Niles parks plan playground renovation

by Nancy Keraminas

Equipment and subsurfaces at five Niles Park District playgrounds will be renovated within two years and the remaining eight playgrounds will be redone by 1994, according to Commissioner Jim Pierski. The facelifts were announced at the regular March 21 board meeting. All members of the board were present as were the two challengers for Park Board seats, Carol Panek and Bernard Skaja, who attended as visitors.

Chesterfield and Point playgrounds are scheduled for new playgrounds this year and play areas at Oakton Manor, and N.I.C.O. will be redone in 1990. Grennan Heights playground

District 63 cites State for $$$ woes

by Eileen Hirschfeld

The State has the primary responsibility for financing the system of public education. Article X, Education, Illinois Blue Book.

How should this sentence from the Illinois Constitution be interpreted? According to Dr. Eldon Gleichman, superintendent of East Maine School District 63, some educators believe the State should pay more than half the costs of education. He said a challenge many years ago resulted in a decision that full financing was only a state goal - not a responsibility.

Gleichman's district is one of many throughout the State that is in serious financial trouble. "Even before I came here, it was

School districts, like most bureaucracies, have lives of their own. School District 63 is no exception.

The East Maine School District 63 will be seeking a very hefty increase in the education tax rate April 4. Residents will be asked to increase the education tax rate which will cost homeowners with $100,000 homes $178 more annually. If your home is worth $150,000, it will be a tax increase of $267 annually.

According to school officials the education tax has not been increased since 1967. Inflation plus decreases in state aid have necessitated the increase, school officials contend.

Unfortunately the buck doesn't stop there. The upcoming quadrennial re-assessment of Maine Township is likely to increase taxes which will up District 63's $178-$267 annual increase even more.

Regrettably, "the life of its own" this district has had has been marked by erratic decisions by past school boards.

During the years when the district had Dr. Go Go as superintendent, he convinced the board the administrative offices at Ballard School should be improved so visiting VIP's would have a nicer environment to conduct business. The Board spent $450,000 in the improvement and soon afterwards the district

Local boards' closed meetings under court scrutiny

by Jill A. Janov

The Illinois Supreme Court may redefine the Open Meetings Act to allow area village boards, as well as school, park and library boards to conduct meetings in closed session where neither the public or newspapers will be able to monitor its elected officials.

This issue was raised when a Granite City reporter was not allowed to attend a school board executive session that reporters had regularly attended. Lawyers and journalists began to question public bodies' discretion to hold private meetings.

The decision to hear arguments whether or not "public advantage" is an adequate excuse for public bodies to hold executive session is pending in the Illinois Supreme Court. The case concerns the Open Meetings Act.

A decision will be made in about 30 days, according to Attorney Marc Porter, filling in for Gabriel Berrafato, at the March 16 Morton Grove Park District meeting.

Porter told the board the Appellate Court is trying to give public bodies broader discretion to go into closed session.

"Needless to say," Porter said,

Niles Park joins scouts

by Nancy Keraminas

The two scout troops from Viola Nelson Elementary School, 8901 N. Ozanam in Niles has been "adopted" by the Niles Park District and all involved applaud the new relationship. Other scout troops, however, are searching for sponsors after PTA leadership declined to assume the legal liability risk of screening and verifying volunteer staff. Previously, the scout organization assumed this responsibility.

In June of 1988, when the Boy Scouts of America changed certain of their application forms which must be signed by sponsoring organizations, the Chicago-based National PTA advised their local PTA leaders to examine the new documents for liability. PTA presidents from District 63 schools asked the school district to assess the risk involved. After conferring with the district's legal counsel and the school board, Superintendent Eldon L. Gleichman sent memos to PTA presidents at Mark Twain, Gemini, Nelson, Washington and Stevenson ad-

Niles Library architect plans parking lot

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Costs for a new parking lot and refurbishing the present lot of the Niles Public Library may cost about $200,000, according to board trustee Irene Costello.

As agreed to in a board vote earlier this month, the library's architect is drawing up specifications for the bidding process so that the library may add much needed parking.

A new lot will include about 50 parking spaces adjacent to the library building and, with the present parking, almost double available parking for library patrons and staff.

Skokie resident becomes technician on Yokota Air Base in Japan

A Samurai warrior guards the entrance to Mitake Jinja, a Shinto Shrine on the summit of Mount Mitake, Japan. The ancient shrine is a popular tourist attraction and is still used by Shinto priests.

As fog marches in from the Sea of Japan, you can almost see old Samurai warriors moving up to stop the advancing enemy. Today, Japan's modern Samurai is Air Force Staff Sgt. Steve A.S. Chambers.

industrial nations in the world. The two facets of Japan create a contrasting view for the Americans stationed there.

Tokyo, where East meets West, is one of the largest modern cities in the world today. It is a combination of Hollywood, Chicago, New York and Washington, D. C. Tokyo is the nation's capital, and home to the entertainment, transportation and financial centers. Although Tokyo is a city of over 12 million people, it is relatively crime and violence free.

"One of the advantages of living in Japan is the high money rate. It absolutely chokes me that the military really doesn't supplement my income to make up the difference. Another disadvantage is the traffic. It can take several hours one day to travel the same distance that it took one hour the day before."

Less than 40 years ago, the United States and Japan were locked in battles that spread all over the Pacific. The people of Japan, with their Geisha girls, Buddhist temples, bamboo groves and rice paddies, were as mysterious to Americans as the land they called home. However, today, Japan and the United States are allies, and economic leaders in the world. Japanese and Americans live and work side-by-side, developing mutual understanding and cooperation.

"The Japanese people appear to be very curious about foreigners and will go out of their way to help me get around in their country," said Chambers. "On the other hand, they don't open themselves up. They're still secretive about letting a foreigner see behind their masks."

Oakton College and mayor plan cooperation

by Maureen F. Deasy

A candidate for mayor of the City of Des Plaines, along with other residents were present at the Oakton Community College Board Meeting of Trustees to voice their opinion on the board's handling of the landfill problem and to complain about overbuilding on the flood plain area.

Bruce Gebert stated that his presence at the board meeting would be the start of new cooperation between the City and the College. Gebert said "My utmost concern is the residents of Des Plaines." He said "The philosophy of a community college is to keep the price down, educate the students, do a community thing. But when you are doing it at the expense of the Des Plaines residents, I wish you guys would sit back and reassess...Who is paying the price for your success?" Gebert an alumni of Oakton at Morton Grove, expressed his wish to return to the old way of doing things.

Leaders point to school revenue sources

by Nancy Keraminas

Most people agree that educational funding should be a priority but consensus varies depending on who is asked to foot the bill. According to the Illinois Constitution, the state is mandated to pay for education, but the level of state assistance is tied to local property taxes.

East Maine School District 63 hopes voters will agree to a 33 percent hike in the district's portion of their tax bill, but area political leaders have varying points of view as to whether a real estate tax hike is the appropriate solution for the school district's financial woes. One state legislator also supports an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce recommendation that school districts should be accountable for their productivity in much the same way as businesses.

Unlike last year, M-NASR plans to make pancake breakfast tickets available prior to the event, use a baseball diamond and set up a food concession.

Niles Park District Easter egg hunt party

Boostered by the success of last year's Christmas Party format, the Niles Park District held their Easter Party for Niles children in a similar fashion. Attendees paid an advanced registration fee of $1 for the March 18 function. As with the Christmas party, staff had to add a second seating due to the popular demand. A total of 160 children fortified themselves on cake, ice cream and fruit punch as Peter Rabbit, sporting a fresh, clean look for 1989, walked past their decorated tables inside the Recreation Center.

Peter's furry attire was perfect for the arctic egg hunt which followed outside on the Rec Center lawns. In contrast to last year's chaotic stampede at Ballard Leisure Center, there was plenty of room for the children, ages one through eight years, to gather eggs without being trampled. Diane Olson, who brought her four-year-old daughter Jacalin to the party, en-

Dist. 63 safety work

School District 63 will begin performing state code-mandated life safety maintenance, including additional asbestos removal, starting this summer. Two contracts were awarded at the School Board's March 13 meeting, with a total of $1,192,595 work to be performed, less than previously estimated. Life Safety bonds will be sold to finance the costs.

According to Joe Buri, Director of Operations for District 63, friable asbestos, the type contained in ceiling tiles which might readily be crushed into small particles and dust, will be removed from small sections of Nelson and Washington Schools and from Apollo School, where a "good portion of the ceiling tiles" contain asbestos. Asbestos contained in floor tiles, which does not pose a danger of being reduced to dust, will remain.

After the ceiling tiles and pipe elbow insulation is removed from the three schools, tiles will be replaced and other life safety work

COPING WITH STRESS

Stress may be seen at intense exertion, strain or effort-the wear and tear of life. Responding to stress in a healthy way is important and the following may be helpful: 1) Like yourself, recognize your needs and forgive your errors. 2) Define tasks at hand, planing relieves anxiety, watch for unrealistic goals. 3) Learn to accept what you cannot have. 4) Talk about troubles, another person can help you see your problem in a different light. 5) Relax creatively, learn how to enjoy your free time. 6) Work off tension through constructive physical activity. 7) Treat yourself to sufficient sleep. 8) Take medication cautiously, a physician may prescribe medication which helps relieve tension. Use only under his or her direction. Do not take sedatives or tranquilizers prescribed to others.

HOW MUCH DID YOU LOSE LAST YEAR ON NON-DEDUCTIBLE INTEREST?

UNLESS YOU ACT QUICKLY, THIS YEAR COULD BE WORSE.

As you know, Congress is steadily phasing out interest deductions on most consumer loans. An exception is a loan secured by your home. Which makes it a great time to apply for a home equity line of credit at First of America Bank.

A Special 20% Interest Rebate Offer

When you sign up for a home equity line by May 31, 1989, you'll receive a 20% rebate for all interest you pay this year. And we'll even waive all closing costs—an additional savings of up to $400. But you must act by May 31.

Put The Deduction Back In Your Interest.

The Federal tax laws allow you to use your home equity line of credit for any purpose you want. And in most cases, on loans all the way up to $100,000, you still get to take a 100 percent tax deduction.

Take Advantage Of Your Tax Break.

Get your tax break with our home equity line of credit. You can use this line instead of other loans that are no longer fully tax deductible.

You can also access your credit line simply by writing a check. And the payment schedule is flexible, too.

However, using the equity in your home is not something you should do without careful consideration. Furthermore, there are some items—like normal living expenses, for example—for which a home equity line of credit is definitely not appropriate.

So stop by your nearest First of America office, or call 1-800-544-6155 for more information brochure and an application. We'll also help you determine if a home equity line of credit is right for you.

In no time, we can have your good credit working in your favor.

Emotional eater loses 117 pounds

"I was an emotional eater," Deborah Kilgore of Evanston, said, who has lost 117 pounds over the past 18 months. "Rather than get angry, I'd eat. When it was time to celebrate, I'd eat."

"Add to that an enjoyment of cooking and of entertaining, and I was up to 232 pounds," explained the now slender communications counselor.

Deborah said she owes her weight loss to participation in the Weight Care Institute and Counseling Clinic which stresses a strong approach to weight care including therapeutic/psychological procedures and behavior modification.

"We (the individuals in her group) followed a somewhat structured basic food program allowing 800 calories a day for women and 1000 calories per day for men," she said. "We kept a food log in which we charted out food intake and feelings, and we participated in the weekly weigh-ins and group meetings."

Deborah said following the program was not hard for her. "You are allowed plenty of food," she stated, "but it is low in calories. The bulk makes you feel full, so you don't feel hungry."

"I was at the point where I was tired of having all that weight on," she said, looking back. "Everything hurt, and I didn't like the way I looked."

She also recommends getting involved in some physical activity either at home with a video tape or in an exercise class. "I've even joined a health club. Before I was too self-conscious," she said. "It's nice now having a body that can do things."

Tool and equipment thefts

Shwarz Paper, 6900 N. Austin Ave. reported the March 15 overnight theft of 24 propane tanks, each weighing approximately 33 pounds. The fuel containers were stored on the south side of the company's building. Value of the units was placed at $3,121.44.

An upholstery workroom located in the 9000 block of Golf Road is missing over $1500 in tools plus several items of furniture belonging to customers. The partners in the firm are separating. Four sofas, two love seats, four chairs and two ottomans were reportedly taken the night of March 15 along with two compressors, three staple guns and staples, a grinder and various other supplies.

An employee of Vapor Corporation, 6420 W. Howard St., is implicated in the theft of a roll comprised of 375 feet of copper cable St. Patrick's Day afternoon. Fellow employees observed the man roll the cable from the plant to the dock, use a hand truck to move the cable into a company van that he was not authorized to drive and then drive off in the vehicle. The thief returned the truck without the copper wire inside. Niles police have been asked to help investigate the theft.

Persons unknown stole over $1175 worth of equipment from a locked 1971 Chevy van parked in the 6000 block of Gross Point road ing the night of March 17. A side window was broken. The owner, who is a maintenance man, is reportedly missing motors, gas valves, a compressor, a vacuum pump, freon and a freon gauge. Niles College, at 7135 N. Harlem Ave. reported the theft of a $2,000 sound system from its storage area. The system was stolen sometime between March 12 and March 19. Various people have keys.

Passenger dragged by friend's car

A 47-year-old Des Plaines woman was treated for head injuries after she was dragged nearly four feet by her friend's car March 17 during the early evening rush hour. The woman had just stepped out of the back seat of her friend's vehicle on the northwest bound side Milwaukee Avenue north of Dempster Street and caught her coat on the door of the car. The driver, a 32-year-old Morton Grove woman, pulled away from the curb without realizing her friend was still attached. Two other women were also passengers. The victim's jacket finally tore and she fell to the pavement. Niles paramedics took her to Lutheran General Hospital where she was hospitalized.

Shoe salesman pockets cash

A Herman's Sporting Goods employee was observed selling $110 gym shoes to a 14-year-old boy for $50 and then pocketing the cash. Herman's management reportedly suspects the Niles man of eliminating the middleman for a least $3700 worth of footwear but March 17 was the first time he was caught in the act.

The thief admitted to the theft in question but declined to sign a formal admission of the theft. He has a prior arrest and conviction for grand larceny and burglary in another state. An assistant states attorney would not allow felony charges to be entered so he will have a March 31 court date on reduced theft charges in Niles.

DUI arrests

Niles police apprehended a 46-year-old Elk Grove man who was observed driving at intermittent rates of speed varying from 20 to 40 mph in the 8000 block of Milwaukee Ave. March 13. Stopped in the 8700 block of the roadway after crossing the center yellow line. The arresting officer noted the driver was glassy-eyed and needed to support himself on the car after exiting his vehicle.

In addition, the driver rolled head over heels onto the street after he stopped to retrieve his fallen driver's license. Charged with DUI and improper lane usage, the arrestee will appear in court April.

On March 16, a 38-year-old Des Plaines man was followed for several blocks beginning in the 9000 block of Golf Road after a Niles officer clocked him at 61 mph in a 35 mph zone. The driver failed two field sobriety tests after he was pulled over and will face DUI and speeding charges on April 7.

Thefts from cars

King Nissan reported the theft of four mag wheels and tires belonging to a 1973 Datsun 510 parked at 5701 W. Touhy Ave. The theft occurred sometime between March 9 and March 13.

Sometime during the week of March 7 a 1979 Ford pickup belonging to a Niles man, was burglarized while parked in the 7600 block of Harlem Ave. An $800 car phone was stolen, as was an $180 CB radio and a $200 tool box.

Employee forgers others' payroll checks

A personnel worker for Sears Roebuck apparently forged two severance checks and deposited them into an account in a Niles bank over a period of several months, according to a March 13 police report. The woman, who used at least one alias, deposited one check in the amount of $243.37 belonging to one terminated employee and a second check for $378.40 made out to another man who had also resigned. Charges are pending.

Police confirm unsanitary hotel condition

Two Pennsylvania visitors spent the night at a Milwaukee Avenue motel, on the recommendation of a Chicago cab driver and will probably not be referring any new business to that establishment.

According to a March 19 Niles police report, a mother and her 17-year-old son were enroute to Chicago from Tyrone, Pennsylvania when their car broke down on Interstate 294. They hailed a Chicago taxi whose driver suggested the motel as a good place to stay overnight. The bed in their room broke when its headboard, with attached lamp allegedly fell on them and they complained of ants in the bathroom. In addition, the visitors from the Keystone State found an empty box, beneath the bed, which had originally contained a sex doll.

When the tourists were refused a refund the next morning, they contacted Niles police who went inside the room and confirmed the description of the unit. The Department of Code Enforcement will follow up due to the sanitation complaints.

Stolen auto recovered

The owner of a Niles Printing firm reported the theft of his $18,000 Cadillac parked in the 6000 block of Gross Point Road on March 17. Someone observed the car being stolen around 4 p.m. Friday and reported it to the owner. Illinois State Police found the car abandoned in a south-bound shoulder of Interstate 55 near I-94 two hours later.

Three arrested for false identification

Two Skokie men, ages 18 and 19, and a 20-year-old River Grove woman were arrested by Niles Police after an employee of Doc Weed's found their drivers licenses to be fraudulent. One of the men had obtained a bogus Texas license and the second had a fake Illinois license. The woman had a duplicate license belonging to someone else, having obtained information and reported the license stolen to the Secretary of State's office. The trio will have a March 30 court appearance.

Possession of a controlled substance

A 30-year-old Des Plaines man used his father's house in the 9200 block of Nashville Ave. for a place to consume an illegal substance. On March 17, the man forcibly entered his father's house, setting off a residential burglar alarm. Police responded to the alarm, and in the course of their investigation, spotted a container on the family room coffee table containing illegal drugs and a pipe. Further investigation revealed the presence of cannabis and 1/2 gram of a white powder and a spoon. Police noticed the front right burner of the stove was recently used to heat the illegal white substance. Bond for the Des Plaines man was set at $5,000 and he is scheduled to appear in court April 5.

MG and Niles Police close in on robbers

On March 13 Morton Grove police assisted Niles police in apprehending shoplifters in a 7100 block of Dempster. Morton Grove police responded to a radio call informing police in the areas that thieves had just robbed Sound Warehouse. Morton Grove police informed Niles police of the location of the vehicle. Niles police closed in and took the occupants of the vehicle and into custody.

Armed robbery

On March 13 Duane's Amoco Service Station was the scene of an armed robbery. A 37-year-old Chicago man, an employee, was the only person who faced the robber. The robber, an unknown male approximately 30 years old, got away with $270. The male employee observed the offender enter the service door. The offender proceeded to approach the employee waving a gun. The employee cooperated under duress, and the offender fled before police arrived on the scene.

Auto burglary

A 29-year-old Chicago resident was the victim of burglary on March 13. The car, parked at 8350 Lehigh Ave. Morton Grove, was parked in an employee parking lot when the theft occurred. Items totalling $857 were taken from the car.

Garfield kidnapped

A $30 stuffed animal was apparently the reason for a March 15 auto break-in in the 7300 block of Jonquil Terrace. $100 damage was caused to the window of a 1984 Pontiac, whereby the gold cat, which adhered to the window with four suction cups, was removed.

Squirt Blue Rangers

Led by Rich Aulich's 2 goals and 1 assist and brother Nick Aulich's first shutout as a Ranger goalie the Squirt Blue Rangers soundly beat Wilmette #2 by a 7 to 0 score.

Eight different Rangers made it into the scoring column as they scored three goals in each of the first two periods then added a single goal in the third period.

Kevin Carroll scored the first of his 2 goals early in period one and it proved to be the game winner. David Christie also had 2 goals while playing outstanding on defense once again and the ever improving Ross Hamburger had a goal and an assist.

Pat Cline led the assist parade with 3 while Bill Barlock had 2 and Eric Hamm and John Barone 1 each.

Though not facing a lot of pressure from the over-matched Wilmette squad goalie Nick Aulich came up with some fine saves including stopping two break away opportunities in order to preserve his team's shutout victory.

Mite House League action

Although the Blues yielded the game's first goal, they were still in control most of the way as they defeated the Hawks 4 to 1 in Mite House League.

The Hawks got what was to be their only goal of the game at 5:09 of the first period when Tony Turner went end to end for an unassisted marker. Just four minutes later however the Blues scored to tie the game as they turned it into the Adam Mrowiec show when Adam got the first of his 3 goals with the assist going to Shaun Rowe. Twenty-four seconds later Mrowiec and Roe teamed up again and the Blues led 2 to 1 after the first period.

The lone goal of the second period belonged to the Blues Joey Patterson with the assist going to Derek Cwik.

Mrowiec got his hat trick when he scored the only third period goal with an unassisted tally. For his 3 goals Adam was voted the M.V.P. and received the game puck.

Squirt Blue Rangers' fine defense

Led by the goaltending of Adam Lovekamp and over all fine defensive play of such unsung heroes as Bobby and Richie Grabowski, Jerry Dalton, Matt Strong and Mike Mazzola the Squirt Blue Rangers battled Glenview #1 to a 1 to 1 tie.

Both goals were scored early in the first period. Glenview got on the board first at the 2:27 mark but just three minutes and seventeen seconds later John Flores fed Ross Hamburger with a perfect pass and Ross buried what proved to be the game's final goal.

Many outstanding defensive plays by both teams were the feature of the game's final two periods but outstanding goal tending by both goalies particularly the Ranger's Lovekamp prevented either team from taking the lead. Bill Barlock, Eric Hamm and defenseman John Barone were very instrumental in helping their teammates apply strong 3rd period pressure.

Squirt White Rangers

Gus Drivas scored what proved to be the game winning goal and Tony Turner once again sparked in goal as the Squirt White Rangers defeated Glenview #2 by the score of 3 to 0.

Drivas scored off a pass from center Peter Sikaris at 4:24 of the first period and the Rangers carried a 1 to 0 lead into the second period.

When Jimmy Sikaris scored an unassisted goal and Matt Papish fired one home just 37 seconds later, the Rangers had all the goals they would need. Papish who played his best game of the season was set up on his goal by Dan Frankfort and David Zawadzki.

The whole team is playing a more disciplined style of late and had many performers such as Jim Lubinski, Larry Waxman, Russ Duszak and Anthony Colletta who are forechecking and backchecking well and forcing mistakes by their opponents.

The Squirt White as well as the Squirt Blue Rangers seemed to be at their peak and ready to make a

Peewee Rangers victorious

The Peewee Rangers scored seven unanswered first period goals as they rolled over Wilmette #1 by the score of 12-1.

Led by team scoring leader Matt Zielinski's 5 goals and 2 assists the Rangers scored their seven first period goals in a span of just seven minutes.

Joining Zielinski in the scoring parade was Mike Barrett and Chad Wiener with 2 goals each while Marat Kagan, Nick Drivas and Darren Troch had 1 goal and 1 assist each.

Defensesman Greg Brand not only shined on defense once again but also registered 3 assists while fellow defensesman Jim Schmid had 2 assists and John Sikaris added a solo assist.

With just four weeks to go until playoffs this team seems to be putting it all together to make a strong bid for the North Shore Youth Hockey League Playoff Championship.

Tendon lengthening for child muscle deformity

Virtually every child with a muscle deformity caused by an imbalance in the muscular system may need surgery to be able to walk or even sit comfortably. Tendon lengthening is an early surgical procedure necessary to straighten the limbs of these children who otherwise might go through life "curled up like a pretzel," according to Lorin Brown, M.D., pediatric orthopedic surgeon, Lutheran General Children's Medical Center, Park Ridge.

Dr. Brown, one of approximately 300 pediatric orthopedic surgeons in the country, explains that tendon lengthening became popular in the 1950's for polio victims and is now used on children with deformities resulting from joints that have contracted due to muscular imbalances caused by damage to the brain or spinal cord. Cerebral palsy, spina bifida, muscular dystrophy and arthrogryposis, a paralytic disease comparable to polio, are the most commonly treated. "Children inflicted with brain or spinal cord damage caused by pre-birth strokes, car accidents or other cerebral damaging diseases, are crippled by a muscular imbalance where weakness in one tendon is counteracted by extreme strength in the opposing tendon,"

Dr. Brown said. For instance, the tendon in the back of the ankle may become so strong that the foot is positioned downward forcing the child to walk on his toes. When that tendon is lengthened by a Z-plasty type of surgical procedure, Dr. Brown said the front tendon may be able to gain strength and even the ability to pull the foot back up to a near-normal position. This makes it possible for the child to walk.

The tendon-lengthening procedure is performed at certain periods during growth. The child is monitored until the tendon is abnormally tightened. These lengthening processes, followed by physical therapy, can in some cases eliminate future need for braces which straighten limbs by force.

Dr. Brown adds that if the tendons are left crooked for too long, the removal of bone wedges is necessary to enable the tendon to be straightened so that the child can walk or sit properly. In cases where the child will inevitably never walk, tendon lengthening may be used to keep the hips in joint so that the crippled child is able to sit comfortably in a wheelchair. When dislocated, hips tend to rapidly become arthritic and painful in these children.

The awardees will receive special pins as mementos of their volunteers service achievements. Ceremonies begin at 1 p.m. in the medical center's Marian Hall meeting rooms located on the ground floor.

During the past year, volunteers at the medical center, nursing pavilion and the volunteer-operated Bargain Basket Thrift Shop in Edison Park tallied 95,721 hours of service, according to Joanne Heneghan, Volunteer director.

Working in clinical and support service areas, volunteers assist nurses on the units, deliver meals, newspapers and flowers, lend a hand with clerical assignments, staff the information desk, the gift shop and Bargain Basket thrift shop, and perform various tasks in a multitude of hospital and nursing pavilion departments. "These volunteers represent a vital part of our organization and make hospital volunteer work something truly special at Resurrection," she concluded.

Infant death support group

"Dealing with Family and Friends" will be the topic at the meeting of "Open Arms," a support group for persons who have lost a child through miscarriage, stillbirth or infant death, at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, March 28, at Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California Ave.

The meetings are free and open to all concerned persons. Moderators are trained counselors from the hospital staff. For more information call Ruthanne Warner, 878-8200, X5097, group moderator.

Health News

Lutheran General honored as Trauma Center

Late in November, Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge was honored by the Chicago Department of Health for its work as part of Chicago's Trauma Network. Officer Michael Lappe was on hand during the ceremonies as living proof that trauma centers save lives.

On Sunday, April 24, 1988, the police were called in to handle a domestic situation on the Northwest Side of Chicago. Officer Lappe, age 33, was admitted to the house to investigate and as he entered he was shot in the neck by a Northwest Side man. His fellow officers pulled Officer Lappe out of the house at which point paramedics quickly took him by ambulance to the nearest trauma center, Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge.

According to the paramedic's report, Officer Lappe was confused and they gave him a trauma score of four putting him in the high-risk category. At the hospital, the trauma team consisting of a trauma surgeon, an emergency medicine physician, the emergency room nurses and support staff were ready for action.

As part of the evaluation of his injuries, he received a CT scan of the head and spine. The physicians determined that he should be sent into surgery. It took the surgeons four hours to remove the bullet. Officer Lappe spent the next 11 days in Lutheran General's Intensive Care Unit.

Officer Lappe thinks highly of the care he received at Lutheran General. "I can't say enough," he explained. "Everyone went out of their way to make me feel more comfortable, more assured. I wasn't just another patient."

He had the opportunity to know the hospital and its staff intimately for he was not discharged until some three months later. He spent time on a medical/surgical unit before being moved to the rehabilitation floor. He was finally discharged on July 26. His ordeal was a difficult one, but because of the trauma system he is alive today and anticipating returning to work.

Needless to say, Officer Lappe is most impressed with the trauma system. "It definitely works," he commented. "It saved my life."

Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge was first designated an adult Trauma Center when the system was first set up by the City of Chicago in May of 1986. In the fall of that year, the hospital was also named a Trauma Center for pediatric patients. This year, the hospital was also named a Trauma Center for the State of Illinois. In 1987, Lutheran General treated some 700 adults and 150 pediatric patients from Chicago.

GOP candidate: Taxes among lowest

Joan B. Hall, Republican candidate for Maine Township Supervisor, said Thursday, March 9, that an analysis by the GOP slate for township offices shows that township taxes are among the lowest taxpayers pay for any local government service.

"Township taxes amount to only about two percent of a property owner's tax bill," Hall said, who heads a slate of nine candidates for township offices in the April 4 election.

Hall said figures show that an average taxpayer owning a home with a resale value of about $100,000 paid only $23 for township services on the most recent tax bill. Approximately $3.75 of that is used to fund local agencies that provide essential social services to Maine Township residents regardless of their ability to pay.

Citing an example of a typical tax bill, Hall said a homeowner in Des Plaines who is now paying $23.16 for all three township funds is being taxed twice as much—$55.02—for park district services. That same taxpayer is paying $98.20 or four times as much for city services, not including the cost of garbage collection and water. That property owner also paid $291.46 to Elementary School District 62 and $280.13 to High School District 207.

Hall said an analysis of tax bills of property owners in Morton Grove, Niles, and Park Ridge with resale values from $105,000 to $225,000 revealed that the percentage of township taxes ranged from 1.85 percent to 2.3 percent of the total tax bill.

She said, "This is a very minimal amount—about 6 cents per day per household—for the wide range of services that Maine Township provides."

Among the issues confronting the board during the past four years were major increases in the cost of liability and health insurance, the need to establish a pension fund for employees to provide benefits offered by almost every other governmental body in Illinois, and the crisis in social services resulting from the termination of the Federal Revenue Sharing Program.

Rifkin, who is seeking a second term as Trustee, added, "We believe we have a responsibility to help meet these needs. There is a large segment of the population that does not have the income or insurance to afford mental health, counseling, alcoholism treatment, day-care, crisis shelters, or the many other services these agencies provide."

Running on the GOP slate besides Hall, Thompson, Rifkin and Williams, are incumbents Stephen J. Stolton for Clerk, Bill Fraser for Highway Commissioner, Thomas E. Rueckert for Assessor, and Gary K. Warner for Collector. The fourth candidate for trustee slated by the Republicans is Carol Teschky, a Glenview businesswoman.

In-person absentee voting

Maine Township Clerk Stephen J. Stolton is reminding registered voters who are residents of unincorporated Maine Township and expect to be out of the county on Election Day, Tuesday, April 4, that can vote in-person by absentee ballot at his office in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard rd., Park Ridge.

The Clerk's Office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. In-person absentee balloting will be available through Monday, April 3.

Stolton stressed that only residents of the unincorporated area who will be out of the county on Election Day may vote in person at their city or village halls.

For further information, call the Clerk's Office at 297-2510.

Engelman vows to improve parks

Val Engelman

Val Engelman, incumbent Niles Park District Commissioner, is campaigning on the issue of improvements to parks and programs, at no increase in the tax rate through the use of capital development bonds.

The extensive park improvements to swimming pools, Tam Golf Course, playgrounds, and Grennan Heights are scheduled and will soon be readily visible.

Young adults now have co-ed programs such as softball and volleyball. There are adult open swim times which are being expanded this year and sand pit volleyball games scheduled for the volleyball courts at the Sports Complex Pool. Dances and various recreational events are being planned as part of the 35th Anniversary celebration.

Young families have seen an expanded pre-school program to include intergenerational programs, dad and tots programs and increased gym time for youngsters as a result of the use of Ballard School. A new family golf time is scheduled during non-prime weekend hours with a student rate for young golfers. Increased cooperation with the school districts has resulted in after school activities to help working parents and their children. A special teen dance is planned this summer and there has been a dramatic increase in teen activities.

All of this is being done with no increase in the tax rate and at the direction of the Board of Commissioners. As an incumbent commissioner, Engelman pledges to continue to expand programming to meet the changing needs of the community with an increased emphasis on young adults and teens and to upgrade all park facilities including Tam Golf Course.

Panek cites past experience in seeking park seat

Carol Panek, Candidate for Niles Park District Commissioner, is emphasizing her extensive community involvement and experience as a Village Board Member in seeking election to the Park Board.

Her past involvement in such activities as the Bicentennial Celebration and parade affect her interest in the Park District July 4 Celebration. She would work to increase community participation in the event, thru individual contributions such as those in nearby communities or thru a community wide committee to work on the events.

As a long time resident of Niles, Carol has raised her family in Niles and has seen the recreational needs of the community grow and change as the makeup of the community changes. She points to youth activities, programs for children of working mothers, and sponsorship of performing arts as areas she would concentrate on as a commissioner.

An avid golfer and member of Tam Golf leagues she is interested in developing the best possible course for the community and is excited about future improvements planned for the course and club house.

By increasing cooperation with school districts, Carol would work for expanded teen activities and after school programs for working parents. She points to strong programming for seniors and youth which the district has developed and would sponsor a continued assessment of changing recreational needs in the district. An avid walker, Carol is interested in sponsoring such activities in Niles through the park district.

Carol would bring to the Niles Park District Board strong community ties, excellent governmental experience and a sincere interest in providing the best recreational opportunities to the residents of Niles. She has been faithfully attending Park District meetings and is confident the district can continue to meet the needs of the community and improve facilities without a tax increase.

Day Care - Summer Camp Guide

Summer camp question/answers session

Have some questions about summer camp for your child? How old are the staff? Who is in charge? How well supervised are the campers? What will my child learn?

These and many other questions are concerns parents normally have about summer camp. Bill Mathis, Executive Director of YMCA Camp Duncan and YMCA Camp Pinewood said.

"Children going away from Mom and Dad—especially for the first time, can create some anxiety in the parents and child. I hope to allay some fears parents may have and describe to them the growth that takes place in children who experience YMCA summer camp," Mathis explained.

Camp Duncan and Camp Pinewood has scheduled area information nights in which Mathis will present slides, talk about Camps Duncan & Pinewood and answer questions.

YMCA Camp Pinewood serves 7-16 year old boys and girls and offers a wide variety of activities. Swimming, canoeing, windsurfing, crafts, horseback riding, canoe trips, backpack trips, Indian Tipi Village, nature, games, gymnastics, high school leadership programs and much more.

Summer outdoor adventure camp registration

The Niles Park District will accept registration for the popular Outdoor Adventure Camp for youth ages 11-13. Registration will be held at the Administrative Office, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. (a birth certificate and proof of residency must be presented at the time of registration) beginning Monday, April 3 at 9 a.m.

The Outdoor Adventure Camp gives campers the opportunity to plan their own events and trips. Each session is highlighted with an overnight campout. Those interested in the program are encouraged to register early as the camp is very popular and does fill quickly. The camp meets Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and transportation is included.

Two sessions of Outdoor Adventure Camp are available. Session 1 - June 19 to July 14, Session 2 - July 17 to Aug. 11. Each session is $200 prior to June 3 and $215, June 3 or after. Non-resident rates are 50 percent higher.

For additional outdoor adventure camp information, call 824-8860.

"The Day Care Dilemma" seminar

Many parents are concerned about harmful effects that day care may have on their child's overall development, according to Jeri Kaminsky, outpatient mental health services, Lutheran General Children's Medical Center. Kaminsky will discuss how parents can discover ways to assess the care that children in day care are receiving and if their child care option is working at a free seminar entitled "The Day Care Dilemma", from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, March 14, in the Olson Auditorium, Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge, 1775 Dempster St.

Kaminsky's discussion will focus on the guilt and fear that parents face when leaving their children under the supervision of a day care center and how their children will fare in the future as a result of the care they receive now. The seminar will also teach parents to choose the best alternative for their children by determining the effectiveness of their day care decision.

To learn more about leaving children under the supervision of day care centers, make reservations for the Lutheran General Children's Medical Center "The Day Care Dilemma" free seminar by calling 696-6005. Attendance is limited and reservations are necessary.

Morton Grove seeks counselors

The camp is located in beautiful western Michigan near Muskegon, on their private spring fed lake. Campers may stay 1 or 2 weeks and coach bus transportation is available.

YMCA Camp Duncan is located near Fox Lake, Illinois and serves 7-12 year old boys and girls in 1 week sessions. A wide variety of activities is offered and facilities include an indoor swimming pool, 400 acres of land, a semi-private lake and modern buildings. In addition, Camp Duncan offers Teen Adventure Camp Programs for 13-15 year old campers. Rock climbing, canoeing, fishing and whitewater rafting trips are scheduled.

"The exciting thing about both camps," Mathis continued, "is to see children share, learn some responsibility and begin to put others first and self second. Learning to swim, going on a campout trip and meeting new children plays an important part toward a child's development to adulthood."

Complete information is available by calling the YMCA Camping staff at 546-8086 or attending the Information Nights at 7:15 p.m. at the Buehler YMCA, Box 387, Palatine, on March 20; at the Lattif YMCA, 300 E. Angelo "Ginger" Troiani, candidate for Maine Township Highway Commissioner on the Democratic slate in the April 4 Township election, was recently nominated for a Citation of Honor by the Armed Forces Council of Chicago.

It is a tremendous honor for my family and me to be nominated for such an award," said Troiani, a longtime Niles resident. "This award is special to me because it involves service to the armed forces, which I have been involved with all of my life.

Troiani is a member of VFW Post 7712, was a founding member of the Niles Navy League Council and is a United States Army Veteran, who served in the Korean war. Troiani also is currently involved with the Niles Zoing Board, the Niles Lions Club and the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

He was nominated for this prestigious award for his service to the Glenview Naval Air Station Library, an institution which serves over 6000 service personnel. He coordinated efforts to reorganize the operation and resources of this library, in conjunction with the Niles Public Library and the Niles Navy League. Troiani was also cited for his work towards providing gift certificates to needy service families during the holiday season.

Troiani resides in Niles with his wife and children and is president and owner of Acro Remodeling and Repair Services, Inc.

Democratic candidates seek to improve senior services

Democratic candidates for township offices in the April 4 election, have announced they will actively seek to improve services provided to senior citizens by township government.

"Providing services for Maine Township senior citizens will be one of our top priorities when we are elected," stated Norma Daniel, candidate for Township Clerk on the Democratic slate. "We want to investigate developing potential new services for seniors that will help them with their everyday needs."

Daniel spoke about some of the programs the Democratic slate will investigate on behalf of township seniors. "We would like to explore the possibility of having medical personnel come to the township hall regularly to provide basic medical services at low costs for our seniors, such as cholesterol screening, eye examinations, blood pressure examinations and podiatry," said Daniel. "This would be beneficial for both seniors and medical personnel alike and has been done in some municipalities. Also, we would like to look into the practicality of providing bus transportation to local shopping centers for seniors who live in areas where this type of transportation is not provided regularly. This is a particular problem in some parts of the unincorporated area, and has worked exceptionally well in the Village of Niles.

Senior citizens are the greatest assets that we have in our community. Our slate is dedicated to making township government more responsive to their needs."

Illinois Bell protects customers

Illinois Bell today announced it will invest $80 million over the next five years to provide customers with additional protection from potential telephone service disruptions.

The centerpiece of the plan is a new network design that automatically will maintain network communications in the event of a fire such as the one that disabled Illinois Bell's Hinsdale switching system last spring.

The new network design plus a series of other protective steps are part of a program called the Ameritech Network Protection Plan.

"The changes we are making are the result of a careful review of every aspect of the Hinsdale fire and the impact it had on customers," said Jim Eibel, Illinois Bell operations vice president.

"We are determined to protect customer communications and the additional safeguards we are taking will significantly reduce the risk of another major service disruption," Eibel said. "The preventive measures will minimize the impact on customers even in the highly unlikely case of another such event."

Eibel outlined steps that are being taken to reinforce the company's existing service protection. A new network design will make it possible to route calls automatically around a communications gateway or fiber optic cable that has been damaged or disabled. A gateway is a major network transmission center linking local switching centers with one another and with long distance networks.

90% of wage earners can deduct IRA contributions

by Donald J. Babicz
President of Norwood Federal Savings

Although the 1986 Tax Reform Act changed the deductibility of contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), the good news is 90 percent of all wage earners can still deduct some or all of their annual contributions. That means IRAs are still among the best long-term savings vehicles available.

Can You Deduct?

Forty six percent of all wage earners are not currently covered by an employee pension plan, so they can deduct their full IRA contribution. Forty-four percent of all wage earners qualify for a full or partial deduction because their earnings do not exceed IRA income limits. For example, if you're single and your adjusted gross income is less than $25,000 annually, you can deduct 100 percent of your IRA contribution. The same is true if you're married, filing jointly and have a combined income of less than $40,000 a year. Single persons whose adjusted gross income is between $25,001 and $34,999 a year can take a partial deduction, as can married couples with a combined income between $40,001 and $49,999. The only parties who cannot deduct at all are singles who earn more than $35,000 a year, and married couples whose adjusted gross income exceeds $50,000 annually—combined they account for just ten percent of all wage earners.

Should I Contribute if I Can't Deduct?

Even if you can't deduct, you can still contribute to an IRA. Deducting your contribution is a sure way to save on taxes, but if you can't deduct at all, an IRA can help you lower your tax liability for this reason: the interest your IRA earns is sheltered from taxes until you withdraw. Regardless of how much you earn, you will pay no taxes on this interest until you withdraw. If you withdraw after retirement, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, and will pay less in taxes than you would have had you been responsible for those taxes during your peak earning years. Because their interest stays in the account and compounds with the rest of the principal, your funds will grow faster in an IRA than they could in a taxable account.

How Much Can I Contribute?

Many people don't realize the flexibility they have in making contributions to an IRA. You can make annual, lump-sum contributions, or you can make frequent, smaller additions—whatever suits your savings style. If you are a single taxpayer, you can contribute up to $2,000 a year. Married couples where one spouse works are limited to $2,500 a year, or $4,000 a year if both spouses work. You aren't required to contribute the maximum dollar amount; add any amount that you can afford, as long as you don't exceed the annual limit.

Withdrawing from an IRA

Withdrawing early negates many of the investment's benefits. To benefit fully from an IRA, you should regard it as a long-term savings account, and plan to keep the funds invested until you turn 59 1/2. However, be aware that you can access your funds if you need to—your money is not locked away forever when you open an IRA. You can withdraw your funds, but you will pay a penalty, plus taxes on the amount you withdraw.

Rules and Regs

You can obtain an IRA any time you have earned income. You are eligible to begin withdrawing your savings without penalty at age 59 1/2, and you must pay taxes on the amount you withdraw. Mandatory distributions begin at age 70 1/2; at this time, you also are no longer eligible to make contributions to an IRA.

Why Do I Need an IRA?

Many people have their doubts about the nation's Social Security System. Will there be enough funds left when today's wage earners reach retirement? Although the Social Security Administration says yes, they recommend using Social Security payments as a savings base, not as a total retirement plan. Why not use an IRA to fill the gap between Social Security payments, and what it will cost to live comfortably at retirement?

Make Your Contribution Today

You have until April 15, 1989 to make your 1988 IRA contribution. Depending on your adjusted gross income, your contribution may be tax deductible, and you could reap the benefits of this year's tax return. Check with your tax adviser for specific information. Even if you can't deduct, your tax-deferred contribution will be a great addition to your long-term savings plan. Remember that your funds earn interest from the day of deposit; if you add to your account now, you'll earn more interest, and the account will grow more quickly. And that will be a comfort to you, especially when it comes time to retire.

Donald J. Babicz is President of Norwood Federal Savings Bank, whose main office is located at 5813 N. Milwaukee, Chicago.

Niles Library trustee answers candidate's charges

Dear Editor:

At the League of Women Voters' of Morton Grove and Niles Forum for "Meet your Candidate" held on Sun., March 19, at the Niles Public Library, there were some very serious charges made by Milton Buzil against both the Library Administration and the Library Board. I would like to take this opportunity to answer some of these charges.

1. Fiscal Mismanagement: We have the expertise of an administrator with the very best of credentials and reputation in Mr. McKenzie at the library or call him and discuss it with him several days prior to the board meeting. In the case Buzil spoke of, each purchase was questioned very closely by Robert Quattrocchi at the board meeting. Also, each purchase was discussed almost a year ago in committee and put into the Five Year Plan. The library is also well reviewed by an auditor and an accountant and a copy of our audit is filed with the State of Illinois. This accountant is, in fact, present at each board meeting to present the financial statement of accounts and advise the board. We have had four years of a very cooperative, dedicated and hard-working board, showing excellent results and really moving forward. Our sincere wish is that in the next ten years we do not have six administrators as we have had in the past ten years.

2. Blank Check Mentality: We are well aware of what the requests for purchases will be several days before the board meeting. These are listed in our Board Packets which are delivered to our homes. If we have any questions about these purchases, we will either visit McKenzie at the library or call him and discuss it with him several days prior to the board meeting. The board has made every effort to make its operation an open book. We are indeed distressed that a candidate for the board should have such an unfounded negative attitude. We put in a lot of time doing what we feel is good for the Library and the community we serve. Please consider this information as you make your decision about current library candidates. MG resident lauds Szachowicz record

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank The Bugle for the article on March 16 regarding the Morton Grove Trustee election news.

I support Henry E. Szachowicz for trustee for these reasons. 1. His flawless record as a trustee for the past four years has benefited the village immensely. 2. As an attorney, he's trained to see details that others might overlook, therefore he protects the interests of the people of Morton Grove.

I've been a member of the Active Party for 10 years. I like them. I think basically they've done a good job. However, they've made a gross mistake by not reslating Henry Szachowicz. You don't waste talent and throw away an excellent proven record as trustee just because he doesn't agree with everything that the party demands. The democratic system is so designed that it's our right to have a difference of opinion. That's why we vote. I hope the people of Morton Grove come out and vote on April 4 and vote for Henry E. Szachowicz, Trustee. We need a Choice.

Sincerely,
Gerri M. Cousar

both Cocoran. A first-degree murder conviction is based on the defendant's knowledge that his actions would kill our cause great harm to his victim. As Matuk, openly wept, Tutie told the judge he loved his girlfriend very much.

Police were summoned to the couple's apartment September 24, 1987 and found Cocoran in a hallway. According to police testimony, the woman begged them to help Matuk, who she believed was trying to kill himself. Cocoran told officers she was cut on her hands. Shortly after police arrived, Matuk collapsed with a steak knife in his chest. Police saw a small tear in her sweater and noted she was short of breath but was otherwise unaware the apparent that the district was headed downhill toward disaster," said Gleichman. He was appointed in the summer of 1986.

District 63 is calling for a tax referendum to increase the tax rate from $1.81 to $2.40 per $1,000 of equalized assessed valuation. The district's last Education Fund referendum was passed by voters in March, 1967.

The three causes of District 63's problems are inflation, decrease in state funding and no increase in the Educational Fund tax rates since 1967, he said. For the past six years, the district has spent about $500,000 more than its income.

The Educational Fund is the major fund and one of nine to support the school district. About 90 percent of expenditures from the Educational Fund pay for instruction and support services.

About 75 percent of the Educational Fund's money is derived from local taxes, only five percent from general state aid and about 20 percent from other sources. Because most of this fund is appropriated from local property taxes, voters may determine how much can be collected.

General state aid is based on many items but two key factors are student population and assessed valuation. If student population declines and assessed valuation increases, state aid will decrease, said Gleichman. Both those conditions have been true of District 63.

Student enrollment is about 2,960 pupils this year. It dropped by 1,940 students from the benchmark year of September, 1977 although enrollment had peaked in the late 1960's at about 7,500 pupils. The number is projected to level out at about 2,883 students in about five years.

Gleichman said the present tax rate is one of the most "moderate" in Cook County. "Of 12 area suburbs, Educational Fund rates range from $1.71 in Elk Grove to $2.51 in Schaumburg. However, rates do not tell the whole story. The amount of money a school district receives also will depend on equalized assessed valuation of homes in the district as well as number of taxpayers.

Of the 12 suburbs listed, Elk Grove District may have the lowest tax rate (12th) but had the highest amount of 1987 taxes at $1,418,090,208. East Maine had the ninth lowest tax rate and was ninth from the bottom in its share woman was stabbed. While Matuk was under sedation, following surgery for his wounds, he gave conflicting statements about Cocoran's stabbing. He told a prosecutor that he swung at her in anger after she refused to accompany him to a medical appointment and changed his mind as the knife was in mid-swing. A second version told to the same prosecutor was that Cocoran was attempting to stop him from committing suicide when she was inadvertently injured. Cocoran died of a stab wound to her heart on September 26.

Removals of the dead woman started out of the courtroom after the acquittal.

estimates for programming and equipment. "First they (Bell officials) told us January 1, then February 1, then March 1. We're refusing to allow them to collect the surcharge until they present their packages," Kinowski told The Bugle, expressing irritation at the delay. The chief projects the surcharge will begin by June 1.

Thereafter, 18-24 months will elapse before 911 is operational. Centel, which provides phone service to a minority of Niles residents, will levy the identical amount for their customers, based on Bell's estimates and the Board's approval. Members of the board are hopeful that the line charge will be less than the $1 per month amount authorized.

The 911 Board will also receive and disburse the surcharge receipts, which are to be deposited into an interest-bearing Emergency Telephone System Fund, administered by the Village Treasurer.

By law, the surcharge fund can be used for engineering design, computer programming, equipment installation and network charges. Municipalities must themselves assume the cost of maintenance and building of the facilities and the salaries of the personnel.

Morton Grove Village Administrator Larry Arft reports he has received only "positive feedback" from residents who will be affected by passage of that village's referendum. The village printed a special March 20 newsletter devoted to 911 issues and educating residents about village-wide recycling, expected to begin June 1.

Although all funds are segregated, monies from Working Cash may be borrowed for other funds. Any cash borrowed from this fund must be returned. According to statute, voters also may vote on the Working Cash Fund. Gleichman said the law does have provisions for closing out Working Cash and transferring monies to the Educational Fund but "Then, you defeat your purpose because there are no reserves," he said.

The Operations, Building and Maintenance Fund is for operating and improving the schools. Gleichman said this fund is very "tight." Also, other funds must be watched closely, he said.

Other funds are Bond and Interest, Building and Maintenance; Tort Immunity; Transportation; Social Security and IMRF and Special Education.

Since 1973, the board of East Maine District 63 has attempted to cut expenses with 50 moves. Some of the major cost cutting items included:

1. closing four elementary schools and eliminating their administrative staff, custodians and many operation costs;
2. cutting 133 teachers, many administrators and other professional personnel;
3. decreasing the entire instruction supportive staff in proportion to the decline in pupil enrollment and
4. maintaining the same instructional budget for the last three years.

District 63 serves students in portions of Niles, Morton Grove, and unincorporated Maine Township.

visiting them to discontinue their 30-year sponsorship of scout troops because of the legal implications involved. Embroiled in financial problems, the school district declined to assume the additional liability insurance expense to cover the guidelines.

Under the revised requirements, according to Nelson PTA President Mary Senkowski, chartering organizations were being asked to screen and check the references of scouting coordinators and unit leaders, most of whom were parents. PTA presidents sent memos out to parents advising them of the problem. Mean-

"there has been much objection by newspaper." But Porter believes there are two issues: "Of course you want to keep deliberation open to the public because the public has the right to know, but public bodies can work more efficiently in closed session."

Porter told The Bugle the Act gave public bodies the right to privately discuss such issues as personnel litigation contracts, real estate acquisitions and insurance claims.

A purpose of the Act, according to Appellate Court Justice Thomas Welch, is to "promote openness of public business" but he also noted that the chief reason for the act is securing the public advantage.

According to an article published in the Chicago Daily Law the former Shell property was completed and, in December, board members met with the architect to discuss plans. At that time, board members were notified that a discussion with state authorities ruled out the possibility of an entrance or exit to the planned parking area from either Oakton Street or Waukegan Road because of safety factors.

Although expenses for the new lot were included in the library's five year plan, a decision to combine several stages of work on the property was not made until a library tax increase referendum passed in March.

After work sign-up times will be announced shortly.

Commissioner Pierski reported that the old TAM maintenance garage has been demolished and architectural drawings for a new garage will be submitted in mid April, with final bids being accepted May 24.

In other venue facility business, the Board members agreed to arrange ice show transportation for the April 15 matinee performance for senior citizen groups. Children's camp registration begins:

Bulletin, a three member panel of the 5th District Appellate Court explained that "when it is not in the public's advantage that a public body carry on its business in a meeting open to the public [and] priority should be given to the more dominant or overriding purpose [of public advantage]."

But the newspaper maintains the exception should be included in the act and the school board argues that "it is too cumbersome for public bodies" to separate closed and open issues.

However, although Niles and Morton Grove public officials who were contacted by The Bugle are not familiar with the case pending, Morton Grove Park District Administrator Gary Balling said he is comfortable with the way the Open Meetings Act is currently operating.

ing available parking at least two years ago when it purchased property formerly used for a Shell gas station at the corner of Oakton Street and Waukegan Road. The cost was $250,000 with $100,000 donated by the Village of Niles.

In the bid specifications, the architect will include resurfacing the Shell lot, landscaping and lighting. Costello said improvements also will include building an entrance from the upper to the lower lot, new lighting on the present lot and relocation of a handicapped parking zone so that the Niles courtesy bus may be able to pull out of traffic lanes.

Plans for the lots have been discussed on and off for two years. Last October, a survey of staff members extra preparation time. Proof of age and residency is required at the time of registration, without exceptions. Marusek reported a positive community response to open gym time at Ballard Leisure Center, Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., enabling younger children to have better access to the gym facilities.

July 4th plans announced: Ten bands will be part of the 4th of July parade, which Board President Elaine Heinen anticipates will be the biggest parade in the district's 35 year history.

Heinen invited community groups to enter floats in the parade. If parade route sanitation conditions can be met, four members of the Illinois 8th Cavalry will participate. Heinen invited community groups and organizations to attend a May 9 meeting about the festivities.

In other Park District business, Director William Hughes told Board members dunk basketball leagues will no longer be permitted because of damage to backboards. The board adjourned for an executive session at 9:50 p.m.

No Maine Township edition of Wheel of Fortune would be complete without a version of letter-turn Vanna White. Des Plaines' Kay Donnell, who would admit to being no more than 102 years of age, wore a different sleek gown at each session. Donnell agreed to spin the wheel at this year's festivities but could not guarantee she would be on hand for a repeat performance in 1990.

"I might be dead and rotted next year," the silver-haired golden ager remarked. Bruno Liput designed and built the wheel for the event.

Guests were divided into three teams, represented by one player per team on stage. Niles' Bud Bender was ready to buy vowels from Vanna; Dorothy Nieman of Des Plaines took time out from her McMaine sister role to play for her team; and Al McKenzie of Park Ridge proved there's "no fool like a wheel fool" when he built the luxurious Apollo Junior High School, replete with carpeting and air conditioning. The administrative offices moved out of Ballard and were lodged at Apollo. Not too many years later Ballard was closed and Apollo was also shuttered for junior high work. The $450,000 of Ballard construction went down the tube and the Apollo school and its 1980's "luxuries" moved to the debit side of the ledger.

The decision makers who approved those expenditures are long gone. The superintendent of those days moved up and out. And the school board members of twenty years ago have long since moved on. But the guys and gals who foot the bills are the occupants of the homes in today's school district. Yesterday's follies are still included in your tax bills.

District 63 is certainly getting squeezed. As more and more schools are closed, state tax revenues have diminished in local school districts.

One of the major albatrosses around the necks of the district is the administrative salaries paid to its top people. In bygone years, when there were eleven schools in the district, the superintendent received around $35,000 to $40,000 annually. Today with half the number of schools, the top man is around the $80,000 mark.

In bygone years one of the administrators had a secretary who received a secretarial wage. She moved up in rank and became a part of the administrative staff and received an administrative salary many thousands of dollars more than she had previously received. She was the same gal doing pretty much the same job but at a substantial increase in dollars.

The district was top-heavy in administrative salaries which was hard to justify. At the same time administrative salaries were up at the rooftop, the school teachers unionized and received periodic pay hikes greatly increasing the Banquets, 2648 Dempster St., Des Plaines. Meryl Rivenon put the spotlight on Pat Sajak's best substitutes: Maine Township Supervisor, Paul Halverson and Mike Provenzano. The Maine game featured entertainment by Joe Huber on the accordion and the "McMaine Sisters" led by Dorothy Rogers and vocalized by Sam Guiliano. Two leprechauns, Frank Rogers and Steve Bochenek were on hand for extra luck.

No Maine Township edition of Wheel of Fortune would be complete without a version of letter-turn Vanna White. Des Plaines' Kay Donnell, who would admit to being no more than 102 years of age, wore a different sleek gown at each session. Donnell agreed to spin the wheel at this year's festivities but could not guarantee she would be on hand for a repeat performance in 1990.

total costs in the district.

You can't fault the teachers nor the superintendent whose salaries have been greatly enhanced through the years. A 6% annual increase in salaries would double the pay scale in 12 years. Thus, a superintendent making $40,000 twelve years ago would now be up to $80,000. And school teachers, who were woefully underpaid, are now well over $40,000 if they served in their posts through the last two decades.

School people will say these costs do not come from the educational fund. But the foresight and presence of the past is now coming to bear on present taxpayers.

The district's school population has gone down from 7,000 in the early seventies to around 3,000 today. Yet, the inflation plus personnel and school costs have vastly increased during the period.

We don't have the answers the school people have for just keeping even with the money problems in the district. In our Chicago school days, two classes were in one room and often 48 students were in a classroom with one teacher. The 1930's Chicago elementary days experienced a corrupt school district with terrible money problems. Teachers sometimes did not get paid with money but rather with I.O.U.'s. Yet, it survived without money constantly being thrown at every problem which developed.

Times are different today. Tightening belts similarly to what was done fifty years ago in Chicago is beyond the comprehension of today's school people.

Consolidating school districts, eliminating administrators and filling up little used school rooms might be steps which would aid the present money shortages. None of these remedies is likely to happen. And the passage of such an enormous tax increase is highly unlikely in a middle income working man's school district such as District 63.

Kustra also had stern words for parents and educators who "want lottery and tax money all to themselves." Citing the "serious needs" of the state's departments of Children and Family Services, Public Aid, and Mental Health and Corrections, Kustra said "There was never a guarantee that lottery money would be earmarked for education."

for Bob Kustra, who represents Des Plaines and parts of Niles, is disappointed with property owners who no longer want to support their local schools. Democratic State Representative Cal Sutker, whose district includes portions of Morton Grove and Niles, blames both political parties for failing to pass the proposed state income tax hike and Niles Mayor Nick Blase believes the district's shortfall may be alleviated after the 1990 property tax reassessment.

Kustra told The Bugle he and other legislators are at work to revise the complicated state assistance formula which has a statewide foundation level of approximately $2,357 annually per student. Last School year District 63's per pupil operating expense was about $5,415 compared to Park Ridge's $6,166 and Des Plaines' $6,418. Kustra said he also supported the income tax increase but blamed Democratic House Speaker Mike Madigan for its failure to pass. Newspapers statewide blasted Madigan last summer for withholding his support for the income tax levy.

Referring to Madigan as "the Boogeyman", Kustra noted that three groups, the Illinois Education Association, the Illinois Manufacturing Association and the Illinois Federation of Teachers had all come out for the income tax, but "none of the Democratic ducklings would break ranks with His Speakership." Kustra suggests that if Chicago elects Richard M. Daley as its next mayor, Madigan may lose some of his hold over party members.

Kustra remarks that the population diversity of District 63 contributes to a "lack of community identity," with many seniors and empty nesters who traditionally have supported the schools and are now reluctant to do so. "It's an unpleasant picture to be painting, but the aging have grown insensitive to community needs." The Senator offered Glenview District 34 as an example of a community which recently passed a school tax referendum. District 34's per pupil expenditure is $44,719, about $696 less last year than District 63's.

Kustra also had stern words for parents and educators who "want lottery and tax money all to themselves." Citing the "serious needs" of the state's departments of Children and Family Services, Public Aid, and Mental Health and Corrections, Kustra said "There was never a guarantee that lottery money would be earmarked for education."

will be performed. Additional fire alarms will be installed at Twain, which is also scheduled for a new hot water heater. Twain and Gemini schools will have their fire and smoke alarm systems updated. Gemini is also scheduled for a new hot water heater, as is Stevenson, which will have its windows worked on and get additional smoke detectors.

Washington will receive additional fire detectors and a hot water heater replacement, Buri told The Bugle ventilation in the annex will be worked on. Apollo is scheduled to replace its carpeting which is somewhere between 15 and 20 years old. Melzer is to receive more heat detectors and Nelson will have various exit doors replaced and receive more smoke detectors.

there in a factory with painted murals on it," said Gebert.

When asked by The Bugle how the situation had developed to the problem faced today, Gebert responded that it was conflict of interest. He said that the present administration was headed by the Chairman of the North West Municipal Conference. Gebert said that "we don't want to just hand slap and talk. We want to be able to say that we are glad that they are here."

Another Des Plaines resident, Helen Pollard, reiterated what was said by Gebert, adding that the college was overstepping its bounds. "The function of the college is to educate the students, not lending space for someone else's needs." Pollard said that "Oakton space should be used for Oakton students."

"It's absolutely critical to provide some emergency funding to schools," Sutker said in a March 13 interview, expressing concern that the lack of parity between school districts is creating a "brain drain" which will hurt the communities in both the long and short run. The representative declares that "a deficiency anywhere creates a deficiency everywhere," noting that Illinois ranks 44th in the nation for per capita funding of its schools, whereas at one time it was seventh.

Sutker thinks additional income tax revenues should be used for "human services", such as for the elderly and medically indigent as well as for schools.

questioned that the discussion of the plan be extended to the April Park Board meeting in order to review and discuss it with architect Al Davis from the Glen Elynn firm, Davis and Associates. Harter Park is located at 6250 Dempster St.

According to Sandy McIntosh, executive secretary, the construction will begin as soon as the bids are approved and the funds for the park's renovations are available. The last master plan for the park was in 1954.

Residents will see the first of the park's improvements on July 4, the opening day for a creative play area on the north side of the park near Parkway School. The play area is designed for children with physical disabilities.

Also, the board approved this year's Budget and Appropriation ordinance from the administration and finance committee. The document will be on review for 30 days.

Administrative Manager Gary Balling mentioned an overall 3.2 percent increase from last year's budget.

The increase is due to two new employee positions (a park maintenance laborer and a secretarial position), $11,500 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement for employees and $6,500 increase for FICA social security.

In addition, debt service increased $60,000 because the park sold more general obligation bonds for fieldhouse roofs, new playgrounds and pool renovations, according to Balling.

Lastly, Balling mentioned a $6,120 increase to M-NASR. This increase was assessed to all the districts in Maine-Niles including Niles, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Skokie and the Golf-Maine district.

Also, Balling recommended to the board that Standard Tank Installation Co. remove the existing fuel pump at the park's garage and reinstall a new pump that increases the fill line two inches to meet E.P.A. standards until 1998.

thrustastically remarked "There were so many eggs to choose from. It was well organized, too. There were seats for everyone and plenty of room for the parents."

Olson's comments were typical of the adults' evaluations. Adding that there were "lots of happy faces," despite the outdoor chill, Olson declared "it was well worth the $1." Her assessment was echoed by Park District Superintendent Bill Hughes whose own happy face reflected his approval of the hard work put forth by Debby Swanson, Debby Nelson and other staff members who painstakingly placed a trinket inside each of over a thousand colored eggs needed for the hunt. In addition, children picked up lollipops scattered on the crispy blades of grass. Twenty-four lucky youngsters won inflatable Easter bunny door prizes.

As she thanked the staff for their "outstanding job," Park Board President Elaine Heinen reminded the attendees that this was one of many events planned to celebrate the Park District's 35-year anniversary. Heinen gamely withstood the cold out during both of the parties' eggs hunts until the last egg was hunted down.
