Library changes mind on tax referendum

by Eileen Hirschfeld
In a surprise action at the June 10 regular meeting, board members of the Niles Public Library District rescinded a former motion to hold a tax referendum this November. Passage of a referendum would have increased the library's tax base from 15 to 25 mills. Trustees indicated they will attempt to budget this year with available funds and attempt a referendum in the future. Board President Terri Carman said no board members on the Referendum Committee said the library could survive indefinitely without additional tax funds. In other action, three staff members were honored by the

When public bodies have personnel matters to discuss, they go into "executive session". They discuss hiring and firing matters behind closed doors. It protects people who are the center of discussion and it protects the public board. It allows the board the freedom to pursue the matter without the inhibitions of being more cautious or tentative. And it protects the board from possible legal suits resulting from its discussions.

In reporting the news the press waits for the public body to announce what action it will take as the result of their discussions behind those closed doors. There is no obligation on the part of the board members to explain their actions because they are exempt from public discussion as the result of their closed door session.

On occasion there is a genuine conflict between the private closed door sessions and the right of the people who elect the board members to know why personnel actions are taken.

Amateur radio field day

Field day is an annual event occurring every June when amateur radio operators ("hams") take their equipment into the great outdoors and test it for use in case of disaster. Using electricity generated at the operating site or battery power, hams not only test their equipment but make a contest out of the exercise and try to contact as many other hams operating emergency type stations as possible. Often hams make field day a club social event while they are operating.

A major justification for the existence of amateur radio in the USA is to provide a pool of experienced operators in time of national or community need. When the call for emergency communications is voiced by cities, counties, states or the federal government, mobile and portable radio equipment is pressed into service where needed. Setting up an effective portable station requires organization, planning and some experience. The experience gained by field day operation is valuable to both beginners and more experienced hams.

Maine Beat

by Sylvia Dalrymple

POLITICAL TIDBITS. Republican legislators in Springfield are predicting that the suburb's priority issue...the regional airport authority bill...will get off the ground via a tradeoff with the House's majority Democrats.

The RAA measure would give the suburbs a voice regarding jet noise and expansion at O'Hare Airport. The bill recently passed the Senate, but GOP lawmakers fear it will be deep-sixed by the Democratic-controlled Illinois House.

The 69-50 advantage in the House calls for some kind of strategy to offset the numbers game traditionally played by politicians on both sides of the fence when it comes down to the nitty-gritty. In this particular deal, the Republicans are hoping the Dems will have a pet bill of their own which requires their support as a tradeoff for some acceptable form of the airport authority bill.

When conventional legislative methods don't work, tradeoffs inevitably come into play. Some consider such deals a compromise, and the more politically astute call it backroom politics. But like everything, it's all in the eyes of the beholder.

Creation of a regional airport authority would call for establishing a board (suburban members outnumbering those from Chicago) that would have to be consulted before any project costing $2 million or more could get underway. It would also have some control reducing noise at the "world's busiest airport."

HAPPENINGS... it was wall-to-wall people at the Las Vegas Casino Nights last Friday and Saturday at Our Lady of Ransom parish in Niles. The parish hall draped with silver decorations, was transformed into a Las Vegas casino, with roulette wheels, dice tables, blackjack, poker and other games...a big attraction for the Lady Luck crowd.

Hosts at the affair (complete with tuxedos and red ties) were Father Thomas Dore, OLR pastor; Father Thomas Bishop, associate pastor, and newly-arrived associate pastor, Father Nicholas Desmond.

A special feature was the appearance of four beautiful members of the Honey Bears cheerleading team (formerly associated with the Chicago Bears). Men of all ages made a mad dash for the roulette wheels where the girls took turns spinning the wheel for the customers.

Among the multitude of volunteer casino workers was Niles Fire Chief Harry Kinowski, who was kept busy tending bar for the thirsty crowd. Spotted trying their luck at the gaming tables were Mayor Nicholas Blase, his wife, Faye, and Joseph Salerno, Niles director of code enforcement.

Niles is expected to make its move to acquire Lawrencewood shopping center next week, because of apparent failed negotiations with property owner Robert Krilich.

According to Tom Burke, Niles' legal representative, if the village does not hear from Krilich by the end of this week regarding purchase of the 24-year-old shopping center, a petition will be filed to condemn the property sometime next week. The village is offering $5.8 million for the 37-acre property.

"The amount is the appraised value by a local real estate appraiser," Burke said. "It's a fair and equitable offer."

Burke said he has received no notification of a threatened suit by Krilich over the acquisition of Lawrencewood through condemnation proceedings. "I'm not worrying about it. There won't be a delay in court proceedings in the event he does file a civil rights suit. It would go before the federal court where it does not have complete jurisdiction in this type case," he explained.

Krilich and Allan Brown, an attorney representing Lawrencewood, could not be reached for comment. Village trustees voted to take action on the property at a board meeting in May. Acquisition of Lawrencewood would first be based on purchasing the site, but if an agreement could not be reached, action would be taken to condemn the property. Brown told the board at the time the $5.8 million offer for the shopping center was unacceptable, and he was prepared to file a suit on behalf of Krilich for abridgement of his civil rights. Brown put the center's value in excess of $10 million.

Mayor Nicholas Blase stated at an April public hearing, that the owners of the shopping center, which include a centralized location for municipal facilities, were based on the premise that Lawrencewood could receive improvements via efforts from the village.

According to Village Attorney Richard Troy, Krilich has two recourses through litigation in the courts. "He can file a traverse, (a pleading) which says authorities...in this case Niles...have no right to condemn the property. If that motion is denied, he can file another claiming he did not receive fair market value at the time the village petition for condemnation was signed," Troy explained.

He added any dispute over the ## Social Security numbers required for dependents

J.R. Starkey, District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for Northern Illinois, today reminded individuals that they will be required to list social security numbers for all dependents who will be at least 5 years old by December 31, 1987. The numbers must appear on 1987 individual income tax returns to be filed by April 15, 1988.

If a dependent's social security number is not shown, or if an incorrect number is used, the taxpayer may be subject to a $5 penalty.

If a dependent does not have a social security number, either the taxpayer or the dependent should apply for one as soon as possible by completing Form SS-5 with the Social Security Administration. This form can be obtained from the IRS Forms Distribution Center by calling 1 (800) 424-3676, toll free. Information about applying for a social security number is available at the local Social Security Administration office.

Starkey advised all persons needing to apply for a social security number to make the application as quickly as possible. This new rule will generate a very large volume of applications nationwide. Applying early will allow time for Social Security Administration to assign the number.

How young do you have to be to get breast cancer?

Breast cancer strikes women of all ages. But early detection can mean the difference between total cure and a life threatening condition. Early detection requires an annual check-up, a monthly self-examination and mammography. We provide the earliest detection possible. With state-of-the-art mammography, lumps can be detected before they can be felt. Mammograms are safe, painless and affordable. If you're over 35, ask your physician to schedule a mammogram for you, or call 761-6000. Do it today.

The American Cancer Society suggests these guidelines for examination:

Age	Recommendation
20+	Monthly self-examination
20-40	Physical examination by a physician every three years
40+	Physical exam every year
35-40	Baseline Mammogram
40-49	Mammogram every one to two years
50+	Mammogram every year

Park Ridge Antique Club flea market

The 13th annual flea market of the Old Things Antique Club of Park Ridge will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 20, in Hodges Park, uptown Park Ridge.

Antiques, collectibles, white elephants, books, small furniture, jewelry, unique and used household items will be offered for sale by the club's members. Their wide variety of interests range from primitives, glassware, china, pottery, toys, dolls, postcards, prints, furniture, world's fair and railroad items to such modern collectibles as advertising memorabilia, commemorative plates and Bean bottles, and they are happy to share their knowledge.

Virtual anything new or old is sold at flea markets, but at the Old Things market the emphasis is on items of antiquarian value. This gives people interested in these items an opportunity to look, learn and perhaps buy an underpriced treasure in a market fair atmosphere.

The club's members are from Park Ridge and many surrounding communities. They meet to hear presentations and share information about the many aspects of collecting.

In the past the group has contributed furnishings to the Park Ridge Historical Society and books on antiques to the Park Ridge Library, and has made cash contributions to each. Rain date for the flea market is the following Saturday, June 27.

News for TEA LOVERS

IT'S PARTY TIME!

It's that time of year...time for weddings, graduations and anniversaries. And the parties to celebrate these special occasions are happening everywhere.

One of the easiest ways to add a festive feeling to any gathering is with a tasty, easy-to-make punch. Lipton Lemon Flavored Iced Tea Mix Sweetened with NutraSweet helps out here. Convenient to use and already sweetened and lemon flavored to perfection, this iced tea mix is a pleasant base for a punch.

Take Peachy Iced Tea Punch for example. Created by The Lipton Kitchens, this punch is a sparkling combination of iced tea, peach nectar and club soda. Together they create a smooth, full-bodied beverage.

For a deliciously different iced tea punch, try Peachy Iced Tea Punch. For a deliciously different iced tea punch, try Peachy Iced Tea Punch. For a deliciously different iced tea punch, try Peachy Iced Tea Punch.

PEACHY ICED TEA PUNCH
1 quart lemon sherbet, softened

In bottom of 5-1/2 cup ring mold, arrange peach halves. Fold in sherbet; freeze until firm.

In punch bowl, combine natural lemon flavored iced tea mix with NutraSweet and peach nectar. Just before serving, add club soda and top with sherbet ring. Serve with ice and garnish, if desired, with fresh mint. Makes about 15 (5 oz.) servings.

HERBAL TEA FLAVOR PALETTE

It's springtime! And Mother Nature is busy creating a new palette of vibrant colors, fabulous fragrances and exotic flavors.

What's more, the folks at America's favorite tea company have been doing the same thing with their line of herbal teas. The wide variety of unique flavors are aromatic and refreshing. Each one is created with natural herbs and spices for a beverage that's absolutely caffeine-free!

Pick from Lipton's delicate palette of flavors such as almond pleasure, cinnamon apple, gentle orange, quietly chamomile, roasty mint or toasty spice. Or choose from these brand new exciting additions: citrus sunset, lemon soother or tangy orange. The names speak for themselves, each representing a perfect blend of all-natural herbs and spices. For example, citrus sunset is an exotic combination of orange peel, hibiscus flowers, cinnamon and rose hips. All Lipton Herbal Teas are conveniently packaged in the familiar Flo-Thru tea bag, which lets the full flavor of the ingredients come through as it is brewed. And the brewed teas are not only deliciously soothing when prepared hot, but also delightfully relaxing when served over ice...a welcome

LEMON-MINT SLUSH
2 cups boiling water
6 Lipton Lemon Soother Herbal Tea Bags
1 fresh mint sprig
2 cups (1 pt.) lemon sherbet

In teapot, pour boiling water over lemon soother herbal tea bags and crushed mint; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags and mint; cool.

In 5-cup blender, combine tea and sherbet; process at high speed until blended. Garnish, if desired, with additional fresh mint sprigs. Makes about 4 servings.

Womens Auxiliary forming to benefit children

On Thursday, June 25 at 7 p.m. a Women's Auxiliary for Rainbows For All God's Children is being formed to benefit children in need of emotional support due to death, divorce, separation, or being born out of wedlock. Children living in single-parent and stepfamily homes grieve over the loss of a parent and nuclear family. However, they are not always able to express their feelings in words, so the grief surfaces in their behavior, schoolwork, or affects their emotional or psychological development. Rainbows For All God's Children is a unique peer support program designed to help these children learn to deal with their feelings, build self esteem, and accept what has taken place in their families. It is not counseling or therapy, but a support group for children in similar age categories under the guidance of a trained, caring adult.

The Women's Auxiliary co-chaired by Stephanie Nuzzo and Sue Origer invites anyone interested in helping "put peace and harmony back into these

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Did you know that a current big league player-outfielder Gary Redus set an amazing record when he was in the minors. Redus had the second highest batting average of all time for a season in pro baseball when he hit .462 for Billings in the Pioneer League in 1978. The only regular player who ever hit higher in pro ball over a full season was Walter Marmol who batted .477 for York in the Nebraska State League in 1913.

Here's one that may surprise you. Of all the players in big league baseball history in this century, which one made the most errors? Oddly enough, it was a man who was one of the first to be elected to the Hall of Fame and a man who's been called one of the greatest shortstops of all time, Honus Wagner. Wagner made 676 errors. No other big leaguer ever made more.

How many holes of golf can you play in one day? The Guinness Book of Records has certified that Mark Mathews set a world record last year by playing 724 holes in 24 hours at the Rockwood Golf Course in Ft. Worth, Tex.

If you mention this ad after your deal is consummated (but before delivery) Jennings Chevrolet will deduct $50 from the purchase price of your new or used car. One deduction per transaction.

Turning on red poses safety problems

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Turning right on red has become a popular time saver for many Illinois motorists. Unfortunately, some motorists risk causing accidents by turning right on red without fully stopping and yielding the right of way.

The right-turn-on-red law permits a right turn at a red light only after coming to a complete stop. Look for traffic on the street you are entering and yield the right of way to any vehicles or pedestrians in the adjacent crosswalk. Then make the right turn cautiously.

Before turning, look down the sidewalk and past parked cars for pedestrians or cyclists. You can also help to prevent accidents by looking for pedestrians and cyclists before turning right at a stop sign or uncontrolled intersection.

Watch for and obey "no turn on red" signs at intersections where right turns are prohibited. Turning left on red after stopping is permitted from a one-way street to a one-way street heading left.

The right-turn-on-red law is appreciated by busy motorists everywhere. However, remember to stop, look, yield and turn cautiously.

New car buyer's checklist

A consumer can be confident about buying a new car at a fair price as well as choosing the right automobile by following a few basic steps before signing on the dotted line, according to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

Don't rush into buying the first car seen in the showroom and never purchase an automobile when suffering "new car fever."

Make a list of safety and convenience features that meet personal driving, lifestyle and family size needs, and decide on a budget before going to showrooms. AAA-CMC advises.

Check with friends and other sources for names of reputable dealers. Inquire about the service department, as this will be important in the future when your car needs warranty work, routine maintenance or mechanical repairs.

Visit several showrooms to collect information. Test drive cars that you would consider purchasing.

Surprisingly, an estimated 75 percent of new car buyers don't, according to AAA-CMC.

The next step is to go home and evaluate the purchase options. If possible, talk with owners of cars identical to the one you want to buy.

After comparison shopping to determine the car you want to purchase, a fair price and value of any trade-in, return to the showroom - this time to talk dollars.

A free brochure, "Car Buying Checklist", helps consumers select a new car for purchase. The brochure includes a "score card" to compare autos. "Car Buying Checklist" is available at all AAA-CMC branch offices in Illinois and Northern Indiana; or write to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club, Public Affairs Department, PO Box 5027, Des Plaines, IL 60017-5027.

Car Care

Tips for more Safety, Economy, Convenience

by Bob Miller

Check those rear lights

Last weekend we packed the car for a two day trip down to Champaign-Urbana for a high school graduation. We took I57 all the way down. Silly us, we thought the Indy 500 was held on a track in Indianapolis.

After entering I57 off of 294, we spotted the recently erected 65 mile per hour speed limit signs. In the right lane we accelerated from 55 to 65 MPH, only to be almost run off the road by two semi-trailers and an elderly couple in a Lincoln. We kicked it up to 70 MPH but had to stay in the right lane because we weren't going fast enough to earn the right to drive in the left lane.

It seems awfully hard to understand why so much of the taxpayers' money was spent debating the pros and cons of raising the rural interstate speed limits to 65 MPH. On I57 where the speed limit is 65 MPH, most everybody was traveling 70 to 80 MPH. After getting back on the Tri-State 294 where the speed limit drops to 55 MPH, everybody still held at 70 to 80 MPH. It doesn't really seem to matter what the signs say.

While driving along admiring Illinois' many acres of farmland we couldn't help but notice that very few drivers ever use their turn signals when changing lanes. Aside from being a law, it is also a very courteous gesture to turn on a signal when you are about to squeeze into a space too small for your car to fit into in the first place.

Brake lights, turn signals, tail lights and backup lights all play a very important role in driving safely. All too often, these lights on our cars are overlooked during normal maintenance procedures.

When changing your oil or just washing your car on the weekend, it's a good time to perform a light check. First, turn on the headlights to check their operation and check all tail lights in the rear. Then turn on the turn signals, one at a time, checking both front and rear of the automobile. Next turn the key on without starting the engine, put the gear selector in "reverse" and check the backup lights in the rear of your vehicle. Last of all, have someone apply the brake pedal while you check the rear brake lights.

Most bulbs are fairly easy to replace if burned out, but some of the newer cars require removing the entire lens assembly in the rear just to gain access to the bulbs. In the case of headlights, make sure the bulbs are installed so you can read the writing imprinted on the glass. These bulbs can be installed upside down in which case the prism built into the bulb will make the beam of light shine straight up into the sky no matter how much you try to adjust them.

If the turn signal indicator light on your dash lights up but does not flash when you turn on your signals, this usually indicates a burned out bulb in the front or rear. If both bulbs are on bright, then you know the turn signal flasher has burned out. If a bulb or flasher doesn't take care of the problem, it is time for a qualified technician to take a look.

The other interesting thing we noted on our trip was how many camper trailers and rented trailers didn't have the turn signals and brake lights working properly. At night these trailers can be very hard to see when approaching them from behind without proper lighting. Why ruin an entire vacation just because you didn't check your trailer lights?

The most common cause of trailer lights not working properly after being hooked up to the car's electrical system is the lack of a good ground on the trailer. The ground wire coming off the trailer's wiring harness usually goes directly to a screw in the trailer's frame. Remove the wire, use some sandpaper to clean the area where the wire attaches and reinstall the wire. Any mechanical place of business will help you if you have problems, but remember they will need both your car and trailer to correct any problems.

Safe driving this summer will depend on both you and your mechanic to check even the simplest functions of your car.

Museum exhibits first century of automobile

In recognition of the centennial of the automobile, Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry is presenting a three-month exhibit entitled, "Automobiles: The First Century," depicting the life and times of our world in the 100 years since Karl Benz's three-wheeler received the first patent for an automobile in 1886.

The exhibit draws largely from the Mercedes-Benz of North America centennial display, which includes running replicas of Benz's three-wheeler, of Gottlieb Daimler's first two-wheeled and four-wheeled creations. The museum is located at 57th St. and Lake Shore Drive.

Fund) $100,000; general liability insurance, $100,000; medical insurance reserve, $3,000; handicap program, $54,453; audit, $10,000; bond and interest, $615,000; special and donations, $4,300 and bond issue proceeds, $881,600. Linked to the budget is a $4,398,680 appropriation.

No tax increase is expected, according to Hughes.

Board president Mary Marusek said there will be a 10-day inspection period for the budget. June 19 through July 20. A public hearing concerning the budget will be held at 6:30 p.m. on July 9. Adoption of the budget and appropriation ordinance will take place at the regular board meeting at 8 p.m. on July 21.

In regular board matters, board attorney, Gabriel

Berrafato said that condemnation proceedings to acquire property for a new maintenance garage were concluded in the court on May 26, with a judgment of $550,000 awarded to owners of Jus-Rite Machine Co., 7530 N. Oak Park.

"The building and land now belongs to the park district," Berrafato said. "The court also ordered that the people there must vacate the premises by June 30."

The building contains 14,544 square feet. The park district intends to house its trucks and other park equipment, a repair shop and some offices in one-story building, which lies directly across the street from Tam golf course.

Board members expressed concern the building would not be vacated by June 30. "There is heavy machinery and office equipment that must be moved out before the deadline," Commissioner Walter Beusse said.

On the premise the building would be vacant at the scheduled time, board members said they will inspect the facility on July 1 to determine how to utilize the facility to meet park district needs.

Various board members said that the present buildings at Tam utilized to house equipment can be torn down. "The land can now be used for development in the future," said

Marusek. In other business, Marusek said that Mayor Nicholas Blase had contacted Hughes regarding a change concerning a planned day care center at Ballard School. The original plan by the park district was to have the facility on the second and offices on the first floor.

Children under three years old must have a first floor location in line with state stipulations, Marusek said. "There are concerns regarding accidents to small children going down the stairs."

In other reports, Beusse said revenue from the Niles Recreation swimming pool on Sunday was $1,274. Figures were not available for the opening day on Saturday. He also reported the batting cages at Jozwiak Park brought in $1,754 and the mini-golf course, $6,692 since opening on May 15.

Revenue from the golf course to date was $68,156.72. In 1986 for the same period, receipts were $68,207.21. Beusse noted the 1986 amount included $10,000 from the concession stand. "It was torn down, (the concession stand) which means the golf course made more money this year," he said.

Commissioner Elaine Heinen reported there has been a problem with maintenance and repairs due to lack of part-time help. Part-time employees usually are hired in June, Heinen suggested the board should look into the possibility of bringing part-timers into the park district in early spring for maintenance chores.

Board approved installing a berm at Courtland Park after a resident complained that the side of his house has been hit with baseballs on a continual basis damaging the siding. A berm (hill) will act as a preventive measure. School District 71 officials have agreed to share the cost of a wood chip safety surface to be installed at Jozwiak Park in the amount of $600.

Residents protest...

In 1979, after the county board denied a commercial development, the petitioner filed a suit in the Cook County Circuit Court where the late Judge Nathan Cohen granted C-4 commercial zoning. Homeowners took their fight to the appeals court which reversed the lower court decision.

At Friday's hearing, Donald Segal, an attorney representing Callas, presented witnesses who testified the commercial trend and character of the area was compatible for the proposed use for the site. They pointed to the Golf Mill shopping center directly across the street from the subject property located at the corner of Golf Rd. and Greenwood, as well as other shopping centers east and west of Milwaukee Ave.

Plans call for retail stores which would be housed in one building containing 9,655 square feet of floor space. There would be 46 parking spaces facing Greenwood and employee parking at the rear of the building. A landscape screen of bushes would buffer the retail center from the residential homes at the rear of the property.

"The project would not have an adverse impact on residents," said one expert witness.

Callas testified he had entered into a real estate contract to purchase the site, adding the closing for the sale would take place on Monday (June 8).

He stated making inquiries about the property regarding its zoning status and had been informed by the president of the homeowners association and Joe Salerno, Niles director of code enforcement, the site was zoned for residential use. However, when he went to the county's office in Chicago, employees there told him the map showed the parcels were zoned commercial.

Salerno said he informed Callas about the R-5 residential zoning on Feb. 19. "I then learned that Callas purchased the property on Feb. 25," he said. Salerno stated Niles had filed objections to a commercial project on the Greenwood-Elm site in 1979. After the Illinois Appellate Court decision, he said the village sent a letter asking county officials to revert the C-4 status to the original R-5 zoning on the county map. "It was assumed this was done," he said.

A petition, signed by 16 homeowners near the subject site favoring the proposed project was submitted to the board by Callas. Tom Merlin, president of the homeowners' association then presented a petition containing 60 signatures opposing the shopping strip.

"The sub-division contains 70 homes. Some of the homeowners who signed his (Callas) petition, later signed ours after getting more information about the project," he said.

In a presentation to the board, Merlin said if the petition was approved, the entire block of the sub-division on Greenwood would fall under Commercial zoning. "Residents would be adversely affected. It's a unique community where neighbors enjoy their lifestyles," he said.

"Most of us who moved into the neighborhood in recent years realized the American Dream of owning our own homes. Now someone wants to shatter that dream for the highest net return on his investment," he said.

Merlin presented photos of homes constructed over the past four years ranging between $150,000 and $200,000 on Greenwood and west on Delphia.

"There has been an intensive residential development, directly opposite of petitioner's arguments that the trend is commercial in this area," he said.

Al Sompolski, a resident on Elm Dr. pointed out Elm has a closed cul de sac at Greenwood that could pose a problem for emergency vehicles going into the site.

"The experts keep talking about heavy traffic on Golf and on Greenwood, but failed to mention traffic would be increased with the proposed retail center," he said.

Sompolski read excerpts from the appeals court decision which said that although there has been an intensified trend for "more and more commercial developments" near residential areas, commercial zoning "must begin and end somewhere" with appropriate boundary lines.

The audience applauded when Sompolski said, "The court reversed the lower court decision because, in its opinion, Golf-Greenwood Gardens was an appropriate boundary line "between residential and commercial."

The board granted a 30 day continuance requested by Salerno, who will report to the village concerning the zoning case. Niles Village trustees will then determine whether an objection to the proposed development will be filed with the county.

The county appeals board is a recommending body only with a final decision made by the Board of Commissioners.

Finally, a weight loss program that makes you feel like more of a person. Not less.

In most diets, all you lose is a little self-confidence. It's easy to see why: only 5-10% of those who undertake conventional diets lose 40 pounds. And, with very few exceptions, dieters regain the weight they have lost. Discouraging? You bet it is. That's why the doctors who developed The OPTIFAST Program took a totally different approach. A caring, supportive approach combining a nutritionally complete diet supplement, dietary counseling, behavior modification and group support. And we don't stop there. The OPTIFAST Program includes close and continuing medical supervision.

We treat the whole person—so you feel like more of a person. Best of all, the chances for sustained weight loss are now in your favor. 200,000 people have participated in The OPTIFAST Program of weight loss. Studies have shown that up to 80% of OPTIFAST* treated patients may lose a minimum of 40 pounds. In patients who lose more than this amount, the average loss is 85 pounds!

But even more encouraging is the fact that in some people, long-term weight maintenance—the most important part of obesity treatment—is accomplished in The OPTIFAST Program.

There's more to The OPTIFAST Program because our patients expect to lose more than a few pounds. If you are more than 30% or 50 pounds over weight, please call "61-6500 ext. 5186 and receive details about The OPTIFAST Program."

Res magnetic resonance imaging facility groundbreaking

Groundbreaking ceremonies at Resurrection Hospital on Wednesday, May 20, marked the beginning of construction for a facility to contain one of medical science's newest diagnostic tools, magnetic resonance imaging (MRI).

"May the use of this new diagnostic tool allow us to better fulfill our mission to serve you people and may this new facility truly be one more way that we may offer optimal health care to all who use it in the years to come," noted Sister Stephanie, C.R., chairperson of the Resurrection Health Care Corporation Board of Directors, speaking at the ceremonies.

"Groundbreaking today for the new MRI unit highlights our efforts to keep pace with technology and to respond to the needs of our community," said Sister Bonaventure, C.R., corporate president.

"We look forward to gathering again in our 35th anniversary year to mark the opening of this new facility and the culmination of yet another dream," she said in reference to the hospital's 35th anniversary year beginning Nov. 1.

Resurrection Hospital's Medical/Dental staff President Dr. Leo Stolarski added his congratulations and thanks to the Sisters noting "This facility will become one of only five or six in the entire metropolitan area and the first in a Catholic community hospital."

According to Dr. Stasia Frank of Resurrection's Specialized Imaging department, the MRI relies on a powerful computer and interacting of a magnetic field and radio waves to produce detailed images of internal tissues and organs.

"At the end of the 19th century, we thought we had reached the ultimate when Roentgen discovered the X-ray; and when recent technology yielded the advent of the CAT scanner for looking inside the body, again we felt we had reached the pinnacle," she noted. "With today's

Rader Institute opens at Bethesda

Eating disorders - bulimia, anorexia nervosa - have traditionally been identified as a "woman's disease." But according to William C. Rader, M.D., founder the clinical director of The Rader Institute, the country's leading eating disorder treatment program, more and more men are being diagnosed as having eating disorders. Studies show that among male college students 5% to 10% binge-purge and 5% to 10% are anorexic.

A widely respected psychiatrist, Dr. Rader has been a leader nationwide in the fields of compulsive behavior, specifically with regard to eating and alcoholism. He was a pioneer in involving family members in substance abuse treatment programs and in treating compulsive behavior disorders as diseases which require in-patient care.

The treatment program he has developed for The Rader Institute is one that will help people achieve lifelong recovery and involves a multi-disciplinary approach. Instead of concentrating on diets, eating or symptoms of the disease (like starvation or obesity), The Rader Institute program will teach individuals to respect themselves, to form positive relationships and to create a healthy living environment. Treatment consists of a combination of in-patient, outpatient and family therapy.

For more information or to set up an interview with Dr. Rader, contact Liz Newstead, public relations coordinator, Bethesda Hospital: 721-6000, ext. 5190.

Cafe Continental

In a city with as strong an ethnic mix as Chicago, there are many restaurants that display a particular ethnic character. Restaurants and entertainment centers that are traditionally bound to preserve a specific type of food or music, are abundant in Chicago because everyone wants to perpetuate his own cultural history.

The Continental though occupies a somewhat different spot. It is known for its ethnic variety, offering the soul of music of the European Continent. Its international musical review travels thru Germany, Russia, Spain, the Balkan, Israel, even the Broadway Stage.

The Continental's place in the community is the preservation of ethnic character, represented by the music of all people. The perpetuation of that music guarantees us the retention of our identity as individuals who have come from different parts of the world to make up the great blend that is uniquely American.

Attuned to the changes and preferences of our audiences, the Continental expands, revises and varies its musical review on a regular basis. Currently in rehearsal, the new show will be expanded to include folk dancing (Kolo, Hora, Sirtaki), strolling musicians, duets from popular musicians, operetta's and more, plus featured entertainers from the German, Irish, Hispanic, Italian, Greek, Jewish, Russian, etc., communities.

However the show may change or expand, Continental patrons can always rely on enjoying the music and stories by Eddy Patay, Lyric Baritone with songs from all over the world, the Continental Trio with its lively dance music, and soft dinner music to complement your meal and conversation.

Though the menu represents that of many other restaurants, it has an individuality of its own, and therefore is pleasantly different. For instance, Sherman Kaplan in his restaurant review said we have the best Cevapcici he has ever tasted.

With a seating capacity of just over 200, a convenient location, and a fenced in parking lot, our establishment has played host to many social organizations, corporate parties, fund raisers, weddings, bar mitzvah's plus other various private functions. The Continental is available Tuesday thru Sunday. It is a great place, where you can walk away with a smile and a handshake that says, "I promise to come back," and "I can't wait to tell my friends about it."

The number to call for reservations, information on private parties or just an evening out is 878-7077.

Fluky's celebrates Hot Dog Month

Franks for the Memories, Fluky's! Over the past two years Fluky's has given Chicago a memorable Frank month by awarding thousands of hot dogs with all the trimmings to customers that proved they were a "Frank" in one way or another with proper identification.

In keeping with the nostalgia of "Franks for the Memories," you can take advantage of this "frank and honest offer" again this year! Simply prove that you are indeed a "Frank" - first, middle, or last name Frank, Francis, or Frances; live on Frank St., or in Franklin Park, etc. - any combination will do - and Fluky's will gladly hand over a complimentary Chicago-style (Frank) hot dog during the month of July at any Fluky's location. Visit Fluky's at 8821 N. Western Ave. in Chicago, 3061 Dundee Rd. in Northbrook, IL or the newest restaurant at 9645 N. Milwaukee Rd. in Niles, IL.

Instituted by the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council, National Hot Dog Month was established to inform the public of the new and varied ways to prepare hot dogs and to call attention to the nutritious content of the product.

Now, ten years later, Tucker is a more accomplished performer than ever. Her performance has been featured on numerous specials for Home Box Office and Showtime.

Tucker's new album "Changes," brings her into yet another phase of her career. Singing with confidence and warmth, she bridges country and pop music. Her current hit "It's Only Over For You" continues to rise up the charts.

Tickets can be purchased at the Rialto Ticket Office, 102 N. Chicago St., Joliet, IL 60434, (815) 726-6600. Ticket office hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mon.-Fri. and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sat. Tickets are $18.75 and all seating is reserved. Tickets are also available through Ticketmaster 902-1500.

Maine Township Bicentennial Freedom Fest

Free concerts by The Glenn Miller Orchestra and Kingston Trio will be among the top attractions at a gala four-day Freedom Fest to be held in Maine Township Labor Day Weekend to celebrate the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution.

The Fest will feature free concerts daily by headline groups on the "Maine Stage" and continuous entertainment in the Beer Garden and the Big Tent highlighting America's musical heritage.

Other family attractions include a giant 50-ride carnival, kiddie rides, spectacular fireworks displays, balloon rides, food, and an arts and crafts fair.

Maine Township has been designated an official Bicentennial Community, and the Fest is one of several events sponsored by the Maine Township Commission for the Constitution Bicentennial.

The Freedom Fest will be held from Thurs., Sept. 3, through Sunday, Sept. 6, on 110-acres at Maryville Academy, Des Plaines. Admission to the grounds and entertainment is free.

Special attractions also include a Children's Stage featuring puppets, singers, story tellers and naturalists who will bring history to life with performances centered on patriotic themes.

Visitors will have an opportunity to add their signatures to a replica of the Constitution and view a special Constitution exhibit.

Americana buffs can browse and buy at "American Potpourri"—an arts and crafts fair, bringing together the best area artisans to display their works.

And, "A Taste of America" will provide guests with an edible

feast served up by local restaurants at nominal prices.

The Fest is intended to provide an accessible, affordable way for the entire community to join together to pay tribute to the Constitution and the American values it preserves and protects, according to Freedom Fest co-chairmen Mike Albrecht and Sue Neuschel.

OCC runners in National Marathon

The National Junior College Marathon Championships will be held on June 20 in Dowagiac, Michigan beginning at 8:05 a.m. Coach Patrick Savage will again be entering his college athletes in this prestigious race.

Oakton will be represented by Brenda O'Connor (Maine South) and Boyd Seghers (New Trier). Brenda O'Connor has been tearing up the roads in local races as she has been winning and placing in the Oak Lawn Rotary Five Mile, the Michelle Meier Memorial 10K, the Elgin Fox Trot 10 Mile, The Gargoyles Gallop 10K and the La Ra Bida Hospital 10K.

Coach Savage predicts that both runners will run somewhere around 3 hours and 16 minutes. If the weather is not too hot, they will probably run faster. The marathon travels thru the town of Dowagiac and circles the Sisters' Lakes just outside town and then finishes up in downtown Dowagiac. Oakton has been sending a team to the NJCAA Marathon since 1977. Since 1981 Oakton has placed among the top ten teams in five of those years.

board for 20 years of service to the library. Receiving watches as well as thanks were Lee Biga, Anne Hoglund and Virginia Zymar.

In keeping with the recommendations of library administrator D.J. McKenzie, board members approved a revision in the salary schedule, request for a subscription to a book, indexing system, purchase of additional computer terminals and $375 for a three-day training of an executive secretary when one is hired.

The most costly recommendation is the book indexing system designed to be used with an IBM computer. It will cost about $4,162 each for five years and the library will hold title to the equipment by the sixth year. "We are doing this a year at a time," said McKenzie.

The system is designed to help patrons quickly find magazine articles.

Two additional computer terminals will cost $650 each, said McKenzie. In regard to McKenzie's search for an executive secretary, he said the $10,000 salary offered by the Niles library was considered low by both the Illinois Security Commission as well as a private job service. Both considered the salary should be about $15,000 for someone "out of high school," McKenzie said a reference librarian with a master's degree is earning $15,000 at the Niles library. Any salary increase by 50 percent would create "major" staff problems, he said.

A $400 cash advance was authorized for each staff member or trustee attending the annual convention of the American Library Assn.

In a statement to the board, member Robert Quattrochi estimated that library participation in the Niles Days event would cost about $550 for distribution of folders and balloons and salaries for driving the bookmobile. "This gives us a chance to go out into the public," said Quattrochi.

Library sets new committee chairpeople

Five standing board committees for the Niles Public Library District will be reduced to four and may be renamed or assigned new duties, according to action approved by the library board at a regular meeting Wednesday, June 10.

New committees and their chairmen will be: Physical Plant, Myles Dimand; Finance, Charlene Wagner; Personnel and Policy, Irene Costello and Employee Management, board president Terri Carman.

According to Board President Terri Carman, both finance and employee-management committees will probably retain the same duties as before.

Carman said the physical plant committee will be similar to that for building and sites and have to do with maintenance of both the library's interior and exterior.

She said library matters regarding policy, or library by-laws, insurance, planning and development and salary schedules will be combined under the Personnel-Policy Committee.

The staff's channel for grievances' Employee-Management Committee, will remain unchanged. However, the committee seldom, if ever, meets, said Carman.

Committees for Development and Planning, Insurance and Legislation were abolished.

Former standing committees were Policy Manual, Insurance, Employee Management, Legislative and Planning and Development. In the past, ad hoc committees were established for various purposes ranging from passing a referendum to parking lot development. Ad hoc committees will continue to be established.

The Niles Library serves patrons in Niles and unincorporated Maine Township.

year. Bowen has been manager for 22 years and intended to work two more years until he retired at 66 years old. When first year superintendent Eidon Gleichman re-classified jobs at the administrative level, he eliminated Bowen's and Kolvek's jobs. And while there was a similar job title as business manager which Bowen could have applied for, he declined; he said if the superintendent desired Bowen fulfill the job he would have asked him.

A Skokie newspaper wrote an editorial criticizing the manner in which these people were dismissed.

The Bugle tried to elicit information from board members why they would accept Bowen's dismissal before his retirement. Board members insisted the matter was a closed door subject and they could not discuss the dismissal. They did say they felt they hired the new superintendent and felt obligated to support his recommendations. They did so unanimously.

One board member told us the newspapers sensationalized the matter and implied the newspapers were irresponsible in their handling of the story. But, in lieu of the lack of information the newspapers received from the school board, the board member's criticism becomes diluted.

Our instincts tell us there is more to the story than has been published. Board mem-

...A smell of smoke was reported in the Lawrencewood shopping center on June 5. The cause was traced to previous burning of plastic material that had not dissipated in the air. A check of the area for fire hazard proved negative.

...A fire alarm system malfunctioned on June 5 at King Nissan, 5757 Touhy Ave.

...On June 6, firefighters responded to 8431 Olcott on a report of an odor in the building. The cause was traced to the use of insecticide spray by the occupant. Doors and windows were opened to dispell the odor.

...A fire alarm activated on June 8 at Wilson Jones, 6150 East in Skokie, and construction of a shopping mall. "We want a blending of architecture for the municipal facilities, shopping center and other facilities to present an aesthetic appearance," he said, adding a land planer will probably be hired to give input on the project.

...On June 8 firefighters responded to 7544 Oakton where a fire on a back porch was already extinguished by the occupant. There was no damage estimate and a check showed there was no fire extension.

...Firemen on June 8 received a report three small children had locked themselves in a bathroom at 8927 Washington. An axe was used to pry the door jamb and door to release the children. The door jamb was replaced to its original condition and there was no damage.

...A fire alarm activated in the Golf Mill Professional Building on June 9. The cause was traced to a maintenance man working on the alarm system.

...Firemen extinguished fires in two dumpsters on the east and north side of So-Fro Fabrics Store, 8474 Harrison on June 11.

value of the property could be determined by a trial jury.

Troy said village arguments are based on "facts" that Lawrencewood is a "shambles" and owners have not been able to redevelop the center. "It's a place that is blighted and a detriment to the community. No one can argue the village should stand by and be powerless to do something about the problem. It would not make sense," he said.

Angelo Marcheschi, village trustee, said Monday that village officials are anxious to begin developing Lawrencewood. "We would like to see the center back on its feet by turning it into an attractive complex."

The village would redevelop the entire center, Marcheschi said. Future plans include turning the existing theater into a cultural center similar to Centre Touhy. And construction of a shopping mall. "We want a blending of architecture for the municipal facilities, shopping center and other facilities to present an aesthetic appearance," he said, adding a land planer will probably be hired to give input on the project.

...As president of the library board, I will meet with Mayor Blase and will see if the village can support us in the future," said Carman.

Board member Irene Costello said, Terri and Bob will "explore the possibilities of whether there is a source of help from the village."

"We have absolutely no idea of what that help would consist of" but she cited an urgent need for concrete steps to be built from the lot to the library so that a resurfaced lot would become more "useable," she said.

The lot, a former Shell station, was purchased by the library last year for $250,000 with $100,000 of that amount donated by the Village of Niles.

The Niles Library District serves Niles and unincorporated Maine Township.
