Buglebits...

A funny thing happened to me last week on the way out to our truck.

This is vacation time here at The Bugle. Many of us double up to fill the vacancies caused by the absent vacationers. My supernumerary job was driving the truck to the printers.

Unlike the regular driver, Lou Zitnik, who climbs aboard the truck Wednesday afternoon, I decided to check out the truck in mid-morning. As I opened the driver's side door and started placing our route sheets in a front compartment, a disarrayed middle-aged man sat up in the back of the van area. He had been sleeping there and was as startled as I was. Somewhat chagrined, he said he climbed into the truck to get out of the rain of the previous night and was finishing his morning snooze when I boarded the truck.

My reaction was interesting. After he told me why he was there, I told him he could sleep there for two more hours. But he jumped up and climbed down from the truck. As he left he said rather casually, "I'll be seeing you." After seeming rather generous in offering the use of the truck for two more hours, I turned on the poor guy and

Groundbreaking to begin on Niles side of AT&T

The Village of Niles has authorized developers for the AT&T site on Touhy Ave. to put in footings and foundations on the Niles portion of the new shopping center pending issuance of a full building permit.

According to Joe Salerno, director of zoning enforcement, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) notified the village last week it had no objections against beginning initial work. "The work which will begin today (July 5), is subject to conditions set by IEPA," he said.

IEPA officials were unavailable for comment, but the action brings the proposed shopping center a step closer to reality on the 42-acre site.

Conditions set by the IEPA, which Salerno said the village is following include: the developer must provide free access to the construction site at any reasonable time for representatives of the IEPA and the Il-

Police records clerk retires after 20 years

Lillian Raffa, records clerk at the Niles Police Department, retired last week after serving in that position for 20 years.

Police chief Ray Giovannelli said, "She has been a dedicated worker and will be missed by the entire department. She was very knowledgeable in her job and trained new employees," he said.

Raffa said she took care of anything that had to do with police records and enjoyed the job. "I'm looking forward to taking the job," she said.

Maine Township High School District 207 board approved a bid of $7.75 million from an Arlington Heights home builder for the purchase of Maine North High School at a special executive session Friday evening, July 1.

Ronald J. Benach, president of Lexington Development Corp. based in Arlington Heights, was the high bidder at the auction, conducted at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Rosemont on June 30, to sell the 48-acre campus and the building at 8511 Harrison St. in unincorporated Maine Township.

Board member Delores Gra-zian was the lone dissenter in the 5-1 vote (one member absent). "There was more than one offer on the table under consideration. I favored another bidder whose bid was lower, but the property would have been for public use and there would be maximum use of the building," she said.

Grazian explained she could not give the name of the bidder who reportedly bid $7 million because the matter had been discussed in executive session. "In weighing my decision, I felt there were more negatives than

"Democracy in Action"

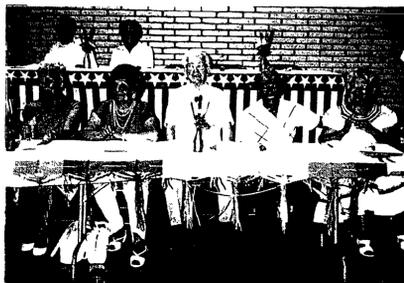

"Democracy in Action" is the phrase used by Niles Park Board president Elaine Heinen as she introduced the Perkowska family at Niles 4th of July celebration at Grennan Heights Park following the parade.

The family was reunited on June 3 when the mother, Grazyna and her daughter Julita were flown here from Poland to be reunited with father Kasimierz and daughter Edith, a student at St. John Brebeuf School in Niles. It was through the letter writing efforts of SJB parishioners and students that the reunion was made possible.

ON-AGAIN, OFF-AGAIN LAWRENCEWOOD

All systems were go for the Lawrencewood property to get its long, awaited facelift, but a monkey wrench thrown in the way of beautification plans has left everything in limbo. Deja vu. Just hours before the village board was set to approve a final ordinance on the sale of the property to a Denver developer, Aldi Foods, a tenant in the shopping center, filed a notice to appeal a court order turning Lawrencewood over to Niles. Village officials and others interested in rejuvenating the center had been optimistic that with the settlement of the condemnation suit, the curtain would finally ring down on the old Lawrencewood and a viable commercial entity take its place. The exception was Mayor Nicholas Blase who kept repeating, "It's not over 'till it's over." The filing of the appeal has frozen mortgage funds that developer Jerry Biehl expected to get from lenders to purchase the Lawrencewood property. He is now in Denver cooling his heels and awaiting the outcome of the litigation, according to village officials. Lawrencewood has been compared to a middle-aged lady who needs to go to the beauty parlor. Biehl plans to lead the center in that direction with a new shopping center called the Civic Center Plaza. The new center would be anchored by an Omni store, part of the Dominick's chain of food stores. Most likely, future shoppers will find restaurants, shops and other facilities that will meet their

"Friendly Visitor" program popular

The new "Friendly Visitor" program for the homebound elderly in Niles has been a big success and very popular with seniors who are in need of companionship, according to Chris Connelly, who was the program coordinator. The program began last February at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton St. Connelly, an employee of the Xerox Corp, sponsor of "Friendly Visitor," has been given leave from her position to conduct the program and will leave this week to return to the company. "My work here is finished and the program will be in capable hands at the Trident Center," she said. "I want to thank the Village of Niles and the Trident officials for being very supportive of the "Friendly Visitor" which created positive experiences on a friendly basis." The program provides weekly visits to people who are alone and restricted to their homes due to age, illness and disability. Volunteers spend an average of two hours a week in the homes of residents in an effort to meet their needs. "We have 16 volunteers," Connelly said. She noted most elderly shut-ins feel cut off from the world and weekly visits foster a sense of belonging. In addition, the "Friendly Visitor" alleviates their sense of loneliness and provide anticipation for the ongoing

Fireworks complaints 'on a par' for Niles

The Niles Police Department received the usual number of complaint calls from residents on fireworks sounding off in various neighborhoods, but there were no major incidents over the July 4th weekend according to Niles Police Chief Ray Giovannelli. One arrest was made by Niles Police. "It was not any different than last year concerning reports of persons in possession of fireworks," he said. "We respond to the calls, but the problem is that when police arrive on the scene, the offenders are already gone." Violation of the village ordinance forbidding fireworks is $50. There were about 45 calls from residents reporting youths shooting off firecrackers in neighborhoods, he said. On June 30, police responded to a fireworks complaint at Oakton Manor Park, 8100 Ozark, at which a group of youths were reported lighting firecrackers. When police arrived, the youths scattered in different directions, but police apprehended an 18-year old Park Ridge man and a female juvenile. Both subjects were transported to the police station. The juvenile was charged with curfew violation and the offender charged with a fireworks violation under the village ordinance. He was assigned a July court date.

Niles All American Festival begins Wednesday

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The Niles Events Committee is offering a smorgasboard of food, fun and top entertainment at the Niles All American Festival, an event that promises to be bigger and better than last year's fest. It will be open Wednesday, July 13, at Golf Mill Park, 9100 Cumberland, and will again feature the "Taste of Niles." The "Taste" is a showcase for area restaurants who prepare servings of their specialties for the event. Over 20 vendors will be dishing out different kinds of food this year including the Char House, Enjoy by Rob, Inc., Battaglia's Pizza, Aloha and Strutzel Products and Catering. For those with a sweet tooth there is Riverside Chocolate Factory and for ice cream lovers, Baskin Robbins. A variety of activities are planned for the five-day run of the festival including a carnival and giant midway, entertainment on the big stage and in the beer garden such as the New Colony Six, American Breed, Little Richard and his Polka Band, and a Bavarian Band. Ed Curran from WGN-radio will be master of ceremonies for the American Breed 8 to 10 p.m. Friday, July 15, on the main stage. Curran, who moved into Niles last year, said he wanted to get involved in community activities and is looking forward to his stint on the show. He and Al Lerner host a talk show on WGN. A "first" this year will be a hot air balloon where people can soar upwards on free tickets issued by the First of America-Golf Mill Bank on July 15 through 17. The tickets will be available at the Golf Mill booth on the festival grounds. According to Debbie Godzicki of First of America, the hot air balloon goes up 150 feet in the air providing a thrilling ride. The bank will also have a raffle of checking accounts and a 19" color television. Other organizations and groups participating in the community tent (in booths) include the Niles Chamber of Commerce, Oakton Community College, Niles Park District, Cablevision of Niles, Chess Club, Model Engineers, Vietnam Vets, Ford Club, Niles Family Service, Seniors, Optimists, Italian Americans, Cardiac Support, Toastmasters, Over 40 Club, Builders of Skill, TOPS, Performing Arts, Girl Scouts, Sunday Evening Club.

At home at Norwood Park

Norwood Park Home, established in 1896, is dedicated to providing—not just shelter—but a Home for our resident family. That is our on-going pledge.

We offer two levels of care: •Sheltered care for residents who desire the security, comfort, amenities and companionship of a long-term facility while being able to care for themselves, •Intermediate care for residents who require a greater amount of care or supervision.

Residents in the sheltered care section have private, bright and airy furnished rooms they frequently personalize with some of their own favorite furnishings and accessories, a telephone (although coin phones are plentiful), TV, etc. They receive three meals a day which are served in the Main Dining Room, laundry and cleaning services, and use of washing machines and dryers.

Residents in the intermediate care section have the benefit of hospital equipment for their safety and convenience. There is a large and bright lounge area for their use and assistance is available from the nurses station which is staffed around the clock.

We are conveniently accessible by Northwestern train (a short block away) or by car (we're located just off the Kennedy Expressway).

For information, call or write the Norwood Park Home, 6016 N. Nina Ave., Chicago, IL 60631, 631-4856.

MEDICARE CATASTROPHE COVERAGE ACT OF 1988
On May 25, U.S. House and Senate conferees finally reached a compromise on H.R. 2470, the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988, paving the way for the largest expansion of Medicare since the program was established in 1965. The compromise legislation, approved by the House on June 2 and by the Senate on June 8, is expected to be signed by the President. While the new legislation will help Medicare beneficiaries with massive bills resulting from acute illness, it will not protect seniors against the larger catastrophe of long term care costs. Although Congress is aware of the public's desire for action on this front, long term care legislation will have to wait until another time.

The catastrophic bill has been controversial among seniors and senior advocates for its break with the past approach to financing benefits. H.R. 2470 abandons the traditional social insurance model which spreads costs among all taxpayers. Instead, the price of the new catastrophic benefits will be borne almost entirely by seniors. Younger taxpayers will chip in only to pick up part of the tab for low-income beneficiaries.

FINANCING CATASTROPHE COVERAGE

The basic monthly premium already paid by all beneficiaries enrolled under Part B (physician care) is now $24.80. The catastrophic bill will add to this basic premium a new "flat premium" of $4 a month in 1989. By 1993, it is estimated that the basic monthly premium will have risen to about $32.30 and the new catastrophic "flat premium" will have gone up to $10.20, for a total premium of $42.50 a month. In addition, the 44 percent of the elderly with incomes high enough to be subject to federal income tax will have to pay a "supplemental" premium based on the amount of their taxable income. In 1989, the supplemental premium is set at $22.50 for each $150 of taxable income, up to a maximum of $900. Only individuals with incomes of at least $50,000, or couples with incomes of more than $80,000, will have to pay the maximum premium. It is estimated that most people will pay only the flat premium, and may not choose to pay it at all if they opt to drop Medicare Part B.

NEW BENEFITS OF CATASTROPHE COVERAGE

Hospital Care (Part A): Unlimited free care will be provided after payment of a deductible estimated to be about $64. Currently, benefits cover the first 60 days and a portion of the next 90, not covering most hospitalizations over 150 days. (To begin Jan. 1, 1989)

Physician Care (Part B): 100 percent coverage of reasonable physician charges and other covered costs under Part B after the deductible of $170 is paid. (To begin Jan. 1, 1989)
Prescription Drugs: Providing reimbursement for outpatient prescription drugs, to be phased in over four years beginning in 1990 where Medicare will pay for part of the cost of intravenous and immunosuppressive drugs. Then by 1993 and beyond, will pay 80 percent after a deductible of $600 that will be adjusted upward yearly.

Skilled Nursing Facilities: The current 100-day limit is increased to 150 days and the requirement that this care be preceded by a hospital stay of at least three days has been dropped. Patients must pay a copayment of about $21 per day for the first eight days.

Mammograms: Women over 65 would be covered for mammogram screenings for breast cancer every other year, starting in 1990. The cost of the mammogram could not exceed $50.

Medigap Insurance Policies: The prevention of medigap insurance companies from charging policy holders for benefits now covered under Medicare.

Other benefits outlined by H.R. 2470 include provision for Medicare buy-in by state Medicaid programs, low income drug benefits, spousal impoverishment provisions and continued study of national insurance coverage for long term and adult day care.

MORTON GROVE MEDICARE ASSISTANCE

The Morton Grove Advisory Commission on Aging together with AARP now encourages senior citizen medical patients who need help sifting through the paperwork and billing procedures of Medicare, to set up a free appointment with a trained Medicare/Medicaid counselor. Counseling sessions begin from 10 a.m. to noon on Mon., July 11 in the Flickinger (Village Hall) Senior Center and Mon., July 25 in the Prairie View Community Center. For an appointment, call the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

BCI Seniors Club

If you think you're a lucky senior citizen, there's only one place to be on Wed., Aug. 3—that's at Hawthorne Race Track with the Bank of Commerce & Industry Senior Citizens Club.

The club is sponsoring a special outing to the track for $23 per person. This cost includes round-trip bus transportation, a ticket to the track and lunch in the Terrace Buffet, which includes chicken, ribs, pasta salad, tossed green salad, parsley potato, jello molds, potato salad, vegetable du jour, dessert, and beverage.

The group departs from in front of the bank, 6100 Northwest Highway, at 10 a.m. and returns at 5:30 p.m. Lunch will be served before post-time at 1:30 p.m.

Interested persons should call the BCI Senior Citizens Club at 775-8000 to make reservations.

League urges "No" vote on Constitutional Convention

The League of Women Voters of Illinois will oppose passage of the call for a state constitutional convention at the 1988 November election.

Ninety-six percent of League members studying the need for revising Illinois' 1970 constitution opposed defeat of the referendum question. "The overwhelmingly negative response reflects views from members in all sections of the state," said League President Mary Ellen Barry.

Reasons cited for opposing this year's Con-Con call included satisfaction with the present amendment procedure and fear that important gains achieved in 1970 could be lost if the entire constitution were exposed to revision. Members expressed concern that the estimated cost would be an unnecessary drain upon limited state revenues especially at a time when education and human services are seriously underfunded. They also believe that the constitution, substantially rewritten less than twenty years ago, is functioning well and does not require a complete overhaul at this time.

The amendment procedure adopted in 1970 has allowed the placement of nine different constitutional proposals on the ballot, of which four have been approved by the voters. "The League is disappointed at the failure of the General Assembly to submit a judicial merit selection amendment to the voters," said Barry. "But we are redoubling our efforts to achieve this reform through the amendment process."

The 1970 constitution provides that the question of calling a convention shall be placed on the ballot automatically every twenty years. A majority of those voting in the general election of three-fifths of those voting on the question are needed to approve the convention call.

Handzel stated, "Republicans of the township are invited to join the 300 members of the NTRRO." For more information, call 966-8282 or 966-3243.

Follow-up treatment advised for breast cancer patients

New research findings from the National Cancer Institute indicate that all women who have breast cancer should have chemotherapy or hormonal therapy after initial mastectomy, or after lumpectomy and radiation, even for women who show no evidence that the cancer has spread to the lymph nodes.

Commenting on the results of three major studies conducted by the National Surgical Adjuvant Breast Program and combined group studies, Stuart Kraus, M.D., Associate Director of the Alfred and Hilda Straus Oncology Center at Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital, said, "Previously, it was thought that treatment following initial surgery or radiation was necessary only for women with recurrent cancer, or those whose breast cancer had spread to their lymph nodes. However, as a result of these new studies, physicians are being advised that adjuvant chemotherapy can have a meaningful impact on disease-free survival and total survival for all breast cancer patients."

Cancer statistics show that 50 percent of breast cancer victims have negative lymph nodes at the time of diagnosis and initial treatment. The study findings demonstrated that without follow-up treatment, between 15-25 percent of node-negative women experienced a recurrence of the disease or died within 5-10 years, noted Dr. Kraus. "The studies conducted over a 7-year period showed that chemotherapy or hormonal treatment achieved a significant reduction in the number of deaths. From these new findings, we believe that all patients with breast cancer are at risk of recurrence, and should be treated with the effective standard chemotherapy or hormonal therapies available."

Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital and The University of Chicago Hospitals recently announced their affiliation, and launched a joint oncology program designed to bring the latest cancer diagnostic, treatment and clinical research modalities to patients in the Northern Illinois area. The joint oncology program is also anticipated to enhance clinical research data on a national scope.

AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY

NO SLIGHT OF HAND

In "The Wizard of Oz," a click of Dorothy's ruby red slippers worked magic. Rubies are among the highest prized gemstones, not because they work magic, but because they epitomize the magic appeal of a fine gem.

Beauty is essential to a gemstone's value. The rich red color of the ruby is truly beautiful. Once the most valued red was called "Burmese ruby." Rubies of the most desirable red are also found in other locations in the world, however, and their value depends on the richness of their color.

Durability also affects a gemstone's value. The ruby is a very durable gemstone. In fact, because it is so durable, it is well suited to the hard wear rings are subjected to.

Rarity is also of consideration in determining the value of a gem. Fine rubies are rare, especially in larger sizes. Because of their rarity, rubies are indeed precious gems.

And the tradition of rubies is long and honorable. The crown jewels of many countries contain rubies. Ruby was the gemstone of the tribe of Judah, the tribe from which sprang the royalty of Israel of old.

The rubies we offer you are gemstones unlike any other in beauty, durability, and rarity. Stop by our store to see this rich gemstone - you may begin your own magic tradition.

Thefts...

The manager of a gas station in the 7600 block of Milwaukee Ave. on June 22 noticed the lights were out in a temporary trailer office as he was driving by the service station. When owners arrived for work the next morning, they found the wires had been cut that supply the power for gas pumps and a relay and computerized board were torn from a wall. Found missing was an anti-theft box of undetermined value that prevents damage to the computer in the event of a back-up power surge.

Investigation showed the offender was southbound on Maryland. She drove into the northbound lane and off the road onto the lawn over bushes and struck a car in the driveway.

Edgar commends liability insurance law

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said today the Illinois General Assembly acted in behalf of responsible drivers by approving legislation to require all motorists to carry liability insurance.

"Fairness has finally prevailed," Edgar said after the Legislature sent the mandatory auto insurance measure to Gov. James R. Thompson. "The five million Illinois drivers who are insured deserve a crackdown on the two million who are not."

Edgar, noting that Thompson has supported mandatory auto insurance for years, said he believes the governor will act favorably on the measure that was approved by overwhelming majorities in both the House and the Senate.

The success of this legislation is due in large measure to the grassroots support it enjoyed. I want to thank all the groups and individuals who worked so hard to win approval by the General Assembly," Edgar said.

"Much credit also goes to the sponsors of the legislation - Rep. William J. Laurino (D-Chicago), Rep. Roger P. McAuliffe (R-Chicago), Sen. Bob Kustra (R-Des Plaines), and Sen. Thaddeus Lechowicz (D-Chicago) - and to the leadership of the House and the Senate," he added.

The legislation focuses on suspension of vehicle registrations instead of driver's licenses, thereby dramatically cutting administrative costs. It also provides that those whose registrations have been suspended for lack of insurance must pay reinstatement fees. "The program should pay for itself," Edgar said.

Traffic Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Driving safely on Illinois expressways requires cooperation and teamwork by all motorists. Each driver must be alert to the speed and location of surrounding vehicles. Be a part of the team and obey the following safety tips for expressway driving:

Before entering an expressway, use caution when approaching the entrance ramp and speed-change lane. Use your signal when merging with oncoming traffic. If you must wait for an opening, slow down at the beginning of the speed-change lane so you can match the speed of the oncoming traffic before merging.

Once you have safely merged with traffic, adjust your speed to maintain the legal speed limit, whether 65 mph or 55 mph. Motorists rapidly change lanes on expressway, so stay out of the other driver's blind spot and keep a safe following distance.

Before changing lanes or passing another vehicle, check your blind spots and use your turn signal. You must be able to see the car you have passed in your rearview mirror before pulling back into the same lane.

Stopping on the shoulder of an expressway is exclusively used for emergency situations. Do not pull off onto the shoulder to rest, read a map or change drivers.

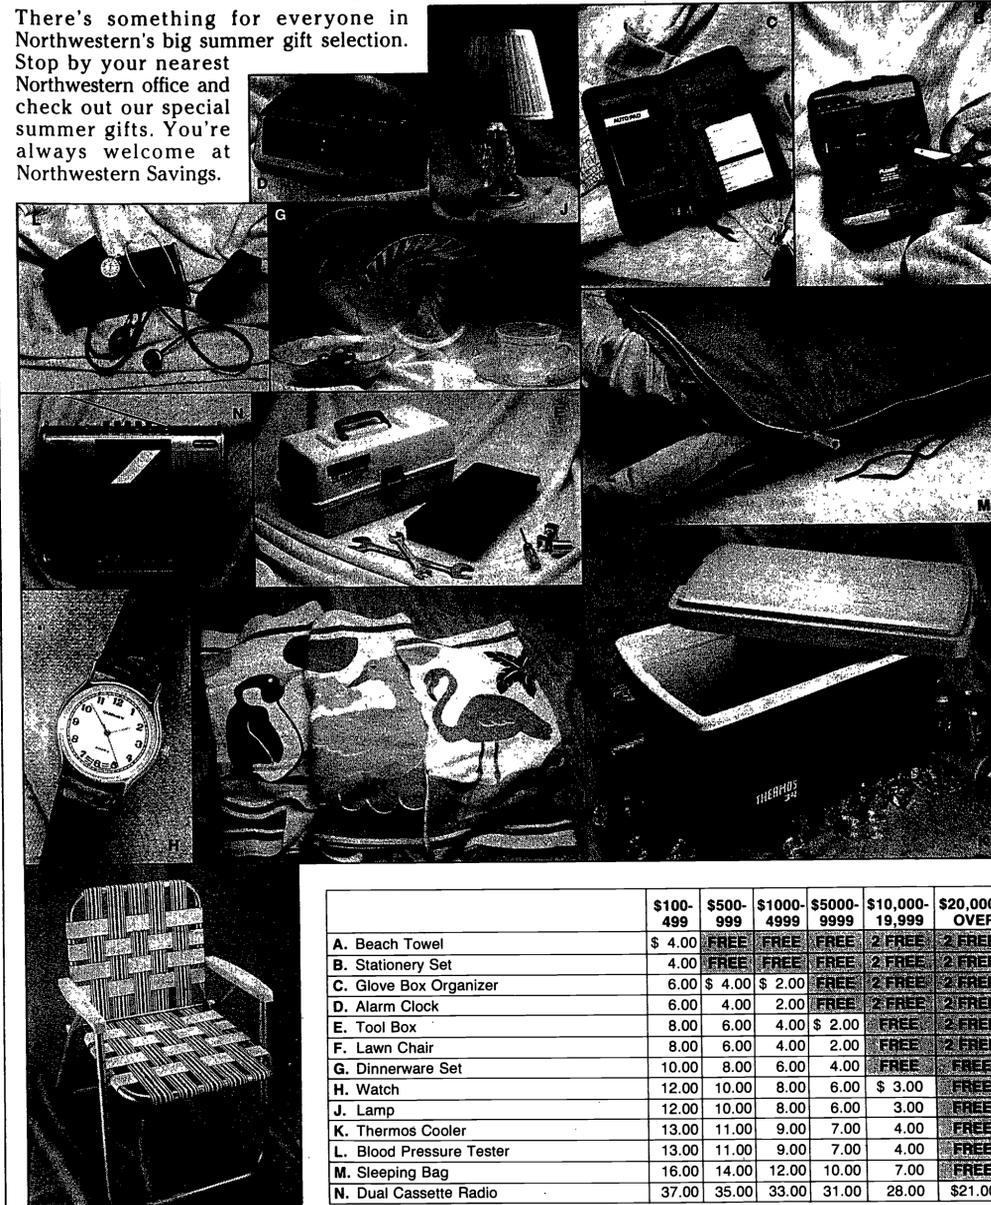

When leaving an expressway, slow down to the posted exit ramp speed before you reach the speed-change lane. It is illegal to back up on an expressway or to cross the median. If you miss your exit, drive to the next one.

I Bet You Didn't Know

Here's an amazing baseball record set by the great Joe DiMaggio. In the 13 years DiMaggio played in the majors, his team, the New York Yankees, won the pennant 10 times, and won the World Series in 9 of those years. IN ONLY 3 SEASONS IN HIS ENTIRE BIG LEAGUE CAREER DID DIMAGGIO FAIL TO PLAY ON A PENNANT WINNER!

What are the odds on this. Of all the high schools in America, one high school turned out THREE boys who all became managers in big league baseball in 1988. Russ Nixon, Pete Rose and Don Zimmer have managed in the majors in 1988, and all are from Western Hills High School in Cincinnati.

Here's an oddity. Johnny Rutherford drove car No. 18 in the Indianapolis 500-mile race in 1968, 1970 and in 1971—and, oddly enough, he finished EXACTLY in 18th place in each of those years that he drove car No. 18.

LTJ gym, swim combo for youth

The Leaning Tower Family Y is once again offering youths the opportunity to "Double their Fun" this summer by combining swim classes with indoor soccer and flag football classes! Each 8 session class meets from Monday through Thursday for two weeks. Although the swim/gym combination is a package deal, parents may register their children for any class individually if they wish.

From July 11 until July 21, children can participate in the indoor soccer/swim package with 6 and 7 year olds meeting from 3:15-4:45 p.m. while children ages 8-10 meet from 4:55-6:30 p.m.

In addition, from July 25 through Aug. 4, children ages 6 and 7 can again take part in another soccer/swim package from 3:15 until 4:45 p.m., while kids ages 11 to 15 years old can be a part of LTJ's swimming/football special which meets from 4:30 until 6:15 p.m.

Also, children may be registered for a two week flag football program that begins Aug. 10 and continues until Aug. 20. Classes will again meet Monday through Thursday, with children from 8-10 years meeting from 3:30-4:30 p.m., while the 11 to 15 year olds meet from 4:30-5:30 p.m.

Both sports will emphasize that every boy and girl will participate equally, that learning and growing are more important than winning the game, and that teamwork is an integral part of the program. Good sportsmanship, safety and fun will also be stressed. Advance registration is required.

See for yourself... a guide to healthy eyes

As a large percentage of the American population moves into its middle or elderly years, vision changes due to aging are affecting an increasing number of people. These changes may be as minor as needing glasses to read the fine print or as significant as cataract removal and intraocular lens implantation or treatment of glaucoma.

"Each year, about 50 percent of new cases of blindness occur in the elderly," said Melvyn A. Gerstein, M.D., an ophthalmologist at Northshore Eye Center, a Medicare-approved facility in Chicago. "Nearly half of these could have been prevented by early detection and treatment."

The effects of the aging eye are more noticeable by the time most people reach age 40. At this time, the lens begins to lose its elasticity and develops problems switching back and forth to focus from far objects to near objects. The inability to adjust is called presbyopia. By age 50, nearly 100 percent of Americans experience some form of presbyopia.

"There is no exercise or medication which will reverse presbyopia," explained Dr. Gerstein. "In order for the eye to focus, reading glasses or bifocals are prescribed. About every two years, new glasses are required to overcome the continuing effect of aging."

Among the more serious diseases of the eye common in the elderly are glaucoma, cataracts and macular degeneration. Nearly two million people over age 65 are affected by glaucoma. Glaucoma, the build-up of excess fluid in the eye, causes blindness if not treated early and properly. Although glaucoma has no early symptoms, it can be diagnosed through a routine eye examination. Treatment of glaucoma includes medication to lower the eye pressure, or in more serious cases, laser treatment.

"Other causes of blindness in senior citizens are macular degeneration and vision loss linked to diabetes," said Robert M. Stein, M.D., ophthalmologist and partner at Northshore Eye

The United Order True Sisters is the newest major donor to Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge. The philanthropic club recently donated $3,400 to the Lutheran General Children's Medical Center. The money will fund some creative programs such as the Child Life Program for pediatric inpatients, the Newborn Intensive Care Unit Follow-up Program, children's grief groups, and support groups for teens with cancer.

The United Order True Sisters is a women's group with open membership to those who are interested in service. They focus on giving assistance to cancer patients. Over the years, they have donated a total of $13,365 to the hospital. Heart Association CPR Course

The American Heart Association of Metropolitan Chicago, North Cook County Division, will offer a Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course for those people who wish to become CPR instructors or recertify as CPR instructors. This course will offer an opportunity to learn CPR and then to advance to instructor.

Park Ridge resident honored by hospital

Lois Harper of Park Ridge was among the employees honored at the Employees Recognition Dinner of Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California, held recently at the Starlight Inn in Schiller Park.

Ms. Harper, manager of food services, was recognized for 20 years of service to the hospital.

Lutheran General opens innovative nursing unit

Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge recently opened the first five beds of a new unit utilizing cutting-edge concepts in nursing such as collaborative nursing and cross training of support staff. When fully operational, the new medical-surgical unit will have a total of 15 beds.

"This is our answer to the nursing shortage," explains Donna Errera, clinical manager for the unit. "We designed the unit to make hospital nursing more attractive to nurses, thereby, assisting in the recruitment and retention of nurses."

Collaborative nursing means that the nurse and physician work closely together to plan the patient's day-to-day care. Nurses make rounds with the physicians which helps them to be more knowledgeable of the physician's medical plans for the patient. In addition, nurses on the unit take an active role in deciding such things as structure and staffing patterns.

Another unusual attribute of the unit is the incorporation of a new position called a patient assistant. This person is cross-trained in a number of jobs including housekeeping, transportation, guest relations, and other non-clinical activities, thereby providing support to the nursing staff and reducing the number of people needed to make the unit run smoothly.

The unit was designed in response to a survey of nurses at the hospital. It reflects the attributes more requested by nurses. "We want the nurses to feel autonomous and accountable," adds Ms. Errera. "This is what the survey said nurse would like. Much of what we've instituted is experimental for the hospital. We will be monitoring what happens in the unit. If it works, we'll keep it, if not, we'll throw it out."

Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge is a not-for-profit, 713 bed, tertiary care, teaching hospital located in the Chicago suburb of Park Ridge.

Casting call for 10 year old children

HandMade Films is holding an open casting call for 10 year old children to star in a motion picture tentatively entitled "Another World," to be directed and co-produced by Bruce Gilbert, whose films include "On Golden Pond," "Coming Home" and "The China Syndrome." Casting director Nina Axelrod will audition children on Wednesday and Thursday, July 6 and 7 at the North Shore Hilton, 9399 Skokie Boulevard in Skokie from 10 am until 4 pm each day. No experience is necessary for the open call. All caucasian children measuring 4'4" to 4'10" in height are welcome to try out. Gilbert will audition finalists for the four leading roles, three boys and one girl. Another World is the story of a boy's passage from childhood to adolescence in late 50's Chicago. The Chicago area casting is part of a nationwide search for children to play the lead role and those of his three best friends. HandMade Films is a British production company, founded by Denis O'Brien and former Beatle George Harrison. The company has produced such films as "Mona Lisa," "Time Bandits," and "Five Corners." Another World is scheduled for production in September, 1988. Children should bring a recent photo, if available.

Community members to star in Theatre 219's "Evita"

A group of local adults, students, and children is generating its own brand of heat these days on stage at Niles North high school. They are preparing for "Evita," Theatre 219's summer production. The powerful, stirring musical about the rise and fall of Eva Peron as Argentina's first lady will open on Friday, July 22, in the Niles North theatre, 9800 N. Lawler, Skokie. The musical marks the theater's 15th season of entertaining this community.

Marlon Barden has been cast in the title role by director Robert Johnson. Local residents may remember her as Anita in Theatre 219's "West Side Story," or Fastrada in "Pittin." Gene Prop, a newcomer to this stage, will portray Juan Peron, the army man whom Eva married and had elected as Argentina's president. Earle Greenberg, another Theatre 219 repeater, is the military guerrilla Che. Mimi Brodsky has the role of the young mistress, and Victor Doyle is Magaldi, the traveling minstrel who brings Eva to Buenos Aires.

The musical relies to a great extent on an ensemble of players to tell Eva's story through song and dance. The ensemble, hailing from Skokie, Morton Grove, Lincolnwood and Niles, as well as surrounding communities like Highland Park, Glenview, Park Ridge, Wilmette and Chicago, consists of Stefanie Akwa, Allyson Harris, Nancy Bouboutis, Janine Breit, Tricia Hoo Chung, Jennifer Collins, Linda Choi, Michelle Dayan, Wendy Doyle, Denise Drucker, Randy Frapart, John Golata, John Guthrie, Karen Guthrie, Steven Handmaker, Kristin Hurt, Mickey Kamenezky, Paul Katz, Lowell Knobloch, Rebecca Kolber, Steve Levinthal, Beth Lichtenstein, Susan Mayer, Nelson Paredes, Sonya Park, Karen Porzak, Tim Queen, Gary Scholar, Kevin Stele, Staci Stratigakes, Michelle Strykowski, Pascale Trouillot, Sam Volchenbaum and Mindi Weberman.

The children's chorus, spanning ages 3-13, consists of Heather Bernat, Andrea Braovac, Andrew Brody, Julie Capitani, Katy Drucker, Abby Flack, Vanessa Flores, Jonathan Frapart, Greg Handler, Bobby Hansen, Michelle Klein, Bradley Driesman, Bryan Moon, Jennifer Mozdren, Kristie Mueller, Laura Mueller, and Narie Yoo.

"Evita" will be presented at 8:15 p.m. on July 22, 23, 29 and 30 and at 1:15 p.m. on Sunday, July 24. Performances this summer will take place at Niles North High School, 6800 N. Lawler in Skokie, just west of Old Orchard Shopping Center.

Reserved tickets are $9, with a dollar discount for senior citizens and children under 12 for the matinee only. Call 966-8280 for further information.

One Magnificent Greek Festival will be the theme of Saints Peter and Paul Greek Orthodox Church in Glenview annual summer celebration. The three day festival which features traditional Greek delicacies, entertainment and children's games will be held Friday, 6-12 p.m., Saturdays, 3-12 p.m. and Sunday 3-11 p.m., July 15, 16 and 17 on the church grounds at Lake and Wagner in Glenview.

All are cordially invited to come and enjoy this event which has become a North Shore community attraction attended by thousands each year. Treat your palate to a most sumptuous menu prepared by the parish's veteran cooks such as Gyros, Shishkabob, Grecian Chicken, Salamari-a-la-Grecque and Spanakopitta accompanied by feta cheese and Greek olives. Then top-off your magnificent dinner with generous portions of Loukoumades and/or Baklava. Entertainment will be provided by the "Emeis" Orchestra playing music laced with the heart warming sounds of the Bouzouki strings as well as Rock-n-Roll tunes for the younger set. Vassilis Gaitanos, Chicago's foremost Greek singing artist appearing at Den's Den, will perform in a mini concert Sunday night.

Professional Greek Dancers will perform well known folk dances and will invite authentic and honorary Greeks to kick-up their heels with them.

Activities for children will include the appearance of "Bozo the Clown", kiddie rides and games and many other surprise attractions.

The setting for the weekend is

Felician Art Fair

On Sunday, July 17, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., Felician College will hold its 16th Annual Art Fair on the campus at 3800 West Peterson Avenue in Chicago.

The reputation of the Fair has grown. In recent years, it has been frequently and prominently mentioned on lists of recommended summer art fairs. According to Dianne Wetland, general chairperson for the Fair, artists from every section of the Midwest, and even nationally now submit their work to the jurymen in efforts to win a place among exhibitors. The results of the jurymen procedure have added to the dimension of quality and vitality already evident in the outstanding group of exhibitors from previous years.

Special entertainment has been arranged for the entire afternoon. Refreshments will be on sale on the campus pavilion. Admission is by donation and free parking is available. For information, please call 538-7072.

"You're in like Flynn"...if you can prove you're a "Frank" during July, National Hot Dog Month.

Thousands of red hots with all the trimmings will be given free at three Fluky's locations in the Chicago and Chicago area to customers who can prove they are associated in some way with the name "Frank". Among those who can qualify for the free dogs: persons whose first, middle or last name is Frank; those who work for a company with Frank in the moniker; those who live on Frank St. or live in Franklin Park.

For those with proper identification, Fluky's will gladly hand over a complimentary Chicago-styled (Frank) hot dog during July at any Fluky's location: 6821 N. Western Ave. in Chicago; 3601 Dundee Rd. in Nor-brook, and 9645 N. Milwaukee Rd. in Niles.

This is the third consecutive year of free hot dogs at Fluky's in celebration of National Hot Dog Month. According to owner Jack Drexler, this is a "Frank and honest offer" in keeping with the restaurant's theme of "Franks for the Memories!" A Chicago institution since 1929, Fluky's, renowned for its famous red hot with "everything", also offers more extensive fare including breakfast, a salad bar at lunch and dinner, catering, Chocolate Chip Cookies and more.

Instituted by the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council, National Hot Dog Month was established to inform the public of the new and varied ways to prepare hot dogs and to call attention to the nutrition content of the product.

"Minnie's Boys" extended

Hot! Hot! Hot!—not only describes Chicagoland's summer weather, but National Jewish Theater's smash hit musical Minnie's Boys based on the lives of the hilarious Marx Brothers. Record-breaking ticket sales prompted NJT to extend the madcap comedy for a third time and final two weeks through July 17. The production was scheduled to close July 3.

Minnie's Boys has many performances sold out, but tickets are still available for performances on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays at the theater, 5050 W. Church St. in Skokie.

For tickets and further information, call 675-5070.

Variety Club Fishing Derby

Once again mother nature failed to cooperate. High winds, 6' waves and cold temperatures forced postponement of the June 9 fishing derby.

Variety Club of Illinois in cooperation with the Chicago Sports Fishing Association and the Midwest Charter Association, will hold their 4th annual Chicago Coho Sports Fishing Derby on Mon., July 11, 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. from the Hyatt Regency Chicago boat dock, Chicago River, Wacker and Michigan. This year's derby format brings together sponsors with the children from Maryville City of Youth in Des Plaines. Together they will comprise a team which will compete for the coveted Variety Cup, which will have the winners name inscribed on the permanent trophy at Maryville. In addition, prizes will be awarded for the largest fish and the heaviest catch. Variety Club and twenty professionally manned boats will take sponsors and 40 children from Maryville to fish for the first time, for Salmon on Lake Michigan.

Sponsors for this year's Derby include True Value Hardware stores, Chicago Sun-Times, Hyatt Regency Chicago, WGN Radio and the Chicago Boat, Sports and RV Show.

It will be an exciting day for the underprivileged children of Maryville. A great turnout is expected for a fun-day of fishing. Mort Blanc, 7201 N. Lincolnwood, and Sandy Vold are co-chairing this noteworthy project.

Golf Mill'ing Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

Summer greetings from GOLF MILL. This has been and will continue to be a summer to remember. According to meteorologists' predictions, we're in for more of what we experienced two weeks ago—heat and dry conditions. Let's all consider this season a challenge to our bodies and spirits.

In the midst of furnace-like temps when most of us were willing or in a zombi-like trance, those wacky wonders at SPENCERS were busy as bees. The SPENCERS crew, a high energy bunch, set about to jolt mall patrons out of their heat induced somnambulism with their zany sense of humor. According to manager, Audrey Clemmens, the team worked together to construct SPENCERS' own version of Hawaiian scenes to bring a smile to every face. SPENCERS, a store dedicated to the art of tickling funny bones, is not exactly depicting the Honolulu Hilton. Instead, using miscellaneous materials, the crew decided to hone in on some of the less memorable sights.

Using pieces of ripped brown paper bags which resemble the long strands of grass used on Hawaiian huts and hula skirts, SPENCERS' exhibit includes the typical "off the beaten path" souvenir shop. With a brown paper awning trimmed with strips of paper "grass" and crepe paper flowers, Larry and Mike's Souvenir shop is a hilarious rendition of what island tourists might encounter on vacation.

A spray painted sheet draped over who knows what, depicts a volcano. Red cellophane paper strips running down this "mountain" are supposed to resemble lava. A huge inflatable Alf dressed in Hawaiian shirt and lei sits next to the manmade volcano with a huge smile, not the least bit threatened by this awe-inspiring interpretation of one of nature's most beautiful and dangerous phenomena.

SPENCERS also has a model of the obligatory "grass" hut made of ripped brown paper with a large ridiculous-looking stuffed toucan perched atop. We can't exactly say it's like a trip to paradise. However, the SPENCERS crew should be lauded not so much for their artistic creativity, but for their creative sense of the absurd and funny. SPENCERS also carries a unique assortment of summer toys, beach towels, and other paraphernalia of the season in addition to their already zany collection of fun merchandise. For a free glimpse of the wacky side of Walkiki, stop in and feast your eyes.

There has been a lot of scary speculation about the greenhouse effect, the thinning of the ozone layer, and rising rates of health problems attributed to these atmospheric changes. A causative correlation has been made between long-term exposure of skin to ultraviolet rays and skin cancer. Long-term exposure of naked eye to ultraviolet rays can also result in cataract formation later in life. We stopped in at IPICO OPTICAL to learn about summer eye protection. It's important to shield your eyes with sun glasses that have the capability of blocking ultraviolet rays. A rose is a rose, but not every pair of sun glasses can do the job.

We spoke with IPICO's manager, Carolyn Goulart, an optician of five years. She also holds a degree in education and is totally serious about educating patients on all aspects of each pair of glasses and contact lenses IPICO sells.

Carolyn told us, "It's very important to make sure the sun glasses you purchase have a special ultraviolet protective coating to block those nasty rays. If you are having prescription lenses custom made be sure to request this coating. Most quality ready-made sun glasses already have this. This yellowish-black coating blocks out an impressive 99 percent of ultraviolet rays. Look for the UV400 sign on glasses which indicates this coating has been used."

Carolyn explained that lens color is another important factor in blocking sun rays. Gray and brown are the two best blockers, next soothing to the eyes, and least responsible for color distortion. The rule of thumb for tint when purchasing prescription sun glasses—the optician should barely be able to make out the shape of your eye through the lenses.

IPICO carries popular styles such as the Wayfarer which was worn in two movies, Top Gun and Risky Business. They also have a collection of the most up-to-date sun glass advances and chic styles, like shades from Vuarnet, French sun glasses designed for skiers and worn by many sports stars. For driving, photochromatic lenses called Serengeti Drivers by Corning Optics are the ultimate in eye protection.

Carolyn, who is dedicated to her field, told us, "The optical business is one that requires total knowledge of the product and individualized patient service. It's not like people going into a clothing store and picking something off the racks. An optician is a health care professional. It's an important job because good vision is something everyone deserves. . . . Next time you go shopping for a pair of "radical shades" or sun glasses as they used to be known, make sure they are the most radical and innovative in terms of eye protection as well as style. For full services in glasses and contact lenses, concern for health and style, visit IPICO OPTICAL. Until next time, see you at the mall."

Family Service accepted for membership

Family Counseling Service of Evanston and Skokie Valley has been accepted for membership by the National Foundation of Consumer Credit. With the recent addition of Debt Management service to complement Budget Counseling, Family Counseling Service now qualifies for admission to this National organization.

The National Foundation of Consumer Credit has over 350 members nationwide and is recognized by major creditors in the country. According to John Buckley, Executive Director of Family Counseling, "Our affiliation with the foundation will open doors with creditors and enable us to better serve those people who come to us with their financial problems."

At Family Counseling the Financial Specialist works with individuals and couples to set up a program to plan their expenses so as to live within their income. When necessary, to pay off heavy indebtedness, a debt repayment plan is designed and negotiated with creditors. The plan must be acceptable to both debtor and creditor. "The program goal," said Buckley, "is to help people get back on their feet and stay there. It may take from 18-24 months." If you would like more information or to apply for service under this program, please call 328-2404.

SOME OF THE GREATEST INNOVATIONS HAVE SUFFERED FROM A LACK OF VISION.

Lots of great ideas come and go.

Among them, what was described as the "future of filmmaking" and "the most revolutionary advance since the talkies".

Pretty one-dimensional, to say the least. But, as it turns out, the introduction of 3-D did teach us all something. Like, no matter how much fanfare an idea gets, it still has to be a good one.

Which is why, at First of America, we're committed to the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

And, what that means is that if you have a problem, we'll solve it.

Or, if you have a question about any facet of our service, we'll answer it.

And if for any reason you're not satisfied with us, we'll do everything we can to reach a solution.

The point being, we want you to be happy with your banking. No ifs, ands or buts.

So stop by any First of America Bank location and pick up a copy of the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

Because, while some ideas look great at the time, it's much better to put them in the proper perspective.

Harlem-Irving Realty acquires land for Dunning Square

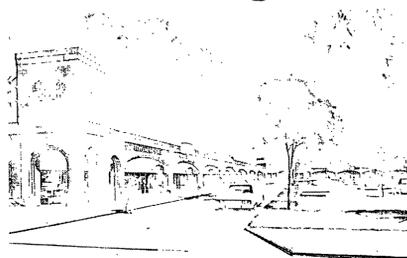

Harlem-Irving Realty, Inc. has acquired 13 acres on the northwest corner of Narragansett Avenue and Irving Park Road for the construction of the 130,000 square foot Dunning Square Shopping Center on 9 acres. An adjacent 4 acre plot will be developed for a possible automobile dealership. American National Bank will finance the construction.

Harlem-Irving's Executive Vice President Jim Bailey stated that final documentation was completed on June 2 which transferred ownership from the State of Illinois to the Village of Norridge, which bought the land from the state for $5.1 million. The Village of Norridge sold the land to Harlem-Irving with an adjacent 15 acres going to Ray Venture Limited.

Ray Venture intends to erect residential housing on its acreage. On February 22, 1988, the Chicago City Council approved a Planned Unit Development calling for the construction of 350 dwelling units including six 44-unit condominiums, one 22-unit condominium, three 3-flats, seventeen 2-flats and twenty-one single family homes in addition to the shopping center and the automobile dealership.

Ray Venture Limited, formed by the Adreani and Pontarelli families, plans to call their residential development Belle Plaine.

Harlem-Irving Realty, the owner of Harlem-Irving Plaza in Norridge, will develop and manage the 9 acre Dunning Square Shopping Center. It will feature approximately 20 stores with parking for 550 cars. A Jewel/Osco supermarket and a T.J. Maxx clothing store will be the principal tenants.

The Jewel/Osco will be a "state of the art" food and drug super store. In addition to a full grocery line with bulk foods, merchandising features include a fresh bakery, deli, floral shop, pharmacy, photo department and a full line cosmetic, health and beauty area.

The co-anchor, T. J. Maxx, will serve the entire family with off-price apparel, giftware and domestic needs. T. J. Maxx is the second largest off-price family apparel chain in the United States.

Jim Bailey and Tom Culhane, Harlem-Irving's Vice President for Development, are finalizing additional leases with Dress Barn, Fashion Bug and Fashion Bug Plus, Shoe Town, Fannie May, Burger King, Hallmark or Carlton Cards, Subway, an ice cream/yogurt shop, Weisser Optical and Jake's Pizza.

Bailey noted that he plans for a groundbreaking ceremony on the south end of the Dunning land sometime after July 18, following the July 6-10 Summer Thriller Festival to benefit the New Horizon Center for the Developmentally Disabled. Harlem-Irving Realty has made its portion of the Dunning land available to the New Horizon Center at no cost.

Chernin's has covered the feet for 81 years

"We Fit Chicago" is a company slogan that Chernin's doesn't term loosely. For the past 81 years, Chernin's has covered the feet of more Chicagoland men, women and children than any other shoe retailer providing its customers with unbeatable style, service and savings.

A business story on the "staying power" of this Chicago institution would be enlightening tracing Chernin's back to its modest beginnings as a street-side shoe stand in the early 1900's to its position as Chicago's top shoe retailer.

Chernin's has never stood still and always had looked for new and better ways to grow. The company pioneered the off-price shoe retail industry by being the first to offer recognizable name-brand shoes for the entire family at everyday savings of up to 40 percent and Chernin's commitment to full-service for the customer remains a dominant force in its corporate policy. The company continued its pioneering spirit by opening two Shoemart Express locations, the first semi-self-service shoe outlet with tremendous growth potential. And recently, Chernin's has embarked on a hard-hitting television advertising campaign.

Advertising is new for Chernin's. For years, the company has relied on tremendous word-of-mouth advertising. Catalog and direct-response advertising have become most important because of the loyal customer base which has been derived from Chernin's mailing list. And, in the last three years, newspaper and radio advertising have taken on equally important roles in enhancing the existing advertising campaign. The current advertising campaign reflects a new "stepping out" attitude by Chernin's to further broaden its already impressive 25 to 50 percent market penetration of customers within a five-mile radius of each store.

Despite Chernin's growth, the company has retained a remarkable commitment to its customers. Indeed, Chernin's is one of the few companies that still understands that the customer is the most important individual in a store setting. It's corporate motto that "No Sale Is Ever Final Until You're Completely Satisfied" exemplifies Chernin's commitment to customer service.

Chernin's is a company with a heart. The original 606 W. Roosevelt Rd. location has been good to Chernin's and the company devotes time and resources to serving the community. It donates thousands of shoes annually to the needy through the Dr. Scholl Foundation and AMVETS and is a strong supporter of the services of the Duncan YMCA on Chicago's west side - helping fund summer camp outings for underprivileged youths and accompanying groups of kids to the Chicago Bulls basketball games each year, in addition to other activities.

Chernin's is Chicago. It is the #1 shoe store for virtually every major Chicago community leader, including mayors, aldermen and other politicians and is the official shoe store of the Chicago Bulls, the Chicago Blackhawks and the Chicago Cubs.

David R. Gonzalez

Marine Pfc. David Gonzalez, son of Dr. and Mrs. Rodolfo Gonzalez of 7828 Davis St., Morton Grove recently reported for duty at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

A 1987 graduate of Notre Dame High School, Niles, he joined the Marine Corps in December 1987.

NSREB statistics show property prices climb

According to statistics released by the North Side Real Estate Board, the average sale price of property in most of Niles Township continues to climb. In Skokie, average sale price is $139,790 in 213 sales with a total volume of $29,775,300, as compared to a year ago with an average sale of $120,563 in 171 sales and a volume of $20,688,096.

Morton Grove property averaged $143,352 in 63 sales, an increase over 1987's $128,122 in 70 sales. In Niles, average price was up to $125,790 in 43 sales from $106,134 in 32 sales last year. Only Lincolnwood dipped in average sale price, from $206,334 in 41 sales last year to $163,149 in 51 sales in 1988.

Total volume of May real estate sales on the north side outstripped last year by more than $11 million, according to Kenneth Ortiz, newly elected president of the North Side Real Estate Board.

The North Side board serves the north side of Chicago and the near north and northwest suburbs.

Volume for May, 1988 was $128,739,179 in 1,013 sales, as compared to $117,671,094 in 993 sales a year ago. Total sales volume for 1988 is up significantly, from $419,847,840 in 3,693 sales in 1987 to $526,510,168 in 4,133 sales in 1988.

The average sale price of property also is up, from $113,687 in 1987 to $127,149 in 1988.

Average single family home sale is $135,991 for May, 1988, compared to $128,038 a year ago. Although total volume of condominium sales remains about the same as last year, the average sale price is up. In 307 May sales, with a total volume of $28,663,825, the average sale price was $93,367. A year ago, the average sale price was $89,259 in 322 sales with a total volume of $28,741,498.

Two to four-unit buildings also showed an increase in average sale price. In 232 sales in 1987, volume was $25,741,498 with an average sale of $111,343. In May, 1988, in 199 sales, average sale price was $124,110, with a total volume of $24,690,055.

If mortgage rates continue to be favorable, the market should remain strong through the prime summer months, according to Ortiz.

Illinois Bed & Breakfast guide available

Looking for a touch of easy living or country charm in Illinois? The first guide to Illinois Bed & Breakfast facilities will be available July 1, free of charge. "This handy guide is part of the new Bed & Breakfast program which promotes the state's collection of charming inns and guest houses," said DCCA Director Jay R. Hedges. "The program was initiated following the General Assembly's passage of the Illinois Bed and Breakfast Act which sets minimum standards for safety and sanitation, standards that can be met without detracting from the ambience of the bed and breakfast experience."

The guide lists nearly 100 Illinois Bed & Breakfast facilities by region, and facilities are listed alphabetically by community within a region. Telephone numbers, addresses, rate information and a brief description are given for each facility. Because each Bed & Breakfast establishment is unique, the size and furnishing of guest rooms will vary tremendously, offering something for every taste.

To receive a copy of the Bed & Breakfast guide, write the Illinois Tourist Information Center at 310 S. Michigan Ave., Suite 108, Chicago, IL 60604, or call toll-free 1-800-222-0121. For further information about the Bed & Breakfast program contact Suzi Hick at the Illinois Office of Tourism at 312-917-4732.

Letters to the Editor

Seeks healthy MG business climate

Dear Editor:

As a resident of Morton Grove and a member of the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce, I support any effort that is made to help sustain a healthy business climate here.

The perception that our business climate is deteriorating has led to a call for an investigation into ways to promote business expansion in the village. I applaud this effort and feel that all civic minded residents should be concerned about the state of the Morton Grove economy.

However, do we have the data needed to accurately assess our business climate? How many Morton Grove businesses are there? What types are they? What type and amounts of revenue do they provide to the village? How many businesses close and open each year? Why do the closings occur?

Some of these questions are now being addressed. The important point here is that the answers to these questions will help us to recognize a less than healthy business climate when it exists and it's cure.

I urge the Morton Grove Chamber and Village leaders to look toward answering these questions, thereby providing the tools for dealing with the inevitable changes in the business cycle.

Sincerely,
Larry Gombers
Morton Grove

Dear Mr. Besser:

The Board of Trustees of the Niles Public Library District wishes to respond to your column, "From the Left Hand," which appeared in the June 23, 1988 edition.

Two major points made in your column are the desire to see more books purchased and to see the employees receive competitive salaries. Your column also remarks about the administrator's salary being increased immediately after the referendum.

The Board's Finance Committee met on Wed., June 22, at 7 p.m. in public session to review the staff's draft of the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988. The trustees had received copies of the draft several days prior to the meeting for their review, and the library's Chief of Operations reviewed the budget, in detail, with the trustees during the meeting. After discussion, questions and answers, the Finance Committee agreed that the tentative budget should be presented to the Board of Trustees for adoption at their July 6, 1988 meeting.

The proposed budget allows for a 78% increase ($165,912) in the library's materials (books, cassettes, recordings, etc.) budget. The materials budget for the present year was 14% of the total operating budget, or $211,958. The proposed materials budget for the upcoming year is 20% of the total operating budget, or $377,870.

Staff salaries are also being adressed in the proposed budget. The committee is recommending a 35% increase ($238,151) in salaries. The present year's budget for salaries was $678,900; the proposed budget is $916,151. Further the Finance Committee gave direction to the library's administration to prepare a new salary schedule based upon the recommended salary budget. This new schedule will be based on making our salaries competitive with the libraries around us.

We expect to implement the new salary schedule in the first quarter of the fiscal year.

When reviewing the Administrator's salary increase which was approved at the April, 1988 board meeting, it is important to understand that the Administrator had not had a salary increase since October, 1985. During those years the library staff received annual increases, based upon merit, of between 0 and 12%, with the average raise being 7.24%.

We agree with The Bugle. A library should be books, books, books. We are especially pleased to see your closing line, "And when library people think they have enough of them [books] their next priority should be books, books, books." We couldn't agree more!

Let's hear from the Silent Majority

Dear Editor:

In a recent newspaper article Governor Thompson was quoted as saying, "You've got three legislative leaders and a governor who are willing to respond to the needs of the people of this state, and a speaker absolutely unwilling to respond, so draw your own conclusions."

Thank you, Governor for allowing the silent majority to form our own conclusions. It is possible that House Speaker Madigan may be truly concerned for the needs of the taxpayer.

Prior to the Governor's last election, he said the State was in good financial position and commented on the excellent job he did in the last 4 years. Soon after his election he started to set the stage for a tax increase. He was trying to sell this tax increase package to us using the old excuses of more funding for education, public health programs, welfare (we really need help on this one), etc. What happened to monies allocated to these agencies in the past years? Is it just contributed to more waste than good. Also, the state income tax and state lottery was to alleviate many financial problems. Where did this money go? Now he wants to subsidize foreign companies, Sox Stadium, etc. How does the silent majority benefit from these?

The primary needs the govern-nor has to fulfill are for self interest groups of his party so he can wield more power in the Republican party.

Now he has manipulated the news media for his crusade for a tax increase. What happened to reducing waste in the State to get some tax relief? That would mean cutting out door bell pushers' jobs and losing influence with self-interest parties. After all, when money talks these people listen.

I say let us hear from the taxpayers who are going to pay and pay and pay for so little that will benefit us.

Elderly parents and their children confront stressful changes

Children's well-intentioned efforts to assist an elderly parent may actually be a detriment to the parent's independence and self-esteem, according to Bernard Shulman, M.D., a staff psychiatrist at Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital, and the co-author of a new book, "How To Survive Your Aging Parent", published by Surrey Books. His co-author was social worker Raean Berman.

"Almost all children want to help their aging parents, but they are usually unprepared for the role," he says. "When children begin to take over for a parent, making decisions for them, performing household chores and personal care tasks, stress and resentment may occur for both. The parent begins to behave in a dependent way, may experience a loss of self-esteem and may not appreciate the child's efforts to help. The child, in turn, frequently feels resentment and stress due to the increased responsibility for the parent."

One reason for this is that children and their parents haven't learned to be friends at a peer level. "It's much easier to get along with a friend, because the roles are more clearly defined," according to Dr. Shulman. "Taking Mom or Dad out for a ride enables the parent to get out, but it doesn't permit to be actively involved. The subtle message to the parent is 'You need to be entertained and cared for'. A better suggestion might be to involve the parent as much as possible in household tasks, meal preparation and daily activities. This says to the parent, 'You can make a contribution - you're a valuable member of the family.'"

The abilities of the elderly are greater than we tend to believe, says Shulman. "We tend to underestimate the wisdom and intelligence of an elderly person, rather than honoring them for these qualities, as other societies do. Studies show that as long as a person remains healthy, learning does not stop."

Living alone may not actually be the best solution for an elderly person, according to Dr. Shulman. "We tend to have the point of view that the right way to live is 'in your own castle', but as people age, they may find it more stressful to continue to live independently, since they have fewer resources to call upon. In previous generations, the young and old lived together cooperatively out of economic necessity. But as society changed, economics made it possible for families to live separately from the elderly, and now, when parents need to live with their children, they are frequently considered unwelcome guests."

Elderly people living cooperatively in a group can be much more beneficial, but this concept has met with resistance from many, including the elderly themselves, since they associate it with loss of independence and self-esteem."

Communal living for the elderly should not be equated with nursing home placement, says Shulman. "Nursing homes should be place for sick people, and there ought to be more facilities for the elderly to live together at reasonable cost, with private apartments, recreational activities and convenient to shopping areas. Let's make group living so nice that everyone wants to go." He added, "We pay great attention to the needs of growing children, but we need to pay more attention to the growing social needs of the elderly."

did a great job.

To all the A's, their manager says thanks for a great job & taking this loss like the good sportsmen you really are.

Artistic Trophy White Sox 3 Niles VFW Post 7112 Phillies 9
The White Sox won a tight game against the Phillies. They were led by John Sikoraki, who had 2 doubles & a single. Fine plays in the field were made by Brian Rademacher, Rob Garitano, & Jigar Patel.

The Phillies lost a tough game to the White Sox 9-7. Hitting for the Phillies were Renz, Sikoraki, R. Derengowski, & M. Kostzrewa made a good catch of a hard line drive off the bat of Kufner. Pitching for the Phillies were Renz, M. Barrett, & Kostzrewa.

Coca-Cola Cubs 12
Niles VFW Post 7112 Phillies 11
The Mets lost after the winning run was walked in the bottom of the seventh. Pitching for the Mets were S. Boscampom, J. Thorsen, Nick Saviano, Jason Campbell, & Sam Barabasz.

Pitchers for the Cubs were T. Kettleman, B. Costello, John Cunney, & A. Knapick. Tom Kiehn & Ron Strzelecki were called up from Little League.

Happy Hound Athletics 19
Knights of Columbus Orioles 8
Good pitching by Tommy Rosequist, Patrick Sheehan, & Joey Knudsen, plus excellent hitting by Tommy Rosequist, with homer number 2, which was a grand slam, Joey Knudsen, also homer number 2, led the A's to a 19-8 victory over the Orioles.

Also adding to the hitting attack were Chris Pigott & Patrick Sheehan (4 for 5), Shawn Cutlip, 2 for 4, Jeremy Mangan with a single, Ryan O'Connor with a single, Nick Katsosollas with 2 singles, plus all the boys played excellent defense. Good effort by all pitched off.

Helping for the Orioles were C. Kenney, J. Wynne, A. Crowe, M. McMurray, & J. Fitzgerald.

Artistic Trophy White Sox 24
Village Bike Shoppe Red Sox 2
The White Sox were led in hitting tonight by Mark Kufner with a triple & 2 home runs. John LeVoy had 3 singles. They beat the Red Sox 24-2. Mark

Blickhahn, Jim Sikoraki, & Jim Tomaska pitched scoreless innings to help get the victory. Niles VFW Post 7112 Phillies 9
The Mets & Phillies met for the first time and played a very good game. The Phillies pitchers of Renz, Helma, & Kostzrewa led the Mets to 2 hits, one each by Boscampom and Thorsen. The Phillies hitters were Sikoraki, one hit, Helma 2 hits, Renz, a big triple and Kostzrewa 3 hits.

The Mets had a good game against the League leading Phillies. Mets pitchers were Boscampom, Saviano, and Thorsen. Artistic Trophy White Sox 28
Coca Cola Cubs 2

The White Sox were led tonight by Mark Kufner (4 hits), Jim Tomaska (3 hits), John LeVoy (2 hits, 2 walks), Jigar Patel (3 hits), and Mark Blickhahn (2 hits), as they beat the Cubs 28-2.

Cubs pitchers were J. Kettleman, B. Costello, David Miller, Sean Dorsey, and A. Knapick. Minelli Bros. Padres 7
Happy Hound Athletics 7

Contributing to the Padres offense were Manish Patel with a triple, Tom Naumowicz with a single & double, Chad Mirak with a double, & Brett Schaumburg, Marty McDonagh, Neil Self, & James Wheeler all had singles. The combined pitching talents of Manish Patel, Tim Brown, KC Schlenker, Neil Self, & Brett Schaumburg kept this seven inning game a tie.

Nice game, but darkness set in & the game was called after 7 innings. Good hitting by Nick Katsosollas, Joey Knudsen, Chris Pigott, & Shawn Cutlip plus a whole bunch of walks by Ryan O'Connor, Jeremy Mangan, Patrick Sheehan & Tommy Rosequist, could only score 7 runs thru 6 innings. The 7th inning was scoreless for both teams & the game called because the lights just wouldn't go on. Pitching for the A's were Rosequist, Sheehan, Knudsen, & Jeremy Mangan. Helping us try for a win was Mike VanDine of the Little League Yankees.

Working while disabled

Social Security disability benefits are paid to people who suffer a physical or mental disability which has or is expected to keep them from working for a year or more, or to result in death. Many people eventually return to work, and a number of Social Security rules are designed to make the journey back easier.

In general, these rules permit people to continue receiving cash benefits and Medicare coverage until they reach the point where they can work on a regular basis. Different rules provide similar assistance to supplemental security income (SSI) beneficiaries.

The first rule available to a disabled person who works is the trial work period. A beneficiary is permitted to work for up to 9 months (not necessarily consecutive) without having the earnings affect Social Security benefits. A trial work month is any month in which earnings are $75 or more. After 9 trial work months, a decision is made as to whether the beneficiary is performing substantial gainful work. If it is decided that the work is substantial gainful work, benefits will continue for the month in which the decision is made, and 2 more months. Thus, a disabled beneficiary who goes back to work may have up to 12 months of unlimited earnings before disability benefits stop.

Generally, earnings averaging $300 or more a month is considered substantial gainful work. If the work a person does is similar to that done by nondisabled persons in the community, then earnings of less than $300 a month may be considered substantial gainful work. If you are self-employed, we also consider such factors as the time you put into the business and value of your work as well as your earnings.

Many people ask about the $75 figure that constitutes a trial work period and $300 figure that denotes substantial gainful work. Remember, during the trial work period, there is no limit on how much you can earn so long as your impairment does not improve medically. The $75 is a bottom level of earnings used solely to identify a trial work month. After the trial work period, we look at the amount of money you have been earning to see if it averages at least $300 a month, which is considered substantial gainful work.

People who have questions about working while disabled may call or write and ask for free leaflets on the subject. Our phone number is 823-0815.

Family Film at Niles Library

Families are invited to visit the Niles Public Library, 6960 Oakton, on Monday, July 11 to enjoy a classic film about a beautiful princess, her seven small friends, and a wicked witch. The movie is 83 minutes long. Call the Library for show times.

Free tickets will be available after 9 a.m. on the day of the show. No one will be admitted without a ticket. The film will be shown at three different times. A show time must be chosen with tickets are picked up. There is a limit of 5 tickets per family (including adults).

Children up to 6 years old must be accompanied by an adult. Adults not attending the film must remain in the building.

This program is part of the Monday Specials series. For more information about this and other free programs for children, call the Niles Public Library at 967-8554.

Artist work on display

Artist Bill Pollack's pen and ink drawings on photographs are currently on exhibit at the Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 W. Pratt ave. He draws his subject matter from observations and pictures taken during his travels throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba, England, Italy, Spain, Greece, the Soviet Union, Israel, Egypt, Japan, Hong Kong and China. His work will be on display until July 15.

A resident of Skokie for the past 20 years, he has exhibited at the Skokie and Park Ridge Libraries, the Covenant Club of Illinois, the Maine-Niles Art Fair, and the Skokie Camera Shop.

Volunteers sought for handicapped children

The Illinois State Board of Education is seeking volunteers to serve as Educational Advocates for local handicapped children who are wards of the state. These children have no parent to guide them through the special education process. The Advocate represents the child's educational interests, helps the school plan the child's educational program, and attends school meetings. Each advocate receives $50 per semester for each student represented. There is a great need for Advocates in the Des Plaines/Park Ridge area.

Advocates must attend a three-hour training session. Summer sessions are now being scheduled. For more information, call April Nemrava at 998-5065.

Monday specials at Niles library

During July the Niles Public Library District will present a series of Monday Specials for children of all ages. A wide range of activities, including stories, crafts, and movies will be shared on these special days.

Scheduled are a Special Family Film (July 11), Devour Power! (July 18), and Funny Food Day (July 25). Each day has separate time restrictions, so pick up an information sheet at the Library, 6960 oakton St.

Children may come to one or all of these programs. Free tickets for the Special Family Film will be available on the day of the show. Advance registration for Devour Power! begins June 27.

This program is part of the Devour a Book! Summer Reading Program. For more information about this free program and other activities for children, call the Niles Public Library District at 967-8554.

Township juvenile restitution program cited for excellence

Maine Township's innovative juvenile restitution program has been cited for excellence by the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority.

MaineTRAC (Maine Township Restitution for Adolescent Change) won an honorable mention as an "exemplary program" in the 1988 Governor's Awards for Outstanding Achievement in Community Crime Prevention.

MaineTRAC provides an opportunity for young offenders involved in nonviolent, minor crimes, to make restitution through community service.

Maine Township Supervisor

Paul K. Halverson said, "We are extremely gratified that our efforts have been recognized."

"MaineTRAC is the first program of its kind in this area. It was established by the Maine Township Board in order to offer juvenile offenders a chance to change by helping them develop a sense of personal responsibility and teaching them the skills needed to be self-sufficient, law-abiding adults."

The restitution program is administered by MaineStay, Maine Township's youth services department. It serves youth between the ages of 12 and 17 who are referred by the police, courts, and probation officers.

In addition to community service work, participants must attend skill-building workshops focusing on job preparation, life skills, personal development, substance abuse awareness, and values. Some sessions also include parents.

To date, 19 juvenile offenders have been referred to the program and three have successfully completed it.

Placements have included office work, maintenance, and yard work, as well as a variety of other tasks designed to build work skills.

Twenty-seven agencies have agreed to provide volunteer work opportunities. Agencies that would like to participate in the program should call MaineStay at 823-0650.

answered his "I'll be seeing you" with my own "Oh, no you won't." I was more surprised at my second reaction than when I initially encountered the man. I turned into a real Dr. Jekyll.

Former Niles and Morton Grove park director Marv Weiss died last week. He was the head of Niles park program for only a year and a half back in the 1964-65 period and served Morton Grove for nine years prior to his Niles tenure.

When Marv left Niles he went a few miles north to an unincorporated area, River Trails, which later became part of the more recently created Prospect Heights, as well as a part of Mount Prospect.

There is no better example of the right guy finding the right job than Marv's collaboration at River Trails. When he first went there the district was very small. But, as the population grew, so did the park district. Marv became a one-man park ombudsman, being responsible for the purchase and development of seven parks as well as an administrative building, outdoor swimming pool, a golf driving range and a recreation center.

Debbie Carlson, the present acting director at River Trails, gave Marv the best of all eulogies. She said, "he was a good friend, he will be missed and he gave it his all."

Deb said the park district was Marv's whole life. Not only did he purchase the land but he designed the parks and was completely consumed by his work. It was not only his vocation but also his avocation.

When the new community center was completed a couple of years ago, the park commissioners insisted the center be named after Weiss. It was most unusual. To name a building after a person who is still active in park activities seemed significant. And to name it after a hired hand rather than an official expressed the regard and affection the River Trails people had for Weiss.

If Weiss could review the past years I'm sure he would be pleased with his success in his chosen field. And I'm sure the continued use of the Weiss Fieldhouse and the many other recreation facilities in this district is a formidable living monument to a man who gave his life for the recreation of other people.

positives concerning Benach's use of the property," she said. Purchase of the property is contingent on Benach getting the rezoning he wants from Cook County to build residential housing... a contingency that the school board was willing to grant to bona fide bidders.

Tentative plans are to tear down the 379,000-square-foot school to build 960 townhouses and condominiums, but Benach has not ruled out the possibility of saving part of the building for another use such as offices. If granted the new zoning, construction could start next year, according to a school source.

Benach's $7.75 million bid represents only the value of the land, according to an official of Sheldon Good & Co., a Chicago real estate brokerage and consultant to District 207 that conducted the auction. When the school was built in the early 1970's, it cost more than $15 million.

Bidders at the auction were each required to come up with a $200,000 cashier's check as earnest money before the auction to show their ability to close the deal. The auction started with 10 active bidders at $2 million and as it inched up to $7 million only ing it easy, but I'm going to miss everyone here," she said. "I'll be around to visit the department because I'm staying in Niles."

Raffa said immediate plans include a vacation in North and South Carolina with her husband, Walter. "I love traveling and am looking forward to the trip. When I return, I'll probably look into different activities to keep busy during my retirement days," she said.

tamination by hazardous substances, the developer shall stop further excavation or dewatering in the affected area.

Developers of the proposed shopping center, Taxman Corp of Skokie and Trammel Crow have been having problems starting work on the site because of contaminated water discovered last summer on the Skokie side of the site. Although the developers received zoning approval from both municipalities, they promised not to begin construction until the IEPA says it is safe to do so.

In a recent statement, Taxman said he expected to get an "okay" from the agency regarding construction on the Niles side, which has been tested by AT&T engineers. He had no comment on when Skokie work would proceed.

According to AT&T, new ground water tests taken last month showed the chemical leak has not spread beyond the Touhy Ave. site. They further said investigation of the contamination would soon be completed and then work could begin on any necessary cleanup.

AT&T and the IEPA have stressed the contamination poses no health threat since it is in ground water that is not used for drinking water. Drinking water is supplied by the City of Chicago.

When completed in three phases, the shopping center will occupy 809,570 square feet and feature at least one grocery store, a department store and several other large stores.

companionship. According to Connelly, efforts are made to match the volunteer with the person involved, considering similar interests or talent such as music (played on a tape recorder), crafts, crocheting, playing cards or writing letters for those who cannot do so.

Connelly made presentations in February to senior clubs and various organizations in the village to explain the program and the need for volunteers. "We have received great response," Connelly said.

Persons interested in becoming volunteers go through a training course conducted by the Trident Center's staff nurse, Carol Harris, together with social worker Bev Wessels. Anyone interested in being a Friendly Visitor may call the Trident Center at 967-6100 ext. 376.

Morton Grove Library News

John Barry, nature lover and wildlife photographer, will present a special slide program on canoeing on the DesPlaines River on Tuesday, July 12 at 11:30 a.m. at the Morton Grove Public Library.

"1,000 Canoes" will feature events during the Annual DesPlaines River Canoe Marathon and will also show pictures of native plants, wildflowers and wildlife seen during the 19-mile canoeing trip.

Mr. Barry recently retired after 40 years with ITT Bell & Gossett in Morton Grove. He began entering photo contests several years ago and has won a number of first place awards. Free coffee will be served at the program and everyone is invited to bring their lunch and enjoy this trip into the wilderness of the DesPlaines River.

NORTRAN study shows cost for Skokie Swift extension

Costs for extending the Skokie Swift from Dempster St. in Skokie to Lake Cook Rd. could be as low as $23.7 million, according to a recently completed study commissioned by NORTRAN (the North Suburban Mass Transit District).

This compares with an estimate of $91 million contained in an earlier study by the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) for building a double-track line. The latest study into the costs of extending the line a distance of 8.5 miles was made by Emanuel Siegel, an independent consulting engineer with extensive experience in evaluating rail lines nationwide. The Siegel study estimates costs of extending the service to Lake Cook Rd. at $24 million, still less than a third of the CATS study estimate.

"Mr. Siegel's study indicates that extending light rail service to Northbrook is not a pie-in-the-sky scheme but a very reachable goal," according to Stanley Bristol, chairman of NORTRAN's rail committee and the District's trustee from Northfield Township. "It can be accomplished on a minimal basis by using the present Chicago & NorthWestern freight single track, installing overhead electrification lines and building a platform and commuter parking at Lake Cook Road."

"We even think a name change for the project—from Skokie Swift to the North Shore Swift is much more descriptive of this exciting public transportation project which will serve so many residents of the north and northwest suburbs."

NORTRAN will present The Skokie Swift study to CATS this week for inclusion in CATS' 2010 Plan, a long range regional public transportation master plan which extends out to the year 2010. Plans and projects not included in the CATS plan have no chance of qualifying for federal or state capital funding.

NORTRAN's action was supported by the North and Northwest Council of Mayors at their May meetings. The Councils are on record as actively supporting placing the Skokie Swift service extension in the 2010 plan.

Four departments respond to apartment blaze

Niles fire officials are seeking the cause of a fire that broke out in an apartment about 1 a.m. on July 1 at Terrace Square, 9128 Terrace Dr., Niles.

There were no occupants in the apartment at the time of the blaze.

Firefighters from Niles, North Maine, Morton Grove and Glenbrook responded to the fire in the first floor apartment of the building.

According to Bill White of the Niles Fire Department, firemen arrived on the scene to see smoke and flame shooting out of a bedroom window at the rear of the apartment. The fire was extinguished in about 20 minutes," White said. There were no injuries.

Although the fire itself was confined to the bedroom area, smoke which filled the entire apartment was cleared with smoke ejectors. There was some extension of fire out bedroom window and to the floor above burning a section of wood siding on the building, he said.

Damage estimate is unknown and the fire is under investigation.

Touhy ramp at Edens ready to open

The reconstruction of the interchange on the Edens Expressway at Touhy Avenue in Lincolnwood and Skokie is at the halfway mark—ahead of schedule.

By Friday morning, the Illinois Department of Transportation said, the newly reconstructed ramps on the north side of Touhy Avenue should be open and the ramps on the south side of Touhy should be closed for reconstruction.

The project got underway in mid-March, 3½ months ago, and is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 31 which is four months away. The project includes the replacement of all interchange ramps, the reconstruction of the bridge carrying Touhy Avenue over the Edens Expressway, and the widening and resurfacing of the Touhy Avenue and Cicero Avenue intersection.

It is suggested that motorists use the Peterson Avenue interchange and the Dempster Avenue interchange during the project.

A $5,286,000 contract on the project was awarded to Monarch Asphalt Co., Skokie, and Herlitz Mid-Continent Co., Chicago.

It was Takeshita's first visit to Chicago...and in between touring the town and attending dinners in his honor...announced his government will help fund a $4 million renovation of the Oriental exhibit in the Art Institute.

VACATION TIDBITS...Bugle Editor Diane Miller and her husband, Joe, recently spent a week in Mountain Home, Ark. fishing and camping. While there, they enjoyed the hospitality of retired Niles Duty Chief Gordon Michalsen and his wife, Ramona, at a fish fry in their beautiful home in the hills overlooking Lake Norfolk. Diane tells us Gordie and his neighbor Clarence caught their limit of 18 trout on the White River the day of the fish fry and then cooked them in a deep fryer outdoors on Gordie's patio. After a delightful meal, Gordie treated the Millers and his neighbors to a fireworks display from the outdoor deck of his home over Lake Norfolk. The Michalsens are certainly enjoying their "Mountain Home."

Keith Peck, Niles director of public services, recently returned from a vacation in California. The first priority was to visit his new granddaughter, Jennifer, in Glendale where his son, Raymond, and wife, Mary Ed, have taken up residence. Peck and his wife, Elsie, has a good time visiting Disneyland and Universal Studios and ended their vacation by attending the National Square Dance Convention in Anaheim. Added note: Peck said he slept through the slight earthquake that shook parts of California while he was there.

metropolitan Chicago—including seven others in Chicago's northern suburbs—and by three agencies in the Rockford area and two in the Galesburg area.

The system automates the collection and maintenance of police records, including information about arrests, incidents and arrests. The system also generates reports that help police analyze crime trends, manage police resources and plan tactical efforts, among other things.

In addition to managing the records of individual departments, PIMS permits those agencies to share information with one another through a central database.

"Criminals today are highly mobile and tend to operate in several jurisdictions," said J. David Coldren, executive director of the Authority. "Our philosophy with PIMS has always been to give law enforcement agencies access to a broad range of information they need to identify crime patterns, including those that cross jurisdictional boundaries," he said.

The Chicago-area PIMS network is operated by the Authority on computers located in its downtown Chicago office. Terminals and printers in each department are linked to the central site via telecommunications lines.

Children said this arrangement saves local agencies from having to purchase expensive computer hardware or hire specialized systems personnel. In addition, agencies can share information with one another more easily through the Authority's centrally located computers, he said.

Keep kids busy for a trouble free summer

To help adolescents and children enjoy an entertaining and trouble-free summer vacation, Psychologist Mark McKee, coordinator, Adolescent Inpatient Psychiatry Unit, Lutheran General Children's Medical Center, 1775 Dempster St., Park Ridge, suggests parents enroll their children in an active summer program which meets regularly throughout the summer months.

Dr. McKee explains that when boredom strikes, children and adolescents may become inactive, depressed and withdraw from normal activities. "In some cases, a child will simply disappear each day and return without sharing where he has been - a telltale sign of misbehavior outside the home," says Dr. McKee.

To battle boredom, Dr. McKee recommends parents contact their school district, community recreational center, local church, or synagogue, or Y.M.C.A. These organizations are equipped to entertain children with programs in swimming, gymnastics, painting, reading, tennis, and more. He notes that parents of younger children should consider a reputable day camp or membership in the Boy or Girl Scouts of America; and teenagers can benefit from a part-time job, which helps them develop their self-esteem and a growing sense of responsibility.

"However, the best way for parents to learn what programs other children have enjoyed is to talk to other parents," adds Dr. McKee. "Many times parents are prime sources when seeking popular, beneficial, and reputable programs."

Lutheran General Children's Medical Center, 1775 Dempster Street, Park Ridge, is a service of Lutheran General Health Care System.
