Butler says he'll seek Kustra's state senate seat

by Nancy Keraminas

Ending weeks of speculation, Park Ridge Mayor Martin Butler, Republican committeeman for Maine Township, says he will ask his party to name him to take over Robert Kustra's 28th District state senate seat after Kustra is sworn in as lieutenant governor next week.

Butler spoke of his plans in a Jan. 7 Bugle interview and indicated a formal announcement would be forthcoming later this week.

"I am going to present myself to the committee Jan. 19," Butler said. "If they feel I am not the best

Three women circulate petitions to run against incumbents

Candidates line up for 5 trustee posts

by Sheilya Hackett

Five incumbent Niles trustees will line up under the Leadership Through Economy banner when they face voters April 2.

As of The Bugle deadline, only two opponents, both of them women, have come forward to challenge the incumbents. A third is pondering her decision.

Candidates must file their petitions with Village Clerk Kathy Harbison between Monday, Jan. 14 and Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Village Hall hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Park Board Commissioner

Carol Panek is a challenger, as is long time Niles resident Betty Marie Beech. While petitions for her candidacy are circulating, former park commissioner Mary Marusek is looking at the five openings on the village board and debating whether to run.

According to Niles Park District attorney Gabriel Berrafato, there is no prohibition in the park district code against a current commissioner running for another village office.

If elected, however, a new

A new year, a new decade (oh yes, it began January 1, 1991) and some new and old ideas for residents to munch over.

Bugler Diane Miller was trying to find a Niles home on Nora Avenue one evening a couple of weeks ago. Because she was unfamiliar with the area, she wandered up and down Nora before locating the home.

Diane reminded us fire department officials had suggested some time back street numbers might be painted on curbs in front of residents' homes which would enable both the police and fire departments to quickly locate a home where residents were in distress. Painting the curbs with luminous paint would be a great help, especially for locating addresses after dark.

Hot metal 'spurt' injures 3 in Skokie

An explosive spurt of hot metal injured three male workers at Wells Manufacturing, 7800 Austin Ave., Skokie, the morning of Jan. 4.

According to Captain Roger Doran of the Skokie Fire Bureau, the accident occurred when moisture contacted the hot metal as the men were attempting to chip hardened slag from molten metal in a foundry furnace.

Paramedics took injured worker Eddie Crane to Saint Francis Hospital, Evanston, but shortly afterwards he was transferred by helicopter to Loyola University Hospital, Maywood. He is in serious condition with burns over 25 percent of his body.

Two of the injured were taken to Rush North Shore Medical Center, Skokie. Maxie Hargrove was admitted with fractures and is in good condition. Milton Crane was treated and released.

Five seek Niles Park Board seats

At least five candidates, including two incumbents, are circulating nominating petitions for the Niles Park District Board of Commissioners.

Originally, there were four potential challengers to four-year seats currently held by Elaine Heinen and Walter Beusse, but former park employee Dan Kosiba reportedly has not resided in the district for the requisite entire past year and is therefore ineligible.

One hopeful is Niles firefighter Jack Henriksen. Challenger Marlene Baczek has resided in Niles for 33 years. The fifth candidate, Rick Sheridan, is involved with the Niles Baseball League.

Park Director Tom Lippert's 1992 contract may well hinge on the outcome of this spring's election. Both Beusse and Heinen joined with Commissioner Bud Skaja, Jr. last January in choosing Lippert to succeed William Hughes, with the final vote tallied as 3-2.

Election of a commissioner who would decline to renew Lippert's contract might send the Student cartoonist from Niles creates 'wacky' campus hero

by Angie Hahn

Many students in boring classes doodle on desks or in notebooks simply to while away the time.

But for two University of Dayton seniors, doodling in class has led to the creation and publication of an imaginative and humorous comic strip appearing weekly in their campus newspaper.

"Bushwack" is the creation of Joe Vance and Brett Callero, both 21-year-old art majors. Vance, from Brandon, Fla., uses his training in illustration to supply most of the drawing, while Callero, from Niles, Ill., relies on his background in design to provide most of the ideas. Their cartoon student more interested in drinking beer and picking up girls than going to class. He lives with Slato, a nerd with 6-inch-thick glasses, in the UD student housing neighborhood labeled the "Ghetto," where undergrads hold rowdy keg parties in rickety houses. Bushwack and Slato face many challenges in this run-down but well-loved neighborhood, as well as in the classroom.

Vance and Callero have a simple reason for doing a school comic strip: pure fun. And because it is for fun, they avoid getting into political issues, often the main topic of past cartoonists' work.

"We wanted to be more fun and original," Callero said. "We thought we could do a better job, too."

Both artists have had work published before. Vance did several illustrations for his Tampa Jesuit High School yearbook and the student literary magazine, "The Liar." Callero was once paid $750 by a publisher in Niles, Ill., for designing a children's coloring book. The publisher, a friend of Callero's parents who knew Callero was interested in art, printed about 100,000 copies of the coloring book. The copies were given away for free at local doctors' offices.

Vance and Callero get most of their ideas for "Bushwack" from school events. For example, two strips in September dealt with the fears of Bushwack and Slato as they searched in vain for Homecoming dates.

"We try to synchronize it with the school year," Callero said. The artists also use personal experiences and stories from friends.

"But the hard part is visualizing ideas," Vance said. "We waste a lot of time at first just joking around."

A basic cartoon takes about four hours to complete. It has a main theme such as finding housing near campus, going to Ghetto parties and attending classes. The artists then personalize the sketch by adding amusing details. If readers look closely they can see birthday greetings to friends, kegs labeled "Beastly Brew," and Kermit the Frog waving from the crowd at the Homecoming dance.

As the designer Callero is more realistic. He picks the general theme, then turns to Vance for the illustrations.

"I say to Joe, 'We need someone who looks like a heavy metal rock fan,' and he's the one who draws a scummy-looking guy with long hair smoking a cigarette and wearing leather," Callero said.

Not everyone is easy to draw, however. Vance said that although things get easier with each cartoon, it is still often a matter of trial and error to caricaturize people.

"Lots of times our friends say, 'Put me in your cartoon,'" Callero said. "I have to explain that caricatures aren't flattering. If you have a big nose, it'll be even bigger in the cartoon."

Vance and Callero agree that doing "Bushwack" is fun but sometimes difficult.

"It's killing me by taking time from schoolwork," Vance said. "But I'd rather do this than that."

"Bushwack" is good experience for Vance, who is considering working in Orlando, Fla., as an animator. Callero probably will not use "Bushwack" to get a the paper," Callero said. "Only one person told me it wasn't funny."

The best thing is we're getting better," Vance added.

Editors at The UD Flyer News agree with the artists that "Bushwack" is so far very successful. The Flyer News had usually ran an editorial cartoon, but when Vance and Callero applied with a comic strip complete with characters and topic ideas, the two received space to do a features cartoon.

Joe and Brett's characters were universal" said El Domencione, co-editor in chief. "Everyone could relate. The cartoon is in every other issue, and I've had people ask me why it wasn't in the paper two times in a row."

Jennifer Zaums, associate editor, also likes the comic strip.

"Since they're art majors, Joe and Brett know what they're doing," she said. "Plus 'Bushwack' is funny. It shows light humor."

Although Vance and Callero like to poke fun at school issues in their cartoon, they are not above poking fun at themselves. Over job. Instead, he will list it as a school activity.

Vance and Callero also have comic favorites of their own. For Callero, "The Far Side" is number one. Vance prefers animated cartoons.

"Bugs Bunny is God -- he and Henson," he said.

People's reactions to "Bushwack" have generally been positive, the artists said.

'Pack The Place' to benefit Plainfield

Niles West High School will attempt to "Pack The Place" for basketball games on Jan. 12, with all proceeds to be donated to Plainfield High School's fund to replace instructional computers, which were damaged in the August tornado.

Pack the Place, which is designed to encourage attendance at athletic events, will begin at 6 p.m. Jan. 12 when the girl's basketball team takes on Chicago Roosevelt. The boy's basketball team will play Chicago Roosevelt at 8:15 p.m. Donations will be taken at the door.

Area businesses can become Corporate Sponsors by donating a minimum of $100. Each sponsor will receive a block of ten seats in a reserved section of the stands, as well as refreshments in the VIP room. For information, contact the Niles West Athletic Office. (708) 966-3800.

Student wins piece of Berlin Wall

Niles West High School freshman Oliver DeoCampo was one of 1,000 national winners of a piece of the Berlin Wall in a contest sponsored by the government of Berlin, Germany. DeoCampo, a student in Peter Zorn's first-year honors German class, answered every question correctly on an informational quiz about Berlin history. More than 100,000 students took the test nationally.

Twelve local young men and women were arrested by Niles police following a disturbance report by the manager of the motel where they allegedly held a party Jan. 5. Only one of the arrestees were of legal drinking age to consume the beer found in the motel room.

According to reports, a 19-year-old girl rented a room at the Days Inn, 6450 Touhy Ave., indicating only two persons would be using the room. The manager contacted police when it became

Final cost of water link-up with Niles still undetermined

Utility manager defends township's water quality

by Sheilya Hackett

The manager of the North Suburban Public Utility company (NSPU) on Jan. 4 could not estimate the final cost to incorporate Maine Township consumers of buying Lake Michigan water from Niles. He also rejected assertions his water supply was unsafe or unpleasant.

Carl Ake, NSPU manager, said a mid-December meeting before an Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing officer was to seek approval of NSPU's contract with Niles and of a $1 surcharge for the water to be passed through to its customers. The seven-member ICC board will act upon the hearing officer's proposal within a few weeks.

Customers of NSPU currently pay a basic fee of $1.57 per 1,000 gallons of water and the $1 surcharge brings the fee to $2.57. When the link-up occurs, NSPU will pay Niles the lowest rate the village charges to its customers. Ake explained his customers would not be charged until the "day we start supplying Lake Michigan water."

The utility is not asking customers to pay for improvements to the water system that will enable the link-up at this time, but could at some time in the future. Ake suggested the state of the U.S. economy and possible cooperative purchases with water suppliers to other communities could reduce costs. He said the utility

Edison commits $3 billion to meet demand

Recognizing the rising expectations of electricity consumers for more reliable service, Commonwealth Edison has budgeted $3.175 billion over the next five years for the reinforcement and expansion of its transmission and distribution system.

"Commonwealth Edison is working to become a more flexible, responsive organization," declared Chairman James J. O'Connor, "so that we will be the supplier of electric service that best meets our customers' needs. People expect better electric service than they did five or ten years ago, and we are committed to meeting their expectations."

The transmission and distribution share of the 1991-1995 construction budget shows an increase of nearly 19 percent, or $500 million, over the amount set aside in the previous five-year budget. The new T & D program is more than 50 percent, or $1 billion, greater than its 1989-1993 counterpart.

"Our transmission and distribution system delivers electricity to the homes and places of business of 8 million people in northern Illinois," O'Connor noted. "By dedicating nearly two-thirds of our construction budget to continue upgrading our delivery system, we are committed to maintaining and improving our already high reliability level."

The total construction budget for each of the next five years is as follows: 1991, $1,050 billion; 1992, $1,050 billion; 1993, $1 billion; 1994, $925 million; and 1995, $925 million.

Senior Lifestyle appoints new General Manager

Todd Miller, a ten-year veteran of the senior residential industry, has been selected as the new General Manager of The Breakers at Edgewater Beach, 5333 N. Sheridan Road.

In this position, Miller, 40, will be responsible for managing all departments and staff of The Breakers at Edgewater Beach and supervising the overall condition of the community.

Miller began his career in the senior housing industry in 1980 as a marketing counselor for a retirement community in Omaha, Nebraska. Within six months, he was promoted to general manager. Since that time, he has been associated with over ten senior rental facilities throughout the United States. As a general manager, he has supervised the opening of three retirement communities in the Chicago area and Florida. In the position of regional operations manager, he facilitated the opening of eight senior communities throughout the East Coast and was responsible for the day-to-day operations, including the hiring and training of management.

According to Miller, he is delighted to be back in Chicago and managing The Breakers at Edgewater Beach. "As the General Manager, I have the opportunity of more direct involvement with the residents and staff," state Miller. "One of the most rewarding features of my position is knowing when I've made a difference in someone's life, whether it be to help relieve a resident's fear of transition or, contributing to the growth and development of a staff member."

He concludes that out of all the senior communities where he has been associated, "Senior Lifestyle Corporation far exceeds industry standards" with regards to qualified, dedicated personnel and a commitment to provide the finest services in senior housing.

Lawrence House is bearing all Jan. 15

Remember "Teddie," "T," "T.B.," "Theo?" Whatever you called your furry, cuddly, playmate of the past, the Lawrence House, 1020 W. Lawrence Ave., is providing teddy bear lovers and connoisseurs to partake in the free and open to the public Teddy Bear Tea on Jan. 15, 2-4 p.m.

Teddy bear collector, Ruthie Hornaday has come out of hibernation to display her nostalgic assortment of rare teddy bears from around the world. Her bevy of bears include ones made out of fur and leather; hand-painted bears; old and new; and the very elite of bears—Steiff.

All are invited to share their favorite "honeyys!" Awards will be presented to owners of teddies in the following categories: most loved (i.e. missing a limb); most original (for example, made out of rubber bands); and oldest (handed down six generations, etc.).

A presentation of the beloved classic, "Velveteen Rabbit," will kick off the afternoon. Bear-shaped refreshments and tea will be provided for guests with a bear-of-an-appetite.

"Cub" one, "cub" all to the Lawrence House Teddy Bear Tea. Bear hugs for all! For further information contact Janet Spingola at (312) 561-2100.

Keep pipes warm in winter

Winter weather may threaten water pipes which are exposed to freezing temperatures.

To reduce the risk of his happening, here's a couple of suggestions to follow when the mercury dips below freezing:

• Add extra insulation to water pipes and your water meter. Special wrapping insulation available at hardware or home improvement stores.

• Let a faucet run slightly when the temperature/wind chill falls to zero or less and keep it running until the temperature rises again.

Maryville receives Christmas gift baskets

Donna Wright of Des Plaines-based Old World Trading unloads one of the many Christmas gift baskets the company donated to Maryville City of Youth, Illinois' largest residential-care facility for children from infancy to age 18. The baskets were filled with food, clothing and toys donated by Old World employees. Old World Trading is the nation's second largest marketer of antifreeze, under the brand names PEAK, Full Force and Advance.

Center seeks snow shovelers

The opportunity for young people to earn extra money by shoveling snow is being offered by The Center of Concern. Nothing is required other than a willingness to clear the sidewalks for those who, either because of age or disability, can no longer take care of that kind of physical work. The Center is requesting a prompt reply to this need of people in the community, so please call the office without delay at (708) 823-0453 or stop in to Suite 223 of the 1580 Northwest Highway Building for further information.

YOUR PARENTS AND YOU

My Mother Needs Me. How Can I Take A Vacation?

A friend of mine recently told me of a personal dilemma. He and his wife had scheduled an extended vacation. But he felt he would have to cancel his plans when his mother unexpectedly had some minor surgery and was placed on a regular program of medication. "How can I leave on a vacation when she needs me to make sure that she is well taken care of?" he asked me. I suggested that he look into Ballard's respite care program. Ballard welcomes those who need a bit of looking after for short stays, providing a congenial, homey atmosphere and lots of activities - one for you and your wife and one for your mother.

The story had a happy ending, a double happy ending. My friend took his hard-earned three week vacation. And his mother "loved every minute" of her stay with Ballard. "The people were great, the food was wonderful and I was so busy with all of the activities and socializing."

If you are looking for a home away from home for a short stay, call Jill Sirotzki at (708) 299-0182 for details on Ballard's "double vacation" plan.

Rules of Road review course

Secretary of State Jim Edgar, in cooperation with Park Ridge Senior Center is offering a Rules of the Road Review Course for all citizens in the Park Ridge area. The purpose of the course is to help applicants pass the Illinois drivers license renewal examination. It updates drivers on the current rules of the road, explains the vision and the driving ability examinations, and prepares applicants for the general written and road sign examinations.

The Rules of the Road Review Course will be held at Park Ridge Senior Center, 100 S. Western, Park Ridge on Jan. 16 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The course is free to anyone, any age, who wishes to attend. For more information, please contact 823-2114 or 1 (800) 252-2904 toll free.

Computer group meets Jan. 15

The Manufacturing Special Interest Group of the Chicago Computer Society (a not-for-profit organization) will meet Jan. 15 at 6 p.m. at the Office of C. W. Electronic, 519 W. Golf Rd., Arlington Heights. This computer group is directed to individuals working within the manufacturing industries. Engineers, sales and marketing, and corporate managers will find new computer applications. Several types of software and hardware will be featured. Typical lecture topics include user applications of productivity enhancing tools such as the high speed 386-PC used to replace the mini and mainframe providing enhanced flexibility and lower cost to small firms or departments. Refreshments and snacks will be served. Featured speaker Jan 15 will be Robert Gauthier, industrial engineer and consultant, B&M.C. Presentation will be on manufacturing applications based on relational database, job scheduling and routings, productivity evaluation, job cost systems, material and inventory control and quality control. Call Bill Luksa (708) 967-6852 for information and suggestions.

HIGH SCHOOLS INVITE SENIORS

Maine East, Niles North and Niles West High schools invite township residents age 60+ to join in on free school productions to be performed this winter.

At Maine East: "Noises Off" winter play at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 24 and 8 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 26.

At Niles North: "Norscapades" variety show at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 17.

For more information about activities open to senior citizens at the schools call 673-6822, ext. 5422 for the Niles Township schools and 825-4484, ext. 4439 for the Maine Township schools.

O'HARE TOUR AND FOUNTAIN BLUE LUNCH

A tour of the busiest airport in the world including an actual walk on the runway followed by a scrumptious lunch at the Fountain Blue Restaurant. The trip, sponsored by Morton Grove's Prairie View Senior Travel Club departs at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 15 from the Prairie View Community Center and costs $25 for residents and $27.50 for non-residents. Call Ronce Brenner at Prairie View before Jan. 11 for more details.

SNOW REMOVAL

As we get a little bit older it becomes recommended, for the sake of our backs and hearts, that we not attempt to clear heavy snow from our sidewalks and driveways. Compounding the problem of snow accumulation is the fear of being "cut off" from food, friends and medical help if we're snowed in. Morton Grove's Senior Citizens Services is trying to help solve this dilemma by providing referrals of teen and young adult snow shovelers as well as snow plowers that can be hired by homeowners to remove snow and ice. To receive a referral of a worker in your neighborhood, call today at 470-5246. The sooner you contact your helper and acquaint him or her with your property and expectations, the less traumatic the snowfall will be.

LIBRARY FILMS

Two excellent feature films will be shown free of charge at the Morton Grove Public Library. "Cinema Paradiso," an Italian film nominated for an Oscar last year, will be shown on Monday, Jan. 14 at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. This charming film tells the story of a young Sicilian boy who becomes entranced by the magic of the movies he sees at the local movie house, where the grief-stricken projectionist gives him an education in life and love. Then at the same times on Monday, Feb. 11, the mystery thriller, "Presumed Innocent" will be shown. This dramatic film version of the blockbuster novel by Scott Turow stars Brian Dennehy, Raul Julia, and Harrison Ford as a lawyer indicted for the murder of his mistress. (Rated R).

VISUALLY IMPAIRED MOTIVATORS

Morton Grove's support group for persons with visual impairments, the Visually Impaired Motivators, will hold their next meeting at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 15 in the Flickinger Senior Center. Helpful information and supportive interaction will help participants adjust to their impairments. For more information or to arrange for transportation, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

CARIBBEAN CRUISE

The Prairie View Senior Travel Club will sail the MS Caribe beginning on Feb. 2, 1991. The ship will leave Miami and make stops at Puerto Plata, San Juan, St. John and St. Thomas. Fine dining, outstanding evening entertainment, superior recreational facilities, and of course the romance of the tropics promise to make this an unforgettable voyage. Ronce Brenner, Senior Adult Supervisor from the Morton Grove Park District will escort this cruise and be there to make it as hassle-free as can be. If interested call her at 965-7447 as soon as possible.

RUSH NORTH SHORE GOOD HEALTH PROGRAM

A number of "Good Health Programs" will be offered in January and February of 1991 for interested individuals to participate in at Rush North Shore Hospital. The programs include: Stop Smoking Clinics, Weight Control - Achieving Behavior Control, Exercise for People with Arthritis, Arthritis Support Group, Breathing Improvement Program, Stroke Club, Chemical Dependency Program for Friends and Relatives. Of special interest will be the following free programs: Seminar on Breast Health from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Jan. 26; Keeping Your Health Healthy, noon to 1 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 7. For details about these programs call the hospital at 677-9600, ext. 3588.

INTERGENERATIONAL COURSES

Oakton Community College will offer two intergenerational courses starting the week of Jan. 14 at their Skokie campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave. The courses are entitled, Introduction to Intergenerational Programming, where students learn how to set up creative programs for children and older adults. The class time is on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:20 p.m. The second course is, Curriculum II - Language Arts and Social Studies, emphasizing the planning and developing of activities in language arts, children's literature and social studies. The class time is on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9:20 p.m. Registration is now in progress. For further information call (708) 635-1461.

VILLAGE OF SKOKIE

The Smith Activities Center located at Lincoln and Galitz in Skokie will have a "Spelling Bee" on Jan. 14, at 1:30 p.m. Try your hand and mind at a spelling contest. Prizes to be awarded to the best speller. Come one come all and help make this a fun afternoon. For further information please call 673-0500, ext. 338.

Kustra celebrates victory

Lt. Governor-elect Bob Kustra, of Park Ridge, joined members of the Maine Township Regular Republican Organization at their holiday celebration in December. Congratulating him on his election victory are Marty Moylan and Donna McAllister of Des Plaines.

Kustra has served residents of Maine Township as state representative and state senator for the past decade, and been an active member of the Regular Republican Organization. The group, now headed by Martin J. Butler, committeeman, meets the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Maine Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge. All interested residents are invited to join in active membership.

Interns needed at state parks

State Sen. Walter Dudyecz (R-Chicago) reports that the Department of Conservation needs college students to serve as paid interns at several state parks around Illinois next summer.

Dudyecz said the program gives college students an opportunity for hands-on experience in park interpretation, recreation and management. They will be paid $800 a month and will work from May 16 to Aug. 15.

The internships will be at Illinois Beach, Pere Marquette, Goose Lake Prairie, Starved Rock, Giant City, Shelbyville, R&M Canal and at the Springfield administrative office. Dudyecz said non-paid internships also may be set up at various conservation sites.

Students who want to learn more about the internships may call or write to Mitch Ingold at the Department of Conservation Division of Land Management, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62701-1787, (217) 782-6752.

Divorce group forms in Niles

A group aimed at divorcee or those men and women in the process of divorce, aged 18 and above, will be offered at Niles Family Service, 8060 Oakton St., in the Trident Center. A nominal fee will be required.

This group will begin Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 7 p.m. It will last until 8:30 p.m. All Niles residents who can benefit from this group are welcome.

The group will help divorced people to better understand their problems and feelings, and help other divorced people to do the same.

Bugle results have been overwhelming

To my friends at the Bugle:

I just wanted to take a minute to tell you how pleased I am with the service I am getting from all of you at the Niles Bugle. As a professional starting out in Niles, I really can appreciate the attention I have received from both you and the people in Niles. My advertising representative, Laverne Bell, has been both generous and helpful in my endeavors and the results from her service have been overwhelming.

My first look at the Bugle was when I began scanning the sports pages for my name in the Niles Baseball League reports. Now that I have grown and begun to use the services of the paper, I can see the work that you put into the publication.

Many thanks to you and happy holidays,

Wiesenthal Center presents 'Woman of Valor' Award

Pictured accepting the prestigious Simon Wiesenthal Center's "Woman of Valor" Award at a recent citywide dinner in her honor is well-known Chicago philanthropist Emma Getz. Making the presentation on behalf of the Center is their dean, Rabbi Marvin Hier. The Simon Wiesenthal Center, founded in 1977 and headquartered in Los Angeles, has become an international center for Holocaust remembrance, the defense of human rights and the Jewish people. To serve its membership of over 380,000 families, the Center maintains offices in Chicago, New York, Miami, Toronto, Jerusalem and Paris.

Ladies Theology twenty-fifth anniversary series

Movers and shakers on the Chicago religion scene consider it an honor to be invited to speak at Ladies Theology of Park Ridge. This unusual group was started in 1966 by theologian Mary Jule Durkin, sister of Andrew Greeley, and has inspired the growth of several similar groups over the years.

Back in the late '60s, it was fairly radical to think that lay women would be interested in lectures on theology. But, Ladies Theology has grown from a small parish organization at Mary, Seat of Wisdom Church, to a series that attracts about 125 women from a wide variety of churches in several suburbs.

For twenty-five years (and for just a small stipend) well-known theologians, writers, and activists like Fr. Charles Meyer, Fr. John Shea, Rev. Kenneth Vaux, Richard Westley, Edwina Gately, and Patrick Murphy, have beaten a path to the northwest suburbs to address this informed, challenging group. Moderator Fr. John Cusick, Director of Young Adult Ministry for the Archdiocese of Chicago and Associate Pastor of Old St. Patrick's Church, explains: "It's a constant source of idea exchange—a forum. It works for its speakers, who see people excited about their faith and wanting to know more and be more. It works for the participants...they listen...they absorb...they give it away. The women of Ladies Theology are alive with the faith, and giving it away to others makes God win out again."

Ladies Theology will sponsor a special series in the Spring and Fall of 1991 to mark its twenty-fifth anniversary (dates to be announced). Speakers will include: Mary Jule Durkin, Florence Smithe, Fr. Tom Ventura, Rev. Howard Palm, Fr. John Shea, Fr. Don Senior, Fr. Charles Meyer, Richard Westley, Edwina Gately, Fr. Gorman Sullivan, and charter member, Dorothy Spellman.

For further information, contact: Susanna Bell, Publicity Director Ladies Theology of Park Ridge (708) 825-7283.

Lutheran Choir of Chicago is conducted by Don Oberg, formerly professor of Music Education at Jonkoping Teacher's College, Sweden, and conductor of the National Swedish Chamber Choir, Acappella. Harp music at this choir performance will be played by talented Chicagoan, Lynn Kirkwood.

Investment outlook for the new year

by Jeffrey L. Cardella

1990 was an eventful year. The end of the Cold War and the call for democratic reforms throughout the Eastern Bloc heartened the nation: Investors were optimistic, and during the first six months of the year, Dow Jones Industrial Average soared, regularly setting record highs.

The tide turned in August, when Saddam Hussein's Iraqi troops invaded Kuwait. Immediately following the invasion, oil prices jumped more than $10 per barrel, adding pressure to an already strained U.S. economy. Every increase in gas prices takes more from consumer's pockets.

As U.S. troops stormed into the Persian Gulf, economic growth on the home front slowed dramatically. Trading volume on the New York Stock Exchange fell to its lowest level for the year, and many investors took a wait-and-see attitude toward the stock market.

In a final blow, Congress' October budget agreement raised taxes and reduced government spending in an effort to trim more than $500 billion from the deficit over the next five years.

All these events have contributed to make the New Year an uncertain period for individual investors. What will 1991 bring?

With experts forecasting a decline in the Gross National Product for the fourth quarter of 1990 and the first quarter of 1991, economists have declared that the nation is indeed in a recession. Many experts are predicting a relatively mild recession that should last six to 10 months. By the end of '91, they actually anticipate seeing a 0.5 percent of 1 percent rise in GNP.

Long-term interest rates, currently near 8%, are expected to decline modestly in the New Year. The fall in short-term rates, however, is expected to be more significant. Already, short-term rates have slumped from 7.59% at the beginning of 1990 to 7.04% as of mid-December of 1990.

What does all this mean to the individual investor? After eight consecutive years of gains, the recent declines have come as a shock to many investors.

If, like most successful investors, you take the long-term approach to investing, then the current environment could mean opportunity.

Many studies have shown over longer periods of time, the stock market provides substantially higher returns than other financial investments. Specifically, the stock market, as measured by the Standard & Poor's 500, has experienced average annual returns of 10.3% since 1926. This compares favorably to the 4.3% average annual return for long-term government bonds.

Nobody knows what direction the stock market will take over the next week, the next month or even the next six months, but most experts agree that the U.S. economy will be considerably larger five years from now than it is presently. And one way to participate in that growth is to own stocks, either directly or through mutual funds that invest in stocks.

Despite the uncertainty surrounding the New Year, there could be some attractive opportunities and investors need to take advantage of them.

Police News

Cars burglarized

A Chicagoan who works as a risk analyst parked his '88 Honda in a lot in the 6800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the night of Dec. 28 and returned to find persons unknown had jimmied the car lock and took items he had put under the front seat. Lost belongings included a check wallet and blank checks valued at $25; a Walkman cassette player valued at $100; a wrench set valued at $50 and a watch valued at $150.

Ten days later, the man's bank notified him a check for $125 had been cashed at a grocery store.

The night of Jan. 1, a Wilmette man parked his '88 Chevrolet Cavalier in a lot in the 7300 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, then later discovered unknown offenders had broken a car window and taken an AM/FM cassette radio valued at $695 from the dash board, along with two CDs he valued at $26.

Dash board radios were also taken by unknown offenders from an '87 Toyota parked in the rear of the 5700 block of Dempster Street, and from an '86 Volkswagen parked in the 9000 block of Harlem Avenue, Morton Grove, Jan. 1 and 2.

The Toyota experienced $200 window damage in the theft of a $600 AM/FM cassette radio; the Volkswagen sustained $200 in damage to a rear window and the loss of an AM/FM stereo valued at $300.

Neon sign stolen
A $1,000 neon sign was reportedly stolen from outside a residence in the 9800 block of Robin Drive Jan. 1.

Paramedics help 2 with cut wrists

Morton Grove paramedics assisted two residents with cut wrists Jan. 4 and 5.

A 29-year-old man accidentally cut his wrist while opening boxes in a stock room in a grocery store in the 5700 block of Dempster Street, Jan. 4. He was taken to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

In a second incident Jan. 5, a 37-year-old housewife inadvertently cut her wrist on a broken sugar bowl in her kitchen in the 8900 block of Harms Road. She was taken to Rush North Shore Medical Center in Skokie.

Criminal damage to property

A resident of the 5700 block of Crain Avenue, Morton Grove, told police she saw a man wearing a sweater break her front lamp post the early morning of Jan. 1. She estimated her loss at $60.

The night of Jan. 4, BB-type projectiles caused $200 damage to a rear side window in an '84 Chevrolet Caprice wagon parked on the street in the 7100 block of Enfield Avenue, Morton Grove. No projectiles were found in the car.

Alerted by a security alarm company, police found a broken window and two rocks on the floor inside an emergency medical office in the 9200 block of Waukegan Road, Morton Grove, the early morning of Dec. 30. No estimate of damage was given.

Irate restaurant patrons complain to management

On New Year's Eve, numerous irate customers in a restaurant in the 8800 block of Waukegan Road, Morton Grove, complained they had paid $30, each, for dinner and entertainment, but the waiter staff was insufficient.

Some told police they had waited three-and-a-half hours and had not been served dinner. Many who lined up in the restaurant's office received refunds and others were asked to return Jan. 2 to get refunds.

One floor manager at the dining spot said he was giving out complimentary drinks, attempting to serve the customers and was unaware of any difficulties.

A Skokie man later reported a $3,500 mink coat stolen from the office that had been crowded with complaining customers.

Coins worth $8,000 stolen from car

When an Arlington Heights man's car had a flat tire in the 5700 block of Warren Street, Morton Grove, the evening of Jan. 4, the man walked to his father-in-law's house for assistance, leaving his locked car parked on the street.

Returning in about 30 minutes, the man found a car window broken and his attaché case, containing $8,000 in collector coins, missing. The car's security alarm apparently failed to activate and nearby residents said they saw nothing unusual.

The man valued the attaché case at $60 and the car window at $150.

Man caught stealing irons

A 20-year-old Chicago man with an extensive criminal background was charged with felony theft after security agents at a Niles grocery store caught him taking two clothes irons.

Grant V. Bell, who gave his name as Michale Beamon, was ordered to post a $70,000 bond after the Jan. 5 incident at 8750 Golf Road, Bell, of 3750 S. Lake Park Ave., was scheduled for a Jan. 29 court appearance.

Retail theft arrests

Sears security agents arrested a 26-year-old Evanston woman with $116.85 worth of perfume and watches, according to reports. She will appear in court Jan. 27.

Sportmart security guards nabbed a 19-year-old Morton Grove woman who reportedly switched price tags on two pairs of gym shoes to avoid a $70 shoe bill. She will appear in court Jan. 29.

MG park building vandalized

Between Dec. 29-30, persons unknown used a portable butane torch to cut open the front plexiglass entrance door to the Morton Grove Park District's field house pool building in the 6800 block of Dempster Street.

Once inside the building, the offenders opened a few windows, but took nothing.

Couple attempts to use stolen credit card

The evening of Jan. 5, a man and woman stopped at a gas station mart in the 5600 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, and bought miscellaneous items and three cartons of cigarettes.

They paid the over $78 bill with a credit card, then left the office to put gas in their car. The cashier meanwhile realized a discrepancy between the name on the credit card and the customers, although the card was not listed as missing, and was telephoning police when the woman returned to ask him to turn on the gas pump.

When the cashier refused to honor a second purchase, the woman's companion urged her back into the car and they drove off.

Warehouse/office building burglarized

Persons unknown entered a warehouse/office combination building in the 8200 block of Lehigh Avenue, Morton Grove, between Dec. 31 and Jan. 2, removing tools, including a forklift recharger, saw and drills and a microwave oven from the premises.

The items were valued at $690. A rear door was found unlocked and there were no signs of forced entry.

Police question sailor with gun

Cook County Sheriff's Police took a Glenview Naval Air Station enlisted man into custody after Niles police questioned him regarding a shotgun and a semi-automatic handgun in his car Jan. 5.

The manager of Mykonos Restaurant approached a Niles officer on the street, according to reports and told him a man in a 1988 Nissan Sentra was displaying a shotgun in the restaurant's parking lot at 8660 Golf Road. The Niles officer approached the suspect and ordered him out of the Sentra.

Baby goods thieves caught

Two would be baby goods thieves disposed of their loot when they noticed that Omni staffers were observing their illegal antics Jan. 2.

The manager of the 7801 Waukegan Road store and another employee saw the two women and one man load a cart with nine full cases of baby formula worth $324 and a case of diapers worth $24.99 and leave the store.

When the trio realized they were being watched, they fled in a 1980 Olds-type vehicle. Witnesses said the trio had been at the store for three continuous Sundays.

Youths steal sleepwear from Golf Mill store

Two similarly-clad youths, who also physically resembled each other caught a Golf Mill retailer napping, when they escaped with $1,620 worth of pajamas from a display Jan. 5.

According to reports, the pair of five-foot five-inch, 120-pound male teens, each wearing jeans, a grey hat and a blue ski jacket, entered Kohls and took 60 sets of the sleepwear, which was displayed near an entrance.

Man arrested for stealing cologne

Police confronted a Chicago man, 26, outside a cosmetics store in the 9700 block of Golf Road, Morton Grove, the evening of Jan. 3 after a security TV surveillance screen showed him hiding four bottles of men's cologne inside his shirt.

Because the man left the store without paying for the items, valued at about $26, he was arrested, charged with retail theft and given a court date of Jan. 23.

Employees steal $1,000 in refund scam

An 18-year-old-Chicago woman, an employee in a cosmetics store in the 6800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, confessed to her store manager she had falsified refund cards and took cash totaling $1,000.

She said she divided some of the money with a fellow employee, also a Chicago resident. The fellow employee later made restitution, but the originator of the scam was charged with felony theft and given a court date of Jan. 24. Her bond was set at $5,000.

Man reports lost passport

A Skokie man told police he discovered he had lost his Pakistani passport containing $124 sometime after he left a bus at the intersection of Dempster Street and Waukegan Road, Morton Grove, the evening of Jan. 2.

Auto burglaries

Someone reportedly broke out a window of a 1987 Jetta parked in Willowby's Restaurant rear lot at 5960 Touhy Ave., Niles, removing a $500 radio and causing $100 damage Jan. 2.

A $400 tuxedo and a $350 radar detector were stolen Jan. 2 from a 1980 Cadillac Eldorado parked outside Golf Mill shopping center.

A 1984 Mercedes was burglarized Jan. 1, while its owner visited her mother in the 7900 block of Nordica Avenue. The owner reportedly is missing a $500 camera, $75 purse, $175 radar detector and a car phone of undetermined value.

Computer professor skates her way through a double life

One thing you can't say about Netiva Caftori is that she's typical - of anything. A woman who's not afraid of math, a computer professor who also competes in a sport, a native of a hot weather country who ice skates. Give Netiva Caftori a stereotype and she'll shatter it.

Caftori is assistant professor of Computer Science at Northeastern Illinois University where she teaches others how to teach. Small, dark and animated, it's easy to mistake her for a student. Caftori has been at Northeastern for eight years, and is working on a Ph.D. in computer education at University of Illinois, Chicago.

Caftori started ice skating competitively a year and a half ago. She skates in the morning at a local rink before work. She and her family, husband Joel Hodes (a management consultant) and their three young daughters, competed this past summer in the Ice Skating Institute of America (ISIA) annual national competition in Dallas, Texas. Their team, consisting of all Skokie residents, placed seventh nationally out of over ninety teams.

Perhaps it's Caftori's willingness to take on a challenge which is responsible for landing her in computer education. "A lot of students are afraid of computers," she says. "I just hold their hands and teach them. In one semester, they become computer-literate." Her approach to teaching is not complex: "Give kids the tools, encourage them to learn math."

She sees fewer women in math and computer fields, but feels that women can do as well as men. "They have the abilities inside of them. They just have to get it out. Boys are encouraged in math and treated differently from the beginning of their lives," she says. Men might be more attracted than women to technical fields, but "who says math has to be technical?" Caftori admires Northeastern for its size and down-to-earth faculty. Here, she's found a sense

Netiva Caftori

Israel, she was a second lieutenant in the Israeli army. She attended high school in France, and later emigrated to America. These days, she keeps up with the rest of the world as Alaska, Mexico and the Far East.

It's hard to imagine Caftori sitting still. She has written a computer book, OS/2 by Example (Operating System Job Control Language). She's secretary of Computer Professionals for Social Responsibility (Chicago chapter), an alliance of computer professionals concerned about the impact of computer technology on society. She also advises the Data Processing Management Association at Northeastern, and is working on a special project to train Chicago elementary school teachers in computer literacy. Next spring, she will teach an honors colloquium at Northeastern called "Impact of Computers on Society."

Caftori attended Tel Aviv University and received her degrees, a master's in mathematics and a bachelor's in mathematics and French, from the University of Illinois, Chicago.

Oakton courses in early childhood education

The Early Childhood Development (ECD) program at Oakton Community College continues to expand its course offerings to meet the changing child care needs. In addition to the core ECD courses, several specialized courses are offered to support the development of high quality child care options.

Courses, beginning Jan. 14, are offered during day and evening hours and on Saturdays. Special interest courses include: "Home Child Care Provider" (ECD 165) examines the role of the home child care provider as a valuable member of the early childhood profession. The session includes intensive hands-on activities, projects, observations and discussions.

"Theory and Methods for the School Age Child" (ECD 171) explores ways of planning, implementing and evaluating an activity curriculum for children. Field work is required.

Early Childhood Administration (ECD 273) analyzes current early childhood administrative practices and procedures. The development of administrative strategies relating to staff, parents and community will be highlighted. "The Exceptional Child" (ECD 180) studies current issues, including educational implications related to special needs children and their families.

Other ECD courses offered include: "Child Growth and Development" (ECD 102), "Introduction to Early Childhood Education" (ECD 104), "History and Philosophy of Early Childhood Education" (ECD 105), "Nutrition and Health for the Young Child" (ECD 108), "Play and Creative Expression" (ECD 125) and "Curriculum III—Math and Science" (ECD 227).

For course information, call 635-1884. To register, call 635-1700.

Schools conduct pre-school screening

All school districts in Niles Township will be conducting free developmental screening during the months of January, February and March, for all children who are 3 and 4 years of age.

This annual screening is held to assess a child's general development and to detect any problems or delays in vision, hearing, motor, cognitive, social-emotional and/or speech and language development.

Members of the special services team will be conducting the screening and will provide feedback to parents as to their child's performance. The screening is done informally and children generally enjoy the process.

This screening is strongly recommended. Educational problems identified at an early age can be corrected. If the screening identifies educational needs, services are available in the township.

Pre-school children screening last year can be re-evaluated this year.

All children living in any of the nine Niles Township Districts are eligible. There is no charge for this service. The screening requires about 45 minutes to complete.

Contact local school districts below for further information: Dist. 67/Hynes School, March 6, 7, 8, 9, 655-4500; Pat Steinman; Dist. 70/Parkview School, Jan. 23, 24, 25, 28, 29, 30, 965-6200; Clare Carlson; Dist. 71/Niles Elementary, March 6, 7, 647-9752; Kathleen Panke.

Regina slates placement exam

Golden Apple Academy Scholar named

Jennifer Cohan, senior at St. Scholastica High School, 7416 N. Ridge Ave., Chicago, has been named a 1991 Golden Apple Academy Scholar by The Foundation for Excellence in Teaching. This award, made to only fifteen scholars each year, encourages high school students to enter the teaching field.

At Scholastica, Jennifer has consistently demonstrated qualities of a model student. She is hard working, mature, competitive, and intelligent, with the character and academic skills found in outstanding teachers. She has recently been named a finalist in the Illinois State Scholar Program, an honor given to high school juniors who excel in the ACT/SAT exams.

Having mastered French, Jennifer is now studying the Spanish language and culture. Her strength, though, is in mathematics - the subject she would like to teach.

Golden Apple Scholars are supported throughout college and their early years of teaching by the Golden Apple Foundation. They receive admissions assistance to one of six participating universities, guidance in obtaining loans, financial aid, paid summer internships, forgiveness of loans through a five-year teaching commitment, bonuses for teaching in schools with low-income students, and the ongoing mentoring by members of the Golden Apple Academy of Educators - an elite group of Golden Apple award-winning teachers.

Maine East gymnasts earn top spots

Although school is out for a few weeks, the Maine East gymnasts are taking no break, as they earned top spots in four events at the Holiday Palatine Invitational.

Junior Angie DeMano tied for 1st on the Balance Beam with an 8.9 and took 4th in the All-Around, with an 8.55 average, as well as a 4th in Floor Exercise with an 8.9.

Teammate Janis Szukala also brought home medals on Floor Ex with a score of 9.2 good for 2nd place, as well as a 3rd place medal on Vault with a 9.05. Junior Szukala was 6th in the All-Around with an 8.5 average.

Another Demon gymnast who fared well at the Palatine meet was Senior Captain Jenny DeMano, as she scored 8.5 on Floor Ex, nailing her "scissors leap-punch front" combination to start out the routine.

Senior Michelle Scott also scored an 8.0 on Vault, and Senior Cheryl Martino started the beam team out with a 7.8 on a stuck routine that included a double turn. Co-Captain Kristen Chun contributed a solid 7.5 Floor Ex. score.

The Maine East girls are well on their way to a division championship in the CSL as they defeated rival Deerfield on Dec. 20, 130.8 to 127.5. The team effort started out very strong as J. Szukala hit a 9.2 vault, A. DeMano had an 8.9, J. DeMano had an 8.7, M. Scott scored an 8.6, and K. Chun hit an 8.0.

High scores on Floor were J. DeMano with 8.4, J. Szukala with 9.1, and A. DeMano at an 8.9. The JV gymnasts won their 2nd meet of the season, as Marlana Naegele had a 7.3 All-Around and Freshman Natalie Charachol scored an 8.0 on Vault.

Karate classes set to begin

The Morton Grove Park District will be offering classes in karate. The art of self-defense will enhance students both mentally and physically.

Pre-Karate is offered for the age group of five to seven year olds. This class will develop preliminary karate skills in a safe setting.

Youth Karate, age seven to fourteen. This program concentrates on discipline, confidence, concentration, and coordination, as well as drills which increase agility and physical fitness.

All classes are under the direction of John DiPasquale, national faculty member of ACEP (American Coaching Effectiveness Program), and four-time National Karate Champion. Youth classes are held at Devonshire School, 9040 Kostner on Mondays and Pre-Karate classes are held on Wednesdays at the Devonshire Center, 4400 Grove St. in Skokie.

The Winter Session begins on Wednesday, Jan. 16. For further information, call 359-0666 or The Morton Grove Park District at 965-1200. Out-of-district residents are also welcome.

YMCA offers synchronized swim

For poetry in motion, join the aquatic chorus line! You don't have to be a long distance or speed swimmer, but you must be able to swim at intermediate level.

Synchronized swimming really offers something for everyone. Some describe it as "water gymnastics", others think of it as dancing in the water, while still others love it for its beauty. A great way to improve your fitness, watermanship and coordination, while making friends and having fun.

A water ballet show will be performed the last day of class so students can "show off" their new talent.

The classes will be held on Fridays starting Jan. 11.

For further information call Laurie Guth, (708) 647-8222. Sync or swim at the Learning Tower Family YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy Ave., Niles.

Planetarium offers children's sky show

Children under six can see what they've been missing in the nighttime sky -- without missing their bedtimes -- in the new Children's Sky Show "Enchanted Sky," showing weekend mornings at 10 a.m. at The Adler Planetarium.

Children's Sky Shows are written especially for families with young children and are presented in the Planetarium's domed Sky Theater. The current edition runs through March 31.

In "Enchanted Sky," that venerable outer space tour guide the Man-in-the-Moon has some very interesting things to show boys and girls about what happens in the sky after dark.

"As usual in the kids' show, we ask questions to capture their interest and draw them in," says show author April Whitt, associate astronomer in charge of youth programs. "We have them measure the movement of a star to illustrate the fact that as the earth rotates, you can see different portions of the sky, similar to how the sun looks like it's moving across the sky from one horizon to the other during the day-time. We use familiar happenings they're already aware of to introduce new concepts."

Other bright objects kids can spot and learn about in the enchanted sky are satellites, meteors, and other planets. They also voyage in an imaginary rocket to the moon for an up-close inspection of its rocks, hills and craters.

Admission for Children's Sky Shows is $1.50 per person and parents are encouraged to attend with their children. In addition, the Planetarium offers "stars for kids" (ages 10-12 only) in a course on astronomy basics beginning Jan. 12. To register, call (312) 322-0323. For general information and Sky Show schedules, call (312) 322-0300.

The Adler Planetarium, located at 1300 South Lake Shore Drive, is open daily from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Fridays until 9 p.m., and is served by CTA bus route #146.

'Run for your Wife' opens Jan. 18

The Northbrook Theatre will present "Run for Your Wife," the weekends of Jan. 18 - Feb. 3. All performances will take place at the Northbrook Park District's Leisure Center Auditorium, 3323 Walters.

Written by Ray Cooney, this comedy is a hilarious example of that time-honored genre, the British, romantic farce. However, for the Northbrook theatre production, to make the action a bit more immediate, the play has been set in the suburbs of Chicago.

John Smith is a typical, ordinary, everyday cab driver. Typical and ordinary except for the fact that he has two wives, one in Skokie and one in Morton Grove. This bit of bigamy goes undetected until Mr. Smith intervenes in a mugging and becomes a hero.

Northbrook resident Lee Foreman is directing the show, with Sue Goldstein, another Northbrook resident, serving as assistant director. Andrea Sultan is the producer of "Run for Your Wife." Tickets for the production are $8 in advance and $9 at the door. For additional ticket and performance information, call the Northbrook Park District's Leisure Center performing Arts Office at 291-2367.

Murder plot unravels at dinner

The King lives, or does he? The only way for you to find out is to partake in this wildly thrilling murder mystery at The King's Manor Dinner Theatre. We enlist both "suspects" and "slueths" in unravelling a murderous plot like it's never been seen before! Within the great medieval dining hall, the King's own Royal Singing Wenchies, will not only be serving up a night of intrigue; you'll also be served a six course meal with service of premium beer, wine, cider and Pepsi.

Murder at the Manor is located at 2122 W. Lawrence Ave. in Chicago. Call for available dates (Sunday matinees and evenings). Reservations are required (312) 275-8400. Free parking. $23.50 - $26.50 per person. Scheduled dates are Saturday, Jan. 19, and Wednesday, Jan. 30, and Sunday Feb. 17.

OLR plans Post New Year's Eve Dance

The Our Lady of Ransom Young Adults present their annual Post New Year's Eve Dance on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The festivities will be from 8:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. and include a DJ, cash bar, hors d'oeuvres, party favors and a champagne toast at midnight.

Tickets may be purchased in advance for $7 per person by Jan. 15, or at the door for $10. You must be at least 21 years old to attend. Attire for the evening will be semiformal.

To order your tickets call Barb Serafin at (708) 537-0264.

Auditions set for comedy

The Park Ridge Players will hold auditions on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 14 and 15, at 8 p.m. for the British drawing room comedy, "See How They Run."

The show revolves around a vicar in a small English town and the comic problems caused by the town's reaction to his very American wife. It calls for adult actors young and old, and will be staged in April.

Auditions will be held at St. Mary's Theatre, 306 S. Prospect Ave., in Park Ridge. The troupe welcomes and encourages new members. Anyone interested in auditioning or participating backstage is invited to attend auditions.

For further information about the troupe, directions to the auditions, etc., please call John at (708) 692-7312.

Chicago Boat Show set for Jan. 16-20

A visit to the 61st Chicago Boat, Sports & RV Show, being held Jan. 16-20 at McCormick Place is the perfect way to get rid of cabin fever blues. Besides being able to browse and shop through boat and RV displays, the show offers activities that will appeal to a wide range of people.

Die-hard hobbyists, and even Nintendo junkies, will head straight for radio-controlled model boat and RV races. "This new event for 1991 is sure to draw a lot of attention," said show coordinator Roxanne Dobrenick. "We had radio-controlled boat races at the Racine In-Water Boat Show in August and they were a huge hit -- especially with the kids," she said.

Listen to Chicago's new 100.3FM - The Point for details on how show visitors can test their maneuvering skills to win prizes at the races. It takes concentration and dexterity to attain a good time. The person with the best overall time each day will receive a brand new radio-controlled boat or RV. In addition, White Sox pitchers Alex Fernandez and Jack McDowell, manager Jeff Torborg and others will be at the show on Friday, Jan. 18 from 7-9 p.m. to sign autographs and challenge visitors at the races. Try to beat the players' times to win a signed baseball from the pros.

On the more serious side, a free "Boating Basics" seminar will be held on Saturday, Jan. 19 at 9 a.m. This educational program will provide new and future boat owners with an overview on the basics of owning a boat.

Each person attending the seminar will also receive a take-home packet filled with useful pamphlets on safe boating and information on where to find free boating courses in the area.

Advance registration for the Boating Basics seminar is requested. Call (312) 836-4740 to register or watch for ads in the Chicago Tribune that include a registration form. Seminar tickets will be sent directly to you.

Show hours are 11 a.m. - 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 16 through Friday, Jan. 18; 10 a.m. - 10 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 19; and 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 20. Admission is $6 for adults and $2 for children aged 6-12. For more information on the show, call (312) 836-4740.

Winnie the Pooh days at children's museum

What's a heffalump? How did Eeyore get his tail? Find out the answer to these and other Winnie the Pooh trivia questions as we celebrate A.A. Milne's birthday.

Enjoy games, stories, songs and a chance to make yourself into a famous A.A. Milne character Tuesday - Sunday, Jan. 15-20. All activities are held at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Tuesday - Saturday and at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Tuesday, Jan. 15: Pin the Tail on the Donkey. Try your skill at this popular game with Eeyore as the target.

Wednesday, Jan. 16: Listen to The Blustery Day and other A.A. Milne excerpts.

Thursday, Jan. 17: Join in our Isn't it Funny How a Bear Likes Honey" sing-along.

Friday - Sunday, Jan. 18-20: Make rabbit ears, kangaroo pockets or paws and become your favorite Pooh character. They become a star in our "Winnie the Pooh and You" play.

In honor of the great civil-rights leader Martin Luther King, the Kohl Children's Museum will be open Monday, Jan. 21. Learn about Martin Luther King and his dream.

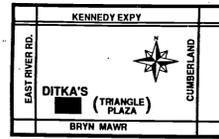

The Kohl Children's Museum is located at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. Hours are Tuesday-Saturday 10 a.m.-4 p.m., Sunday noon-4 p.m. Admission is $2.50; children under two years of age are free. For more information, call 256-6056.

Community Activities

Gospel concert honors Martin Luther King

Ray Berryhill and Company will perform their powerful gospel music favorites at the Lake Shore Campus of Loyola University Chicago (8525 N. Sheridan Rd.) on Tuesday, Jan. 15 at 7:45 p.m.

The gospel concert, free and open to the public, will wrap up a day of activities at Loyola honoring civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Historical Council meets at The Grove

The Northeastern Illinois Historical Council will meet on Saturday, Jan. 12, at The Grove Heritage Association, Inc. a National Historic Landmark and Nature preserve, located at 1421 N. Milwaukee Ave., Glenview. The meeting will be held in the library of the Kennicott Home.

"Coffee and" will be served at 9 a.m. with the meeting called to order at 9:30 a.m. by Dodee Connelly, chairman, of Morton Grove. Mary Ann and Arthur Stoesser, The Grove docents in costume, will tell how they present historic information to visitors in the first person. Also, they will tell how the costumes and life of the Kennicotts were researched.

Steve Swanson, director of The Grove, will have a "Horror Story" for "Show and Tell".

Following the program, the newly-elected officers of the council will be installed. They will serve for two years and are: Chairman Marilyn Brown, Recording Secretary Carol Kelm and Treasurer Adeline Kruse. Membership is available to organizations actively involved in local historical research and education.

For further information on how your group can become a member, please call Membership Chairman, Darlene Greaves at 437-0252.

Boys and girls gymnastics classes

Gymnastics classes for boys and girls will begin at the Morton Grove Park District this week.

Classes are held on a variety of days at many different times. For further program information, call 965-7447 or refer to your Winter/Spring brochure.

Library Board candidate filing dates Jan. 14 - 22

Filing dates for candidates for three trustee positions for the Board of Library Trustees of the Lincolnwood Public Library District are Tuesday, Jan. 14 to Tuesday, Jan. 22, anytime during regular library hours except on the last filing date.

On Jan. 22, the deadline for returning the papers to the library, 4000 W. Pratt Ave., is 5 p.m., according to Cynthia Josephs, library director and local election official. The election will be held April 2, 1991.

The rules of the State Board of election stipulate that on the last filing date, the deadline is 5 p.m. We cannot accept forms after 5 p.m. on that day even though the library is open until 9 p.m., Josephs emphasized.

Basketball at Golf Maine Park District

Basketball at Golf Maine Park District is ready to get underway, but you still have time to register.

The Junior Basketball League for 4th-6th grade still has a few openings for players.

The Men's Basketball League that plays on Sunday evenings form 5-10 p.m. still has a couple of openings for teams. Players may only register as a team. For further information, contact Rich at (708) 297-3000.

Calligraphy class offered

Come and learn the art of hand-writing and the many decorative ways it can be used to enhance all of your written materials. Different techniques and pens will be introduced and used to make invitations, art work, letter-head and much more.

The class runs Friday, Jan. 18 through March 8 from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. at the Ballard Leisure Center for $32.

MG Historical Society plans Jan. 15 meeting

The Morton Grove Historical Society will have its next meeting at the Morton Grove Public Library in the Baxter Room at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 15.

Larry and Virjean Beach of Chicago will present a slide show of different methods of old photograph restoration.

Members and guests may bring old photographs for the Beach's suggestions on restoration. They can not give prices at this time. Please come and bring a friend. Refreshments served.

The village's museum, the Haupt-Yehl House is open Sundays from 2-4 p.m. Special showings can be made by calling the Park District at 965-7447.

Adult social dancing class

This is the perfect class for anyone and everyone with any type of social engagements coming up - from weddings, Bar Mitzvahs, birthday parties, black tie or backyard bar-b-que bashes.

This crash course introduces ballroom, Latin, contemporary and the art of slow dancing. Many musical pieces will be used. What's taking you so long? Register now.

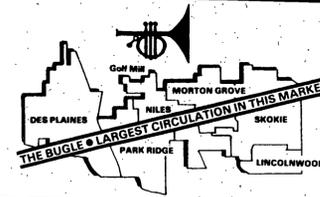

The class meets Tuesday, Jan. 15 through Feb. 15 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. at the Ballard Leisure Center, Niles. Cost is $30.

Ballroom dance classes

All you couples who would like to improve or learn such dance skills will not want to miss this opportunity to dance with Dan and Alice Lowry as they take you through the steps of the Cha Cha, Fox Trot, Waltz, Rhumba and Tango. Don't wait another minute.

The Niles Park District class meets Jan. 14 through March 4 from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Ballard Leisure Center. Cost is $45 per couple.

Program for adult children of alcoholics

Growing up in a chemically-dependent family can create roadblocks that continue to cause problems in adult life.

In order to explore these roadblocks and offer ways of coping and solving these problems without long-term and sometimes expensive therapy, Parkside Lutheran Hospital, Park Ridge, is offering a low-cost eight-week program for adult children of alcoholics. Advance registration is necessary.

The program, which will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Jan. 22 through March 12, will consist of lectures, films, group discussions, and weekly assignments.

The program is intended for adult children of alcoholics, or those who grew up in a chemically-dependent family. For program costs and to register, call the Family Services Office, Parkside Lutheran Hospital, 696-8295.

Nursing program application deadline

Jan. 14 is the deadline for new students to apply for the fall 1991 nursing program at Oakton Community College.

Applicants must have completed the prerequisite courses before entering the program. Students may enroll for prerequisites in the spring 1991 semester which begins Jan. 14.

For information on the nursing program entrance requirements, call Karin Eck, Senior Admissions and Records Assistant/Allied Health, 635-1702.

Santa visits Swedish Covenant

Santa Claus paid a visit at the recent Family Practice Center Christmas Party at Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California Ave. Over 225 youngsters and their favorite adults attended the annual event held for patients of the center. Here Mildred Bronstein, RN, who has organized the party for the past 128 years, and Dr. Warren Baba, chairman of the hospital's Department of Family Practice, greet Santa upon his arrival. Carmen Castro (center) of Lincoln Square and P.J. (kneeling) and Colleen Tierney of Sauganash also were on hand to welcome him to the party. Besides a program of holiday entertainment and a visit with Santa, children each received a stuffed animal and a Christmas stocking filled with candy, toys and other goodies.

Cataract surgery is outpatient procedure

The symptoms of cataracts may range from barely noticeable blurred vision to virtual blindness. It was once believed that a cataract needed to be "ripe" before it could be removed, but with recent developments in cataract removal, patients no longer need to be imprisoned by failing vision.

Cataract surgery is a successful outpatient procedure that restores useful vision in more than 90 percent of the cases. During cataract surgery, the clouded lens is removed and replaced with an intraocular lens that will help the eye focus. The intraocular lens implant (IOL) is so small that the incision needed to insert it can be closed with only one stitch -- thus the name "One Stitch" cataract surgery.

Another method currently used is the "No-Stitch" method in which the incision made for the implant is not stitched together. However, there is a high complication rate and therefore not used by many ophthalmologists.

While the presence of a cataract does not mean surgery is necessary, the patient best determines how much cataracts interfere with daily activities, and how much vision loss can be tolerated.

There are two circumstances in which an ophthalmologist will recommend immediate cataract surgery: The cataract may be so dense that it prohibits a complete eye exam that looks into the interior of the eye; The advanced cataract causes other eye diseases like glaucoma or inflammation that can damage the delicate tissue of the eye.

For more information on cataract surgery of the highly successful "One Stitch" cataract surgery procedure, call Advanced Eyecare Associates at (312) 594-0000.

Resurrection slates stop smoking program

If you are a smoker struggling to join the more than 37 million Americans who have kicked the cigarette habit, Resurrection Medical Center's Fresh Start smoking cessation program may be all the help you need in fulfilling your New Year's resolution.

The four-part smoking cessation program is sponsored by the American Cancer Society and will be offered at 6:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, Jan. 15, 17, 22 and 24. Classes meet in the Dr. Ostrom Room at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago. Cost is $50 per person and advance registration is required by calling the hospital's Health Promotion and Wellness office at (312) 792-5022.

PARENTING YOUNG CHILDREN
FRIDAY JAN. 18; 5:30-7:00PM.

Bringing up children can be a little easier and more fulfilling when child and parent understand each other better and more clearly. As adults, you and you alone have the ability to learn how to do this.

By taking part in S.T.E.P.—Systematic Training for Effective Parenting—parents can learn how to increase parenting skills, even with younger children, to train and prevent communications problems as adolescents and teenagers. Through the STEP Program, you build from communicating, to disciplining, to negotiating, to understanding your child. Over eight weeks, you'll participate in reading, discussions, tape instruction and role playing.

There is a $20 charge per person for program and materials. Enrollment is very limited. Call 708/635-4100 Ext 224 to register.

Letters To The Editor

ORT chairwomen speak out against vandalism to synagogues

Dear Editor:

Skokie has been in the news before. More than a decade ago Skokie was chosen by a group of Neo-Nazis to be the site of a march showcasing their organization. The citizens of Skokie, many of them Holocaust survivors, were shocked and appalled by this blatant reminder of the horror of the Holocaust and they protested vehemently, drowning out those "voices of hate". Last week, during the Jewish festival of Chanukah, the citizens of Skokie were once again subjects of degradation when four of Skokie's synagogues were defaced by swastikas and anti-semitic phrases. Skokie is also the home of Northern Illinois Region of Women's American ORT. In addition to educating thousands of individuals throughout the world by teaching them technical skills, the members of Women's American ORT work together to combat anti-semitism. As the local Community Chairwomen of this organization, we speak for our entire membership as we express our shock and dismay at these acts of vandalism. In closing, we would like to send this message: though they tried, the vandals could not dampen our spirits and our festival of Chanukah continued undaunted by their acts as Jews throughout Skokie and the surrounding areas lit eight candles commemorating the last night of Chanukah, the miracle of light, and the victory over those that sought to hurt and destroy our people so long ago.

Township supervisor thanks community for holiday generosity

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Maine Township Board of Trustees, I would like to thank all the people whose time, energy and resources helped make the holidays a lot brighter for so many of their neighbors. We are especially grateful for the kindness and generosity of Sandra and Paul Brigante who hosted an extraordinary Christmas Eve party and dinner at Banquets by Brigante for nearly 500 Maine Township residents. Family, friends, township staff members, and community volunteers joined the Brigantes to help make this celebration a huge success.

A very special thanks to PlainsBank of Illinois for its very generous donation of 200 Gund stuffed bears and to the many other individuals and businesses who contributed food, toys and other gifts for the party. We would also like to extend our deepest appreciation to the individuals and organizations whose donations of food and grocery store gift certificates made it possible for the township to maintain its emergency food pantry throughout the year and to distribute 225 food baskets to needy residents for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Maine Township is truly fortunate to have so many caring, generous people who are willing to share their blessings with others. We are proud to be a part of this exceptional community.

Very truly yours,
Joan B. Hall
Maine Township Supervisor

Brigantes thank those involved with Christmas Eve party

To the Editor:

We would like to express our deepest appreciation to our family, friends, business associates, the staff at Maine Township government, and all the other people who helped make our Christmas Eve party a huge success. Their help and support enabled us to share the joy of Christmas with close to 500 Maine Township residents, including 200 children.

We were overwhelmed by the outpouring of generosity and good will. We had more than 95 volunteers at the party and abundant donations of food and toys. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Incandela, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marchionne, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guccione, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Pignatelli, Edith Falbo, Mary Pavlik, Anita Grizzuti, Carrera and John Afraati, the Owens family, the LoSavio family, Renis Pavlik and her friends Edie and Doug, Mr. and Mrs. T. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Drew Krisco and the PTA of Willard School in River Forest, the Schira family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Campise, Laurie Greenberg, Louise Brigante, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dziedzic, Wendy Brigante Dziedzic, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vitto-rini, Vanessa Vittorini, Mr. and Mrs. T. Morizzo, Ross Morizzo, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martello, Juan Sanchez and Jose Acevedo of Mundelein Seminary, our friend Ingrid, Eric Da Costa, Sam Gray, Steve Adamonis, Joe Aiello, Paulette Hart, Irma Mix, and Theresa Lacin.

Many thanks also to Gloria Katz of PlainsBank of Illinois, Hank of H.A. Mitchell Distributors, Turano Baking Co., Dick Bigos of Sexton Foods, Linda Labuda of Edward Don & Co., Mr. Zimmerman of Harrison Poultry, Julie Braun of Air-Play, Gentile Brothers, Theresa of Domino's Pastry, Claudio Pastry, Pat Marziani of Continental Distributors, Katherine's Hallmark of Des Plaines, K-Mart and Venture of Niles, Mid Arc Corp. of Skokie, and all the volunteers from Maine Township government and other community organizations.

It was truly an unforgettable celebration, and one that enriched our Christmas through the warmth and joy shared by our guests and the family, friends and volunteers who participated.

Very truly yours,
Sandra and Paul Brigante

Citizen expresses concern for troops in Middle East

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you to express my concern for our brothers in the Middle East. I believe that every effort should be made by every citizen to let our troops know that we are standing right behind them and that we are doing something to prevent them from engaging the Iraqis and that we are praying for their safe return.

I am hoping that you dedicate a section of your paper for the great job that they are doing for the country's welfare.

Sincerely yours,
Gerald Gonzales

Des Plaines resident says police spot checks are unfair

Dear Editor:

I am writing concerning the recent police spot checks around the border of Niles. Is this system fair? If so what is the justification? If I pass through one of these areas and I am stopped, how can I be sure that I am the designated tenth car? Is not this system open to personal bias and discrimination? I might be car nine, but due to my appearance I may be checked. I would be unaware of any discriminations brought against me, all I have is the word of a police officer that I was the designated car.

According to an article in a local newspaper, some ninety-five percent of those stopped were innocent of any infractions of the law. I would like to ask the Village of Niles for a justification for causing the many to suffer for the few. If the police were to perform their jobs adequately we would have no need for spot checks.

According to the law, the way I understand it, there must be reasonable and just cause to subject a person to the scrutiny of a police search.

I wish for a response to this letter. I feel that too many people allow their personal rights to be extinguished due to complacency. I urge other citizens to show concern for this subject.

Niles resident concerned about POWs

Dear Editor:

I am wondering where are the POW's and MIA's located? They're still missing. Many families are still wondering where are their sons. I am trying to encourage the government in trying to find them.

I am writing letters every week, and getting back, the same remarks all the time. Maybe you can help me by writing an article about our POW's and MIA's. I thank you very much for your time and patience.

Sincerely,
Matt Deterding

Widen roads to accommodate bikes, reader suggests

Dear Editor:

I am an avid biker, but lately I haven't been riding as much. The roads are just too crowded to be traveled safely by bikers.

In future years, when the roads are repaired, they should also be widened to accommodate bike lanes. These lanes would encourage people to ride more. This would also cut down on pollution and save gas.

Yours truly,
John Weldon

Student praises Maine East teacher

Dear Editor:

I want to tell you about a man I know. He is the most patriotic and proud man I know. His name is Paul Carlson and he is a government teacher at Maine East High School. He is so proud of his country and makes all his students be thankful for what we have. Every year he takes his class to the memorials of all the students at Maine East, who have died in a war to serve our country. He loves everything about Maine East and takes us on a tour of it all the time. He has even nicknamed it "the Rolls Royce of all schools." I have much more to say so if you would like, call me.

Thank you,

must present its costs to the ICC annually and is subject to the ICC's estimate of justified costs, based on a prescribed formula.

Ake objected to a recent Bugle article describing NSPU water as "radium contaminated, off colored, bad smelling..." The accepted radium standard is five picocuries per liter; the level in NSPU water hovers around 7-8 picocuries per liter.

Ake called the word "contaminated" too strong, saying "If the water was poison, the federal EPA would shut us down."

Leonard Lindstrom, supervisor of the regional office of the Illinois EPA, described the water as above the radium standard, rather than contaminated. He said "The risk is low, but it's easily avoided, do it."

Noting that radium occurs naturally in deep wells, he said NSPU was working to correct the situation by buying Lake Michigan water. He said home water softeners remove the radium, but increase the sodium, a situation that could be detrimental to persons with high blood pressure.

Ake declared water color and odor are subjective evaluations and maintained many NSPU customers are happy with the current water and unhappy Lake Michigan water will cost more. On the other hand, he said many NSPU customers grew up in Chicago and prefer that water.

The utility manager said there can be "a hint of iron" in NSPU water when they periodically flush the mains, but suggested problems within a customer's system could create an off color, if the water passes through several hundred feet of galvanized pipe. He cited a complaint of off color water from the occupant of a ninth floor high rise apartment.

He said the water was crystal clear when it left the meter but off color when it reached the ninth floor, through some problem in the customer's system. He noted the company's liability ended when the water left the meter.

Representatives from a citizen's group, Operation Safe Water, attended the December ICC hearing and questioned what future costs to consumers would be and asked for a timetable for capping wells.

Ake told The Bugle he would cap the wells only after a sufficient trail period when NSPU was convinced the Niles link-up was functioning satisfactorily. He said "most people have no comprehension" what it takes to bring in lake water.

Ed Hurley, the ICC hearing officer, said the ICC monitors a utility's profit margin and, along with the EPA, the purity of the water.

publicans lost.

"Maine Township had the fourth largest number of straight Republican ballots cast in all the suburban townships - over 60 percent of all straight ballots cast in Maine were Republican," Butler asserted.

"For us here in Maine Township, it helps me (a Democrat) if it hurts him (a Republican)," Blase explained, elaborating on a recent party press release in which Democrats said Cook County suburbs have stopped being a "a play ground for the Republican Party."

"There's no question voters are tending to judge the person more individually than they have in the past," Butler said. "There's no question voters are more selective. The other factor is that elections are becoming more personality versus issue-oriented, more media events than issue oriented."

"Some individuals can be swayed by massive advertising," Butler continued. "My perception is the whole electoral process is of several presented by Gerald Kauffman of the engineering firm of Donohue and Associates at a special village board meeting in which flood control was a chief topic.

Hit & Run... Flood relief...

Kauffman and a team from Donohue did a block by block study on the area from Oakton to Dempster Streets, east of Maryhill Cemetery and west of the north branch of the Chicago River.

Extracting data from records of residents' complaints about basement and street flooding, they determined about 23 percent of the homes in the area experienced some flooding problems.

The engineer outlined other flood relief projects, including a grassy, dry retention basin six to ten feet below ground, which could be used as a baseball field in dry weather, but which would collect storm water in collector sewers that would slowly release the water to a combined storm sewer.

In the event of an "every ten years" rain, a projected maximum of four feet of water would require 24 hours to drain; in an "every hundred year" rain, a maximum six feet of retention would require about 48 hours to drain.

Trustee Bart Murphy immediately found defects in the plan, pointing to the accumulated water as a natural hazard and improbability of the property owner's giving away land that had a potential value.

Because the proposal offered the greatest capacity for water storage, Public Works Director ratios there.

Recently, an extra teacher was added to the kindergarten center at Melzer School in Morton Grove.

In other business, board members voted to pay $180 for use of a test by the Answer Media Reproduction License from CTB, MacMillan/McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

Immigrants in American literature

A look at the history, culture and experiences of immigrants who came to America will be provided in "Immigrants in American Literature" (EGL 115 004), a three-credit-hour course, offered by Oakton Community College at Maine Township Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge. The 16-week course will meet from 9 to 11:50 a.m. on Thursdays beginning Jan. 17.

Instructor Allen Schwartz will discuss how the immigrants, after entering the United States, got settled, earned a living and adapted to the new culture and new language.

For course information and registration, call 635-1411.

Des Plaines Chamber plans retreat

The 1991 Chamber Board of Directors will spend a full day, Jan. 16, working on programs and projects for 1991 and beyond.

By reviewing the past year and concerns expressed by members, plans will be developed to meet the needs of Des Plaines businesses in an effort to create and maintain a prosperous economy and quality lifestyle.

Hit & Run... Flood relief...

Keith Peck suggested a basin, which would accumulate water to no more than a one foot depth and urged further investigation. Kauffman named several other relief options, such as installation of storm relief valves or overhead sewers with pumps.

Trying to get government help in flood control, Kauffman's group checked into, among others, the Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago's Tunnel and Reservoir Project, which would take overflow water from certain trunk sewers and send it downstream through a tunnel under the Chicago River branch.

The group found the project needed funding from the U.S. EPA and realistically would not start until 2005.

Drawing on the information presented, the trustees moved to act on the Milwaukee Avenue and Dempster Street berming project and work on getting the Illinois Department of Transportation to expedite a new, larger sewer installation along with its current construction on Dempster Street. They decided to look at dry retention areas in other communities and list possible sites for the purpose in Niles.

The costs involved in installation of relief valves or overhead sewers, on an individual basis, will be studied. It was noted the current cost of relief valves is about $4,500, but if the village considered a large installation project, the cost would be less and installation could be on a 50/50 basis with a homeowner.

Spring is the time to continue working in one of the following nine foreign languages Oakton Community College offers for college credit: Chinese, French, German, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese, Polish, Russian and Spanish. The spring semester begins Jan. 15.

Second semester beginning courses will be offered in Chinese and Polish, and second semester beginning and intermediate courses are offered in the other seven languages with day and evening sections. Five languages are offered at Oakton East.

Oakton offers foreign language courses

Students who have one year of college study in French may register for Conversational French which is designed to increase speaking and listening fluency. Introduction to Spanish Literature offers reading, discussion and writing of selected masterpieces from Hispanic literature for advanced students.

For students who cannot attend class on a regular basis, the media-based courses, French in Action and Survival Spanish, provide alternative versions of beginning Spanish or beginning and intermediate French.

Registration is accepted through Jan. 8. For information on spring language courses, call Linda Korbel, department chairperson, 635-1871.

First graders present annual program

Washington School's first grade presented their show, "Winter Wonderland," on Thursday, Dec. 20 at 1:30 p.m.

Snowmen (real and cardboard), winter animals, skaters, and jingle bells abounded as well as snow songs of every variety. Washington School is located at 2710 Golf Rd. in Glenview and is in East Maine #63 school district.

Admission is free. The library is located at 5215 Oakton St. in Skokie.

tracts the joining of districts would save administrative costs.

While the powers that be wouldn't be too happy with this idea, Niles school district 71 might consider joining in a consolidated school district with 67 and 70. Paying a school superintendent $94,886 and two school principals a total of $112,545 in a 360 student-body district is absurd. The $207,431 for these three positions comes to $576.20 per pupil. That may be the highest cost per student figure in the entire Chicago-land area. It could well be the highest student cost figure in any suburban area surrounding a metropolitan city in the United States. It is a luxury taxpayers can't afford during these belt-tightening days.

It's a Catch 22 problem. If there are no young people in the area the schools close. If there are no schools, young people are not attracted to the area.

The 90's will increasingly have two-parent families with both parents working. And census figures show there is an increasing number of one-parent households where the parent is in the work-force.

Satisfying the needs of attracting young people to the community and providing for care for children whose parents work, is an opportunity for sales tax-rich Niles. If the village would provide daycare services, it would be a great attraction for young people who are comparing communities. Why not move into a village which provides free transportation? And why not move into a community which provides child-care for parents who are working? The increased number of young people moving in would result in schools re-opening, reversing the trends of the last decade.

Maine Township residents should also holler and scream about maintaining three public high schools in the district when two would serve the district's 5,426 students just as well. We've mentioned this so many times it becomes monotonous to repeat. But again, the

Rules of Road course in Niles

Secretary of State Jim Edgar, in cooperation with Niles Park Recreation Center is offering a Rules of the Road Review Course for senior citizens in the Niles area.

The purpose of the course is to help senior citizens pass the Illinois drivers license renewal examination. It updates drivers on the current rules of the road and prepares them for the general written and road sign examinations.

The Rules of the Road Review Course will be held at Ballard School, 8320 Ballard, Niles 60648 on Jan. 14 from 10 a.m. to noon.

question arises. He explained no person can hold two incompatible offices unless it's possible the two boards have no dealings whatsoever with each other and they are both part time positions.

Bart Murphy, president of Bankers Life and Casualty Co., has served 13 years as a trustee. He said he wants to provide the village with his business expertise and give back to the village he has lived in for almost 35 years. He hopes to continue to help make Niles one of the best in the northwest suburbs. Murphy was one of the founders of the North Suburban Mass Transit district and served a term as chairman.

James Mahoney, vice president of an insurance company, has been a trustee for one full term, having been appointed to complete the term of the late Orville Otto. Mahoney was with the North Suburban Mass Transit District nine-and-a-half years and was chairman two years. He said he wants to be part of the government and the best way to do it is by running for office.

Thomas Bondi, a salesman for Allstate Insurance Co. and an eight-year veteran of the Niles Zoning and Planning Commission, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ang Marcheschi. Bondi said he enjoys what he's doing, working for the Village of Niles.

Trustee Louella Preston, who is serving as campaign manager for the incumbents, said Murphy, Mahoney and Bondi are running for four-year terms. Trustees Jeffrey Arnold and Andrew Przybylo, completing unexpired terms, are seeking two-year terms. They must run again in 1993, Preston said.

Jeffrey Arnold, court administrator for the Cook County Circuit Court, looks back on six years of service as a park district commissioner as well as a stint as park district treasurer. He was president of the Chesterfield Homeowners Association and a member of the Niles Youth Commission for nine years. Arnold said "I'm an incumbent, I hope we've done a good job and I'd like to continue."

Previously, the two commissioners cited Lippert's lack of experience as a chief administrator as factors in their no votes.

None of the candidates has publicly declared the directorship as a campaign issue.

Children caring for their older parents

How do older parents feel when they become "parented" by their own middle-aged children? How do they cope with this reversal of roles? Find out from Brenda Terry, a clinical social worker and co-chair of Social Workers in Gerontology, when she presents the first spring Passages Through Life lecture, "What Can I Expect from My Children?," on Jan. 15 at Oakton Community College East.

The program will be presented from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 112 at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Terry will discuss the needs of older adults for which they depend on their children. Needs range from caretaking, financial assistance and hiring a maid to having children become the caregivers.

For lecture information, call 635-1414.

The meeting is open to the public and all active Republicans who reside in the district may also apply.

Butler, who chairs the Suburban O'Hare Commission opposing airport noise and expansion, has been mayor of Park Ridge for nearly 20 years. His name surfaced as a replacement for Kustra along with those of Des Plaines Mayor Michael Albrecht, Des Plaines paralegal Rosemary Mulligan and Skokian John Lartz. Both Mulligan and Lartz lost their primary bids in state assembly contests last spring.

Butler is a member of the committee which will select Kustra's replacement. Sheldon Marcus of Niles Township, Dave Brown of New Trier Township, Carl Hansen of Elk Grove Township and Richard Siebel of Northfield Township are the other four members.

The committee will announce their selection by late February.
