Residents may be in for second water rate hike

by Sheilya Hackett

A glass of cool Lake Michigan water could cost Niles and Morton Grove residents more next year if a Chicago boost in water fees goes through. Oct. 15, as part of his 1992 budget, Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley proposed a four percent increase in the fee the city charges its suburban water customers. It would be effective Jan. 1. Local suburbs are currently absorbing Chicago's six percent boost in those water fees in July. Niles residents started paying it in September; Morton Grove in October.

Dist. 63 secretaries voice pay grievance

by Eileen Hirschfeld

About 15 secretaries from East Maine Elementary District 63 attended a board meeting last Tuesday to protest a new salary schedule.

Marge Schultes, secretary at Nelson School, questioned why classified personnel did not receive a full step increase in pay, why an increase was not received as of July 1 and why no advance notice was given of a new system. She also had spoken at the previous meeting.

"We were led to believe, in Northwest Municipal Conference expected to ratify agreement

Niles could see gains from new Com Ed accord

by Sheilya Hackett

A new Commonwealth Edison (Com Ed) franchise agreement, if adopted by Niles, is filled with terms beneficial to the village.

The agreement gives the village more flexibility in negotiating contracts with the utility; opens the way to better communications and brings in dollars in the form of free traffic lights and the power to fine the utility for non-compliance of certain contract terms.

Assistant Village Manager John Coakley on Oct. 22 outlined for Niles trustees the highlights of a model franchise agreement negotiated by the Northwest Municipal Conference (NWMC) with Com Ed. If adopted, it will immediately replace Niles' current contract, which is due to expire in 2008.

After hearing Coakley note the attributes of the agreement, Board President Nicholas Blase referred to recent Com Ed negotiations with Chicago in which the city reportedly will receive $70 million for the franchise. Blase exclaimed "Chicago ends up getting a lot more out of this than we do. Chicago is getting her light bill for nothing and . . . $70 million also. . . why does Chicago get it (and we don't)?"

The NWMC is expected to ratify the agreement Nov. 13, after which, NWMC members, such as Niles, must also approve

District 71, teachers reach a settlement

by Nancy Keraminas

Seven months of negotiations between Niles Elementary School District 71 teachers and the school board resulted in a contract settlement Oct. 22, following a three-and-a-half hour bargaining session between the two sides.

"A lot of the details had already been worked out ahead of time," commented Supt. Eugene Zaleski, who declined to elaborate on the specifics of the contract.

"It's a pretty fair settlement I guess," said Leonard Palicki, the teachers' representative. "You never do get everything you want. We did have to make several concessions."

The district's 39 teachers are expected to ratify the agreement Friday, Oct. 25 and the full board will convene Tuesday, Oct. 29 to vote on it.

The factions have been close to a settlement for several weeks.

MG Board prepares new revenue package

by Nancy Keraminas

Responding to a projected $240,000 budget deficit for fiscal 1991-92, the village board has authorized staff to prepare a revenue package of proposed ordinances: raising automobile license fees, business license fees, liquor license fees and imposition of a half percent home rule sales tax.

Board members attending an Oct. 21 workshop rejected an increase in property taxes or the implementation of a utility tax to make up for the shortfall.

In addition to eliminating the deficit, trustees say the series of ordinances, to be presented at the Oct. 28 and Nov. 4 board meet-

Principal allays fears of 'Homey' clown sighting

A report that someone dressed as "Homey the Clown," a television cult figure, was seen talking to a Viola Nelson student last week was judged "inaccurate" by Nelson's Principal Dr. Stewart Liechti.

"The Niles police have thoroughly reviewed the incident with Nelson students and also have told us that there have been no reports on this clown character made from any other source except the one coming from someone in the Nelson community, who apparently had heard the children telling the story," Liechti told parents in the school newsletter.

"Parents can feel confident that 'Homey, the Clown' has not been in the area attempting to make contact with the children," Liechti continued.

The Niles Homey "sighting" coincided with a local news report that other Chicago area school children have reported spotting the African-American, ings, will apportion the financial burden equitably between residents, the business community and consumers because there are no more budget cutbacks that can be made. The village is also protecting itself against the future possibility that its share of the state income tax surcharge, which was halved last summer, will be eliminated altogether in two years.

"You all know what happened last spring," said Village Administrator Larry Arft. "We passed a true recessionary budget in every sense of the term. . . They (the state) helped themselves to a lot street savvy clown featured on the TV satire, "In Living Color."

A Niles officer said it was another example of an "urban myth", a made-up story that becomes "true" as it is passed around.

"If their friends make such a report, a child can ask the person if the storyteller actually saw or experienced what is being discussed," the principal advised parents. "Please assure your child that they are in a safe place when in school. Your role in this kind of teaching is crucial."

Village plans Halloween Party

Ghosts, witches, mini-Madonnas, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles and all their friends are invited to the Village Halloween Party on Thursday, Oct. 31 from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Notre Dame High School gym, 7655 Dempster St., Niles.

Once again, Mayor Blase, the board and the Police Department are sponsoring the event which drew more than 3,000 youngsters last year.

Children will receive candy and will delight in the Haunted House. Moms and dads will be treated with complimentary coffee and cake.

The party is held as a safety measure and an alternative to trick or treating door-to-door. However, if children insist on trick or treating, the Police Department advises parents of the following: always accompany your children and conclude before dark.

Dress children in bright clothing with reflective tape. Masks should have large eye holes for total sight; head gear should be loose, allowing for breathing and movement. Clothing should not drag on the ground, which would cause tripping.

Scholarship fund honors stricken Niles West grad

Family and friends of Jeffrey Richards, the 17-year-old Niles West High School graduate who was killed last July when a bolt of lightning struck him during a baseball game, plan to establish an annual scholarship in his honor.

The proceeds from an Oct. 27 fundraiser will go toward establishing a perpetual scholarship to be awarded to a graduating senior man at Niles West exemplifying the qualifications of Jeffrey Richards in his memory in hopes this man will realize his hopes, ambitions and dreams, Fern Katz, a family friend said.

"The kid (Richards) had such a bright future. His death has left a terrible void in many of our lives...family, friends, whoever knew him," Katz said. "He was a super young man and role model for his peers."

Richards was to attend the University of Tampa on a baseball scholarship last fall.

The fundraiser, organized by the Jeffrey Wm. Richards Memorial Fund Committee and Holiday Inn North Shore, 5300 Touhy Ave., Skokie, is entitled "Dancin' the Night Away" and will be held from 6-11 p.m. at the Holiday Inn.

Admission is $15 for an evening of dancing, food, beverage and door prizes.

A silent auction will also be held featuring among other things a basketball signed by Michael Jordan, a football signed by Walter Payton, theater tickets and weekend getaways.

In addition, a separate raffle for two skybox seats for the Dec. 14 Bears vs. Tampa Bay game will be conducted. The cost is $5 per ticket and winners need not be present.

Any donations are appreciated. For additional information contact Fern Katz at 674-8602.

Skokie to replace older water meters

The Village of Skokie is beginning a comprehensive program to replace all older water meters in the village. Beginning this fall, the contractor for the village will change out residential water meters that are 30 years of age or older.

The State of Illinois Department of Water Resources mandates that communities reduce their unaccounted-for water losses. Comprehensive testing of the older meters, in Skokie, has revealed that improper registration on older meters is the main factor behind the village's unaccounted-for losses.

Each residence with meters 30 years or older will be receiving a phone call or visit from the Water Service Company, the contractor, to schedule an appointment to gain access for the replacement. If you are scheduled for replacement and it is convenient for you when the initial contact is made, the contractor will replace the meter at that time; if not, simply advise him of a more appropriate date and time.

The replacement work should take approximately 45 minutes. Some jobs will take a little more time depending on the location of the meter and the condition of the plumbing pipes. There is no charge for the replacement.

Each of the contractor's representatives will be carrying a photo identification badge from the Village of Skokie. Residents scheduled for meter replacement should ask to see the identification before letting the technician into their homes, and write down the individual's name for later reference if there is some question concerning the work.

The replacement program will begin in October or November and will take about 12 months. Replacement of other meters will be made over the next three or four years; by the end of that time, all meters 20 years old or older will have been replaced.

Caucuses support District 207 candidates

Niles Chamber plans 'Business After Hours'

"Business After Hours" will be hosted by Bradford Exchange & Affiliates, 9333 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, IL, on Thursday, Oct. 24 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Come see art in a garden setting...relax, meet other chamber members, and make new business acquaintances. Please R.S.V.P. (708) 647-0144.

The caucuses have worked for over 35 years to elect the best available school board members, and to screen out those who are one-issue candidates or seek office for personal aggrandizement. In addition, an agreement among the caucuses seeks to maintain a geographically balanced high school board. The three caucus chairpersons, Trudi Hedgens from District 62, Laura Bercovitz from District 63, and Dan Hogan from District 64 urge all citizens to vote on Nov. 5 for the caucus recommended candidates to ensure that the board members will be qualified persons representative of a large cross section of the community.

The three caucuses each operate within their own elementary district to recommend and endorse candidates for the boards of their respective districts, and operate cooperatively on a high school district wide basis to endorse candidates for the Maine Township High School District 207 Board.

Potter Road under construction

If Thomas Merton was right, no man is an island. But Maine East High School certainly was last week because of construction on Potter Road. The best route to the school is Greenwood to Dempster and Dempster to Dee until the road work is done since Potter is inaccessible most of the time. The repairs, which began before school started in August, are expected to be completed in June, 1992.

Dist. 71 board candidates stress 'quality' education

by Nancy Keraminas

Saying they want to improve the quality of education in the district, the six candidates for Niles Township Elementary School District 71 Board of Education addressed a "Meet the Candidates" audience Oct. 21 at Culver Middle School and answered questions from about 30 spectators.

Nadia Krynski, Linda Vigneri, Carolyn Kosiba and Charles Schertzing each hope to win one of three four-year terms under contention, while incumbents Barbara Hedrich and Vincent Bugarin hope voters will return them to office Nov. 5.

Out of town due to a prior commitment, Bugarin sent his written apologies and stressed his 22 years of service to the school board and record of fiscal responsibility.

Every candidate tells you they want the best education, but the taxpayers would rather hear you

Dist. 63 report card shows students above average

by Eileen Hirschfeld

A report on the state mandated school report card indicates that students in East Maine Elementary School District 63 are achieving significantly above average, as reported to board members at Tuesday's regular meeting.

The report card, to be sent home to parents today (Oct. 24), is issued annually as part of the School Reform Act of 1985 and is intended to inform the public about the status of local schools.

Niles Park Board issues $855,000 in bonds

by Sheilya Hackett

With only Park Commissioner Bud Skaja, Jr. dissenting, the Niles Park Board on Oct. 21 adopted an $855,000 bond ordinance presented by board attorney Gabe Berrafato.

Of the $855,000, $200,000 will be issued at a rate of 5.20 percent and mature in 1994. The balance of $655,000 will be issued at a rate of 5.35 percent and mature in 1995.

Park District Business Manager Ron Mrowiec arranged payments on the debt so that mostly interest is paid in the first years of the issue and the remaining principal can be paid off in 1994 and 1995 when other park district bonds have been paid off.

By this method of financing, the board hopes to minimize the effect on the taxpayer by the debt portion of the tax levy, Mrowiec said.

The bond issuance was organized through the First National Bank of Chicago.

Man admits to stealing $20,000 of sportswear

Niles investigators armed with warrants went to two suburban locations Oct. 15 to arrest a 20-year-old Hickory Hills man, who reportedly stole over $20,000 worth of logoed sportswear from a Golf Mill store over several months.

James Bennett, a two-year employee of Merle Harmon's Fan Fair, appeared in court Oct. 21 formally charged with two felony counts of theft and theft by deception.

According to police he admitted to the thefts. He was arrested in Rolling Meadows at the headquarters of JLS Investments, the Possible arson incident reported at MG park

Unknown offenders spread an accelerant over an eight-foot section of lumber in a shelter being constructed at Harter Park, 6250 Dempster St., Morton Grove, the night of Oct. 15. Damage to the construction beams was estimated at $600.

Fire Department sources said there was no apparent damage to the existing shelter.

While Civic Center Plaza, Waukegan Road and Oakton Street, Niles, shows signs of growth with a new Dirtbuster car wash under construction there, across the parking lot to the east, B.J.'s Wholesale Club is closing its doors in November.

Next spring, B.J.'s will be replaced by HomeClub, a sister company owned by parent Waban, Inc., of Natick, MA. But a company name other than HomeClub will be used, because the new supply store will not operate on a membership basis, as did B.J.'s, a HomeClub source said.

No one protests at library hearing on 10% levy hike

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Despite intense taxpayer protest recently, nobody attended a truth-in-taxation hearing last week preceding the regular meeting of the Niles Public Library District.

The hearing is mandatory whenever a public body levies five percent or higher than the former year. The new levy represents a 10.43 percent increase over the previous year.

Acting Administrator Judith Zelter said the levy, needed to operate the library during the fiscal year, will be $2,234,645. The

Susan Grieb, Waban spokesperson, said Waban was somewhat disappointed with B.J.'s performance and "believes the marketing area and demographics are more suitable to HomeClub."

With 30,000 home and building supply products, HomeClub will cater to do-it-yourselfers and small contractors, Grieb explained. Maintaining a roster of 73 stores nationally, HomeClub's annual sales in 1990 were $1.3 billion, a 17.6 percent increase over the previous year.

increase was needed, she said, because a surplus from the former year was only $126,784. The surplus going into last fiscal year was $412,994.

This year's expenditures will go toward furniture, the new bookmobile, increased health benefits, a higher administrator's salary, additional positions and some capital improvements.

An administrative review of about 29 candidates for administrator will be conducted. One candidate interview was conducted.

Blase visible spokesman for Niles

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase greets Joseph Electronics owner and C.E.O. Patricia Ewert as part of Niles' recognition of women in business. After 30 years as mayor of Niles, Nicholas Blase is a presence that cannot be ignored. A week seldom passes without the mayor catching the attention of the major media.

In early September, Blase drew the public eye when he posted signs along Milwaukee Avenue, offering to bet on the completion date of the Milwaukee Avenue/Dempster Street underpass.

A few weeks later, TV news shows pictured Niles police guarding the Golf Glen theatre in Niles to ensure against the movie

"Heaven is a Playground" attracting unwanted gang members and Blase explaining his concerns about the film. Blase later told The Bugle "The people of Niles know I'm doing it to protect them."

He suggested if a poll were taken. Continued on Page 30

Seminary salutes outstanding leaders

Niles College Seminary and Chicago Archbishop Joseph Cardinal Bernardin will present "The Seminary Salutes", an annual fundraising dinner honoring outstanding leaders of business, labor, and government on Wednesday, Oct. 30.

"Rerum Novarum" was the Papal Encyclical issued by Pope Leo XIII in 1891 that called for workers' rights to organize and to receive a just wage. It is considered a foundational work in the Social Doctrine of the Catholic Church.

The Seminary Salutes is our way of recognizing the important contributions of these exemplary leaders," stated Rev. J. Cletus Kiley, rector of Niles College Seminary. "Their work models the spirit of Rerum Novarum. They foster goals important to our church and to our college seminary."

Washington Blvd. Cocktails begin at 6 p.m. and a corned beef and cabbage dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Seminary Scholarship Fund of Niles College Seminary of Loyola University. Seminary salutes outstanding leaders

Niles College Seminary and Chicago Archbishop Joseph Cardinal Bernardin will present "The Seminary Salutes", an annual fundraising dinner honoring outstanding leaders of business, labor, and government on Wednesday, Oct. 30.

This year, Cardinal Bernardin will award the 1991 Rerum Novarum Awards. Recipients of the awards are: Timothy Roche, president and business manager of Local 73 of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union; James J. O'Connor, chairman of Commonwealth Edison Company; and Senator Philip J. Rock, president of the Illinois State Senate.

"Rerum Novarum" was the Papal Encyclical issued by Pope Leo XIII in 1891 that called for workers' rights to organize and to receive a just wage. It is considered a foundational worker in the Social Doctrine of the Catholic Church.

"The Seminary Salutes is our way of recognizing the important contributions of these exemplary leaders", stated Rev. J. Cletus Kiley, rector of Niles College Seminary. "Their work models the spirit of Rerum Novarum. They foster goals important to our church and to our college seminary."

This year the "Seminary Salutes" Dinner will be held at the Plumbers Union Hall, 1340 W. Washington Blvd. Cocktails begin at 6 p.m. and a corned beef and cabbage dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Seminary Scholarship Fund of Niles College Seminary of Loyola University. The Honorary Co-Chairmen of this dinner are Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, Congressman Dan Rostenkowski, Mr. Edward Hanley, Sr., and Mr. Thomas Havey.

Tickets are $50 each and tables of ten can be purchased by calling Terry Tuohy, Marie Composto, or Fr. Jack Clair at (312) 631-1017.

MG man receives sports car award

Al Riedel, of Morton Grove, (right) received a second place award from Secretary of State George H. Ryan at the 1991 Secretary of State's Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet held recently in Springfield. Riedel won the award for his 1978 Avanti II in the Sports Car Classification.

There were 211 antique vehicles and sports cars entered in this year's 40th annual meet. First place winners in 40 classifications received "State Champion in Class" awards, and second and third place winners also received awards.

Auxiliary raises $13,000 for Orchard Village

A group of local community members called The Orchard Village Auxiliary raised over $13,000 at their annual luncheon to benefit adults and children with developmental disabilities.

The theme of this year's event was "A Garden of Music," and took place in the newly-remodeled Tower Garden Restaurant, on Sept. 14. During the luncheon, Ken Honderich, executive director, was presented with the Auxiliary's annual award for his fine leadership and direction of Orchard Village.

Volunteer referral service launched

The Volunteer Network and six other area volunteer service providers have launched the nation's most comprehensive computerized system for referring volunteers to non-profit organizations.

Called the Volunteer Referral Service, this collaborative venture will make it possible to selectively match the interests, talents and time and geographic preferences of Chicago-area volunteers with nonprofits seeking assistance.

The service will also screen and register organizations that seek the help of volunteers. Sites linked to the Volunteer Network database in downtown Chicago, include Calumet City Youth and Family Services Department, Volunteer Center of DuPage, Northeastern Illinois University, Volunteer Center of Northwest Suburban Chicago, the United Way of Will County and the City of Chicago.

The Mayor's Office "Light Up Chicago" campaign will also provide 24-hour answering for those needing to call after weekday business hours or on weekends. The new service eliminates the common worry about who to call, what to say and how to determine where help is needed.

Persons wishing to volunteer their time can call any Volunteer Referral Service site, where a coordinator will enter individuals' information into the computer and the matchmaking process begins. The computer reviews the caller's interests and preferences and produces the name of an organization seeking such assistance. The Volunteer Referral Service is sponsored and coordinated by The Volunteer Network, a tax-exempt nonprofit organization that also recruits, trains and places qualified volunteers who provide technical assistance to other nonprofits and serve on their boards of directors.

The organization also operates the Chicago Area's only material resources program, which provides surplus corporate office furniture, equipment and supplies to its hundreds of member agencies. Those seeking volunteer opportunities in Chicago can call The Volunteer Network, (312) 201-3550; Mayor's Office "Light Up Chicago" campaign, (312) 744-5000 (24-hours); or Northeastern Illinois University Student Volunteer Corps, (312) 794-6115.

Those seeking volunteer opportunities elsewhere in the Metropolitan Area can call Calumet City Youth & Family Services, (708) 891-8743; Volunteer Center of DuPage, (708) 682-7507; Volunteer Center of Northwest Suburban Chicago, (708) 398-1320; or United Way of Will County, (815) 723-8510.

Legion Rifle Squad elects officers

The Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 honor guard unit, named the Rifle Squad, recently elected new officers for the ensuing year. The squad commander automatically assumes the duties of the Post Sgt. at arms role.

In this vein, an unusual occurrence was that the retiring post commander, Roger Schmidt, was chosen by his comrades to guide the squad for this forthcoming year. Serving along with him will be vice commander, retiring squad commander Ron Daum, assuming additional duties; re-elected adjutant Ralph Hintz, and re-elected finance officer Don Huber. Huber and Hintz are past post commanders.

SHOPPING TRIP TO OLD ORCHARD
The Morton Grove Senior Center will expand its bounds (outside of Morton Grove) for two special shopping trips to Old Orchard. Wednesdays are special senior discount days for many retailers, therefore, the Senior Center will travel to the mall on Wednesday, Oct. 30. Pick-up times will be 9 and 10 a.m. and return at 1 and 2 p.m. The trips are free for all Morton Grove residents over age 55. The first 15 people to call the Senior Hot Line for a reservation for that date will be taken. The Senior Center will travel to local malls on the last Wednesday of each month. For more information about the Senior Center or to make a reservation today, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

FREE HEARING CHECK
The earlier a hearing loss problem is professionally evaluated, the better the chances for successful treatment. Adults and children (ages 10 to 17) interested in having their hearing checked can visit the Lions Mobile Hearing Services Unit between 2 and 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 30. The unit will be located in the Morton Grove American Legion Post 134 parking lot at 6140 Dempster St.

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK
The seniors of Morton Grove will help celebrate the 100th birthday of the Hawthorne Race Track. We will travel by deluxe motorcoach to this "state of the art" track and enjoy a box lunch and an afternoon of racing. The trip is scheduled to depart the Prairie View Community Center at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 13. The cost is $22 for residents and $25 for non-residents. Deadline for registration is Nov. 1, by calling Prairie View at 965-7447.

THANKSGIVING DINNER
We cordially invite you to... our first "village family" Thanksgiving Dinner. We have discovered over the past few years that there are many folks, who, for one reason or another, are alone on this holiday. We have arranged to have a traditional Thanksgiving Dinner at the Prairie View community Center at 3 p.m. on Thanksgiving day (Nov. 28). The dinner will be catered and festive. Park district staff, administration and commissioners have indicated total support for this endeavor and many will even be on hand to guarantee a wonderful celebration. Through the extraordinary generosity of the Niles/Morton Grove Rotary Club, all of our participants will be guests, free of charge, as it would be at any "family" celebration. We are grateful to this wonderful group of caring and giving Rotarians, who will make this possible by providing their support. Dinner will be limited to the first 100 people who RSVP to Ronce Brenner or Sue Dawson, Morton Grove Park District, 965-7447. Guests can include singles, or couples, or any two other family members regardless of age or economic status.

LOW INCOME HOME ENERGY ASSISTANCE
Starting Oct. 1, CEDA/Neighbors at Work began taking applications for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) for residents of Niles Township in the following two categories of people only: • Senior households (a household with a person 60 years of age or older) • Handicapped households (a household with a documented handicapped person). All other low income people will be able to apply beginning Nov. 1. All persons need to call for an appointment at 328-5166. The following documentation should be brought in for the appointment: proof of gross income for the past 30 days, gas bill in its entirety, electric bill in its entirety, and proof of Social Security number for the head of the household and other members of the household.

TAX-AID VOLUNTEERS
Just like the U.S. Marines, the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) is looking for a few good men and women to do income tax returns for senior citizens. AARP is now accepting applications from adult volunteers of all ages interested in helping senior citizens with their income tax returns. AARP membership is not required. The AARP Tax-Aide program is co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service. Starting in January, there will be a five-day training course for the Tax-Aide counselors, under IRS supervision. The volunteers are required to pass an exam before they are authorized to be counselors. Volunteers are reimbursed for necessary out-of-pocket expenses such as mileage, parking, meals, postage and basic supplies. Persons living in the Morton Grove community, who are interested in helping the elderly prepare their income tax returns can do so by telephoning the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223. In return for the training and after being certified by the IRS, volunteers spend four hours (or more if you choose) each week from Feb. 1 through April 15 assisting senior taxpayers at an assigned convenient site. There is no charge or gratuity for preparing tax returns. Last year, more than 1.5 million persons were aided with their income tax returns by more than 30,000 tax-aid volunteers in the U.S.

BECOME A MEMBER
For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center at 965-7447. To receive the "Seniors in Morton Grove" newsletter, send $2.50 to the Morton Grove Park District, 6834 Dempster St., Morton Grove, IL 60053.

Centel custom-built van arrives

Central Telephone Company of Illinois (Centel) announced the arrival of a new custom-built fiber optic van, designed exclusively for splicing fiber optic cable on location.

"In order to effectively fuse fiber optic cable together it is important to have ideal climatic conditions," said Leo Zikowski, Centel customer services supervisor-construction. "Since most of our fiber optic fusing is done in the field, we needed a mobile unit that would simulate the conditions necessary for the fusion process."

According to Zikowski, Centel's new van is climate-controlled which keeps humidity at a minimum. "When there's a lot of humidity in the air, the fusion process is much more difficult and takes more time. With our new van, our crews can be more productive."

Satellite brings Wall Street to Main Street

by Jeffrey Cardella Edward D. Jones & Co.

In 1955, thanks to the high technology of the day, individual investors in Mexico, Mo., had a "direct" link to the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. This link was Zeke McIntyre, the local investment representative in the first Edward D. Jones & Co. branch office.

When a customer placed an order, Zeke called it in from Mexico, Mo., to the home office in St. Louis. Wire operators then forwarded it in Morse code by teletype to the exchange. If everything went smoothly, the transaction was completed in an hour. How things have changed!

Today, thanks to a new satellite dish recently installed at our office in Niles, transactions can move a bit faster than those entered by Zeke McIntyre over a quarter of a century ago. Data entered into the Niles terminal travels 44,000 miles at the speed of light and arrives at our home office in St. Louis 1/4 of a second later for processing.

Perhaps not every transaction needs to be handled with lightning-quick speed, but when getting information quickly is needed to make crucial investment decisions, the satellite is ready to go to work.

The Niles office is one of the more than 1,600 Edward D. Jones offices throughout America that will communicate via satellite. When the $30 million satellite system is completed later this year, the firm will operate the largest private satellite network in the financial services industry.

In addition to increasing the speed of financial transactions, the new system is capable of sending and receiving both video and data. The video capabilities will allow the firm to broadcast seminars from St. Louis headquarters to investment representatives and their clients across the nation.

Health News

Local doctor specializes in leg vein disorders

Dr. H. Peter Nennhaus, M.D., FACS is a board certified cardiovascular and thoracic surgeon, a specialist he practiced since the 1960s on the north side of Chicago with special emphasis on peripheral vascular surgery.

With the opening of Vein Care Center, at 3633 W. Lake Ave., Glenview, in 1990, he narrowed his practice to the treatment of leg vein disorders. He is a member of the American College of Surgeons, Chicago Surgical Society, American College of Chest Physicians, the Illinois Thoracic Surgical Society and the Phlebology Society of America.

An assistant professor of surgery at the University of Illinois, he has authored scientific papers related to heart, lung, and blood vessel surgery.

The Vein Care Center specializes in the ambulatory treatment of varicose veins, and related problems of leg veins. The standard treatment of varicose veins used to be surgery, especially an operation called vein stripping.

Meanwhile, the Europeans perfected a different method, one in which these veins were made to disappear by means of injections, a procedure called sclerotherapy. It had several advantages over surgery: It left no scars, had superior cosmetic results, and was nearly painless. Also, as an outpatient procedure it was less costly and saved income otherwise lost by hospitalization and sick leave.

Furthermore, sclerotherapy was uniquely suited to eliminate unsightly "spider" veins for which there had previously been no treatment at all. During the 1980s, as this type of injection treatment made its entry into the United States, it brought a new corner, the Vein Clinic, to the medical scene. Meanwhile, there have been refinements in surgical technique as well which improve the results of injection treatments, diminish the chance of recurrences, and shorten treatment time.

Today, sclerotherapy is being offered by physicians with diverse medical backgrounds. Few of them are surgeons and fewer yet have the expertise of vascular surgeons. Vein Care Center offers the full range of surgical and non-surgical methods from which to choose. Call (708) 657-9292 for information.

SNJC sponsors lecture on the occult

The Catholic Women's Club and the Youth Ministry Organization from St. John Brebeuf Parish are sponsoring "Occult in Today's World".

This is a lecture followed by a question and answer session, given by national speaker Frank Bucaro on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m. in Flanagan Hall, located at 8307 N. Harlem.

Occult, Cults, Satanism, Devil-Worship or Satanic Rituals are not new elements in society. The devil and evil have been around for a very long time. Often times, these things make us frightened or scared. We live in a society where "under informed" or "mis-informed" are the truly scary things. This evening is not meant to scare you, but rather, inform you.

If we are to confront evil whenever we meet it, doesn't it make sense that we know what disguises evil wears? Frank Bucaro is a professional, religious educator for 19 years, having a MA in religious studies from Mundelein. He is a national speaker, author and consultant.

HALLOWEEN ACTIVITIES

Des Plaines Museum plans exhibit

When Bruce Elsass was growing up in New Knoxville, Ohio (population 700), Halloween was a major celebration. "When we'd trick 'n' treat, neighbors would make us come into their house and parade in costume until they guessed who we were," he remembered.

Those early good feelings about the holiday turned Elsass into a collector of Halloween art, craft and memorabilia. He will be sharing his extensive collection with the Des Plaines Historical Museum through Nov. 10.

The celebration of Halloween can be traced back to ancient beliefs that on All Hallows Eve the souls of the dead would come back to haunt the living.

Home Show features funny furniture repairmen

The thought of meeting a comedy team of two dedicated expert furniture repairmen from Philadelphia in Palatine may seem abstract to some, but to the producers of the upcoming home show at Harper College, "It's the right mix," says Scott Hardesty, manager of The Independent Contractors Home Show.

"Joe L'Erario & Ed Feldman of 'Furniture on the Mend,' are the two funniest guys you'll ever see at a home show."

The fall show at Harper College, in Palatine, has been scheduled for Oct. 25 through 27. Show hours are Friday, 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The show offers more than 100 contractors and home service exhibits and, in addition to "The Furniture Guys," will be highlighted with celebrity guest appearances of PBS's Steve Thomas of "This Showgoers will view an array of home related products and services, and be able to meet with the experts. "The show will produce some of the most desirable home improvement contractors and remodelers in the area," according to Hardesty. The trades exhibiting will be very diverse, representing the spectrum of the latest home services including heating and air conditioning, basement waterproofing, roofing, remodeling, and many others.

The performance is free and the public is invited. The concert will feature the "Symphonic Poems" written and arranged for two pianos by Franz Liszt. The occasion marks the first performance of these duo piano works in more than 125 years. While writing his "Symphonic Poems" for orchestra, Liszt currently arranged these works for two pianos to be performed with his students and other great pianists of the day.

Explosive rainbow colors fill the sky at Epcot Center during daily presentations of "Surprise in the Skies." Vivid fireworks in reds, blues and greens announce a show featuring boats with multi-colored flags which pull six colorful delta-wing kites into the air, where they are joined by 10 paraplanes flying the colors of Epcot Center's World Showcase nations.

Patriotic music includes a red, white and blue paraplane and similarly colored pyrotechnics. The squadron of paraplanes joins in the display with a release of red, white and blue smoke.

Thirty-five-foot-high inflatable Disney characters in international garb pop up along World Showcase promenade and become rallying points for the "real-live" characters to meet and greet Epcot Center guests.

Bill of Rights on exhibit in Chicago

The golden age of stage and screen is rekindled in a new live spectacular at Disney-MGM Studios Theme Park. "Hollywood's Pretty Woman" takes audiences to "Club Hollywood," where Mickey Mouse hopes to impress actor-turned-movie-producer Roger Rabbit with the club's singing-and-dancing talent.

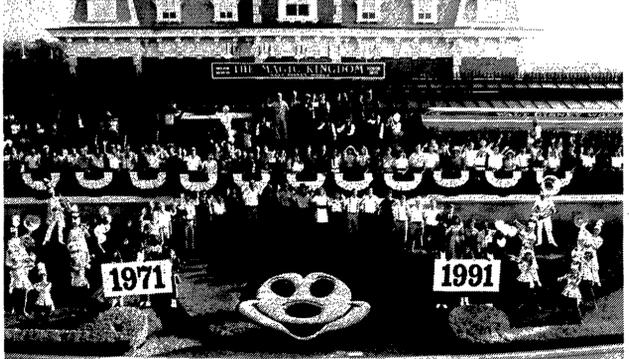

The musical fun at Theatre of the Stars salutes the talents of such Hollywood greats as Judy Garland, Ginger Rogers, Fred Astaire and Carmen Miranda. Meanwhile, a dynamic family of "Dinosaurs" joins the beloved cast of "Jim Henson's Muppets on Location" to present yet two more memorable shows with a distinct Hollywood flavor at Disney-MGM.

Earl Sinclair and his prime-time fossil family, the "Dinosaurs" from the ABC-TV series, take Hollywood by storm when they appear as "guests of extinction" in a glittering display of Mesozoic mania on the Studio's Hollywood Boulevard.

On the Studio's Central Park Backlot, those zany Muppets appear for an on-location film featuring favorite songs and unmatched performances by Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy and a celebrated cast of Muppet stars. A courtyard away at the Studios Theme Park, "Jim Henson's MuppetVision 3D" attraction continues its premier run as a fun-filled combination of "live" Muppets interacting with a 3D

"The music and show are totally integrated," adds Disney entertainment vice president Ron Logan. "Our goal is: if a blind man and a deaf man are standing together, they'll feel and experience the same thing."

Walt Disney World celebrates anniversary

A score of Walt Disney World cast members wish the Magic Kingdom a Happy Birthday. On Oct. 1, 1991, the Walt Disney World Resort began a year-long celebration of its 20th anniversary of being the Vacation Kingdom of the World.

The 20th anniversary of Walt Disney World's grand opening celebration in 1971 has begun and continues through 1992. A colorful aerial spectacle will brighten Epcot Center days. A marvel of electrotechnical wizardry will fill the Magic Kingdom nights with magical, moving colors. Pretty women will sing and dance their way to stardom at the Disney-MGM Studios Theme Park.

Disney entertainment wizards are going to new heights to present what show producer Chase Sengle calls "the biggest, best parade in World history." Towering 35 to 40 feet above the Magic Kingdom's Main Street U.S.A. is a cast of brilliantly colored, large-than-life Inflated Disney characters herald festivals from regions of the world in "Surprise Celebration."

Roger Rabbit decked out as the carnival jester soars above a carriage on which a surprise grand marshal, selected from among park visitors, leads the procession.

New Orleans' Mardi Gras, Latin America's Carnival de Rio and Europe's Carnival in Venice are celebrated in music, dance and stunning costuming during the 20-minute parade, a daily feature of the 20th anniversary year.

Future-technology wizardry creates a moving gallery of light, music and color during "SpectroMagic," the biggest nighttime attraction ever in the Magic Kingdom. "Imagine complete animated cels the size of a house," says Show Producer Don Frantz. "That's what we are producing with a synthesis of music, light and mechanical animation along the mile-long Magic Kingdom parade route."

The 20-minute production borrows from the prismatic holographic industry, military lighting developments, electro-luminescent and fiber-optics technologies, and tosses in light-spreading thermoplastics, clouds of underlit liquid-nitrogen smoke and a sprinkling of good old-fashioned twinkle lights.

Mickey Mouse in prisms of light leads the way, followed by tableaux depicting the merriment of a musical band and colorful garden, the beauty of the sea, the wonder of flying horses, and the chilling specter of an evil, winged monster with a 38-foot wingspan.

The high-tech spectacle of lights is complemented by a musical main theme plus individual musical numbers relating to show segments - "an entire environment of sound," Frantz says.

Special surprises are also included in all 1992 Walt Disney Travel Company vacation packages to Walt Disney World Resort. Local travel agents have the information.

Further information about Walt Disney World, including theme park hours, ticket media, recreation and accommodations, is available by calling Walt Disney World Guest Information at (407) 824-4321, or by writing to Guest Letters, Walt Disney World Resort, P.O. Box 10040, Lake Buena Vista, FL 32830-0040.

Reservations for the 17 resort hotels, vacation-villa resort or campground resort featuring a total of more than 15,000 accommodations on Walt Disney World property are available by calling (407) 934-7639.

Niles Park Board...

Bank of Niles by bond counselors Chapman and Cutler, with documentation by attorney Berrafato. The $855,000 issuance covers bond counsel and attorney fees and $45,000 is earmarked as part of the anticipated $70,000 renovation of Greenwood Park.

Commissioner Skaja later said he did not object to the issuance or the amount of the bond issue, but rather on the handling of the issue and believes the entire procedure could have been handled by Chapman and Cutler.

The Niles Park Board action was taken to insure having a tax exempt, non-referendum bond in place in case the Illinois legislature clamps an anticipated tax cap on special taxing districts such as the park district. The cap would keep it from raising taxes more than five percent over the previous year's levy or the current cost of living, whichever is less, unless they submit a referendum.

earlier this month. Former administrator Daniel C. Macken III resigned last spring following his arrest for embezzlement of library funds.

Zelter reported to board members the library will receive a per capita grant of about $49,500, or about $91 cent for every resident in the district. She said the amount is less than the previous $1 per person, but more than the library expected to receive.

Also, the number of residents within the district increased so the grant is about $1,000 more than it would have been with the new fee structure.

Board members approved purchases of computer-related equipment in the amount of about $8,500. A multiplexer, or tie-in with the North Suburban Library System, also will require a $100 monthly maintenance fee.

Members of the Niles Art Guild requested their members' paintings be hung in the library, said Zelter. The question was referred for study to the attorney.

In addition, board members listened to information, but took no action on whether or not to join a class action suit relating to a Property Tax Limitation Act, which may be enacted by the state legislature.

en, "90 percent would say I'm doing the right thing; 10 percent wouldn't. I'll take 90/10 anytime."

Within a few more weeks, Blase appeared on WBEZ, National Public Radio, talking about Niles, in which he says "I am proud to serve."

Oct. 17 he made his annual visit to St. John Brebeuf School to preside at the installation of the nine-member student council. Oct. 18, he greeted Patricia Ewert, owner and Chief Executive Officer of Joseph Electronics, Inc., 8830 Milwaukee Ave., in recognition of women in business.

The ubiquitous Blase, an eight-term mayor, Democratic committeeman of Maine Township and vice chairman of the Cook County Democratic organization in charge of the suburbs, said his visibility is not planned, but just his "reactions to things that happen."

The Niles B.J.'s will remain open for the general public and current members until Nov. 2 and then provide refunds to members through Nov. 23, Grieb added. Of the B.J.'s in the Chicago area, only the Niles, Rolling Meadows and Calumet City stores will convert to HomeClubs; the Hillside store will be closed.

According to Joe Salerno, Niles Code Enforcement Director, B.J.'s 104,710 sq. ft. site will probably not require rezoning if it is on the order of other do-it-yourself stores in the area.

Waban hopes to develop a total of seven midwest HomeClub sites in 1992, Grieb said, but could not disclose the locations. There is a HomeClub in Toledo, Ohio, and approximately 72 others, mostly concentrated in the western states of California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Board members approved purchases of computer-related equipment in the amount of about $8,500. A multiplexer, or tie-in with the North Suburban Library System, also will require a $100 monthly maintenance fee.

want to give the students in the district the best education using the tax dollars available," Bugarin, a 34-year resident and the father of three grown children, said.

Noting that District 71's 1990 state report card was not as good as that of neighboring districts where the per pupil expense is lower, Vigneri also stressed she entered the race to "see that the students of District 71 receive the best possible education."

Vigneri, who possesses a bachelor of science degree and has a first grader at Niles Elementary School South, also referred to the board of "distrust" between the board, community and staff and advocates the board improve public relations between itself and the residents.

Vigneri and her husband own and operate their own business and she feels her previous background in finance and date processing will enrich the board.

Krynski, a general accounting manager at a nearby firm, also has three children at South School. Krynski, a business administration graduate, believes in parent involvement and good lines of communication between administration, teachers and members of the community.

"I want District 71 to offer an outstanding educational program for each student," Krynski said. "Everyone is for quality education, but it does not happen by itself. It requires a long-term commitment of time and effort. We need to fully participate and continuously look for new ways to improve."

"I can offer a fresh perspective to the school board," Schertzing said, advising the audience of his educational and professional background.

Schertzing said the current board has kept levies at "a reasonable level" and stressed that the district still has the low taxes and quality services that it had when he moved into the area in 1984.

Schertzing, the parent of two District 71 students, said his wife's parents and a sister-in-law live in the district and as a board member, he would be empathetic with those on fixed or limited incomes.

Kosiba, a mother of three, told the audience she has lived all her 31 years in the district and credited her teaching degree and parental experience as well as civic pride with her desire to be on the board. She also advocates increased senior citizen involvement in the schools.

"Good boards know they are in the business of education," Kosiba said, expressing sympathy with the board's budget priorities due to the need for maintenance of the two schools, safe transportation of students to classes and the continuation of an equitable pay scale for the district's teachers.

Noting the blend between older and younger, men and women on the current board, Hedrich said she wanted to seek her third four-year term because "it's important for someone with my experience to run."

Hedrich, a former educator, who has presided over the District 71 board for five years, did not serve on the board until after her six children were raised.

In the IGAP testing, students in the above same grades were tested in reading comprehension, mathematics and language arts. Scores were similar to those of the CAT tests with all grades achieving in all areas at the 70th percentile or better except for reading, where third graders scored in the 67th percentile and eight graders at 61 percent.

Many factors influence student learning, some of which are listed on the report card. They could include racial and ethnic background, low-income and limited English proficiency students, attendance, mobility, truancy, class size and time devoted to teaching core subjects. Others might be teacher and administrator characteristics and finances.

Probably three of the most crucial factors are mobility, low-income and limited English proficiency. More than half the district's students are from families where English is not their native language with the second largest group of youngsters being of Asiatic descent.

About one-third of the district's six schools have a mobility rate higher than the state average, which is 20 percent. According to Curriculum Director Judy Hennig, students appear to do better the longer they are in the district."

Low income students are those from families receiving public aid or supported by public funds; they are eligible to receive free or reduced-price lunches. The district total of low-income students is 2.5 percent, 7.2 percent at Mark Twain School. The state average is 29.1 percent.

District 63, with about 3,000 students, is considered at large elementary school district. During the 1989-1990 school year, it spent 66.8 percent of its budget on the Education Fund, a slight variance from the state average of 73.9 percent. The Education Fund is the largest in the operating budget and is used to pay most teacher salaries.

Two other funds, significantly higher than state expenditures were those of Operations and Maintenance and Bond and Interest. Both were elevated by life and safety work mandated by the state for all public schools.

Niles Village Manager Abe Selman anticipates, if the mayor's proposal is approved by Chicago's City Council, "I'm sure we will...have a pass through" to residents.

And Morton Grove Administrator Larry Arft suggested Chicago finds it easier to tax the suburbs than raise their own taxes.

He said "I can't believe" just three months later, Chicago discovered it needed more revenue in the water fund. Arft noted realistically, if the four percent increase does pass, Morton Grove residents would probably absorb only a two percent raise since only half of Morton Grove's revenues go to Chicago.

Niles Finance Director Gary Karshna noted the impact on Niles residents "depends on a lot of other factors." He said the village has recently reviewed the situation and since only a few months have passed, it may not be necessary to raise fees four percent.

Will Niles' sale of water to unincorporated Maine Township ever fatten the village water fund coffers? Karshna said "It will help, but (the sale) won't start till December. It takes time to build up surplus in that fund."

Karshna said at the current $1.98 per 1,000 gallons, Nilesites using an average 10,000 gallons a month pay about $19.80 a month, but are billed quarterly.

According to Morton Grove's Finance Director Spiro Hountalas' reckonings, the average resident in that village uses about 7,592 gallons a month and at the rate of $2.24 per 1,000 gallons, pays about $17 a month. They are billed bi-monthly.

Figures estimating the average monthly use of water vary with the season and the size and needs of the families using it.

number of employees or some combination thereof. Currently there are more than 300 categories.

The proposed fees range from $45 for home-based businesses to $1,800 for a large health center, which would increase revenue about $10,000 annually. Current fees range from $35 to $800. Business professionals would need a village license under the proposed ordinance. Staff will work with the Chamber in drafting an amended schedule.

While Morton Grove would receive immediate revenue from a utility tax and would benefit next spring from increases in auto or business licensing fees, the projected $1.8 million in revenue generated from a one-half percent sales tax would not be realized until fiscal 1992. Board members are receptive to a half percent sales tax, which could not go into effect until September, 1992. Outsiders as well as residents would pay tax and it would compare favorably with Niles' additional half percent and Skokie's 3/4 percent.

The proposed vehicle sticker increase would generate about $115,900 annually, raising the fee for passenger cars from $15 to $20. Seniors would still enjoy a discount, but their discount would be reduced two thirds to one-half the new fee, or $10. Thirteen neighboring municipalities pay fees ranging from $10 to $40, with $20 being the average. Trucks, motorcycles and recreational vehicles would have fees ranging from $10 to $120 annually.

Trustees also approved the installation of three-way stop signs at Grace and Oak Avenues, streets that are experiencing a lot of traffic because they are used as a short cut to fast food spots on Dempster Street.

Trustee James Mahoney gained approval for the village to go out to bid on a cured-in-place pipe installation at Odell Avenue from Oakton Street to Mulford Street.

Public Services Director Keith Peck explained the pipe was used in the village's continuous maintenance program to aid in fixing the infrastructure.

Village Manager Abe Selman also gained approval to go out to bid on two vehicles, which are already budgeted, a cargo van

Judy Roberts to play at Jazz Vespers

Cross-country skiing called superb in Michigan & Wisconsin

Chicagoans often look to Michigan and Wisconsin for downhill skiing, but there is excellent cross-country skiing in these states as well.

The best areas in Michigan are found in the Upper Peninsula because of the beautiful surroundings and the largest annual snowfall of anywhere in the Midwest (up to 250 inches a year).

Lake Superior State Forest near Newberry offers 5 trails that run for 40 miles. Porcupine Mountain State Park in Ontonagon has 4 trails over 26 miles. Mackinaw State Forest offers the longest trails in Michigan: 9 for a total of 62 miles. Pere Marquette Forest is a close second with 7 trails for a total of 59 miles. Other cross-country ski areas in the Upper Peninsula are: Keweenaw Peninsula, Ottawa National Forest and Craig Lake State Park.

The lower peninsula offers some excellent skiing as well, particularly western Michigan which gets lake effect snow but has "warm" weather (25 degrees to 30 degrees Fahrenheit) because of the lake as well. Boyne is well known for its cross-country trails as well as its downhill runs. Together, the two Boyne resorts have 8 trails for a total of 26 miles. The area near Traverse offers excellent ski conditions as well with an annual snowfall of 80-140 inches a year. There are also many miles of trails near Bear Mountain in Grayling.

A good resource for information about more trails is in the book Cross-Country Skee by Jeanette and Hugh Bayer which has 58 trails and maps of upper Michigan. The Michigan Travel Bureau (1-800-543-2973) has more information as well.

Wisconsin offers excellent cross-country skiing (over 300 facilities) although the annual snowfall is significantly less than in Michigan. The terrain varies from rolling hills with lakes, streams, and swamps to dense forests of hardwood and pine. Northeast and northern trail are Wisconsin's "snow country" averaging 50-60 inches of snow a year. This does not sound like much, but because of consistently low temperatures, the snow cover is reliable.

Telemark Nordic Center is well known for its excellent cross-country skiing. It has 56 miles of trails covering terrain from flat to hilly and open to wooded. The Eagle River area offers scenic skiing as well. The trails wind through dense forests and numerous lakes. This area also gets more snow than anywhere in Wisconsin (80+ inches a year) and usually has a 2 to 3 foot covering by mid-

"The best cross-country areas in Michigan are found in the Upper Peninsula because of the beautiful surroundings..."

January.

Other areas in Wisconsin with extensive trail systems are: Sawyer County Recreation near Hayward with over 200 miles of trails. Hayward is also the home of the annual 35 km American Birkebeiner race. In southeast Wisconsin, Necedah Wildlife Range expands over 40,000 acres but the trails are quite flat. However, many of them are through the woods. Chequamegon National Forest, in northwest Wisconsin near Park Hills, has 50 miles of trails on hilly and wooded terrain.

A good resource for more information is Skiing Into Wisconsin by Jerry Alps which has 124 trails and trail maps in southern Wisconsin. Cross Country Skee has 213 trails and maps in all areas of Wisconsin. The latter book also lists 37 trails (but no maps) in Illinois mostly in the counties of Lake, Cook, McHenry, and Kane. The Wisconsin Travel Bureau (1-608-266-2161) also has more information.

Chicago skiers' secret: midwest downhill skiing is fantastic

Skiers can expect to get in 25 to 30 runs even on packed weekends

Downhill skiers from the Chicago area need not look to Vermont and Colorado for good skiing, but rather right here in the Midwest. Michigan and Wisconsin offer over 40 ski areas with a large variety of facilities and terrain.

Boyne Highlands and Boyne Mountain

Michigan has long been a popular haven for Chicago skiers. Two of the more popular areas are Boyne Highlands in Harbour Springs and Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls. Both are about seven hours from Chicago and about a half an hour from each other.

The Mountain's runs are known for its intermediate and advanced slopes. The steep Hemlock run is very challenging, even for advanced skiers. The steep drops and numerous moguls are challenging as well. Boyne Mountain offers a total of 10 lifts and 17 runs.

The Highlands has many wide sweeping and cruising runs that wind through woodlands. These runs are more for beginners and intermediates, so this is considered more of a family ski area. Boyne Highlands is larger than Boyne Mountain offering 37 runs with 8 lifts.

Despite the popularity of these resorts, skiers are always on the move and can expect to get in 25 to 30 runs even on a packed weekend. Boyne is also well known for its excellent snowmaking capabilities.

Caberfae in Cadillac, Michigan

Another popular resort is Caberfae in Cadillac, Michigan; about 5 hours from Chicago. It boasts longer, steeper runs with many recent improvements. It is also in the midst of a forest providing the skiers with scenic routes. The 24 runs are made for all levels of skiers with approximately the same number of trails for each skill level. Lift tickets range from $18 to $23.

Big Powderhorn, Blackjack and Indianhead in Michigan and 4 Whitecap in Wisconsin

Big Powderhorn Mountain in Bessemer, Michigan offers not only excellent skiing, but other entertaining activities as well. It boasts an excellent nightlife where there is always something to do, and they even offer a free shuttle bus for the area that runs from 7 a.m. to 2:30 a.m. For those who do find time to ski, they have a 628 foot vertical drop, more hills than most resorts, and well-groomed slopes. Ticket prices range from $20 to $24 for the 8 lifts and 24 runs.

Blackjack, also in Bessemer, caters primarily to families providing condominiums as the only lodging. Although the 465 feet vertical drop is less than surrounding resorts, 80 percent of the trails are designed for intermediate or advanced skiers. There are 17 runs and 4 lifts and tickets range from $18 to $23.

Indianhead in Wakefield, Michigan opens earlier than the other resorts in the area. (As of Nov. 22, it was the only one open.) With 52 snowguns and an annual snowfall of over 100 inches per year, lack of snow is never a problem. Indianhead also offers many special events throughout the ski season. It has 6 lifts and 19 runs with tickets prices ranging from $23 to $39. It also has the largest vertical drop of the four resorts in the area at 638 feet.

Whitecap in Montreal, Wisconsin is also a popular area. What it lacks

The Bugle's Ski Resource Guide

• Frostbite, hypothermia can be prevented by proper dress and precautions

Common sense is greatest factor for safe winter sports

While you are outside enjoying your favorite winter sport, it is important to keep in mind safety factors.

Common sense is the most important factor in winter sports safety. Know your physical limitations because accidents occur more frequently when the body is fatigued. Be sure that the surface of any lake or river that you cross is frozen enough to hold your weight. Obviously falling into water in the winter is a life-threatening situation!

One of the most important aspects of winter safety is knowing how to keep warm to prevent frostbite or hypothermia. Frostbite is a localized cold injury characterized by freezing of the tissues. It occurs most often in the upper and lower extremities and the nose and ears. It is detected by a grayish white appearance of the affected area. Serious frostbite can cause permanent damage.

Hypothermia is much more serious than frostbite and can result in death if untreated. Hypothermia occurs when a person's body temperature is lowered to a point where proper physical and mental functioning is no longer possible. Some symptoms of hypothermia are: fits of shivering, vague, slurred speech, memory lapses, decreased coordination, and unaware of being cold. Interestingly, hypothermia occurs more in urban environments than in the wilderness.

The best way to avoid these two cold weather afflictions is to dress properly and to be aware of the weather conditions. The components of weather that affect cooling, most are temperature, moisture and wind. The wind chill, what the temperature feels like with the wind, is an important factor to be aware of. For example, 25 degrees Fahrenheit is a good temperature to participate in winter activities, but with a wind of 20 mph, it feels like -4 degrees Fahrenheit.

To keep warm in such weather conditions, dress in layers of loose fitting garments to form air pockets for insulation. Wear two pairs of socks with an under pair made of absorbent wool. Also, do not wear tightly laced boots because they restrict the blood flow which allows the feet to cool more quickly. Most importantly, always wear a hat because up to 50 percent of the body's heat can be lost through the head.

When cross-country skiing, use landmarks or a map trail to guide your way. Also, be aware of when darkness falls as the temperature can drop dramatically at night. Never ski alone and always let someone know of your ski plans. Time your outing so you have an idea of how long it should take to reach your origination point. Finally, wear a backpack so you can shed a layer or two if you become too warm, and also to carry some quick energy snack food.

Downhill skiing provides more hazards, but with proper precautions, it can be a safe sport. The best way to avoid injury is to be in good physical condition. Equipment is important too, especially the bindings.

"Hypothermia occurs when a person's body temperature is lowered to a point where proper physical and mental functioning is no longer possible."

They should be properly adjusted so they release before an injury occurs. Beginning skiers should take lessons and learn the safest way to fall. All skiers should ski in areas suited to their level of expertise and ski in control.

Keep the above points in mind and remember that common sense is the most important aspect of winter safety. Enjoy your favorite winter sport and remember to be safe!

Fantastic midwest downhill skiing in vertical drop (400 feet) it makes up for in its large number of runs (33).

Devil's Head and Cascade

Devil's Head, in Merrimac, has a vertical drop of 500 feet. It also has a significant number of runs at 21 with the longest extending over 2 miles. The runs have a great deal of variety and the terrain is hilly and woody.

Cascade in Portage also has 21 runs with the longest at 5,300 feet. There are few advanced runs, but there is also an abundance of intermediate cruising runs. Rib Mountain in Wausau is popular partly due to one of the highest vertical drops in Wisconsin at 624 feet. It has 13 runs with the longest a mile long.

Mt. Telemark

Although Mt. Telemark is known for its cross-country skiing, it offers good downhill skiing as well. It is the oldest ski facility in WI (over 50 years) and is even older than Vail and Aspen. It offers only a 370 foot vertical drop but it is the highest point in northwest Wisconsin.

The Bugle's Ski Resource Guide

Rib Mountain remains among highest in midwest

Rib Mountain Ski Area is presently in its 55th season of continuous operation. The mountain dominates the landscape of Wausau, Wisconsin offering nearly 650 feet of potential vertical. Rib Mountain is the highest skiable terrain in Wisconsin, and the second highest of the 142 Midwestern ski areas.

There are three chairlifts—2 doubles and 1 new triple—servicing over 100 acres of cleared runs. Twelve runs, up to a mile long, welcome beginner, intermediate, and expert skiers alike.

Need to warm up or just relax at the end of the day? The historic 50 year old split stone chalet offers food and spirits around three blazing fireplaces.

For those skiers in need of equipment, Rib Mountain offers a rental shop with over 800 pairs of rental skis and boots. Rib Mountain staff tests every boot/binding combination before you leave the shop to ensure you have the safest equipment available.

Rib Mountain, located in the heart of Wisconsin, at the doorway to the Northwoods, is easily accessible by either Hwy. 29 or Hwy. 51. Just a few hours from Madison, Eau Claire, Green Bay, Milwaukee, or the Fox Valley. Only 4 hours from either Minneapolis/St. Paul or the Chicago area.

So, come and enjoy our unique atmosphere combined with good old-fashioned service and hospitality. See the spectacular view of the city while enjoying night skiing 'til 10 p.m. every night except Sunday. Snowmaking improved to assure first-class conditions all season

The days of waiting to ski until that first giant snow storm are long gone - when the grass is still green in the suburbs, people are already enjoying the sport. In fact, according to the United Ski Industries Association (USIA), major advances in snow making technology have made it possible for many ski areas to operate from November into April without the benefit of natural snow.

"Ski areas are perceived by most people as scenic wintry places with exciting mountain vista," says Rick Own, Director of Marketing and Communications for USIA. "But what they don't realize is that behind the pretty picture is an intriguingly complex operation employing sophisticated high tech systems to make snow in spite of snow droughts and warm weather."

From the smallest Midwestern hills to the Northwest's massive, 11,000-foot mountain ranges, modern ski operators are spraying water into the chilly air to create snow crystals just right for skiing.

"Snowmaking has matured from a black art into a manufacturing process where efficient cost and quality controls are being instituted," says Scott Barthold, Vice President of Engineering at Sno-Engineering, Inc. in Littleton, NH, a leading mountain resort planner. "Today's modern snowmaking plant probably puts out double the amount of snow with the same amount of energy used 10 years ago."

Snowmaking technology was spawned and nurtured in the East. But until recently the West found little use for it except in southern California, where temperatures necessary for good natural snow were marginal. Gradually, ski area operators in places known for high natural snowfalls, such as Colorado and Utah, began making snow on lower terrain areas as they found customers could use lifts to reach the natural snow on upper mountain terrain but couldn't ski down. And, as they discovered that the durability and consistency of machine-made snow provided a superior base for skiing, even those ski areas blessed with abundant natural snow are using machines to maintain a good base in high traffic areas.

Indeed, machines make it possible to open a considerable amount of terrain that would previously have been unskiable - terrain, for example, with a more southerly exposure. USIA figures reveal that in nationwide survey of 327 ski areas, 70 percent report having snowmaking and over half of those with snowmaking machinery are capable of blanketing every inch of skiable terrain.

In the East, Snowshoe, WV, Peek 'n Peak, NY and Seven Springs, PA demonstrated incredible high-tech power last winter with massive snowmaking systems that - in just 36 hours - turned acres of bare ground into well-covered ski trails. And Bear Mountain and Boreal in California credit snowmaking with saving their season during last year's devastating drought.

There are two variations of snowmaking technology. Both use water under pressure, but one uses compressed air and the other uses a fan to spray the water into the air. Although fans use perhaps 70 percent less energy they are bigger, harder to transport and tend to be less effective in warmer temperatures. Recent improvements make them more popular, but compressed air systems are still in the majority.

The end component in any system is snowmaking guns and nozzles and these, too have evolved.

The current generation uses considerably less air than their predecessors and run more quietly. The final product is a bigger and better snow crystal twice the size of those produced in the 1980's, and this bigger crystal stays in one place, drifts less and lasts longer.

Christmas Mountain Resort offers year-round lodging

Christmas Mountain Resort, Wisconsin Dells has expanded to include permanent recreation vehicle sites to its growing inventory of camping and lodging facilities. A total of 30 sites are planned.

In addition to the permanent sites, the resort offers lodging ranging from the 63 room hotel, open to the public, to villas, cabins, cottages and recreational vehicle sites sold on time share and interval ownership basis.

An additional 160 acres has been added to Christmas Mountain for the future development of 225 home-sights and golf villas. The family owned business, Resort Development International, Inc., has spent over $20 million in construction in the past six years.

Winter activities at the year-round resort include a downhill ski area, horseback riding and hayrides, indoor swim pool, exercise and game room. Cross-country skiing through the wooded 18 hole golf course is also available.

For reservations, call (toll-free) 1-800-289-1066.

Indianhead Mountain's 52 snow guns assures great ski conditions

The snow is now falling in Wakefield, Michigan, but it is only snowing blizzard conditions on Indianhead Mountain. This phenomena is caused by the diligent snowmaking staff turning on the 52 snow guns that cover the slopes of Indianhead in preparation of the soon to come ski season.

Indianhead Mountain increased its snowmaking capacity this year by 25 percent with the purchase of 12 additional snow guns to bring the total to 52. Paul Karow, President and General Manager of Indianhead, explains how this will make a difference, "By concentrating our snow-making capabilities on one trail at a time along with our additional snow guns, we are able to open that trail within 3-4 days provided the temperatures stay in the 15-20 degree range, where in past years, it would take us 6-7 days." Karow adds, "Several years ago, we began using Snomax, which allows us to make snow at higher temperatures and produce more with the same guns. We have worked hard at providing good early season skiing through our snowmaking efforts."

For more information, contact Indianhead Mountain Resort at 1-800-3-Indiana or 906-229-5181.
