Niles board to consider first-of-kind drug test

The village of Niles will consider on June 27 whether to pass an ordinance mandating urine tests for drivers who pass breathalyzer test but appear to be intoxicated. The controversial legislation would be one of the first of its kind in the nation to make it illegal for a driver to have a non-prescribed drug in his or her system. Proposed penalties for violating the law include a $1000 fine and/or a six month prison term. Continued on Page 38

Citing health reasons, Wagners move to warm climate

Wagner quits Niles Village Clerk post

by Nancy Keraminas

Niles Village Clerk Frank J. Wagner retired on Friday, June 26, after 38 years of service to the community.

Wagner cited health reasons for leaving the village to move to a warmer climate. Wagner and his wife Charlene have moved to a new home in Evansville, Indiana, near the residence of Mrs. Wagner's daughter. "This has been the biggest decision of my life." Wagner said. "After all, this is my life here in Niles."

Wagner's tenure with the village began in February, 1951, when then Mayor Frank Stankowicz offered him the job of radio dispatcher on the night shift for the police department. He accepted the position contingent on his having a bench where he could perform his watch repairing work when he wasn't busy with phone calls. At the time, Niles had a volunteer fire department. Continued on Page 38

Charlene Wagner to resign from Niles library board

Charlene Wagner, a Niles Library trustee since May of 1985, will resign from the library board because she has moved out of the district. Wagner and her husband Frank, Niles Village Clerk, move to Evansville, Ind. June 17 to be closer to Mrs. Wagner's daughter. According to Margaret Rajski, library board president, Wagner had not yet submitted a formal letter of resignation to the board as of June 20, but would have to resign. Fellow board members are planning a farewell party in her behalf. Wagner began her second term Continued on Page 38

by Bud Besser

"Say it isn't so, Frank" ...

After the 1919 baseball world series, eight White Sox players were convicted of throwing the series. One of the players, Joe Jackson, was an illiterate from down south, and possibly the best outfielder Chicago fans have ever seen. When Jackson left the courtroom in disgrace it was reported a youngster grabbed hold of Joe's sleeve and pleaded, "Say it isn't so, Joe, say it isn't so!"

When we heard Frank Wagner was leaving the Niles village clerk's office and heading for retirement down in Evansville we had similar feelings the youngster had regarding his baseball hero. We wanted to say to Frank, "Say it isn't so, Frank, say it isn't so."

Frank has been part of the village family since 1951. Former Mayor Stankowicz asked Frank to become a radio dispatcher at the police station almost 40 years ago. During the late sixties Frank became village clerk and was really Niles number one ambassador through these many years.

It's likely more people know Frank than any one in town. He's a warm funny man and all of us have had great affection for him.

Area fire departments demonstrate new techniques

Firemen from area fire departments and from Wisconsin watch Ben Dyke of Spumifer American Company, St. Augustine, Florida, demonstrate a foam fire-fighting technique at the Glenview Naval Air Station. The program was a part of a seminar recently co-sponsored by the Fire

Science Technology program at Oakton Community College and the Glenview Naval Air Station Fire Department. Twenty-seven firemen, including Oakton students, attended lectures, watched demonstrations, and received hands-on experience in fire-fighting fighting techniques using various types of foams and foam appliances.

Paralyzed Skokie woman shows DUI drivers the sobering results of drunk driving

by Nancy Keraminas

A drunk driving offender may be sentenced to attend four weeks of DUI re-education classes at 2nd Circuit Court Headquarters on Old Orchard Road, during which the groups of convicted drunk drivers talk intensively of their arrests, convictions, and the circumstances leading up to their mandatory attendance at the one-hour sessions.

Amy Udesky of Skokie is part of a Victim Impact panel of men and women members of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving), a national organization which hopes that drunk driving offenders will never again drive drunk after they hear the painful testimony from the victims of drunk driving accidents. Amy and the other panel members talk to the men and women on their "graduation night". Amy's story is perhaps the most moving testimonial of a worst-case drunk driving story because the 28-year-old woman must live with the consequences of her accident every day. She tells the men and women assembled at the Second Circuit Court building that there are two Amy's—the somber, exotically beautiful brunette who sits before them now and the athletic, career woman whose social life was cruelly altered by a drunk driver in January of 1985. Amy Number One was mowed down by a passing van on Chicago's Diversy Parkway.

"Thank God we didn't kill anybody. The second time it could be too late."

She and a group of friends had just exited their parked car and were going for coffee after attending a film. Amy Number One had an exciting job and an active dating life. Amy Number Two emerged from a two-month coma paralyzed on her left side and highly dependent on her parents, with whom she must live. She works in sales two days a week and rehabilitation and physical therapy sessions have replaced the aerobic and dance classes she once attended. The van's driver was sentenced to four months in prison and 600 hours of community service.

Two mothers, whose college-age children died as a result of a DUI driver, also volunteer on MADD's victim impact panel. The fourth member, Joe Lundquist, was himself a DUI offender and recovering alcoholic. Ironically, his nephew lost his life when the car in which he was riding struck a disabled car driven by a drunk driver who had just spun out onto a roadway.

mid-60s. They are alert and some took notes. Before the panel presentation began, they reviewed their insights with their leader, Ken Fowler of Interventions Instruction, Incorporated, which has the authorization to conduct the re-education classes for the Second District's drunk drivers. Some drivers are still bitter about being caught and having their license revoked after a first offense. "The State stops you from living a normal life." Others are assuredly sorry. "Thank God we didn't kill anybody. The second time it could be too late." Fowler summarized the message of the course a final time before the panel discussion began, "Nothing gives us the right to drink and get behind the wheel of a car and endanger someone else's life."

The audience is attentive during the MADD presentation. Afterwards, several class members had questions for panel members, who assured the convicted drivers that MADD is not a temperance organization. Simply put, MADD exists so people won't drive drunk. One young, professionally-dressed man was particularly touched by Amy's story. When he remarked that the thought processes of a drunk driver are "liquid logic", Fowler noted the new, catchy phrase. The driver then asked Amy the question in the minds of many of those in the audience, wondering if Amy had been drinking the night of her accident, assuring her that no one thought she was at fault for being hit. Amy said she rarely

No decision yet about Ruesch Garage

by Sheilya Hackett

A Niles garage owner who recently complained of Village harassment is still waiting for word about his business future.

Jim Ruesch, operator of Ruesch's Garage, 8650 Shermer Road, has heard no more about his alleged zoning code violations. On a single day, June 5, Ruesch was visited by four Village inspectors, capping years and months of escalating Village attention to the property. Since then, Ruesch said, he "hasn't seen or heard from anyone. (We) don't know what's going on. We're continuing to clean."

One of the Village complaints involved the unkempt appearance of the property that surrounds the more than 60-year-old business, a firm that was operating before some of the present ordinances were enacted. Ruesch reports he continues to police his land for truck parts and other debris, and that he has repaired a fence, a point of contention with the Village Department of Code Violations.

Ruesch has also placed white gravel on land south of the garage in an attempt to spruce up the property. Village Housing Director Todd Bavaro maintains the garage parking lot should be paved, but Ruesch claims paving

No Niles Library tax increase planned

The Niles Library Finance Committee met June 19 to discuss whether or not the board should consider accumulating a building fund by raising the tax levy to its allowable maximum from 2.64 to 2.83 per $1,000 of assessed valuation of real estate.

Finance Committee Chairman Robert Quattrochi told The Bugle that his committee has recommended "no action should be taken" to increase the levy. A discretionary account, called a "board-

MG Park seeks joint venture in Borg purchase

by Jill Janov

After several months of discussion, the Morton Grove Park District is trying to purchase District 70's Blanche Borg School located at 8601 Menard in Morton Grove, to provide a senior citizens' center and a park.

The park district, financially unable to purchase the nine-classroom Borg School and the 3.85 acres on which it stands, suggested a joint venture with the Village of Morton Grove. However, the village refused, claiming tax dollars are currently needed for sewer improvements but indicated a concern for a senior center.

Gary Balling, park administrative manager said at the regular Morton Grove Park District meeting on June 15, the park is seeking other avenues to continue the facility's public use.

District 70 rejected a joint offer for the building from the park district and Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-MASR) at Monday night's District 70 Board meeting. The park district now has 30 days to present another offer. According to Balling, who was not at the meeting, another group he could not mention, indicated interest in purchasing the school. District 70 Superintendent John Graham and Lynn Parfitt, M-NASR executive di-

Niles man pleads guilty to child porn charges

An unemployed, 28-year-old Niles man was sentenced to 180 days in jail and four years probation June 19 when he pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and manufacturing child pornography. On June 19, Roque Bracerros was sentenced by Cook County Circuit Court Judge Michael Pope in the Rolling Meadows courthouse.

Bracerros was found with a young girl in his car and arrested by Niles Police in March of '88. The girl was a 14-year-old North Shore runaway who had met Bracerros through a telephone party line. When she described her association with him, police obtained a search warrant for his home. They discovered nude photos of the girl in the house.

Fire damages Niles home

A Saturday morning fire gutted the kitchen of a Niles residence, forcing the relocation of a family, which had recently purchased the home at 8828 N. Prospect Ave.

According to officials, the fire began in the kitchen. Heat from the fire was intense enough to melt a TV and VCR in the living room of the residence. The Dozoza cat also perished in the fire.

A fire department source said the damage estimate was at least $20,000. The rear deck of the home, which the family had recently added, was also destroyed.

Niles Library approves budget proposal

by Eileen Hirschfeld

A $2,764,991 tentative budget was approved by trustees of the Niles Public Library District at a recent meeting.

The sum includes a roll-over of $331,000 from last year's budget mainly for capital improvements such as the parking lot. Last year's budget was $2,238,907.

Board members approved the amount as it came out of committee without any board discussion. Included in the budget will be 4.5 percent cost-of-living raise for employees as well as a four percent merit increase, with two possible merit increases a year.

Trustees Charlene Wagner and Irene Costello suggested that the board begin saving for a possible library expansion which may include levying an additional two mills. If levied, this particular tax will not be available to the library again. The motion was referred to committees.

Older Adult Services offers evaluations

As individuals become older, their needs change as well as their ability to handle life's changes. Older people and their families may need help when simple tasks of life have become too difficult.

Older Adult Services, a division of Parkside Senior Services, offers geriatric assessment, a specialized program for older adults who are experiencing difficulties with daily activities, family relationships and/or health. A skilled geriatric team that includes a geriatrician, a geriatric social worker and a psychiatrist will diagnose a person's unique medical, physical, emotional, social and environmental needs. Some typical problems that could be evaluated include decline in physical or mental health, memory loss, confusion, loss of appetite or weight, change in sleep patterns or incontinence.

A geriatric assessment helps seniors and/or their families ascertain the most appropriate plan of care for the future. It can involve recommendations for medical support services in health care, activity, socialization, recreation, housing and nutrition. Referrals can be made to home care, home delivered meals, adult day care or any other support service available.

For further information or an appointment, please call Older Adult Services at 696-7770.

WIDOWERS

Major problems or needs of newly widowed men include:

- Lack of someone with whom he can share the intimacy he shared with his wife. Widowers say loneliness is their most serious problem. This loneliness is often intensified by the lack of serious friendships with either men or women other than their wife prior to the wife's death.

- Inability to keep house and maintain home life the way it was maintained when the wife was alive. Men wish to be self-sufficient, but the tasks to learn such as cooking, cleaning, and other self-maintenance chores seem overwhelming at first.

- Lack of contact with other widowed men. Most widowers cannot readily find other widowers with whom to communicate.

- Loss of social, especially couple-oriented, connections. Widowhood is often even more difficult for older widowers who have retired. They may be adjusting to the loss of job-role status as well as the loss of social relations developed on the job.

The Prairie View Community Center offers a wide range of social and recreational opportunities for all Morton Grove senior citizens. For more information, call Senior Adult Supervisor, Ronnee Brenner at 965-7447.

MEDICARE COST SHARING

Under a new law, Illinois residents may be entitled to have the Illinois Department of Public Aid pay their Medicare cost sharing expenses, Medicare premiums as well as deductibles and coinsurance costs may be covered. Applicants do not have to qualify for public assistance or welfare to receive this benefit. To be eligible an individual must:

1. Be a Medicare Part A beneficiary.
2. Must have a monthly income of $424 or less for a single person or $560 or less for a household of two.
3. Non-exempt resources must be at or below $4,000 ($6,000 with one or more dependents).

For an application for Payment of Medicare Premiums, call the Illinois Department of Public Aid at 989-3600 or the Suburban Area Agency on Aging at 559-0616.

GERIATRIC ASSESSMENT TEAM

As individuals become older, their needs change as well as their ability to handle life's changes. Older people and their families may need help when simple tasks of life have become too difficult. Older Adult Services, a division of Parkside Senior Services, offers geriatric assessment by a team of professionals. The team prepares specialized programs for older adults who are experiencing difficulties with daily activities, family relationships and/or health. For further information or an appointment, please call Older Adult Services at 696-7770.

CHORE PROGRAM

The Morton Grove Senior Citizen Chore Program is now in full swing for the summer, but interested seniors can still take part. Seniors in need of lawn cutting, yard clean-up, or minor maintenance can have these needs met by youth and young adult workers referred by the Village. Seniors will pay a modest price to be negotiated between themselves and the worker before each job. For further information call the Morton Grove Village Hall at 965-4100, Ext. 254.

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223 or the Prairie View Community Center at 965-7447. To receive the "Seniors in Morton Grove" newsletter, send $2.50 to the Morton Grove Park District, 6834 Dempster Street, Morton Grove, 60053.

Cragin sponsors summer food drive

The second annual Cragin Summer Pantry to benefit the needy will be held July 7-31. Sponsored by Cragin Federal Bank of Chicago, the food drive is a company-wide effort by Cragin's 22 branch offices to alleviate hunger in the Chicagoland area.

One in four Chicagoans is said to be at risk of hunger. These 800,000 people lack the money necessary to purchase nutritional food required to maintain good health.

Most urgently needed are non-perishable items such as canned fish, peanut butter, canned meat and poultry, dried beans and peas, powdered milk, coffee or tea, hot or cold cereals, pasta, rice, flour, sugar and canned fruits and vegetables. Cash donations are also appreciated. For every $1 donated, nine pounds of food can be purchased, enough for seven nutritionally-balanced meals.

All donations will be given to the Greater Chicago Food Depository (GCFD), one of Chicago's largest food banks. GCFD distributes food to over 500 charitable agencies in the Chicagoland area, including food pantries, shelters, soup kitchens, day care centers and senior citizens organizations.

Donations can be made during regular business hours at Cragin's 22 branch offices located in Chicago and the northwest and western suburbs. For more information, please call Kathleen Schuessler at 889-1000.

Edison proposes refund to customers

Commonwealth Edison has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) to allow the company to refund $5.7 million to customers. The amount represents the difference between the actual revenue collected by Edison for 1988 compared with the revenue it would have realized, had a Commission order in April, remained in effect.

The ICC in June replaced the April order with one that lowered the summer/winter differential by about 13 percent. The $5.7 million is the difference between what the company would have collected under rates set by the Commission prior to its April order and the amount actually collected from customers. The Commission recognized in its April order that any change in the summer/winter differential would be revenue neutral, Edison noted. Edison is asking the ICC to issue an order directing the company to make payment of the $5.7 million.

In December 1988, the Illinois Appellate Court issued an opinion that the April order adopted by the Commission should have remained in place. On June 1, 1989, the Illinois Supreme Court declined to hear Edison's appeal of the Appellate Court decision, clearing the way for final action by the ICC. Edison is asking that an ICC refund order conclude this case.

Edison is proposing to make the refund through an electric adjustment portion of residential customers' monthly electricity bills. The refund would appear in the month following the Commission's adoption of the order.

Pullen abortion law passes House

Assistant House Minority Leader Penny Pullen's bill has passed the House to give unborn babies of 20 weeks or more gestation every chance at survival. The vote was 72-31.

The Park Ridge Republican's measure HB 574, requires a physician to determine the viability of an unborn child 20 weeks or older before any abortion. It prohibits aborting viable babies outside hospitals, on an inpatient basis and with life support equipment available, except in emergency cases.

"We must assume babies in these late-term abortions have a reasonable likelihood of survival," said Rep. Pullen. "That's what viability means, after all. My bill will give them a fighting chance for life, in these cases. It also is intended to protect the health of women undergoing late-term abortions. These are serious medical procedures and should not be done outside fully equipped hospitals."

Intentional, knowing, or reckless failure to conform to the requirement of the bill would be a Class 3 felony, punishable by a term of two to five years and a $10,000 fine.

Rep. Pullen's bill now moves on to the Senate for further consideration.

Kustra bills, limiting smoking, approved

State Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) says the right of the public to clean indoor air was affirmed by Senate and House committees when they approved bills he is sponsoring to limit smoking to designated areas in public buildings and to outlaw smoking by students on school property.

"The committee endorsements are important victories for those of us who have fought for years to protect people from the effects of tobacco smoke," Kustra said.

HB 1695 would prohibit smoking in most public buildings, except in specifically-designated smoking areas. "The beauty of this bill is that it won't cost a lot of money, and it won't call for a lot of enforcement," Kustra said. "Existing barriers in buildings or features of their ventilation systems can be used to establish smoking areas that will not infringe on people's right to breathe clean air. And I believe we would count on the non-smokers to assure the building superintendents and smokers comply with the law."

Kustra said the measure would protect people from smoke in office buildings, hospitals, restaurants, stores, indoor theaters, nursing homes, auditoriums and other public buildings. It would not affect bars, bowling alleys or hotel and motel rooms.

SB 1333 would outlaw smoking on school property

SB 1333 would outlaw smoking on school property but allow school boards the option of establishing smoking areas for employees, if equivalent non-smoking areas are also provided. Boards could also permit smoking at outdoor athletic events.

"This measure would effectively ban smoking by students on school property, protecting the student body from the dangers and discomforts of tobacco smoke," Kustra said. "Of course, we hope it would also discourage young people from taking up the smoking habit."

Kustra bill bans happy hours

State Sen. Bob Kustra's bill to reduce drunk driving by banning free drinks during happy hours in bars has been advanced by the Illinois Senate.

Kustra (R-28) said traditional after-work happy hours contribute to the higher accident rates of early evening because they encourage customers to have extra drinks on their way home.

"Several communities in our area and at least 13 states have taken steps to keep bars and taverns from serving free drinks," Kustra said. "The practice leads people to drink more than they should, and when they go out on the streets and highways, they are a threat to other motorists."

Dudycz: Dropouts would lose driver's licenses

Illinois students who drop out of high school will not be able to drive legally until they are 18, under legislation co-sponsored by State Senator Walter Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) and passed May 17 by the Illinois Senate.

Senate Bill 148 will allow the Secretary of State to deny or cancel a driver's license or permit for a student who withdraws from school.

"Many students drop out of school so they can work and buy a car. What many do not realize is that they need a good education to get a decent job. This legislation, will make students think twice about dropping out because they will not be allowed driver's licenses or permits if they do not complete their secondary school education," Dudycz said.

Senate Bill 148 states that no instruction permit or driver's license could be issued to applicants between the ages of 15 and 18 years of age unless they present proof that they: have graduated from high school or obtained a high school equivalency certificate; are enrolled in high school or a GED program; or have been excused from school due to circumstances beyond their control, as determined by the Secretary of State.

The measure will also require school district authorities to notify the Secretary of State's Office when students between the ages of 15 and 18 withdraw from school. A student's driver's license or permit will be suspended 30 days after such a notice is received.

Senate Bill 148 is also co-sponsored by State Senator Richard Kelly (D-39th, Hazel Crest) and State Senator Robert Raica (R-24th, Chicago).

Illinois department oversees substance abuse

The Illinois Department of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (DASA) was created by the Illinois General Assembly in 1984 to oversee a statewide service network of programs focusing on alcohol and substance abuse prevention, intervention, treatment, aftercare, and research.

Prior to 1984, the Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities handled alcohol programs while the Dangerous Drugs Commission provided services to drug users. The formation of DASA brought these two organizations under one roof, signifying the State's belief that a unified approach to alcohol and substance abuse was needed.

In addition to funding community-based programs, DASA conducts state-wide public education on drugs, alcohol and related issues; develops public policy and train mental health, health care, drug/alcohol prevention education professionals.

House passes drug education bill

State Representative Calvin R. Sutker (D-56) announced recently that the Illinois House passed a bill which requires all public school boards to include drug and substance abuse instruction in their classroom lesson plans.

"It's not enough for kids to be told that they should just say no," Sutker said. "Young people should be given the facts on drugs—and these facts are serious. Drug and alcohol abuse can kill. Hopefully taking away some of the mystery will also remove much of the attraction."

House Bill 2 requires instruction on the effects of alcohol and substance abuse, along with steps for prevention and avoidance, in health classes of kindergarten through eighth grades.

"The problem of drugs in our schools is skyrocketing," Sutker said. "I believe state government has a serious obligation to deal with this very difficult problem. At the same time we're launching these educational programs, we must beef up efforts to put drug suppliers and traffickers behind bars."

Sutker's measure next moves to the Illinois Senate for further consideration.

NonDependence Day smoking cessation clinic

On July 5, Cook County residents can join with Chicago Lung Association and American Lung Association across the country in celebrating NonDependence Day. Developed in response to the Surgeon General's report on nicotine addiction, NonDependence Day was created as a meaningful first step in the fight for freedom from cigarettes.

Chicago Lung Association is scheduling activities that help smokers who want to quit prepare themselves, so that on July 5 they can declare their independence from their nicotine addiction. The first in these activities is a six-part smoking cessation clinic, Freedom From Smoking, which aids the smokers in understanding why they smoke and in making behavioral changes.

The clinic begins June 20 at Maine Park Leisure Center, 2701 Sibley in Park Ridge. The dates are June 20, 27, July 5, 7, 11, and 18. Each 90-minute session begins at 7 p.m. The cost of the clinic, including materials, is $50. Participants are expected to attend all six sessions. Smokers in this clinic will be able to declare July 5 as their "Quit Day" and officially begin their new smoke-free life.

Celebrate NonDependence Day, learn to become smoke-free and register for Chicago Lung Association's six part smoking cessation clinic by calling 243-2000.

Resurrection offers television video magnifier

Closed-circuit television video magnifiers designed exclusively for individuals with low vision problems are now available through the new Low Vision Center at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago.

The unique closed-circuit video device magnifies written materials up to 45 times the original size. Composed of a video display monitor screen with a small, built-in camera, the magnifier electronically enlarges books, photographs, newspapers, magazines, illustrations, letters and three-dimensional objects like coins or even the labels on prescription bottles.

According to the American Optometric Association, persons afflicted with low vision usually have reduced visual acuity which impedes daily activities like reading, paying bills, shopping and reading signs. Statistics indicate one out of 20 Americans has low vision. Since 1971, nearly 50,000 people worldwide have used the visual aid.

"The purpose of the video magnifier is to provide high magnification and allow people an opportunity to read at a normal distance," said Carol Barron, D.O., optometrist heading the Low Vision Center. "We have the ability to evaluate low vision patients and determine how the machine can best assist them with reading letters, mail and textbooks."

For more information about the video magnifier and other assistive low vision devices or purchasing information, contact the Low Vision Center at 774-8000, ext. 5107.

Resurrection stroke treatment recognized

Cerebral vascular accident, or stroke, is the reason more than 500,000 Americans are hospitalized each year. And, according to recent Illinois Health Care Cost Containment Council (IHCCCC) statistics, many of Illinois' stroke patients are treated at Resurrection Medical Center on Chicago's far Northwest side.

In 1986 alone, IHCCCC statistics indicate Resurrection treated 278 stroke patients in addition to 115 patients suffering brief, intermittent stroke episodes (TIA's). In terms of numbers of patients treated, this means Resurrection ranked among the top ten sites in the State of Illinois.

"The good news is that statistics have been steadily declining over the years, thanks to improvements in medical care for stroke patients, control of high blood pressure, and education," says Dr. Carolyn Heron, physical medicine/rehabilitation specialist treating stroke patients at Resurrection.

"Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and the number one cause of adult disability," Dr. Heron explained. "In addition to providing high quality, acute medical care for these stroke patients, our goal is to educate our community about the risks of stroke, possible warning signs and the steps of prevention."

A whole new frontier has opened in the last 20 years offering new hope for disabled patients, according to Dr. Heron.

"At Resurrection this new frontier includes a wholistic approach to rehabilitation care for stroke patients," she explained. "Our team effort includes a multidisciplinary approach to patient care involving physicians; the expertise of a physiatrist; speech, occupational and physical therapists; a specially trained nursing staff; and additional medical specialists. Stroke involves not only debilitating paralysis, but may include cognition difficulties, problems with swallowing, speech communication, bladder and bowel control, motor skills, and more."

High blood pressure, heart disease, high red blood cell counts and TIA's (or little strokes), which can result when a blood clot temporarily clogs an artery and the brain does not get the blood supply it needs, are all possible risk factors, according to Dr. Heron. In addition, excessive alcohol intake, obesity, lack of exercise and heavy smoking have been linked to stroke.

Warning signs may include sudden weakness or numbness of the face, arm, and leg on one side of the body; loss of speech or trouble in talking and understanding speech; dimness or loss of vision, particularly in only one eye; unexplained dizziness; unsteadiness or sudden falls.

Whenever the warning signs of stroke appear, it is important to get immediate medical attention," Dr. Heron advised.

The family and caregivers play an important role in the recovery of stroke patients, according to Dan Boyle of Resurrection's Social Services department.

"Nearly three million Americans suffer long-term debilitating physical and mental effects of stroke and rely on family caregivers as well as rehabilitation specialists for support and day-to-day assistance," notes the social worker. "One support group designed to aid both the caregiver and the patient is Resurrection's Stroke Club."

The Resurrection Stroke Club meets at 7 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month for camaraderie, support and education. Sessions are free and open to the public. The club meets at the Resurrection Retirement Community, 7252 W. Peterson Ave., Chicago. For additional information call 792-5045.

Experienced investment advice available

"A penny saved is a penny earned," may have been an appropriate adage in Ben Franklin's time, but in today's rapidly changing market, wise investment decisions are significantly more complicated.

The newest addition to Citicorp Savings branches, Landmark Brokerage Services, Inc., will help inform customers of their investment options and give them access to a wide variety of alternatives. Sales manager, Clay Thompson of the Park Ridge branch advises customers, "Investment opportunities have expanded tremendously during the last few years. Learning more about some of these options can help you make your savings plans work more effectively and can allow you to meet your financial objectives more quickly."

Citicorp Savings Park Ridge branch has introduced new investment services for consumers. Effective immediately, Landmark Brokerage Services, Incorporated representatives will offer customers discount brokerage services, mutual funds, tax deferred annuities and insurance products. In a pilot program initiated last October, Landmark Investment Services representatives began offering Citicorp Savings customers fixed annuities at eight Citicorp Savings branches. Customer demand far exceeded expectations, and first-month investment totals far exceeded projected sales. Based on the success of the pilot, Citicorp Savings expanded the program to eleven additional branches and Landmark will now offer a full product line of diversified investment services to customers.

"Our objective has always been to provide our customers the convenience and access of one-stop shopping for all their financial needs," said Park Ridge Branch Manager Eddie Grays.

Landmark representative Mike Flahaven encourages customers to visit the Park Ridge branch location at 123 N. Northwest Highway to learn more about Landmark's investment services.

For more information on other Citicorp branches offering Landmark Brokerage Services, Inc., customers may call 263-6660.

Montay College seeks artists

The Seventeenth Annual Montay College Art Festival has expanded to two days: July 15-16, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Many of the local and regional artists who return each year requested that the Festival be expanded an extra day. The popular community event is looking for new artists to participate in the juried show.

Fine arts, represented by oil and water colors, and quality crafts, represented by embroidered clothing, stained glass, and wood carvings, are two reasons for the popularity of this occasion.

The new artists should call 539-0948 to request an application. The jury, three noted local artists, request three slides that are representative of the media to be sold at the festival.

Upstage/Downstage Children's Theater will present a benefit performance on July 8 at 2 p.m. featuring top storytellers from the Northwestern University Theater Department. Professor Rives Collins, a nationally recognized teacher and performer, will bring his best students to spin their memorable tales, including audience participation, with fun suitable for all ages. Benefit tickets will be $5 which will include a small donation to the theater as it prepares to celebrate its 10th anniversary and expand its services to the community.

For tickets or other information, contact Upstage/Downstage, 4411 Oakton St., Skokie, at 674-4620.

Artists sought for Montay Festival

Time is short for the artists who wish to be considered for the lovely 17th Annual Montay College Art Festival. This juried event has expanded to two days and still has some open exhibition space. Noted for the fine arts and quality crafts this fair is well attended. July 15 and 16, Saturday and Sunday are reserved this year and the grounds are open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Montay College campus is at 3750 W. Peterson Ave. Chicago. To exhibit, call the Festival Chairperson, Dory Domonowski, at 539-0948 to request an application. Authentic Door County fish boil

The Northside seafood restaurant My Place For?, 7545 N. Clark Street, Chicago, will feature its popular authentic Door County Fish Boil every Monday and Thursday evening throughout the summer.

The Fish Boil, dating back to Scandinavian settlers who discovered this savory style of cooking, has been a summer favorite at My Place For?. The preparation of the legendary Door County Fish Boil is a spectacle that precedes the meal itself.

The historic meal begins with bright fresh Whitefish steaks and potatoes which are tossed in a cauldron filled with scalding water over an intense fire. This unique process results in a low-calorie, hardy and sumptuous dish.

The special treat is priced at $9.95 per person and includes Lake Superior Whitefish steaks, whole boiled potatoes, onions, creamy coleslaw, bread and butter. For dessert, diners can order pie for only 45 cents.

The regular menu, which includes Grecian broiled fresh fish, Mesquite grilled fish, Cajun specialties and meat and fowl entrees will be available.

The Playbill Cafe features a full menu as well as a bar menu

Norman Mark of WMAQ-TV interviews fellow fish-lover Stavroula Melissaratos, a Lincolnwood resident, at the authentic Door County Fish Boil Summer Kick-off at My Place For? Restaurant. Listening in are (from left) Skokie residents Kathy Handopoulos, Speros Maratos, Leon Vazlatos, and Stavroula's family Pavlos, Harriet and Melanie Melissaratos.

Adjacent to the restaurant is the Playbill Cafe, the exciting jazz haven featuring celebrated jazz groups from 8 p.m. to midnight every Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday. No cover or minimum.

The Playbill Cafe features a full menu as well as a bar menu and appetizers. Happy hour is from 4:30-7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Ceiling fans cool Des Plaines theatre

The sight of theatre patrons fanning themselves with programs at the Des Plaines Theatre Guild playhouse is hopefully a memory. New ceiling fans have been installed in the main floor and balcony of the theatre in an effort to cool-off Guild Theatregoers.

"We hope patrons who avoided the Theatre during our June productions will return to our new, cool theatre," said Guild Board President Maryilyn Collignon.

The Guild produces five shows every season from September through June; the current production, "Kiss Me Kate", runs weekends through June 25. For more information, call 296-1211.

Letters To The Editor

Reader questions tax increases

It's that time of the year again and we are hearing the same old story from our state legislators regarding their need for more taxes. How come we never hear from them on how they spend our hard-earned money?

They claimed years ago that the state income tax would solve many of our school financial problems. Then they said we need a lottery to help finance our evergrowing school financial problems. We never hear or read about where this lottery money goes. I wish you or the news media would inform the public regarding what the state does with their portion of the proceeds of the lottery monies.

Now they are saying we have to increase taxes to have better education for our children. We must be doing something wrong with all the money (allocated to the schools?) because our drop out rate is increasing and the students graduating appear to have lower ratings each year.

We, the people, turn down needless tax issues that require voting, and yet we keep re-electing people who foolishly spend our money and don't account to us about it. Some people don't vote at election time because they say their vote won't make a difference on who gets elected. But these same people will go out and defeat a needless tax issue.

If we vote against some of the legislators who vote to increase our taxes, maybe they will get a message. Some day, hopefully sooner than later, our elected officials will be more accountable to their constituents than their self interest groups.

Reader praises Niles baseball league

I would like to say that Niles has one of the better baseball programs around. I feel this way because when I played at Maine East, the players that dominated the most were from Niles. This shows that the Niles league teaches good fundamental baseball. I would like to say Good Job to the coaches, keep it up.

Yours Truly,

Former commissioner recommends Kosiba for park director

Dear Editor:

As a former Niles Park Commissioner and president of Niles Park Board, I would like to recommend to the Niles Park District commissioners to hire Dan Kosiba as director of Niles Park District. He is the former Commissioner and president of the Niles Park Board.

He is knowledgeable and very active in recreation and business. Dan gets along with children and adults. He would be a great asset for the Niles Park District. He served as commissioner for eight years.

I have worked with Dan for four years as commissioner. Sometimes we didn't agree on many subjects, but we ironed out problems out like commissioners should.

Let's not overlook this man, Dan Kosiba. As a local man, Dan will serve the village of Niles very well.

Former commissioner,
Steve T. Chameriski

Bill to aid young home owners

Dear Editor:

The young people of Illinois need your help. That help will come if you give them your support to get House Bill 1000 through the Illinois Senate, where it has arrived after passing the House.

House Bill 1000 creates H.O.M.E. (Home Ownership Made Easy), an investment plan which will make it easier for first time home buyers to save for downpayments for their own home.

Speaker Michael Madigan and I introduced this important measure because young people are being priced out of the home market. For example, the number of first time home buyers in Illinois has dropped more than 10 percent in the last 10 years.

What the program does is permit participants to start their home accounts with a minimum of only $250. The program provides them to buy low denomination bonds in a $50 million statewide program conducted by my office and the Illinois Housing Development Authority to enable them to save enough for their downpayments.

We anticipate strong opposition to House Bill 1000 from Special Interest Groups. We urge you to write your State Senator and urge him or her to support the House Bill 1000. Our young people are our hope for the future and they deserve a H.O.M.E.

Jerry Cosentino
Illinois State Treasurer

Chicagoland is suffering from a critical blood shortage

Dear Editor:

The fact is, there is almost always a shortage of blood in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Blood donations are always needed, but never more than now. Blood supplies tend to be their lowest during the summer and especially over the Fourth of July and Labor Day holidays when many regular blood donors vacation.

All of us depend on blood being available when and where it is needed. None of us knows when someone we love will need life-saving transfusions. Waiting to donate until a loved one needs it, just doesn't work. The need is likely to be immediate; there probably won't be time to donate then and wait for your blood to be tested and cross-matched (that could take a number of hours) and prepared for transfusion. On top of that, blood types of donor and recipient must be compatible. An adequate supply of all blood types must be maintained at all times. LifeSource makes it simple and convenient for healthy volunteers to give blood regularly. If you're in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds and are at least 17 years of age, you can probably be a regular blood donor. Call us at 808-7660 and schedule an appointment to give blood this summer.

Every donation you give can benefit three different patients and you can give blood once every 56 days. Be the caring type who gives blood.

Sincerely,
Susan B. Stuttle
Managing Director
Donor Services Division

Honig resigns...

will address a school assembly on the subject of the Native American. The vote was taken after a crowded meeting which heard from several Native Americans and representatives of school faculty, students and parents. Honig was a five and a half year veteran of the board and would have been up for re-election in the fall.

Earlier this year, Honig's son Robert, 21, had requested the board consider whether the use of the symbol was racist. The son, a Niles North alumnus, suggested using an example of an endangered species of animal instead.

Dr. Ronald Ring, principal of Niles West High School, commented that Honig had a long history of involvement with the school and that they appreciated the things she had done. He noted that the mascot was long gone, and that the school had taken steps to facilitate student appreciation of Native Americans. School representatives have met with members of the Native American Treaty organization, a division of the Native American Education Society, to get suggestions for programs in 1989-90.

New trustees join Mallinckrodt

The Mallinckrodt College of the North Shore Board of Trustees gained two new members this spring.

Sr. M. Marcella Ripper and Sr. Elizabeth Ann Buscher are the new trustees.

Sr. Marcella has had a long association with Mallinckrodt. She served as college president from 1967-87. For the first 13 of these years she was also dean. She taught history part-time from 1965-86.

Sr. Marcella, who holds her doctorate in history from Loyola University, received the 1970 Teacher of the Year Award from the Seton Chapter at Marillac College, St. Louis.

A provincial council member for the Sisters of Christian Charity from 1983-89, Sr. Marcella currently is administrator at Sacred Heart Convent in Wilmette.

Sr. Elizabeth Ann is also no stranger to Mallinckrodt. From 1976-83, she was business officer for the college and taught accounting and business math.

Previous to this, she was assistant to the provincial treasurer for the Sisters of Christian Charity. She has taught elementary school in Louisiana, Minnesota and Michigan.

Her education includes a master of science in administration from the University of Notre Dame. This June she becomes provincial treasurer for the Sisters of Christian Charity community.

In a letter to Baling dated June 7, John Graham, District 70 superintendent, wrote, "I believe that Borg School will bring a price in excess of $1.625 million and I would be most foolish not to induce the best possible price."

If Borg is not sold to a public entity the property must go up for public auction according to a state statute, according to Baling.

District 70 has leased Borg School to the Niles Township Department of Special Education for special education classes since they moved out in 1981. There has been a steady decline in Borg special education student enrollment.

The 52 special education students currently enrolled in the special education program will be able to attend Borg School for at least a year because District 70 extended the Niles Township Department of Special Education's lease from July 1 to June 30, 1990. The 37 early childhood education program students will then transfer to Julia Melloy Education Center, 2701 Menard Ave. and the 15 students with severe behavior disorders will move to an available classroom in one of the nearby schools.

In other park business, the park board approved a request to allow the Morton Grove Women's Club to display protest petitions at the park's Prairie View Community Center, 6250 W. Dempster St. Park Board President Dan Staackmann was the only trustee who voted against the proposal. The petition demands more answers regarding the odors and possible pollution dangers discovered from a study conducted by the Division of Air Pollution Control in on the Well's Foundry at 7800 Austin Ave. in Skokie.

Staackmann did not want to set a precedent of offering a place for any petitioner to present his/her petition before he had a chance to consult Gabriel Berrafato, park district attorney. "I'm not saying I agree or disagree (with the petition)," Staackmann said.

Also, the July 4 firework display will not be presented at Park View School due to the installation of a new roof on the north wing of the building. Fireworks at this location will present additional hazards, according to Baling and the Morton Grove Fire Department. Instead, the fireworks will be presented at Harrer Park at 9:15 p.m.

One resident, Larry Strybel, Morton Grove Baseball Association member, attended the park board meeting complained there were no lights on the field for a regularly scheduled evening game. Park board members explained the fields needed time to drain from the day's rain. If there is ever a question whether a game will be cancelled, Baling said, participants should call the recorded message at the Park District. "We don't call every team," Baling said.

Strybel also spoke about the lack of dirt on the diamonds. There was not enough dirt, according to Richard Hols, superintendent of parks, because of last year's complaints about dust in the air and dirt in the pool. He said the ideal solution was to add dirt and get the kids to water down the fields.

Additionally, Prairie View Community Center fitness room attendance was 2,160 in May compared to 1,829 last May. The increase, according to Jeff Fougereousse, superintendent of recreation, was due to the three-month fitness special and the staff.

Ruesch garage...

at his size would be prohibitively expensive because the large footage to be covered would require an underground water retention reservoir with retarded run-off, involving extensive sewerwork.

The Ruesch family has owned property in the Niles area since 1922, when it ran a truck farm on 25 acres. The family sold most of the land in 1928 and built the garage which now stands on Sherman Road. Neat houses with spreading lawns now stand on adjacent land and Village officials have viewed the facility as out of place in a residential area.

But Ruesch sees no problem here, since the garage was operating long before the present real estate development began. He said "We like to work, be quiet and mind our own business." Nor is the long range outlook too bright. Ruesch suggests that in 10 years, the many buses and trucks he maintains will become too sophisticated for him because of the increasing use of electronic systems.

Kid's Weekend Archeology Camp

Children from 8 to 15 and their parents can step back in time and learn about the original inhabitants of Illinois and their 8,000 year-old native American traditions. Enjoy ecology hikes, fossil hunting, pottery making and flint napping in a weekend archeological trip to Kampsville, IL, on Saturday and Sunday, July 15 and 16.

Sponsored by Oakton Community College's MONNACEP program and the Alumni Association, the program will be held at the Center for American Archeology in Kampsville. Students will learn digging techniques by observing and digging with the professional staff at Kampsville.

The cost is $125 which includes lunch and dinner, but not lodging. Enrollment is limited, so early registration is advised. For information, call Diane Capitani, 635-1673.

MG native wins culinary medal

Guillermo Tellez of Morton Grove won a silver medal for his entry in the National Restaurant Association's Culinary Arts Salon competition. The competition, held during the annual NRA show in Chicago, is the largest of its kind in the U.S.

The Culinary School team, of which Guillermo is a member, was also awarded two bronze medals.

terim director of parks, replacing Jim Hughes, who resigned effective June 2. Pronouncing Hughes' tenure as a closed chapter, Board President Elaine Heinen announced that the district has "to move on" and that applications for the $40,000 plus salaried position will be accepted through June 30.

All five members of the park board will consider the qualifications of applicants for the director post. Rose Hillstrom continues as interim board secretary. Heinen, who is the board's personnel representative, also announced vacancies for the posts of recreation supervisor and receptionist/secretary for Ballard Leisure Center. Previous Rec Supervisor Diane Stanke had been on maternity leave and formally left the position.

In other business, bids for the proposed maintenance garage at Tam Golf Course are all in excess of the $250,000 budgeted amount. Ten bids ranging from $283,400 through $312,000 were submitted for the project. Due to concerns about the ability of the lowest-bidding contractor to complete the project on a timely basis, Illice Construction, which submitted the second lowest $287,065 bid for the 4200 square foot maintenance facility, will be awarded the contract. A November completion is targeted for the construction project.

Also, the board approved equipment bids for three playground renovations. Chestersfield Park will receive a $12,079 face lift. Point Park will be the recipient of $20,369 in improvements and the facilities at Oakton Park will receive improvements in the $30,000 range. Work is scheduled to begin this summer.

President Heinen also announced revised committee appointments. Commissioner Bud Skaja will head up buildings and grounds, maintenance, police patrol and vandalism. Vice President Walter Beusse was assigned to the newly-created school district cooperation committee, in a move designed to increase communications between the park and school districts. Beusse will also continue to chair the finance, capital improvements and village liaison and intergovernmental committees.

Commissioner Jim Pierski's new assignments include revenue facilities and concessions while Commissioner Carol Panek will be the M-NASR delegate and chair recreation and pools. Heinen retained control of brochure production and will act as the M-NASR alternate in addition to her personal responsibilities.

Two judges were also in the audience. Judge Harold Sullivan was initially skeptical about the effectiveness of the program but told the "graduates," "We wonder about the value of the program; we would like to hear from you whether you think it works."

River beautification includes fountain

Commissioner Joanne Alter, who is the chairman of the 1989 Centennial Events for the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago, has announced the public art project which will be part of the Chicago River beautification which will be a commemorative fountain on the north bank of the Chicago River between Michigan ave. and Lake Shore dr. The fountain will be dedicated on June 30 at 11 a.m.

The fountain, with its dramatic eight-story arch of water stretching across the river will fall gracefully on the opposite bank. Chairman Alter stated that the design of the fountain and the magnificent arch of water, symbolizes the tremendous improvement in the quality and beauty of our waterway. The arch, projected at set times, will come to rest at the foot of the public park area.

Commissioner Alter concluded by saying that the fountain will have cascades of re-circulating River water flowing to a semi-circular pool, approximately 80 feet in diameter. Chairman Alter noted, "The fountain's arch, to be illuminated at night, the fountain itself and the sculpture topping it is a magnificent addition to the Chicago's public art collection".

Commissioner Gloria Alitto Majewski, is vice chairman of the 1989 Centennial Events for the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago.

There is no charge for attendance to the dedication, and the public is cordially invited to attend this Centennial event.

MG Historical Society receives donation

Recently, the Historical Society of Morton Grove was given a gift of $5,000. Pictured is Arthur Lousch presenting the check to President Frank W. McTier and past president Fred N. Huscher. This outstanding donation is to be used to honor the memory of Elmer Krakora's wife, Marvillia, who was a native of Morton Grove and the granddaughter of Thomas Parker, an original settler in post civil war years. He speculated in real estate and owned the property where the Bell Telephone Company is located.

Marvillia's mother, Mary Parker French was a member of the Woman's War Working Circle

Red Cross swimming fund-raiser

This year's annual fund-raiser, Swim-a-Cross, will be presented on Saturday and Sunday, July 15 and 16, at swimming pools throughout North and Northwest Suburban Cook County.

Swimmers of all ages can participate in Swim-a-Cross and help raise money to support red cross programs in the North and Northwest suburbs. Swim-a-Cross proceeds help support programs in first-aid, Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), water safety, and disaster relief.

Swimmers participating in Swim-a-Cross collect monetary pledges from sponsors for each lap they intend to swim in one hour.

For swimming, all participants will receive a Red Cross mug or sport squeeze bottle. Anyone collecting pledge amounts over $35 will be eligible to earn additional prizes. Some of this year's offerings include AM/FM radios, compact disc players, and 10-speed bicycles.

To find out how you can participate in Swim-a-Cross, phone your local park district or the Red Cross at 255-0703.

Electricity makes flooding dangerous

A spring or summer thunderstorm can bring flooded basements. If you find water in your basement, remember the basic fact that water and electricity don't mix.

A great potential for risk of injury from electric shock exists if your body completes a path for electricity.

Don't be fooled by the non-obvious: the water may be covering an extension cord on the floor, covering motors in dryers, furnaces, refrigerators, or covering an electrical outlet--so don't think that the potential danger is not there simply because it cannot be seen. Water may have worked its way into contact with the electrically "live" parts of such equipment and is itself electrically alive.

The first thing that must be done is to shut off all electrical power, if the power can be shut off without going into the wet basement. Place all switches or breakers in the distribution panel in the "off" position. If you don't know how to do this, or you have to go through the water to reach the main panel, call your local fire department. They know how to deal with the possibly lethal combination of water and electricity.

Will rubber boots protect you? Not always! Wearing boots or other protective equipment may not be the answer to wading through water to reach a panel. Water can work its way through very small holes or cracks in protective footwear or clothing and may contact parts of your body and complete a path to the ground.

If, after careful consideration with complete knowledge of your basement's electrical circuits and supply, you have concluded that water is not contacting live parts, still be extremely careful about walking in the water and turning on lights or touching electrical equipment. Under no circumstances go barefoot. Remember that both feet implanted in water provide a complete conductive path for electricity to go to ground through your body.

After the water has subsided, allow a drying out period before using any of the electrical equipment, and send any water-logged appliances to their manufacturers' service center for reworking. If you have to clean any piece of equipment, be sure that the equipment is disconnected from the source of electricity by pulling the plug or opening the circuit breaker or switch.

Donations are essential to continue this event. Please donate to the Independence Day celebration with your next water payment.

For further information about planned activities, call the Morton Grove Park District at 965-7447.

USE THE BUGLE

retiring, enabling them to travel and to enjoy the fruits of their many years of labor. Charlene has been a very productive member of the Niles library board.

I think we're a little bit sentimental about Frank's leaving Niles. He's our last link with the Niles we knew when we first started The Bugle back in 1957. There are few members of any of the departments who date back to the mid-fifties. Frank is our last link with that era.

We're sure Nilesites will get together to have a farewell night for Frank and Charlene. They've been very important parts of this community. They can't steal away into the night without all of us giving them a collective send-off.

An addendum to the story is Niles Village president, Nick Blase, would like to do away with the village clerk's office. He said he thinks a village clerk in our community is an anachronism whose time has past. Nick noted a clerk's signing of documents is his/her major purpose and today's upgraded governments can have others do this job. Nick emphasized he wasn't detracting from the good work Frank did which included the monumental task of overseeing the records at the police department.

Beginning next week we'll be re-distributing and adding more circulation for The Bugle. Several of the stops receiving the free papers will be discontinued. It's strictly a business decision. It costs many thousands of dollars to distribute free papers each year. The recent loss of legal notice revenue from Niles has reinforced the idea that The Bugle has to be operated on a sterner basis. The hard-nosed business world has jolted us several times this year which is teaching us to re-think our role in this area. We intend to expand and grow substantially in the coming months which is resulting in re-distributing The Bugle.

Archibald M. A. Carty

Archibald M. A. Carty, son of Gloria E. and Heaward A. Carty of 8534 St. Louis ave., Skokie, has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

The airman was awarded the new rating ahead of other Air Force members by a "below-the-zone" promotion board which considered job performance, military knowledge, bearing and self-improvement efforts.

We were having a cup of coffee at O'Hare airport two weeks ago when former Bulls basketball player Norm VanLier stopped by. Norm played during the middle seventies when the Bulls had their best team ever, with Bob Love, Chet Walker, Jerry Sloan and VanLier.

Unlike sports writers, whose sports opinions are of marginal interest, VanLier gave us his one-man opinions which bear re-telling. He said the reputation of Bill Laimbeer as a dirty ballplayer was silly. He implied every player in the league plays rough and tough and that's the way the game should be played. He said Laimbeer is playing in the wrong town. "If he was playing in New York, he would be described as a hard worker, not a dirty player," according to Norm.

We asked him who he would choose between Michael Jordan, Magic Johnson, and Isiah Thomas, if he had the choice to choose a player who he could build a championship team around. He said he wouldn't take any one of them. He said it's "the bangers", the guys who take the ball off the backboard, who are the most important players on a team.

When we raised our eyebrows and asked why he wouldn't choose Jordan he asked me how many "championship rings" Jordan had? We told him Jordan fills the seats with fans with his sensational playing and he agreed. He said that's what all of sports is all about today. It has become a T.V. medium and the Jordans, Thomases, and Johnsons get the big bucks because they draw the fans to the stadiums and T.V. sets.

Van Lier's comments must be taken in light of the way he always played. He was a hell-for-leather player diving on the floor, fighting and getting kicked out of many games for playing playground ball on the professional courts. Obviously, he favors players who have this same tough approach to the game.

themselves final approval over these measures. In addition, they agreed to two other moves. Library staff members will be able to contact the board members directly in case of difficulty and, all personnel files, whether of former or present employees, were transferred from McKenzie and placed in the temporary custody of Board Attorney Lawrence Weiner. Trustee Irene Costello abstained from all four measures.

Explaining the board's actions, trustee Robert Quatrocci said, "Two years ago, the majority of the board's governing power was taken away and given to the administrator. Basically, we were informed after the fact in regard to personnel matters."

"In my opinion, if the only employee the board has control over is the administrator and there is no communication between the board and employees, the board needs to become more involved so its message is understood by everyone. This is, in part, the reason for the motions that were made at the meeting," he said.

Costello said she disagreed with the other trustees and their motions may cause difficulties for the library. Board president Margaret Rajski said the board should never have given this au-ment and one policeman for each three shifts.

Wagner began handling police records in 1959, when the department moved into its present headquarters building at 7100 W. Touhy Ave. He eventually became Director of records.

According to Village records, Wagner first took the oath of office as Village Clerk in May of 1969, and has held that post ever since. Niles Mayor Nick Blase and he have been close friends as well as political comrades through the years. Referring to the village administration as being like a wheel, Blase called Wagner, "an important part of the cog", both politically and administratively.

Acknowledging that the clerk job description itself is "symbolic more than functional," Blase described Wagner's tenure as being larger than the job itself. "He did so many more things—the consumer fraud division, his work on the Huntington senior building. He was so effective," Blase, more expansive than is his custom during interviews, talked about Wag-

Niles seeks parade participants

Get ready for a super July 4 Celebration in 1989. The Niles Park District and the Village of Niles would like to extend an invitation to the community to participate in this year's festivities and help celebrate our Great Nation's Birthday and the 35th Anniversary of the Niles Park District.

Plans are well underway for a spectacular parade followed by a full scheduled of family entertainment. Eleven musical groups have committed to the parade along with numerous businesses, community groups, social agencies, homeowners associations, individuals, churches, schools, and scouts. May we suggest and request that you and/or your group become involved by entering this year's parade, which will kick-off at 9:30 a.m. from Notre Dame High School.

Please contact Deb Nelson at the Niles Park District for further information or parade entry form, at 824-8860.

About 15 former and present library employees were invited singly to address trustees during this executive session. In a 30-minute former closed hearing, trustees met with McKenzie.

In one example regarding poor communication between the board and staff members, employees may have misunderstood board discussion on tentative salary increases for the net fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Bugle spoke to library personnel who said they were there to protest a 50 percent salary cut suggested at a finance committee meeting. Board President Margaret Rajski said the budget item was only under negotiation at the meeting.

Contrary to cutting salaries, all employees will be given a 4.5 percent cost-of-living raise and $25,000 is to be set aside for merit increases, according to one trustee. Rajski said the 4.5 percent increase is in line with many other governmental bodies.

Merit increases are in step on the salary schedule with each being about four percent. An outstanding employee would be able to move up as much as two merit increases a year and a total salary increase of 12.5 percent.

Wagner's devotion to the job and the Mayor said he hoped to entice Wagner into helping produce the quarterly village newsletter which he edited.

Blase also praised Wagner for his insightful role in increasing the awareness of board members to the need for planning for Niles' handicapped citizens. Wagner has been in a wheelchair since childhood due to polio.

Police Chief Ray Giovannelli also commented on Wagner's humorous side and mentioned another void that will be left with the clerk's retirement. "He's articulate and very well-read. The sign in front of the police department has his witticisms on it."

Frank Wagner kept a journal where he jotted down catchy sayings gleaned from his readings. Motorists on Milwaukee Ave. would slow down to glimpse the sage advice lettered on the Marquis. Wagner took his book of wisdom with him when he retired.

Drug test...

Operational implications of the ordinance are simplified due to the availability of a $60,000 testing machine which Abbott Laboratories in Lincolnshire has developed. The ADX machine will be at police headquarters free of charge. It will test for eight different classifications of drugs and produce results in 17 minutes.

Niles Police Chief Ray Giovannelli said that his department will issue guidelines on administering the urine tests, when and if the trustees pass the law. "A stringent, well-thought out policy" will be developed by a committee, said the Chief. Female offenders would be tested in the presence of a female officer and male detainees' tests would be administered by a male officer. Abbott Labs claims any officer can be easily trained to obtain test results.

A representative of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said the preliminary opinion of that organization is that the law if passed, would probably survive a court challenge. Gwen Osborne of the ACLU noted that if the driver appeared to be impaired despite passing a breath test, the police officer would have "probable cause" to administer a second type of test to a traffic violator.

Under Illinois law, blood tests are also permissible but must be administered by a licensed medical technician. Giovannelli indicated that positive-testing urine samples would be sent to the department's crime lab in Highland Park for further confirmation.

A driver who refused the urine test would be subject to the same penalty as a driver refusing or subverting a breath test: automatic suspension of his or her driver's license for six months. According to Giovannelli, most suspects risk this license suspension by violating this implied-consent law.
