Pete was a throwback to former days. He had silver-black hair which was slicked-back like the old movie stars of a former vintage. He wore a thin pencil-striped moustache which gave him the air of a boulevardier. But there was much more to Pete than his charming appearance.

Pete and his wife, Florence, got a few couples together one night several years ago and decided they would like to form a 55 year old Plus group at St. Isaac Jogues. Their group grew to 250 people and today there is a waiting list of people who would like to join the group.

Pete was an old railroad man who spent 46 years on the job. He and Florence did a great deal of travelling and together they created a very close family. Hohs, Active Party sweep MG election

In an election offering few surprises, Active Party candidates continued their domination over Morton Grove politics as they swept to victory on Tuesday.

Acting Mayor Dick Hohs was reelected receiving 3,919 votes.

Incumbent trustee Don Sneider won a four year term with 3,277 votes. Also, incumbent trustee Neil Cashman won a four year seat with 3,168 votes as did incumbent Daniel Scanlon with 3,335 votes.

Resident Henry Szachowicz lost in his attempt to become a trustee receiving only 1,608 votes.

Szachowicz began campaigning in early March, soon after a Circuit Court judge ruled Szachowicz be put back on the ballot. Szachowicz's petitions had earlier been ruled invalid because they did not state the length of the term he was seeking.

Lastly, Morton Grove Village Clerk Wilma Wendt was reelected with 3,816 votes.

Blase, Wagner, incumbents re-elected

In an election noted for its lack of interest, Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase was re-elected to his eighth term as Mayor Tuesday along with incumbent Niles trustees Laouella Preston, Abe Selman and Pete Pesole.

Niles Village Clerk Frank Wagner was also re-elected.

Initial vote totals show Blase received 3,654 votes; Preston

2,799; Selman 2,384; and Pesole 2,778.

Challenger Walter P. Chmielowski, running for the Village Board, was easily defeated with only 1,328 votes. Chmielowski has served as a member of the Niles Library Board for the past two years.

The leading vote-getter was Wagner with 3,424 votes.

Niles' police received an anonymous tip March 29 from a caller asking them to come to the aid of an alligator in a burlap sack behind the police station at 7200 N. Milwaukee Avenue. The caller was concerned that the reptile would freeze if left outside overnight.

The alligator, bagged by Animal Control Officer Ernie Passarello, right, and Officer John Gaba, left, is a three foot specimen which was later adopted by Grove Nature Center in Glenview. Police officials surmise the creature had outgrown its status as a pet.

MG serviceman missing but not forgotten by comrades and family

by Nancy Keraminas
When the Northwest Suburban Chapter of Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA) held their 24-hour vigil at Prairie View Center in Morton Grove last Saturday, attention was focused on a Navy Lieutenant Commander, Tom Pilkington who was listed as missing in Action Sept. 19, 1966. From 1 p.m. April 1 until 1 p.m. Sunday, April 2, veterans stood in memory of the Morton Grove native whose plane was shot down 11 days after his 25th birthday. His status was later changed to presumed KIA. According to VVA records, at least 99 Illinois servicemen are unaccounted for in Laos, Vietnam and Cambodia. Two Des Plaines natives, Ralph Carlock and Leonard J. Lewandowski, Jr. are also listed as miss-

His family members were on hand at the close of the vigil on Sunday to receive the black POW-MIA flag that was flown in honor of all the missing soldiers during the 24-hour vigil. Thief escapes at 70 mph
A high-speed chase through the streets of Park Ridge and Niles followed the robbery of Kathie's Amoco, 1445 W. Dempster St.
According to police reports, the Amoco station was robbed at gun point, Thursday March 16 just before 9 p.m.
The pursuit began after two witnesses to the robbery who were parked on Carol Street, saw a white man in his 20's run south from the station until he reached Carol Street.
A maroon or black hatchback with Illinois license plates then emerged from behind the apartment buildings on the 1400 block of Carol Street and turned onto west bound Carol, according to the police report.
The witnesses pursued the suspects at speeds which exceeded 70 mph through a maze of streets just east of Notre Dame High School, the report said. After 10 minutes the witnesses lost the vehicle.
The suspect described as a man wearing a black shirt and a black leather jacket, walked into the station's carwash and punched the attendant in the face. He then emptied $600 to $700 into a red gym bag while pointing a handgun at the attendant, according to the report. The witnesses were not able to provide the police with a description of the driver of the get-away car.

Fire at Niles plastics company
by Maureen F. Deasy
Fire officials have not yet determined the cause of the fire which started in the second-story plant area.
"We really don't have a cause to the fire. All we know is that a transformer malfunctioned and blew up," an official said. The matter has been turned over to an investigative team to determine the cause of the fire. An electrical short is a possible cause.
The resulting fire was extinguished by employees, prior to the arrival of the fire department. No injuries were reported, but the fire caused an estimated $2,000 damage. Fire officials have not yet determined the cause of the fire which started in the second-story plant area.

Niles Park approves $665,000 budget
by Maureen F. Deasy
The Niles Park District tentatively approved $665,000 for its corporate operating budget. This amount will cover costs for operating the parks, advertising and general operations.
An additional $51,250 was tentatively approved for the paving and lighting fund. This figure will cover the costs of parking lot and asphalt walkway repairs, according to Bill Hughes, park director.
The board also approved $92,000 in bonds for the renovation of four park playgrounds.
"Two of the four will be revamped this year and the remaining two, next year," Hughes said. All playground equipment will be replaced and the ground will be resurfaced. The parks that are scheduled for renovation are Chesterfield Point, Oakton Manor, N.I.C.O., and Grennan Heights.

Incumbents dominate local races

Morton Grove Park's Eileen Coursey will begin a fourth term, serving as President while Commissioner Andy Demonte will continue in his capacity as commissioner. Ron Stein and Stanley Kimura had also sought election to the Morton Grove Park District. Seven Skokians squeezed its Park District Ballot, vying for two four-year terms.
The Lincolnwood Better Government Organization slate failed to unseat incumbent Lincolnwood Administrative Party candidates Frank Chulay (mayor), Clerk Robert Haring was defeated by Bernha F. Ginbel and Trustees Richard Russi and Robert Abelson retained their seats on the village board. However, incumbent trustee Robert Nitsche lost to newcomer Raymond Grossman.
In Des Plaines, former police officer D.M. Albrecht defeated incumbent Mayor John Seitz and two other opponents with 4,439 votes.
Unopposed slates were in Skokie, Park Ridge, and Niles Township governing boards, as well as Golf-Maine and Glenview Park District boards, and the Morton Grove Library Board.

Niles mounts assault on assault weapons

by Nancy Keraminas
Declaring "It's a domestic arms race we're involved in," Police Chief Ray Giovannelli brought an armful of grim testimony to the March 28 Niles Village Board meeting and told board members that all but one of the five weapons on view was legally obtainable in the Village of Niles. Giovannelli went on to say that an assault weapon, as stipulated by the military, was designed "to kill large amounts of people in short amounts of time."
Though the chief could expertly rattle off the characteristics of each of the long guns used in his examples, he shared the dilemma of many lawmakers and law officers - defining what legally constitutes an assault weapon, specifically arriving at a legal definition which will hold up in court. Acting on a request by Trustee Angelo Marcheschi, the Board has directed Village Attorney Richard Troy to draft the appropriate gun restricting ordinance for the board's review. Troy's research will include inquiring with the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers as to the appropriate nomenclature.
Marcheschi became alarmed about assault weapons both because of recent shootings by deranged individuals using these types of guns and because he learned that at a recent area gun show, dealers were doing a land office business taking orders on

New system helps police finger suspects

by Nancy Keraminas
Area police will be able to zero in on suspects more quickly thanks to a computerized fingerprint-matching system unveiled March 6 by the state of Illinois. In addition, the new system will make it possible to solve crimes which are still on the books. Local departments will be able to use it starting in 1990.
Currently, local evidence technicians must manually match fingerprints to suspects. practically speaking, this system precluded police personnel from attempting to identify a suspect via fingerprints alone. The Automated Fingerprint Identification System, AFIS, will be headquartered at the Northern Illinois Police Crime Lab (NIPCL) in Highland Park, and member departments will submit their latent prints for identification by the $2 million system.

Incumbent Val Engelmann loses with 1,286 votes

Panek, Pierski, Skaja win park seats

Former Niles Trustee Carol Panek won the Niles Park District seat vacated by retiring commissioner Mary Marusek on Tuesday.
Additionally, incumbent board member Jim Pierski retained their seats.
However, the surprise of the park election was the election of Bernard Skaja who beat out incumbent commissioner Val Engelmann.
With initial vote tallies announced, Panek received 2,028 votes. Skaja chalked up 1,794 votes and Pierski received 1,909 votes.
Engelmann received 1,286 votes.
Engelmann had earlier been appointed to the board to complete the term of former commissioner Dan Kosiba, who moved out of the district.

Blase comments on failed school vote

Mayor Nicholas Blase, voicing his reaction to voter rejection of the District 63 school referendum, said "It was too much money at the wrong time." He counseled school officials to wait until the upcoming quadrennial assessment figures become public.
"The school district should tighten its belt and wait a year," he said. At the present levy, the schools would automatically receive from 25 to 30 percent of the property tax funds.
Mayor Blase referred to a letter he sent to Niles residents in which he noted he had no problem with schools needing funds, but suggesting they await the outcome of the quadrennial assessment. He maintained a hefty property tax is as difficult for young homeowners as it is for those on fixed incomes. The referendum called for an increase in the tax rate which could cost the owner of a $100,000 home $178 annually. The increase would probably be passed on to those who rent by landlords.
The school district had cited a decrease in state funding, inflation rates and no increase in the Educational Fund tax rates since 1967 as reasons for their financial problems. The Educational Fund is the major fund and one of nine to support the school district. About 90 percent of expenditures from the Educational Fund pay for instruction and support services.
About 75 percent of the Educational Fund's money is derived from local taxes, only five percent from general state aid and about 20 percent from other sources. Because most of this fund is derived from local property taxes, voters may determine how much can be collected.

Oakton Arms offers housing for active seniors

As the population of elderly and retired persons in the Northwest suburbs grows each year, more and more senior citizens are faced with a dilemma.

On the one hand, they feel they cannot remain in their homes any longer—either because the house has become too expensive for them to keep up, or because they simply don't want to keep that heavy responsibility in their later years.

On the other hand, many don't want to leave the area where they've raised their children, have their relatives and friends, and feel most comfortable.

For many such seniors, the ideal solution lies in the numerous new senior citizen housing developments which are springing up in the Northwest suburbs.

One of the newest such developments is Oakton Arms, which is now open in Des Plaines.

The 102-unit development, located just south of Oakton Street and west of Lee/Mannheim Road, is the first of its kind in Des Plaines. It was developed in conjunction with the nearby Oakton Pavillion nursing home.

Jay Lewkowicz, executive administrator of Oakton Pavillion, said Oakton Arms was designed primarily with senior citizens in mind.

"There is definitely a need for it," Lewkowicz said.

Oakton Arms was created for active, healthy senior citizens who want to stay in the community, but need a simpler living arrangement, Lewkowicz said.

All 102 units in Oakton Arms are 425-square foot studio apartments designed for one or two persons. The monthly rate is $1,500 a month for a single person, with an additional charge of $450 a month for couples.

Each studio apartment includes an attached kitchenette and a bathroom with a tub and shower equipped with hand rails for safety. The studios have wall-to-wall carpeting, fully-paid utilities (except telephone) and two call-bells to use in case of a medical emergency—one in the apartment, the other in the bathroom.

The cost of living at Oakton Arms also includes lunch and dinner served each day in a cafeteria-style setting; a full-time activity center; and access to a "courtesy car" to get seniors to activity centers, shopping areas, churches, and other popular destinations. Those who have their own cars also have parking space nearby.

Lewkowicz said the philosophy of Oakton Arms management is "to provide residents with the most independence possible, yet with an underpinning of security."

Leaning Tower Senior Adult Center

The grass is turning green, the birds are beginning to sing and springtime reminds us that it is time for senior citizens to begin looking for new activities. Leaning Tower Senior Adult Center is ready. Spring activities are in full swing at the center at Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy ave., Niles.

Senior Citizens 60 years and older are invited to come in and inquire about our many programs. The most popular, of course, is swimming. Seniors may swim from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. four days per week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. There is a special exercise class just for seniors that meets three days per week from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

In addition to swimming and exercise, there are three different dancing classes, line dancing, ballroom dancing and a new square dancing class. There is a bowling league, and the center has its own chorus, The Tower-Tones. There are bridge lessons, a duplicate bridge group, parties, trips and special events. There is an annual picnic, a Thanksgiving and a Christmas party.

On a more serious side Leaning Tower Senior Center is very proud of its unique Outreach Program under the direction of Rose Wahlburg and her eight Friendly Visitors who visit about 200 elderly in Niles Township Area Nursing Homes and about 50 isolated seniors in their own homes.

In addition, a group of Senior Citizens are "bridging the Generation Gap" with some underprivileged young school children by tutoring them on a one-to-one basis at Leaning Tower Senior Adult Center. Leaning Tower Seniors are finding a special intellectual challenge, as well as love from their small pupils and the individual attention and caring that they crave.

For more information call or visit the Leaning Tower Senior center at 647-8222 ext. 2237.

North Shore Hotel hears show tunes

Familiar melodies, Broadway show tunes and George Gershwin favorites will be played by instrumentalist-singer Carol Weston as she performs at the North Shore Retirement Hotel, 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston, on Tuesday, April 11 at 2:45 p.m.

The senior citizen residents of the North Shore Hotel invite the public to the concert at no charge.

Lawrence House presents concert

The popular husband-and-wife duo, Bill and Sue Goodman, will bring a concert of "Music For Springtime" to the Lawrence House, 1020 W. Lawrence Ave., on Sunday, April 9 at 2:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the program for the charge of $1 per person with all funds going to charity.

"April Showers", "Easter Parade", "Apple Blossom Time" and other spring songs will highlight the performance.

A synthesizer, played by Sue Goodman, added to the saxophone, clarinet and drums played by "Bill, has brought further dimensions to their act.

"We can go Latin with a marimba beat," says Sue, "or sound like an accordion for a polka. We can even play Mozart and sound like a harpsichord. We'll add a train whistle and the noise of train tracks and sound very realistic when we sing "Sentimental Journey".

For more information call or visit the Leaning Tower Senior center at 647-8222 ext. 2237.

Senior Companion volunteers needed

The Center of Concern is seeking applicants to its Senior Companion program, which, except for reimbursements on an hourly basis, is really a volunteer service.

When a working family or one who lives alone feels a need for the companionship of a caring person to be with the infirm, lonely or housebound or handicapped individual, the Center can be the answer. Compatibility of personalities is always given consideration.

At this time, The Center is asking for people who are interested in helping in this area, and who would also like to augment their incomes, to call Diane at 829-0453 or come and apply at the office, Suite 125 of the 1580 N. Northwest Highway Building in Park Ridge.

Skokie Library painting exhibit

Rebecca Wandersee: Recent Paintings will be on view at the Skokie Public Library through May 2. Ms. Wandersee is a graduate of the Minneapolis College of Art and Design and is represented in Chicago by Phyllis Kind Gallery. Her work has been shown at the Beverly Art Center, the Chicago Public Library Cultural Center and Morning Gallery.

Wandersee's paintings draw on architectural elements; cemetery monuments, urns. These elements metamorphose into fragments of female figures, heads, limbs. Her symbology is deliberately ambiguous. Sometimes her images evoke suggestions of both paradise and apocalypse. Nature is powerful, but can be both nurturing and dangerous. Partial support of this exhibition is made by the Skokie Fine Arts Commission.

The exhibition is free and on view during regular Library hours: Monday-Friday 9 a.m. - 9 p.m., Saturday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. and Sunday 1-5 p.m. The Library is located at 5215 Oakton St. Skokie.

Misericordia seeks volunteers for fundraiser

A wise person once said never argue with success, and the 1988 Misericordia/Fannie May Candy Days were certainly a success. So it is not surprising to see Misericordia Heart of Mercy planning the 1989 Candy Days.

Misericordia is a not-for-profit organization whose sole purpose is to provide more than 350 mentally and physically disabled children and young adults with a home in which to live and grow. To do this, they depend very heavily on major fundraisers such as Candy Days.

This year, the Misericordia/Fannie May Candy Days will take place on April 28 and 29. For these two days, volunteers will spread themselves throughout the city and approximately 100 suburbs soliciting donations and distributing Fannie May caramel pops. All proceeds from Candy Days are used to support the many programs that Misericordia has established and hopefully, will allow the home to grow and build to serve more people in need.

The Coleman/Fannie May Candies Foundation will once again supply all of the caramel pops and match funds raised up to $83,000. Most of last year's original committee have resumed their old jobs as well.

Misericordia has installed a special phone line to handle the calls from people who would like to volunteer: 508-KIDS. So remember, the 1989 Misericordia/Fannie May Candy Days will take place on April 28 and 29. If you can give a few hours of your time, please call 508-KIDS.

Ill Bell increases supplemental line charge

As part of a federal plan to lower long distance charges and maintain reasonable prices for local telephone service, the monthly supplemental line charge for Illinois Bell residence and single-line business customers increased 30 cents on April 1.

The monthly charge, which increased from $3.20 to $3.50, is part of a 1984 Federal Communications Commission plan to gradually change the historic practice of subsidizing local telephone service with long distance charges.

The charge has no effect on Illinois Bell's revenues because the 30 cent increase is offset by a decrease in revenue the company receives from long distance companies.

The monthly supplemental line charge for Illinois Bell's multi-line business customers will not change from the present price of $3.60, which is among the lowest in the country and well below the $6 charge allowed by the FCC.

"Illinois Bell's charge is considerably less than the national average because our costs of providing service are much lower," said Fred K. Konrad, Illinois Bell assistant vice president.

According to data compiled by the United States Telephone Association, Illinois Bell has the lowest rates of any major urban telephone company in the nation.

tion. The League is made up of families of missing men, according to Michael Schneider of VVA. "We left men behind and we knew they were there," Schneider said. Vigils are meant to ensure that abandoning soldiers in enemy lands does not happen again. According to Schneider, there are thousands of men unaccounted for from World War II and Korea as well. Pilkington's picture will be imposed on the black flag, to remind the public that the men left behind are real, and there are still family members who ache to know what happened to them. Tom Pilkington's sister calls it "the hope that never dies."

Tom Pilkington was a member of the freshman class when Notre Dame first opened its doors in 1955. A plaque honoring him and his classmates is on display at the school. He had attended Golf School and was in St. Martha's Parish. His mother was a beloved fifth grade teacher at St. Martha's, whose students still remember her for her sense of humor and commitment to education.

Her daughter, Jeanne Wood, now of Sauganash, says her family will always be tied to Morton Grove. She recalls her brother as being bright and a good student. Tom became a Navy Reservist and went to Officer Candidate flower. It's a small way to show respect. Presently the former veterans confined to hospital beds are now fashioning these flowers.

For instance, Auxiliary hospital volunteers like Jo Lange and Alyce Campanella, both past presidents of the Morion Grove American Legion Auxiliary are assisting the men in making these flowers which will be offered to the public.

Doctors say this gives the hospitalized men therapeutic value.

Non-profit groups seek volunteers

Volunteer Services of Skokie Valley, a non-profit independent agency, serves as a clearing house for matching the interests, skills and talents of prospective volunteers with the needs of non-profit organizations serving the community. Listed below are a few of the currently available volunteer positions.

To volunteer your services, or for more information, please contact Volunteer Services of Skokie Valley at 675-7995.

Swimming Instructors - Volunteers are needed for one-on-one handicapped swim program - a social, recreational, and physical program for the handicapped.

Rules of the Road - Volunteers are trained to become certified volunteer educators to present the Rules of the Road review course to senior citizen clubs, labor unions and church synogue groups. The course covers the vision, written and behind the wheel exams and the volunteer is asked to teach a minimum of one course monthly.

Specialized Feeding Program - Volunteers will be fully trained to feed children who are mentally and physically handicapped. In some cases the children need to be fed and in other cases they are learning to feed themselves. The volunteer would feed one child in the first shift and/or one in the second shift. Volunteers are needed two or more days a week.

School tax hike loses...

opposed by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase as well as by many area senior citizens.

Additional controversy was raised by the relatively low profile taken by school officials in publicizing this referendum. While school referendums in past years received high profiles, this referendum was left largely unpublicized by school officials who initially distributed information to only school children and their parents on the proposed tax hike.

Responding to the large number of seniors residing in Niles, Blase entered the controversy by opposing the tax hike. In letters sent to residents Blase noted that the increased tax was unnecessary and would be a considerable burden on seniors living on fixed incomes.

School district 63 Superintendent Dr. Eldon Gleichman reacted to the voter referendum rejection, saying "We'll have to rest on the results, the community has spoken. Our real problem is how to stay alive...there will have to be a reduction in programs to try to survive; somehow we have to pay our bills."

District 63 has already responded to its red ink by announcing staff reductions at its March 27 meeting. By law, a school district must give 60 days notice for personnel terminations. Most of its staff cuts were at the central office level but Superintendent Eldon Gleichman asserted the personnel decisions were "the tip of the iceberg," and promised additional measures to deal with its financial crisis.

Dist. 63's Director of Curriculum and the Administrative Secretary of Curriculum positions, both 12 month slots, have been eliminated as is a 12 month secretarial slot at Gemini Junior High School. The district will no longer fund two nine month girls' locker room attendants and has scrapped their volunteer coordinator funding, for part-time positions at each building.

According to Gleichman, nearly 150 people, mostly parents of band members, turned out to 50 cents per telephone number and included extensive 911 information in a March 20 edition of the Morton Grove village newsletter mailed to every household.

The next step for village leaders will be to establish a 911 committee which will oversee the system's installation and be responsible for collecting and disbursing the receipts from the surcharge. Members of a 911 board by law must serve without pay.

At present there are separate numbers for police and fire emergencies, and these numbers vary between municipalities. With enhanced 911, the location of the caller and other necessary information is known to the emergency dispatcher, even if the caller is not able to complete his call for help.

Enhanced 911 is a computerized system with a visual display screen at the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP). Morton Grove's proposed system will have a feature allowing the PSAP to disconnect, even if the caller doesn't hang up, to prevent jamming of 911 lines. A call holding feature allows the call to be traced even if the caller hangs up. Dispatchers can determine if a caller has hung up or is still on the line and unable to speak. PSAP can re-contact the caller for additional information.

A couple of weeks ago we stopped at St. Bartholomew's and spent an hour with Father Duggan, who had been at St. John Brebeuf. Duggan, who many claim has a marked resemblance to author Andrew Greeley, is a lovely man, full of good conversation.

He reminisced about our young days on the southside. Father Duggan was a young priest at St. Columbanus which was down the street from my home. I told him about the famous and infamous who lived near the church, Lou Gehrig's wife grew up in back of the church and on the next block, the notorious Al Capone bought a two flat where his Mother lived. I told him about old family stories in which my Grandmother stopped her daughter, my aunt, from going over to Capone's house to play with a child there.

And another of my aunts was once courted by a man who drove a huge Pierce Arrow auto. When he drove away from the curb by our house, the police pulled him over and wanted to know if he had any dealings with the Capones. In those days if you drove such a fancy car, it was assumed you were in league with the Devil and the guys who sold illegal booze.

At a voting poll Tuesday morning we spotted a village trustee candidate sitting at the table where the ballots were being handed out. We told him he didn't belong there. Since workers for candidates have to stay at least 100 feet from the entrance to a poll, we assumed a candidate sitting within a few feet from the ballot box was a gross violation. The candidate said he was a precinct worker and thought he was eligible to sit at the table.

It wasn't too long ago administrative salaries in the district topped the $600,000 mark. If this figure can be honed down to a bare bones bottom figure then they can come back and ask for an increase. However, it should come after the upcoming year's re-assessment when the district will know exactly how much money they can anticipate from taxing residents.

Asking for a tax increase before the re-assessment was asking taxpayers to accept two tax increases. It was too much to ask from residents, particularly those who are on fixed incomes.

There are times when The Bugle is held with a minimum of affection by the powers that be.

It's quite likely the referendum for a tax increase in East Maine District 63 will be defeated. The issue has aroused much emotion which included several angry calls to our office.

There's no way the district is going to pass a tax increase without the entire community participating in working for its success.

While The Bugle gave the issue much exposure the last three weeks, the last days' effort by Niles village president Nick Blase could be questioned. He contends he had an obligation to his constituents to alert them about the issue. He sent out literature opposing the tax increase.

Was Blase motivated by his genuine concern for his people or was it a political ploy for his Maine Township Democratic group which was running for election?

While we were on the same side with Blase in opposing the increase, we questioned his tactics of using Niles public employees to distribute the political literature. There's no body down at the Niles village hall who will let out a peep when Nick oversteps his position in the village. Nick runs the show in Niles and his trustees lay back in the shadows. But the tax increase issue must be confronted and the school people have to include the entire community in its next effort for more money. If they ignore the people who pay the bills, they will continue to waste everyone's efforts and time in a futile effort for passing any future referendum.

The allotments to local municipalities include: Des Plaines, $65,437 and Niles, $35,881.

Indian dancers at Family Day

The Lakota Indian dancers from Buffalo Grove (boy scout post #476) will perform during Family Day from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 9, at Oakton Community College, 1600 E. Golf Road, Des Plaines. Other programs of the day include a family marketplace, puppet show, puppet making class, moonwalks, ponyrides, a fire truck display, concert by Ella Jenkins, pottery demonstration, family fun activities and special family workshops. Free admission. Call 635-1461.

Traffic safety hints

Many Illinois motorists enjoy the handling ease and fuel efficiency of small cars. But small cars also provide less protection in accidents, so drivers should be especially careful on snow and ice.

According to the National Safety Council, stopping distances for compact and sub-compact cars on ice can be as much as 25 percent shorter than for a standard car. However, once a smaller, lighter car has stopped on ice, getting it moving again may be difficult. This situation usually happens when ice becomes highly polished. It is particularly hazardous at intersections where rear-end collisions frequently occur. Drivers of large cars and trucks should be aware of this problem and give small cars room to operate.

Small car drivers, who have more to lose in an accident, should be aware of the following:

1. Bumpers may be too high or too low to be effective in crashes between different size vehicles. To help avoid front-end or rear-end collisions, do not tailgate the vehicle in front of you. Adjust your rear-view mirror and outside mirrors properly and use them.
2. Drivers of small cars sit closer to the ground and their vision is reduced at intersections and by hills and roadside obstructions. Make sure your visibility is as good as it can be by keeping your windshield and other windows clear at all times.
