No sizeable hikes in Maine-Niles homeowners' taxes

For the second straight year tax rates remained about the same in Maine and Niles Townships. No suburban areas were reassessed for the past year. Taxes are due August 30. Quadrennial tax rates increased from 20% to 33% in 1986 in Maine Township. In 1985 Niles Township had increases during its 1985 quadrennial year. Next re-assessments will be in Niles Township in 1989, due in 1990, and in 1991, in Maine Township. Increases in school districts 63 and 64 in Niles and Morton Grove were a fraction of 1%. Increases in Niles Township were similar with the lowest district in the County, Niles District 71, decreasing by 2%. The varied rates are due to the

At last! Lawrencew'd settlement

Aldi Food Store and Robert Krilich, owner of Lawrencewood shopping center, have reached an agreement to resolve the issue of a judgment order over Aldi's lease agreement, according to Niles Village Attorney Richard Troy. Troy did not know the terms of the settlement and Krilich was unavailable for comment. An appeal filed by Aldi claimed they did not receive their fair share of the award (because of their unvaluable lease) by Judge Alfred Walsh. The judgment order ended Niles 13-month condemnation suit against the center after the village reached a settlement with Krilich. Troy noted that although the Aldi-Krilich settlement presumed to be the last block towards the

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Niles village trustees at Tuesday night's board meeting approved a 30 cent increase in the cost of garbage pickup requested by Haulaway, Inc., the company that handles the village's garbage.

The increase is due to higher landfill costs, higher costs for a truck fuel, and additional state and county taxes, according to Trustee Bart Murphy.

Garbage pickup will cost $7.72 per household per month as compared with the previous rate of $7.42. The increase will be retroactive to July 1. "The contract adjustment will reflect an

Maine Township has applications for funding
Maine Township Supervisor Paul K. Halverson has announced that applications for township funding in 1989 are now available to nonprofit social service agencies.

Any nonprofit agency that serves Maine Township residents may apply for funding. Applications must be completed and returned by Sept. 2 in order for agencies to be considered for 1989 social service funds. In 1988, Maine Township allocated $350,000 to 22 agencies that serve Maine Township residents.

Halverson said, "The Maine Township Board is committed to helping residents who need the special services provided by nonprofit agencies." "In the past, funds to assist these agencies were provided through the Federal Revenue Sharing program. Since the termination of revenue sharing, the township has made every effort to try to maintain these services and carefully weighs each request before allocating public funds to an agency," Halverson said. After reviewing the applications, the board will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct 11.

Applications may be obtained from Meryl Rivenson, Director of Administration, Maine Township Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge, IL 60068. For further information, call 297-2510.

Man eludes police after stealing car

A suspected car thief led a Niles police officer on a high speed chase on July 17, but despite added help from four squad cars and Morton Grove police units, the offender got away.

A Niles police officer on routine patrol about 2 a.m. was traveling on Milwaukee Ave. when he observed a 1987 Ford Mustang pulling out of the Golf Mill Ford parking lot at 9401 Milwaukee. The vehicle then proceeded south on Milwaukee at a high rate of speed.

While the officer was attempting to catch up with the vehicle, the driver continued to accelerate and made a right turn on Maryland. When the officer activated the emergency lights, the car again accelerated and proceeded south on Maryland where the offender lost control of the car in front of 9096 Maryland. The auto went up a parkway damaging a speed limit sign and the lawn.

According to Niles police, when the auto came to a stop, the subject exited the car through the driver's window and began running through the yards. The officer called radio dispatch for a foot chase and began pursuing the suspect, but lost him in the back yards.

Niles and Morton Grove squad cars surrounded the Maryland area and a search began for the offender with negative results. A Rosemont police officer answering the emergency dispatch searched the area with a dog, but was unable to find the subject. The search ended at 3:30 a.m.

The manager of the car agency, who was contacted about the incident, subsequently identified the Mustang as belonging to Golf Mill Ford. He also stated several cars had been found missing from the car lot during the past week.

The offender was described 16-20 years old, 5' 0" and weighing 150-160 pounds. He had black hair and was wearing a black shirt and dark pants.

Niles burglary spree ends with 4-year prison term

A Chicago man responsible for a series of home burglaries in Niles last fall has been sentenced to four years in prison, according to Cook County State's Attorney Richard M. Daley.

Franklin Varney Jr., 19, of 3536 N. Monticello ave., Niles, pleaded guilty earlier this month to five separate break-ins and a sixth attempted burglary that led to his arrest by Niles police, Daley said.

After admitting the string of burglaries, Judge Michael Pope of Des Plaines Court sentenced Varney to the four-year prison term.

"Varney is a professional thief and burglar who found it profitable to target the homes of Niles residents while they were away at work until an alert neighbor spotted him trying to enter a house and notified police," Daley said. Varney pled guilty to the Oct. 27, 1987 burglary of a house on the 7500 block of N. Kedzie and to two break-ins on Oct. 30, one on the 7500 block of Cleveland and the other on the 8000 block of N. Osceola, according to Daley.

Three days later, on Nov. 2, Varney burglarized homes on the 8200 block of N. Ozark and the 7800 block of Lill st., Daley added.

It was while attempting a third break-in on that same day that Varney was seen standing on an air conditioning unit trying to climb through the window of a house on the 7800 block of Greenleaf.

Police were called and Varney was arrested near the scene, according to Daley, who praised Niles police and Assistant State's Attorney Nancy Scotillo for their work on the case.

Niles Fire Dept. calls

The Niles Fire Department responded to 26 fire alarms and 39 ambulance calls from July 13 to July 22.

Firemen responded to 7804 Neva Ave. where a car fire had already been extinguished with a garden hose. Estimated damage was $1,000.

Firefighters used tools to open a window to let an occupant into his home at 8054 Lyons on July 15.

A young boy accidentally pulled the box alarm at 8435 Ballard Rd. There was no cause for alarm, and the system was reset.

A fire alarm malfunctioned at Gemini Jr. High School at 8955 Greenwood on July 16. The alarm box was reset.

Firefighters on July 16 went to 8503 Oleander on a report of a gas odor in the house. Cause was attributed to a pilot light that went out in the furnace. The unit was shut down and the owner was advised to call Northern Illinois

Developers for the AT&T property on Touhy Ave. submitted building permit applications last week to the Village of Niles, but questions on engineering work have stalled issuance of the permits according to Joe Salerno, Niles director of zoning enforcement.

"Some aspects of engineering have to be worked out before we can give them a full building permit," Salerno added. "Once they have the permits, construction can begin on the Niles portion of the site."

Developers of the project are Trammel Crow Co. of Itasca and Texman Corp. of Skokie. A shopping center is planned for the 42-acre AT&T site, of which Skokie occupies nearly 72 percent of the property and Niles the remaining 28 percent.

Jim Schultz, Taxman vice president, said Monday initial work on foundations and footings on the Niles side (that began several weeks ago) is expected to be completed in four to six weeks. "Once we get the permits, the next step is grading the property. Construction would begin in September and some stores could open as early as next spring," he said.

Schultz added the shopping center is expected to be in full operation by July, 1989. Work on the Skokie side will not begin until 1990.

The initial work of putting in footings and foundations was subject to conditions set by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) to ensure environmental safeguards at the site. "The village will continue to follow IEPA rules as work progresses on our side of the property," Salerno said.

He added the developers have agreed to abide by any conditions set by state environmental authorities, if Niles would approve construction on the site.

An IEPA letter concerning the conditions that would allow work to proceed applied only to the portion located in Niles and not the Skokie side of the property. AT&T is also carrying out environmental investigation on the Skokie side on the property where leaking tanks of industrial sol-

Lincolnwood Library lecture

"Return from Latin America" will be the subject of a slide lecture by Lincolnwood resident Debra Farkas, Wednesday, August 3, from 7-8:30 p.m. at the Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 West Pratt Ave.

Farkas will report on her experiences last year in a travel program sponsored by the Institute for International Cooperation and Development, a global education institute in Amherst, Mass.

After two months of study and preparation at the Institute, she traveled in Latin America with a dozen other students for five months in a school bus, equipped with a kitchen and beds. During the trip the students stayed with Mexican and Nicaraguan families in their homes.

Upon her return, she spoke to a number of groups on the West Coast about the program. Farkas said her message is one of "self-empowerment - no matter their age, people can make an impact and bring about change."

The program is free and open to the public.

Registrations must be made by calling 729-8970, Ext. 643, before August 15.

HEAT STRESS

Heat can be a grave danger for senior citizens. Heat stress is the burden that hot weather places on the body, especially the heart. If the burden is too great, heat can make a person very sick and even become fatal. Temperatures above 90F can be very dangerous, especially when the humidity is also high. A sudden increase in temperature is particularly dangerous because the body is unprepared for the strain. Mild signs of heat stress are lack of energy or slight loss of appetite. Unless these last a long time, there is no need for alarm. Serious signs include: dizziness, chest pain, rapid heartbeat, great weakness, diarrhea, mental changes, nausea, breathing problems, throbbing headache, vomiting, dry skin (no sweating) and cramps. Call a doctor for medical help if any of these signs persist.

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call Ralph Birmingham at the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line, 470-5223, or Ronee Brenner at the Prairie View Community Center, 965-7447.

Picking corn for GOP picnic

Buttered corn, always a drawing card at the Northwest Suburban Republican Family Picnic, will be especially popular at this year's event. Bill Fraser, Des Plaines, and Gary Warner, Park Ridge, from the Maine Township Republican Organization, look over the ears with Walter Conard, Rolling Meadows, from the Elk Grove Township GOP, general chairman of the picnic on Sun., July 31, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Groves 5 thru 10 of Busse Woods, Arlington Heights and Higgins Rds. in Elk Grove Township.

Tickets at $5 per family, including corn, soft drinks, games, pony rides and much more, are available from Republican precinct captains in Elk Grove, Maine, Hanover and Wheeling Townships, and at the site on Sunday.

Warning on private well water

Despite recent rain, private water well owners in the metropolitan suburban area are encouraged to conserve water. Charles Hackl, with the Environmental Health Division of the Cook County Department of Public Health, states that "the record-breaking drought has lowered the water table considerably and the lack of rainfall has hindered nature's ability to recharge the aquifers that supply private wells".

There is not necessarily an unlimited amount of water in a well. Dependent on the depth of your well, you may deplete your water supply and possibly that of your neighbor. If the supply is depleted, you will be faced with the costly expense of drilling a deeper well.

Your grass is currently in a dormant state. It will grow again when Mother Nature provides her natural water source—rain.

St. John Lutheran film series

Dr. James C. Dobson knows it's difficult for todays parents to keep their priorities straight. In "Turn Your Heart Toward Home," Dr. Dobson alerts parents to the threats kids face, and urges them to take a stand for their families, and turn to the values that make homes strong.

In this provocative six-part film series, Dr. Dobson speaks openly about the issues. His front-line perspective inspires, compels, and motivates. The fourth film, "The Family Under Fire," tells of the "civil war" of values that is underway in our society.

Get involved to preserve what you care about most—your family. Please note that this film contains explicit information regarding the pornography industry and is not recommended for young audiences. This film will be shown at St. John Lutheran Church, 7429 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, (one block south of Harlem) on Sunday, July 31 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Child care for small children will be provided.

The community is welcome to view these excellent films with the members of St. John.

Chernin's has covered the feet for 81 years

"We Fit Chicago" is a company slogan that Chernin's doesn't term loosely. For the past 81 years, Chernin's has covered the feet of more Chicagoland men, women and children than any other shoe retailer providing its customers with unbeatable style, service and savings.

A business story on the "staying power" of this Chicago institution would be enlightening tracing Chernin's back to its modest beginnings as a street-side shoe stand in the early 1900's to its position as Chicago's top shoe retailer.

Chernin's has never stood still and always had looked for new and better ways to grow. The company pioneered the off-price shoe retail industry by being the first to offer recognizable name-brand shoes for the entire family at everyday savings of up to 40 percent and Chernin's commitment to full-service for the customer remains a dominant force in its corporate policy. The company continued its pioneering spirit by opening two ShoeMart Express locations, the first semi self-service shoe outlet with tremendous growth potential. And recently, Chernin's has embarked on a hard-hitting television advertising campaign.

Advertising is new for Chernin's. For years, the company has relied on tremendous word-of-mouth advertising. Catalog and direct-response advertising have become most important because of the loyal customer base which has been derived from Chernin's mailing list. And, in the last three years, newspaper and radio advertising have taken on equally important roles in enhancing the existing advertising campaign. The current advertising campaign reflects a new "stepping out" attitude by Chernin's to further broaden its already impressive 25 to 50 percent market penetration of customers with a five-mile radius of each store.

Despite Chernin's growth, the company has retained a remarkable commitment to its customers. Indeed, Chernin's is one of the few companies that still understands that the customer is the most important individual in a store setting. It's corporate motto that "No Sale is Ever Final Until You're Completely Satisfied" exemplifies Chernin's commitment to customer service.

Chernin's is a company with a heart. The original 606 W. Roosevelt Rd. location has been good to Chernin's and the company devotes time and resources to serving the community. It donates thousands of shoes annually to the needy through the Dr. Scholl Foundation and AMVETS and is a strong supporter of the services of the Duran YMCA on Chicago's west side - helping fund summer camp outings for underprivileged youths and accompanying groups of kids to the Chicago Bulls basketball games each year, in addition to other activities.

Chernin's is Chicago. It is the #1 shoe store for virtually every major Chicago community leader, including mayors, aldermen and other politicians and is the official shoe store of the Chicago Bulls, the Chicago Blackhawks and the Chicago Cubs.

IRS reminder for newly weds

Its summer - the traditional time for weddings and also an appropriate time for a friendly reminder from the Internal Revenue Service for all the newly married couples.

If you plan to take your new spouse's name in place of your own or as a hyphenated last name, R.S. Wintrobe, Jr., District Director for northern Illinois, urges you to contact your local Social Security Office to update your record to reflect your new name. Your social security number will remain the same.

It is important that this change be made because a mismatch of name and social security number could delay your refund, if you are entitled to one, by as long as eight to ten weeks beyond normal processing time," noted Wintrobe.

The name change is made on Form SS-5, and can be done by mail. An SS-5 form is available from your local social security office or by calling the IRS at 1-800-424-3676.

New State Law - Smoke Detectors

Each day thousands of fires take dozens of lives and injure hundreds more in communities just like ours. The sad fact is that many of these fires could have been prevented or minimized if only those affected had an understanding of how fires start and how to prevent or control them along with having some basic fire protection equipment at hand.

Effective on the 1st day of July of this year, 1988, it became a law in the state of Illinois that all residential living units must have a smoke detector. The law stipulates that a fine can be levied if there is a fire and no smoke detector is found and to be in working order. This law was a long time in coming and is being heralded by all Fire Departments as a significant achievement in saving lives from fire.

Smoke alarms save lives and property, states Chief Farman of the North Maine Fire Department. Early warning is one of the most important elements in surviving a fire. Chief Farman states that highly reliable, solid state design smoke detectors that provide the warning you need to take early action to protect your home and family from the ravages of fire are readily available from almost every store, including the North Maine Fire Department. The Chief recommends locating alarms adjacent to sleeping areas whether they are on the main floor, upper stories or in the basement. Other recommended areas are: top of basement staircase, garage, kitchen or wherever hazards may exist.

To accompany your smoke detector you should have a fire extinguisher in your home, your boat, your car, your garage, and your RV. There are a wide variety of Fire Extinguishers available on the market. The most common to be used in the house is known as an ABC type extinguisher. This type is good for wood, paper, rubber, fabric and plastics, flammable liquids (such as gasoline, paint, solvents, etc.) and electrical fires.

If your home is more than one story or if you live above the ground level you may want to give some thought to using a life ladder. This procedure is suggested in the commonly known and widely used program called E.D.I.T.H. (exit drills in the home). This program is taught in the schools and is provided by the North Maine Fire Department. It is highly suggested that everyone have more than one exit from their room and home. Chief Farman wants to remind everyone that fire safety is the responsibility of the individual. But, he also reminds you that helpful information is available from the North Maine Fire Department.

Dunning Square Shopping Center breaks ground

President Michael Marchese of Harlem-Irving Realty opened the July 20 groundbreaking ceremony for the Dunning Square Shopping Center at Irving Park Road and Narragansett Avenue. He praised the people in the 38th Ward community and their political leader, Alderman Tom Cullerton, for their foresight in approving the 9 acre development.

He noted that American National Bank of Chicago would be financing the 130,000 square foot shopping center. Architect Bill Warman of Warman Associates has designed a shopping center to be complimentary with the existing architecture of the community. Capitol Construction has already begun excavations on the corner lot.

A Jewel/Osco supermarket of 57,686 square feet which will feature the latest in retail sales technology will join the 24,073 square feet T.J. Maxx clothing store as principal anchors for Dunning Square. Twenty smaller stores will be located in the center which will have 500 parking places for Dunning Square shoppers.

Alderman Tom Cullerton singled out Mayor Joseph Sieb of Norridge for assistance in obtaining the land for the Dunning Square Shopping Center. It will provide the only Jewel supermarket in the 38th Ward and the only large supermarket on the west end of the ward.

In conversation, Alderman Cullerton made reference to the Dunning family, who had surveyed and settled the area currently known as the Dunning site.

It is unclear at this time as to how the entire Dunning site will be developed, but Alderman Cullerton has made clear his intention that whatever takes place there must enhance property values in the 38th Ward. He insured that several years ago when he downzoned the property to R2 (residential). Any proposal for developing the area must be granted a variance in the zoning.

The Dunning site contains approximately 70 acres which have been declared surplus by the State of Illinois in an area bound by Montrose Avenue on the north, Narragansett Avenue on the east, Irving Park Road on the south, and, roughly, by a line running north from the CTA bus turnaround on the west.

"Dunning Square will keep tax dollars flowing into the City of Chicago," Alderman Cullerton says, "and it will meet the needs for the people of the 38th Ward for a convenient shopping area."

Dunning Square was named after a family who had a tradition of public service for the citizens of the Chicago area.

In 1870, the county was given a track of land which was used for a combined poorhouse and mental institution. Andrew Dunning donated land for a special spur line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad which serviced the county institution. His gift of land and his community leadership resulted in his name still being used not only for the railroad station at Nashville and Irving Park but also for the surrounding community.

Professor Patrick Dyras of the Social Science Department of Wilbur Wright College prepared this research on the Dunning family.

His son Andrew, born in 1839, enlisted in Company D, 8th Illinois Cavalry in 1861. He rose to the rank of sergeant and was finally commissioned a first lieutenant in 1864. He was wounded at the Battle of Fair Oaks.

Like his father, he became a prominent farmer in the Chicago community. In 1866 or 1867, he married Mary H. Waters, daughter of Benjamin and Mary Waters of Dearborn and Astor Streets. He dabbled in real estate speculation, owned a Nebraska stock ranch with 4,000 head of cattle, raised three children—David, Geraldine and Willie—and owned a nursery and florist business within an area from the south side of Irving Park from Narragansett Avenue to 4 blocks west of Harlem Avenue and above Mount Olive Cemetery.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

A sports expert recently pointed out that one of the symbolic turning points in baseball happened the day the Red Sox sold Babe Ruth to the Yankees—because since that day in 1920, the Yankees have won 22 World Series, and the Red Sox have won zero!

One of the greatest fielding records in recent years in big league baseball is a little-known, but amazing, record set by Steve Garvey of San Diego in 1984. Garvey was a regular that entire season, playing 159 games at first base—and he NEVER made an error all year!

Ever wonder why the person in charge of a team on a baseball field is called a "manager" while in every other sport the person in charge on the field is called a "coach"? ... It goes back to the beginnings of baseball when the person in charge took care of off-field duties as well, such as booking games, arranging transportation and running the front office. ... So he was called a "manager". In football and other sports, such jobs were usually split and the person who led the players on the field came to be called a "coach".

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Oddly enough, one of the most famous military men of all-time, Lord Cardigan of England, for whom the cardigan sweater is named, survived the bloody Charge of the Light Brigade in the Crimean War but then died back home when he fell off his horse.

To compound the above oddity, another famous Englishman of the same period, Robert Peel, who established London's police, still called "bobbies" after his first name, also died the same way. Peel fell off his horse and was mortally injured.

The first successful automobile made in America was NOT made in Detroit as is popularly believed, but in Springfield, Mass., by Frank and Charles Duryea, in 1893.

Surprisingly, Chop Suey was unknown in China until it was invented in New York City in 1896.

And, here's another interesting fact...

Niles Nuggets Semi-Pro Baseball Team

Right now the Nuggets are as hot as this summer's temperatures!

The Nuggets, sponsored by the International House of Pancakes by Golf Mill, have won their last six games in a row and have outscored their opponents scoring 68 runs while allowing them only 22. The team's turn around happened in The Rockford Tournament they entered on the 9th and 10th of July. After losing the first two contests on Rockford College's field, they went to Marshall Field, the minor league field in Rockford, and won their final three in a row, capturing second-place in a field of six teams. Since, that first win, there has been no stopping the Nuggets. Cablevision of Niles filmed our game July 27th and it will be aired at a later date. After we were unable to have the use of Notre Dame's field for the cable game, this contest was scheduled at Loyola Academy in Wilmette. Bill Graf, the Athletic Director, and Father Reuter were very excited about hosting the cable game because it gave them a wonderful opportunity to show off Loyola's newly renovated field. The grass infield and beautifully lined base paths looked like a picture against the cloudless blue sky. To make the setting complete, the Nuggets won that game by the slaughter rule, 11-0, in 5 innings!

The Nuggets travelled to Ridgewood High School to slaughter the Typos in 7 innings. Jim Keane pitched this winner, striking out 5 and allowing 8 scattered hits. This was to be Jim's last game because he accepted a full time career position in Minneapolis and will have to move there in the next couple weeks. We will miss him, but wish him happiness. Dave Goldberg snacked a homerun collecting 3 RBI's, Tom Gladden, Bob Gattuso and Lee Breitzman each had 2 singles and 2 RBI's, Mike Starshak and Dave Norman had a single and John Pollard had a single.

The Nuggets will be on the road for their next few games, but they will take their enthusiasm and fine talent with them wherever they go. Why not come out and see a game.

Deadline for extension to file

If you are one of the taxpayers who filed for an extension of time to file your 1040 individual income tax return, the Internal Revenue Service reminds you that August 15 is the deadline for filing the return.

According to the IRS, anyone can file an extension of time to file the federal income tax return that is due April 15. Filing an extension automatically gives a person until August 15, or four months, but does not extend the time for paying any taxes that may be due with the tax return.

The IRS said that if a person filed for an extension on Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File, but is yet unable to meet the August 15 deadline, they may file for an additional extension. However, the IRS cautions that an additional extension of time to file the return is not automatic. An additional extension is subject to the approval of the IRS. Generally, an additional extension is granted only to persons who can show some reasonable cause or undue hardship that prevents them from meeting the four month extended deadline. Persons filing for an additional extension of time to file can be given two additional months to file the return, or until October 15.

To file for an additional extension you must file Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time to File, and is available from the IRS. The application must state in detail the reason why you need an extension and the application should be filed sufficiently in advance of August 15 so that the IRS will have an opportunity to review the application and notify you whether the application is approved.

Golf Mill hosts "Furniture Magic" exhibition

"Furniture Magic: Your Home of the Future," a three-part exhibition that brings consumers a fun and exciting perspective on shopping for and buying furniture, will be on view at the Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles from Fri., July 29 through Sun., July 31. Sponsored by the Furniture Information Council and part of a Better Homes & Gardens magazine tour traveling across the country, "Furniture Magic" will be hosted by spokesperson Susan Differding, a noted home economist and interior designer based in the Midwest.

On a screen in "Video Magic," mall visitors will see themselves in various room settings—from contemporary to traditional—and will receive personal photos of their magical images; with "Computer Magic," they can design the living room of their dreams and leave with a print-out of it; and at "Holo-Magic," they will witness a magical transformation as a modern chair turns into a wing chair. Ms. Differding will also offer visitors decorating advice and tips on shopping for the right home furnishings.

Golf Mill Shopping Center is located on the corner of Golf Rd. and Milwaukee Ave., 25 miles north of Chicago. With more than 100 stores including J.C. Penney, Sears and Main Street, the mall is open on Fri. from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., on Sat. from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Sun. from 11 p.m. to 5 p.m.

A hologram in which a chair transforms itself into a new design is part of the magic of traveling exhibition called "Furniture Magic: Your Home of the Future." "Holo-Magic" is one of three exciting, high-tech elements of the dynamic exhibition sponsored by the Furniture Information Council (FIC). The exhibition will travel to 23 shopping malls throughout the country from April through November, and will be seen by an estimated three million consumers. It is the first step in the American Furniture Manufacturers Association's multi-pronged program to create consumer excitement about the furniture buying process.

IRS has problem solving office

If you have tested your skills against the IRS computer and lost, or run amuck in a sea of paper, the Problem Resolution Office (PRO) may be able to give you a hand.

Most of the time, you will be able to take care of any business with the IRS through a phone call or a letter. But once in a while, things snafu and after several letters and phone calls, the problem still is not solved. That is when the buck stops at the Problem Resolution Office.

Last year, PRO's across the nation helped more than a half million Americans with tax problems ranging from misapplied payments and lost refunds, to scrambled social security numbers, garbled surnames, and address changes. But the PRO's do more than just put out fires, they prevent them too by spotting glitches in the system and correcting them before they cause trouble for everyone.

If you have a problem with the IRS and have not been able to solve it through normal channels, call the IRS toll free (800) 424-1040 and ask for the Problem Resolution Office.

Golf Mill 'ing Around The Mall
by Linda Zachow

Summer greetings from GOLF MILL. On a recent trip to Door County, Wisconsin, this reporter did some retail sleuthing on the well-trodden paths of resort souvenir strips and came up with an observation. Those once reserved for vacation delicacies and delights are now available all year at GOLF MILL and other shopping malls thanks to retail specialization.

Conjuring up memories of past souvenir junkets and interviewing friends who vacationed in different parts of the country added more proof to the pudding. There are now and have long been standard types of shops selling an array of treasures. Until recently we mainly associated these treats with vacations. Many of us were also willing to pay an arm and leg for these items because of their seasonal availability. We're not trying to discourage souvenir buying. A souvenir is supposed to carry sentimental value of that special time and place. What we are saying—Isn't it great to be able to indulge in these treats all year?!"

Here's a potpourri of GOLF MILL shops of the same ilk as the traditional Fourth of July Apple Pie genre one finds on Tourist Street, U.S.A. We encourage you to take "mini-vacations" all year enjoying their wares.

WICKS 'N STICKS has an in-house crafts artist, Cherrie Labunski, whose creations rival anything sold in the most rural craft shops. TOURIST STREET, U.S.A. always has a candle and accessory shop. WICKS 'N STICKS is the GOLF MILL place to buy the finest in candles and potpourri.

SHOP AROUND THE WORLD offers a diverse selection of collectibles that are works of art. Many tourist shops specialize in collectibles for animal lovers. SHOP AROUND THE WORLD'S profusion of sandcast animals of all breeds is second to none.

CANARY & THE ELEPHANT is GOLF MILL's answer to the inexpensive trinket shop. An array of fun toys, affordable jewelry, unique pens and stationery make shopping here as much fun as vacation time.

And what would TOURIST STREET, U.S.A. be without the eats and treats? You don't have to leave town for the best caramel corn the country has to offer—MEL SMITH'S KARAMEL CORN. Using all fresh and natural ingredients, munching and crunching doesn't get much better.

Gourmet coffee shops have become a standard on TOURIST STREET, U.S.A. GLORIA JEAN'S COFFEE BEANS has the selection, aroma and decor to make you think you just landed in a cozy country corner in the blink of an eye.

A visit to and purchase from RIVERSIDE CHOCOLATE FACTORY is not only similar to a visit out of town. It's like a trip back in time. Door County may boast of their chocolate covered cherries, but we've got RIVERSIDE'S chocolate covered strawberries. A staple on TOURIST STREET, U.S.A. has always been huge Paul Bunyan-sized homemade cookies. The two ORIGINAL COOKIE shops at GOLF MILL offer the same luscious mammoth cookies and they customize, too...Aren't we the lucky ones?

We stopped at CPI PHOTO FINISH and asked manager Dave Saley to share some photo tips for summer time picture taking. Dave told us, "The first step toward better pictures is to not leave your film in the car. Heat ruins film. Be sure and take your film and camera out of the car and keep it in the coolest place possible."

Most people know the sun should always be at your back. If there's too much glare from the sun, the subject gets overexposed. Those of you with single lens reflex cameras (the more professional kind) need to use a slower speed film for bright sunny days. Faster speed film picks up too much light, and your pictures may get overexposed.

Dave shared a good all-year tip, "When taking pictures of subjects, be sure to leave a little blank space on the sides. When the film is developed, this space is lost. We also develop a lot of rolls of film with blanks due to misloading of the camera. Open the back of your camera and check to see that the film is winding through properly if this has happened to you."

"Swiss Cheese Capital" to host Cheese Days

Monroe, Wis., the "Swiss Cheese Capital of the U.S.A.", as designated in the 1870's, will host Cheese Days, September 16-18. A weekend celebration of Swiss traditions and entertainment. Cheese Days honors the dairy and cheese industries and the Swiss heritage that is so prominent in the area.

Several thousand visitors attended the first Cheese Days celebration in 1914 with recent celebrations attracting more than 100,000 visitors from far and near on Sunday alone.

From the sound of the first Alp horn to the echo of the last yodel, Cheese Days, held the third weekend of September, even-numbered years, provides a memorable weekend of family entertainment dedicated to "Gemutlichkeit," which in the Swiss tradition means hospitality, geniality, kindness, good fellowship and a good time for all.

Beginning at noon on Friday, September 16, and continuing throughout the weekend, entertainment will include cheese factory and farm tours, carnival, concessions, tours of Huber Brewery (Fri. only), children's costume parade, Swissair Musik Band of Switzerland concert, arts and crafts show (2 days), 5K and 10K chase, 2 mile walk, street dances (2), Cheesemaker's Ball, bike ride, old-fashioned cheesemaking demonstration, cow milking contest, Cheese Days Ball, antique car display, Eucumenical church service, 200 unit Cheeseland parade, hobby & collectible show, Green County Historical Society Museum, and continuous Swiss-style entertainment from the stage on the Courthouse Square including yodeling, singing, dancing, Alpine Horn Blowing and the "Taler Schwingen".

The Cheesemaker's tent on the Square is available so you can take home one or many of your favorite varieties of cheese produced in the area made world-famous with its prominence in the cheese and dairy industries.

Cheese Days, a celebration full of authentic Swiss flavor from the music and entertainment to the costumes and traditions, and naturally, Swiss cheese! Don't miss it!

Wheaton summer symphony concert

The Wheaton Summer Symphony will play its second concert of the season on Tuesday, August 2, at Edman Chapel, Wheaton College, Franklin and Washington Sts. The concert in the air-conditioned chapel will begin at 8:30.

Newly appointed conductor Peter Lipart will open the program with Debussy's Evocative Iberia, an impressionistic glimpse of Spain in three contrasting sections.

Soprano Kathleen Kaun and tenor Jerome Padorr will then take the stage to sing the Love Duet from Die Walkure, Act 1 as the orchestra takes the music to a powerful climax which ends the act.

The major work on the program is the Shostakovich Symphony # 10. First performed in 1953, it attracted particular attention in official and musicological circles, and the symphony became the subject of an animated three day debate at the Moscow Branch of the Union of Soviet Composers. Some commentators, regarding the symphony as "Non-Realistic" music, condemned the pervading aura of pessimism; others stressed that Soviet composers now had the right to be guided by their own artistic instincts, something that in the dark years of Stalin's dictatorship had barely been possible. Amid these conflicting opinions of the 10th symphony, the young composer Audrey Volkonsky hit on an apt, compromise description: An "Optimistic Tragedy".

Decide for yourself. For tickets call 668-8585. Not a function of Wheaton College.

Festival Polonaise

Friday, Saturday and Sunday July 29, 30, and 31, beautiful Navy Pier will be transformed into one of the greatest Polish festivals in the United States, Chicago's very own Festival Polonaise. comedy and traditional folk dancing abound on these stages.

The lakesore along Navy Pier will be filled with the aroma of Polish and Continental food served up by some of Chicago's best restaurants, delicatessens and pastry shops. Loves of fine food will enjoy such Polish favorites as pierogi, kielbasa, bigos, golabki, nalesniki and paczki, as well as an assortment of international delicacies and ethnic delights. While eating, enjoy the various cultural exhibits that will dot the festival grounds.

Festival Polonaise, at Navy Pier, Grand Avenue and the lakefront, will be open to the public Friday, July 29 from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m., Saturday, July 30 from noon to 11 p.m. and Sunday,

HEALTH NEWS

Keeping health care cost down

Rising health care costs continue to be a major problem for the elderly. However, there are some steps people can take to keep their personal health care costs down, and indirectly perhaps, affect overall costs in the health care marketplace.

The first thing you need to do is decide to become an "informed consumer." You should become aware of the options available to you in selecting health care, and make a conscious effort to be more selective.

One of the most important health care decisions you probably make involves your health care insurance. Most people purchase additional health insurance, "medigap insurance," to cover those costs that Medicare does not cover. Such costs include deductible amounts and coinsurance, extended care beyond that covered by Medicare, and drugs or medicines if you aren't in a hospital or skilled nursing facility.

Many insurance companies offer medigap policies in response to the increasing demand for quality health care. However, many people end up purchasing more health insurance than they need, or they duplicate their Medicare coverage, or find out too late that the policy does not really provide the kind of protection they need.

In shopping for medigap policies, you should observe the following guidelines:

1. Compare policies—Take your time, consult others, and get a variety of opinions on as many policies as you can.
2. Avoid over buying—A single, comprehensive policy is better than several with overlapping or duplicate coverage.
3. Investigate coverage—Find out if the policy excludes pre-existing conditions (health problems that you already have when coverage begins) or only covers them after a certain date. 4. Check for a waiting period—If there's a waiting period before the new policy becomes effective, you'll want to keep your old policy in effect until that time. 5. Beware of scare tactics—Don't buy a policy just because the sales pitch exaggerates your medical costs or your likelihood of becoming ill. 6. Buy from a reputable agent—To check the reputation of an insurance agent/company, or to report a deceptive practice, or to get more information on medigap, contact your State department of insurance.

If you are eligible for Medicaid or if you or your spouse have health insurance through an employer, you may not need medigap insurance. At any rate, be sure to check with your doctor, your nearest Social Security office, or someone else whose opinion you trust before you decide.

Gottlieb seeks new drug abuse sanctions

In response to concerns about increasing illegal drug use, George S. Gottlieb, Republican nominee for U.S. Congress-11th District, recently outlined his proposal for combatting this alarming problem.

"We need Federal legislation to deal with the drug user, not just the drug supplier," Gottlieb said. "I propose Federal statutes to require that the courts shall notify the employers of those convicted of possession of illegal drugs—no matter how small the amount. The last thing a user wants is for his boss to find out that he is a drug user."

"I believe this proposal will hit right at the heart of the drug problem," Gottlieb continued. "We have to create some risk for those having and using drugs, for those who otherwise obey the law, but have a cavalier attitude toward drug use. With the slap-on-the-list mentality prevalent today for those caught with drugs, there is little price to pay and little risk involved. This proposal will hopefully scare some sense into users, so that they know that if they are caught, they may lose their jobs as a result of their illegal habit."

"This coincides with an employer's right to know what kind of shape his employee is in while on the job. A person who uses drugs off the job will be affected while on the job. A drug user's behavior and residual influence does not cease the moment he reports for work in the morning. An employer should know the facts when reviewing employees for promotion, or transfer to sensitive and vital jobs."

"Many employers would rightfully elect to fire employees convicted of drug use and possession. This is the direct intent of this proposal—to make life difficult for the drug user," Gottlieb concluded.

New interns/residents Auto accidents not only cause of whiplash

Dr. Bernard A. Shindler, D.C., 8700 Dempster St., Suite 107, Des Plaines, notes that after the sounds of screeching brakes and grinding metal have died away, the first thought following an auto accident is of injury. But if there are no broken bones or blood, the victims' attentions usually turn to damage to the vehicles involved.

Assuming you are uninjured just because everything appears to be all right is a common mistake. Every accident victim should arrange for an examination to insure that they have not incurred a whiplash neck injury.

Symptoms may not appear for hours, days or even weeks after the accident, yet the damage will have been done following the instant or impact.

Another mistaken assumption is that auto accidents or similarly clear-cut, recognizable accidents are the only cause of whiplash. While they are the major cause, they are by no means the only cause.

Falls, blows to the neck or head, attempting to maintain your balance on a slippery sidewalk and even turning your head too quickly can produce a whiplash injury. When the symptoms appear later, you may not even associate the headache, tension, muscle spasms, stiff neck or restricted neck motion with the incident that caused them.

Other symptoms of whiplash include blackouts, fatigue, extreme nervousness, loss of balance, loss of hearing, ringing in the ears, nausea, gastrointestinal pains, light-headedness, cold hands or feet, excessive sweating, increased reaction to drugs, poor memory, eye strain and rapid heart beating. Of course these symptoms might not all be present in a particular case and their presence does not necessarily mean that you have suffered whiplash. Only a thorough examination can reveal that.

I urge everyone that has been in an auto accident or who has suffered a fall or blow to contact a Doctor of Chiropractic and arrange for an examination as quickly as possible. Time is on your side only if you act promptly in the case of whiplash. To delay can open the doorway to a lifetime of suffering.

For further information, call 296-7246.

Cholesterol Screenings at Holy Family

By now, most Americans are aware of the link between high cholesterol levels and heart disease. Many of us may have even been tested. But new research shows that, with cholesterol testing, once is not enough.

A person's cholesterol level, like blood pressure, is changeable. It fluctuates with stress, weight change, menstrual cycle, illness and medication. Even the season, time of day and what you ate for breakfast can influence cholesterol levels. Cholesterol measurements can be the first step in making important choices that can affect your health. So, the sooner you know, the better you'll feel.

Holy Family's Ambulatory Care Center will offer a thorough cholesterol screening for a modest fee of $4 on Saturday, Aug. 6, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The center is conveniently located at the corners of Milwaukee and Strong Avenues in Wheeling. Appointments are necessary. For more information or to register, please call Med-Connection at 297-1800, Ext. 1110.

Bastille Day Celebrations raise $12,000

More than 250 people came to sample the flavors of France and celebrate Bastille Day at The Culinary School of Kendall College in two days of events. The third annual Fete de la Bastille raised more than $5,000 for the new dining facility and more than $700 for the Culinary Scholarship fund. On Thursday, July 14, 50 people enjoyed an elegant dinner in the newly completed dining room with display kitchen. The six-course meal was prepared by advanced culinary students and supervised by Chef instructor Philip Stocks, formerly of Cafe Provencal. Proceeds from the event will help to purchase carpeting for the new dining facility scheduled to open this fall. On Friday, more than 200 people joined the celebration as the festivities moved outside to the garden terrace of Kendall's Evanston campus. There, guests enjoyed a gastronomic tour of France. Chef instructors and advanced culinary students prepared a degustation menu featuring specialties from the regions of Alsace, Lyon, Normandy, Provence, and The Southwest. A raffle of food and French related items; red, white, and blue decor; a mime; and musicians playing French tunes, all added to the French ambience. The Culinary School of Kendall College, which prepares students for positions as cooks and apprentice chefs. Students on externship (a requirement of the 21-month associate degree program) and recent graduates are currently employed at Chicago area restaurants such as Bistro 110, the Everest Room, Le Titi de Paris, Le Vichyssois, Ambria, and Carlos.

RE/MAX "Spot the Balloon" photo contest

Chicago and suburban residents will need to keep their heads up and their cameras ready, as the RE/MAX "Spot the Balloon" photo contest gets underway.

From August 1 until September 15, the 70-foot-high RE/MAX hot air balloon will be flying over various cities in Northern Illinois, giving photography buffs the chance to capture that perfect shot of the balloon. The person who takes the best photo will win a deluxe Yashica 200 AF Autofocus 35mm camera (with 35mm to 70mm zoom lens, case and flash unit) provided by Lion Photo, plus the chance to fly aboard the hot air balloon. Second, third and fourth place winners also will receive Yashica 35mm cameras courtesy of Lion Photo. All entrants also will be eligible for a sweepstakes drawing for a free ride in the RE/MAX balloon.

Winning photographs will be selected by an expert panel of judges, based on originality, technical merit and composition. Betty Hegner, President of RE/MAX of Northern Illinois, suggests that photo buffs keep their cameras ready early in the morning and just before sunset.

"The balloon will normally be launched at dawn or about an hour before dusk," she said. "Because of the uncertainty of weather and wind conditions, we can't pinpoint the exact times, dates and locations where the balloon will be visible. We do have a listing of the weeks the balloon is scheduled to fly over certain areas."

During the week of August 1, the balloon will be visible in the following areas: Highland Park, Winnetka, Orland Park, Tinley Park, Libertyville and Mundelein.

Beginning the week of August 8, the balloon will be visible near the following areas: Skokie, Niles, Berwyn, Hinsdale, Schaumburg, Elgin and Aurora.

Additional flights are scheduled the week of August 15 in these areas: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Calumet City, Flossmoor, Naperville and Downers Grove.

During the week of August 22, the balloon will take off from North Avenue Beach in Chicago. A second flight is scheduled to take off from the Lake Bluff/Lake Forest area.

Additional flights will be announced during August.

Contestants can pick up entry forms at any of the 96 RE/MAX of Northern Illinois offices, or at the 18 different Lion Photo locations in the Chicago area. All entrants who have their balloon photos processed at Lion will receive a free roll of film.

RE/MAX of Northern Illinois is a network of 96 individually owned and operated full service real estate offices. It is also part of RE/MAX International, which has more than 1,300 offices in the United States and Canada and more than 19,000 licensed agents.

Reduced summer electricity bills on the way

The first electricity bills reflecting recently-lowered summer rates will be mailed June 17 to Commonwealth Edison's residential customers. During this year's four-month summer billing period, customers will be billed at a rate about 13 percent below last year's summer rate - the first decrease in summer rates since the summer-winter rate differential was introduced by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) in 1979. The summer rate reduction is a result of Edison's proposal for a two-step lowering of summer electric rates, which was adopted by the ICC on June 8, retroactive to May 17.

Depending on when a customer's meter is read, Edison's summer billing period began as early as May 17 or as late as June 15. A customer can determine the beginning of the summer rate period by looking at the time covered by his or her most recent electric bill. If the end of the billing period is from May 16 to June 14, that will be the customer's final non-summer bill. The customer's electricity usage for the next four months will be billed according to the new summer rate schedule.

Under the plan adopted by the ICC, summer rates will be reduced by an additional 17 percent in 1989, bringing the total summer rate reduction to about 27 percent below 1987 summer rate level. This year's total summer bill for an average single family residence will decrease approximately $47, compared to 1987 summer rates. An average apartment residence will see a decrease of about $21. During the second year, the summer savings will increase to about $84 and $38, respectively.

Revenues lost to Commonwealth Edison due to the lowered summer rates will be offset by a corresponding increase in non-summer rates. The change will be revenue neutral to Commonwealth Edison. While the summer residential rate has been reduced compared with the 1987 level, rates continue to be set higher in summer than non-summer, and most customers will begin seeing larger bills than they have received over the past eight months.

Until very recently, the ICC believed that higher summer rates would discourage electrical demand on peak air conditioning days, and over time, reduce the need for additional generating units, minimizing rates over the long term. In spite of high summer rates, however, the demand for electricity has continued to grow on hot, humid days, leading to continuing record demands by customers.

Illinois Bell provides disabled services

In keeping with the Alexander Graham Bell tradition of providing special services for special needs, Illinois Bell's Communications Center for the Disabled has added new equipment and services for customers with hearing, vision, speech and motion disabilities to help them communicate using the telephone.

The center, located in the lobby of Illinois Bell headquarters, 225 W. Randolph, Chicago, is staffed with specially trained representatives who will discuss and demonstrate equipment, provide assistance with service problems and make recommendations and referrals to help customers with disabilities find the help they need. A bilingual representative is available to assist Spanish-speaking customers.

Equipment available at the center includes electronic signifiers to indicate to a hearing impaired person by flashing lights that the telephone is ringing, a jumbo-button phone for the vision or motion-impaired user, speakerphones for those unable to hold a telephone receiver, speech and sound volume amplifiers for those with voice or hearing difficulties, a tone ringer for those who need a more concentrated sound to enable them to hear the telephone bell, and an electronic artificial larynx for those unable to speak. All of the devices are available to Illinois Bell customers at a reasonable cost.

Illinois Bell also provides two types of Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf (TDDs). One model provides a printed transcript of conversations, while the other erases record of the conversation when the phone is hung up. One model is available for lease and the other for purchase.

In addition to equipment, the center can provide customers with explanations of Custom Calling features and special service rates available to those with special needs. The features include Speed Call, Directory Assistance at no charge and Operator Assistance access at direct dial rates. These services enable disabled persons to dial more easily or to have an operator find and dial a number for them without the usual operator-service charges. For hearing impaired customers with TDDs, Illinois Bell offers decreased rates on direct-dial long distance calls.

More information about the special products and special services available from the Communications Center for the Disabled is available by calling toll-free, 1-800-572-5062 or 1-800-572-9002 (TDD only). The center is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Sliding doors, which accommodate wheelchairs and motion disability walkers, provide easy access to the building, and there are special loading areas for wheelchair vans or automobiles.

NORTRAN adds Botanic Garden to schedule

The Chicago Botanic Garden has been added to the schedule of Route 214 operated by NORTRAN, a suburban bus carrier serving the north and northwest suburbs.

Route 214 begins at the Davis Street "El" station in Evanston and heads north along Green Bay Road to Northbrook Court. Its return trip runs from Northbrook Court, east on Lake Cook rd. and then south on Green Bay rd. to the Davis St. Station.

Under the revised schedule, announced by Timothy J. Doron, Executive Director of NORTRAN, the 214 will stop at the Botanic Garden during its northbound run on weekdays starting at 6:47 a.m. The last scheduled northbound stop at the Botanic Garden is 7:47 p.m.

Travelling southbound, service to the Botanic Garden will begin at 7:05 a.m. with the last southbound stop scheduled for 6:29 p.m.

Northbound Saturday service will begin at 8:57 a.m., ending at 5:54 p.m., with southbound service starting at 9:15 a.m. and ending at 6:08 p.m. There is no Sunday or Holiday service.

"We're quite pleased to be added to the schedule," says Roy L. Taylor, Ph.D., Director of the Botanic Garden. "By adding us to the schedule we're hoping more residents in the northern suburbs and northside of Chicago will visit the Garden."

"With a major cultural attraction such as the Botanic Garden in our service area, we thought it would be a major benefit to not only NORTRAN and the Botanic Garden but to the many residents who can now reach this outstanding facility using NORTRAN service," Doron said.

NORTRAN is governed by the North Suburban Mass Transit District composed of 26 member communities. NORTRAN serves 28 communities and receives subsidies from Pace, the suburban bus division of the Regional Transportation Authority.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is located on Lake-Cook rd. in Glenview, one-half mile east of the Edens expwy. The 300-acre facility is owned by the Chicago Horticultural Society. Accredited by the American Association of Museums, the Botanic Garden is open every day except Christmas from 7 a.m. until sunset. Admission is free; parking is $2 per car.

py. After they completed the twenty minute brake job, they said they intended checking over the entire car. When my wife picked up the car, they had washed it and presented her with a bill of over $900. But, because the car is still under warranty, there was no charge for the work.

The dealer changed a motor in one of the windows and did several other comparable jobs. We were unaware there was anything wrong with the window or that there were other problems.

The $900 bill is likely sent on to the central office in Detroit. We assume the dealership receives some kind of compensation for the effort it made.

We were happy we didn't get stuck with the bill. And we were a little suspicious the $900 bill was a bit inflated. Perhaps, it was at least $500 overpriced.

Last week we had to replace a burned out coil in the ignition system which our local gas station said cost only a few bucks. Audi charged $150 for this job but again, it was a no charge because of the car warranty. This 1988 world we're living in is difficult to understand.

I went back to the old days Monday. When I plugged in my electric razor and snapped on the appliance, nothing happened. The Norelco just died in my hand. Since I don't have a back-up, I borrowed one of my wife's hand razors and scratched my way through the bristly patch.

At lunchtime I stopped at a drug store and hadn't the slightest idea which razor to buy or which blades to use. I was looking for one of those old Gillette double edge razors with five blue blades for a quarter. I spent thirty minutes staring at the displays and not knowing which razor and blades to choose.

This morning I softened the beard, sudsed the shaving cream and had the best shave I've had in years. It proves the old ways of the old days are still in many cases better than today's fast and hurried-up ways. I'm looking forward to tomorrow's shave. By Friday I expect I'll be back with the newly revived electric shaver, lousy shave that it is.

Every four years in the United States we have a period of four months which can only be classified as "political hockey time". Jesse Jackson started the 1988 hockey with his speech about how this stum kid rose from the ashes of hunger and cold to become a candidate for President. Jesse grew up comfortably. He never lived in a slum, his father always had a good job, and poor old Jesse grew up middle class.

Not to be outdone by poor Jesse, Michael Dukakis hung his hat on being the son of a penniless immigrant. He could have also set aside a bit of the hokiness by telling America he grew up in upper middle class Brookline, Massachusetts, the son of a prominent Harvard bred physician. The poor old Duke went to a peasant's college called Swarthmore before matriculating at another proprietary school, Harvard.

We thought we had enough of this baloney when Congressman Richard Gephardt was interviewed on T.V. the day after the Democratic convention. Poor old Dick said what a wonderful country this is that a boy from the middle west like him could run for the highest office in the land. And oh yes, Humble Dick was the son "of a milkman".

Before you think I'm favoring the Republicans, listen to the fiction about the businessman, George Bush, the good ole Texas boy, who pulled himself up by his bootstraps. George became a successful oilman, only after the family staked him to hundreds of thousands of dollars of start-up money. When he became a Congressman his father was a Senator and prominent in the Republican Party. He quickly got key committee posts in Congress. And, as for old Texas George's background, his residence has always been out east (in Connecticut among the very rich) and his address in Texas is a rental unit.

At the Niles Festival last weekend, a young man was standing by a table in the bar area with his friends. He had won a stuffed animal and placed it on the table alongside where he was standing. A few minutes later he was engaged in a brief round of fistfights with a bear drinker who did his stuffed animal dirt. He had poured beer all over the animal. His fighting was justified. The stuffed animal was a famous bit of Americana by the name of Spuds McKenzie. But, since Budweiser was sponsoring part of the festival, old Spuds got drenched with Bud. What went wrong was the guy who tossed the beer was just taking Harry Carey's advice, "This Bud's For You", a bit too far. The beer thrower's box score for the evening was 0 Runs, 1 Hit and 1 Error.

At noontime Tuesday in Niles I had a hard time knowing a Klucker from a Kruncher. Overhead five planes were skywriting a message for a potato chip company. We'd never seen synchronized skywriting. The five planes would release short blasts of vapor as they slowly circled the area. The planes flew alongside each other and simultaneously released what started out to be short white dashes in the azure. But what came of this was a message, "To Your Health." It was then signed by the potato chip sponsor. The writing circle probably could be seen from as far south as Lawrence Avenue and north to Glenview Road.

The chips may be good but they gave me a pain in the neck.

building on the campus, most of which will be used by the Northwest Municipal Conference for its 33-town membership.

"We just did not believe the college should be in the real estate business," Hall said. "Diana was a very strong board member and I am going to miss her."

In discussing the proposed building, Hall said she still believes trustees should not be involved with outside organizations despite approval from the other five members of the board.

According to Hall, the proposed two-story building is being redesigned to meet the original $878,000 set for the project. "Bids that came in were in the neighborhood of $1 million, so changes are being made to be compatible with the lower figure," she said. "The building will no longer stand alone, but will now be an addition to the building."

In July, 1987, Oakton board members voted 5-2 to allow NWMC to move its headquarters from the Mount Prospect library to the new building on the OCC campus.

The proposed 5,600 square foot structure was to be located in a northwestern corner of the campus, which would contain office space, library and recreation area. Oakton would pay $878,000 for the project, with the conference entering into a 30-year lease agreement with the college. Reportedly, the rate would be $40,000 to $50,000 annually.

Although the college would have access to the federal depository for reference (with the new building), Hall still feels the trustees should be in the "education building" and not dealing in real estate matters.

She maintains the board could still drop the idea of having the building on the campus. "There is other space that will be available which the conference can use as its headquarters."

She explained the Des Plaines Circuit Court is moving out of its present location in the Civic Center in January. "The court has 6,000 square feet which would be compatible to NWMC needs," Hall said. "There is adequate parking there and a library for their use a block away," she said.

She noted at last month's board meeting, a Des Plaines alderman presented a petition containing 300 signatures from residents living near the campus. "They are concerned the campus is in a flood plain which could result in more flooding problems in the future with the new building," Hall said.

According to Rita Athas, assistant director for the conference, flooding is not a problem at the Oakton property. "It can retain more water now than when the college was built. The addition would add very little to the access water capacity in the area," she said.

Athas said the bids for the addition will go out in August in a second attempt to fall within the college's budgeted $878,000. "The conference feels being affiliated with Oakton will benefit both parties in the long run with what each has to offer in services. I'm sure most of the board members agree to that," she said.

redevelopment of Lawrencewood, there will be another delay before the project can begin.

He explained that attorneys for the bank that is financing developer Jerry Biehl, who is purchasing the property from Krilich for $13.5 million, first wish to review the title policy, condemnation proceedings, redevelopment agreement, tax increment district (TIF) designated for Lawrencewood, and other documents.

The bank wants to be sure everything is in order before issuing the escrow money to Biehl," Troy said.

He added that because of the review, which will take an undetermined amount of time, demolition and construction on the Lawrencewood site will again be delayed. "Everything will depend on how soon their review of the documents will be completed," he said. "It's not uncommon that problems crop up when dealing with this size project."

The Aldi appeal put a snag in finalizing the sale of the Lawrencewood property, Biehl has stated. The major portion of the property will be developed into a new shopping center and a 7-acre parcel will be given to the village to build a new administration complex and a proposed community theater.

Biehl's original plans called for demolition to be finished no later than Aug. 1, with construction to begin the following month. The new center is scheduled to open no later than Nov. 1, 1990.

Niles police had notified the remaining businesses at Lawrencewood their leases would expire on July 15 and the premises must be vacated. Aldi and Uptown Federal Savings and Loan have already left the shopping center, and the Golden Nugget Restaurant closed its doors Sunday, July 24.

Current residents include a car wash facility, tavern, and a cleaners. The owner of the cleaning establishment stated his attorney had advised him not to vacate until the Aldi issue is resolved in the courts.

Troy noted that because of the legalities involved, the current tenants were able to remain at the center. "The Aldi issue is resolved and they should be out right now. If we have a problem in this area, we will petition the court to order these tenants out," he said.

increase of $26,575 a year," Murphy said.

He noted that Haulaway is providing Niles with a cost-effective way of removing garbage. He added that Niles' cost per household is lower than many other communities that have scavengers.

The board meeting was conducted by Trustee Peter Pesole, who acted as president pro tem in the absence of Mayor Nicholas Blase.

Taking up most of the meeting was approval of an ordinance concerning a planned unit development at the former Forest Flame Restaurant property, 8100 Caldwell, which raised many questions from the board and residents living near the site.

The request by Abby Builders to construct 12 homes on the 2 1/2 acre site (linked to several variances) had been approved by the Niles Zoning Board in June. Approval was given after developers presented a plan that would alleviate drainage problems that would adversely affect neighboring residents.

In repetition of last month's zoning hearing, various trustees addressed the drainage problem concerning proper drainage for the development and whether the engineering changes made by Abby would provide better control of water runoff on the property.

Arthur Salkin, an engineer for Abby, said the drainage problem had been resolved with the help of village engineers, Donahue and Associates, hired by the zoning board at the developer's expense.

Salkin noted storm sewers would be located at the rear of the property and would be tied into the main sewer on Seward, west of the site. Water runoff would be retained in the drain tiles and would flow slowly to the main sewer which would have restrictors.

Cliff Drexler, who lives on New England, objected to the project because of flooding problems in the area. "It's a small lot and putting in 12 homes is over-building," he said. "No matter what water retention safeguards you put in, existing homes are going to get more water from this site."

Drexler added the Forest

Flame land is about 100 years old and should be preserved.

Firemen extinguished a small fire in a car at 6300 Touhy Ave. on July 21. There was no estimate of damage.

Firefighters went to 8908 Milwaukee Ave. on July 21 on a report of a gas spill. The homeowner had already washed down the spill with a garden hose and cause was attributed to a faulty fuel pump.

The board continued a request by Service Merchandise, 8303 Golf Rd. to install a satellite dish on the building.

Petitioner Ronald Rathbun said the wall-mounted satellite dish would not extend more than 8 feet above the roof line and would be installed on the south side of the building.

Joe Salerno, director of code enforcement, said the dish could be seen at that location and suggested a change to the east wall, where it would be more unobtrusive.

Rathbun said he would have to report the suggested change to his superiors before the board took action on the ordinance.

The board also approved an ordinance for a special use request to operate a branch office of United Savings of America at K-Mart, 8850 Dempster.

The petitioner, Joseph G. Edwards, proposed installing a 140 square foot booth with a cash machine and one person to open and close accounts.

Use caution when driving in construction

The Illinois State Police and the Department of Transportation are urging motorists to use extra caution when driving through highway construction sites throughout the state.

State officials say the annual construction site accident totals are up significantly since 1981. Records show that in 1986 there were 7,611 accidents that occurred at construction locations compared to 4,310 in 1981.

Six persons have died in vehicle accidents at Illinois highway construction sites so far this year. Officials attributed the increase in highway maintenance being performed in Illinois on the State's aging interstate highway system.

State Police say highway repair work zones can be extremely hazardous to motorists and construction workers. In an attempt to save lives and reduce traffic accidents, troopers have been directed to issue tickets to motorists who speed through construction zones, follow too closely, fail to yield the right-of-way to construction equipment, and fail to obey traffic flaggers.

Niles a part of the shopping center will house a Montgomery Ward Store, a Jewel food store and other shops, according to Schultz.

A tentative tax revenue sharing agreement, expected to be finalized in August between Skokie and Niles calls for Skokie to eventually receive $1.2 million annually in taxes from the shopping center. Niles estimated their sales tax revenue will be about $750,000 annually, Schultz said.

He explained the difference in tax revenue is due to the fact more buildings will be on Skokie's parcel of land. However, with Niles portion being developed first, it will begin collecting taxes from stores on its side at least two years before the Skokie portion is developed.

Traffic Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

A car breakdown at night can result in a dangerous traffic situation. In such an emergency, the following steps will help you prevent an accident and protect yourself.

First, pull into a lighted shoulder area, if possible. Turn your emergency flashers and dome light on to alert other drivers of your presence. If you are unable to pull very far off the road, stepping out of your car could lead you directly into traffic, creating an additional safety hazard.

If you are alone, remain inside your car with the windows up and doors locked until the police arrive. If another motorist arrives before the police, do not leave your car. Ask him or her to call the police or a service station for you. Remember, the arrival of a uniformed police officer or an authorized service truck should be the only reason for leaving your car.

The same safety advice applies if you have a flat tire. Do not try to change it yourself at night. And if you attempt to drive, you will probably damage the tire beyond repair. On the other hand, if you feel the situation has become threatening, you may have no other choice but to drive on the damaged tire. However, this can be hazardous to other drivers unless you have your emergency flashers on and keep as far to the right side of the road as possible.

Finally, the best way to avoid a breakdown is to keep your vehicle properly maintained. You will also feel safer driving alone at night if your vehicle is running smoothly.
