Crime task force joins MG police in murder investigation

Mob hit hinted in MG murder

Morton Grove Police will have a platoon of Federal, State and other local law enforcement personnel helping them solve the first murder in their community since 1979. The November 21 killing of 73-year old Philip Goodman of Nevada is shrouded in as much mystery as his recent life. Since his brutally beaten body was discovered face down in a pool of blood by a maid at the Admiral Oasis Motel, 9553 Waukegan Rd., Morton Grove Police along with a major crime task force of FBI agents, Illinois State Police and Chicago Police have been searching through correspondence and other papers found in his hotel room. Goodman, legally a resident of Las Vegas, Nevada, checked into the motel Monday, November 21, paying in advance for one night. He was driving a rental 1988 Chrysler LeBaron from an O'Hare agency. He had flown into the Chicago area several days prior to checking in but his exact movements prior to his murder are unknown. Found in his possession was an Illinois driver's license in his name which listed a Glenview residence belonging to his nephew. Goodman, married three times, has at least one former wife living in the Chicago area, according to police. Continued on Page 49

Condo dispute ends in assault

A 63 year old Lincolnwood father became overly protective of his daughter's "rights" when he walked into Eurostyle Furniture, 9253 Golf Road, Niles, and attempted to assault an employee on November 21. The victim, a young Glenview woman employed by Eurostyle, was the object of the father's wrath because the woman recently sold her condo to the offender's daughter. There was a disagreement over the sale of the condo as well. Continued on Page 50

Niles youth write winning essays

by Nancy Keraminas

Are today's young people frivolous or are they too serious? Judging from the winning essays submitted by Niles' seventh and eighth graders, local youngsters are articulate as well as informed about a variety of weighty issues faced by the world.

The Junior High School Essay Contest, sponsored by the Village of Niles Department of Youth Services, has been held for more than fifteen years. This year's theme was "My Greatest Concern as a Young Person Growing Up in Today's World," and about 200 young men and women submitted essays, according to Carol Chaconas, Coordinator of Youth Programs.

Area college students selected one first prize winner and sixteen runners up. The seventeen winning entrants were treated to a special luncheon held at Riggio's restaurant, attended by other Village dignitaries. In addition, finalists received trophies and had the opportunity to sit in the chairs of Niles village officials at their regular meeting, Tuesday, November 22. The students read excerpts from their essays to the audience. Continued on Page 50

Przybylo's hard work and family devotion built House of the White Eagle

by Eileen Hirschfeld

In Thaddeus E. Przybylo, Niles has its own version of Horatio Alger. Przybylo's moral is "If you want to get rich, you've got to be willing to work a lot of hours as well as outdo the next guy." He is owner of the House of the White Eagle at 6839 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Although in his early 70's Przybylo (pronounced Shi-bi-lo) insists on averaging from 12 to 15 hours a day including weekends at the White Eagle. He supervises the huge restaurant and catering establishment, waits on tables, talks to customers "and does everything including smiling at girls," he said.

The name of his restaurant reflects Przybylo's pride in his Polish heritage. He once considered naming the restaurant the "Polonaise" after a Polish dance but decided the name was inappropriate following numerous phone queries about the "Polynesian" restaurant, said Przybylo.

A White Eagle was chosen as the symbol of Poland when it became a state in 966 A.D. It is also the symbol of the Polish Nation Alliance.

Ted Przybylo attributes his success to his motto: "Give the business your heart and love people. Rewards occur when people come here and say they like me."

According to legend, three men named Lech, Czech and Rus met at the site of Gnesow where a white eagle was building a nest. Lech built his home in the area which later became part of Poland. Czech moved south to a part of Europe known as Czechoslovakia and Rus traveled east to the land mass that became Russia. Przybylo's office has the flavor of a "Mom and Pop" business where employees and family members feel free to come in and talk. Among his visitors are a daughter and son, son-in-law as well as several employees. He has a cheerful word for everyone. Several phone calls also interrupted the conversation, among them a person checking references of a former waitress. "If she worked here, she must be good. All my waitresses are good," said Przybylo. Vivian Kolpek, Przybylo's daughter, arrived to say "Hello." She owns a florist shop next door to the White Eagle. "My father won't tell anyone about all the good things he's done. He is a modest man and doesn't want any accolades," she said. However she recalls the strong emphasis placed on charity by her father. "When we were very little, my dad asked us what our favorite Christmas gift was and I pointed to a stuffed animal. He took our gifts along with a food basket to a needy family because he wanted us to know that it isn't always easy to give. I've never forgotten that," said Kolpek. Christmas Eve is very important to Polish families and Przybylo invited about 100 Polish immigrants to dinner during that holiday following the Solidarity Uprising in the 70's, she continued. "The family waited on them and we kept out TV cameras so these people wouldn't feel exploited," recounted his daughter.

Przybylo has worked since the age of eight when he delivered newspapers and caddied at Tam O'Shanter Golf Course. Six years later he attempted to support his family by seeking employment as a dishwasher. Therefore, his conversation is peppered with maxims and "morals" regarding observations on how to succeed in business.

His father was one of many Americans numbered among the unemployed during the Depression of 1930. Fearing that the family would lose their home, young Ted dropped out of school following 8th grade and began work as a dishwasher on the north side of Chicago. But first he had to learn how to wash dishes. The first attempt at such employment was unsuccessful. "A restaurant owner asked if I could wash dishes and I said 'Absolutely, yes'. However, I had had a typical Polish mother who wouldn't let her sons do anything and we had never washed a dish in our lives," said Przybylo regarding his lack of experience.

A result, he dumped refuse from dirty dishes into soap water. In those days, long before the advent of dishwashers, restaurants rarely changed soap water and relied on cleansing dishes with more frequent changes of rinse water, he said.

Przybylo said, "This is the only job I ever lost" and cited a "moral" learned from the experience. "Don't ever prevent your sons or daughters from learning anything," he said. Subsequently, he worked as a busboy and waiter at several hotels including the formerly renowned LaSalle Hotel in Chicago. While still in his "teens," Przybylo became a waiter at the hotel's exclusive Blue Fountain Room featuring the famed Husk O'Hare band.

He notes that the world's largest hotel was completed in 1928 by Ernest Stevens who also owned the LaSalle Hotel. It was wiped out two years later during Przybylo continues to work in the kitchen, dining room and office of his popular restaurant and banquet hall. Twelve hour work days are still a normal work day for the 70 year old-plus Przybylo.

SJB creative pumpkins

Creativity hit one pumpkin patch at St. John Brebeuf School this past Halloween. Students in Mrs. Lake's 7th grade art class were encouraged to use their imagination and develop their artistic talents as the mini-pumpkins turned into a variety of characters including clowns, monsters, animals, Indians and even a Cardinal of the Church. The students used paint, glue, paper and yarn to make their creations. Originality and neatness were also urged. The students, once again, proved that learning can be fun and a little imagination can go a long way.

Las Vegas Nights are legal again

Churches, schools, veterans groups and other non-profit organizations will again be able to hold Las Vegas night fundraising events, according to State Representative Cal Sutker (D-56).

Sutker, who was a key supporter of the measure in the Illinois House, announced that the bill was signed by the governor.

"Besides allowing these worthwhile groups to raise much-needed funds, the legislation also allows maximum bets to go as high as $10," Sutker stated. "The new limits will make it more fun for participants and, more importantly, allow groups to receive additional revenue."

The Charitable Games Act expired in September making it temporarily illegal for groups to hold gambling events. "I am pleased we were able to move quickly on this important matter," Sutker said. "Non-profit community groups are a vital part of our neighborhoods. We must do all we can to make sure they are allowed to raise the funds they need."

"Good Neighbor Food Drive"

Shown is North Maine's "Sparky", who urges your support for "good neighbor food drive."

For the fifth consecutive year, the North Maine Fire Department is acting as an official "Drop Sight" for non-perishable food for the Annual Ed Schwartz/Church Federation of Chicago Good Neighbor Food Drive. As in the past, the North Maine Fire Department will accept non-perishable foods beginning immediately. The goal this year will be 2,000 pounds or 1 ton of food. This amount will just meet the needs of a family of 4 for 1 month. Chief Farberman, North Maine's Coordinator, hopes that the goal can be attained and surpassed.

This annual, joint effort between WGN Radio's well-known DJ Eddie Schwartz and the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, has received widespread publicity due to the highly visible collection point at Daley Plaza. It is hoped that all drop off points will complete their collection by Friday morning, Dec. 16. The food collected at the North Maine Fire Department will be delivered by Chief Farberman to the Daley Plaza on the evening of the 18th.

This is the time of the year when all of our thoughts turn to the ones we love and the ones who are in need of food and shelter. It is important that this annual food drive be a success. The success of this project will depend on the generosity of those who are able to contribute.

Chief Farberman encourages the residents of unincorporated Maine Township to support this activity and the Fire Department's efforts in helping to assure its success.

Of all the quarterbacks in the history of the National Football League, which one completed the most passes in a career? Answer is Fran Tarkenton, who played in the NFL from 1961 through 1978. He completed 3,686 passes - a record no other quarterback has ever matched.

Here's an oddity...The top 2 awards in college football - the Heisman Trophy and the Outland Trophy - are named after 2 men who played for the University of Pennsylvania, John Heisman and John Outland, and yet nobody from the University of Pennsylvania has ever won either trophy.

Here's an oddity from the new basketball season...The coach at Canyon College is Bill Brown...Their coach last year was also Bill Brown - but this year's coach is a different Bill Brown...Last season's coach was William L. Brown...He was succeeded - by coincidence - by William H. Brown...These 2 Bill Browns are not related.

Oakton cagers win two of three

There's nothing like a couple of wins to give a team some confidence. First-year Oakton Community College basketball coach Tony Reibel could sense an upbeat swing in moods last week when the Raiders won two of three outings to improve their record to 2-4. "Things are starting to come together for us," Reibel said. "Our (Skyway) conference is going to be very tough this year, but I think we'll go into conference play (beginning Jan. 3) with some good confidence if we continue to improve and win a few more games. Confidence comes with winning, and our guys are starting to believe themselves more." Oakton pulled out a thrilling, 70-68, come-from-behind win last Saturday (Nov. 19) over North-

Ranger Squirt Blue

In a classic defensive battle the Ranger Squirt Blue team battled Glenview #2 through two scoreless periods. All the scoring in this one came in the third period. The Rangers scored 3 unassisted goals in period three to gain the 3 to 1 victory. Pat Cline opened the scoring while Rich Aulich scored what proved to be the game winner. Ross Habourger closed out the scoring and sealed the victory late in the period.

Once again goalie Adam Lovekamp made one sparkling save after another saved his team until the Ranger offence kicked in.

Rangers Squirt White

The Ranger Squirt White team took on the Glenview #3 squad and the teams battled to 2 to 2 tie. Glenview #3 got on the board early in the first period but the Ranger's Sean Barrett tied the score with an assist going to Jimmy Sikaras late in the first. Glenview #3 got the lead back early in the second period but the Rangers once again tied it up midway through the second period as David Zawadzki received a pass from Peter Sikaras, broke through the defense and slammed it home. The scoreless third period featured some fine goal tending by both teams however the Rangers Tony Turner had to be particularly sharp as he was tested often by a fine Glenview team.

Letters to the Editor

Dudycz thanks voters for tremendous support

Dear Editor:

Now that the November elections are behind us, I am able to look back with great pride on the accomplishments of the past--all of which have been possible with the tremendous support and assistance of the people of the 7th Senate District.

This year's campaign was a rigorous undertaking, but also an extremely worthwhile and positive experience. It allowed me to get to know more people better, and provided me with an additional opportunity to listen to the needs and concerns of area residents.

I appreciate the input I received from the general public while on the campaign trail, and I am pleased with the support the voters gave me on election day. Most importantly, I respect the trust and faith the people and our community have shown in me.

Ever since my election to the Senate four years ago, I have worked hard in Springfield on behalf of the people of the northwestern side. I am honored to have earned their confidence, as evident by the 66 percent mandate I received on election day. Their support reinforces my belief in what I am doing, the things I am fighting for in the legislature and

Candidate thanks voter support

Dear Editor:

I wanted to take this opportunity to publicly thank the hundreds of volunteers who helped me in my recent campaign for State Representative and the over 20,700 voters who gave me their trust and confidence on November 8.

Being involved in our governmental process over the past few years has educated me on how important active participation is if we are going to select and elect the very best who are committed to serving our needs and concerns.

My candidacy was committed to bringing to as many people as possible my personal dedication to serve them. That is why I personally walked almost 40 precincts.

I am proud of the dozens of students who got involved. I am proud of the broad base of Republicans, Democrats and Independents who supported me in this campaign.

I am extremely proud of the hundreds of dedicated and committed neighbors, friends and just concerned citizens who stood up and were counted during this campaign. I will never forget your efforts.

Though the result was not what we had hoped for, we can be proud of the fact that we won three of the townships the district covers, garnered over 48% of the vote, a

Legion thanks Bugle for publicity

Dear Editor:

It was magnificent to open your edition after our Veterans Day parade and see the 2 beautiful photos. Thank you so much for having your photographer depict a portion of our presentation.

It goes without saying we appreciate the constant almost every week publication of our various articles to alert the public of what the American my positions on the issues. I also appreciate the time and effort devoted by the people directly involved in my campaign. Their hard work and dedication was instrumental in helping me to get where I am today.

Throughout the election, I worked to keep my campaign on the high road by focusing on the issues, and away from personalities and negative tactics. As a result, the voters were able to make an informed and educated decision on November 8.

I now look forward to another term serving the people of the 7th District--and working on the vital issues in Springfield and Chicago, including crime, taxes, education and other traditional family issues.

In the future, as in the past, I will always strive to have an open, honest and close working relationship with my constituents, and to keep them up-to-date and informed on the issues and activities in Springfield.

Com Ed says "Take a hard look at CUB"

Dear Editor:

On August 6, the Executive Director of the Citizens Utility Board predicted that Commonwealth Edison would earn an extra $85 million from June 1 through August 31, compared with the same period in 1987. Our books showed an earnings decrease of $98.5 million.

In 1988, CUB predicted that Edison's peak load would not reach 15,683 megawatts of power until 2000. We reached it in 1987. This past summer, the company's customers demanded $17,459 mw, an 11 percent increase in one year.

Erroneous predictions and unfounded charges flow from these self-appointed experts on a seemingly endless basis and are left to stand largely unchallenged by the media. If their estimate of power requirements is off by a couple of decades, so what? They don't have the responsibility to customers of delivering the power. If their earnings forecast is off by 200 percent, who cares? Just move on to a new prediction of an "undeserved windfall" to Edison shareholders--and throw in additional half-truths and untruths for good measure.

By deliberately understating the amount of electricity consumed by an average single family home, and focusing only on a brief period, CUB was able to gain widespread publicity for a charge that Edison's non-summer residential rates are the highest in the United States. CUB conveniently failed to acknowledge that charges to customers vary with usage. Usage above 400 kilowatt-hours per month costs less. If CUB had made its comparison at 750 kilowatt-hours per month, it would have found non-summer rates to be 40 percent higher in New York, 30 percent higher in San Diego, 21 percent higher in Philadelphia, and 9 percent higher in Boston. CUB also looked at temporarily high autumn rates that balance lower spring rates this year. Overall 1988 rates are designed so that customers will pay approximately the same total in 1988 that they did in 1987 for the same amount of electricity used.

Although CUB has called on the business community to fight Commonwealth Edison, it has offered no similar "study" of industrial rates. Perhaps there is good reason for this omission. In a recent survey by the National

North Maine commends Bugle

Dear Editor:

It is very gratifying to know that the Press is interested in, supportive of, and willing to provide their readers with life saving information. Your past support of the North Maine Fire Protection District's efforts to provide updated life saving messages to your readers, helps us to do our job better.

This Certificate of Appreciation is presented to you and your staff in recognition of a job well done in reporting fire safety to Utility Service, Edison ranked twelfth in cost among the 23 major investor-owned utilities in the United States.

It's amazing how CUB continues to cling to the belief that Edison maintains generating capacity that won't be needed "for years to come". The fact is that Edison barely met last summer's all-time record peak demand with an actual reserve margin of 3.6 percent. Customer demand in 1986 exceeded the 1987 peak on 16 separate days. Byron and Braidwood stations, which CUB has fought to cancel for years, consistently provided about 20 percent of the power during these periods of high demand. Without them, brownout and even blackout conditions would have prevailed.

Far from a "windfall", Edison's shareholders seek only a fair return on their investment in three generating units that helped northern Illinois avoid these conditions. Since they started generating, these three units have provided customers with approximately $100 million in fuel cost savings. On the other side of the ledger, Edison's revenues, net income, and earnings per share have been in a tailspin since August 1987. For the 12 months ended September 30, revenues declined 3.9 percent, net income fell 24.6 percent, and earnings per common share dropped 28.6 percent.

Electricity consumption in northern Illinois and elsewhere in the United States is expected to keep on growing, driven by healthy demands from the commercial/industrial sector and, if some of the climatologists are correct, possibly more torrid summers. Edison is ready; we've recently completed a generating station construction program to meet the future.

Perhaps the community should take a hard look at CUB and its leaders and ask: Who are these people who pretend to be so knowledgeable about providing electric service? Does anyone know much about them? Or why they merit anyone's trust? Their track record is one of grossly inaccurate predictions, public posturing, and knee-jerk opposition to any step taken by Commonwealth Edison.

Donald A. Petkus

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

How to survive holiday spending: Plan purchases

It's time for that annual ritual—holiday shopping. Consumers armed with credit cards, checkbooks, and cash scurry to purchase gifts for family and friends. Yet, for some people, December's good cheer and giving turns to January woes of bills and debt.

Consumers encounter these holiday debt problems for two primary reasons, according to Les Kirschbaum, president of Mid-Continent Agencies, Inc., a leading collections firm based outside Chicago in Glenview that contacts debtors daily.

"For starters, most consumers shop with no set budget," said Kirschbaum. "While people usually take time to budget routine home tasks such as groceries and entertainment, they don't follow this discipline during the holidays."

"In addition, many shoppers simply buy more than they can afford," he added. "The hype of the holiday season—and people's nature to be generous this time of year—make consumers spend beyond their means."

Kirschbaum believes consumers can avoid debt created from holiday shopping by establishing a special gift plan and budget.

"A total budget for holiday gifts should first be set. Then, assign specific dollar amounts for each individual on the list. The total should not exceed that overall budget; at least, one will have a target to work with," he explained.

Another tip is to use common sense when utilizing credit cards. "Credit cards are another major cause of debt problems during the holiday season," Kirschbaum said. "Consumers have a tendency to overspend when charging their purchases. The key is to adhere to the established budget and use the plastic only when cash or a check is not convenient."

If consumers already use 20 percent of their net income to pay off installment purchases, Kirschbaum strongly suggests that only cash be used when gift buying.

"A planned holiday shopping program will enable consumers to maintain that holiday spirit into the new year and not be extinguished when overwhelmed and financially overburdened by a barrage of bills," he said.

Safety tips for overzealous holiday party-goers

The holidays can be one of the most joyous and eventful times of the year; however, if merry-making goes too far, distress and grief may be the outcome. Drinking and overeating are a few areas to approach with caution before attending holiday festivities, according to Chris Fahey, M.D., family practitioner, Lutheran General Hospital-Lincoln Park, 2035 N. Lincoln Ave., Chicago. Dr. Fahey suggests you consider the following information for a safer holiday season.

Toast of the Town
One area for the most concern during the holidays is drinking and driving. Dr. Fahey stresses that the best way to avoid unpleasant and possible deadly mishaps is prevention - don't drink alcoholic beverages. Instead, drink beverages such as fruit juices, tea, club soda or non-alcoholic beer and wine.

However, for those who will be partaking in holiday cheer, Dr. Fahey offers the following suggestions:

- Assign a designated driver who will not be drinking alcoholic beverages at all during the evening.

- Call a cab or limousine service to transport you home if you've been drinking and don't have a designated driver.

- Don't attempt to walk home after drinking. Although you may feel that walking is better than driving, the end result can be just as hazardous. A great number of pedestrians who are hit by cars during the holiday season are intoxicated.

- Alcoholic beverages dilate the blood vessels in the skin giving you a false sense of warmth. A person who has been drinking often feels that proper dress isn't necessary, resulting with any of a number of cold-weather ailments - the worst of which can be fatal.

- Make arrangements ahead of time to spend the night at your hosts' home to avoid all possibilities of accidents on the roadway. Even if you haven't been drinking, you can't be sure that others on the road are sober.

- Old Wive's Tales
A number of "family" remedies for sobering up at a party are in fact "old wive's tales," stated Dr. Fahey. For example:

- "Drinking coffee at the end of the evening will restore clear thought." Wrong. Dr. Fahey said that, in fact, drinking coffee to sober up can cause more harm than good because it creates a false sense of security. Coffee has no effect on the alcohol level in a person's blood stream.

- "Eating lots of bread will help soak up the alcohol." Wrong. Eating any type of food only slows down the absorption time into a person's blood stream, and may cause a delayed reaction to the liquor consumed later in the evening.

- Food for Thought
Another cause for holiday woes is overeating. Often when an abundance and a variety of foods are consumed, the digestive tract becomes upset, causing indigestion, heartburn or other discomforts. Dr. Fahey has the following holiday-eating suggestions:

- Eat in moderation - and eat slowly - to give the body enough time to become full and metabolize the food.

- Avoid alcohol, spicy foods, cigarette smoke and coffee. All will add to the discomfort of an upset stomach.

"The holidays are a special and festive time of year but when you overextend yourself by over-drinking or overeating, all you'll remember is how terrible you felt," says Dr. Fahey. "By increasing the awareness of common holiday concerns for overzealous party-goers, Lutheran General Hospital-Lincoln Park hopes everyone can have a fun-filled holiday - and the day after."

Lutheran General Hospital-Lincoln Park is a 300-bed acute care hospital dedicated to furnishing high quality personalized care for people of all races, religions and ethnic origins. The hospital has a medical staff of more than 200 physicians from all medical specialties and is comprised of general medical surgical units as well as orthopedics/rehabilitation, cancer care, intensive and intermediate cardiac/surgical care units. Lutheran General Hospital-Lincoln Park, 2035 N. Lincoln Ave., Chicago, is a member of the Lutheran General Health Care System.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

The Center of Concern Dec. 6 Party

Virginia Barton, well-known in local entertainment circles for her musical program, will be featured at the annual Christmas party of the Center of Concern.

This year members, friends, guests and those interested in the organization and in hearing Ms. Barton are invited to come to the South Park Recreation Center on Tuesday, December 6, from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. Talcott at Cumberland is the location of the park.

Over thirty articles will be raffied, of which a $100 Savings Bond is the most valuable, but many gift certificates - always especially useful at this time of the year - will be awarded. Light refreshments will be served.

There is no charge but reservations are necessary. Transportation is available, also. For these, please call Mary 823-0453 or stop in at The Center's Office, Suite 125 of the 1580 N. Northwest Hwy. building.

Use care when popping champagne corks

With the holiday season fast approaching, many people will be celebrating at office or house parties. Champagne and sparkling wines make the occasion more festive, but popping the cork can cause damage to your eyes.

A flying cork is like a small, guided missile and is a potentially-blinding weapon. According to Dr. Melvyn A. Gerstein, ophthalmologist at Northshore Eye Center, "the impact of a popped cork can cause surface damage to the eye or interior damage which might lead to blindness."

Following a few simple rules when opening champagne or sparkling wines will help prevent eye injuries and make your holiday season more festive. First and foremost, never point the champagne cork at anyone's face, especially your own.

Another safety tip is keeping the bottle cold.

"Warm champagne or sparkling wine is more likely to pop unexpectedly," explained Dr. Gerstein. "Besides, champagne tastes better when served at a temperature of about 40 degrees."

Remove the foil over the cork. Keep the cork down with the palm of your hand, and carefully remove the wire hood.

"Place a towel over the entire bottle and tilt the bottle at a 45-degree angle. Make sure it is pointed away from yourself and others," said Dr. Gerstein. "Grasp the cork firmly and slowly twist it to break the seal." If the cork won't budge, simply place the bottle under cool water for 20 seconds, then repeat the twisting method.

With the bottle at a 45-degree angle, grasp the bottle firmly and turn the cork slowly using a slight upward pull until it is nearly out of the bottleneck. Use slight downward pressure and roll the cork, it will come out completely. "Your cork won't pop" with the traditional sound, but because the pressure is released gradually with a hissing noise, the bubbles in your champagne will last longer," said Dr. Gerstein.

Celebrate the season safely by following these tips for opening champagne or sparkling wines. Northshore Eye Center and Surgicenter is located at 3034 West Peterson Avenue in Chicago (967-3223), and is a Medicare-approved facility that accepts Medicare assignments.

Grand Opening of Highland Square set

"We develop retail shopping centers around the country," comments Daly. "Within each area we recognize the importance of community involvement as a vital part of integrating our centers into the surrounding area. The people of Morton Grove have been exceptionally supportive and cooperative."

From the state of the project Dalan/Jupiter, Inc., has worked closely with Morton Grove. Daly donated some of the original buildings on the site to the local fire department for fire fighting and life saving exercises. He also donated several of the healthy and valuable blue spruce evergreen trees to local Triton College's botanical garden.

The tenant mix of the 82,000 sq. ft. Highland Square features diverse discount retailers with a cost-conscious variety of mer-

District 219 plans Financial Aid Night

Questions about college financial aid and application procedures will be covered during a comprehensive Financial Aid Night sponsored by the Niles North and Niles West High School Guidance Departments. Junior, seniors and their parents from area public and private schools are invited to attend from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, December 8 in the Niles West High School Auditorium, Oakton Street at Edens Expressway.

Cathy Thomas, director of financial aid for DePaul University will discuss general aspects of financial aid, including deadlines and necessary forms. Niles West College Counselor Frank Mustari and Niles North Counselor Shirley Foss will meet with junior parents to discuss long-term preparation, and Gary Rold, director of financial aid at Elmhurst College, will walk through the Financial Aid Form.

Loan officers from a local financial institution will also be on hand with computers to run tentative college cost estimates for individual students.

The importance of applying for financial aid has increased since regulations have changed for receiving a Guaranteed Student Loan, now called a Stafford Loan, according to Foss.

"If they are going to use Stafford Loans, they have to fill out a Financial Aid Form, and that didn't used to be the case," Foss said. "If they hope to get any loan or work-study or gift, they have to fill out an FAF."

In addition to numerous informational handouts, all forms need to apply for financial aid will be available at this meeting.

ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Old Orchard ice sculptor spectacular

Old Orchard welcomes ice sculptor Joe Aiello, Saturday, December 3 between 12 Noon and 3 p.m. Weekdays, he dresses in a business suit and heads for the office. Weekends, Aiello pulls on steel-toed knee-high rubber boots and old coat and heads for the ice house, where he transforms 400 pound blocks of ice into works of art.

Santa on a sleigh with reindeer nearby will suddenly become real under the skillful hands of Aiello, who will use twelve 400 pound blocks of ice to create these and other delightful scenes and characters for everyone's enjoyment.

The SCULPTURES created that day should last two to four weeks if cold weather prevails. Part of the art of ice sculpture is to design with meltdown in mind. Ice, Aiello says, melts from all sides including the bottom, so the piece must be structured in such a way that it won't slide off its stand as it melts.

See ice sculpture come alive on Saturday, December 3 at Old Orchard Center, Skokie Blvd. and Old Orchard Rd., just east of Edens Expressway in Skokie.

Niles optometrist specializes in Myopia control

Dr. Chester J. Nowak, an optometrist in Niles and a specialist in the area of eye care known as Myopia Control and Enhancement, will be working with the Visual Therapy Center, a not-for-profit group on a research study of halting the Progression of Myopia.

Myopia, commonly known as "nearsightedness", or creeping Myopia, and pathological Myopia or "Long Eyeballs" will increase over the years requiring an increasingly stronger prescription in spectacles or contact lenses.

The different Myopic conditions will cause the outer layers of the eye to become thinner, increasing the danger of retinal detachment. Over the years, many techniques including surgery, drugs, and bifocal lenses, have been tried to correct

Myopia with varying results. Myopia control and enhancement is a safe, non-invasive procedure, involving a planned program of fittings of oxygen permeable rigid contact lenses in conjunction with Visual Training Therapy. This program has been found to arrest the progression of Myopia and, in some cases, reverse the effects of the visual disorder.

Dr. Chester J. Nowak, Optometrist located at 8150 Milwaukee Ave. is involved in community programs. He specializes in children's vision as well as myopia control, and he is eminently qualified to participate in Myopia Control Study MCS to halt progressive Myopia.

For further information, call Dr. Nowak at 692-7477.

Volunteer Recognition Program

Nearly 300 volunteers of The Evanston Hospital were honored at the recent Volunteer Recognition Program and reception.

Elizabeth B. Cook, director of volunteers, awarded service pins to the volunteers who each contributed 100 hours or more of service from Oct. 1, 1987 through September 30, 1988. Eighteen persons received special recognition for contributing 400 hours or more of service during the same period.

Following is a list of volunteers from the area who each gave 100 hours or more of service in the towns in which they reside: Amy Burkard, Leo Dredze, Alvin Edelson, Elaine Einstein, Muriel Goldberg, Avava Hagari, Sandra Hubbard, Herman Kahn, Esther Kaplan, Candy Karlin, Irving Lerner, Ruth Partridge, Sally Pokorny, and Sophia Schwab of Skokie; Leslie Lovering, Dorothy Ludmer, and Gerald Snyder of Lincolnwood; and Bernice Bobrow, Phyllis Breen, and Romayne Dell of Morton Grove.

Stop Smoking Clinic at Rush

The Good Health Program of Rush North Shore Medical Center is celebrating the tenth anniversary of its Stop Smoking Clinic by waiving the usual $30 fee for its introductory class on Tues., Dec. 6, from 7 to 9 p.m.

"People interested in quitting smoking can take a no-expense, no-risk look at what our program has to offer," explained Don Zeigler, director of the Good Health Program at Rush North Shore.

After the introductory session on Dec. 6, the clinic will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wed., Dec. 7, through Fri., Dec. 9; Mon., Dec. 12; and Mon., Dec. 19.

The clinic will be conducted by health educator Joel Spitzer. Cost of the remaining five sessions is $20.

For further information and to register, call the Good Health Program at 677-9600, Ext. 3588.

Talcott Ave., Chicago.

Sponsored by the Lions Club of Harwood Heights and Norridge and the Resurrection Medical Center Health Promotion and Wellness department, the screening will be offered from 1-5 p.m. in the Marian Hall, located on the medical center's lower level. Registration is not required.

Carola Schmid, director of the Health Promotion and Wellness department, notes that the screening is offered to community residents in an effort to determine and detect potential eye problems at an early stage so they can be referred to an ophthalmologist for more in-depth diagnosis and treatment.

For more information, please contact the Health Promotion and Wellness office at 792-5022.

Abandoned baby brought to St. Francis

Robert Michael Doe, a five-pound, seven-ounce boy found abandoned in a North Side apartment building, rests comfortably with nurse Kristin Vandenbranden at St. Francis Hospital of Evanston. Hospital doctors say he is in good health.

The newborn was brought in Nov. 15 at 8:33 a.m. by two Chicago police officers, after being found in the building's vestibule wrapped in a pillow case, a sheet and a towel. Doctors say he was a few hours old when found.

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is handling adoption procedures.

Featured seminar speakers are two health professionals with many years of experience in the medical and psychological aspects of eating disorders. Theodore Balsam, M.D., a Weiss specialist in internal medicine, gastroenterology, and medical psychotherapy, is Medical Director of the new Eating Disorders Program at Weiss. Robert Cross, Ph.D., a staff psychotherapist, is Clinical Director of the program. For information or reservations, call 878-8700, Ext. 1005 weekdays.

Amblyopia - Lazy Eye

For many years it was thought that Amblyopia or Lazy Eye (when one eye sees poorly and cannot be helped with corrective lenses) was a permanent condition unless it was detected and treated before the age of six. Not today. Optometrists have proven it can be corrected, the sooner the better with permanent normal visual acuity lasting for life.

He was eight years old and undeveloped Amblyopic right eye. After Visual Training therapy his eye developed to 20/20 stereoscopic acuity and remained for twenty years with 20/20 stereoscopic visual acuity.

A girl age of thirteen was about to have surgery for crossed eyes and amblyopia, but her father had a second opinion and found that Visual Training Therapy would develop her eye amblyopia to normal 20/20 stereoscopic visual acuity without surgery. The Visual Training program interfered with her playtime and friends, but father insisted and eighteen years later results are normal healthy eyes with 20/20 stereoscopic visual acuity and no crossed eyes.

If you have Amblyopia or lazy-eye, don't neglect starting the Visual Training Therapy that develops eye to normal 20/20 stereoscopic, providing no diseases are present. Having normal acuity is a great aid in sports, learning, reading, body coordination and understanding what you read.

ing to Morton Grove Police Deputy Chief George Incedon. An adult son and daughter also reside locally. According to police, Goodman did not reside at the Glenview address, but used it for identification purposes.

Police officials said Goodman was on the fringe of organized crime, reportedly a former Chicago bookie and Las Vegas oddsmaker. Up until two years ago he operated various businesses, including a travel agency in Las Vegas suspected of laundering mob money. He had gambling arrests in the 1950's but no recent convictions. Because the brutality of Goodman's head wounds are typical of gangland type reprisals, the task force will look into an underworld connection in Las Vegas and Chicago.

Morton Grove investigators are interviewing restaurant and other personnel to determine Goodman's activities between the time of his registration at the Admiral Oasis and 11 a.m. the following day when his body was found. His room was located at the end of the building and the adjoining rooms were vacant. He had been dead between three and seven hours prior to the discovery of his fully clothed body, according to a police witness at the November 23 autopsy, performed by Cook County Medical Examiner Michael Chambliss.

According to a preliminary report by Morton Grove Evidence Technician Matthew Pankow, based on the location of bloodstains and wounds, Goodman's body was released after the autopsy and funeral services were held for him in a north shore suburb of Chicago over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Gun law...

not have to wait the time required by the Niles legislation.

Niles Police are still uncertain about the exact mechanics of the checks they will be performing but Police Chief Ray Giovannelli is working on a prototype form to be completed by gun dealers, and submitted to Niles police. Currently, gun shop owners are required to keep affidavits by gun purchasers on file for inspection purposes and produce the records at the request of a village police officer. Barton's and Sportmart receive updates from the State of Illinois about the status of FOID (Firearm Owner Identification) numbers, which are revoked if the cardholder has been convicted of a felony, or recently institutionalized at a psychiatric facility. The existing Niles ordinance also prohibits a narcotic addict from purchasing a gun which can be concealed on their person.

Barton believes the ordinance will hurt the retailer more than the criminal, who will obtain guns and ammunition by illegal means. While pistols represent only about ten percent of Barton's business, sales of ammunition and holsters and other accessories which are often purchased at the same time as the handgun may be adversely affected.

Katsoulis, noting that an ordinance in Niles does not have direct impact on many types of criminals, sees the amendment as a safeguard, especially if a new sports business selling guns establishes itself in Niles. "Barton's and Sportmart are cooperative and ask us for our recommendations," said Katsoulis. "We're not going to go into these stores and shoot from the hip" to administer this ordinance, Katsoulis said the police will work with the retailers to develop an effective plan. Even though State Police send through periodic updates on revoked cards, Niles police want to be able to perform a third check to run the FOID numbers through State Police computers, which are available only on weekdays.

Katsoulis said the Department will perform additional checks in the event a card number checks out as valid but the retailer or police department have further questions.

The ordinance has been signed by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase and by Village Clerk Frank Wagner. Notice of the law will be posted in newspapers prior to it becoming official.

school to girls, Molinaro explained that those surveyed in Phase I of the study were in favor of the option because of the quality of education at Notre Dame.

The school sees these as advantages: a larger enrollment base strengthening a more unified outlook in education, and giving parents another alternative in secondary education.

Phase II is looking at the practical side of the question: curriculum, cost of remodeling the facilities to accommodate girls, and impact on neighboring Catholic schools. Molinaro said these points would be considered, in addition to the change of atmosphere from an all male school.

Notre Dame High School founded in 1955, by the Holy Cross Fathers who staff the school, saw enrollment peak in the late 60's with a student body of 1400. Today is a different era in education, said Molinaro, because of special resource facilities and computer rooms. Present enrollment is 810.

If the decision is to change to coeducation, the Holy Cross Fathers would have to apply to their congregation headquarters in South Bend, Indiana, for approval. The Archdiocese of Chicago would also have to sup-

Arf's staff is researching recycling programs in other municipalities, including a pilot project in Arlington Heights where participants are recycling plastics as well as aluminum, newspaper, and glass. According to Arf, the final recycling decision will be based on all available information and there will be negotiations to ensure Morton Grove gets the most economic programs. If the decision is made to extend the program village-wide, the target date for implementation of the program is late spring of 1989.

EMPLOYEE INSURANCE COSTS COMPUTED

Arf also reported a standoff between costs of insurance for village employees. I.R.M.A. (Insurance Risk Management Agency) costs in 1989 will decrease nearly $100,000 but the savings to the Village are offset by nearly 33 percent increase in Blue Cross/Blue Shield rates for Village employees. Increases in claims are the cause for the cost hike, which affects retirees as well. Arf has not ruled out the possibility of switching insurance providers. He told the board two other agencies are preparing alternative proposals for his review.

RESIDENTS ASKED TO BAG LEAVES

Trustee Don Scanlon, Village

Public Works Commissioner told the Board street sweepers will be bagging leaves when outside temperatures are above thirty two degrees. He asked residents to bag their remaining leaves and put them curbside.

PUBLIC ASKED TO DONATE BLOOD

Acting Mayor Richard Hohn reported Lifesource will hold their blood drive Saturday, December 3. Hohn requested all citizens participate to ensure the blood drive will be a success noting it takes less than thirty minutes to donate blood. A side benefit to donating is that participants get free checks for high blood pressure and anemia. Blood donations are especially needed just before holiday periods.

Corporation Counsel Jordan Kaplan reported legal appeals continue in a case where the Village is being asked to return a contraband handgun. The Village has successfully fought against returning the gun which was confiscated by Morton Grove Police. The plaintiffs lawyers have lost trial and appellate court decisions and will continue further judicial action.

No Village Board Meeting will be held Monday, December 26, a legal holiday. The next regular meeting will be held Monday, December 12 at 8 p.m.

the Depression, said Przybylo, as were many businesses due to "overextension" and more need for "personal supervision."

A business, said Przybylo, should have good management. "Be good to people and give them their money's worth," he said.

At the age of 22, Przybylo established his own business, a small bar on the northwest side of Chicago. Here he met the multimillionaire Louis Gerber, the former owner of Gerber Plumbing.

"We would talk together for one or two hours and I questioned him about business. The man gave me so many ideas. You might say he shared the knowledge of his success," said Przybylo.

During this time, Przybylo met his wife, Alice. "We met in a bakery over a loaf of rye bread," he said. "Now I tell her that everytime I see a loaf of rye bread, it reminds me of her," he laughed.

Alice watched the couple's business while her husband marched off to World War II where he served until 1944. According to Przybylo, it was a real "devil" until I met my wife. She made a "different person out of me."

So different did he become that he considered becoming a mortician when he returned from duty.

"But there was a lot of money in liquor and I decided 'to heck with that idea,'" he said and started another business following his return to the States.

The White Eagle and Przybylo's reputation have attracted many famous persons including Pope Pius XII, President Jimmy Carter, former presidential candidate Edmund Muskie, Willie Mays, Walter Payton and Karl Malden.

President Carter was hosted by the White Eagle eight years earlier at a centennial banquet for the Polish National Alliance. The restaurateur recalls "At the time, three wedding receptions also were being held in the building. I asked Carter to do the Polka. If he had, every person of Polish descent in the country would have voted for him."

Przybylo was asked to accompany Carter to O'Hare Airport, an honor accepted at the urging of daughter Vivian.

His children are Kolek, Niles; State Sen. Althea Kroger (D-Vt.); Alice Pawlicki; Lincolnwood; Victoria Pendres, Niles; Teddy M. Przybylo, Niles and Andrew Przybylo, Niles. The latter works with his father and is a former candidate for Cook County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

If Przybylo has one over-riding suggestion for success, it would be "Give the business your heart and love people. Rewards occur when people come here and say they like me."

Niles North

PTSA program

Niles North High School PTSA will hold its monthly program meeting Thursday, December 1, at 8 p.m. in the A100 Room. All parents and community members are invited to attend and participate. This month's topic is "Questions About College" What tests should juniors and seniors take? How important are they? Private vs. Public universities. How do we start looking? Should parents get involved? How well prepared are Niles North students for the college experience?

Citizens group issues noise survey report

The Park Ridge Chapter of the O'Hare Citizens Coalition today issued a report on a jet noise survey that highlights community objections to O'Hare Airport flight frequency, and problems with the City of Chicago's O'Hare jet noise hotline.

The report, based on May 1988 noise calendar survey conceived and executed by Park Ridge residents, also urges state and federal elected officials to continue their efforts to limit O'Hare noise. A copy of the report was sent to all local, state and federal officials whose districts include any part of Park Ridge.

Citizens Coalition officials said the report points to problems experienced not only in Park Ridge, but in the entire O'Hare area.

The 180 Park Ridge survey respondents noted on their mail-in calendars a total of 10,439 individual noise complaints during May. In contrast, the Chicago O'Hare noise hotline received only 251 complaints from Park Ridge residents in the same month.

"That 180 people in Park Ridge would take the considerable time to note these complaints on the calendars for a month, often in great detail, says to me that there are an ever greater number of people who will join our active ranks," added James Halas. Of the 180 respondents, more than 100 were not previously Coalition members. They have been added as members now, and are being encouraged, in a special mailing, to remain active. Coalition organizational meets are planned in Park Ridge and other towns for after the holidays.

Maine East retirement luncheon

Barbara Hahn (l), a former speech therapist at Maine East, and O.D. Premo (r), former lead teacher for music at Maine East, enjoy a rare moment of reminiscence at the luncheon for retired staff members that was part of American Education Week activities in the three high schools of Maine Township High School District 207.

packed assembly. In her first place essay, "Mayor" Jenny Savino, an eighth grader at our Lady of Ransom School, wrote about a teacher who had influenced her when she told her class "God had a plan" for every human life. Savino equated nuclear war with abortion, saying that each represented an "attempt to feel superior and showed a disregard for human life." Savino's essay earned the only monetary prize—a $100 savings bond.

Nuclear war figured into the essays of four of St. John Brebeuf's eight winning entrants, Jeff Lesniak, Michele Venci (both eighth graders) Joel Rosal and Mike Blase (7th graders). "Trustee" Lesniak suggested that Russian and American politicians should follow the example of their Olympic athletes who manage to compete without fighting. "Trustee" Rosal said "War is a menace" and "Trustee" Venci declared the prospect of nuclear war, along with existing drug abuse, child abuse and teen pregnancy problems resulted from a lack of communication. "Fire Chief" Blase declared "Violence is a manmade problem." "Village Clerk" Ann Staunton, an OLR eighth grader, expressed uncertainty about a future looming with AIDS, pollution and nuclear war and discussed how complex life is.

Pollution by factories and the weakening of the ozone layer was mentioned by "Chief of Police" Tommy Chang, a Gemini eighth grader who is worried that the high cost of college education will keep young people from being successful. Suzie Nelson, a Gemini eighth grader who did not appear at the meeting, also wrote about pollution. "Director of Public Services" John Touzios, also in eighth grade at Gemini, is concerned about conserving the ozone layer and nonrenewable energy sources. Touzios wrote, "the earth is one old dog that has to learn new tricks."

Touzios remarked that drug abuse and the subeconomy it creates should be vehemently fought. "Streets are the trade center of drugs" and "murderers don't wear designer suits," declared Touzios. "Trustee" Rogelio Delacruz, an OLR eighth grader mentioned drug abuse and the problems of the homeless "Village Attorney", Amy Tatkowski, a SJB eighth grader was concerned about teen suicide.

Saying drugs and alcohol are a "step backward", "Trustee" Steve Mazik, a SJB 7th grader, told those at the meeting they were "lucky to be in a country where there is freedom of choice." Some essays were about youth issues and some had a broader reach. Golf Junior High's Cindy Park, a 7th grader who played the role of Village Manager, had a laundry list of concerns ranging from money and peer pressure to jobs and college. Sandra Sarmonpal, a SJB eighth grader, said there is "much discrimination in our country." Director of Code Enforcement" Sarmonpal advised, "we should look past the person's exterior to see what's inside."

Gemini eighth grader Randi Clerk" Ann Staunton, an OLR eighth grader, expressed uncertainty about money and its use, taxes, college, real estate and health care for poor people. "Finance Director" Barbara Kurec, a SJB 7th grader wrote that young people are the future generation who will be making their own decisions, right or wrong, without the help of their family, decisions about war, peace, family and career.

After the meeting, participants were congratulated by regular Village board members, who then resumed their official roles.

On December 17 at 1 p.m. Easy Hearing Music, a bass viol and piano duo will perform a concert of holiday music. The special musical arrangement and timbre of the instruments make the music audible to most people with hearing impairment, even those with profound hearing loss. Bass violist Jeff Bradetich has been hailed by the New York Times as "the master of his instrument." Bradetich's virtuosity makes this concert a special treat for both hearing and hearing-impaired audiences. Skokie Public Library is co-sponsoring this concert with Greater Chicago Chapter of Self Help for Hard of Hearing People (SHHH).

Also during the two-week period, equipment and materials to deaf and hard-of-hearing people will be on display at the Library. Admission is free to all performances. The Library is located at 5215 Oakton in Skokie. For further information, call the Library at 673-7774.

to when the Glenview woman would be moving out. The father, intervening on his daughter's behalf, entered the furniture store and deliberately sought out the victim. He demanded the keys to the condo. The victim picked up a phone to call her lawyer. In the presence of three store employees, the offender grabbed the phone and slammed it onto the desk where the victim had been seated. When the victim attempted to summon police, the offender raised his hands over his head to hit the victim, according to witnesses. The woman began backing away when the man attempted to grab her. Other employees intervened and the offender began shouting offensive names. He then exited the store and was arrested by Niles police in the parking lot. Witnesses identified the man and contradicted his version of the incident. The man was charged with assault.

Computer classes for seniors

The Niles Public Library District will be offering assistance to retirees and older citizens who would like to increase their knowledge about computers and what they can do. Any senior citizen who has a valid Niles Public Library card may take advantage of this special offer. On December 5, 7, and 9 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon, the Library will provide help with any computer in the lab, including the Apple II, Apple IIGS, Macintosh SE, Commodore 128 and the IBM compatible AT&T 6300.

As well as an impressive choice of computers, the Computer Lab has over 500 software programs to choose from. These programs can help you write a letter, make a list of addresses and telephone numbers; keep a journal; create a list of recipes; print custom greeting cards, banners and much more!

"The Niles Public Library District's Computer Lab is a unique facility in the northwest suburban area," according to Brad Thakkar, Computer Lab Manager. "I'm not aware of any other public facility that has such a variety of equipment or software."

Fire hydrants to be tested

Chief Morrie Farberman of the North Maine Fire Department has announced that hydrant testing will commence immediately in all of unincorporated Maine Township. The testing will be done only when weather permits (40° or above); and will consist of inspection, flushing and greasing. The flushing will require all hydrants to be cleared of vegetation. The Fire Department asks that residents cooperate by clearing vegetation away from fire hydrants in their neighborhood. Each hydrant will be opened, and to assure that the hydrant stem operates freely, water will be allowed to flow from the hydrant. After the fire hydrant has been shut off, the water drainage will also be monitored. The greasing
