911 phone charge to be less than $1

While Niles officials have the authority to add a $1 surcharge to each telephone line, in all likelihood residents will be assessed much less, perhaps as low as the 50 cents projected by Morton Grove officials for their 911 system.

proved a referendum question last November regarding the monthly add-on but a recent decision by the Morton Grove Village Board has caused many Niles residents to feel as if their Village is gouging them.

The confusion stems from the enabling legislation which permits voters to approve a surcharge on their phone lines to finance 911. In their first 1989 Board meeting, the Village of Morton Grove voted to put the 911 question on the April ballot, asking voters to approve a 75 cent surcharge. The amount proposed

Mayor Blase runs for eighth term unopposed

by Shellya Hackett

"If the work still stirs the blood a little, it's worth it to keep going," Niles Mayor Nicholas B. Blase said when asked about his sense of running for an eighth term in office in the April 4 election. He thinks his continuing in-office keeps stability in the village and maintains he's trying to keep a balance between the young and the old.

Rounding out 28 years and going for 32, the Mayor noted that,

District 63 tax hike on ballot

by Nancy Keramias

East Maine Elementary School District Board members voted unanimously in favor of placing a referendum on the April 4th ballot to raise the property tax rate from $1.81 per thousand to $2.40 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. If the referendum is approved by district voters, District 63 would collect an additional $178 from each home with a $100,000 market value each year.

According to Superintendent Eldon Gleichman, the district has not requested an increase in over twenty years. Previously, normal revenues generated from increases in property values, combined with assistance from the State of Illinois have been sufficient to cover expenses. Until five years ago, the district was able to accumulate a reserve. Since 1983, however, "There's more going out. We've used up all the reserves and there's a deficit situation in the education fund,"

Gleichman said in a Jan. 31 inter-

Library to hear parking lot proposal

by Shellya Hackett

A new parking lot at Niles Library, 6960 Oakton St., could cost approximately $175,000, according to the latest estimates. Expansion of library parking facilities would develop an adjacent vacant site to the west of the library building.

January 25, the Physical Plant committee of the Library Board heard architect Darrell Rachey of Williams and Rachey Associates, Inc., of Rockford, Ill. describe parking improvements which would add 50 spaces to the library's present 55 conventional and five handicapped spots. Ramps would connect the lots and suggested "down lighting" would supply improved lighting, but with less glare. The proposed lot would facilitate handicapped access to the library. Rachey described a three-sided, 12 foot by 15 foot pylon sign, with space for messages, that would be situated on the lot, visible from Waukegan Rd.

Rachey agreed to include directional driving signs in the lot proposal after Library Director Duncan McKenzie spoke of the need for another exit or directional signs to ease congestion. McKenzie also questioned whether the proposed pylon sign would indicate the Library's

Niles Appeals Committee

The Village of Niles has created an Appeals Committee to deal with citizens' concerns/inquiries regarding user fee services. The committee consists of Village Trustee Louella Preston, Finance Director Gary Karshna (left) and Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno (right), who meet once per month to review decisions regarding adjustment to water bills, non-bonafide alarm bills, etc. The Appeals Committee meetings provide the residents with an opportunity to appeal a staff decision usually in cases where unusual circumstances have created an abnormally high billing notification. The Committee decides if an adjustment is warranted under the circumstances. The feedback from the Committee is direct and immediate. This system has worked well for both the administrative staff and the residents of the Village.

DUI drivers could lose cars

by Nancy Keramias

Under current Zero Tolerance guidelines, a driver stopped for suspicion of drunken driving could lose his or her vehicle if the arresting officer spots a controlled substance in the vehicle.

In a Jan. 31 interview, Niles Police Chief Ray Giovanelli said, "Even the casual user is going to lose his or her car." Giovanelli was referring to the impaired driving skills of someone who is under the influence of either drugs or alcohol.

Even though seizures under Zero Tolerance are not permitted in instances where there is no evidence of drugs in the offender's vehicle, Giovanelli and other area police chiefs favor harsher, expanded penalties for drivers convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Niles woman wins Jeep in Fund drawing

It's not often people are rewarded for doing good to others. But January 30, Barbara Christiansen of Wright Terrace in Niles was awarded a new Jeep Comanche truck because she gave to Wally Phillips' Neediest Kids Fund last Christmas. After the holidays, WGN entertainer Phillips annually distributes a large number of gifts donated by Chicagoland companies for Fund contributors. Because her name was first on the list, Christiansen was able to make her choice from a list including, among other things, three cars, a mink coat, ocean cruises, kitchen remodeling, dinner for fifty at a north suburban restaurant and television sets.

Golf Mill Mall walkers stride in path of exercise popularity

by Shellya Hackett
Active walking is edging out jogging and racket ball as the exercise of choice for many in the Niles area today, and when it's cold outside, many walkers head for the warmth inside local shopping malls. Most walkers are people over 50 year old or recovering heart patients, but often groups of young mothers stride along pushing baby strollers.

In Niles, Golf Mill Mall doors open at 7 a.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. Sundays. At least 50 people step off each day, according to Rick Echelmeyer, manager of Golf Mill. Food concessions open early, Echelmeyer said, and the walkers often end their exercise sessions by socializing over coffee.

Seniors from Niles Trident center join the mall walkers twice a week. Nurse Carol Harris, a specialist in gerontology who works out of Trident, praises the activity. "It changes their lives," she says, "It encourages a healthy life style and over the long run, they can see a gradual decrease in cholesterol levels." Harris says the even terrain of a mall is also better for the arthritic walker.

Morton Grove's walking seniors call themselves the Happy Hoofers and about 30 of them walk Golf Mill Mall three times a week. Bill Collins, one of the Hoofers, said they cover an average of three miles, walk at their own speed and enjoy the camaraderie. Afterwards, they return to Morton Grove's Flickinger hall for coffee and conversation. Golf Mill merchants benefit from the pedestrian traffic, Collins confides. He says that some of the women in the group do a little window shopping as they go. They save time when they shop later, since they already know what they want. Collins feels better after walking with the Hoofers, he says. "There's no fee to join, and you meet a lot of nice people."

The Golf Mill Mall measures one mile, including all entrance ways and walk ways, from J.C. Penney Co., Inc to Sears Roebuck and Co. The early walkers enter from the east on Milwaukee Avenue at Entrance One; from the west on Greenwood Avenue at Entrance Eight. Both doors are at the south end of the mall, near Penney's.

Kris Friedman, marketing assistant at Harlem-Irving Plaza, counts up to fifty people walking every day at the mall in Norridge, though the numbers vary with the season. Doors open at 7:30 a.m. daily, at the south end, near Walgreens Drug Store. The Harlem-Irving concourse measures three-fourths of a mile, in one direction.

MG resident visualizes three-car accident

by Shellya Hackett
Albert Konar, 78, of Morton Grove, can still visualize the '88 Hyundai coming straight at him. Konar, victim in a three-car collision near 7816 Oakton St., Jan. 16, saw the offender's car veer out of its lane, swerve across the road to hit one car, then careen on to hit his, head on. The offender was charged with driving under the influence. "The Police were terrific," Konar said, "they were there inside minutes." Three persons came forward as witnesses. Konar still has a few pains here and there, but his wife, Elizabeth, 88, shattered the windshield with her head from the impact, and is still under doctor's care. Treated at and released from Lutheran General Hospital the day of the accident, she was told to remain at home and take it easy for three weeks.

The Konar's damaged car, an '87 Mercury, is garaged, awaiting the insurance company's verdict on the extent of damage. They have a second car and are spared the inconvenience of being without transportation.

In his role as deacon at St. Isaac Jogues Church in Niles, Konar participated in a funeral a few days after the accident. He freely admits he was a little shaky, getting behind the wheel again and being the last car in the funeral procession.

The offender was charged with two counts of driving under the influence, transporting an open alcohol beverage, improper lane usage and driving without a seat belt. The Park Ridge court hearing will be March 8.

Anti-Drug calendar now available

Free copies of State's Attorney Richard M. Daley's 1989 Anti-Drug Poster Contest Calendar are now available to the public while supplies last.

The calendar features winning posters from last year's contest for sixth, seventh, and eighth-grade students in Cook County.

This is the second consecutive year the contest's top posters have been published in full-color calendar, which is being distributed free to every public and private school in the country. "We are delighted with the success of this anti-drug educational program, which would not be possible without the cooperation of many principals, teachers and, of course, the students who participate," Daley said.

The calendars are printed entirely with private contributions at no expense to the taxpayers. Main funding for the 1989 calendar came from Forest Hospital and Foundation, Des Plaines, and the Chicagoland Treatment Facilities of Parkside Medical Services Corp.

Additional funding was provided by the Cadillac Employees' Fund, in Broadview; LaSalle Bank View, 3201 N. Ashland Ave., Dr. James Conrin, president of SABRA Psychological Systems, in Oak Lawn; and Universal Press, in Niles.

Daley's poster contest is now its seventh year, with entries still being accepted through Feb. 15 for the current competition. To request a calendar or obtain information on this year's contest, contact Daley's Community Unit at 443-5598.

Child abuser sought

Chicago police are searching for the above-depicted suspect who is wanted in connection with the Jan. 12 criminal sexual abuse of a ten-year-old in the vicinity of Harlem and Touhy Avenues near Niles. The unknown white male is between 27 and 30-years-old, approximately six feet tall and weighs between 180 and 200 pounds. He has brown feathered hair worn slightly below the ears, and has brown eyes, medium dark complexion and brown mustache. The man talked his way into a home on the pretext of having to use a telephone and abused the child, who was home alone. Told the parents were coming home shortly, the suspect left the home. The man was wearing a waist-length black leather jacket, and dirty black tie shoes at the time of the abuse. Police request citizens with information about this suspect to call 744-8384 or their local police department.

Niles firm reports theft of $367,000

Comfort Supplies, 7408 N. Milwaukee, Niles reported a total of $366,935.89 missing from company assets on January 23. It is believed the money was embezzled by a former employee between August, 1984 and May, 1988. The suspect, a 23 year old MA Prospect woman, was in charge of all paper work for three outlets of the Niles-based store between 1984 and 1988. The theft was discovered in June, 1988 when the company computerized all transactions from the present and past. It was immediately ascertained that $104,000 was missing in 1984 alone. The loss was verified by an inventory check and the company accountant. Suspicious company officials checked the profit margin compared to sales for the previous four years. Numerous receipts and invoices were missing, and paperwork available revealed the shortage of $366,935.89. It is believed that over the four-year period, the former employee used numerous voided cash slips and return receipts that were not backed by cash transactions. When told all records were going to be computerized, the suspect quit her job two days before computerization began. Niles Police are investigating the case.

Higher cost of teeing off at Tam

Despite the relatively balmy weather, there are no serious plans to begin the season at Tam Golf course until April. Niles Park District maintenance workers will have prepared the greens and fairways and readied the golf carts, in anticipation of increased use of the facility. According to Park District Commissioner Val Engelman, the last increase was in 1987 and additional fees are needed to replace worn out equipment, including a $9000 mower and $14,000 tractor. The machines will be featured in the Park District's "gift catalog" for interested individuals and corporations to donate to the Park District. The catalog will be published in

by Nancy Keraminas
Acting on a request made by Morton Grove Mayor Richard Hohs and Director of Community Development Charles Scheck, the North Shore Council of Mayors voted to ask the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission to propose an interchange at Golf Road and the Edens Expressway. Planners have asked communities impacted by proposed road improvements to give their input relative to alleviating traffic congestion on arterial roads. Niles is also affected by the long-range state transportation plan, as is Glenview, Skokie and Des Plaines. The Council met Wednesday, Jan. 25. Interviewed Jan. 31, Scheck told The Bugle, "Traffic along Dempster is extremely high volume. There are between 32 and 38 thousand vehicles per day on the stretch between the Edens and Waukegan Road. Adult Day Care keeps woman in community

When Leah Stein was released from the hospital, her children were not sure how they would care for their mother. Although only 66, Mrs. Stein had a history of being frequently hospitalized requiring psychiatric care.

"I was worried," her daughter admitted, "even though Mom was returning to her apartment where she had lived for many years. Mother lives on the north side of Chicago; I live in Northbrook; and my brother Ted, in Niles. Ted and I were doing a juggling act between work and schedules to check up on Mom."

It soon became apparent that Mrs. Stein had deteriorated. Her appearance was disheveled, and she was skipping meals. She often slept days and was up during the night. She seldom took her medication.

"I thought of hiring someone to come to Mom's apartment and taking care of her," said Ted, "but I thought she should be doing something more than watching TV all day."

The discharge planner at the hospital had suggested that Ted investigate the Adult Day Care Program of the Council for Jewish Elderly, located at 2809 Jarvis in Chicago.

"The need to socialize is often the reason we are contacted for help," explains Hedy Ciocci, CJE's Adult Day Care Supervisor.

"The main goal of the Center is socialization, providing programming that is varied and stimulating."

"When Mrs. Stein's children contacted me," says Ciocci, "I suggested they take a tour of the Center. After seeing the Center, they decided that adult day care was a way to keep their mother living in the community."

At the center, Mrs. Stein's medications are supervised by a RN twice daily. She receives a kosher, hot meal at noon, and a snack during the day. She enjoys the special trips to museums, galleries, and restaurants. Her personal appearance has improved; personal grooming is even available to her at the Center.

"Mrs. Stein has begun to socialize and build relationships with others who attend the center and with staff," reports Ciocci. "Her daughter and son visit her on the weekends, thus bridging a gap between the Center's closing times. Most importantly, Mrs. Stein has been able to maintain herself living in the community and hasn't required hospitalization."

Council for Jewish Elderly's Adult Day Care Program operates from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Extended hours can be arranged. Transportation is available on special CJE vehicles serving the handicapped, to people living within the CJE city and suburban transportation service area. There is easy access to the building to those providing their own transportation.

Every day, the program includes socialization, health monitoring, personal care, and special excursions. For participants, it creates a framework that helps maintain stability in daily living. Programs at the center include quilting, art therapy, dancing, sit-down volleyball games, cooking, baking, and discussion groups. Occasional trips include visiting the Merrick Rose Garden, the Botanic Gardens, and Grant Park Concert rehearsals in the summer. Many adult day care participants enjoy bowling at specially designed lanes for the handicapped.

"The Adult Day Care Center becomes an active community where participants can find peers to enjoy fun-filled and stimulating days," says Ciocci. "For participants like Mrs. Stein, Adult Day Care provides her the supervision and care, she and her family needs, so she can continue living in the community. Adult Day Care replaces the isolation and lonely days with laughter, warmth, and caring."

People needed as Friendly Visitors for seniors

Have you a few hours a week to spend with an isolated Senior Citizen? A Friendly Visitor can mean a great deal in the life of a shut-in person with no family or friends. Leaning Tower Senior Adult Center's Outreach Program has been providing lonely senior citizens in the Niles Township area with Friendly Visiting services for over 10 years.

Offering companionship on a weekly basis to isolated or handicapped senior citizens by a Friendly Visit can be rewarding in many ways. Just the smiling face of a lonely Nursing Home resident or homebound man or woman is gratifying in itself, and the Friendly Visitor gets as much benefit from the call as the person he or she calls upon.

There is room in Leaning Tower Senior Citizen's Outreach

Program for additional Men & Women to provide Friendly-Visiting Services to those in the Niles Township area who are in need. Monetary compensation is provided. For more information about the Outreach Program, please contact Lois Dickert, Director or Rose Wahlberg, Outreach Supervisor, at 647-8222, Ext. 2237, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Friday.

"Cat's Paw" at Kinetic Theatre

The Kinetic Theatre Company presents as its third production of the 1988-89 season, William Mastrosimone's gripping drama about terrorism, "Cat's Paw."

What if, the playwright asks, the terrorist is not a political fanatic but a brilliant, articulate man whose position is morally right? The terrorist is an American activist desperately concerned about the destruction of the world's water supply. He has already engineered a bombing in Washington D.C. that has killed twenty-seven people and he now plans to attack the White House. He arranges to be interviewed by a television news reporter to tell the world why he has done what he has done. This begins a cat and mouse game of great intensity that leads to a shocking and violent conclusion. The production opens Friday, Feb. 10, through Saturday, March 5, at Centre East Studio Theatre, 7701 Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Curtain is 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 3 and 8 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $10 and may be reserved by calling 677-1460.

Ash Wednesday at St. John Lutheran

On Ash Wednesday, Feb. 8, the members of St. John Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod), 7429 Milwaukee Ave., Niles (one block south of Harlem) will start the penitential season of Lent with identical Worship Services at 8:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. We invite the members of the community to worship with us on this special day. Wednesday Worship will be held each week at 8:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. during the season of Lent, which is a time devoted to prayer and soul-searching as we concentrate on the suffering and death of our Lord Jesus Christ as the payment for our sins.

Each of this year's special Lenten Services are based on Psalm 51, the great penitential psalm of David. As the words and the experiences of David are seen in the light of dramatic presentations of the suffering and death of our Lord Jesus Christ, week by week, this powerful Word of God offers us the Lord's own prescription for a sinful heart. Feb. 8; for a troubled heart, Feb. 15; for a true heart, Feb. 22; for a clean heart, March 1; for a joyful heart, March 8; and for a faithful heart, March 15. Psalm 51 is truly one of the rich treasures of God's Word. It shows us ourselves as we really are and it shows us our God as He really is. Plan to join in Lenten worship each week and spend these meaningful moments at the foot of the cross.

We invite you to come and share with us as we reflect on God's Word. We invite you to come and meet Jesus Christ, the One who makes our wounded hearts whole.

Oakton's nannies head toward higher degree of professionalism...and pay

by Nancy Keramas

Nanny program student Lola Markus gets a child's eye perspective on a toy clock block. Students are encouraged to "do it like a child would do it," when they learn about play.

Oakton Community College's Florence Munuz gets calls from Beverly Hills, New Orleans, New York City and all over the United States. Her graduate nannies are in demand and the salaries they're receiving - upwards of $300 per week plus room and board - aren't kid stuff.

"I'm inundated with requests. There's hundreds of families who want a nanny in their homes and want to pay them good salaries of $275 to $400 a week," Munuz said. "A nanny can live in or live out and there's so much flexibility in the kind of jobs." Munuz points to Great Britain where nannies are a respected profession with a long tradition.

Oakton has one of just 24 programs in the country accredited by the Michigan-based American Council of Nanny Schools and one of just four in the nation offering college credit. Oakton's program is part of the child development program and nannies-in-training attend classes with child-care workers, mothers and other interested students. Each nanny candidate is screened, interviewed and after acceptance in the program, will have completed 31 college hours consisting of child development, nutrition, first aid, health and safety. A full-time student completes the course in about 32 weeks.

Oakton's focus on professionalism in child care fields is attracting a variety of women and men to their programs but demand far exceeds the availability of graduates. Two students are on the home stretch of their training, both working in private homes and supervised in these practicums by the four instructors in the nanny program. In addition, there are 12 part-time students.

One part-timer is Lola Markus of Park Ridge, a legal secretary at Lutheran General Hospital. "I've raised three children and they all live 800 miles away," Markus said. "I love the classes and I love the program. I enjoy babies." Now halfway finished with her courses, Markus wants to work part-time after she completes the Oakton program. "My husband is 100 percent behind me," said the perky aspiring nanny. Stella Wawrzyniak of Morton Grove is a mental health therapist with three children of her own under six years of age. Enrolled in a play and creative expression class, Wawrzyniak hopes to learn how to have more quality time with her children. Wawrzyniak would like more time with her family and is considering the possibility of being a nanny in her own home. Others in the program are recent high school graduates, young mothers and empty nesters.

The play class is taught by Ann Spieh, a soft-spoken instructor who conducts the Saturday morning sessions while sitting amidst the students on the floor. The adults learn in the same way their child wards will - by playing. When Spieh empties a bag of toys onto the floor she is greeted with a chorus of excited laughs, "We get to play! All right!" Spieh told her class. "Children enjoy creativity - it helps their self-esteem."

MG women talk television

The next meeting of the M.G. women's (CLUB) which takes place on Feb. 9 (WHEN) at Holiday Inn on Touhy Ave. (WHERE) will feature a talk by humorist Jarvis Rice entitled, "Are TV Commercials Really As Bad As They Look?"

Rice, a former writer-producer at one of the world's largest advertising agencies, the J. Walter Thompson Company, will take his audience behind the scenes of Kraft, Swift, Ford, 7-Up, Schlitz, Quaker Oats and other TV productions for an hilarious look at the zany world of commercial television. He'll tell how TV spots are made, and will disclose studio secrets while recounting some of the amazing things that are done to put client products in a favorable light.

Rice answers questions like:

"Does the Schlitz Malt Liqueur bull really crash that party? Is Rusty Jones a real person? How do they create a Minolta camera high in the sky out of a hundred broken fragments? What do they do to make kids smile when they taste the client's cereal on television?"

Rice has turned out many award-winning TV commercials during his three decades in advertising, and will be remembered as the man who dreamed up the slogan, "Next best thing to being there", featured in long distance telephone advertising for many years.

In addition to his years at Thompson, Rice also was creative director for the U.S. League of Savings Associations, public relations director for the monument industry, former radio announcer and Broadway actor.

A Skokie youth who was at the same party reported the theft of a $70 Walkman radio from his jacket which was in a storage area of the home. Woman dies at Royal 8

Morton Grove police and paramedics were summoned to the Royal 8 Motel, 9424 Waukegan Rd. late Saturday Jan. 28 after a 37-year-old Evanston woman collapsed in her boyfriend's room.

The victim, Marsha S. Stillwell of 1623 Simpson, in Evanston, vomited and complained of chest pains shortly before succumbing in the room at approximately 11:25 p.m. Stillwell and her boyfriend were drinking beer and watching television in the room. When paramedics arrived, she was breathing shallowly and went into full cardiac arrest shortly thereafter. She was taken to Lutheran General Hospital where she was pronounced dead shortly after midnight.

The boyfriend told police he'd met Stillwell in September when they both lived in Evanston. He told police he was aware that she occasionally smoked cocaine but never saw her use the drug. No drugs or paraphernalia were found in the motel room but, according to one report, possible old needle marks were observed on the victim's left forearm.

Investigation by Morton Grove police revealed the 40-year-old boyfriend was wanted by Evanston police for an outstanding burglary warrant and he was turned over to Evanston officials. He is not implicated in Stillwell's death. Stillwell's survivors include her mother and sister who reside in West Rogers Park.

Pair questioned in restaurant burglary

A malfunctioning tail light alerted a Morton Grove police officer to stop a 1978 maroon Olds heading west of the 5900 block of Dempster St. The officer noted a crowbar and sledge hammer in the rear seat of the vehicle and questioned the driver and his passenger. The officer had spotted the car traveling up and down Dempster St., saw the pair near a restaurant and became suspicious around 3:45 a.m. Jan. 27.

The detainees, a 24-year-old Chicago man and his 28-year-old roommate told the officer they had been following a friend who had been experiencing car problems and had lost him. They said they were driving up and down looking for the friend because they were unfamiliar with the area.

The police officer discovered a broken doorknob and hardware at the Contessa Restaurant at 4 a.m. but the men denied knowledge of the burglary attempt. They explained they were urinating near the building when the officer saw their car.

The crowbar, sledgehammer, doorknob and hardware have been retained as evidence. The men were released without charges, pending investigation of the tools.

Demon Guard Swim Program

Parents can buy a five-lesson ticket for $10 on the Saturday their child begins lessons. Class size averages three students per instructor.

Demon Guard is an organization of Maine East students dedicated to teaching children to swim properly. Co-captains for 1989 are Kate Krusel of Glenview and Ira Zubkoff of Morton Grove. Others include: Des Plaines residents Steve Chen, Andrea Elkins, Kari Crowley, Tammy Axirek, Jaime Weber, Chau Doan, Heather Kurland, Tina Presutti; Niles residents Nicole Egan, Marie Kosing, Jeremy Brown, Joy Guerrieri, Bill Levey, Lori Levey, Brad Liebner, Nick Hauptain, Joy Krupa, Melissa Lory, Amy Osheff; Park Ridge residents Heather Raymond, Jim Bang, Debbie Chiu; Lorton Grove residents Kim Bain, Erika Bernberg, Carolyn Chol, Monica Minkley, Michelle Scott, Grace Hong, Becky Kao, Eynav Sheinfeld, Boris Sherman, Stephanie Simon; Glenview residents Lis Jericho, Wendy Bast, Tammy Gambill, Stacey Lamden, Rachel Levy.

Demon gymnasts take second place

All year coach Betty Axelson has been telling people that the freshman Demons are dynamite, and finally her gymnasts are coming through on that prophecy. "The CSL Freshman Invite was a good opportunity for these girls to get experience, and they took several individual places along with the team's 2nd place, which made the meet a lot of fun," commented the coach. Vault was the team's strongest event with three Demons being represented on the awards stand. Janis Szukala took 3rd place with an 8.7, Bridget Regan has an 8.6 for 5th place, and Julie Pasternak scored 8.4 for 8th place. On Uneven Bars, Pasternak won the championship with a 9.2 and Regan tied for 8th. Janis Szukala also won a title, as she stuck on Balance Beam for the 1st place spot with an 8.6, and also took a 7th on FX with an 8.1. Teammates Jill Kolb and Kris Fancalski also contributed to the team's victory, with Kolb competing in all four events, and Kris competing on Beam and Floor.

At the Evanston Invite the Demon gymnasts were not at full strength due to injuries, but solid performances by Fr. Angie DeMano, along with Debbie Tingas, Regina Bacci, and Jenny DeMano helped boost the team score. The highlight of the meet was a 5th place finish on Floor EX by Angie DeMano with a score of 8.9. Coach Axelson was very pleased with DeMano's first class act, "as she was the only one in the meet to open with a double full and close with a full. Angie has been doing a super job all season carrying the team in the All-Around, and hopefully by the big meets at the end of the season, she is throwing every big trick she is capable of doing," commented the coach. DeMano also did well at the 34-school Niles West Invitational, where she had an 8.8 on FX, 8.85 on Vault, and 7.55 on Beam. Teammate Debbie Tingas scored an 8.45 on Beam with a fall, and is getting ready to compete in the All-Around at the conference meet after recovering slowly from ankle problems. Coach Axelson is looking forward to the Conference and Regional meets, where hopefully for the first time all season, the Demons will be competing as a healthy team.

Thillens offers stadium to non-profit groups

Thillens Stadium recently announced that it is accepting applications from non-profit groups who wish to sponsor an event to raise money at the ballpark during the 1989 baseball season.

The dates are free, according to Mel Thillens Sr., president of Thillens Checkashers, the Chicago-based check-processing operation that sponsors the Devon-and-Kedzie stadium. "Charities raise thousands of dollars at the ballpark every year," he said. "We want them to let us know when they'd like to do it again in 1989."

The lighted stadium offers two baseball diamonds, a public address system, an electronic scoreboard, a special sky box, and 2,500 seats. "It's got everything a big league park has," Thillens explains. "The group can use it for little league baseball as well as for softball." The only requirement for lining up a 1989 date is that the organization have a minimum attendance of 300 people for each game, according to Thillens. "Charities break fund-raising records every year at the stadium," Thillens said. "We want 1989 to be another record-breaker for all of them." For more details, call 539-4444.

Dist. 207 staff attend AIDS program

Dr. Murray D. Batt, Director of Infectious Diseases and Epidemiology at St. Lutheran General Hospital, will bring District 207 staff members up-to-date on the latest medical information related to AIDS in an in-service program on Thursday, February 2.

The program for members of the District Chronic Communicable/Infectious Disease Review Team, as well as a team from each school, will also feature Fay Hartog-Rapp, legal advisor, who will review the latest federal and state legal implications to students and staff members who have AIDS.

As part of the program, staff members will review the current District 207 policy regarding chronic communicable/infectious diseases for both students and staff that has been in effect since September, 1987. Although the district has had no known cases of AIDS among students or staff, the in-service is designed to give teams the latest information so they will be able to function quickly, decisively, legally, and with the medical knowledge necessary to guarantee the best educational or work environment should any student or staff member be identified as having a communicable or infectious disease.

"Our policy is by design not just an AYP policy, but one that covers all communicable/infectious diseases," said James L. Elliott, superintendent.

Mount Sinai offers free heart screenings

More Americans die of heart disease than of any other cause. Thousands of these deaths occur among people in the prime of life. But both heart attacks and many forms of heart disease can be prevented by the very people who suffer from them. Research shows that changing certain physical conditions and living habits can decrease the risk of a heart attack and improve the health of your heart.

During the month of February you can take the first step toward a healthier heart by having a Free Heart Risk Screening. Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center and Mount Sinai Hospital North will offer Free Heart Risk Screenings during the month of February at several participating sites throughout Chicago. These screenings include height, weight and blood pressure readings, a cardiovascular risk test, cholesterol blood level, and recommendations for follow-up care. All at no charge. Health and heart material will be available. For more information or to set up an appointment at the clinic nearest you, call 656-6565.

Edgewater Hospital opens Vascular Laboratory

Edgewater Hospital has added a new, high-technology Vascular Laboratory to its comprehensive range of health care services. Drs. Dale Buchbinder and David Rollins, professors of surgery at the University of Health Sciences/Chicago Medical School, are the Medical Director and Associate Director of the Vascular Laboratory. The surgeons employ the latest Doppler blood flow and ultrasound imaging equipment, as well as other diagnostic equipment to pinpoint and diagnose disturbances in the circulatory system. The equipment uses not-invasive and painless sound waves to provide images and measure the blood flow through arteries and veins of the arms, legs, and neck.

Some of the problems evaluated in the Vascular Laboratory include phlebitis or other causes of pain in the legs, varicose veins, and conditions leading to heart disease or strokes. The Vascular Laboratory is also used for the diagnosis and treatment of male impotence. Both hospitalized patients and outpatients can be tested in the Vascular Laboratory, which is open Monday through Friday. After testing, patients are referred

Chicago Auto Show to open Feb. 11

More than 900 new 1989 passenger cars, models of most every line produced by foreign and domestic manufacturers, an array of recreational and commercial vehicles, special displays, auto-related allied exhibits, and star-studded entertainment features galore await you.

These are some of the reasons why the 1989 Chicago Auto Show, opening Feb. 11, in McCormick Place, should again this year, rate as the outstanding automotive exposition to be staged anywhere in America and perhaps the world.

Show Chairman Jerry Schiele emphasized the completeness in automotive presentation that has keynoted the success of the Show down through the years. He pointed out that last year's attendance drew a whopping 974,432 auto show fans. Judging by the enthusiasm displayed by the manufacturers this year who are going all out to stage their exciting displays, that figure should be easily surpassed. He added:

"The 1989 classic again fulfills the main Auto Show promise—to have models of all cars on view for visitors to inspect and compare. The cars are displayed in spacious exhibit areas where they may be viewed from all angles. In most cases, visitors are invited to sit inside the car to check for vision, appointments, and comfort. The wide aisles

Safety Hints

Dim your headlights when you are within 500 feet of an approaching vehicle. If you are blinded suddenly by the bright headlights of an oncoming vehicle, turn your eyes away from the lights and use the right edge of the road to guide you.

Never stop on the road at night unless you have a flat tire or another emergency. If you must stop, pull as far off the road as possible. Use an illuminated or reflective device, such as a flare or reflecting triangle, to alert other drivers of your presence.

allow easy approach to any exhibit, even on the most crowded weekends."

The cars, of course, are the "stars" of the Show, but every effort has been made to present an afternoon or evening of interest to every member of the family. He continued:

"You name any mode of personal transportation and you can almost bet that it will be at the show—sports cars, luxury cars, family-oriented cars, recreational and commercial vehicles. And we can't forget to mention the exciting line-up of racing cars, magicians, sports and entertainment celebrities, radio and TV personalities, refreshment areas and oh-yes, the attractive narrator/models wherever you look—highlighting the features of the cars they proudly represent, and participating in games offering prize awards."

President Robert Anderson remarked, "Almost every car line this year will have something new in body style, engineering or convenience options in their respective displays. We can expect some additional surprises this year, since many of the manufacturers withhold details of new innovations until opening day."

Show Manager Jerry Cizek reported, "The exhibitors have gone all out to provide the most dazzling displays ever and the competition between the car lines is exciting. Thus far, the general promotion of the Show has been excellent. Despite the growing trend in higher costs, general admission to the Show is still only $5. We think this is a bargain for an entertaining afternoon or evening."

AAA suggest wiper blade care

Proper care of windshield wiper blades, a maintenance chore often neglected by motorists, is important for safe winter driving, according to Phil Arendt, AAA-Chicago Motor Club's manager of automotive information.

"Windshield wiper blades should be replaced at least once a year," Arendt said. "A good

Cadillac Allante, the two-passenger flagship of America's luxury-car leader, receives a major power increase for 1989. A new 4.5-liter V8 engine developing 200 horsepower propels Allante from 0 to 60 mph in under 8.5 seconds and to a top speed of 135 mph.

Cadillac also refined the Allante chassis to match its higher performance. Changes include a stronger transaxle, larger 16-inch wheels and tires, a three-mode automatically adjustable suspension system and variable-assist power steering. Additional refinements include softer leather seating and door panels, a sophisticated theft-deterrent system, engine oil life indicator, central door unlocking from the trunk, express-down windows, a new standard interior trim color (charcoal) and a new exterior color (light blue metallic).

Automotive transmissions need routine maintenance

No matter the season, heat is the number one enemy of automotive transmissions, according to Phil Arendt, AAA-Chicago Motor Club's manager of automotive information.

"In winter, drive wheels spinning on ice or snow can cause a transmission to overheat," Arendt said. "Severe driving conditions, including stop and go rush hour traffic, also cause heat that breaks down transmission fluid."

Cars driven under severe conditions should have the transmission fluid and filter changed every 15,000 miles, or once a year. Vehicles operated under ideal driving conditions—highway driving only—can get by with a fluid and filter change every other year. The owner's manual offers specific guidelines for routine transmission maintenance.

AAA-CMC recommends checking the fluid level monthly. If the transmission requires constant topping-off, there is a leak or some other internal problem. The color and smell of fluid also is an early warning sign of transmission trouble. Good fluid is red with no noticeable odor. Transmission fluid that needs replacing is brown with a burnt odor. Transmission noises should be investigated by a trained technician.

"Like most automotive systems, investing in routine maintenance will help avoid a major breakdown and an expensive repair bill," Arendt said.

Sheriff proposes new county parking tickets

Cook County Sheriff James E. O'Grady proposed new parking ordinances that will finally give Sheriff's police a pre-pay parking ticket for use in the unincorporated areas of Cook County.

The proposed ordinance, drafted jointly by the staffs of the Sheriff and County Board President George W. Dunne, was submitted to the Legislative and Intergovernmental Relations Committee of the Cook County Board.

The new ordinance comes in the wake of Circuit Court orders prohibiting the use of so-called "X" and "Y" tickets by Sheriff's police for parking violations in the unincorporated areas.

"This new ordinance will give our police a better tool to provide for public safety in the areas under our jurisdiction," O'Grady said.

The proposed ordinance gives violators within 14 days to pre-pay the fine at locations to be determined by the County Clerk. Failure to pay will result in a penalty equal to the fine. If persons cited fail to pay within 21 days of the initial 14 days, the State's Attorney will take the case to the Circuit Court.

In 1988, the court order left Sheriff's police with no legal means to city violators, creating complaints from businesses and residents in the unincorporated areas.

"We expect the number of parking citations to increase considerably now that we have the proper laws for the County to print the tickets and collect the fines," Sheriff O'Grady said.

New parking ordinances have been under consideration by the Sheriff's office and County officials since at least 1981, O'Grady said.

"The situation has been critical for years," Sheriff O'Grady said. "We are experiencing increasing residential and business congestion in areas under our jurisdiction."

"Parking ordinances are written to provide for public safety. Our roads must be kept clear to allow uninhabited flow of traffic and, especially, to keep those roads open for fire and public safety emergency vehicles."

I appreciate the cooperation other County agencies have given my staff, while finally coming to a solution of a problem that has long been festering in this County," Sheriff O'Grady said.

Radio, TV broadcast school closings

If extreme cold or snow forces Maine Township High School District 207 to close, announcements will be made on AM radio stations 67 WMAQ, WGN Radio 720, WBBM Newsradio 78, FM radio stations 99.6, US99, WCLR 102, WFYR 103.5; and television stations Channel 9 WGN-TV and Channel 23 WFLD. The decision to close schools is made in conjunction with Districts 62, 63, 64 and 79.

1989 Buick Riviera: A new concept in style and engineering

Riviera, Buick's prestige personal luxury coupe, is handsomely restyled for 1989. Longer, more substantial and more luxurious than before, it is also significantly improved in ride, handling and interior elegance.

Engineering enhancements include a further refined version of Buick's exclusive Dynaride suspension system, revised upper rear strut mounts for improved road isolation, and new-design engine mounts that reduce both torque steer and engine vibration.

"While our new Riviera recaptures some of the look and feel of our best Rivieras of the past, it also takes a step into the future," said Buick General Manager Edward H. Mertz. "With its smooth, powerful 3800 V-6 engine and lengthy list of standard comfort and convenience features, it is truly an exceptional value in its class."

The 1989 Riviera is 11 inches longer than the 1988 model it replaces. A more formal roof treatment, new body-color mirrors, wheel opening moldings and wrap-around protective side moldings with bright accents set off its dashing new profile.

A "stronger" vertical bar grille, a rich new chrome bumper design and other detail refinements enhance the car's frontal appearance, while its rear view benefits from more curvaceous rear quarter panels and distinctive new taillamps with bright Riviera crests in their centers.

Buick's exclusive and highly sophisticated electronic control center, which combines an array of functions that would require more than 90 separate conventional buttons into a single easy-to-understand, easy-to-operate central touch screen, remains standard for 1989. In addition to the Riviera's electronic climate and stereo entertainment systems, its features include digital and graphic engine gauges, trip computer, vehicle and engine diagnostics and a programmable reminder system. An integral "hands off" cellular phone and an electronic compass are optional additions.

Safe winter driving habits

No one expects to be stranded in a blizzard. However, if a severe winter storm develops while you are driving and you cannot find shelter, you could become stranded indefinitely.

If you become stranded, do not panic or try to walk to safety. Stay in your car where you have shelter and are more likely to be found. You also should do the following:

1) Turn on your emergency flashers, raise the hood and tie a "call help" flag or something else bright in color to the antenna. Turn on the dome light at night to make your car more visible.

2) If you need to warm your car, run the engine and heater for only a few minutes each hour. Be sure to clear snow away from the exhaust pipe. While the engine is running, open a downwind window slightly to help avoid carbon monoxide poisoning.

3) If more than one person is in the car, take turns keeping watch. Exercise by clapping hands and moving arms and legs. But do not overdo it. Exercise warms you but too much exercise can result in body heat loss.

4) Do not try to shovel snow away from your car and push it out of a drift. Overexertion and exposure during a severe winter storm can cause a heart attack, even for persons in apparently good physical condition.

Mitsubishi spotlights 1990 Eclipse

The all-new Mitsubishi Eclipse, blending luxurious sporty style together with economic value, will be in the spotlight when Mitsubishi Motor Sales of America, Inc. (MMSA) showcases its newest technology and styling advancements at this season's series of national auto shows. For 1989, MMSA brings together a broad range of vehicles from its global network of manufacturing sources including the all-new Galant, Japan's "Car of the Year," the economical Precis, imported from Korea by Mitsubishi; and the sleek stylish Eclipse, an early 1990 model debuting as Mitsubishi Motors' first U.S.-built sports specialty coupe. For truck and off-road enthusiasts, the Mitsubishi Motors display will feature the new 1989 Montero V-6 4-door, offering the largest interior space in its class. With 4-wheel-drive on-command capability, the Montero combines the best qualities of a luxurious family car with those of a rugged sport/utility vehicle. Additionally, MMSA's tough two- and four-wheel drive trucks will be on hand, including the popular MacroCab extended cab pickup introduced in 1988, to round out a full line of compact trucks available from Mitsubishi Motor dealers.

Traffic Safety Hints

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

Night driving is difficult and dangerous because of limited visibility and the glare from oncoming headlights. According to the National Safety Council, approximately 57 percent of all traffic deaths occur at night. These night driving tips will help you avoid an accident:

Avoid overdriving your headlights, which means driving too fast to stop within the distance lighted by your headlights (about 350 feet). Slow down and drive within that range.

As you look down the road, peer further ahead into the area that is only faintly illuminated. You may be able to pick up the dim glow of a distant headlight or other movement that can alert you to a possible hazard.

RES holds annual Science Fair

Resurrection High School held its annual Science Fair on Friday, January 6. The Fair, coordinated by Ms. Giusti and Ms. Konow, biology teachers at Res, had sixty-one student participants. The projects ran the entire scientific gamut from "Hydroponics: soilless planting" to consumer research in "Which diaper is more absorbent?"

Each project was judged on four basic levels: scientific method, written report, oral report and display. The judging committee chose: First Place, Julie Gorski; Second Place, Yogita Chaddha, and Third Place, Valya Dudyecz.

These three winners along with the top 10 runner ups will go on to compete at the Regionals in March at the Museum of Science and Industry.

to all those venturing into it. It will begin at 5:30 pm.

The Mardi Gras at Notre Dame is a genuine family event, being patronized by children of all ages, from tots to senior citizens. Its committee represents the combined efforts of NDHS students, faculty, staff, parents and alumni.

Proceeds from this yearly family event will go to the benefit of the Holy Cross Fathers' foreign missions in Bangladesh, Uganda, Kenya and Chile. Financial help is particularly needed by the missions in Bangladesh because of the very destructive flooding there last year. As in past years a portion of the proceeds will also be sent to Colegio Andacollo, in Santiago, Chile. The Colegio is a secondary school staffed by the Holy Cross Fathers in the slums of Santiago and very much in the need of financial assistance.

Those wanting more information about this Mardi Gras Carnival at Notre Dame should phone Rev. Joseph Stroot, CSC, Coordinator of the event at 965-2900.

Participants raised $3000. Each student will solicit pledges from family, friends, neighbors, and local businesses. Sponsors can donate lump sum or pay for each correctly answered test question.

Half of all proceeds will go to the Maine East Parents' Club. The Parents' Club donates the proceeds to a special scholarship fund for seniors. The other half of the proceeds are equally distributed among the entire student population for extra activity funds.

Valentine doll house admired

During their recent visit to Holidays House Museum, Maine Senior Citizens Norman and Irene Pine of Morton Grove were treated by proprietor Pat Loherty to a tour of the elaborately furnished doll houses on view there, including one for February decorated in Valentine motif.

Maine Township Senior Citizens attending Loherty's workshop on Feb. 7 at Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge, learned how to make the tiny drum table and other furnishings shown in the museum, that would make perfect gifts for little grandchildren.

For information, call Sue Neuschel, Director of Senior Activities for Maine Township, 297-2510. Loherty also conducts workshops at her museum located on Touhy Avenue near Park Ridge.

The 200-voice choir will perform at 3 p.m. at St. Peter's Church, 110 W. Madison in Chicago. Tickets are $7.50 and may be ordered by calling 960-2251. For reservations and further information, please call 561-2100.

Soviet pianist to perform

Dmitry Feofanov, a noted Soviet pianist, will perform the entire piano solo music by Sergei Prokofiev at The Music Center of the North Shore, in the 1991 centennial celebration of Prokofiev's birth. The recitals at The Center are in preparation of Feofanov's New York debut in 1991, when he will repeat the entire cycle in one month. The recitals at The Center will cover two years. The next two are scheduled for February 5, 1989, and June 4, 1989. The remaining two are scheduled for the fall and winter of 1989. While the cycle of recitals has been done once before in public, the performance of the entire piano solo works will be done for the first time in history by Feofanov.

Since the pieces are presented in chronological order, the cycle will lend itself easily to a lecture-recital format. The listeners will be able to trace the development of Prokofiev's style from his first school-years exercises to his last piano composition of 1949. This is a wonderful opportunity for the Chicago-area community to acquaint itself with one of the most important 20th century piano composers.

Dmitry Feofanov works at The Music Center and was the top prize winner of the 1982 University of Maryland International Piano Competition. He is a recognized scholar of Russian music with published articles and editions for Dover, Carl Fischer and forthcoming in 1990, a 50-page book for Greenwood Press.

She has performed in recital at the Music Center of the North Shore, where she studies under Emilio Del Rosario, and at DePaul University. Next month this versatile young musician will perform in a flute competition. Sarah Kreston is a member of a musical family well known to audiences. As a winner in the Concerto Competition of the Chicago Young Symphony Orchestra, Kreston appeared as soloist in Orchestra Hall in 1987. Chanticleer Opera at Skokie Library Chanticleer Opera Theatre presents two one-act operas on Sunday, Feb. 12, at the Skokie Public Library at 3 p.m.

First on the bill will be Thomas Arne's "The Eooper". Arne's charming 18th century comic-opera tells the tale of Martin, a cooper (barrel maker), who is the legal guardian of a lovely young girl, Fanny. Fanny is in love with an apprentice in Martin's shop, but the old cooper refuses to allow them to see each other. By clever thinking, Fanny and Colin devise a way to finally be together. The music is lyrical and poignant and the story is interwoven with nostalgia, comic dialogue, and pure classical love poetry.

The company will also present Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Telephone". If there is a perennial contemporary favorite, this delightful look at love (as seen not through rose-colored glasses but through a telephone receiver) is it! The story is a simple one: Ben loves Lucy and wants to propose marriage. Unfortunately, the constant interruptions and distractions of Lucy's telephone prevent him from doing so. How does he finally resolve this dilemma? Let's just say that the fastest way to Lucy's heart is through The Telephone.

The performance is in English. Free tickets will be distributed one-half hour before the performance on a first-come, first-served basis. The Library is located at 5215 Oakton in Skokie. For more information, call the Library at 673-7774.

DUI drivers...

Noting instances where convicted drunk drivers continue to drive even when their licenses have been suspended by the courts, Giovannelli said, "We legislate laws for the law abiders." Giovannelli proposes adding more muscle into the existing penalties by passing laws which will make it mandatory to confiscate the automobile owned by a driver arrested for his or her second offense. Giovannelli is currently studying similar laws enacted in California and other states which provide for the seizure of an offender's car if a DUI arrest is made. He hopes to enlist the support of other police chiefs through Illinois to lobby for tougher laws which would include confiscation of DUI vehicles.

Chief Larry Schey of Morton Grove is one of those favoring tougher penalties. "We probably

His record number of terms in office is a bench mark for office seekers in the immediate area. Nearest challenger to Mayor Blase's number of terms in office in nearby suburbs is Mayor Martin Butler of Park Ridge who will

Des Plaines man hangs himself

A 43-year-old Des Plaines man, dependent over a pending divorce, hung himself in a garage belonging to a Morton Grove man with whom he was temporarily staying. The victim and his brother were drinking beer and watching television until 6:45 p.m. in a home in the 6900 block of Beckwith Rd. the evening of Jan. 26. The victim's brother arrived to meet him at 6:15 a.m. the next morning and, when no one came

The Morton Grove man was charged with Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol and is scheduled to appear in court February 24.

The car driven by the Morton Grove man was traveling southeast on Milwaukee in the center lane. His vehicle crossed over a ribbed median and struck the Glenview man's car traveling north. Gleichman attributes the imminent deficit to the reduction in state aid combined with tax revenues which have not kept pace with increased costs to the education fund. State assistance is based on the number of pupils. In 1987, District 63 received 1.5 million dollars in General State Aid whereas the 1988 state contribution was $530 thousand. Homestead exemptions granted to senior homeowners have contributed to the decreased revenue as well.

"We've lost students, but we've closed schools and operated existing schools at maximum capacity," Dr. Gleichman noted. "The education fund represents 87 percent of our budget earmarked for staff administrators, and program costs."

Gleichman's staff is preparing materials supporting the need for a raise to show to the public "We'll be available to answer lots of questions," Gleichman said. "Unless Santa comes, we'll have to cut programs and staff without a raise."

Embezzlement

Between the dates of January 10 and January 19, approximately $147,000 was embezzled from Kids "n' Us, 9489 Golf Rd. The suspect is a female employee of the children's clothing store. Russell Swanson, District Loss Prevention Supervisor of the clothing chain, told Niles Police he suspected the employee (who was suspended) falsified return slips in exchange for cash. The last transaction of this type involving the 29 year old former employee was videotaped January 19. The subject refused to admit the crime January 23 at which time the company signed a formal complaint with police.

Stolen autos...

An auto reported stolen on Jan. 24 was found the same day parked at Kirk and Nora Streets. Niles police confirmed an auto they were investigating as possibly abandoned belonged to the victim, a Morton Grove man.

A 52 year old Chicago woman was shopping at Revere Mills, 7311 N. Harlem Ave., Niles when her 1988 Buick was stolen from the parking lot.

Referring to Dempster, Scheck said, "We can't see destroying commercial activity by eliminating on-street parking unless the State is willing to finance off-street parking." Scheck does not think there is any likelihood that parking will be banned along Dempster Street. The inclusion of Golf Road in the arterial grid plan will help eliminate traffic congestion along Dempster.

Scheck was also present Jan. 26 at the public hearing attended primarily by residents affected by a proposed interchange which would allow southbound Edens traffic to merge into the west-bound Kennedy lanes.

The final plan will be presented in March and after that the question of funding will be addressed. The plan is expected to address traffic issues through the year 2010 and is called CATS 2010.

DUI arrests...

available in Morton Grove list 135 in 1987 and 123 in 1988.

The average DUI offender is male and between the ages of 18 and 35; he is most often apprehended late at night or after 2 a.m. on the weekends. The geographic position of both Niles and Morton Grove contribute to the problem. The towns are close to popular bars and eateries, and major transportation arteries such as Milwaukee, Golf, Dempster and Oakton cut through them.

Morton Grove Police officer Jay Welter said that although traffic is but one of an officer's duties, covering main streets for two hours will probably turn up a drunk driver. He believes that arresting and putting a DUI of offender through the judicial system cuts down on the number of repeat offenders.

The legal process can be costly. The offender must post bond to be released. Because DUI is a jailable offense, he will probably hire a lawyer who requires a fee, and if found guilty, may be fined by the court. For a first offense, on a simple charge of DUI with no injuries, fines can range from $200 to 700 or more, depending on the severity of the case. He may be sent to jail or have to attend traffic safety school and lose time from his job.

Welter and Niles officer Richard Leddy feel their job is to get the drunk drivers off the streets. "They're out there," said Leddy, who also is certified to operate the Toxizor, a machine used in Niles to register blood alcohol content. A lot of the offenders Leddy stops are usually social drinkers, he said, but Niles attracts no more than the neighboring suburbs. Leddy said the Police are doing the best they can and making inroads on the problem of DUI.

Northwestern Savings posts strong 1988 gains

Northwestern Savings, now starting its 70th year of doing business, announced its financial results for 1988.

S.J. Cynkar, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, indicated that Northwestern posted strong gains to net worth and reserves over the year. Over $17.5 million was added bringing the total reserves to over $113.5 million.

Maine East students participate in health fair

At the Friday, Feb. 10, health fair in the girls' gym, Maine East students will have a chance to test their fitness.

This is the first time Maine East has had a health fair, but the idea seems to have caught on at a number of other suburban high schools. For example, Palatine High School held a "Feeling Great in '88" week in December. Nurse Barbara Manuele and health teacher James Rees have coordinated Maine East's health fair, which runs from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Approximately 25 community health organizations will have booths, and groups such as Narcotics Anonymous, Mainstay Youth Services, the American Heart Association, and Alcoholics Anonymous will distribute literature.

However, there will be more than just brochures from health services. Maine East students and faculty will be able to participate in a variety of health activities. For example, the Dental Hygiene department from Harper College will teach a "self-exam" for oral cancer, and Nursefinders of Arlington Heights will offer blood pressure screenings. Parkside Sport/Fitness Center will determine an individual's percent body fat. Faculty with pre-scheduled appointments can have blood profiles by Lutheran General Hospital along with a cholesterol test.

Several booths will be student organized. For example, biology students will test one's knowledge of bones by using the health skeleton, Dr. Bones. Paul Nelson's Computer Club will have a wellness booth, and Betty Axelson and her students will be on hand to test physical fitness.

The first health fair is open to all Maine East students, faculty and support staff during 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and teachers, especially health and physical education, have been encouraged to bring their classes down to the girls' gym to participate in the activities. In fact, some teachers will be giving assignments pertaining to the health fair.

"One objective of Drug Free Schools is to open up the relationship between the community and the school, and we think the health fair is an excellent activity to help promote this relationship," Nurse Manuele commented.

During 1988, Northwestern Savings continued to be ranked among the top savings and loan performers of its size in the country by independent analysts. The U.S. League of Savings Institutions cited Northwestern as being one of only six savings and loans nationwide with assets of at least one billion dollars to be one of the top ten performers in each of four areas of outstanding operating performance.

Northwestern's assets at year-end topped $1.02 billion.

The Association operates six in Chicagoland with a location at 6333 North Milwaukee Avenue near Devon.
