Niles zoners deny outside storage request

by Maureen F. Deasy

An estimated 24 disgruntled neighbors were on hand to voice their objections to a request made by American Automotive Parts, 7007 Austin Ave., that would allow the company to store material in outdoor shipping containers. At the Monday night meeting of the Niles Zoning Board, the request was denied.

Twenty letters of objection to the petition were presented to Chairman John Frick, along with photographs of the existing out-

Man killed by train in Morton Grove

by Nancy Keramias

A 33-year old Des Plaines man was killed Monday night after he was struck by a train near Lincoln and Lehigh Avenues in Morton Grove. According to Sgt. Frank Pantaleo of the Morton Grove Police Department, Porfirio Marquez of 9403 Ironwood was walking along the tracks when he was struck on the Metra right of way.

Chief Dick Brady of Morton Grove Fire Department said paramedics "used everything" enroute to Lutheran General Hospital as they struggled to save the mortally injured man. A surgical team from LGH was waiting for the victim but he died shortly after arrival at the emergency facility.

Linda Zachow has an interesting article about Oakton College on Page 3. She spent several weeks preparing the story and we recommend you read it.

In the upcoming weeks we're going to be investigating the way different public boards conduct their meetings. We've always been suspicious Oakton's board has been a loose cannon. There doesn't seem to be anyone outside the interested board and school people involved in actions there. Its spending policies need to be reviewed by a citizens group which paying the bills.

At Maine Township high schools meetings they are really not public meetings. There is little discussion of pertinent matters and the administration's input at board meetings is so overwhelming, board members (and the public) do not seem to be represented.

Whenever we take a cab to the airport we engage the driver in conversation about his cab. Several times we've

The Village of Niles Fire and Police Commission recently presented the Chief's Award of Valor to four Niles Police Officers.

The four officers courageously went inside a burning apartment building when they learned that an 81 year old lady was still inside the building. The officers working in teams entered the smoke-filled building, located the unconscious victim who later was taken to a hospital and received emergency medical treatment that she sustained as a result of being exposed to the smoke and fire. Had it not been for the brave and heroic action of these officers the victim would undoubtedly been injured more critically if not fatally.

Niles' Tom Hickey, former Olympic hopeful, defied doctors to return to the ice rink

by Nancy Keramias

Tom Hickey is following a family tradition: his mother Judith was the first Hickey to be Figure Skating Director at the Ballard Sports Complex in Niles. When Tom began skating at the relatively advanced age of nine, he remembers the arena had no walls - over a roof and the plywood and plexiglas surrounding the rink. So when Tom's students complain about the temperature of the rink, he can authoritatively tell them they don't know what cold is.

He also knows from experience the payoffs from setting goals and trying one's hardest. For young skaters, there is an orderly progression of skills to be learned as they advance to higher proficiency levels. Tom pushes them hard. Their efforts are rewarded with skating patches to be sewn on team jackets.

Hickey has had his share of skating recognition as well but his hardest struggle was to regain the use of his legs after a freak accident sent his skating career plummeting.

1983 was to be Tom Hickey's year. He was in his third year at the Olympic Training School in Colorado Springs, a senior skater preparing for U.S. competition. He had worked hard all summer and had completed his first college courses towards being a medical illustrator. His trainer, Olympic Coach Peter Colin, suggested he take a break from grueling daily schedule of eight hour skating practices and minimum six hours of classes and homework. He and his two roommates set off for the mountains.

After a five mile climb, the young skater wanted to view the surrounding countryside from a still higher vantage point. He began scaling a thirty by fifty foot granite boulder. The stone split in half, catapulting him downwards. Like a deadfall trap, the portion which had separated landed directly on his right leg. His roommates miraculously were able to extricate the nineteen year old athlete from the mountainous stone.

When Tom saw what was left of his limb he went into immediate shock. Even the layer of grit which remained on his leg after it was pulled from beneath the boulder could not conceal the angry thirty inch gash which spanned the distance between his hip and his ankle. Between the shards of red Colorado soil, pine needles, aspen and denim fabric, his ligaments, bone and muscle glared at him painfully.

Fright and nausea accompanied the three young men during the long tortuous descent leg was cleaned and wrapped and the three young men drove to Colorado Springs.

Ironically, his parents were already in Colorado. What had previously been planned as a happy family holiday became a month filled with life-changing decisions. There was a strong possibility Tom would lose his towards the tiny town of Decker, just outside Boulder. Tom, alternately passing out, hopped on his good leg, suspended between his frightened friends as the trio attempted to reach the foothills of the mountain.

Tom's father, a Chicago policeman and his mother Judy worked full time to support his Olympic training. Skaters are not accorded the same scholarships as other athletes so they do not live at the facility. Tom did not want to add another financial hardship to the burdens his parents had assumed, so he immediately rejected a pricey helicopter transport to the Colorado Springs hospital where he could see an orthopedist trained in sports medicine. In Decker, his leg. The impact of the rock had torn sections as deep as nine inches into his muscular thighs. Because of his athletic conditioning, the muscles had helped his bones withstand the concussion of tons of rock and, though chipped and cracked in spots, his leg was not shattered. The orthopedist and family gambled that Tom's leg could be saved but predicted he would always need crutches. Tom went into training again. Setting goals, first in Colorado and then back in Chicago...from the wheelchair to crutches...slowly, tortuously. Daily physical therapy at Resurrection Hospital...step by painful-but-crutchless step.

Something else happened as Tom climbed back. The "untamed" little boy who had confidently "knocked off" his skating tests ten years earlier began to recover from the depression that had been his frequent companion as he recuperated. Unknown to his friends and family he snuck off to the Oakton Skating Rink in Park Ridge and started again.

Two years after being pitched into purgatory, Tom staged an ice show for an incredulous assembly of family, friends and therapists. He repeated the performance in Colorado Springs for his orthopedist, a demonstration which included the difficult "double axel" maneuver.

By the following year, in 1986, three years after the accident Tom was teaching at Ballard and starting to compete. The situation in Niles when he first arrived was "undisciplined". By some parent's accounts, Tom's portrayal is euphemistic or at least diplomatic. "There were a lot of personality conflicts at first and I saw no respect for the coaches and staff from the students," said Hickey. The program's biggest asset was the esprit de corps of staff members, which still exists. Modestly he adds, "I can't say enough good things about the staff members here. There is a spirit of cooperation and no personality conflicts. Our SPIN (Skating Parents in Niles) group is wonderful. Jan Gerber and Midge DiNicola are just two of many terrific parents."

Other things need improvement. Discipline and respect for the teachers has improved but the skaters and the parents do not have the "go for the jugular" attitude that is needed.

New OCC building is $700,000 insult to taxpayers

Commentary by Linda Zachow

Oakton Community College, you're not Harvard. It's not meant to be an insult. We all need to come to grips with who we really are and what our purpose on this planet is. If you wanted to be Harvard, we wouldn't blame you.

The sad truth is this: Mercedes, limos, and Ferraris are for people who can afford them and yearn to flaunt their wealth to the world. Festivals, Civics, and Yugos are for average citizens who struggle to scrape up car payments after toiling forty hours a week. You buy what you can afford. A Yugo will get you to the same destination as a Mercedes.

Harvard, like the Mercedes, is a very expensive way to get where you want to go in this world. So are most other private colleges only a few can afford. Oakton is a community college supported by taxpayers. Harvard serves the elite; Oakton serves the community of District 535.

Despite much local opposition, you have agreed to erect and pay a substantial portion of the cost for a building to house the Suburban Governmental Association, Northwest Municipal Conference on your campus. Facts prove there is no real "need" for this building. We, as district taxpayers, former students, and the mothers of children who may be future students, are confused. We can't figure out who gets priority number one—a quasi-governmental bureaucracy or taxpayers members of the district?

We looked up the word "community" in several dictionaries. They all define it something like this: "People with common interests living in a particular area." Looking at our mission statement for the college: "That mission is to serve the postsecondary educational needs of the residents of District 535". We cannot figure out where this building and an alliance that includes a 30 year lease fits in with your place and mission.

Perhaps we and numerous other residents are misinterpreting the real reasons why district 535 should pay for this building and the benefits for the district even after hearing how

The offender was stopped by Niles Police while driving on Touhy Ave. after Leaning Tower YMCA management reported the offender had defrauded them of

Cablevision collects food for needy

Cablevision of Chicago recently announced their involvement with local area food pantries in collecting non-perishable food items, paper products and monetary donations for local residents who avail themselves to these services.

"Many families are in need of food and household products not only at this time of year but also year round", remarked Mary Jane Joyce, Human Resource Manager at Cablevision of Chicago. "The Food Fellowship encourages all area residents to drop off canned goods, toothpaste, etc. at any Cablevision office location knowing that their generosity will benefit one or more families in need."

This year Santa is also donating his time in appreciation of local donors. Santa will be in the Cablevision lobby at 820 Madison from December 1 through December 21 to have his picture taken with all participants children between 2 p.m. - 4 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Thursdays from 3 p.m. - 7 p.m. Ray's Camera and Razzle Dazzle Costumes are also

Village departments begin projecting space needs

Niles sells land before moving to Civic Center Plaza

by Nancy Keramias

The Village of Niles is beginning to divest itself of unneeded property in anticipation of building a new government center on the seven acre site deeded to it by the developers of the former Lawrencewood shopping center.

According to Village Manager Jack Hodge, there are a "lot of variables to consider." Several department directors have submitted space analyses which will be used by architects to determine the size of a municipal center at the Lawrencewood site.

The decision to build will be based on costs, financing and old Niles woman who was traveling westbound on Golf Road. The

Woman arrested after DUI accident

A 64 year old Park Ridge woman was arrested November 28 following a car accident in which she was found to be at fault. The woman was charged with Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol, Driving on a Center Strip, and several other minor charges.

The driver of the car that was struck by the Park Ridge woman's vehicle was a 50 year old Niles woman who was traveling westbound on Golf Road. The

Sportmart fire causes $2,000 damage

Fire in a ceiling exhaust fan brought Niles firemen to Sportmart, 7233 Dempster, Friday, December 2 at 9:16 p.m. District Chief Walter Blase directed two engines and a hook and ladder at the scene. Fire investigators estimate losses at $2000. The fire was struck and the building ventilated by 10:16 p.m.

Armed robbers terrorize cabbie

Sunday, November 4 was a night of terror for a 34 year old taxi driver when a routine fare turned into an armed robbery.

The Evanston driver was dispatched to the Amoco service station at Central and Dempster in Morton Grove where he picked up two slightly built young men who told the driver they wanted to be taken to a location near Oak Park and Church.

As they neared the vicinity of the passengers' conversation revealed they were unfamiliar with the area and were unsure about where a female acquaintance was. The driver overheard the men saying things like, "So you think she's here?" and then heard gunfire from the rear of the cab.

Hockey greats meet Mickey

Mickey Mouse and former Chicago Blackhawks stars Cliff Koroll (far left) and Keith Magnuson (far right) came to the Skokie Skatium Tuesday, November 29 to promote professional skating. off the Niles Police Blotter

Domestic Battery...

November 28 a Niles woman reported she and her husband were arguing when he struck her several times across the head. The wife was holding their baby at the time of altercation.

Auto Theft/Vandalism

A 64 year old Niles man reported his 1988 Cadillac was stolen on November 28. The car was parked at 8524 Dempster when person(s) unknown broke the driver's window to gain entry. The vehicle had been bought recently and had only 30 miles on the odometer. The auto was later recovered in Chicago by the Chicago Police Department.

November 28 a 34 year old Niles man reported someone gained entry to his car between the dates of November 5 and 6. A radio valued at $230, a Prince racket worth $150, and a Sony Watchman valued at $120 were stolen.

Someone stole possessions valued at $1,650 from a car belonging to a 46 year old Niles man. Stolen items included a stereo, AM/FM radio and cassette player, a mobile phone, and 8 cassette tapes.

A 21 year old Niles man found the transmission line, brake line, and ground wire were severed on his van November 28. Person(s) unknown tampered with the vehicle while it was parked at Oconto and Oakton.

Burglary...

A burglary was reported by the office of Maryhill Memorials November 29. An employee entered the premises that morning and discovered the door unlocked. Further investigation revealed $1,152 was stolen from a floor safe. There was no sign of forced entry.

November 29 Gina Mia Restaurant, 8030 Milwaukee Avenue, reported someone used a key to enter the locked building and took $150 from the cash register. Several employees under suspicion were fired or left on their own after the theft was discovered.

Criminal Property Damage

A Niles resident of the 8000 block of Oxanam reported criminal damage to his house November 28. Person(s) unknown fired a pellet gun or rifle damaging his large window pane.

Retail Theft...

A 28 year old Chicago man was released on $1,000 bond and charged with Retail Theft November 30. Sportmart security guards observed the arrestee attempt to hide two sweatshirts under the one he was already wearing and exit the store. One sweatshirt was valued at $64.95 and the other at $78.87. The offender appeared in court December 2 to answer another Retail Theft charge.

November 30 Sears, Golf Mill security guards observed a 20 year old man remove a Polaroid camera valued at $135 and exit the store. Security agents chased the man into the parking lot and followed him across Milwaukee Avenue to Four Flags Shopping Center. During the chase, the offender dropped the camera as he was running on Milwaukee Avenue.

By this time Niles and Morton Grove Police joined in the search for the man and chased him through several residential areas. The offender was finally caught in a back yard in the 9300 block of Courtland.

'55 Alive/Mature Driving'

Whether we want to face it or not it is true, as the number of candles on our birthday cake increase, our abilities to hear, see and react quickly diminish.

The medications we take may further dull our senses and reflexes. Our memory of safety rules learned long ago inevitably fades. These factors lead drivers over 55 to have more accidents per mile driven than their younger counterparts.

Older drivers across the country are not letting these facts assign them to the passenger seat. Through a course for mature citizens offered by the American Association for Retired Persons (AARP), they are looking their limitations in the eye and learning how to compensate for all these problems.

Many of them are getting discounts on their auto insurance in the process...

This program is titled '55 Alive/Mature Driving', the one defensive driving course designed for the mature driver. Anyone age 50 and over can attend the eight hour class (taught in 2-4 hour sessions) and emerge with a card from AARP and a certificate from the office of the Secretary of the State of Illinois. The certificate from the State entitles you to a discount on your liability insurance premium. The following class is scheduled: December 10 and 17, Main Library, 6860 Oakton St. Niles, 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Other locations and dates are also scheduled in neighboring communities. To register and/or for information call: Vel Durham, Phone: 344-4172. Or write Vel, P. O. Box 272, Melrose Park, IL 60150.

Dial One a drop-off for WGN food drive

Dial One Bob Williams of Skokie will be a drop-off point for the 7th annual "Good Neighbor" Food Drive founded by WGN radio personality Eddie Schwartz.

The food drive is a primary program to feed the needy of the Chicago area during the Christmas season. Last year, over $200,000 and over 800,000 pounds of food were collected.

Dial One Bob Williams Air Conditioning and Heating at 7824 N. Lincoln, Skokie will be a drop-off point for donations of money and food which will be taken to the Daley Center Plaza on December 16. Anyone interested in donating non-perishable food items such as canned, boxed and packaged food can take them to the Dial One Company between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

They will be accepting donations until 5 p.m. on December 16 when the Dial One trucks will transport the donations to the food drive headquarters. For more information call 677-1850, 24 hrs - days a week.

Traffic Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Before cold weather sets in, have your vehicle checked for a faulty muffler or leaks in the exhaust system that can cause carbon monoxide to seep into your vehicle. Carbon monoxide is poisonous and can contribute to vehicle accidents by dulling the senses.

For example, carbon monoxide poisoning can cause weariness, yawning, dizziness, nausea, headache and ringing in the ears. If you begin to suffer from any of these symptoms while driving, pull off the road as soon as possible. The only way to fight this deadly gas is to stop the engine and get plenty of fresh air.

The following safety precautions will help prevent carbon monoxide poisoning:

1) If you have not already done so, have your muffler and exhaust system checked when you have your vehicle "winterized" this fall. If your vehicle has been "winterized" but the muffler and exhaust system were not inspected, have them checked as soon as possible.

2) Never start your engine or warm up your vehicle in a closed garage.

3) Keep a window partially open whenever the engine is running to ensure that your vehicle has a steady flow of fresh air.

4) Do not let children play with your car keys. If a playing child accidentally turns on a vehicle's ignition in a closed garage, the results may be tragic.

Senator Kustra Is Moving

Retail Theft

Marshall's security staff arrested two shoplifters last week in separate incidents. A Melrose Park man was observed biting off the price tag of a $22.99 pair of black leather gloves on November 28. He was stopped after he attempted to leave the store. His court date is January 4. On Wednesday, November 30, a twenty year old Morton Grove man was apprehended attempting to conceal a $49.99 black jacket and was also arrested after he passed a cashier without paying for the item. His court date will be January 17.

T.J. Maxx security guards will be court twice as a result of apprehending two shoplifters in separate incidents November 29. A 42 year old South Chicagoan will appear December 19 on charges related to stealing a $99.99 coat. Even though the thief had two prior convictions, the states attorney declined felony charges. If convicted of the current charge, the previous guilty verdicts can be used to determine "aggravating circumstances" when the judge passes sentence. A 46 year old Chicago woman will face retail theft charges brought by T.J. Maxx security staff who watched her both on L.V. monitors and in real life as she paid for one sweater and concealed a second $99.99 sweater in a store bag. The woman used her elbow to injure the agent when she was apprehended in the parking lot.

A $300 radar detector was stolen from a 1987 Ford parked in the 9400 block of Harlem November 29.

Someone with a truck or van stole a $250 newspaper vending machine containing at least $50 in coins from a lot owned by the Convenient supermarket in the 7600 block of Dempster, December 1.

A bakery in the 5800 block of Dempster was burglarized over the weekend of November 24 by persons unknown. Body force was used to push the door open. $60 in coins was removed from the cash register on premises. Damage to the door was estimated at $100.

MG Police Nab "Two Coin Collectors"

Also the night of November 2 Morton Grove Police stopped a suspicious vehicle in the vicinity of Sherman and Church after they spotted a Toyota in the 8900 block of National with a shattered windshield. The two men in the car had two cloth whiskey bags filled with an undetermined amount of coins and there was a radar detector in the vehicle with the serial numbers partially filed off. The driver had a suspended drivers license. The Toyota occupants gave conflicting explanations as to the reason for their being in the vicinity. Police confiscated the coins.

A 31 year old Morton Grove woman has signed battery complaints against her estranged husband, a Des Plaines resident. The couple was involved in an altercation Sunday, December 4 involving visitation between the couple's four children and their father. Police were summoned to

Belleforte autos hit in one-night spree

A rash of thefts were reported by owners of cars parked in the 9100 and 9200 blocks of Belleforte, the night of November 28. An '85 Dodge owner reported the theft of $70 from his wife's purse which was in the back seat of the unlocked car. A bank book registering $10 in savings was taken from an unlocked 1978 Chevrolet. Further north on the street, a "slim jim" tool was used to open a 1982 Chevy and remove $4 from the car. A cellular telephone and remote control unit in the vehicle were undisturbed. Wire cutters caused $270 damage to an '82 Pontiac while removing a $450 stereo system and $150 equalizer from the unlocked vehicle.

Criminal Damage

A resident in the 5800 block of Crain reported $100 damage to a window late Friday night, December 2. The homeowner reported seeing groups of teenagers running away from the home. A resident in the 5700 block of Warren had two rocks thrown through a south side picture window the same evening, causing $300 worth of damage.

Grinch has Major heist

A homeowner in the 8900 block of Major reported the theft of several items in his Christmas display, Sunday December 4.

Stolen from the exterior of the residence were two $40 Santa decorations a $70 sleigh and $30 reindeer.

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Who's the only man in U.S. history who was governor of TWO different states? Answer is Sam Houston. He was governor of Tennessee from 1827 to 1829, and governor of Texas from 1859 to 1861.

The show that holds the record as the longest-running in Broadway history is "A Chorus Line".

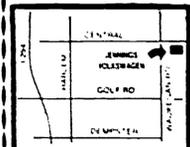

Twenty-six different states in the U.S. have a city or town named Washington.

Incredibly, the human brain, which weighs only about 3 pounds, can store more than a BILLION pieces of information.

New OCC building...

"wonderful" the building and the alliance between your two organizations will be. All we know is that questions were being asked last winter by Trustee Joan Hall and former trustee Diana Loveland. They would be the first questions many taxpayers not interested in the prestige of the building would want answered before $738,684 of the district's money would be spent on a building for someone else's needs.

Although Hall and Loveland persistently asked for more information concerning the issues just mentioned, these questions were never addressed and no attempt was made by the rest of the Board or Administration to get feedback from the supporting taxpayers of the district.

Joan Hall does not remember any discussions on this topic at any meetings she attended. There were open Board meetings, special committee meetings, and private executive sessions. According to Joan Hall, she does not recall any discussion at any of these meetings on whether the taxpayers would agree with the building and the 30 year alliance that comes part and parcel with the lease.

Ken Latos, former trustee, voted for the measure before he left one year ago. He recently said, "One of the reasons I originally voted for the building is because the NWMC seemed intent on wanting the building. I always questioned the need for it. It would seem to warrant further investigation. It is difficult once things like this get set in motion."

Diana Loveland, former trustee who cast one of the two dissenting votes last year, recalls that none of the questions posed by her and Joan Hall were discussed at any meetings. The questions pertain to the use of taxpayer money and attitude. There was plenty of questioning and investigating the legal and architectural aspects. Hours and hours were spent on these topics.

Last week we spoke with Diana Loveland, and she reiterated her original statements about the project: "I'm sorry I can't be there to help Joan in this fight. It's another castle built with taxpayers' money—a frill."

Al Galus, former student trustee, attended all the meetings. He does not recall discussions on the taxpayers' attitude or the students' attitude toward this project. He feels Oakton's property should be used for Oakton students.

Oakton is not a monster and neither is the NWMC. It's just that Oakton students cannot enroll in the NWMC classes on government that will be conducted in the new building. Oakton will pay for them. There are some fine classes for anyone interested in a career in government. NWMC students are non-tuition paying students. Oakton students pay tuition and, in many cases, taxes to support the school. Until now, Oakton has only offered three Political Science courses for Oakton students desiring to pursue a Liberal Arts education leading to a government career. Let us hope that, as Oakton changes and updates its curricula, they don't forget the students in the district who cannot afford four year colleges to take their Liberal Arts dreams to.

Several faces on the Board have changed since the original motion for the building was brought up one year ago last fall as the board has gone through reorganization. So far the Board has voted 'yes' to everything, sans Joan Hall, that we can remember for ages. The NWMC will be built which should give added prestige to the school once it is erected. Oakton's record of local and national recognition for academic achievement is at an all-time high. All would seem well now.

There are problems, though. There is no classroom space at either campus, and enrollment is up. Feeder schools are experiencing a tremendous rise in population in certain grade levels coinciding with what some have called a mini-baby boom. Many of these children will be Oakton students in years to come, and there is going to be a space problem that is going to cost the taxpayers.

The Northwest Municipal Conference is comprised of 32 municipalities, some in the 535 District and some outside district. They deal with land use, planning, and lobbying along with many other things. It is supposed to be 32 municipalities working toward the betterment of the area as a whole, putting self interest aside.

We are confused and so are many others about the reality of this "need" the NWMC has to find a home, especially at Oakton. In June, 1987, this organization voted 21-0 on the Oakton site although there were numerous alternatives offered from other sources. The Mt. Prospect Library could no longer accommodate the NWMC, but it's not as though they were about to be thrown onto the street. Elk Grove Village President, Charles ZeTeck, offered to build the NWMC a new building next to his city hall for a one time low fee. Offer rejected. Several school buildings were available to rent. Offers rejected. According to Glenview Village Manager, Paul McCarthy, these sites were rejected because, "In 20 years I've never known anyone using an old school building that wasn't a dog. It's functionally dysfunctional."

Recently the NWMC was offered space in the Des Plaines Court House as of January. The price was low, and it is only a five or ten minute drive from campus for the sake of closeness. The offer was also rejected. Rula Athas, assistant director of the NWMC, told The Bugle Oct. 13, "We have been focusing on bids (for the building) and not looking for alternatives such as renting or leasing a building." We thought that the Oakton deal was a rental with a 30 year lease. We're confused as to just how needy this organization is in terms of the new building being so necessary. So are many others.

To build this building, Oakton, being on the floodway, must replace the square footage of water storage capability taken away from the land. They must provide more storage elsewhere on the property for flood control. This brings up another area that has caused much confusion and anger among residents who have been victimized by last year's floods and are very sensitive

Skokie Fine Arts grant applications

The Skokie Fine Arts Commission is accepting 1988-89 grant applications for projects and programs developed by artists and groups in the visual and performing arts and other media.

Funds for this program are provided by the Village of Skokie through the Fine Arts Commission and by the Illinois Arts Council through its regranting program. Grants are modest and are generally intended to be supportive of other funding.

All activities aided by the Commission grants must be of direct benefit to Skokie residents, either as participants or as audiences.

Applications for grants must be made on standard forms available from the Skokie Fine Arts Commission, 7701-A Lincoln Avenue, Skokie, IL 60077. For more information, call 673-6306.

The application deadline is February 15, 1989.

Task Force to conduct survey

The Village of Skokie's Task Force on Attracting Young Families will be conducting a door-to-door survey of residents from mid-December through mid-January.

The task force members plan to gather information that will help them identify issues regarding attracting young families to Skokie.

The Village of Skokie encourages your cooperation if a task force member rings your doorbell and asks you to participate in the survey.

The task force members are: Alan Ray, Scott Gendell, Sue Carey, John Haben, George Moncada, Rich Magid, Laura Schoeneman, Susan Jones and Steve Fritzhall.

Around the World at Oak Mill Mall

by Linda Zachow
Greetings from OAK MILL MALL. European and American influences mingle here throughout the year making it a fascinating place to visit. Last weekend we were absolutely blessed by the holiday spirit that permeated the mall. Think of your favorite holiday punch and the sweet liquids blended together that produce that special flavor. This season Oak Mill does not need gargantuan decorations or gimmicks to attract customers. Like the perfect mix in holiday punch, the uniting of different languages, cultures, and products from around the world manifest the spirit of Peace on Earth and Good Will toward others. It was a nicer treat to experience than all the tinsel in the world.

Store were jammed with shoppers. Owners and employees helped customers with patience and respect rarely seen in the chaos of commercial Christmas. Merry Christmas and happy holiday greetings criss-crossed the mall as neighbors, business people, and customers greeted each other in different languages.

The smell of baking emanating from SOMENEK'S BAKERY always makes the mouth water. Each year the Somenek family, master artists of old world European pastries perfect their art even more. Their holiday pastries shone like colorful jewels. Custom made gingerbread houses were more ornate than any we could even fantasize. The Somenek family claims a heritage that is both German and Hungarian. Wishing you a happy holiday in Hungarian, they say, "Bolgog Thavacsony Unnepekot Kivan, Somenek Csaldiol."

DELKATSESEN LINGER, a German deli owned by Olga and son, Roy, is always packed. There was standing room only with customers rushing in for deli delights, imported gourmet foods, and fresh old world treats. Olga and Roy wish you Merry Christmas in English and German. "Froliche Weihnachten."

BSM INTERNATIONAL, owned by a young attractive Polish woman and entrepreneur named Barbara Dellinski, is doing a brisk business. BSM features alluring and feminine lingerie, sparkling dresses and jewelry. Barbara wishes all of you, "Wesolich Swiat Bozego Narodzenia," which is Polish for have a happy holiday of Christmas.

HOLLYWOODS LTD., owned by Genevieve Braloo, is the place to go for a tan that will have your friends thinking you just took an expensive vacation. If you start tanning now, by New Year's Eve you'll look like you just returned from the Riviera. Hollywood's is a great place for gift certificates to make that special person take time to pamper his/herself. They offer tanning, hot wax dips, and the most professional manicures around. Customer Debbie Wagner, a Taft High School senior told us, "It's relaxing, I feel pampered and it helps me achieve a total look."

HOBBIES TO GO, owned by Julia and George Michels, is a must for doll house enthusiasts and toy train lovers. It's a great place to select a gift that will bring out creativity in kids of all ages.

Shirley Simon, owner of TOE THE LINE, and super employee Bard DeGrado not only extend holiday greetings but wish to share some advice. They specialize in some of the most lavishly decorated sweats around. Shirley and Barb have some suggestions that will keep them in good condition: "Protect glitter trim with hair spray immediately and after each wash. Turn the garment inside out before washing. Wash by hand or use gentle cycle." For darling holiday socks, quality hosiery, exercise apparel, and the most dazzling sweats around, don't walk past Toe the Line.

We couldn't visit this mall without a visit to COUNTRY CRAFTS for a good old-time American Christmas. Janice's decorations get more natural, old fashioned, and romantic every year. She thinks of things nobody else would. Behind her counter is a humorous rendition of a mousehole with a cute mouse peering out. One of Janice's stuffed calico cats guards the hole so the poor mouse doesn't dare come out. Have yourself a merry little Christmas with decorations and gifts made by hand with love from Country Crafts.

We were treated like royalty this year again by super employee Agnes Ewinger in the owners' absence at GIGI AND SHERRY'S DOLLS & TEDDY BEARS. Wally Williams, Gigi's husband, introduced us to a man he claimed is his father-in-law, Sherry's dad. There was something about him that was so unique, he reminded us of Santa Claus more than anyone we had ever met. We suspect this man who claims he is a retired dentist, Doc Heit is really Santa, and we're going back to check the weekend of December 17 to get a first hand look. You can't fool us that easy at The Bugle. Gigi and Sherry stock a world class collection of dolls from antique to modern art. Their stuffed animals look real and there's no pet care involved. A visit to this shop is like a visit to Santa's doll workshop.

The AUGSBURG FORTRESS CHRISTIAN STORE managed by Gary Anderson, is an agency of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America. They provide spiritual materials for churches and personal needs. Gary told us, "We are in a sense a Christian ministry bringing God's love to all people." In addition to inspiring and attractive books, records, and art, they feature church apparel for pastors and choirs. Their denomination ordains women as pastors and Fortress carries vestments for both male and female members of the clergy. The name brand of their clergy shirts tickled our funnybone - The Friar Tuck Collection. For inspirational gifts, books, and music don't pass up the Fortress this holiday season.

First Colonial Bank Northwest builds new bank

First Colonial Bank Northwest will move into its new bank building in Wheeling by mid-December, according to bank President John A. Benson.

The bank will be located at the intersection on Hintz and Wheeling roads in a new plaza to be known as the First Colonial Commons. Mayes-Vostal Architects of Glen Ellyn designed the bank and construction began on the facility in May.

Covering 7,000 square feet, the new facility will feature six interior teller windows, an investment center with full-service brokerage capabilities and a complete range of retail and commercial banking services. In addition, the bank will offer five drive-through lanes, a walk-up Cash Station, automated teller machine and a night depository.

In addition to the bank, First Colonial Commons will contain 13 stores and offices, each covering 1,000 square feet. The property is being developed by Prudential Realty Co., Inc. of Lincolnwood on a 2.5-acre site. Arete 3 Architects of New Lenox designed the plaza.

First Colonial Bank Northwest has two additional locations at 8500 W. Dempster St. and at Dempster Street and Greenwood Avenue in the Dempster Plaza, both locations are in Niles.

First Colonial Bank Northwest is a member of First Colonial Bankshares Corporation (NASDAQ/FCOLA) a $1-billion-asset bank holding company, which owns 10 banks with 14 locations in the Chicago area. First Colonial Bankshares also operates several non-bank subsidiaries, including Mid-States Financial Corp., a commercial leasing firm; First Colonial Trust Company and First Colonial Mortgage Corporation.

Oakton wins Energy Management Award

An Energy Management Award was presented to Oakton Community College by the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources for reducing electrical energy consumption by eight percent in 1987 compared to 1986. "In 1986 we consumed 6,860,375 kilowatt hours to light, heat, cool and operate the building. In 1987 we reduced that amount to 6,354,842," said David E. Hilquist, vice president for Business and Finance, who praised the diligent efforts of Se Yuen Moy, director of Facilities and his staff.

Affiliated Banc Group promotion

Kyle L. M. Olund, 29, has been promoted to marketing officer for the Affiliated Banc Group, Inc., it was announced today by company Chairman Marvin E. Neland.

Previously, Olund was marketing analyst and office manager. Prior to joining the bank group she was a research assistant with the research firm Booz, Allen & Hamilton.

Ms. Olund received her bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University and successfully completed the Bank Marketing Association's Essentials of Bank Marketing certification program.

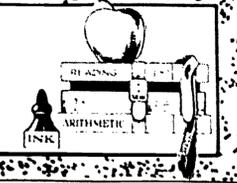

We couldn't leave without visiting two stores owned by two of the most charming European gentlemen this side of the Atlantic - Robert and Edward DelGau, owners of EUROPEAN IMPORTS I & II. Their lives and occupations are dedicated to art and beauty. Employees at both stores love the atmosphere, and it reflects in the grace and caring that provide customers. The warmth and cheer of the holidays sparkled as bright as the works of art and crystal that cover every inch of European Imports I, Imports II, the all-year Christmas store, captures the esthetic and enchanting side of the holidays in a way that shines brighter than the twinkling lights they sell and feels warmer than a toasty fire. The DelGau family extends another German holiday greeting, "Froliche Weihnachten or Merry Christmas."

Enjoy your holiday shopping. HAPPY CHANNUKAH AND SEASONS GREETINGS TO YOU, OUR READERS AND FRIENDS. Until next time see you at the mall.

Regina prepares women for 21st century

New leadership, a model curriculum, and several major physical improvements are highlights at Regina Dominican High School, now in its thirty-first year at 701 Locust Road, Wilmette.

"Regina's mission is to prepare women for the important roles they will have in the twenty-first century," said Sister Patricia Downey, O.P., newly appointed president of Regina. From 1978-87, Sister Patricia was assistant superintendent for teacher development in the Diocese of Joliet. In that post, she directed in-service education for teachers, curriculum planning, and personnel.

"Planning is essential," she emphasized. "We must constantly project ten years ahead."

Physical improvements that prepare Regina students for the world beyond the year 2000 include a science laboratory renovated with funding from the Brach Foundation and a newly computerized business department.

In addition to the up-to-date facilities, Regina offers a solid curriculum consisting of 160 course selections. Graduation requirements generally exceed the basic curriculum recently recommended by former U.S. Educational Secretary William Bennett.

Only about 15 percent of the nation's high schools offer solid liberal arts programs like the one described in Bennett's landmark report.

"Across the board, our students take more than our minimum requirement," said Sister Sarah Cavanaugh, O.P., principal. "Most of our students take three and even four years of math and science."

"And Regina students do not have to worry about social implications of taking such courses as they would in a coed school, where math and science tend to be viewed as male subjects," she said.

Regina students must take four years of English, including a unit on word processing. Many take four, rather than the required three years of social studies.

Most Regina students also take four years of a foreign language, including Latin, French, Spanish and German. French and Spanish are offered at level five to challenge the most advanced students.

In addition, Regina students are required to take four years of theology. Church history, a junior requirement; ethics, a junior elective; and senior philosophy electives could be classified as social science, philosophy, or theology.

Advanced placement and college credit is available in 12 subject areas.

The eighth grade placement test will be at 8 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 14. Interested junior high school students may arrange to spend a day experiencing a typical day at Regina by calling Liz Livingston at 256-7660.

State announces transportation reimbursement program

All District 207 parents have been notified that they may be eligible to receive up to $50 per child for providing transportation to and from school because of hazardous conditions or for distances greater than one and one-half miles from school. The reimbursement will be made by the State of Illinois, according to State Superintendent Ted Sanders.

To qualify for the reimbursement, students must be under the age of 21 at the close of the school year and be enrolled full-time in grades kindergarten through twelve. To verify a safety hazard, parents should obtain a request form from the Regional Superintendent of School and complete and return the form to that office by February 1, 1989.

Reimbursement claim forms for the 1988-89 school year will be available at Maine East, Maine South, and Maine West after February 1, 1989. For further information about the reimbursement program, call (217) 782-5630.

Faculty promotions at Oakton

Seventeen faculty members were recently promoted in rank at Oakton Community College. Promotions were based on their Professional Advancement Units earned through a variety of professional activities, including instructional service, publication, exhibits or performances, presentations to and/or active involvement in professional organizations; community service; advanced degrees or courses completed after hiring; and service on college committees.

Faculty members who were promoted from an associate professor to a professor are: Bonnie Agnew of Winnetka, Mary Sextro Black of Des Plaines, John Danca of Elmhurst, Cheryl McKinley of Chicago, Helen Ward Page of Evanston, Michele Reznick of Deerfield and Sandra Wittman of years of English, including a unit on word processing. Many take four, rather than the required three years of social studies.

years of English, including a unit on word processing. Many take four, rather than the required three years of social studies.

Most Regina students also take four years of a foreign language, including Latin, French, Spanish and German. French and Spanish are offered at level five to challenge the most advanced students.

In addition, Regina students are required to take four years of theology. Church history, a junior requirement; ethics, a junior elective; and senior philosophy electives could be classified as social science, philosophy, or theology.

Advanced placement and college credit is available in 12 subject areas.

The eighth grade placement test will be at 8 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 14. Interested junior high school students may arrange to spend a day experiencing a typical day at Regina by calling Liz Livingston at 256-7660.

Mundelein's Weekend College: It's hard work, but worth it!

You can complete a college degree and accelerate your career...even if you work full time and have family responsibilities. It will take commitment and hard work on your part in a program designed especially for adult students. A program like Mundelein's Weekend College. It's hard work, but it's worth it!

The Weekend College was one of the first in the country to offer a degree program that is self-contained on the weekends. Many colleges and universities offer evening and weekend classes. At Mundelein, Weekend College students have the benefit of a complete academic program. They have the opportunity to prepare for career advancement or enhancement, earn a bachelor's degree, or pursue a personal interest in the liberal arts.

The program capitalizes on the self-discipline, motivation and life experience of adult learners, and balances classroom contact with individual study.

Back in the 70's, a group of innovative Mundelein faculty met to discuss the needs of a growing population of college students-working adults. The traditional night school did not seem to be meeting many of the needs of these students.

In April of 1974, a group of faculty had the rare opportunity to create a program for adults from scratch. Dr. Mary Griffin, English; William F. Hill, Religious Studies; Sister Mary DeCock, B.V.M., Religious Studies; Dr. Michael Fortune, English; David Orr, History; and Dr. Daniel Villanecourt, Philosophy, began to formulate what would become the country's

Fraternities pledges

Millikin University student Frederick Braun of Niles and Bill Birk of Northbrook pledged social fraternities during Interfraternity Council rush.

Braun, a freshman communication major, pledged Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. He is a son of Frederick and Joanne Braun, 8219 Merrill, Niles, and a 1988 graduate of Maine East High School.

Birk, a freshman studying a commercial music curriculum, pledged Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity. He is a son of Terry and Patricia Birk, 3036 Oxford, Northbrook, and a 1988 graduate of Glenbrook North High School.

John Crane Company employees will donate blood at a company-sponsored drive on Monday, Dec. 12 from 6:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at company offices, 6400 Oakton St., Morton Grove. Blood drive chairperson Cindy Majkovic endorses employee participation in this holiday blood drive.

first Weekend College in Residence. The process began with a dream and the question, "If we were designing the ideal curriculum for adults, what would we choose?" The resulting Weekend program was the dream come true.

The faculty designed a curriculum that was more than simply the movement of day classes into a weekend time slot. The program enables adult students to earn the same quality degree as traditional weekday programs. Yet it provides sufficient time for inclass participation, as well as the time needed by busy adults to complete assignments. The current weekend schedule of three and one-half hour class meetings, five times per term responds to the unique needs of the adult student.

Adults move and communicate within a variety of spheres—personal, community, business. They also carry a myriad of life experiences that can enhance the interchange of ideas in the classroom.

The faculty determined that the Weekend College curriculum be interdisciplinary and that classes be participatory rather than in lecture format. Four concentrations were designed: Personal Universe, Community Life, Business and Management World, and English/Communications.

Mundelein also offers an accelerated alternative program for completing a business administration major. Students may attend two-week institutes in February and August on Mundelein's campus, earning up to nine credit hours in each institute. It is possible to complete a business major in the Institute while fulfilling prerequisites and other requirements for degree completion, either in the Weekend College or at a community college.

Weekend College opened its doors with 98 students in the fall of 1974. One year later it had grown to 400 students. Fourteen years later, Mundelein's Weekend College is considered the prototype for weekend programs and is the largest, most comprehensive program of its kind in the Midwest. Twelve majors are offered that can be completed entirely within the weekend format. We invite you to learn how you can take advantage of this unique program.

St. John Lutheran School receives grant

St. John Lutheran School in Niles will strengthen its elementary education program with the help of a $500 AAL grant. The grant has been awarded as part of an $850,000 AAL program designed to benefit Lutheran elementary education. AAL is a national organization which provides a wide variety of benefits, including insurance and volunteer opportunities, to Lutherans and their families. AAL has given $7.4 million in support to Lutheran elementary schools over the past five years. James M. Hohnbaum, principal of St. John Lutheran School, 7429 Milwaukee Ave., is developing a plan for how the $500 AAL grant will be used, based on guidelines set by church officials. The school is affiliated with the Illinois-North District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. AAL General Agent Howard Wahlfeld, Arlington Heights, serves the territory which includes St. John Lutheran School.

According to Barbara Kuxhaus, manager of the AAL grant program, "AAL chooses to fund organizations which we feel are doing a worthwhile service. Lutheran elementary schools are the basis of the Lutheran educational system and are therefore vital to it. Children gain so much by attending a Lutheran school." Total enrollment at Lutheran elementary schools is approximately 201,000. Each of the 1,511 Lutheran elementary programs across the country received an AAL grant totaling $500. In addition, the national church bodies of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod (LCMS), Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) and Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod (WELS) were awarded AAL funds to provide training and consultant services to the schools. That brings total AAL contributions from this program along to $850,000. Schools affiliated with the LCMS will use their funds for in-service programs on the subjects of discipline, communication, and current educational trends, or for participation in a national new principal workshop. The four-day workshop, sponsored by the national church body with AAL funds, is scheduled for July 1989. The seminar is for Lutheran elementary school principals with five years or less of administrative experience. A Lutheran school administrators manual, which was developed previously with AAL funding, will be used during the workshop. The LCMS theme for 1989 is

"Year of the Lutheran School". Kuxhaus said, "We decided to precede this theme year with the grant to LCMS schools so they could use the funds to sponsor special activities." ELCA schools will use their AAL grants for activities related to financial planning and financial resources for Lutheran schools. The national church body will provide the schools with consultant services and develop a manual on funding and resources for Lutheran schools. WELS elementary programs will use their funds to strengthen the role of principals and board of education, and to participate in in-service programs for faculty and in district-wide seminars. The national church body will use its AAL grant to sponsor the two-day seminars for its 12 districts. The AAL support is being provided as a 1988 special emphasis through provisions of AAL's church and education benefits program. The programs provide financial assistance to Lutheran Church bodies, Lutheran educational institutions and other Lutheran agencies on behalf of AAL members. "Through this program, we are able to provide grants to grass roots organizations which are otherwise not eligible for AAL grant funds," Kuxhaus noted. AAL distributes more than 18.9 million to Lutheran churches and institutions annually. AAL, headquartered in Appleton, Wisconsin, is the nation's largest fraternal benefit society in terms of assets and ordinary life insurance.

Association Reaffirms Forest School Accreditation

Forest School, a comprehensive kindergarten through 12th grade academic program accommodating Forest Hospital patients, has had its accreditation reaffirmed by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. With a student-teacher ratio of 8 to 1, the on-site Forest School program helps students pursue their academic studies in a therapeutic environment, with emphasis on individualized instruction. According to Beth Dalton, principal, the Forest School can accommodate up to 125 students. All teachers are certified in their subject areas or hold specialties in social/emotional disorders, learning disabilities, educable mentally handicapped education, elementary education, and secondary education. Located at 555 Wilson Lane, Des Plaines, Forest Hospital is a fully accredited, 170-bed private psychiatric hospital offering substance abuse and other treatment programs for children, adolescents, and adults suffering from mental and emotional disorders.

Oakton offers short-term courses in the spring

Oakton Community College is offering express courses in accounting, bank administration, certified professional secretary, data processing, English, marketing, office systems technology, physical education and real estate in the spring semester beginning the week of January 17. Courses are offered days, evenings, and weekends, and range from 4-10 weeks. They cover the same material as regular 16-week courses and offer full college credit. The Office Systems Technology Department is offering five-week courses in basic, intermediate, and advanced word processing, desk-top publishing, advanced typewriting, and machine transcription. Four, five, eight, and 10-week data processing courses are offered in basic and advanced spreadsheeting, data base applications, and microcomputer operating systems. Additional accelerated courses in real estate transactions, real estate finance, contracts, and conveyances, introduction to business, fundamentals of banking, basic speech for non-native speakers, college reading, study skills, and fitness also are offered. Students can register by using the touch-tone telephone registration system (635-1616) or in person in the Student Services Office at Oakton's campuses in Des Plaines and Skokie. For registration information, call 635-1700 (Des Plaines) or 635-1400 (Skokie).

Maine East Speech Team

When someone says "speech team", what do you think of? "Four score and seven years ago..." or "I have a dream..." If this is what you thought, you're partly right, but the speech team at Maine East is much more. Speech team is an interscholastic competition consisting of 12 different events. The events are broken down into two categories—five public speaking events and seven dramatic events. The five public speaking events include oratorical declamation (OD), original oration (OO), special occasion speaking (SOS), radio speaking, and extemp. The seven dramatic events are verse, prose, original comedy (OC), dramatic interpretation (DI), dramatic duet acting (DDA), humorous interpretation (HI), and humorous duet acting (HDA). In a meet there are usually three preliminary rounds where each student gets up and performs a speech or act in their event. They are then judged per round and ranked from 1 to 6, 1 being the highest. After everyone has performed, the ranks are tabulated and the top six from each event competes in a final round to determine the winners. Returning speech team members include Ken Alpert of Des Plaines, Alan Berks of Morton Grove, Jade Distajo of Morton Grove, Steve Futterman of Des Plaines, Matt Guerrieri of Niles, Maya Lara of Des Plaines, John Lobo of Des Plaines, Chris McLaughlin of Park Ridge and Amy of Sliva of Park Ridge. This year's coaches are Mr. David Jeffers, fine arts department chairman and Mr. Roger Kleinfeld, speech/drama teacher.

Loyola honored for accreditation
Loyola Academy recently was awarded a special certificate signifying 75 years of accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. In congratulating Loyola Headmaster Bernard Boulllette, Dr. John S. Kemp, Illinois State Director of the NCA, said "75 years of NCA accreditation is an honor of which everyone in the school and the community can be proud. The school has made a long-term commitment to offering a quality educational program to the young people of this community." Founded in 1896, the NCA today includes 7,000 secondary, elementary schools, colleges, and universities in 19 states in a joint effort for educational improvement. Celebrating its 80th year in education, Loyola Academy first opened its doors in 1909 and received accreditation in 1913, just nine years after the first line of accredited schools was published. Loyola is among 100 Illinois high schools who have been accredited for 75 years.

St. Scholastica student receives award

Ann Marie Kor, a senior at St. Scholastica High School, has received the 1988 MidAmerica Leadership Foundation Student Leadership Award. The award is given to students who demonstrate a strong commitment to community service and strong academic credentials. Since coming to the United States from Cambodia in 1979, Ann has overcome the hardships of being a refugee from her homeland. In nine years she has been able to complete eleven years of schooling with honors. She is actively involved with the Cambodian refugee community in Chicago as an interpreter and a tutor. At St. Scholastica, Ann is involved in French, Spanish, and Business Clubs. She participates in school fund raising activities, and is a Math tutor. She also is a Candy Stripper at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston. Pictured with Ann are Sr. Patricia Crowley OSB from the Howard Area Community Center and Ms. Scobie, a St. Scholastica Teacher.

Loyola displays traditional Christmas tree

"Oh Tannenbaum, Oh Tannenbaum, how lovely are your branches?" To show just how lovely the branches can be, Loyola University of Chicago's D'Arcy Gallery will display its traditional Christmas tree and highlight permanent pieces related to Christmas, throughout the month of December. The revolving tree stands from floor to ceiling in the D'Arcy Gallery in the Cudahy Library, at the Lake Shore Campus, 625 N. Sheridan Rd. A group from the gallery decorates the tree, under the direction of Donald Rowe, S.J., director, D'Arcy Gallery, using a collection of lights and hand-made ornaments. Mrs. G.A. Stromberg, a Rogers Park resident, and Rowe's aunt makes the individual ornaments using different types of silk, ribbon, beads, and other decorations. There also are about 1,000 tiny, strung lights which together with more than 800 ornaments, almost completely cover the tree. Around the tree and throughout the gallery, poinsettias, paintings, sculptures, and decorative pieces of art related to Christmas and the nativity complete the exhibit. To enhance the festive atmosphere, traditional Christmas music, from the Renaissance through the present will be playing continually. The display has been an annual event since 1969 when Rowe first decorated the tree in the newly opened D'Arcy Gallery, which had only one painting. The gallery is open Monday through Friday, 12-4 p.m. The exhibit is free and open to the public. For more information about the exhibit and/or group tours, please call Patricia Sides at (312) 506-2679.

Oakton registration with touch-tone

When Niles resident Kirsten Hack discovered the touch-tone telephone registration system at Oakton Community College, her reaction was instant. "Gee, this is so convenient. If it's this easy, why do people come to campus to register?" Working part-time in the College's Student Services Office, Hack has seen the hectic pace during late registration-long lines, frustrated customers and a lot of paperwork.

START THE YEAR WITH A NEW CAREER

A state approved real estate pre licensing school will be held at ERA Callero & Catino Realty, 7800 Milwaukee, Niles. Classes start January 9, meeting on Monday and Wednesday evening for 5 weeks. This is the course required to take the state licensing exam. A scholarship program is available.

"I saw a touch-tone registration brochure in my office. I read it and understood all the instructions which were clear and simple. I thought to myself, 'I can't believe anyone would register any other way.'"

It was almost by chance that Hack, a new full-time student at Oakton, used the system for the first time last summer.

"I went to pick up my mom who works in the Registration and Records Office at Oakton's Skokie campus. I wanted to register for fall courses, and I was going to ask her to help me. But she was busy helping students, so I went through the Oakton Report, worked out my schedule, got on the phone and registered for four courses. It was very easy.

The touch-tone registration line, popularly known as "the line you don't have to stand in," was introduced in the fall of 1986. Between January 1, 1988 and September 5, 1988, the system handled over 21,100 calls. Forty percent of the students who registered for the fall term did so by telephone.

"What really amazed me was that in one call I was able to register, find out my class schedule, and note the tuition and its due date. I later decided to drop one course, and I did that over the phone, too. It was kind of fun doing it by myself," said Hack.

A science major, Hack said that she has helped many students who did not know about touch-tone registration.

"Sometimes students come to my office and complain about the long lines. When I tell them about touch-tone, many are surprised. Some are afraid to use it for the first time, so I show them how to do it. Once they find out how easy it is, they are so happy and say they would use it again."

Hack added that she has suggested touch-tone registration to many business people who cannot come to Oakton during registration hours.

"I give them information over the phone, and they call from their office or home. A couple of people came to my office later to thank me for suggesting touch-tone registration. I even had a friend who called from Canada, where he was vacationing, and he registered over the phone. It worked."

The touch-tone system is open 60 hours per week for people who have applications on file. Students can now register for spring courses which will begin the week of January 17. The telephone operation hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays; 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays; and 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. To use the touch-tone line, call 635-1616. Registration begins for Elmhurst College classes

Registration for Spring Term Evening Session classes at Elmhurst College began Nov. 28 with classes scheduled to start Saturday, Jan. 28, 1989.

The Evening Session, which was established in 1951, provides educational opportunities primarily for the working adult.

Undergraduate degrees are offered in 24 majors during the Evening Session. The majority of the 1,300 evening students are completing a degree in professional and preprofessional majors such as business administration, computer science, education and R.N. degree completion. Second degree students and non-degree students who are upgrading career skills comprise the remainder of the Evening Session student body.

Part-time, year-round study is available through accelerated terms during the month of January and in the summer, as well as the traditional fall and spring semesters.

Courses are offered on the Elmhurst College campus from 5-10 p.m. through the week and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Evening courses are also available at several off-campus locations. Rolling Meadows High School, located approximately one mile east of I-290 and the Woodfield Shopping Center, is the northwest suburban off-campus site. The College of DuPage is Glen Ellyn serves as the west suburban off-campus site. Glenbrook South High School in Glenview and Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge are the north suburban sites, and Christ Hospital at Medical Center in Oak Lawn serves as the off-campus location in the south suburban area.

Information seminars for Elmhurst Management program

Information seminars about Elmhurst College's Elmhurst Management Program (EMP) are held periodically throughout the Chicago metropolitan area.

Seminars are free of charge and open to anyone interested in learning more about EMP. They allow interested individuals the opportunity to view the curriculum, admission prerequisites and procedures, graduation requirements and other material pertinent to the program.

The Elmhurst Management Program is a specially-designed format of the business major at Elmhurst College. Focusing on the academic needs of the business professional, EMP offers the business major through an accelerated practitioner-oriented curriculum.

Enrollment in EMP is contingent upon the completion of 12 courses (48 semester hours) of transferable college credit to include four prerequisites: Financial Accounting, Microeconomics, and either Analysis for Business and Social Science or College Algebra or Calculus.

Additional information about the Elmhurst Management Program and TRACK I may be obtained by calling 617-3030 or 279-4100.

The office is open 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Elmhurst is a four-year, independent college affiliated with the United Church of Christ. Founded in 1871, the College offers more than 50 major areas of study in 21 academic departments.

The college is conveniently located 16 miles west of downtown Chicago and six miles southwest of O'Hare International Airport.

North Central College Oakton receives grant

North Central College has moved into the spotlight on higher education with leading colleges and universities in a national news magazine's annual rating of "America's Best Colleges."

U.S. News & World Report ranked North Central 19th among small comprehensive colleges, those institutions with an enrollment of 1,500 to 2,500 students, in its 1988 rankings of top institutions.

Colleges and universities were ranked on the basis of statistical analyses which measured the institution's selectivity of students, the strength of its faculty and teaching, resources available to support its educational programs and its ability to see its entering freshmen through to graduation.

During the last decade North Central's enrollment has more than doubled from 1,111 to 2,343 students, and the number of traditional, 18-22-year-old undergraduates has climbed from 918 to 1,242. The average score for new freshmen on the ACT college entrance examination has increased from 22.2 to 23.5 (the average among Illinois' 1988 high school graduates was 18.9). And the College has introduced three graduate programs.

This fall, enrollment climbed to 2,343 students, including 319 new freshmen from 13 states and four foreign countries. Among these freshmen are a National Merit Scholar, 18 valedictorians or salutatorians of their high school graduating classes, and 114 Presidential Scholars - students who scored a minimum of 26 on the ACT examination and who ranked in the top 20 percent of their graduating classes.

North Central College was founded in 1861 as one of the first coeducational colleges in the Midwest. It was one of the first colleges to be accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, and that accreditation has been continuous since 1914. The college is related to The United Methodist Church.

Oakton receives grant

An equipment grant was awarded to Oakton Community College by the Society of Manufacturing Engineering (SME) Education Foundation. The award, a PMX Microcomputer Software, manufactured by PMX, Inc., will be used to teach Oakton's computer-aided design and computer-aided manufacturing (CAD/CAM) courses. The estimated value of the software is $19,095.00.

Oakton is the only community college among the 13 higher education institutions chosen for the PMX Inc. XL/NC software award this year. The SME Foundation grants are awarded each year to support developments in manufacturing technology and productivity, and to further manufacturing engineering as an education discipline. Since its inception in 1979, the SME Educational Foundation has awarded nearly $4 million in cash grants and over $1.5 million in-kind equipment gifts to 29 schools.

Oakton vice president gives workshop

Dr. Margaret B. Lee (Wilmette), vice president for Curriculum and Instruction at Oakton Community College, was one of the major presenters at the second annual Deans' Academy sponsored by the presidents of the Council of North Central Community and Junior Colleges. Lee presented a workshop session, "Leadership and Partnership: What Every Dean Can Learn from Mike Ditka, T.S. Elliot and Tom Peters," attended by 67 deans from the North Central region.

The purpose of the 1988 Deans' Academy in Santa Fe, New Mexico, was to provide leadership development for chief academic officers in community colleges in the 19 state regions of the North Central Association of colleges and schools.

Rush North Shore to hold "Back School"

Rush North Shore Medical Center's "Back School", a four-part series conducted by the physical therapy department, will be held from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, Dec. 12, 14, 19, and 21, in the fifth-floor lounge.

Presented by licensed physical therapists, the classes will teach participants how to prevent and minimize back problems by practicing proper posture and body mechanics, and by using specific exercises and relaxation techniques.

Cost of the series is $45. Registration is requested by Friday, Dec. 9. To register, call the physical therapy department at 677-9600, Ext. 3664.

Mundelein College announced the election of Lee Francis Flaherty, David Powell and John T. Trutter to its board of trustees at the College's annual board of trustees meeting.

Lee Francis Flaherty founded Flair Communications Agency. Twenty-four years after its inception, the promotion/marketing agency is the largest national full-service agency, with offices in New York, Detroit, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Flaherty also founded the Old Style Marathon, ranked internationally as the fastest in America.

David Powell comes to Mundelein with broad-based management experience in the international travel business. As vice president of the Central Region/Travel Division for American Express Travel Related Services Co. Inc., Powell oversees all aspects of the travel business, including retail, wholesale, business travel, franchising and general management.

John T. Trutter established in 1965 and is president of his own firm, The John T. Trutter Co., Inc., urban consultants. He also is president of the Chicago Tourism Council, Inc. and Chancellor of the Lincoln Academy of Illinois. Trutter was presented the Outstanding Civic Leader Award of 1979 by the Chicago Chapter of the American Society of Fund Raisers. He is co-author of "Handling Barriers in Communications," and a history of Illinois, "The Governor Takes a Bride."

Also at the annual meeting, Mundelein College trustee Wayne Fickinger of Winnetka was elected vice chairman of the board. Fickinger is vice chairman of Benzell, Jacobs, Kenyon and Eckhardt, one of the ten largest ad agencies in Chicago.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Which major-college football bowl game was once suddenly moved 2,500 miles from its permanent site? The Rose Bowl game of Jan. 1, 1942, scheduled as usual for Pasadena, Calif., was quickly moved all the way across the country, to Durham, N.C., because World War II had just started in the Pacific and officials didn't want large crowds on the West Coast. In that Rose Bowl game, Oregon State beat Duke 20-16.

A player named Larry Ball set an unusual record in the National Football League. One year he played for a team that never lost a game, and then he played for a team that never won a game! Ball, a linebacker, played for Miami the year they went 17-0. Then he played for Tampa Bay the year they went 0-14.

Here's an oddity from college football bowl games. One year, the Orange played in the Gator Bowl while the Gators played in the Orange Bowl. It happened following the 1966 season. The Syracuse Orange played in the Gator Bowl, while the Florida Gators played in the Orange Bowl.

OLR students in track meet

Our Lady of Ransom School, Niles, participated in the Oct. 6 Holy Cross High School Cross Country Track Meet held at Schiller Woods. The OLR boys' team took first place overall and the girls' team came in second place behind Roosevelt Jr. High by one point. In the girl's division there were 113 runners. Daniela Baldo (Niles) came in 4th place; Daneen Fitzpatrick (Park Ridge), 6th; Gina Anichini (Park Ridge), 11th; Katy Michal (Niles), 13th; and Erika Beil (Niles), 14th. In the boy's division there were 187 runners. Michael Komo (Niles) finished in 3rd place; Joshua Wiegand (Park Ridge), 7th; Jim Kettleton (Niles), 10th; Bernard Shim (Niles), 18th; Tom Udzelak (Niles), 21st; and Frank Conciardi (Niles), 22nd. Other team members were: Alex Mitchell, William Glinka, Stephen Roth and David Zawadzki - all of Des Plaines; Ryan Medinah, Tommy Schmitz, Jason Malarsik, Bernadette Gil, John Boyd, Michael Remijan, Sam Amirante, Steve Henkel, Ken and Brad Golojuch - all of Park Ridge; and Brian Moore, Jenny Levar, Steven Sica, John Dragan, Sam Ort, Terri O'Neill, Matt Blalok, Rennie Torres, Annabelle Apostol, Teresa Kockanek, Brian Beaulieu, Romeo, Rommel and R.J. De La Cruz, Paul Kotz, Paul La Sosa, Mark and Brian Staunton, and Joey Dadvias - all of Niles. The teams were coached by Karen Foley, physical education teacher.

District 219 Prep offers wrestling

A youth wrestling program for boys in grades five through eight will be offered by District 219 PREP (Program for Recreational Education Participants) from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays from December 13 through March 9. The Indian Wrestling Club will offer instruction and a competitive situation to help boys acquire a feeling of physical competence and self-confidence. Tournaments and dual meets will be held or attended almost every weekend.

The course will be taught by Mark Valenzia, Niles West JV Wrestling Coach, at Niles West Oakton Street at Edens Expressway. The fee for the program is $60, and registration deadline is Friday, December 30. For information or registration forms, call Donna Olsen at Niles Township High Schools, 673-6822, Ext. 3131.

AU Soccer Letter recipient

Pat Anelli, a 1988 graduate of Maine West High School, recently received his first varsity letter for playing on the 1988 Aurora University soccer team this fall. A 5-7, 155-pound freshman, Anelli played as a starting forward for second-year coach Chris Shinn. Aurora finished its season with a 6-11-2 record. Anelli is the son of Michelle Anelli of Des Plaines.

Mite House League

The Hawks held a 2 to 0 lead after one period and 2 to 1 after two periods while getting fine goal tending from John Lubinski as they looked like a winner going into period three. However, the Blues offense went to work as the Hawks let up a little and scored 4 unanswered goals. The Hawks tried to rally back with a late third period tally to set up a nail-biting finish with the Blues hanging on for a 4 to 3 victory.

The Hawks Brendan Dalton led all scorers with 2 goals while teammate Gino Ori had 1 goal and 1 assist and Phillip Kalas earned his first assist. Ricky Lupinski, Anthony Pontillo and Blair Halton also gave outstanding efforts.

Four different Blues scored one goal each, Sean Rowe, Kevin Switella, Joey Patterson and Chris Kozloski who scored what proved to be the game winner. Todd Markos added an assist and Nicky Hynes came up with some game saving saves after a shaky start.

New Mental Health unit director

Mary Ann Martinovsky was appointed recently to the position of director of the Adult Mental Health Program soon to open at Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California. Ms. Martinovsky most recently served as director of the mental health program at Grant Hospital. She is a registered nurse and has a master's degree in business administration from DePaul University. The new Adult Mental Health unit, scheduled to open in November, will be able to accommodate 37 patients. A team approach will be utilized in patient treatment wherein the expertise of a number of appropriate healthcare professionals under the direction of a psychiatrist will develop an individualized treatment for each patient.

Mount Sinai offers diabetes tests during November

As many as five million Americans have diabetes and are completely unaware of it. It can result in blindness, loss of limbs, and is the third leading cause of death by disease in the United States. Luckily, diabetes is easily diagnosed and is treatable. During the month of November, "Diabetes Detection Month," Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center and Mount Sinai Hospital North in conjunction with the American Diabetes Association will offer free diabetes detection tests at several sites throughout the city. The test is a simple, short procedure. Many people are unaware that they are diabetic because they do not experience recognizable symptoms. Those considered at a high risk for the disease are overweight, more than forty years of age, or a blood relative of a diabetic. Anyone interested in this free test can call MedPhone, Mount Sinai's Physician Referral Number at 650-6565, to set up an appointment for the screening at a convenient location.

Forest Hospital hosts AIDS lecture

Forest Hospital and Foundation will sponsor "Neuropsychiatric Aspects of AIDS," presented by Katie A. Busch, M.D., on Wednesday, December 14, in the Novic Auditorium of the Forest Hospital Professional Building, 555 Wilson Lane, Des Plaines, Ill. Part of Forest Hospital's 1988-89 Scientific Lecture Series focusing on difficult life cycle transitions, the program will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. for students and professionals in the health field. Dr. Busch is Assistant Professor at Rush Medical College, Rush-Presbyterian-St. Lukes Medical Center, Department of Psychiatry, and Assistant Director of Education and Training, a member of the AIDS Care Committee and Project AIDS, she has authored and co-authored numerous articles on the subject. The lecture will familiarize professionals with psychiatric symptoms and syndromes frequently found at the various stages of AIDS illnesses. Dr. Busch also will address specific patient treatment and management problems. Fee for the program, which is accredited for Continuing Medical Education, is $20 ($8 for students). Reservations are requested. To register or for further information, please call 635-4100, Ext. 363.

Holy Family appoints new CFO

Holy Family Health Care System, Inc., Des Plaines, recently announced that Emil F. Poprawski has been appointed treasurer and chief financial officer. An Elk Grove Village resident, Poprawski has worked at Holy Family for nearly nine years. He was previously the corporate vice president and controller.

Two health care providers join to provide psych services

Rush North Shore Medical Center and CPC Old Orchard Hospital both in Skokie, have signed an agreement in principle for Rush North Shore to lease 55 existing beds at CPC Counterpoint to house the adult inpatient psychiatric program currently located at Sheridan Road Hospital of Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago. The announcement was made jointly by Peter W. Butler, president of Rush North Shore Medical Center, and Phil Donahue, administrator of CPC Old Orchard Hospital. Old Orchard Hospital is known for quality child and adolescent psychiatric care as well as some adult psychiatric services. Transferring of 55 adult psychiatric beds and trained staff enables Rush North Shore to provide services primarily for adult patients, many of whom have associated medical conditions. The agreement joins the strengths of both health care facilities on one campus at Gross Point and Golf rds.) and brings to the North Shore communities comprehensive, quality psychiatric services for children and adults," said Mr. Donahue. Rush North Shore will apply to the Illinois Health Facilities planning board for a certificate of need to transfer the 55 beds to the CPC Counterpoint Center which was completed in October of 1987. The nationally recognized dissociative disorders unit, which was recently featured on Channel 5 news, will be part of Rush North Shore's psychiatric services. Mr. Butler explains. Under the direction of Bennett Braun, M.D., the unit is the only specialty unit in the country designed specifically for treatment of patients with multiple personality disorder or severe psychiatric trauma. "This creative joint venture between Rush North Shore Medical Center and CPC Old Orchard Hospital is an example of health care providers joining strengths to deliver cost effective, quality care, while at the same time eliminating duplication of services," Mr. Butler reports. Rush North Shore Medical Center (formerly Skokie Valley Hospital) has been affiliated with Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center since August of 1987. CPC Old Orchard Hospital and CPC Counterpoint Center are owned by Community Psychiatric Centers of California.

Niles Garden Club enters exhibit

For the first time the Niles Garden Club has entered a beautifully decorated Christmas tree in the annual holiday exhibit at the Chicago Botanic Gardens. While garden clubs of Kenilworth, Barrington, Glencoe and other northwest suburban cities have been a part of this program for many years, this tree represents Niles' first endeavor.

The Garden Club committee led by Doris Downs and Bunny and Joe Ferraro decorated the Niles tree on Tuesday, November 29. The trees will be on exhibit until January 3, 1989. "Our ornaments were all handmade," noted Doris "and beautiful," added Bunny. The tree and skirt are decorated in red and gold. Lee Alges noted that while this was the first endeavor of the club, as the club grows in members, "We can take on more Niles projects."

John Halversen, director of Niles Family Service, stated that since his children were very young, "we made a trip to see the trees a family event. Now we meet the married kids and their spouses up there after church on a Sunday, tour the trees and have coffee and the best croissants in town."

The Garden Club members hope a large number of Niles residents will view all the trees and the doll house exhibit set up for the holiday. But as Joe Ferraro noted, "come see the Niles tree, first!"

The next meeting of the Niles Garden Club will be in January, 1989.

New OCC building...

to changes made in the area. These people desire openness and honesty from their neighbor, a community college, when it comes to changes in the environment that could possibly add to future flooding.

It just happened that Oakton received a citation from the Illinois Department of Transportation last May 2. They neglected to get a permit to clean refuse that should never have been dumped in their northwest field to begin with. The Administration knew about the citation and at least some of the dumping but neglected to tell our elected officials, the Board. The Board also had no idea the field was to be used as an athletic field although some of the administrators did.

It took an "outside community agitator" that lives across the street in the Big Bend area named Charles Tilley to inform Board members of the citation. Another letter sent to Oakton from IDOT official David Boyce, Chief of Flood Plain Management, also cited the landfill in the northwest field "as an inappropriate use of the floodway as defined by the state." Tilley came armed not only with the citation but brought sidekicks along to pack the room. It was a Who's Who of victims from two previous floods. Their purpose: to plead with Oakton not to build the new building because it would take away land needed for water storage and absorption during flooding. Des Plaines Alderman Nick Chiropolos was present armed with 300 signatures protesting the building. Other "rabble-rousers" included John Nitz and members of the Des Plaines Citizens' Flood Protection Organization. It was a night of surprises for the board—first the citation, then all these strangers from the community. The former chairman of the Oakton Board responded to their pleas by saying, "It's never too late to change considerations."

Unfortunately Bill Grams, executive director of the NWMC, wasn't there to hear some of the horror stories these flood victims had to tell. Grams has some very definite ideas about how to deal with flood problems. September 23, 1987, after the first flood, Grams told another local paper, "Local officials can be relied on to make these decisions with the good of everyone in mind. I have yet to see an example of a community knowingly leading to others being flooded."

Oakton called a second meeting that month for August 23 to present facts and definitions on the differences between a flood plain, a way, and a fringe? Assurances were given by Barton-Aschman engineer Dave Gannett that everything was legal at Oakton Campus. This was the first the Board heard of plans for the athletic field during Gannett's presentation.

Barton-Aschman's theories were not comforting to the flood victims in attendance. According to hydraulic engineers, you take away a little water storage and add it somewhere else in the vicinity. The water will know where it's supposed to go. A newspaper editorial of August 25, 1988 indicated they were not totally convinced of these theories either. "Local officials say it is all right to build in the flood plain as long as there is compensatory storage, but experience shows this is specious reasoning. Development in the flood plain must be stopped. Municipalities must be made aware that what they do causes a ripple effect down the rest of the river."

The Nitz family, the Tilleys, and many other flood victims were less than thrilled with the amount of help they received from the City of Des Plaines during last year's flooding. They are disappointed that their Mayor, John Seltz, isn't speaking louder for them against this new building on the Oakton Campus. Mayor Seltz wears many hats and is caught in the middle. He is president of the NWMC and a teacher at Oakton.

You would also think that, with your mayor president of an organization like the NWMC, someone would be sensitive enough to the flood problem to make very, very sure this new building would not contribute to further flood problems. But that's not the way it's working out.

Nitz's organization wrote Seltz a letter strongly protesting the "Great Wall". Park Ridge, another member of the NWMC built a wall on Dempster to keep the flood water out of Park Ridge and make it stay in Des Plaines. They were allowed to construct the wall because Dempster is considered the end of the flood fringe.

John Nitz is confused about community colleges, the spirit of cooperation he has failed to see on the part of the NWMC members, and how the water is supposed to know its not supposed to overflow past Dempster.

Speaking of the northwest field clean-up, Joan Hall is confused because it is frequently referred to as an area that would give the college an excess of 33,000 cubic yards of extra water storage. Hall brought up the point that this is not extra. The Oakton building would have never been built in the first place without that 33,000 cubic yards available when the initial permit was issued to build the schools.

The Tilleys are confused about the word "community" and what that means in the title "Oakton Community College". After paddling to Rand Road in a canoe for five weeks, eating Red Cross meals, and having their entire basement flood past the first floor, they find it hard to believe the kind words spoken by Oakton when the Board assured them they (the school) would be good neighbors.

The Oakton Board approved a downscale version of a new building for NWMC by a 6-1 vote at their October meeting. Joan Hall cast the only no vote. The evening before, the Des Plaines City Council voted unanimously to protest the building. The Board was fully aware of this at the time of the vote.

Des Plaines Flood Prevention Organization sent Mayor John Seltz a letter dated October 24, 1988 requesting "the City of Des Plaines withhold its functional and financial support from Oakton College and the NWMC for ignoring them."

The grassroots members of the area of District 535 in Des Plaines are not impressed with what they see as a total lack of caring on the part of Oakton and the NWMC. Few residents of the District attend Board meetings like we do as a reporter. As a reporter, it was an interesting story. As a taxpayer, we felt no concern coming from Oakton about our wishes or opinions on this matter while attending the meetings. Next spring there will be vacancies on the Board at Oakton. We hope we get Board members elected that have no qualms about asking questions—especially questions dealing with any project being a justified expenditure of the taxpayer's money. Perhaps then, we will feel less ignored and feel more like Oakton and NWMC are looking out for our best interests.

Lincolnwood mayor's reelection committee named

Attorney and long time Lincolnwood homeowner Anthony J. Pauletto has been named chairman of Lincolnwood Mayor Frank Chulay's re-election committee.

"Tony brings to our team a calm, reasoned understanding of local government and this administration's accomplishments and goals," Chulay said. "He will play a key role in bringing our message to all Lincolnwood residents."

Pauletto has been a member of the Lincolnwood Zoning Board since he was named to the post by former Mayor John Porcelli in 1984.

In accepting chairmanship of Chulay's re-election campaign, Pauletto said the campaign "will inform the public of the progress the administration has made in the last four years in an effort to keep property taxes low and the quality of life high."

"Frank Chulay makes tough decisions when he has to," Pauletto said. "He bases his opinions on what's best for all the people of Lincolnwood—not a vocal few. He has been an able and competent administrator who gets things done."

Appointments of other major volunteer positions in the mayor's campaign organization, Citizens to Re-Elect Mayor Chulay, will be announced in the next few weeks, Pauletto said.

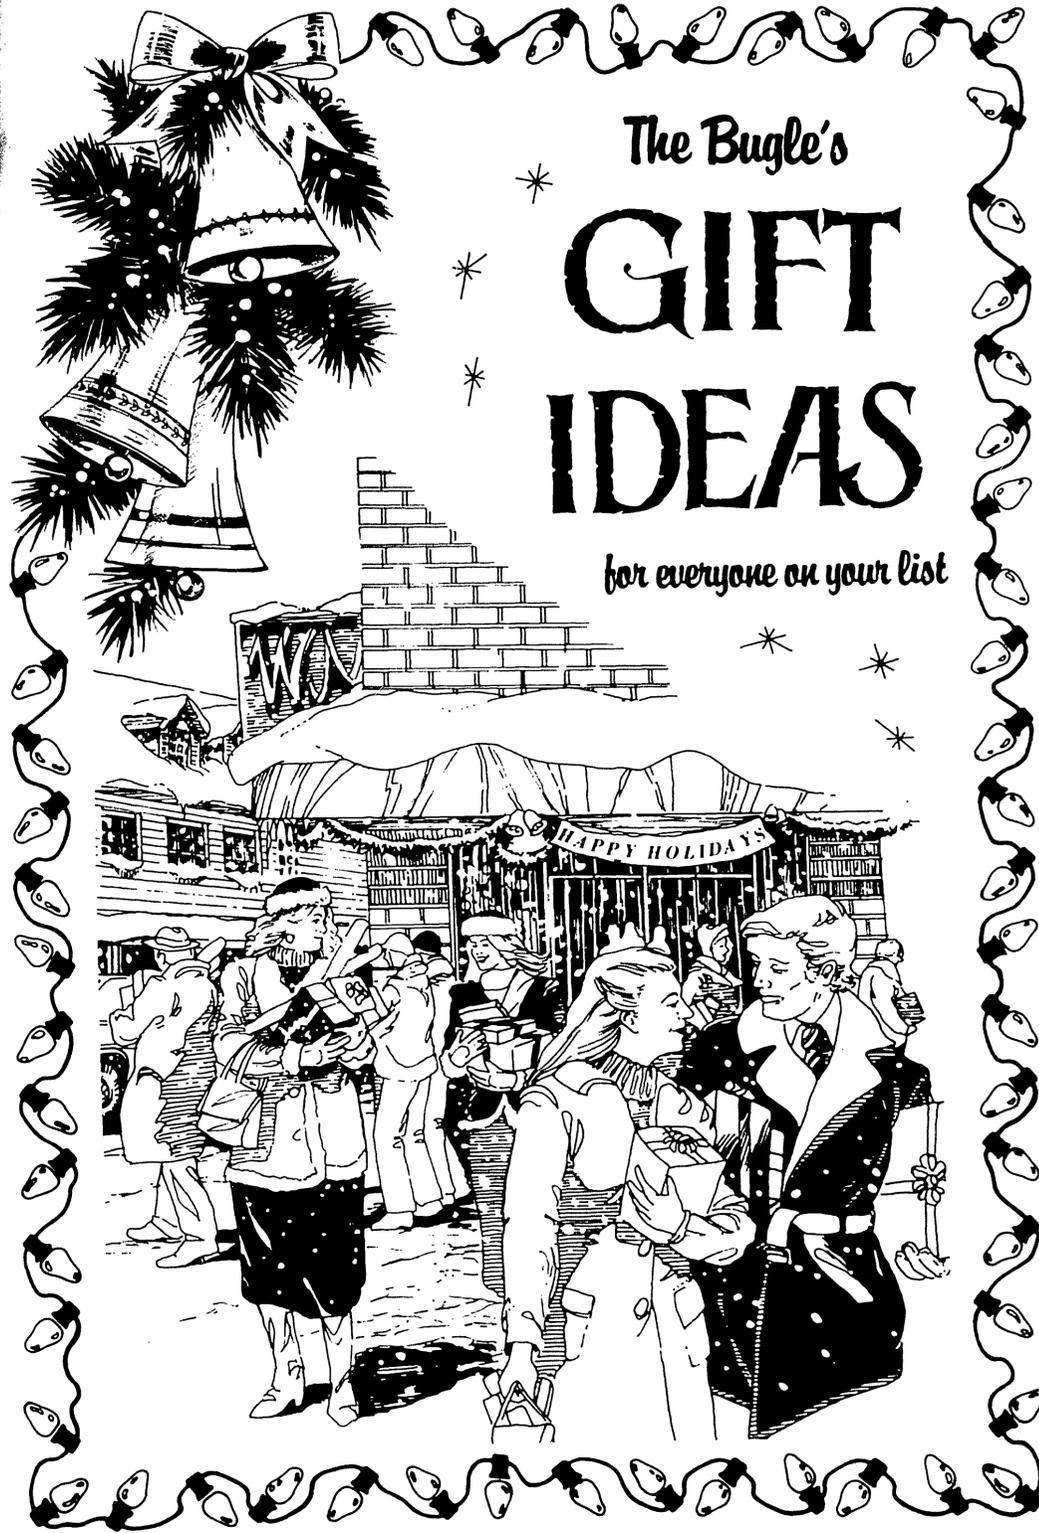

Pauletto received an undergraduate degree in business administration in 1967 from the University of Illinois, where he also earned his law degree in 1969.

He served with the artillery and in the Judge Advocate's office of the U.S. Army from 1959 to 1965.

Pauletto and his wife, Patricia, Lincolnwood homeowners since 1974, have two children, Suzanne, 21, and Michael, 19.

Images of Sound Christmas

The Images of Sound present their 23rd annual Christmas Show. CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS at First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, 1903 E. Euclid, at 8 p.m., Monday, December 19. The Images of Sound, a performing company of singers and instrumentalists entertain throughout the northwest suburbs. Under the able direction of Pat Ferguson of Arlington

Hts., this professional quality company offers a wide variety of musical styles to please all ages. As in the past, this year's Christmas program promises to deliver an array of Christmas songs - some traditional, some new - that will add to the magic of the season. Bringing their special vocal talents to the program will be soloists Sue Fankboner of Mt. Prospect and Jo Seller of Arlington Hts. Joan Riffner of Hoffman Estates and Barbara Milka of Mt. Prospect will lead the group in a fun-filled Christmas gift rap. Of course, Santa will be on hand to make sure everyone is "rockin'" around the Christmas Tree. The group's holiday roster this year includes performances at Friendship Village in Schaumburg, St. Raymond's Women's Club in Mt. Prospect, Rolling Meadows Golden Years Council, and the Senior Citizens Directors of Dupage and Cook Counties at the Drury Lane Grand Ballroom in Oakbrook. Tickets for the Christmas Show are $3 and can be purchased at the door. Please Phone Eloise Brittain, 394-3033, for further information.

Special holiday events planned

Maine Township Seniors can celebrate the holidays at one of two special December luncheons featuring seasonal musical favorites by the Maine West Chorales and a visit from Santa with a sleigh full of gifts for lucky winners.

Seniors can choose one of two "Happy Holiday" luncheons to be held at 1 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 11, at Brigante's Banquets, 2640 Dempster, and noon Wednesday, Dec. 11, at Brigante's Banquets. Cost of the luncheons is $7 for members. Due to the popularity of this luncheon, reservations are limited to members only. Participants are requested to share the holiday spirit by bringing canned goods or nonperishable items for food baskets for the needy.

Seniors are also invited to share "The Magic of Christmas" at a special show by the Osmond Family Saturday, Dec. 17, at the Holiday Star Theater in Merrillville, Indiana. The 4 p.m. performance, starring Marie Osmond, the Osmond Brothers, and the Osmond Boys, will be preceded by a fried chicken lunch at the popular Tiebel's Restaurant.

Buses will leave at 1 p.m. from the Farmer's Market parking lot at Lee and Perry, Des Plaines, and return about 7 p.m.

Cost of the trip including deluxe transportation, show, and dinner is $32 per member. Guest reservations at $37 will be accepted on a space-available basis.

The Seniors' regular monthly Bingo party will be held at noon Wednesday, Dec. 7, at the Des Plaines Leisure Center, 2222 Birch St. Sweet rolls and coffee will be served. A 50-cent fee will be collected at the door.

Senior citizens, regardless of whether they are members of the Maine Township Seniors, may enroll in the "Rules of the Road" refresher course offered at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Dec. 19, at the Des Plaines Senior Center, 1040 Thacker St. To reserve a place, call 298-0111. More than 2,000 residents are enrolled in the Maine Township Seniors. Most activities are limited to members and new members are always welcome. Applicants must be 65 or older and provide proof of residency. To receive a membership application and obtain reservation information, call Sue Neuschel or Helen Jung at the Maine Township Town Hall, 297-2510.

Santa Mailbox

Santa Claus will be picking up his mail at the Niles Park District Recreation Center, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave., on Friday, December 16. If you would like to write Santa at the Recreation Center, be sure to include your return address, so Santa can write you back.

For more information call, 624-8860.

Holiday helpers aid needy

Pitching in to pack holiday food baskets for needy residents are Maine Township officials (l-r) Clerk Stephen J. Stolton, Trustee Robert C. Williams, Collector Gary K. Warner, Supervisor Paul K. Halverson, Trustee Anita Rifkind, and Assessor Thomas E. Rueckert. Maine Township distributed nearly 100 food baskets for Thanksgiving, leaving its cupboard nearly bare. Officials are issuing a plea for donations from individuals, organizations, schools, scouts and churches to help make Christmas a little brighter for needy residents. Canned goods, other nonperishable items, grocery store gift certificates, frozen turkeys, canned hams and new toys may be brought to the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge (between Potter and Greenwood) from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

Peterson Ave., Chicago. The program will include Bach's Cantata for Advent #61, Haydn's Missa Brevis St. Joannis de Deo, and selected Christmas music, concluding with a Carol sing-a-long. Tickets for the Christmas Concert are $5 - Advance Sale / $6 - At the Door / or $3 - with the contribution of one coat to the Montay College Christmas Coat Drive.

Old Orchard Center is located at Skokie Boulevard and Old Orchard Road, just east of Edens Expressway in Skokie, Illinois. To order tickets, or for more information, contact Sister Mary Alphonsetta, Director of Fine Arts at Montay College - 539-1919.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

"Et Tu?" asks Maxene Kotin, Lincolnwood (second from left) as Santa Claus Lines up at Pro-Pak, packing and shipping specialists celebrating their tenth year at 527 Dundee Rd., Northbrook. Whether it is antique silver candleabras with fancy edges or a piece of art brought in by Dorothy

Lucia Pageant at North Park College

North Park College, Chicago, will present the tenth annual Swedish Christmas Festival and Lucia Pageant at 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, December 10 and 11 in the College Chapel, Foster (530 N.) and Kedzie (3200 W.) Avenues. The community is invited to the program, sponsored by the North Park College Swedish Club.

The program will include group singing of Christmas carols, Swedish and English scripture readings of the Annunciation, short talks about Christmas in Sweden and in Swedish-America, special music and the Lucia Pageant. Refreshments will be served following the program. For more information, call 563-2700, Ext. 4332.

This year's Lucia is Louise Delken, a senior business communications major from Northfield, N and a 1986 graduate of New Trier High School. Delken, a Swedish citizen, was born in Stockholm, Sweden and speaks Swedish fluently. She is the daughter of Birgitta and Sven Delken, and has a twin sister Helena, who is an international relations major at Loyola University.

Christmas Concert at St. John Lutheran

St. John Lutheran Church, 7429 Milwaukee Ave., in Niles will hold its annual Christmas Concert on Wednesday, December 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will feature the Adult Choir, Women's Sextet, and children from grades 1-8 from St. John Lutheran School.

The evening will begin with a choral procession by the Adult Choir. The congregation will join in singing "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," "Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus," and "Joy to the World." At the conclusion of the medley, Rev. Thomas K. Stoebig will have an opening meditation.

The concert will then continue with Advent and Christmas selections being sung by the choral groups, with meditations spoken by Pastor Stoebig after the various pieces are sung. The concert first focuses on an Advent theme, looking forward to the coming of the Christ-Child. It will then move to a Christmas theme, celebrating the birth of Jesus.

This year's program will include selections by the band students of the day school. Their director is Mr. Bruce Volkert.

Mrs. Karen Gallagher will direct the Adult Choir, Sextet, and grades 5-8 from St. John School. The 1st and 2nd grades will be directed by Miss Arlene Meyer, and grades 3 and 4 by Miss Deb Meyer.

The community is invited to attend this joyous celebration!

Niles Elementary PTA hosts "A Christmas Carol"

On Thursday, December 15, the Niles Elementary PTA Cultural Arts Program is pleased to present Charles Dickens' classic "A Christmas Carol," performed by the Unicorn Theatre Company of Dixon, Illinois.

In the three years since its inception, Unicorn Theatre Company has grown into an organization recognized throughout Northern Illinois as being dedicated to presenting quality live theatre productions to adults and children alike. Theatre Company feels the live theatre experience has been somewhat neglected for young people. In an effort to remedy that situation, it has been expanded from its beginnings as a community based theatre company to a nationally known touring troupe that brings live theatre to young people within the school setting. Unicorn's "A Christmas Carol" is a 40 minute dramatic presentation beautifully costumed in 19th century finery to thrill children of all ages with the tale of Ebenezer Scrooge (the miser who thought of Christmas "humbug") only to learn otherwise through a mysterious late-night visit by Scrooge's late business partner Jacob Marley, and the ghosts of Christmas Past, Present and Future.)

Performances are scheduled as follows: Culver Elementary at 10 a.m. and Niles Elementary South at 1 p.m.

Hopefully, this will present a truly unique and most exciting new entertainment.

Lincoln Jr. High plans winter concert

Lincoln Jr. High School's traditional "Winter Concert" will be presented on Thursday, December 15, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Parents of all sixth, seventh and eighth grade participants in this annual assembly are invited to attend.

Holiday Party for SHARES

A holiday party has been planned for the SHARES meeting being held on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. in the Anderson Pavilion of Swedish Covenant Hospital, 2751 W. Winona. The Lakeside Flutes will provide the musical entertainment for the evening.

A wide variety of songs, including such holiday favorites as "Sing Noel" and "Light the Candles", along with Tchaikovsky's "Song of Winter" and "An Evening in Paris" will be featured. District 69 Band Director Darryn Obrecht, Lincoln Jr.'s Choral Music Director Christine Turney and the district's String Instrument Instructor Gerastim Warutian have planned the program, which will be presented again on Friday, December 16 for Lincoln Jr. High students not involved in the school's music program.

SHARES is a support group for those who care for an elderly person in their home. The meetings are free and open to all appropriate persons. Counselors from the hospital staff serve as moderators. For more information contact Kate Moran, social service department, 878-8200, X5284.

'Holiday Care & Share' Drive!

This holiday season, the Northwest Real Estate Board has embarked upon its first annual "Holiday Care & Share" Drive, a program in which NWREB member-offices will act as local drop-off points to gather cash contributions, as well as canned goods and non-perishable foods, winter outdoorwear clothing, and toys in safe and working condition.

The holiday donation program is now in effect and will last through Wednesday, December 21. Neighbors who wish to donate cash, canned goods, non-perishable foods, winter outdoorwear clothing, or toys in safe and working condition should visit either their local NWREB member-office displaying a red-white-and-green "Holiday Care & Share" window poster or the NWREB administrative headquarters, located at 8965 W. Belmont Ave. in Chicago. Additional information regarding "Holiday Care & Share" is available by calling NWREB HQs at 637-8200.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

Examine home fire hazards during holidays

With Thanksgiving, the first of the winter holidays completed, homeowners should examine the fire hazards attendant the holidays in December - Chanukah, Christmas and New Year's Eve.

Slate Fire Marshal Thomas Bestudik warns, "On these festive occasions, with the joy and excitement, and religious significance and hope, we must take time to identify fire hazards and examine fire safety practices, with emphasis on established, reviewed and practiced exit plans so that if a fire starts, everyone has an opportunity to flee to safety."

"As far as Christmas is concerned, the tree is usually the central focus, especially for children," Bestudik said. "However, we offer a few recommendations for parents: WINTER holidays - Chanukah (December 4), Christmas (December 25) and New Year's Eve (December 31) - are being celebrated by fires as they are being celebrated with happiness and abandon. These dangers need not exist if relatively simple precautions are observed. Among the precautions for every celebration would be the following:

Be sure all exits are clear. Provide large ashtrays. Dispose of smoking materials in covered metal waste containers. Don't dump matches, pipe debris or cigarette and cigar butts in trash - smoldering smoking materials can cause paper to burst into flames later.

Establish and practice a procedure to follow in the event of fire. Be sure your babysitter knows and understands emergency procedures. Install and/or check smoke detectors. (They make excellent gifts for loved ones.) Other holidays have dangers created by the special date. Some of these are:

Chanukah (December 4): Be sure candles are firmly set in the menorah and on a non-flammable surface, away from greeting cards.

Parents should be present during the candle-lighting ceremony; the child should receive the lighting candle already lit and the child should place the lighting candle firmly upright in the menorah.

Christmas (December 25): Natural trees should be fresh, not dyed green. The needles should be supple and bend, not snap; when bumped on the ground, only a few needles, not a rain, should fall. The cut end should be sticky from sap.

Set the tree in water, after cutting off about an inch of the tree to assure water absorption. Use a non-tip stand and guy-wires for stability; keep the tree away from candles, TV sets, fireplaces, open flames and heat vents. Do not crawl under or around the tree for any reason. Indoor lighting sets should not be used outdoors. Outdoor lights, extension cords and fixtures should be testing-agency approved.

Use only flame-retardant or noncombustible materials. Do not use untreated cotton batting, flocking, tissue paper or flammable foam plastics on or around the tree. Keep gift wrapping and electric trains away from the tree.

New Year's Eve is an occasion to celebrate, among other things, the completion of another fire-free year and to resolve to make 1989 an even safer year. Bestudik suggested.

"Have a happy and safe New Year," he said.

Replace worn insulation, loose bulb sockets and broken plugs. Be sure all lighting sets are testing-agency approved.

Be sure decorative lights are away from combustible materials. Do not use candles or open flame near a tree. Do not use candles in decorations or displays.

Make sure all decorative lights are turned off before going out or to bed. Provide a switch for controlling the lights away from the tree; do no crawl under or around the tree for any reason.

Indoor lighting sets should not be used outdoors. Outdoor lights, extension cords and fixtures should be testing-agency approved.

Use only flame-retardant or noncombustible materials. Do not use untreated cotton batting, flocking, tissue paper or flammable foam plastics on or around the tree. Keep gift wrapping and electric trains away from the tree.

Visit the colorful and scenic towns of Italy from historic Rome and Pompeii to magnificent Venice in travel film, "Wonders of Italy," at 8 p.m. Wednesday, December 14, at the Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter Roads, Park Ridge. Sponsored by the Oakton College MONNACEP program, the film will take viewers to such exciting places as Capri, the Dolomite areas of the Alps, resort towns of Cortina and Auronzo. You will continue the journey to Milan where you will visit famous cathedrals and the LaScala Theatre, and to Florence, Siena and Assisi. You will explore the island of Sicily which offers the port city of Messina, Syracuse and Agrigento with their spectacular Greek amphitheatres and temples, and Mount Etna. Tickets are $4.75. In district residents age 60 and over pay $2.50. For information, call 982-9888.

Klezmer band comes to Skokie

Named for Chicago's old Jewish mercantile center, Maxwell Street Klezmer Band brings its entertaining revivals of Yiddish and other old-time Jewish folk music to the Skokie Public Library for a last-day-of-Hanukkah performance on Sunday, December 11 at 3 p.m. Klezmer music was transplanted from Europe to America in the early 1900s and has enjoyed a recent resurgence in popularity. Maxwell Street Klezmer Band infuses its performances with top-tapping enthusiasm for these folk, dance and theatre selections. This program is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. Admission is free. Free tickets are distributed one-half hour before the performance on a first-come, first-served basis. The library is located at 5215 Oakton St. in Skokie. For further information, call the library at 673-7774.

Auditions for Man of La Mancha

Semi-Classical Players announces that it will hold auditions for its production of "Man of La Mancha" on Tuesday and Wednesday January 3 and 4 between 7:30 and 10 p.m. Callbacks are scheduled for Thursday, January 5. Auditions and performances are at Forestview Educational Center, 2121 South Goebbert, Arlington Heights. Performance dates are Friday through Sunday, March 10 to 12 and 17 to 19. Friday and Saturday performances will be held at 8 p.m., and Sunday performances will be held at 2:30 p.m. Producer, and founder of Semi-Classical Players, Nick Greanus states that all roles are open. Persons auditioning may prepare any musical number from any show. An accompanist will be provided. There will be readings from the script. For further audition information, call Nick Greanus at 699-7191.

"Sing Noel!" concert

The Northwest Choral Society announces their "Sing Noel!" holiday concert to be performed Sunday, December 11, 1988, at 4 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 418 Touhy Ave., Park Ridge. Featured in the program will be beautiful carols of different backgrounds—American Indian, Appalachian, Spirituals, and Madrigals as well as new arrangements of favorite traditional tunes. Accompaniment will include brass, handbells, and Celeste Rue at the piano. Tickets for the concert are $7 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens. Tickets may be obtained at the door or at Scharringhausen Pharmacy in Park Ridge. Season tickets for the 3-concert season may also be obtained if requested before the concert date. Phone 823-7320 for further information.

is a non-profit community organization which has been performing both classical and popular music for the northwest suburbs for over 23 years. It is directed by John Melcher.

Musical opens at Jewish Theatre

"I Can Get It For You Wholesale", musical, will open in its Chicago professional premiere at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 12, at the National Jewish Theater (NJT) in Skokie. Set in New York's garment district in the 1950's, the story traces a young Jewish man's reckless and selfish quest for success. The masterful writing of Jerome Weidman coupled with the moving lyrics of Harold Rome creates a world in the middle of a hustling, bustling, New York, where all that glitters is not necessarily gold. "Wholesale" highlights the struggles with which many Jews were faced while pursuing the "American Dream", with a stunning mixture of humor and honesty. A noteworthy feature of this show is that it gave the vital boost to the career of Barbara Streisand, whose singing of "Miss Marmelstein" was the talk of New York during the run of "Wholesale".

Cast members are Ross Lehman, Sharon Carlson, Bernie Beck, Dennis Cochrum, Kathryn Jaeck, Mary Jo Licata, Iris Lieberman and Jim Ortlieb. Memorable songs will highlight this extremely talented cast. The show is being directed by William Payne with Kingsley Day, musical director; Michael Sokoloff, choreographer; Jim Dardene, set designer; Jessica Hahn, costume designer; and Rita Pietrzak, lighting designer. Following the opening on Monday, Dec. 12, performances are scheduled through January 15, 1989. All NJT productions are performed in English. Curtain times are Wednesday, Thursday, and Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., Saturdays, at 8:15 p.m., and Sundays at 2 p.m. Tickets are $14 and $18. Visa and MasterCard are welcome. For ticket and further information, call the NJT Box Office, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m. at 675-5070. NJT is located at 5050 W. Church Street in Skokie.

Coin Collector's Show

The next date for the Chicago Coin Bourse will be held at the Learning Tower YMCA, 6300 Touhy, on Sunday, Dec. 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free and there is ample free parking. Eighteen experts will have exhibits on display and will be available to appraise and identify any coins, medals, tokens or paper money presented. All persons interested in coin collecting are cordially invited to attend.

I Can Get It For You Wholesale

"I Can Get It For You Wholesale", an award-winning musical, opens its Chicago professional premiere at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, December 12, at the National Jewish Theater (NJT) in Skokie. A star-studded cast has been announced by NJT's Artistic Director Sheldon Patinkin. Cast members are Ross Lehman, Sharon Carlson, Bernie Beck, Dennis Cochrum, Kathryn Jaeck, Mary Jo Licata, Iris Lieberman and Jim Ortlieb. Memorable songs will highlight this extremely talented cast. Jerome Weidman adapted the script from his own novel. Music and lyrics are by Harold Rome.

The story traces a garment worker's attempt to "make it" amid the chaos of the Big Apple's garment district in the 1950's. Performances are scheduled through January 15, 1989. All NJT productions are performed in English. Curtain times are Wednesday, Thursday, and Sunday at 7:30 p.m., Saturdays at 8:15 p.m., and Sundays at 2 p.m. Tickets are $14 and $18. Visa and MasterCard are welcome. For tickets and further information, call the NJT Box Office, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at 675-5070. NJT is located at 5050 W. Church St. in Skokie.

Young Musicians Perform at Skokie Public Library

On December 4 at 3 p.m., the Skokie Public Library in association with Savings of America continues its seventh season of Young Steinway concerts, featuring gifted young musicians of Illinois. Eva Huang, piano and Aaron R. Lockwood, violin will perform. Fourteen-year old Eva Huang was a finalist in the 1987 Illinois Young Performers Competition. She has been a winner in the Paul Federal Musical Arts Association International Competition and the Society of American Musicians Competition. She is a freshman at Glenbrook North High School. Twelve-year old Aaron R. Lockwood's musical career began at the age of four when he was selected as one of Betty Haug's Suzuki Traveling Performers Group. This led to a tour of Europe and performances on the Good Morning America television program and at Carnegie Hall. From age nine he entered and won awards in the St. Paul Federal Musical Arts Association International Competition and the Society of American Musicians Competition. He has played at Cantigny twice. Aaron is in the sixth grade at J. Edgar Hoover School. Support from Savings of America enables the library to offer the concerts free of charge. Free tickets will be distributed one-half hour before the performance, on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, call the library at 673-7774. The library is located at 5215 Oakton in Skokie.

"Songs of the Season"

Long-time Chicago favorite Bonnie Koloc Sings "Songs of the Season" in a special holiday program at the Old Town School of Folk Music, Sun., Dec. 18 at 5 p.m. Along with John Prine and Steve Goodman in the early 70's, Koloc became one of the top singer-songwriters performing at Chicago's legendary Earl of Old Town. Known for her enormous range and crystalline voice, she can caress a song with calm earthenness or infect it with gusty exuberance, making each song uniquely her own. Tickets to Bonnie Koloc Sings "Songs of the Season" are $12 general admission, $10 members, $5 seniors and children and are available at the Old Town School of Folk Music, through all Ticketron locations and from Teletron by calling 853-3636. For more information, call the Old Town School at 525-7793.

Attention: Theater-goers

In June of 1962 and March of 1964, a production of George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" directed by Robert Breen played in Chicago. The Lawrence and Lee Theatre Research Institute has a special collections library of The Ohio State University, requests that people who either witnessed this production of "Porgy and Bess" or interacted with the cast and crew relay their experiences to the Institute so that these items may be preserved and made permanently available for the use of scholars of theatre history. Please contact: Lisa Gordon Wetzig, Research Associate, The Lawrence and Lee Theatre Research Institute, 1430 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus OH, 43210-1230.

Bass violinist performs for the hearing impaired

Bass violinist Jeff Bradetich will perform a concert of holiday music for the hearing impaired Saturday, Dec. 17, in the auditorium of the Skokie Public Library, 5215 Oakton St., at 1 p.m. The concert will be the finale of the library's "Deaf Heritage and Achievement Week," being celebrated from December 11-17. The bass violin's low register and clarity of tone makes it possible for people with varying degrees of hearing loss to enjoy the music. Bradetich, a nationally acclaimed virtuoso, will perform selections from his records "Christmas for All to Hear" and, recently released, "Broadway for All to Hear." Both recordings are especially arranged and acoustically prepared for the hearing impaired. Produced by Evanston-based Easy Hearing Music, Inc., they are available at record stores on LPs, cassette tapes or CDs. Bradetich will be accompanied by pianist Judi Rocky Bradetich. There is no admission fee. For more information call the Skokie Public Library at 673-7774.

Chicago Symphony Holiday Concerts

Orchestra Hall will be decked out in its holiday finery for two special non-subscription concerts in December. On Saturday, December 17 at 8 the Chicago Symphony Chorus and Founder/Director Margaret Hillis will join three other Chicago choirs for an annual festival of holiday songs to benefit the Margaret Hillis Fellowship Fund. Joining the Chorus on stage will be the Chicago Children's Choir conducted by Keith Hampton, the Glen Ellyn Children's Chorus conducted by Lucy Ding, and the Con Steuben Concert Choir conducted by Kenneth Lennan. At the end of the concert, the audience is invited to chime in during a whole-hall sing-along of favorite Christmas carols.

On Thursday, December 22 at 7 Christopher Hogwood will lead the Handel and Haydn Society chorus and orchestra in a performance of Handel's celebrated oratorio Messiah. It was the Boston-based Handel and Haydn Society that presented the Messiah in 1818, and in 1854 the Society began performing the work annually. This season marks the ensemble's 150th annual performance and the first year they will perform the work on period instruments of the 19th century. Soloists include Sharon Baker, soprano; Carolyn Watkinson, mezzo-soprano; Stanford Olsen, tenor; and David Thomas, bass.

Tickets for both concerts are available at the Orchestra Hall Box Office, 220 S. Michigan Ave., or by calling PhoneCharge at (312) 435-6666.

Food Industry honors Fluky's Restaurants

For the second consecutive year, Fluky's has been selected by members of the food industry as winner of the Silver Platter Award for the "Best Hot Dog Establishment in Chicago". More than 3,000 restaurant owners participated in the poll conducted by Food Service Publishing Company, publishers of Food Industry News.

More than 500 persons attended a dinner (Nov. 16) at the Fountain Blue in Des Plaines where honors were presented in 10 different food categories. As hot dogs are synonymous with sports, former Black Hawks star Stan Mikita was chosen to present the Silver Platter Award to Fluky's president Jack Drexler.

In accepting, Drexler commented that the Award is especially significant for a number of reasons.

"We're about to celebrate our 60th anniversary in 1989, and our second consecutive Silver Platter Award is especially gratifying since the honor is the result of polling by our peers...our fellow restaurateurs. My dad, Abe, the Founder of Fluky's, would have been proud of our accomplishments," Drexler noted.

Fluky's Hot Dog Restaurants are located in Chicago, 6821 N. Western (at Pratt); Niles, 9645 N. Milwaukee (at Greenwood) and Northbrook, 3061 W. Dundee (at Landwehr).

"Androcles and the Lion"

Niles West High School Children's Theatre will delight area children with performances of "Androcles and the Lion" at 1:15 p.m. Sat., Dec. 17 in the school's auditorium, Oakton St. at Edens Expressway. Special performances will be held for students in local elementary schools at 10 a.m. Thurs. and Fri., Dec. 15 and 16.

Opera discussion

Vend's four-act opera "Aida" is next on the series schedule of the free Lyric Opera Corp Lectures at the Lincolnwood Library, Mon., Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. Thomas Morgan, a member of the Corps, is the discussion leader. The Lincolnwood Library is located at 4000 W. Pratt Ave.

Auditions for "California Suite"

The Devonshire Playhouse, 4400 Grove, Skokie, is seeking actors ages 22-55 for the Neil Simon comedy "California Suite". There are 10 roles available. Audition dates are Dec. 12-13, 7 p.m. For an audition appointment call 674-1500.

UNI dance scholarship auditions

Northeastern Illinois University's Department of Music will hold auditions for dance talent scholarship Tues., Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the university's A-wing, 5500 N. St. Louis Ave. in Chicago. Interested dancers should prepare a two-minute audition piece and bring music on cassette tape, appropriate shoes and clothing.

Past recipients of dance talent scholarships will give a recital prior to the auditions Thurs., Dec. 8 at 12:45 p.m. and Fri., Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the university's auditorium. Guest artists Venetia Suffer & Concert Dance, Inc., and Dame Libby Komalko Fleming, artistic director of Ensemble Espanol, Northeastern's in-residence Spanish dance company, will be dancing with the group.

Admission is $1. For more information, call 583-4050, Ext. 3010.

Giordano jazz dance workshop

Learn the basic movement and style of Giordano jazz dance from members of the internationally-famous Gus Giordano Jazz Dance Chicago in a special workshop at Oakton Community College beginning January 23. The 16-week session will be held from 10:30 a.m. to noon on Mondays at the College, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines.

During the first half of the workshop, students will learn basic jazz techniques, including stretches, piles, isolations and short jazz combinations. The second half will focus on faster movement and more sophisticated compositions.

The fee for the workshop is $120. Enrollment is limited, so early registration is encouraged. Registration is accepted in the Board of Student Affairs Office, room 1507. For information, call 635-1900 or 635-1870.

driven with drivers who drive eight or nine year old cars which have 300,000 miles registered on their odometers. The cabbies tell us they're religious about changing the oil in their cars. When we ask if they've had transmission troubles they mention they change the transmission oil periodically. They imply this protects them from such problems. Few auto drivers make this change

In this week's Reader newspaper, psychoanalyst Dr. Jeffrey Masson has written a book, "Against Therapy", which detracts from the practice of psychoanalysis. His opinions are significant because of his noted background in psychology. Four years ago he caused a stir in his professional community with his book. Since he has been the archivist for Sigmund Freud's papers, he is a respected scholar. His comments, which disturbed his colleagues, included "anonymous surveys reported 10% of male therapists admit to having some kind of sexual contact with woman clients.

In the Reader article the interviewer reported "in a survey of 11,000 13 to 16 year olds, two in five girls and one in four boys 'seriously thought' about suicide. One girl in five and one boy in ten had attempted suicide."

The interviewer reported psychiatry books still in use contend one in a million girls have been victims of incest when "the truth is one in four" is closer to the truth. Masson writes male psychologists and males in general have a vested interest in hiding these figures. The implication is the abuse comes from fathers and relatives of the girls.

More gleanings from our readings: This week's New Yorker magazine has a thoughtful article on the corporate mergers taking place in the country. It reports the Times (New York) is asking the question whether these leverage buyout mergers have gone too far and are threatening the economic health of our country.

The question has been asked before but previous mergers have been done with cash.

These new mergers are financed with enormous debt. The amount of money borrowed for deals has almost doubled the last year to a record hundred and sixty-four billion dollars. Since the 1960's, the corporate debt has doubled going from 30% of corporate worth in the United States to 56%. Defenders of takeovers and mergers contend companies must be run with greater efficiency because of this debt. However, a company must have a long period of prosperity and keep the cash flowing, and there are indications the economy is slowing down.

The tax laws allow the companies to deduct the interest on the loans or debts which means they often pay no taxes and avoid reducing the accumulated American deficit which is now two trillion six hundred billion dollars.

When Americans are uncertain about the future they tend to save money. When they feel confident, the rate of savings drops off noticeably. During the Reagan years the American rate of savings, measured as a percentage of the national income, has fallen to the lowest level in modern history keeping interest rates artificially high.

It is agreed the two basic ways of sustaining economic vigor is by reducing the deficit and increasing the rate of productivity. But increasing productivity requires decisions essentially opposite of takeover decisions: it requires making long-term investments (research, new plants, equipment) but the relatively high interest has helped discourage expansion. By financing deals with substantial debt, executives add pressure on corporations to produce quick profits instead of lasting gains.

As for the deficit, it's almost going to be twenty percent larger in the next fiscal year than was projected only three months ago. That will further reduce the country's economic and other needs.

During the past eight years the United States has gone from the world's foremost creditor to its largest debtor. It is these problems which appear to make our future economy much less rosy than leaders of companies making these deals predict.

Niles victim... Property assessment appeal forms available

Mount Prospect driver was admitted to Glenbrook Hospital in fair condition. The driver of the car in which the young Niles woman was riding was treated and released.

Bond for the Mt. Prospect driver was set at $100,000.

Visitation for Ms. Oliveri was at Montclair-Lucania Guardian Chapel in Chicago. The 10 a.m. mass was scheduled at St. John Brebeuf Church in Niles. Entombment will be at All Saints Mausoleum.

Robert P. Hanrahan, Niles Township Assessor wishes to inform the public that the Board of Appeals is now taking assessment complaints for homeowners in Niles Township from Nov. 28 to Dec. 21.

In order to appeal property assessments, residents must file a complaint within a 30 day period. Complete requirements for filing a complaint with the Cook County Board of Appeals as well as the forms necessary are available here in Niles Township.

If you have any questions, please feel free to visit the Niles Township Assessor's Office at 5255 Main St., Skokie, or call 673-6300.

Pantaleo told The Bugle that it was unknown why Marquez was on the tracks near rush hour. The man was found 35 feet from where he was struck. Marquez carried no identification and police are unsure if he was employed nearby. He has a brother living in New York, according to Pantaleo, but no known survivors in the area.

Brady said paramedics were especially disappointed that the man had died because they had worked so hard and were encouraged when there were vital signs despite the severity of the injuries. In situations of this type, special "post-critical" teams of professionals are made available to emergency personnel to encourage them to talk about the disasters they have witnessed.

door storage currently on the property. The residents questioned the ability to regulate what is actually being stored in the containers and opinions were aired about the aesthetics of the crates which measure approximately 14x20 feet.

Elizabeth Radzik, described the "junk looking" containers which can be viewed from her home. Radzik also commented the situation could only get worse as the metal containers continue to rust as they are exposed to the elements.

Louis Wolf, a partner in the company, explained the outdoor storage was necessary for the continuation of the business. Due to the nature of the business, "inventory is the key and we have to keep buying more and more to have it when the customers are ready."

A request made by an attorney representing Donald Conley Jr. which would enable the McDonalds restaurant at 7969 Milwaukee Ave., to construct an additional drive-thru window was approved. The second window would be used only during peak hours to facilitate faster service.

Commissioner Andrew Przybylo moved to grant a request made by NCR Company, 7400 Caldwell, to install a 1.8 meter stationary satellite dish on the roof of the building. Commissioner Dolack seconded the motion which was approved by the board. The dish is to be used for data communication and teleconferencing.

The board also granted a request made by Erich's Lehigh Auto Body to change the size of parking spaces which would allow them to construct an addition.

A request for variance made by J. Roman Wolinski was met by enraged neighbors, 50 of whom signed a petition asking that the request be denied.

Wolinski asked for variance to be granted that would allow him to construct an attached garage addition on his home located at 7022 Madison St. The board denied the request.

A parent or guardian must complete two forms if they apply for reimbursement. Notices advising parents of the reimbursement procedure were sent to parents the first week in November, but there is some confusion about eligibility and filing requirements. The confusion may be due to the fifteen page manual with instructions for completing the four page application form provided by the state.

According to George Edwards of Regional Superintendent Richard J. Martwick's Education Office, the 1988 "simplified instructions" are a major improvement over previous editions.

Edwards told The Bugle most families who think they are eligible for reimbursement, probably are. If a child commutes more than one and a half miles to school, the family is automatically eligible. If the distance traveled to school is less than one and a half miles, then the child must face one of three "hazards" in order to qualify for the money.

The hazards may in combination add up to the number of "points" needed to qualify for the grant. The hazards must equal ten points for children up through sixth grade and 13 to 15 points respectively for junior and senior high schoolers. "Ideally," said Edwards, "the school district should apply for the designated hazardous routes."

Type I hazard - Walking on or beside a highway without sidewalks. Few areas qualify for this designation in the near northwest suburbs. If in doubt, travel along the most likely route a child would take to school and determine if the child would have to step on the roadway because of no shoulder, a bridge or overpass or on a shoulder narrower than five feet without a sidewalk. A four inch high curb would probably disqualify the road from being a Type I hazard. Information may also be obtained by phoning the Illinois Department of Transportation's Schaumburg office at 705-4000.

Type II hazard - Crossing a Roadway. This would be the most common situation encountered by a child. Crossing Dempster, Oakton, Waukegan, Harlem, Golf, Milwaukee, portions of Touhy and Howard, for instance, would probably qualify an elementary age child if the parent takes the time to complete the form. Depending on the number of lanes of the road, and the presence or absence of a traffic signal or stop sign enroute as well as the speed of traffic and the five minute vehicular count. The speed is the posted limit on the street.

To further challenge a parent's determination, combinations of the three hazards can be used to compute eligibility if one hazard alone does not singly qualify the family for reimbursement. Edwards gamely invited parents to contact him at 844-7114 if they have questions after they have picked up the forms at their child's school. In addition, a parent who applied for the 1987-1988 school year based on safety hazards can contact his office if the reimbursement does not arrive by December 31 of this year.

Parents who applied last year based on their child's traveling more than one and a half miles each way should contact Marcia Salisbury in Springfield at 217/782-5630 if they do not receive their checks before the end of this year. Edwards suggests people talk to their spouses before reporting the non-receipt of a check.

According to Edwards, there are literally thousands of eligible people in Cook County alone who pay for buses or drive their children who could apply for the annual reimbursement and do not.

911... Continued from Page 1 will consider putting the issue on an April referendum ballot for Morton Grove voters. In a December 6th interview, Art also told The Bugle that Haulaway, the waste hauler involved in the recycling pilot project, will make their final proposal at the December 12th board meeting, a proposal which will enable the Village to recover 80 percent of the net proceeds from recycled goods. Haulaway is looking into refitting their trucks with shredders so other goods can be recycled in addition to glass, newspaper and aluminum. Art projects condominiums will be included soon after a program can be implemented village wide. He anticipates a third recycling phase to include composting of yard wastes.

To determine the number of vehicles, Edwards said the parent could count cars for one minute and multiply by five or call the local police department. The traffic count should be for the time of day the child would be enroute between school and home.

As an example of a Type II qualification, at Dempster and Ozark, near Nelson School and Notre Dame High School, the parent would compute six points for the four lane crossing at the traffic light and five points for the speed and volume of traffic for an elementary child going north across Dempster to Nelson (automatically qualifying the child). The Notre Dame student would also have to rack up six additional points based on an additional roadway or on a railroad crossing.

A Type III hazard is crossing railroad tracks. A point system is determined for the type of crossing protection and the number of trains daily. Crossing at the Skokie Swift tracks, for instance, would automatically qualify a sixth grade or younger child even at locations where there are lights and gates (four points for one or two tracks) because there are more than four trains during school crossing periods (seven points).

Parents who applied last year based on their child's traveling more than one and a half miles each way should contact Marcia Salisbury in Springfield at 217/782-5630 if they do not receive their checks before the end of this year. Edwards suggests people talk to their spouses before reporting the non-receipt of a check.

According to Edwards, there are literally thousands of eligible people in Cook County alone who pay for buses or drive their children who could apply for the annual reimbursement and do not.

Battery

Nursing home employees summoned police when a 30 year old Evanston man battered a 29 year old employee at the home in the 8400 block of Waukegan. The employee, a Skokie resident, had just signed battery complaints December 1 against the man at the Evanston Police Department. She was followed to work whereupon the man struck her with a closed fist and pushed her into a radiator where she injured her hand. The victim told Morton Grove police she had previously signed complaints but had withdrawn them when her assailant threatened her life. The victim transported herself to Lutheran General Hospital to treat her injured hand. She intends to follow through with the current complaints.

Santa Visit

Santa Claus will be making a special stop in Niles on Saturday, December 17, to have donuts and juice with boys and girls up to 6th grade that live in Niles. You must preregister to attend. Register by Wednesday, December 14. There is a 50 cent charge per child.

There will also be a grabbag. Children that bring a wrapped gift (up to $2 value) will receive a wrapped gift.

MG Library hosts play for kids

"The Ugly Duckling", a children's play by A.A. Milne, will be presented at the Morton Grove Public Library on Sat. Dec. 17 at 2:00.

This special children's presentation will be performed by the Emanon Children's Theatre, a group of college students in the Niles Township area who are dedicated to producing high-quality plays for children, free of charge. They have performed several times at the Morton Grove Library to enthusiastic audiences.

The 1 hour play will be presented in the Baxter Room and all children and parents are invited to attend.

petition to be held in Niles in February. Then comes the ice show in April. Last spring, his first show, he did not delegate very many responsibilities. It was the first show held there with scenery and a cohesive script and was deemed a great success. This year he welcomes lots of help.

Tom seems to see the future of the Niles program lying with the very young skaters who gravitate to him like the Pied Piper. When he comes on the ice, there are cries of "Tom, watch me...Hi, Tom..." from the new little skaters, for whom he seems to have infinite patience. As he helps them build their confidence on the ice, showing them how to set goals for themselves it's as if he's seeing himself when he climbed back on the ice just three short years ago. In many ways, the future of the Niles figure skaters is tied very much to Tom Hickey.

After his experience, Tom can authoritatively exhort his students to push themselves to their limits. He can encourage them to set their own goals and by example, show them that one can exceed the expectations of experts. Most important is a "positive attitude and a purposeful approach to each skating session". The achievement levels have been broken down into smaller components, enabling students to improve themselves rapidly. Power skating was added in 1988 and in 1989, a new beginners' program will be instituted.

This shy young achiever is still setting goals for himself. He recently took third place with his partner in U.S. pairs skating. In January he will be competing in Aspen, Colorado, hopefully placing. He continues his medical illustration studies during the summer months. And he is at the rink seven days a week, constantly striving to improve the Niles Park District Skating Program. As is typical in most areas, the figure skating programs is the poor relation of ice sports. So with only one ice rink for two programs, Tom is at Ballard from 5:45 a.m. till 7 p.m. seven days a week. He's preparing for five hundred skaters at the Sweetheart Open Skating Com-

Norwood Park Christmas house tour

Mark your calendars for the fifth annual Christmas house tour, sponsored by the Norwood Park Historical Society. The house tour will be held on Sunday, December 11, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Interiors of six homes will be featured along with a bake-and-craft sale to be held at the Noble-Seymour-Crippen House. The tour will begin at Norwood Park Lutheran Church, which is located and Nins & Nickerson. An orientation and slide show will be presented every half-hour, from 1 until 3, at the church. Tickets are $5 in advance, or $7 at the door. To purchase tickets in advance, mail a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Norwood Park Historical Society, c/o Jacques Grimes, 5831 W. Thorndale, Chicago, IL 60631.

Check should be made payable to Norwood Park Historical Society. The tour is open to adults and children over 12 years.

Additionally, Victoria's Christmas, a Christmas craft sale, will be held on Saturday, December 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Noble-Seymour-citizen housing. According to Joe Salerno, Village of Niles Code Enforcement Director, the property was acquired as "insurance" in the event plans to build the ambitious complex were executed. The Village does not own all the parcels needed to fulfill the MASG plan, and it has since been shelved. The Touhy and Milwaukee parcel will be sold for no less than $40,000. Bids will be opened on December 19.

The most likely purchaser for the site would be the owners of the Travelodge, the office building or the single family home which are contiguous to the parcel, which has no street access.

Hadge told The Bugle the Code, Finance, Mayor's, Senior Citizen's and Family Services Departments have projected their anticipated square footage requirements for the architects will present their recommendations at the January 24th Village Board Meeting.

Police, Fire and Public Works Departments would not be affected by the study which will take the Village into the twenty first century as far as planning is concerned. If the decision is made to build a new municipal center, the Trident building on Oakton and the current municipal center would be sold to the finance the new project.

The men had fired a shot from a semi-automatic, nine millimeter blue pistol which the first man pointed at the driver and said "Give me the cash." The driver surrendered $75 from his wallet and the first robber held him. "Park the car and give me the keys."

After the cabbie followed these instructions the second robber left the vehicle and told the cabbie to walk away from his cab. The cabbie attempted to get help from nearby houses but was unable to get anyone to call police. He finally walked to a restaurant in the 9100 block of Waukegan and phoned his dispatcher who summoned police.

Morton Grove Police recovered the stolen cab at Churchill and Neenah and also interviewed the service station manager who had first been in contact with the two men wanting the taxi. The manager corroborated the victim's with something on the dashboard. Once police got the offender outside of his car, the man could not stand upright and a strong odor of alcohol was detected. The subject was placed under arrest, and his car was confiscated under the provision of the Zero Tolerance Law. A further search of the man's vehicle revealed cannabis in an open ashtray.

Later, as the offender was being questioned by Niles Police at the station, he was observed taking a clear plastic bag out of his pocket. The bag was found to contain cannabis when it was recovered by police.
