LGH celebrates medical services week

LGH's Board of Trustees has set aside this week, Oct. 10-16, as Medical Services Week. The week is under the sponsorship of the American Cancer Society. The annual week-long observance is aimed at increasing public awareness of the needs of people with cancer and the availability of cancer services. Activities planned to promote awareness of cancer services are:

- Medical providers will be at the community areas, public places, and businesses to provide information and demonstrate available services.
- Public education materials will be distributed.
- Special events will be held, including a free screening for breast health.
- A special program for cancer patients and their families will be held.

Medical Center appoints new physicians

The Lutheran General Hospital (LGH) Medical Center announces the appointment of two new physicians to its staff:

- Dr. Sherry Johnson, MD, will join the hospital's Cardiology Department as a cardiologist. Dr. Johnson received her medical degree from Northwestern University Medical School and completed her residency in internal medicine at the University of Chicago Medical Center. She will join the faculty of the University of Chicago Department of Medicine, where she will serve as an attending physician at the hospital.
- Dr. John Lee, MD, will join the hospital's Emergency Department as an emergency physician. Dr. Lee received his medical degree from the University of Illinois College of Medicine and completed his residency in emergency medicine at the University of Illinois Hospital.

Support group focuses on infant loss

Lutheran General Hospital is sponsoring a support group for parents who have experienced the loss of an infant. The group will meet on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the hospital's Mary and Paul Anderson Family Room. The group will be facilitated by a licensed mental health professional and will provide a safe and supportive environment for parents to share their experiences and emotions. The group is open to all parents who have experienced the loss of an infant, regardless of gestational age or time of loss.

Lysoposis support group meets

A support group for people with lysoposis will meet on the second Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the hospital's Mary and Paul Anderson Family Room. The group will be facilitated by a licensed mental health professional and will provide a safe and supportive environment for participants to share their experiences and emotions. The group is open to all people with lysoposis, including parents and caregivers.

Resurrection tests cholesterol levels

A study by the Chicago Resurrection Health Care System is testing the effectiveness of a new cholesterol-lowering medication. The study will involve up to 100 participants and will be conducted at the hospital's Research Institute. Participants will be randomly assigned to receive either the new medication or a placebo. The study will be conducted over a period of 12 months.

Classes offered for expectant parents

The hospital is offering a series of classes for expectant parents, including prenatal care, childbirth preparation, and newborn care. The classes will be held on Saturdays, starting on Oct. 15, and will be facilitated by licensed professionals.

Health forum focuses on communication

The hospital will host a forum on communication for hospital staff and patients. The forum will be held on Oct. 15 at 6:00 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium. The event is open to all hospital staff and patients.

Hospital offers free shots

The hospital will offer free flu shots on Oct. 16, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the hospital's clinic. The event is open to all community members.

L保護 foundation sponsors seminar

The Lutheran General Hospital (LGH) Foundation is sponsoring a seminar on lupus. The seminar will be held on Oct. 17, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium. The seminar will feature presentations by experts in the field of lupus, including Dr. Michael Kographer, who is a professor of medicine at the University of Chicago.

Laryngectomy support group meets

A support group for people who have undergone a laryngectomy will meet on the second Wednesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the hospital's Mary and Paul Anderson Family Room. The group will be facilitated by a licensed mental health professional and will provide a safe and supportive environment for participants to share their experiences and emotions. The group is open to all people who have undergone a laryngectomy, including parents and caregivers.

Des Plaines woman is "top listener" in nation

The annual dinner of the Des Plaines Chapter of the North Shore Educational Radio Foundation will be held on Sept. 27 at 6 p.m. at the Crowne Plaza Des Plaines. At the meeting, Mrs. Mary Lou Meyer, a Des Plaines resident, was honored as the Des Plaines Chapter's "top listener" for the year.

North Shore Educational Radio Foundation is a non-profit educational organization that produces educational programming for radio in Des Plaines. The foundation has been in operation for over 30 years and serves a residential population of 1 million. The foundation's mission is to provide educational programming that is free of commercial interruptions.

The annual dinner is the foundation's major fund-raising event, and it is attended by members of the Des Plaines community, as well as by local dignitaries and government officials. The foundation's board of directors includes prominent business leaders and community activists.

The foundation's programming includes a variety of educational topics, such as science, history, and literature. The foundation's radio station, WNLON, broadcasts educational programming to a four-state area.

The foundation's annual dinner is a popular event, and it is attended by a large number of attendees. The foundation's board of directors is proud of the foundation's work and is dedicated to providing educational programming that is free of commercial interruptions.

Sent a memo to the board and his superiors about the situation, Wagner said it was a Club/%job/, and he wasn't allowed to have his own desk or even a chair. He also noted that he had been working long hours and was feeling stressed. He asked for a salary increase and for the opportunity to travel more.

The nurses said that the hospital was understaffed and that they were working long hours. They also said that they were not being paid enough for the work they were doing. They asked for a salary increase and for the opportunity to travel more.

The City of Niles dedicated a botanic garden to the city's founder, John Niles. The garden will feature a variety of plants and flowers, including some that are rare or endangered. It will be open to the public.

The assessors said that the property tax system was not working well in the city. They said that the city needed to revalue the properties more often and that the assessment process was too complex for the average property owner.
