Grievance delays District 219 smoking ban

The smoking ban at Niles Township High School District 219 has been stalled by a grievance filed recently by the Niles Township Federation of Teachers.

The school board in May approved the first draft of a policy that would ban smoking at Niles North and Niles West High Schools, starting with the 1991 school year. Federation of Teachers President John Herbst, who has objected to the ban since the start, calls the policy a change in working conditions, which must first be negotiated with the union. The controversy began earlier this year when students at Niles North High School complained about the location of the staff smoking lounge, which is next

Missing Niles man has no Dahmer connection

The grim news coming from Milwaukee has meant good news for a family searching for a man who formerly lived in Niles. Niles police began checking their open missing person files when Milwaukee authorities found butchered remains of up to eleven males in a west side apartment building July 22.

According to Sgt. Dean Strzelecki, a 38-year-old Niles man whom his brother reported missing in September 1988, was located July 26 after numerous people

Nearby homeowners have mixed feelings about garage's future

Ruesch Garage court date in doubt

by Sheilya Hackett

A 15-year wrangle over the right of the Ruesch Garage to remain at 8550 Shermer Road, Niles, could be resolved next week.

The case of Niles vs. Ruesch is scheduled for Skokie District Court Aug. 6 or 7, as of The Bugle deadline, but the conclusion of the litigation, which began in November, '89, may not yet be in sight. Village Attorney Richard Troy has declined to confirm the August date and rumors have surfaced making a September court hearing more likely.

Niles filed suit against the garage operators for being in non-conformance with zoning ordinances and in violation of fire, plumbing, electrical, building and housekeeping codes. It asked the violators be fined, in an amount to be determined by the court. The action could cause the end of a pioneer Niles business.

As the court date draws near, adjacent homeowners have mixed sentiments about the case's outcome and the garage's future. Josette Faingold, a 19-year resident, who lives across from the garage, said "It's not a detriment to the neighborhood. They're very accommodating; they clean the snow where we park. I'd like them to stay. We know who's there now. They've been there a long time. (They) deserve to stay. The grandfather clause should apply."

The grandfather clause, often referred to in legal circles, keeps a municipality from establishing laws that in effect, legislate against a business that has been operating prior to the law's inception.

Buglebits.....

A radio report this past week suggested one of the victims of the Dahmer murders in Milwaukee may have been a missing resident from Niles.

Tuesday morning Niles police told The Bugle a 40-year-old man has been reported missing for the past three years. While his profile did not fit the one's of the reported victims, nevertheless Niles notified Milwaukee police about the missing Nilesite. But upon further investigation Niles police located the man who is now living in Chicago.

Niles police reported to the man's family he has been found and he is safe and well. However, the missing man did not want his family to know where he's now living and the police respected his wishes.

Police Commander Bill Reid told The Bugle Niles police did not think the missing man was among the victims. Nevertheless, their notification he was missing was a shot in the dark. Actually, Niles renewed interest in the case led to their finding the man who has been missing since 1988. He took off from his home without letting anyone in his family know he had left.

The $850,000 in administration salaries in the Maine Township high schools raises the question whether school

Man arrested for indecent exposure at Niles park

Officer Joe O'Sullivan of the Niles police arrested a 23-year-old Mt. Prospect man, who reportedly exposed himself to two 10-year-old girls around 5 p.m. near Oakton Manor Park July 23.

According to Sgt. Roger Wilson, the suspect drove up to the children as they played near the swings on the Ozanam Avenue side of the park, reportedly asking them directions to Elmore Street. When they approached his black 1986 Camaro on the passenger side, the driver allegedly displayed himself.

The girls backed away and ran north on Ozanam and the offender drove west on Monroe Street.

The driver then drove back and according to the children, encountered them as he went east on Monroe Street. The girls ran away and told their parents, who called police.

O'Sullivan interviewed the girls and parents, obtaining a description of the offender. He later contacted Park Ridge authorities after hearing of their arrest of a suspect, who physically resembled the man wanted for the Niles incident. The Park Ridge arrest was not for indecent exposure, according to Wilson.

Recycling bins arrive in Niles

Nancy Kerns and John Terzis, along with Matthew, 3, and Megan, 2, were among the first Niles residents to receive their official recycling bin from Rick Tarnowski of the Public Services Department. All Niles resident households with village garbage service are eligible to participate in the curbside program, which begins Aug. 1.

Skokie teens sentenced for credit card fraud

A Skokie youth was recently sentenced to two years' felony probation for participating in a credit card scam with a friend. Faisal Farouqi, 17, of Skokie, pleaded guilty Monday to theft. He admitted to keeping a customer's Wards credit card after a purchase when he was a clerk at a Montgomery Ward & Co. Electric Avenue store in Niles. Farouqi says he gave the credit card to a friend, who then charged about $2,200 in electronic merchandise at the store. Farouqi's friend, Salman Imani, 17, also of Skokie, pleaded guilty to theft and was also sentenced to two years' felony probation. Both youths were sentenced by Judge Gerald Rohrer in the Skokie branch of Cook County Circuit Court.

Sergeant Dennis McEnery of the Niles Police Department says financial crimes like this one "happen all the time." Credit card fraud, as well as check fraud, "is one of the most popular crimes." However, he says, "most criminals make mistakes, and we can usually tie an arrest into it." Sergeant McEnery says the Niles Police Department "took down a crew about two years ago who operated a gas station, and were stealing customers' credit cards. In an elaborate scheme, the thieves were able to charge merchandise on the cards through connections at certain stores, before the cards were reported as stolen." To diminish financial fraud, Sergeant McEnery warns both consumers and store clerks to "be on their toes," for anything that seems suspicious.

Republican picnic slated for Aug. 4

The Niles Township Regular Republican Organization will hold its annual picnic on Sunday, Aug. 4 from noon to 5 p.m. at Grove #1 in Linne Woods at Dempster and Ferris in Morton Grove. The picnic is open to the public and admission is free. Committee member Sheldon Marcus said that invited guests include Governor Jim Edgar, Lietenant Governor Bob Kustra, Secretary of State George Ryan, and Cook County State's Attorney Jack O'Malley.

There will be a raffle with a cash prize of $250. Tickets are $5 each or five for $20. Winners need not be present. For more information on the picnic or to purchase raffle tickets in advance, call (708) 966-8282.

Non-profit groups could meet at Ballard rent free

Thieves steal $50,000 in parts from warehouse

A warehouse leased by Nutrasweet was targeted by thieves July 24 and Niles police have been asked to investigate two employees, who may have allowed scavengers to make off with over $50,000 worth of stainless steel valves, filler parts and pump housings.

Reportedly, the materials were stored temporarily outside the location at 7790 Merrimac Ave., while floors inside the warehouse were being resurfaced.

MG Legion elects new officers

At a recent meeting the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 held their annual election for new officers.

Assuming the following roles for the upcoming term are: commander Frank Mayer of Des Plaines; senior vice commander Hal Fritze (membership); first junior vice commander Dick Jassick (fund raising); and relected second junior vice commander Joe Piento, (meetings); also relected finance officer, past commander Dick Kapelanski, who is also a past commander of the 7th District, American Legion, which encompasses posts in the northern Chicago and suburban area; and he is also an active committee member of the First Division, American Legion (Cook County Council).

Some Niles non-profit clubs could benefit under a plan being explored by park district officials. An arrangement under study would allow the groups to meet at Ballard Leisure Center, 8320 Ballard Rd., rent free, and help them avoid the current hourly fees.

Since Ballard is a village property, used cooperatively by the park district, the village is kept informed of requests to use the building. Several local scout groups are among the current users of Ballard.

The spur for the plan was a crowded June park board committee meeting in which spokesmen from several village organizations said they were financially squeezed by the new hourly rental fees, which were inaugurated in May. There were representatives from the Niles Art Guild, the Grandmothers' Club and the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary, among others.

July 29, members of the park board's Recreation Committee heard more on the subject.

Bob Berles, vice president of the Niles Art Guild, complained the new rates could cause clubs to move from Niles or even disband because of the high rates.

Present policy charges non-profit groups of residents $4 an hour for a reserved medium size meeting room. An additional set-up fee of $20 was added for insurance liability purposes.

But Art Guild member Mary Ann Krusel noted the group had done its own set-up in the past and needed its limited funds to pay for guest speakers.

Berles told board members the district's new Oasis water park was a "million dollars worth of window dressing," while the

Enrollment soars at District 63 schools

While some private schools in the area are watching enrollment decline, East Maine Elementary School District 63 is having the opposite problem.

Although administrators expected only slight fluctuations in the number of students over the next few years, the district ended the 1990-'91 school year with 100 additional students. Combined with the 130 new students from the previous year, administrators are saying some shifting may be necessary to accommodate this growing student population.

A number of factors can alter school enrollment, making student population predictions difficult. One complicating factor is the high turnover experienced by the district. Each year, approximately 25 percent of the students who start in September are gone in June, many replaced by new students.

Several years ago, enrollment had leveled off to about 3,000 students. By the fall of 1990, however, classrooms became crowded, causing administrators to

On Thursday, Aug. 8 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. the Morton Grove Park District will be holding a Teen Night at Harrer Pool. Kids going into 6, 7, and 8th grade are invited to this pool party designed especially for them. The waterslide will be open free of charge.

Jedinak named park assistant business manager

Niles Park District Director Tom Lippert, Business Manager Ron Mrowiec, and Administrative Coordinator Tracy Taylor, recently selected Jay Jedinak as their new assistant business manager. He joined the staff July 10. Jedinak was recently the accountant for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation of Chicago. Some of his duties included processing participation payments to various banks and savings and loans, financial reporting, and accounts payable. Jedinak has a b.s. degree in accounting finance from Dominican College in Racine, Wisconsin. Jay also graduated from Personnel Administration School in the U.S. Marine Corps. After a lengthy search and an extensive screening process, Director Lippert and staff appointed Jedinak to the assistant business manager post because of his wide variety of experience (over 20 years) as a business and finance administrator. Jedinak has been described by his professional peers as a highly organized, conscientious, hard working individual with a sound attitude and approach toward business administration.

Computer catalog classes scheduled

During August the Niles Public Library will be offering its monthly computer catalog classes on Thursday, Aug. 1 at 7 p.m., Friday, Aug. 2 at 10:30 a.m., and Saturday, Aug. 3 at 10:30 a.m. These classes introduce library users to the computer catalog and demonstrate how it works. A reference librarian will show you how to search the catalog for materials you are interested in finding.

There is no longer a "card catalog" at the library. All materials can only be found in the computer catalog.

As of mid-July, we have a new and improved system that will search for items of all the 26 North Suburban Library libraries. Classes usually last about half an hour and are offered free of charge to interested users.

Anyone interested may register by calling 967-8554 and asking for the Reference Desk, or by signing up at the Reference Desk the next time you are in the library.

Oasis Pool shirts, shorts for sale

The Niles Park District announces that shirts and shorts can now be purchased at the Oasis Pool concession stand. The bright lime green shorts and the colorful shirt will complete anyone's summer time wardrobe. Shirts can be purchased for $15 and shorts will be sold for $7.

Stop by the concession stand next time you visit the Oasis Pool and take a look at the shirts and shorts.

Afterschool childcare available

Reasonably priced afterschool childcare is available for all Morton Grove children at the Morton Grove Park District beginning their first full day of school in the fall.

Three sites are available for this program including Washington School, Nelson School, and Prairie View Community Center. Registrations are now being accepted for all three locations at the Prairie View Community Center, 6834 Dempster St. For more information call 965-1200.

'What Cops Know' book reviewed

Shelia Whalen will review the book "What Cops Know" by Wilmette resident Connie Fletcher for the next Friday "Fare" program, Aug. 2, at the Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 W. Pratt Ave. Free coffee at 10 p.m., program at 10:30 p.m.

Connie Fletcher, who writes widely on crime, is an assistant professor of journalism at Loyola University, Chicago. The gritty realism of "What Cops Know" is a dramatic distillation of police life and lore based on the actual experience of more than 100 cops in the Chicago Police Department's Area Six.

Reviewer Whalen has been presenting programs for 14 years. She was an assistant editor for Scott Foresman and is currently a free lance writer. The program is free. Call (708) 677-5277.

Oil painting on exhibit

Oil paintings of flowers and landscapes by Carol Gross will be on display at the Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 W. Pratt Ave., through August.

Born in Toledo, Ohio, she has studied art since childhood when she took classes at the Toledo Museum of Art.

Currently a senior staff accountant with Talman Home in the Investor Reporting Department, she has exhibited her works in both the Des Plaines and Norridge offices.

Jr. High camp set

The Golf Maine Park District is offering a special program for students entering seventh and eighth grade this fall. The camp focuses on Sports and Lifetime activities such as tennis, canoeing and golf to name a few. The camp also has many trips to facilities like Sluggers, The Ultimate Sports, The Big Sugi and an overnight camping trip to Fox River Recreation. The camp continues until Aug. 9. Registration can be for all weeks or on a weekly basis.

For more information contact the Golf Maine Park District at 297-3000.

Beautify parks by tree donations

Would you like to remember someone special? Or would your organization like to recognize a community leader or event?

The Morton Grove Park District's new tree donation program allows you to commemorate a special occasion or person and at the same time beautify your favorite park.

A variety of trees and site locations are available. All donations are tax deductible. Trees begin at $140.

For more information or to receive a tree donation brochure call 965-7447.

Reading Club plans final programs

The big Summer Reading Club Final programs will be held Aug. 8 at 2 and 7 p.m. in the Niles Public Library, 6960 Oakton St.

Two simultaneous programs will be held, one for Summer Reading Club members and one for Read-With-Me Club members.

Roberts Marionettes will perform the story of Rapunzel for children going into second grade and up, Aug. 8 at 2 and 7 p.m. in the Children's Room. No registration is required, but seating is limited.

Bill Hooper will perform his "Active Music For Children" for children going into first grade and younger, Aug. 8 at 2 and 7 p.m. in the auditorium. Hooper's program features singing with lots of audience participation, and lots of movement. No registration is required, but seating is limited.

Seniors announce plans for August

Maine Township Seniors can count on a month of exciting activities in August.

They can begin the month by gathering for fun and friendship at one of two regular monthly bingo games at noon Tuesday, Aug. 6, at Oakton Arms, 1665 Oakton Place, Des Plaines, and noon Thursday, Aug. 8, at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge. A 50-cent fee for coffee and sweet rolls will be collected at the door.

Chicago's unique skyline will be the focus of a 90-minute architectural cruise along the Chicago River and Lake Michigan shoreline Wednesday, Aug. 7, led by a guide from the Chicago Architectural Foundations. The cruise will be followed by a bountiful family-style luncheon at the popular Robert & Allen's Regency Banquet Hall in Chicago.

Deluxe busses will leave from the Farmers Market parking lot, Lee and Perry, Des Plaines, at 9 a.m. and return about 3:30 p.m. Cost of the event is $31 for members. Guest reservations at $36 will be accepted on a space-available basis.

Antique expert Dale Winkler of Algoma, Wisconsin, will share his knowledge of antique glassware with the Maine Township Seniors at a seminar at 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 16, in the Maine Township Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge. He will provide information on identifying glassware by the way it was manufactured and discuss unique characteristics that relate to value, rarity and age. Participants may bring their own antique glass treasures to the seminar.

Cost is $5 and advance registration is required.

Good old down home entertainment by surprise musical troupe will accompany a home-style feast at the Seniors' August luncheons.

Members can choose one of two luncheons to be held at noon Wednesday, Aug. 21, at Banquet by Brigante, 2648 Dempster St., Des Plaines, and noon Thursday, Aug. 22, at the Des Plaines Elk's Lodge, 495 Lee St., Des Plaines.

Cost of the luncheons is $7.50 for members. Guest reservations at $8.50 will be accepted on a space-available basis.

To receive a membership application and obtain reservation information for activities and trips, call the Maine Township Seniors Office, 297-2510, ext. 240 or 241.

Passages lecture set for Aug. 6

Cheryl Wolin, M.A., Evans-ton alderman and adjunct faculty member of Oakton Community College, will examine how people learn to become members of a society and specifically how native and foreign-born Americans learn to become "American" in a Passages Through Life lecture on Tuesday, Aug. 6, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in Room 112 of Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave. in Skokie.

A $1 donation is requested. For more information, call (708) 635-1444.

The residents and staff of Forest Villa Nursing Center, in conjunction with the Muscular Dystrophy Association, are sponsoring a car wash on Saturday, Aug. 3, from 8 a.m. - noon (rain date Aug. 4). The car wash will be held at Forest Villa Nursing Center, 6840 W. Touhy Ave., Niles. A minimum donation of $5 is requested.

Leaning Tower seniors see 'Mame'

"Mame" is the play that Leaning Tower Seniors will see on Wednesday, Aug. 14, at the Fireside Restaurant and Playhouse at Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin.

The Fireside is known for their warm hospitality and friendly service. There will be a delicious lunch in the lovely restaurants and there will be time to browse through the Village Square Shoppes before the play begins. "Mame" is a side splitting, heart-warming musical filled with some of the merriest tunes, including "We Need a Little Christmas", "Open a New Window", etc.

The cost per member is $43 and an additional $2 for guests. The bus will leave Leaning Tower Senior Center promptly at 8:15 a.m. for the lovely drive up to Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin.

For information call Lois Dickert, Leaning Tower Senior at (708) 647-8222, ext. 2237; 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

MG village names 'Senior of Month'

Ninety-seven years young! Morton Grove is fortunate to have a real southern belle living in town. As a young woman Beth Daube was born and raised on a southern plantation just before the turn of the century and in 1918 her family settled in Chicago.

Now, Daube resides at the "White House" on Waukegan Rd. and is a delightful member of the Monday, Wednesday and Thursday Senior Clubs at the Prairie View Community Center. She is never without a smile, a kind word and a friendly hello.

Quite and softspoken, this lady is self-sufficient and proud.

Beth says, "as you get older, you get back what you have given over the many years." She promised the village could honor her again on the 100th anniversary of her birth and officials look forward to that opportunity.

Annual Fun Fest at Glenview Terrace

Where can you find family, friends, food and fun on Friday, Aug. 9?

At the Glenview Terrace Third Annual American Heart Association Fun Fest. It will be held at the Northshore's prestigious Glenview Terrace Nursing Center, 1511 Greenwood Rd., Glenview, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Residents, family, staff, friends and local businesses have donated time, money, food and raffle gifts to help welcome the community into the facility.

The "Wide World of Taste" food tent will house a wide variety of ethnic delicacies from around the world. A dunk tank, par one golf and a moonwalk are only some of the many activities for kids of all ages.

Special entertainment will be provided by the talented Penny Prior, a favorite here at Glenview Terrace.

In addition to these festivities, a raffle will be held with a series of valuable prizes being raffled, including sports memorabilia from the White Sox, Bulls, Cubs and Blackhawks.

As part of the annual program the Northern Illinois Clinical Laboratories will once again be offering cholesterol and blood sugar testing at the Fun Fest. The Heart Association will have a literature table offering pamphlets and materials about their cause and research. All proceeds from the event will benefit the American Heart Association.

Parking will be free. For more information about this exciting event contact Glenview Terrace at (708) 729-9090.

DIABETES SCREENING
Blood sugar is the fuel that runs the body. When blood sugar is out of normal balance, many types of symptoms develop because nearly all tissues in the body depend on it to function. There are two basic types of diseases associated with blood sugar. Diabetes mellitus is a condition in which the blood sugar is too high and hypoglycemia is a condition wherein the blood sugar is too low. Free, simple and quick blood sugar evaluations are offered from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 6 in the Flickinger Senior Center. People coming in for the screening should not be known diabetics and should fast the evening meal of the night before.

HEARING SCREENING
Free hearing screenings for residents will be offered on Saturday, Aug. 10 from 10 a.m. until noon, in the Flickinger Municipal Center. Appointments are necessary and may be made by calling the Morton Grove Department of Health & Human Services at 470-5246.

ADVANCED DIRECTIVE DECLARATION
"Advanced Directive Declarations," are also referred to as Living Wills, Power of Attorney for Health Care, or Power of Attorney for Property. These declarations direct family and loved ones of how an individual would desire their last stages of life to be conducted. The Flickinger Senior Center now has a helpful packet of materials describing these declarations as well as the forms themselves. Items in the packet include a Medical Ethics Discussion Form, General Points of Information, Illinois Living Will Act - Declaration, Illinois Statutory Short Form Power of Attorney for Health Care, What Is a Durable Power of Attorney for Property?, Illinois Statutory Short Form Power of Attorney for Property, and a Durable Power of Attorney Wallet Card. For more information or to obtain a packet, call the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

PREVENTIVE CARE: ARE YOU COVERED?
According to a recent report, the good health of Americans today and in the next century "relies substantially on improved access to, and increased use of preventive services." Yet, it is estimated that only 1 percent to 3 percent of our annual health-care bill goes for preventive services.

Many Americans cannot afford preventive care because they are uninsured or their insurance doesn't cover preventive tests. Even Medicare has been slow to pay for early detection and preventive care. Health insurers and Medicare reason that you know in advance if you need an annual preventive procedure, so you can budget for it. Yet, many people put off or neglect to get services that are not covered by insurance.

Studies indicate that preventive services could be provided for with less than a 5 percent increase in health care insurance premiums. For seniors, preventive service such as influenza vaccine, pneumococcal vaccine, glaucoma screening, and colon cancer screening are well worth budgeting for and paying for out of your own pocket if your insurance policy doesn't cover them. If more people demand coverage for preventive service, insurance companies might be more willing to offer these benefits. (Reprinted from the June-July, 1991 edition of "Senior Health" published by the Chicago Medical Society.)

COLORECTAL TEST KITS
A colorectal screening is a simple, convenient and private method for individuals to test themselves for diseases of the colon. The test will detect blood in the stool before it can be seen and it is very helpful in identifying the onset of colon cancer. Kits and instruction for usage are available at the Morton Grove Department of Health and Human Services in the Flickinger Municipal Center, 6101 Capulina Ave. Kits and test evaluations are free of charge to Morton Grove residents.

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center at 965-7447. To receive the "Seniors in Morton Grove" newsletter, send $2.50 to the Morton Grove Park District, 6834 Dempster Street, Morton Grove, IL 60053.

VILLAGE OF SKOKIE
Thelma Wagner, a clinical social worker with Parkside Older Adult Services will discuss factors that affect memory and how it changes with normal aging. The program will be presented at the Smith Activities Center, Lincoln and Galitz on Aug. 19, at 1:30 p.m. Please join us for an extremely timely topic. There is no charge for attending. For further information, please contact Evie at 673-0500, ext. 338.

Niles policemen volunteer at party for veterans

On June 26, the Italian-American War Veterans sponsored a pizza party at Hines Hospital. The party was given for the disabled veterans in the Extended Care Unit. The Niles Police Department employs a member of the organization, Tony Durso.

Volunteers for the event, went to the rooms of the disabled vets and handed out pizza and soda. Those vets that could get themselves to the day room, were served in there. It was a gratifying event for the members of the Niles Police Department, who assisted the organization. Members of the Niles Police that volunteered their time were Lt. John Katsoolias, Sgt. Dean Strzelecki, and Officer John Gaba.

Group explores male identity

Men, throughout history, have been socialized to keep their feelings to themselves. Just recently, Counseling Service Associates of Skokie is offering a professionally-led group designed to provide a safe place for men to explore ways of building nurturing and satisfying relationships with each other, with spouses and with family.

The group will also deal with their view of masculinity and how it impacts on the work they choose to do. The group will include discussions, readings and exercises to empower men to get what they want from their lives in a challenging, growth-producing setting.

"For Men Only: Exploring Male Identity" meets every Wednesday, 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. To reserve a space, please call Joe Seidess at (708) 965-0195.

Letters to the Editor

Resident criticizes Bugle for parade coverage

Dear Editor:

Your coverage of the Niles July 4th parade float winners was an abysmal failure. If there is an opposite of the Pulitzer Prize it might be called the "Shoe Award" for photojournalism and I do believe you have captured it.

The two co-winners of the parade were the Boy Scouts of America and Our Lady of Ransom Church and they were awarded plaques commemorating the event and their efforts. The front page of the Bugle, however, showed a picture of the Niles Pastry float entry, which was used on the front page as a good quality photo and we used it based on the fact that they were parade participants. Since OLR and the SJB Boy Scouts were co-winners, we're sure, Mr. Bell, you would not have been happy if we used the SJB scouts on the front page. We suggest that you check with your school personnel at OLR and find out how many school functions The Bugle has covered throughout the year and how many photos we have run of OLR children; perhaps maybe one of your own. Give us the benefit of not being infallible and perhaps taking a few not-so-perfect photos once in a while.

You ought to be ashamed of yourself. Do you get free pastry items occasionally?

Robert A. Bell
Niles resident and
Ransom Float Committee member

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bugle printed ten pictures of the Niles July 4th parade in the July 11 issue.

Reader reminisces about baseball's good old days

Dear Editor:

Baseball fans of my generation were thrilled recently when, some 50 years after they gave the baseball world the greatest thrills the game has ever known, my baseball heroes, and Hall of Famers, Ted Williams, the "Splendid Sprinter" of the Boston Red Sox, and "Jolting Joe DiMaggio," the Yankee Clipper, were honored by President George Bush, and also at the All-Star Game held in Toronto. When people talk about the good old days, they must be referring to baseball.

Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio did things the old-fashioned way to gain entrance into the Baseball Hall of Fame. They earned it. Their feats will never again be repeated.

As a military man, when Williams and DiMaggio put their baseball careers on "hold" to enter the military, they became even greater heroes in my eyes.

As a youngster living in Massachusetts I lived - but mostly died - with the Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox were a terrific team in those days, but the Yankees were, for the most part, just a little bit better.

Of course, living in Chicagoland for the past 42 years, I have graduated from the thrills and disappointments of boyhood, to the thrills and disappointments of a senior citizen because I am now a Chicago Cubs fan.

On well, at least we have a terrific basketball team - the Chicago Bulls.

How to keep garden green during summer

The lack of rain this summer is forcing people to be careful about watering their gardens and lawns. In order to keep your garden and lawn healthy during the long dry summer, the Chicago Botanic Garden offers some helpful hints.

David Vismara, manager of horticulture, says the most important thing to remember during a dry spell is not to worry about watering lawns. Lawns are very hardy and will go dormant without water, but they will come back.

Newly-planted shrubs, trees, and perennials should be watered regularly. "Those which have been planted within the last 12 months are at the highest risk and should be a top priority for homeowners," Vismara says. The same holds true for flower and vegetable gardens. Vismara says that plants, which were transplanted or newly planted in a garden, are more vulnerable to the severe dry weather than items which have been in the ground a longer period of time.

The best time to water plants is in the early morning or the late evening, because with less sun and intense heat, there is less of a chance for evaporation. Vismara also recommends root-watering systems or soak hoses as the best way to water lawns. "Overhead sprinklers may cover a large area, but they don't provide the same soaking capabilities as soak hoses and root-watering systems," Vismara says.

Mulching is another way to conserve water because it traps moisture. Vismara says applying a second layer of mulch in dry weather is recommended.

Persons with questions about gardening can call the Plant Information Service at the Chicago Botanic Garden at (312) 835-0972 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily. Questions about gardening may also be answered by visiting the Plant Information office in the Fruit and Vegetable Garden. It is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Entries accepted for beautification awards

The Skokie Improvement and Beautification Commission is accepting entries for its 1990 Property Owner Appreciation Awards program. The entries are due by Oct. 15.

Each year the Improvement and Beautification Commission recognizes property owners within the village who have made an exemplary effort to enhance the appearance of their front yards.

Anyone wishing to be considered for this year's certificates of appreciation should submit color photographs of their landscaped front yards. The landscaping should include flowers. Pictures of front yards of businesses and balconies of condominiums are also considered for the program.

Please include your name, address and telephone number on the back of each photograph. Send your entries to Property Owner Awards, care of Beautification Commission Chairman Marshall Massie, Village of Skokie, P.O. Box 309, Skokie, IL 60076. All entries must be received by Oct. 15.

Beautification certificate winners will be honored at a special ceremony.

Sculptured Judaic pendants available

On the medal pictured above The Lion of Israel (Lion of Judah) guards the nine branch Menorah of Hanukah, symbol of freedom recalling the struggle of the Maccabees for independence and the freedom to worship in the Jewish religion. To the right is the traditional Star of David, emblem of the Jewish faith.

On the reverse side Moses descends from Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments, revealing to the Israelites the revelation of God, through the Law.

Heirloom Sculptures, Half Moon Bay, California, announces the Lion of Israel Medal, issued by the Judaic Medal Society, and now available only from Heirloom Sculptures, is being offered in a 22K gold-layered pendant.

Designed and sculptured by E.N. Weistrop, world's foremost sculptor of Judaic Art Medals, the Lion of Israel Pendant Medallion, appropriate for both men and women has been referred to as "the most beautiful medal in all Judaica" and "the key medal in Judaica".

Both sides of this superbly sculptured finely detailed medallion symbolically and realistically capture the essence of Judaism. Sculptured in 22K gold-layered high relief, the medallion is 1 1/2" in diameter encircled by a bezel with a 24-inch gold-layered necklace appropriate for both sexes. Each medallion is housed in a handsome grey velvet case.

The Lion of Israel Pendant Medallion is available at an initial offering price of $109 with satisfaction guaranteed or full refund. There is no shipping charge to all 50 states. Those wishing to order should send payment of $109 for each Pendant Medallion to Heirloom Sculptures, P.O. Box 248, Half Moon Bay, California 94019. Persons wishing to pay by MasterCard or Visa may do so and may place their order by phoning toll free 1 (800) 950-9297.

ERA raises money for muscular dystrophy

Two muscular dystrophy fund-raising events were recently conducted by the staff at Niles-based ERA Callero & Catino Realtors.

In the first event, the sales agents had a canister collection at the intersection of Milwaukee Avenue and Oakton Street. The generosity of Niles residents and visitors was tremendous and a total of $1,125 was collected.

For the second event, a garage sale was conducted. Customers who were selling their houses through ERA Callero & Catino donated most of the items sold, and $364 was raised in two days.

The real estate office paid all costs for the events so 100 percent of the money went to benefit children suffering from muscular dystrophy.

Legion Auxiliary honors volunteers

Those loyal ladies reaching special "hour categories" of volunteer service at the Edward Hines VA Hospital in Maywood, Ill., were honored recently from the Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134.

The annual volunteer recognition luncheon ceremony was held in the Gold Cup Room of the Hawthorne Race Course in Cicero.

One of the top outstanding awards singled out for special recognition was Josephine Lange of Skokie, the hospital chairman for the Dept. of Ill.

Lange was saluted for 27,136 devoted hours and over 38 years of attendance.

Also attending were two Unit #134 past presidents who were honored: Ruth Tegett of Arlington Heights and Julie Karsten of Morton Grove were honored for spending almost every Wednesday at the VA Hospital performing volunteer service for the ex-servicemen confined there.

Water Ark activated every hour

President Nicholas J. Melas, of the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago, is reminding every one in the Chicago area that the district's Centennial Fountain and Water Ark is now in its third season.

President Melas has stated that one of the most beautiful sites in the Chicago area is to see the Water Ark, which is located at McClurg Court and the Chicago River. Melas concluded, by saying the Ark is activated for the first ten minutes of every hour from 10 a.m. to midnight, except at 3 and 4 p.m. The Ark went into operation on May 1 and will be operational until Oct. 1.

Event benefits equipment fund

The Niles Park District recently sponsored a benefit softball event at Thillens Stadium, Devon and Kedzie in Chicago.

Under the chairmanship of John Jekot of 8255 Oketo, three girls' softball games were played at the 2,200-seat facility.

In the third through fifth grade game, Niles beat Edison Park 15 to 9. In sixth through eighth grade play Golf Maine (3) edged past Golf Maine (4) 8 to 7.

In order to help make the event a financial success, Thillens Checkers donated the entire facilities free of charge to the Niles Park District so all the gate receipts went directly to their equipment fund.

Youth Tennis Camp begins

The third and final session of the Frank Sacks Tennis Camp runs until Aug. 16.

The camp is co-sponsored by the Lincolnwood, Skokie, Morton Grove, and Park Ridge Park Districts. This year both the regular morning program from 9 a.m. to noon and the afternoon program for high school tennis team and tournament players are held on the Niles West tennis courts.

The Niles West Tennis Camp is now in its eleventh year and includes the popular morning camp for beginners through intermediate levels ages 8-17 and the afternoon program for high school tennis team members and tournament players ages 13 to 18.

Both programs are directed by U.S.P.T.A. certified tennis professional Frank Sacks. Sacks was Head Boys Tennis Coach at Niles West from 1981 to 1986 and Head Girls Tennis Coach at Niles North from 1983 to 1985 and Head Girls Tennis Coach at Niles West in 1989.

His 1982 and 1986 Niles Indian Boys were the only tennis teams in the school's history to qualify for the state tournament.

Registration for both the morning youth camp and the afternoon high school players camp is taking place at the Lincolnwood and Park Ridge Park District offices. For more information, please call Sacks at (312) 929-3196.

Jewelry missing

A condominium resident in the 5500 block of Lincoln Avenue, Morton Grove, discovered several pieces of jewelry missing from a bedroom jewelry box and estimated they disappeared between June 3 and July 26. She said the box was in a dresser drawer and the only ones in the room besides herself were two carpet cleaners. She estimated her loss at $575.

Cars damaged

The owner of an '88 Chevrolet Beretta estimated $1,000 damage was done to her car the night of July 23 when persons unknown threw two bricks at the front of the car. The bricks broke the car windshield and dented and scratched the hood.

Unknown offenders used a sharp tool to scratch the entire driver's side of a 1982 Mercedes 240-D parked in a lot in the 6800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the night of July 23. The car's Evanston owner estimated the damage at $800.

Drunk driver misses street by a yard

Niles police arrested a law-abiding drunk driver July 24, who stopped his pick-up truck on a front yard in the 8600 block of Sunset Drive, apparently to either take a nap or pass out.

The 40-year-old Des Plaines man became beligerent when police attempted to take the truck keys, which were not in the ignition.

The man was charged with illegal transport of open liquor and the uncaped bottle of beer found next to him in the cab of the truck was retained as evidence. He was also cited for driving off the roadway.

His court appearance was scheduled for Sept. 4.

Stolen lumber carts spotted

A driver for a do-it-yourself store in the 7200 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, saw two lumber carts belonging to his firm and clearly marked with the company name when he made a delivery to a resident of the 4900 block of Mulford Street, Skokie, July 24.

He saw the carts in a garage his customer shared with a neighbor. They were valued at $250 each.

Gang graffiti mars day care center, store

Management of Kiddie Garden Day Care reported spray-painted gang graffiti on the north wall of their premises, at 9130 Golf Road, Niles, the night of July 23.

In addition, Niles police described several examples of what they termed "gang writing" on an empty store at 9120 Golf Road. The specific phrases, included in police reports, are omitted so as not to give publicity to the gangs mentioned in the graffiti.

Broken window

Someone broke an apartment window in the 8200 block of Elizabeth Avenue, Niles, around 5:30 p.m. July 25.

Police theorize a rock was used. About $1,000 damage was estimated.

MG Police ticket dog owner

Police served a dog owner in the 6800 block of Lyons Street, Morton Grove, with 13 tickets after the owner's tan and black German shepherd dog bit a mailman the morning of July 25 then attacked an officer investigating the scene.

Morton Grove Animal Control officer Tom Seffick used his repellent spray twice before the dog retreated to the rear of his owner's house, where the officer found a patio door screen patched with masking tape to secure the dog. The dog owner has been warned before and some of the charges lodged against him included creating a nuisance; an unleashed dog; keeping a dangerous dog; a dog at large; no evidence of a dog license and no evidence of a rabies shot. Each charge is subject to a $500 fine. The owner's court date is Aug. 8.

MG man denies breaking car window

In the early hours of July 27, a witness heard noises and looked out to see a Morton Grove resident, 34, standing about five feet from an '86 Honda Civic with a broken rear window.

The man ran, but the witness called police and they picked him up in the 9100 block of Gross Point Road, Morton Grove.

The witness positively identified the man and investigation determined the man had an outstanding warrant from the county. The man denied breaking the car window, but offered to pay restitution for the damage, which was estimated at $150, within ten days. The car owner postponed signing a complaint to see if the man would pay for the damage within the time period, but police processed him for the warrant and released him on $200 bond.

Bank deposit missing

Management of a Golf Mill food outlet reported the theft of $968 in deposits July 23.

Employees of the Subway Shop said the deposit bag was on a desk while they attended to deliveries and they later discovered it missing.

Detective reports gun theft

A Chicago police detective reported a chrome plated snub nosed regulation gun he kept in its holster and clipped to a bracket under his car seat was missing after he took the car to a car wash in the 9100 block of Waukegan Road, Morton Grove, July 24.

He discovered the loss two days later when he went to work. The gun and holster were valued at $350.

Purse, wallet stolen

The afternoon of July 26 in a book store in the 7100 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, unknown offenders took a clerk's purse from behind the checkout counter.

Besides the $100 it contained, the clerk considered the purse and its other contents a $30 loss.

Persons unknown took a 19-year-old Chicago student's wallet from his locker in the North Shore Club, 6821 Dempster St., Morton Grove, the afternoon of July 26. The man lost a combination lock for the locker valued at $3, his $15 wallet, $10, credit cards and identification valued at $5.

The student noticed a tall, 200-pound man watching him and following him prior to his return to his locker.

Ex-husband charged in car bashing

A Niles woman has signed complaints against her 24-year-old ex-husband, charging him with criminal damage to her 1981 Chevette.

The couple, divorced for a year, both reside in the 6700 block of Forestview Avenue, according to police.

A July 29 report describes the incident in which the man and woman squabbled in the driveway over the woman's plans to meet an ex-boyfriend.

The ex-husband allegedly threw groceries onto the pavement and broke out two car windows with a brick. He is to appear in court Aug. 12 and has agreed to move in with his family in Waukegan.

Auto store employee deceived by customer

A 23-year-old Grayslake man, employed in an auto store in the 8700 block of Ferris Avenue, Morton Grove, believed a customer, who told him on July 16 he knew a Rockford man who wanted to sell a '72 Harley Bagger motorcycle.

He believed the customer when he said he would drive to Rockford and pick up the motorcycle for him if he gave him $250, and he believed him again after he gave the man the money and he called to say the Rockford man wasn't home, but would be, soon. The customer gave him a beeper phone number to call on July 19, but although the Grayslake man tried several times, he could not get an answer.

He also found the credit card the customer had given him to ensure his return was expired. He had no other identification for the customer who appeared to be 40 years old.

Grocery employees caught stealing merchandise

Personnel in a grocery store in the 5700 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, were alerted early July 22 when an alarm indicated someone entered a cigarette storage area.

Later, a store employee, a 31-year-old Chicagoan, questioned two employees who left the store carrying four large bags that looked like they contained cigarettes. The two employees, aged 20 and 24, of Chicago, could not produce a sales receipt, so they were returned to the store and held for police.

Investigation uncovered the bags held 37 cartons of cigarettes, assorted tee shirts, soap, trash bags and personal items valued at over $1,017.

Each man was released on a personal recognizance bond of $50,000.

Women grab clothing, escape

A group of seven women made off with $325 worth of clothing from a Golf Mill store July 25, while store employees were distracted.

Management at ID said the women entered as a group and took assorted shirts, pants, shorts and sweaters from a rack.

Wallet missing

Niles police received a report of a missing wallet from a Sears shopper at the Golf Mill store July 27.

Reportedly $235 cash was in the wallet.

Beams injure landscape worker

Four "I" beams, each measuring 1/4" x 10" x 20' long and stacked on top of a three part cement-bin, slid down onto a landscape worker, 19, of Chicago, the morning of July 25.

The incident happened at a service yard in the 6400 block of Chestnut Street, Morton Grove, owned by both the landscape firm and a welding company. The worker and his brothers were trying to move the beams to facilitate the movement of gravel in one of the bins, reports said. Two beams hit the man's legs, the other two his head.

Several employees came to the man's aid and removed the beams before police and paramedics arrived. He was taken to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

Windshield damaged

Unknown offenders used a landscape rock weighing about 35 pounds to break a windshield on an '89 Chevrolet 4 x 4 truck parked in the 8900 block of Mason Avenue, Morton Grove, the night of July 22.

A hammer-type tool was used to break a rear truck window, bringing the estimated damage total to $700.

Sheahan appoints Gang Unit head

Cook County Sheriff Michael F. Sheahan has appointed a veteran police officer with extensive experience in investigations and computer programming as commander of the sheriff's new Gang Crimes Narcotics Unit.

Capt. Allan Taylor, a 30-year veteran of the Cook County Sheriff's Police Department, will head the expanded and enhanced gang unit.

Sheahan won County Board approval to expand the unit during budget hearings last February. The board approved funding to increase the unit from 14 to 35 officers.

work of gang information which will be accessible to police agencies from throughout the county.

The County Board has approved funding for purchase of a state-of-the-art computer network system for the gang unit.

The computer system will enable the Sheriff's Police to communicate electronically with other governmental and law enforcement agencies.

Under the system, suburban police departments will be able to access information on a particular case or to provide gang-related information for use by other agencies.

in the unit. Ten additional officers will join the unit in mid-August and the final 10 will be in place by the fall.

Taylor, 60, joined the Sheriff's Police Department in 1961 as a patrolman. He rose through the ranks of the department, earning appointment to lieutenant within eight years.

While working under the rank of lieutenant, Taylor held numerous supervisory positions, including investigator, commander of the tactical unit, patrol watch commander, patrol supervisor and commander of personnel.

From 1981-'83 Taylor served

Cook County Sheriff Michael Sheahan (left) meets with Captain Alan Taylor, commander of the Sheriff's Police Gang Crimes Narcotics Unit. Sheahan recently appointed Taylor to head the expanded unit to fight the spread of gangs in the suburbs. Taylor will oversee 35 officers when the unit reaches its full complement this fall.

"Our expanded gang unit is going to play a crucial role in fighting gangs and drugs in suburban and unincorporated Cook County," Sheahan said.

"Captain Taylor has 30 years of hands-on police investigative experience and that is exactly what we need to go after gangs and the drugs they bring with them," Sheahan said.

The main functions of the unit will be narcotics enforcement and intelligence gathering on gang members and their patterns of activity.

Taylor will supervise formation of a central gang intelligence repository, a computerized net-

"We intend to create a central database of information for use by all city and suburban law enforcement agencies," Taylor said. "There is nowhere in the suburbs right now where this type of gang intelligence exists."

All officers assigned to the unit will complete an intensive three-week training session. Representatives from the Chicago Police Department, the Cook County State's Attorney's Office, the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency will participate and teach the training sessions.

There are presently 15 officers as commander of the Sheriff's Fugitive Warrants Division, where he initiated and supervised the computerization of the entire warrant file.

"This is going to be an elite corps of officers dedicated solely to curbing illegal drug sales and gathering gang intelligence," Sheahan said of the unit.

"We will also be mobile enough to move in and assist other suburban agencies," Taylor added. "Once we are up and running, the gangs are going to feel our presence."

Hub caps stolen

Persons unknown took four hub caps from an '88 Dodge Caravan parked in a drive in the 7100 block of Church Street, Morton Grove, between July 24-25. The van owner estimated his loss at $200.

An Ohio woman parked her father's car in the 6800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the afternoon of July 25 and when she returned to the car, saw four men standing around it.

As the men got into an old beater nearby, the woman saw two hub caps were missing from one side of the car. She called it a $100 loss.

Picture window, car vandalized

Landscape and decorative material was used to break a double pane picture window and a car window in the 8400 block of Ozark Avenue, causing $1,000 damage.

The homeowner was vacationing at the time of the July 21 weekend incident, but neighbors reported that a two-foot section of concrete lawn trim, and a concrete swan planter were used to shatter the rear window of a car parked in the driveway. A one-foot by six-inch piece of coral was thrown through the house window.

Tires slashed

An Oak Park resident reported persons unknown slashed two tires on his 1983 Buick Skylark July 16 as the car was parked in a lot in the 8200 block of Austin Avenue, Morton Grove.

The man estimated the tire damage at $120 and the cost of a tow at $45.

Trucks stripped of tires

Two new trucks parked at King Nissan Motors, 5757 W. Touhy Ave., were stripped of their tires July 25.

A security guard, reportedly did not see the incident. Each tire was valued at $200 and the vehicle's cargo walls were damaged, costing about $600 in repairs.

Lincolnwood man displays winning catch

The Red Cloud Athletic Fund raised anchors for nine charter boats as they set course to compete in the second annual Sportsfishing Derby on Lake Michigan, from the Chicago Diversey Harbor Yacht Club to the Wisconsin border. The charter boat captains of the Midwest Charter Boat Association under the direction of President Bob White donated their time and boats for the participants to haul in more than 400 pounds of fish during a thrilling and exciting morning on Lake Michigan. There were prizes and trophies awarded for the largest and smallest fish and the heaviest catch. Buckets the Clown came away with a prize for his pee-wee catch. Shown here, chairman Dave Peck (left) congratulates Bob Mann (right), of Lincolnwood, as he proudly displays his boat's winning catch, a 12-pound lake trout.

Golfers awarded at Chamber outing

A record 142 golfers participated in the Skokie Chamber of Commerce's annual golf outing June 10. Over 160 people attended a membership dinner following the golf outing. For the first time ever, all golf holes and golf carts were sponsored. In addition, Cole Taylor Bank-Skokie was the Halfway House Sponsor (providing lunch for every golfer); AT&T Tele-type Federal Credit Union sponsored the cocktail hour; and Allstate Insurance Company sponsored dinner table favors. Carl Evans, Warehouse Club, won the men's low gross trophy with a score of 74. Roger Doran, Cordell Laminating/Anatomical Chart Co., won the men's low net trophy with a score of 69. Ladies low gross winner was Anne Stuckey, CPC Old Orchard Hospital, with a score of 98. Magie Anderson, Rush North Shore Medical Center, won the ladies low net trophy with a score of 62. NBD Skokie Bank awarded Scott Krier, S.R. Insurance, with a check for $100 for being closest-to-the-pin on the 11th hole (he was nine inches from a hole-in-one). Bob Piester, Affiliated Bank, was awarded a check for $50 for a $100 savings bond from Advanced Financial Systems for being closest-to-the-pin at the 16th hole. American Airlines/Easy Travel, Bank of Lincolnwood, Brunswick Corporation, CPC Old Orchard Hospital, Don's Fishmarket, Gloria Jean's Coffee Bean-Skokie, Holiday Inn North Shore, Howard Johnson Hotel-Skokie, JMB Properties Urban Co., Marshall Field's-Skokie, Mayer Kaplan JCC, North Shore Hilton and Towers, Sears Catalog Home Office, Traeger Furs, and Warehouse Club donated prizes for a special drawing which was held at the dinner.

Students jump rope for heart disease

Earlier this year students from Gemini Junior High School, 8955 N. Greenwood Ave., Niles - East Maine School District No. 63 got the jump on heart disease. They jumped rope, raising $4,668.18. Jump rope for heart is a program designed to teach participants about the benefits of regular exercise and a healthy lifestyle, while promoting teamwork and building school spirit. The event emphasizes the importance of a healthy lifestyle, including proper nutrition, exercise, not smoking and controlling high blood pressure. This year's event was the best ever," said Bill Gibson, coordinator of the "Jump for Heart." "Everyone had a great time, but even more important, the students learned about the importance of physical fitness and reducing the risk of cardiovascular disease. Those lessons will pay dividends throughout their lifetimes. The top student money raisers were: Jamie Goldstein, Seema Gurmani, Michael Puaz, Anna Yustin and Shannon Zilligen. Jump Rope for Heart is sponsored by the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance to benefit the American Heart Association. The money raised will support research and educational programs to fight cardiovascular diseases.

Skokie Little League plays at Thillens

The Skokie Indians Little League recently sponsored a benefit baseball event at Thillens Stadium, Devon & Kedzie in Chicago. Under the chairmanship of Harriet West of 9815 Karlov, 20 baseball games were played at the 2,200 seat facility in three different age divisions. In the Farm Division games, which all ended in a tie, the six year old contests were the Mets vs. the Tigers, A's vs. Orioles, Phillies vs. White Sox and Mariners vs. Tigers. In AAA play, Skokie A.A. punned Merit 14 to 1, Lou Malnati's lost to Wildenradt Design 8 to 1 before beating PMI 13 to 11, Old Orchard Hospital edged out Hub's 3 to 1, Sanford Truett TCD Filters 12 to 3 and Quartet won their game over Active Service 4 to 2. In the Major contests, Ganache Bakery rolled over Newtown 14 to 2, Flanders beat Betarinos 18 to 9, Restoration lost to Seven-Eleven 7 to 5, NBD outplayed Homer's 7 to 3 and Deeman Hurwitz beat Zera Construction 15-5. In order to help make the event a financial success, Thillens Facilities donated the entire facilities free of charge to the Skokie Indians so all the gate receipts went directly to their baseball scholarship and equipment fund.

Substance abuse center opens

Lutheran General group forms Heritage Society

Lutheran General Foundation, Park Ridge, announces the formation of The Heritage Society, a new avenue of charitable giving for individuals interested in supporting the goals and aspirations of Lutheran General Health Care System (L.G.H.C.S.).

The primary goal of The Heritage Society is to provide L.G.H.C.S. with opportunities for future financial stability and long-term growth. "Through a variety of deferred giving opportunities, The Heritage Society members can help shape the future of Lutheran General's health-care delivery system," says James D. McLennan, chairman of the foundation's board of directors.

With deferred giving, gifts of money, securities or other property can be donated to L.G.H.C.S. for future use. Bequests, gift annuities and life insurance benefits are examples of more common deferred gifts. "In addition to the satisfaction of making a very meaningful gift, important income and tax advantages can be gained by The Heritage Society members," adds Mr. McLennan. The Heritage Society members will be invited to participate in special social events as well as professional presentations by members of the medical and professional staff.

Additional benefits of Heritage Society membership include: personal assistance in estate and financial planning; tours; lectures; reduced fees for membership in Parkside Sports and Fitness Center; free parking at any of Lutheran General's facilities; and distinctive individual gift recognition.

For more information about Heritage Society membership or other charitable giving opportunities, call the Lutheran General Foundation, (708) 696-6500.

Bank raises money for Cancer Society

The Liberty Bank for Savings team prepares for the annual Bike-A-Thon for the American Cancer Society, riding from Logan Square to Grant Park and back. The Liberty team raised over $4,000 in pledges this year, the 3rd year it has sponsored a team. The 30-riders team is pictured here at Liberty's main office, 2392 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Hospital hosts managed care program

A program entitled "Managed Care: A Look at Psychiatric and Substance Abuse Benefits" will be held Thursday, Aug. 15, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Novick Auditorium at Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Lane.

The program is free and open to corporate benefits and human resources managers, however, advanced registration is required. Managed care is the concept of referring an employee to appropriate treatment that offers the most cost-effective program. It has been widely used in primary care through health maintenance organizations (HMO), but is relatively new in the mental health field.

A panel of three experts will discuss the various problems, challenges and potential solutions involving managed care in the mental health field. The presentations will be followed by a group discussion.

The panel will be comprised of Hal Levistar, a staff analyst with the Chevron Companies, Daniel Patterson, M.D., an associated clinical professor in the Department of Psychiatry at the Georgetown University Medical School, and Boris M. Astrachan, M.D., professor and head of the Psychiatry Department at the University of Illinois at Chicago. To register for the program, call the Forest Hospital Public Relations Department at (708) 635-4100, extension 363.

Cancer support group forms

A free support group for cancer patients, their families and friends will meet from 3:30 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, Aug. 6, and Tuesday, Aug. 20, in Room 301A of the Medical Library of The Glenbrook Hospital, 2100 Pfingsten Road, Glenview.

Group members meet to share their feelings, coping techniques, and information of various aspects of living with cancer. Meetings are moderated by Claudia Dancing, A.C.S.W., L.C.S.W., of The Glenbrook Hospital. All Cancer Support Group meetings have been changed from their original Thursday meeting time and place to the first and third Tuesday of every month from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the hospital's Medical Library. For more information, call The Glenbrook Hospital's Social Work Department at (708) 657-5667 or (708) 657-5668.

Diabetes, blood pressure tests offered

A free Diabetes/Blood Pressure screening is being offered as part of Albany Park's Summer Festival by Swedish Covenant Hospital, Hispanocare and Dr. Hareh Muni and Donald Slater in their office at 3403 W. Lawrence Ave. (second floor) from 1 to 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 2.

In addition, Hispanocare, a discount membership program serving Chicago's Hispanic community with more than 190 bilingual physicians, will be signing up new members. Anyone joining at the Albany Park Summer Festival receives a two-year membership for the price of one year and a Hispanocare T-shirt. Swedish Covenant Hospital is one of five Chicago Metropolitan hospitals, which are Hispanocare providers.

Appointments are not needed. Persons wishing additional information may call the office at 267-9600.

MG nurse receives achievement award

The Swedish Covenant Hospital Division of Nursing presented its annual award for "Outstanding Achievements in the Profession of Nursing" to Betty Cohen (right), of Morton Grove, former director of nursing education at the hospital. Barbara Jones, vice president of nursing at SCH, made the presentation during recent Nurses' Week activities at Swedish Covenant Hospital, 5145 N. California Ave. She commended the former nursing educator head on her many career achievements and extensive involvement in professional nursing organizations.

administrative costs have gotten out of hand.

Actually, salaries in all school districts have gotten out of hand. Despite enrollments being much lower than in the past, administrative costs keep mounting. In school District 63, when enrollment was more than double what its present enrollment is, the superintendent's salary has now more than doubled. A $40,000 superintendent's salary, when enrollment was around 7,000, is now more than $90,000 when enrollment is just above the 3,000 mark.

In school District 71 in Niles the superintendent of two schools with 350 students is over $100,000.

There's something basically wrong with these disproportionate salaries.

School people can argue a 1970 salary at $40,000 would merit a $120,000 figure by 1994 if we allowed a 6% cost of living increase each year. But managing half the number of students and half the number of schools seems to change the equation in setting salaries.

In Niles school District 71 the plus $100,000 salary for the superintendent is on top of two principal's salaries in the two-school-district. Such top heavy salaries in a 350-student school district seems quite out of focus.

The District 71 people approving the salaries contend the superintendent also fills other jobs such as the business manager's job, which are separate positions in other school districts.

The professionals who run the school districts are in complete command. Public board members, who supposedly supervise them, are manipulated and maneuvered and are little more than rubber stamps for the policies set by the superintendents and their staffs.

If you attend a Maine Township high school board meeting, board members are little more than marionettes on strings manipulated by the administrators. There's an air the administrators are the professionals and the board members are little more than dilettantes attending meetings.

We've often fantasized these professionals get together at their private meetings and set policy which applies throughout the area. If superintendent 'A' gets a peak salary, the professionals return to their boards, and not too subtly, let their board members know superintendent 'A' gets a peak salary which is much higher than what the local board is paying. The local school board is placed in the uncomfortable position of looking like it's short-changing its administrator so they up his pay to match the highest salary.

In past years the top school salaries were in line with the salaries of the taxpayers who paid the bills. But in the last decade the billpayer has economically moved up only modestly while the school hot-shots' pay has sky-rocketed.

Perhaps, school board members are embarrassed to say, 'No' when they're confronted with these high salary requests. But since they represent thousands of people who work much harder and get much less pay, they should have the courage to say enough is enough.

move kindergarten classes to Melzer School, which previously had been closed to district classes. The rising number of students means something will have to be done to ease the overcrowding. One solution may be to reconstruct former classroom buildings, which currently house administrative offices, back to classroom facilities. Apollo School is one such building, capable of holding 600 students.

Niles clubs ...

Niles Art Guild, with a minimum income, had to look elsewhere for meeting places. He said non-profit organizations such as the Women's Club, the Friends of the Library and the Art Guild were the ribs supporting the structure we call Niles.

In defense of the policy, park commissioners emphasized the district incurred expense by providing and maintaining the facilities.

Superintendent of Recreation Nancie Boland noted at least 12 park districts were surveyed before fees were established and all charged for use of their facilities.

Committee Chairman Marlene Baczek, who has asked for a cost-usage analysis of the facilities, noted expenses such as salaries and utilities enter into costs. Baczek later said "I'd like to see them not have to pay...but they have to (realize) they are reserving their time; the park could develop a program for that time." She emphasized developing tion. Other residents had similar feelings, but wanted their names withheld. One homeowner said "He was here long before Chesterfield Gardens was here. Everyone knew he was here. It's wrong at this time to force him out, it's unfair."

Another resident added "He has every right to be there; he was there first. He's entitled to make a living. I think it's a personal vendetta against him and his family."

Contrasting views came from other neighbors, who also wanted to remain anonymous. One remarked she thinks the garage is "horrible looking... (but) I wouldn't want to ruin their livelihood. I'd prefer single-family homes to be there."

A nearby 22-year resident talked in the same tone. "I'd like to see it go. It's unsightly. I've never had major problems with them, except they sometimes run their engines late at night—but I don't want to cause them any problems."

"I'd like to see it gone," another said. "It's an eyesore. They can be noisy at night...I don't like condos, either."

These neighbors moved in long after George Ruesch, Sr., put aside truck farming to concentrate on servicing trucks and buses. He built the brick garage at 8650 Shermer Road in 1928. Then, the surrounding area was still farmland, but in the '60s Chesterfield Gardens Estates was developed and neat houses were built around the garage. Mrs. George Ruesch, Sr., 89, still lives adjacent to the garage and in 1989 told The Bugle about meeting those new neighbors, describing them as "congenial, very, very nice people."

After his dad died, George Ruesch, Jr. took over the garage, but today grandson Jim, 38, is its operator.

In April, 1976, Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase sent notice the garage was in non-conformance with Niles zoning code and that he should cease operating as a "garage, etc.," by December 1981, but failed to enforce the order. Periodically, over the years, Niles sent out inspectors to note various zoning violations.

In March, 1989, Niles Housing Director Todd Bavaro wrote Ruesch he must rid the property of all inoperable vehicles; clean and remove chicken coop and chickens and repair fences, or legal action would be taken.

The same month, Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno told Ruesch he should close and asked for a letter to that effect by March 31.

In June, '89, Bavaro told The Bugle he had visited the site for three consecutive months and had seen some evidence of painting and clean up, but other violations—such as removal of truck parts and fence repair remained. He said by ordinance, Ruesch should have a paved driveway and parking lot.

But installing a parking lot required underground water retention and the cost proved prohibitive for Ruesch, who claimed he already could document having spent over $30,000 in repair on the garage since 1981.

Nov. 15, 1989, Niles formally files suit against the garage operators. The Ruesch family has employed two different lawyers to present their case, and recently, John Pikarski, a lawyer with extensive experience in zoning matters has contributed counsel.

new and quality programs was a district goal. Commissioners recalled previous discussions on the fee topic and explained they were established in order to keep down the district's tax levy.

Commissioner Jim Pierski said "The users are paying. We can't have the facilities unless someone helps pay, or ultimately, we'll have to close it down."

The Park District's rate scale differentiates between private, commercial and non-profit organization rental rates and between residents and non-residents.

Set-up fees vary according to the size of the room rented and the custodial staff, provides all tables and chairs and sets up garbage cans. Groups are free to bring their own coffee urns, but a fee is charged if a coffee urn or full coffee service is desired.

Niles professor wins educator's award

Oakton Community College professor Chad Ganger, chair of the Building Energy Systems program, has been named "Instructor of the Year" by the Greater Chicago Refrigeration Service Engineers Society.

"He is an educator in every sense of the word," the president of GCRSES said. "He has one of the finest community college programs in our area."

Ganger, a Niles resident, re-structured Oakton's heating and air conditioning program in 1979. A second award from GCRSES, the Branch Chapter Award, was also presented to Ganger and Urban Thobe, dean

Dist. 71 Board nominating petitions due

Three seats on the seven-member Niles Elementary Schools, District #71 board will be up for election on Nov. 5. The terms will be for four years.

A packet of information and forms is available in the Niles Elementary Schools District 71 office at 6935 W. Touhy, Niles.

Nominating petitions will be accepted at the Niles Elementary School District 71 office, 6935 W. Touhy Ave., Niles, from Monday, Aug. 19, at 8:30 a.m. during normal office hours (8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.) until Monday, Aug. 26, at 5 p.m.

Candidates are listed on the ballot in the order in which their nominating petitions are received except that all nominating petitions presented at 8:30 a.m. on Aug. 19, and petitions received in the first mail on Aug. 19, only are considered as filing at 8:30 a.m.

A lottery will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 5 p.m. to determine ballot positions for those filing at that specified time.

Write-in candidates must file a notarized declaration to be a write-in candidate.

"Candidates are strongly advised to obtain legal counsel as to their legal qualifications for office, the proper method of completing the petition forms with respect to the office, the minimum and maximum number of signatures required, the qualifications of the signers and circulators, etc," the State of Illinois Candidate's Guide, 1991 states.

In addition to teaching adults at Oakton, Ganger volunteers his time to teach computers at Eugene Field School in Park Ridge.

A registered professional engineer, Ganger is also a certified plant engineer and a certified energy manager. He is an active participant in the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers.

Host families sought for international students

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Brazil, Ecuador, Japan and Australia for 1991-92 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August 1991, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June, 1992. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries, have spending money and medical insurance.

Families interested in the host family program should call toll free 1-800-SIBLING.

Dist. 207 applies for Chapter 2 funds

District 207 has applied for funds not to extend $40,678 for 1992 under Chapter 2 programs.

The money will continue to be used to purchase instructional equipment and educational materials including library reference materials, computer software and hardware for instructional use, and the other curricular materials that can be used to improve the quality of instruction in the district.

Matching district funds are not required in Chapter 2 programs, which are 100 percent reimbursable under the current act.

Since Chapter 2 funding is done on a per pupil basis in both public and non-public schools, $6,424 of the $40,678 will be used to purchase materials for use by students at Notre Dame, Wilkows Academy, and Northridge Prep School.

The equipment, however, remains the property of District 207.

Dennis Dresen, director of Special Projects, coordinates the Chapter 2 programs for District 207.

Oakton Community College's Child Development Demonstration Center on the Des Plaines campus is currently accepting applications for children to attend the fall semester of its preschool program. The Child Development Demonstration Center provides a preschool program for children aged three to five. Its curriculum fosters discovery, exploration, interaction with peers and self-expression. Three programs are available. Choose from the morning or afternoon Monday/Wednesday/Friday program (8:30 to 11:30 a.m. or 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.) or the Tuesday/Thursday program (9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.). The program follows the college's calendar, meeting for 16 weeks per semester. Current fees are $480 for the three-day program and $320 for the two-day program. The one-time registration fee is $25. Interested parents are encouraged to visit the center with their preschooler. For an appointment or further information, call (708) 635-1840.

Two major activities for the Maine East group are a free tutoring program and a winter canned food drive.

Willows Academy prepares girls to be leaders

The Willows Academy of Niles offers a college prep education for girls, grades 6-12. In an atmosphere of mutual respect, the enthusiastic and dedicated teachers prepare girls to be self-motivated leaders. 100% of Willows graduates attend outstanding colleges because of the School's exceptional college prep curriculum. The Catholic faith imbues the school's philosophy. Daily Mass is available for those who wish to attend. The Willows offers a full range of sports, clubs, community service projects and student government opportunities to its students. Located near Milwaukee and Oakton, The Willows serves students from over 30 Chicagoland areas via car pools, buses and trains. Tuition is competitive with suburban Catholic high schools. Financial aid is available to qualifying families. Girls are welcome to visit The Willows for a day, call (708) 692-8630.

Local students on dean's list

Michelle DePasquale, Elizabeth K. Kramer, Linda Kratochvil, Gina Sigmund and Rosamary Zwigler of Des Plaines; Lilianna Bagrowicz of Lincolnwood; Nancy A. Borst and Helen Roman of Morton Grove; John Cecchin and Melissa D. Ohlson of Niles; and Peggy Ann Boake of Park Ridge are among 777 students named to the Elmhurst College Dean's List for the second semester. The dean's list for the second semester of the 1990-91 school year at Illinois Wesleyan, Bloomington, IL, includes Mi R. Kim of Niles. Linda Steiner, from Niles, is among the 1,738 students named to the 1991 spring semester Dean's List at the University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, Iowa. The University of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn., recently announced the names of students whose academic achievements during the spring semester earned them a place on the university's dean's list. Named to the dean's list was Michele Marie Levoy of Niles. Peter Joshua Leff, child of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin Leff of Niles, Ill., and graduate of Niles North High School, made the dean's list for academic achievement for the fall 1990 semester at Washington University in St. Louis. Connie Koshol of Park Ridge is one of 45 law students named to the School of Law Dean's List for the 1991 spring semester at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Children need more than good grades to attend college

by Jeff Cardella
Edward D. Jones & Co.

If your child is an above average academic achiever, don't start packing his or her bags for college just yet. These days it takes more than good grades to get a degree.

If your child will begin attending a state university within the next four or five years, you'll pay roughly $26,000 for a four-year education. That's quite a burden when you consider the average annual income per two-salary household is less than $45,000.

Worse yet, college costs continue to climb. If your child won't start college for another 15 years, you'll pay nearly the same amount, $24,000, for one year of college education. Remember these are the costs of state universities; the price tag for a four-year private school is even steeper.

While there is no way to completely eliminate the sting from saving for your child's education, a number of investments are available for making the savings process as painless as possible, including zero-coupon bonds, annuities, and mutual funds.

There are two types of zero-coupon bonds. Both offer tax advantages. The first type of zeros, zero-coupon government bonds are backed by the U.S. government. With this investment you set aside a smaller sum today. The money grows at a compounded rate to a much larger sum by the time your child finishes high school. The interest is automatically reinvested, so your money grows more quickly than if you take possession of your earnings. Best of all, you don't have to pay state income taxes on the earnings.

The other type of zeros is zero-coupon municipal bonds. These bonds are backed by the city, state or local government that issues them or are guaranteed by an insurance company. Zero-coupon municipal bonds save you tax dollars. All zero-coupon municipal bonds are exempt from federal income taxes.

Although annuities aren't as familiar to us as CDs, they also provide an excellent means of accumulating wealth over a longer period of time. Plus, with annuities all taxes on your earnings are deferred until you begin withdrawing them. There are basically two types of annuities. Both combine insurance coverage with the opportunity to invest. Fixed annuities guarantee the return of both principal and interest. The return of variable annuities, on the other hand, fluctuates because it is dependent upon market performance.

Yet another type of investment that offers potential rising income and appreciation of principal is mutual funds with growth or growth-and-income objectives. Because mutual funds represent the pooled investment dollars of many investors, you gain the advantages of professional management and diversification. Many conservative funds have excellent records of staying ahead of inflation and the rising costs of education.

Depending on your situation, any one or a combination of these investments can provide an opportunity for you to save for your child's college education. What is vital is that you begin studying the costs now. It doesn't take a lot of money to start these savings programs, but it does take action.

Montay awards gerontology certificates

Montay College on Chicago's north side honored 12 students at a graduation dinner on May 18, who received certificates in gerontology by successfully completing 24 credit hours in the program. In the past four years, Montay's Gerontology Program has grown from an enrollment of 10 to 60 students currently.

INTRODUCING * ALL DAY * KINDERGARTEN PROGRAM FALL 1991

"Achieving a proper balance between intellectual growth and social development through activity based curriculum"

"Research is overwhelming in concluding that full-day kindergarten produces academic gains that are significant - in reading readiness and other achievement measures, in social growth, in reduced retentions, in parental attitudes, and in added opportunities for specialized attention."

"All-day kindergarten gives children twice the time over the course of a school year to practice skills they have learned and to participate in enrichment activities that build on those skills. All-day kindergartens score significantly higher on tests of skills needed for first grade than did students in half-day programs"

Mall hosts craft show

Harlem Irving Plaza presents its summer Arts and Crafts Show Friday through Sunday Aug. 2-4. The show will be held during mall hours at the center, which is located at Harlem Avenue, Irving Park Road, and Forest Preserve Drive. Arts and craft enthusiasts will find a wide variety of items for sale among the 33 multi-state exhibitors. Stained and painted glass, wood furniture, country crafts, toile designs, woven rugs, dolls, jewelry and purses are among the many crafts to be displayed. Several of the artists and craftsmen will be demonstrating their art or craft during the three-day event. "Our selection of crafters from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Arizona, Indiana, Missouri, Alabama as well as Illinois should make for a very interesting show," assures Jim Driver, show coordinator. "Stop in and see all we have to offer," concluded Driver.

Country bands compete in Showdown

On Saturday, Aug. 3, Pleasant Run Resort, in conjunction with WLSN-FM (US 99 Radio), will host the True Value/GMC Truck Country Music Showdown. The festivities get underway at 2 p.m., with live music from Chicagoland's top area bands competing to see who is number one in Chicago country music. Admission is free and will feature a genuine Texas-style barbecue with all the fixings for only $9.95 per person. The showdown itself will consist of the top four Chicagoland country acts as selected by a panel of judges who choose from audio tapes submitted by area bands.

At 8 p.m. US99's Big John Howell and his Born to Boogie Band will take the stage for a barn dance hosted by morning man J.D. Spangler. Admission and parking are free. Family weekend room packages are available at (708) 584-6300.

Candlelight presents 'La Cage Aux Folles'

Half Follies Bergeres, half Ballets de Trocadero, La Cage Aux Folles, the Candlelight Dinner Playhouse extravaganza playing through Oct. 13, plunked down over $75,000 in beading, feather, and glitter alone. Add to this little "folie": hundreds of pairs of custom-made shoes, custom-made baubles, 170 of the most innovative, tricky, and dazzling costumes, 60 hats and resplendent dead-dresses and as many wigs (designed by Burt Pitcher), and there's no doubt that magic takes place nightly at Candlelight.

Costume designer Jack Kirby, just coming off the enormous task of creating 289 costumes for Candlelight's last hit production Little Me, had the responsibility of transforming "Las Gageles", the drag queen chorus consisting of six men and three women, and "Zaza" (James Harms), the temperamental diva, into the most ravishing of creatures. Feet presented the next problem. Not only are men's feet bigger than women's but they are shaped differently. That meant hundreds of pairs of custom-made shoes. "They'd never worn heels before. We had a lot of broken heels during rehearsals," explains Kirby. "Many of the shoes are being kept in storage for those unfortunate mishaps throughout the run."

For the sake of proportion and "because boys are bigger than girls," the jewelry was also custom-made.

For reservations, write or visit Candlelight Dinner Playhouse, 5620 South Harlem Ave., Summit, Illinois 60501, or phone (708) 496-3000.

Amusement Park offers family activities

Celebrating their 15th year of entertaining Northern Illinois residents, Tom and Jim Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun, Lake County's 2nd largest Amusement Park, offers families a day full of fun without a cover charge.

"We look forward to entertaining whatever size group you may have! Bring your family, visiting guests, a softball team, or birthday party into our Entertainment Center knowing you can have as much fun as everyone else," says Tom Kristof, co-owner of Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun.

Leave the clean-up behind and have a great time bowling and playing in our arcade. You will probably win one of our many prizes. Then, go outside for a World of Fun! You can challenge a friend to 18 holes on our beautiful Miniature Golf Course, hit some balls in our batting cages or race on our Go-Cart Track. Jim Kristof said, "Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun is located in Round Lake Beach at 421 W. Rollins Road, two miles west of Route 83. The flexible 10 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. summer-vacation hours fit into any hectic schedule. To make plans or for more information call (708) 546-2512."

'Hot Shots!' opens nationwide

"Hot Shots!", a send-up of the classic flyboy films, which stars Charlie Sheen, Cary Elwes, Valeria Golino, Jon Cryer, Kevin Dunn, Bill Irwin and Lloyd Bridges has opened nationwide.

In "Hot Shots" Sean "Topper" Harley (Charlie Sheen) is a renegade pilot struggling to live down his pilot father's legendary disgrace. Assigned to an elite corps of flyers, "Topper" flies alongside Kent Gregory (Cary Elwes), a radiant model of military perfection; the earnestly wholesome and obviously doomed Peter "Dead Meat" Thompson (William O'Leary), and Jim "Wash Out" Pfaffenbach (Jon Cryer), an eager beaver whose flying days may be over because of Wall-eye's vision.

Serving under the command of Admiral "Tug" Benson (Lloyd Bridges), a blustery multi-war veteran whose various body parts have been systematically replaced after a series of illustrious combat injuries, "Topper's" adventures in the skies are matched on the ground by a competition with fellow hot shot Gregory for the heart of the sultry Ramada (Valeria Golino), the leggy, spectacularly beautiful base psychiatrist.

A PAP Inc. Production for release by Twentieth Century Fox, "Hot Shots!" also stars William O'Leary, Kristy Swanson, Efram Zimbalist Jr., and Heidi Swedbert. The film is directed by Jim Abrahams and written by Jim Abrahams and Pat Proft.

State Fair outing scheduled

The Niles Park District invites you to join them in an outing to the Wisconsin State Fair on Saturday, Aug. 3. Enjoy the many exhibits, sample foods from across the state, dance and listen to some great entertainers and still have time for a few rides and games. All ages are welcome. Those under 18 must be accompanied by an adult. Fee is $9/adult, $5/12 and under. Departure is at 10 a.m. Return is at 10 p.m. Bus will pick up and return to the Ballard Leisure Center. For information call 967-6633.

'Richard III' staged Aug. 4

Oak Park Festival Theatre's first-ever Family Day matinee performance of Richard III was a success for audience and actors alike - so much so that a second Family Day matinee is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 4 in Austin Gardens, Lake St. and Forest Ave. in Oak Park.

Pre-show activities will begin at 2 p.m. with a demonstration of stage makeup, with young members of the audience as participants. Next will be an explanation and demonstration of stage fighting techniques by David Engel, fight choreographer for Richard III. A storyteller will also be on hand to help guide the audience through the play's sometimes complex plot.

The performance itself will begin at 3 p.m. The Festival Theatre production, directed by Terry McCabe, will be slightly abridged to accommodate the attention spans of younger children.

Families are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy classic theater in the open air. Call the Oak Park Festival Theatre box office at (708) 524-2050 for more information.

Chefs tempt taste buds at Botanic Garden

Five chefs, including the head chef of highly-acclaimed Carlos' Restaurant in Highland Park, highlight the list of presenters who will appear at the Chicago Botanic Garden in August.

The demonstrations are held every Sunday at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. in the Demonstration Kitchen in the Botanic Garden's Fruit and Vegetable Garden.

The August series begins Aug. 4 when Hilary Thisted-Reyna of La Foret Grill in Lake Forest will present her cooking tips and prepare a special dish. She has been nominated as Woman Chef of the Year in Chicago, and has been elected to Great Chefs of America 2000, a group of 20 chefs of Chicago who will gather at a national symposium to influence food preparation for the next century.

On Aug. 11, Don Yamauchi, head chef at Carlos' Restaurant in Highwood, and Celeste Zaccola, pastry chef, are teaming up to show visitors a few of their own special tips.

Rich and Deann Bayless of Frontera Grill will tempt visitors' taste buds on Sunday, Aug. 18. Rich Bayless has been honored with the Ivy Award of Distinction and the James Bear Foundation Award as best chef in the Midwest.

Peter Karas of La Boheme in Winnetka will present his techniques with regional French food on Sunday, Aug. 25.

The Botanic Garden is open every day from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Free parking is available in the 300-acre facility. For more information, call (708) 931-2000. The Chicago Botanic Garden is located on Lake Shore Drive in Glencoe.

Amusement Park offers family activities

Celebrating their 15th year of entertaining Northern Illinois residents, Tom and Jim Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun, Lake County's 2nd largest Amusement Park, offers families a day full of fun without a cover charge.

"We look forward to entertaining whatever size group you may have! Bring your family, visiting guests, a softball team, or birthday party into our Entertainment Center knowing you can have as much fun as everyone else," says Tom Kristof, co-owner of Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun.

Leave the clean-up behind and have a great time bowling and playing in our arcade. You will probably win one of our many prizes. Then, go outside for a World of Fun! You can challenge a friend to 18 holes on our beautiful Miniature Golf Course, hit some balls in our batting cages or race on our Go-Cart Track.

Jim Kristof said, "Kristof's Entertainment Center and World of Fun is located in Round Lake Beach at 421 W. Rollins Road, two miles west of Route 83. The flexible 10 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. summer-vacation hours fit into any hectic schedule. To make plans or for more information call (708) 546-2512.

'Hot Shots!' opens nationwide

"Hot Shots!", a send-up of the classic flyboy films, which stars Charlie Sheen, Cary Elwes, Valeria Golino, Jon Cryer, Kevin Dunn, Bill Irwin and Lloyd Bridges has opened nationwide.

In "Hot Shots!" Sean "Topper" Harley (Charlie Sheen) is a renegade pilot struggling to live down his pilot father's legendary disgrace. Assigned to an elite corps of flyers, "Topper" flies alongside Kent Gregory (Cary Elwes), a radiant model of military perfection; the earnestly wholesome and obviously doomed Peter "Dead Meat" Thompson (William O'Leary), and Jim "Wash Out" Pfaffenbach (Jon Cryer), an eager beaver whose flying days may be over because of Walleye vision. Serving under the command of Admiral "Tug" Benson (Lloyd Bridges), a blustery multi-war veteran whose various body parts have been systematically replaced after a series of illustrious combat injuries, "Topper's" adventures in the skies are matched on the ground by a competition with fellow hot shot Gregory for the heart of the sultry Ramada (Valeria Golino), the leggy, spectacularly beautiful base psychiatrist.

A PAP Inc. Production for release by Twentieth Century Fox, "Hot Shots!" also stars William O'Leary, Kristy Swanson, Elfred Zimbalist Jr., and Heidi Swedbert. The film is directed by Jim Abrahams and written by Jim Abrahams and Pat Proft.

State Fair outing scheduled

The Niles Park District invites you to join them in an outing to the Wisconsin State Fair on Saturday, Aug. 3. Enjoy the many exhibits, sample foods from across the state, dance and listen to some great entertainers and still have time for a few rides and games.

Admission and parking are free. Those under 18 must be accompanied by an adult. Fee is $9/adult, $5/12 and under. Departure is at 10 a.m. Return is at 10 p.m. Bus will pick up and return to the Ballard Leisure Center. For information call 967-6633.

'Richard III' staged Aug. 4

Oak Park Festival Theatre's first-ever Family Day matinee performance of Richard III was a success for audience and actors alike - so much so that a second Family Day matinee is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 4 in Austin Gardens, Lake St. and Forest Ave. in Oak Park.

Pre-show activities will begin at 2 p.m. with a demonstration of stage makeup, with young participants. Next will be an explanation and demonstration of stage fighting techniques by David Engel, fight choreographer for Richard III. A storyteller will also be on hand to help guide the audience through the play's sometimes complex plot.

The performance itself will begin at 3 p.m. The Festival Theatre production, directed by Terry McCabe, will be slightly abridged to accommodate the attention spans of younger children.

Families are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy classic theater in the open air. Call the Oak Park Festival Theatre box office at (708) 524-2050 for more information.

Chefs tempt tastebuds at Botanic Garden

Five chefs, including the head chef of highly-acclaimed Carlos' Restaurant in Highland Park, highlight the list of presenters who will appear at the Chicago Botanic Garden in August.

The demonstrations are held every Sunday at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. in the Demonstration Kitchen in the Botanic Garden's Fruit and Vegetable Garden.

The August series begins Aug. 4 when Hilary Thisted-Reyna of La Foret Grill in Lake Forest will present her cooking tips and prepare a special dish. She has been nominated as Woman Chef of the Year in Chicago, and has been elected to Great Chefs of America 2000, a group of 20 chefs of Chicago who will gather at a national symposium to influence food preparation for the next century.

On Aug. 11, Don Yamauchi, head chef at Carlos' Restaurant in Highland, and Celeste Zecola, pastry chef, are teaming up to show visitors a few of their own special tips. Rich and Deann Bayless of Frontera Grill will tempt visitors' tastebuds on Sunday, Aug. 18. Rich Bayless has been honored with the Ivy Award of Distinction and the James Bear Foundation Award as best chef in the Midwest.

Peter Karas of La Boheme in Winnetka will present his techniques with regional French food on Sunday, Aug. 25.

Tour a castle at Medieval Times

Passerby who wonder what's inside that striking, large castle at the intersection of the Northwest Tollway and Roselle Road can easily satisfy their curiosity. Medieval Times Dinner & Tournament in Schaumburg, Ill., now opens its doors daily to the public for complimentary tours of the castle. The free tours offer us a way to respond to Chicago's curiosity of this unique dinner/tournament complex," says Charles "Trip" Bellows, Medieval Times senior vice president. "Since opening June 15, we've averaged between 200 to 300 people daily." The vast 84,000 sq. ft. structure is modeled after an 11th century Spanish castle. Once inside the castle tower, visitors can view video footage of the tournament and show. Next, the Hall of Arms showcases medieval artifacts, including suits of armor, weapons and 11th and 12th century-style family crests, artwork and murals. The display stables for Medieval Times' rare Andalusian stallions also are open for viewing. When the knights of the realm are not practicing for battle, guests may examine the 1,426 seat Grand Ceremonial Arena. In this arena, every week Wednesday through Sunday, these gallant knights compete on horseback in daring tournament games, jousting matches and sword fights while spectators, seated around the indoor climate-controlled arena, dine on an authentic medieval-style banquet. Medieval Times' self-guided tours run continuously Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and Saturdays between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. The castle is closed to tours Sunday. Guests enter the castle through the main entrance across the drawbridge. Parking is free. As an added convenience, the ticket office and gift shops are open during tour hours. Showtimes are Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Friday at 8 p.m., Saturday at 5:30 and 7:45 p.m. and Sunday at 1 and 4 p.m. Beginning Aug. 10, Saturday performances will start at 6:15 and 8:45 p.m. For individual or group reservations, call (708) 843-3900 or toll free nationwide (800) 544-2001.

Oz Park Festival set for Aug. 2-4

The Lincoln Park Chamber of Commerce presents their Seventh Annual "Oz Park Festival" on Friday, Aug. 2, from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4 from noon to dusk at Oz Park, located in the heart of Lincoln Park at Lincoln, Webster and Larabee. The festival, "one of the city's best organized and most entertaining summer fairs", will feature something for everyone: a live music stage featuring outstanding jazz artists, and fabulous food from Lincoln Park's finest restaurants.

Makin' copies means stardom for SNL comedian

by Gail Jersey
If you've been a regular viewer of TV's "Saturday Night Live," you probably understand why suddenly many of your colleagues have begun calling out each other's names in melodious fashion: "Steeeeeve. The Steve-meister. Steve-man. Steve-o-reno!"

The trend began as a harmless little skit on the show, and has grown to fad proportions, much to the amusement of comedian Rob Schneider. Schneider, who may be better known as Richard Laymer, the copier room pest on "SNL," is a full-time writer/part-time performer on the show. He says the character was created out of situations that arise in any office. "People who work together end up passing each other in the hall a hundred times a day and have to come up with some type of greeting," he explains. Schneider found himself in this situation with fellow SNL writer Adam Sandler, and began calling out to Adam in the now familiar fashion. "I'd walk by and say 'Aaaaaamm. Adam-man,'" he explains. "And Adam would answer, 'What?' But I would just keep saying his name."

They thought it was funny, as did the show's executive producer, Lorne Michaels. The rest, as they say, is comedy history. Schneider, a stand-up comedian since the early '80s, got his start on SNL last season after auditioning for the show. "Lorne Michaels had seen my stand-up on an HBO comedy special, and asked me to audition for a writing position," he says. "He told me that Chevy Chase started as a writer, and I said 'I'll take the job!'"

Since starting on SNL, Schneider has had little time for stand-up. "I work about 70 or 80 hours a week on the show," he says. "It's my life, but I love it."

All the attention has brought Schneider more comedic opportunities. Having just completed a film called "Necessary Roughness," he has another film in the works. And, he'll be back for a second season on SNL, with some new situations for his alter ego to deal with. "Maybe Richard will lose his job," he speculates, "or maybe he'll go on a date...take a girl on a tour of a copier company. Makin' copiers," he chants.

Smoking ban...

to the cafeteria. Students said that they could smell the smoke in the cafeteria, as well as in nearby classrooms.
Students asked that the lounge be closed, or moved to a different location. As the issue received more publicity, students began pushing for a smoking ban for the entire district.
Herbst says there is no problem at Niles West, where the lounge is in a more isolated area. Locating the smoking lounge next to the cafeteria at Niles North was simply a "stupid administrative decision," he said. However, the school board rejected his suggestion to move the lounge.
The school board will hear the grievance in a closed session at their next meeting on August 19. Superintendent John Hinck said he will also submit a plan to begin the smoking ban in November, giving staff members time to participate in a stop-smoking program at the district's expense.
District officials believe the smoking ban would affect only a handful of staff members at either school.

Debora L. Paape
Air Force Staff Sgt. Debora L. Paape has been named non-commissioned officer of the quarter. Selection was based on the individual's exemplary duty and performance, job knowledge, leadership qualities, significant self-improvement and other accomplishments.
Paape is the daughter of Kenneth R. and Pamela K. Wink of Des Plaines.

Ridge and the children identified the subject as the man who had reportedly exposed himself to them.
After he was brought in and interviewed by O'Sullivan, he signed verbal and written statements admitting the offense, though denying he had spoken to the girls, Wilson said.
The suspect was charged with public indecency and is to appear in court Aug. 26. A $100 bond was set for the charge, which is a misdemeanor.

called police with information regarding his whereabouts. The man is alive, but he is not ready for a reunion with relatives.
"He doesn't want any contact with his family," Strzelecki said, adding the man, now 40, is living in the Chicago area. "He just wants to be left alone."
He had been traced to Burlington, Wisconsin, in 1989, police said, causing them to wonder if he had become one of Jeffrey Dahmer's Milwaukee victims.
Niles authorities still have three other unsolved missing person cases in their files.

General

Now you can proudly wear this 22K gold-layered medallion which expresses the spirit of Judaism. Designed and sculptured by E.N. Weistrop, world's foremost sculptor of Judaic art medals, the Lion of Israel Pendant Medallion, appropriate for men, women, and children, has been referred to as "the most beautiful medal in all Judaica."

Both sides of this superbly sculptured, finely detailed medallion, as shown above, symbolically and realistically capture the essence of Judaism. Sculptured in 22K gold-layered high relief, the medallion is 1 1/2 inches in diameter, encircled by a bezel with a 24-inch gold-layered neckchain appropriate for both sexes. Issued by the Judaic Medal Society and available only from Heirloom Sculptures, Half Moon Bay, California 94019-0248, each medallion is housed in a handsome gray velvet case.

Lion of Israel Pendant Medallion

Obverse: The Lion of Israel (Lion of Judah) guards the nine branch Menorah of Hanukah, symbol of freedom recalling the struggle of the Maccabees for independence and the freedom to worship in the Jewish religion. To the right is the traditional Star of David, emblem of the Jewish faith.

Winner of the Society of Medalists open competition, medalist for the Hall of Fame for Great Americans, the medals of E.N. Weistrop are in the collections of Metropolitan Museum of Art, N.Y.C., Jewish Museum, N.Y.C., British Museum, London, Yad Vashem Institute, Jerusalem, Israel Museum, Jerusalem and other fine museums; and by men and women who value their heritage of Judaism.

Reverse: Moses descends from Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments, revealing to the Israelites the revelation of God through the Law. HERE O ISRAEL, THE LORD OUR GOD, THE LORD IS ONE (Deut. 6:4) — so begins the Shema, the most significant of all Jewish prayers declaring the belief in one God and the oneness of all within the universe.

You are invited to own the Lion of Israel Pendant Medallion at our initial offering price of $109.00. Satisfaction guaranteed or full refund.

It is seldom one is given the opportunity to own an actual museum acquired work of art. The limited supply of this medallion, its flawless and faithful rendition, its quality and intrinsic value, is your assurance that your nominal purchase represents a judicious investment. Whether for yourself or another, this is the gift that says so much more. To assure acquisition, we recommend you submit your order early.

HISTORY & FOLKLORE

The Dells of Wisconsin: Yesterday and today

In the heart of the midwest lies a region in strange contrast to its wide fields, pleasant homesteads and busy cities.

It is a place of towering cliffs, deep glens, tall pines, and delicate woodland ferns. Here, for seven and one-fifth miles, the broad Wisconsin pours its brown waters through a deep and narrow channel, hemmed in by sandstone cliffs.

The result of this endless argument between water and rocks is a spot of rare beauty, the Dells of the Wisconsin River.

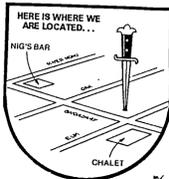

The natural state of the Dells has been singularly unspoiled by man. Motorboats carry sightseers on the waters of the river, where the strange formations on both shores may be seen equally well and the passing boats leave no defacing mark on nature's handiwork.

DUNGEON OF HORRORS

You walk into the Medieval Dungeon, the Present disappears as you find your way thru the halls. Suddenly, you realize you have been transported into the Past, and now, somehow, you must find your way out of the Dungeon. Each step brings some new discovery as you find out...you are not alone.

NEW THIS YEAR!!
Illusion --
That Makes Our Ghost Real
"The Greatest Scare on Earth" A trip thru a Medieval Dungeon where the characters come to life before your very eyes. Located on Broadway, Downtown Wisconsin Dells. Open daily from 10 to 11. The Once in a Lifetime Experience. Group Rates Available.

Narrows area: where Indians were pursued

Hoonch Hedt-a-gah (Big Bear), resting at this spot, once related a legend of his people about the Narrows.

He said that when the river used to flow in the old channel, the Winnebago were once pursued by their enemies and were cornered in a bend of the older river.

The pursuers thought they had cut off all chance of escape, but they reckoned without the guardian spirit of the Winnebago.

This spirit, who was "Bigger than the biggest lion, as the lion is bigger than a tiny kitten", came in the night and with his great teeth and claws tore out a new channel so that the river ran between the Winnebago and their enemies. This is the present course of the river through the section known as the Narrows.

At the turn in the Narrows, known as Devil's Elbow, is found the narrowest spot, in the Dells, Black Hawk's Leap. The width here is but 32 feet. There is a legend that Black Hawk leaped his pony across the river here when he was in flight after the defeat of his tribe in the war of 1832. High on the left bank is the cave where the chief is said to have hidden.

Robert Allen built the Dell House in 1837-38. This was the first permanent building on the river north of Portage. It was a welcome haven for stage coach passengers who crossed over the bridge at the Narrows on the way west.

From 1820 to 1890, great fleets of lumber rafts from the pineries in the North floated down on their way to markets as far south as St. Louis.

At the Devil's Elbow, the constricted banks in the Narrows and the almost right angle turn made one of the most dangerous hazards of the entire trip. Rafts were dashed on the rocks and men drowned. After these dangers were past the eddy at the Dell House sheltered their rafts and crews celebrated their safe passage.

According to Winnebago Indian legend two great spirits live in the Dells. The most powerful one makes his home in a cave near the foot of the Narrows. He comes out once a year, and then only in clear weather, since lightning would kill him.

When he does sally forth, it is to look after the welfare of his people, the Winnebago. He did not foresee the coming of the white man and has no power over him.

Perhaps his home was in Boat Cave now covered by water since the erection of the power dam in 1909. The Giant's Hand is also deep beneath the water now between two of the ships in the Navy Yard.

Scenic Riverway's beauty preserved

The Wisconsin Dells Scenic Riverway is not a state park. It is property acquired, maintained and preserved by private enterprise.

The beautiful and rugged landscape of the Wisconsin Dells Scenic Riverway was met with great admiration over 100 years ago.

Travelers with adventurous spirits would stop by the Dells and rent a row boat to navigate through the winding river of mysterious cliffs, canyons and caves. As the scenery of the river gained popularity, more and more visitors flocked to the Dells to see these spectacular sights.

Local residents saw a need to accommodate the visitors, so commercial boat tours began in 1873 and resorts and rooming houses were built. By the turn of the century Wisconsin Dells was a prospering "tourist town".

George Crandall came to Wisconsin Dells as an employee of the Milwaukee Railroad in the late 1800's. Crandall fell in love with the river scenery and felt it was important to preserve the land along the river.

He purchased all the river bank property he could including old cottages, resorts and unused acreage. Crandall funded a conservation project to reforest acres of land by planting over 100,000 pine trees.

In 1954, the Crandall properties were transferred to the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation with the stipulation that Crandall's conservation efforts be carried on.

Crandall said, "No one can own the Dells. He can only be a custodian for a time."

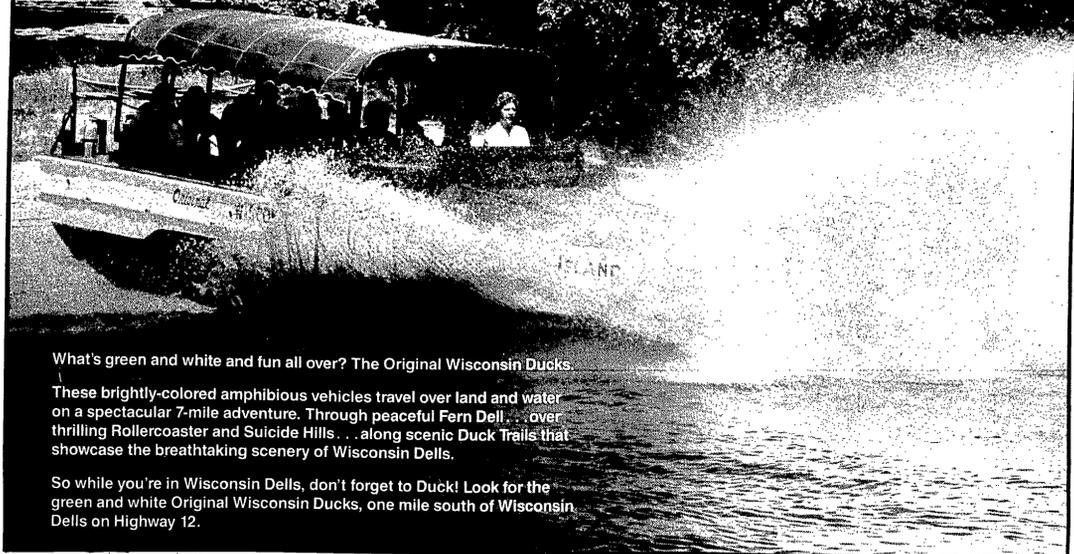

Today it is the full responsibility of Dells Boat Company (a subsidiary of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation) to maintain and preserve the natural beauty found along the Wisconsin Dells Scenic Riverway.

Crandall's efforts have been taken one step further by acquiring more land along the shorelines of the Upper and Lower Dells, a 15-mile stretch of the Wisconsin River.

Today more than 2,800 acres of prime river frontage and adjacent bluffs make up the Wisconsin Dells Riverway property. All the land acquired has remained in, or been returned to its natural state.

Don't fall for decoys! Ride the Original Wisconsin Ducks.

What's green and white and fun all over? The Original Wisconsin Ducks.

These brightly-colored amphibious vehicles travel over land and water on a spectacular 7-mile adventure. Through peaceful Fern Dell... over thrilling Rollercoaster and Suicide Hills... along scenic Duck Trails that showcase the breathtaking scenery of Wisconsin Dells.

So while you're in Wisconsin Dells, don't forget to Duck! Look for the green and white Original Wisconsin Ducks, one mile south of Wisconsin Dells on Highway 12.

Museum has largest Rockwell art display

The world's largest collection of prints, advertisements, magazine covers and cartoons by America's most beloved artist can be found in the Museum of Norman Rockwell Art in Reedsburg, WI.

The collection is the only one of its size that is open to the public. Nearly 4,000 pieces of Rockwell's art are on display at the museum, which specializes in limited edition and rare prints.

A new gallery and balcony exhibit will be completed this summer in order to accommodate more Norman Rockwell displays, according to museum owner Joyce Devore.

"The exhibit is designed to acquaint the public with Rockwell's work they haven't seen before," Devore said.

The museum offers a free finder service for customers who are looking for a specific print that the museum may not have on hand. A consignment service is also available for clients who want to sell their Norman Rockwell works.

The museum's gift shop has over 500 framed and unframed prints in stock, and many hard to find and out-of-production items for sale.

The Museum of Norman Rockwell Art, located at 227 S. Park St., Reedsburg, is open daily, year 'round.

For more information on the museum, call 1-800-22-DELLS, Ext. R.

ROCKWELL AND REEDSBURG

Geology of the Dells

The rocks of the Dells and all of eastern Wisconsin are Upper Cambrian sandstone and were originally laid down as the sandy bed of the sea, which covered this region ages ago.

The sand hardened into rocks and was uplifted above the sea. Rocks now preserved only in the high hills near the Dells were removed by ages of weathering and rain wash.

Some of the sandstone layers are inclined and some are horizontal. This feature is due to original deposition by Cambrian ocean currents and is not due to tilting. These sloping layers are known as crossbedding.

The Dells are situated on the extreme eastern margin of the Driftless Area, that unique portion of this state and its three neighbors, which was never covered by the glacial ice sheets.

On the east these came within about four miles of the river, which was then cut off from its original channel. The river and the melting of the glacier furnished the water for a great lake.

This Glacial Lake Wisconsin had its northeast point near Wisconsin Rapids, its northwest point near the Black River, and one southern extremity just north of Stand Rock. The waters of this great lake were blocked by a sandstone ridge through which they cut a new channel. This channel is the Dells.

In the long ages of its labors the river has formed and abandoned two channels that are still plainly to be traced in the heart of the Dells.

At first the main flow of water turned west opposite the Cold Water Canyon, making a wide sweep to the southwest through Rocky Arbor Canyon and joining the present river bed through the flat land below town. Later the river found a shorter course, entering the present channel at the Old Dell House.

Afterward the stream cut a still still shorter channel between the Canyon and the site of the Dell House, and the mighty stream flowed henceforth in its present course through the tortuous and beautiful Narrows.

Thus it will be seen that the Narrows is geologically the youngest portion of the Dells, which is all a post-glacial formation.

Popularity of parasailing increases

Steve and Kathy Zowin of Lake Delton Water Sports have added a new facet to their business this summer, parasailing.

Commenting on the popularity of parasailing, Kathy Zowin noted, "Parasailing is a rush that you can't find anywhere else. It is cooler than hot air balloons because the harness is your only real restraint."

Their tow boat is 28 feet long and 10 feet three inches wide. It is powered by a Volvo-Penta 200 horsepower inboard/outboard engine with two props and duo prop drive.

The Waterbird Parakite is made in England and is a jumbo 28-foot chute with 30 to 40 percent more lift allowing for a slow, very safe, descent, should one become necessary.

There is 600 feet of line with a tensile strength of 5,500 pounds and an hydraulic lift so the rider is winched up and winched back down.

Steve Zowin and Brad Glover absolutely refuse to give any of their riders a chance to be brave. They define the word professionalism. They are careful, accurate, calm, and with every gesture and word prove to even the most potentially nervous rider, there is nothing to be afraid of.

Parasailors take off from and land on the huge stern deck of the tow boat. They wear a harness that contains a sling seat and hooks to the chute.

One parasailor said describing the adventure "From my perch

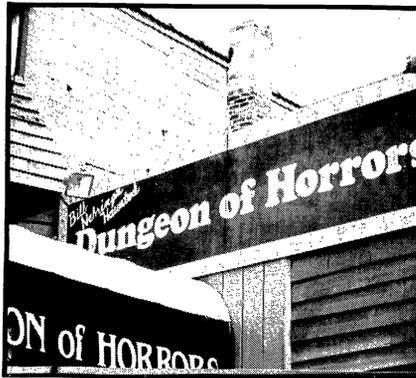

200 feet in the air, I could see forever and maybe a little beyond that. It was spectacular. Way down below were little, tiny, weensy boats, toy houses, little white blobs that were white caps, a picture-perfect shoreline and everything in the world that surrounds all that."

Water proof cameras are available for parasailors to use.

The rides last about eight to 10 minutes. Other services provided are: marina and boat rentals including waverunners, skiboats, pontoon party boats, fishing boats, canoes, paddleboats and Lower Dells raft trips.

Lake Delton Water Sports is located on Hwy. 12, Lake Delton, WI, Phone (608) 254-8702.

Dungeon of Horrors: greatest scare on earth

"The greatest scare on earth" is what Dungeon of Horrors promises to deliver.

Set in a medieval dungeon, this Wisconsin Dells attraction takes you into the past with its dark, gloomy hallways, gruesome characters and terrifying acts.

Dungeon of Horrors has been around for 11 years, all the while offering an experience that owner Bill Neahring claims causes patrons to "loose touch Photo by Patrick Snyder with reality, traveling through light and dark, with their eyes adjusting. The mind builds it into an experience that is very real for them," he says.

Neahring also says the spook house is "scary but fun. We are pretty good at reading our customers as they walk in, and we gear each trip to the individual.

Dungeon of Horrors is located on Broadway, downtown Wisconsin Dells.

Beaver Springs Fishing Park promotes aquaculture in Dells

Two young fishermen show off their prize catch of the day at the Beaver Springs Trout Farm. Natural ponds provide the perfect climate for hardy trout, which are as much fun to eat as they are to catch.

Aquaculture is the controlled rearing of aquatic fishes, plants or marine animals. Brent Tollaksen, owner of Beaver Springs Fishing Park, 600 Trout Road, Wisconsin Dells, is not only involved in providing trout and big game fishing for visitors to Wisconsin Dells, but also in the fledgling aquaculture industry in Wisconsin.

"We have fish for everyone's taste; large, medium and jumbo," says Brent Tollaksen. "We also have programs where you can bring our fish to local restaurants to have them cooked or we will cook them here. We can also freeze and store the fish until you are ready to leave the Dells."

This summer he is working with two interns from Alexandria Technical College in Minnesota. Rich Stanek, and Steve Mickelson, are required to serve as interns as part of their course of study in aquaculture at their school.

They are helping to manage the seven ponds at Beaver Springs Fishing Park by keeping the water quality up, assessing habitat, keeping a flow index, measuring water volume, making sure the fish are in good health and keeping the PH balanced.

The project that Tollaksen, Stanek and Mickelson are most excited about is the possible introduction of one white amur grass carp into one of the ponds.

Tollaksen said this is a new fish from China that eats nothing but vegetation. Controlling weeds in the ponds is one of the biggest jobs at the fishing park. Tollaksen and the two interns are not happy about controlling the weeds through the use of chemicals and would much rather control them naturally.

Stanek and Mickelson said that the weeds are an indication of a problem. The water in the recently installed big game pond is too clear. It needs to be a little turbid, the interns said, to allow for the growth of phytoplankton, a tiny plant eaten by little fish which are in turn food for the game fish. The interns can't kill all of the weeds at once, because dying plants use up oxygen. To keep the chain working naturally, the weeds need to disappear a little at a time.

The amur grass carp sounds as though it would be the ideal solution to weed control. It eats two to three times its own weight in weeds each day and can get as large as 30 to 40 pounds. When the weeds are gone, the fish has a tendency to jump out of the water and eat the grass along the banks.

The problem with the fish is that it's illegal in Wisconsin. A laboratory in the state has been experimenting with the fish and has developed a triploid or sterile carp.

Tollaksen recently made application for the fish, but has not yet heard whether he'll be able to get one or not.

The big game pond contains pike, walleye, large mouth bass, blue gills, crappies, cat fish and brown trout. The other ponds contain rainbow trout in varying sizes from a half pound to one and one half pounds. There's also a natural pond containing brook trout where customers can use their own tackle and experience fishing in the wild.

The ponds are fed by a tributary of Hubbard Creek and were dug when I-90/94 was built so the earth could be used as fill. The ponds are spring fed.

Russell Tollaksen, Brent's grandfather, started Beaver Springs and Brent bought the fishing park in 1988. He leased it for seven years prior to that.

He started working at the fishing park when he was 16, but decided to get his degree in electronics. He came back to Beaver Springs and has been there since.

Beaver Springs is inspected by the Department of Agriculture and licensed by the Department of Natural Resources as a fish hatchery, wild life exhibit and game farm. It is the largest fee-fishing operation in Wisconsin.

THE GOODY GOODY GUM DROP

by Kathy Mackesey Johnson

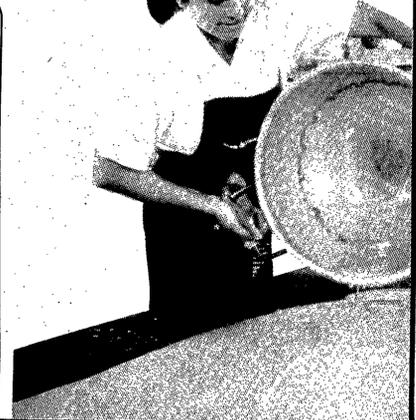

Never before, have I seen such a store
Not even when I was a child.
My little voice, said I'd made the right choice
And my senses began to run wild.

The smell in the air, was too much to bear
As though it all was a dream.
I needn't repeat, the smell was sweet
The aroma of butter and cream.

Just short of a pound and nicely round
The caramel apples were call to me.
Plain, pecan or cashew, what's a person to do
So I went and bought all three.

Another glance, made my taste buds dance
When the fudge came into view.
Half a pound was ample, for a little sample
And I took home another or two.

Near and far, jar and jar
Over three hundred kinds to try.
I visited awhile, got service with a smile
And hated to say good-bye.

Cruise scenic riverway on Dells Boat Tours

"My favorite times are in the early fall and spring when the colors on the lake are so beautiful. The mist on the water is something to see," says Paul Olson of the Dells Boat Tours. And he should know what he is talking about since the Dells Boat Tours has been operated by his family for three generations.

Taking a boat cruise through the most scenic stretch of the Wisconsin River means you'll see beautiful sandstone cliffs, rock formations and hidden canyons you can walk through. Your tour guide and boat pilot will tell you the unique story of the Dells Riverway while you sit back, relax, and enjoy the spectacular scenery.

"The scenery is the main attraction...and we take people to see the scenery," says Olson.

Tours operate daily from mid-April through October. Tours depart every 20-30 minutes during the summer months from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., less frequent departures during the spring and fall months.

The 2-hour Upper Dells Boat Tour takes you to two scenic shorelandings where you get off the boat for an easy stroll through beautiful, fern-filled canyon at Witches Gulch, and along the nature trail with panoramic views at Stand Rock - where the dog makes a daring leap across the chasm.

Shorelandings at Witches Gulch and Stand Rock.

The 1-hour Lower Dells Boat Tour is a non-stop ride through tall sandstone cliffs and around the unusual Rocky Islands. You'll see plenty of rock formations to test your imagination.

The complete Dells Boat Tour is simply a "combination" of the two boat tours above. Take both tours consecutively, or break them up with a lunch break or even an overnight stay. Get a discount when buying the "combination" ticket.

Boat dock locations power dam (built in 1909) separates the Wisconsin River at the Dells -- thus the names -- Upper Dells (for above or north of the dam) and Lower Dells (for below or south of the dam). Boat docks for the Upper Dells and Lower Dells Boat Tours are only 4 blocks apart. There is plenty of parking near both dock locations.

Upper Dells Boat Docks are on Broadway in downtown Dells (hwy 13) next to the Wax World of the Stars and the Riverfront Shops. Lower Dells Boat Docks are at the junction (stoplights) of highways 12, 13, 16, & 23. A free shuttle bus offers transportation between the two dock locations.

Restrooms, snack shops and souvenir stores are near both boat docks and at all shorelandings on the Upper Dells.

Wisconsin Opry brings Nashville to the Dells

You don't have to leave Wisconsin and head for the hills of Kentucky, Tennessee or West Virginia to hear good down-home, foot-stompin' country music.

During the summer months country music fans can enjoy an entertaining evening at the Wisconsin Opry, located just outside of Wisconsin Dells. Six nights a week Wisconsin Opry owners, Virgil and Cindy Dickinson, and their "family," put on a wholesome family show, right here in the Badger state.

The Dickinsons purchased the building that now houses the Wisconsin Opry, along with the house and seven acres of land in 1979.

They were very optimistic about Wisconsin Opry and were certain it would be a success as soon as the doors opened. It was.

Helping to assure this success was the Urban Cowboy craze that was sweeping the country during the late '70s and early '80s. It wasn't too difficult to fill the 500-seat hall.

What has helped keep the Wisconsin Opry alive over the last few years are the tour groups. During the first couple years of its existence, only one or two tour buses a year included the Opry on their itinerary. Today, the 200-plus bus tours make up a major percentage of the Opry's audience.

To make it even more inviting to the tour groups, the Dickinsons had a "barn" built next to their home where they prepare and serve family-style dinners. (Last year they catered to over 75 bus tours.)

Cindy's musical background goes back to her childhood when her father would play the organ and she would sing along. She also took piano, flute and saxophone lessons.

Their three children--Ken, Elizabeth and Stephanie--join Mom, Dad and six hired members of the Opry on stage during the summer months while school's out. Ken (16) plays the fiddle, the oldest daughter Elizabeth (15) also plays the fiddle, and Stephanie (9) sings, and you guessed it, plays the fiddle too.

During each season they perform the same show with minor variations--every night. Virgil was asked whether it gets boring after awhile doing the same thing over and over. He emphatically said "no. You would think it would, but it doesn't. I look forward to the performance every night."

Over the course of the summer the Wisconsin Opry brings in a number of national entertainers. Such Nashville stars as David Frizzell, Mel McDaniel, Ed Bruce, Lynn Anderson and Cal Smith have performed on stage.

However, the audience the Opry has developed seems to prefer the older, Grand Ole Opry stars: Kitty Wells and Johnny Wright, Porter Wagoner and Faron Young.

One of the fringe benefits the Dickinsons enjoy is their association with the entertainers. Over the years they've become personal friends with many of them--Johnny Wright, Faron Young and Grandpa Jones.

The national acts put on two shows at 3 and 8 p.m. on Nashville Sundays, while the regular performances are two hours long, once-a-night, every night except Sunday.

Live shows nightly are, Monday thru Saturday at 8 p.m. from May 25 - Sept. 15.

This year's line-up includes appearances by Kitty Wells & Family, Bill Anderson, Porter Wagoner, John Anderson, and Grandpa Jones. Wisconsin Opry Flea Market is every Saturday and Sunday May 25 - Sept. 1. The 4th Annual Banjo/Dixieland Extravaganza is set for Aug. 11.

Travel back in time on a Dells Duck tour

An Original Wisconsin Ducks tour is a trip back in time. A reminder of the rich history of Wisconsin and the Dells.

In the 1800's, timber was the state's largest industry. Wisconsin Dells was a vital stopover for men moving logs down the Wisconsin River.

The Original Wisconsin Ducks tour, travels part of the same route loggers rafted over 100 years ago.

The last loggers floated past Wisconsin Dells in 1890. Their passing ended an exciting era for Wisconsin Dells and the state.

Ducks are amphibious (land and water) vehicles. They are 8 feet wide, 9 feet high, 32 feet long and weigh about 14,000 pounds.

On land, Ducks are powered by a large truck engine. They roll on six wheels at speeds of up to 50 miles per hour. Since Ducks can float like a boat, a propeller powers them when they are in the water.

The Original Wisconsin Ducks were built between 1942 and 1945 by General Motors. In 1942, the cost of a single Duck was $10,000. That was more money than it cost to buy a three-bedroom house.

Ducks were created for the United States Army. They were used in World War 11 and the Korean War. Ducks carried guns, equipment, clothing, food and other important supplies from ships to shore. They also moved wounded soldiers from the battlefield to hospital ships.

More than 2,000 Ducks were used in the historic D-Day invasion at Normandy, France. Ducks helped America win the war in Europe and the Pacific. In fact, the Ducks' ability to travel across land and water has made them famous. The Ducks were retired from military service in 1958.

The general public had to wait until after World War 11 to ride the Ducks. The first Duck tour in Wisconsin Dells took place in 1946.

The one-hour Original Wisconsin Duck tour is a 7-1/2 miles, across land and water, through enchanting Fern Dell, past the towering rock walls of Red Bird Gorge, around the thrilling turns

New car awaits top employee at Noah's Ark

A 1991 Hyundai Scoupe Special Edition will be awarded to the top employee of Noah's Ark waterpark for his or her relentless hardwork and courtesy here this summer.

To be presented on Sept. 1, 1991, the award will be voted on by approximately 500 summer employees. The final selection process will be a combination of employee voting and management input.

"An award such as this helps recognize the contributions that our employees make each year," says Jack Waterman, co-owner of Noah's Ark. "Since Noah's Ark is known for our courteous and considerate employees, who have been an important part of our success, we decided to make our appreciation for their dedication and hard work a bit more tangible. WISCONSIN

The Badger State
became the 30th state, May 29, 1848

Indians named the big river and the land around it "Meskousing." Although authorities do not agree from which tribe the word came - Chippewa or Winnebago - they are certain it means: "where the waters gather." The French spelled it "Ouisconsin." The English spelled it various ways. By act of Territorial legislature in 1845, the name and spelling legally became Wisconsin.

Brother-In-Laws called top night club

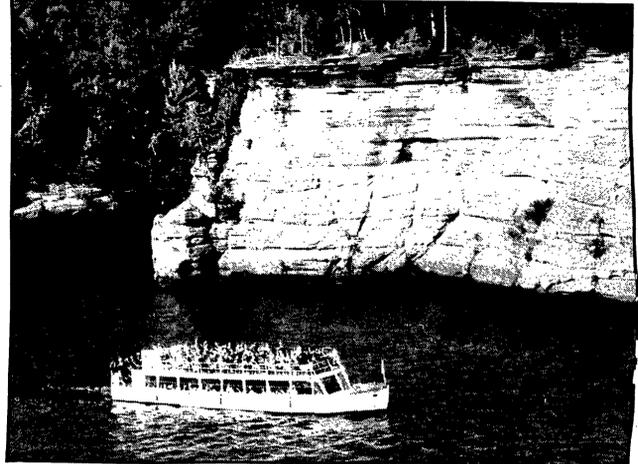

If you're looking for a little night life in the Wisconsin Dells, you can find it at Brother-In-Laws.

Originally a local tavern, Brother-In-Laws is now a 7,000-foot multi-level bar, and calls itself the Dells' number one night club. The club features a laser light show, satellite TV and 14 TV monitors, a large dance floor, three bars, D.J.s and live bands. Owner Todd Nelson says the sound and lighting system "is very complex. A specialist from Canada was brought in to set it up. The three main laser lights were shipped in from Italy," he explains. "Every year something different is brought in, and the club just keeps getting better," he says.

Located on the Wisconsin Dells Parkway, across from Noah's Ark, Brother-In-Laws also features major sporting events all year, including Bears, Packers, and Vikings games, plus a wide selection of t-shirts, hats, and other souvenirs.

The Lower Dells: A raftsmen's view

Lumber rafting is an integral part of Wisconsin's experience.

When Kilbourn was founded in 1856, a low dam was built at the site of the present power dam. Thus, the scenic river below the dam is known as the Lower Dells and is an entirely separate journey.

The first low dam and succeeding ones were one more hazard to the raftsmen. At one time an irate group tore out one of these dams after a raft had broken up and a man drowned "shooting the dam". Later dams were constructed with a spillway to accommodate one rapids piece or "string" at a time.

Anticipating the hazards of the Devil's Elbow and this dam, acres of rafts were sometimes tied up at the head of the Dells above Witches Gulch waiting for the proper state of water.

The rafts were disassembled into sections called rapids pieces and a full crew took each piece through the Dells. Then the crew walked or "gigged back" to the head of the Dells for another rapids piece, a rough hike of ten miles.

When all had maneuvered the dangers of Devil's Elbow and the dam, the rafts were again assembled, two or three rapids pieces abreast, and continued the easier trip down the broadening stream.

Noah's Ark offers 700 feet of thrills on Congo Bongo Rapids

The Congo Bongo Rapids, an all-new 700-foot inner tube slide at Noah's Ark in Wisconsin Dells, is now open.

The new waterslide at Noah's Ark, America's largest water park, sends an 8-foot diameter inner tube and up to five people plunging down the Congo.

The slide, the only one of its kind in the midwest, consists of more than 100 pieces of fiberglass panels costing approximately $3,000 a piece. The entire project cost $1.3 million, uses 600,000 gallons of water an hour and is capable of accommodating more than 7,000 people per day.

Noah's Ark, which does all its construction in-house, has expanded with double-rider inner tube slides six times in the past three years. Congo Bongo Rapids is the first, however, that allows more than two riders down a slide at one time.

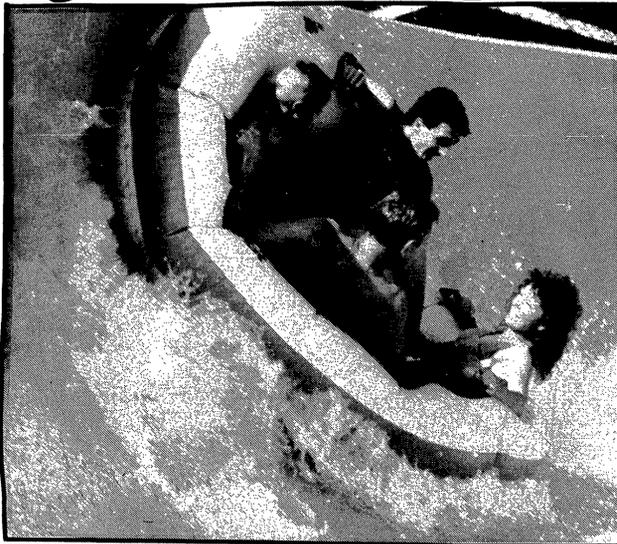

"The slide came about because it offers entire families the opportunity to ride down a waterslide together," says Jack Waterman, co-owner of Noah's Ark. "It was an evolutionary process for the waterslide to accommodate multiple riders. Rather than allowing just one or two individuals down a slide at a time, Congo Bongo will let an entire family get soaked together." All of the expansions and additions at Noah's Ark within the past 12 years were started on Labor Day and worked on through the fall, winter and spring in order to be ready for the summer season. This project was particularly challenging, though, because it involved excavation through layers of sandstone in order to achieve the proper placement of the slide.

Open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, Noah's Ark includes 60 acres of water activities, motorized rides, mini-golf, restaurants and gift and clothing stores.

Employing approximately 420 hosts and hostesses with 175 certified lifeguards, the park offers 10 inner tube slides, two kiddie waterslides, two speed slides, four body slides, three cannon-ball slides and four mat slides as well as Big Kahuna and The Wave wave pools, two kiddie play areas and lazy rivers, and the Paradise Lagoon activity pool.

Waterpark makes a big splash

Dells visitors enjoy a relaxing mile-long ride down the Lazy River at Noah's Ark waterpark. The Lazy River is just one of the many exciting attractions.

Looking for a place to cool off? You can make a big splash, plus enjoy sun and surf, at Noah's Ark.

Attractions include the all new Congo Bongo Rapids, a $1 million tubing ride that plunges up to five brave riders in a 16-foot wide inner tube down a 700-foot slide. The Big Kahuna wave pool is one of the largest wave pools in the country, capable of generating surfing-size waves. Two Lazy Rivers offer over a mile of relaxing tube riding, while four kiddie water playgrounds and soft play areas offer mushroom slides, waterfalls, animal swings, fountains, and more. As if that weren't enough, the park also has 10 inner-tube slides, two kiddie waterslides, two speed slides, four body slides, three cannon-ball slides, and four mat slides.

Children enjoy a cooling swim in the outdoor pool at the Diamond Inn, Wisconsin Dells. When the weather's not as accommodating, visitors can swim indoors, or enjoy the whirlpool and sauna.

Wisconsin Dells Greyhound Park opens third expansion

For the third time since opening for its inaugural season in April, 1990, the Wisconsin Dells Greyhound Park has made a major capital improvement addition.

The expansion includes a large canopy to cover the outside Kennel Club patio seating area, a concession stand and restrooms for the outdoor seating areas. Limited table service and upscale menu selections will also be available.

Started May 1, 1991, the single-story, 10,000 square-foot addition was completed and opened July 12, 1991. Total cost of the project was $500,000.

The first of the state dog tracks to open, Wisconsin Dells Greyhound Racing has used a conservative tourism marketing approach, in conjunction with traditional greyhound racetrack marketing programs, to become the only one of the four operating state dog tracks to exceed revenue expectations in 1990.

Wisconsin Dells Greyhound Racing features 1 p.m. matinee races on Sundays, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays, and 7:30 p.m. races daily except Monday, thru August 31.

The 1991 season will run thru December 1. The track is scheduled to re-open February 1, 1992.

For more information about Wisconsin Dells Greyhound Racing, call (608) 235-DOGGS. For more information about all Wisconsin Dells events and attractions, contact the Wisconsin Dells Visitor and Convention Bureau toll-free at 1-800-22-DELLS, Ext. R.

Wisconsin Opry brings Nashville to the Dells

It's not Nashville, but the Wisconsin Opry offers comedy and country and western entertainment that rivals its southern counterpart -- only a whole lot closer.

Groups of all ages are welcome to enjoy the excellent music and good clean fun the Opry has to offer. Many Grand Ole Opry stars have performed, including Porter Wagner, Grandpa Jones from TV's "Hee Haw", and Ferin Young. Scheduled for August is the Dixie Land Extravaganza, with Don Scherrer.

The whole family will clap their hands and stomp their feet to the fine fiddle playing of the Dickenson family. Even Steph, the youngest member of the musical family, plays a mean fiddle!

Seating is available for 459 patrons. Shows start at 8 p.m., and last two hours. Coffee, soda, and popcorn is served.

WISCONSIN DELLS FACTS

The Winnebago Indian, related to the Sioux, called the river "Guisconsin" meaning "wild rushing river."

The Wisconsin and Fox Rivers provided waterways for the early French settlers.

The "Demons Anvil", high above the water's edge today continues to be molded by the winds and the rains.
