Firemen guard downed power line for seven hours

During Friday's severe thunderstorm, Niles firefighters had to battle the problem of trying to prevent a power line from a downed and burning transformer from sparking at a residential area.

According to a report from the department, the fire was caused by lightning and a nearby transformer. The transformer caught fire and the fire spread to the power line, which was carrying power to homes in the area.

The firemen worked for seven hours to extinguish the fire and prevent any further damage to homes and property.

26 year old man drowns in basement

The raging thunderstorm Friday caused the death of a Niles man when he fell into the basement of his home and drowned in the basement sump pit.

The man, a 26-year-old resident of the home, was found unresponsive in the sump pit by his family members, who called for help. Firefighters arrived on the scene and attempted to resuscitate the man, but he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The basement sump pit was located in the basement of the house, and the man had been working on the basement floor when he fell into the pit.

Record deluge brings halt to Bugleland

Niles police and firemen aid residents during rainfall

The record rain last Friday in Niles, Illinois, caught many residents by surprise. The heavy rainfall caused widespread flooding and damage throughout the area.

Niles police and firemen were called to assist residents in evacuation and rescue efforts. Many homes were flooded, and some were damaged beyond repair.

Residents were urged to stay safe and avoid areas with standing water.

From the Left Hand

Rain was falling in Niles as the police and firemen worked to help residents affected by the heavy rainfall. Many homes and businesses were flooded, and the streets were impassable in some areas.

The Niles Public Works Department was hard at work clearing the streets and cleaning up the debris left by the rain.

The rain caused many problems throughout the area, including flooding, power outages, and traffic disruptions.

Horse drowns in deep waters

A horse, named "Sticky," drowned in a pond near a Niles Street after being swept away by the heavy rain. The horse was able to swim to the shore, but was unable to climb out of the pond and was later found dead.

The pond was located near a Niles Street and was filled with water from the heavy rain.

"Lake Dempster" creates havoc

The record rain last Friday in Niles, Illinois, caused widespread flooding and damage throughout the area. Many homes and businesses were flooded, and the streets were impassable in some areas.

The rain caused many problems throughout the area, including flooding, power outages, and traffic disruptions.

Retirement Home

The "Stone Circle" retirement home in Niles, Illinois, was heavily flooded by the record rain last Friday. The home was evacuated, and many residents were transported to a nearby hospital.

The home was located near a Niles Street and was flooded by the heavy rain.

District 63 seeks grants for drug control
by Niles Heralder

An $8,000 grant was awarded to District 63 Elementary School District 63 to help fight drug abuse. The grant, funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, will be used to implement a drug prevention program in the schools. The program will target students in grades 5 through 8 and will include educational activities, workshops, and community outreach.

Closing of branch swamps main library

McKenzie cites need for personnel, higher salaries

A branch library in Maine Township is scheduled to close due to a lack of personnel and funding. District 63 Superintendent McKenzie cited the need for additional staff and higher salaries in order to attract and retain qualified employees. The closure of the branch will affect library services in the area and may necessitate the consolidation of other services.

Skin cancer: the facts

Skin cancer is the most common cancer in the United States. It is a disease of our skin and can affect people of any age. Skin cancer is a major public health concern and can be caused by exposure to the sun. It is important to understand the facts about skin cancer to prevent it and treat it effectively.

Melanoma, the most severe form of skin cancer, is responsible for most skin cancer deaths. Melanoma is a type of skin cancer that begins in the cells that make melanin, the pigment that gives skin its color. Melanoma can spread from the skin to other parts of the body and can be fatal if not treated properly.

Skin cancer can be caused by exposure to the sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays. Sunburn is a sign that the skin has been exposed to too much UV light. Frequent sunburns, especially in childhood, can increase the risk of developing skin cancer.

To prevent skin cancer, it is important to use sunscreen with a broad spectrum of protection and a high sun protection factor (SPF). Sunscreen should be applied to all exposed skin and reapplied every two hours or after swimming or sweating.

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent一篇文章 that addresses the issue of nuclear power plant decommissioning.

In recent articles, I have noticed that there is a tendency to oversimplify the complex process of decommissioning a nuclear power plant. It is not as straightforward as simply turning off the lights and sending the workers home. The process involves a series of steps that are both technologically and environmentally challenging.

Moreover, the financial implications of decommissioning cannot be ignored. The costs associated with this process are substantial, and they often extend far beyond the initial decommissioning phase. These costs are not always adequately factored into the decision-making process.

I believe that it is crucial that we have a more thorough and detailed understanding of the decommissioning process. This would help ensure that we are making informed decisions about the future of our nuclear power plants.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Why do you pay more for summer electricity than winter electricity?

We don't think you should! Fortunately, since 1979 the Illinois Commerce Commission has done something.

That's when the ICC mandated that summer electric rates be set significantly higher than winter rates. In fact, summer rates are now 95% higher than they are in the other eight months of the year. It was hoped that the higher rates would encourage electrical demand on peak air conditioning days, and, over time, reduce the need for additional power plants. Postponing such construction would, it was thought, save money for consumers.

It hasn't worked. Last year, during the summer months, the state's demand for electricity was at record levels.

Thankfully, the Illinois Commerce Commission stepped in last year and, after full and fair hearings, cut rates on the worst day of the summer. The commission ordered that summer rates be cut by at least 25%.

The house was filled with smoke and heat, but the family was able to escape through the garage. McKenzie, the mother of two, said she was in the kitchen when she smelled something burning. She called 911 and woke her children. They all exited the house safely.

According to the fire department, the fire started in the garage and spread to the kitchen and living room. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

Niles police...

Police are searching for a suspect who broke into a home in the 400 block of North Street last night. The suspect entered the house through the kitchen window and stole $1,000 in cash and jewelry. The investigation is ongoing.

Chamber Village ball game benefits Niles West Band

The Chamber Village Community members pitched in to help pay for the new band uniforms at Niles West High School. The Chamber is a nonprofit organization that promotes commerce and industry in the community.

McKenzie...

McKenzie, a long-time resident of Niles, spent her childhood in the village. She has been active in the community for many years, serving on several boards and committees. McKenzie said she is looking forward to the upcoming season and hopes the band will have a great year.

From the Left Head...

The Niles Public Works Department has been working tirelessly to keep the streets and sidewalks clear of debris. The department logged 300 hours of work over the past month, and they plan to continue their efforts throughout the summer.

Niles Public Works...

The Niles Public Works Department has been working on a project to improve the city's stormwater management system. The project involves the installation of new storm drains and the expansion of existing ones. The department has already completed 90% of the work, and they expect to finish the project by the end of the year.

Power line...

Residents in the area surrounding the new power line have been concerned about the potential health effects of the installation. The village has assured the public that the line will be safely installed and monitored to ensure its safety.

Record deluge...

The village has been hit by a series of heavy rainstorms in recent weeks. The public has been urged to be cautious and avoid driving in flooded areas. The village has already received 15 inches of rain, and the forecast predicts more rain in the coming days.

Niles library...

The Niles Public Library will be hosting a series of events for children this summer. The events will include story hours, summer reading programs, and craft workshops. The library will also be offering free Wi-Fi and access to digital resources.

Fire calls...

There have been several fire calls in Niles in recent weeks. The village has urged residents to be cautious and avoid smoking near dry grass or leaves. The fire department has also asked residents to check their smoke detectors and make sure they are working properly.
