Village officials doubt Sherwood home will re-open

Sheriff sells Niles nursing homes

An official of the new firm named to operate two Niles and two Evanston nursing homes, Burton Behr, said Jan. 29 "We're debt free; we're starting new." The four homes, the Niles Woodbury, 8555 Maynard Rd., the recently closed Sherwood, 9777 Greenwood Ave., and the Saratoga and Albany of Evanston, were bought at a sheriff's sale Jan. 25 by the Home Savings Association of Kansas City, Missouri, the first mortgage holder.
The Kansas City bank named G.W. Burton Inc. of Evanston as new operator of the homes, but the present receiver will continue through Feb. 11, according to court order. Phil O'Brien, lawyer for the present receivers, Care-Mor Association and three individuals, Mary Grandin, Jerry Fox and Robert Kuehl, said the court requested the present receivers continue their jurisdiction until all of the patients are moved from the Sherwood home. The move is expected to be completed by Feb. 7. O'Brien noted the Feb. 11 date would also dovetail with the closing.

School closing information

If extreme cold or snow forces Maine Township High School District 207 to close, announcements will be made on AM radio stations 67 WMAQ, WGN Radio 720, WBBM Newsradio 78, FM radio stations B96, US99 WCLR 102, WFTR 103.5, and television stations Channel 9 WGN-TV and Channel 32 WFLD.
The decision to close schools is made in conjunction with Districts 62, 63, 64, and 79.

by Bud Besser

There are no outward indications any of the Catholic schools in our area will be closed or merged.

The cutbacks in the city Catholic schools may be a precursor to what eventually may happen out here in the boonies. Presently, Niles residents send their children to four Catholic elementary schools in the area. Morton Grove residents use two Catholic schools while some Park Ridge students come into Niles to Our Lady of Ransom for their education.

It's merely a guess, with no indication of official plans, but St. Isaac Jogues may eventually merge its students with another area school. Isaacs has less than 300 students.

If push comes to shove out in the suburbs it is conceivable Park Ridge students at Our Lady of Ransom might move back to a parochial school in Park Ridge, Glenview students at St. Isaacs might move back to Glenview and a merging of Niles Catholic schools with St. John Brebeuf might come to pass.

We were told by one parent if children move to other schools, it is likely the parents would follow their children into the new parish. It would result in the likely closing of the church as well as the school.

At Notre Dame High School, enrollment is down

Sale of school won't reduce tax levy

District 207 will probably not reduce its tax levy, as the Maine High School District considers ways to use the $7.75 million sale proceeds from Maine North High School at its Feb. 7 board meeting.
Board member Elizabeth Blowers favors abatement of the property tax levy, but Supt. Jim Elliott says that the public relations value of reducing property taxes would be offset by having to issue bonds for large projects such as asbestos removal and renovations.
The board finance committee met Jan. 17 and recommended using the funds for maintenance and capital improvements of Maine East, Maine South and Maine West high schools. The board would retain the option of transferring the monies from its site and construction fund to its other budget funds, allowing it to reduce the property tax levy if other projects do not compete for the money.

Future needed capital improvements include life safety projects and athletic building renovations. Maine East's indoor track is in need of resurfacing, as is Maine South's field house floor.

Controversy raised over Kindergarten center

by Nancy Keramias

The dissenters may be in the minority but they were the most outspoken group at the Dist. 63 parents meeting Jan. 29. The forum was held to discuss the administration's proposal to open a kindergarten center at Melzer School to handle "temporary" overcrowding at 63's four elementary schools.

Informally dubbed the "Dr. Sietina plan", for Associate Superintendent Donald C. Sietina who formulated it, the plan calls

Intergenerational party planned

A unique group of Morton Grove residents will meet on Friday, Feb. 2 from 12:30 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. for pizza, drama and crafts at the Prairie View Community Center, 6834 Dempster St. in Morton Grove.

Four-year-olds from the park district's pre-school will be paired up with Morton Grove senior citizens for an intergenerational experience designed to enhance the lives of these two diverse age groups as well as their perceptions of each other.

According to Ronce Brenner, senior adult supervisor for the Morton Grove Park District, intergenerational programs help the young to see older people as individuals rather than stereotypes. These experiences help children to overcome fears of older people and aging and to recognize that seniors can be and are active individuals capable of full-filling and happy lives.

Bud Swanson, director of senior citizen services for the Village of Morton Grove, believes such programs allow the young and old to be inspired by each other while also bringing out youthfulness in the seniors.

The children and seniors, some in their '80s, will work together to make cookies and a quilt which will be displayed in the community center. They will also perform in a play directed by students from Oakton Community College, who are also donating their time to this activity.

This is one in a series of intergenerational activities sponsored by the Morton Grove Park District and Village of Morton Grove Senior Citizen Services. For further information, please contact Ronce Brenner, (708) 965-7447, or Bud Swanson, (708) 965-4100.

Loyola, Coca-Cola recycling cans

Loyola's Environmental Awareness Group (EAG) and Coca-Cola of Chicago have been sponsoring a can recycling program at the Academy.

The cash-for-cans program has so far netted over $700 which will help fund new stereo equipment for the Student Center and a donation to Loyola's financial aid program.

Group moderator, Ms. Maureen McCarthy, and senior leader, Tom Peroulas of Chicago, hope to recycle $3,000 worth of cans during the schools year.

Several local suburbs and four Chicago wards have piloted recycling programs. In 1990, recycling will be a state law in Illinois.

The EAG encourages everyone to recycle, whether at school or at home.

Recycling Facts:

1. An aluminum can may last 500 years buried in a landfill.
2. Every three months, Americans throw out enough aluminum to rebuild every commercial airliner in the country.
3. Every five days, Americans throw out enough glass containers to completely fill Soldier Field.
4. Glass and plastic containers can last as long as 1,000,000 years in a landfill.

Older Adult Services offers geriatric assessment

As individuals become older, their needs change as well as their ability to handle life's changes. Older people and their families may need help when simple tasks of life have become too difficult.

Older Adult Services, a division of Parkside Senior Services, offers geriatric assessment, a specialized program for older adults who are experiencing with daily activities, family relationships and/or health. A skilled geriatric team that includes a geriatrician, a geriatric social worker and a psychiatrist will diagnose a person's unique medical, physical, emotional, social and environmental needs. Some typical problems that could be evaluated include decline in physical or mental health, memory loss, confusion, loss of appetite or weight, change in sleep patterns or incontinence.

A geriatric assessment helps seniors and/or their families ascertain the most appropriate plan of care for the future. It can involve recommendations for medical support services in health care, activity, socialization, recreation, housing and nutrition. Referrals can be made to home care, home delivered meals, adult day care or any other support service available.

For further information or an appointment, please call Older Adult Services at 696-7770.

Parkside Senior Services is a member of Lutheran General Health Care System.

District 219 considers closing Niles North

District 219 is weighing the possibility of consolidating its two high schools in the wake of a current facilities study showing a potential $23 million savings to the district if Niles North High School is sold. Both Niles North and Niles West need an estimated $10 million for renovation.

"We are facing reality," Board President Marlene Aderman said, announcing the board's study.

Asbestos removal planned at Maine Highs

Maine Township High School District 207 Board of Education has awarded $1,068,295 in contracts to three companies to remove asbestos from the three Maine high schools this summer. The projects are part of a long-range plan to remove all friable asbestos from District 207 facilities.

AHERA (Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act) calls for either removal or encapsulation and maintenance of asbestos. The district has chosen to remove it to provide a permanent solution to the asbestos issue, according to James L. Elliott, Superintendent. The plan to remove all friable asbestos was approved in May, 1989. Friable asbestos is asbestos continued on Page 26

Child protection authorities were notified that a Golf Mill employee left her 26 month old daughter unattended in a car for more than 30 minutes Jan. 22. Per Niles police reports, a mall security officer phoned police that Monday morning when he noticed the toddler alone in the red Hyundai.

Niles police arrived and entered the car to remove the child from the auto. A check of the stores revealed that the mother, a 23 year old Rogers Park woman, was employed in one of the stores. The mother told police she left the child asleep in the car while she was working and went out periodically to check her.

Dirty dancer reported at Doc Weeds

Niles police responded to a call for help Jan. 25, but a search of the dance floor at Doc Weed's, 8832 Dempster St., failed to find the young woman whose style of dancing was described as "lewd and suggestive". Apparently she couldn't dance all night.

Doc Weed's management reported the dirty dancer so police would eject her, but accounts did not detail what the wanton waltzer was doing that was too offensive for public display.

Will recent closings of parishes and schools by the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese affect the status of Niles College? Not in the immediate future, according to the Rev. Ken Simpson, Dean of Formation at the college seminary located at 7135 N. Harlem Ave. He said the status of the college would probably be part of a long range, one to five year review, and to his knowledge, no committee has been named to conduct the study. In contrast, recent directed closings and consolidations on the parish level face a short term, one year implementation.

Simpson indicated the College's new Rector, the Rev. Cleo Kiley, has made it clear he hasn't come to close the College. Simpson foresees no change in Niles' operations in any way, adding, "We intend to be here."

Rector Kiley's immediate predecessor, the Rev. Robert

McLaughlin, now Pastor of Holy Name cathedral in Chicago, noted a similar suggestion—to move the College to Loyola University—came up soon after his arrival at the school in 1984. At that time, the decision was made to retain the present campus at the Niles location, but to renovate it. Sometime later, the College sold four acres of its 30 acre campus to the adjacent St. Adalbert cemetery and those funds aided in renovation of resident halls, the chapel and dining room. New windows and an updated heating system were included in energy-saving measures. McLaughlin surmised any future review would be supervised by the current rector and the College's Board of Trustees, a mixture of both clergy and lay persons.

Simpson reflected that the closing of the high school preparatory seminary at Quigley South, continued on Page 26

Report change of address to Social Security

It is important for people getting Social Security benefits to inform Social Security of any change of address, Thomas A. Curin, Social Security manager in Des Plaines, said recently. This is important even if the person has arranged for direct deposit of his or her checks in a financial institution.

Occasionally, we have to contact people even if they have arranged for direct deposit, Curin said. If we cannot locate the person, we may have to stop sending out his or her monthly check.

A change of address can be reported by mail or phone. If it is reported in writing, both the old and new addresses, including ZIP code, should be included, as well as the Social Security claim number and the names of all family members who are receiving mail at the new address.

More information about reporting can be obtained by calling the nationwide teleservice number 1-800-234-5353.

Batters ex-wife

Niles police are seeking a Chicago man who reportedly hit his ex-wife upon learning she had re-married. The 34 year old Bensenville woman was dining out with her new husband Jan. 22 at 5960 W. Touhy Ave. when her former husband entered the restaurant. When the ex saw her, he left the eatery and the couple decided she should go outside to talk to her former spouse. According to reports, the angered ex hit her several times with an open hand before fleeing the area.

Gun confiscated from drunk driver

A 24-year-old Park Ridge man now faces a variety of charges stemming from a routine license plate check of his vehicle near the 7200 block of Dempster Street.

At first, there was nothing suspicious noted about the passing car as it came within view of the Niles officer who was running plate numbers through the on-board patrol car computer Jan. 26.

When the driver's operator's license was reported as being suspended, the officer stopped the vehicle. She noted the suspect had alcohol on his breath and ordered him out of the car to perform field sobriety tests. She placed the driver under arrest when he failed the tests.

When a male officer attempted to lock the vehicle's passenger door from the inside to secure the vacant vehicle before the tow truck's arrival, he saw an empty holster along with a gun clip with ammunition on the floor near the front passenger seat. An open bottle of liquor, a suspected marijuana cigarette and an empty 45 caliber semiautomatic handgun were also discovered upon further search.

The driver was tested at the police station and charged with unlawful use of weapons, unlawful use of carnal, DUI influence of drugs or alcohol, and driving while suspended. A Feb. 27 court date was scheduled.

Arrested after cash machine dispute

Niles police were told there was an armed robbery in progress Jan. 23 but the fleeing suspect they arrested said he was the one who was out some money.

The 24-year-old Fox Lake man visited Madison National Bank at 9190 Golf Road and attempted to withdraw money from a cash station on the premises. He reportedly shouted at a drive-up teller,

"The machine shortchanged me, get out and fix it!" and began pounding on the drive through window as he yelled obscenities at the frightened employee.

The employee summoned police and the suspect fled in his 1985 Camaro west of Golf Road. He was finally apprehended near East River Road.

He was charged with disorderly conduct, having a suspended drivers license and not having proof of insurance. A March 7 court date was assigned.

 Niles Police Department

New Year's Eve at Niles Police Department

On the evening of December 31, 1989 while most people were getting ready to celebrate the coming of 1990 with family or friends, the midnight shift of the Niles Police Department was meeting in the roll call room. They were getting ready to begin their shift (10:30 p.m. until 7 a.m.) and preparing for any wayward revelers. Sgt. Chuck Sanno, Officer's Christie, Elsing, Matuszak, Panousieres and Penze would be meeting the New Year in their squad cars this night and this is how the new year began for them.

10:58 p.m. - A citizen called and reported his 1989 Honda Accord was broken into and he had ski equipment and other personal belongings taken. Officer Matuszak was assigned the call and took a report.

11:15 p.m. - A domestic disturbance is called in on the 8600 block of Sunset. A husband and wife quarrel culminates in the husband slapping his wife. Sgt. Sanno, Officer's Penze, Christie and Panousieres quiet the male with the husband leaving the premises.

11:16 p.m. - Suspicious noises are reported by a baby sitter in the 8000 block of Lyons. The incident is investigated by Officer Elsing and unfounded.

11:31 p.m. - Loud party is reported in the 8000 block of Davis. Officer Elsing stands by as the party breaks up.

12:37 a.m. - A second domestic disturbance is reported at the same address as the earlier call in the 8600 block of Sunset. The husband has returned and is starting trouble. Officers Matuszak, Penze, and Panousieres return and the husband is arrested and charged with battery. He is transported to the police station for processing.

1:12 a.m. - A woman wants to report a lost or stolen wallet while she was at a store earlier in the 9300 block of Milwaukee Ave. A report is taken by Officer Panousieres.

1:23 a.m. - Disturbance with an intoxicated subject is reported in the 6800 block of Milwaukee Ave. Officer's Matuszak, Panousieres, and Christie arrive and a 24-year-old male is arrested for Disorderly Conduct.

1:38 a.m. - Unwanted subject on premises is reported in the 8800 block of Dempster St. Officer's Elsing and Christie respond and the subject leaves the premises.

1:42 a.m. - Unwanted subject is reported at a store in the 9000 block of Milwaukee Ave. The subject is gone on arrival of Officer Panousieres.

1:52 a.m. - Fight in Progress - Assist Morton Grove PD with a fight in progress in the 9100 block of Waukegan Rd. Officer's Christie and Elsing respond.

2:02 a.m. - Motor Vehicle Accident is reported in the 8900 block of Milwaukee Ave. Officer Panousieres responds and takes an accident report.

2:16 a.m. - Assist Another Department - Officers Christie and Elsing assist Morton Grove PD with an auto reportedly stuck on the railroad tracks at Dempster and Lehigh.

2:35 a.m. - Code 1 - Ambulance Call - Officers Elsing and Panousieres assist the Niles Fire Department treat an intoxicated subject in the 9100 block of Milwaukee Ave.

3:28 a.m. - 10-50 PI - A pedestrian is struck by a motor vehicle while crossing the street at Courtland and Milwaukee Ave. The accident is handled by Officer Elsing and assisted by Sgt. Sanno, and Officer's Penze and Christie.

4:59 a.m. - Intoxicated Subject - 7200 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles PD, (not one of ours!) An intoxicated New Year's Eve reveler wanders in to the police station and is assisted by Officer Matuszak with transportation home.

This is how these Niles officers welcomed in the new year, probably not the busiest New Year's Eve the midnight shift has ever had but certainly not the quietest or slowest either.

Home burglary

Unknown offenders forced open a rear door in a house in the 5500 block of Theobald Rd., Morton Grove the night of Jan. 26. The homeowner returned to find his house searched, a jewelry box displaced and electronic equipment, including a color TV, a VCR and a computer terminal missing. The electronics were worth $750; the damage to the rear door estimated at $100. Other losses will be inventoried.

Shoplifter arrested with drug paraphernalia

Niles police discovered concealed drug paraphernalia when they noticed a suspect in custody acting suspiciously after a shoplifting arrest.

The 40-year-old Glenview man, was arrested at J.C. Penneys after attempting to get a refund on a stolen $53.48 household appliance. He was then taken to the police station for processing.

When police found a package containing a suspicious white powder on the suspect, he became "visibly disturbed" according to reports and began reaching into his groin area "to tuck something in." The officer asked the suspect if he had something on his person and received a negative reply.

Retail theft arrests

A 29-year-old Chicago man was arrested by Sears agents following the theft of a $99.96 trench coat on Jan. 23. He will have a Feb. 5 court appearance.

Penney's agents arrested a 30-year-old Near West Side Chicago woman Jan. 25. The woman is accused of stealing a $39 pair of men's jeans and will appear in court March 8. She is also facing charges from a Countryside theft, and is scheduled to appear in Bridgeview Court Feb. 13.

Kohl's security personnel charged a 28-year-old New Lenox man with retail theft after he attempted to obtain a refund for stolen $39.99 gym shoes.

J.C. Penney security agents arrested a 27 year old Hoffman Estates man who reportedly stole a $29 pair of gloves Jan. 22. The man will appear in court Feb. 5.

A Chicago woman, 49, who later told police she was on drugs and a former stripper, was apprehended the night of Jan. 23 when she took merchandise from a drug store in the 6900 block of Dempster St., Morton Grove. The store manager stopped her as she tried to leave without paying and recovered store items worth $79.14. Her loot included two cordless combs and four boxes of Preparation H. The woman, whose record included several arrests for theft, has a court date March 1.

The night of Jan. 24, a security guard in the clothing store in the 6800 block of Dempster St., Morton Grove saw a man put a store purse inside his coat and five pairs of underwear into his coat pocket and attempt to leave without paying. The offender, a Skokie man, 32, was charged with retail theft and has a court date of March 1. The merchandise was valued at $46.98.

Two males, between 18-20 years of age, entered the clothing store in the 6800 block of Dempster St., Morton Grove the night of Jan. 27 and walked quickly to the gym equipment section. One of the men took a brown leather gym bag selling for $139.99 and both left the store without paying. Security guards saw them drive off in an '87 Volkswagen Jetta. The car's license number checked out to a Chicago address, but no phone number was available.

DUI arrest

Niles police arrested the 35-year-old Des Plaines man Jan. 27 near Milwaukee Avenue and Elizabeth Street at 1:32 a.m.

The suspect, who tested .15 on the breathalyzer, will appear in court March 19.

The officer stopped the car and noted the smell of alcohol on the driver's breath. In addition, there were three open bottles of beer between the two front seats. The passenger, also a Chicagoan, reportedly struck the officer and resisted arrest.

The pair will have a Feb. 28 court date. Included in the driver's offenses were having a blood alcohol level above .10, not having insurance, transportation of open liquor and DUI. The passenger was charged with battery.

A 32 year old Cicero man was arrested Jan. 22 after a stationary radar unit clocked him at 30 miles over the speed limit in the 7900 block of Milwaukee Ave.

The driver also disregarded the spotlight at Oakton Avenue and was charged accordingly. He will have a Feb. 28 court appearance.

Business burglarized

Officials at Omco, 6283 W. Howard St., reported a weekend burglary Jan. 19-21 in which a $100 TV was stolen from an office. File cabinets on the premises were also opened. No force to enter the building was apparent.

A locked business at 6225 W. Howard St. was reportedly burglarized Jan. 22. No force was used to enter the business, however, $100 cash was stolen and $100 damage to a desk was caused.

Theft of wallet

Maine East cager heads for Harvard

Ken Sartini, Maine East's head varsity basketball coach, faces opposing schools with a team lacking in size, but one thing the veteran coach doesn't have to worry about is player ineligibility. In fact, Sartini probably is the only coach in the Central Suburban League south division with a starting center who has earned early acceptance to Harvard.

Karlo Kerkonian of Glenview is the Demon team's tallest player at 6'3" and coupled with captain John Allegretti of Des Plaines, who has earned early acceptance to Johns Hopkins as a pre-med major. Sartini can be proud of his team's achievements both on and off the basketball court.

Kerkonian joined Maine East's basketball program his junior year as a starting forward and soccer for the '88 season as goalkeeper. In fact, he played varsity that first year for the Demon soccer team and this year was voted M.V.P.

"Will sports be a priority for Kerkonian next year at the Cambridge, Massachusetts, campus? He's not sure if he will play basketball, but he's looking forward to playing soccer. However, "it depends on my ability to balance sports with academics in which academics is my priority."

He said that he loves basketball and excelling in athletics gives him discipline and purpose. It also allows him to give something to his school. The game itself is dynamic, involving physical and mental abilities, and the competition is a way to test himself.

"What is difficult is maintaining my grades and participating in athletics and attempting to excel in all I do. It requires will power, discipline, and dedication to all I'm involved in. Setting priorities and striving to achieve is important to me," added Kerkonian.

Kerkonian was elected to National Honor Society his junior year, and this year he serves as the group's secretary and works with N.H.S. president Allegretti to organize the group's activities, including the recent holiday canned food drive. Kerkonian maintains a 4.9 G.P.A. going into the first semester exams.

Next fall he'll be a liberal arts major at Harvard, but he's interested in international law and government, hoping one day to become an international lawyer. Coach Sartini remarked, "It's great having players like Karlo and John. You tell them something once and they understand what needs to be done. Karlo spent the summer at Harvard and did very well. I'm confident that he will succeed at whatever he does. I certainly will miss both Karlo and John after this season."

Oakton cagers beat Morton

The Oakton Community College basketball team showed the rest of the Skyway Conference last week that it's to be taken seriously this season.

The Raiders had gone through the last two seasons without a win in the Skyway, but an 80-78 win on Jan. 16 over College of Lake County broke that streak, and a strong second half last Thursday (Jan. 18) against high-regarded Morton College indicated that Oakton probably will win its share of games this season in the conference.

A balanced scoring attack helped in the win over Lake County. Four Raiders scored in double figures, led by Darrell Gaudling's 20 points. Terry Ball added 15, while Steve Vrbancic and Paddy Driscoll each had 10.

Oakton outscored Morton in the second half, 53-48, but it wasn't enough to overcome the 56-38 halftime lead built by the Panthers. Vrbancic (27 points), Frank Perkins (17), Gaudling (16) and Ron Kelly (12) scored in double figures for Oakton.

Computer curriculum at Stevenson School

Directed by members of the Stevenson library department, children in all grades in the school experience a wide variety of computer literacy and training opportunities as students in the building. Beginning at the kindergarten level, a readiness program is initiated that allows the very young children an opportunity to learn about the parts of the computer, push the keys to answer simple questions and other such readiness work. This stage of readiness allows the children to develop an understanding of the keyboard functions and safety rules. Using the "Friendly Computer" and "Apple Presents Apple" children quickly become accustomed to using the computer equipment and experience none of the technological fear sometimes seen in adults.

Children work in academic areas such as mathematics, reading, language arts, and content areas reinforcing skills and developing a wider range of knowledge with the computer. Frequently, the stu-

Maine High drug program

Jan McClellan, a social worker at Maine West, and Harvey Keller, a counselor at Maine West, are serving as co-chairpersons of Maine Township's 1990 Operation Snowball.

Operation Snowball is a statewide program for high school students and adults that encourages them to adopt a drug and alcohol free lifestyle by learning relational skills to deal with problems rather than turning to drugs. Not a treatment program, it is a program designed to equip teenagers with the interpersonal skills to "say no to drugs."

The program provides a full day to educate teens on the various aspects of alcohol and drug abuse, enhance self-esteem, build self-confidence, and teach sound decision making skills. It is founded on the belief that through adequate information and self-understanding, every person has the capacity to make sound decisions and to exert a positive influence on others. Operation Snowball takes its name from the idea that positive thinking and behavior can spread from person to person, growing as a snowball grows.

Brochure explains long distance call changes

Illinois Bell is offering a free brochure explaining recent changes in making long-distance calls from Illinois Bell public telephone.

One recent change is that the name of the long distance company that serves each Illinois Bell public phone now is marked in red print on the phone's instruction card. The identified company will carry all operator-assisted long distance calls from that phone, unless caller dials an access code to use another long distance company.

Operator-assisted calls include calling card, collect and bill-to-third-party calls.

AT&T carried all long-distance calls from public phones until April 1. This spring, in accordance with a federal court order, the owners of the premises on which Illinois Bell public phones are located selected a long-distance company for their public phones, just as residence and business customers have done since 1984. Most private payphone companies were exempt from the court order.

AT&T still carries all long-distance calls paid with coins. For a free brochure that explains these changes, customers can send their name and address to Brochure, Illinois Bell, HQ 19A, 225 W. Randolph, Chicago, IL 60606, or fax their request to (312) 781-7260.

Callers can contact their long distance companies for information on how to use their long distance calling cards. Most long distance companies accept Illinois Bell's America's Calling Card (TM), available free from Illinois Bell, but they don't necessarily accept each other's. Customers can use America's Calling Card to pay for long distance calls at any of Illinois Bell's 86,000 public phones statewide.

About 300 private companies also operate pay phones in Illinois. Customers can identify an Illinois Bell public phone by the bell logo on the phone's upper instruction card.

Most of Illinois Bell's public phones have been changed to reflect the choices of the premise owners. The remaining phones will be changed when the switching systems that serve them receive the equipment necessary to provide access to all long distance companies. That process will be completed by the end of next year.

Illinois Bell continues to carry all local calls from its public phones.

Guardian Metal celebrates anniversary

Today Guardian and Crowe employ 60 people and run 13 slitting and three leveling lines.

Guardian Metal Sales, Inc., Morton Grove, which specializes in narrow width, close tolerance, precision slitting of non-ferrous metals such as copper, brass, bronze, nickel, silver and aluminum, is celebrating its 50th year in business.

Guardian began in metals brokering in 1939. By 1945 they opened their first warehouse on South Western Ave. and specialized in copper and copper-based materials. Guardian's offices, which were originally at Madison St. and Western Ave., changed location three times between 1950 and 1956 before settling at their present address in Morton Grove in 1964.

In 1946, Guardian became an agent for the Beryllium Corporation allowing them to sell beryllium copper products to their customers. Guardian was made a distributor for Beryllium Corporation, now called N.G.K. Metals, in 1956. Also in 1956, Guardian became a distributor for the Olin Brass Group, which helped diversify Guardian's inventory allowing them to provide better service to their customers.

By 1964, Guardian had outgrown their quarters again and moved into a 40,000 sq. ft. facility at their present location in Morton Grove. Since then, they have expanded the warehouse to 100,000 sq. ft.

After the 1972 death of Guardian's founder, W. H. Bucholz, the company passed into his family's hands. In 1981, William Bohnen bought Guardian from the Bucholz family and continues to operate the company. In 1985, Guardian acquired the Joseph A. Crowe Co., in St. Louis, Mo., which Guardian operates as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Financial planning as an executive perk

The challenge has never been tougher for corporations to attract and retain prized employees.

Many employers have responded by purchasing tax-deferred investment plans, stock purchase plans, deferred compensation and 401(k) plans to include in their benefit programs.

A growing number of firms are going a step further and adding financial planning services to mix. Corporations are offering this perk to key employees because it enhances recruitment, retention and productivity.

Recruitment is helped by positioning a company as a progressive organization interested in its employees to better use their total compensation and benefits package; the result is an appreciation that grows with years of service. Productivity is increased through greater retention and fewer personal financial concerns.

Companies competing head-on for a handful of top execs are finding that financial planning is one more way to attract attention - and loyalty. The cost to the corporation of providing this benefit is relatively small when compared to the increased goodwill it creates with the executive.

Costs of financial planning will vary depending on the situation of each executive. A financial plan can cost anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000. This is a small sum, considering that corporations are already spending thousands of dollars on existing benefits packages for their top employees. It is financially wise to ensure that each and every top executive understands how the benefits package fits into his or her personal financial situation.

Financial planning is a natural complement to the selective benefits package already being offered to a company's top executives. In fact, 90 percent of Fortune 500 companies are now offering financial planning to upper level management with many firms making this service available to lower level managers, too. If financial planning isn't included among company benefits for top executives, consider it now to best serve the interests of key performers.

Illinois economic growth predicted

Business conditions in Illinois are expected to remain healthy well into 1990, making this the third year in a row that Illinois experiences steady growth, according to a poll conducted by the Illinois CPA Society.

Results of the statewide poll show that significant business growth for Illinois is expected in the services area (54 percent of those polled predicted increase) while other fields, such as health-care and high technology, may experience only a slight increase.

Growth in industries such as retail, wholesale and manufacturing is expected to remain the same, say the 500 Illinois CPAs polled in November. These lower projections are consistent with conditions on the national level, with the economy slowing down after many years of growth.

Business conditions are expected to fare much better in the Chicago area (48.3 percent area respondents call conditions good) than in downstate regions, where less than half of the respondents consider conditions good.

"While, on the whole, our members predict that business growth in Illinois will remain steady well into 1990, our poll results also reveal that CPAs in this state fear we are losing new business enterprises to neighboring states," said Arthur Farber, president of the Illinois CPA Society.

However, even with all the above business growth conditions considered, poll respondents still choose interest rates as the most significant factor affecting the state economy for 1990, followed by taxes, and growth of new business.

Federal Budget and Trade Deficits

The federal deficit continues to be cited as the most significant factor affecting the national economy for 1990, but the number of poll respondents who consider this a problem has decreased from 1989, as well as the number of respondents who considered the trade deficit a major problem.

This poll corresponds with a July 17, 1989, article in Fortune titled, "No Recession This Year or Next" which states that budget and trade deficits are decreasing. However, CPA poll respondents this year are far less optimistic that the government will act to reduce the federal budget or trade deficits during the coming year.

In 1988 CPAs predicted that inflation would increase to 5 percent over the 4 percent average for that year. It did.

In 1989, inflation averaged 5 percent through August according to the Consumer Price Index. For 1990, poll respondents are predicting a slight decrease to 5 percent compared to a 5.8 percent forecast for inflation in 1990 by Fortune, July 17, 1989 issue.

Unemployment figures in the poll closely mirror actual numbers. CPAs across the country are forecasting only a slight rise over the percent 5.2 percent average to just 5.5 percent nationally. Illinois respondents are also predicting a slight increase in the state's unemployment average, rising from 5.4 percent to 5.8 percent in 1990.

CPAs may also be responding to the shrinking workforce when they predict that salary increases will outpace inflation for the professional workforce.

Fortune magazine outlines the reason for increasing wages. "Employees taking advantage of tight labor conditions are winning larger raises. After advancing 4.7 percent in 1988, compensation will increase 5 percent this year and 5.7 percent next."

The professional will fare better than the unskilled laborer, as poll respondents do not believe that salary increases will outpace inflation for the latter group.

CPAs also believe the business economy will be most beneficial for college graduates seeking employment opportunities in the areas of high technology, education and accounting/finance.

Workplace Issues When questioned about workplace issues, CPAs based their answers on their company and their largest clients. The industries that stood out as having the best group of benefits were in the high tech and healthcare fields.

The top benefit for industries across the board is an employer contribution savings plan, followed by cafeteria-style benefit plans. Benefit plans that companies expect to add in order to remain competitive include cafeteria-style benefit packages and flextime/unconventional work weeks.

Two tests that are receiving increasing publicity proved to be the least popular with CPAs - AIDS screening and the polygraph. However, as business enters the 21st century, CPAs predict that drug testing may surpass general health screening as the most popular pre-employment test.

An increased number of baby boomers reaching retirement in the 21st century is expected to have a large impact in the business and the social system. Yet, nearly a third of poll respondents say that companies have no plan in place to help employees prepare for retirements. For those that do have plans, CPAs say that companies are pursuing traditional routes of planning.

The rising cost of healthcare, especially for seniors, is not expected to end in the near future. An overwhelming 71.1 percent of the responding CPAs say that they expect people to increase their expenditures for elderly care in the 1990s.

Consumer Spending CPAs are predicting no major increases in spending for the 1990s with the exception of education, child care, personal computers and home entertainment. However, CPAs are not predicting a marked decrease in spending either.

As noted in a July 31, 1989, article in Time magazine, baby boomers may well be entering a lull when it comes to spending.

If recession does occur, it may well be triggered by a sharp erosion in consumer confidence," Time said, "Americans are saddled with hefty debt loads and could easily become jittery if the economy weakens. If Americans cut back abruptly on their spending, the effects would ripple through the economy."

A "couch potato" scenario has been predicted by one economist, saying that baby boomers who were on a heavy spending spree during the boom years now have children to provide for and are spending more time at home, enjoying their purchases, and shopping less.

AFF Banc group 1st quarter CD

The project yield on a new certificate of deposit from Affiliated Banc Group should make the offering one of the best seasonal buys in the industry, bank officials said.

"In addition to a high rate and yield at a popular maturity, we will make available to all customers purchasing the "Club CD" a free (no fee/no minimum balance) checking account," said Marvin Neland, chairman of the bank group. The NOW account is offered for the run of the CD, and carries an interest rate of 5.25 percent.

Deposits of $10,000 or more offer the added perk of a $12 gift certificate to Rose Records, giving customers opening an Affiliated CD the opportunity to pick up a musical CD for free.

The "Club CD" also includes overdraft protection at no additional cost; a "value-pack" of coupons worth 200 free personal checks; a free Cash Station card; no-fee cashier's checks and money orders; $2,000 worth of no-fee American Express gift checks; and free safety deposit box rental for one year.

The product carries a minimum deposit of $5,000, and is being offered by Affiliated's member banks through Feb. 12.

Israel bond holders are asked to re-invest

Holders of Israel bonds purchased in 1975 and 1976 can get credit for the full maturity value of their 4 percent bonds up to 24 months in advance if they re-invest in new bonds, Richard and Donna Loundy, co-chairmen of the Chicago area Israel bond campaign, have announced.

All Israel 4 percent bonds issued through 1976 are eligible for this credit provided holders add additional funds and purchase a higher denomination than the bond they currently hold. Securities which may be purchased under this plan include Seventh Development Issue Bonds and Individual Variable Rate Issue Bonds.

Richard Loundy emphasized the important role Israel bond re-investment plays in the effort to help absorb the influx of Soviet immigrants to Israel.

He said, "These extra bond proceeds will help Israel provide jobs and housing for the newcomers."

"Check your safe deposit box and your files," Loundy said. "If you are holding 4 percent bonds issued through 1976, call the Israel bond office (312) 558-9400 for information about the simple reinvestment procedure."

Winter begins, breaks power demand record

Commonwealth Edison's 3 million northern Illinois customers ushered in the start of winter by breaking the all-time seasonal record for electricity demand for the second time within a week.

Between 5 and 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 21, customers demanded 13,295,000 kilowatts, breaking the mark set Thursday, Dec. 14, when demand reached 12,705,000 kw.

That record, in turn, exceeded a demand level of 12,445,000 kw which had stood since Jan. 5, 1988. The new record demand level is 6.8 percent higher than the mark set in 1988.

We hope you're getting used to dialing "1" plus the proper area code before the telephone number when calling between the suburbs and Chicago.

Even though calls between the city and suburbs will require dialing "1" plus the area code, the addition of 708 will not cause a change in rates. As the new year begins, please remember...

Surgery at Loyola offers hope to patients with tumors

A team of physicians and other health care specialists established the Midwest's first cranial base surgery center at Loyola University Medical Center, offering new hope to patients with complex tumors of the head, neck and brain.

"By combining the skills of a variety of specialists, each of whom is accustomed to different portions of the skull's anatomy, we are able to remove extensive tumors safely and completely," said John P. Leonette, M.D.

Dr. Leonetti is assistant professor of otolaryngology—head and neck surgery—and co-directs the center with O. Howard Reichman, M.D., professor and chief of the division of neurosurgery at Loyola.

Supporting the center, only the second program of its kind in the country, is a full range of advanced diagnostic, treatment and rehabilitation methods.

These include computed tomography (CT) scanners and a magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) unit, which uses radio frequencies in a powerful electromagnetic field to detect and outline tumors; microscopic and laser surgery techniques; contemporary angiography, whereby a catheter is placed into a patient's artery that is feeding the tumor and the blood supply to the tumor is cut off to reduce blood loss during surgery; and a speech and swallowing laboratory.

The unique aspect of the Loyola program is that a variety of specialists are now working side by side to remove and cure the complex, difficult-to-remove tumors.

into the 800 number. Ten years ago there were about 1,200 students. Last year the rumor mill was floating the idea the school might become co-educational.

Cutting back is never easy nor accepted with much enthusiasm. But what seems to be happening with city Catholic schools inevitably will happen out here in the suburbs.

The suburban public schools have been cutting back since the seventies. And while parents were hooting and hollering when their schools were closed, they adjusted and life went on. Seeing their huge tax bills as the nineties begin indicates even more public schools should be closed. In Maine Township there will eventually be a cut-back to two high schools. The taxpayers can't afford the luxury of less than 6,000 students being in three schools. And the plans back in the seventies that Maine high schools handle 3,500 students per school warrants closing one high school. But board members and administrators will not budge on defending the use of three schools until the natives demand the cutback.

The administrators come and go. And the board members eventually move on. But the taxpayers remain here every year to pay the ever-increasing costs.

We built and expanded back in the sixties and seventies when the tremendous growth in the area demanded more space in our schools. The growth has subsided. And the bills are getting out of hand. Like the public schools, the parochial schools in the area are going to be forced to merge and join with their neighbors as belt-tightening time highlights the nineties.

Fly High With Books at Niles Library

Airplanes, rocket ships and hot air balloons will decorate the Children's Department at the Niles Public Library Jan. 8 to March 3 as we offer "Fly High With Books! Winter Read-With-Me Book Club for children and their families.

Sharing stories with parents, brothers, sisters, and friends will be emphasized during this eight week program. Children will be given a form to record titles of books that have been shared. On each return visit to the Library or the Bookmobile, the child will be recognized as a club member. There will also be a special program for participants on Sunday, March 4.

For more information about this free program and other activities for children call the Niles Public Library District, 6960 Oakton St., at 967-8554, 30.

and the planned relocation of Quigley North, has already affected many Niles College students who are graduates of those schools. He said, "There's a lot of pain; our focus is to help people deal with that."

Currently 130 students attend the College on the sprawling campus where school buildings formerly housed the St. Hedwig Industrial school and orphanage. When absorbed into the Archdiocesan seminary system 30 years ago, the school served first as a junior college division of St. Mary of the Lake seminary in Mundelein, Ill., then evolved into a four year college affiliated with Loyola University. Seminary students are required to reside at the College; academic components of their studies are tied to Loyola University, but spiritual direction and development is offered at the Niles location.

A blunt object was used to break a passenger window in an '85 Chevrolet van parked in the lot in the 5700 block of Dempster St., Morton Grove the morning of Jan. 25. The van driver, a Highland Park man, told police a thief took an in-dash AM/FM radio cassette player, attache case and assorted tools for a total loss of $950. The broken window was estimated at $150.

demographic study of future enrollment. Unofficial tallies prepared by the district's building and grounds department indicate a projected ten-year increase of 3,700 students from about 3,200 students currently. By 2009, that enrollment could be 4,500.

A consolidation of the two schools would take an estimated ten years to effect, the time needed to appraise the 32 acre Niles North property and build an addition to Niles West to accommodate students and administrators. District 219's central administration office is now housed at Niles East and will have to relocate June, 1992 due to the sale of that building to Oakton Community College.

The Niles North property has an estimated $20 million market value. Improvements and a 53 classroom addition to the Niles West building, on a 90-acre site, carry a pricetag of up to $10 million. Additional savings to the district might be realized in reduced administrative and special service staff salaries.

Criminal damage

A gas station vending machine on the premises of 5900 W. Touhy Ave. was reportedly vandalized Jan. 23 by persons unknown using a hard object. $200 damage was estimated.

$15,000 worth of damaged dock doors and brickwork was caused by an unknown truck visiting 7847 Caldwell. The delayed report of the Sept. 10 incident was filed Jan. 24.

Robbery

The strong arm robbery of a Chicago woman in Morton Grove about 5 o'clock the evening of Jan. 27 apparently set a pattern for a second robbery in Lincolnwood less than an hour later.

While walking from her car to a grocery store in the 6900 block of Dempster Street, the woman, 27, was shoved by a 19-21 year old man who grabbed her purse, ran to a waiting driver and car and fled. Two witnesses, a Chicago man and his son, pursued the get-away car, a '78-80 Oldsmobile Cutlass, but lost sight of it. Lincolnwood Police notified Morton Grove Police of a similar incident at 6:15 p.m.

In both instances, the thief's car license number checked out to a make and model car different from the actual one. The thief was about 5'3", with short brown hair; he wore light colored sweat pants and a fleecy-collared blue jeans jacket. The woman lost a designer purse worth $100, a snakeskin wallet worth $90 and $25 in currency.

The evening of Jan. 23, after a Glenview man, 73, exited his car in the lot in the 6400 block of Dempster St. Morton Grove, he turned to lock his car. Another man approached him from the rear and pushed an object he assumed was a gun into his back. The offender warned him not to turn around, then took the man's wallet and cash from his pockets and fled. The offender was described as about 5'8" and of medium build, although the victim never saw his face. The victim lost $40, identification and credit cards.

Auto burglaries

Someone broke the left rear opera window of a 1978 Olds Cutlass Jan. 23-24 and stole car stereo equipment, a leather jacket and a radar detector. The car was parked in an alley in the 8200 block of Oak Avenue, Niles. Total reported loss was $507 according to reports.

No force was used to break into a 1978 Buick Regal parked in the 8100 block of Chester Avenue Jan. 25. The vehicle's $400 stereo unit was reported missing.

A Chicago man parked his '83 Ford car in the 8700 block of Naragansett Ave., Morton Grove the afternoon of Jan. 24 and returned late at night to find it gone. He later found his lost car parked in front of a Lincoln Avenue bar, but his wallet, containing his license and credit cards, was missing from the glove compartment.

Northbrook theatre sets auditions

The Northbrook Theatre will hold auditions for "Little Shop of Horrors," Feb. 6 and 7 at the Northbrook Park District's Leisure Center Auditorium, 3323 Walters. All auditions will begin at 7 p.m.

The show is a musical spoof of B-grade, science fiction films. Seymour, a poor florist's assistant, allows his craving for fame and fortune to seduce him into playing nursemaid to a man-eating plant from outer space. The show's music includes numerous parodies of favorites from the '60s.

The cast of the show includes four women (21 to 45 years-old); one man (50 to 60 years-old); and five men (21 to 45 years-old). Two of the latter five men manipulate and act as the voice of the Audrey II puppet.

All who audition for the show must participate in acting, singing and dancing auditions. For the singing audition, a prepared song and sheet must be supported by musical accompaniment. Readings will be drawn from the script.

A $25 resident/$30 non-

Ice sculptures decorate restaurant

Allgauer's Hotel & Fireside Restaurant in Northbrook has created a unique landscaping feature for winter...ice sculptures.

"When our customers look out any window in the Fireside Restaurant and VIP dining area, they'll see some of the most intricate and artistic ice sculptures found in the entire Chicago area," says Joy Weathers, general manager of the landmark hotel and restaurant.

The ice sculptures have been a tradition at Allgauer's for the past eight years. As the carvings melt, the sculptor, Rogelio "Tattoo" Gutierrez, replaces them with fresh sculptures, and will create anywhere from 30 to 60 different ice sculptures in one winter season for Allgauer's.

The highlight of the holiday season this year was Santa's sleigh, an enormous sculpture that included Santa Claus, a sackful of gifts, and all eight reindeer, each with red garlands around their neck.

Currently on display are sculptures celebrating the New Year, highlighted with "1990" carved out of large blocks of ice.

Gutierrez is currently sketching ideas for Valentine's Day, with plans to dot the landscape with numerous hearts of various sizes.

Allgauer's Hotel and Fireside Restaurant has presented fine dining and award-winning cuisine for the past 50 years, and is located on Milwaukee Avenue in Northbrook.

The ice sculpture exhibits will be on display through March, or for as long as the cold weather lasts.

For dining reservations or more information, call (708) 480-7500.

for busing all the five year olds to Melzer, at 9400 N. Oriole Morton Grove beginning this fall. The plan was first presented by Supt. Eldon L. Gleichman at the Jan. 23 board meeting.

According to Viola Nelson PTA President Mary Senkowski, most of the fifty or so Dist. 63 parents and kindergarten teachers who attended Monday night's open meeting opposed the plan. Two spoke in favor. "It got real emotional," Senkowski said, saying the plan detractors, some of whom were tearful, felt it would traumatize the little ones to not attend the same school as their older brothers and sisters.

Senkowski professed surprise at the opposition because preliminary reaction to the plan from Nelson parents was positive. "In a kindergarten center) is the least disruptive solution to our problems," she said. Dissenters complain it is a "bandaid solution" to handling student overpopulation.

Stetina explained that reductions in the pupil-to-teacher ratio and trend toward specialization which have occurred since the schools were built in the late 1950's and early 1960's has contributed to the current situation. "There's a need for expertise (in art, music and library science) in order to have better opportunities for children," the administrator asserted.

When the schools were first built they housed 30 children in a classroom which was also used for art, music and library. In addition, there was accommodation district-wide for five special education classrooms for 7,000 students.

The pupil to teacher ratio ideal is now considered to be 25 to one and some classrooms have long since been converted for art, music and library space. Gemini Jr. High alone has 5 special education classrooms and each of the elementary schools has special ed rooms as well.

population trends show that the current glut of students is in the fourth and fifth grade levels. Admitting to the temporary aspects of the plan, the administration counters that a kindergarten consolidation would involve "minimal expenditures to the education fund, no disruptions of current school boundaries and no reduction of current school programming within our elementary buildings."

Presumably, "provided there is no change in the trend of pupil population within the district, it could be feasible for the school district to return to its normal educational scheduling... (in two years or so) according to Gleichman. Transferring out kindergartners would free up at least one classroom each at Nelson in Niles and Morton Grove, Adlai Stevenson and Mark Twain Schools in Des Plaines and Washington School in Glenview.

Stetina noted the preponderance of empty-nesters south of Dempster and expressed the viewpoint "unless there was a major change" in the low housing turnover in that area, student population is predicted to stabilize at about 300 students per grade level, district-wide.

The arrest of Sargon D. Isaac, of 9821 N. Keystone Ave., culminated a months-long investigation which including Niles investigators posing as customers in order to gather evidence. The FBI was alerted and an agent from the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), a consortium of 9 film studios, lent his expertise to verify the fraud.

"The police took the bull by the horn... and got rid of the piracy right there and then," said MPAA agent William Herman, a former FBI man himself. Herman commended Niles detective Richard Leddy and other investigators for demonstrating that a "violation of the law is a violation of the law... and it means something."

According to Sgt. Dean Strzelecki, Isaac allegedly rented movies from Phar-Mor for 69 cents, made copies, removed labels from the originals, placed the labels on the copies and returned the copies to Phar-Mor. The originals then were retained in Isaac's inventory.

"We believe he's done this to other stores," Strzelecki added. According to William Herman, MPAA field representative, Isaac was a listed customer of Sound Warehouse in Niles since

Catholic schools... Parents' views

One of the activities for Catholic Schools Week was to have our parents write a letter why they chose to send their children to a Catholic School. Some excerpts from the letters.....

"The Sisters and teachers at St. John Brebeuf really care for our children, it's not just their 'job'. They bring a 'gentleness' to our children along with the learning."

"Another important thing our children experience at St. John Brebeuf, is that they have friends and peers who share their Christian lifestyle and beliefs."

"We've chosen to send our son to St. John Brebeuf because of the strong sense of community."

"We also feel that children in Catholic Schools 'Celebrate Jesus' not only in church but also in the classroom."

"Catholic schools offer a good education based on a philosophy for living!"

"When parents choose a Catholic school, they are serious about ing of a payroll period and facilitate that bookkeeping.

Of the 136 patients at the Sherwood, 96 developmentally disabled were transferred to the Saratoga of Evanston. The remaining 40 were expected to move to Woodbury.

Burton Behr, a principal in G.W. Burton, Inc. indicated re-decorating of the Woodbury, Saratoga and the Albany would begin soon. The status of the Sherwood would have to be evaluated, he noted, to determine whether that facility would continue as an intermediate care facility, retirement home or an assisted living community. The building will be under 24 hour security until its future is decided.

The four nursing homes had been operated under several receiverships, but their financial problems eased when the Missouri bank bought the properties from a trust headed by a New York resident. A report in the Chicago Tribune names a Ben Weinschneider, 25, as a minor partner in the new operating firm. Weinschneider's father, Sidney, was a partner in a firm fined in 1988 for running an Illinois nursing home with safety transgresat least November of 1989. The manager for that firm indicated they had no way of determining what tapes Isaac rented from the store. The manager said Sound Warehouse customers have not complained of poor quality tapes.

Complaints from Phar-Mor customers alerted loss-prevention personnel that the suspect was violating federal copyright laws. "I examined the tapes and they appear to be illegally duplicated," Herman said. While the law calls for fines of up to $250,000, the MPAA agent noted the FBI probably has "bigger fish" than Isaac to go after. The loss to Phar-Mor represented approximately $15,000 but Herman indicated the Dept. of Justice typically does not get involved unless the violations involve a half million dollars or more.

Herman speculated that Isaac would probably "not do any jail time either," noting that he is a first time offender. The suspect was held on a $20,000 bond and will appear in court Jan. 31. Phar-Mor and MPAA have the option of pursuing civil remedies, whether or not he is convicted of the charges. "We're standing by," Herman said.
