game was one foul shot by Georgetown. . . That's hard to believe, but it's true.

One of the most unusual records in baseball history was set by outfielder John Paciorek. . . He was called up to Houston for the last game of the 1963 season and played in only one major league game in his life—but in that one game he came to bat 5 times and they couldn't get him out. . . He made 3 hits and walked twice in 5 at bats. . . Paciorek then suffered a back injury and never played again—but he stands in the record book as finishing his major league career with a perfect one-thousand batting average!

Amazingly, NO team in the National Basketball Association has been able to win the championship of the NBA 2 seasons in a row ANYTIME in the last 18 YEARS. . . The last time a team won the NBA title 2 straight years was when Boston did it back in 1968 and 1969.

. . . If you mention this ad after your deal is consummated (but before delivery) Jennings Chevrolet will deduct $50 from the purchase price of your new or used car. One deduction per customer. One deduction per transaction.

Oakton Baseball looks to new season

The Oakton Community College Baseball Team will enter the 1987 season with the challenge of retaining its top position at the Skyway Conference. Head Coach Rich Symonds guided the Raiders to the Skyway Conference Championship and a third place finish in the NJCAA Region IV in 1986.

Symonds' task this season will be to shrug off the loss of three highly talented sophomores that spearheaded the Raiders last year. Catcher Mike Cullen (TCU) along with Mike Huber (ISU) and Matt LaBuda (ISU) will be missed this year. Without the big guns in the starting lineup, the Raiders appear to be in a rebuilding year. However, Symonds believes that a strong foundation has been built for the Oakton baseball program and a winning attitude has carried over to this year's squad.

Returning from last season's team are infielders Dave Federowicz, Paul Czoszek and

Several new players will be the key to the success of this year's team. Rob Hiner (Waukegan), Joe Winkler (Niles) and Mike Misocovich (Chicago) showed added strength to the outfield. Infielders Sean Johnson (Northbrook), David Melsheimer (Wilmette) and Bruce Smolen (Palatine) have been impressive on the infield.

The pitching staff will be supported by George Hickey (Antioch), Paul Dammehauer (Park Ridge) and Steve Marchi (Palatine).

"We have some holes to fill," said Symonds. "But the new players have shown excellent indications of stepping right in."

The Raiders' first game will be March 17 in Memphis as part of the week-long spring trip to Tennessee.

Pee Wees Hockey

The Niles Rangers traveled to the Glenview Ice Rink tonight to play the always tough Glenview team. Glenview opened the scoring in the first period on a nice goal by their center and the Rangers knew that they were in for a very tough game. Some very good goal tending by Eric Jesse kept the score at 1-0. Midway through the period, Tim Migon made a nice rush up ice and was stopped by the goalie, but Andy Chlopek made an alert play and hit the rebound in to tie the score at 1-1. This was Andy's first goal of the season; a well deserved goal for all his hard work. The period ended at 1-1.

The second period saw Niles begin to wear Glenview down with some nice body checks and good defense. Niles then began a string of three unanswered goals in the second period. The first goal of the period was on a rebound off another Tim Migon shot, this time Steve Bosco got the rebound and put it past goalie to make it 2-1. Next Alex Zechow made his patented rush up ice to register an unassisted goal to up the score to 3-1. Glenview was totally down now and Brett Sukenik finished the period with a nice goal to end the period with Niles leading 4-1.

The third period saw Glenview close the score to 4-2, but that was as close as they got because Niles quickly increased the score to 5-2 on Steve Bosco's second goal of the night, with an assist going to Joe Pettinato. This was Joe's first point of the season, another well deserved point for his hard work. Tim Spillman finished off Glenview with a goal late in the game with an assist going to Alex Zechow.

Niles is closing in on the playoffs and hopes to continue its winning ways all the way through the playoffs.

letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

The majority of the members of the Niles Library Board have left unanswered the many issues that have been published in the papers for the last couple of weeks. This was done not only because we believed they were unfair and blatantly untrue, but also because we hoped that, for the continuing good of the Library, perhaps if we "hit the bullet" and "considered the source," it would quiet down and we could continue with the business of running the Library. However, after the article in the Feb. 19th issue of the Spectator, titled "District 63 Bias Library," I believe these issues must be addressed along with some other issues of which some of the public may be unaware. I would like to refer to the Spectator article and answer each allegation as stated.

1. The article states that our Administrator never returned calls from School District 63. Mr. McKenzie always, and I repeat always, returns calls. During one of the phone calls, Mr. McKenzie was asked questions which pertained to matters being addressed by the library's attorney. Mr. McKenzie asked that the school administrator refer his questions to the attorney and gave him the phone number.

2. The article states that we change our decisions. Yes, we have done after long discussion and upon legal advice when necessary. That is the purpose of a Board, to discuss and make changes when necessary.

3. The article states that the branch keys were not returned. On the evening the doors were closed for the last time, the doors were immediately padlocked by the school district. Our people were able to reach the Attorney by phone during the meeting for legal advice.

Further, we left seven air conditioners which we had recently purchased for $3,000. If there had been any kind of Governmental cooperation on these things would have been adjusted accordingly. Our Attorney, in making final payment on the rent insisted upon by the School District's Attorney, has formally requested that we receive back an amount equal to the square footage from which we were barred from using. That request was made on January 16, and we have had no response from the School District or their Attorney.

In closing, may I say that our Administrator, Mr. McKenzie, has always had the best interests of the Library at heart, and I am sure that he will always have. To suggest that his goal was for the closing of the Branch as he was physically barred and prohibited from utilizing that space. The doors were locked and the Library could not and did not use the rooms, yet we were charged rent at the rate of one and a half times the regular monthly rent.

Under such circumstances the rent should have been reduced both legally and fairly from 9652 square feet to 6592 square feet to represent the actual square footage occupied by the library.

Cites need for MG street repairs

Dear Editor:

As a resident of Morton Grove I am concerned that the federal funds which could be going toward street repair in the village have yet to be allocated. The reauthorization of the Surface Transportation Act is now in Congressional Conference Committee and the president must sign the legislation before these badly needed funds can be used here for street repair purposes. The Dempster Street repair project is contingent upon the receipt of this money. Our streets must be repaired despite the inconveniences it may cause us.

I plan to let the president know that the village of Morton Grove needs these funds as soon as possible and the decision to eliminate federal revenue sharing was a bad one. I urge others to do the same.

Sincerely,
Larry Gomberg

Solution to violent crimes?

Dear Editor:

Emasculation would be a cure for many of the vicious, violent and premeditated crimes; whether the perpetrator be sane or not. Maybe the big boys who make millions illegally should be included.

Jazzercise for Mike benefit

Des Plaines resident Mike Schwass former captain of Notre Dame Hockey-team, was injured and paralyzed in a hockey accident 11 years ago and is fighting life in a wheelchair with all his might and doing a great job. But in order to keep progress going he needs more operation.

When Trudy Metz, who teaches jazzercise classes in Des Plaines heard that hockey players did a benefit for Mike, she decided to find a facility and follow in their footsteps with a "Jazzercise-Class" for Mike. A donation of $5 will offer participants an hour of goodwill, friendship, exercise and fun.

Auto Update Facts about child car seat misuse

- 43,000 children under five years old are injured each year in auto crashes.
- Child car seats, even when correctly used, are only an estimated 71 percent effective in preventing death and 67 percent effective in preventing hospitalization.
- Correctly used child car seats are partially misused (where some elements of the child car seat are not used properly but the child is somehow held in the seat and the seat is anchored in some manner to the vehicle) and 21 percent are grossly misused (where either the child is not restrained in the child car seat or the seat is not anchored to the vehicle, or a device unsuitable for use in motor vehicles is employed).
- Partially misused child car seats are only an estimated 44 percent effective in reducing fatalities and 48 percent effective in reducing hospitalizations.
- Grossly misused child car seats are estimated to be of little or no value in preventing either death or serious injury in a crash.
- Use of child car seats is mandated in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.
- Restraint use for children under 5 years old has risen from 15 percent in 1979 to 75.8 percent in 1986.
- Adults cannot hold on to a child in the event of even a relatively minor crash. The child would be torn from the adult's arms by the force of the crash whether or not the adult had been wearing a seat belt. An unrestrained adult could crush the child against the dashboard with his or her weight further contributing to the child's injuries.
- Always remember the following principles when using your child car seat to avoid misuse:
- Read and follow all of the child car seat manufacturer's instructions and warnings very carefully. Not all automobile seat belt systems and child car seats are alike. Learn to correctly use your child car seat.
- Properly fasten the child car seat very tightly to your automobile with the auto's seat belt. A locking clip or tether may be required.
- Make sure your child car seat is facing in the proper direction based on your child's height and weight.
- Tightly and properly fasten all shields, harnesses and belts.
- If you have any questions, call or write the child car seat manufacturer.

Car Care Tip for more Safety, Economy, Convenience

Clean Oil Makes a Happy Engine

Oil is the lifeblood of a car's engine. It reduces friction and wear on the engine's moving parts. In addition, it helps cool the engine and it seals the tiny gaps between the engine's internal moving parts. As the oil circulates through the engine, it collects very small pieces of dirt and metal particles to later store in the oil filter. If oil did not perform this job, harmful deposits would start to form inside the engine, blocking off the small passages the oil has to flow through to complete its full cycle.

To complete all the functions properly, the oil must be changed frequently. Some car manufacturers, in an effort to advertise their cars more maintenance-free, have extended the oil change interval to 7,500 miles or 12 months of "normal" driving. A description of "normal" driving would be trips at highway speeds only, on clean, paved roads in moderate weather. For most of us, this would cover maybe one day out of an entire year. The driving 99% of us do every day is classified as driving under "severe" conditions. These are short trips around town, stop and go traffic, driving during bitter cold and extreme heat, and other seemingly normal situations. These conditions demand a shorter oil change interval. Every 3 months or 3,000 miles is a good practice.

All engine oils are graded for how well they flow under different temperature conditions. This is known as an oil's "viscosity." At low temperatures, oil has a high viscosity. This means the oil stays thin enough during cold weather to start flowing immediately after starting the car's engine. If the oil was too thick, it would not flow fast enough to protect moving engine parts from damage. At high temperatures, the oil has a low viscosity. This means the oil doesn't get so thin that it will flow quickly past moving parts and not have enough time to lubricate them properly.

Knowing which oil to pick for your car's engine can be very confusing with all the different brands that are available in today's market. Have you ever wondered what all those ratings stamped on the top of an oil can really mean? They are actually telling you the quality of the oil you are about to purchase.

Across the top of the can you'll see the term "API service" followed by some letters, such as "SF/CC" or "SE/CD". There are many different letter combinations. The initials "API" stand for the American Petroleum Institute. The letters following this designate the performance or service level of the oil. The "S" means the oil is suitable for gasoline engines. The next letter, a scale from A to F, indicates the oil's performance level as measured in laboratory tests. With letter combinations of "CC" or "CD", the first "C" means the oil is suitable for diesel engines. As above, the second letter is a performance scale from A to D.

For gasoline engines, the SF rating is the latest and contains a complete package of additives. In cars manufactured before the SF rating was introduced, the owner's manual may recommend an earlier rating such as SE or SD. SF oils may be used and, in fact, are preferable in such cars.

In another section of the top of the can is the SAE rating, such as SAE 10W-30 or SAE 10W-40. The "SAE" stands for Society of Automotive Engineers. This is the organization that sets many of the standards for oil performance. The other part is the oil's flowing capabilities. A rating of 10W-30 or 10W-40 means the oil will flow well in cold weather because of the 10W rating (the W meaning winter). It will also flow well in warmer weather because of the 30 or 40 rating.

Some cans also contain a section that is stamped "Energy Conserving". This indicates the oil can help improve fuel economy by a fraction of a mile per gallon due to friction modifiers added to the oil.

Diesel engines require a different type of oil, one marked API CC or CD. CD is designed for more severe service than CC; check the recommendations in your owner's manual. Using an oil not designed for diesels can cause major internal engine problems. An API/SF/CC or SF/CD oil satisfies the needs of gasoline as well as diesel engines.

With today's new turbocharged engines, the turbos run at extremely high temperatures, and they're lubricated by the engine oil. This, in itself, is a very good reason to keep close tabs on your oil change intervals, due to the cost of a new turbocharger.

Again, we have to stress that 3 months or 3,000 miles is the best rule of thumb. We've heard the horror stories of dealers and service stations having to tear down engines at 20,000 to 30,000 miles due to infrequent oil changes. The cost of these repairs could have paid for 70 to 80 oil changes. Don't let yourself fall in to this category!

Entertainment Guide

Centre East to swing with "Big Band Stars"

Centre East will swing with the Big Band Gala of Stars on Friday, March 27 at 8 p.m. This special evening of entertainment features music from the 1930's, 40's 50's and 60's and star such "All-Time Greats" as Johnnie Ray, Barbara McNair, the Four Lads and the Russ Morgan Orchestra, conducted by Jack Morgan. Tickets are $17 and $19 with discounts available for seniors and groups. Centre East is located at 7701 N. Lincoln ave., in Skokie.

The Big Band Gala of Stars brings together some of the most memorable stars from the Big Band Era, recreating that timeless sound that can still set feet tapping and hearts beating. Johnnie Ray is one of the world's most beloved performers. His own composition "Cry" sold over 21 million copies, and he followed this with eight other million-selling hits. He has appeared on numerous television shows and was seen in the films "No Business Like Show Business" and "The Big Shot." Barbara McNair is a television personality, movie star, singer and nightclub entertainer—a uniquely versatile and beautiful artist.

She has starred in her own television variety series, "The Barbara McNair Show," on the daytime soap opera hit "General Hospital" and as a special guest on "The Jeffersons." Joining Mr. Ray and Ms. McNair will be the Four Lads, who have sold over 25 million singles and albums. They have played in clubs, concert halls and theaters, bringing their imaginative vocal style to audiences all over the world. The Four Lads will sing such hits as "Down by the Riverside" and "My Funny Valentine."

The Russ Morgan Orchestra made famous such hits as "Somebody Else is Taking My Place," "Does Your Heart Beat for Me" and Russ Morgan's own "You're Nobody 'Till Somebody Loves You." The tradition of "Music in the Morgan Manner," originated by Russ Morgan in 1935, is now carried on by his son, Jack, for a whole new generation to enjoy.

Tickets for the Big Band Gala of Stars at Centre East are available by calling the Centre East box office, (312) 673-6300 or Ticketmaster at (312)902-1500.

Tiff's features free corned beef & cabbage

Those joining the St. Patrick's Day festivities in Tiff's at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel can eat their fill of traditional Irish fare for little or nothing this year.

Luncheon revelry will include corned beef and cabbage, along with Irish soda bread, for $1 from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.; from 2:30 until 7 p.m., the eats are free.

Irish beers (and, for those who must, green beer!), Irish whiskeys and Irish coffees will be poured, with Irish music playing throughout the day for those interested in celebrating the "wearing of the green."

Give-aways, including a weekend for two at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, will be held.

A well known Fluky customer

Almost 85, W. Clement Stone, the prophet of positive mental attitude, shares his recipe for good taste: "I get up at 5:45 a.m., and start with bran cereal, orange juice, decaffeinated coffee, toasted bagels with apple butter and perhaps a grapefruit... I get to work around 9, try to leave by 5. I skip lunch, but occasionally I slip out for a hot dog at Fluky's."

Founded in 1929 by Abe "Fluky" Drexler as a single hot dog stand on the corner of Chicago's Maxwell and Halsted Sts., Fluky's has grown to three full-service restaurants—6821 N. Western Ave. in Chicago, 3061 Dundee Rd. in Northbrook, Ill. and the first Fluky's franchise located at 9645 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Niles.

Sutker named to judiciary post

State Representative Cal Sutker (D-Skokie) has been selected by House Speaker Michael J. Madigan to serve as vice-chair of the powerful Judiciary I Committee. Sutker was also appointed to sit on four other influential House panels dealing with higher education, child protection, human services and seniors.

attorney on all matters of civil law that come before the General Assembly." Sutker said the Judiciary Committee examines civil law issues pertaining to real estate, domestic relations, divorce proceedings and product liability. In addition, the panel governs state legal practices and procedures.

for the homeless and curb the growing incidences of child abuse and neglect. The lawmaker said student aid and greater support for state colleges and universities will be the focus of his role on the House Committee on Higher Education. The lawmaker said the Aging Committee will consider efforts this year to expand the state's Pharmaceutical Assistance Program to provide greater coverage of free prescription medicine for low-income seniors.

Applications for Legislative staff interns

College graduates who would like to earn graduate credit hours while gaining first-hand knowledge of the Illinois legislative process should consider applying for the Illinois Legislative Staff Intern Program, according to Sen. Walter W. Dudydz (R-Chicago). The senator said 20 interns are placed each fall with the various Illinois partisan legislative staffs, where they have an opportunity to work on legislation in various substantive areas. Interns serve 10 1/2 months, receive $1,200 monthly stipends and earn eight graduate credits from Sangamon State University in Springfield.

"Serving as an intern is an excellent way to learn about and participate in the lawmaking process," Dudydz said. "Interns have the opportunity to work directly with senators, representatives, General Assembly committees and state agencies. Many men and women who have started out as interns have continued as regular staff members after their internships or have found positions in various areas of state government."

Dudydz said March 1 is the deadline for applications for the internship period which will start Oct. 1 and end Aug. 15, 1988. Persons who will have bachelor's degrees prior to Sept. 1 are eligible for the fall group of interns. Information and application forms can be obtained by writing or calling Kent D. Redfield, Illinois Legislative Staff Intern Program Coordinator, Sangamon State University, Springfield, IL 62708, telephone (217) 786-6602.

Dudydz receives new appointments

State Sen. Walter Dudydz (R-Chicago) has been named the Republican Spokesman for the Senate Elections Committee. Dudydz has also been appointed to the Senate Executive Appointments and Veterans Committee and reappointed to the Appropriations I Committee. "After serving on the Elections Committee for two years, I look forward to taking this next step as its Republican Spokesman. This will be an important year for election issues," Dudydz said. "We will be watching how several key races are handled, especially in Chicago where every election seems to underscore the need to curb vote fraud and push for other reforms."

"I am pleased with my other committee assignments as well because they reflect my interests and give me the opportunity to influence the direction of issues important to the 7th District," Dudydz said. "Committee members see all bills introduced on a specific subject and play an important part in moving the legislation along or defeating it before it is voted on by the full Senate."

Kustra named spokesman for Education Committee

Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) has been named Republican spokesman for the Illinois Senate Elementary and Secondary Education Committee, which will play a leading role in formulating a new school aid formula this year. His appointment was announced by Senate Republican Leader James "Pate" Philip (Wood Dale), who said Kustra's broad experience in the education field will be invaluable in putting together a new school aid formula that is fair to all districts. "I look forward to the challenges of this assignment," Kustra said. "It is vital to continue the implementation of the education reforms adopted two years ago, and to make sure that our suburban schools receive an equitable share of state aid." The 28th District Senator also was appointed to the Senate Executive, Appropriations and Revenue Committees. Kustra, who teaches part time at the University of Illinois Circle Campus and Northwestern University, earned a B.A. in political science from St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kansas; an M.A. in public administration at Southern Illinois University; and a Ph.D. in political science at the University of Illinois. He has served in the Illinois Senate since 1983, after one term in the House of Representatives. In the last legislative session, he was Republican spokesman for the Senate Revenue Committee.

Kustra seeks moving primary date to May

Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) wants to move the Illinois primary date from March to May in order to shorten election campaigning and to give voters the advantage of better weather for election day. He has introduced SB 64 in the Illinois Senate, calling for the primary date to be moved from the third Tuesday in March to the second Tuesday in May. "I think we would see a much better election turnout in May, when we don't have to contend with ice and snow as we often do in March," Kustra said. "This would shorten election campaigning by eight weeks which should appeal both to voters and candidates."

to hold its primary," he said. With a March primary, Kustra said Illinoisans have only a year to see many of their lawmakers in action before it's time to vote again. Congressional representatives, state representatives and those state senators serving two-year terms must file their petitions to run again in December of the same year in which they take office. "They have to devote so much time to campaigning and raising campaign funds that it can be difficult to attend to their legislative responsibilities," he observed. "Kustra believes weather has a strong impact on election day turnout. "Voters, particularly our elderly citizens, are reluctant to risk driving or walking to the polls when the weather is bad, so we're not getting as many people out to vote as we should to choose candidates for public office," he said. "I think we could do much better in May."

"Breast Cancer Update II"

More than twenty medical specialists will speak at the "Breast Cancer Update II" Conference March 12, 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, Searle Conference Center. The conference is being co-sponsored by the Comprehensive Breast Cancer Support Program.

Topics to be discussed include the accuracy of mammograms, lumpectomy as an alternative to mastectomy, relationship of hormones to breast disease, choosing treatment plans, breast reconstruction, treatment side effects, special nursing needs of breast cancer patients, as well as the emotional impact of breast disease.

According to Thomas Witt, M.D., breast surgeon and conference speaker, "Twenty years ago women with breast lumps signed a consent form, went to surgery and woke up to see if they still had both breasts. Now there are several surgical and treatment options for early breast cancer, and women need to sort through a lot of information so that they can make choices they can comfortably accept."

The conference is directed to nurses, health educators, social workers, radiology technicians, and concerned laypersons. The speakers, representing a wide range of specialties are: Susan Cox, R.N., Krystyna Kiel, M.D., Sheila McNally-Hoy, R.N., Judith Paice, R.N., Albert Straus, M.D., Sam Taylor IV, M.D., Alexander Templeton, M.D., and Thomas Witt, M.D., from Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center; Jacob Bitran, M.D. and Ralph Weichselbaum, M.D., from the University of Chicago Hospitals; Richard Desser, M.D., Anne Martin, R.N., Arthur B. Michel, M.D., Talmage Raine, M.D., and Julian Ullman, M.D., from Michael Reese Hospital & Medical Center; Diane Gerber, M.D., from Ingalls Memorial, St. James and St. Joseph Hospitals; John Merrill, M.D., Northwestern Memorial Hospital; Donald Sweet, M.D., Hinsdale Private Radiologist; and Pamela DeLuca and Karen Wicklund, from Y-Me.

A special panel of breast cancer patients will discuss the psychosocial impact of the disease on their own lives as well as on their family and friends.

Application has been made to the Illinois Nurses Association for continuing education credit for the full day conference. The fee including lunch is $40. Reservations may be made by calling the Y-Me office at 312/799-8338.

Swedish Covenant Low Fat Pig Out Day

Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California, is participating in the American Cancer Society's (ACS) Great American Low Fat Pig Out Day on Thu., Mar. 12, by offering talks on the ACS cancer prevention program, "Taking Control." The program which will be given at 2, 2:30 and 3 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria will be conducted by Barbara Gaffie, MSM, RN, of the Nursing Education department. It will consist of a film, discussion and take home information. Many scientists today think most cancers may be related to lifestyle and environment—what people eat and drink, where they live and work and whether or not they smoke. The "Taking Control" program outlines five preventive steps one can take to help prevent cancer and five risk factors, including a high-fat diet, one can remove from his lifestyle to help prevent the disease. The talks are free and open to the community. Coffee and tea will be served. For further information call Barbara Gaffie 878-8200, Ext. 5496.

Parkside Osteoporosis Center

Osteoporosis is caused by thinning of the bones. Parkside Human Services Corporation operates the Parkside Osteoporosis Center offering newly developed screening procedures that can detect a change in bone density as small as three percent. The center is located at 1875 Dempster in Park Ridge, adjacent to Lutheran General Hospital. Susan Broy, M.D., director of the Parkside Osteoporosis Center, is pictured with a patient who is having the screening procedure.

In the past, the inability to recognize osteoporosis in its earliest stages was the greatest obstacle to prevention and treatment of the disease.

For more information or to schedule an osteoporosis screening, call the Parkside Osteoporosis Center, at 696-8777. Parkside Human Services is a member of the Lutheran General Health Care System.

Edgewater offers diabetes screening program

In observance of Diabetes Awareness Day on March 10, Edgewater Hospital, 5700 North Ashland Avenue, will be offering a diabetes screening test (blood sugar test) from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and a free educational program from 7-9 p.m.

Some five million Americans have diabetes and are unaware of it. The longer diabetes is undiagnosed and untreated, the greater the risk of complication. Persons who are over age 40, overweight, have a blood relative who is diabetic, or mothers who have babies weighing over 9 pounds at birth are in the high risk group for diabetes. Early detection and treatment of diabetes may help prevent future heart disease, circulatory problems, kidney disorders and blindness.

This diabetes screening test is for persons who have not already been diagnosed as diabetics. The regular cost for the test is $17 but it will be $5 on March 10. To receive diet instructions and to make an appointment, call 878-6000, Ext. 3100.

Edgewater Hospital will also be presenting a free educational program on March 10 from 7 to 9 p.m. for persons with diabetes and concerned family members of diabetics. A panel of physicians will discuss "How to Gain Control Over Diabetes" including the diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, eye care, foot care, and self-management and monitoring of diabetes. There is no fee for the program, but preregistration is required. Call 878-6000, Ext. 3100 to register.

Golf Mill'ing Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

March greetings from GOLF MILL where special events, entertainment, and exquisite ambiance are the norm, not the exception. Circle your calendars for March 6, 7 & 8 as an innovative fashion show looms on the horizon.

Susan Henson, Special Events Coordinator for SEARS, received word of a return visit of Winnie the Pooh and Tigger on March 14. Susan also announced spring registration will soon open for Sears, Self-Improvement Workshops for preteens, teens and women. These workshops not only cover many aspects of outer beauty but also deal with poise and communication skills.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" would make a fitting theme song for THE GAP. Their multi-hued array of spring clothing overwhelms visual perception. As you enter the store, you feel as though you've bumped head-on into the biggest, brightest rainbow imaginable.

THE GAP designs its own line of clothing, not only offering a huge selection of colors from which to choose, but with practicality in mind, as each item can be mixed and matched. A few basics mixed with colorful accessories can blossom into an entire casual wardrobe.

A warm welcome to Bobbie Conrad, THE GAP's new manager. Bobbie is a University of Illinois (DeKalb) graduate with a degree in Fashion Merchandising. Prior to her transfer to GOLF MILL, she managed the SUPER GAP in Schaumburg. THE GOLF MILL store is a regional training store, and Bobbie is one of three trainers in the region. A newlywed, married last October, Bobbie tells me between her career and marriage, things are anything but dull.

With Jeff Pinkley, new assistant manager and Pattie Pratt, part-time super employee who really knows the merchandise, there's no lack of assistance and service available at THE GAP.

UPS 'N' DOWNS, managed by Vickie Perlow, is another great place to shop for casual and more formal attire. They specialize in junior sizes and their casual clothing lines feature brand names such as Esprit and Jazz. Their spring display features this season's popular melon and peach tones in addition to a beautiful assortment of prom dresses and stylish women's apparel.

Attention discerning career women, and all women looking for that special suit or dress that exudes fine taste and the look of success-Caren Charles is the place to find it. They carry an extensive variety of tailored uniquely designed business and dress suits, some by Liz Claiborne and Sara Williams, well known for their attention to detail and styling. THE CAREN CHARLES collection also features all-weather coats, mother-of-the-bride dresses, and Liz Claiborne mix and match stone washed denim casuals.

Susan Bassie, manager, tells me things are hot 'n' heavy right now in a sales contest as employees Toni Skora and Linda Miller battle it out in friendly competition. CAREN CHARLES is also participating in several fashion shows outside the mall. So there's never a dull moment!

DJ's FASHIONS is definitely a fun place to shop for men's clothing. They carry some great styles in formal and casual wear, neat music to put you in the mood to treat yourself to something special, and two effervescent, enthusiastic personalities, Susan Schweitz, manager, and Sandy Stass, assistant manager. Susie and Sandy believe shopping should be upbeat and enjoyable and aim to make DJ's FASHIONS just that kind of place. DJ's carries a great line of laid back California styles and "nuclear" or "blasted" denims. There are also handsome sport jackets and suits, ranging from dressy to the more casual Don Johnson look. Falcon tuxedos that sell for $100 are a real bargain over rentals for those who foresee attending formal events.

EARRING TREE, managed by Nicki Tonis, not only specializes in earrings but also carries a wide variety of costume jewelry. Sara Coventry and Trifari items are also sold. EARRING TREE carries a special line of earrings for those with sensitive skin called Whispers. Nickie told me big earrings are still the rage and showed me a beautiful collection of Indian style earrings of silver adorned with black stones that appeared to be very heavy but were actually as light as a feather. This is a plus as any woman who has worn bulky earrings and ended up with very sore earlobes can attest to.

We've got two engagements to announce! Susan Bassie (Caren Charles) and Mike Babiarz (Service Optical). Congratulations! Happy Birthday to Susan as well. She's got a lot to celebrate.

Enjoy your time at GOLF MILL, don't miss the special events, and watch for updates on new stores and new people at the Mall.

Illinois Bell to implement new rates

Illinois Bell is notifying 2.8 million customers in northeastern Illinois this month about how a new pay-only-for-what-you-use rate plan will affect their bills. This group will include 965, 966 and 967 prefixes.

The new telephone billing plan will begin in March for most Illinois Bell customers in northeastern Illinois, but will be phased in between March and July for customers in River Grove and Niles whose telephone numbers begin with 457 and 647.

Under the plan, which goes into effect next month, Illinois Bell customers will no longer pay in advance for Call-Pak plans or unlimited calling services. Instead, they will pay only for the message units they actually use each month. As a result, March telephone bills will not include usage charges, and April bills will be the first to reflect the new rates.

The new billing plan will not increase the company's revenues. Some customers' bills will decrease, others will increase, depending on individual local calling habits.

"The plan adds new value to our customers' service through evening and volume discounts," said Arlene Tuscano, Illinois Bell community relations manager.

Customers will receive discounts of 33 percent on calls made between 9 p.m. and 8 a.m. and volume discounts of up to 33 percent for residence customers and up to 23 percent for business customers. The new discounts will be applied to customers' bills automatically.

"The plan also is a fair one and will benefit the vast majority of our customers," Tuscano said. "Our customers will pay only for the message units they actually use, after they use them."

Tuscano said the company is changing its rate structure so all callers in northeastern Illinois will pay the same price for calls of the same distance and duration, eliminating inconsistencies that exist in today's rates.

For example, a five-minute call from Downers Grove to Northbrook—a distance of 25 miles—costs 31.5 cents under today's plan. A call of the same distance made within the city of Chicago costs only 4.5 cents, no matter how long the caller talks. When the new plan is implemented, both calls will cost 27.6 cents during the day, and 18.4 cents if made after 9 p.m.

Once the plan goes into effect, most residence callers will be able to talk as long as they like on calls made within an eight-mile radius of their local switching center and will be charged only one message unit—or about a nickel. More than 70 percent of all residence calls are made within this local calling area.

Residence calls to places outside of local calling areas—as well as all business calls—will be billed in message units, based on how long the caller talks, the call's distance and the time of day the call is made.

The company began mailing billing comparisons this month to its customers in northeastern Illinois comparing what they actually paid for telephone service during the months of Oct., Nov., Dec. and Jan. with what they would have paid under the new plan.

The mailings will be spread out during the month, with the last customers receiving this information at the end of Feb. The comparative billing information will be sent separately from customers' regular bills.

A special Illinois Bell task force will answer customer questions and provide more detail on the billing comparison. Residence customers can call 1-800-227-9287 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mon. through Thu. and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fri. and Sat. Business customers can call 1-800-227-9288 from 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. Mon. through Fri.

Folksinger entertains SJB students

Art Thieme from Urban Gateways The Center for Arts in Education in Chicago, was the folksinger during Catholic Schools' Week, who gave presentations to the K-4 and 5-8 assembled student bodies at St. John Brebeuf School. Besides giving the history of much folklore, Mr. Thieme played and sang songs of long ago, including some very tall tales.

Art Thieme has done considerable research in the field of folk and traditional music. He has spent years traveling around the United States, during which time he frequently studies and collects local music, enriching his knowledge and repertoire.

Mr. Thieme noted that folk songs and folk music are generally home-made. In his program of traditional folk music, Art played such home-made instruments as a musical saw and a jew's harp. One of the most interesting was a lunchbox fastened to a board, complete with strings and tuners. Students from Mrs. Larkin's third grade gather around, as Art demonstrated how to play his home-made guitar.

Services facilities much-needed space. It could also lease the gym and other classrooms to the Niles Park District for a nominal fee. Both districts would be served and the residents in the area would have one more recreation facility at their fingertips. It might mitigate some of the hard feelings which were created when the Niles Library closed its branch facility.

Because the money-rich village can well afford all these extra properties, it can alleviate the burden of other districts which don't have access to the money the village has. The tremendous sales tax revenue which flows into village coffers (about $5 million annually) enables Niles to have its free buses, its Trident Senior Center and its Family Service. Since the park and the library districts have the money shorts because they lack similar revenue sources, the village could play big brother to these other districts. Since the village, the library and the park districts all serve the same people, it would make sense the money-rich village could help out the poorer districts.

If the village should purchase the Ballard property it could lease to the park district the gymnasium and classrooms for $1 a year. And despite past hysterics it could also provide the library with a $1 a year facility and possibly even use village personnel to man both the facilities. It would solve several problems with one stroke.

Our mentioning how much goes on during a brief two week absence was never more graphic than being aware of famous people who died during this hiatus. We just found out James Coco, David Susskind and Andy Warhol died during the past two weeks. Then Tuesday, Danny Kaye passed away.

Back in 1946, I received my army discharge at Fort Dix in New Jersey. I spent a few days in New York. One afternoon I went to the Paramount Theatre where Danny Kaye was the featured star. Midway through his performance he was being heckled by a front row ticket-holder. Kaye stopped the show, stepped to the front of the proscenium and proceeded to lecture the heckler. He said, "You think being up here on the stage is a piece of cake? And you probably think anyone can do it." He then gave the heckler a litany of the many years it took Kaye to perfect his act before he was able to perform at the Paramount. He told about his borscht belt days and about the many years studying seven or eight languages to help create his act. When Kaye was finished he was in quite a latter. He invited the heckler up on stage and said he was welcome to perform. Kaye said he would give him full sway on stage. Naturally, the heckler didn't accept Kaye's invitation. And while the audience roared their support, Danny went back and finished his act. It might have been a cornball act to put on. But the audience loved it and Kaye had the audience in the palm of his hand for the rest of the show.

proved with a viable outreach program to serve all residents in the district. "We have a good library, but it can be improved by upgrading the book collection and developing new programs," Quattrocchi said.

The last candidate, Angelo Suranno, a real estate broker living in unincorporated Des Plaines has the backing of HALT. In the recent controversy surrounding the closing of the branch library, Suranno said it was a "travesty" and charged the failed referendum resulted in board members punishing residents in the unincorporated area.

Hot dog eatery...

Cars would stack up for drive-thru service with the facility located at the east side of the building. A speaker pylon would be located 165 feet from the rear property line, which is fenced off from the residential area, he said.

Drive-thru hours would be the same as the restaurant; 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday; 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Townhouse residents in back of Irving's objected to the proposed drive-thru. "More cars will be coming in with the drive-thru. We will have a problem with fumes and car lights at night. My bedroom faces the parking area," said Marvin Lockman, whose home is directly behind Irving's.

Board members pointed out the cars would go around the building and face south before turning to get to the drive-thru window. "The lights would be away from your home. I doubt you would have a problem with excess fumes with about eight cars queuing up," said Commissioner Angelo Troiani.

Other residents complained that persons, probably employees, race their cars late at night in the parking area.

Rosen said the noise problem was not the fault of his employees. "They are high school students and when they don't have a ride home, I make sure they have one for safety reasons."

He added cars come in after closing hours and park in the parking lot. "I have found empty beer bottles all over the place. I think the noise comes from them," he said.

The board approval was subject to putting in speed bumps, installing an internal door system on the west side of the building, modifying the speaker system in tone to prevent disturbing residents and restricting hours no later than 11 p.m.

In other business, the board approved an eight-foot parabolic dish for Original East Coast Pizza at 9003 Milwaukee Ave.

According to Joe Salerno, director of zoning enforcement, the petitioner did not know a special use permit was required for the dish and a company had installed it.

"A housing inspector saw it, and subsequently the system was disconnected pending the permit," he said.

the system. The alarm panel was reset.

On Feb. 23, firemen responded to a report of smoke in a building at the Oak Hill shopping center, 7900 Milwaukee Ave. The cause was traced to an overheated pot being cleaned by an employee.

He went on to say his experience in business would be an asset to the board. "I would attempt to bring new ideas to the library and put the district on a sound financial basis."

Suranno stated many people are unhappy with the main library and the lack of books and staffing. "I feel there should be more communication with the various government bodies and business people in fund-raising efforts by the library district, such as having a sustaining membership program at a cost of $10 for anyone who wants to participate," he said.

Those indicating the need for more office space include Niles Family Service, police and senior citizens. Other departments will submit their reports within the next several months. "We want all the information we can get to have some idea what to do with the site before going into the budget in April," he said.

History records the village was founded in the Touhy and Milwaukee area, then called Dutchman's Point. Marcheschi pointed out that buying the property has squared off the intersection and would give a more "center of town" image.

"A building at this site would further highlight the intersection as the center of the village...in line with what the founding fathers intended in early pioneer days," Marcheschi said.

are and all factors will be weighed before coming to a decision."

He noted the village and zoning boards meet at the Council Chambers in the Niles Police Department on Touhy and Milwaukee. One idea submitted was to move the Council Chambers to the new building to provide more space for the police department, Marcheschi said.

"A building at this site would further highlight the intersection as the center of the village...in line with what the founding fathers intended in early pioneer days," Marcheschi said.

According to Salerno, the petitioner was issued a building permit to construct a 10-foot carport which ended up as a 14% lot structure including the overhang which hangs over a neighbor's yard.

An interpreter for the petitioner (who does not speak English) said he needed the extra footage to install an enclosed wind-break facility near the door facing the driveway.

Board members said they wanted the five-foot sideyard requirement to prevent intrusion into neighboring yards. The carport must now be reconstructed to the original 10 feet called for in the plans.

...The board approved a request by the village for a change in zoning from residential (R-1) to B-1 business use for three properties at 8815, 8835 and 8845 Greenwood.

According to Joe Salerno, the zoning change would be compatible with the surrounding commercial aspects in the area.

The properties include the MGM Realty Company and two existing single family homes. A vacant lot is situated between the two houses.

Salerno said the single-family homes would increase in value with the zoning change. "A real estate broker said the increase would be from the current $7.50 a square foot to $10 a square foot because of its potential commercial value," he said.

Ted Bell, who lives in one of the houses, said he had no objection to the zoning change. "I've lived there for 37 years and my wife and I want to stay. We just don't want to get harassed to move out for some kind of commercial development on the property," he said.

State leader to speak to Advocacy group

Ken Kerns, director of the State Coalition for Citizens with Disabilities in Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the group's North Suburban Chapter at 1 p.m. Friday, March 13, in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge.

Kerns will review issues being explored by chapters throughout the state and outline procedures for coordination of projects among state and local chapters.

Interested persons are invited to join the group formed last September to address some of the major problems facing handicapped people. The North Suburban Chapter currently is studying housing, transportation, employment, legislation and other issues that impact the lives of the disabled.

Ballard and rent it to the park district for a nominal fee. "The gym is there and other space can be used for arts and crafts and other activities," Marcheschi said.

He noted Blase has publicly stated there would be close cooperation between the village and the park district in a mutual interest in serving the people of Niles. "This would be a good start," he said.

Based on a school district study, renovation of the building would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, including more than $125,000 for state-mandated asbestos removal. Only schools are under state mandate to remove the asbestos, Marcheschi said.

"I don't think it would cost near that much for repairs as the study shows. The asbestos is enclosed at Ballard. The heating pipes could be encapsulated or in places where material is flaking away, to prevent a health hazard," he said.

The village would save costs by having work done by its own engineers and work crews, he noted. Although it would have to pay for maintenance, Niles utility easements would lower the expense by a certain amount. "The village's blanket insurance coverage can also be rewritten to include Ballard at no additional cost," Marcheschi said.

In the event the village takes over the building, officials will have to consider whether they will retain the three tenants presently occupying space at Ballard. A possibility exists they could be relocated at the school, they said.

The tenants who have leases now are MONNACEP, Medical Check, Int. and the Morton Grove Community Hebrew School.

concentrate on criminal activity and giving the citizen a positive alternative to fines or jail."

He added the program, in which the police and social worker work closely together, saves the time of police officers who often respond to calls that are psychological in nature.

The program was established in 1971 and was the second in the country to do so (Wheaton was first). Over the years, foreign visitors from as far away as Germany, Great Britain, and most recently Canada have come to Niles to observe the program and copy it. Other suburbs with PST services include Park Ridge, Glenview, Northbrook and Skokie.

Cousins gets an annual salary of $33,000 a year and a $4,500 stipend for a student social worker. About 20 to 30 cases are handled by Cousins each month.

Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrickson said Niles is one of the few to fund its own social service agency (Niles Family Services). "The PST program is a good one, but it is a duplication of services," he said. "We have to allocate money where it's needed most."

He explained it would be more cost-effective providing social services under one roof and noted NPS director John Halverson has experience in corrections. "He has the capability to do the work Cousins has done," he said. "We will maintain the same services, but doing it with less money."

Cousins noted the agency's social workers may not be able to take on all his responsibilities in addition to their own workload. "They have a problem meeting their needs now," he said.

Halverson, who was hired director of Niles Family Service last year, has experience as a juvenile probation officer working with the Cook County family center. "I worked very closely with police in handling juvenile and family problems," he said.

Consolidating the police social worker's responsibilities with the Department of Social Services may enhance both programs, Halverson said. Several part-time social workers will take over various aspects of Cousins' duties which should bring more levels of expertise to the job, he said.

"I don't think there will be an impact on services. It will be the same program, but taking a different direction," he said. "It will be more cost-effective this way. Niles, like any other municipality, is cutting corners financially, but still intends to provide good social services."
