by Nancy Keramidas

Maine and Niles Township politicians continue to paint a dismal picture for the political fortunes of Republican County Clerk candidate Ed Vrdolyak.

His opponent, Democrat Aurelia Pucinski is a heavy favorite, according to local committees.

The confrontation between Pucinski and Vrdolyak is distinguished by the notoriety of the candidates more than for its perceived impact on the everyday lives of the citizens. Former

Many years ago a sociologist named Relzman wrote about the two Americas which co-exist in this country. There's the huge middle class and then there's the underclass. The two worlds of these groups are as far apart as two cultures separated by thousands of miles.

What brought Relzman's thesis to mind was an article appearing in today's sports section of the Tribune. A black Simeon high school player received a spinal cord injury the past weekend in a football game which has caused paralysis over 90% of his body. Doctors said the prognosis for the 17 year old was poor and he is likely to be a paraplegic for the rest of his life. What was also dismaying was the report his Mother, who raised five children, has had breast cancer and one of her grandchildren suffers from spina bifida, an opening at the base of the spine which is a debilitating deformity.

Ten years ago we had a lady who worked for us who went back to her inner-city home and was felled by a bullet. Her uncle, in a fit of rage, was aiming a gun at her husband, but the ricocheting bullet lodged in this lady's spine. She, too,

Wrecking ball to hit Lawrencewood soon

Bulldozers will be heard at the former Lawrencewood shopping center in Niles at the end of this month, where buildings will come tumbling down to make way for a new shopping center.

According to Joe Salerno, director of code enforcement, developer Jerry Biehl has completed extermination of rats and other pests in the vacant buildings on the site. "The village ordinance requires pest extermination in any building to be torn down to comply with village code," Salerno said, adding demolition of the center is expected to begin at the end of October.

A hastily scheduled Morton Grove Appearance Commission meeting sent residents affected by the proposed Harlem-Dempster-Shermer Shopping Center scrambling to Village Hall, three weeks earlier than previously agreed to. When the commission met on October 3, they had moved to adjourn to November 7. On Monday afternoon, with less than 5 hours notice, residents were told the meeting was rescheduled to that evening.

A representative of Patrick Daley & Associates, the architectural firm designing the shopping center, detailed the amendments to the original plan which was strenuously opposed by

Niles to offer Caregiver class

The Niles Senior Center is sponsoring a Caregiver course for individuals who are caring for a family member or senior friend. Classes will take place Monday nights Oct. 17 thru Nov. 14 at 7:30. The cost is $5 per person for the course.

If you are giving physical care, cleaning & laundry assistance, handling medicines, changing dressings, running errands or being a consistent resource to the person(s) involved—YOU ARE A CAREGIVER. The motivating force in becoming a caregiver varies greatly, but most individuals find it a rewarding experience. In spite of its rewards few will say it is easy. To be a caregiver can become physically & emotionally stressful. The impact of illness & disability presents unwelcome change and disruption to daily activities & routine relationships. It is often a difficult task performed out of love. This also becomes a full time job out of necessity.

Caregiving responsibilities need not be handled totally alone.

There are professionals & several community resources which may be able to help you with the various needs. In an effort to assist you in this aspect of caring for another, the senior center is offering a help-at-home course.

"Home is Where the Care Is" is a course developed by AARP. The modules of the course cover Personal Care, Community Resources, Safety and Home Environment, Financial/Legal Issues, Medication and Nutrition, and Family Interactions. We will also have a professional speaker present each area for information & discussion purposes. They will answer any pressing issues or questions you may have. Come learn & share! We are hoping that out of this course a caregiver support group will grow. We are looking forward to your participation. Registration is open to Niles residents or family members of a Niles resident who are caregivers. Pre-registration is necessary: Call 967-6100 ext. 376.

The public is invited to attend the program for no charge.

Among the ballets to be performed will be the "Tarantella", an Italian light hearted piece by Gottschal, and "America", a patriotic collage by a variety of well-known American composers.

Four dancers will participate in the program.

The film is shown free of charge in the library auditorium at 6960 Oakton Street. Everyone is welcome. Bring your friends too.

For reservations, please call 864-6400.

Blues Music Concert

Blues and torch songs will highlight a performance by singer Virginia Barton when she presents "It's Blues to Me", at the North Shore Retirement Hotel, 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston, on Sunday, October 16 at 2:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the performance at no charge.

Barton will sing the songs made famous by such stars as Billie Holiday, Helen Morgan and Jayne Froman. Included in her program will be "Sophisticated Lady", "More Than You Know", "Can't Help Lovin' That Man of Mine" and "My Old Flame".

"Before the era of Big Bands, all of the popular singers were women," Barton says. "With the 1930's came Perry Como and Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby. But before then it was a woman's world. And the great composers such as Vincent Youmans and George Gershwin had specific women in mind for the music they wrote."

Barton will sing, also, songs made famous by Broadway star Ethel Merman.

For reservations, please call 864-6400.

S.I.J. 55 Plus Club

Vacations are over, Fall and the cooling weather is moving in, President Rudy Seifert said we will be getting ready for all our coming events, but we need members to fill in on some of the committees. Our Club cannot function properly without the combined efforts of all membership.

Members have really been on the move, we went to Andreas in Wisconsin, had luncheon at Holiday Inn in Skokie, Lincolnshire, and we all had a great time on the "Spirit of Chicago" that we are going again October 10. Our Program Chairman Bernice Tegeler, is doing a great job of keeping us entertained.

A thank you to all who helped make our Bake Sale a success, we could have done much better if we would have had the cooperation of all our members, not only the same faithful ones who are always ready to help.

Our trip to Nippersink was great, the surroundings were beautiful and the food very good and plentiful. We enjoyed the relaxation, fun and games. Sunday August 28 was a great day for Pete and me, as it was our 51st Anniversary and we enjoyed celebrating with all the members with a beautiful anniversary cake, coffee, and ice cream. We were happy and pleased with singing of the "Happy Anniversary Song. Many of our members won trophies and ribbons for their part in the different games.

We are getting ready for our "Roaring Twenties" Party on October 30, so put the date down and plan to attend as we plan to center around a theme and era of the Roaring Twenties. There will be some surprises in store. We hope our Gals and Gals will explore their antics, basements, trunks for costumes pertaining and popularized in the Days of the Roaring Twenties. Of course our feet will be dancing because the music is by our own Mario, Louis and John. So sign up and we will take you back to the "Roaring Twenties" for an afternoon filled with fun, dancing and good times.

We beg your continuing thoughts and prayers for the improved health and welfare of our sick, and please continue to pray for our deceased. Our Memorial Mass will be held on October 13 at 11:30 in St. Isaac Jogues Church. Plan to attend as this will give us a perfect opportunity to remember those of our members who have preceded us to their final resting place. Congratulations to our October Birthday and Anniversary members.

SATELLITE STATIC...the growing trend among Niles businesses to install satellite dishes is coming under sharper scrutiny by village officials, who must find ways to replace revenue that will be lost via the telephone utility tax.

The village has approved four or five petitions from Niles businesses and industry over the past several months to erect wall or ground-mounted satellite dishes and the number is expected to grow, according to a village source.

Gazing into the crystal ball, future petitions for business satellite dishes will find an easy landing pad in Niles since the village wants its businesses to remain happy...and in town.

In 1982 there were just a handful of satellite dishes in Niles neighborhoods and were hard to come by because of the village restrictions put on the dishes, including special use zoning.

Niles officials were concerned that a proliferation of the state-of-the-art, antennas in backyards would look like outer space and would reduce property values in the neighborhoods. However, there was hardly any mention of satellite receiving dishes that could compete with cable television in the entertainment field.

AT&T shopping center moving ahead full speed

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Development of the Niles site at the AT&T property on Touhy Ave. is going full steam ahead, now that a restriction has been lifted by the Illinois Protection Environmental Agency (IEPA).

According to Joe Salerno, Niles director of code enforcement, the IEPA last month released a restriction stipulating that construction stay 195 feet away from an underground storage tank until tests could be reviewed on a possible toxic problem.

"Apparently test results on soil and water must have satisfied the agency," Salerno said. "However, the village will still monitor construction work so it complies with environmental guidelines. If the situation changes, the restriction will be reinforced."

Salerno added foundations and walls are now going up on the Niles side of the AT&T property.

The site will occupy a Montgomery Ward, Jewel Food Store and smaller stores. Hopefully, there won't be any more delays in developing the site," he said.

An IEPA spokesman had stated there had been an underground tank leak in March of 1986. The tank was used to clean water during an electroplating process at the plant before it was released into the sewer system.

Show courtesy to funeral processions

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Many motorists show courtesy and respect by stopping for funeral processions. However, yielding the right-of-way to funeral processions is required under Illinois law and contributes to traffic safety.

The law allows funeral procession vehicles to travel cautiously through intersections without stopping after the lead vehicle has complied with any traffic control devices. But, the lead vehicle may not always stop at a red light or stop sign, and gaps sometimes develop between cars. So be alert if you see a funeral procession approaching.

If the procession starts to cross in front of you, stop and wait until all vehicles have cleared the intersection before proceeding. If the lead vehicle is coming toward you, do not turn in front of it or cross the path of the procession.

Vehicles in a funeral procession must have their headlights on. The lead vehicle may use a flashing amber light and other vehicles can be identified by a funeral pennant, flag or windshield sticker.

If you are following a funeral procession, you can pass the vehicles if you do not create a traffic hazard or interfere with the procession. However, do not pass unless you are on a clear stretch of road and have room to get back in the right lane safely without disrupting the procession.

AUSTRALIAN GEMS

Koala bears and Crocodile Dundee may come to mind first when you think about Australia. But Australian gems are also well worthy of thought.

Best known are Australian opals, that gem full of play-of-color, flashes of reds or greens against a light or dark background, is valuable for its beauty and its scarcity. Many gems occur in predictable veins or clusters. Not so with opal.

Because the location of opal cannot be predicted with success so far, in Australia seven of every ten opal mines produce no stones, two produce enough to break even, and one is successful.

Another Australian gem which may prove very desirable, especially in men's jewelry, will be diamonds. Australia produces the kinds of diamonds you think of when you think of diamond jewelry. They also produce spectacular pink diamonds, which are quite rare, and an abundance of brown diamonds. Since diamonds for men have proven to be a big seller internationally, Australia's brown diamonds will also be attractive to that market.

Cultured pearls are also produced in Australia. A South Seas Australian cultured pearl is grown differently than a Japanese pearl. Cultivation time is longer and only one pearl is grown in each oyster.

If "Down Under" calls to you, "come on down" to see some Australian gems.

I Bet
You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

We thought you might like to see the Top 10 teams in the nation in major-college football exactly 50 years ago this season, in 1938. Oddly enough, 2 of those Top 10 don't even play major-college football anymore.

Carnegie Tech was ranked 8th in the final AP poll that season, and Holy Cross was 9th. The complete final Top 10 of 50 years ago: TCU, Tennessee, Duke, Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Carnegie Tech, Southern Cal, Pitt, Holy Cross and Minnesota.

Although many college football teams have won 20, 30 or even 40 consecutive games, no team in the National Football League has won more than 18 straight games ever.

The NFL record of 18 consecutive wins is shared by the Miami Dolphins who did it in 1972-73, and the Chicago Bears who did it twice, 1933-34 and 1941-42.

Many fans know that the oldest football stadium in America today is Harvard Stadium, opened in 1903—but which is the second-oldest stadium still in use in the country? It's Princeton University's Palmer Stadium, opened in 1914.

Oakton's Joseph looks for second trip to Golf nationals

Oakton Community College sophomore Tom Joseph bids for his second consecutive trip to the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) tournament when the Raiders compete Friday and Saturday in the Region IV (northern Illinois) tournament at Fox Bend in Oswego.

The top team of 13 competing qualify for nationals next June in Nebraska, as do the top five individual finishers who aren't part of the winning team.

Joseph made the cut a year ago when he carded 78-75-153 to finish third in the individual competition. Raider coach Rich Symonds said he believes the Niles West graduate has a good chance to encore last year's performance.

Open Letter to Niles Village Board

Dear Mayor Blase and Village Trustees:
The 911 emergency telephone number concept is not new, and certainly we do not oppose any move that would make it easier for citizens to obtain help in emergency situations. We do have some questions about the current referendum procedure to establish 911 service in Niles and the manner in which it is proposed to pay for the cost of this service.

NOT - on whether the Village should install a 911 emergency calling system. It is whether the residents and businesses of the Village should pay for 911 emergency services facilities through an additional charge on their local telephone bill. If the referendum fails, the Village leaders could still decide this is a sufficiently valuable and important service for the Village that it should be established and funded from the Village's other sources of revenue.

Indeed, some may question whether with the expansion and revitalization of Golf Mill shopping center, the addition of the new shopping center on the former AT&T property, and the revitalization of Lawrencewood shopping center, the Village may reasonably anticipate over the next several years increased sales tax revenues which would be sufficient by themselves to finance the cost of 911 service.

Another aspect of the decision to place the cost of 911 service on telephone customers is the issue of accountability. If the cost of 911 service is simply an additional charge on telephone bills there is no incentive to the Village leaders to ensure that Illinois' charges for the equipment and service is reasonable and proper; it is simply passed on to the consumer. If, on the other hand, the Village includes the cost of this service in its annual budget you can be sure that the Village officials will give Illinois Bell's facts and figures the deepest scrutiny.

The referendum to be held in November is not - we repeat is

Mr. Sutker, You've got my Vote!

Dear Editor:
At a "coffee and" this past March, for 5th district State Rep. Calvin Sutker, I had asked Mr. Sutker if the State could help subsidize an insurance program for people like myself with pre-existing medical conditions who pay astronomical insurance premiums that keep going up two or three times a year.

At that time, I was informed by Mr. Sutker that he was legislative known as the CHIP plan, that Mr. Sutker had fully supported and had been passed, that dealt with this problem. In essence people who were in a high risk insurance group could pay slightly higher premiums under this plan but, not as much as they had been paying to their own insurance companies up to now.

Just recently, I bumped into Mr. Sutker at a neighborhood eatery and asked again about the CHIP plan. He informed me that the Governor had vetoed this wonderful plan! I must tell you I was mad!

Mr. Sutker calmed me down and told me to call his office ANYTIME for more information about this plan since the issue certainly is not a closed one.

I am gratified in the knowledge that my State Rep. Calvin Sutker is so AVAILABLE to his Constituents!

I am gratified in the knowledge that Mr. Sutker will continue in the fight to help all of his constituents who need the aid of their legislator to resolve such important issues!

Mr. Sutker, you've got my VOTE - November 8, 1988!

Thank you Mr. Editor for letting me air my view on this important issue!

Sincerely yours,

Lois Levin

Marcus is the man!

Dear Editor:
I am a senior citizen who is proud to be able to contribute to my community and have never written a letter like this before, but I've never felt so strongly about something like this before either. I want the people of the 56th District to get to know a candidate running for State Representative in the 56th, Sheldon Marcus. We have worked together on a number of community projects of which many have included senior citizens. Sheldon Marcus, a known community leader, would be the best thing that ever happened in the community. He has a very high level of commitment and honesty. Many of us don't speak up for good people and let long time politicians get re-elected. Elect someone who has our interests as his primary concern and always has! Elect Sheldon Marcus for State Representative.

Thanks Bugle
for coverage

Dear Editor:
Thank you times two... on behalf of two organizations.

First for the excellent advance coverage you gave to the Skokie Historical Society's open house on Sunday, Sept. 25. The front page pictures several weeks in a row were wonderful.

Secondly, for the front page announcement of the Lincolnwood Library open house to introduce new library director Cynthia Josephs to the community.

We very much appreciate your newspaper's coverage of these events.

Sutkers mail makes homeowner blood boil

Dear Editor:
Every day my mailbox is becoming more and more crowded with political flyers from candidates in the area. I find them interesting, informative, and sometimes humorous. The latest mailing I received from Cal Sutker, however, made my blood boil!

Three months after the legislature adjourned this spring, Cal Sutker made us pay for a mailing promoting the job he has done as a State Representative. 35,000 pieces of mail were sent throughout the district to tell us that he wants Springfield this spring.

Why didn't I hear from him this spring when things were happening in Springfield? Why didn't I hear from him at the end of session? Why did I hear from him now, only weeks before an election? Coincidence? I don't think so! It's bad enough we are forced to pay for the Presidential campaigns of Michael Dukakis and George Bush, now the taxpayers are paying for Cal Sutker's campaign as well.

He (Cal) defines his own issues of what is important. I was called by Mr. Sutker's phone bank and disagreed with the caller on what the important issues are, and was rudely hung up on. This reflects the kind of listening we can expect from our state representative.

I want someone who will listen to my opinions even if we don't agree. It sure won't be the current state representative.

Rialto Square Theatre Concerts

"The Fabulous Fours" - The Four Lads, The Chordettes and The Diamonds will be in concert at the Rialto Square Theatre at 8 p.m. on Friday, October 20. Songs like "Mr. Tambourine Man," "No Not Much," "Soldier Boy," "My Befriend's Back" and "Dedicated to the One I Love" will be included in this nostalgic-filled evening.

The Four Lads met as choirboys in their hometown of Toronto, Canada. They launched their professional career in 1950 singing in local clubs until they were "discovered" by Mitch Miller. The group received their first gold record in 1955. All tickets for the matinee are $3.50.

"Two African Tales" - Tickets are still available for the first Rialto school matinee program of 1988-89. On Thursday, October 20, the Children's Theatre Company will present "Two African Tales" at 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. All tickets for the matinee are $3.50.

"Two African Tales" is a lively and colorful production—an African version of two folk tales. The most familiar story, "Rumpelstiltskin," tells of the miller's daughter who must spin straw and gold. The second tale, "Kalulu and His Money Tree," is about a boastful rabbit who must prove that he can actually grow a crop of money! The production will be highlighted by brilliant African costumes, music and dance. Children and adults will enjoy an entertaining as well as enlightening experience.

Teachers of primary and preschool children can make reservations by calling Beverly Williams at (815) 726-7171.

Niles West Marching Band plays the junior high tune

Niles West High School's Marching Band invites all Niles Township junior high school band members to grab their parents and a friend and head to the school's home football game against Maine West at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14. Band Director William Koch has designed an upbeat half-time show that will show future Niles West students what marching band can be.

"We wanted to let them see that Marching Band can still be a fun experience, and that it's nothing to be afraid of," Koch said. "I want them to start thinking about life beyond junior high school. There's a whole musical experience out there."

The band, along with the color guard and pom pom squad, will perform the theme to the "Jettsons", "Heart It Through the Grapevine" and a gosel-rock version of "Amazing Grace". The pom pom squad will also perform a feature routine.

All junior high school band members will be admitted free to the game, and are invited to bring along a parent and a friend.

"Hopefully, they'll enjoy the much-improved football team and the band's half-time show," Koch said.

St. Francis receives Level I Trauma designation

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston has been designated Level I Trauma Center for Region 10 under Illinois' reorganized trauma designation by the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH). This is the second hospital in Evanston to receive Level I designation by the state.

"St. Francis has always provided what we consider to be Level I trauma care," said Glenn Aldinger, MD, emergency department medical director and project medical director for the north shore's emergency medical services (EMS) system. "We intended to continue that level of care and therefore sought Level I status."

"Our commitment to trauma care, in all cases including outstanding cardiac care, was an important aspect of seeking Level I designation," Aldinger continued. "Our teaching programs in medicine and emergency services, coupled with our progressive cardiac treatment programs, were important to our seeking this designation under the State's new plan."

St. Francis and Evanston

Hospitals are working together to determine plan for responsive trauma transport. "St. Francis will respond to those located from Howard Street north to Lake Street in Evanston and Church Street in Skokie, east at Lake Michigan and west through Skokie, Lincolnwood and areas surrounding the Edens Expressway," Aldinger continued.

The plan for response to those north of Glencoe (who would be transported via helicopter or ambulance) is currently being determined by the two hospitals, working together," he added. "We have six months to complete a plan that best suits the needs of our communities."

St. Francis of Evanston, a 447-bed hospital will receive official designation on Thursday, September 29 in a formal presentation by Leslie Stein-Spencer, chief of emergency medical services and highway safety of IDPH.

"The community benefits in a myriad of ways," says Sr. M. Alfreda, St. Francis CEO and President. "They have come to expect the best from us. Our dedication, compassion and concern is always there. The Level I designation is a reassurance that the commitment is translated into access to the most comprehensive care available, 24 hours every day."

Level I trauma centers must have the equipment, staff and capabilities to offer a multi-disciplined, team approach in treating the medical needs of trauma patient around the clock. All essential services must be available 24 hours a day.

"We are proud to have met the criteria for Level I designation," Aldinger concluded. "The site survey by IDPH further demonstrated our excellent level of care and intent to continue our responsiveness to the health care needs of people in our community."

St. Francis joins eight other Illinois hospitals in receiving Level I designation, with four Level I applications pending. 48 hospitals throughout Illinois have received Level II status.

New state law authorizes routine AIDS blood test

A groundbreaking Illinois law that permits physicians to test patients' blood for the AIDS virus in accordance with standard medical practice will reduce the spread of the disease and improve treatment of those infected, according to State Rep. Penny Pullen (R-Park Ridge) who authored the bill.

"To my knowledge, this is the first law in the United States which expressly acknowledges that AIDS is a medical problem, not a civil rights issue," said Pullen, the Illinois House assistant minority leader. "Doctors should not have their hands tied in treating a disease that threatens to overwhelm our ability to battle it."

The law, signed by Gov. James Thompson Sept. 2, provides that any patient who has consented to medical treatment can be tested for the AIDS virus if his or her physician judges the HIV test "medically indicated" for proper diagnosis and treatment.

Previous law required the physician first to obtain written informed consent specifically for the HIV test, an extraordinary requirement which is not applied to any other diagnostic procedure employed in medical practice.

"Though HIV disease still is not curable," Rep. Pullen said, "medical research has improved the prospect of controlling and even preventing the secondary contagions which ravage the health of infected persons and in most cases result in death. But the key is early, accurate diagnosis. Statutory law must not burden the ability of a physician to diagnose patients."

"We have a real chance now to identify the scope of the disease and get treatment to those who need it as quickly as possible."

Because as many as 95 percent of those infected with the AIDS-causing HIV virus are unaware they are carrying the disease, Rep. Pullen believes the new law not only will inform those infected, it will enable them to receive counseling about how to avoid the spread of the disease, recognize symptoms as the disease progresses, and get the early treatment crucial to delaying onset of full-blown AIDS.

The law, signed by Gov. James

Gottlieb denounces absentee congressman

"My opponent had the seventh worst attendance record of all congressmen," said George Gottlieb, Republican candidate for Congress in the 11th District. "Frank Annunzio missed approximately one-third of voting opportunities in 1987. One third of his salary is being paid to a man who is not there to vote. Clearly, the people of the 11th District of Illinois are not being represented in Congress on crucial issues."

"Where is Frank Annunzio?" Gottlieb asked. "He is not in Congress; he is absent from the District; he is absent from the

endorsed
by AFSCME

State Senator Walter W. Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) has been endorsed for re-election by the political education committee of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

"I am pleased to receive the support of an organization that represents the Illinois citizens who keep governments at many different levels running smoothly," Dudycz said.

Dudycz's legislative efforts also include getting tougher in the fight against crime, helping local residents preserve their neighborhoods, easing the tax burden of Illinois' citizens, and making sure public schools are providing Illinois students with a quality education.

In addition to the AFSCME endorsement, Dudycz has been honored by other groups like the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois and the National Taxpayers United of Illinois. Both organizations gave the 7th District Senator superior ratings for his votes on tax and fiscal policy issues during the 1987 legislative session.

Pucinski maintains huge lead

Aurelia Pucinski's campaign manager Marty Marks said today that he is "delighted" over a Chicago Sun-Times/Channel 7 poll which shows Pucinski leading her opponent Edward Vrdolyak by a margin of 54% to 33%.

The poll indicates that people have responded favorably to Aurie's issue-oriented approach to the campaign and are genuinely concerned about who will be the next Clerk of the Circuit Court, Marks said.

Marks said that the Pucinski campaign was especially pleased with their candidate's strong showing in the traditionally Republican suburbs, where the two candidates at 43% each.

"We have made a serious attempt to attract suburban residents with programs that will appeal to them such as expanding suburban court facilities and increasing court hours," Marks said.

He added, "Aurie has been throughout Cook County discussing her plans to improve the court system and the poll indicates that people feel she is sincere in her efforts."

Marks said that the Pucinski campaign was especially pleased

Bill pending on local Coast Guard rescue unit

Congressman John Porter announces that funding levels for the Coast Guard agreed to by House and Senate conferees will ensure the continued operation of the Coast Guard's Chicago Air Station helicopter rescue unit.

Porter said he has worked closely with other members to make sure that the Fiscal Year 1988 Transportation Appropriations Bill, which funds the Coast Guard, provides adequate funding for search and rescue operations.

The funding bill, which must still be approved by the House and Senate, provides $2.096 billion for Coast Guard operating expenses in FY 1989. The bill also

Marcus endorsed by Save Our Sports

Sheldon Marcus, candidate for State Representative in the 56th District, was recently endorsed by Save Our Sports, a bipartisan organization working to retain sports programs in our educational system.

"Physical education teaches the importance of fitness, as well as coaching children how to work together as a team. These are important lessons for a healthy, productive life," Marcus said.

Marcus understands the importance of quality education due to his 13 years of experience on the Niles Township School Board at the elementary and high school levels. He also served as president of the Niles Township Council of School Boards. Marcus believes that "it is imperative that schools are assured affordable insurance to keep quality sports programs in the schools."

The Save Our Sports organization endorses candidates like Marcus who agree that the "sue, sue, sue mentality which has grown out of control in America and now threatens youth and adult sports and recreation, must be stopped."

Marcus was endorsed with an "A+", the highest grade possible.

Annunzio seeks study of coin redesign impact

Chairman Frank Annunzio (D-Ill.) of the House Consumer Affairs and Commerce Subcommittee today called on the general Accounting Office to study the effect that changing the designs of United States coins would have on the United States Mint, or increase the budget deficit. Since estimates of the effects have varied tremendously, I am today calling on the non-partisan and impartial General Accounting Office to conduct a comprehensive study of the issues involved. It would be irresponsible to mandate the redesign of every United States coin in circulation without having all the facts at hand," said Annunzio in requesting the GAO study.

The Rattan Shoppes opens at Golf Mill

The first of four scheduled Rattan Shoppes planned to open this year will open this weekend at 8361 Golf Road in Niles, just east of Golf Mill Shopping Center.

The Rattan Shoppes is owned by Charles and Marion Forcey who have a proven track record of success, which includes ownership of 17 other retail furniture stores in the Chicagoland area.

Forcey said, "The Rattan Shoppes will offer quality all year 'round rattan and wicker furniture that will look great in any room of your home...And we guarantee the lowest price possible."

Rattan furniture is the hottest and most rapidly growing type of furniture in the market today. Rattan is a vine that grows along the jungle floor and climbs up towards daylight. After seven to ten years, the plant may reach some 400 feet in length. After the vine is cut into 30 foot segments, it is then cured and cleaned. Now the rattan is ready to be hand crafted into a beautifully designed piece of furniture.

Most of the rattan and wicker furniture is produced in the Philippines and in the Caribbean islands.

Rattan is fibrous but stronger than steel by weight (when it dries) which makes it much more durable than any other wood such as oak. Rattan furniture is very lightweight and can be stained in a variety of colors. Many fabrics for rattan and wicker furniture
