Niles bids farewell to Marcheschi

by Nancy Keraminas

Niles Village Trustee Angelo Marcheschi was buried Monday morning at St. Adalbert's Cemetery in Niles, following a 10:15 a.m. funeral mass at St. John Brebeuf Roman Catholic Church. Marcheschi apparently died in his sleep of natural causes sometime during the night of Sept. 27 or in the early morning hours of Sept. 28.

During the graveside services, Father John M. Daley of St. John Brebeuf's handed the American flag which had draped Marcheschi's coffin to his wife of 47 years. Meanwhile, a polit-

Women voters continue to focus on recycling

Formation of a citizens' committee for recycling will be the goal of a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12, at the Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton St., Niles, under the sponsorship of the Morton Grove/Niles League of Women Voters.

The third in the League series of programs on recycling, the meeting is intended to offer an opportunity for organizations and individuals to band together to work for a communitywide recycling project.

With a general topic of "Where do we go from here?", those at the meeting will consider the problems and costs of recycling and the need for such a program in the community. Residents and organizations are invited to bring their suggestions and to join the effort.

Angelo Marcheschi 1921-1989

Eulogy for Angelo Marcheschi

Angelo Marcheschi's longtime friend, Norman Dahl, delivered the following eulogy during the Monday funeral.

Dahl began working in Lions activities with Marcheschi in 1960. Together, Dahl and Marcheschi spearheaded the creation of the Lions of Illinois Foundation in 1974 to raise funds for charitable causes.

"He is not dead whose kindly deeds stand enshrined forever in the hearts of men."

These simple words of Lions Founder and guiding light, Melvin Jones, never shined with greater brightness and force than when one considers the life of Angelo Marcheschi, affectionately known as "Ang" to his legion of admirers and friends, both in and out of Lions.

Born of humble Italian background in Niagara Falls, New York, Ang was a treasured friend whom all of us will miss. A strong man, a devout man, a man of principles and integrity, Ang left his imprint on all who came his way. He will be long remembered for his numerous good deeds accomplished during his relatively short lifetime.

Truly, Ang was a humanitarian in the fullest sense -- ever ready to respond to the call for action, and ready to drop whatever he was doing without a minute's hesitation to help his fellow man.

"Truly, Ang was a humanitarian in the fullest sense.....ready to drop whatever he was doing to help his fellow man."

A largely self-directed and self-made man, Ang was filled with goodwill and love of his neighbors and friends and he devoted his life to his loving wife, Val, his son Tom, whose recent passing saddened us all, and to LaDonna, Emil and Al. He dedicated his life in service to the needs of his fellow men and women to make life, especially for the blind and handicapped -- a little brighter, a little richer and a little fuller -- for all of them.

After coming to Niles in 1952, following serving with distinction in the Army during World War II in the European Theater of Operations, Ang promptly plunged into community business and civic activities. He became a real estate broker for a number of years and subsequently a general builder for a leading contracting firm.

Lions praise man who "dedicated his life in service"

by Nancy Keraminas

The sudden passing of Angelo Marcheschi cut short a life devoted to civic and charitable service. The 68 year old Niles village trustee, described by friend and political associate Mayor Nicholas Blase as a man without enemies, drew unabashed praise and an outpouring of love from a community which he loved and served for 37 years.

Honored throughout his life with a myriad of awards, Marcheschi was eulogized as being a "humanitarian in the fullest sense." He was active in the Niles V.F.W. Post #7712 and the Kirk Lane Community Association but most of his accolades stemmed from his work with the Lions Clubs International.

According to Fire Chief Harry Kinowski, President of the Niles Lions, Marcheschi was one of the "founding fathers" of the Niles Lions Chapter, which was formed in June of 1953. Kinowski referred to Marcheschi's impressive record of accomplishments for the Lions, noting the many offices Marcheschi held.

Marcheschi's death called "big loss to village"

Niles village and park district flags will fly at half mast for a month as a gesture of respect for Trustee Angelo Marcheschi, whose public service contributions in the community spanned nearly four decades. Marcheschi, who died suddenly at the age of 68 on Sept. 28, is survived by his wife, Val, daughter-in-law LaDonna, and brothers Emil and Albert. His son Tom was killed in an excavation collapse eight years ago.

Elected as a village trustee in 1963, Marcheschi spearheaded a number of village ordinances, including one passed last May 23 banning the sale of assault guns in the village. Marcheschi became concerned about what he believed to be a proliferation of that type of weapon after he attended a gun trade show earlier this year.

His death is "a big loss to this village" says friend Todd Bavaro, Niles' Housing Director, whose membership Marcheschi sponsored in the Lions Club. Bavaro says Marcheschi "didn't know the meaning of the word 'no'" whenever he was asked to serve on a committee or attend an event as a board representative. Bavaro expressed the hope others will "carry on Ang's goals."

Marcheschi pursued his civic and charitable functions with characteristic fervor. His efforts on behalf of Lions Clubs often benefited the community as a whole as well as the blind and handicapped. One of Marcheschi's pet commitments was to public education, according to Fire Chief Harry Kinowski. Kinowski indicated that Niles school children in the first through fifth grades will soon be receiving a Halloween safety pamphlet in which

A Eulogy To A Friend

You served your community unselfishly for 25 years as Trustee on the Niles Village Board.

You were the senior member on our Board, and you were always assigned the most difficult people problems because we knew somehow you would get the job done.

You had no enemies, which is unthinkable for someone in public life.

You worked with the Lions Club, and were the moving force to establish a diagnostic hospital for eye disease.

Every charitable organization sought your support and advice because you never said NO.

You were always upbeat and could spend an hour on the phone trying to solve someone's problem when many of us would not bother.

You were a kind and gentle man who always saw the good in people and never criticized the bad.

Other people will try to do what you did but will never do it as well. Your name is "Ang" Marcheschi. You were a special friend -- I will miss you.

Butler a candidate for GOP committeeman

Park Ridge Mayor Marty Butler announced his candidacy for Maine Township Republican Committeeman. He is supported by a coalition of state and local dignitaries, including State Senator Bob Kustra, candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

The Republican Committeeman is the leader of the Republican Party in Maine Township. It is an unsalaried post to be elected in the March, 1990 general primary for a four-year term.

Mayor Butler, known for his leadership in uniting communities in their efforts to reduce O'Hare noise and pollution, has also served as President of the Northwest Municipal Conference, an association of suburban cities and villages representing over 1.0 million residents.

"As Maine Township Republican Committeeman, I am convinced that I can increase my effectiveness at regional and state levels of government in combatting the suburban problems of airport noise, traffic congestion, and solid waste. It is time for new Republican leadership to fight for local needs and rise above petty politics," Butler said.

Senator Kustra, who had been considering a run for Committeeman, but was recently selected by Secretary of State Jim Edgar, Republican candidate for Governor, as his running mate for Lieutenant Governor, has announced his support for Butler.

In addition, to Kustra, early

Lawsuit may block Hynes school sale

by Sheilya Hackett

A determined group of Morton Grove parents has about two weeks to block the planned auction of Hynes School, 9000 Bellefort Ave., Morton Grove. Approximately 25 parents, calling themselves "Citizens Against the Sale of Hynes," plan a lawsuit to stop the school board approved sale Oct. 19, but as of Monday, have not filed.

Sue Pellicano, a parent active in the anti-sale drive, said the group will sell candy and hold garage sales to raise money for legal fees.

Pellicano maintains the District 67 school board violated the Illinois School Code when they neglected to formally reply to a letter attached to a petition asking for delayed action on the Hynes

Dudycz earns high ratings from Chamber

State Sen. Walter Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) has earned an 81 percent rating from the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Dudycz was one of just nine Illinois senators who received ratings of 80 percent or better from the Illinois Chamber Political Action Committee, an affiliate of the State Chamber.

The ratings are based on 16 roll-call votes in the Senate, affecting issues such as taxes, mandated benefits, the environment and accountability in state government. The votes covered legislation that raises the income tax, gas tax and cigarette tax, which both Dudycz and the State Chamber opposed; a bill that establishes a process of spending accountability in state government, which both Dudycz and the Chamber supported; and a bill that establishes a 6.5 percent research and development tax credit, which both Dudycz and the Chamber supported.

A Cook County Grand Jury on Oct. 3 brought multiple indictments against a District 207 science teacher accused of a sexual assault which occurred two and a half years ago.

The teacher, Scott Ray Welty, 39, of Chicago, was charged with two counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault, one count of criminal sexual assault, two counts of aggravated sexual abuse, one count of armed violence, one count of aggravated unlawful restraint and one count of unlawful restraint. According to Dan McCullough, spokesman for State's Attorney Cecil Pardee, these charges supersede the initial one of criminal sexual assault.

Welty's next court date is set for Oct. 13 at 9:30 a.m. before Associate Judge Marcia Orr of the first circuit court of Cook County. He is currently out on bond.

The district 207 school board Oct. 2 placed Welty on non-teaching duties to be defined by the Superintendent. He will continue on Page 28

S.J.B. Student Council installed

On September 7 the 12 members of St. John Brebeuf School were installed as the official student government body of the school. Elected last spring by the student body, the newly installed members are ready and willing to begin their tasks immediately. As part of the Installation Ceremony, the twelve students, some of whom represent each of the grades and some are Commissioners of Safety, Finance, Public Relations, School Spirit, Assemblies, Assistant Commissioner General and Commissioner General, stood in a semi-circle around the gym, holding their lighted candles. The candles represented the light the students are to bring to the students and all the activities in which they participate and sponsor.

Mayor Blase delivered the keynote address on leadership, in which he spoke of the five qualities every leader should have: charisma, humility, patience, honesty, and being articulate. He then presented the gavel to Commissioner General, Vanessa Hirtzig, who assumed the leadership of the new Student Council. Service and promoting school spirit are two of the goals of the Student Council.

Front row: Julie Venci, Representative for 6th and 3rd grades, Dan Healy, Commissioner of School Spirit; Barb Kurcz, Assistant Commissioner General; Vanessa Hirtzig, Commissioner General; Arthur Mroczek and Julie Schweigert, representatives for 8th grade and Kindergarten. Second row: Steve Mazik, Commissioner of Assemblies; Kathy Gorman, representative for 7th and 4th grades; Sylvia Kazmierczak, Commissioner of Public Relations; Karen Kuntzman, Commissioner of Finance; Janet Wasilewski, Commissioner of Safety, and Janine Seiwert, Representative for 5th and 2nd grades.

ND program teaches 'hands on' driving skills

Young drivers have the highest accident frequency rate of all drivers. According to the National Safety Council, drivers age 24 and under are more likely to be involved in a fatal accident than drivers age 25 to 74.

On Oct. 17 at 7:45 a.m., students at Notre Dame High School will take part in an auto skid program designed to demonstrate that, even under ideal driving situations, it is impossible to bring a moving car to an immediate stop.

The auto skid demonstration will be conducted by John Scott, District Coordinator of Community Education for the Country Companies, an insurance and investment group.

The auto skid program puts students and teachers behind the wheel of a specially-equipped vehicle and asks them to make emergency stops at varying speeds between 20 and 40 miles per hour. Actual braking distance is measured and students will be able to see that even when an emergency stop is anticipated, it will take an average of 40 feet to stop a car moving at just 20 mph.

By helping to educate young drivers, the Country Companies believe they can help reduce the frequency of accidents involving teenage drivers. The auto skid demonstration is one of many free safety and health programs offered to school, civic, farm and other groups by the Country Companies. The program has been arranged by the Country Companies Community Education area in cooperation with the local Country Companies Rolling Meadows Agency.

Facility provides help for teen substance abusers

Almost 70 percent of recovering teenage drug abusers and alcoholics will use drugs and alcohol again. They may not have a chance at recovery next time. It may be too late.

One reason is their substance abuse may have been treated as an isolated problem while related factors like depression, poor family relationships and others went ignored.

Hartgrove Hospital, a private psychiatric facility, wants to see teenagers overcome their substance abuse problem for good. The hospital has started a new innovative treatment program for adolescent substance abusers.

Jim Mennenga, Hartgrove's Substance Abuse Services Coordinator said, "Hartgrove's Adolescent Substance Abuse Program Track offers a real needed balance in substance abuse treatment."

Treatment philosophy is what makes Hartgrove's substance abuse program different from others. Hospital staff see substance abuse as a component part of a number of other problems. The treatment will focus on each problem equally, including the substance abuse.

Hartgrove's is a four week inpatient program based on the 12 step philosophy of Alcoholics and Narcotics Anonymous. Family involvement is also a strong component of the treatment program.

Hartgrove Hospital's two adolescent units admit patients between the ages of 12-18. The hospital also has treatment programs for adults and children.

Liberty Savings shows increase in mortgages

Liberty Savings made $8,470,400 in home loans in the second quarter of 1989, up 8% from the same period in 1988, Liberty President C.W. Smigiel announced today.

Smigiel said the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989, which President Bush signed into law earlier this year, allows savings institutions to make more housing-related loans.

Nationally, savings institutions are the number-one source of money for home mortgages. In 1988, savings institutions made 49% of all home loans in the country, nearly twice that made by commercial banks.

Computers assist real estate clients

The Northwest Real Estate Board's Computer Systems Committee has developed a new program that allows a real estate broker to access the board's resource center, providing real estate professionals and their clients with pertinent information regarding a particular real estate parcel in Cook County. This data can be utilized to expedite real estate closings, or to assist in supplying information needed when filing real estate property tax protests or appeals.

The Northwest Real Estate Board's "Data Research Request" program allows a NWREB member to request, from his or her own local office, the following information from the NWREB administrative headquarters: the parcel's property index number, most current property tax amount, local zoning, lot size dimensions and legal description. In order to obtain all or any of this data, the requesting broker needs to supply the subject property's address, city and zip code.

The advantage to real estate customers and clients results from the amount of specific information available to be obtained in a short period of time. The program is already in operation, and the requested data has been supplied to the broker the same day; both the request and the response are sent via facsimile machine (FAX) to and from the broker's office and NWREB headquarters. In several instances, the information has been used to provide necessary information to realty attorneys and title insurance companies, thus expediting real estate closings.

New S&L Law Promises Safer Savings Deposits

By Amelia Herrera

Now that President Bush has signed into law dramatic savings and loan reform legislation, consumers can rest assured that the safety of their savings deposits remains one of the federal government's highest priorities.

The recently passed Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989 is the most far-reaching banking industry reform since federal deposit insurance was created in the 1930s and is expected to dramatically strengthen the savings and loan industry. In addition to ensuring the safety of deposits, the law contains several measures that will benefit consumers.

Among the changes introduced by the S&L bill is the creation of a new insurance program for savings and loans called the Savings Association Insurance Fund (SAIF). SAIF, an arm of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., replaces the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC). Most consumers will hardly notice the change, since it will not decrease the amount of deposit insurance that the federal government has guaranteed thrift depositors. The new law, however, creates a stricter and more efficient system of deposit insurance management.

S&Ls and commercial banks will begin paying higher premiums for insurance of their deposits. Viewed as a tough measure by the banking industry, the provision has been generally accepted as a necessary step to provide the highest level of protection to the hard-earned savings of depositors.

The new measures also require thrift institutions to increase their reserves or tangible capital to one and one-half percent of total assets. By 1995, the required level of reserves will double to 3% for every $100 in total assets. This higher level of reserves will provide greater protection for the SAIF insurance fund.

The reform act also takes a much stricter stand on the lending practices of savings and loan institutions. Home mortgages are among the most conservative and safe means for thrifts to invest the cash they receive from depositors.

Residential housing mortgages must now comprise 70 percent of a thrift's loan portfolio, up from the previous 60 percent requirement. The legislation also prohibits thrifts from investing in a number of ventures that are considered to be risky by banking industry standards. These measures will ensure that all S&L institutions have a solid base of conservative investments that do not subject your savings deposit funds to undue risk.

The legislation also abolished the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which had served as the leading S&L regulatory agency. Responsibility for examining and supervising savings institutions has been transferred to the new Office of Thrift Supervision at the Treasury Department. This agency has been charged with enforcing strict laws that include stiffer criminal penalties for crimes against financial institutions, such as the types of fraud and mismanagement that caused many thrift institutions to fail in recent years.

In addition to the many banking reforms introduced by the legislation, the reform act has created a new deposit insurance logo that will appear soon at your own savings institution. The logo emphasizes one of the most important aspects of the new law: that thrift savings deposits are "Backed by the Full Faith and Credit of the United States Government."

Local accountant provides IRA info

When a spouse dies, leaving his partner as the beneficiary of an IRA, there are three basic choices.

Leave the IRA in the spouse's name. Payments do not have to be taken until the year when the spouse would have reached age 70-1/2 and no tax will be due until then. Meanwhile, investment earnings on IRA funds will continue to accrue on a tax-deferred basis.

Roll the IRA money over into an IRA for the surviving spouse. Payouts need not be taken until age 70-1/2.

Take a full distribution of the IRA funds immediately. Though the money is available right away, but income tax on it will be due. However, the distribution will avoid estate tax because of the unlimited marital deduction. The best option depends on particular needs and circumstances. For advice contact an accountant or Patricia Kasch, a tax accountant with offices at 7634 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles, Kasch, whose phone number is 967-6830, is a member of the Independent Accountants Association of Illinois.

firm, building in Niles and the Northern Suburban area. Eventually he organized his own building firm, Marcheschi Builders, which built homes in Deerfield and Norridge. In recent years, Ang was engaged in the insurance business.

Ang became one of the leading lights and luminaries in Niles affairs. In 1963, he was elected Niles Village Trustee and has held that office until the present time. He was voted Mr. Niles in 1964 and was the recipient of the "Service to Youth" Award. He joined the Niles Lions, for much the same reason that he became a leader in Niles business and civic affairs -- he felt that Lions was a force for good in helping those who, through no fault of their own, needed a helping hand. In 1978, his Club voted him Life Membership in Lions International.

In short order, Ang established himself as a mover and doer in handling all assignments received with characteristic fervor and drive.

After fulfilling virtually all club offices, including the Presidency, Ang became active in the District assuming the Governorship in 1966-67. In 1970, he assumed the Chairmanship of the Blind Activities Committee, discharging that function so outstandingly that he was named the first President of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, which he helped to establish in 1974. Several years later, he was appointed President Emeritus of the Foundation in recognition of his outstanding achievements for the Foundation and all that it stood for. In the intervening years, he remained a strong champion and believer of the Foundation, never wavering for a second in his dedication to the Foundation and to all that it stood for.

His ability and dedication did not go unnoticed. He received numerous awards and recognition, none of it sought, including the 100 percent District Governor Award, the Senior Master Key Award, International President's Award and perhaps the most highly prestigious of them all -- the Ambassador of Goodwill, the highest award in Lionism. He was a member of the Niles V.F.W. Post 7712. Also a member of the Kirk Lane Community Association.

Bright and energetic, with a quick wit which never deserted him throughout his lifetime, Ang never shrank from a challenge. He was gracious in defeat and magnanimous in victory. If any words could describe Ang, it would be simply these words of Micah's taken from the Bible: "What does the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to have mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

Ang Marcheschi set a standard of good deeds and mercy and charity, which will long serve as a beacon of hope and inspiration for all who knew him. He will live in our hearts forever. We are grateful that Ang passed our way, though it was only a short period of time. And now, my dear friend "Ang," Rest in Peace, you have earned it. God Bless You.

Marcheschi was involved. He also helped produce the Niles village map, offered by the Lions every four years.

The trustee was also the village's liaison with the park district. Park Commissioner Carol Panek, who served with Marcheschi on the village board cable and biennial committees in the 1970's, remarked about his desire to be "well-informed about every issue." Commissioners Jim Pierski, Bud Skaja, III and Board President Elaine Heinen added their praise for Marcheschi, praising his hard work for the park and his love for people and the village.

Village Manager Abe Selman, who served on the board with Marcheschi, said the rest of the mourners joined Lillian White singing the spontaneous, tear-filled tribute to veteran Marcheschi. Marcheschi was eulogized for civic contributions dating back to 1952, when he first moved to Niles.

According to police and fire reports, Marcheschi's wife Val summoned help at 7:17 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 28 when she could not awaken her husband at 6:30 a.m. Niles police and paramedics found the 68 year old Village Trustee "unresponsive" in his bed in his Kirk Lane home. Paramedics reported no respiration, blood pressure or pulse upon their arrival. He was transported from his Nora Avenue home to Lutheran General Hospital at 7:43 a.m. and pronounced dead at 8 a.m.

Oakton MRT program earns accreditation award

The Medical Records Technology (MRT) program at Oakton Community College will celebrate National Medical Records Week from Oct. 8 to 14. The program, one of five Allied Health programs at Oakton, was recently awarded the highest accreditation of eight years by the Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation (CAHEA). Of the 30 programs surveyed nationally, Oakton's program was one of two MRT programs accredited without citing any deficiency.

This honor comes after a year-long evaluation process which included submission of a self-study report, followed by a two-day campus visit by a team of surveyors. Their recommendations were then forwarded to the Council on Education, which is a committee of the American Medical Records Association. The final review and the official accreditation decision came from CAHEA. The result overwhelmed the program's chairperson, Cindy DeBerg.

The success of Oakton's program reflects in the success of job placement. Its graduates have consistently ranked above the national norms in the national accreditation exam, and work both in hospitals and non-traditional settings.

The demand for graduates is so high that DeBerg receives five to six phone calls every week on the average from local hospitals and others agencies looking for students to fill various positions.

The salary range for an Oakton graduate who has an associate in applied science degree in Medical Records can earn between $17,000 and over $20,000, said DeBerg.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics cited Medical Records as one of 10 top occupations with the biggest percentage increase and one of 20 top jobs for the year 2,000. It projects that the health care industry will need 75 percent more medical record technicians to meet the job forecast at an average salary of $33,000.

Although the Medical Records profession has been in existence for 60 years, DeBerg said that it still is a developing field.

The MRT curriculum primarily prepares students to handle patient medical records and for entry-level competencies in areas such as record processing, coding, quality assurance, utilization review, tumor registry and prospective payment procedures. DeBerg said that her students come from different walks of life.

For information about Oakton's MRT program, call DeBerg, 635-1957.

Agency funding allows housing for mentally ill

A not-for-profit agency in Evanston will provide housing for persons with mental illness thanks to a grant from the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities (DMHDD).

Housing Options for the Mentally Ill in Evanston (HOME) will receive $55,385 from DMHDD to provide startup and operating funds through June 30, 1990. The money will be used by HOME to create housing options for persons with mental illness.

The grant awarded to HOME is in keeping with several recent DMHDD initiatives for community service development. One initiative, Community Integrated Living Arrangements (CILAs), combines housing and support services into one package for each person to be served. Community housing options such as those planned by HOME are also a key ingredient in the plan to meet federal mandates embodied in the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987 (CBRA), which requires the proper placement of persons with mental disabilities who have resided in or who attempt to seek admission to nursing homes.

The award is given to the student who has the best record of academic achievement, lab performance and attendance, and is a means of encouraging excellence and initiative.

including President, District Governor, Chairman of the Blind Activities Committee and President Emeritus of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, which he co-founded in 1974.

"He worked very hard at being a Lion. His service was continuous," Kinowski remarked, adding that Marcheschi chaired Candy Day, Health and Welfare and other special project committees. "He believed in people. That's the reason he was so dedicated," Kinowski reflected.

The Executive Administrator Emeritus of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, Norman R. Dahl, who has been Marcheschi's friend since 1960, delivered the eulogy to the more than 250 mourners at the Oct. 2 funeral mass. Dahl praised his friend as "a strong man, a devout man, a man of firm principles and integrity... a humanitarian in the fullest sense... ever ready to respond to the call for action, and ready to drop whatever he was doing without a minute's hesitation to help his fellow man."

Dahl cited the awards Marcheschi received including the highest and most prestigious award given by the Lions, the Ambassador of Goodwill. In addition, he was given the District Governor Award, Senior Master Key Award and International President's Award.

James Elwart

James Elwart, a resident of Niles who attended Maine East High School, was named "Student of the Phase" in the Basic Engines course at Universal Technical Institute in Glendale Heights, Ill. The course is part of UTI's Automotive Technology program.

Oakton enrollment...

planned long-term leasing of Niles East High School were highlights of a Sept. 19 meeting of the Board of Trustees of Oakton Community College (OCC). Enrollment at OCC shows a 14.29 percent increase over last year, according to college President, Dr. Thomas TenHoeve. Students number 8,387 at the OCC Des Plaines campus; 2,013 at the Skokie location, for a total of 10,400. The Skokie campus showed the highest gain in population, rising 31.91 percent.

In the regular business meeting, a resolution of intent to lease the former Niles East high school property to Centre East Metropolitan Exposition, Auditorium and Office Building Authority Board for a 30 year period, upon fulfillment of certain requirements, was accepted. Specific requirements include acquisition of property title, meeting mutually agreed upon terms, approval of a $10.2 million grant with local matching funds and, if necessary, approval of the transaction from the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the Illinois Community College Board. The Centre East Authority is responsible for obtaining the grant and matching funds.

Cooperative clinical practice agreements with Forest Villa, Ltd., Niles and Lieberman Geriatric Health Center, Skokie, were passed. The Niles facility will be accessible to students for the registered nursing program; the Skokie site for the basic nurse assistant training program. The plan also includes medical facilities in Chicago, Arlington Heights and Schaumburg.

Students from the OCC school district may enroll at Elgin Community College, for career programs and selected courses not offered by OCC, under an addendum to joint agreement between the schools. Elgin students may register for courses at OCC under a similar plan. Also in the business session, the board accepted the treasurer's report for August, 1989, approved payment of August bills and budget transfers in the amount of $146,500 in the educational fund. It also authorized purchases, within stipulated limits, of computer equipment, a Dodge maxi-van, a typesetter maintenance agreement and liability insurance coverage.

The trustees ratified the actions of the MONNA CEP Executive Board and ruled on various salary payments for summer and fall, 1989. They approved a salary of $13,000 for the evening high school coordinator, through the present school year.

Earlier in the meeting, OCC staff members described the expanding program in child care studies available at the college. Peg Oesterlin, Early Childhood Department Chairperson, noted that program expansion, new course offerings and professional outreach programs have resulted in a 40 percent increase in enrollment in the program. A recent grant of $103,591 from the Federal Education department will fund an early childhood career opportunities program for Hispanic, Indian and Pakistani adults with limited skills in English. The program will help students from these cultures develop their skills in English and early childhood education to prepare them for working in child care centers and other agencies. Sheila Kerwin coordinates the 21 week program.

Board Chairman William Spaulding announced trustee Ralph Goren has been appointed President of the north suburban region of the Illinois Community College Trustees Association. He also introduced a candidate for the 1989 board of trustees election in November, Evanston resident Ellen Schrodt.

He suggested that special care be taken to shield tender bark of young trees with special tree-wrap tape. Starting at the base and spiraling the tape upward in overlapping layers as far as the first major branch. After wrapping is complete, secure both ends with cotton cord. After two years, the expandable tape can be removed.

Once the previously outlined steps have been completed, the tree is ready to be fastened to the stakes for support. Protect the bark by threading the guy wire or rope through a short section of garden hose. Place this section around the tree trunk carefully. In two years the tree can stand unaided.

Ways to contact Social Security

You can contact Social Security in a variety of ways. Choose whichever is most convenient to you. You can call, write, or visit. You can also make an appointment to file a claim.

Social Security recommends calling before coming to the office for a variety of reasons. You may be able to complete your business by telephone. If you do have to visit the office, you can find out what to bring with you when you come.

Before calling, you may want to have some information with you to help complete your call efficiently. You should have your Social Security number and, if you receive benefits or have Medicare, your claim number. All correspondence and is on the Medicare card. A telephone number where you can be reached is also helpful.

The best times to call Social Security are Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. The first week of each month is a very busy time and many people try to contact Social Security on Mondays. You may want to avoid these times.

Of course, you can contact Social Security at any time. If you have a question about a specific letter, or notice, you should have it with you when you call, or bring it with you if you come to the office in person.

If you are calling to report an event which will affect benefits, have the information ready. For example, to report a change of address, have the full new address, including ZIP code. To report a death, have the beneficiary's Social Security and claim numbers as well as the date of death and information about the surviving spouse if there is one.

Whether you call, or visit in person, Social Security employees will try to give you friendly, efficient service. A recent study shows that most people who contact Social Security by telephone prefer to call if they have to contact us again. You can call Social Security at 1-800-234-5544.

Amplings' official offers tree planting tips

Over the past several years, most homeowners have discovered that autumn is an excellent planting season, according to Doug Anibaldi, Amplings Flowerland's senior vice president.

In some ways autumn is superior to spring. Spring showers can saturate the earth, making hole-digging troublesome. By fall, the ground is drier and easier to work. Equally important, soil in autumn is warm, and new tree roots continue to sprout, even if summer growth has stopped. These roots give fall-planted trees a head start over those planted in spring.

Anibaldi states that each of the seven suburban Amplings Garden Centers offer a large selection of nursery stock for autumn planting. Amplings offers nursery stock in containerized and balled-and-burlaped form. Smaller size nursery stock is usually container grown. The soil and roots are held in a metal or plastic container, like a potted house plant.

Nursery stock is more often field grown. When it is dug out of the nursery, the root balls are tightly wrapped in burlap for easier handling.

Anibaldi suggests that special care be taken to shield tender bark of young trees with special tree-wrap tape. No need to pay for social security info
A New Jersey organization is attempting to sell a book on Social Security by distributing press releases to newspapers throughout the country. Thomas A. Curin, Social Security manager in Des Plaines, said.

The Consumer Education Research Center of Orange, N.J., sells a book titled "Consumers Guide to Social Security Benefits." It charges $9 plus $2 handling for mail orders. The Consumer Education Research Center is a private organization not connected with the Social Security Administration or the Federal government.

Consumers should know that the book contains no secrets about Social Security benefits, Curin said. Any information you need to know about Social Security can be obtained free from your local Social Security office. Simply visit, phone, or write the office for information about benefits, about filing a claim, or any other Social Security question. Up-to-date pamphlets and brochures are freely available in all offices, despite what the Consumer Education Research Center says.

Many businesses and organizations make a living selling information or services about Social Security to uninformed consumers. Contact any Social Security office before buying information or services provided by Social Security at any cost, Curin said.

An insurance company employee reported the theft of his wallet from an office desk drawer on Sept. 26. The wallet contained $800 cash and miscellaneous identification and credit cards.

School vandalized
Officials at the Chicago Futubakai Japanese School, 8101 N. Cumberland Ave., Niles, reported two separate vandalism incidents, the first during the night of Sept. 7 and the second during the night of Sept. 23. On each occasion, a window valued at $300 was broken by person(s) unknown.

Man steals coat
A 23 year old man reportedly stole a black trench coat from the Oak Tree store in Golf Mill Sept. 26. The man waited until a store clerk was distracted before walking out of the store with the $110 garment, fleeing into the mall. The man was described as being six foot one inch tall and weighing 175 pounds.

Employee arrested with auto parts
A King Nissan employee was arrested Sept. 27 after a fellow employee observed him placing $111.40 in auto parts into a carton and placing the box into the trunk of his car. He was given a $1000 bond and will have a Oct. 27 court date.

Estranged wife reports burglary
A resident of the 7800 block of Odell Avenue reported several items missing from her home Oct. 1. The woman suspects her estranged husband.

Stolen autos

Several vehicles were reported stolen last week in Niles including two thefts from King Nissan, 5757 W. Gun seized from traffic offender

Niles police confiscated the 25 caliber baretta belonging to a 22 year old speeder who was stopped near Milwaukee Avenue and Jarvis Street Sept. 27. The Niles man had a baby in the back seat of the car and told the arresting officer the baby was sick. The man refused an offer of an ambulance. He was detained after police determined his drivers license was suspended. The man surrendered the cocked handgun, which was concealed in an ankle holster. The gun had one round of ammunition in its chamber and 8 rounds in its magazine. Information on the man's firearms i.d. card differed from that of his drivers license and in previous arrest records. The gun was sent to the police crime lab to determine if it had been used in a crime. The baby was released to its Chicago mother. The man posted a $1,000 bond and will have an Oct. 19 court date.

Company officials determined the items had been stolen.
