by Nancy Keraminas

Niles village officials have given a preliminary nod to the idea of a drop off area for recyclables, according to Village

Manager Abe Selman. The recycling center would likely be located at the north end of Civic Center Plaza.

The village expects to make an announcement before Earth Day, April 22. The observance Continued on Page 35

Affiliated Banc Group purchases Skokie Federal for undisclosed sum

M.G. bank buys Skokie Federal

Affiliated Banc Group, a Morton Grove corporation, is the successful bidder for Skokie Federal Savings and Loan, a thrift which was taken over by the federal government last March.

ABG Board Chairman Marvin Neland deferred comment until an official announcement was made by Resolution Trust Corp., who initiated the auction of the troubled thrift. That announcement had not occurred by press deadlines. Affiliated, which is owned by Detroit-based Manufacturers National Corp., attempted to buy Skokie Federal last year, intending to convert it into a bank. Before bailout legislation was passed, bank conversion was not legally sanctioned and the deal was not made.

ABG, who purchased Skokie Federal for an undisclosed sum, will not be taking over the S & L's shaky loans, however. The thrift had an estimated worth of $900 million but several interested purchasers complained that the federal government had sold off the most liquid assets. The government will likely inherit the troubled assets as well, since ABG bid on the "clean bank".

Another interested bidder, World Savings, was widely reported as being the successful bidder for Skokie Federal but the company had asked for concessions from the government which were refused.

What's your zap code?

One of the little injustices which we endure in our areas is the inequity in car insurance rates.

Most suburbanites live in the 600 zip code areas. Des Plaines, Morton Grove, Park Ridge and Skokie residents all have zip codes beginning with the 600 number. Lincolnwoodians and Nilesites have 606 zip codes. The 600 guys pay less for their car insurance than the 606 guys.

Lincolnwood and Niles both have Chicago postal substations. Since insurance rates are based on the driving habits of residents within a postal zone area, the gals and guys from Lincolnwood and Niles are under the same rate structure as Chicago residents.

We don't believe we're reaching too far when we contend this insurance abuse should have us revise our calling our mailing code our ZAP code.

This would seem to be a good time to rectify this problem by seeking help from the people seeking our votes in the upcoming elections. The insurance inequity has existed for years. And the same people who have been in political office during these years are now seeking our vote in April. If they choose to represent us they should correct what seems an obvious flaw in insurance.

Park pushes pool repair for summer opening

by Nancy Keraminas

The Niles Park District announced it expects to reopen its Rec Center pool for summer operations. The 27 year old pool was closed two weeks early last summer due to a "severe leak in the pool water feed lines."

Hailing its own cost saving measures to save the pool, the park district anticipates a renovation, which Director Tom Lippert says is the primary alternative under discussion, will prolong the life of the pool for no less than five years and conceivably longer", according to a park district press release.

Lippert viewed other alternatives, such as new piping or a new tank to replace the metal-fatigued existing one, as less probable measures. According to the release, "the project is being engineered to best accommodate the installation of an entirely new recirculating system, which must meet the Illinois Department of Public Health requirements."

Niles radio operator brings medical help to Pacific Island

by Nancy Keraminas

David Miller has a lot of friends in faraway places. In what he describes as a "lucky coincidence," the Niles amateur radio buff "met" one of the descendants of the mutinous Bounty crew five years ago and has been "visiting" remote, volcanic Pitcairn Island in the south Pacific each week ever since.

Miller told Chicago's Resurrection Hospital about the 50 Pitcairn residents and the hospital is now looking for a "godfather" to sponsor a medical mission to the tiny mountainous paradise, which lays 1,500 miles from Tahiti, nearly 3,500 miles from South America. "They (Resurrection) were very eager to help," Miller says.

The hospital emergency room has already assisted Pitcairn's small dispensary during a fever outbreak in the South Pacific. With Miller's help, emergency department director Dr. David Meyer was put on a radio-satellite linkup with Pitcairn to avoid an epidemic.

Resurrection's Warren Nelson estimates it will cost $30,000 to send a radio-capable fax machine and a five-member delegation to Pitcairn, to send up-to-date medical information quickly to the New Zealand-administered island in the event of an emergency. "We've tried to maintain this relationship without coming on like we're the big smart Americans," Nelson said, noting that the people are extremely self-sufficient, despite their isolation. The nearest hospital is a day and a half trip.

"Hams" like David Miller are Pitcairn's only audio connection to the outside world. Four times a year, residents jump into long boats to greet supply ships anchored in Bounty Bay (where the mutineers burned and scuttled their ship in 20 feet of water) and unload mail and meat to supplement their fish diets. Wild goats, descended from those on the Bounty, supply the rest of Pitcairn's protein needs.

Most of the islanders trace their lineage to 24 year old Bounty First Mate Fletcher Christian, his infant son "Thursday October", nine shipmates, and the 18 native Tahitian men and women they brought to the island 200 years ago.

Modern Pitcairnites are devout 7th Day Adventists. According to Miller, they speak in both 18th Century English and Pitcairnese, a Tahitian dialect. A principle source of income is from handicrafts, postal stamps,

David Miller's Pitcairn Island friends have sent him postal stamps, paintings and carvings of miro wood, from a tree native to that region. Miller holds a nail salvaged from the Bounty. The miro bird on the wall was carved by Brian Young, a sixth generation descendant of Fletcher Christian's first mate.

fresh bananas, citrus and other native tropical fruit sold to travelers from passing cruise ships. Exposed to few outside viruses, the islanders have built up limited immunity and are easy prey to the myriads of germs the tourists bring.

Miller has never visited Pitcairn, though Dennis Christian, a seventh generation relative of Fletcher, visited Niles in 1988. Kari Young, wife of island Magistrate Brian Young, another Bounty descendant, came to Niles in 1987 on her return from her native Norway, and paid a call on Resurrection Hospital as well.

Miller has traveled to another bastion for Bountyites, however.

David Miller makes friends from all over the world from his basement radio center. The Niles "ham" operator says amateur radio is an ideal hobby for retirees and the disabled as well as for anyone who likes people. Through Miller's interest, Pitcairn Island descendants of the mutinous Bounty crew were able to contact Resurrection Hospital during a fever outbreak in the South Pacific.

folk now claims more Bounty descendants than Pitcairn. Miller visited there in 1988 and says there is a waiting list to move to that paradise.

"When you're a ham, you learn a lot about geography," Miller says. His radio has brought him another "good friend" - Andy, a Muscovite who was part of the recent joint U.S.-Soviet expedition to the North Pole.

"You can travel around the world, even if you can't make it down the block," the retired NBC engineer marvels. While some amateur radio clubs are looking for ways to get young people interested in the avocation, Miller says the biggest potential for new aficionados is with the over 30 set or with the disabled.

"It's a great hobby if you're retired or handicapped," according to Miller, who adds that hams don't care if a person is blind or disabled. "If you have a mind and can talk, it doesn't make any difference if there are other problems. There's handicapped people I talk to regularly but I forget they're in a wheelchair or whatever."

While novice radio operators have to be licensed, Miller says the Morse code and theory mastery necessary for certification are easy. Miller has been licensed since he was 18 but had been interested since childhood. There are a number of amateur radio clubs in northwest Chicago, including a Des Plaines Club, which offer instruction. Information about amateur radio can be obtained by contacting the American Crosslink Repeater Association at (708) 795-0380.

More women are getting involved as well, according to Miller. His wife got her license in "self-defense," he laughs, but women are discovering they enjoy the on-air camaraderie as well.

Start-up costs for a local-range ham system are about $500 for new equipment, according to Miller, but he says that most buffs trade and sell equipment through their clubs and spend far less than the estimated $1,500 for a new long-range system capable of reaching Pitcairn. "Hams are great scroungers."

Asked for other ham personal qualities Miller offers a description similar to that given for Pitcairn Islanders: "We're self-sufficient. We're more interested in doing than watching. We're definitely not passive."

Oakton College fees increase

Oakton Community College (OCC) students face increased fees for the fall, 1990 semester. The fee boosts fall into three categories: the student activity fee will rise to $1.25 from $1 per credit hour; late registration fees will be upped from $10 to $25 per class and the fee for reinstatement into a class, following late payment, will also rise from $10 to $25 for the first class, but go up to $50 for each additional reinstatement. The student activity fee remains a cap of $14 per student.

The student-run Board of Student Affairs determined the need for the increased charges and the move was approved by the College Board of Trustees Jan. 16. Partly because of the increased, diverse enrollment at the school, a way was sought to more com-

Blase tries to stop Nortran bus shutdown

Man dies at MG Legion Hall

The night of Feb. 4, a Chicago man, Nicholas Nikolich, 71, collapsed while talking with friends in the American Legion Hall in the 6100 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove. Two men and two women witnessed the incident and one woman, 68, of Chicago, tried to resuscitate the man until Morton Grove paramedics arrived. The Fire department transported the man to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Armed robbery at MG motel

Two armed and masked men seized about $400 in cash from a Morton Grove motel the night of Feb. 2. The two male offenders, their faces disguised with black ski masks and wearing black gloves, surprised the motel cashier, a Skokie woman, 77, when they entered the lobby at 9:45 p.m. One man jumped behind the cashier's desk, quickly took a key from his hiding place and opened the cash drawer. His companion threw a green canvas tote bag to Niles' Mayor Nicholas Blase is spearheading a joint suburban effort to avert the potential shutdown of Nortran buses along 23 suburban routes. Nortran serves 19 million passengers a year and says it cannot operate without subsidies.

The board of directors of Nortran, which receives 60 percent of its funding from PACE, has refused to renew a more strictly worded purchase of service agreement with PACE.

The contract expired Dec. 31, 1989 and was temporarily extended to Feb. 7. PACE is the suburban bus division of the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA), which makes up the difference between Nortran's fare and its $14 million plus annual operating costs.

"This contract is totally unacceptable," Blase asserted. According to Blase, under the proposed new terms, Niles, Morton Grove, Skokie, Des Plaines, Lincolnwood, Park Ridge, Glenview and the 17 other communities who are represented on Nortran's board of directors would lose their individual board members.

Niles to shut off DiPaolo water

Friday, Feb. 9, the Village of Niles will shut off water entering the DiPaolo office building, 7400 Waukegan Rd. Twelve tenants currently occupy the site. Prior to January, the Village filed charges against the DiPaolo Construction company, charging them with having an illegal water connection at the site for the past 17 years, according to Niles Attorney Richard Troy. Niles Finance Director, Gary Karshna, gauged average consumption at 1,200,000 gallons per year and estimated the company owes the village $24,500, plus $10,000 in penalties and interest.

Troy said Angelo DiPaolo, owner of the construction firm, met with a committee composed of Village Manager Abe Selman, Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno, Karshna and Troy, but had no acceptable excuse for the illegal connection.

The water problem came to Village attention after building tenants complained of poor water pressure. Troy indicated a six inch water main in the front of the

Glenview Terrace residents actively start new year

The new decade has certainly kept the residents at the Glenview Terrace Nursing Center busy, thanks to their new activities director, Deborah Brownstein. The 16 year-old center, located at 1511 Greenwood Road, Glenview, is considered to be one of the finest skilled care nursing homes on the North Shore.

In addition to regular birthday celebrations, Glenview Terrace residents have already taken a trip to the Botanical Gardens in Glenview, this year. They have also gone to lunch at one of the North Shore's favorite local restaurants, Walker Brothers Original Pancake House in Glenview. The philosophy behind the activities and programs at Glenview Terrace is two-fold - to add to the residents' overall well-being and to provide pure enjoyment for them. In addition to planning and coordinating programs and activities, Brownstein supervises a staff that includes one full-time assistant director, two full-time and six part-time workers.

Brownstein has a masters degree in art therapy from the University of Illinois at Chicago, and work experience with adults and seniors in various residential and medical treatment settings. She said she is excited about the potential of her new role as activity director.

One of Glenview Terrace's on-going activities, continued from last year, is the popular and innovative "Adopt a Grandparent" program in conjunction with Glenbrook South High School's Key Club. For the holidays, Key Club members had their photos taken with their "adopted" grandparent, and the framed pictures were given to each Glenview Terrace resident as a gift.

Members of the community are encouraged to participate in activities with Glenview Terrace residents. Recently, for example, Jack Diamond, noted opera expert, came to the nursing facility to deliver a lecture on current opera trends. The discussion was so well received that plans have already been made for Diamond to return this week.

Brownstein said, "we have a full-fledged calendar of activities planned for 1990. There are so many cultural and entertainment opportunities in Chicagoland that we can bring to Glenview Terrace as well as experiences outside of the home that will enhance the residents' daily routine and build interest for them." Indeed, Brownstein said, "1990 looks to be a very active year for the residents at Glenview Terrace Nursing Center."

Botanic Garden seeks volunteer docents

The Chicago Botanic Garden's Education Department is looking for persons interested in becoming volunteer docents.

The docent program at the Botanic Garden provides individuals the opportunity to work with the nearly 14,000 school children who come to the Botanic Garden each year to participate in some of the more than 19 programs offered to Chicago area schools.

Docents volunteer one-half day a week. The Garden offers bi-monthly training sessions on Monday afternoons so docents can further develop teaching skills.

Teaching credentials are not required, but experience working with groups of children is important. School classes are divided into small groups to encourage discovery and exploration of plant collections.

For more information call Linda Doede or Peggy Stewart at (708) 835-5440.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is located on Lake-Cook Rd. in Glencoe, one-half mile east of the Edens Expressway. The 300-acre facility is owned by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County and managed by the Chicago Horticultural Society. For additional information, call (708) 835-5440.

Com Ed program answers questions

Did you know that the city of Chicago has served Common-wealth Edison with a legal notice that it intends to buy the Edison system at the end of this year? And whether you live in or outside Chicago a takeover could affect your electric supply?

Or that the Illinois Supreme Court has struck down an ICC decision that would have frozen electric rates in northern Illinois for four years?

Or that Edison recently unveiled a 20-year plan to meet customers' electricity needs at the lowest possible cost?

These developments, which all occurred within the span of a few recent weeks, could have a major impact on the cost or reliability of your electric service. The media have reported these stories, but how many people have had a chance to probe their full meaning? Besides, changes in the energy field seem to be occurring just as quickly as those in world affairs. It's often difficult to keep up.

This is where Edison's Neighborhood Dialogues come in. For more than a year now, Edison has been sending representatives to meet informally with groups of friends and neighbors at a community meeting place or a customer's home. The primary purpose of the Dialogues is to give customers an opportunity to make suggestions or voice concerns. Dialogues are not a platform for the company to "toot its own horn."

If you would like to get straight answers to straight questions about the many changes taking place that could affect your electricity service, please give Edison a call at 1-800-541-9691. Just say you want to attend a Neighborhood Dialogue, and you'll be notified of a time and location that's convenient for you.

Village Crossing center expands

Design work on the shopping center was started in early 1987. It is anticipated that all three phases will be completed by 1991, Stewart said.

When finished, the entire shopping center will include 807,670 square-feet of space, more than double the 400,000 square-feet needed to be generally recognized as a "super center."

General contractor for the Village Crossing is Osman Construction Corp. Other contractors include: steel - A.G. Carlson and Arlington Structural; electrical - Mohawk Electric Co. and Abbey Electric; heating/ventilation/air-conditioning - P.J. Puhl & Co.; sprinklers - Universal Fire Protection and K & S Automatic Plumbing and Robert F. Phillips Co.

The shopping center's architectural firm, Hastings & Chivetta Architects Inc., is located at One Pierce Place in Itasca, with additional offices in Detroit and St. Louis.

Village Crossing, planned to become the largest contemporary strip shopping center in the Chicago area, is one-third open, and growing, in Niles.

Adjoining the city limits of Chicago to the south, Village Crossing construction is now in the second of three phases, with the third phase in the planning stage, according to Timothy F. Stewart, vice president of Hastings & Chivetta Architects in Itasca.

"What we are building is a new stylish breed of shopping center," Stewart explained. Developers are Trammell Crow Co., a national firm with offices in Itasca, and Skokie-based Taxman Corp. headed by Sy Taxman.

When finished, all three phases of the shopping center will have parking for almost 4,000 vehicles. The two-story sheltered parking lot holding about 900 cars already has been completed immediately east of the Montgomery Ward building on a portion of the third phase property.

$2 million gift to North Central

A $2 million gift to the endowment of North Central College was announced recently by Gael D. Swing, president of the college, and John Case, chairman of North Central's board of trustees and president of Agrinetics, Inc., in Naperville.

The gift from an anonymous alumnus will be received by the college over the next five years and will support North Central's distinctive Leadership, Ethics and Values Program.

"This gift represents an extraordinary commitment to the faculty and students of North Central College," Case said. "Because the gift is to endowment and only its earnings will be spent, the support it provides will benefit North Central students for generations to come. It is an investment in the future leaders of our society."

The Leadership, Ethics and Values Program was established at North Central College in September 1989. It was developed in response to the growing public concern about a perceived erosion of traditional values in society and a lack of ethical leadership in both the public and private sectors.

1 + 3 1 2 = CHICAGO

1 + 7 0 8 = SUBURBS

Make sure you use your new math by

FEBRUARY 10.

It's the day you must dial 312 to reach Chicago from the suburbs.

For the last few months, we wanted to help you get used to 708, to try it on for size. But starting Saturday, February 10, the only way to call the suburbs from Chicago will be to dial 1 + 708 + the seven-digit number. To call Chicago from the suburbs, you'll dial 1 + 312 + the seven-digit number

Of course, there's no need to dial 1 + 708 or 1 + 312 when calling within either area code.

The new area code won't affect your telephone rates or seven-digit phone numbers. And calls between the city and suburbs will still be billed as local calls.

So remember your numbers: 708 (suburbs) and 312 (Chicago) on February 10. For new math, it's really pretty simple.

Auto burglar caught with goods

Two alert Niles police officers arrested a 17-year-old Mount Prospect man, after they determined he had been using a motel room to store stolen auto stereo equipment.

The Feb. 2 arrest of David Louis Oakley, of 1917 Yuma Lane, cleared at least three Niles auto burglaries, and one each in Des Plaines and Northbrook. The offenses are felonies.

Sgt. Dennis McEnerney and Marty Stanckowicz spotted Oakley as he entered a room at the Vegas Motel, 8990 N. Milwaukee Ave. The officers, who were investigating a recent wave of auto abandonments in the area, remembered he had an outstanding warrant and proceeded to arrest him.

Delayed report of Breakers burglary

An 85 year old resident of 8975 Golf Road reported nearly $8,000 in missing jewelry from her apartment in the retirement building. Missing items included a $5,000 wedding ring and other gold baubles. The burglary may have occurred between November 23 and Dec. 17 but was reported Jan. 30.

Oakley admitted police into the room, which also had three other occupants. The officers spotted the numerous auto stereos and radar detectors and questioned the four. At first all denied ownership but later one of the men admitted he knew the items to be stolen.

The man implicated Oakley who reportedly admitted to the five car burglaries. Oakley was charged with five counts of burglary and given a $90,000 bond. The three women, an 18-year-old Northlake woman and a 20-year-old Glenview man were charged with possession of stolen property. A Feb. 8 court hearing was scheduled.

A slimly built, six foot two inch man tricked a saleswoman and escaped with $1,899 pair of diamond earrings Jan. 29. The man posed as a customer and looked at several jewelry items before deciding to purchase $3,500 worth.

Telling the employee he lacked cash and needed to go to his car to get his credit card, the man left the jewelry in the store while he went outside. Fifteen minutes later, when he had not returned, the employee noticed a pair of real diamond earrings had been swapped for some fakes.

Strongarm robber nabs woman's purse

A 55-year-old victim was pushed to the sidewalk when an unknown robber grabbed her purse from behind as she walked home from work near Touhy Avenue and Waukegan Road, Feb. 2. The woman, who could not describe the perpetrator, suffered bruises in the encounter. She had less than $30 cash in the handbag.

Retail theft

A security agent for a clothing store in the 6800 block of Dempster St., Morton Grove watched Jan. 31 as a woman put on a designer jacket and then put on her coat over the jacket. The agent continued to observe as the woman put two pieces of jewelry into her purse. The woman paid for other items at the checkout desk, then left the store. Stopped outside the store and returned to the security office, the woman, 41, of Highland Park, said she "forgot to take off the jacket" and "forgot to take out the jewels." She was charged with retail theft of the merchandise, which was valued at $64.98.

During his walk-through, the man took a carton of cigarettes from a case and a few candy bars, then left the store without paying. The offender carried the merchandise, valued at $16, as he walked east on Beckwith Road.

A 36 year old Niles man will be appearing in court Feb. 28 on charges he deliberately damaged an auto belonging to a female friend of his ex-wife. The processor refused to stop work and told the other man to get out. The second man refused to leave, so the processor dragged him to the door, hitting his head with his arm as they went. At the door, the processor threw the man's brief case into the parking lot. Police intervened and both men were taken to the station. The attacker was charged with battery and released on $1000 bond; he has a court date Feb. 27. When the battered man complained of head pain, he was taken to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

The Des Plaines man, driving a 1988 Toyota, reportedly passed the exiting car first in the center lane and then switching lanes to cut directly in front of the Skokie car.

When the victim could not move forward without his path being blocked he made a hasty U-turn to head west, attracting the attention of a witness who observed the next series of events. The Toyota also made a U-turn, with the driver reportedly driving alongside, trying to force the other car off the road. The victim decided to drive to the Niles police station and got into the left turn lane at Harlem Avenue, stopping for a red light.

Barrett who scored the games first, third and final goal for a hat trick was joined by brother Mike Barrett who scored an unassisted second period tally. Joe Musso notched the games second goal when he and Ross Hamberger combined on a fine passing play.

Letters to the Editor

Nilesite questions sanitary conditions at Golf Mill theater

Dear Editor:

I am a lifetime Niles resident and an avid movie-goer. I have been to the Golf Mill Theaters billions of times. In fact it's one of the only places I go to see first run films. However, on my last visit to Golf Mill, the afternoon of Jan. 7, 1990, the bathroom, lounge area and concession stand of the theater looked like a city street after a ticker tape parade. I have noticed the last few times I've gone to Golf Mill that the theater is slowly becoming dirty, smelly and truly scrummy. I am also surprised that the Niles health inspectors have ignored this situation.

I think it's disgusting that a person who pays $6.50 to see a movie at Golf Mill has to use a restroom that smells like a sewer after a flood. I could understand a little mess after the last show of the day, but not in the middle of the afternoon when there are three shows that follow. It appeared to me that the place was just left from the night or maybe the week before. Not only that, but three of the toilets were so filthy that no one would dare enter the stalls. I recall hearing about the cleaning crew works daily, but usually after hours. At press time, attempts to reach the theater manager were unsuccessful.

Mill was the greatest and one of the cleanest theaters in the area. Is it to the point where I will have to drive to another community just to see a movie in a decent theater? I sure hope something is done soon. If discount priced theaters in the area, like Morton Grove or Pickwick, can charge $1 to $1.50 per movie and keep their restrooms and entrance clean, what's keeping Golf Mill from doing the same?

Sincerely,
Barbara J. Nuccio
Niles, IL

Angered at light sentence

Dear Editor:

I am incensed at the sentence handed down in the recent trial involving Myron Iverson and the death of Morton Grove Police Officer Shalin. For Mr. Iverson to receive a $1,000 fine, 30 months probation and 1500 hours of community service places a small value on the human life he took. He chose to drive with a blood alcohol level measured at twice the legal limit yet retains his driving privileges.

Public awareness of the dangers of drunk driving has never been higher. New laws and stiffer penalties have been overwhelmingly supported by the public. Alcohol consumption is declining. In Morton Grove schools we show students, as early as the third grade, movies about the effects of drinking and driving. Everyone seems to be getting the message except our JUDGES. Judge Thompson-Tobin's rationale that a clear prior record justifies this sentence, sends out the wrong message. In death there is NO SECOND CHANCE. Just ask the family of Officer Shalin.

You can be assured I've mailed my contribution to AAIM (Alliance Against Intoxicated Motorists) in Officer Shalin's memory. I urge other Morton Grove residents to do the same.

Sincerely,
Brigitte and Joel Goldberg

Assessor says thanks

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank those residents who filed complaints through my office regarding property reassessments for their patience and perseverance.

We knew this would be a very hectic period and many people would be filing complaints against the increased assessments. In anticipation of this, we trained additional part-time staff and volunteers to assist in filing your complaints. Unfortunately, it was impossible to anticipate that nearly 8,000 residents would come to our office within a four-week period for help in filing complaints with the Cook County Assessor.

I would like to apologize to those property owners who waited for extended periods of time and thank them for their patience and understanding. I also wish to thank my staff and volunteers for the long hours they spent, under pressure, to help Maine Township residents file quality complaints.

Those who filed complaints against the Cook County Assessor's determination of value and are not satisfied with his determination or those who missed the January 30 deadline will have an opportunity to file a second complaint with the Cook County Board of Tax Appeals. In the past, Commissioners Wilson Frost and Joseph Berrios of the Board of Appeals have been very receptive and fair in hearing and determining complaints from Maine Township property owners. The necessary forms should be available in my office on or about March 1. You may contact us at 297-2510 for information about obtaining these forms or with any other questions.

Dear Editor:

Niles Flash Cab to her home in Niles and she needs special attention and care. The dispatcher and individual drivers of the company all work very hard to meet her needs. Her family and we at Great Opportunities are very grateful.

Sincerely,

Business News

New phone services to help local businesses

Chicago area businesses soon will join thousands of residents in using new telephone services to get past busy signals, announce special calls, return missed calls and help block unwanted fax messages.

Starting Feb. 1, businesses on Chicago's South Side began using the Ameritech Advanced Custom Calling Services that residents in the area have been using since September. The services—Call Screening, Repeat Dialing, Automatic Callback and Distinctive Ringing—will be available throughout most of Chicago by the end of the year, and throughout much of the metropolitan area by the end of 1991.

"Our Advanced Custom Calling Services have been very popular with South Side residents," said Illinois Bell Marketing Manager Keith Molof. "They offer new applications to businesses, too, such as confirming phone numbers on delivery orders, and getting past time-wasting busy signals on calls to busy suppliers."

"And none of the services require any equipment other than a phone," Molof said. Ameritech Repeat Dialing keeps calling a busy number for 30 minutes or until the call goes through. It works without tying up the phone, so customers can make and receive other calls in the meantime.

Ameritech Distinctive Ringing causes the phone to ring differently when a special client—or the boss—is calling. The distinctive ring can "announce" calls from up to ten different phone numbers.

Ameritech Automatic Callback is used to call back the last incoming call, whether it was answered or not. Restaurants, for example, could use the service to verify phone numbers given for delivery orders.

Ameritech Call Screening lets customers block calls from certain telephone numbers, and could be used to prevent interruptions from overtalkative callers, or to minimize "junk" mail on fax machines.

The services are available to most Chicago businesses in an area bounded roughly by 35th Street to the north, Lake Michigan to the east, 134th Street to the south, and Pulaski or Halsted to the west.

At first the services will work only for calls within that area. By the end of next year they will work for calls throughout most of Chicago and in some suburbs, and by the end of 1991 for calls throughout much of the metropolitan area. They work on most basic business lines.

The new services are priced similarly to existing custom calling services—Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Speed Calling, and Three-Way Calling, which cost $2.50 per month each. Automatic Callback and Repeat Dialing each cost $3.50 per line per month, while Distinctive Ringing and Call Screening each cost $5.50. Customers who order three or more of the eight custom calling services receive discounts.

Also, Illinois Bell is waiving the regular $15 installation charge for custom calling services between Feb. 1 and March 2. Customers can call 1-800-678-9868 to learn about advanced custom calling services, and 1-800-428-2111 to order custom calling services.

While other financial institutions are showing signs of phasing out passbook savings accounts, the popular form of savings is still encouraged at the First National Bank of Morton Grove.

"Many of our customers, old and new, continue to indicate a strong preference for passbook savings," said bank president, Charles R. Langfeld. "We're sensitive to their needs and desires and are pleased to offer this product."

Langfeld's remarks are in response to the decision by some of Chicago's largest savings and loans and banks to discourage these passbook accounts by lowering interest rates.

Two major institutions recently dropped passbook rates from 5.5 to 5 percent. Another lowered its rates to 5 percent on accounts of less than $25,000, and pays no interest on balances under $250.

First National of Morton Grove pays 5.5 percent on passbook savings, with no limitations on balances for minor and senior citizen accounts.

In addition to passbook savings, the bank offers a complete selection of other savings and checking accounts and certificates of deposit.

First National of Morton Grove, with total assets of $186 million, is a subsidiary of Mid-City National Bank, Bank of Elmhurst and Union Bank & Trust Co. of Oklahoma City.

Avondale has also exceeded requirements adopted to conform with the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 which mandate that each thrift institution hold capital at least sufficient to meet requirements of tangible, core and risk-based capital.

Founded in 1911, Avondale has six branches in Chicago, Niles and Lake Forest with assets of $533 million.

The Service Division of the Des Plaines Chamber of Commerce & Industry will hold its monthly breakfast meeting Wednesday, Feb. 14, 1990 at the Destiny Restaurant, 1440 Rand Rd., in Des Plaines. Registration and networking begin at 7:30 a.m., breakfast and program at 8 a.m.

"TAXATION IN THE 1990's: or What You Don't Know Can Hurt You" will be the topic at the meeting.

Reservations are required. Cost of the meeting is $10 for Chamber members, and $15 for non-members. For more information or to make your reservations, contact the Des Plaines Chamber of Commerce & Industry at 824-4200.

GreatAmerican Federal Savings names director

Robert Hansen

GreatAmerican Federal Savings in Oak Park today announced the appointment of Robert Hansen to the Association's Board of Directors.

Hansen was president of Central Plains Insurance, a wholly owned subsidiary of GreatAmerican Federal, for 13 years and had worked at the Oak Park agency since 1957. He is replacing retiring board member Charles Gates.

John L. Domeier, Chairman of GreatAmerican Federal Savings, is pleased with the addition to the Association's governing body. "Bob has been in the insurance industry for more than 40 years and has served Central Plains in an exemplary manner. He is a respected member of the community and I know he will continue to demonstrate his dedication to excellence as a member of GreatAmerican's Board."

Hansen is a member of the Illinois Insurance Advisory Committee and served as president of the state's Savings and Loan Insurance Committee. He and his wife, Delores, have four children and live in Aurora, IL.

Passbook accounts available at First National of MG

While other financial institutions are showing signs of phasing out passbook savings accounts, the popular form of savings is still encouraged at the First National Bank of Morton Grove.

Avondale Federal reports record earnings

Avondale Federal Savings Bank is reporting record earnings for 1989 and full compliance with the Office of Thrift Supervision's new regulations governing the minimum capital standards.

Net income for the year was up 26% to $3.3 million from 1988's year end earnings of $2.6 million. The sharp increase in earnings is attributed to Avondale's ongoing commitment to be a fiscally sound, community-oriented institution. Chairman Irving V. Bberski said the increase is "outstanding" and that Avondale will remain fiscally strong in 1990 and beyond.

Avondale has also exceeded requirements adopted to conform with the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 which mandate that each thrift institution hold capital at least sufficient to meet requirements of tangible, core and risk-based capital.

Founded in 1911, Avondale has six branches in Chicago, Niles and Lake Forest with assets of $533 million.

Bill would aid property appeals

Cook County real estate taxpayers would gain significant new appeal rights under a bill introduced today by State Representatives Bernard E. Pedersen (R-Palatin) and Penny Pullen (R-Park Ridge).

The bill would, for the first time, allow aggrieved property taxpayers to appeal to the State Property Tax Appeal Board (SPTAB), a right long enjoyed by property taxpayers in all 101 downstate counties.

Taxpayers in Cook County would be eligible for assessment reductions by the SPTAB under the bill if passed.

Currently, it is estimated that at least 50 percent of downstate homeowners who appeal to the SPTAB win reductions under current Board practices.

"We Cook County taxpayers suffer inequities in our assessments anyway," Rep. Pedersen said, "and, to add insult to injury, we are currently discriminated against in the appeal process. It's past time for fair real estate as-essment practices in Cook County; fairness in appeal rights could be the lever we need for fairness in assessment."

"Why should Cook County taxpayers have to settle for appeals only at the county level," Rep. Pullen said, "when all other taxpayers can take their grievances to Springfield. After all, we pay state taxes too."

Starting with the current assessment year (1989), taxpayers could appeal to the SPTAB if displeased by the assessment made by the Cook County Assessor and an appeal decision made by the Cook County Board of (Tax) Appeals.

Taxpayers would get an automatic assessment reduction if they could prove they were assessed at a higher than average percentage of "fair market value," compared to the township, quadrant, or county for other residential property. "Fair market value" means what a homeowner could have sold his residence for on Jan. 1, 1989.

Traffic signals prevent injuries

Motorists who change lanes quickly and turn without signaling risk causing an accident. Before changing lanes or turning, use your turn signal and glance over your shoulder to make sure no one is in your blind spot (the area behind you that cannot be seen in your side and rearview mirrors).

If you are driving in the left or center lane and need to make a right turn, look for traffic behind you and on your right. Use your turn signal and move carefully into the right-hand lane. Signal for the turn at least 100 feet (about six car lengths) before making the turn.

When you turn right, do not make a wide swing into another lane of traffic. A right turn must be completed into the right-hand lane of the street you are entering. The only exception to this rule is for trucks and buses that must make a wider turn. Car drivers should be aware that truck and bus drivers can use the left-hand lane to turn right.

Before making a left turn, follow the same traffic safety procedures used in making a right turn. The left turn lane must be used if one is provided. An adjoining posted sign or arrows. A left turn may be completed into any lane that is lawfully open to you.

Once a turn is completed in either direction, use your turn signals before changing lanes.

Neil F. Hartigan, Attorney General of Illinois and a Democratic candidate for Governor, has had a most active life of the past six months.

From the beginning, with the announcement for Governor around the end of July, Attorney General Hartigan and his campaign have articulated a single, focused message...

Accountability in education and government, that voters all across Illinois are beginning to listen and respond to.

At the same time, he has maintained his commitment to the people of Illinois as Attorney General, and has tackled several major cases some thought difficult, and he's won.

Most importantly, Hartigan has succeeded in defining the clear difference between himself and his opponent and he has done it through one basic issue - The Temporary Income Tax For Education.

Like his opponent, Neil Hartigan supported the one time increase for education because he believes that education needed a shot in the arm after years of neglect.

Neil F. Hartigan

But, given the $8 billion the taxpayers of Illinois now spend on education, Hartigan believes it's time education is accountable for the money it spends.

That's why he has made clear that unless and until the performance of education improves statewide, he will not support continuation of the income tax increase.

Just last week the AFL CIO endorsed Neil F. Hartigan for Governor.

Dudycz files petitions for 11th Dist. Congressman

Capparelli passes senior citizen circuit breaker increases

After a long struggle in the Illinois General Assembly, State Representative Ralph Capparelli, (D-Chicago) has passed property tax relief assisting senior citizen homeowners on fixed incomes. Capparelli, the House sponsor of the legislation, was joined by Senator Ted Lechowicz to charter the legislation through the General Assembly and to the Governor's desk.

Capparelli said the expansion of the Senior Citizen Circuit Breaker Program increases minimum income levels from $14,000 to $18,000 and assists nearly 46,000 households with increasingly high property tax bills.

"Elderly citizens who have worked for years to purchase and maintain their homes are in danger of losing what they have," Capparelli said. "This legislation is aimed at targeting this dilemma facing these seniors."

Niles Township GOP endorses Marcus

The Niles Township Regular Republican Organization Tuesday, Jan. 23, unanimously endorsed incumbent Shel Marcus for Committee member in the March 20th primary.

Marcus, owner of a local marketing/advertising firm and president of the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to the committee member's post last June when former Committee member Pat Handzel retired.

Marcus' endorsement came at NTRRO's first meeting in its new headquarters at 9006 Waukegan Rd., Morton Grove. At the same meeting, candidates for state legislative offices presented their views.

The organization also endorsed John Lartz, a Skokie attorney and member of the District 219 high school board for 56th District State Representative; Peggy Agnos, a Skokie resident, Past President and former member of the District 69 school board, for 1st District State Representative; and Joseph Metuschka, a Chicago building contractor for 13th District State Representative.

Pullen calls for third airport

Rep. Penny Pullen (R-55) recently renewed her call for siting of a third major airport.

"O'Hare flights exceeded 800,000 in 1988," Rep. Pullen said. "That number of flights just won't accommodate the demand for commercial air travel by the year 2000."

"The need for aviation facility expansion is undebatable," Pullen said. "The question is, 'where?' O'Hare simply cannot be the answer to that question."

Pullen is a candidate for reelection in the 55th state representative district.

"Chicago's fear of a third airport - and threat that O'Hare would be scrapped and its neighboring communities damaged economically - just does not hold water," Rep. Pullen said. "O'Hare is a far more viable asset than Midway but has not put Midway under."

"Any consideration of expanded operations must take into account the airspace over the airport and its approaches, not just the ground facilities, and O'Hare is approaching airspace saturation at peak hours," Pullen said.

"Officials of Chicago, which owns and operates O'Hare, are being shortsighted and foolish in their refusal to allow siting of a third airport. O'Hare itself needs relief, not just its neighbors!"

Rep. Pullen endorsed the "land banking" proposal put forth by representatives of the Suburban O'Hare Commission. The plan calls for appropriate site designation and land acquisition by the state or some other entity for construction of an airport and a commercial/industrial collar circling the airport.

"Incorporating a commercial/industrial collar as a noise buffer for the airport could even make feasible a private financing arrangement instead of having to back the project with state funds or airline investment," she said.

Suburbanites should have new '708' Calling Cards

One million Illinois Bell customers in the 708 area code should have received the new America's Calling Card (TM) in the mail by now.

Customers use the calling cards to automatically charge local and long distance calls to their home or business phone numbers. The cards, available free from Illinois Bell, can be used instead of coins at any of the 79,000 Illinois Bell public phones statewide.

New cards were mailed recently to 1,075,239 America's Calling Card customers in the 708 area, according to Illinois Bell's Penny Lacy.

The new cards reflect the change in area code for Chicago suburbs formerly in the 312 area code. On Nov. 11, suburban customers in the 312 area code received the new 708 code, although their seven-digit phone numbers did not change.

Most customers with the America's Calling Card are not fully aware of the card's features, Lacy said. A caller can charge more than one call to the card, for example, by entering the pound (#) sign between calls. Also, when calling the phone number listed on the card, the caller only needs to enter the last four digits on the card.

One number calling cards, good only for calls to one particular phone number, are also available, Lacy said. "Lots of parents give one number cards to their children, so the kids can call home even when they're out of change," Lacy said.

Suburban customers who have not received their new calling cards should call their service representative on the number listed on their Illinois Bell bill, Lacy said.

Although the 708 area code took effect Nov. 11, a three-month grace period has allowed people to call between Chicago and the suburbs without dialing the proper area code. Beginning Feb. 10, however, Chicagoans calling the suburbs will have to dial 1 + 708 + the seven-digit number, while calls from the suburbs to Chicago will require dialing 1 + 312 + the seven-digit number. The price of calls between the two area codes has not changed.

Men turning 26 no longer eligible for draft

Young men who will turn 26 in 1990 will be reaching an important milestone, according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1990, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1982 will be turning 26 and will no longer be eligible for induction should a draft be reinstated. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Selective Service Illinois State Director, Richard E. Northem, warned that with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain benefits, such as federal student aid, job training and most federal employment in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon.

Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state supported colleges and universities, state employment and permission to practice law.

Illinois is one of those states. Illinois' legislation, passed in January 1984 requires Selective Service registration for student aid and became effective the same year. Illinois' legislation passed in 1989 requires Selective Service registration for state employment and becomes effective Jan. 1, 1990.

Northem points out that men age 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison or both.

Over 14 million men, age 18 through 25 are currently registered with Selective Service. Of those, 696,553 are from Illinois.

IRS offers new automated assistance program

Bilingual tax help is just a phone call away for single individuals filing Form 1040EZ, thanks to a new automated system, unique to the Chicago District, now available to Northern Illinois taxpayers.

The automated system, available 24-hours a day, seven-days a week, can handle 16 individual calls in Spanish or English at one time. Taxpayers wanting assistance can reach the system by dialing 353-1040 from Chicago. Outside the city, the number to call is 1 (312) 353-1040. In addition to helping you complete a Form 1040EZ, the system will also figure your earned income credit, or credit for the elderly, if you are eligible.

The system will ask you a few questions, and, depending on your answers, can help you complete an entire tax form. It also makes things easier for you by eliminating mathematical calculations required, since it is automatically programmed to do them for you.

You can remain completely anonymous while calling the system. It never asks for names or social security numbers. It will, however, ask for information it needs, such as the amount of wages you earned when you are completing Form 1040EZ.

Because the program has only 16 lines for this tax filing season, the IRS suggests that you call during the early morning hours late evening hours, or weekends.

had the couple been heterosexual.

In addition, the raise in overall fees is seen as a means of equalizing costs for all students, both full and part time, and not placing the burden on full time students who have less time to participate in school activities.

Activity fees support, among other projects, 37 clubs and intramural sports. Enrollment at OCC, including both the Des Plaines and Skokie campuses, is over 10,000, with most of the students in Des Plaines. Students there generally stay on campus during lunch periods because of time limitations.

Lunchtime entertainments featuring musicians and magicians were previously held twice a semester. Other ongoing programs supported by the activities fee include Friday Comedy Night, contemporary concerts, movies and distinguished speakers. Among speakers scheduled this year are psyche Irene Hughes and former United States Attorney General Ramsey Clark. Most events are held on the Des Plaines campus.

identity," Blase said, fearing a bureaucratic snarl under a revamped board of directors. The Niles mayor emphasized that the village's free bus system, which is subsidized at 50 percent by PACE, is not threatened.

Blase called a Feb. 6 meeting of 26 mayors to draft a stern protest to PACE and discuss a possible legislative fight for separate funding of Nortran service.

PACE says Nortran is being treated the same as Metra and the CTA and the new contract merely formalizes the current arrangement. PACE spokesperson Ann Murphy says there is nothing in the new agreement which eliminates suburban representation on the Nortran board and attributes local fears to problems in communication.

"All carriers are going to have to live within a budget just like everybody else," Murphy says. "We can't continue to fund expenses without any budgetary control. We have a responsibility to the taxpayers."

According to Murphy, Nortran fares are currently brought by armored car and deposited into local accounts owned by PACE and this system will continue.

PACE sends Nortran a check for the deposit amounts plus the additional budgeted funds to use for its operations. She says the language in the contract clarifies this set up.

As for control over collective bargaining contracts and other personnel matters, Murphy again says the new contract stipulates the current arrangement. "We sign off on it (collective bargaining) anyway."

PACE has set up a joint meeting with Nortran representatives at its regular Feb. 8 board meeting and pledges "no service interruptions to over 30,000 bus riders," according to a Feb. 5 press release. The board meeting, held at 550 W. Algonquin Road, Arlington Heights, is open to the public.

In the release, Pace Chairman Florence Boone chides Nortran for threatening to stop the buses, saying "To continue to threaten a shut-down of service is highly irresponsible and a breach of fair play. It only hurts our riders, the very people we are committed to serve. We would ask that Nortran join with us in our efforts to bring this contract to a successful conclusion."

property should have been sufficient, but further inspection revealed a concrete-cutting firm was using the water supply to fill its tanks from a rear outlet.

Feb. 6, Angelo DiPaolo told The Bugle that while his company is part of the management of the 7400 building, they have not owned it since 1972. He said the confusion over water usage resulted from the village changing from manual to computerized metering.

DiPaolo's attorney, Gary Griffin, expressed surprise at the proposed shut off and feels his client is being treated unfairly. He said he and his client had been talking with the Village about the water problem and the cut off, Griffin said, is a form of coercion to get them to pay higher amounts than originally specified.

Griffin noted the plumber who installed the connection is dead and the installation may have been done when other buildings, now razed, were located behind the 7400 facility.

Mandatory use of '312' and '708' to begin

Centel issued a reminder today that on Saturday, Feb. 10, it will be mandatory for telephone customers throughout the area to use an area code when dialing telephone numbers between Chicago and its suburbs.

"The new 708 area code for the suburbs actually went on line Nov. 11 last year," said Jack Brueck, manager of business relations for Centel.

"However, we now are completing a three-month grace period, so callers will no longer have the option to avoid dialing 312 to reach Chicago from the suburbs. At the same time, it will be necessary to dial 708 to reach the suburbs when calling from Chicago."

Brueck noted that when the grace period ends Feb. 10, callers who don't use the appropriate area code will hear a recording that explains the new dialing procedure. The change will have no effect on rates.

He added that the 708 area code was initiated to provide the Chicago metropolitan area with seven million additional telephone numbers. "The availability of new phone numbers within the old 312 area was quickly becoming depleted," he said.

Brueck noted that calls placed between local numbers within one area code may still be placed by dialing only seven digits, as usual.

Prefixes in the Centel area with the new 708 area code are 292, 296, 297, 298, 299, 318, 390, 391, 635, 692, 696, 699, 803, 823, 824, 825 and 827. Centel prefixes starting with the 312 area code are 380, 399, 693 and 694.

france rates.  Writing about politicians brings to mind a certain rite of spring which happens every other year. During pre-election time media people are breakfasted and lunched and occasionally suppered by the gals and guys who want our votes. We've been Neil Hartiganed at lunch at the Union Club. We've been Ted Lechowicz at breakfast in Oakbrook. And our calendar has invitations for breakfast with Cecil Parze, Tom Rosewall and Cal Suter in coming weeks.

This is all a lot of harmless fluff which wastes everyone's time in a rather frivolous but enjoyable fashion. There's camaraderie and congeniality and drinks and food and when it's all over, it's all over.

This is a sad admission but we seldom have met a politician we didn't like. Neil Hartigan is a warm, humorous, outgoing fellow. Ted Lechowicz is comfortable and congenial and sort of an old shoe kind of guy. And we're sure Cecil and Cal and Tom are affable men who will sit well with the eggs benedict.

Twenty-five or fifty years from now local historians may be turning these pages to find out what it was like in the early 1990's in our areas. One phenomenon which seems to be continually growing is the plethora of early-morning exercisers who walk around and around inside Golf Mill Shopping Center at the ungodly hour of 6:30 in the A.M.

We were picking up an ad at the center Tuesday when we witnessed the walkers doing their turn up and down the center's aisles. It seemed the lady-walkers outnumbered their male counterparts by a sizeable margin. It speaks well for male sensibilities for not getting up at such an unheard of hour. On the other hand the preponderance of ladies speaks well for the durability of their sex. It's also a walking man's answer to those single columns which are helping singles find new companions.

Niles will be seeking bids for Milwaukee Avenue property which the village presently owns. Property at 7169 Milwaukee Avenue is 14,628 square feet and is evaluated at $200,000. The land at Touhy and Milwaukee Avenues at 7201 Milwaukee Ave. is 50,000 square feet plus 14,891 square feet which has been appraised at $672,000. The third property at 7369 Milwaukee Avenue is 13,017 square feet and is appraised at $143,000. Bids for the property must be in no less than 80% of the appraised value.

repair. Library Acting Administrator, Dan Macken, agreed, saying, "We've been putting it back together with parts (that were) adapted, but we kept hearing, 'They don't make those parts anymore.'"

The new vehicle, described as "Bluebird, concept 2000, model 2606" is being built to specifications by Ohio Bus Sales, Inc., of Canton, Ohio. Purchase of the new vehicle has been in the library's five year plan for the last two years, according to Macken, and the Library Board earmarked $75,000, plus options, for the purchase.

Although the bookmobile is expected in Niles by late summer, Morris said specifications are still being worked out. But outside dimensions are now in place and the new vehicle will extend about 11 1/2 feet longer and house 600 more books than the present, '69 Dodge bookmobile. A study is determining the feasibility of a data radio-a process that puts the bookmobile computer on-line with the library's.

The library district includes all of Niles and the unincorporated areas of Des Plaines and Glenview, a population of 53,031. The bookmobile travels throughout the district on a weekly, Tuesday through Saturday schedule, frequenting nursing homes and schools. Patrons are able to apply for library cards, take out or return books, and request specific titles. Fiction and best selling books are most preferred by senior patrons, according to Morris; picture books are the choice of young readers. The Outreach program is long-standing in Niles and is implemented by Morris, driver-clerk George Starczyk and Edith Stern in the offices.

Among the bookmobile's scheduled stops are the Nelson and Stevenson schools and the St. Andrew's nursing home. Bulk deliveries are made to other nursing homes and schools, but by use of the library van, and this allows those facilities to, in effect, set up their own lending library. An updated schedule of stops is available in the bookmobile or in the main library, 6960 Oakton Street.

Registration for Hynes pre-school screening

School District 67 will conduct a free diagnostic screening program for pre-school children. The program is designed to detect possible deficiencies in vision, hearing, language and/or motor development. All parents of three and four year olds are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Registration for pre-school screening will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 27, 1990 at Hynes School, 9000 Bellefonte, Morton Grove 60053. The hours are from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. The dates for the actual pre-school screening are March 21 and 22.

Regina debaters qualify for nationals

Regina Dominican High School's Student Congress Debate Team have qualified for the Catholic National Tournament in May. After three qualifying student debates, Jane Park, Edgebrook, placed first in Chicago and Vicki Scheribel, Wilmette, placed sixth in Chicago.

During the last Qualifying Congress of the season in mid-January, Park won first place, outstanding speaker award with a perfect score on each of her seven speeches. Scheribel won a best legislation award for her bill on medical experiments and human tissue.

ties in with a national day of ecological observances by various groups. One of these groups, the Niles/Morton Grove League of Women Voters has lobbied extensively for recycling programs, sponsoring a series of environmental forums on the topic last fall including one where Selman spoke.

"We're very close to drafting a proposal to present to the Mayor," Selman said, regarding the project. "There's no firm conclusion, however," Selman indicated that "several alternative groups" have shown interest in supervising the project but details for policing the facility and hauling off the recyclables have not been worked out.

Selman said Niles wants to encourage recycling without the expense of a curbside recycling program, adding that many citizens have also requested a village location to drop off aluminum, glass and tin cans.

Sue Kravis of the League said, "We all felt it was a good compromise and a start in the right direction." The group also intends to help publicize the project, when it is approved.

"We can play an important role in educating the community," Kravis said. The organization hopes schools, churches and scouting groups will actively participate.

Kravis indicated that the collection center would probably utilize covered bins and possibly offer collection space for plastic milk cartons. "Probably not newspaper though," she said, referring to the recent glut of newspaper in the recycling chain.

Niles and other Illinois communities must also confront other environmental issues as well, facing a mid-year deadline for alternative yard waste disposal. Selman said the board is expected to consider a green waste disposal plan at its regular February meeting.

Trustee Andy Przybylo, who heads up Niles' environmental issues, indicated that the plan that "makes the most sense" is one in which yard waste is bundled in specially marked bags and picked up by the hauler in separate trucks.

structure, install a sprinkling system and expand from the present three to five screens. Work was to begin Jan. 15.

By December, it was apparent grand scale remodeling was cost-prohibitive and the theater operators investigated costs involved in leasing another space at Golf Mill and building a new facility. Once again, the cost was too high. According to Joe Salerno, Niles Director of Code Enforcement, the Village currently expects Cineplex-Odeum to install a sprinkling system and pave the parking lot, with work to be completed by May 1.

Salerno indicated Niles' regulations on sprinkling installations are more strict than the national building code requires. Depending on the building's use, the national code requires facilities over 10,000 square feet to be sprinkled. Niles moved to increase public safety by requiring sprinklers in buildings over 7,500 square feet.

The Golf Mill movie house opened in 1961 and Cineplex-Odeum bought the theater from the owner, Essaness theaters, in 1986. Theater I will seat 1500; Theater II, 1000; and Theater III, 700.

tion of both fires which were set at 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Rapp was on hand to help extinguish the minor blazes, which were confined to a linen room and to an activity room. Mostly smoke damage resulted and no injuries were reported.

The investigation was launched after police and representatives of the state fire marshal's office determined the two fires were "suspicious in nature." The home's sprinkling system had frequent breakdowns and was one of the existing conditions when a judge ordered the facility shut down.

Sherwood is in receivership and the last of its patents was moved out Feb. 7. Sources do not expect it to reopen for at least a year.

Park pool...

"We're trying to be as conscientious as possible," Lippert said in a Feb. 6 interview, adding that the board wanted to be cost-effective about the pool.

The director declined to speculate on the cost since the final repair options decision depends on the information provided by the Park District's design engineering consultant. Water Technology, Inc. is in charge of the study.

Various tests and research of repair alternatives has been undertaken already. Dye and pressure tests established there were numerous leaks and a number of repair methods were weighed and discarded including patch welding.

Lippert said his office is also beginning to formulate a ten-year master plan for the district, which will include a study of the two pools. He is excited about a "Zero-depth pool", with sloping shallow end to accommodate the handicapped or young children. The zero-depth concept can be incorporated into a new shell, if the district decides to use the existing excavation and replace the liner.

The Rec Center pool is used by twice as many people as the Sports Complex pool. Both pools last season accommodated over 27,000 recreational swimmers in addition to those there for day camp, swimming lessons and parties. Lippert emphasized that the park district will issue regular press releases regarding the pool status.
