Rolling reporter has the scoop on Niles nursing, rehab center

by Nancy Keraminas

Her beat is the cheery halls of a Niles nursing and rehabilitation center. Her newspaper, the GlenBridge Gazette, has a circulation of approximately 400 residents, staff and visitors. No journalist has a more worthy super than Mary Stormoen. But this time, the 69-year-old writer was on the receiving end of the interview and like all reporters, she'd rather ask the questions herself.

She's been part of the fourth intervention of an editor. Sometimes the questions are assigned to her but often they are her own ideas. The responses are not always easy to obtain. "I have to wheedle it out of them, sometimes," says Stormoen as she displays the clippings with her by-line. Each answer is painstakingly handwritten, so as not to miss a quote.

"What's your fondest Valentine memory?", another column be-tate only for the last five months, recruited by the GlenBridge activities staff in an effort to overcome her shyness. Gliding through the corridors in her wheelchair, Mary seems surprised when she receives friendly greetings from nurses and fellow residents.

"If a leprechaun granted you a wish, what would it be?" queries one of Mary's Rolling Reporter columns. Like all reporters she is subject to the benevolent inquiries. The questions invite reminiscences, dreams and perhaps more important, the opportunity to communicate and be listened to.

Her job also affords her a chance to develop new friendships. Divorced, she lost contact with her adult son a few years ago. She has one regular visitor, a Park Ridge woman.

Despite not attending either high school or college in her native Minnesota, Minnesota, she has all the right credentials and Gettysburg Address from memory and she regularly wins GlenBridge's weekly trivia contest. Most important perhaps is her inquisitive mind. "Up here there's nothing wrong," she says, pointing to her neatly-combed grey hair. "I've learned a lot of what I know from listening and reading a lot." Mary Stormoen doesn't miss many details. At the end of the interview, she asks the all important question: "When will this article appear?"

Soviet children bring 'Peace Child' to Niles

On July 14, fifteen Soviet children began a five-week summer visit to Chicago to participate in an international youth exchange program sponsored by the Peace Child Foundation, a non-profit organization which promotes peace through the performing arts.

While in the Chicago area, the children will join with 85 youngsters from the Chicago metropolitan area in producing and performing in Peace Child, a joyful, moving and uplifting musical play about how children help bring peace to the world. The setting of the play is the year 2030, on Peace Day—a holiday commemorating the day the nations of the world declared peace. The Soviet children will be accompanied on their visit to Chicago by five adults—including two of the Soviet Union's best-known entertainment personalities: rock musician Kris Kelmi and radio personality Serge Karabu. Kelmi is known as the creator of the U.S.S.R.'s answer to "We Are The World,"—the hit song and video "Zamikaya Krug," which was performed by Kelmi and more than 20 other Soviet entertainers.

Once in Chicago, the children will spend two weeks at Niles College with American children writing, preparing and rehearsing their own version of the Peace Child stage play. At the same time, they will be living, working, playing and sightseeing together, strengthening the bonds of friendship and trust—essential building blocks for a peaceful world.

Attorneys for the Village of Niles and garage operator George Ruesch on July 12 agreed to limit their pre-trial investigation or discovery period to 60 days.

The agreement came in Skokie's Circuit court, before Judge Morris Topol, after Ruesch attorney Sherwin Zaban requested additional time to view village photographs of the garage premises at 8650 Shermer Rd.

An ensuing consultation by the lawyers resulted in the discovery cut-off. Discovery is a pre-trial period that affords parties in a suit

Oak Mill Mall's new owners are re-designing the Niles mall into a contemporary "upscale European village center" in order to bring the shopping center "into the 21st Century and beyond", according to Jeff Green, representing purchasers Oak Mill Enterprises 2000 and Devco Realty and Equity Company, Oak Mill's managing and leasing agency.

Describing the existing condition of the mall as "antiquated, backward and in poor shape," Green said "major cosmetic redevelopment and refurbishing" work is underway to transform the mall into a "quite dramatic, attention-getting" place for shoppers. Entertainment areas and a German carousel for the enjoyment of children will replace most of the mall kiosks, whose owners will be offered interior space.

Devco is negotiating with a national sporting goods firm to lease space now occupied by Avondale Federal Savings Bank. The bank will move adjacent to its current location. Balancing the continental flavor are Country Crafts and Hobbies to Go.

Current tenants, such as GiGi's Dolls and Sherry's Teddy Bears, European Imports, Boutique Unique and Somenek's

Senior handbell choir prepares concert of classics

The Golden Belles, eleven residents of North Park Village apartments, are preparing for their third public performance as members of an unusual handbell choir. The handbell program, conducted by Rebecca Patterson and financed by a grant from the Neighborhood Arts Program of the Department of Cultural Affairs, is uniquely suited to the needs of these seniors, who want to learn and perform music but have little musical experience. The group, now in its second year, has performed everything from Yankee Doodle to Christmas and Channukah music for senior citizens' organizations and nursing facilities in the North Park Village area.

The Golden Belles' upcoming program will include works by classical composers such as Bach, Handel and Gounod, and will feature Nancy Klingman - soprano, Briony Bryan - flute, and Jeffrey Horvath - piano. The concert is scheduled for Saturday, July 21 at 7 p.m., in the Social Hall of the North Park Village Apartments, 5801 N. Pulaski in Chicago. Admission is free, and they promise some pretty good cookies at the reception following. For more info call: Rebecca Patterson, (312) 973-0808.

MG names Senior of Month

Wisdom and hard work are rare enough commodities in this day and age, and to have them manifested in one person is rarer still. But this month's "Senior of the Month," Chris Seyer, epitomizes both these qualities in one man's endeavors to come to the aid of his Morton Grove neighbors.

Chris is well known among Morton Grove seniors for his work with VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance), the Morton Grove Commission on Aging, and the Emergency Flashing Light. He was coordinator of the annual tax return program for eight years and has been a counselor for 12 years. He has submitted over a thousand returns in that span.

Chris has also served as chairman of the Advisory Commission on Aging for six years and commissioner for 11 years. His role with the commission has had him involved with letter writing to Congressmen and business

All of the "elves" from the Morton Grove Park District and the First National Bank of Morton Grove will prove that this is indeed "the season to be jolly."

This event is sponsored by the senior programs of the Park District and the Village and also by the First National Bank of Morton Grove. This year's Pool BQ is supposed to be a secret, but you can expect the unexpected, for it's just liable to snow in August! So we will "deck the pool with boughs of holly." The cost is $2 per person and tickets can be purchased at the Prairie View Community Center.

MEALS-ON-WHEELS

The Morton Grove Department of Health and Human Services together with Bethany Methodist Terrace, provides home-bound and medically qualifying residents with hot home delivered meals. For more information about eligibility for meals-on-wheels call the Health Department at 470-5246. Water Reclamation commissioner honored

An overflow crowd was in attendance at a party held recently in honor of Commissioner Gloria Alitto Majewski of the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago, for her many years of dedication to public service. Majewski is also the Chairman of the Finance Committee for the District. She was the first women to hold this most important position.

Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan was the primary speaker for the evening. Music was furnished by Jimmy Damon and his fine orchestra, and Ed McElroy of Chicago Radio and TV for the past 40 years was Master of Ceremony for the evening.

Spotlight on Northbrook artists

Harry Janke first developed a love for the art of wood-carving while a Boy Scout. A travel agent, many of Jamie Sorenson's photographs were taken at one of his favorite vacation spots, Key West, Florida. Helen Boris runs a catering business, "Hel's Kitchen," throughout the year, but recently decided to exhibit her acrylic boxes and paper collages in art shows. Colleen McCarthy graduated from Miami University of Ohio last December, currently works at Northfield pottery, and will be making her first art festival appearance this summer.

These four Northbrook residents are among artists, photographers and crafters from across the nation who will be exhibiting their works at the Northbrook Park District's upcoming Village Green Art Festival, July 21-22. The Village Green, located near the intersection of Shermer Rd. and Meadow Ln., will host more than 100 talented artists for the two-day event. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Other Northbrook artists exhibiting their works include: Sylvester Byrne and Susan Goldstein. For up-to-date information on the weekend of the festival, call (708) 272-0303.

Social Security and summer jobs

If you are a young person planning to work this summer, you should note that special rules affect the reporting of earnings from many typical summer jobs for Social Security purposes. Becoming familiar with the rules assures that your earnings are reported for important Social Security protection.

With most jobs, Social Security taxes are automatically deducted from your paycheck, and the employer pays a matching amount, reports the total to Social Security, and sends the taxes to the Internal Revenue Service.

Many of the jobs generally available to summer workers are service jobs (restaurant and hotel work, for example), farm work, or self-employment (commission sales work, for example).

Most service jobs involve tips. You must report cash tips amounting to $20 or more in a month to your employer. You give the employer a report of your tips earned during the month by the 10th of the following month, along with the tax due on the tips. Your employer reports the tips to Social Security along with other regular wage reports and sends the tax to the Internal Revenue Service.

If you become involved in any of the above types of summer employment, you can call the Internal Revenue Service for more details on the rules involved in reporting your earnings. For information on Social Security, call us. The number is 1 (800) 234-SSA (1-800-234-5772). The best times to call are 7-9 a.m. and 5-7 p.m. weekdays.

On behalf of the Niles Park District Board of Commissioners and Staff, I would like to thank all those who participated in, assisted with and viewed our "best ever" 4th of July Parade and post parade festivities...the Village of Niles, Mayor Blase, Public Works, Police and Fire Departments, the bands, Mitch, Phil and Tom Drozd for permission to place the reviewing stand in front of their home, community organizations, businesses, individuals and our ever diligent staff.

We're already in the planning stages for next year's event and invite everyone in the community to become a part of the celebration.

Reader responds to Alessi letter

Dear Editor:
In his letter (July 5), Joseph P. Alessi of Morton Grove urged Bugle readers to boycott "perverted" television shows that depict homosexual lifestyles.

Mr. Alessi, I am tired of homophobes such as you attempting to enforce your morals on our free society. You hope that your grandchildren are not aware of homosexuality. I hope for the sake of the world that your grandchildren and other humans do not choose to remain as ignorant as you. You claim that homosexuality is "perverted", yet the only perversion I see is your reluctance to accept a fact of life.

By impressing a fear of homosexuality upon future generations, our society only reinforces a phobia that is as wrong as racism. By portraying realistic gay lifestyles, television can educate and dissolve barriers that promote anti-gay activities.

Remember, ignorance is not bliss to those who are physically and verbally abused by people scared to see reality. Mr. Alessi, please choose to educate your grandchildren.

Sincerely,
Paul Cienniwa
Niles, Ill.

Sears Hearing Aid program very successful

Dear Editor:
In May, in observance of Better Hearing and Speech Month, 1990, the employees of Sears Hearing Aid Center in your community worked together to collect hearing aids, which were then donated to the Chicago Hearing Society. Volunteers are reconditioning these hearing aids to be given, without charge, to people who couldn't otherwise afford them.

We are pleased to say that response to this pilot program has been tremendous, yielding 126 hearing aids for needy people. Now, we want to thank everyone who participated in this program and express our hope that the Chicago Hearing Society will be recognized in the community as a valuable resource.

We encourage everyone who has used hearing aids to donate them to this important non-profit organization. Across the United States, there are more than 1.5 million people whose quality of life is curtailed because a hearing aid is not affordable for them. We at Sears Hearing Aids hope that we have helped raise the community's awareness about this program so that these people can be served.

Once again, we wish to express our thanks for your community's support.

Sincerely,
Tom Houllihan
President
Retail Stores Division

Niles grandmother outraged over carnival prices

Dear Editor:
I just thought you would like to know how all the grandmas and grandpas on our block feel about "Niles Days". We've been going to it since it started with our children, always making it a family affair. Up till now we combined it with six grandchildren. Not anymore with the rides at an outrageous price of $1.60 to $2.40 ride! Who can afford that? Who is getting greedy. I would like to know? The "Taste of Niles" was also very disappointing. Not like other years. I'm sure that also is because of the exorbitant prices charged for a booth.

His All Holiness Dimitrios, Archbishop of Constantinople, will visit Chicago July 21-24 as part of an historic trip to the Western Hemisphere, the first ever by an Ecumenical Patriarch of Eastern Orthodox Christianity.

The spiritual leader of more than 250 million Orthodox Christians worldwide, the Patriarch is "first among equals" of the Orthodox clergy of Greek, Russian, Ukrainian, Carpatho-Russian, Romanian, Albanian, Antiochian, Bulgarian and Serbian churches. The Chicago area is home to approximately 250,000 followers of Eastern Orthodox Christianity.

Greek and Serbian, Russian, Albanian and Ukrainian ethnics and other Christians all over the Midwest will converge for this special opportunity to see the Patriarch. Orthodox will celebrate the ancient liturgy of the East and receive Holy Communion. It is also a unique chance for non-Orthodox Chicagoans to observe the rich traditions of one of the oldest faiths in the world.

The highlight of the Chicago visit will be a Divine Liturgy in Grant Park open to all. Thousands of Orthodox Christians are expected to make the pilgrimage to Grant Park, the only outdoor service on the Patriarch's trip to the United States.

Orthodoxy is the sister faith of Catholicism, but unlike the Pope, who holds jurisdictional primacy in the Roman Catholic Church, the Patriarch is the first among heads of a synod of independent Orthodox churches worldwide. In recent years, nurtured by meetings between His All Holiness Dimitrios and Pope John Paul II, Orthodox and Catholics have found a renewed common ground and opportunities for sharing the fundamental beliefs that bind the two faiths.

St. Isaac Jogues plans blood drive

On Sunday, July 22, St. Isaac Jogues Church will host a community blood drive. The drive will be held at the church, 8149 W. Golf Rd., Niles, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Blood Drive Coordinator Dottie Langlois asks eligible donors to stop in and donate.

Kraft General foods will give a coupon entitling the bearer to $5.00 off any variety of Miracle Whip® Mayonnaise to anyone who attempts to donate blood during the months of July and August. During the summer, the blood supply can drop to near-critical levels because many regular donors have busier schedules and blood collections decrease.

Life Source also offers free cholesterol screening for anyone who donates blood. To be eligible to donate blood, LifeSource reports, an individual must be in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds and be at least 17 years of age. Blood donors should eat a good meal before donating, and donations can be given every 56 days.

Na'Amat against apartheid

A recent communique from Israel received by Edith Margolis, Na'Amat USA National Coordinator, reports that men and women enrolled in the Afro-Asian Institute were the guests of Na'Amat Israel (Movement of Working Women and Volunteers) for a day. They were told about the ideology and purpose of Na'Amat, learned about its work on behalf of women and families, and Na'Amat's involvement on the political scene both locally and nationally. Na'Amat's programs in more than 1,000 centers in Israel promote its belief in equal rights and equal opportunities for all women, as well as its concern for human rights for every citizen of Israel.

When visiting Na'Amat Israel centers, the groups met with staff members and volunteers. They met the children in the day care centers and learned about programs that enable women to work by providing worry-free quality child care. They were made aware of how Na'Amat's programs may be applied in their own countries and communities, and they left with a positive picture of Israel and its people.

Na'Amat Israel and the Afro-Asian Institute have long been part of the struggle against apartheid and have been training leaders from Africa.

In recent years, Na'Amat Israel and the Afro-Asian Institute have looked for ways in which the Israeli experience could help people's organizations in the black community of South Africa. Workshop-seminars have been specifically designed for their leaders. Participants come from trade unions, women's groups, church organizations, educational institutions on the secondary and university level, social welfare agencies, youth groups, etc. They come from Soweto and Alexandria in Johannesburg, from Durban, Port Elizabeth, Cape Town and other places.

As long ago as 1960 Israel's then Foreign Minister Golda Meir said, "The opposition of the Government of Israel to racial persecution in any form, and its insistence on the safeguarding of human rights everywhere..." in a statement declaring solidarity with the struggle of Africans for equal rights.

Na'Amat USA and its sister organization, Na'Amat Israel, calls on democratic governments to condemn exploitation and discrimination by one segment of the population against another by means of force or repressive laws.

MS Mother of the Year

Christina Fewell of Skokie, (left) presents President Bush with a baseball bat autographed by the Chicago Cubs during a White House ceremony on Thursday, June 28th honoring Fewell for her outstanding courage and accomplishments as a parent despite her battle with multiple sclerosis.

An Illinois mother of two, Christina Fewell of Skokie, was honored at The White House as Mother of the Year for her courage and accomplishments as parent by President Bush who presented her with the National MS Mother of the Year award. Fewell is the 39th consecutive mother to be received by the elected President since the award was established almost four decades ago.

The MS Mother and Father of the Year are chosen for their outstanding parental achievements despite the limitations imposed by MS, a chronic, incurable and often progressively debilitating disease of the central nervous system.
 Forty-three-year-old Christina Fewell, a clinical social worker who has a private practice with a specialty in family and youth counseling, was diagnosed with MS in 1985. Fewell first went through a long period of denial and eventually came to terms with her disease when she could no longer walk and use her arm during a severe exacerbation. Although she is physically limited by an unsteady gait and extreme fatigue, our Mother of the Year not only helps her own children,

Grief and Loss Support Group

Sandra, after her recent divorce found her life changed beyond all her expectations, and not really for the better. She hadn't anticipated how the complete silence in her home contrasted with her former attempts to find a quiet spot in which to collect her thoughts. Also, the judge had awarded her custody of the youngest of her three children, a girl, who was now away at school. The older two were out of school, married and in their own home. How to adjust to this new life was not only a puzzling situation but also a most depressing one.

Just at this time Sandra discovered that the Grief and Loss Support Group of The Center of Concern had been of great assistance to a acquaintance who had become a widow several months before. This lady advised her to call The Center, which she did and found that the Group met every Thursday at 2 p.m. in the conference room of the 1580 N. Northwest Highway Building, in Park Ridge. This Group deals with many types of losses... a person, a job or anything of value or even of small value.

If you are struggling with any loss, don't feel you have to go it alone. This program can help you accept changes that come into your life. Please call Mary or Dee at (708) 823-0453 to make an appointment to learn more about the Grief and Loss Support Group.

Teens caught using stolen credit cards

Four young male offenders, including a 14-year-old Park Ridge boy, were involved in a July 11 stolen credit card incident at Golf Mill. Youth charges are pending against them.

The Park Ridge teen told Niles police he and two others broke into an auto in the 1700 block of Cherry Street, Park Ridge, and stole a wallet containing credit cards. Four youngsters pedaled their bikes to Golf Mill and one tried to use a card to purchase gym shoes, telling the clerk the card was his father's.

When the clerk attempted to verify the information by phone, he was still suspicious and contacted police. The involvement of the others was then learned.

DUI arrest

A 41-year-old Morton Grove man was placed under arrest by Niles police for drunk driving and having a blood alcohol concentration of over .10 July 15.

The driver, who had been involved in a minor traffic accident in the 8600 block of Golf Road, reportedly had a .15 BAC and could not stand or walk unassisted. He will appear in court Aug. 9. In addition, he was cited for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Wallets stolens

Two women, one from Chicago, the other from Schaumburg, on July 11 reported their wallets taken from their purses which they had left on another floor in a facility in the 5800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove.

Shopping carts turn up

The night of July 14, a Morton Grove police officer observed ten or 12 shopping carts belonging to a food store in the 6900 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, scattered about a parking lot next to a bowling alley near Caldwell and Waukegan Roads.

Three Chicago males, age 17 and 18, will appear in court Aug. 17 on retail theft charges. The trio were apprehended by Niles police after they allegedly stole 67 lottery tickets from a Niles White Hen Pantry at 9001 N. Milwaukee Ave.

According to reports, they entered the White Hen and one of the men dropped a soft drink bottle, causing it to shatter. While the clerk helped clean up the mess, two of the men apparently helped themselves to the tickets beneath the unattended counter.

The clerk noticed the theft 18 minutes after three left the store and reported it. Units patrolled the area, locating them at a 7-11 store at Golf and Greenwood. Lottery tickets were in the back window of their car. In addition, police found a stolen credit card and other identification.

The White Hen employee identified the men and the tickets.

The annual "rap session" of the North Suburban Chicago Chapter, United Ostomy Association, will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 25, in the East Dining Room (10th floor) of Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster St. Park Ridge.

Ostomates, family members and friends are welcome to attend the meeting. For more information on the group or the meeting, phone (708) 966-8639.

Ruesch pre-trial...

time to acquire evidence supporting their cause and to see what evidence the opposing party has. Judge Topol set Sept. 27 for a final status hearing and to set a trial date.

Village attorney Richard Troy expressed satisfaction with the agreement, saying "At least (it) puts an outside limit on discovery." July 16, Zaban indicated he is trying to work out an agreement with the village and said the village has been cooperative in exchanging evidence.

Niles brought suit against the operators of the Ruesch garage in November, 1989, charging them in non-conformance with zoning ordinances and in violation of fire, plumbing, electrical, building and housekeeping codes. The village asked for fines for those violations, in amount to be determined by the court.

The suit was an off-shoot of a notice written by Mayor Nicholas

Blase in April, 1976, citing the garage's non-conformity with the village zoning code and map since 1961. At that writing, the mayor required Ruesch to "terminate the use of this property as a garage, etc., by December, 1981."

The order was not pursued, although the village periodically sent inspectors to point out necessary zoning corrections on the property. The Ruesch family complied with the requests, spending over $30,000 in the effort over the years. But in spring, 89, an order to put in a paved driveway and parking lot proved cost-prohibitive.

The village considers the garage unsightly in a residential area, but the Ruesch family maintains they were at the location since 1928, before nearby houses were built, and they want to quietly continue their business.

Pastries fit well into the European concept. Devovo hopes to entice an imported chocolate shop and imported shoe salon as well.

"There's a very strong, existing mix of merchants in the mall," Green noted.

Green met with village Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno July 18 to discuss plans for the two-story, 200,000 square foot shopping center, located at the southwest corner of Oakton Street and Milwaukee Avenue. Initial construction plans call for a single pylon sign to replace exterior fascia signs, a new roof and repaving of the parking lot.

Oak Mill Enterprises 2000, an Illinois corporation, purchased the mall for $7.1 million this June from the bankrupt estate of Milton Schraiber. Proceeds from the sale, according to Schraiber's Disclosure Statement made at the time of filing, include distributions for debts owed for his mortgage on the Oak Mill property and other investors and creditors.

coaching in June and was unaware of it.

President Beusse gained board approval to finalize and proceed with the plan for the Recreation Center pool renovation project. He added the main objective of the new pool is to provide Niles residents with a modern concept of a pool for all ages and for those with disabilities.

He said the pool would be financed through present and future bond issues and the board expected it to open on time next year.

The swimming coach also asked the board to reconsider hosting the Aquatic Club's conference meet July 25, saying the request had been denied earlier and called the denial a "slap in the face for the kids."

Board members were unaware of the rejection and Commissioner James Pierski questioned the coach regarding the hours and numbers involved in the swimming competition, the seating and parking required and the resultant loss of revenues to the district.

The commissioner cautioned that residents who had pool tokens might want reimbursement if the pool were closed all day. He was advised that of the approximately 55 Aquatic Club members, only 24 were Niles residents.

Commissioner Carol Panek asked that the commissioners receive written fact sheets regarding the logistics and costs of hosting the swim meet to aid in making a decision. The board agreed to decide July 19 in order to coincide with the swimming league's planning session.

In other swimming pool matters, Commissioner Elaine Heinen reported overall revenue from the Recreation Center pool increased over $3,066 from last year at this time. She said she hoped the increased use of the Sports Complex pool for birthdays, anniversaries and the like would generate additional revenue. Rental information is available at the Ballard Center.

Moving to personnel topics, Commissioner Heinen announced a new recreation program supervisor, Shelley Spilman, will begin work Aug. 1. Spilman is currently associated with the Winnetka Community House.

Commissioner Heinen noted interviews would soon be held for the position of Superintendent of Recreation, a job now vacant. Commissioner Panek requested a moratorium on hiring for the position until an executive session of the board could discuss salary ranges and a person's experience relative to the job.

She said "I think it's important at this time." The board agreed to the session.

Closing her personnel report, the commissioner saluted retiring maintenance department tradesman Lou Saviano who will leave July 27.

As the result of a draw, Niles tee ball player Jason Woodward will throw out the first ball at Comiskey Park July 25 at Illinois Park and Recreation Association Recognition Day.

Pool parties and award presentations will be held at the Recreation Center pool on July 27 for the girls' 11-inch softball players and on July 28 for tee ball players.

Commissioner Heinen told board members the recent Fourth of July parade was the longest in park district history. The board awarded a plaque of recognition to residents Mr. and Mrs. Mitch Drozd who allowed the use of their property for the parade reviewing stand.

Regarding the Niles All American festival, the commissioner said they had "five beautiful, rainy days, but still made money."

She announced prizes from the grand prize raffle would be awarded Aug. 6 at 8 p.m. at Ballard Center. A. and L. Genge of Niles won the $1,000 first prize and for the first time in festival history, one person, Mike Gruczek of Niles, won two of the raffle prizes. Gruczek will claim both the second prize water bed and the fourth prize microwave oven. Third prize, a TV set, was won by Ron Weiss of Skokie.

Commissioner Panek updated the board on M-NASR's move into its new Skokie headquarters and described the M-NASR board's new committee alignment.

She also asked Administrative Coordinator Tracy Taylor to urge district staff to seek additional witnesses, other than staff members, when making out incident reports.

Earlier in the meeting, Attorney Gabriel Berrafato recommended the board record Commissioner Bud Skaja's reasons for abstaining from a board vote accepting the low bid by an Oak Park company to roof the Sports Complex. The commissioner said he abstained from voting because the owner of the roofing company is his relative.

The attorney also advised he and Director Tom Lippert were studying different ordinance/code books and a recommendation would be forthcoming. In addition, Director Lippert is seeking staff input for an updated Personnel Policy manual.

Commissioner Skaja reported revenues for the Jozwiak Park Batting Cages/Miniature Golf complex are up $534 from last year at this time. Earlier in the meeting, Nilesite Virgil Harrison asked the board to review its policy for single golfers at Tam golf course and to make some accommodation for them.

under the "chintzy" category concerns the picking up of branches in town.

A 72 year old lady called The Bugle last week to complain the village wouldn't pick-up a 12 foot branch which broke off from a tree in the lady's backyard during high winds. The lady said she walks with a cane after having hip surgery. At the village hall a lady told our 72 year old to buy 51.30 bags, cut up the branch in small pieces, place them in several bags, and the village will pick it up. Or she can get some teens thru the Senior Citizen center who will come out for a fee and do the cutting work. The 72 year old said she didn't have extra money for bags, and certainly didn't have money to pay boys to cut up the branch. She told the village hall lady that branch will sit on her front lawn until the village picks it up. She was told she could get a ticket for this abuse. The 72 year old was spitting mad and said, "That branch will stay on the front lawn parkway until hell freezes over."

Niles officials tell us it's just not "cost effective" to provide such a pick-up service. Abe Selman told us that would be an added tax cost if the village provides additional pick-up service.

My next door office neighbor, Diane Miller, contends the village might consider dividing Niles into four quadrants and have branch pick-up in alternate quadrants weekly, covering the entire village each month. Pickups would be based strictly on call ins, thus giving residents the opportunity to have their branch debris picked up once a month. She believes this would be a nominal cost to Niles and would solve the great "branch" problems.

It might also solve the "chintzy" problem.

Revenue lawsuit...

revenues generated by new projects.

According to Kai Allen Nebel, attorney for the litigants, the department of revenue appropriated a dollar figure reimbursement to the TIF communities below the statutory requirement, requesting only $10 million instead of the $11.8 million needed in their annual budget for 1990. The estimate for 1991 is $18 million and is due Aug. 1, 1990.

State legislators caught the error and amended the appropriation but the amendment was vetoed by Governor James Thompson, according to Nebel. Nebel estimates the lawsuit, assigned to Judge Arthur Dunn, should be decided within 60 days. "There aren't many facts in dispute," Nebel noted.

The suit requests a declaratory judgment and entry of an order for the state to budget the statutory state sales tax increment. The second count is a mandamus action to follow the formula.

The Department of Revenue argues, "The $10 million estimate, although short by $2 million, was the best we could do given the unpredictability of the growth of TIF's in these municipalities," according to a memo from IDR's Roger D. Sweet.

to buy a better drive now.

Board member Norman Padnos disagreed saying he believed this drive would be a band-aid solution.

Also the board approved a $10,400 bid for asphalt sealcoating, painting and striping at various locations within the district.

A state mini-grant for assertive discipline was denied to Mark Twain Elementary School. Superintendent of Schools Dr. Eldon Gleichman said the state received 210 requests and could grant only 41.

Also, Gleichman announced students from Gemini Junior High School placed second in a national Spanish contest. He congratulated both the students and Spanish teachers.

In other action, two resignations were approved. Effective as of June were the retirements of instructors Mary Frances Riegler and Charles Inyart.

challenger Mulligan of Des Plaines a tie. He gave each contestant 7,387 votes and ordered a final decision be made by lottery, as required by Illinois law.

Referring to Judge Barth's July 16 ruling, Pullen said "We went in 31 down and came out tied...it was a good victory." At deadline, Mulligan was unavailable, but her attorney, Mat De Lort, quoted her saying "I beat her back in October. I'll keep on beating her."

Pullen doesn't see the lottery outcome as the final decision. Anticipating further judicial action with appeals, she suggested "It will really be decided by the State Supreme Court making rulings of law." She said the court procedure could be expedited to fit in the pre-election time frame.

Bob Mankivsky, a Pullen attorney, agreed. He suggested an appellant could go directly to the Illinois Court of Appeals and move to have the case transferred to the Illinois Supreme Court because there are issues of law at stake which the court could review.

De Lort said before appealing, either side would have 30 days to file a motion to reconsider before the Circuit Court, but might not file, because of time limitations.

The decision to let a lottery determine the election left many voters in the 55th district wondering about the efficacy of the voting procedures.

Third Ward Alderman Park Ridge Mary Ann Irvine, a Mulligan supporter, said winning the lottery is "psychologically a plus, but it will be decided in the courts...we wish she had come out ahead, but it's always been too close not to appeal. To a person, voters are upset that a flip of the coin can rule over (about 28,000) votes."

A casual survey of other Park Ridge voters seemed to bear that out. Christina Carmody described the primary as "One of the few races that involved principles and values. (It's a terrible irony. People were motivated by important realities and those realities are being totally ignored in the final outcome...there's got to be a better way."

Jack McHugh said, "I'm not sure it's the greatest way to decide elections...it raises questions about the whole vote counting procedure. I'm tickled to death Penny gets another crack at it." Another voter, Geri Jazombek said, "Flip a coin for something as important as that...I'm really surprised. Another election would seem to be more appropriate; it just seems more equitable."

In his final examination of disputed ballots July 16, Judge Barth disallowed one paper ballot for Mulligan in which the side requiring the certification by County Clerk Stanley Kusper was completely blank, apparently from a printing mishap. He also refused to accept 7-8 ballots for Pullen because of problems either with the paper or the machines when the voting stylus used failed to register a vote. Mankivsky said in this case, "People clearly thought they had voted, but their votes won't count."

Mankivsky said tie votes have happened in the past, but in his experience, the dead heat finale is rare in races at this level, occurring more frequently in township or fire protection districts.

July 16 Judge Barth's courtroom was packed with so many partisans his bailiff divided gallery seats equally between the opposing sides. Reporters sat in the jury box while television cameras waited outside.

whereabouts were not known until July 17.

According to Sgt. Sam Fucarino of the Niles police, Pandera was incoherent when brought to the hospital by Chicago paramedics. The hospital apparently did not contact Chicago police to obtain additional information on their patient. Fucarino and his partner were at Pandera's residence at the Leaning Tower Y when the hospital called there for information.

"We're glad he's alive and we found him," Fucarino said.

Friends filed missing persons reports in both Chicago and Niles, thinking perhaps Pandera, who is on medication for high blood pressure, might take a Milwaukee Avenue bus to return home.

An alumnus of St. Hedwig's orphanage, which closed in the early 1960's, Pandera grew up in Niles and has lived there for most of his 62 years. Pandera and his late brother Jules, operated Harczak's Sausage Shop on Milwaukee Avenue until it went out of business. For the past eight years until his June retirement, Pandera was employed as Leonard Pandera a janitor at Niles Elementary School South.

Several Niles police officers assisted members of the Frank Stankowicz and Edward Bacher families, using off-duty time to search for Pandera both on Chicago's streets and Pandera's favorite Niles haunts. Officers Richard Leddy and Don Matuszak walked along river banks and checked metropolitan hospitals and shelters.

Stankowicz' daughter Mary Krueger and her family made several downtown trips and posted flyers displaying Pandera's picture. They also made periodic checks of St. Adalbert's Cemetery where Pandera's two brothers are buried. His sister resides in a far northwest suburb but is disabled.

"This is typical of Niles people and Niles police," commented Joanne Stankowicz, the wife of retired Niles officer Frank Stankowicz. "They went over and above the call of duty." Stankowicz said Pandera was a familiar sight to residents, pedaling his three-wheel bicycle from the Y to the Stankowicz home and all along Milwaukee Avenue, weather permitting.

Pandera's friends can't quite verbalize the why of their affection for Pandera but their determined search speaks volumes. He often spends holidays and vacations with the Stankowicz family and was fond of their children, as well as those at the District 71 elementary school. "He always had a candy bar for each of my kids," Stankowicz added.

For ten years Pandera resided with the Bachers, working with Helen Bacher at the school. She said while he was missing she would wake up in the middle of the night worrying about his safety.

"This has been like a nightmare," Stankowicz said of the days spent searching for Pandera. "We're shocked and we feel terrible because we all love him dearly."

Loras College offers liberal arts education

Blending the old and new, Loras College, Iowa's oldest and largest Catholic college, enters its 151st year of providing the tools for an affordable liberal arts education for 2,000 students.

At Loras you can choose from 45 majors in 20 academic departments and a variety of pre-professional programs including dentistry, medicine, engineering, law, optometry, medical technology, podiatry, and nursing. Of our pre-professional graduates, it is important to note that over the last 15 years, 87 percent of all our health science graduates have been accepted for graduate study. Furthermore, Loras ranks 171st among all four-year colleges and 31st among all Catholic colleges in the nation for the number of graduates who later earn a doctorate.

More specifically, we rank ninth among four-year, private undergraduate institutions on the number of doctorates obtained in chemistry, and we are ranked 36th in the field of psychology among the top 101 private undergraduate institutions nationwide for the number of doctorates obtained. Of equal significance is our track record in career planning and placement. Of those who graduated from Loras over the last three years, 91 percent were employed fulltime or attending graduate school within one year of graduation.

Loras has also been recognized by nationally acclaimed organizations for our affordable quality education which includes Peterson's Competitive Colleges since 1984, The Barron's 300, a guide of top quality colleges with below average costs, and New York Times' Best Buys in College Education.

Explore a world of ideas with our outstanding faculty. In 1988 alone four of our faculty were awarded Fulbright Scholarships as well as grants and fellowships from nationally prestigious institutions. What's more, in 1989 a member of our faculty was named the Iowa Professor of the Year by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. Our low student-faculty ratio of 13-1 insures you one-on-one access to your instructors in an open, friendly, responsive atmosphere. Furthermore, Loras also offers an innovative freshman registration on an individualized basis with your faculty advisor.

The College's excellence is not limited to academic strength alone. Loras athletes compete in 20 intercollegiate sports approved by the NCAA. What's more, 80 percent of our students participate in one of the nation's leading intramural programs housed in the beautiful Graber Sports Center. Each January Loras is host to the National Catholic Basketball tournament, the only small college tournament of its kind in the nation.

Loras is committed to meeting your financial needs. In 1989-90, 80 percent of Loras students received over $7.8 million in scholarships, grants, loans, and employment. Both need and merit-based programs are available. Loras also has a unique way to help you plan for your school year costs. WHEN CAN 8 EQUAL 1?

WHEN YOU'RE COUNTING THE NUMBER OF STITCHES USED DURING CATARACT SURGERY!

Traditional cataract surgery can mean a large incision, six or seven or eight stitches, and a month or more of recuperation. A new method of cataract treatment requires a smaller incision and only one stitch to close! The smaller incision means you can heal faster. A quicker recovery means you can return to your normal lifestyle almost immediately after surgery.

On Sunday, July 22, Mary Seat of Wisdom School will host a community blood drive. The drive will be held at the school, 920 Granville, Park Ridge, from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Blood Drive Coordinator Connie Koshal asks eligible donors to stop in and donate.

Kraft General Foods will give a coupon entitling the bearer to $.50 off any variety of Miracle Whip® Mayonnaise to anyone who attempts to donate blood during the months of July and August. During the summer, the blood supply can drop to near-critical levels because many regular donors have busier schedules and blood collections decrease.

LifeSource also offers free cholesterol screening for anyone who donates blood. To be eligible to donate blood, LifeSource reports, an individual must be in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds and be at least 17 years of age. Blood donors should eat a good meal before donating, and donations can be given every 56 days.

Search launched for future minority journalists

A computerized center that will link young minority writers with local media employers has been established at Roosevelt University.

The Multicultural Journalism Resource Center, funded by a $40,000 grant from Chicago Tribune Charities, will track student writers through a computer data base to help reduce a severe scarcity of minority journalists. The center is the first of its kind in the Chicago area.

"Its most important role will be to link education and industry by targeting and husbanding promising young minority talent from high school all the way through the day they are ready to look for a job," said newly appointed director James Dodson. Studies show that only 7.5 percent of reporters in newsrooms are from minorities while minorities make up 25 percent of the national population.

The center's data base is being developed, in part, from 1,500 teenage potential journalists identified through an ongoing program of high school journalism workshops directed by Roosevelt assistant professor Neal Robbins. These workshops have been supported by more than $70,000 in grants from Chicago Tribune Charities, the Dow Jones Newspaper Fund, Johnson Publishing, Crain Communications and other local and national news media and foundations.

The data base will systematically link every Chicago high school graduate from Illinois Wesleyan University Saturday, May 12, at the 140th annual Commencement program.

Local students with their degrees are Eileen M. Igyarto, bachelor of fine arts, and Scott G. Steiner, bachelor of arts, from Niles; and Jennifer S. Sumner, bachelor of arts and Kristi M. Vassloski, bachelor of fine arts, from Skokie.

Local students graduate from Illinois Wesleyan

Baccalaureate degrees were conferred on the largest class in the history of Illinois Wesleyan University Saturday, May 12, at the 140th annual Commencement program.

President Minor Myers, Jr., closed a banner year for the university by handling diplomas to 422 seniors, 72 of which graduated with honors.

Robert A. Skotheim, director of the Huntington Library, Art Collection and Botanical Gardens, San Marino, CA, received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree and delivered the Commencement address.

Local students with their degrees are Eileen M. Igyarto, bachelor of fine arts, and Scott G. Steiner, bachelor of arts, from Niles; and Jennifer S. Sumner, bachelor of arts and Kristi M. Vassloski, bachelor of fine arts, from Skokie.

Savings bonds help pay college tuition

A new feature in the U.S. Savings Bond program has made the investments an attractive option for financing your child's college education. Interest earned on Series EE bonds (issued after January 1, 1990) and used to pay tuition and fees at colleges may be completely tax-free, dependent on your income. If the purchaser is at least 24 years old, the interest may also be used for individual continuing education.

United States Savings Bonds, purchased through financial institutions or employer-operated payroll savings plans and held five years or longer, earn competitive, market-based interest rates—or a guaranteed minimum of six percent—which ever is greater.

According to James G. Dwyer, director of financial aid, Loyola University Chicago, savings bonds provide a flexible planning program for financing a child's university education. "The bonds are issued in the parent's name, not the child's and parents retain ownership of the bonds," he said. "They can be used for other purposes (without the tax benefit) or the interest earned is exempt from federal income tax during the year qualified tuition expenses are paid." Even if not used for education, the interest from U.S. Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local taxes.

"Full exemption is available for married taxpayers filing joint returns if their combined adjusted gross income is less than $60,000; the limit is $40,000 for single taxpayers," said Dwyer. "For higher income couples and singles, there's a gradually diminishing exemption for incomes up to $90,000 and $55,000 respectively."

More information on savings bonds and the new college savings benefit can also be obtained from local financial institutions. Look for the brochures, U.S. Savings Bonds: Now Tax Free for Education and U.S. Savings Bonds Buyer's Guide.

Local schools invited to enter sweepstakes

Grammar and junior high schools within a five mile radius of any Cragin branch are eligible to enter the drawing. Cragin will donate one computer to a suburban school and one to a city school.

Chairman of the Board Adam A. Jahns said, "For today's students, acquiring computer skills is a key to success in school and later, on the job. Cragin wants to help neighborhood schools teach these technical skills to the children."

The prize package is an Apple IIc Plus computer, an expandable unit with a host of available hardware and software. The system offers 128k memory, a full-size keyboard, color graphics, and much more! The retail value is $2,050.

Oakton's Weekend College alternative for busy people

Weekend College at Oakton Community College has proved to be a viable solution for students whose busy lives cannot accommodate a conventional class schedule.

Day or evening classes are usually not an option for these students who travel for business, work the swing shift or have family commitments. Weekend College provides the flexibility so critical to blending their lives with their academic goals.

Starting this fall, Oakton students will be able to take all the courses needed for an associate degree through a combination of weekend courses, telecourses and an occasional evening course. Most weekend classes are held on Friday nights, Saturdays and Sundays at the Des Plaines campus. Some classes are offered on Saturdays and Sundays at the Skokie campus.

Weekend College enrollment has grown from 500 students in 1986 to over 1,600 students in the fall of 1989. The enrollment is expected to continue to grow and could serve as many as 2,500 students in the near future.

Weekend College offers a wide selection of courses, including business, marketing, data processing, math, economics, accounting, English, science, child development, photography and office systems technology. Most classes meet every weekend while some, such as early childhood development, meet on alternate weekends.

For information on Weekend College, call 635-1970.

"The newspaper that delivers"

Bugle Publications
Niles, Illinois
Dear Editor:

In what newspaper should I place an ad for a garage sale for June 1 & 2 was my dilemma. Another local tabloid type newspaper was twice the price of The Bugle and the popular full size paper was more than 3 times the price but I decided on supporting the local paper that carries most of the Niles news, The Bugle.

I had fears that The Bugle's circulation was limited. To my surprise, the response was tremendous with prospective buyers from all the surrounding towns coming into my yard faster than I could sell to them.

The sale was successful, thanks to The Bugle. We sold about 90% of all the available merchandise.

Yours,
Stanley Klosowski
