Maine Township allocates funds for extra police squad

by Nancy Keraminas

Responding to citizen concerns about signs of increased crime in the unincorporated areas, Maine Township trustees unanimously approved an amended 1990-91 budget providing for up to $14,000 additional police protection. While the appropriation permits a hireback of a sheriff's police officer for up to 24 hours per week, the township has the option whether or not to use the additional services.

Citing the "beginning stages of gang activity...increased reports of vandalism...and speeding problems" Trustee Mark Thompson explained that Cook County board members have "consistent-

Republican nominee gears up for race against Mucci

Pullen beats Mulligan by 6 votes

by Sheilya Hackett

Her legal battle with Rosemary Mulligan over the 55th District Republican nomination behind her, a victorious Penny Pullen turned her attention to the November election.

Penny Pullen

At a Park Ridge news conference Sept. 21, Pullen said debating Democratic candidate Robert Mucci "might be fun," but declined to make a commitment.

Meeting reporters after the Illinois Supreme Court ruled she won the March primary by six votes, Pullen said she wasn't there "to be cocky, but to be happy...delighted to be on the ballot."

Referring to the opposition of pro-choice groups, she said "they poured everything at us," including "a national commitment to beat me for the last one-and-a-half years. (But)...my wonderful family in the district beat off (the challenge)." She said she "won by a car pool--next time it'll be a van."

From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

The Penny Pullen-Rosemary Mulligan 55th district state representative election was finally decided by the Illinois Supreme Court last week. Five months after voters went to the polls, the state's top court allowed Pullen seven of 27 disputed ballots which made her the winner of the primary election.

Pullen will run in the general election in November against Democratic candidate Robert Mucci. It is likely Pullen will win her 7th term as state representative.

Last year we met Pullen for the first time. We met at a publishers' dinner in Oakbrook. During the pre-dinner cocktail hour I introduced myself to her. I told her it was strange this was the first time we had met. Normally, candidates seeking local public office come banging at our door many times before each election campaign. They want as much public exposure in the media as possible and usually stop by several times before election. Pullen had never stopped by during any of her 13 campaigns (primaries and general elections). We always looked upon her as the "ghost" candidate. We never heard her debate anyone. Nor did we ever hear her at any meeting we attended during the past 12 years.

There was good reason for her invisible act. Republican state representatives and state

Niles seeks input in contract with Com Ed

by Sheilya Hackett

Niles will join with other northwest suburbs to explore ways to control contract negotiations with utility giant Commonwealth Edison.

At the regular meeting of trustees Sept. 25, the Niles Village Board approved a per capita contribution of $4,519 for the purpose.

The suburban coalition, called the Northwest Municipal Conference (NWMC), has already analyzed the legal issues involved and drafted a model ordinance. If the NWMC action succeeds, Niles and other NWMC members would be entitled to similar contract language when current contracts expire.

Trustee Louella Preston explained communities often contract with Com Ed for 50-year periods and automatically renew contracts, simply because the utility is a monopoly in the area. She cited moves by the village of Inverness which renewed its contract for only one year, pending a franchise agreement. Previously, she said, Com Ed would not renegotiate, wanting the original agreement to continue. She cited the impact of recent Com Ed performance in some Chicago neighborhoods.

Speaking of utility franchise agreements with Chicago, President Nicholas Blase noted the telephone company pays Chicago about three percent of the gross

Robert Mucci

Asked if she would modify her anti-abortion stance because of the closeness of the vote, Pullen said "It would be a tragedy to retreat from anything that's right. We won. Why should anyone back away from this?"

Pullen said she never had "the luxury" of getting $35-40,000 from political action committees, but declined to specify this.

The Landings residents celebrate complex's anniversary

Residents of The Landings condominiums, located at Ballard and Potter Roads in unincorporated Maine Township, gathered at the Club House, 9366 Landings Square, Sept. 12 to celebrate the 18th year of the complex's existence.

By the end of 1972, five buildings in the complex were either completed or in the construction phase, according to Landings Condominium Association President Morris Sokol. Only a few hundred people lived there then, he said.

Today the complex numbers 15 buildings, includes 496 one and two-bedroom units and houses over 1,000 residents.

Prior to the development of the complex, The Croatian Children's Home existed on the site.

According to the Des Plaines Historical Society records, the Home was built in 1927 and was financed by dues from members of The Croatian Fraternal Union of America, headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pa. Members of the union were Yugoslavian and Canadian immigrants.

The children who lived there came from all over the country. In the beginning most of the children who lived there were orphans, but later on many came from broken homes.

After World War II, the population at the Home declined and eventually there was not enough children to make operating the Home feasible.

In the 1950s, Dist. 63 rented space from the Home until new schools were built.

In 1969, the Home was closed. The land was put up for sale, the tract was bought and Bernie Grizzati of Berns Builders constructed condominium buildings on the site.

The Croatian Home had seven cottages, a school house and an administration building. The original wrought-iron entrance gate is still on the property. The Landings Club House, however, is the only building from the Home to remain on the site.

The Club House has a gymnasium, kitchen, office space and ballroom. In addition, various rooms in the building have been converted for residents' use including a card room, exercise, TV and game rooms and a small library.

Sokol said he enjoys living in the country-club-like atmosphere at The Landings. Residents, he said, plan parties for almost any occasion and outings to places like the race track.

He describes the residents as "a great bunch of people making it conducive to living here."

Bluejay befriends Niles residents

A bluejay familiar to Niles residents in the 8000-8300 blocks of Merrill, Elmore and Ozanam Streets, sits on a fence post (top photo) and sorts pop corn kernels scavenged from patio parties in the neighborhood. The young jay is partial to peanuts, pizza, pancakes, pretzels and cigarettes.

The bird, unafraid of humans, (bottom photo), surveys a drum stick landing perch offered by John Lubinski of Merrill Street. Nicknamed the "Blue Baron" by residents, the bird reportedly unties shoe laces and steals cigarettes and pencils from shirt pockets.

MG village restricts truck parking

by Nancy Keraminas

Following the recommendation of its Traffic Safety Commission, Morton Grove's trustees voted unanimously, with Trustee Neil Cashman absent, to restrict commercial truck parking on sections of Austin Avenue, Dempster Street, Ferris Avenue, Lincoln Avenue and Waukegan Road.

Rick Gutman presented the request by Ilforno Pizza for a No Truck Parking Sign in front of its property at 5832 Dempster St. at the commission's Sept. 9 meeting, citing hazards to visibility near intersections of Dempster Street and Marmora Avenue.

In addition, signs will be posted. Continued on Page 28

Collections up at recycling trailer

The Niles recycling center is the most successful of the 10 sites operated by the North Shore Ecology Center, John Coakley, assistant to the Niles village manager, told the Morton Grove/Niles League of Women Voters recently.

The center, which the league assisted the village in establishing last April, collected 62 bins of cans, glass, papers and plastic thus removing 284 tons of materials from the waste stream during its first three months of operation.

Along with helping to lengthen the life of dumpsters, the effort saved between $11,000 and $14,000 in tipping fees, the cost of dumping this amount of trash.

With anticipated increases in teachers' salaries taking the biggest bite, the District 71 school board recently approved a tentative 1991 budget of $3.4 million. The budget is 7.94 percent higher than the 1989 figure of $3,222,429. Oct. 16 the board holds a public hearing on a proposed property tax levy of $2,585,000, an amount 16 percent above the previous one.

Currently, District 71's tax rate of .9555 is the lowest of 14 neighboring districts, with Skokie District 72 the closest at 1.430.

The proposed levy will affect homeowners' tax bills, but probably not until next July or August, according to Superintendent Eugene Zaleski, after the County Clerk receives the district's total equalized assessed valuation and the multiplier.

Zaleski explained the school district doesn't levy the tax rate, only a dollar amount, which is determined by the state. Continued on Page 28

Park board approves pact with MG village

by Nancy Keraminas

The Morton Grove Park District Board of Commissioners unanimously approved an intergovernmental agreement between the park district and the village of Morton Grove. Ironically, the person whom park officials credited for the cost-saving pact, Supt. of Parks Dick Hols, will retire from that position and be honored at a luncheon Oct. 12.

Hols, in his capacity as president of the Morton Grove village board, saw that body approve the agreement Sept. 10. The six-page document formalizes a long-standing arrangement between the two entities, whereby tools, vehicles, equipment and manpower are borrowed back and forth in order to promote efficiency and save money for chores such as mowing, sewer cleaning, road-salting and reaching tall outdoor fixtures and trees for maintenance.

The intergovernmental agreement may not have come about as easily without Dick's being part of the park district. Park Board Treasurer Doug Steinman commented as he and Continued on Page 28

Derby attracts young racers

The racers nosed up to the starting line. A hush came over the crowd as they heard "Ready, Set, Go!" The crowd cheered wildly and the racers stopped to see why.

This was the scene at the Omni Superstore, 7801 N. Waukegan Road, Niles, the morning of Sept. 20 during the Baby Derby sponsored by Huggies diapers. At one point, 9-month-old Ron Richter in lane four crawled faster than anyone expected and the crowd gave a loud cheer. Immediately the baby stopped to look at the faces in the crowd to see what all the fuss was about.

After four elimination rounds, the final four babies crossed the finish line in the following order: Ron Richter, 9 1/2 months, of Glenview; Sabrina Bauer, 8 months, of Skokie; Emily Srodton, 11 months, of Chicago; and Hannah Gustison, 11 months, of Niles.

The winners received trophies and packs of diapers.

Artist addresses Niles Art Guild

The Niles Art Guild will present Vern Stake, a nationally known artist-instructor, at their monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 3, at the Niles Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee Ave., Niles.

Stake's teaching experience covers a span of 35 years, 32 of which was at the American Academy of Art in Chicago as well as other institutions of learning. He has also been a commercial artist and illustrator.

He is a graduate of the American Academy of Art with further studies at the Ecole des Beaux in Paris, France and has been a member of the Palette & Chisel Academy of Fine Art in Chicago for many years.

This evening, Stake will give a landscape demonstration in acrylics. He is an experienced judge and juror of important art exhibits. Join us for a delightful evening. Refreshments will be served. A $1 donation is required from non-members.

Lower electricity rates phased in

Lower non-summer electricity rates are now being phased in for approximately 2.8 million Commonwealth Edison customers. From now until Oct. 15, residential customers will see a decrease in the base kilowatt-hour (kwh) charge of 26 percent for usage up to 400 kwh per month.

Edison hopes that this cycle will mark the end of higher residential rates. A company proposal to the Illinois Commerce Commission calls for a level year-round residential rate structure for the first 600 kwh of usage, with a lower rate for all kwh above 600 used during the eight non-summer months.

First introduced in 1979, over

Edison's objections, summer rates have proved unpopular with consumers and may have contributed to inefficient customer use of generating resources, thus resulting in higher cost. This year, toward the end of a cool, rainy summer, Edison recorded its highest 1990 peak demand and third highest in history when the official temperature on the previous day was only 82 degrees. Normally, peak demands occur on the third or fourth day of a 90-degree-plus heat wave.

A customer can determine the approximate beginning of their lower non-summer rates by looking at the time covered by the September bill. If the period ends Sept. 14 or later, that date will mark the start of the first month of lower rates.

IRS publishes informational booklets

Keeping good records is more than just a good idea. It can save you time and money too, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Good records help you keep track of income, and can ensure that you get every deduction or tax credit the law allows. They also make the sometimes taxing job of filling out a return a little less taxing.

For the most part, the law does not specifically say what records you must keep. But the IRS has published several free booklets that may help you.

• Publication 552 discusses what kinds of records to keep and how long to keep them.

• Publication 583 has a section on recordkeeping geared to business owners, featuring an illustration of a sample recordkeeping system.

• Publication 463 discusses the special recordkeeping rules that apply to business or work-related travel, entertainment, and gift expenses. An example illustrating how a daily log can help track these expenses may be helpful to sales people and others who travel a lot.

• Publication 917 covers the special recordkeeping rules for anyone who uses a car in their work or business.

Free copies of these publications can be obtained by calling the IRS toll free at 1-(800) 424-3676. On Oct. 1, this phone number will change to 1-(800)-829-3676. To listen to a recorded summary of recordkeeping rules, call Tele-Tax at 1-(800)-554-4477 (1-800-829-4477 starting Oct. 1) and ask for tape number 460.

Square dance lessons offered

Are you interested in finding a form of entertainment which is physically and mentally stimulating, can be shared with a spouse or friend, provides opportunities to expand your sphere of acquaintances, can be enjoyed both at home and away, provides motivation for travel, is fun, and is extremely economical? If you answer YES to any of these questions consider square dancing!

The Niles Square Dance Club sponsors a series of beginner lessons. This year the course takes place at Niles Recreation Center, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Maybe you had some experience in square dancing previously and want to build up your confidence; so come join in with a partner or as a couple and see for yourselves how enjoyable an evening can be. Any information needed please 967-7854 or 967-6987 (708). The fees are $2.50 per person and your first lesson is free.

You have probably seen Niles Square dance in the 4th of July parade as well as our local shopping malls. The dancing is every Monday evening effective immediately.

Most square dancers belong to square dance clubs; Clubs hold two or three dances each month and frequently sponsor other activities such as parties, picnics, hay rides, etc. for members choosing to participate. A popular activity is exchange visits with other area clubs. The typical cost for a square dance is $5 to $7 per couple for two to three hours of dancing.

Known as "Renew," the program will begin its second season on Sunday, Oct. 7 and continues for six weeks through the week of Sunday, Nov. 11.

Focus has been placed on four areas of parish activity. They are the Sunday Mass celebration and a prayer network, large group events, take home activities for families, shut-ins, etc. and small sharing groups.

Rev. John E. Hennessey

Titled "Renew," the program's long-range goal is the building up of parish life. Its goals are to enable people to preach and witness the word of God, to build community and provide formation in the sphere of social justice.

National Jewish Theater presents 'Bitter Friends'

Outdistancing all other plays under consideration for the opening of National Jewish Theater's 1990-91 season, Artistic Director Sheldon Patinkin has chosen Bitter Friends by New Jersey playwright Gordon Rayfield. Bitter Friends is now scheduled to open on Monday, Oct. 22, at National Jewish Theater, 5050 W. Church St., in Skokie.

A controversial political drama, Bitter Friends is the powerful saga of David Klein, a young, idealistic American who has confessed to have stolen defense secrets from the United States and turned them over to Israel. Is he guilty of dual loyalties? Is he an agent recruited by Israel? Is he a hero in a world where heroism no longer has a place? Is he a traitor to his country and to his family? Bitter Friends not only poses these questions, but insists that the questions may be more important than the answers.

The second selection of the season is Solomon's Choice by Cheryl Lavin and Marilyn Preston. For ticket and subscription information, call National Jewish Theater's box office at (708) 675-5070.

The continuing non-perishable food drive helps many needy people in the area. Drop off place is at the foot of the stairs to the basement.

A rummage sale/bake sale is planned for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27. ## Surcharge helps fund '9-1-1' service

Soon, and maybe by the time you read this, you will be noticing an extra $1 charge for 9-1-1 service on your phone bill. This $1 surcharge will be used to help fund the 9-1-1 emergency telephone service the village of Niles will be implementing over the next 20-21 months.

Glenview, Morton Grove, and Northbrook are also presently involved in implementing 9-1-1 service in their respective communities.

In August 1988 Mayor Blase and the members of the village board passed an ordinance authorizing a referendum to be voted on by the voters of Niles to permit the imposition of this $1 surcharge for a 9-1-1 emergency telephone system. The referendum was voted on in the November 1988 elections and was passed.

Implementation of the 9-1-1 system is not just a simple matter of changing our emergency telephone number from 647-2131 to 9-1-1. Since the referendum was passed various obstacles had to be overcome that dealt with Niles exchanges going into a telephone switching network in Skokie and studies have been made of the current police communications facility and technology.

In May of this year a contract was signed with the phone companies to facilitate additional trunk lines and networking capabilities at the Niles Police Department for the implementation of the 9-1-1 system. When the system becomes fully operational all 9-1-1 emergency calls for Niles police, fire or paramedic requests will be received at the Niles Police Department communications center. During the next two years the police department communications section will undergo a major facelift in both configuration and technology.

The 9-1-1 system which will be implemented in Niles will be an "enhanced" version of 9-1-1. The older or basic 9-1-1 systems allow the caller to reach the police department by dialing 9-1-1 and emergency aid would be dispatched.

In the enhanced 9-1-1 system not only is the caller able to contact emergency assistance but they also provide the police department dispatcher with critical information associated with the callers location to include telephone number, name and address. The enhanced 9-1-1 prevents miscommunication, documents prank calls, and identifies the caller location even when there is no communications. Enhanced 9-1-1 will not only save time but it will save lives.

The enhanced 9-1-1 system will entail new telephone equipment which will feature an ANI/ALI device which will display to the dispatcher the location and telephone number where the emergency call is originating from and is a great aid in case of a disconnect or language barrier. A TDD, telephone device for the deaf/disabled, and a position recorder which will allow the dispatcher to review the last few minutes of conversation with a caller are also to be included in the new telephone equipment.

A CAD (Computer Aided Dispatch) and RMS (Records Management System) have also been designed into the system and will help compile data and statistics that can be utilized in future planning. All of this will be backed up by a UPS (uninterrupted power supply) which will keep the system running in case of a power failure.

When the system becomes operational, and May, 1992 is the target date, 9-1-1 will be the number that you will dial in the event of an emergency requiring the police, fire or paramedic services.

The 9-1-1 emergency telephone system is an effort to improve the current emergency response and will be a method of obtaining emergency police, fire, and paramedic services more quickly and efficiently with the ultimate goal resulting in the saving of lives, reduction in the destruction of property, and a quicker apprehension of criminals.

The $1 a month surcharge on your phone bill will be kept in a separate 9-1-1 account and is to be utilized only for expenses incurred in the implementation of the 9-1-1 system. Present and future planning, architectural, construction and equipment expenses for 9-1-1 will use the resources of this fund.

Until the 9-1-1 system is operational you will still use the following numbers for contacting the police and fire departments:

Niles Police Dept. emergency, 647-2131
Niles Police - non-emergency, 647-0400
Niles Fire Dept. emergency, 827-2121 and Niles Fire - non-emergency, 967-6100.

In the 8200 block of Oketo Avenue, a 1973 VW was dented with a hard object and a 1989 Honda's paint was damaged. The house and the Honda were damaged with raw eggs, causing an estimated $200 damage.

In the 8600 block of Osceola Avenue, the south wall of a residence and the homeowner's Ford van parked around the corner were damaged by thrown eggs, according to reports.

Soda snatched

Someone broke into fenced property behind the Coca Cola Company, 7400 Oak Park Ave. and stole $244 worth of bottles, 2-liter containers and cans. Approximately 29 cases of pop were involved in the theft, which occurred during the week-end of Sept. 15-17.

Star performers at Niles Bowl

With the start of the 1990-91 season Brunswick Niles Bowl has already turned in a couple of stellar bowling performances.

The first was accomplished by Davey Rosen who shot games of 300-249-234-783. His 783 series was the 3rd highest ever at Niles Bowl. What's more unbelievable is that it was Dave's first night of bowling at Niles and he started it with a perfect 300 game. Dave bowls on the Monday Nite Mens League. He will receive a Gold Ring Trophy and a $100 Savings Bond and Award Glass from the bowling center.

The other great bowling effort was turned in by Steve Paquet. Steve bowls in the Gretnan Heights Mens League which has the best bowlers and toughest competition in the house. Steve rolled a 189-299-194=682 Series. He bowls on the team of "Ron Nelsons Pro Shop". Steve threw eleven strikes in a row before a tough 10-Pin stood on his 12th and final ball. The big game was familiar territory for this PBA member.

Both these gentlemen will have their names and scores posted on Niles Bowl's Wall of Fame. Congratulations Guys!

Alpha Phi's support Catherization Unit

The Chicago Northwest Suburban Alpha Phi Alumnae are proud to announce their support of Holy Family Hospital's new Cardiac Catherization Unit. The Alpha Phi alumnae raised over $4,000 in lollipop fundraising sales for the fulfillment of this cause.

Alpha Phi International Fraternity, founded in 1872 at Syracuse University is a voluntary friendship association of collegiate and alumnae women.

Harvard selects LGH for Quality Network

Harvard Community Health Plan has announced that because of Lutheran General Hospital's (L.G.H.), 1775 Dempster St., Park Ridge, commitment to Total Quality Management (T.Q.M.), the hospital has been chosen as one of 30 health-care organizations nationwide to become a charter member in the Quality Management Network (Q.M.N.).

"We are extremely proud to have been chosen out of a field of more than 70 applicants," explains Roger S. Hunt, president, L.G.H. "Some two years ago, we identified quality as being a major initiative for this institution. I believe that the organizations that will survive this highly competitive health-care arena will be those that emphasize quality. I intend that Lutheran General will be one of those survivors."

The mission of Q.M.N. is to facilitate collaboration and idea sharing on T.Q.M. among participating organizations; bring to health care T.Q.M. knowledge from other industries; provide social support to clinicians and managers initiating T.Q.M.; develop the Quality Information Support System software as a means of communications and data gathering; and collect evidence for the success of T.Q.M. in health care.

Q.M.N. is sponsored by the National Demonstration Project of the Harvard Community Health Plan and John A. Hartford Foundation. The National Demonstration Project began in 1987 to foster the theory and use of Quality Improvement and Quality Management methods in health care.

Quality Management has a long and successful track record in industry as a response to pressures for both higher quality and lower cost. As hospitals struggle to respond to similar pressures, they are learning that Quality Management can help them, too.

Annunzio blasts Dudycz' labor record

Congressman Frank Annunzio (D-11) kicked off Labor Day festivities by labeling challenger Walter Dudycz as a "blue collar phony".

"He pretends to represent the working families of the district but consistently sides with big business and votes against the average taxpayer," said the Congressman.

"This Labor Day he celebrated the achievement of working men and women but his voting record shows he voted against them more than half the time," the Congressman charged.

"That's because he received thousands of dollars from big business including $17,000 from the Manufacturer's Pac as well as sizable contributions from Amoco Oil, Union Oil of California, Shell and Tenneco -- the very companies that are gouging Americans at the gas pump. He voted against breaks for workers but voted for a $280-million 20-year tax break for Sears Roebuck."

To emphasize his argument that Dudycz votes against working families, Annunzio pointed to a Dudycz vote against HB #0810 which required employers to notify workers 90 days in advance if they planned to close or relocate their facility.

"Workers could be doing a great job then suddenly get a notice that their position is terminated -- without enough time to search for a new job and prepare for their families. Workers deserve better than that."

Annunzio also pointed to Sen. Dudycz' vote against SB #0769 requiring contractors to tell workers when they are working at a hazardous, contaminated site and against SB #0275 which encouraged corporations to provide day care services for employee families.

In the last session of the Illinois Senate, Annunzio noted that Dudycz also voted against SB #1501, the family leave bill which permitted workers to take time off for family emergencies.

"I'm proud of my record which earned a 94 percent rating from labor and the overwhelming endorsement of the Illinois AFL-CIO and virtually all major labor organizations," he said.

He challenged Walter Dudycz to explain his low rating with labor groups.

Letters To The Editor

Resident wants taxpayers to vote out all incumbents

The country's taxpayers are on a roll to vote out the incumbents this November. It has been said that history repeats itself and if this roll continues we will have a 1990 version of the Boston Tea Party, which, in this case, could extend to protesting all tax increases by Democratic voting procedures.

Perhaps the legislators are beginning to realize that "you may fool all the people some of the time; you can even fool some of the people all the time; but you can't fool all the people all the time."

I am not going to bore you with details of inefficiencies of our legislators, who have been returned to office repeatedly. History will speak for itself.

There is no doubt in your mind that we are overtaxed, underserved, used, etc., etc., & etc.

On the tax issue, the more they raise taxes the deeper in debt we get. If this continues there is no doubt that the coming depression will make the great one of the thirties look like a recession.

Let's keep it simple and not complicate the election with confusing and misleading issues, just fire the incumbents. Fiscally irresponsible legislators should not be returned to their jobs.

Unfortunately, some legislators with white hats may be bumped, but a message has to get to these guys to straighten up or ship out.

Anthony J. Guarnaccio
Niles, IL 60648

Mucci speaks out against negative campaign tactics

Dear Editor,
Our cherished right of freedom of speech will always insure that candidates for public office will have a decision to make regarding the use of the "negative campaign".

However, that does not mean we cannot exert some control on the use of negative campaign tactics that detract from the professionalism we demand in our leaders.

Voters neither desire nor tolerate such tactics. Voters want to hear what each candidate has to offer them and what they will do in office. Negative campaign tactics let the voters know that the candidate using them does not have much to offer.

The sooner all candidates understand that voters want to hear issues and not personal attacks or rhetoric, the better off we will all be.

Sincerely,
Robert Mucci

Edgar gives grants to suburban businesses

Fel-Pro, Inc., Skokie, and Northern Telecom - Morton Grove, are among 20 businesses to receive grants totaling $143,857 through a special Secretary of State grant program to teach basic skills in the workplace.

The current $9,000 grant will allow the company to continue its partnership with Northwestern Educational Cooperative, a Des Plaines agency, that specializes in workplace basic skills programs.

A $10,000 grant to Northern Telecom in Morton Grove will support a similar partnership with Northwest Educational Cooperative. The manufacturing company will offer basic math and English-as-a-Second-Language instruction to approximately 60 employees.

Skokie company received a $10,000 grant in January to help start the workplace literacy program in its distribution department.

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar established the program in January. Edgar recently expanded it after reviewing results of the successful pilot.

"Companies involved in the pilot program have reported improved safety, reduced scrap, a reduction in the need to redo work, increased job advancements, and enhanced employee moral," said Edgar, who chairs the Illinois Literacy Council.

Fel-Pro, Inc. was one of 16 Illinois businesses that participat-

THE NORWOOD REPORT ON OUR MERGER:

NOW WE'RE TWICE AS STRONG

THERE'S SAFETY IN OUR NUMBERS. COMBINED ASSETS OF THE DEERFIELD/NORWOOD FEDERAL PARTNERSHIP ARE OVER $500,000,000 STRONG.

Excerpts from a discussion with Donald J. Babicz, Norwood Federal's President and CEO:

"This is a merger made in heaven..." Two highly profitable institutions—Deerfield Federal and Norwood Federal Savings Bank—have joined together to create a new entity with twice the assets!

"Two more similar partners could scarcely be imagined..." Both were incorporated in the same year, 1927. Both had approximately the same assets, $250 million each. Both have operated independently and profitably with the same conservative management philosophy. Both have never lost a penny for their depositors in all 63 years.

"Joining Deerfield Federal has made your investment even safer than before..." With twice the assets and a more positive capital position, the new institution will compete more effectively in a dramatically changing financial environment. By employing economies of scale, sharing successful programs and streamlining procedures, our history of strength and high earnings can be enhanced, to ensure a safer future for you and your funds.

"Nothing will change in day-to-day transactions..." You will continue to do business in the same locations, with the same people, as before! And in the future, when operational procedures have been standardized, you will be able to transact business at more offices—six, compared with the present four.

"You are and will always be a valued member of the Norwood family. The family is just bigger, better—and safer—than ever!"

Don't turn reception into 'Wedding War'

SHE GLIDED down the aisle, a vision in white silk and lace. Father smiled. Mother cried. The groom looked smashing in his tux.

No doubt about it, marriage is back in vogue. In the Chicagoland area alone, more than 20,000 couples tied the knot last year.

What's more, the traditional wedding is increasingly popular. Even if the bride and groom are young professionals, even if they've lived together for the past three years, they want a wedding that exudes innocence and love. Romance is back!

BUT A beautiful wedding just doesn't happen. It takes planning, work and compromise.

Alas, there's nothing romantic about planning a wedding. Few social events equal a wedding for generating stress.

The cost alone causes migraines. According to a Skokie-based wedding consultant, many weddings cost $10,000. "And couples will pinch pennies to keep the wedding at $10,000," he said.

Money isn't the problem. Each family has a separate guest list, and guests often range in age from children to great-grandparents. How do you seat them? What type of food appeals to everyone? What kind of music is acceptable?

BEFORE MAKING the arrangements, the bride, groom and their families should sit down and discuss what kind of wedding they want. If the bride and groom want a small wedding and the parents want the big, splashy wedding they themselves never had, make the compromises before making the arrangements. Otherwise, every decision will be the latest battle in "Wedding Wars."

If talking doesn't resolve the differences, writing may. The couple and the family can make lists of "must have" and "negotiable" items. Looking at a written list usually helps to find where there's room for compromise.

Book the room, arrange for a clergyman, and get the dresses first. The size and color of the reception room help determine the size of the wedding and the color scheme of the gowns and flowers. Then arrange for musicians, a photographer, a florist, make the guest list, and order invitations.

IF JUST the thought of making all the arrangements leaves your family cold, think about hiring a consultant.

According to the director of catering at a Lincolnwood hotel, many consultants charge a percentage of the cost of the items. "The nice thing about the consultant is Choosing the right invitation style for your wedding is among the most important tasks a couple must undertake before their wedding.

Order invitations three months before your wedding day to allow time for printing, addressing, and mailing. Visit your department store, local printer, jeweler or bridal salon to order them. Be sure to request a sample to check for mistakes before your order is printed.

Inviting your favorite people to celebrate your wedding is a big part of the day's fun. If you're having a larger wedding (100 or more guests) you'll want to send formal wedding invitations.

Word formal invitations the traditional way. And do write out what you want before you order. Or ask your printer to show you personalized versions. If all your guests are being invited to both ceremony and reception, consider the "combination" invitation, below.

that they'll organize the lives of the people," he said. "They work with the hotel and take care of all the details."

But if the thought of looking at multiple menu selections doesn't send shivers up your spine, try working on the arrangements yourself. Responsibilities can be divided between family members.

MOST HOTELS suggest booking the reception a year in advance. But it's possible to book dates three months in advance.

Hotels generally offer wedding "packages." One package includes two dressing rooms for the bride and groom, a junior suite for the night, a bottle of champagne for the bride and groom, a four-hour open bar, champagne for the toast, a meal including entree, two vegetables, dessert and wedding cake. Prices start at $27 a person and go to $38. The entree determines the cost.

Packages vary from hotel to hotel. Another hotel includes hot and cold hors d'oeuvres but has no wedding cake. Prices range from $26.75 to $31.75.

ETHNIC AND religious restrictions don't pose problems for most hotels.

Both of the spokespersons from a Northbrook hotel and a Lincolnwood hotel, suggested allowing 60 to 66 percent of the wedding party budget for the reception and 33 to 40 percent for the florists, bands, photographers etc.

No package is set in stone. Most hotels, if requested, will replace the open bar with wine served at the table. Liquor usually accounts for 15 to 25 percent of the bill.

BY THE time the wedding date draws near, the catering consultant may seem like a member of the family. One consultant at (a hotel in) Itasca, referred to the brides as "all my children." She once cancelled a vacation to work with a bride whose wedding date was moved up.

Whether you'll be enjoying country comforts or big city living, there are many considerations when choosing a place to stay.

How far from the airport is it and how will you get there?
• Does the place you've chosen offer any special honeymoon packages?
• Are there sports facilities available that coincide with your interests?
• Be aware of what papers may be needed (passport, visa). Are immunizations needed?

Have your formal invitations printed in black script on the top page of a double sheet of paper in pale ivory or white. It can be paneled or plain. The most popular size 4 1/4" x 5 3/4" fits into an envelope without folding. A larger size 5 1/4" x 7 1/4" is folded once for mailing. It's for very formal weddings.

Add more "personality" to your invitations by choosing a translucent (parchment perhaps) or shiny paper in a pretty pastel or an earthy tone. Use colorful ink, or even a photograph of the two of you.

Begin your invitations with the name of the person(s) sponsoring the wedding. The name at the top of an invitation is not supposed to tell your guests who's paying the bills, so whether you live at home or not, your parents' names should head the invitations. You might also include the groom's parents name below his on the invitation.

John North Flemingson, of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming, if your parents are deceased, your guardian, a relative, or a friend can host the wedding. Or you two can be your own sponsors. If your parents are divorced, the parent who raised you usually does the inviting. If that's your mother, and she's remarried, she uses your stepfather's name, inserts the phrase at the marriage of their daughter... then adds your full name. Divorced but friendly parents can issue a joint invitation.

Request replies with an R.S.V.P. Kindly Respond, or Please Respond in the lower left corner, and make it easy for guests to mail them. Printed reply cards do make it easy for guests. But traditionally, they're reserved for business functions only. If you use cards, why not "code" the envelope with different stamps for your guests and his. It'll make it easier to give an accurate head count to the caterer.

Spell everything on formal invitation: the wedding date, time and all numerals, and names. No abbreviations, initials or nicknames are used - except Mr., Oe., Mrs., and Jr. Traditionally, only the bride's first and middle names are printed. But if you're a doctor or military officer, you can add your title and full name below the phrase, "their daughter." You may or may not want to add Mr. before your fiancée's name.

Bouquet And Boutonnieres

Early bridesmaids' bouquets were made of pungent herbs like thyme and garlic-not flowers. The smell was supposed to scare away any bad fairies eyeing the bridal party. Even the groom wore a few sprigs. Your groom, though, will sport white stephanotis in his lapel, or a flower from your bouquet. And you will carry the traditional flowers. Why not adopt another old idea? Tuck one non-flowering thing in your bridal bouquet to plant--maybe some myrtle or ivy.

Many families want to trim costs. Director of catering at the hotel in Itasca will also suggest ways for cutting costs. For example, candles can be substituted for floral displays.

But for some families the sky's the limit. The Itasca director of catering recalls weddings with indoor fireworks and laser shows. Wedding decorations included ice sculptures of castles, swans and even people riding bicycles.

How to plan the perfect honeymoon

When planning your trip, start with a good travel agent. She can be a big help by arranging ground transportation: sightseeing tours, theater tickets and providing information about currency, passports, good restaurants and points of interest.

Steps to organizing your wedding

Three to six months before the wedding (or as soon as you decide to marry)

1. Decide how you want your wedding to be. Discuss with each other factors such as: time of year, time of day, site of ceremony and reception, style and degree of formality, number of guests for both ceremony and reception, type of ceremony, and preliminary parties.

2. Tell your parents. Tell your good news to both sets of parents as soon as possible.

3. Budget. Work out the basic budget. Unless you are paying all wedding expenses yourselves, discuss a wedding budget with those who will foot the bill. Be receptive to their suggestions, but don't let yourself be talked into a different sort of wedding from what you really want. (Following Step 1 carefully will help you present a united front.)

4. Determine who will perform the ceremony. Visit the clergy member who you want to officiate at your wedding. (In some denominations, premarital counseling is required.) If both your reception and ceremony will be at the church or temple, choose a final date, if not, ask the clergy member to reserve two or three tentative dates.

5. Select the site. Confirm a specific date with officiating clergy and reception site.

6. Choose a caterer and other suppliers. If the reception site has no food service, choose a wedding consultant or caterer and coordinate the date with site and clergy. Also select and confirm musicians and florist.

7. Rehearsal dinner and bachelor party. Follow steps 5 and 6 for these prewedding parties.

8. Wedding party. Choose your bridesmaids, groomsmen, flower girl, ring bearer. Confirm that they can be present. You will need one groomsmen and a corresponding bridesmaid for each 50 guests.

9. Plan your honeymoon. Decide dates, locations, accommodations. Make reservations.

10. Gowns. Choose or begin sewing bridal gown and attendants' dresses.

11. Shoes. Purchase shoes for yourself and alert your attendants to do the same before you have dress fittings; hemline depends on the height of your heels. Obtain all attendants shoes and have them dyed at the same time for best color match.

12. Wedding registry. Visit a local department or specialty store together to register your preferences for china, glassware, silver, appliances, linens and other gifts.

13. Guest list. You have already decided roughly how many guests you will have. Now, in consultation with both sets of parents, begin drawing up your guest list.

Two or three months before the wedding

1. Invitations. Determine the style and wording. Order them, along with announcements, thank-you notes, at-home cards, and personalized stationery. Invitations take at least two to three weeks to arrive.

2. Gifts. These begin to trickle in even before the invitations are mailed. Purchase a gift record book and list every gift and its giver the day it arrives.

3. Thank-you notes. Write thank-you notes immediately so the job doesn't become unmanageable. Remember: nowhere is it written that the groom cannot write thank-yous--after all, it's his wedding, too.

4. Rings. Select wedding rings.

5. Your own gifts. Select the gifts you will give each other. Purchase the gifts for members of the wedding party.

One to two months before the wedding

1. Men's dress. Select and reserve formalwear for the grooms and the men of the wedding party.

2. Make appointments for fittings.

3. Invitations. Mail them six weeks before the wedding if you are enclosing RSVP cards. Address announcements, which will be mailed the day after the wedding.

4. Gown fittings. Have final fitting for bridal gown.

5. Portrait. Have a pre-wedding studio portrait made, in black and white or color.

6. Arrange appointments with your doctor and your beautician.

7. Out-of-towners. Arrange lodging for out-of-town guests.

8. Your new home. Finalize arrangements for your new house or apartment.

9. Ceremony. With your officiating clergy, finalize the exact words and form of your wedding ceremony. If you plan to write your own vows or a special prayer, do so now--and memorize them.

10. Public announcement. Mail information and photograph to community newspapers at least four weeks before the wedding.

11. Guests. Tell your hall or caterer the exact number of guests you expect for your reception and your rehearsal dinner.

4. Cake. Order cake from baker (unless it is begun provided by your hall or caterer).

5. Photography. Have final consultation with photographer; provide a list of people or events you particularly wish to be photographed.

6. Flowers. Have final consultation with florist.

7. Honeymoon. Confirm reservations for honeymoon transportation and accommodations.

8. Transportation. Arrange transportation for members of the wedding party.

9. Parking. Hire one or more parking attendants for a large wedding; if none will be provided by the reception facility.

10. Bridesmaids' lunch and bachelor party. Give attendants their gifts at these events.

11. License and blood tests. Obtain marriage license and necessary blood tests. Allow for required waiting periods but don't do this so far in advance that the license expires.

12. Names. If any names will change, arrange for these changes on driver's license, Social Security card, credit cards, and other important personal papers.

13. Insurance. Make necessary changes in insurance coverage.

14. Moving. Arrange for transportation of your possessions to your new home.

More important: Save some time to spend with each other and with your family. After all, isn't that what weddings are all about?

Hints for Brides-to-be

Best wishes! Wedding days can bring happy memories that you may want to keep alive forever with photographs. How to choose the best photographer for your wedding? How should you prepare for a formal bridal portrait photo session? Here are some tips and suggestions from the experts that may help you look your very best in your wedding photographs, while saving you trouble and money.

• Proper planning is important, so get in touch with your prospective photographer as soon as you have set your wedding date to discuss your wedding photographic coverage, both formal and informal. Make an appointment to visit his studio to see samples of his work and discuss the number of photographs, sizes of prints and other aspects which will determine the final cost.

• Schedule your formal bridal portrait as early as possible before your wedding. Your schedule will be less hectic then, so you will be more relaxed and able to look your best. It will be one less thing to worry about later.

• If you come to the studio bring the same underclothes you will wear on your wedding day, as well as the shoes, gloves, necklace, earrings, etc.

• If friends or relatives recommend someone who has pleased them, and this person displays the seal of the Professional Photographers of America, you have double assurance. The symbol means that this photographer subscribes to the Code of Ethics for Wedding Photography. It designates a professional who will be sensitive to your needs and wishes and dedicated to pleasing you with the quality of his work.

• Your hairstyle should complement your wedding gown and headpiece. It should never be extreme or fussy. An extreme or elaborate hair style will draw attention away from your face and will date your portrait.

• No amount of makeup will substitute for plenty of rest. However, do make yourself up several times until you achieve the natural look you want in your color portrait. Eye makeup is a must when you sit for your portrait because eyes without it all but vanish.

Classic Car Rally in Lake Geneva

1978 Mercury Grand Marquis owned by Gary and Helen Eitermann of Niles, at last year's Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally. Over 600 classic, antique and special interest vehicles from all over the midwest are expected at this year's 13th annual event, to be held on Sept. 29 and 30 in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. All proceeds benefit the American Cancer Society childhood research, in memory of Corinne Kreisli.

Erase 50 years from the calendar and cars had runningboards, boats were made of wood, outboard motors needed a starter rope and most airplanes were called taildraggers. All of the above will be present when the 13th Annual Classic Car Rally takes place on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 29 and 30 in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Over 600 classic, antique and special interest vehicles, boats of inboard and outboard variety and a number of antique airplanes will assemble in the area from all parts of the country to support the American Cancer Society. Advance registrations are far ahead of any past Rally.

The unusual event is sponsored by the Corinne Kreisli Memorial Foundation, Inc., of Lake Geneva with the cooperation of the American Lake Geneva Resort, Geneva Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, Walworth County Chapter of the American Cancer Society and Walworth County CB Radio Club. Over $5,000 in prizes await the winners of the around the lake tour for children's cancer research. The host site for the event is the Americana, one mile east of downtown Lake Geneva.

Recycling trailer...

Aluminum recycling trailer. The addition of a multi-purpose recycling center next to the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling trailer plus the media exposure has been largely responsible for our firm witnessing a 34 percent increase in customer transactions at Niles this year," said Margaret Anderson, convenience center supervisor for Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co.

"We have processed the equivalent of 3.25 million cans in the Niles area this year which means area residents have diverted 105 garbage trucks from making trips to local landfills," she said. Coakley said he believes the success of the center at Oakton and Waukegan is due to the fact that it is located in a very visible spot on a major road and that it is near the now-closed recycling center at Niles West High School. Most of the recyclers, he estimated, live in Niles, Skokie or Morton Grove, with some from the North Side of Chicago.

While the village calls the center "excellent and cost effective," Coakley said there have been a few problems.

One, he said, results from a change in policy by the company which collects the paper dropped at the center. At the time the center opened, the firm planned to accept such items as magazines, cardboard and telephone books. However changes in the market have made this impractical.

District 71...

vided by the total equalized evaluation of the district. Barbara Hedrich, school board president, said the '91 budget is "Basically what we must have." She pointed to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF) and the third year of teachers' contracts as items beyond board control.

The teachers' contract covers the district's over 39 teachers, psychologists and social workers and will provide an 8.5 percent increase in their salaries.

In District 71, a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree, but no experience, starts at $25,220. Hedrich said many of the district staff have been there a long time; the majority have master's degrees, which put them in a higher salary bracket.

She said "What the kids are getting is top notch level education," adding "we feel our responsibility keenly and hope people realize it...we try to be very careful; we're proud of the district."

School board member Bob Bianchi noted real estate taxes were the only place the district could get money since they don't have access to sales or gas taxes. District figures back Bianchi's statement, indicating only 10 percent of district revenue comes from state and federal sources.

Zalowski called senior citizens' expressed concerns about the rising school district budget "legitimate," but said many of the budget costs are the results of state mandates. For example, in some cases, the district is required to have a translator on hand for a non-English speaking student.

The superintendent also pointed to three teacher's gaining master's degrees over the summer which raised the amount in the education fund. As the 26-year-old Culver School ages, maintenance costs rise, he said. The school's hot water holding tank has split and will have to be repaired or replaced. Asbestos removal would have to be included, with the cost of a new holding tank possibly costing $20,000 to replace.

Currently, the district schools, Niles Elementary, South and Culver Middle School, service 353 students. Zalowski said "If the students are going to be competitive, (we) must provide the best teachers, best methods and best programs."

Hours of the drive at the Post home, 6140 Dempster St., will be from 4:30-8 p.m.

Representatives of the Auxiliary, Post and Hines will assist past commander Tai Kimura, blood donor chairman. For more information call him at 965-4730.

Advance reservations are not necessary. A buffet supper and other refreshments will be served in the Legion Home after the donors give blood, compliments of Post #134.

Blood is particularly needed now at the end of summer months and it is safer than ever to not only donate but to receive this.

A mini physical is given with a blood pressure check, pulse and iron count and cholesterol screening.

No Legion affiliation is necessary to participate.

Those in good health may donate.

Fifty Northern Illinois University students and one faculty member recently were inducted into Omicron Nu, the national home economics honorary society.

Among them was Janet Levin of Des Plaines.

Truck parking...

The policy now is newspapers where it intersects with Oakton Street, Madison Street, Main Street, and Cleveland Avenue. Trucks will be restricted on the west side of Ferris Avenue north of Lincoln Avenue, on the south side of Lincoln Avenue between Austin and Madison Avenues and portions of the west side of Waukegan Road near Beckwith Road.

Village trustees also approved lowest qualifying bids for purchase of six additional breathing units for the fire department at a cost of $8,400 and for purchase of a laptop computer, two printers and related software for health and human services' compliance with a hazardous materials program. The latter system will be purchased for $12,308.

Trustee Daniel Scanlon asked residents wanting trees under the village's 50/50 program to reserve them before the second week of October, when trees will be planted.

Trustee Larry Schulte noted his frustration with the progress of the Solid Waste Agency of Northern Cook County's (SWANCC) Bartlett balofill plant.

chiso area high schools. Viewers will see students and teachers from Homewood to Evanston at work and at play.

"A unique twist on an old idea, 'Extra Help' will allow teachers to be available for a multitude of students, after hours, on a weekly basis," said Ken Tremback, Cablevision programming manager.

Teachers interested in participating in "Extra Help" are encouraged to call Cablevision's programming department at (708) 383-9110, ext. 365. High school art students are also asked to get involved by entering Cablevision's "Extra Help" logo design contest. Detail about the competition are available by calling (708) 383-9110, ext. 335.

other commissioners heaped praise on Hols and adopted a formal resolution introduced by Administrative Director Gary Baling commending Hols' eight-year contribution to the district.

"After adoption of the resolution which lauded Hols for 'frankness, integrity and sincerity' and the 'spirit of cooperation' he instilled, commissioners individually noted his efforts since May 7, 1982, beginning with Commissioner Nick Boznos who spoke of Hols' "extra effort."

"I can't imagine life in the parks without you," Commissioner Eileen Coursey said.

"If it were a football team, we'd retire your number," Park Board President Andrew Demonte suggested.

"Now you'll have enough time to make our village even better," advised Commissioner Dan Staackmann.

The commissioners also approved a $57,343 contribution to Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR) towards M-NASR's 1991-'92's budget, representing a 17 percent increase from 1990. Morton Grove's park district will contribute 10.2 percent of M-NASR's projected $562,181 in contributions for 1991.

senators from the Maine Township area are shoe-ins. They never lose. Thus, there was no political reason for Pullen to show up at any meetings. On the other hand, we often wondered why she didn't bother to make even token visits to the Niles Chamber of Commerce or to other local meetings. Since she was a shoe-in, why not come out and meet the folks she represented? It was only a bit of tokenism. And certainly it would create some good will by her coming out and meeting the troops.

The Republican Party has Maine Township all wrapped up. That's one of the reasons Nick Blase has little competition for his Maine Township committeeman post. You don't win no jobs. And no jobs means the Democratic township post isn't too significant.

We have no idea how good a representative Pullen is. She inherited the job from the late Bob Juckett, who was her boss in Springfield for many years. Penny served as Juckett's Girl Friday and then moved into the head job when there was an opening.

amount of her legal fees. She credited her attorneys, Bob Mankivsky and Michael Lavelle—who she called "magnificent Mike"—among those who helped gain the victory. Earlier, Mulligan told reporters her legal bills amounted to $60,000 but would have been $150,000 without uncompensated aid from various groups. At 9 a.m. Sept. 21, a small group of attorneys, supporters, reporters and Rosemary Mulligan clustered outside Supreme Court chambers on the 30th floor of Chicago's Daley Center were handed the 46-page court decision. The document's last page summed it up: 7,392 Pullen; 7,386 Mulligan, a six vote margin for Pullen.

Pullen was not present for the victory, but her attorney, Michael Lavelle, told reporters "We have a clear court decision as guidance for the future." Later, Mulligan attorney Bert Odelson viewed it differently and said the decision "Sets election law back on its ears... (creates a situation) worse than the old paper ballots." Mulligan, too, was unhappy, saying the decision "Set election law back 25 years" and "sends a bad signal for what happens in the precincts." She said she would run again in '92, but would not campaign for Pullen, citing "a lot of philosophical differences."

Mulligan said she would work for the election of gubernatorial candidate Jim Edgar and urged Pullen to do the same. At her press conference, Pullen declared herself in support of the entire Republican ticket. Mulligan declined to back candidate Mucci, who has a limited pro-choice stance, maintaining there was "lack of a choice" in the 55th district contest. Although disappointed about her defeat, Mulligan said "I've had a lot of disappointment...we'll be all right...next time, we'll make sure we win by a lot more than this."

In making its decision, the Supreme Court distinguished between mandatory and directory provisions of the Illinois Election Code. The court said failure to comply with a mandatory provision renders a ballot void, but technical violations of directory provisions do not affect the validity of the ballot. Using that basis, the court reviewed the petitions before it and issued an opinion. To paraphrase that opinion, the high court upheld the trial court in allowing the counting of uninitialed absentee ballots, ballots without precinct numbers (insofar as the sole irregularity was the absence of a precinct number) ballots with the wrong precinct designation; ballots numbered by election judges to correspond with a voter's application number and ballots of voters who failed to sign their application form. It ruled the results of the recount would be accepted, rather than the results on election night, including one ballot in Maine Township precinct 23. The justices concluded the trial court improperly disallowed ballots which could not be counted by automatic tabulating equipment and improperly allowed four ballots designated Niles Township.

District 63...

Steina has been the truant officer about 20 years. Extra duty for 27 teachers was approved at district schools. Duties will include lunchroom and bus supervision, student council, girls' and boys' basketball teams, newspaper and safety patrol.

Also, board members approved payment for 34 days extra service to individuals taking part in the district's early retirement program. In other action, board members authorized the superintendent or his representative to sign as the sponsor for an application/agreement for the state's food distribution program.

Again, board members consented to approve about $4,397 in donations to three district schools. A computer and laser printer, valued at about $2,000 will be donated for use to office staff of Nelson School by the Parent Teacher Association.

The Washington PTA is donating about $2,000 of learning aids and chairs to that school. Two individuals, Ann Richert and Joel Waxman, are donating books and games to Stevenson School.

Trustees approved a zoning ordinance drafted by village attorney Richard Troy allowing a variation of up to 50 percent in front and rear yards, a change from previous 10 percent allowances. Troy said if an unusual situation exists and the variation is insufficient, the board could be petitioned.

ly denied extra funds" to the township to combat this trend. Introducing the proposal, Thompson noted state law permits the hireback of sheriff's police rather than personnel from another agency, though the township maintains the county should be responsible for the costs as a result of the tax revenues from residents in the incorporated areas.

A representative of the Golf-Maine Park District was the only member of the audience speaking relative to the amendment. Mike Yegner, president of the board of commissioners, told trustees that Golf-Maine endorsed the township's proposal at its August meeting.

Citing "long response times and...inadequate coverage" by overtaxed sheriff's police, Yegner said 80 percent of his park district's security budget is used during summer months to hire two security personnel per night to guard two parks. Shortly after the township trustees unanimously passed the amended budget, Supervisor Joan Hall relayed what she termed "additional good news"

With the school year beginning, watch for school buses in both urban and rural areas. Illinois law requires motorists to stop before meeting or overtaking a school bus that has stopped to load or unload passengers. If you are driving on a street or highway with at least two lanes of traffic in each direction, you are not required to stop when approaching a stopped school bus from the opposite direction. But you should slow down and drive carefully.

Bus drivers signal an approaching stop at least 100 feet in advance (200 feet in rural areas) by flashing the amber and red lights on the front and rear of the bus. The stop signal arm is extended after the bus comes to a complete stop. You must then come to a complete stop. Do not proceed until the school bus resumes motion, the bus driver signals you to go ahead, or the flashing lights are turned off and the stop signal arm is no longer extended.

If you are convicted of passing a stopped school bus illegally, your drivers license will be suspended for 30 days. If you receive two convictions within three years, your license will be suspended for 60 days.

According to the Department of Transportation, there were 3,558 accidents involving school buses in Illinois in 1988. Help ensure our children's safety by stopping for school buses.

Chamber membership benefits discussed.

An informal meeting is held the first Tuesday of each month at 8 a.m. in the Chamber Conference Room to highlight and discuss the benefits received and the services offered through Chamber membership. New members as well as "seasoned" members are encouraged to attend. Questions and ideas are welcome. For further information or to make a reservation, please call the Chamber office at 824-4200.

revenues produced there and in the nearby geographic area. He said Com Ed has a similar agreement with Chicago, and called it "big, big money." He said in Niles the utilities use public easements and streets and "whether they should be paying for that is what this is all about." Trustee Preston suggested a collaborative effort with the NWMCA, representing 900,000 people, should give Niles more input than it derives from its population of 30,000.

In an additional report on the NWMCA, Trustee Preston said its storm water planning committee will evaluate all bodies of water that created flooding so the association can plan as a unit, without the limitations of community boundaries.

Turning to zoning matters, the board, for procedural reasons, rescinded a previous action regarding group homes and referred the ordinance back to the zoning committee. A public hearing on the proposed group home ordinance will be held Oct. 1.

Trustees approved a zoning ordinance drafted by village attorney Richard Troy allowing a variation of up to 50 percent in front and rear yards, a change from previous 10 percent allowances. Troy said if an unusual situation exists and the variation is insufficient, the board could be petitioned.

Payment of the prevailing wage to all workers engaged in public works in Niles though long a village policy, is now an official village ordinance as a result of a motion by Trustee Jeffrey Arnold approved by the board.

In more regulatory action, at the motion of Trustee Andrew Przybylo, the board amended the ordinance restricting the location of cigarette vending machines to stipulate license revocation as a possible penalty for over-the-counter sales of cigarettes to those under 18 years of age. Niles police will notify stores selling over-the-counter and they will be monitored by the same personnel who check for liquor sale violations.

Niles trustees further limited firearm sales by excluding sales to those guilty of misdemeanors involving bodily harm, those who have been patients in a mental facility within the last five years and those acquitted of a criminal offense because of insanity.

Commissioner Tom Bondi announced the village would assume sole responsibility for the Fourth of July parade and with the Chamber of Commerce, encourage participation by community homeowners, businesses and civic organizations.

At the meeting's onset, President Blase proclaimed Oct. 12-Lions Club Candy Day and Oct. 13 Fire Prevention Week.

Eyeglasses found

A pair of women's eyeglasses were found on the sidewalk on Touhy Avenue near Central. The finder described the glasses as having an olive green plastic frame with side guards on them. She feels these guards are worn by someone with a cataract problem. The glasses were not in a case when found. For further information call Zelda at (708) 647-7737.
