by Sylvia Dalrymple

Michael Dukakis, Democratic candidate for president, came to Niles last Tuesday to address a crowd predominately Polish-Americans at the House of the White Eagle but was heckled by anti-abortionists during the course of his speech. About 2,500 were in attendance, including representatives from

Right to Life organizations, who interrupted Dukakis with remarks such as "Polish people don't kill babies" while the can-

Former Lawrencewood site to be demolished in mid-October

Begin leasing businesses for Civic Center

by Linda Zachow

Lawrencewood, the deteriorating hull of a sunken shopping center referred to recently by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase as "the only blight in the community," will soon be history. After a 20-year battle against former owner Robert Krilich, the real estate has been purchased for $13.5 million by developer Jerry Biehl.

Biehl, of General Management Company based in Denver, Colorado, has developed other shopping malls in California, Colorado, and Kansas. According to Biehl, "The entire shopping center, except for the post office, will be demolished in mid-October. Construction on the new mall, named Civic Center

Niles police sergeant, Chuck Giovannelli, told us "That's what America is all about". Good buddy Giovannelli wasn't exactly giving us a civics lesson, but he said the verbal shouting at the Dukakis Tuesday morning meeting at the White Eagle restaurant was the shouters' right to voice their feelings.

Giovannelli was in the outside lobby while presidential candidate Dukakis was inside a banquet hall giving a brief 20 minute speech, largely to the Democratic faithful. The shouters were the right-to-life people who will likely follow Dukakis around the country confronting him as much as possible.

The shouters lined the curb across the street from the White Eagle and several of them were in the banquet hall. When they began shouting, a few shoving matches took place with the Dukakis' Democratic supporters. The shouters were escorted from the hall. But the police reported there were no confrontations other than this minor bit of pushing.

The Secret Service men were all over the hall. It is obvious their job is not an easy

Niles to stress 9-1-1 vote passage

Niles police and fire departments plan to educate the public on the importance of approving the village's 9-1-1 emergency telephone system referendum that will appear on the ballot in the November general election. According to Niles Police Chief Ray Giovannelli, voter approval could mean a life-saving measure for those who use the emergency number. "It's a vital link to emergency services and the time saved could be enough to save a life," he said. With a 9-1-1 system in the com-

SJB Golden Age Club

A trip to Hawthorne Race Track was made on August 22 and a good time was had by all. On October 3, our religious coordinator, Rose Majeski, is planning a trip to the Carmelite Fathers monastery in Munster, Indiana. It will feature a conducted tour of the grounds, plus a delicious dinner "Like mother used to make" including chicken and mashed potatoes, soup, home made bread and poppy seed cake for dessert. In the afternoon, we will recite the rosary and have benediction by one of the Fathers at the monastery. We expect to return home about 4:30 p.m.

On October 11, Josephine Christie and her committee are planning for an "All American" party, which sounds very exciting. On November 19 and 20, we are having a bake sale. We ask that all of you who bake get your cook books out and bake, so it will be a success.

Congratulations to Florence and Peter Lenconi who celebrated 51 years of marriage on August 28. Congratulations to John and Sophie Keopke on their 50th wedding anniversary (Oct. 1) and James and Mildred Licitra on their 56th wedding anniversary (Sept. 10). We wish them many more happy and healthy years. Barney and Rose Majeski became grandparents to a lovely healthy little girl and James and Mildred Licitra to a 9 lb. 11 oz. baby boy. Remember all of our sick members in your prayers, especially Anne Piontek, who is very ill at this time, as well as Ruth Losey who is recuperating from several operations.

Of License Plates And Furry Dice

"CK-IT-OUT". Channel 11 (WTTW) will be filming the Niles-based Chevy Cruisers on Fri., Sept. 9. As the vanity plates suggest, a night out for the show at 9645 N. Milwaukee is a road trip worth taking. The yellow Ford Mustang bearing the above invitation is one of the many older autos on parade at Flukeys each Friday. Here you can watch all the cars you've ever loved before parade past the windows of the restaurant for all the diners inside. "XOXOXOXO" describes the prevailing mood.

"CRUISE". The license plate summarizes the tempo of this weekly event. The Chevy Cruisers call Flukey's home. Vintage Chevrolet's do dominate the scene but you'll find all kinds of cars profling around the parking lot. This is not a club for those with motion sickness. Hoods up, heads huddled over chrome manifolds, and owners mingling with the curious observers, waxing nostalgia over the shiny vehicles. Look but don't touch. Some of the cars even smell old on the inside. Your memory traces will be ignited.

"FLASHY". "NOVA 427", "HEMI 2" (yellow Roadrunner) and a yellow Dodge displaying "HEMI B". Stretch your recall a bit more for "FOFO TWO". Reminders of a simpler time before catalytic converters, on-board computers and sun roofs.

"DEUCES 1": Garfield's lower half torso inexplicably rides the front bumper of this car, the lone feline species amidst a Reno-size assembly of fuzzy dice ornaments.

"CUUUUDA", "MY T GTD" (orange), "HURST V8", "BLWN VET". The era of tallfins and the age of dual-quad tunnel-ram manifolds come together in this parking lot and you feel like you are fast forwarding through years of automotive history. "A FINE 39", "THE GS 58", "OK 58", "IMP 58", "A SIXTY 4", "SIXTEA 7", "AQUA 58": You remember what it was like being at a stoplight when a rival auto pulled up next to you: "I DARYA 2".

Members of the sixties generation feel even older knowing the cars of their high school days are crossing the threshold separating classic from antique. Technically, a car must be more than 25 years old to qualify as an antique.

Although the Chicago Post Office will be sending survey cards to Niles residents regarding its services, village officials doubt whether the findings will mean a potential change in Niles current ZIP code, according to Angelo Marcheschi, Niles village trustee.

The survey will be conducted in Niles, Chicago and other communities under its jurisdiction to obtain information on hours which residents use facilities, its services and how often the post office is used.

Unlike other suburbs, Niles is a branch of the Chicago Post Office. It is a designation that has long irked village officials and led to a court fight in 1984 in behalf of residents living in the northwest section of Niles to change a Des Plaines 60016 designation to Niles 60016.

According to Marcheschi, who led the fight to change the

Dominick's Omni store set for Niles

The major anchor store at the future Civic Center Plaza will be Omni, a division of Dominick's Finer Foods, Incorporated.

Dominick's Vice President, Larry Nauman, described Omni as "A fabulous shopping concept. We opened the first Omni a year and a half ago in Orland Park, and the response has been tremendous. We will be opening four Omni stores in addition to the store in Civic Center Plaza by the end of the year."

According to Nauman, Omnis are huge, super-warehouse stores. Each store usually covers about 90,000 square feet of retail space. Omni stores feature a full-service grocery department, bakery, and expanded seafood section. There are also major housewares and cosmetics departments. "We intend to provide the lowest prices and maximize the store in Civic Center Plaza by the end of the year."

Anti-abortionists protest while Dukakis speaks in Niles

Dan Rostenkowski, Alderman Roman Pucinski and Attorney General Nell Hartigan were some of the notable politicians on hand to meet with Dukakis.

Anti-abortionists marched and carried placards during the candidate's speech at the White Eagle restaurant. They were ejected from the restaurant by Niles police without incident. They resumed their marching across the street from the building joining other members of their group.

AARP's 55 Alive/Mature Driving

This eight hour, classroom only course will help you become a better driver. You will study many different situations and learn how to cope so you can be safe longer. The class is taught in two four hour sessions (2 consecutive days) through a series of slides, group discussions, and instructor assistance. There are also Saturday and evening classes for those still working week days.

Whether we want to face it or not it's true, as the number of candles on the birthday cake increase, our abilities to see, hear and react quickly decrease. According to the U.S. Department of Transportation, these factors lead drivers 55 and older to have more accidents per mile driven than their younger counterparts. Older drivers across the country are not letting these facts consign them to the passenger seat.

GRANDPARENTS DAY

Sunday, September 11 marks the eleventh official celebration of National Grandparents Day, a day set aside to honor grandparents, to give them an opportunity to show love for their children's children, and to help children become aware of the strength, wisdom and guidance older people can offer. Annual Federation meeting scheduled for Sept. 15

The Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, which this year allocated nearly $30 million to local Jewish agencies for social welfare, health care and educational-cultural programs, will hold its 88th Annual Meeting on Thursday, September 15.

It will begin with a free Members' Forum at 10:30 a.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Hyatt Regency Chicago - East Tower and continue with a Luncheon Meeting starting at 12 noon, also in the Grand Ballroom. Luncheon is $20 per person, $10 for seniors and students. For reservations call Bea Engelberg at 346-6700, Ext. 7619.

Highlights of the Luncheon include the presentation of Federation's highest honor, the Julius Rosenwald Memorial Award, to Eli Field, noted Jewish communal leader and philanthropist, and presentation of Federation's Shofar Award to Harriet Lewis for her leadership of the 1988 Jewish United Fund campaign. The Luncheon also features an address by Dr. Stephen Berk, eminent authority on contemporary Jewish life, and reports by Maynard I. Wisner, Federation President, and Dr. Steven B. Nassari, Executive Vice President.

At the Forum, Federation members (contributors of $25 or more to annual Jewish United Fund campaigns) will hear presentations on three new aspects of Federation programming. The Forum also features the election of Board members and the presentation of awards to outgoing Directors, Young Leaders and the initial presentation of the Samuel A. Goldsmith Award to a distinguished young professional in Jewish communal service. Federation is the planning, funding and coordinating body for nearly 24 major agencies and programs serving tens of thousands of people of all faiths and races in metropolitan Chicago. More than 700 people are expected to attend the Luncheon Meeting, said Mrs. Herbert Manning, chairman of Federation's Annual Meeting Committee.

The Rosenwald Award has been granted at each Federation Annual Meeting since 1962, to the person who "most advanced the purposes of the Jewish Federation and the welfare of the Jewish community."

The medal honors the memory of Julius Rosenwald, one of the nation's greatest philanthropists. A Chicago, he was eminent in Federation activities during the 1920's, when he became first president of the Jewish Charities of Chicago (a predecessor agency to Jewish Federation), which was formed by merging two similar agencies.

Pre-Reader Holy Day Service

Rabbi Victor Weissberg of Temple Beth-El, 3050 W. Touhy in Chicago and 3505 Walters Ave., in Northbrook, and Sharon Lichtenstein, Pre-School Director, have written a very special High Holy Day Service for pre-readers. The service designed for little children and their parents is unique because it strives to instill an understanding of Jewish values that are usually considered verbal ideas as contained in books.

Rabbi Weissberg hopes to open an entirely new area of religious experience so that parents and children can share the beauty and blessing of these holy days. Together with ideas where parents help children, there are likewise craft activities for children as well. These pre-reader holy day services will precede the morning services of Temple Beth-El which are held at Niles West High School Auditorium. The services will be conducted by Rabbi Victor Weissberg and will begin at 9 a.m. on Monday September 12 and Wednesday September 21. For further information, please call 274-0341 or 564-2670.

CFL supports Pucinski

The Chicago Federation of Labor endorsed Aurelia Pucinski Wednesday in her race for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cook County.

"I am delighted to receive the formal support of the Chicago Federation of Labor and look forward to working with them in our campaign," Pucinski said.

Pucinski had received the CFL endorsement in her primary victory last March over former Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne.

The CFL endorsement is important because the organization is influential in reaching its rank and file members. In addition, Pucinski's opponent, Ed Wrdolyak, has often claimed to have strong labor ties, and the fact that he was not even considered for the endorsement would indicate a lack of labor support for his candidacy.

"Aurie Pucinski is an outstanding candidate and I believe she will make an excellent Clerk of the Court," said Robert Healey, President of the CFL.

"When working people look at my record and my goals, I am confident they will see that I represent their interests and concerns," Pucinski said.

Girl Scout Leaders needed

There are six little first and second grade girls at your local school who would like to be Brownie Girl Scouts but can't because they don't have a leader.

There are no special qualifications - you don't even have to be a mother - all you need is enthusiasm and the ability to enjoy children. Troops usually meet after school, but they can meet in the evening or on Saturday, if that is more convenient. It is not necessary to be familiar with the Girl Scout program in order to volunteer, because leaders are given free training.

Whether a girl is interested in sports, camping, the arts or fitness, she can find it in Girl Scouting. But Girl Scouting is not just fun, it helps girls feel better about themselves, appreciate others, and develop the skills to achieve their dreams. For more information on leading a Girl Scout troop, please call the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council, 640-0500 or 249-5830.

Resurrection Diabetic Cooking Demonstration

A special Diabetic Cooking demonstration will be offered by registered dietitians Wednesday, Sept. 14 at Resurrection Hospital, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago.

Beginning at 7 p.m. in the hospital's Sister Anne meeting room, Resurrection Hospital dietitian Julie Warner will lead participants in a special cooking demonstration for diabetics. Cost for the program is $5 and pre-registration is required by calling the Resurrection Hospital Diet Office at 792-5164. All participants must have been instructed on their diabetic diet by the dietitians at Resurrection Hospital.

"Diabetic exchanges, the basic four food groups, and the importance of regular mealtimes are all stressed in the diabetic education classes," noted Warner. "The diabetic diet is simply a nutritious way to eat three properly balanced meals and allow for one snack each day. Our cooking demonstration will emphasize and highlight nutritional menus and proper food preparation."

According to recent statistics supplied by the American Diabetics Association, nearly one out of every 11 Americans suffer from diabetes, a disease in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin...the hormone which is used to convert sugars, starches and other foods into energy needed for everyday life.

"Once diabetic patients understand their particular diabetic situation and the importance of proper diabetic and weight control, they have won the battle," Warner stated.

Uncontrolled high levels of sugar may build up in the blood leading to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness, nerve damage, or the occurrence of gangrene resulting in leg or foot amputation.

If you would like help with your diabetic diet or have questions, please call Kathy Curran, R.D., at 792-5164.

Lindquist blasts Pullen on college aid

Bonnie Lindquist, Democratic candidate for State Representative from the 55th District, strongly criticized incumbent Penny Pullen for her position on helping families save for their children's college education.

"Penny Pullen's recent vote against a state program that would allow parents to save for future college expenses in a tax free trust fund is a cruel and insensitive insult to the families of this district," said Lindquist. "It shows once again, that her voting record does not represent the needs and wishes of the people of our community."

Lindquist was clear in her support for state programs that assist qualified students in saving for college expenses. "A college education is a dream that every parent has for their children," Lindquist said. "Public Officials should work to develop resources that help young people go to college, not try to undermine them. When I am elected state representative, one of my chief priorities will be to encourage programs that help families deal with spiraling educational costs."

Lindquist is a long time resident of Des Plaines, where she currently lives with her family.

OUR EMPLOYEES WEAR THE SAME THING TO WORK EVERY DAY.

If you think about it, the photos in this ad could have been a little different.

It'd be quite natural to assume that our bankers wear the same grey pinstripes, white button-downs and yellow ties to work each day.

But while that may or may not be the case, the most important thing you'll notice about us has little to do with apparel.

And more to do with our attitude. That's why we've introduced the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

True, it's not a new idea. We've been treating people right for years.

Except now we're backing it up. Putting it in writing, as they say.

Which means, if you have a problem with us, we'll solve it.

Or if you have a question about any facet of our service, we'll gladly answer it.

And if for any reason you're not satisfied, we'll do everything we can to reach a solution.

The basic point being, we want you to be happy with us. No matter what.

So stop by any of our locations and pick up a copy of the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

AAA-CMC offers travel tips for pets

Pet owners who don't want to leave their pets behind while vacationing can keep their animals safe and healthy on a trip if they make the right preparations, according to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

Pets should be taken to a veterinarian before traveling, to be sure they are healthy and have had all their vaccinations. Animals should not be locked and left alone in a car, because heat or cold might affect their health.

Pets in cars should travel in carriers or crates, AAA-CMC advises. Unrestrained pets can become unmanageable and a distraction to the driver, which could cause an accident.

Travelers needing overnight accommodations should ask about hotel or motel pet policies when they call for reservations. AAA TourBooks, available to AAA members from the AAA-Chicago Motor Club, indicate the quality of accommodations and if they allow pets.

Not all pets will travel well. Nervous or shy pets will not do well on the road and might become ill. Exceptionally young or old animals should not travel.

A free brochure, "Pets on the Go," helps vacationers make arrangements for taking their pets along on a trip. The brochure, written by noted pet-care writer Mordecai Siegal, and produced in conjunction with the Alpo pet center, includes information on what travelers should pack in their pet's "suitcase."

Burglary/Theft...

Person(s) unknown used a pry-type tool in an apparent burglary attempt on August 29. The door of a condominium in the 6000 block of Lincoln was splintered in the incident, causing approximately $400 damage. Police have been asked to watch the area, as residents report that young people are loitering in the vicinity.

A phillips-type screwdriver was used to pry at the doorlock of a rear service door in an auto parts store in the 5900 block of Lincoln last Thursday. The burglar did not gain entry but caused about $50 in damage to the lock.

A 1986 Cadillac was the target of a thief, who used a pry-type tool to remove the nameplate and emblems from the vehicle last Friday night. The car belongs to a retired Mokena man who was a guest in the Grove Motel where the vehicle was parked.

A retiree in the 8900 block of Mango reported a burglary Monday afternoon. Unknown person(s) gained entry into the home by raising an unlocked dining room window. The thief then went to an upstairs bedroom, stole a watch and necklaces with a total value of $1870, and exited the same dining room window. Investigation of the premises revealed that the thieves apparently attempted to pry open a rear door to enter but were unsuccessful until the unlatched window was discovered.

A 68 year old entertainer reported that his credit cards, glasses and drivers license were removed from his 1981 Chevy Friday night. The Niles resident was dining in a restaurant in the 6200 block of Lincoln when the items were stolen. He valued his missing articles at $150.

An attendant at the Shell station at 6941 Dempster reported that a man driving a white Pontiac Bonneville pumped $17 worth of gas into his car, and fled southbound on Waukegan without paying for the gas last Friday night.

A $140 tire was removed from an '83 Toyota parked in a driveway in the 5700 block of Callie. The car is owned by a 29 year old banker who resides at the address. The thief used a lug wrench to remove the tire Sunday.

The cashier of a service station in the 5900 block of Dempster reported $100 missing from the cash station. Since there were no transactions during time frame when the cash was most likely taken and since the cash register is computerized to show when the cash drawer is opened, it was not clear how the money could have been taken. There are currently no suspects.

Bound man found on Waukegan

A 29 year old man was found bound and bleeding in a front yard of his condo in the 8600 block of Waukegan last Thursday. He had been drinking at an area establishment earlier in the evening and told police that a home invader entered his apartment via the balcony. The condo resident gave police several conflicting stories as to the origins of his wounds, the circumstances of the burglary, his occupation and how he ended up on the front lawn of his unit, hands tied with superficial vertical cuts on the chest, abdomen, back, hand and right knee. He apparently knew his male attacker. His injuries did not require hospitalization.

Phone threats...

A female employee of the Fotonet facility in the 6000 block of Dempster has been reportedly harassed by an unknown person. In addition to approximately 20 phone calls, the woman has also been intimidated by notes left at the door. Morton Grove police have also advised the woman to contact the phone company.

The receptionist and a medic at Crane Packing Company received phone calls approximately 5 minutes apart, warning them that a shooting was about to take place on August 31. Police units responded immediately but no incident took place. Morton Grove police and company officials are investigating the situation, which is believed to be an in-house disagreement.

Strikes car following argument

A stocky man in his late twenties, driving a black Toyota, got into an argument with a mother and daughter in the parking lot of the China Chef at 5930 Lincoln. The man apparently was disturbed that the women were blocking his exit, as he was trying to leave in a hurry. He reportedly kicked and punched their '84 Cadillac, harassing the daughter who owned the car, and tried to strike the mother when she intervened. The Toyota had been traced to a female Chicago resident and police are attempting to learn the identity of the man so that the two women can press charges.

Dennis J. Christianson

Marine Staff Sgt. Dennis J. Christianson, son of Edward and Margaret Christianson of 8645 Normal st., Niles, recently received the Navy Achievement Medal. He received the decoration for his superior performance of duty while serving with 3rd Marine Division, on Okinawa. Christianson is currently stationed with 1st Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Harassment of witness continues

Over the Labor Day weekend, and for the second time in a week, a 35 year old moving company office worker has had her tires damaged by person(s) unknown. The two episodes are similar, and are possibly attempts to discourage her from cooperating in the investigation of two fellow employees.

This most recent tire-slashing also occurred on a Saturday night and only three tires on her 1971 Mercury were involved. The tires' total value was approximately $450.

Neighbors of the woman, who resides in the 8500 block of Fernside, reported hearing a truck around 1 a.m. and they saw a truck and two men in the area, around the time the tires were vandalized. As before, the descriptions of the perpetrators were similar to those of the secretary's co-workers and the truck was like others belonging to the moving company.

The two suspected men are implicated in an $1100 theft and have been scheduled to take lie detector tests this week. In both cases, neighbors have provided the police with additional information. Morton Grove police have put a special watch on the woman's home.

Thieves Run - Can't Hide

Two Chicago women were charged with felony retail theft when security personnel at Marshall's nabbed them for stealing 5 jogging suits valued at $339.95. The incident occurred August 29. The shoplifters, ages 28 and 31, were spotted taking merchandise into the fitting rooms and concealing other merchandise beneath the displayed clothing.

The suspects were carrying large handbags that were flat and appeared empty. When they emerged from the fitting rooms, the handbags were bulging. One suspect put the merchandise in the trunk of her '85 Buick and returned to the store while the other suspect was paying for some items. When the second woman left the store with her bag full of stolen clothing the security agents apprehended them both in the parking lot.

Both arrestees were held on $5,000 bonds and are scheduled to appear in Skokie Branch Court on October 12 and 1:30 p.m.

No leads in abduction

Morton Grove police are still searching for the young man suspected of abducting a north suburban woman two weeks ago. The woman was abducted from the library and managed to elude her captor in a bowling alley parking lot. Her car was later recovered. Anyone with information should contact police at 470-6208.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

The Panama Canal was built in Panama instead of Nicaragua because of a postage stamp! During the debate on where to build the canal, opponents of Nicaragua showed Congress a Nicaraguan stamp which depicted a volcano in Nicaragua. Congress was afraid that the volcano in Nicaragua might someday destroy the canal. So they voted instead to build the canal in Panama.

The famous and heroic story of "King Arthur and the Round Table" was written by Thomas Malory while he was in prison.

In the town of Barrow, in northern Alaska, the sun sets around Nov. 20 - and doesn't rise again until about Jan. 24. It is night-time continuously there for about 2 full months.

More than one-half of all the people in the world live on just one continent - Asia.

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Which team do you think has won the Super Bowl the most times in history... Would you say it's the Cowboys or Dolphins or 49ers or Raiders or Steelers or Redskins? ... The answer is the Steelers who've won the Super Bowl 4 times—in 1975, 1976, 1979 and 1980. ... Next come the Raiders who've won it 3 times.

Here's a surprising fact... The Miami Dolphins, who've been one of the better teams in the National Football League for many years, have—amazingly—lost their last game of the season EVERY season for 10 straight years, from 1978 through 1987. ... Hard to be true.

The New Year's Day college football bowl games will NOT be played on New Year's Day next Jan. 1. ... The reason is that Jan. 1, 1989 falls on a Sunday when the NFL will be televising its playoff games. ... All the New Year's Day college bowl games next January will be played instead on Monday, Jan. 2.

And, here's another interesting fact...

If you mention this ad after your deal is consummated (but before delivery) Jennings Volkswagen will deduct $50 from the purchase price of your new or used car. ... One deduction per customer. One deduction per transaction.

Commonwealth Edison responds to CUB

Dear Editor:

In August 1986, while arguing for cancellation of Commonwealth Edison's then-incomplete Braidwood 2 nuclear generating station, the Executive Director of the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) maintained that Edison "has so much excess generating capacity it doesn't know what to do with it". This was about the same time CUB was telling the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) that the power demanded repeatedly by Edison customers during the summer of 1986 wouldn't be needed until well into the 21st Century. Fortunately, that argument did not dissuade the Commission from approving completion of the Braidwood project, and fortunately for northern Illinois, the Company's construction program was concluded in time to help meet this summer's multitude of record-breaking demands for electricity. During the unrelenting heat, the Company did not expect until the early 1990s and CUB did not predict until sometime after 2006, the last date that appears on the group's throughout Edison's northern Illinois service territory. The Company's reserve margin, directed by opponents as being "excessive", was reduced to a paper-thin amount during the period Aug. 1-5, which at that time included the four highest daily demand in Edison's 101-year history. An unexpected double-whammy slashed the Company's reserve operating margin to barely 2% on Aug. 2, when an all-time peak demand of 17,017,000 kilowatts was met. Forced maintenance shutdowns took some plants out of service, while electrical output at others was sharply reduced because of EPA-mandated environmental restrictions. The drought lowered the levels of rivers and cooling lakes vital to power plant operation. Edison's "excess generating capacity" saved the day, enabling the Company to meet levels of electricity demand that the Company did not expect until the early 1990s and CUB did not predict until sometime after 2006, the last date that appears on the group's forecast chart. While utilities in other regions struggled to meet this summer's unprecedented demands by reducing voltage, cutting residential air conditioning, and imposing planned blackouts, Edison's "excess" capacity enabled it to overcome the difficulties caused by the extremely hot weather. Yet, some people seem to be slow learners. Two years after claiming Edison has so much power it "doesn't know what to do with it," CUB is telling the public that Byron 2 and Braidwood units still "are not needed and won't be needed for years to come". By mid-August, units which have been forced out of service were back on the job, in time to meet even higher demand, including another all-time record of 17,459,000 kw. As this remarkable Summer of '88 winds down, Edison customers can be thankful that neither the Company nor the ICC followed the advice of the self-appointed experts. Sincerely, Alan D. Wozniak, District Superintendent

Questions state funding of schools

Dear Editor:

This letter is a response to Mike Boland, who wanted the state of Illinois to provide a larger share of school funding. Please consider, Mr. Boland, whether you want to give up local control of your schools. Whoever hands out the money does so with strings attached. Please consider also that the farther away a governmental body is from the citizens, the more is taken out of each tax dollar by bureaucratic layers. One tax dollar to your local school board might be 90¢ worth of education. One tax dollar to the state would probably equal less than 50¢ by the time it was returned to the schools. State money comes from taxes, too. Are you really hoping that somehow you can get the citizens of Wilmette to fund the East Moline Schools? Sincerely, Maggie Kohls

Pucinski proposes employee "flex time"

Aurelia Pucinski, Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court has proposed a "flex time" schedule for employees of that office in order to expand court hours at night. "As we approach Labor Day, it is a good time to think about how government services can be more convenient for working people," Pucinski said. "Most people work during normal business hours and those are exactly the hours that we have our courts open. To have the courts open at night would be fairer and easier for a lot of people," she added. Pucinski's plan involves discussing with chief Judge Harry Comerford the possibility of extending court hours in different divisions. Judge Comerford has expressed interest in the idea.

"The clerk's administrative personnel would be available to staff evening hours in high volume divisions and where suitable. This is to be accomplished with "flex time" scheduling, rather than overtime, so that we can keep employee costs down," according to Pucinski.

"Labor Day honors America's workers, the very people who pay the cost of government. We in public service must make every effort to spend the taxpayers' money wisely and to make government as convenient as possible," Pucinski said.

"Babies susceptible to whiplash, Doctor says"

Many slow, learning and clumsy children might well have been intelligent and normal today had they not been "whiplashed" as infants, a Des Plaines chiropractor contends.

The whiplash occurs when the parent, who would never think of striking a child, seeks to discipline him or her by grabbing the shoulders or chest and shaking the child vigorously.

The child's unsupported head flops about, creating hemorrhages in the brain. This can lead to "mild" mental retardation or "mild" cerebral palsy in thousands of otherwise normal children, declared Dr. Bernard A. Shindler of the A Back Pain Chiropractic Clinics.

Unlike the "battered baby" who shows external signs of trauma, the "shaken babies" are not detectable, he said.

An infant's head, he pointed out, is relatively heavier than at any other time of life and the neck muscles weaker. It bobs freely under stress.

"The hands of an angry parent or jealous older sibling can be deadly weapons," he cautioned.

Dr. Shindler cites studies done by Dr. John Caffey, M.D., of the University of Pittsburgh, to support his contention. Dr. Caffey has proposed a nationwide campaign to alert parents to the harm of shaking, slapping, jerking and jolting infants' heads.

Parkside hosts executive briefing

Ann Dore McLaughlin

James J. Gilmartin, president and chief executive officer of Parkside Human Services Corporation, a member of Lutheran General Health Care Services Corporation, recently hosted an Executive Briefing that focuses on the importance of child care as a business issue. Cosponsors of the event included Illinois Governor James R. Thompson, Chicago Mayor Eugene Sawyer and Louis V. Gerstner, Jr. president of the American Express Corporation. The meeting which brought together both public and private groups was held at Chicago's Hotel Nikko.

Ann Dore McLaughlin, U.S. secretary of labor spoke to corporate representatives and said "the most essential company benefit of the 1990's for working parents will be child care. Over the next 10 years, women will account for two-thirds of new additions to the work force and 80 percent will start families."

Parkside Human Services Corporation, through its division of Children's Services, has been actively involved in the provision of employer-initiated child care since 1981. It operates two child care centers for children ages six weeks to six years in Des Plaines and Wilmette, a school aged summer camp program and a before/after and holiday care program for youngsters in grades kindergarten to third grade in Glenview. Additionally, it offers consultation and management services to corporations.

For more information about programs and services of Parkside Children's Services, call (312) 696-7980.

Rainbow Hospice volunteer classes

Rainbow Hospice, Inc. has announced plans for volunteer classes to be held at Resurrection Hospital Oct. 1, 5, 12, 19, 26, and Nov. 2, from 9 a.m. to noon. The Oct. 1 session is open to anyone interested in learning more about Hospice as well as for those planning on attending the rest of the training program.

Rainbow Hospice, Inc., a non-profit community based organization affiliated with Holy Family, Lutheran General, and Resurrection hospitals, serves the northwest area of Chicago and the suburbs. The hospice program provides a coordinated effort of health care professionals and volunteers concerned with the comfort and support of terminally ill patients and their families. The hospice team addresses the physical, emotional, spiritual, and social needs of patients and their families.

Volunteers are a vital part of the hospice program, explains Margaret Murtha-Krizka, Volunteer Coordinator. As a volunteer, you might be asked to do any of the following: being a friend and companion to the patient and family; relieving the primary caregiver for a short period of time; running errands; observing and reporting to other hospice team members; and doing bereavement follow up. While volunteers do specific tasks, their greatest asset to patients and families is their ability to listen. Just their presence makes the road less lonely. Volunteers can also choose to help out in other areas such as: office clerical tasks and fund-raising activities. There is a great need for persons who have a few daytime hours available, but anyone interested in becoming a volunteer is asked to call the Rainbow Hospice, Inc. office at 774-2480 for further information and to schedule an interview. Interviews will begin the week of September 5.

LGH free cancer risk assessments

Do you ever wonder what your chances are of getting cancer? People with a family history of cancer or those who engage in high-risk activities, such as smoking or sunbathing, should follow up on that question. The Cancer Resource Center at Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge provides a free service to help people understand their risk of cancer.

The computerized, cancer risk assessment, which is done at the Cancer Resource Center, asks a series of medical history and lifestyle questions and creates a personalized analysis. The risk factor is shown as low, moderate or high for developing cancer of the lung, colon/rectum, bladder, skin, mouth/throat, breast and uterus or testicles and prostate.

"Learning about your risks and what actions you can take to lower those risks can make a difference," states the center's coordinator Maryann Korba, R.N.

For example, John Doe chews tobacco. The computer would say this puts him at high risk for developing mouth cancer and suggest he quit tobacco use, practice good oral hygiene and visit the dentist regularly for mouth checks.

The Cancer Resource Center, at the Parkside Center, 1875

Dempster St., Suite 465, also offers cancer education, counseling, support groups, a Cancer Helpline and a Second Opinion Program. For more information or to make an appointment for a cancer risk assessment, call 696-8059.

Loyola medical scholars

Ten medical students at Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine have received $1,000 scholarships from a trust established by an elderly seamstress. All are of Italian descent.

The late Pietrina (Beatrice) Cognata, who lived on Kildare ave. in Chicago, created the trust in memory of her daughters, Grace I, who died in infancy and Grace II, who died in her early twenties.

Cognata's will stipulates that scholarship recipients be first, second or third generation Italian immigrants. Funds for the awards come from investment income generated by her trust.

Chicago attorney, Gregory Tombolello, who prepared Cognata's will, said she had accumulated her money by doing $3 to $5 jobs sewing for her neighbors. She often worked past midnight.

Tombolello stated that four of the 10 recipients have non-Italian surnames (Madigan, Parkas,

Come and find out why Amina sleep walks; why Elvino gets jealous and the roll Count Rodolfo plays in all this.

Come learn about his opera, it's story, music, composer, and history from Barbara Roseman, an outstanding lecturer of the Lyric Opera Lecture Corps, chapter member and one of the chapter's past presidents. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited.

Golf Milling Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

Greetings from GOLF MILL. You won't find many here rhapsodizing or waxing poetic about the passage of summer's last bloom. In a few weeks, nature will treat us to her annual performance as summer green explodes into brilliant flashes of orange, red, and yellow.

At GOLF MILL, patrons d'd not have to wait for nature's production. The mall has had some drama of its own going on for several weeks. The house lights dimmed on the summer season, the stage curtains parted, and the Big Apple Menagerie's production August 26-28 had the joint really jumping. Utilizing a mix of exuberance and the dazzle of fall fashions available at the mall, it was quite an extravaganza.

This fall the mall welcomed a new store, UNITS, where everyday shopping is meant to be a theatrical experience. Shakespeare wrote, "All the world is a stage." At UNITS every store is meant to be a stage. There's no fancy scenery or flashy decor here—only magic. UNITS is a real fooler. The white on white color scheme and neatly packaged garments stacked in cubicles give no hint of the drama about to unfold. All it takes to get the show rolling is a customer and the UNITS team of stylists. According to the UNITS plan, "The stylist artistically arranges the garments for the customer, the shopper in a sense becomes the star on stage for passers-by who are themselves drawn to participate." After several visits, we found it really works.

Their clothes must be extraordinary, you may be thinking. Surprise! Every garment UNITS sells is based on the simple design of the square. It's a similar evolution to that of the wheel minus thousands of years. Based on the circle, humanity has gone from wheels hewn from stone to high level technology. Based on the square, a UNITS stylist interfaces an endless assortment of tops, bottoms, skirts, bandeaus, and cowls. The final applications stretch into an infinity of possibilities. And believe it or not, the entire concept comes from the simple square shape of the centuries-old far eastern kimono.

As we watched, Sandy Borg, manager, and her stylists, Sandy Levine-Svare and Amy Bishop, performed their artistry on women of all ages, sizes, and body builds. We felt like kids at a magic show, wheels hewn from stone to high level technology. Based on the square, a UNITS stylist interfaces an endless assortment of tops, bottoms, skirts, bandeaus, and cowls. The final applications stretch into an infinity of possibilities. And believe it or not, the entire concept comes from the simple square shape of the centuries-old far eastern kimono.

"We've got another mall surprise for you, but let's see if you can answer this question. What clothing store in business since 1879 noted for handsome, debonair, and distinctive men's suits and sportswear now offers the same quality to women? The answer—RICHMAN BROTHERS, managed by Larry Erikson. The name RICHMAN is associated with classic tradition at GOLF MILL. They are one of the mall's oldest tenants. A RICHMAN employee, Harry Purcell, has one of the longest running terms of employment since the mall's beginning. RICHMAN BROTHERS has always been highly regarded for outstanding customer service and free alterations.

This year something is drastically different. Alongside the hallowed display of fine men's garments were stunning distinctively RICHMAN's women's suits. And why not? As women have reached the upper echelons, they have the same clothing needs.

According to Kristine Stark, assistant manager, "Other RICHMAN BROTHERS stores began selling women's apparel a few years back and had a very positive response." But the transition did not take place without a few nips and tucks in women's styles in their early stages. Desiring to apply the same classic designs to their women's line, the sizing was not as perfect as they wanted. After modifications that proved more true to size, the lucky female of 1988 has the opportunity to purchase the finest that heretofore was a man's domain.

Kristine, who is overseeing the women's department, showed us business jackets made of the finest worsted wool that felt as soft as flannel. The official business "uniform," the gray flannel suit, was many times less than comfortable and itchy. It is finally a joy to wear.

For women not every business transaction calls for conservative suits. RICHMAN BROTHERS offers the businesswomen colorful and stylish options. Their selection of multi-hued challis skirts can be matched with blazers and sweaters. Gorgeous blouses and wool slacks are winners in and out of the office. RICHMAN BROTHERS for men, and finally for women, quality, style, and service.

Until next time see you at the mall.

NSREB sales top

For the seventh consecutive month, total volume of north side city and suburban real estate sales topped last year, according to Ken Ortiz, president of the North Side Real Estate Board.

July, 1988 volume in 996 sales was $135,730,050. July, 1987 volume was $129,089,252 in 1,065 sales.

For 1988, volume is $908,391,432 in 6,761 sales, compared to $686,764,064 in 5,918 sales last year. Average sale price of a single family home in the areas served by the North Side Board is $146,041, up almost $23,000 from last year.

This reflects the demand for single family homes in this sellers' market, Ortiz observed. Condominium sales also are strong. Average sale price for condominiums is $102,978, up from $95,061 a year ago.

CUB vows to fight proposed Com Ed rate increase

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) Monday vowed to fight a proposed $480 million rate increase for Commonwealth Edison and accused the staff of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) of making a mockery of the rate-setting process.

The ICC staff is scheduled to file a formal request asking the full seven-member commission to approve the $480 million rate increase plan Tuesday. The proposal has been rejected by CUB and other consumer groups because it is illegal, unfair and overpriced. Under the plan, Edison would receive a two-step rate increase totaling $480 million. The increase would be in effect until 1993 and would charge consumers over $2 billion for three unneeded power plants.

"Less than three months ago, the ICC's own experts presented sworn evidence showing that Edison deserves at least a $300 million rate reduction. The ICC staff obviously doesn't have the backbone to fight for the Edison rate reduction that consumers' deserve. They should be spending the taxpayers' dollars working for lower rates, not cutting sweetheart deals with Edison," Josh Hoyt, CUB President, said. CUB will be urging the full-seven member commission to reject its staff proposal and to order at least a $300 million immediate rate reduction for Com Ed. If the commission fails to rule on CUB's rate decrease request, the consumer group will file an appeal before the Illinois Appellate Court. Throughout 11 months of hearing, CUB, other consumer groups and the staff of the ICC presented volumes of testimony showing that Com Ed does not deserve any rate increase. With a $300 million rate cut, the ICC experts testified, the company would remain financially healthy and continue to pay its current $3 dividend to stockholders.

What clothing store in business since 1879 noted for handsome, debonair, and distinctive men's suits and sportswear now offers the same quality to women? The answer—RICHMAN BROTHERS, managed by Larry Erikson. The name RICHMAN is associated with classic tradition at GOLF MILL. They are one of the mall's oldest tenants. A RICHMAN employee, Harry Purcell, has one of the longest running terms of employment since the mall's beginning. RICHMAN BROTHERS has always been highly regarded for outstanding customer service and free alterations.

This year something is drastically different. Alongside the hallowed display of fine men's garments were stunning distinctively RICHMAN's women's suits. And why not? As women have reached the upper echelons, they have the same clothing needs.

According to Kristine Stark, assistant manager, "Other RICHMAN BROTHERS stores began selling women's apparel a few years back and had a very positive response." But the transition did not take place without a few nips and tucks in women's styles in their early stages. Desiring to apply the same classic designs to their women's line, the sizing was not as perfect as they wanted. After modifications that proved more true to size, the lucky female of 1988 has the opportunity to purchase the finest that heretofore was a man's domain.

Kristine, who is overseeing the women's department, showed us business jackets made of the finest worsted wool that felt as soft as flannel. The official business "uniform," the gray flannel suit, was many times less than comfortable and itchy. It is finally a joy to wear.

For women not every business transaction calls for conservative suits. RICHMAN BROTHERS offers the businesswomen colorful and stylish options. Their selection of multi-hued challis skirts can be matched with blazers and sweaters. Gorgeous blouses and wool slacks are winners in and out of the office. RICHMAN BROTHERS for men, and finally for women, quality, style, and service.

Until next time see you at the mall.

NSREB sales top

For the seventh consecutive month, total volume of north side city and suburban real estate sales topped last year, according to Ken Ortiz, president of the North Side Real Estate Board.

July, 1988 volume in 996 sales was $135,730,050. July, 1987 volume was $129,089,252 in 1,065 sales.

For 1988, volume is $908,391,432 in 6,761 sales, compared to $686,764,064 in 5,918 sales last year. Average sale price of a single family home in the areas served by the North Side Board is $146,041, up almost $23,000 from last year.

This reflects the demand for single family homes in this sellers' market, Ortiz observed. Condominium sales also are strong. Average sale price for condominiums is $102,978, up from $95,061 a year ago.

Loyola offers short PIE courses

Beginning Monday, Sept. 12, Loyola University of Chicago will be offering some "unusual" types of classes. They are non-credit "PIE" classes...Programs involving Everyone. Some of the subjects which will be taught include: CPR; computer WordPerfect; hand massage (stress reduction through hand massage); beginning calligraphy; sign language; ballroom dancing; introduction to home video (how to shoot, tape and produce creative videos); Tai Chi Ch'uan (an introduction to the classic Chinese "soft-style" form of movement meditation); introduction to Yoga; pie making (for the holidays!); personal financial management, among others.

"PIE classes are open to the Rogers Park community, as well as Loyola students, faculty and staff," said Linda Deanna-Janz, dean of student life and coordinator of the PIE program.

The classes will run from Sept. 12 - Oct. 21. Some will meet only once while others meet up to six times, depending on the instructor and the subject matter.

"It's a great opportunity to get a brief introduction to a variety of areas not always offered as part of a regular college curriculum," said Deanna-Janz.

Registration for PIE classes will be held Sept. 6-9. For information on classes, fees or registration contact Linda Deanna-Janz at 312-508-3897.

Loyola's Outpatient Center offers Growth Screening

Loyola's Pediatrics Department, in cooperation with the Human Growth Foundation, will provide free screening for hormone deficiency in children at the medical center's Mulcahy Outpatient Center on three consecutive Saturdays in September. The screening will be done in the pediatrics area on the following Saturdays, Sept. 10, Sept. 17, and Sept. 24, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Coordinating this program is Dr. W. Patrick Zeller, director of the section of pediatric endocrinology, metabolism and nutrition at Loyola University Medical Center.

"Testing for growth hormone deficiency involves measuring the child's current height and computing that information against the normal rate of growth," Dr. Zeller said. "If, in the course of screening, a youngster is suspected of having this problem, we will advise the parents to consult their pediatrician."

According to the Human Growth Foundation, an estimated 10,000 to 15,000 children in the U.S. suffer from growth hormone deficiency. The problem occurs when the pituitary gland, a gland at the base of the brain, does not secrete adequate amounts of the protein that stimulates growth - human growth hormone (hGH).

Those children who are afflicted, because their growth is severely retarded, may reach adult height of only four feet, and look much younger than their age during childhood and adolescence. If the deficiency is identified early enough, there is treatment available to correct the growth disorder. The product is called Protropin and is manufactured by Genetech, Inc. of South San Francisco, Calif. It is available only by prescription at the pharmacies of hospitals equipped to treat growth hormone deficient children.

For more information on the growth screening program call Kim Amer, R.N., 531-4034.

Sky View Center receives grant

Sky View Center, Rockford, has received a grant for $7,000 from the Forest Hospital Foundation, Des Plaines, Illinois. The grant is part of the Foundation's on-going program to fund Peer Leadership and counseling services in Illinois schools. A special education program of the Rockford Public Schools providing educational, behavioral and vocational services for middle and high school students, Sky View Center requested the funds in order to develop a peer support group to help assure success for students as they are partially re-integrated or mainstreamed into other general education or career programs. An affiliate of Forest Hill Systems, Des Plaines, which also includes Forest Hospital, the Forest Hospital Foundation is a non-profit organization which provides scholarship and research funds and sponsors a range of educational and community programs. For further information about the Foundation's grant program, contact Don Pondelick, Corporate Director of Education, Forest Hospital Foundation, or Loren Ables, Administrative Assistant, at 635-4100, Ext. 398.

Attorney to head Campaign for OCC Educational Foundation

Attorney Jim Riebandt has been named chair of the Oakton Community College Educational Foundation's newly established Enhanced Annual Campaign. The campaign kicks off September 19. "The Foundation's purpose is to obtain supplemental funding for the College to increase its cultural impact and to provide its students with the very best," Riebandt said. "This new campaign money will be targeted for scholarships and incentive awards and grants to outstanding faculty and staff to acquire specialized high technology equipment and art-works, and to expand facilities as needed." Riebandt is a partner in the Park Ridge law firm of Palmer, Blackman & Riebandt, P.C. and resides in Long Grove. A graduate of Notre Dame with a B.A. degree magna cum laude, he went on to earn a law degree from De Paul University. "The campaign will be an intense, two-month long effort," Riebandt said. "We hope to double the Foundation's annual fund raising goals during the next two years. Because many business people are aware what Oakton does for the community, I believe that we can raise $400,000 over two years time. I think that's a realistic and obtainable goal," he said. "If Oakton is to continue to improve, it must have funds for more than just day-to-day expenses. We want to reward Oakton people for excellence, to make it possible for them to take on new challenges and to augment plans for research and development to keep up with the changing world," he said. To reach the campaign's ambitious goal, Riebandt, who also serves as a vice president on the OCC Foundation Board, has divided members of the board of directors into three teams of five to six people. He will name three captains to head the teams which will make personal calls to business leaders. "We will be calling on business and industry leaders in the area to show them how their contribution to Oakton College will give them a handsome return on their investment," he said. "We will underscore what many of them know already - that in the truest sense Oakton is a community college - their prime resource for skilled workforce. We'll demonstrate how their enterprises can directly benefit from the way Oakton nurtures and trains its students," he said. Riebandt points out that OCC's Institute for Business and Professional Development with its new business conference center, completed in 1986, is an outstanding example of the vital role the college plays in the development of business and personnel resources in this area.

Ameritech Awards $500,000 to Private College Project

Dr. Lucy Morros, president of Barat College, Lake Forest, announced recently that Barat will participate in a unique partnership with colleges in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. The five-year, cooperative program funded by a $500,000 grant from Ameritech Foundation through The Associated Colleges of Illinois unites independent college foundations in five states in an effort to increase corporate support for private higher education.

The project entitled "The Ameritech Partnership for Independent Colleges" will document through original research the unique contributions private colleges make to the five-state region. It will also fund the design of a marketing plan to communicate the research results. Dr. Morros congratulated the Ameritech Foundation Board of Directors for providing the opportunity to document our colleges' performance and to make the case for increased independent support.

The Ameritech program is being implemented in the five states that comprise the primary service area of the Ameritech Corporation and its Bell Companies. In awarding the project grant, Ameritech Foundation President John A. Koten said, "This country needs strong independent colleges as a viable alternative to state-supported institutions. To let the independent colleges atrophy is a disservice to the taxpayers who will be made to pick up an increasing share of the bill for higher education. Independent colleges need to make their value to society better known to their constituents." Barat College is one of 28 independent institutions comprising The Associated Colleges of Illinois. Since 1952, this association has made annual united solicitations of corporations on behalf of its members. Last year, more than $1.25 million was raised and distributed to member colleges, of which all are fully accredited, nonprofit independent institutions in Illinois.

Chicago-based Ameritech's five Bell companies and its other information-related subsidiaries last year collectively contributed $4.8 million to higher education. The Ameritech Foundation was established in 1984 to complement the broad-based contributions activities of Ameritech's subsidiaries.

one. They're on the scene to protect the presidential candidate and seeing a hostile crowd must give them moments of tension.

Niles Mayor Nick Blase estimated there were 1,500 people at the morning get-together. He said Dukakis kept pretty much to his stump speech about the concerns of middle America. He quoted the candidate as being worried about the future of today's kids and concerned about their job opportunities.

Dukakis was introduced to the crowd by Congressman Dan Rostenkowski and Senator Paul Simon. Blase introduced the candidate as he came into the banquet room and then met with Democratic bigwigs at the Hyatt House to discuss future plans with the candidate. Blase said the black officials were concerned about housing in Illinois while most of the other people thought the issue which must be stressed in Illinois is the loss of 440,000 jobs in the Illinois industrial sector (Blase's figures).

We have to ask the question, "What is he really like?" Nick Blase said the candidate is very concise and does not deal in trivialities. Nick noted

Dukakis "is very cool". Blase said after 18 months on the campaign trail he believes he has the same "coolness" he has had during the entire period.

There wasn't much humor bandied about by Dukakis. Blase said the candidate turned to Simon and told him they've seen more of each other the past 18 months than they've seen their wives.

Blase observed Dukakis had much in common with Simon. They have similar personalities, both being rather sober, straight-forward men who are always attending to business.

We also had a little observation of our own. When Blase returned our telephone call he rather excitedly said he just came back with "being with Dukakis". He sounded very upbeat. After 27 years of plowing the political fields Blase still can get the juices flowing. Despite all the hundreds of meetings and chicken and peas lunches and the meeting of multitudes of political biggies and little hangers-on, Niles committeeman-Mayor still gets aroused by the action. We like that.

munity, there is no need for residents in an emergency situation to remember the police and fire department numbers. "More importantly, there is quick response time with this system," Giovannelli said.

After a string of interruptions, in which some shoving was involved between pro-lifers and a Dukakis supporter, security men ejected several protesters from the restaurant. They then joined about 20 pickets outside the facility protesting the candidate's stand on Pro-Choice (The right of women to decide whether or not to have their babies).

During his 45-minute speech, Dukakis addressed the ethnic rights of middle class families and the need to educate the children. He also stressed plight of blue collar workers who have lost jobs because of industry leaving Illinois.

"These workers end up with less paying jobs and are forced to feed their families at slightly above minimum wages, which is wrong," he said.

Dukakis touched briefly on his opponent, George Bush, Republican candidate for president, contending Republicans in the past have attempted to break up labor unions.

In a discussion of taxes, the Democratic candidate said that unlike Bush, he wants the capital gains tax "to remain as is" saying Bush has taken the position to decrease capital gains tax on incomes over $200,000 per year, which would mean a savings to the rich of $30,000 per year.

Dukakis received applause when he proposed catastrophic health insurance to help pay for high medical costs in cases of serious illness such as cancer. The insurance would help pay for high medical bills and would prevent families from going into bankruptcy, he said.

Attending the meeting were Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase, who is also the Democratic committeeman of Maine Township; State Rep. Calvin Sutker (D-56th), also Niles Township committeeman; Senator Paul Simon, State Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, Chicago Alderman Roman Pucinski and Neil Hartigan, Attorney General for the State of Illinois.

According to Andy Przybylo, manager of the House of White Eagle, Dukakis held a private meeting with presidents of Polish-American organizations before addressing the crowd in the restaurant. Pucinski chaired the 15-minute meeting in a private room with discussion centered on problems in Poland," he said.

ing a 911 emergency telephone system? Giovannelli noted the wording on the referendum authored by the Cook County Clerk's office could be confusing to voters going to the polls in November. "It's hard to understand because of the legal terminology," he said. "We are going to be available to answer any questions on the referendum from voters and give out as much information as we can."

He adds that in emergency situations, Niles residents now call the Niles Police Department (647-2131) and the Niles Fire Department (827-2121) resulting in a timelag that 9-1-1 circumvents.

With the new system, he said, both a police and fire dispatcher would be on the line at the same time and the proper equipment would be sent in line with the emergency. Since the system would automatically have a record of the telephone number and the location of the emergency site, this would aid the fire and police departments.

The police chief explained that if someone lost consciousness before reporting the location of a police, fire or medical emergency, the phone number and address would automatically be on record. "It is an effective emergency aid system that would greatly benefit the community," he said.

The Board approved a sum of $1,615,471 for payment of August bills. Total expenditures for last month were approved in the sum of $2,779,000.

In other business the Board approved payment of $33,848.00 to SMART DATA for the purchase of C-ITOH printers. Three Sharp FO-3200 facsimile machines were approved for the three school libraries for $7,780.00. Other purchases included three dump trucks totalling $51,760.00.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is October 3 at the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center.

public at the October Board meeting. Taking advantage of a law passed July 18 which allows extensions in asbestos management plans, the Board approved application for an extension at the Maine North Campus. In accordance with the new law, the Board can defer submission of its asbestos management plan until May 9, 1989.

James Elliott, Superintendent, said "We are deferring this action as a result of the sale of the property. At this time we don't know if we would need to submit a plan. It depends on the fate of the school building. There is no student body occupying the premises." The Board approved a sum of $1,615,471 for payment of August bills. Total expenditures for last month were approved in the sum of $2,779,000.

Police urge caution for school children

Now that school is open, Morton Grove Police Chief Larry Schey, stresses the need for extra safety precautions on the part of school children, motorists, and parents.

designated, the village lost the case. "We went as far as we could on this problem and trying to change the status has been the most frustrating experience in my life," he said. "I have been trying for 20 years to get our own post office, but have been unable to get anywhere with postal authorities."

He noted the original substation was located across the street from the Lane Tree Inn, 7710 Milwaukee Ave., but because of the growing population in the 1970's, it was relocated to the Lawrencewood shopping center. "It will remain there when the shopping center is redeveloped," he said. "It's the only concession we've received from the U. S. Postal Service."

The village's suit asked the U.S. District Court to require the Postal Service to allow Niles residents being served by the Des Plaines post office (60018 Zip code) to use a Niles designation to their mailing address.

The remainder of Niles is served by the Chicago post office with a 60648 Zip code. Marcheschi said in 1983, it was discovered some past sales tax revenues meant for Niles had been unintentionally misdirected to Des Plaines by the Illinois Department of Revenue since 1978.

An agreement subsequently was made between the two towns that Des Plaines reimburse Niles $14,000 each month for four years to compensate for $874,000 in misdirected sales tax revenues from two K-Mart stores, one on Dempster St. and the other in the Golf Glen shopping center on Golf Rd. (now Builders Square). Even though the sites were annexed in Niles in 1972, they still carry the Des Plaines ZIP designation.

Marcheschi says he will continue efforts to have the Niles 60018 area included in the area designated as 60648, which covers the majority of Niles. He said he realizes, however, that it is difficult to get changes in the postal system.

Niles Nuggets on Cablevision

The Niles Nuggets semi-pro baseball team, sponsored by the International House of Pancakes located at 9201 Milwaukee in Niles, will have the game that was played on July 17, 1988 against the Chicago Bruins televised on three different occasions. All three games will be on channel 21 at 5:30 p.m. The three dates are as follows: Friday, Sept. 9th., Tuesday, Sept. 13th. and Friday, Sept. 23rd. If you didn't get a chance to see this year's championship Nugget team, this is a good opportunity to see them play. This particular game was an excellent example of what the Nuggets were all about this year. The Nuggets beat the Chicago Bruins 11 to 0 by the slaughter rule in 5 innings of play! We hope watching this game will give you some of that good feeling Nugget Fever!

License plates run the gamut from literal to proprietary. Straight forward owners choose vanity plates such as "PONT 38", "CHEV L 67", "PLY 70", while others reinforce their pride of ownership with "POPS 56" (Chevy), "DICKS 61" (Corvette), "MY RS 68" (Camaro rally sport) and "R BAYB 2", a well reconitioned wine and black 1939 Master Deluxe Chevy with a 1988-style black radiator brassiere and velvet upholstery. You have the feeling these cars are practically family.

Some cars do change hands for investment prices which might be considered bargains by today's standards. A black 1946 Chevy station wagon was recently being offered for $3,000. What will this car go for in 1996? A 1959 Chevy convertible may be purchased for a paltry $15,900. According to its owner, in 1979 there were only 600 of the original cars in existence. Who knows what the car will be worth in 1989.

"WAT NEXT": A bulletin board advises members about other auto events and parts for sale. The notification of the upcoming Channel 11 filming is nearly hidden amidst For Sale flyers. You hear engines rev but there are no squealing tires. The stream of cars steadily circles looking for available parking slots. Your 1987 sub-compact may be booked during a cherry Ford Fairlane Skyliner and a 1948 blue Chevy Fleetline. The loudspeaker blares 50's and 60's music. "ROC NRO 1".

Oddly enough you won't find any car songs on the Seeburg jukebox inside. Yes, you can get two plays for a quarter but don't look for Jan and Dean, or the Beach Boys on the song lists. Children abound inside and out. They monopolize the revolving selection menu and pick the goodies from the years when the La Bamba of choice was by Richie Valens. The kids don't seem to know the difference.

Spend one Friday night in this parking lot and you're sure to want to come back and bring your parents, your kids, your high school buddy or anyone else who shares the excitement of being around these cars and doesn't mind that it may take them twenty minutes to get out of the lot once they decide to tear themselves away. "C YA LATR".

Firemen on August 30 went to 7012 Carol Ave. on a report of a flooding basement causing water backup under the staircase. There was no electrical hazard and the owner was advised to call a plumber.

A water flow alarm at 8251 activated on September 1 after construction workers removed the wrong wires. The manager was advised to contact the alarm company when the problem was resolved and the alarm system back in service.

On September 1, firefighters responded to Vapor Corp. 6420 Howard St., where a fire in a test room area had been extinguished by a single sprinkler when firemen arrived. A check for extension in the ceiling area was negative and there was no damage estimate.
