Off-duty Niles officer captures strong arm robber

Niles police officer Geoff Wilson, who seems to have a penchant for being in the wrong place at the right time, chased and captured a 23 year old man after a CTA train robbery two weeks ago.

Wilson was returning from a business trip in the Loop with Henry and Anna Gagne of Niles and was seated directly in front of Mrs. Gagne. When the crowded train pulled into the station at Ashland and Division, the man standing alongside Mrs. Gagne's seat reached down and pulled the gold chain and medallion she was wearing with a jerk hard enough to break it. He then ran out the door of the stopped train. Mrs. Gagne

PARK LEGACY...

It was old home week at the recent Niles park district board meeting when three board members turned up to say adieu to Dan Kosiba who resigned for a move out of the district.

Jack Leske, Steve Chamerski and Louella Preston (now a village trustee) lauded Dan for his 11 years of dedicated service on the board. In turn, Dan told the former commissioners their accomplishments in "getting things done" had been a big influence in serving the best interests of the district during his tenure on the board.

In a look back, Louella Preston was appointed to the board in 1978 following the resignation of Millie Jones. Although she served a one-year term, (she was appointed trustee in 1979) Louella was deeply involved in M-NASR activities and expansion of park programming.

Perhaps leaving the biggest legacy to the park district were Jack Leske and Steve Chamerski who sowed the seeds of the fledgling park district in a goal to create the best park system available to serve the needs of residents. The tradition continued with those that followed, including current commissioners...resulting in one of the more viable park districts in the suburban area today.

Leske, who served 17 years on the board (1961-1977) was an aggressive commissioner who was a moving force in acquiring more park land for the district resulting in the 17-park system residents enjoy today.

According to Bill Hughes, the park district was created in 1954

Niles approves AT&T conceptual plan site

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Niles village trustees approved a conceptual site plan for development of a shopping center at the AT&T property at 5555 Touhy Ave.

Approval was subject to an agreement reached with developers to connect Niles water lines to its portion of the retail development, construction of a traffic light with Opticom signal at the developer's expense, and widening the westerly driveway on Touhy from 28 feet to 30 feet.

The board also stipulated there must be compliance with the required five cars per 1,000 square feet of retail space. "There must be a commitment to that before a building permit is issued," said Mayor Nicholas Blase.

The rezoning was sought by AT&T Information Systems Inc., with Skokie Partners Limited Partnership, Trammel Crow Co. and the Skokie-based Taxman Corp as contract purchasers.

The site straddles Skokie and Niles. Hearings must be held in both communities before development can go ahead.

Township studies emergency housing for homeless

Plans for an emergency housing shelter for people who are in financial difficulties or homeless, and use of accessory apartments for senior citizens were topics of discussion at a Clergy Breakfast at the Maine Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge on Tues., Jan. 21.

Present were clergy from Des Plaines, Park Ridge and the unincorporated area of Maine Township together with representatives from Lutheran General Hospital and St. John Brebeuf Church in Niles.

Phil Caroline, director of HASP (Housing and Shelter Program) operating in the northwest suburbs, said there was an urgent need for housing shelters in emergency situations, such as in case of evictions, financial difficulties, etc.

"There are 2,439 homeless throughout Des Plaines, Maine, Wheeling and Barrington Townships," he said. "Welfare assistance is not enough to support those suddenly without funds and the need is there for such housing."

Caroline noted he is in the process of purchasing a five-bedroom residence (under HASP) near the Golf Mill Shopping center. It was used as a foster home for emotionally disturbed children, he said, adding the house will be vacated in the near future.

Hope to alleviate future flooding problems

Local communities unite on flood control study

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Niles officials will work with Des Plaines, Park Ridge, and unincorporated Maine Township on a flood control study designed for Prairie Creek and Farmer's Creek in efforts to alleviate flooding problems in the future.

According to Keith Peck, Niles director of public services, the study will determine problems along the waterways that traverse the four communities and discuss ways to resolve them. "We want to come up with plans to use as a guideline for flood control," he said.

Peck noted Des Plaines and Park Ridge suffered heavy damage from flooding in 1986 and again last August. Although Niles did not suffer extensive damage, the village is looking to the future. "We have to identify the problems in order to deal with them," he explained.

Prairie Creek, located near the northwest corner of Ballard and Greenwood, receives storm water from the Golf Mill shopping center, and the surrounding area. Its tributaries flow through the unincorporated area of Maine Township, and the two municipalities, eventually joining Farmer's Creek in Des Plaines to the Tri-State tollway project.

He went on to say he is waiting for information on what the cost of the expanded study will be to Niles which will then go to the village board for approval of the project.

Des Plaines already had hired an engineering firm to conduct a study on its portion (mostly Farmer's Creek) which will cost an estimated $16,700. Niles, Park Ridge and unincorporated Maine Township subsequently reached an intergovernmental agreement with Des Plaines to "piggyback" into the study, according to Peck.

Someone maliciously pulled the box alarm on the 8th floor of the Golf Mill Professional Building on Jan. 15. A check showed no fire hazard.

On Jan. 16, Niles firemen assisted the North Maine Fire Department extinguish a fire at 8709 David Pl. in unincorporated Maine Township. The fire was contained to the roof area of the building.

Firefighters on Jan. 18 responded to 6300 Touhy on a report of smoke from a roof air conditioning unit. The cause was traced to normal exhaust smoke from a heating unit on the roof of the building.

Someone maliciously pulled the box alarm at Lakeview Korean Church, 8257 Harrison St. on Jan. 19.

Klafter Residence meetings

The Council for Jewish Elderly is holding information meetings for men and women interested in living in its new Klafter Group Living Residence now under construction at 615 Ridge Avenue, Wilmette. Occupancy is scheduled for late 1988.

Group living is a kind of retirement living that gives senior citizens a family-like setting where they can participate in a life of a home. At the same time, they keep their privacy and independence and continue lifelong interests. Pioneered in the United States by the Council for Jewish Elderly, group living is a good living arrangement for men and women who want to give up the day-to-day chores of running a house or apartment and do not want to live alone.

People interested in learning more about the Council for Jewish Elderly's Klafter Group Living Residence, are encouraged to call the CJE Intake Department at 570-7000. There they will learn more about the Klafter facility and will be invited to an information meeting.

The Klafter Group Living Residence is being built by the Jewish Federation Facilities Corporation and is operated by the Council for Jewish Elderly, both affiliates of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago. Construction was made possible through a gift from the estate of Herman and Gertrude Klafter.

The Klafter facility is a red brick two-story structure designed for 29 residents. Every resident has a private room and bath. Rooms are arranged in suites around living rooms. Furnishings are attractive and designed with special attention to the special needs of older people for comfort and easy use.

The structure surrounds an airy, sky-lit interior courtyard, making it possible for residents to enjoy the out-of-doors in all kinds of weather. Features include elevators, an attractive dining room, greenhouse and outside deck.

Services include all meals with lunch and dinner served in the dining room. Housekeeping service is provided. Caring and trained staff members are on the premises and available to residents at all times. One of the CJE "Shalom" buses will be assigned to the Klafter Group Living Residence.

There will be a full activity schedule at Klafter and residents participate in the planning of social, cultural, artistic and educational activities. Residents are encouraged to keep up friendships and lifelong interests, as they would in their own homes.

Residents of Klafter must be aged 62 and over and be able to take care of their personal needs. They should be interested in participating in family-like lifestyle and the activity program. It is ideal retirement for men and women who do not wish to live in a totally independent fashion but do not need institutional care.

Architects for the Klafter Group Living Residence are Philip Kupritz and Associates.

Mary O'Hara in concert at St. Scholastica

Feel the magic of well-loved singer and harpist Mary O'Hara as she mesmerizes you with her unforgettable music. In February it is our good fortune to have Mary making herself at home again in Chicago for a single performance on February 20, 1988.

Mary O'Hara, a major star on stage and TV in the United Kingdom, brings her Celtic music on international tour. What millions have enjoyed on her 21 albums captures the hearts of music lovers who come to be charmed by her traditional Irish melodies, popular, and inspirational songs.

Mary O'Hara's autobiography, The Scents of the Roses, is a perennial best-seller now in its ninth printing. It tells of her tragic yet inspirational life story—an early widowhood, followed by 12 years in an English monastery and then a triumphant return to the performing life. Mary was born in the rural town of Sligo, Ireland, and now lives in a 17th century thatched cottage in England's Berkshire district. She resumed her career in 1977.

There is a freshness and honesty to a Mary O'Hara performance

that audiences find irresistible. Mary prefers not to be classified as a "folk singer." She goes far beyond any label choosing her material from the intricate art and traditional songs of Ireland to well-known songs of both popular and inspirational bent. An accomplished story-teller, her stores add yet another dimension to her programs. The February 20 concert will be held at St. Scholastica High School, 7416 N. Ridge, Chicago, IL at 8 P.M. Tickets are available through the school or Ticketron. Concert ticket price is $15. Mary O'Hara's records, books, and tapes will be available for purchase at the concert.

Domino's Preservation Grant awarded to Unity Temple

On Friday, Feb. 5, at a special awards luncheon, Thomas S. Monaghan, president and founder of Domino's Pizza, Inc., will present the first annual Domino's Pizza Preservation Grant to the Unity Temple Restoration Foundation, in Oak Park, Illinois. This grant represents Domino's Pizza ongoing commitment to the preservation of Wright's historic architecture.

Unity Temple, the sole surviving public building from Frank Lloyd Wright's Prairie period, was built in 1906 to house the Unitarian Universalist congregation and is still used for that purpose.

The Domino's Pizza Preservation Grant of $20,000, and matching funds, are designated to restore the coffered skylight windows of the temple.

A devotee of Wright since the age of 12, Monaghan has established the National Center for the Study of Frank Lloyd Wright at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The center includes a collection of more than 300 of Frank Lloyd Wright's decorative designs, an extensive archives, and the Domino's Pizza Preservation Program. In addition, Domino's Pizza owns two of Wright's buildings: the Snowflake House (Plymouth, Mich., 1941) and the Usonian Exhibition House built in 1955 on the grounds of New York Guggenheim Museum, which will be reconstructed at Domino's Farms.

FATS, OILS, CHOLESTEROL AND HEART DISEASE

The average American's diet is rich in saturated fats and oils. These account for 40 percent of the daily caloric intake. Medical research has established a direct linkage between the consumption of saturated fats and oils and the incidence of heart attacks. Studies have shown these fats and oils are metabolized by the body into cholesterol which can deposit on the inner walls of arteries and restrict the blood flow. When saturated oils were substituted in the diet, the incidence of heart attacks dramatically decreased since these oils do not produce cholesterol. The American Heart Association and nutritionists recommend we reduce our fat intake to 20 percent of total calories and use unsaturated oils instead.

Fats and oils are similar chemical compounds and on a pound-for-pound basis have the same caloric value. A fat is an oil that is solid at room temperature. Saturated fats that we consume are beef fat, lard, and butter. Desirable unsaturated oils are corn, soybean, peanut, and olive; olive oil is especially recommended. Many foods such as eggs contain cholesterol and are shunned because of fears that this cholesterol will go straight from the mouth to the arteries. No evidence exists to show this occurs. The presence of cholesterol in a food item simply indicates the food contains an animal fat since all animal fats contain cholesterol.

Oils obtained from plant and tree sources have no cholesterol, but this doesn't mean all of them should be eaten. Palm and coconut oils are saturated oils, free of cholesterol. When consumed, they produce cholesterol in the body just like beef fat or butter. Their presence in bakery goods is often disguised by the term "vegetable oils". Read product labels carefully and avoid those items that don't identify the fats and oils present. If an item carries the statement, "It's better with butter", it ain't necessarily so.

WINES

Nothing brings out snobbery and one-upmanship faster than the buying, serving, and drinking of wines. "What," you may ask, "is the difference between a $40 bottle of imported wine and a $4, +litter jug?" Actually, almost nothing! I'm not kidding. All wines, regardless of origin, are water solutions of alcohol a little sugar and tartaric acid, and teeny amounts of flavoring agents called congeners (kon-jen-er). The presence of these congeners gives each wine its characteristic taste, aroma, and color. Their concentrations are measured in parts per million. These flavorants determine a wine's price and appeal. Taste is unaffected by the alcohol content.

Congeners are produced while the grape is growing and when its juice is fermented. In the case of red wines, additional congeners are extracted from the crushed skins that are soaked in juice prior to fermentation. The aging process removes compounds which give wine an unpleasant taste. Vintners try to control product consistency by careful selection of the grape genes, methods of cultivation, and the utilization of scientific fermentation and aging processes. What wine should you choose and buy? Why, the one that suits your taste buds and pocketbook.

THE GREAT CELESTIAL RIFFOFF

As each Christmas season approaches, we are offered the opportunity to give our loved ones a gift that will insure their immortality. Radio stations carried commercials for a company that would register a star in your name. Their ads stated that for $35, you would get a distant star named for a person of your choice. You then received a handsome certificate indicating a star at a give location now bore the name of the person selected, in perpetuity. You also got an astronomical pamphlet and a star map.

The only organizations entitled to name celestial objects are the legitimate astronomical and astrophysical societies. They name stars, comets, etc. either for the discoverer or assign a number-letter designation. No star registry company is affiliated with any of these legitimate societies and is not recognized by them. It is merely an office that takes in your money and sends in return a worthless piece of paper. I wouldn't be surprised if next season they had bargain basement sales on black holes. Perhaps you may be able to name one for $50 or three for $100.

Computer Catalog Classes

If you can brave the cold, the Niles Public Library is still conducting monthly Computer Catalog Classes. February classes are scheduled for February 2 at 7:30 p.m. and February 5 and 6 at 10:30 a.m. The classes introduce library users to the automated computer catalog and how it works. A reference librarian will demonstrate how to search the catalog for materials you are interested in finding. Searching can be done by selecting title, author or subject headings. Class participants are given the opportunity to practice what they've learned under the watchful eye of a persistent staff member. Remember, the Library has been automated for over two years. It still houses the "old card and drawers" catalog, but nothing new has been filed into it for 2+ years. The Library continues to buy new and exciting materials, best sellers, "who done it's", current topics etc... These materials can be found only in the computer catalog. Classes normally last 1 to 1 1/2 hours and are offered free of charge to interested users. Anyone may register by calling 987-8554 and asking for the Reference Desk.

Oakton receives donation from Chicago law firm

The law firm of Ance, Glink, Diamond, Murphy and Cope, P.C., (Chicago), has donated $5,000 to the Oakton Community College Educational Foundation. Part of the money will be used to cover the cost of the Chicago Bar Association's Christmas Spirits Revue dinner. The benefit performance, sponsored by the Foundation, will be held at 7 PM Saturday, Feb. 6 in the Performing Arts Center, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines.

Oakton President Thomas TenHoeve said that the donation demonstrates a true sense of community interaction and support for special events not funded through traditional resources. As federal funding continues to decline, Oakton must depend more and more on other sources to maintain excellent programs, said Marilyn Appelson, director of College Development and administrative liaison for the Foundation.

"We are extremely grateful to the law firm for their generous contribution which will not only reduce the Foundation's expenses for the benefit performance but also increase the amount of money raised to support education," Appelson said. "The event will provide a unique learning experience for Oakton's performing arts students. They will actively participate in the staging of the production, and will also serve as ushers."

through. A car driving westbound on Harts Rd. attempted to turn on Milwaukee and struck the offender's car which forced it into the car beside him. Both vehicles came to a stop on the sidewalk.

While investigating the incident, police observed the offender remain seated in his car and upon request, the subject opened the door and fell to the pavement. Police detected an odor of alcohol on his breath and his eyes appeared glassy and bloodshot.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Here's a fact that's hard to believe. A man once played for one pro football team while at the same time, in the same season, he coached another pro football team. This little-known fact happened in 1961 when place-kicker Ben Agajanian played for San Diego of the American Football League on Sundays—and during the week he coached the place-kickers for Green Bay in the National Football League. . . . Strange, but true.

Oddly enough, the man who invented basketball, Dr. James Naismith, never got one penny for his invention even though basketball takes in millions of dollars every year.

Here's a Super Bowl oddity. . . . The man who holds the honor of scoring the very first touchdown in Super Bowl history—Max McGee—was not even supposed to play in that first Super Bowl game, in 1967. . . . But Boyd Dowler's injury put McGee into the game, and he immediately caught a 37-yard pass from Bart Starr for the historic touchdown.

Oakton student spreads cheer for cagers

Don't tell Robin Williams that community college students aren't supposed to have school spirit.

Community college sports usually don't generate the student and crowd support often seen at the high school and four-year college level, but that hasn't deterred the Oakton Community College sophomore's dedication that has made her somewhat of a "Superwoman" when it comes to backing the Raider basketball team.

Williams, a 1985 Maine West graduate, is at every Oakton basketball game, leading cheers as captain of the Raider cheerleaders. However, when halftime nears Williams ducks into a nearby locker room, where she changes into the uniform of Oakton's pom squad, of which she also is a member. After the halftime pom routine is complete Williams once again puts on her cheerleading uniform and returns for the second half of the game.

Annamarie Tzakis, an Oakton student who is captain of the Raider pom squad, says Williams has been nothing but a pleasure to have around as a squad member.

"Robin is extremely dedicated, and she's always willing to work extra hard to make sure everything we do is as good as it can be." Tzakis says. "She's also a great person. I didn't know her before we both got involved in pom, but she's become one of my closest friends. She's a lot of fun to be around, and she's also very caring. Pom may be over when the basketball season ends, but Robin is a year-round friend."

Earned points will be combined with the team basketball standings and add up to the Mundelein Invitational Grand Champion.

Mite House League

The Blues exploded with 4 first period goals and went on to route the Hawks by a final score of 5 to 1 in the first game of the newly designed Mite House League.

A bright spot for the Hawks came in the second period when Geno Ori scored a nice goal off a fine pass from teammate Kevin Swialka. Though the Hawks played well in the second and third period they were unable to recover from their very shaky start.

Russell Duszak playing the finest game of his short career, rifled home 3 first period goals for his first hat trick, assisted on teammate Nicky Hynes second period goal and then closed out the scoring with his 4 goal of the game in the third period, an unassisted marker.

Letters to the Editor

Hit and run driver also has burden to carry

Dear Editor:
Last weekend Steven McKay, a sophomore at Notre Dame High School, was struck and killed by a hit and run driver. Although I didn't know Steven, I feel compelled to write about the impact his death has had on me and others. Part of this compulsion stems from the fact that Steven and my oldest son had several things in common. They were about the same age, the same height, the same weight, the same hair color; attended the same school and shared a love for football.

Another reason is that his death has stirred up memories of others I have known who have lost a child in a similar fashion. Losing a child in such a fashion has devastating results. When I was nine years old, my Uncle Joe, whose twelve year old daughter was struck and killed, would offer to pay my sister and me a dollar if only we'd give him a kiss and hug "like Linda did". When another relative's eighteen year old daughter died, her parents refused to change anything in her room. And I still can picture a family friend whose eight year old boy was struck and killed, buried his head in his hands and cry, "I want my son back!" But more importantly, as of this writing, the driver who struck and killed Steven McKay has not come forward. It is to this person I am appealing. Last weekend Steven's parents received the phone call all parents dread - the one that informs them that their child has been killed. All parents worry about their children and their safety. We try and teach the all the safety rules about streets and "Mr. Stranger Danger." We hold their hands for as long as possible and then, the teenage years come and we are forced to let go. We know that Life can sometimes be cruel, but we hope and pray that it isn't with us. We have dreams for our children, and we hope that these dreams will be fulfilled. But for the McKays, the worse has happened - their son died suddenly. As a parent myself, I can imagine their grief, frustration, and anger. A lingering thought that would haunt me forever would be, "If someone had stopped and helped, would he be alive today?" Last Monday, the student body of Notre Dame High School heard of their own had been killed. Then news, received during semester exams, shocked and frightened the students. No longer did the young ladies include only the dread of exams, the pride in the Conference-winning Sophomore Football team, the excitement of class elections and dances, and the humor of a practical joke between friends. Now they realize that Death does not discriminate on the basis of age. They are also aware of the void it creates when it strikes. And yet, there is still another person who is hurting at this time - the driver of the vehicle which struck Steven. The circumstances of the accident can range anywhere from a driver who was under the influence of drugs and alcohol to a driver who momentarily looked away from the road, perhaps just to check his speed or to adjust the radio. Whatever caused the accident may be significant, but it is not as important as the fact that someone out there someone has a tremendous burden to carry. Not only is he responsible for a fatal accident, but now the vehicle which probably was once a source of pride has now become a constant reminder of the events of that night. I hope and pray that this person finds the strength of character to come forward and take responsibility for his action. And I hope that those closest to him responsibly guide and support him in what has got to be a trying time.

Nilesite lauds village for holiday decorations

Dear Editor:
Before the Christmas season leaves us entirely, I would like to take this opportunity to compliment the Village of Niles for the excellent work that was done for the holidays, especially Milwaukee Ave., lighting the streets and trying their best to beautify it. Never before have I seen lights look so beautiful. The first thing people saw coming in from Chicago were the new Niles sign at Albion and Milwaukee - then the terrific beauty of all the lights around the trees and the signs in that vicinity.

Going further north into Niles and reaching Touhy and Milwaukee there was a spectacular sight. The illumination of lights around the area was certainly a sight to see. People on the bus were saying "Why doesn't my village look like this?" Really, Milwaukee and Touhy were standing streets.

Coming further into Niles they came upon Milwaukee and Harlem where they were again greeted to another beautiful sight. The corner was all lit up and in the middle was a great Big Red Snowman, all lit up also. Further north to our Administration building there was a Nativity scene with the animals all around and the trees and shrubbery all lit up. The workers should be complimented on all this beauty - it took a lot of patience and hard work in cold weather to put all this together. Their hard work showed up. Again, I take my hat off to the village of Niles for their efforts in making Milwaukee Ave. look beautiful. I have been a resident of Niles for 33 years and I must say that Niles is really an All American city - where people count. Keep up the good work. NILES is the BEST.

P.S. - Niles snow program doesn't take second place to anyone either.

Sincerely yours,
William Pinasco

The need for a library tax increase

Dear Editor:
The Board of Trustees of the Niles Public Library District has determined the need for a tax increase. In fact, the Trustees asked the voters for a similar increase in November 1986, but were unsuccessful. "We believe that many voters were unaware of the necessity of the tax increase," said Terri Spreckman Carman, President of the Library Board. "Many people told us, following the previous referendum, that they didn't realize the full impact of the issue. They said that they would have voted differently if they had. This is why we are making an all out effort to inform as many people as possible."

"Plain and simple, we have not had a tax increase since 1973," said Myles Dimand, the Board's Vice-President. "We all know what's happened to our personal budgets in the last fifteen years. The same has happened at the library." A study of consumer prices since 1973 shows that a loaf of white bread, which cost $0.28 in 1973, cost $0.63 in 1987. A half-gallon of milk, which was $0.65, is now $1.19. A twelve ounce container of frozen orange juice was $0.51 and now costs $1.30. The average Illinois electric bill was $10.64 and is now $71.02.

Since 1973, the cost of an average hardcover book has risen 217% from $12.20 to $26.49; the cost of the average paperback book has risen 306% from $1.17 to $3.39; the cost of the average magazine subscription has risen 373%, from $14.94 to $55.74; the average library electric bill has risen 380%, $968.75 to $3,688.92; and the average library gas bill has gone up a whopping 417% from $322.91 to $1,348.53.

"We just cannot continue to operate on the same tax rate as we had fifteen years ago," said Charlene Wagner, the Board's Treasurer. "About three years ago we had to cut $50,000 out of the library's budget. That forced the complete shut-down of the library's Extension Services Department which provided specialized services to seniors, nursing homes, day care centers and schools. Last year, when the referendum for a tax increase failed by only 1,415 votes, we had to close the branch library in the state, and it cost us nearly a quarter of a million dollars each year to operate."

A study of the library's expenditures over the past fifteen years shows that for every dollar budgeted in 1973, $0.03 was budgeted for maintenance and repairs. In 1987 that amount was $0.10. Operating expenses took $0.15 of every budget dollar in 1973 and now takes $0.19. Salaries and fringe benefits took $0.50 in 1973 and now take $0.56. Those expenses left $0.32 for books and materials in 1973. In 1987, only $0.15 was available for books and materials.

"It is interesting to note," said Irene Costello, Board Secretary, "that while the medium family income has risen 110%, from $12,902 in 1973 to $27,144 in 1987, the library's budget for salaries has risen only 12%. We clearly have not been able to pay our staff accordingly."

Low staff salaries have long plagued the Niles Library District. Each year the library prepares a salary survey, comparing its salaries with the salaries of neighboring libraries. Each year those surveys show that Niles offers the lowest salaries in the area. For example, a beginning librarian, with a Master's Degree in Library and Information Science, will make $21,072 at the Des Plaines Library. The same librarian, with the same education, will make only $15,000 at the Niles Library.

"Some people have commented that we're not disclosing all of the facts. They know that while it's true that we've had a tax increase since 1973, property values have increased since then and, therefore, we have had more income. Well, we're happy to lay open our books, so to speak. Since 1973, the equalized assessed valuation of property has increased the library's income 136%. But even that has not kept up with inflation."

"Our income may have increased 136% in the past fifteen years, but our costs for books is up as much as 306%, electric bills are up 380% and gas bills are up 417%. We just can't continue," explained Treasurer Wagner. "Our revenues will be declining over the next few years. We know that we will be losing at least $20,000 next year when the Zenith property is annexed by Glenview. Further, the approved reductions in Cook County Business Taxes will reduce our revenues over the next four years. Last year, following the quadrennial reassessment in Maine Township, we lost revenues when that property is annexed by Glenview."

"Voters will have an opportunity to again vote on a library tax increase on March 15, 1988. The library's trustees are asking for a maximum tax rate of .281. The present rate is .150. If the referendum passes, we'll be able to continue our bookmobile service and retain our present hours of operation at the library," said Carman, "If not, we face closing mornings, evenings and Sundays, and these reductions in hours will include the layoff of up to one-third of our staff."

"When we surveyed eight area libraries to see what their tax rate is, we found the highest was .376. We are the lowest at .151. Des Plaines is .182, Morton Grove is .289 and Park Ridge is .338," said Treasurer Wagner.

"We have stripped our budget year after year and can go no further without reducing hours and laying off staff," said Dimand. "We simply must have the tax increase in order to continue to provide quality library service to our residents. We are confident that if the voters fully understand the necessity for the increase, then they'll agree with us that the increase is necessary. We believe the voters want a quality library. And we're going to provide it, but we can only do that with a successful referendum."

Golf Mill 'ing Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

Greeting from GOLF MILL. January and February, usually considered humdrum months, have their own brand of excitement for a certain group-winter sports enthusiasts. GOLF MILL, a place that reflects popular interests, is affected by the defeats and victories in the world of sports.

The agony of defeat has declawed Bears' fans at the mall—the eternal Chicago optimist (Oh well, next year) and the broken-hearted cynic (What's the use anyway?) who is probably repressing the former attitude...The Olympics are drawing closer summoning forth anticipation and patriotism in both diehard sports fans and the broader population.

We stopped at ATHLETES IN MOTION, one of two mall stores where sports is not only a business but a lifestyle. We wanted to find out how the fickle fortunes of sports teams is affecting business.

Terry Flingard, manager and life-long Cub and Bear fan characterized this way, "I'm a diehard Chicago sports fan suffering at the moment." A large part of Terry's job is not only retail sales. He also has to do a lot of sports research. ATHLETES IN MOTION is a gathering place for sports aficionados who habitually stop by to discuss the sports scene. He has to stay on his toes by listening to the games on the store radio and rarely misses reading the sports page to keep up with customers.

We asked Terry if Bears' merchandise sales were dampened by their second non-Super Bowl season in a row. According to Terry, "Bears' items garner about 30 percent of the paraphernalia market. Before Christmas the Bears' name was by far the biggest seller. The most popular item sold in pre-holiday sales was Bears' boxer shorts. After the holidays, Bears' sales dropped slowly and dipped at a faster pace after their demise in the playoffs."

Taking this in stride, Terry will be rooting for the Redskins on Super Bowl Sunday and is looking forward to watching TEAM USA in Olympic hockey and ski jumping. A bright spot on the horizon is the increase in sales in TEAM USA hockey and basketball jerseys. That's the old of sports, though-unpredictable and vacillating.

ATHLETES IN MOTION not only supplies sports scores and opinions. They carry a great line of unique sports accessories, sweats, T-shirts, and jackets bearing college and professional team logos...For great service from local high school athletes and cheerleaders—people who live what they sell—don't fumble and pass by ATHLETES IN MOTION.

FOOTLOCKER, the shoe store with the best known brands in sports shoes, is also run by sports enthusiasts. Their large TV screen offers sports lovers the opportunity to watch the games while shopping. Last visit we spoke with manager John Slettinger, a man who grew up in Detroit where the streets were paved with hockey rinks. We'll bet he'll be following the US hockey team's quest for the gold next month.

This visit we spoke with assistant manager, Charlie Schoen, a native Wisconsinite and Green Bay Packers fan. When we asked him how he felt about the Bears' season, his reaction was different from our local natives. We may have misinterpreted his body language, but with what seemed like a mischievous grin, Charlie told us, "I kind of enjoyed the Bears this year." Could there be some less than totally positive competitive reason for his response?

Charlie, not the heartless sort, offered the Bears some words of advice, "They should get themselves together, start concentrating more on football, and spend less time on endorsements." Charlie's pretty generous for a Packer fan, and if he sticks around this area long enough, he may even get to like the Bears. Miracles do happen.

FOOTLOCKER is carrying hot selling jerseys and sweats featuring insignias of past Olympics. They always carry the best in sport shoes, the brands top athletes wear—Reebok, Adidas, Nike, and Puma. So get over to FOOTLOCKER and save your feet a lot of wear and tear while the rest of your body gets in shape.

Another store featuring a great line of sports related clothing is SEARS. Their NBA series includes sweats, jackets, T-shirts, posters and basketballs endorsed by Michael Jordan. More sports apparel can be found in their sporting goods section with various team logos.

Until next time see you at the mall.

Loyola presents Valentine Ball

Loyola University of Chicago's Department of Alumni Programs will present the university's 35th Annual Valentine Ball on Feb. 13. This gala event will be held in the Drake Hotel's Gold Coast Room, as has been a tradition since the ball's inception in 1954.

According to Jennifer Hoelt, director of alumni programs, Loyola's Valentine Ball provides a unique social outlet for the Tickets for the Valentine Ball may be purchased for $50 each from the Loyola Department of Alumni Programs. Tables of ten also are available.

Post-Polio Clinic to open at Weiss

Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital, 4646 North Marine Drive, an Affiliate of The University of Chicago Hospitals, has established a Post-Polio Clinic for patients with medical problems due to residual effects of the crippling disease. The Clinic will meet at Weiss Hospital at 1 p.m., the first Tuesday of each month, beginning Tuesday, February 2. The new Clinic is anticipated to become a major Midwest referral center, according to Irwin M. Siegel, M.D., a Weiss Hospital specialist in orthopaedic surgery, and an internationally recognized expert in muscular disease who will serve as Director of the Post-Polio Clinic.

"Although the last big polio epidemic was in the middle 1950's, post-polio syndrome first attracted serious medical attention about 5 years ago, and is now of significant interest in scientific and academic circles. About 25 percent of polio victims suffer increasing weakness related to post-polio muscular atrophy. Some people who were previously fully active are now forced to use ambulatory aids, braces or even wheelchairs, and there have been cases of death due to respiratory failure.

The Weiss Hospital Post-Polio Clinic will offer a wide spectrum of evaluation and therapeutic services, including diagnostic physical examination, gait and postural assessment, orthopaedic evaluation and treatment, muscle and nerve biopsy, electrophysiologic and blood chemistry studies, physical therapy and occupational therapy appraisal and treatment, nutritional and dietary consultation, psychological and psychosocial services, bracing and orthotic evaluations, as well as respiratory testing and therapy. In addition to the Clinic services, patients and families may obtain information and assistance through Weiss Hospital's Post-Polio Support Group, established last year.

Suzanne Fritts, Director of Social Work Services at Weiss Hospital, is coordinator of the group. The Weiss Hospital Post-Polio Clinic will work in close collaboration with other facilities in the Chicago area, particularly the Post-Polio Clinic at the University of Chicago Medical Center.

For more information or an appointment, please call the Post-Polio Clinic at 878-8700, Ext. 1800.

Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital marks its 35th anniversary of service in 1988, as one of Chicago's major community teaching hospitals.

Hospitals sign affiliation agreement

Peter Rusin, Executive Director of the John F. Kennedy Medical Center, and Sister Bonaventure, C.R., President of Resurrection Health Care Corporation, have signed an affiliation agreement for the two Chicago Northwest Side hospitals - Resurrection Hospital, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago, and John F. Kennedy Medical Center, 5645 W. Addison St., Chicago.

Resurrection Health Care Corporation and John F. Kennedy Medical Center have signed an affiliation agreement that brings Resurrection Hospital and the JFK Medical Center into the largest healthcare system serving Chicago's Northwest Side and adjacent suburbs. Effective February 1, 1988 pending regulatory approval, the joint effort is intended to enhance the visibility of high quality, affordable medical care to area residents and industry.

Under the new plan, the two facilities and medical staffs will operate independently, but will cooperate in select areas, including some joint purchasing and shared services. The hospitals will be governed by their respective boards of directors with Resurrection Health Care Corporation becoming the parent corporation of both.

Resurrection President, Sister Bonaventure, C. R., and Peter Rusin, executive director of John F. Kennedy Medical Center, say the affiliation is a positive response to recent changes in the healthcare industry, such as reductions in government funding for Medicare and Medicaid programs and the growth of health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and preferred provider organizations (PPOs).

According to Sister Bonaventure and Rusin, the affiliation will effect economies of scale in joint purchasing and cost efficiencies from consolidating some services.

In addition, the combined strengths of the two hospitals provide consumers with the most advanced medical care available, according to Sister Bonaventure. "By pooling resources, we will be able to constantly enhance the scope and quality of medical care offered, including state-of-the-art medical equipment, skilled and knowledgeable experts, new services and new facilities," she stated.

In addition to the two hospitals, the healthcare system currently includes five immediate care centers' Resurrection Nursing Pavilion, Park Ridge, a 298-bed skilled nursing facility; and Resurrection Retirement Community, 7262 W. Peterson, Chicago, with 311 residential apartments expanding to include 160 additional apartments.

Day-to-day operations will remain largely the same at both hospitals under the terms of the new agreement. No significant changes in the work force are anticipated, and physicians will remain on staff at their respective hospitals.

Consumers will continue to receive the same comprehensive range of services currently available at John F. Kennedy Medical Center and Resurrection Hospital. Studies are also under way to share some services that are not presently available at both hospitals. Plans for new services and facilities will be addressed in the coming months.

Stress Management Course

A four-session course on "Creative Stress Management" is being offered by the LifeCenter on the Green, 6145 N. California, at 6:30 pm on Wednesdays from Feb. 3 thru 24.

Donald R. Timm, PhD, manager of the LifeCenter, who has his doctorate in health science and over 20 years experience in the field of health and wellness promotion, and Mary Lou Witz, who is a doctoral candidate in psychology, will conduct the class.

For more information or to register call the LifeCenter, 878-8200, X5661. Registration fee for non-LifeCenter members is $25. The LifeCenter is affiliated with Swedish Covenant Hospital.

LGH free hearing screenings

The Speech Pathology and Audiology Department of Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge, is offering free hearing screenings for adults. The screenings will be given from 1 to 3 p.m. the first Mon. of every month (except holidays), in the Speech Pathology and Audiology

Cragin 1987 record high income for fourth year

—Cragin Federal Savings, Chicago's fourth largest savings and loan association, today reported record net income for 1987 of $36.5 million on gross income of $206 million.

This is a slight increase over 1986, when net income was $36.3 million on gross income of $193.9 million. It is the fourth consecutive year Cragin's net earnings increased.

Reserves, assets and deposits also reached all-time highs as of December 31, 1987. Federal income taxes paid increased from $15.4 million in 1986 to $18.7 million in 1987.

Reserves jumped 33 percent, reaching $149 million by year-end, compared to $112 million at the end of 1986. Cragin has the largest earned surplus (versus paid-in or contributed capital) of any savings and loan in Illinois, said Adams A. Jahns, president and chairman of the board.

Cragin's 9.4 percent ratio of net worth to total savings deposits is one of the highest nationally among savings and loan associations.

At year end, Cragin had assets of $2.06 billion, an 11-percent increase compared to $1.86 billion at the end of 1986. Savings deposits increased 12 percent to $1.58 billion, compared to $1.4 billion a year ago.

"Strong net income in the first and fourth quarters helped us achieve the records set in 1987," Jahns said.

Fourth quarter net income was $10.6 million on a net pre-tax income of $15.2 million. This is a 30-percent increase over 1986 fourth quarter net income of $8.2 million on a net pre-tax income of $11.7 million.

The number of mortgages processed in 1987 also set a Cragin record. Residential mortgages processed were 3,686 compared to 2,823 in 1986, a 30-percent increase. Cragin added loans valued at $39.9 million to the books.

Cragin operates 23 offices with 11 location in Chicago and others in Itasca, Niles, Park Ridge, River Forest, Mt. Prospect, Schaumburg, Wheaton, Glen Ellyn, Carol Stream, Lombard and Warrenville.

to accommodate the growing population in Niles. During its fledgling years, Jonquil, NICO and Grennan Heights Parks were developed, and by the mid-1970's, 17 parks were in existence.

Chamerski was appointed in 1961, won election in 1967 and then was defeated in the 1967 park board elections. He was again elected in 1971 for a six-year term, according to Hughes.

Chamerski, who was also involved in expanding park district boundaries, gained media attention and was profiled in the Saturday Evening Post magazine as a leader in board efforts to acquire the 18-hole Tam O'Shanter Golf Course following the death of property owner George S. May around the mid-1960's.

Attempts were made to condemn the land...coupled with a running battle with a developer who wanted to purchase the site for an industrial complex. An agreement was reached between the two parties in 1966, in which the park district was able to purchase part of the land that was later developed into a nine-hole golf course...Tam golf course.

IN THE NEWS... Henry Shillington, director of United Way of Skokie Valley for 16 years, will resign that position in May. The 82-year-old director, who was a familiar figure wielding a camera at fundraising events, will be missed by friends and volunteers involved in the United Way cause which benefits area agencies, including Niles and Morton Grove. The agencies services the mentally disabled, elderly, youth, and persons in need of counseling.

AROUND THE AREA... Anthony Neva of Niles received the Lt. John Christie Award at the recent Niles Chamber of Commerce dinner held at the Chateau Ritz. Neva was honored for his help in the apprehension of three burglary suspects last November in the Grennan Heights neighborhood. A resident on the block where one of the burglaries took place, Neva contacted police to report a suspicious car parked at a neighbor's home. The tip led to the arrest of the suspects.

About 72 percent of the development would be in Skokie and 28 percent in Niles. A Montgomery Ward and a Jewel store are planned for Niles portion of the property and about seven or eight retail shops. In addition, developers at Tuesday's meeting proposed a junior department store on a portion of the site.

Sy Taxman, president of Taxman Corp, told the board construction would be in phases which would result in having less than the required five cars per 1,000 square feet. "However, we would never have less than 300 square feet during the various stages of construction. There will be compliance when the development is completed," he said.

Taxman noted the total site is 800,000 square feet. The first construction phase, including remodeling of existing structures, would begin this spring and completed for occupancy next spring (1989).

An attorney for residents living adjacent to the site (Carpenter Rd.) objected to the development, saying residents were concerned about traffic impact and other problems connected with such a large shopping center. "It's just too big and may not work financially. There is enough commercial in Niles," he said.

Blase said the board always is open to residents' concerns in zoning matters. "However, Touhy will not be developed as residential. A shopping center makes sense," he said.

In other business, the board approved a request by Marvin Hyman for construction of a Dunkin Donut and Taco Bell restaurant at 7525 and 7535 Harlem Ave. The property is currently occupied by Animal World, which will leave that location when its lease expires in the spring.

Plans are to tear down the building to put up the two new stores. Construction is expected to begin this summer.

In other business, a request from King Nissan for a change in zoning from M to M-PUD was tabled by the board because of a potential parking problem.

At a previous zoning meeting, petitioners unveiled plans to acquire the adjacent former Casting Engineers building and remodel it for a used auto display area, offices and bay service area. In addition, mini-warehouses would be located in the rear of the property on a rental basis, along with construction of a small apartment for a watchman, restricted to 800 square feet.

Commissioner Peter Pesole said the original intent some years ago was to acquire the building for the purpose of tearing it down to accommodate more parking spaces.

"Employees and customers are parking all along Austin Ave. posing a traffic problem. There is also trouble with plowing in that area," he said.

The attorney representing the petitioner said 176 used cars at the rear of the property would be located in the building. "This would free up the parking area."

After a brief discussion, the board decided to table the matter to the Feb. meeting for more input on a viable parking plan.

The board approved placing video stores in a special use category.

The zoning requires potential video store owners to have one parking space for 300 square feet of retail space. In addition, the adult section of the video stores must occupy 10 percent of floor area and separated by a partition wall. Customers for the adult section must be 21 years old.

In addition, video owners will have to sign an agreement not to sell or rent obscene materials as ruled by the courts.

District 63, aides at impasse in talks

Following a closed session, board members of East Maine Elementary School District 63 reported an "impasse" has been reached in negotiations with members of the East Maine Teachers Aides Assn. (EMTAA). The board affirms its final offer and is incorporating the salary schedule and fringe benefits into board policy, effective January 15. Action took place at a regular meeting January 26.

An offer of binding arbitration was refused by the district, according to Judi Voller, EMTAA president.

She said aides asked for a 7 percent salary increase this school year and inclusion of a "fair share" agreement in aide contracts. The latter would provide that aides, if hired by the district, be obliged to pay union dues, she said.

Prior to the breakdown of negotiations, District 63 offered aides a 6.55 percent increase, or about 1.55 percent more than its original offer. However, the district refused to include "fair share" clauses in new contracts.

In other board matters, members included a first reading of a policy update on students or employees with chronic communicable diseases. Besides AIDS, the policy lists other chronic conditions such as chronic hepatitis, leprosy and tuberculosis.

A new school procedure will require that parents of students with chronic communicable diseases meet with health and school professionals in a multi-disciplinary staffing to plan for the student's schooling and other necessary measures.

Board members also approved the 1988-89 school calendar which will begin with a Teacher's Institute Day on August 26, 1988 and end with class dismissal on June 21, 1989. However, if no emergency days are used, the board could opt for dismissal as early as June 7.

Under the approved calendar, winter vacation will begin Thursday, December 22 and end Friday, December 30. Spring break will be from Monday, April 3 through Friday, April 7.

District 63 serves students in Niles, Morton Grove, Des Plaines and unincorporated Maine Township.

Laurel Stevens, LGH media relations manager, said the protest group were within their rights to express their views in an orderly and legal fashion.

About 15 pro-life groups marched without incident at the hospital, including representatives from Willows Academy in Niles, Northridge Prep School in Glenview, Christian Liberty Church, Willow Creek Community Christian Church and Fays Tabernacle Church. Plans are underway to set up a second rally for 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 14.

A picketeer trying to keep warm in the chilly weather, said the rally "may not accomplish much," but she felt they were doing the right thing defending the right of human life.

Another stated the hospital was "unjust and immoral" in its abortion policy.

For years, Lutheran General Hospital has allowed first-trimester abortions (those done within the first three months of pregnancy), and recently amended regulations to allow second-trimester abortions (up to 24 weeks) as well.

Stevens said the regulation was amended after deliberation by a hospital task force composed of physicians, board members and a consulting ethicist (ethics specialist) assisted by members of the clergy. "The time frame was expanded because the testing procedure could detect a defect in the fetus, but doctors were unable to get the results back in the 16th-18th week," she said, adding second-trimester abortions would be performed only where severe birth defects are detected.

Stevens said the hospital treats abortions as "very serious" operations. "We feel termination of a pregnancy is a tragic alternative that is only performed when there are serious problems for either the fetus or the mother," she said.

She added the hospital requires counseling for a patient before a pregnancy is terminated.

An official from the Illinois Citizens Concerned for Life, said his group and other pro-life groups want all abortions at the hospital to end, saying a "Christian hospital" should never take a stand on abortion in any way.

Oriole Pools, and fixing the heating and air conditioning unit at the Community Center.

Balling announced a community meeting will be held Saturday, March 5, at 1:00 p.m. in the board room of the Community Center. He will present information to the community regarding the guide and hopes to receive feedback. Balling commented "the guide is just a guide; nothing is etched in stone."

Balling also reported the park district wishes to terminate their lease with School District 67 regarding Cardinal Park. He stated the reasons for the termination are to reduce the deficit in the recreation fund; the district has not had the use of the park as they had originally anticipated, and the district has other projects that take priority.

Attorney Gabriel Berrafato reported on the progress with the Handicapped Accessibility Projects the district has been working on with M-NASR. According to Administrative Manager Balling, the projects would provide greater access and usage of Morton Grove Park District facilities for all M-NASR participants.

The board approved a resolution to use Special Recreation Funds for the handicapped accessibility projects.

The Recreation and Facility Program committee asked for board approval of the part-time employee benefit policy. This policy will allow staff members who work over 1,000 hours annually to receive sick leave and vacation pay. An employee becomes ineligible for these benefits if he/she falls below 1,000 hours of employment in any fiscal year. The board approved the recommendation.

The committee also reported that Golf-Maine park district residents may purchase summer pool patches at resident rates for Oriole Pool use only.

The board announced there will be a 5 percent increase on rates charged for pool patches. Prices for 1988 are: Adult, $34; Child, $28.50; Family of 2, $55; Family of 3, $63; Family of 4, $71.50, and Family of 5, $79. The daily and weekend admission rates will remain the same.

Man injured by runaway car

A 44-year-old man suffered a severe leg injury in a bizarre accident last Sunday. The car he was repairing slipped into gear, dragging the victim over a sidewalk and into the plate glass window of the Butera Store in the Golf Mill shopping center.

Vikram Patel of Arlington Heights, stopped his vehicle on the street near the north side of the store because of some mechanical problem, according to Lt. Stan Sosnowski of the Niles Police Department.

"While he was making adjustments under the hood, the vehicle somehow slipped into gear, and went forward dragging Patel over the curb and into the store window, smashing it," Sosnowski said.

Patel who was pinned between the car and the window, suffered a severe leg injury (cuts from the glass) and was taken to Lutheran General Hospital for treatment.

Students are required to enroll in health.

In order to graduate from District 207, students must also fulfill two state requirements. All students must satisfactorily complete or pass a proficiency test in consumer education and pass the safety instruction portion of driver education.

Finally, all students will be required to complete instruction in oral communications. According to James L. Elliott, Superintendent, the final details on the specifics of that course or experience will be formulated after English and speech teachers make their recommendations.

deficit spending? It eliminates a lot of options." The suggested move is intended to buy the district four years for bringing order to its finances, he said.

"This was a very difficult report to prepare. Most of the open schools are in the center of the district and outer boundary schools have been closed," said Gleichman.

Gleichman also suggested possible placement of portable classrooms at Mark Twain School and mainstreaming of special education students into either Mark Twain or Washington schools.

Gemini parent Marion Schmidt and committee co-chairperson said, "We would like someone feedback from Dr. Gleichman. We would have reconvened. We never imagined this could have been an option."

Elaine Lampros, Mark Twain teacher and head of the East Maine Teachers' Union (EMTA), said Gleichman's plan is "educationally unsound." She said Nelson and Stevenson youngsters could become a "bounded" group while sixth grade peers at Washington and Mark Twain schools would come to Gemini as outsiders.

About 75 to 100 persons attended the board meeting. Gleichman told them he had reviewed the report of an advisory committee consisting of

He stated churches and businesses in the suburban area donated a total of $30,000 to help purchase the residence pending zoning approval from Cook County officials (under a special use request). "However, I hope to obtain a temporary permit to open the shelter prior to submitting the zoning petition to the county board."

Caroline went on to say residents near the project site will have to be notified of the zoning petition and use of the property, as well as communities within one-and-a-half miles of the site.

The cost for operating the shelter would be in the neighborhood of $75,000 annually derived from donations by churches, businesses and state, local and Federal grants.

"We hope to have more housing shelters in the northwest suburbs. Someday, we hope to operate on a 24-hour emergency basis," he said. "Occupants would have the advantage of local human services that would include job counseling and job placement."

two parents, a teacher and administrative staff from each of the district's five schools. However, he did not endorse the committee's options, he said. The committee met six times from December 16 to January 14.

Among the suggestions was that Apollo Junior High School be opened so that both it and Gemini could become a middle school for students from fifth through eighth grades.

Other committee options eliminated by Gleichman were:

- Move all fifth and sixth graders to Meizer
- Open Apollo as a fifth and sixth grade center
- Maintain the status quo for the 1988-89 school year
- Purchase two mobile classrooms for each school in the district.

District 63's actual enrollment for the 1982-83 school year was 3,185 students and the 1987-88 enrollment is 2,950. About 31 less students are projected for next year's enrollment.

Since about 1983, the district has received a dwindling amount of money from the state. For example, state aid in 1986-87 was $534,905 while $7,252,896 was supplied by local taxes and $2,666,838 from other sources.

The district serves youngsters in Niles, Morton Grove, Des Plaines and unincorporated Maine Township.

The results of the survey show that cable prices in Morton Grove are on the average 7% lower than in villages such as Skokie, Niles, Evanston, Wilmette and Buffalo Grove.

Trustee Henry Szachowicz reported there have been 100 false alarms since the inception of the new alarm registration system. This has been causing a problem with the amount of police manpower needed to notify the alarm owner every time a false alarm occurs. After the fourth such false alarm, an owner is fined. It was suggested that perhaps the ordinance could be amended to provide a warning for the first false alarm and then the fourth. Corporation Counsel Jordan Kaplan will look into it.
